EVERYBODY KNOWS WHAT A JOHNNY
MATHIS SONG IS LIKE, RIGHT?

WRONG.

When you hear the new Mathis single of "Wherefore and Why," you'll know what we mean.

Sure, you'd know that voice anywhere—it is Johnny Mathis. But it's like no Mathis song you ever heard before.

This single is a whole new thing for Johnny—an uptempo, Top-40 kind of sound. It's so different you just might not recognize him right away.

But you can recognize a hit, can't you?

"WHEREFORE AND WHY"

from a whole new Johnny Mathis.

Rock Acts: Too Much Time On Their Hands?

For several years it's been apparent that labels can no longer count on a continuous, regular flow of LP product from their heavy rock stars. Companies have grudgingly gone along with this development on the basis of artists' contentions that creativity cannot be time-tabled, and one must, in his own good time, assemble all the creative forces for that final studio session only when he feels that a pinnacle of achievement has been arrived at. And, certainly, for most artists of this type, albums have generally reflected a high degree of artistic performance, both in presentation and the material employed.

But, we now wonder if the when-we're-ready approach to LP production has not reached a point where not only is the label involved finding it difficult to operate under such so-called "artistic freedom," but the act itself. Labels, of course, do operate under a time-table of sorts. The coordination of LP releases — with the maze of schedules that entails — is a vital factor in the success of LP product, especially when product by top acts is required at certain periods when a company needs the impact of all its top performers it can muster — such as during the maximum pre-Christmas selling period.

But, what about the act itself? We believe that the artist, too, can do an injustice to the continuity and perpetuation of his career when he takes an in-my-own-good-time philosophy. We wonder if many of the acts that fall into the "super" category have, indeed, boxed themselves in by the very "artistic freedom" they desire, and have become simply too cautious in the performance of their obligations to the companies they expect will handle their product with great expertise with regard to salesmanship and merchandising. Rock is a music under continual evolution — and those who stretch out the concept of an LP may find themselves a step behind the rock times. This would be particularly true when it comes to material, which today carries a sense of urgency as far as the more probing song is concerned. Also, there is a lot to be said for creativity that comes with speed or the rush of inspiration when the mind has less chance to being deterred by the very passage of time.

There's no doubt on our part that today's rock albums of merit reflect a great deal of invention that cannot be built in a day. Yet, rock acts should work around some sort of schedule or deadline that takes into account the business of selling their wares. They should ponder whether they are really taking maximum advantage of the time allotted to them.

Dick Bock Forms Indie Prod. Co.

HOLLYWOOD — Richard Bock, who's resigned as general manager of the World Pacific division of Liberty/UA, Inc., intends to return to independent production with his newly-formed Aura Productions, Inc. Bock will continue to produce current World Pacific artists such as The Buddy Rich Orchestra, Ravi Shankar, Jean-Luc Ponty, Richard "Groove" Holmes, Craig Hundley, Ernie Watts and pianist George Duke.

Widely regarded as one of the most prolific and important contributors to recorded jazz, he created the Pacific Jazz label in 1952. Thirteen years later, he joined the Liberty organization as general manager of Pacific Jazz — World Pacific division, following Liberty's purchase of his label.

Bock's approach is to choose the musicians, select the tunes, edit the tapes, and personally confer with sales and promotion people to assure that his original conception of an album is faithfully represented throughout the production process.

Bock, strong on new talent, is responsible for recording the first Wes Montgomery sides (with his brothers The Mastersounds). He introduced on record the Don Ellis Orchestra, trumpeter Bobby Bryant, the original Gerry Mulligan-Chet Baker Quartet, Bud Shank-Laurindo Almeida Quartet (regarded as the first venture of bossa nova into the United States), Chico Hamilton Quartet, Les McCann Trio, The Jazz Crusaders, the Gerald Wilson Orchestra, and pianist Craig Hundley.

FRONT COVER:

A near 19-minute version of "By the Time I Get to Phoenix"? Two albums whose shortest cuts are over 5-minutes?

If you answered yes to both questions, you're only one person—Isaac Hayes. Insane as it may sound, the Enterprize leader has broken the radio time barrier with these very things, bringing Stax its first million dollar album in "Hot Buttered Soul."

Moreover, his current "Isaac Hayes Movement" has firmly established Hayes as a songwriter ("Soul Man," "Hold On I'm Coming" and others with partner David Porter) who has turned successful artist, producer and musician.

GRT Group's New Blueprint Calls For Centralized Services, Acquisitions

NEW YORK — The GRT Record Group is about to apply a new organizational blueprint for the record operations under its responsibility.

Len Levy, president of the Group, is mapping out plans to provide certain centralized services to all labels; a philosophy that will initiate a policy of limited LP releases with maximum concentration on each set; and acquisitions on a horizontal and vertical basis.

Also, Levy reports, the Group is planning to reactivate the GRT Records label, dormant for the past several months, with its own staff and artist roster. The division will headquarter in New York, Levy points out. The other labels that fall under the GRT Group are Chess, Janus and Neptune, the GRT-distributed label operated by producers Gamble & Huff.

Various administrative functions to be centralized by Levy include accounting, royalty payments and certain legal services, including contract signings. Also, Levy plans to hire a man to oversee overall A&R activities. The Group recently began its centralized concept with the appointment of Joe Gowan as administrative vp.

Chess: Regain Roots

As far as the Chess label is concerned, moves will be made to "replant the label's roots (blues and jazz)," which Levy says "were lost" following music diversification activities. With the recent departure of Marshall Chess as head of the company, present high-level management at Chess includes Richie Salvador, exec vp; Dick LaPalm, ad-merchandising manager; Arnie Orleans, national sales head; and Chester Simmons, chief of promotion.

Each of the Group labels, Levy notes, operates with their own administrative and recording budgets. Within this context, the labels are free to apply their budgets to any areas deemed worthwhile without constant need for OK from Group management. This would allow, for instance, for speed in the area of master acquisitions.

Levy is firm in his belief that today's recording business demands a sharp reduction in large album releases, so that each release can re-

RCA's Pop Center Is 'Operative'; D'Imperio: Less Disks, More Punch

NEW YORK — "Our thing is in gear. We're now operative." With these words, Joe D'Imperio has made an official launching of the pop music product center he directs at RCA Records.

The formation of product centers — or profit centers as they are known in the financial sense — was announced last Feb. by Norman Racusin, president of the label, with Rocco Laginestra, exec vp, directing this "streamlining of creative and merchandising concepts." In addition to D'Imperio, Harry Jenkins, vp of record operations, heads country music; Gary Usher the rock center; and Peter Dellheim classical music.

D'Imperio, whose center is also responsible for product flowing from Camden, Vintage, Kirshner, GreGar and Colgems labels and the general area of original cast product, feels that the total sales and promotion assets of the total RCA operations can now be utilized more efficiently and with greater flexibility and speed under the new structure.

D'Imperio makes it clear, however, that the overall RCA operation is not overlooked in this "indie-type" setup, for weekly meetings under Laginestra bring each product center together to maintain close contact. "Each product center is not competitive with the other," D'Imperio notes, "nor are there strict lines of demarcation."

Like the other product centers, the financial arrangement in each calls for separate budgets involving advertising, recording, promotion, etc. Each center has been given profit goals in which year-end tallies will be made.

What impresses D'Imperio most about the new operation is smaller release schedules that allow for more concentrated product planning; this,

A&M: Top Spurt In Singles Yet

HOLLYWOOD — A & M Records is currently enjoying the most activity in singles sales in the company's history, reports vice-president and distribution manager Bob Fead. Fead listed Joe Cocker's "The Letter", the Sandpipers' "Come Saturday Morning", Miguel Rios' "A Song Of Joy", the Carpenters' "Close To You", and Quincy Jones' "Killer Joe" on A&M and Mary Clayton's record on A&M-distributed Ode '70 Records, "Gimme Shelter" as the singles involved in the label's current explosion. All are Top 100 sellers this week.

"Cocker and the Sandpipers are well over a half a million in national sales", noted Fead, "with Miguel Rios over 200,000 and breaking all over. Quincy Jones' single is A & M's biggest jazz single since the late Wes Montgomery's hits of several years ago, having surpassed the 100,000 mark. It is also helping sales on Quincy's Grammy Award-winning album, "Walking In Space."

Fead went on to note the "excellent reception" received by the latest

Carpenter single, the remake of the Bacharach-David composition "Close To You", originally a hit for Dionne Warwick. With widespread airplay and good critical reaction, the single's sales are fast approaching 100,000 nationally, Fead said. The Ode single for famed studio singer Mary Clayton is the first cover version of the Rolling Stones' "Gimme Shelter" and is causing extra excitement because of that fact.

"Especially in the case of disks like that of the Sandpipers", Fead concludes, "we think the success indicates the extra effort applied to the promotion and distribution of our records. 'Come Saturday Morning' took a long time to make it, but if a record is given the time to prove itself and has the quality, we retain confidence in it."

Some current or upcoming pop and rock single releases, which Fead expects to be "giants" for A & M, include "Take Me For A Little While" by Evie Sands, "Walk Awhile" by Fairport Convention and "Brontosaurus" by the Move.

Robin Gibb Music In U.S., Canada Rep Deal w/ WB

NEW YORK — Robin Gibb Music has signed an exclusive deal for representation in the U.S. and Canada with Warner Bros. Music, according to George Lee, vp and general manager. Move comes amid reports from London that the Bee Gees, consisting of Robin, Maurice and Barry Gibb, were reuniting and had begun rehearsals for new recording sessions. Robin Gibb has written most of the team's material, but has co-authored others with his brother. WB Music will retain a share of the latter tunes, too.

Capitol Hosting Hawaii Seven-O; Its Biggest Conclave In History

HOLLYWOOD — Capitol Records hosted its largest sales convention yet, "Hawaii Seven-O," at Honolulu's Ilika Hotel last week (4). Some 450 Capitol execs and field personnel, as well as reps of 14 EMI affiliates worldwide, were in attendance.

Themed on "Capitol: Our Future Today," the confab was kicked off Thursday evening, (4), with a well-coming cocktail party and dinner hosted by Capitol Records Distributing Corp. vice president of sales John Jossey, convention chairman.

Brown Meggs, vice president and assistant to the president, introduced the EMI affiliates to the convention. They included, from Argentina, Dennis Dunn; Australia, Arthur Major; Brazil, Luiz Amaral and Oswaldo Gurzoni; Capitol Records of Canada, Ltd., Paul White, Arnold Gosewich, Hal Schatz and Dave Evans; Denmark, Koefoed Eriksen; Germany, Ernst Kryszohn and B. Krajewski; Holland, Joop Visser and Roel Kruize; Japan, Gerry Kato and Teruo Sakai; Capitol de Mexico, Luis Gomez and Armando Martinez; South Africa, B. Sanders; Sweden, Rolf Nygren and Reino Backman; Switzerland, Max Brunner; United Kingdom, Ian McLintock; and Venezuela, Bill Ricken.

Artist/A&R Thrust

On the first Friday morning of the convention, Jossey calls the convention to order to discuss its "Theme and Objectives." The keynote address, "Capitol: Our Future Today," was delivered by Capitol Records president Sal Iannucci. In his address, during which Iannucci noted that he had just completed his first year as president of the label, the exec noted, as he had in an exclusive interview with Cash Box several weeks ago, that the label's "principal thrust" is new artist development. "We are now, without question," he said, "an A&R-oriented company — we are an artist company. The Capitol organization today, like this meeting, is completely designed and geared around the A&R thrust of the company. The theme of this convention is the breaking of new artists." By "new," Iannucci emphasized that he also meant artists on

Grande Productions Opens In New York

NEW YORK — Grande Productions, a new record and production company, has been established here by Joseph Artanis, president. Grande Productions will specialize in producing new, contemporary talent and material for its own label, Grande Records, as well as offer self-produced masters to other companies for release under their own banners.

Artanis said that Grande will maintain an open door policy, and, in line with this policy, Artanis reports the completion of recording sessions with the first of two new acts whose initial releases on the Grande label are scheduled for early July. One act is known as Reality, described by Artanis as a self-contained pop-rock group consisting of five youngsters who are currently appearing at the Honka Monka, a New York "youth" night club. The second act is new vocalist Tony Castro. Both acts write their own material and have been signed to Grande Productions as exclusive writers and recording artists. In addition, Artanis has just signed two other groups, The Image and 2nd Generation, both of whom will have upcoming sessions for Grande Records shortly produced by Artanis. The Marvin Gray Management office handles all four acts.

Grande Productions is also comprised of Marvin Gray, president of Marvin Gray Management; Leroy Kirkland, arranger and musical director for Grande; and Joseph Randell, producer. New offices have been opened at 1650 Broadway, Suite 1206, and all material and masters for consideration may be submitted to this address.

the label who have not yet achieved "star" or "super star" status, but who possess the basic talent to get there. A talk by newly appointed CRDC vice president and general manager Don England was also on the morning schedule.

Following the Iannucci and England talks, Charles Champlin, Entertainment Editor of the Los Angeles Times, discussed "Tomorrow's World of Entertainment." Paul Haney, former voice of the Apollo and Gemini missions, now director of public affairs, Houston Astrodome, spoke on "The 70's Through the Turn of the Century." The remainder of the convention day was highlighted by a comprehensive, audio-visual Artist and Repertoire presentation.

On Saturday, June 6, the conventioners gathered to hear talks from Capitol's key Eastern Operations personnel and top-flight representatives from Apple Records, Invictus Rec-

AF's Gimbel: Good Cash Flow Aids Acquisitions

NEW YORK — Despite the tight money market, there's a good cash-flow over at Audio Fidelity Records.

This is considered a vital bargaining factor in AF's acquisition program, according to Herman Gimbel, head of the label, which celebrated on March 31 the first anniversary of its public stock offering. Gimbel, who notes that the company had a particularly good first six months following its going public, feels he's in a good position to make deals because he can offer cash payment, a method of buy-out most would prefer during these days of disenchantment with stock deals.

Deals In Works

Audio Fidelity's deals over the past year have included cash arrangements for the purchase of Chart Records, the country music label, for an amount "in six figures" and a similar outlay for Phil Shapiro's talent, producing and booking setup. In the works, Gimbel notes, is a deal for a mail-order house and an option to buy a New York recording studio. As far as music business properties, Gimbel eschews vertical buy-outs, but in the case of distribution facilities, he is planning to "underwrite" distrib operations in certain "outlying" areas where AF has not previously had market strong penetration. Mitch Manning, is assisting Gimbel in this area.

As a label, AF benefits, Gimbel feels, from its modest size and "personalized treatment of artists." Upcoming possibilities for new product include an LP of Bob Dylan songs by Roberta Peters, and an LP by Ethe!

Atlantic's New Life To 'Environments'

NEW YORK — Atlantic Records has picked up and is distributing Syntonic Research's "Environments One" LP. Disk is unique in concept and execution in that it has attempted to create a total aural environment. Side one contains the Psychologically Ultimate Seashore, which is a computer-created simulation of the ocean that cannot be distinguished from the real thing. Side two is the Optimum Aviary, which consists of continuous bird sounds.

Both sides are designed to fight "noise pollution," that is the jarring, cacophonous noises of the big cities, and to create a soothing environment in which to work and relax. Syntonic Research psychologists have found that with the record on in the background, work rates increase as does reading speed.

Syntonic Research, a N.Y. based environment research firm, released the LP on its own almost a year ago with no advertising. To date the record has sold over forty thousand copies with most sales coming from national college campuses, where it has proved very popular.

The LP is also unique in that it is

Control Is Core Of Apple Success; Eye 'Bigger Than Beatles' Build-Up Cap Beatles LP's Going To Apple

NEW YORK — When a company can issue 16 singles in a one year period, chart 12 of them, and make eight of the 12 attain gold record status; and when the same company can issue 11 albums in that same period, make 6 of the 11 attain gold record status, and send four of those albums over the 2,000,000 unit mark, everyone in the industry is going to be looking into how such a company operates. And that's exactly what everyone is doing.

The company, of course, is Apple Records, the Beatles' record company which is managed by ABKCO Industries and which in the past year has become one of the hottest companies in America.

As Allen Klein, president of ABKCO

Industries puts it, "the Apple Record set-up is the next direction in the evolution of the record industry." The industry, Klein points out, first saw the artist signed to a label and assigned to a house producer. In later years the independent producer became a significant factor. Then came the production company that was signed exclusively to a label. More recently, a separate label for a production company became the vogue. The next step, Klein says, is where Apple is.

This is where a completely, independently owned record company uses a major company's wholly owned distribution system and marketing facilities. This is the Apple arrangement with Capitol Records.

"As recording costs get higher," Klein continued, "and the guarantees artists and producers require goes skyrocketing, and as the demand on the part of the artist for total control of mastering, cover design, and frequency of releases becomes stronger, it becomes economically more perilous for companies to take such tremendous gambles."

As a result, if artists want to have their own labels, they will have to take on more of the risk . . . of recording costs, inventory, and will have to be responsible for taking back any excess product shipped.

Film Concept

Klein paralleled the Apple set-up to what has been happening in the film industry and pointed to the United Artists movie company structure which saw UA become the releasing facility for many independent production companies, each using a different artistic approach.

See Apple-Like Stones Company

NEW YORK — An Apple Records-like setup is being arranged for the Rolling Stones, the steller rock act appearing on London Records. The group's London deal ends July 31. Allen Klein's ABKCO Industries, which manages the business affairs of Apple and its leading act, the Beatles, is reportedly working on a setup that would resemble Apple, with the Stones having authority over recording, merchandising and promo. A major label would handle distribution, just as Capitol distributes Apple. Final arrangements, however, have not been made.

Jubilee To Distribute Sehorn/Toussaint Co. Label Called Deesu

NEW YORK — The Jubilee Group of labels will exclusively distribute the new Deesu Records diskery formed by producers Alan Toussaint and Marshall Sehorn, according to Steve Blaine, president of Jay-Gee Co., and Mickey Eichner, vice president of the label.

The producing team's previous successes have come via the Meters, and Lee Dorsey, among a host of others. First product scheduled for immediate release in "The Book," by Eldridge Holmes, written by a member of the Meters.

Production offices of Deesu Records, a division of Sehorn and Toussaint's Sansu Enterprises, will be located in New Orleans.

Merman to feature four of the songs by Jerry Herman inserted in the present, Merman-starred production of "Hello, Dolly!" AF is also expanding its kiddie division, now under the direction of Henry Rosenberg as vp of the kiddie and classical product. The company is tying in its Tiger Tale LP line with the manufacture of place-mats and decals based on the puzzles that replace liner-notes on each Tiger Tale LP. Expansion into toy store distribution is also planned. Each Happy Tiger LP—there are 35 in the catalog—lists at $1.98.

Prior to joining Audio Fidelity, Rosenberg was general manager of Abbey Record Manufacturing Co. as well as the Connoisseur record division of that organization for five years. He has also been associated with a vending machine equipment manufacturer and has a background in public and private accounting.

In the tape area, the company is offering a $3.98 line, with full markup, Gimbel notes, of cassette and 8-track classical LP's culled from its First Component Series. AF is handling its own duplication, while a deal with Ampex expires at the end of the year. Gimbel plans to acquire more classical recordings through foreign sources.

AF's income is greatly enhanced, Gimbel notes, by its premium division, which provides a steady cash-flow. One major deal involves premium product for Radio Shack. Gimbel expects AF to remain essentially an LP label, with occasional singles product coming from LP's. The label has wrapped up the soundtrack rights to "Pony," a new film featuring track work by the Youngbloods.

designed to play at any of the four speeds, ranging from 16 rpm's to 78 rpm's. It is also designed to be played continuously so that it becomes "a piece of furniture," according to SR president, I. S. Teibel.

Data Ind. Acquires Nashville Companies

NASHVILLE — B. J. Dillard, executive vice president, Data Industries of Texas, Inc., reports the acquisition of a block of Nashville music oriented companies consisting of Southern Plastics, Southern Record Distributors, Hermitage Music, Tapier Music Corp. and Record Vending. The block, exceeding $8,000,000 in sales in 1969, is a self-contained complex covering all phases of the music business.

According to Ray Rush, well known writer and producer, and assistant to Dillard, "Data Industries is not interested in taking from the economy of the area and an aggressive promotion campaign is planned with the hiring of additional promotion personnel. There is no change in management planned at the present time."

MGM Pact Returns Elvis To Movies

NEW YORK — Elvis Presley will maintain his long-term relationship with MGM where he made many of his 32 motion pictures. James T. Aubrey, Jr., president of MGM, said that he had reached an agreement with Colonel Tom Parker for Presley to sign a new contract with the studio, and indicated the first project would begin filming early this fall. Presley hasn't made films in several years, having started a revival of a personal appearance schedule.

