How 'Market Awareness' Can Cut Into Returns

Much of the problem of "returns," one of the industry's most devastating, seemingly incurable diseases, could be drastically reduced if there were more "market awareness" on the wholesaling and discount retail levels of the business. Again, we return to the nature of those employees who are hired with what we believe to be a false sense of economy. The equation in these instances goes: low pay = low overhead = greater profitability.

The truth is that the unaware or unconcerned employee who approaches the executive level of a retail-wholesaler operation can keep sales excitement at these establishments on a hum-drum level—or worse.

Take this case in point, an example that, unfortunately, may be more than just the exception. Orders are placed on recordings based on heavy local airplay on a key station. That is, heavy play at the time of the order, with no attention paid to the fact that the disk will be taken off the playlist the following week. The order comes through, play stops and sales on the disk come to a virtual halt. The simple matter of "market awareness"—getting a feed-back from the station—could have warned the operation not to re-order and sell-off as much of the stock he has on hand as possible.

On the wholesaling level, there are labels who take pride in the fact that they have people in their branches who keep on top of the local radio situation and will, in fact, inform retailers either to go with a disk or, interestingly, take a pass based on a disk being dropped from the play list.

This kind of honest approach in the follow-through of product can do much to correct the return problem. It can do much to assure the retail-wholesale areas of the business that product on hand has the most likelihood of making it all the way to the consumer. The use of "market awareness" personnel will not solve the return problem completely, for admittedly, there are other matters, contributed by all levels, that make the problem as difficult as it is.

But, the kind of employee who knows the market, cares about the profile of the customer he serves, can put a significant dent into the return situation. He is also going to help immeasurably to make sure that the traffic flow is well served and more likely to make a recording purchase.

Stigwood Forms RSO Label In U.S.; Bienstock Chief

Atlantic Dist Key Acts To Co.

NEW YORK — Robert Stigwood has formed RSO Records in the U.S., and has named Johnny Bienstock as managing director. Bienstock was formerly head of singles sales for Atlantic Records, which will distribute the new label.

It's understood that RSO will kickoff its first product early in Jan. with the release of two strong Stigwood-managed acts formerly on the A&O label. There'll be an album by the Bee Gees and a 2-LP set by Derek & the Dominoes featuring Eric Clapton. Product on both acts will continue to flow through the RSO tag.

Bienstock will headquarter his operation in Stigwood's offices at Central Park West in New York.

Ahmet Ertegun, president of Atlantic, noted that Bienstock will be "instrumental in continuing the already happy and successful relationship between Robert Stigwood and Atlantic."

Peter Brown, president of RSO, Inc., said the Bienstock appointment was "significant in RSO Inc.'s move to expand its interest in the U.S. leisure market."

Bienstock leaves for London this Wed. (20) to meet with Stigwood, Robert English, RSO general manager of record operations outside of the U.S., and other key RSO execs in theatre, film and TV.

FRONT COVER:

"Man of La Mancha" is the latest in the continuing saga of hit soundtrack albums from United Artists Records, which has firmly established itself as a leader in motion picture music during the past decade. "Man Of La Mancha" follows hard on the heels of UA's "Fiddler on the Roof," one of the best-selling film LPs of all time.

Inspired by the Spanish classic by Cervantes, "Man of La Mancha" is an original work by Dale Wasserman, who has brilliantly combined the character and spirit of Cervantes with the splendid lunatic fantasies of the author's fictional creation Don Quixote.

"Man of La Mancha," adapted for the screen by Wasserman, has been described as a musical within a play, but it actually defies convention. Audiences around the world, however, have agreed that it is a unique dramatic experience.

Peter O'Toole as Cervantes/Don Quixote, Sophia Loren as Dulcinea/Aldonza, and James Coco as Sancho Panza, inherit roles performed in theatrical productions presented in 22 languages in 45 countries. The original stage version opened in New York on Nov. 22, 1965, and later swept the Tony and Drama Critics Awards as Best Musical.

It has been brought to the screen with its prize-winning songs and music, including such favorites as "The Impossible Dream" and "Dulcinea." For producer-director Arthur Hiller, "Man of La Mancha" caps a career that includes, "Love Story" and "The Hospital."

At Chicago Meet:

Indie Distributors Vote To Seek Gains In NARM Framework

NEW YORK — Dispelling rumors of a separate indie distributor organization, a group of indie distributors meeting in Chicago on Fri., Dec. 8, voted unanimously to work within the framework of NARM, the merchant-manufacturer association.

The meeting of 22 distributors was called in the wake of problems faced by this segment of the business, which in recent years has been confronted with the growth of branch operations and charges by labels utilizing such a network that indie distributors are failing to provide sufficient promo support on product and are slow in payment of bills.

The Chicago meeting also saw plans developed for an expanded role of the indie distributor in NARM, originally organized to serve the rack-jobber area, but which has evolved as an association of wider industry purpose.

The first order of business at the Chicago meeting was a unanimous vote of the 22 distributors present to remain in NARM, and to continue to work as members of NARM, for the best interests of their segment of the industry. Plans were developed whereby the indie distributors could achieve their objectives within the framework of the established industry association. Working with Jules Malamud, NARM exec director, Dave Press, NARM president, and Earl Kintner, general counsel, who attended the meeting, the distributors present worked out a set of initial plans for their expanded role in NARM. Foremost and of the most immediate importance was the role which indie distributors would play at the forthcoming NARM Convention, which convenes February 25-28 at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles, California.

Convention Plans

On Sunday, Feb. 25, following the NARM regular members meeting (which indie distributors attend along with the rack jobbers and retailers, all of whom together comprise the Regular Membership), a separate indie distributors meeting will be held. At this meeting, the distributors will

'Wattstax' Set Due On Jan. 15 Set Big Drive

NEW YORK — The Epic & Columbia Custom Labels division will undertake one of its most massive merchandising programs ever on behalf of the Stax "Wattstax" concert package.

The package is due Jan. 15 as a 2-LP release, selling for $9.98 on the LP version, and $12.98 on tape. Featured on the set, taken from last August's concerts, are Carla Thomas, Eddie Floyd, the Staple Singers, Isaac Hayes, Bar-Kays, Emotions, Soul Children, Johnnie Taylor and Albert King.

PI's Paul To Give Col Top Single Of '72

NEW YORK — Billy Paul's "Mr & Mrs. Jones," on the Columbia-handled Philadelphia International label, will probably end its sales run as Columbia's top-selling single of 1972. The deck has already been awarded an RIAA million-selling gold disk, and sales are heading toward the 2 million mark, according to the label. In addition, the LP spin-off on the hit looks like it will emerge as the first million unit seller for the hot PI label, owned and produced by Kenny Gamble and Leon Huff.

PI has sold some five million singles over the past three months. Distributed through the Epic and Columbia Custom Labels, PI has had gold showings from Paul, the O'Jays ("Back Stabbers") and Harold Melvin & the Blue Notes ("If You Don't Know Me By Now").

2nd 'In Concert' Scores In Ratings

NEW YORK — Don Kirshner's "In Concert" rock shows on TV continue to show rosy ratings.

With national Nielsens' yet to come, the second show, featuring the Allman Bros., Chuck Berry, Blood, Sweat & Tears and Poco, got a 32 share of audience in Los Angeles, outdistancing the CBS late-night movie (22) and the Johnny Carson Show (21). In New York, the show posted a 22, double that of the Dick Cavett Show, one of the ABC presentations sharing the 11:30 to 1 am time-slot.

The next "In Concert" TV'er takes place Jan. 19, and will feature the Grand Funk Railroad concert from Madison Square Garden taking place this week (23).

MCA Shows Video Disk; Sees Pricing Along Lines Of LP

UNIVERSAL CITY — MCA Disco-Vision, Inc., unveiled its eagerly anticipated video disk last week for the MCA board members, industry execs and press, highlighted by a seven-minute demonstration drawn from the Universal Pictures archives.

The record itself proved to be a paper-thin, 12-inch silver mylar disk with a playing-time capability of at least 40 minutes, at 1800 r.p.m., for either color or black-and-white program material, thus far outdistancing the capabilities of existing audio-visual disk systems. It can be produced for about 40 cents and pressed in virtually the same way an ordinary LP record is pressed. It is also just about indestructible. Price to the consumer will be along the lines of LP pricing.

Opening the first public demonstration was Lew R. Wasserman, president and chief exec officer of MCA, Inc., who after a few brief remarks introduced the newly appointed president of MCA Disco-Vision, Inc., John W. Findlater, a veteran MCA senior officer and vice president.