Details of the project were not disclosed but Aubrey did reveal, "It will be a totally new concept in a two hour motion picture for theatrical release. Elvis' popularity has never been greater. His engagements at the International Hotel in Las Vegas and Houston's Astrodome broke all attendance records. His personal appearances create an excitement impossible to describe."

He further pointed out that theatres around the country are running Elvis films almost in festival form — four and five a night for all-night runs. From his first MGM feature film "Jailhouse Rock", made in 1957 and still playing worldwide, through many others including such hits as "Viva Las Vegas" and "Girl Happy," Elvis has ranked continuously among the top ten stars in almost every corner of the world.

The RCA catalogue lists 48 gold records (each representing more than a million records sold worldwide) for Elvis. Three singles and two albums achieved that status this year when RCA presented the golden discs to him in Houston. His latest release, "The Wonder Of You," out just three weeks, is already near the half-million mark. A new on-stage album will be released next week of his live-performance at the International Hotel in February.

TIC Says Music Hurt Earnings

NEW YORK — First quarter results for Transcontinental Investing Corp. showed income for the three months ended March 31 at $26,700,000 compared to $23,800,000, while net income for the period was $221,000 compared with $1,519,000 for the same period last year.

On a pooling basis, gross income for the three months ended March 31 were $26,700,000 compared to $23,800,000 reported last year. Net income for the period was $221,000 compared with $1,519,000 earned for the same period last year. Earnings per share were three cents for the quarter versus nineteen cents in 1969 computed on the basis of an increase in the average number of shares outstanding from 8,172,000 in 1969 to 8,668,000 in the first quarter of 1970.

Bob Lifton, chairman of the board, said that the sharp decline in earnings for Transcontinental Music Corporation, the company's record and tape merchandising subsidiary evidenced in the last quarter in 1969 has carried over to the first part of this year. "Corrective steps are being taken to reverse this situation which should have a major impact in improved results for the fourth quarter, traditionally TMC's most important sales period," he added.

Lifton also noted that additional borrowings necessitated by the tight money market resulted in much higher interest costs this year. "Through tighter inventory and other controls the company anticipates it will be able to reduce this additional financing by year-end."

London Exec Changes Mirror Boom

NEW YORK — Reacting to record levels of sales and production at London Records, a series of key exec changes within the organization has been made. The changes are designed to "better equip the company to meet the new marketing challenges of the '70s," according to president D. H. Toller-Bond.

Greg Ballantine has been named midwestern district manager for London Records. Ballantine replaces Al Parker in this slot. Parker, who had handled the midwest post out of New York, now takes over a new exec position in the distrib and account liaison area, directly under sales and distribution chief, Herb Goldfarb.

Jack Welfeld, who had been operating as exec assistant to Goldfarb in the LP sales area, continues in this post, while handling the additional responsibility of sales administration. In the latter duty, he'll be assisted by Ellie Rosenbloom.

Meanwhile, Helmut Uhland has been placed in charge of the firm's export division, moving into the post formerly occupied by the late Henry Principe. Uhland also will report to Goldfarb.

Production manager Bernie Fass and Vince Biondi, who heads up art production and disk and tape mastering, will both now report directly to Toller-Bond. Previously, both had been responsible to Marty Wargo, who recently resigned his post of administrative manager for the firm.

Rivera To Rep Equipe In U.S.

NEW YORK — Belwin-Mills Publishing Corp. staff writer Ray Rivera has signed an exclusive deal to be the agent in the United States for Equipe Records of Brasil and all its subsidiary lines, reports Ira Howard, general professional manager.

Equipe, one of the largest independent record companies in the country, distributes such U.S. lines as Viva, Bravo, Alshire and Vox. In addition to its own Equipe line, the company handles Spot Records and is represented in the publishing field with Equipe (UBC), Spot (SCADEMBRA) and Emblema (SBACEM). The contract was negotiated by Oswaldo Cadaxo, president of Equipe, and Roberto Nunes, international director of the label, while the two were in the U.S., confirming deals in New York and Los Angeles.

The agreement with Rivera calls for him to be the sole rep for the company in negotiating deals, leasing tapes and being involved in all publishing matters. Rivera will also produce LP's in the U.S. for distribution in Brasil and other South American countries by Equipe. Cadaxo noted that he will immediately go into production of an LP, "The Brazilian Strings Play The Ray Rivera Song Book." All the compositions will be taken from the folio of Rivera material, recently printed by Belwin-Mills. Interested parties can contact Rivera at his Belwin-Mills offices — 16 West 61st Street, New York, New York — phone: 245-1100.

Wein Scores Back-Seat Treatment Of Jazz; Sees Renewed Recognition

NEW YORK — "For over five years they have been busy burying jazz," says producer George Wein of the Newport Jazz Festival. "By they, I mean music critics, Madison Avenue, and the communications media that are quick to promote whatever is the 'now' thing. The New York Times, for example, treats jazz as if it were an unwanted child, clamoring to be heard in the midst of louder and more popular musical brothers. The Times has its occasional reviews and articles on jazz, but it is obvious that its major concern at present is rock or pop, the music that celebrates the youth culture."

"Magazines, newspapers, etc. must cultivate a youth audience to stimulate interest and sustain circulation," Wein continued. "But they diminish their positions as arbiters of good taste in the race to be au courant. However, jazz is again a music to be contended with in the 'now' context of things,"

Bones Howe Firm Enters 3 Deals

HOLLYWOOD — Bones Howe of Mister Bones Productions has entered into three production deals.

Howe feels "quality product in the album market is the lifeline of today's record industry. My goal is to build a company that can be relied upon to deliver this type of product to all of today's record companies who are growing more interested in manufacturing and distributing and less interested in the creative end."

His company will furnish the services of Bob Alcivar on album projects for The Sandpipers and Robin Wilson, both A&M artists. The Sandpipers are currently on the singles chart with "Come Saturday Morning." Robin Wilson is a young vocalist discovery of Don Ho. Bob Alcivar has produced Seals and Croft, and he has been vocal arranger for the 5th Dimension, The Association, and The Carnival.

Mister Bones will also furnish Toxey French to Capitol Records to produce an album with Dunn and McCashin. Dunn and McCashin are the writers of the recent Jose Feliciano hit "Hitchcock Railway." Toxey has produced The Groop for Bell Records and the "Midnight Cowboy" soundtrack for U.A. His production of Nilson's vocal performance "Everybody's Talkin' At Me" won a Grammy.

Sandy Zevon has produced his own album for Liberty Records, Zevon: Wanted Dead or Alive. Zevon is a songwriter for Mr. Bones Music and has written songs recorded by the Turtles and Lyme and Cybelle. He also wrote "He Quit Me Man" from "The Midnight Cowboy" track.

explained the producer of the upcoming three day jazz celebration.

Turning To Jazz

"At the same time that young rock critics are decrying the lack of vitality in rock music, the rock musicians themselves are finding new sources of musical inspiration. Having created their music initially from folk music, blues, and rhythm and blues, they are now turning to more sophisticated musical expressions. Today's well-educated and trained musicians need more than the vitality and beat of folk music and blues, and many are turning to jazz as inspiration. At the same time many jazz artists for commercial and musical reasons are becoming more involved with the rock culture."

"Slowly but surely jazz is creeping back into the picture as topical music. And a certain percentage of young listeners are picking up on jazz. Really it was inevitable," said Wein. "Jazz is the greatest musical art form America has produced, and its mastery is always a challenge to any musician who is creatively concerned. Jazz does not need popularity to exist. All it needs is musicians to play it."

The 1970 Newport Jazz Festival reflects the current picture in jazz, from New Orleans and Louis Armstrong to Tony Williams and Leon Thomas. From July 10 to July 12 hundreds of great musicians will attest to the fact that jazz is also the music of today and now.

South Disbands Believers Backup

NEW YORK — Joe South has disbanded the Believers, the vocal-instrumental backup group that accompanied him on all Capitol recording sessions and personal appearances, and hereafter will tour as a solo artist.

A fall concert tour is planned by the composer-performer, following completion of a new single and album for the label at his own studios in Atlanta. He'll utilize a series of arrangements by Ted Stovall, with local musicians set at every date.

South's act will highlight his own compositions, including the Grammy Award-winning "Games People Play," "Don't It Make You Want To Go Home," currently a hit for Brooke Benton; "Children," "Walk A Mile In My Shoes," and others. He'll also feature a tribute to BMI publisher of the year, Bill Lowery, publisher of the South titles.

NTD Announces Fiscal 6-Mo Increases, Still Eyeing 50% Sales Rise

MILWAUKEE, WIS. — National Tape Distributors Inc. has registered increases in both sales and earnings for the six months ended April 30. Profits of $354,000 were 24% over $279,000 for the period last year. Sales of $21,852,988 gained 59% over the $13,759,170 recorded in the first half a year ago.

Corporate president James Tiedjens said earnings per share for the six month period were 15¢ on 2,305,906 shares compared to last year's 14¢ on 1,925,753. He noted that the number of shares included the maximum number of shares which may have to be issued if the price of the company stock remains below $26.67 through 1972. "These are guaranteed shares, which have been a part of our acquisitions," he commented.

Tiedjens said that despite current economic conditions and recent reports of a drop-off in general merchandise retail sales, National Tape is still pursuing the 50% sales increase he had forecast at the outset of the fiscal year. "While such a large increase will be more difficult to achieve than we originally anticipated we continue to feel we can approach this substantial gain."

"Historically," he explained, "demand for recorded music loses only minor momentum in difficult economic times." He also cited popularity of new cartridge and cassette systems as a favorable condition. "Many people have extensive record collections," he said, "but cartridges and cassettes are such a recent development that these tapes are now being added."

New computer programs were now being installed at NTD to provide a centralized accounting system in Milwaukee for all divisions and subsidiaries so swift accumulation of sales and profit data would keep management continually abreast of field conditions on a national basis.

ASSISTANCE — Richard Allen, president of American Tape Duplicators, (right) contracts with Charles Bellm, vice president of North American Philips, in a joint venture that will see the opening of a Washington, D.C. based operation to assist minority groups. The two corporations are offering the technical and financial assistance to launch ATD of Washington as "an experiment in private enterprise, minority self-help and race relations," according to Allen. "It will also offer ownership opportunities and provide job training and jobs for minority group members who had neither."

ATD of Washington is opening quarters at 1730 M St., N.W. in the District of Columbia as a marketing and sales organization with the potential of moving into other production areas. It will seek government and private contracts for record manufacturing, tape duplicating and related services.

Poniatoff To Retire From Ampex Chair; Roberts His Replacement

REDWOOD CITY, CALIF. — Alexander Poniatoff, founder and chairman of the board of directors of Ampex Corporation, has announced that he will retire as chairman effective August 25, the date of the company's annual meeting.

William Roberts, president and chief executive officer, will assume the chairmanship in addition to his present duties.

Poniatoff, 78, will continue to direct the Alexander M. Poniatoff Laboratory, a specialized research and development organization within Ampex, and will maintain his regular schedule at his office at Ampex headquarters in Redwood City and his leadership of several charitable and medical research foundations.

Poniatoff founded Ampex (originally Ampex Electric and Manufacturing Company) in 1944 and served as president until 1955, when he became chairman.

Ampex, which takes its name from Poniatoff's initials, plus "Ex" for excellence, was originally formed to produce electric motors and generators for World War II navy radar systems. In 1946, Poniatoff elected to devote the small company's efforts to development work in the then-experimental field of magnetic recording. A year later, Ampex rose to prominence with the introduction of the first professional quality magnetic audio tape recorder.

Under Poniatoff's leadership, Ampex achieved a number of other pioneering developments in magnetic recording, including the first practical videotape recorder in 1956.

Born in Russia, Poniatoff studied mechanical engineering and received an M.E. degree at the technical college, Karlsruhe, Germany. During World War I he was a pilot in the Imperial Russian Navy Air Force. He fought in the White Russian Army during the Russian revolution, escaping to China when the war ended. From 1920 until 1927 he was employed by the Shanghai Electric Power Company while awaiting an opportunity to emigrate to the United States.

He was employed by the General Electric Company in Schenectady, New York, from 1927 until 1930, when he moved to the San Francisco Bay area. In 1944 while working as an engineer at the Dalmo Victor Company of San Carlos, California, he was urged to form his own company to produce the critically needed radar components.

On November 1, 1944, at the age of 52, he and three associates launched Ampex, which today employs 14,500 people around the world.

Among many honors and awards, Poniatoff is a fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers and received the 1968 Medal of Achievement from the Western Electronic Manufacturers Association and a "Modern Pioneer In Creative Industry" award from the National Association of Manufacturers.

Arnold Stone:

Visual Cartridge Is Natural Area For Commercial Filmmakers

NEW YORK — Producers of today's commercials are swiftly reaching the view that audio/visual cartridges may become the natural extension of their talents. According to Arnold Stone, president of Drew Lawrence Productions, the directors, technicians and artists now engaged in turning out film for advertisement and corporate presentation are looking to a/v as the first new channel opened for workers in film.

In addition to opening a new source of revenue, the a/v expansion calls for craftsmen with the specific abilities that have been sharpened in the commercial area. "These directors and cameramen are used to working with film being fitted to an already done music track, they have greater experience in the technical and especially in working with new film techniques, are accustomed to dealing with filmed material with duration limits and can handle short-time productions that will enable cartridge manufacturers to market their latest product quickly."

In return a/v offers the commercial worker an extension for his own abilities. He is faced with a new medium as a challenge, but it is also one of the very few areas that the creative commercializer can turn to. "With Hollywood no longer offering its avenue, and television production giving only limited openings for the young film maker, audio/visual — especially the musical presentation — is likely to be the strongest area of concentration for the ambitious," Stone commented.

One of the main problems regarding the link-up of commercial workers with a/v interests is the cost involved in mounting sample product. The work schedule requirements also make it difficult for production companies to mount an active campaign in seeking contracts for a/v material.

However, Stone expressed the belief that should audio/visual manufacturers make the first move, outline what they want or need, the commercial production area could easily be tapped.

According to Stone, the work schedule at a production outfit is arranged in rapid spurts with frantic work to complete a project followed by slack in which new efforts are being lined up. This hiatus could easily be employed by technicians and film makers to devise and produce a/v softwares.

CHICAGO — In a move designed to cover the country with a series of direct, in-person meetings with their distributors, the six execs of Chess Records fanned out nationally last week to introduce their "Lucky Eleven" album release.

Spearheading the group is exec vice president Richie Salvador, who will personally cover Dome, Essex, and David Rosen, Inc., the label's distributors in New York, Newark and Philadelphia. Dick LaPalm, ad and merchandising manager, will meet with Bertos, Schwartz, Seaboard and T.D.C. in Charlotte, Washington, East Hartford and Woburn. Arnie Orleans, national sales director, will hit A & I, Gold/Best and Music Merchants in Cincinnati, Buffalo and Detroit.

Hal Gold, who is Chess' midwest sales rep, will blanket his territory — Chicago, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Cleveland and Pittsburgh (All State, Heilicher, John O'Brien's, Robert's, Seaway and Arc/Jay Kay respectively).

Jim Stevens, the label's southern sales rep, will visit Decca, Music City, Southland, and Tone in New Orleans, Nashville, Atlanta, Hialeah and Memphis. Jack Nelson, western sales rep for Chess Records, will be in Seattle, Dallas, Denver, Torrance and San Francisco to see ABC, Jay Kay, Pan American, California and Melody.

Chess Sets

The new releases include four albums on Chess — Reverend Franklin's "Man On The Moon", Chuck Berry's "Back Home" (also available on 8 track, cassette and open reel tapes), Billy Stewart's "Remembered", and Joann Garrett's "Just A Taste". Cadet/Concept is represented with a single album by the Rotary Connection, "Dinner Music", which is also being issued in 8 track and cassette.

Cadet

Cadet has fielded a quartet of LP's featuring Lou Donaldson's "Fried Buzard" and Phil Upchurch's "The Way I Feel" (both of which are also on 8 track and cassette), "S.O.B." by Shades of Brown and "The Rubaiyat of Dorothy Ashby" by Dorothy Ashby. A pair of packages from Checker completes the "Lucky Eleven" — "Black Gladiator" by Bo Diddley, which is in 8 track, cassette and open reel configurations as well, and "In The Beginning" which features Aretha Franklin, Little Milton, Ernest Franklin, Martha Bass, Dorothy Best and Sammy Lewis in powerful new and old cuts overdubbed by the Harold Smith Majestic Choir.

"Rather than adhere to any old, tradition-bound ideas about introducing new albums to our distributors, we feel that having our top-level executives make their presentations in the field will result in not only a unique concept, but it will also provide a vital give-and-take that can benefit both Chess Records and our distributors," said Salvador.

RCA Pop Center

he explains, gives greater opportunity for artists to realize their full potential; allows for fast & efficient follow-through on projects from the very start; and enables RCA's service divisions to receive better direction. In the latter regard, the product centers have been assigned various personnel whose responsibilities lie chiefly with a particular center.

D'Imperio, for instance, utilizes the A&R talents of Ernie Altschuler, A&R vp, along with Jim Fogelson (cast product), Steve Schwartz, Joe Reisman (west coast pop A&R head), and Jack Pleis. As to what constitutes "pop" music, Altschuler defines this phase of the music business as generally "pop songs that can be sung." Some of the artists in the pop center include Henry Mancini, Jose Feliciano, Jane Morgan, the Monkees, Eydie Gorme, among others. Yet, D'Imperio reiterates, this does not rule out participation of other product centers in the care and concern of product flowing from another center.

Under the recent appointments of market planning managers, Lenny Scheer, representing pop, offers D'Imperio merchandising assistance, and coordination of service areas. One of Scheer's first projects will be to launch a more localized approach to product releases, including a testing approach in various key areas. For press and publicity, D'Imperio has been assigned Sim Myers from Herb Hellman's press division, while Walter Alshuk is product coordination administrator.

Control Core Of Apple Success

day, Klein says, is completely dependent upon "total sovereignty." Complete artistic control, control of the release schedule, control of the quantity to be shipped and the presentation of the art. In Apple's case, Klein goes on, Apple masters its own tapes, ships the parts to the Capitol pressing plant, approves test pressings, originates cover art and designs its own ads. "And we end up with only one account receivable to a company with a Triple A rating, Capitol."

When an independent company has complete control of its product and believes completely in the talent it is featuring, it has but two functions: 1) to get exposure on the air for its release; and 2) get the product into the market place when its hot. For promotion, of course, an efficient job must be done at the distribution level.

When Apple believed in its product, it backed its releases with heavy initial shipments. The initial shipment on John Lennon's "Instant Karma" single was 500,000 units. "On an untried entity like 'Come And Get It' by Badfinger, we pressed up 250,000 initially. We did so because the motion picture company which had the 'Magic Christian' in which the single was featured, bought air time plugging the single. On the 'Let It Be' single our initial pressing was 1,500,000. All are now gold records."

"In the album area, we did the same. 'Abbey Road's' initial shipment was 1,500,000. The 'Live Peace In Toronto' LP had a 350,000 initial shipment."

On "Hey Jude," Apple's initial shipment, Klein says, was 3,000,000 units. "And if this album were not handled in this mass quantity fashion, we never would have sold the 3,300,000 units we eventually sold," Klein says. Remember, Klein continued, we had no new material in the "Hey Jude" ords, and Merco Enterprises. Speakers were Dick Asher, Capitol's vice president of eastern operations, Allen Davis, marketing coordinator and Terry Knight, producer, A&R; Allen Klein, president of Allen B. Klein Company; Otis Smith, vice president in charge of operating Invictus Records, and Jack Grossman, president of Merco Enterprises.

Later that day the conference focused on marketing. A sub-theme of the convention was "Breaking Hit Artists," and the aim of this aspect of the program to present Capitol's marketing team and how it mobilizes in support of an artist to make hit product. Talks were given by Rocco M. Catena, CRDC merchandising vp; Christie Barter, CRDC national publicity director; Charlie Nuccio, CRDC promo vp; Reggie Lavong, CRDC R&B marketing vp, and Jossey. The "Breaking Hit Artists" presentation also included an extensive audio-visual presentation and an outlining of upcoming sales, merchandising, promotion and publicity plans for July-December period product.

All convention participants are assembling Monday, June 8, in their respective departments for conferences centering around targets and goals for fiscal '71. Toward day's end the conventioners will gather while Capitol president Iannucci concludes the convention's formal business.