Said Findlater, "We believe we've achieved the ultimate concept in home entertainment and information storage and retrieval systems, and that both the hardware and the software will be sold to the consumer at popular prices."

$400 Unit

Indications were that the single-record playback unit would be priced in the $400 range, and that a multiple-disc player/changer would cost around $500. Prototypes of both were on display last week, both designed Brut Label Formed Thru Buddah Dist.

NEW YORK — Neil Bogart and Art Kass, co-presidents of The Buddah Group, and Richard Barrie, exec. vice-president of Brut Productions, have jointly announced the signing of an agreement under which the newly formed Brut Records will be exclusively distributed by The Buddah Group.

Brut Records is a new division of Brut Productions, a subsid. of the major fragrance concern, Faberge Incorporated. Commenting on the formation of a record label, Barrie commented, "The label represents a logical extension of our activities in the field of entertainment. Brut Productions is very involved with major motion pictures, tv advertising and a syndicated television series. The formation of a record label has been under consideration for several years."

Release Outlook

In the coming weeks artists signed to the label will be announced. In addition, Brut will release the

Four For Four

1. Twenty-one months ago, United Artists Records released a master from producer/engineer Bob Archibald, recorded at The Music Factory, Miami, Florida.

Thirteen weeks later, "Treat Her Like A Lady," by the Cornelius Bros. & Sister Rose was a certified million-seller.

2. "Too Late To Turn Back Now", their second release, sold over a million copies in a similarly short time period. That's two for two.

3. Their third single, "Don't Ever Be Lonely (A Poor Little Fool Like Me)" is well on its way to becoming the group's third million-seller.

4. The Cornelius Bros. & Sister Rose's fourth hit single, "I'm Never Gonna Be Alone Anymore"/"Let's Stay Together" has just been released and again Billboard, Cash Box and Record World raved!

Four hit singles from one debut LP.
Now that's what we call an album!!

ASCAP Sees Merriest Of Xmas For Holiday Songs

NEW YORK — The yuletide season is, of course, traditionally a boom period for Christmas songs, and this year's performances and disk sales are expected to set new records in this according to ASCAP.

Figures on the successes of the ASCAP Christmas songs that have become standards around the world are huge. Irving Berlin's "White Christmas" has thus far sold 91 million records, an average of some five million per year. The song has also generated the sale of some five and a half

GSF Into Jazz As Distributor Of Encounter

NEW YORK — Larry Newton president of GSF Records has announced that the newly formed jazz label, Encounter Records, will be distributed in the United States by GSF. Encounter was recently formed by Lloyd Price and Bernard Purdie. The distribution agreement was set in conjunction with the appointment of Price as GSF's director of A&R.

Encounter will be concentrating its creative efforts on the contemporary jazz market. Three albums featuring Seldon Powell, "The Sands of Time", and "East Coast," have already been completed and two other artists are scheduled to record their initial albums for the label within the next few weeks.

In commenting on Encounter's merchandising and marketing concepts Price stated: "We plan to go all out in the packaging of our product and each album will be totally distinctive. The jazz buying public is a very sophisticated and selective group and we hope to appeal to their tastes through excellent recordings and superior packaging."

The company's initial release of five albums will be in mid-Jan. and special promo campaigns are planned. The suggested retail list price of the albums will be $5.98.

Foreign affiliations are currently being discussed by Purdie and Price, and the New York firm of Kaplan, Gusick & Wachs will be handling negotiations with prospective licensees.

UA Action Vs. Amer. Rec. Club

HOLLYWOOD — In a suit filed in Los Angeles Superior Court, United Artists Records claims that the Record Club of America breached a 1970 agreement covering distribution of UA Records to Record Club subscribers. UA's complaint, filed on Dec. 8, charged that the Record Club did not properly account for albums sold.

According to UA's papers, distribution and accounting records maintained by the Record Club are, "so inadequate and incomplete . . . (that) it is impossible to verify the accuracy" of the club's statements.

The US action also charged that the Record Club of America has refused to pay royalties owing on "free" albums, which the Club distributed in excess of contract limits.

UA requested a declaration by the Court confirming its right to terminate the Record Club contract in view of the alleged violations. The suit also seeks recovery of $200,000 in damages and an accounting of all UA albums sold or distributed by the Club.

million copies of sheet music, and is still good for 90 thousand copies annually.

'Rudolph' Single

According to ASCAP writer Johnny Marks, his "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer" may well be the biggest selling yuletide bonanza of all time with record sales of 97 million—65 million in the United States and 32 million abroad. Marks, who is also the publisher of this work, calculates that sheet music sales total six million copies. Marks is also the creative parent of "Rockin' Around the Christmas Tree" which has sold five million discs and "Holly Jolly Christmas"—a comfortable one million seller.

Another monster is "Santa Claus is Comin' to Town" by ASCAP writers J. Fred Coots and Haven Gillespie. This number has accounted for the sale of 40 million records and some 500,000 copies of sheet music, its publishers report. Study of the index of song titles at the One Lincoln Plaza headquarters of ASCAP indicates that members of the society have written many thousands of Christmas songs, and new ones are being written every week. There are more than 5,000 songs on file with titles that include the word Christmas, but of course, there are also many seasonal favorites bearing titles that do not include "Christmas".

Among the best known are "Little Drummer Boy" and in the classic department, the opera "Amahl and the Night Visitors".

Most Profitable

There is a running and good humored competition as to which is the most profitable among all of the Christmas songs, and accurate figures on money are extremely difficult to secure. While sales of records of sheet music are one indication of a song's success, there is also the question of the very substantial ASCAP income generated by public performances of a work on radio, television, Muzak type wired-music systems and in night clubs, on ships, on airplanes etc.

Musical Isle Across-The-Board Xmas Gift Drive

NEW YORK — Musical Isle of America, is featuring a heavy push on oldie singles as inexpensive impulse Christmas gift items, according to Norm Wienstroer, vice president of the rack-jobbing firm's St. Louis outlet and national buying headquarters for the firm.

At the same time, more multi-record high-end album product is in the gift-giving spotlight than ever before, making for an unusually broad spread of Christmas merchandise. Locations throughout the territories of the company's outlets in San Francisco, Chicago, Denver, Memphis, New Orleans and Kansas City, in addition to St. Louis, are all being stocked with this across-the-board product line-up, Wienstroer noted.

As a corollary of the oldies phenomenon, for the first time, a kind of oldies chart has emerged. The current oldies hit parade includes "Raindrops (Keep Fallin' on My Head)," B J. Thomas; "The First Time Ever I Saw

'Virgin' To Go Uptown

NEW YORK — Virgin, the rock opera by Father John O'Reilly, and a best seller for Paramount records, has just concluded its one month engagement at the Village East. Plans are now being made to bring the production to a theater uptown.

MCA Label: Getting Known In A Hurry By The Consumer

HOLLYWOOD — "We're kind of like the Secret Service. We represent top artists, yet we're unknown" opined Mike Maitland, president of MCA Records. He cited this as the main reason for launching the newly formed MCA Records label and the image of consolidation it will portray.

Maitland maintained that the strong entities of their subsidiaries, Uni, Kapp, and Decca, up until now prevented consumer awareness of MCA, the parent firm. In addition to establishing consumer identity, the new label will also create international identity.

How to get well known in a hurry: simply move over two internationally successful giants from one of the subsidiaries to the new MCA banner. This is why (in case you've failed to notice) Neil Diamond's new double LP package, "Hot August Night," and Elton John's latest smash single, "Crocodyl Rock," appear on the MCA label. Maitland pointed out that actually all artists are signed to MCA and not to Uni, Kapp or Decca.

The new four-color "Rainbow" logo should further help promote and expedite international recognition of the MCA Label, the Neil Diamond and Elton John pressings had to use a plain black label because the new logo was not yet fully developed. It should appear on Elton John's forthcoming "Don't Shoot the Piano Player" album to be released at the end of January.

Other Changes

Asked whether other acts on the Uni, Kapp, and Decca labels (such as Cher) will also make the switch, Maitland said it was quite possible. He also alluded to a phasing out of the other labels over a period of two to three years so that MCA Records will be "the label" on an international scale (some sixty countries) for pre-

ABC/Dunhill Product Meet In Palm Springs

HOLLYWOOD — ABC/Dunhill's entire promotion staff, as well as the Nashville and Atlanta offices and all Los Angeles-based executives, are readying themselves for a week-long promotion and product planning meeting at the Riviera Hotel in Palm Springs, Calif. Executives of the company and their wives have been invited to spend the entire week, Dec. 27 through New Year's Eve, at the hotel.