Rounding out "Hawaii Seven-O" was a star-studded Capitol show Monday evening. Iannucci introduced Glen Campbell, who began the program. Campbell was followed by such Capitol stars as Al Martino, Cannonball Adderley, Joe South, Al De Lory, Linda Ronstadt, Quicksilver Messenger Service and RIG.

The evening's agenda also included three awards announcements: the President's Award, the award to Promotion Man of the Year and Salesman of the Year award.

All conventioners left Hawaii for the mainland this Tuesday, (9), except CRDC contest winners and their wives, who will depart next Sunday, (14).

LP. The mass merchandising approach resulted in the sale we eventually enjoyed, and made the "Hey Jude" LP the third biggest in the Beatles history. "Capitol salesmen did a fantastic job of merchandising this LP," Klein said.

The initial shipment on the "Let It Be" LP, which was produced to coordinate with the release of the film, was 3,700,000 units. (All figures include records and tapes.) Capitol's efficiency in pressing and its ability to meet deadlines were highly praised by Klein in the handling of the "Let It Be" LP. (This LP is distributed through UA.)

Initial shipments on the McCartney LP were one million units and on the Ringo Starr LP it was a half million units.

As a result of the new Apple approach to its product, three out of the four all time best selling Beatles singles were attained during the past 12 months and in the same period, three out of the five best selling Beatles LP's resulted.

The Beatles all-time best seller singles list reads as follows:

1. Hey Jude.....	3,600,000
2. I Wanna Hold Your Hand.....	3,000,000
3. Something/Come Together.....	2,500,000
4. Let It Be.....	2,390,000

Numbers three and four were hit singles even though the cuts were also in LP's at the same time. Early Beatles singles were never available in LP's at the same time.

The group's all time LP best seller list is as follows:

1. Abbey Road.....	4,800,000
2. Meet The Beatles.....	4,300,000
3. Hey Jude.....	3,300,000
4. Let It Be.....	3,300,000
(in its first 13 days)
5. Sgt. Pepper.....	3,000,000

It is interesting to note that in the past 12 months the "Sgt. Pepper" LP has sold in excess of 700,000 units. Effective Sept. 1, 1969, all Beatles product, new and old, will appear under the Apple label.

Klein also points to increased productivity that goes along with complete control of one's own product. In the past 12 months on the singles end, Apple issued 16 singles: 5 Beatles, 2 Plastic Ono, 1 Lennon, 1 Badfinger, 2 Mary Hopkin and one each by Billy Preston, Doris Troy, Jackie Lomax and two by Rada Krishna. Eight of them are gold singles: the 5 Beatles, 1 Lennon, 1 Plastic Ono and one Badfinger.

On the LP end, 11 albums were offered during the past 12 months. Two million plus sellers included: Hey Jude, Abbey Road, McCartney and Let It Be. Sentimental Journey by Ringo and Live Peace by the Plastic Ono Band reached gold record status. Other LP's issued included Badfinger's Magic Christian Music, The Mary Hopkin LP, Life Of The Lions by Yoko Lennon, the Wedding LP, and an Electronic LP.

Since May of 1969, Apple has sold a total of 13 million LP's and 15 million singles.

Apple Records has also made inroads in the variable pricing area. "Abbey Road," which had 16 tracks, sold for $6.98. The "Let It Be" movie track was also $6.98. And the "Hey Jude" LP sold for $5.98.

Another indication of the Beatles productivity during the past 12 months is their new film which is released through UA. It's the first Beatles movie in 5 years and was the 8th largest grosser in the U.S. last week, according to Variety.

Why have the Beatles been so productive during the past year? During this time ABKCO has been able to relieve the boys of money problems and business affairs allowing them a greater opportunity to spend most of their time at what they are best suited for, producing smash records.

Where does the company go from here? A few months ago, the Beatles brought veteran producer Phil Spector into the Apple fold, to, in George Harrison's words, "make Apple Records bigger than the Beatles."

G&W Earnings In 3rd Quarter Down, 9 Mos. Show Gains

NEW YORK — Gulf & Western Industries' earnings declined in the third fiscal quarter ending April 30, but profits for the nine months greater than the 1969 period. Sales set a record for both periods.

In a general division-by-division breakdown, Charles Bluhdorn, chairman, noted that all 11 divisions showed profits, including Paramount Pictures, and other leisure-time areas. Among them is Famous Music.

Earnings for the third period came to $11,521,000, compared to $12,005,000 a year before. Sales were $415,775,000, compared to $397,833,000. Earnings for the nine months were $38,510,000, compared to $36,111,000. Total nine month sales reached $1,213,544,000, up from $1,138,164,000.

Sound Classics Takes RCA Product

NEW YORK — Sound Classics, Inc. of Indianapolis has assumed responsibility for servicing the record and tape retailers with RCA Records previously serviced by Ohio Appliances of Cincinnati.

Louis Randle, president of SCI, said that Jack Shue, record manager of Ohio Appliances, and Pete Hagen, territorial salesman with the same firm, both have joined SCI and will have responsibility for the accounts they have handled in the past.

Levy is also charged by the parent company, GRT Corp., to investigate buy-out possibilities on a number of fronts, including labels, publishers and wholesalers.

The exec also reports highly favorable results from the Janus setup, which is a U.S. partnership between GRT and Pye Records of England. cashbox/talent on stage

Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young

FILLMORE EAST, NYC — It's necessary to make one thing clear right now: no amount of hype (and we all know how much has gone into this group) could make Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young any better. They are simply the most honest to goodness best group I have ever heard—probably (no, make that definitely) the most exciting and talented group on the American (no, make that International) scene today.

Their talent extends not only to each member's ability for composing excellent songs, remarkable musicianship, extraordinary vocals; but the way they handle themselves on stage—even down to the tact they use on answering the Fillmore Cretin Squad who invariably wise-mouth every performer who steps foot on that stage. Each member has been around (Buffalo Springfield, Byrds, Hollies) and has learned lots from experience.

The show was broken up into two parts. The first part was all acoustic (an hour and a half) and the second section was electric. The acoustic part of the show was more successful and more appreciated by the audience than the other. Crosby, Stills and Nash opened the set with "Suite: Judy Blue Eyes" and then brought out Neil Young who did a few numbers with them, including the fine Buffalo Springfield song he penned, "On The Way Home." Young was then left on stage alone to solo, doing "Cinnamon Girl," "Down By The River" and a couple of other beautiful songs. His voice is as beautiful as the material he's written for it.

Each one of the group came out to solo or to sing with one or more of the other members. Some of the best numbers were Nash and Crosby's duet in "Guinnevere" and Stills' well disciplined guitar and vocal workout in a song, "Black Queen." All songs during the set were winning and pointed up the power of each musician and the power of their collective sound. Incredible!

It was a difficult transition to accept—the change from acoustic beauty and balance to electric harshness complete with the most treble of highs. To say it was piercing would be an understatement. Yet, it did give the group a chance to soar up with the music. It also gave Young the opportunity to go animal on his guitar with some highly explosive guitar solos. Two songs in particular stick with me, although they were not much more outstanding than the rest of the numbers in the set: "Long Time Gone" and their yet to be released single "Ohio."

The best part about their concert, considering the group has only two LP's out, is that they do their newly-written songs as well as their familiar material. There is a wealth of songs done during the night and it is a treat of the highest order. Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young; you made my lady and me very happy.

The Burt Bacharach Orchestra The Carpenters

WESTBURY MUSIC FAIR, WESTBURY, L.I., NEW YORK — So you really wanna lead a band . . . or an orchestra? Well take lessons from Burt Bacharach. He's got to be just about the most dynamic orchestra leader we've ever watched. He was absolutely exciting on a raised pedestal in the theater-in-the-round stage and one could almost see the strings which came from his fingers and touched each of the marionettes who were playing the instruments exactly as Burt wanted them played. And that's no easy task if you know Burt arrangements. Playing the grand piano and a little electric piano, with his back arched, his hands weaving figure eights, and his graying hair flying in all directions, he was something to behold. Whatta showman! He even sang two numbers. Of course, the entire program was music penned by Burt Bacharach who records for A&M and Hal David, and the sound was almost as good as his recording sessions. (We got a particular kick out of the two bows Hal David had to take before the audience would stop applauding for him after Burt introduced him. It was touching.) Music from "Butch Cassidy," "Look of Love," "Raindrops," "Alfie," and all the other hits made it a program without an unfamiliar melody. Well, he did play what he referred to as one of his bombs, but even that was beautiful, a song called "The Last One To Be Loved." We'll probably be hearing that one made into a hit at some future date. Great songs by a great conductor who is rapidly becoming one of America's leading sex idols . . . what a winning combination. The only thing we felt was missing was a Tom Jones type skin-tight tuxedo with a more colorful fluffy dress shirt which we think would go well with the Bacharach performing image, because Burt is also probably the sexiest conductor around.

Burt was preceded by the Carpenters, a sweet sounding 4 boys and a girl rock group. And oddly enough, the girl, Karen Carpenter is featured on drums and handles lead vocals. She's got a great voice and is a great drummer, but it's difficult to watch an attractive young lady sing a romantic number and believe the words she's singing as she pounds on the drums. But the group is talented and

Lou Rawls

WESTSIDE ROOM, CENTURY PLAZA, L. A. — Rawls had several things going against him for his opening night celebration of his decade with Capitol Records. First his initial "soul" song ("All God's Children") got lost in a flood of chordless mike feedback and he was forced to utilize Reggie Powell's piano mike. Powell could have taken the rest of the night off for he was unheard by anyone not within five feet of his piano. As it was, the band seemed under-rehearsed (Rawls was constantly finger-snapping tempo changes) and not nearly as crisp as the H. B. Barnum helmed outings at the Monterey Pop and Coconut Grove.

If all this sounds like a dull session at the Westside Room, it's not so. Rawls, decked in a flamboyant cut velvet tux with red shirt, was in fine fettle most of the way—his deep-rich baritone about as affluent as ever. He has also added a new dimension which borders on showmanship. Call it assurance, it's evidenced in the form of body english supplanting his mouth-to-mike standup approach. He manages to move about now with ease and that between patter is ingratiating. Repertoire consisted of the expected ghetto-underprivileged fare ("Tobacco Road," "Down Here On The Ground," "Dead End Street") uncorrupted blues (particularly his "Stormy Monday" reading) and several more of his chart titles (including his almost-hit, and one of our particular favorites, "Three O'Clock In The Morning"). Once more he included "Shadow Of Your Smile," a slow enough ballad to begin with. But when offered at half tempo it's the longest three minutes in night clubs. We suggested, about three years ago when reviewing his debut at the Grove, that he might do well to delete this over-stylized, mannered arrangement from his act. He had a particularly rough time with it on opening night, straining for the high notes and searching for his key. Obviously he's determined to stay with it until he gets it right.

their latest single, "Close To You" also on A&M (which just broke onto the charts this week with a bullet at 81) came over very well. We'll be hearing a great deal from Karen and the group in the near future.

Charlie Brown/Tim Hardin Youngbloods

CARNEGIE HALL, NYC — Quite often talent goes unrecognized, which seems to be the case with Charlie Brown. The singer-composer-guitar strummer-harmonica playing artist, very much resembles the tragic hero of comic strip fame. His credentials are honorable, including the lead guitar in the Broadway smash "Hair." But for some reason the Georgia born musician has missed the big time every time around. His latest is a rock group that includes John Ward on bass, and Rick Frank handling the percussion, completing a very full sound for a trio. His portion of the show was quite enjoyable, but it should be pointed out that one missing quality was the artist's natural relaxation that puts the audience at ease. He comes off sort of rigid, but he puts on an enjoyable show that makes up for it.

Following Charlie Brown was Tim Hardin, who was recording his segment of the show. Doing all new material, Hardin surprised the crowd by leaving the folk field for a while and doing some beautiful jazz oriented material. Unfortunately, the audience wanted the folk music, and at the completion of each number he was welcomed by cat-calls and other fine obscenities.

Finishing out the night were the Youngbloods, who completely captured and dominated the not-to-excited audience. The group is intent on projecting a completely new image, now that Jerry Corbitt has left; and the vocal segment misses him.

The Temptations

COPACABANA, NYC — It's that time of year when student activism shifts from schools to local night spots. Performing before an irrepressible opening night audience consisting largely of Detroit high school students, the Temptations, those members of the Motown establishment, were in full control.

As the Temps hit the first notes of their opening "Get Ready," they were deluged with screaming encouragement. Happily accommodating their young audience, the Temptations hammed things up a bit with some classic rhythm and blues gestures and dance routines of the '50s to complement their sparkling r & b harmony.

The Motown recording artists broadened their material to encompass more than their successful Motown stock. The performance included a soulful "Let it Be" emphasizing a piercing tenor and bubbling bass, a pretty "Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet" and a stirring "Everything's Gonna Be All Right."

When the Temps got to their own material and sang "Psychedelic Shack," the noise level in the Copacabana above mildly reserved pandemonium and approached the threshold of pain. The performance's sole handicap was a lack of space as the limited stage area could barely confine the gyrating quintet and the table area could barely hold its group of admirers. An auditorium would've been appropriate for the lively proceedings.

Opening the program was the comedy team of Edmunds and Curley, who specialize in mechanical sound effects. The duo performed impressively realistic sound simulations of pilots taking off and a "Wide World of Sports" telecast featuring a world championship ping pong match and a motorcycle race. The duo's material is hardly original but well executed, compelling more admiration than laughter.

B.B. King/Carla Thomas

ROYAL BOX, NYC — B.B. King is B. B. King and that's a fact. No matter where he is, B.B. won't change for anybody, because he is who he is, and that's good. He is not only one of the most respected blues guitarists, but also one of the most accomplished performers around.

King breezed through an outstanding set which included some of the finest finger-picking we've heard from him in quite a while. Particularly outstanding where his now famous monologue incorporated into "Someday Baby," and his showcapper, "The Thrill Is Gone," which B.B. could play all night.

"Memphis Queen" Carla Thomas opened the evening with a curious set. Could this indeed be the "Queen of Soul" singing such songs as Lennon-McCartney's "Maxwell's Silver Hammer," and Ray Stevens "Everything Is Beautiful?" There could be no mistaking that strong, super-silky voice, the sensual body movements, and the ultra-professional attitude that has marked Carla as a star from the beginning. But it was hard to imagine what she was striving for by all but abandoning the strong r&b flavored material that has made her so famous, for the rather watered down numbers she presented at the Royal Box. Yet so deep is her talent that she managed to not only transcend her material but also outdistance the pedestrian arrangements of the band.

Small Faces

CAPITOL THEATER, PORT CHESTER, N.Y. — How nice to finally welcome the Small Faces to this country. They are a group who began in England at about the same time as the Kinks but whereas Ray Davies group found instant success on these shores, the Faces had no such luck. Highly successful and respected in their own country, but relatively unknown here, they nevertheless continued, undaunted, to put out superb singles and LP's the best of which was the "Ogden's Nut Gone Flake" album with the celebrated round cover simulating a tobacco tin.

But then leader Steve Marriott left the group to form English supergroup Humble Pie, and the Faces were set adrift on the cold heartless sea of pop. Far from conceding defeat, the plucky little lads (why do you think they're called "Small Faces"?) enlisted the aid of the Brodianagian (by comparison) Rod Stewart (late of the Jeff Beck Group) and a whole new sound was born.

And what a sound it was! They immediately veered away from the rather happy-go-lucky flavor that characterized much of their earlier music, letting Rod Stewart's influence coincide with the general drift of their own writing. "Flying," released in Britain as a single, was the first product from the new Faces, and was a beautiful blend of Stewart's rough-hewn, straining voice and Ron Wood and "Plonk" Lane's high, melodic voices.

Their concert was a gas, evolving from "Flying," through some fine bluesy numbers to an extended version of their instrumental from the LP, "Around The Plinth." Of particular note was Ronny Lane's excellent guitar solo.

The surprise of the set had to be the Faces version of Paul McCartney's "Maybe I'm Amazed," arranged like "Flying" so that the soft parts are handled by Ronny and "Plonk" while the raving sections are sung by Stewart. The group came back for three encores. It was hardly enough.

Topping the bill was Mountain, but you already know about them.

Picks of the Week

TOMMY ROE (ABC 11266)

Pearl (2:55) (Low-Twi, BMI — Roe, Weller)

Powerful ballad side this time out gives Tommy Roe his first non-rhythm effort at reaching top forty and part of the MOR market. Could prove the single that takes Roe out of the teeny-only category much as "Sweet Caroline" aged Neil Diamond's appeal. Flip: "Dollars Worth of Pennies" (2:28) (Same credits)

B. J. THOMAS (Scepter 12283)

I Just Can't Help Believing (2:57) (Screen Gems, BMI — Mann, Weil)

Pegged as the side to pull from his newest LP, "Believing" brings B.J. Thomas home with an easier to "hear" bit of material this time out. One listen should be enough for top forty and adult programmers who haven't already begun to play this track out of the album. Flip: No info.

THE CARPENTERS (A&M 1183)

Close To You (3:40) (US Songs, ASCAP — David, Bacharach)

Are Bacharach/David songs female vehicles, or do they just sound better in a feline framework? In either event, the Carpenters become a supporting team to their songstress lead in this delightful follow-up to their first chart entry. All-pop-format potential gives the new single a broad sales foundation to build on. Flip: "I Kept On Loving You" (2:20) (Irving, BMI — Williams, Nichols)

BEE GEES (Atco 6752)

I.O.I.O. (2:44) (Casseroles, BMI — B&M Gibb)

At long last, a break in the string of Bee Gees variations on the same theme. Newest side introduces a new sound to the act, more tempo and rhythm effectiveness for teen top forty formats, and a melodic shift that shines a new light on the group. Flip: "Then You Left Me" (3:10) (Same credits)

THE FLIRTATIONS (Deram 85062)

Everybody Needs Somebody (2:46) (Felsted, BMI — Bickerton, Waddington)

Consistently powerful, regularly inventive and appetizing in the sound department, the Flirtations come on strongly once more with a side that should carry them heavily into the top forty picture. Exciting material and performance that should score. Flip: "Can't Stop Lovin' You" (3:15) (Same credits)

FRANKIE VALLI (Philips 40680)

Circles in the Sand (3:22) (Sufi-Pipkin, BMI — Watts, Stein, Mills, Ducey)

Elements of this side are familiar as bits of other artists' sound, but Frankie Valli wraps them all together as something new for himself alone. Excellent material and a fresh vibrance in his vocal should establish the side as a strong item top forty and across-the-board. Flip: No info.

EDDIE HOLMAN (ABC 11265)

I'll Be There (3:01) (Danian/Virtu/Schoochiebug, ASCAP—Shuman, DeAngelis)

Delicate production and the delightful vocal sound of Eddie Holman places him on the verge of a national breakout again with this stunning ballad. Should come close to matching his "Lonely Girl" showing with blues and top forty audiences. Flip: "Cause You're Mine Little Girl" (3:08) (Same pubs, ASCAP — Holman)

AL GREEN (Hi 2177)

Right Now, Right Now (2:47) (Jec, BMI — Green)

A series of noisemakers have kept Al Green in regional spotlights, but this side should carry national action strongly enough to put him on the charts. Booming blues track with some standout instrumental work and a towering vocal to top things off. Flip: "All Because" (2:49) (Jec, BMI — Green, Hodges)

JOHNNY MATHIS (Columbia 45183)

Wherefore & Why (3:22) (Warner Bros., ASCAP — Lightfoot)

Turning to Gordon Lightfoot material for an extra contemporary thrust, Johnny Mathis turns up with one of his best sessions since "A Time For Us." Side is an attractive ballad that will earn MOR consideration, but also features an arrangement that could open top forty doors. Flip: No info.

ELEPHANT'S MEMORY (Metromedia 182)

Mongoose (3:41) (Pocket Full, BMI — Frank, Bronstein)

With the underground turning further into the occult musically, Elephant's Memory reappears with the latest in the "Golden Splinters" and "Obeah" vein. There is a booming rock side that could carry itself into above ground teen lists. Flip: Extended (4:56) version.

CARLA THOMAS (Stax 0061)

I'm Going Back To Living In The City (2:37) (Screen Gems/Columbia, BMI — King, Larkey)

Picking up momentum from a supercharged Memphis rhythm and brass backdrop, Carla Thomas moves into one of her best sounding sides in a good while. Material and her performance weld together with a shine that should win R&B notice and stir top forty interest. Flip: "The Time For Love (Is Anytime)" (3:12) (SG/C, BMI — Weil, Jones)

PEGGY SCOTT & JO JO BENSON (SSS Int'l 805)

Let's Spend A Day Out In The Country (2:15) (Crazy Cajun, BMI — Valier, Jordan)

Rise and rock once more seems to be the train of thought that gives Pegg and Jo Jo a brand new lease on the charts. Team powers their way through a belting side that should explode R&B and re-open pop ears to the duo sound. Flip: No info.