In addition to presenting new product to the in-house and promotion staffs, the meeting will also serve to introduce the new employees of the recently created Atlanta and Nashville offices.

Several social functions are planned for the week including a poolside barbecue on the night of the 28th and a cocktail party, dinner, show and dancing on New Year's Eve.

Elektra Sets Sales Confab In Phoenix

HOLLYWOOD — Elektra Records has set Jan. 4-7 for its second annual sales convention being held at the Wigwam Hotel in Phoenix, Arizona. Elektra will be host to all personnel from the eight W-E-A (Warner-Elektra-Atlantic) Distributing Corp. branches as well as Eric of Hawaii, the Islands' biggest distributor, and members of the trade press.

Stan Marshall, Elektra's national sales manager, said that in addition to previewing January-February re-

Final MCA LP

Neil Diamond's "Hot August Night" LP marks his final commitment as an MCA artist before moving over to Columbia, however Mike Maitland disclosed that there is still considerable unreleased product in the can. Besides this, the industry is aware of how well Bang Records, has done with Neil's archive packages.

At the moment the MCA label has not signed any new artists, however they are in the process of announcing three major production deals. Maitland plans to be very select in signing new acts and also in holding down the number of releases. Artie Mogul, newly appointed vice president of creative service at MCA Records, will also work closely in re-emphasizing the MCA consolidated aspects.

The soundtrack to the film "Jesus Christ Superstar" to be released in July will probably be on the MCA Label. MCA Records, only two releases old, and already both certified Gold, seems to be well on its way to achieving the international and consumer success projected by Maitland.

Record Co's Win Piracy Case In British Courts

LONDON — Six major record companies were successful in winning a breach of copyright case against two London firms accused of distributing pirated eight track cartridges imported from the U.S. Plaintiffs in the court action were RCA, Decca, CBS, WEA, EMI and MAM, while two London companies, Commodex Ltd. and Stereo Ltd. were named as defendants. This action marked the first such piracy suit ever to reach a British court.

The high court decision granted an injunction against the distributors and ordered them to pay some $250,000 in costs for having received the imported cartridges on the Five Star record label. It was learned that Five Star was manufactured by Diamond Sounds, Inc. of New Jersey.

Tape, Porno Film Raid In New York

NEW YORK — A court hearing has been scheduled for Jan. 18, for two Brooklyn men who were arrested last week in police raids that uncovered a cache of 50,000 pirated pre-recorded tapes along with large quantities of pornographic films, books and magazines.

Brooklyn District Attorney Eugene Gold said the operation was part of a national network with links to organized crime that was doing $200 million a year in pirated tapes.

The two arrested men were identified as Bernard Damsky, 72, and Benjamin Lichtman, 61, both of Brooklyn. At their arraignment, Damsky was released in bail of $1,000, Lichtman in bail of $500 until their hearing next month.

The raids and arrests were the culmination of a six-month-long investigation that began last May following the seizure of 600 pirated tapes and the arrests of two other men on misdemeanor charges. The Recording Industry Association of America also provided information on the activities of this pirate operation.

Early Monday morning, a squad of police under the direction of Capt. John J. Nevins, Jr., of the Brooklyn District Attorney's squad, armed with search warrants, searched Damsky's

Company Financial Reports:

Schwartz Bros. Predicts Its Top 4th Qtr

NEW YORK — Schwartz Brothers, Inc. the large music retailer and the largest distributor and rack merchandiser of records and tapes in the Washington, D. C. area, told a group of security analysts that earnings in the fourth quarter ending Dec. 31, are expected to be the highest in the company's history.

James Schwartz, president of Schwartz Brothers, said that "internal figures indicate that our fourth quarter ending Dec. 31, will reflect improvements in all aspects of the company's business with earnings at a level higher than last year's record $22." For the nine months ended Sep. 30, the company reported earnings per share of $.31 compared with $.40 a year earlier.

Schwartz said that the best gains for the year would come from retail store operations. As a result of the addition of new stores and replacing of its smaller stores with larger units, the company's Harmony Hut Division has increased its selling space by 49% this year while only increasing the number of stores by two. The company expects to open at least three additional units during 1973, including 6,500 square foot units in the Security Square Mall in Baltimore, and Springfield Mall in Springfield, Va. in Feb.

NMC Sells Riverside Ctg For $630,000

OCEANSIDE, N.Y. — In a move to divest itself of all involvements unrelated to record and tape rack jobbing, NMC Corp. has sold its Riverside Records library and its investment interest in Rid-Jid Products Corp.

According to Jesse Selter, NMC's president and chairman, the Riverside catalog of approximately 600 master jazz recordings together with a subsidiary's 2/3 stock interest in Orpheum Music Co., Inc., which holds certain music copyrights, were sold to Lo Cele, a Grand Cayman, Cayman Islands firm. The sale was made for a total of $630,000, including $475,000 for the Riverside catalog and $25,000 for the stock interest in Orpheum Music. The balance of $130,000, with interest, is to be paid 12 months after the closing. These assets which were acquired by NMC in 1967, had a current book value of $48,000. The sale, therefore, resulted in a capital gain of $582,000 for the company, Selter reported. Through Lo Cele, Fantasy recently acquired U.S. and Canada rights to the Riverside line.

Rid-Jid Products Corp. is a Spring Park, Minn. manufacturer of ironing tables and barbecue grills in which NMC acquired a 51% investment interest in 1971. The company sold its share to the minority holders, Selter said, at no profit or loss to NMC.

In making the announcement, Selter added that "management recently decided to reorient its goals and dispose of all non-rack jobbing activities. The sale of Riverside and Rid-Jid will now enable NMC to concentrate on its primary business, as one of the leading jobbers of tapes and records in the country."

Handleman Div.

NEW YORK — The board of directors of Handleman Co., has announced the regular quarterly dividend of $.17 per share of common stock, payable Jan. 8, to stockholders of record at close of business Dec. 22.

NMC's Fiscal Year Shows Wide Gains

OCEANSIDE, N.Y. — NMC Corp. has announced a 45% increase in sales and a 121% jump in operating income for the fiscal year ended July 31.

Jesse Selter, president and chairman of the record and tape rack jobbing company, said that sales for fiscal 1972 totaled a record $21,043,080 as against $14,311,085 in fiscal 1971. Income from continuing operations for the recent fiscal year amounted to $569,036, equal to $.57 per share primary and $.52 per share fully diluted, compared with $257,163, or $.32 per share primary and $.34 fully diluted for the previous year.

Total net income for fiscal 1972, including a non-recurring loss of $116,957 from discontinued operations and an extraordinary credit of $95,712, amounted to $547,791, equal to $.55 per share primary and $.51 per share fully diluted.

In fiscal 1971, net income, including an extraordinary gain of $347,369 and a loss of $89,490 from a discontinued operation, totaled $515,042 or $.65 per share primary and $.55 per share fully diluted.

Higher results for the year-end were expected, Selter said. However, a summer dip in pre-recorded music sales, compounded by a simultaneous loss incurred by a now-discontinued operation, produced lower-than-anticipated fourth quarter results.

1st Qtr.

NMC Corp. has reported a 33% increase in operating income for the fiscal first quarter ended Oct. 31.

Selter said that income from continuing operations for the quarter totaled $174,467 or $.16 per share fully diluted compared with $131,666 or $.14 per share on a fully diluted basis for the corresponding period of the previous year. Net income, including extraordinary gains of $442,500, rose even more sharply to $616,967 or $.50 per share fully diluted from $146,546 or $.15 per share on a fully diluted basis in the first three months of fiscal 1972.

A comparison of sales for the two periods showed a slight decline to $4,946,873 from $5,090,216 in the first quarter of last year.

Golden Crest's 1st Half Results

Golden Crest produces records for its own and other labels, and edits and finishes films for TV commercials.

UNIVERSAL CITY, CALIF. — The board of directors of MCA Inc. has declared a quarterly dividend of 16¢ per share on the MCA Inc. common stock outstanding, payable Jan. 11 to stockholders of record Dec. 27. The Company had previously paid quarterly dividends of 15¢. The dividend was increased because of improved business conditions in the Company.

Farner then introduced Dr. Mitchell S. Rosenthal, director of Phoenix House, and Don Kirshner, president of Kirshner Entertainment Corp.