GEORGE JACKSON (Fame 1468)

That's How Much You Mean to Me (3:00) (Fame, BMI — Jackson, Moore)

Several good efforts by Jackson have laid the groundwork for this powerful side to become his calling-card. Glittery production and a standout vocal performance are bound to earn exposure with teen and blues stations. Flip: "I'm Gonna Hold On" (2:46) (Fame, BMI — Jackson, Lowe, Jr.)

Newcomer Picks

BRIDGE (Roulette 7081)

Love Is There (2:36) (Kirzo/Planetary, ASCAP — Claude, D&L D'Amato)

This teen love rocker has become a regional giant and goes national this week via master purchase. Side has home-hewn rhythm accompaniment that gives it a powerful impact for top forty play. Should blossom across the country. Flip: "Gotta Get Back" (2:15) (Same pubs, ASCAP — Claude, D'Amato)

THE GREEN BERETS (Uni 55239)

Give Me A Try (2:24) (June 16, BMI — Davis, Frazier)

Uni's answer to the Jackson 5, The Green Berets explode with this outing. Gleaming vocal pyrotechnics and a bright piece of material to match the team's talent gives the G.B.s an excellent shot at booming into sales pictures on top forty and blues fronts. Flip: "Just An Ugly Rumor" (2:59) (Same credits)

MICHAEL DENTON (Rare Earth 5015)

Just Another Morning (3:13) (Stein & Van Stock, ASCAP — Miller, Baird)

Once over the rocky intro, this side becomes a highly attractive teen ballad with effective vocal and production work to assure top forty action. Beginning to look like a British hit, this side should make it on both sides of the Atlantic. Flip: No info.

MUNGO JERRY (Janus 1299)

In The Summertime (3:40) (Our-Dorset)

Every long while Georgie Fame comes up with a weird bit of jazzed rock that awakens U.S. interest. This time it's the Mungo Jerry group who does the Fame thing and it works well enough to figure this debut side for heavy top forty action in the season ahead. Flip: "Mighty Man" (4:43) (Same credits)

CHRISTIE (Epic 10626)

Yellow River (2:40) (Norma, BMI — Christie)

Preceded by Leapy Lee in release here, Christie comes over with the British original of "Yellow River" to make a go of it here. From England's top ten, the side offers a variation of Creedence's work that goes well for top forty play. Flip: "Down The Mississippi Line" (2:30) (Leeds, ASCAP — Christie)

Choice Programming

Choice Programming selections are singles which, in the opinion of our reviewing staff, are deserving of special programmer consideration.

PRARIE MADNESS (Columbia, 45172)

Say it Again, I Love You (2:27) (Sufi Pipkin, BMI — Ducey, Millis) An outstanding new group with some of the Buffalo Springfield styling, Prarie Madness sets a striking mood for FM and possible top forty exposure with this first outing. Flip: "Circles in the Sand" (3:08) (Sufi Pipkin, BMI — Watts, Stein, Ducey, Millis) Also appealing, the material could make this the top side.

ED AMES (RCA 9864)

Chippewa Town (2:44) (Don Kirshner, BMI — Sedaka, Greenfield) Right in line with the Indian image he has presented on tv, Ed Ames' new outing offers a contemporary semi-folk glimpse of the present state of the redman. Flip: "Sing Away the World" (3:02) (Melrose, ASCAP — Badale, Mann) Finer material that could receive "A" side reception.

BUDDY MILES (Mercury 73086)

Down By the River (3:07) (Cotillion/Broken Arrow, BMI — Young) On the heels of his "Them Changes" comes a new Buddy Miles treatment of this Neil Young song. Behind the Brooklyn Bridge's release, this reading offers a slightly slower and more weighted reading. Flip: No info.

RICHIE HAVENS (MGM 14141)

Handsome Johnny (3:52) (Unart, BMI — Gossett, Havens) Old material to Havens fans, this performance from his "Mixed Bag" LP shows up even more timely now. Material interest could turn up AM and FM exposure. Flip: "Sandy" (3:10) (Twin-Tone, BMI — Cousineau)

GORDON WALLER (Bell 882)

You're Gonna Hurt Yourself (3:09) (January/Nice, BMI — Macaulay, D'Abo) An extremely pretty ballad here gives Gordon Waller a long-shot chance of reaching both teen and adult audiences. Gentle subtlety, though, makes this a work side. Flip: "Sunshine" (2:20) (Felicia, BMI — Waller)

HEROES OF CRANBERRY FARM (Jamie 1386)

Big City Miss Ruth Ann (2:40) (Cedarwood, BMI — Monohan) Crosby & Stills meet the bubble gum machine in this intriguing blend of two separate rock styles. Into left-field, possibly for extra bases. Flip: "Fellow John" (2:20) (Dandelion/Elkee, BMI — Tyson)

BOSSA RIO (Blue Thumb 113)

With Your Love Now (3:19) (Rodra, BMI — M&P Valle, Gimbel) Bright bit of sprightly Brazilian jazzing on a fine ballad make this single a good prospect for MOR attention. Flip: "Zazueira" (3:06) (Rodra, BMI — Ben)

MIKE CURB CONGREGATION (MGM 14140)

Sweet Gingerbread Man (2:31) (Leo Feist, ASCAP — Legrand, A&M Bergman) Scintillating arrangements and a perky ballad with chorale delivery make this material from the new "Magic Garden of Stanley Sweetheart" film a familiar piece with teens and young adults. Flip: No info.

JERRY ROSS SYMPOSIUM (Colossus 119)

Let Me Love You One More Time (2:25) (Morro, — Ramos, Joyce) Gentle melodic charm and a most attractive chorus/orchestra arrangement here should gather considerable easy listening exposure and could crack top forty playlists. Flip: no info.

ROGER WILLIAMS (Kapp 952)

On a Clear Day You Can See Forever (3:41) (Chappell, ASCAP — Lerner, Lane) Title song from the show and up-coming movie is attractively presented in this piano showcase. Timing and flair could captivate MOR/easy listening programmers. Flip: No info.

JAYE P. MORGAN (Beverly Hills 9349)

I've Got an Awful Lot of Losing You to Do (2:28) (E.B. Marks, BMI — Young, Crane) Total change of Miss Morgan's pace gives the songstress a powerful shot at MOR with top forty potential. Flip: "He's Too Good to Me" (3:04) (Irving, BMI — Nichols, Williams)

JAN DALEY (Quad 103)

Take this Letter Maria (2:54) (Stellar, BMI — Greaves, Rowlands) Chapter two of the literary adventure between R.B. Greaves' man and his wife. Cute answer single that stands out on its own for top forty long-shots. Flip: "Let Me Love You" (3:30) (BNP, ASCAP — Daniels, Dresbach)

THE BOKENJO (Sanfris 55)

Sunshine for a Rainy Day (2:55) (One O'Clock, BMI — Vanleeuwen) An outstanding bit of balladry makes its melancholic point with a sound that could score top forty. Flip: "Here Is Love" (2:35) (Snow White, ASCAP — Friscia)

NEW YORK — PUTTING THE ART IN ARTIST

Does the maxim about judging a book by its cover also apply to records? Not always.

It's usually easy to differentiate the classical from the pop, the country & western from the folk, etc., by cover art. But pop records cover art is beginning to break the barrier of homogeneous look it's been behind for years and is actually revealing something about the individual records.

Time was when all pop records looked the same in cover composition (back before the mid-60's) — performer, title, logo right up there, big and proud. In recent years, though, some record company artists have tried to beautify album jackets with some sort of art or arty photo of the performer. Many of those techniques are already hackneyed and outdated (how many times have you seen a rock group clustered around and hanging out of a tree, right?). Also, the psychedelic craze was exploited so heavily that it gets increasingly harder to turn out a truly turned on piece of cover art. It is finally coming to a point, however, where the AM-type albums are sticking with the more traditional designs and the underground records are picking up a personality of their own — reflective of the content on the disk in each jacket. Those reflections are pointing up a social or humanitarian sentiment through art that may be found on the record.

One of the first really fine covers was on Pearls Before Swine's first ESP album which was borrowed from one of the frames of Hieronymus Bosch's triptych, "Garden Of Delights." One of the first truly underground groups in 1967, Pearls played music purely reflective of the statement the cover made about it, and the combination was a total piece of art. From that time until now the market has been saturated with albums of various degrees of beauty and meaning in the record/cover art tie-in.

It is a curious thing that some of the larger companies are still in the process of updating their art techniques as opposed to some smaller labels which have used progressive methods for years. Some of the better labels to depend on for true art covers are Elektra (former art director and now general manager William Harvey and new art director Bob Heimall have kept strong control over the cover art which is probably the best in the business, carefully incorporating performer, title, logo in conspicuous positions in a manner that they work completely with the clean and beautiful artwork — total composition), WB-Reprise, Vanguard, and occasionally Columbia, Atlantic, A&M, Capitol and RCA. Now Epic seems to be wanting to get into the act. Epic's latest album by Edgar Winter features a head shot of the albino man on a cream colored background with white lettering at the top. Beautiful work, Epic people.

Many times all a person has to go by when he is browsing the racks with his bills clutched in his hand is the cover. And it is reasonable to assume that good covers sell records. It is about time the record companies concentrate on packaging their work artistically and uniquely in just as careful a manner as the recording artist prepares the music on the deck. Cover, as well as music, should be heavy with communication.

One final note, and an important one at that, deals with another industry-related art — photography. Why is it that record companies can't keep files of candid photography of their artists along with the standard press photo fare? Photos

HOLLYWOOD — IMAGE RAKERS

We don't usually like to attack the underprivileged but public relations reps, like smog and drugs, are always fair game. Particularly during election week. And by all means when we're stuck for a column. So we've said it all before. But maybe Hanson-Bernstein-Eddy-Braverman-Litrov-Mahoney and Saltman (obviously fictitious names) weren't listening. But this time we'll put it in its simplest form so even they will understand. Public relations reps should ponder the effects of their daily communiques before submitting as fact what occasionally assaults credulity. Even Maxwell Smart would be hard put to suggest, for example, that a single that recently struggled to make the national top ten had "gone well past the two million figure." That is just one of several items offered to us this past week which will not appear on these pages.

Inflationary figures is one thing. But another flack recently informed that an eminent composer-producer had "produced" and "staged" an actor-singer's forthcoming appearance in Vegas. We typed up the item and were about to submit it to N.Y. when the composer just happened to phone. We discovered that the composer had never been approached for the assignment. He had never met the actor. He was not interested in such chores.

Another artist was recently mentioned as forming his own production firm and setting up offices in Europe. We might have gone along with the item except that we noted the talent's A&R director, mentioned in the release, was not his producer and, incidentally, labored for a competing label. We called the artist and discovered that not one semi-colon in the article was based on fact. The end result is that, aside from wasting an enormous amount of time on our end — checking and re-checking — we tend to discredit a number of legitimate biurbs from firms which have, in the past, tended to misrepresent their clients' vicissitudes of fortune.

A classic saga concerns a public relations firm which, a few years back, concocted a mythical British film producer — a Sir Geoffrey somebody — who would constantly crop up in the daily press releases. Thus within a six month period all of the agency's clients had either conferred with Sir Geoffrey, on co-production deals or had been signed to appear in full length multi-million dollar features produced by this imaginary potentate. We're told that considerable space was squandered by the dailies until the west coast editor of Variety discovered the deception. He resolved the matter by devoting a full column to Sir Geoffrey — this

KLMS - Lincoln, Neb. Bringin' It All Back Home

"It has been kind of a rocky road," says Lee Thomas, program director of KLMS in Lincoln, Neb. looking back over the past ten years during which the station moved from a grab bag amalgam of polkas, MOR and classical music to become a solid top forty power and a pacesetter in the ratings race.

Although KLMS is the only top forty station in Lincoln, it faced considerable competition from three stations which beamed from nearby Omaha. With their strong signals they were easily picked up by Lincolinites. However, by gearing their programming, both musically and otherwise, to the needs and tastes of their own city, the people at KLMS were able to build up an audience.

Being Lincoln-oriented meant discussing on the air specific issues which were peculiar to the city as well as employing a playlist taken exclusively from local outlets. The latter was especially important since the record tastes in Lincoln were recognizably different KLMS — Lincoln, Nebraska. 1,000 kw. Howard Shuman, president; Harvey Swenson, general and commercials mgr.; Lee Thomas, program dir.; Ken Berg, operations dir.; Craig Swope, news dir.

Format: Top Forty. Playlist: 50 top singles, 20 top albums, five hitbonds in each category, some oldies.

On-Air Personalities: Ed Riley, 5-9 a.m.; Denny Mathias, 9 a.m. to noon; Fred James, noon to 4 p.m.; Lee Thomas, 4-7 p.m.; J. Marshall Stewart, 7 p.m. to midnight; Howard Hughes, midnight to 5 a.m.

from those in Omaha. The latter city has a much larger percentage of black residents; consequently, the Omaha charts carried numerous soul records which were not as popular in Lincoln.

Perhaps more important was the large student population at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln. Recognizing this factor, the station began a policy three years ago of putting increased emphasis on album tracks. Proof that this thinking paid off can be found in a recent rating survey which was taken by the student newspaper. It showed KLMS with a booming 67% share of the radio listeners on the campus, with the nearest competition, a hard rock FMer tallying 13%.

Recently the station has been devoting more time to news and public interest broadcasts. In this vein, they have presented regularly scheduled

KMPC Spectacular Show To Aid Orphan Children

LOS ANGELES — "Show Of The World — Show Of The Year," an entertainment with an extensive talent line-up, will be presented at the L.A. Forum on June 27 by KMPC.

Among the artists who have already signed for the 100% charity show are Nancy Sinatra, Danny Thomas, Bob Newhart, Johnny Mathis, Oliver, Patti Page and The Sandpipers.

Nelson Riddle will conduct a 31-piece orchestra, augmented by additional instrumentalists with some of the performers, to back-up all 14 acts on the show.

KMPC's personality line-up of Dick Whittinghill, Geoff Edwards, Jim Lange, Gary Owens, Roger Carroll, Johnny Magnus and Jack Angel will share duties as masters of ceremonies.

All proceeds of the "Show of the World — Show of the Year" will go to International Orphans, Inc.

DROPPING BACKSTAGE to visit Capitol artist Wayne Newton were WNBC-New York's Gail Scillia and Joe O'Brien. Occasion was the singer's opening night at New York's Royal Box.

'Seventy' Adds Eleven

CLEVELAND — Broadcasters Television System has added eleven stations to their "Scene Seventy" station list. Included are WFBG-Altoona; KOAA-Colorado Springs; WCAX-Burlington, Vt; KSLA-Shreveport; WFMY-Greensboro, N.C.; WTVD-Durham, N.C.; WHCT-Hartford; WSWO-Springfield, Ohio; KTVA-Anchorage; KTVF-Fairbanks; WHIO-Dayton. "Scene Seventy," which presents numerous recording artists, is hosted by Clay Cole.

"KLMS Reports" which are 30 minute issue studies. Recent time periods have been devoted to topics of the day such as abortion reform in Nebraska, the right to assemble and the Cambodian situation.

Editorials are aired when warranted; each day there are three minute capsule reports which are heard at regu-summaries of issues of interest to the station's listeners. Also there are local and national news broadcasts, the latter ones from the Mutual network. "1480 Farm Facts" is a five minute cast of news which is of interest to the area's farmers. In addition, the station airs movie reviews.

New Berlin Landmark: SFB Television Center

BERLIN — West Berlin has a new landmark, an $18 million complex of studios, maintenance, control and headquarters buildings which is the new Television Center of Station Free Berlin.

The center, which was almost five years in the building and more than a decade in the planning, was designed entirely for the special needs of tv. It features 40-foot high studios which rest on a system of coil springs, enclosed inside a larger cover for the maximum in soundproofing. It also has rehearsal halls below ground-level in the studio units as long and as wide as their upstairs counterparts, so a new show can try out while another is being taped.

Everything in the complex interlocks. This includes the shop system where sets are built, the storage area, maintenance and projection rooms, photo laboratories and editorial offices. They are linked to allow the fastest and most coordinated movement possible.

The center has already opened and will be in full operation by the summer.

'Someday' Is Jobete Song

NEW YORK — The BMI award-winning song "Someday We'll Be Together," written by Harvey Fuqua, Johnny Bristol and Robert L. Beavers, is published by Jobete Music Co., Inc. and not by Fuqua Publishing Co., as incorrectly reported by BMI in a press release and in trade paper ads. With this award, the Jobete total of awards for most performed songs during the year 1969 is now four.

Jupiter Into Future

Chris Crosby's Jupiter Productions has embarked on its most ambitious project to date via the production of an album by a newly-formed 10-man rock band called "The Salvation Army Band of the 23rd Century."

The LP called "Shine makes extensive use of the Moog and is being A&R'd by Crosby and Jim Lowe with all tracks original and composed by Lowe/Jack Williams and Crosby.

The entire project will, in Crosby's words, "carry a futuristic approach" starting with a 30-minute animated film of "the future" that will feature the group. Animated characters, each

'Save The Queen' Sings Epic's Carp

NEW YORK — Epic Records recently-signed group, Carp, is currently engaged in a battle to save the Delta Queen, the last of the great Mississippi steamboats, from government condemnation. The group has penned a song in the boat's honor called "Delta Queen." Riverboat owner Bill Muster heard the song and immediately enlisted Carp in the massive campaign he is launching to save his boat.

Current plans are for the Delta Queen to leave New Orleans and head upriver to Cincinnati, stopping at major river ports in between. At each port the Delta Queen will stop 1/2 mile outside port while DJ's, newsmen, columnists, music directors, and city officials are ferried aboard for cocktails on the lower deck and a performance by Carp on the upper.

Cities on the tour are New Orleans (June 5), Memphis (June 9), Little Rock (June 10), St. Louis (June 11), Louisville (June 13), and Cincinnati (June 15).

The campaign is being handled by a team of promotion and publicity men in each city, and coordinated by owner Bill Muster, Carp manager Morrie Parker, and the promotion staff of Epic Records.

Timber Falls On Kapp

HOLLYWOOD — Timber, a newly-signed Kapp Records five piece rock group, will be heard soon on a deluxe packaged debut album which is nearing completion.

Kapp executives are hailing Timber's upcoming LP and soon-to-be-released single, co-produced by the group with Henry Lewy, as an exemplification of label's new direction throughout the organization. Timber's initial release will garner special packaging and a number of advertising aids.

Coordinating with Musso, National Sales Manager Vince Cosgrave and Promotion topper Carl Maduri, are also plotting to launch Timber in July, with unique approaches in trade and consumer advertising, plus heavy participation in college-underground media.

IN THE COURT OF THE QUEEN — R&B singer Chuck Jackson has signed a long term contract with Ruth Bowen's Queen Booking Corp., the largest black-owned agency in the nation. Jackson is added to the large list of QBC clients who include Sammy Davis, Aretha Franklin, The Impressions and The Dells.

'Rock Encyc.'s' Roxon On Panel At Ads Lunch

NEW YORK — "The Impact of Rock Music on Advertising" is the theme of a special Luncheon-Seminar sponsored by the Advertising Club of New York on Thursday, June 18th. Featured will be Lillian Roxon, author of the recently published "Rock Encyclopedia."

The author of "Rock Encyclopedia", who was invited by the Advertising Club to lead the discussion, is a foreign correspondent for the Sydney Morning Herald. She became fascinated by the influence of Rock Music on various areas of our lives and it was her study of Rock that led to publication of this book, now considered the "bible" of the rock world.

Miss Roxon believes that "Rock is more than just a new sound . . . it is a driving powerful economic force that has been used by marketing men" but, she explains, "they have barely scratched the surface of its possibilities".

The Rock luncheon-conference will take place at the Advertising Club headquarters, 23 Park Avenue, Manhattan.

can and should present more than just a one dimensional glimpse of faces. Photos should capture the artist's energy and beauty, and be an editorial statement capable of standing on its own. Only RCA (to my knowledge) has actually experimented with candid photography using young, talented photographers hip to pop and its meaning. Also, CBS/Columbia of England sent us a shooting of a recent Royal Albert Hall concert series and the pictures are really impressive and usable. The picture of Santana in concert that is printed this week offers a strong contrast to the label's standard press shot. Perhaps the record companies could class-up their images and those of their artists by candid photo-art. It is futuristic in concept but a worthwhile move. A picture is worth a thousand notes.