Badfinger Signs With Warner Music

NEW YORK — Badfinger, the four-man London-based Apple recording group, has signed a long-term, world-wide publishing agreement with Warner Bros. Music, which will take effect upon the termination of their current publishing agreement. The group writes most of their own material which has been covered by numerous recording artists. Their list of record producers includes Paul McCartney, George Harrison, Denny Cordell & Tony Visconti, Todd Rundgren, and Mal Evans. Badfinger is currently in London producing their own fourth album. In concert, they've worked with the Faces, Alice Cooper, Cactus, the Doors and the Kinks, and they were George Harrison's back-up band at the historic Concert for Bangla Desh.

WB president Ed Silvers reports that many requests for special material by the group have already been received from artists.

fight against drug abuse, the real issue is having young people see that they can lead exciting, full lives without drugs. No one can reach young Americans better than the young musicians whom they admire and whose work forms an integral part of the matrix of their culture. Hopefully, concerts and statements against hard drugs by groups such as Grand Funk Railroad, will have a positive effect in reversing the most serious social problem of our times."

Money Flow

The first portion of the money contributed by Grand Funk Railroad will totally support a major follow-up study, by Dr. Carl Chambers, director of the division of addiction sciences, School of Medicine, U. of Miami, on a large number of former Phoenix residents, who will be individually interviewed. Their employers, teachers, and family will also be seen so that the full impact of drug-free rehabilitation will be measured for the first time. All additional monies will go towards building renovations of the 14 residential centers. Farner added that, should the concert proceeds be tied up by any litigation, the group would donate an equal amount of money from its own treasury.

Speaking on behalf of ABC-TV and Kirshner Entertainment Corp., Don Kirshner said, "Grand Funk Railroad's Phoenix House benefit performance, at Madison Square Garden, will be taped by ABC-TV, for inclusion in its network 'In Concert' series, so as to bring the message and purpose of Phoenix House to a national audience." The show has been scheduled for Jan. 19, 1973.

home and found more than 1,000 pirated tapes and a quantity of pornographic film. Additional quantities of illicit tapes and pornographic material was found in his car. Damsky was identified as the proprietor of the Expo Trading Corp., Brooklyn.

The bulk of the pirated tapes were uncovered at Vogue Record Sales, a storefront warehouse owned by Damsky. Police said that this was not a retail operation and, in fact, there was an iron gate in front of the premises which was kept locked at all times to prevent access by passersby. It was there that Mr. Lichtman, an employee, was arrested.

The Brooklyn District Attorney's office said the tapes, including Elton John's "Honky Chateau," the Rolling Stones' "Exile on Main Street," the "Carly Simon Album," and the Beatles' "Let it Be," sold for about $1 a piece.

The two defendants face up to eight years in prison if convicted on charges of obscenity in the first degree and the unlawful sale of pirated recorded material.

The investigation, raids and arrests, were supervised by Assistant District Attorney Charles J. Hynes in charge of the Rackets Bureau and directed by Assistant District Attorney Stephen R. Taub.

Wilson Pickett The Spinners The Coasters

ACADEMY OF MUSIC, NYC—Wilson Pickett and a backup band, Midnight Movers, consisting of 4 horns, percussion, 2 guitars and keyboards presented a show at the Academy, Saturday, December 9th. It was a show that one is likely to see at the Apollo, but there was a sellout crowd at this downtown Manhattan locale more associated with straight rock concerts. This show was a soul show in every way. An M.C. was used and the Midnight Movers opened the first show with some solid deliveries, "Come In Everybody", "Get Ready Baby, Here I Come" with the M.C. doing some vocals. And, Wilson wrapping up the first show offered many of his big hits, both past and present, and he was in great form. He opened with "Big Wheel Keep On Turnin'", and, of course, one of his present hits, "Marra Told Me Not To Come". Wilson is a singer in every sense of the word. He knows how to get his audience with him and his vocal stylings are always right on. "Don't Let The Green Grass Fool You" is one example of his power to move his audience and he did it with this tune. "Wait 'Til The Midnight Hour" and "Soul Train" had everyone aboard. Wilson was in great form.

The Spinners, as far as this reviewer is concerned, really did their thing. This group is positively outstanding when it comes to performing. The group is loaded with talent and they can take material and make it soar. The group can also do first-rate impressions and in their set they

Jethro Tull Roxy Music

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NYC — Ian Anderson and company, affectionately known as Jethro Tull, returned to Madison Square Garden last week to destroy another one of their sell-out crowds with their fine music and zany stage antics. Performing "Thick As A Brick" in its entirety is a feat unto itself, but that was just for openers. Twirling his silver flute while leading his group through starts, stops and solos, Anderson proved once again that he is one of the most inventive showmen in the business. That's show business!