EAST COAST GIRL OF THE WEEK

"Being born in Brooklyn carries with it certain responsibilities." So saith the sage, S.W. Ginsburg, of Capitol Records, Vicki Lewis' boss. Perhaps Vicki could say the same about her Ohio birthright — and maybe not.

A graduate of Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, where she pursued commercial art and elementary education, Vicki spent a year or so on the west coast working in, among other things, an aircraft plant. She came to New York about two years ago and went to work for Kelly, Nason ads agency. Explaining that "a music job is not dull," she wanted to pick up on a piece of the action and headed to Capitol where she was promptly hired as a publicity assistant. Responsible to her job which she likes (Stu made her say that) she still maintains a strong feeling for the artist in her. Draw your own conclusions.

LONG SHORT TAKES, SHORT LONG TAKES AND SHORT TAKES (NOT NECESSARILY IN THAT ORDER)

For the past two months the hammers have been hammering and the paint brushes have been painting on the enormous billboard above the building between 45th and 46th Streets on Broadway in Times Square. Last night the finishing touches were put to it and the project is complete — the words "Grand Funk Railroad" with the pictures of the Capitol trio just below. The sign is part of a promotion of the group and their latest album that is due to be released in a few days. The three were in town this week and stopped up to talk about the billboard and themselves. They were pretty much astounded by it and took it all in the best of humor. They fly back to their Michigan homes tonight, where things are only as big as life itself. What a come-down.

Where Are They Now Dept. John Phillips, of the late Mamas and Papas, is into a whole new thing these days, acting. It all started with the formation of the Phillips-Adler Movie Production Co. with Lou Adler. Now their first film "Brewster McCloud's Flying Machine," directed by Bob ("M*A*S*H") Altman, is nearing completion, and a second film, "The Byron-Shelley Project," is in the works. The latter film is being scripted by John who will also star in it with Mia Farrow. It is being directed by Michael Sarne, who has just completed "Myra Breckenridge." Filming will begin in Europe in the fall.

The Schaefer Music Festival gets underway on June 25 with Ray Charles. There will be 61 concerts on 31 playing dates to be held in Central Park's Wollman Rink, and each will cost only $1 and $2. It is the fifth season for the series which the brewing company subsidizes handsomely. Some excellent performers are set to play including The Band, Arlo Guthrie, John Sebastian, Delaney & Bonnie, Great Speckled Bird With Ian & Sylvia, Jethro Tull, Judy Collins, Supremes and Mountain to name a few. A special phone number has been set up for performance and weather information: (212) 249-8870 . . . Leonard Ruskin's tenth annual Forest Hills Music Festival starts at Forest Hills Tennis Stadium on July 11 with Sly. Other concerts will feature such artists as Leonard Cohen; Peter, Paul and Mary; Simon & Garfunkel, in their only U.S. appearance this season; Janis Joplin and more. Look for their ads . . . The Newport Jazz Festival (July 10-12) will feature three separate workshops to run simultaneously: one for drums, one for trumpet and one for violin. Such musicians as Tony Williams, Art Blakley, Elvin Jones, Chico Hamilton, Dizzy Gillespie, Clark Terry, Joe Newman, Jimmy Owens, Jean-Luc Ponty, Stephanie Grappelli, Ray Nance, Joe Venuti and Mike White will be featured in the workshops — and most of the performing bands.

Christmas in June? Well, it looks like it's time to start planning for the holidays. A couple of releases this week announce engagements for some performers past New Year, such as The Temptations (The Deauville Hotel, Miami Beach, Dec. 24-Jan.2) and Engelbert Humperdink (Riviera Hotel, Las Vegas, Dec. 18-Jan.14). By the way, Eddy Arnold will host the Kraft Music Hall Christmas Special this year. Only 201 shopping days til Christmas!

But, just to show we do not hold grudges, here are some of the releases received this week. We are printing them — with due credit — slightly shaved to save space, but otherwise verbatim. On second thought, maybe we do hold grudges.

Pop Picks

10 YEARS TOGETHER — Peter, Paul And Mary — Warner Bros 2552

Looking back over the past decade it seems as if Peter, Paul And Mary were close to us through the most joyful and sorrowful days. On the occasion of their tenth anniversary as a trio, Warner Bros. has released an album which is at once a collection of their greatest hits and a testament to the part they played in the music of the Sixties. The LP traces the PP&M story from their earliest hits, "Blowin' In The Wind" and "Lemon Tree" to their most recent hit, "Leavin' On A Jet Plane." A superb package already on the charts.

ON STAGE — FEBRUARY, 1970 — Elvis Presley — RCA LSP-4362

Elvis continues right on with another live set (a companion to his live in Memphis LP) this time from his engagement at the International Hotel in Vegas. The "King" sounds relaxed and happy as he swings into excellent versions of "Polk Salad Annie," "Yesterday," and "Proud Mary." With Presley in top voice and fine, non-overpowering sounds coming from the orchestra, one could ask for little more. Deck is already seeing chart action.

GREATEST HITS — Sergio Mendes & Brasil '66 — A&M SP 4252

Should be a high chart spot waiting for Sergio Mendes & Brasil '66 with this album of their greatest hits. The soothing sounds of the vocal and instrumental aggregation are heard on "Mais Que Nada," "With A Little Help From My Friends," "Fool On The Hill," "Scarborough Fair," "Going Out Of My Head" and a host of others. Some of the cuts were hit singles. Others are popular tracks from albums. LP on the charts this week, will be a biggie.

NORWOOD — Original Soundtrack — Capitol SW-475

"Norwood," the Glen Campbell starrer, will very likely be one of the summer season's most popular movies, and this soundtrack recording should also receive an enthusiastic reception. A feast for Campbell fans (the singer is featured on eight tracks), the album also includes some fine instrumental themes by Al De Lory. Several of the LP's tunes are the work of Mac Davis and one of them, "I'll Paint You A Song," is as lovely a ballad as has come along in years. While accent of the soundtrack is on country, "Norwood" should score right across the boards.

WITH LOVE — Bobbi Martin — United Artists UAS 6755

Bobbi Martin had a top ten hit with "For The Love Of Him," which tees off this album, and she should do very well with the set itself. In addition to the hit, the songstress offers "Something," "Come Saturday Morning," "Bridge Over Troubled Water" and a host of others, singing in a style that should please listeners in both pop and MOR markets. Look for this LP on the charts.

THE JIM NABORS HOUR — Columbia CS 1020

Jim Nabors should please his many fans with his new album effort. The LP opens and closes with "Tomorrow Never Comes," the theme song of his weekly TV show, and in between the chapter lends his rich baritone voice to "Games People Play," "Jean," "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Take My Hand, Precious Lord," "San Francisco" and a number of other tunes. Should do nicely.

VEHICLE — The Ides Of March — Warner Bros. 1863

The seven man group which hit hard with their single, "Vehicle," make an auspicious album debut with a deck of the same name. Some tuneful compositions by lead guitarist and vocalist Jim Peterik are augmented by material such as Crosby-Stills' "Wooden Ships" and the Jethro Tull favorite, "Dharma For One," plus an interesting symphonic treatment of "Eleanor Rigby." This is an LP with a big sound; it should be traveling chartwards.

GASOLINE ALLEY — Rod Stewart — Mercury SR 61264

During the past year, Stewart, lead singer of the Small Faces, has really been coming into his own as a solo performer. Now he offers his strongest entry to date, bringing his unique rock vocal style to the likes of "You're My Girl (I Don't Want To Discuss It)" and the Dylan number "Only A Hobo." Good as gold too is the title song written by Stewart and guitarist Ron Wood. For a bit of country flavor, there's a fine rendition of "Country Comforts." Exceptional album from a consistently exciting talent. His last solo LP made the charts, and this one should, too.

CRABBY APPLETON — Crabby Appleton — Elektra EKS-74067

Crabby has put together one of the strongest, happiest, purely commercial sets to be heard in quite some time. It's all straight ahead, simple rock that is irresistible. Special mention should be made of vocalist Michael Fennelly's compelling songs (he wrote the entire album). "Go Back," the single, and "Try" are solid commercial efforts, while "The Other Side" and "Catherine" are low-keyed gentle songs. Overall the musicianship is crisp, delicate and first-rate. Set is packaged in an outstanding cover which should help sales. Crabby is an eye and ear catcher. Try it.

EXPRESS YOURSELF — Charles Wright & The Watts 103rd Street Rhythm Band — Warner Bros. 1864

Charles Wright & The Watts 103rd Street Rhythm Band currently have a sizeable hit with "Loveland," and the success of the single should help sales of this album, though the set does not contain "Loveland," which is on an earlier album. Led by Charles Wright (lead guitar, vocal, piano), the R&B rock outfit lays down a host of tracks that their fans should want to hear. This LP could well be a hit on the charts.

CHANGES — MONKEES — Colgems COS 119

There are only two Monkees now — Davy Jones and Mickey Dolenz — and what was one of the most popular groups in pop music history has lost its prominence as well as half its members. But there are still some Monkees fans left, and they will want to own this record. Produced by Jeff Barry, who also had a hand in writing more than half the songs, the set showcases Davy and Mickey in a competent, if not sparkling, performance. Should do fairly well.

BETTER TIMES ARE COMING — Rhinoceros — Elektra EKS-74075

Rhinoceros moves into a slightly funkier groove with this, their third album for Elektra. The addition of Duke Edwards as drummer and vocalist has given the group a wider range which is readily apparent on items such as "Lady Of Fortune" and the powerful anti-war song "Rain Child." There is almost a gospel quality to "Sweet Nice 'N High" while "Let's Party," with a joyous vocal by John Finley and the soaring organ playing of Mike Fonfara, shows off the group at their foot-stomping best. Winning set all the way.

Students Receive BMI Awards

Eighteen young composers from the United States and Canada will share a total of $12,950 in the 18th annual BMI Awards to Student Composers (SCA) competition, which is sponsored annually by Broadcast Music, Inc. (BMI), the performing rights licensing agency. The award recipients this year range from 15 to 24 years of age. Six of them have been previous SCA winners. This year's awards, said BMI president Edward M. Cramer, will bring to 153 the number of talented young people in the Western Hemisphere who have been presented with BMI Student Composers Awards to be applied toward their musical education.

1969 BMI Awards to Student Composers are being made to the following: Robert Boury, age 23, of Wheeling, W. Va., a student at the University of Michigan; Humphrey Evans III, age 21, of Washington, D. C., a student at Yale University Graduate School. This is Mr. Evans' third SCA award; Daniel Foley, age 17, of Jacksonville, Fla., a student at the North Carolina School of the Arts. This is Mr. Foley's second SCA award; Andrew Frank, age 23, of Philadelphia, Pa., a student at the University of Pennsylvania; Stephen Hartke, age 17, of New York City, a student at the United Nations International School; Jeffrey Jones, age 22, of Los Angeles, Calif., a student at Brandeis University; Daniel Kessner, age 23, of Los Angeles, Calif., a student at the University of California, Los Angeles; Jeffrey Kresky, age 21, of Passaic, N. J., a student at Princeton University; Gerald Levinson, age 18, of Westport, Conn., a student at the University of Pennsylvania; Denis Lorrain, age 21, of Montreal, P. Q., Canada, a student at the Universite de Montreal; Howard Lubin, age 16, of Merrick, N. Y., a student at the Juilliard School Preparatory Division. This is Mr. Lubin's third SCA award; John David Mann, age 15, of Westfield, N. J., a private student of Dr. Alfred Mann; Peter Salemi, age 21, of Urbana, Ill., a student at the University of Illinois; Walter Saul, age 15, of Chevy Chase, Md., a student of Grace Newsom Cushman, at the Jr. Conservatory Camp in Vermont. This is Mr. Saul's second SCA award; Daria Semegen, age 23, of Haganan, N. Y., a student at Yale University. This is Miss Semegen's second SCA award; Donald Steven, age 24, of Montreal, P. Q., Canada, a student at McGill University; Preston Trombly, age 24, of Danbury, Conn., a student at Yale University; Hugh M. Wolff, age 16, of Washington, D. C., a student of Grace Newsom Cushman, at the Jr. Conservatory Camp in Vermont. This is Mr. Wolff's second SCA award.

The SCA project annually gives cash prizes totaling $15,000 to encourage the creation of concert music by student composers (under the age of 26) of the Western Hemisphere and to aid them in financing their musical education. All awards are made on the basis of creative talent evidenced by original manuscripts which are submitted and judged under pseudonyms.

The permanent chairman of the judging panel for BMI Awards to Student Composers is William Schuman, distinguished American composer.

Others who served as judges in the 1969 competition were Chou Wen-chung, Felix Greissle, Ronald Herder, Udo Kasemets, Otto Luening, Gustave Reese, Nicolas Roussakis and Vladimir Ussachevsky.

The 1970 Student Composers Awards competition will be announced in the fall, at the beginning of the next school year. Inquiries regarding rules and official entry blanks should be addressed to Oliver Daniel, Director, BMI Awards to Student Composers, Broadcast Music, Inc., 589 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10017.

SPANISH MOSS — Doug Kershaw — Warner Bros. 1861

Doug Kershaw has gained a good deal of notice through his appearances on the "Johnny Cash Show," and it may be that this wild Cajun singer, songwriter and fiddler will become a star. He has great spirit, and if you have seen him live or on TV, you can picture his enraptured movements and facial expressions as you listen to the record. Keep close tabs on this LP. It might break out.

BEST OF THE MARMALADE — Marmalade — Epic BN 26553

With the success of "Reflections Of My Life," Epic, Marmalade's old label, has released a "Best Of" set by the group. The LP is a strong one, containing three semi-hits (they were smashes in Britain) "Lovin' Things," "Baby Make It Soon," and "Wait For Me Mary-Anne." Also included are three early songs by the group — "Can't Stop Now," "I Can See The Rain" and "Man In A Shop." Set could become a collectors item with this country's many ardent Anglophiles. A very interesting and worthwhile album.

I'LL NEVER FALL IN LOVE AGAIN — Peter Nero — Columbia CS 1009

Peter Nero lends his talents to renditions of "the great love songs of today" on his latest album, and his fans should enjoy the results. The noted pianist performs the title track, "Raindrops Keep Fallin' On My Head," "Jean," "Goin' Out Of My Head" and a host of others. Set was arranged by Nero and conducted by Nick Perito, with the exception of one track, "Come Saturday Morning," which was arranged and conducted by Charles Calello. LP should do nicely.

INSIDE BERT SOMMER — Eleuthera ELS 3600

Kornfeld, Lang's Eleuthera label gets off to a winging start with this fine likeable set by Bert Sommer. The artist is particularly impressive on the wry song "On The Other Side," while his rendition of the infectious "We're All Playing In The Same Band" is thoroughly enjoyable. All tunes on the LP are Sommer compositions with the exception of the Paul Simon opus, "America." Sommer is a talented singer and composer and this album shows him to full advantage. One to watch.

Classical Picks

BERNSTEIN CONDUCTS COPELAND: INSCAPE/ CONNOTATIONS FOR ORCHESTRA — Bernstein/ New York Philharmonic — Columbia MS 7431

According to composer Aaron Copeland both "Inscape" and "Connotations" reflect "to some degree, the tenseness of the times in which we live." Appropriately, both are serial works, works based on an arbitrarily assigned twelve-tone scale. The music is strange and takes some getting used to, but Copeland fans are sure to want to hear it. An excellent reading, too, from Bernstein and New York's finest combines with the brilliance of Copeland to create a fascinating LP.

VIVALDI — EIGHT CONCERTI FOR VIOLA D'AMORE — Trampler/Camerata Bariloche/Lysy — RCA LSC-7065

Both soloist Walter Trampler and conductor Alberto Lysy have turned in outstanding performances for this set. Vivaldi's eight concertos for the viola d'amore, which has a slightly deeper register than the violin, display the same caliber of fine melody that characterizes the other string compositions. The two-record package offers a great deal of listening pleasure.

HANDING IT OVER — In the middle of this photo is a valuable piece of paper, a $2,000 check which talent agent "Shorty" Lavender, representing the Hubert Long Agency, is presenting to Country Music Association executive secretary Mrs. Jo Walker on behalf of George Jones and Tammy Wynette, whose names were placed in the Country Music Hall Of Fame's "Walkway Of Stars." Looking on are (left) Harold Hitt, president of CMA, and Roy Horton, executive with Peer International. George and Tammy, on the road, were unable to attend the ceremonies. Unveiled along with stars for the two artists were stars for the original Carter Family (A.P., Sara and Maybelle), Roy Clark, Pete Drake, Lonzo and Oscar, Red Sovine and Billy Edd Wheeler.

G.M.A. Growing By Leaps and Bounds

NASHVILLE — In the past six months membership in the Gospel Music Association lifetime membership category has mushroomed five hundred per cent. Giving evidence to the phenomenal growth of gospel music popularity the G.M.A. has enjoyed the addition of one or more new lifetime members every month since January.

Individual memberships in the G.M.A. have also increased to an all-time high of more than 1,500 individuals. These annual memberships spread literally around the world.

In addition to the membership gains and the growth of "Good News," the G.M.A. can show other signs of progressive promotion. The Association is currently assisting radio stations across the nation in conducting station surveys, advising record companies of radio station record needs and is currently compiling a listing of radio stations programming gospel music. Plans are underway to release the Association's fourth album containing the top gospel songs of 1969 as sung by some of the top gospel entertainers. Presenting the Dove Awards, the Association's equivalent of the movie industry's Oscar, the G.M.A. has brought to the gospel music industry a sharp sense of professionalism and excellence.

Clement Nashville Finance Head For Ritter

NASHVILLE — Jack Clement, one of the music industry's leading independent producers and music publishers, has been named chairman of the Music City Finance Committee for Tex Ritter, candidate for the United States Senate.

Clement will set up a committee of leading music industry personalities and businessmen to raise funds in support of Ritter. Among those assisting in the effort are: Jimmy Key of Newkeys Music, Inc.; Harold Bradley, a leading Nashville musician; Bill Hudson, president of Bill Hudson & Associates; Joyce Bush, secretary-treasurer of Tree International; Tompall Glaser, recording artist and music publisher; Joe Talbot, Nashville representative for SESAC; Bob McCluskey, general manager of Acuff-Rose Publications; Mary Reeves Davis, president of Jim Reeves Enterprises; Bob Ferguson, A&R director with RCA-Victor Records; Danny Davis, leader of the Nashville Brass, and Hubert Long, president of Hubert Long International. Other Music Finance Committee members will be named later.

Clement said that he and his committee are working for Ritter, not only because of Ritter's many years of outstanding service to the music industry, but because "he is qualified by education and experience to serve in the United States Senate".

Allison Famous' Nashville Dir.

NEW YORK — Through its Dot and Paramount labels and its publishing companies, Famous Music Corporation is already significantly active in country music, and in order to increase its share of the market, vice president Jack Wiedenmann and publishing vice president and general manager Marvin Cane have appointed Joe Allison executive director of the Famous Nashville operation.

Allison, who has been involved in every creative area of country music over his many years in the business, has also been involved in C&W radio as a deejay and programming consultant and has been a performer in his own right.

Initially, Allison will review the labels' country roster and will work in the direction of building it in all areas through both the existing production agreements and new deals where called for.

In the area of publishing, the companies, both the ASCAP and BMI firms, will be actively presented in the country area and will offer country writers opportunities in motion picture and TV scoring through the offices of Famous throughout the country. The first Famous movie score to come out of Nashville, "Little Foss and Big Halsey," is now in preparation by Johnny Cash and Carl Perkins.

The record and publishing operations in Nashville will operate independently of each other, although Allison will oversee each separate entity.

In addition to his executive responsibilities in Nashville, Allison will continue to produce Roy Clark and Hank Thompson for the Paramount and Dot labels respectively.

Over the course of years, Allison has been the producer of such artists as Bud and Travis, Jody Miller, Nancy Ames, Timi Yuro and Willie Nelson, among others. As a songwriter he has accounted for such numbers as "Teenage Crush," "Live Fast, Love Hard" and "He'll Have To Go," a gold record for Jim Reeves.

Allison was general manager of Central Songs, Inc. in Hollywood for five years and was head of Liberty Records' country music department.

Mr. & Mrs. Allison (Rita) are the proud parents of a six-week old son named Gregory who will now be raised in the heart of country music.

Doherty Decca's C&W Sales Mgr; Kennedy To Label

NEW YORK — Chic Doherty, formerly national country promotion manager for Decca Records, has been named to the newly created post of national country sales manager. Gene Kennedy has joined the label in the post formerly held by Kennedy. Both are located in Decca's Nashville offices.

Kennedy comes to Decca after five years as national promotion for Hickory and TRX Records.

MCA Music To New Headquarters In Music City

NASHVILLE — The Nashville operation of MCA Music, headed by Jerry Crutchfield, has recently moved to new offices in the Capitol Building at 806 16th Avenue, South, after being located in the Decca building since 1962.

This move came about as the result of expansion by both Decca Records and MCA Music. Jerry Crutchfield explains that with the additional space in the Capitol building, MCA Music can be more receptive to new people bringing in creative ideas, inasmuch as a "Creative work-room" will be available to writers, thus resulting in a more direct communication between himself and the writers.

MCA Music has an open door policy and is in constant search for new material and new recorded product that is available to be leased.

George Cameron, KBBQ Owner, Dies

BURBANK, CAL. — Radio Station KBBQ owner George E. Cameron, Jr. died on May 22 in his Las Vegas hotel room, apparently of a heart attack. He was sixty years old.

A native of Paris, Texas, the son of a Baptist Minister, George Cameron was a self-made millionaire through his oil production in Oklahoma, Colorado, and California.

In addition to his purchase of KBBQ in Burbank, California in 1962, Cameron built the first television station (KOTV) in Tulsa Oklahoma in 1953. He later bought KDES-AM and KGEC-FM in Palm Springs, California where he made his home for many years.

Cameron owned the Palm Springs Desert Sun newspaper until December of 1968 when he sold it to Leonard Firestone.

Cameron also owned Cameron Center in Palm Springs and other Palm Springs real estate properties.

He is survived by his wife, Norma, and six children.

Lee Inks Pierce

NASHVILLE — Buddy Lee Attractions, the well known Music City talent agency, has signed veteran chanter Webb Pierce. The singer, in case anybody forgot, records for Decca.

Woo! Woo!

Getting up a full head of steam for their Jimmie Rodgers Month promotion, WXCL-Peoria staffers (left to right) music director and personality Dale Eichor, and air personalities Charlie Russell and Don Elliot wear their "singing brakeman" hats in honor of the late legendary singer and songwriter and display two albums and a chart testifying that Jimmie has not been forgotten.

BILLY WALKER (MGM 14134)

When A Man Loves A Woman (2:17) (Forrest Hills, BMI—Eldridge, Stewart)
This is Billy Walker's first single since he signed with MGM, and though it'll have to compete with "Curtains On The Windows," which his old label, Monument recently released and which is on the charts, it should do very well. Watch for it on the charts. Flip: "She's As Close As I Can Get" (2:37) (Blue Crest, Hill And Range, Frazier, Owens)

BARBARA FAIRCHILD (Columbia 45173)

(When You Close Your Eyes) I'll Make You See (3:14) (Champion, BMI—Crutchfield)

PEGGY SUE (Decca 32698)

CLAUDE GRAY (Decca 32697)

VAN TREVOR (Royal American 9)

Luziana River (2:31) (Birmingham, Noma, S.P.R., BMI—Rabbit, Heard, Trevor)
Van Trevor has already hit the charts with "Luziana River," and he should be going further up with the side in the coming weeks. Watch. Flip: "Sweet Diana" (3:04) (Atlanta, Summerhouse, ASCAP—Trevor)

RAY PRICE (Columbia 45178)

For The Good Times (3:48) (Buckhorn, BMI—Kristofferson)
Save a top chart spot for Ray Price's new single, "For The Good Times." Deck is certain to be a biggie for the chanter. Flip: "Grazin' In Greener Pastures" (2:57) (Combine, BMI—Pennington)

HANK WILLIAMS, JR. AND LOIS JOHNSON (MGM 14136)

Removing The Shadow (2:58) (Hank Williams, Jr., BMI—Williams, Jr., Pleasant)
Hank Williams, Jr. and Lois Johnson team up for a duet that should be heard all over the country airwaves in the near future. Deck will do well on the charts, too. Flip: "Party People" (1:49) (Jack, BMI—Westberry, Harbour)

FREDDIE HART (Capitol 5043)

Fingerprints (2:14) (Blue Book, Ching-Ring, BMI—Hart, Hunt)
Freddie Hart should have no difficulty pulling in heaps of spins and sales with "Fingerprints." Expect to see the deck on the Country Top 60 in the near future. Flip: "I Can't Keep My Hands Off Of You" (2:00) (Blue Book, BMI—Hart)

CARL SMITH (Columbia 45177)

Pick Me Up On Your Way Down (3:08) (Tree, BMI—Howard)
"Pick Me Up On Your Way Down" sings Carl Smith, and his new outing should travel upwards steadily. Put this one on your list of disks to watch closely. Flip: "Bonaparte's Retreat" (2:14) (Acuff-Rose, BMI—King)

Best Bets

THE RAYS OF SUNSHINE (Royal American 10)

All Nite Cafe (1:27) (Blue Echo, BMI-Griff)
The Rays of Sunshine may walk into the light with this session. Listen to it. Flip: "Snapdragon" (1:43) (Blue Echo, BMI-Griff)

PEGGY O'NEAL (Nasco 008)

The Ballad Of Lilly Brown (2:45) (Lookout, ASCAP-P. & N. McCormick, Gibbs)
Song about a woman persecuted by a hypocritical town could stir up interest. Nice job by Peggy O'Neal. Flip: "The Shadow" (2:48) (Shu-Fin, Homeplace, BMI-P. & N. McCormick)

JOHNNY LADD and THE BLUE-GRASS STOMPERS (Faap 25933)

Are You Glad (2:10) (Coachman, ASCAP-)

TED FREEMAN (Upland 5906)

Sand In My Shoes (2:42) (Sandlick, BMI-Carter)
Even, blues-oriented love outing could get some airplay for Ted Freeman. Spin it. Flip: "A World Without Love" (2:42) (Sandlick, BMI-Carter)

DON HOLIMAN (Newhall 696)

Where Were You When I Needed You (Central Songs, BMI-Holiman)
This outing (no relation to P.F. Sloan's song of the same title) could earn spins for Don Holiman. Give it a chance. Flip: "Sound Of Pain" (3:07) (Central Songs, BMI-Lee, Bryant)

CHUBBY WISE (Stoneway 1029)

Pennsylvania Polka (2:26) (Traditional)
Noted fiddler Chubby Wise will please his followers with his version of this traditional tune. Should do nicely on the air. Flip: "Houston Schotische" (2:10) (Traditional)

CECIL SURRATT (Upland 5908)

A Change In Me (3:00) (Sandlick, BMI-Carter)
Could be play in store for this outing. Has possibilities. Flip: "East Of Eden" (2:42) (Peer International, BMI-Carter)

JESSE COCHRANE (Columbia 45083)

86 Proof (Is Proof Enough For Me) (2:32) (Blackwood, Al Gallico, BMI-Soden, Harris, Hill)
Jesse Cochrane could pull in some coin with his new single. Give "86 Proof" a spin. Flip: "Call It A Day" (2:20) (Hexagram, BMI-Hill)

LOVE IS A SOMETIMES THING — Bill Anderson — Decca DL 75206

Love may be a sometimes thing, but Bill Anderson's career is made of stronger stuff, and with this album he will add another hit to his long string of hits. The LP bears the title of his current hit and starts off with that song. Other tracks include "Honey Come Back," "You And Your Sweet Love" and "My Elusive Dreams." Expect this one to go high on the charts.

HELLO DARLIN' — Conway Twitty — Decca DL 75209

Conway Twitty's bound to have a sizeable hit in his possession with his new album. Titled after his #1 single, the set contains "Darlin'" and ten other tunes, including "I'll Get Over Losing You" (his hit before "Darlin'"), "Blue Eyes Crying In The Rain" and "I Never Once Stopped Loving You." This package will go places fast. Keep close tabs.

ROCK ME BACK TO LITTLE ROCK — Jan Howard — Decca DL 75207

Should be a goodly number of spins and sales in store for Jan Howard with her new album. LP is named after and contains her most recent chart single, "Rock Me Back To Little Rock." Also included here are "You And Your Sweet Love," "Love Is A Sometimes Thing" and "I Never Once Stopped Loving You." Could be a good chart future in the cards for this package. Watch it.

THE UNCOMPLICATED HENSON CARGILL — Monument SLP 18137

The uncomplicated Henson Cargill offers his current single charter, "The Most Uncomplicated Goodbye I've Ever Heard," and a host of other songs on his new album, which should do nicely in the marketplace for him. "I Washed My Face In The Morning Dew," "Me And Bobby McGee" and "Ruby, Don't Take Your Love To Town" are among the cuts. Watch for this one on the charts.

I WITNESS LIFE — Tom T. Hall — Mercury SR 61277

Singer-songwriter Tom T. Hall witnesses life in his new album, and a lot of people will want to look at things through his eyes via the set. Starting off with "Salute To A Switchblade," Hall offers eleven songs, including "The Ballad Of Bill Crump," "Chattanooga Dog," "Girls In Saigon City" and "America The Ugly." LP should do well on the charts.

I KNOW YOU'RE MARRIED, BUT I LOVE YOU STILL — Red Sovine — Starday SLP 459

Red Sovine had a nice-sized hit with the single, "I Know You're Married, But I Love You Still," and he should have another good item with the follow-up album. Among the songs in the package are "It's Just A Matter Of Time," "Why Don't You Haul Off And Love Me," "That's When She Started To Stop Loving You" and "The Fightin' Side Of Me." Should do quite well.

"Hee Haw" Takes Us Seriously . . .

cing fondly about home.

A sense of youthful high jinks pervades the Hee Haw set. A large hand-lettered sign with the emblem "Sleazy Productions" is over the studio door. But once the cameras start rolling, Hee Haw is a miracle of electronic efficiency. To wit:

All the comedy is divided into categories: "The Culhanes," "The Old Philosopher," "The Amateur Minute," "The Corn Field," and so forth. They tape dozens of jokes in each category at a session, and simply stockpile them on a reel of tape. Then they spend weeks taping singers, whose names they have gleaned from the Country-Western charts of Cashbox magazine. That done, the producers pull up stakes, leave

Nashville behind, and hurry back to California, where they laboriously snip and paste and stitch until all the snippets of comedy and music stand in miraculous concatenation as a finished Hee Haw program.

Clark

The Broadcasting Control Board which is responsible for controlling and maintaining broadcasting standards, will hold a public inquiry into the desirability of introducing FM broadcasting in Australia. (An experimental station attached to a large key station was operated for some years through the government-owned Australian Broadcasting Commission but the service was curtailed. It is understood the government regards its first responsibility is to providing television facilities throughout the country before any real consideration can be given to FM radio.)

The record dispute now in force here has been brought about due to the Australian Record Manufacturers Association's attempt to impose a performance royalty on commercial broadcasting stations for the right to air English, European and locally-originated records. The Federation of Commercial Broadcasting Stations has refused to pay the levy and so now they are airing only American-originated discs apart from a handful of local records made here by independent labels which do not come under the restriction. Top discs names here are planning a nation-wide meeting to voice official protest.

Allan's Music (Australia) report heavy reaction to sheet music copies of the following disc successes: "Nobody's Child" by the Original Caste, "Where Has All The Love Gone" by Matt Flinders, "The Love Moth" locally recorded by Liv Maessen, and "Two Little Boys" originally made by Rolf Harris and now heard radio-wise through the version by Rusty Draper. Draper was recently in Australia for personal appearances.

W&G Records chief Ron Gillespie is currently off and running through a hectic overseas stint to represent his company at the 10th DIDACTA Fair being held at Basle, Switzerland. From there Ron journey's to London, New York, his company's Stateside office in New Hampshire; then to Toronto, Los Angeles and Mexico City. Ron will be visiting his firms many representatives and renewing old friendships throughout the trade.

The Platters are currently down under for appearances in Sydney. Since they were here last they've added a girl singer. Also in the harbour city is Tamla-Motown's Four Tops, and as mentioned earlier, Shirley Bassey is also in town. Doing the rounds of the clubs is MCA attraction Leapy Lee whose "Little Arrows" was so successful; the performers records are unfortunately included in the radio-record dispute and cannot be played over the air, a fact which happily has done nothing to stop the crowds rolling along to see his act.

RCA Records have gone on the rampage, which turns out to be a neat promotion to stampede six new LP's from their country and western catalogue. The six artists featured in the promotion are Connie Smith, Hank Locklin, Jerry Reed, Charley Pride and Dob Gibson, together with an album combining the talents of Archie Campbell and Lorene Mann. Country and western music is on the increase here with specials recently aired featuring such hit-makers as Glen Campbell and Bobby Gentry.

Former member of the Seekers, Bruce Woodley, has turned his talents to writing hit songs and advertising jingles. Woodley's current success promoting the Australian and New Zealand Bank under the title ANZ 'Travellin' Man created so much interest that it was issued through the many branches of the bank across the nation where it's reportedly "selling like a single." Woodley is also currently enjoying success with a Top Ten chart item "Boom Sha La La" which he wrote with fellow-song writer Hans Poulsen. Poulsen's version of the song is released here on Fable Records.

EMI (Australia) have issued an album which will turn out to be a certain collector's item. Titled "Goodness Gracious Me," the LP brings together a compilation of singles from the past decade. Artists represented on the set include Peter Sellers, Spike Milligan, Charlie Drake, Lance Percival and our own Rolf Harris doing his traditional "Jake The Peg" routine.

Tempo Records Sales (Aust) report good initial reaction from the single "Stormy Times" by the Pacific Gas & Electric. Track is issued here through Tempo's arrangement with Bright Orange Records USA.

Astor Electronics have issued a complete new line of pre-recorded cassettes which have a replay time equivalent to an extended-play disc. Featured in the line-up now available are sides by Joan Baez, the Kinks, the Doors and the Butterfield Blues Band. Astor general manager Neville Smith is currently overseas on business.

Frank Donlevy, head of Castle Music Pty. Limited advises that Jack Williams has been put in-charge of Castle's newly established educational division. This section will cover a huge range of material from the catalogue of Keith Prowse, along with catalogues of Sikorski, and Collier/Dexter. Prior to taking up his new post on June 1, Jack Williams had spent many years with the Chappell group.

The Masters Apprentices have left Australia now on board the ship "Fairsky" sailing to London. The Masters are one of the hottest groups in this country and their records (E.M.I.) have been strong sellers over the years. Local organist Tony Fenelon has an album out on Festival tagged "Tony Fenelon in America." The set was recorded live in concert from the Senate Theatre, Detroit, during Tony's American tour last year.

Festival Records have 'Gold Fever'. During the first four months of this year the company presented eleven gold records to artists and companies

Performing artists are The Shoes ("Osaka"), Earth & Fire ("Ruby Is The One), Machine ("Lonesome Tree"), Albert Show ("Wild Sensation"), Jacky Cornell ("If All Men Could Be Like Brothers"), Kessie and Pressure Group ("Soul Tango") and Amsterdam ("Lucy, Lucy"). The artists will be introduced by Joost De Draaijer and Peter Koelewijn. Primavera's Charley Boy recorded in the London Chapell studios. He is a discovery of J. Vincent Edwards. At the end of June a single will be released on CBS. Titles are "For Love Of A Brother" and "Rita's Coming Home." Quite a few Primavera artists appeared on the ORTF 2 TV in shows of Serge Charpentier and Jean Marcello. We think of The Shoes, Earth & Fire, Charly Boy, J. Vincent Edwards and Frederick Francois.

Fonior released the LP "This Is Malcolm Roberts" on Major Minor. Three cut-price LP's are "World Of Edmundo Ros", "Mantovani Sound" and "Film-world of Stanley Black." Fonior is represented in the BRT National top 30 with 8. "Million Dollar Bash" (Jonathan King), 9. "Question" (Moody Blues), 11. Daughter Of Darkness" (Tom Jones), 14. A Woman" Puur Jade Green has a discotheque topper with the John Fogerty composition "Bootleg" on Capitol. A new King Crimson single "Catfood" too. The German records are not so popular in Belgium. However, Roland W. is the exception with "Marion." A follow-up for his hit "Monja?"

Francoise Hardy's first record for CBS is entitled "Soleil." Further CBS releases are the singles "What Is Truth?" (Johnny Cash & June Carter) and the LP's "Carrin' On" (Johnny Cash), "Raiders," "Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head" (Johnny Mathis). Johnny Mathis is still extremely popular in Belgium.

Polygram's Soulful Dynamics are on their way to a gold record (100,000 copies) with "Mademoiselle Ninette." Well received by the disk-jockeys is "Take To The Mountains" (Richard Barnes). Good sales for the LP "Black Sabbath." The track "The Wizard", also the indicative of the BRT 2 Hitgolf, was released on single. Nana Mouscouri has a new record "Comme Un Point Sur l'Eau Trouble," her version of "Bridge Over Troubled Water."

Discobel at last released the single "Do The Funky Chicken" by Rufus Thomas. This number was promoted on the radio for months. When will other Stax singles and LP's be released? We think of the LP "Do The Funky Chicken" (Rufus Thomas). Other Discobel release are an LP by the George Baker Selection and Tee Set's American hit "If You Do Believe In Love".

Otis Redding has a new single "demonstration" on Barclay.

The albums "Willy And The Poor Boys" (Creedence Clearwater Revival) and "We Were Lovers" (Shirley Bassey) have both scored. A&M received two, "The Beat Of The Brass" by Herb Alpert's Brass, and Sergio Mendes for "Fool On The Hill". The Polydor album, "The Best Of The Bee Gees" (released here on the Spin logo through Festival) won a Gold record; as did the Australian Cast album of "Hair" released on Spin. On the singles front gold records went to Rolf Harris for "Two Little Boys"; local artists Lionel Rose and Ronnie Burns scored Gold discs for "I Thank You" and "Smiley", respectively. American entertainer Tommy Leonetti, now settled in Australia, has a new locally-produced album out on RCA here. The set is called "Tommy Leonetti Today", and carries many Leonetti originals.

The England World Cup Squad (below) are currently in Mexico kicking their way through to the finals, but "Back Home" in Britain they have already scored with a No. 1 record in the Hit Parade. A prototype sales campaign for all future Dunhill artists visiting Britain will be mounted in behalf of Steppenwolf, due here on June 20th to star at the Bath Festival of Blues and Progressive Music two days later, and their own concert at the Royal Albert Hall on July 2nd. The boost is tagged "Beware Of The Wolf," and will center on the group's single "Hey Lawdy Mama" and "Live" album, both set for June 12th release. Music press advertising has been booked, and spot commercials reserved on Radio Luxembourg through June. Five thousand color posters are being distributed to the retail trade, and window displays around the campaign's symbol of a wolf's head are being organized at one hundred leading sales outlets around the country. In addition, the records and the Albert Hall concert are being pushed via four hundred posters displayed at stations in the London Transport underground railway system, and photographs of Steppenwolf with discographies printed on the back will be distributed free at the London concert. Dave Chapman, Dunhill label manager at EMI, states the results of this promotional drive will be studied carefully, and similar efforts are likely to be applied to the product of all visiting Dunhill acts in the future.

Philips A&R singles co-ordinator Dick Leahy has been named as Bell's British and European label chief with effect from July 1st. Moving with him is A&R assistant Sue Baxter, and Leahy is currently seeking London Office premises for his new role, which is officially defined as general manager in charge of United Kingdom and European operations. He will liaise with EMI staffman Dave Crocker, whose company will continue to distribute Bell here, and will work closely with Shel Talmy, Tony Macaulay, and Steve Rowland, all of whom have production pacts with Bell. Leahy has been with Philips five years, including a lengthy spell as assistant to former Fontana label manager Jack Baverstock, and his new Bell post was confirmed by president Larry Uttal over the transatlantic telephone.

Capitol European marketing director Marvin Beisel is expected to begin operating out of London with effect from July. He will occupy an office at Lady Carolyn Townshend's publicity organisation, which has the Capitol press and public relations account here, and will transfer later to a separate Capitol office now being planned. The label is readying talent seeking quests here, and executive producer Artie Mogull is expected to be a frequent visitor in this connection. Beisel's predecessor, Allen Davis, now back in the States, worked out of an office at Bovema in Heemstede near Amsterdam.

Hefty fee demands in behalf of Russian soloists, conductors and orchestras seem likely to reduce drastically the number of visits to Britain for appearances from that country. The Russian booking agency Gosconcert has raised fees between 60% and 150%, and this does not take account of traveling and accommodation expenses. Impresario Victor Hochhauser, a leading importer of Russian talent for years, intends visiting Moscow this month in an endeavor to get Gosconcert to modify its demands, which are economically impractical as they stand under the new scale. Fees paid to Russian conductors, for instance, were already higher than those received by western bloc maestros, and if Gosconcert's present level is acceded to, will work out more than double the amount of cash paid to prominent European and American conductors. As usual, politics are creeping into the matter, and since the cancellation of the South African cricket tour on account of that country's apartheid policy, there is a growing body of opinion hoping the Russians price themselves out of British music and culture on account of their home and colonial regime and policies.

CBS marketing director Maurice Oberstein has named James Fleming as the company's tape product manager. Fleming, a London University graduate, has been with CBS nearly two years, working in Paris before coming to the import-export department here in London. Oberstein has given overall responsibility for depot distribution to sales manager Jack Florey, with order service manager Vic Ridgewell now reporting to Florey as manager.

Songwriter Mike Hawker and ex-Shadows drummer Brian Bennett are partners in a new music publishing company which is part of the Peter Gormley organisation. The duo have already penned a dozen songs for the venture, and first disk coverage will be by a new group called Shalimar on the Festival series released by Pye. Hawker is also acting as general manager of the Gormley group companies Shadows Music and Joaneline Music, and has been talking with Mark Wildely of Lamplight Productions from Los Angeles about a possible catalog deal.

UPC Records chief Eddie Tre-Vett visited New York to record the May 29th concert at Carnegie Hall by Toni Dalli, who has been signed by the label. The LP of the concert, which was a tribute to the late Mario Lanza will be released later this summer with liner notes by Lanza's mother, who was guest of honor at Carnegie Hall. UPC's first album "Four Keyboards" by Iain Kerr has been released here.

Post Office engineers began jamming the transmissions of Radio North Sea International again, and official notification of the operation was given to the Czech administration on account that the waveband of 244 meters being used by Radio North Sea has been officially allocated to Czech stations. The pirates are still unrepentant, and plan to instal more equipment to overcome the jamming and prevent any interference with the BBC's Radio 1 broadcasts, which are only four meters away. An element of farce has now entered the situation with Radio 1 listeners in some areas complaining that the jamming operation is affecting their reception of the BBC programs.

Polydor is to give away a free Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young single with each copy of the three-LP "Woodstock" set due for release here on the Atlantic label at a price of 7 and ten shillings. This is the highest cost yet for a pop set, and is made necessary by the rate of royalties Atlantic is paying to other labels whose artists are featured. Polydor managing director John Fruin opines the set will be bought as a prestige symbol in the same way that people acquire expensive sets of encyclopedias. The "Woodstock" movie is expected to be premiered later this month by Warner Bros.

The Sonet single "Muguet Des Bois" by Crushed Velvet is closely linked with the Coty perfume and cosmetics organisation, which may co-operate in joint promotions on the disk. The number is named for Coty's perfume reproducing the scent of the Bois de Boulogne lily of the valley which has just been relaunched here, and was originally an American jingle promoting the product that proved so successful that it was extended into a full song.

Barcelona Fest Seeks Radio, TV

LONDON — Joaquin Merino, organizer of the Barbarella Festival which takes place in Palma, Majorca on June 9, 10 and 11, spent several days in London recently investigating the possibility of getting radio and television coverage for the Festival in Britain.

The Contest is already being covered by Spanish radio and TV as well as Radio Andorra, Radio Luxembourg and Europe No. 1. Members of the jury have been elected and will include Cash Box, Billboard, New Musical Express and Discografia Internazionale representing the press and personalities Frank Pourcel, Raymond Lefevre, Leon Zitron, Julie Felix, Massiel and Juan Pardo.

Merino was impressed with the response from groups to this Festival — British entries were particularly strong amounting to some 50 per cent of total candidates. In the first pre-selection several groups were nominated including Arrival, Big Sleep, Malcolm Holland Group, Raw Material and Kippers but in the final count only two groups stayed the course namely Arrival and Big Sleep. These groups will be competing against Los Bravos and Smash from Spain; Jeronimo and Joy Unlimited from Germany; Omega from Hungary; I Camaleonti from Italy; Korni from Yugoslavia and The Arrows from Ireland.

The response and interest shown in this first Barbarella Festival has been so great that the signs are that it will become an annual international event.

Leahy Bell's UK-Euro Gen. Mgr.

NEW YORK — Dick Leahy has been named Bell Records general manager in charge of U.K. and European operations, effective July 1, according to Larry Uttal, Bell president.

Leahy, who has been with Philips Records for the past five years serving in both administrative and A&R capacities, will coordinate his activities with Dave Crocker at EMI, which distributes the Bell label. Leahy brings with him to Bell A&R assistant Sue Baxter.

During his first three years at Philips, Leahy was assistant to Jack Baverstock, who headed the Fontana label. In September of 1969, as part of the reorganization instituted by Olav Wyper, Leahy became one of the three A&R heads for all the Philips labels including Fontana and Vertigo. His official title was "Singles Coordinator" although he shared responsibility for all product with Wyper and Mike Everett.

Leahy is credited with being one of the key factors in aiding Philips to break six new artists in the past nine months and place the new Vertigo label solidly in the progressive forefront with three chart LP's out of its first 6 album releases.

At Bell, Leahy will be dealing with such independent producers as Tony Macaulay, Shel Talmy, Steve Rowland and Roger Easterby. He will direct the flow of product (including the 5th Dimension) from the U.S. and seek new production deals in the U.K. and Europe.

Uttal said the appointment was a "major step in our growth in the U.K. and in Europe."

Bell is moving to new and larger quarters from its current space at 23 Old Burlington St. in London.

RCA Aussie's Managing Director: Walsh

AUSTRALIA — RCA Limited has announced the appointment of William J. Walsh as managing director and chairman of the board of directors. John W. Tyler, who formerly held these positions, is returning to the U.S. Walsh also maintains the position of regional manager for Australasia, and is responsible for the growth and expansion of the RCA record division, of which, prior to his new appointment, he was general manager. The appointment follows a major realignment of organizational structure within the company, resulting in broadened activities in all branches of the Australian record industry. Walsh joined RCA Corporation (as the Radio Corporation of America is now named), in 1952 as a sales representative. He became vice-president and general manager of RCA Victor Distributing Corp in Kansas City, Kansas, U.S.A.; and later, manager of marketing, RCA International Division, based in New York City. In this capacity, he travelled the world assisting subsidiary companies and licensees in their domestic marketing problems.

In May 1965, he was appointed general manager of the record division for RCA in Australia.

Director Geoffrey Myerson said that it was planned to introduce seven day round-the-clock working, and the company already has links with many major record companies in Britain.

WB Catalog Pacts

LONDON — Warner Bros. has completed several catalog deals throughout Europe. In Scandinavia the catalog has been placed with Edition Liberty A.B. Sweden; in Italy with G. Ricordi; and in France with Alain Boubill's Baboo Music.

Holland

During the month of June Bovema set up a heavy campaign for their impressive pop repertoire. New recordings from such labels as Liberty, Harvest, Dunhill, ABC, Straight, Capitol and Transatlantic are getting maximum promotion through ten TV specials, a special prepared paper with a lot of information will be distributed all over the country, stickers and recordbags are available, as well as a lot of other merchandising material like posters, window displays, etc. The repertoire is headed by several promotion albums, like the "Hey June" sampler, including 8 Dutch popgroups; the Liberty double album Electric Rock and the Harvest two LP set "Picnic" with groups like Pink Floyd, Deep Purple and The Greatest Show On Earth. Internationally seen Dutch popgroups are getting more and more accepted for making music of high standard. Bovema is happy to be able during the coming weeks to introduce new productions of three already internationally operating groups The Cats (Magical Mystery Morning), Unit Gloria (Heartaches and sorrow) and Brainbox (Everything is Burning). Without doubt those three above mentioned titles will reach high positions on the Dutch charts in no time. Bovema will also introduce through singles and an album five new, very talented groups in the near future. Watch the names of: Continental Uptight Band, Honest Man, September, Island and the houseband of 'Paradiso' Ahora Mazda.

On the Warner Bros./Reprise labels four hits have scored a high notation in the Dutch chart this week. Norman Greenbaum is still in the top twenty with his "Spirit In The Sky," the Ides of March is doing great with "Vehicle," Fleetwood Mac is rocketing up with "The Green Manalishi" and last but not least Little Richard is stirring up sales with "Freedom Blues." Dutch Warner Bros. representatives Negram, already having gained a strong position on the album market, are delighted with this positive development in the single field and expects many more hits for Warner and Reprise.

June 5, Negram introduced the Valiant-label to the Dutch public. This series is compiled by Warner Bros. Ltd., London, and is launched completely with a strong promotional backing by Negram. Highlights in this series are for Holland "Gone Gone Gone" by the Everly Brothers and a re-issue of Fats Domino's "Fats Is Back" album.

Norman Greenbaum will visit Holland on June 10, 11 and 12 for promotion activities. He will sing his top ten item "Spirit In The Sky" in the NCRV-TV show "Eddy Ready Go" and introduce his new single "Canned Ham." Norman is accompanied by his producer and manager Erik Jacobson.

Negram recording act Spacetrack has released its best single ever: "She's So Fine". The song was written by vocalist Frans Hoeke and produced by manager Joop Conk. Production supervisor Cor Aaftink has great faith in this disc and predicts a top ten position.

CONCERTGEBOUW HONOR — Jaap van Ginnekon, producer with Philips Records, Holland, has been awarded the Medal of Honour of the Concertgebouw, Amsterdam. Medal was presented by Dr. J.W. de Jong Schouwenburg (l.) president of the board of the Concertgebouw. In the center is Mrs. van Ginnekon. The vet producer received the award for his "long and much valued work" with the Concertgebouw Orch. since 1951 (he has produced more than 100 records) and for his "contribution to musical life in Holland."

COUNTRY TOUR — Scene is directly after a press conference in Amsterdam-Holland for MCA artists Loretta Lynn, Jan Howard, Conway Twitty and Bill Anderson, who did concerts in Amsterdam and the Hague on May 22. In the middle are Paul Kalshoven and Pierre Dam of MCA Holland.

Spain

They have been recording for years, making personal appearances for years, but had never topped the charts. Now they are number one with their record "Un rayo de sol" (A Ray Of Sun), and this single has many chances of becoming "la cancion del verano," the Summer Song, a very coveted title over here. They are called Los Diablos (Odeon), and their present success is a triumph of will and determination. Joan Manuel Serrat's "Serrat-4" (Edigsa) has climbed both quickly and steadily during the last four weeks the LP charts and is already number two. This is not unusual at all. His LP "Dedicado a Antonio Machado, poeta," released by Zafiro, was there for almost one full year and only now climbed down. Victor Villegas, promotion manager of Fonogram, has stated that the cassettes manufactured in Spain by his company are both cheaper and better than those made in other European countries. Hispavox has launched an LP by Miguel Rios. It is being promoted as "the long play thought as a long play" and shows, once more, that the Spanish market is now much more receptive to LP's. Only one year ago the possibility of releasing an LP sung by a pop solo singer was more or less unthinkable, and the only LP's launched were classic, zarzuela, Latin American and orchestral. Spain is changing in this field as dramatically as U.K. one year and a half ago. The big and luxurious Carlos III cinema announces a "recital" by Juan Pardo (Novola), ex-member of the "Juan & Junior" duo, who were released by CBS in the English-speaking territories. Rumors on the so-called "Spanish MIDEEM" persist, though everything is rather unsure so far. There are also rumors on a "Spanish Canzonissima" to be held by Spanish TV from next fall onwards. Elsa Baeza (RCA), wife of Valerio Lazarov, from Spanish TV, has cut a single. The title is "No te mires en el rio" and was very popular indeed thirty years ago. Much rhythm has been added to make it pop. She is a very attractive Cuban girl, and has been presenting her husband's program — called "Special Pop" — and was formerly a film actress.

Beatriz Lupo of Relay Publishers infers about an active campaign started by the organization to promote the recording of original local copyrights in foreign countries. The move includes action through the MIDEM meetings and others, and is already resulting in active operation in the Spanish-speaking markets and good starts in England, Italy, France, the Scandinavian countries and even the United States. The titles are "La Extrana de las Botas Rosas," "Que Voy a Hacer," this one penned by hit duet Juan y Juan, and two tunes by Los Iracundos, "El Triunfador" and "La Lluvia Termina," which have been subpublished also by Lebendiger's Fermata Do Brasil.

Nelida Lopez French of Korn Publishers sends word about the contracting tunes "Na Na Hey Hey Kiss Him Good Bye" and "Llegando Llegaste," both with strong sales marks in the near past. Spanish lyrics have been prepared, and additional local versions are expected soon.

Luis Calvo of Music Hall expects to obtain good sales from the single recorded by the late Uruguayan humorist Wimpy for Father's Day, celebrated this week in Argentina. The record had been a strong seller, but was retired from sale after the death of the humorist. Now, with all the permits obtained, Music Hall expects to have a classical gift for the years to come.

RCA is celebrating the reappearance of Italian artist Domenico Modugno as a big star, via his new single in Spanish, "Como Has Hecho," which is climbing the charts at a fast pace. The diskery has another ace in the recent single by Spanish artist Dyango, "El Cobarde," which will also surely rank as high as the previous entries by the same chanter, and also expects very much from the single by Los Iracundos "A La Aventura," also appearing in the charts this week.

CBS releases the second LP by teen chanter and composer Piero, one of the outstanding artists of 1969; he has been recently taking part in the shooting of the new Luis Sandrini film, "El Profesor Patagonico," devoted strongly to beat music. The label is outing also the first LP by melodic chanter Sergio Dennis, who recently appeared at the Latin Song Festival, in Mexico City.

Odeon has a strong seller in the new Beatles LP, "Hey Jude", while there are sustained sales for their latest single, "Let It Be," which shows that the British-based group, one of the top selling artists of the label and the whole market in 1969, haven't lost popularity. The album "Let It Be" is scheduled for the near future, and so are the LP's recorded individually by Paul McCartney and Ringo Starr.

Fermata's Mauricio Brenner reports further expansion plans for 1970 after the consolidation of the full operation of Fermata in its new building, Marcelo T. de Alvear 1573. The new phone number is 44-5000; Brenner's plans include more local artist contracts and new representation deals with U. S. and European labels, and the release of the third album of the series "14 With..." this time with unknown themes written by famous tango composers.

The Deutsche Grammophon Gesellschaft announced that the classic productions department was taken over by Dr. Hans Hirsch. Otto Gerdes, who was until now manager of the classic productions, intends to be more active as conductor and independent artist. He was, in the past seven years, concerned in the building up and success of the classic repertoire of Deutsche Grammophon. Since 1966, Otto Gerdes was engaged by the firm as exclusive artist. . . . Daliah Lavi's single, "Liebeslied einer Sommernacht" (Love-song), is now in the German charts. In June she will be guest star in two German TV shows "Meine Melodie" and "Starparade." Norrie Paramore, producer of Cliff Richard, is preparing Daliah's first LP, which shall include German and English titles. . . . Just released was the German version of the San Remo hit "L'Arca Di Noe" (composed and originally sung by Sergio Endrigo), "Die Barke Einsamkeit" with Freddy. . . . With 5 LP's, 30,000 balloons, extensive insertions and decorations, Metronome started the new label "Ohr." Even after the first announcements, there was a great demand for the records by the "Ohr" artists: Floh de Cologne, Limbus 4, Bernd Witthues, Embryo and Tangerine Dream. Metronome is also making good deals with Atlantic-Cotillion. A cassette for 60 DM is set for the 3 LP "Woodstock," the live-recording of one of the most spectacular open air concerts of pop. In Germany, Warner Bros. will run the film in July/August and Metronome will release the super cassette with the following artists: Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young, Joe Cocker, Sly and The Family Stone, The Who, Sha-Na-Na, Country Joe and The Fish, Richie Havens, Country Joe McDonald, John Sebastian, Arlo Guthrie, Ten Years After, Joan Baez, Jimi Hendrix, Santana, Butterfield Blues Band, Canned Heat and Jefferson Airplane. record label (exclusively on Ariola-distribution) with a program of 15 LP's (ten to 5 DM and five to 7,50 DM). The repertoire includes opera productions, Loewe-ballads with Heinz Hoppe and light dancing music with Rex Gildo ("Love A Little Bit"), Ricky Shayne ("Fantastic") and Michael Holm ("Barfub im Regen"), which reached the first positions in the Second German TV-hit parade. . . . Peer music publishing house: The big hit "Vehicle" with The Ides Of March, which was number two in America, is also running very well in Germany, even on the radio hit parades. Also very promising is the single "Trinidad" with The Skorpions. It is a German composition and produced by Herbert Hildebrand, who is with "Mademoiselle Ninette" still number one in the German charts. . . . "Privilege" is a new series of the Deutsche Grammophon Gesellschaft. The albums on the classic music sector are also very requested now. Deutsche Grammophon offers a cassette with 2 LP's for 29 DM. . . . "Rock Circus 1970" is the name of an international open air festival in June 20th/21st in the Frankfurter Radstadion. At the opening the well known group "Family" will play. The whole show will be telecast. The stadium holds 25,000 visitors. . . . After long negotiations with London, the Sender Freies Berlinchiefs of the program were able to engage Cliff Richard, one of the most busy record stars in the world, for a TV-show. The boy from Great Britain will come to Germany for the recording from the 17th till 19th of June.

New Gottlieb Solo Pin Turns Flippers To 'Bats'

Gottlieb 'BASEBALL' 1 PL

CHICAGO — "Not a game for punch and Judy hitters" should be the warning posted on Gottlieb's new "Baseball" single-player flipper game. Gottlieb's realistic skill game requires some muscle behind the flippers as it features two "vari-targets," lanes that score singles, doubles, triples and home runs depending upon how hard the ball is hit.

The further up the "vari-target" lane the ball is belted, the more bases the batter gains. Dual scoring gives the player both high point scoring and a run batted in total.

In addition to the "vari-targets," six rollovers provide auxiliary scoring. They score singles, doubles, triples and round-trippers while three rollovers and six "ball targets" put men on base.

The "pitch" rollover lanes guide the ball from the pitcher's mound directly to the flippers for good shots at the "vari-targets," which are inviting sights for the righthanded pull hitter or those who like to "take two and hit to right."

"Star" type rollover lights, located on each base and home plate, indicate men on base and 10 point scoring. The attractive flipper game is generously decorated both on the playfield and scoreboard, the latter depicting a high-kicking righthander delivering a wicked curve ball to a studious batter.

"Baseball" is out of spring training and is ready to open play for the demanding arcade season. Gottlieb suggests dime play for one game and three games for a quarter.

Florida Bingo Bill

TALLAHASSEE—A bill to legalize bingo machines in the State of Florida, sponsored by representative Ralph Tyre of Lake City, passed the Taxation and Finance Committee of the Florida House May 29th. Listed as House Bill 4755, the bill was passed out of committee by a vote of 7-6. The bill, however, is not expected to reach the full House for a vote before the adjournment of the spring session, after which all pending legislation is dropped.

EDITORIAL:

The National Route

The national account, more specifically the "national jukebox and games route", is a new face on the coin machine scene, and a new threat to the traditional sales patterns which have served the industry well, practically since its inception. With their policy of central buying, central paying, the national routes have posed a dilemma to factories and their dealers, and quite frankly, ruffled a lot of feathers in the process.

But the threat of the national account on the equipment business is really not our subject here. What we'd like to review is the national route's threat on the thousands of independent operating companies and what will be the future effect of centralized national control on them.

First of all, just how do you recognize a national route? Well, you really don't just yet. You see pretty much the old faces working the route. Old faces, yes, but working for new people who might be headquartered in a skyscraper in Philadelphia or Chicago. Right now, these national routes are merely a collection of old local juke and games operations purchased quietly over the past two years or so. The names, faces, machines, trucks, etc. all look the same, except beneath the old company signature, there's a little added line that reads "Div. of _____".

How extensive is it really? That's tough to answer because the big public vending corporations, the force behind this massive absorption of small routes still don't publicize their movements in the music and games theater of operation. You hear of it over the phone, from an out of town dealer, from another operator at a trade show, and say, "I didn't know so-and-so sold out to XYZ Vending."

Chances are, so-and-so is still running the route for his new boss . . . that's normally part of the selling agreement. Chances also are he's got more money to spend to help that operation grow and like most operators we know, will probably spend it toward adding locations to this route.

If there's any threat in the nationally-directed route, this is probably where it will come from. Big vending companies, impressed with the generally better collections music and games earn over the commodity vending machines, will press to enrich this new area of enterprises and could make the already stiff competition among street operators even more severe. On the same token, they also can offer a very eager buyer for an established route, if this is what the independent operator may be looking for.

Where the industry will eventually land is still purely guesswork. We may eventually see your average mechanic/collector working the route wearing a clean, pressed uniform, driving a shiny truck with a well-known insignia painted across the side. Instead of dividing up the collections on the bar, he may walk out with a locked cash box, after dropping off a totalized list of the location's commission, later to be paid from that skyscraper in Philadelphia or Chicago.

N.Y.S. License Bill Vetoed Again By Gov.

MILLIE MCCARTHY

ALBANY — The Laverne Licensing Bill, a measure that would license amusement machine operators in the State of New York on a bi-annual basis, was vetoed by Governor Rockefeller on May 20th. At least the fifth time the bill has passed both State and Senate and Assembly by overwhelming approval, only to be finally vetoed by Rockefeller, the measure amounts almost to a private crusade on the part of State Association president Millie McCarthy whose avowed intent is to "Clear up all legal confusion on our industry and its equipment once and for all by putting central control in the hands of Albany."

"The loss of the bill was most disappointing to us and to Senator Thomas Laverne (bill's sponsor) who drove so hard to achieve what he believed would be a success this time," Mrs. McCarthy stated after receiving the veto message. She inferred that local government leaders from several large upstate cities were responsible for the defeat again, under the false fear that a licensing fee levied by Albany would put a crimp into their own local operator license and tax regulations.

"The years of effort, however, have not been in vain," Mrs. McCarthy continued. "The trade has no idea how many friends we have now who understand our problems. How else would this bill get so far every year? It passes the Senate and the Assembly by an overwhelming vote, and almost all major departments of government have now lifted their objections. As a matter of fact, some have even expressed surprise that the Governor has not signed it into law by now. It appears that cities are still afraid they may have to relinquish some type of control to the State."

Golf IQ Drives Thru

MILWAUKEE — Nutting Industries has been tremendously pleased by the response from distributors and golf courses on its new "Test Your Golf" I.Q. machine. Further, a full page ad in "Golfdom" magazine has provided over 70 leads for distributors across the United States to pass on to their operators, according to sales director Mary Johnson.

Nutting Industries intends to do more of this "pull-through" type advertising for its dealer network. Most satisfying of all to Johnson, is the fact that more than 100 I.Q. Computers in distributors' warehouses have again been put to work on location.

WALT WALDMAN

TOKYO — Walt Waldman of S.L. Stiebel Co., Louisville, Ky., recently completed an Asian business trip during which he visited Singapore, Hong Kong, Bangkok and Taipei.

While in Tokyo he met with SEGA's management for business discussions and inspected the firm's production facilities. Waldman, accompanied by his wife Shirley, also visited Expo '70 where he viewed the coin-operated machines on display. Waldman said the fair was "much more exciting and impressive than it had seemed on U.S. television."

Waldman is an area distributor for several U.S. and foreign coin machine manufacturers. His last two overseas trips were with Rock-Ola overseas seminars in Hawaii and Mexico and he will attend an upcoming seminar in Australia.

Correct Bally Report

CHICAGO — Bally Mfg. Corp.'s annual shareholder's report for 1969 and its report for the first quarter of 1970 reflected a healthy financial picture, but not as high as erroneously reported in last week's issue.

Sales for the first quarter of 1970 were mistakenly reported as $18,362,000 instead of the actual sales totaling $8,362,000. During 1969 Bally's ratio of current assets to current liabilities improved more than 15 per cent, from 1.8 to one in 1968 to 2.1 to one in 1969 instead of the ratios 1.8 to one and 2.1 to one as were erroneously reported.

MOA Seeks Nominees To Fill Ten Vacancies On Board of Directors

CHICAGO — The MOA is currently undertaking a mailing effort to encourage members to submit nominations for the MOA's election of board member that will be held during the general membership meeting on October 17, 1970. The MOA's bylaws require the nominating committee to present 10 candidates for the election.

The early mailing is necessitated by the July 17 deadline for submitting candidates, which is 90 days before the election. During those 90 days, the nominating committee screens the candidates, each who must be endorsed by five MOA members in good standing.

From the recommendations received, 10 board vacancies will be filled this year. Directors presently serving are not eligible to run again for a year after their terms have elapsed.

MOA asks that members who nominate candidates consult their choices beforehand to be certain that nominees will accept their nominations, that they are members in good standing and to inform them of the duties and responsibilities of a director.

Directors, who serve three-year terms, are expected to attend two board meetings each year at their own expense and to remain responsive to the needs of the industry, especially those of the localities they represent.

Wurlitzer Conducts Wis., Colo. Seminars

NORTH TONAWANDA — The Wurlitzer service school itinerary adopted a Mid-Far West, flavor recently when field service representative Robert Harding conducted a school in Brookfield, Wis. and Leonard Hicks traveled to Denver, Colo.

Host for the Brookfield school was United, Inc., a Wurlitzer distributor. United's president is Paul Jacobs with Russell Townsend serving as vice president and Mrs. Harry Jacobs as chairmen of the board.

Attending the school were Ray Stawicki of the Mitchell Novelty Co. of Milwaukee; Bob Greatens and Art Weidner of the Hallada Coin Machine Co., Green Bay; Clarence Schumestee, World of Music, Okanchoe and United's Willie Lipsey.

Host for the Denver school was the Apollo Stereo Music Co. which sent nine of its service technicians to the one-day school. Attending were Ray Turek, Chuck Bydee, Bob Bourey, Lee Wilson, Bruce Fergensen, Bob Gansel, Jim Lindsey, Jack Hackett and Owen Anglim.

Both Hicks and Harding concentrated on the components of the Wurlitzer "Statesman" phonograph. Emphasis was placed on the components that can be replaced on location such as the selector accumulator, which can remain connected to the electrical system but remain operative while being adjusted outside the phonograph. Also discussed was the "Wurlamatic" record changer, the magnetic pin release and the printed circuit contactor which, the instructors said, assures precise alignment with the selector pins.

Hicks and Harding demonstrated that the selector accumulator can be removed as a unit by removing three screws and then allowed the student technicians to disassemble the unit on their own.

Empire Displays Coin Equipment In Green Bay Bank

Among the machines on display are (photo right, left to right) Gottlieb's "Card Trix" single-player pinball, the Rock-Ola "443" Rock-Ola's can vendor, Automatic Products' "Smokeshop," and a Westinghouse coffee machine. Also on display are Midway's "S.A.M.I." target game, Chicoin's "Speedway," an Automatic "Candyshop" and a Rock-Ola "442" phonograph.

A large sign posted on an easel

(photo right) lists all vending and amusement operators in the Green Bay area. The University Bank's president told Empire's Wisconsin manager, Bob Rondeau, that the coin machine display has aroused more interest than any previous displays at the bank.

EASTERN FLASHES

THE BAHAMA BASH — It's all over but the memories now — great memories of a long Memorial Day weekend filled to overflowing with tropical sun, swimming, gambling, shopping and golf, golf, and more golf. Operators and their ladies from all over the metro area agreed the 1970 combined-associations convention was a well-planned and coordinated weekend of activities. Planes went off pretty much on time, and the light rain which greeted the "music associates" group on arrival in Freeport, Grand Bahama, dried up for good almost as soon as the planes touched down, leaving rosy weather from then on. From the rum swivel party at the Kings Inn Thursday night, thru a sumptuous farewell luncheon Sunday, everything clicked thanks to prior planning on the part of Ben Chicofsky, George Holtzman and Sophie Selinger. Only negative note was the vastness of the Kings Inn itself, which had some of our people lost in the crowd looking for the rest of the group. Some of those from the operating trade who made the trip included association leaders Al Denver, Carl Pavesi, Jack Wilson, Mike Mulqueen, operators Sal Trella, Lou Levy, Jack Miller, Bill Fritz, Nash Gordon, Bernie Antonoff, Lou Tartaglia, Max Weiss, Casper La Marca, Lou Valenti, Abe Weisberg, Al Kress, Sam Schwartz, Marty Herbsman and Tony and Bill LaMorte. Attorneys Teddy Blatt and Malcolm Wein were also there. Record company execs included Mort Hoffman of Epic, Paul Smith of Columbia, Phil Wesson of London and Marv Paris of Decca. Columbia, incidentally, took a hospitality suite at the Kings Inn where they entertained the ops. They also brought in recording group called Pacific Gas & Electric to "meet the guys".

HERE AND THERE — The New York State Operators Guild will hold its next meeting June 17th at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston. Meet gets underway at the standard 7:30 PM hour . . . Center of attraction at the Broadway Arcade (52nd St.) is Allied Leisure's brand new 'Wild Cycle' race game. Unit arrived last Wed. at Al Simon's, was promptly uncrated and trucked over to their fun center to meet the Broadway arcade crowd. Unit operates on quarter play, tests the player's skill to maneuver the motorcycle down the rolling road (via authentic handle bars, complete with speed control). It also bangs out rock music via stereo cartridge, putting the player in that "easy rider" mood. Real fun, and according to Allied's sales manager Gene Lipkin, sure to book record collections. Report from one location, a Florida skating rink, had the cash pot up to $82 in less than ten hours of a Saturday, Gene says, which is nothing short of phenomenal . . . Brunswick Corp's pool table sales reps are convened this week at the Marion, Va. table factory, for annual conference. Part of the week's activities will include a detailed tour of the table assembly line, according to coin table sales chief Mac MaKenny, giving the lads a more intensive knowledge of the product they are representing before the U.S. operating trade . . . Metro New York games ops are still raking in big collections with the Williams 'Four Aces' novelty piece, released several months back. The novelty item, we hear, has made quite the sensation in the City due to its close appearance to a pinball. Ops are smart enough, tho, not to refer to the game as such, in the City, but are equally savvy to take advantage of the unique opportunity at their games locations. Over and above everything, it's a great fun game to play and that's what counts in the end.

MILWAUKEE MENTIONS

Rain rain go away! The Wisconsin area has had more than its share of the wet stuff — two straight weeks of it in some sections! . . . Paul Jacobs of United, Inc. was doing a little catching up in his office last week, after several days of traveling the territory with Wurlitzer's Burt Davidson. Bob Bear is due in on the 15th for a couple of days. United's shipping department is happy to report that deliveries of the "Statesman" phonographs are on schedule.

Both the Wisconsin Music Merchants & Milwaukee Coin Machine Operators Associations are keeping on top of the tax situation hereabouts. Clint Pierce tells us he and several members recently met with representatives from the state's Tax and Revenue department to discuss operators' grievances over the 4% tax on collections. The meeting was termed "satisfactory." Associations' efforts will be continued, of course, through the legislative committee and its recently appointed attorney Chester J. Niebler.

Nice chatting with Marty Johnson, director of marketing at Nutting Industries Ltd. Firm's "Test Your Golf I.Q." is certainly proving to be an in demand item . . . John Jankowski of Radio Doctors tells us that local operators are showing much interest in the following singles: "I Wish I Had A Mommy Like You" by Patti Page (Columbia), "One Day Of Your Life" by Andy Williams (Columbia), "Primrose Lane" by O. C. Smith (Columbia) and "Big Yellow Taxi" by The Neighborhood (BT).

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

Jimmy Wilkins of Portale Automatic Sales tells us last week was one of the firm's biggest. During one day, they received two truckloads of Rock-Ola phonographs and one truckload of Chicago Coin's "Speedway" which, Jimmy says, continues to do well . . . Everyone is awaiting the arrival of the single-player "Baseball" game by Gottlieb. It's been location-tested for two months and Jim says he expects strong operator response.

Another long-awaited game due to arrive is the two-player "Crescendo." For devotees of the occult, Portale has the appropriate piece of arcade equipment, the "Zoltan Horoscope" . . . Hear that Bob Portale and Larry Greenside of Ocean Side and their wives spent the Memorial Day weekend vacationing together in Las Vegas . . . When we talked to Jim he was ready to leave for a five to six day business trip to Tucson.

Here tell that Allied Leisure Industries' exciting new "Wild Cycle" game will arrive momentarily at Lou Wolcher's Advance Distributing up in San Francisco. Although this will be the first sample, Lou expects bulk deliveries of the motorcycle race game to follow immediately in anticipation of a heavy slate of orders from his amusement operator customers. In addition to its appeal as a demanding test of the player's driving ability, "Wild Cycle" is kind of a jukebox in reverse, as it offers the location customers rock music from its eight-track stereo cartridge deck.

Just discovered that Mort Heylig, inventor of the "Sensorama Simulator," 3-D film machine has relocated from New York to L.A. Mort, whose principal trade is professional film editing and photography, has a number of simulators operating in local arcades. The grapevine has it that manufacturing veteran Harry Williams has lent his sage advice to Mort in the further development of this piece.

CHICAGO CHATTER

Bearing out his statement that "import business has become just as important in the U.S. as export," Empire Dist.'s veepee Joe Robbins announced that the firm was recently appointed exclusive distributor in the U.S. for the "Garlando Football" machine, which is manufactured in Spinetta, Italy. Geared for just about every type of location the "Garlando Football" will undoubtedly be a strong item, according to Robbins, and Empire is mighty proud to add it to its current lineup of equipment!

COIN's secretary-treasurer Howard Ellis informs us the association has a very important meeting set up for Sunday, June 14 at the Prom Town House in Omaha. Inasmuch as an election of officers will top the agenda, all members are strongly urged to attend . . . Midway Mfg. Co.'s sales manager Larry Berke is managing to keep up with orders on "Sami," despite local trucking problems. He had kind words for Midway customers who have been bringing trucks in to pick up merchandise and taking on extra loads to drop off to customers.

Activity at Williams Electronics Inc. continues to center around current items "Jive Time," "Hit & Run" and the "Laguna" shuffle. Sales have been excellent, according to Bill DeSelm, and orders are being filled as rapidly as possible . . . Received word from Evelyn Dalrymple of Lieberman's One Stop in Omaha that the Frankie Laine single "On The Sunny Side Of The Street" (Amos) and "Wonder Could I Live There Anymore" by Charlie Pride on RCA are scoring extremely well with operators in the area.

"A most fantastic piece of equipment" expressed Mort Levinson's feelings about the newly released D. Gottlieb & Co.'s "Baseball", which has been on display at National Coin Machine Exchange. The Gottlieb factory has just commenced production and distributors are expected to be stocked shortly.

Orders for the Rock-Ola "442" and "443" phonographs are being filled and customers serviced as quickly as possible under present circumstances. Rock-Ola veepee Ed Doris resumed his travels last week, after a brief period in the office and was heading out to the West Coast. Dr. Dave Rockola is due back from Europe this week . . . MOA members are reminded to submit their recommendations of candidates for the Board of Directors no later than July 17. There are ten vacancies on the Board to be filled this year. All recommendations must be received by the nominating committee at least 90 days prior to the general membership meeting, which is held during Expo on Saturday, October 17.

"Speedway" is still the top priority item on the Chicago Dynamics Ind. assembly line. The factory's loading dock is a busy place all day long, according to Mort Secore, with customers-picking up merchandise as fast as it is produced . . . Nice chatting with Johnny Frantz of J.F. Frantz Mfg. Co. Big item out there is the "U.S. Marshall" gun . . . Joe Ceddia of Lormar clued us in on some hot operator singles in the area. Among them "Sweet & Sassy" by Lenny Dee (Decca), "Soft Summer Breeze/Canadian Sunset" by The Carol Lou Trio (Juke) and Lou Monte's Italian version of "My Wife The Dancer" (Musicor). And now, we'd like to congratulate Joe on becoming a grandfather. His son, Robert, and daughter-in-law, Frances, welcomed a new baby girl, Dawn Marie, who arrived on May 27!

They flew to Memphis, rented a car and drove to Nashville, taking in The Grank Old Opry and had a tour of the cities . . . Leo Rau in town and still sporting a beautiful tan that he got in Florida. Leo bought a new Buick and he and the wife took a month vacation.

Cab Anderson and his son Kevin in town for the day taking in the Twin-Milwaukee baseball game . . . The Minnesota Automatic Merchandising Council is holding its yearly meeting at Madden's Inn & Golf Club on beautiful Gull Lake Brainerd June 5-7. Glen Charney, who is in charge of the program, said that he is expecting about 200 people . . . The board members of the Music Operators of Minnesota held a meeting last week in Minneapolis . . . Raoul Gelineau, Two Harbors in town minus 22 pounds. Since his heart attack, orders are that he lose another 30 . . . Al Kirtz, Lake City, in town for the day making the rounds with his buddy Roy Fox of Hastings.

JERSEY JOTTINGS

Ron Bartos and Charlie Lozito, local Brunswick table reps, will be down south at the Marion headquarters this week for annual Brunswick billiard sales meeting. Flying in from the Chicago office will be coin table sales director Mac MaKenny and promotion chief Glen Mittlaucher. The Brunswick Corp. is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year and the meeting should be bright and busy . . . Irv Morris at the coin emporium which bears his august name, just opened his curtain on a brand new Gottlieb single player pin for his arcade and street location operators. The machine's named 'Baseball' and is about the most exciting blend of the principles of baseball with the skills and splash of pinball. Players can actually vie with each other on two separate scores; one the point total; the other, the number of runs scored during play. The exclusive Gottlieb vari-target feature on the play-field scores from singles to home runs, depending how hard it's struck by the ball, itself propelled and directed by the flippers (which in this case could be called "bats"). "You could go on for hours about this game but it's better to see and play it," says Irv, "so come on down!" . . . Bert Betti, getting in some vacation weekends with the family up at the house on Cape Cod, is awaiting delivery on a new ChiCoin item due next week. Meanwhile, when asked what's cookin' in sales, he said "it may be redundant to say it again, but it's still the Speedway." Easily, one of the most popular and profitable games produced in this decade . . . Big drive on Rock-Ola can vending machines out at Dave Stern's these days, due to combination of summer spots opening up and good flow of equipment from the Chicago factory, now that trucking problems have been minimized.

Something's cooking in the American Shuffleboard design department and it looks like a new idea in coin-op shuffleboard. Understand it's something sized down for street locations which can't fit the long board. Incidentally, American's sales director Sol Lipkin reports a considerable upsurge in operator orders for the 22' shuffles filing in from his dealer network. This is one piece which has to rank among the big five in the games business and the American trademark has become almost synonymous with "shuffleboard." . . . Chatted with the lads from McGee's Music in Paramos recently who report collections good overall, but say the trade's beginning to face another problem in cable television. Seems lots of bars in the metro area are installing the closed circuit cable and while it's drawing in extra clientele during sports programs, they're just not playing the machines while the tube's working.

HOUSTON HAPPENINGS

Co., graduated from University of St. Thomas with a degree in English. This fall he plans to enroll in law school at University of Texas, Austin.

Recent additions to sales force of United Record Distributors were Ann Barra and Pat Eason, both charming girls. Gardener, owner Gardener Sales Corp., engaged in serious task of adding heavy operating equipment to his inventory . . . Better than average attendance was reported for Houston Coin Machine Operators monthly meeting on night of May 14 at Bill Bennett's Grill. Harry Denton, formerly in coin operated business and now engaged in financial investments, was the featured speaker. Picnic planned in June for members and families. Announcement of details early in month.

Coinman Berry Langford, well known locally and statewide, over from his home base in San Antonio for a business visit in city . . . Ted Harris, excellent fisherman and fair operator too, and wife Effie, recently made a pleasure trip to Temple. They emigrated from that city to Houston some years back . . . Brief visit with G. H. (Pat) Cole, general manager for LE Corporation, Rock-Ola distributor. He reported fair present business but hoped for a favorable upturn in near future. Pat's statements echoed comments from numerous coinmen in this area.

Bob Jones, pres. Bob Jones Sales and Vending, Pasadena, ran first in his bid for state representative, District 24, Place 3, but was some 4000 votes short of a clear majority and forced into runoff election June 6th. He is favored to win handily but continues to wage a vigorous campaign. Suggested that all coinmen do likewise. Any number of cards and posters may be had for asking.

Every once in a while, along comes a song that's special enough to get Perry into a studio.

“Love Is Spreading Over the World.” It’s a good idea that Perry puts across with a little gospel and a lot of Como in it.

Add Perry’s return to the spotlight with his upcoming three-week stint in Las Vegas (International Hotel, beginning June 22) to the airplay the single’s bound to get and we can practically guarantee it.

Proving once again how an athlete can make it big in show business, if his timing’s right.