Tull provides the audience with looking and listening pleasure, but the entire group pitches in, adding to the overall success of a concert that we could have watched all evening. Performing for almost two solid hours, Jethro Tull pulled material from all of their albums and if the arrangements were the same as on their previous tour, the theatrics weren't.

More and more, groups are learning to combine theatre with music. But Jethro Tull, who have been leaders in the field since the very conception of the band, proved that they are master of both.

"Interesting" may seem a cheap and totally unprofessional accounting of a group's performance, but it certainly fits Roxy Music in their American debut. Their wardrobe is part matador, part spaceship, part greaser and part hermaphrodite. Likewise, the performance. Their music is loud and totally unpredictable; it maintains a ceremonial stance, a futuristic pose, a throwback fifties viewpoint and a bejeweled ambivalence simultaneously. Their energy level has yet to settle into one pre-defined brand of rocksmanship, and it will be more than a pleasure to follow their development. Their single, "Virginia Plain" has stuck with us since their Warners LP surfaced, and it still boggles the critical mind. A cryptic pleasure.

did a Stevie Wonder routine that was sensational. Their choreography and stylized dance routines are stunning. "That's The Way I Feel About You", "I Need Somebody Soon", and "Stop, In The Name Of Love" were other selections included in their set and were winners all the way. "Ill Be There", The Spinners tremendous hit that has already garnered a gold record is given special treatment and to watch them do the number it is no wonder the tune is a hit. As I mentioned earlier, The Spinners are really a together group. "It's A Shame" was another outstanding selection. Again, the imitations that the group can do are most impressive. This group is one helluva impressive group. The Spinners go to the very heart of soul, and from the performance they gave at the Academy, one can be fairly certain that this Atlantic recording and performing group is gonna keep right on going.

The Coasters really made one feel as if it was Saturday night at the Apollo, all over again. A Saturday night so many years ago when The Coasters stole the show. "I'm Gonna Find Him" and "Poison Ivy" a 2 million seller brought more than one nostalgic tear. "Zing Went The Strings Of My Heart" and a '72 version of an original Clovers hit, "Love Potion #92" got powerful treatments and a powerful response from the audience. One of the first tunes The Coasters recorded, "Smokey Joe's Cafe" was also given a funky '72 version. And, "Charlie Brown"—what they do to this tune is more than magic—practically everyone in the audience was singing this tune with them.

This was a show that has to be rated with the best. It was beautifully put together and all the performers deserve a tremendous tribute.

Genesis String Driven Thing

PHILHARMONIC HALL, NYC — Eyes, those mirrors of the soul, foretold of a special night. Hope gleamed from every optical orb. A charity concert for the United Cerebral Palsy Foundation with no "names" in the traditional sense at three dollars and one gift to a seat. The presents were for the children aided by the organization, and the audience brought armsfuls of them. Some teenage Santas filled huge Hefty trashcan liners to the brim with their gifts; obviously they felt they couldn't bring just one. WNEW-FM announcers emceed the show which brought two Buddah-distributed Charisma acts to America for the first time. Hope became belief in more ways than one.

String Driven Thing, a four-member Scottish rock group opened. Their sound is much like early Grace Slick Jefferson Airplane with a graft of Papa John Creach (in the form of violinist Graeme Smith). The main interest here lies in the personage of vocalist and percussionist Pauline Adams. She looks the most professional of the quartet, and cuts an energetic figure on tambourine and prancing feet. Husband Chris on guitar and vocals has a rather pure voice for the kind of hard stuff they are into. The most effective number was their single "Circus"—a bit reminiscent of "Somebody To Love."

After an intermission, we witnessed an act that seems to us, upon some rather serious reflection, to be the best new group of the year, as far as sheer impact is concerned. Genesis is much too complex a quartet to explain totally after just one concert appearance; but like the audience (who thunderously demanded

Rare Earth

PHILHARMONIC HALL, NYC — Rare Earth, describing themselves as just Detroiters who make music for the fun of it, but the plain truth is that Rare Earth really goes deep. The group has been on some of Motown's biggest records and recognition for Rare Earth has been sellout concert performances all over the country and the Rare Earth label is one example of Motown's cooperation with the group. Their recent sellout concert at the Philharmonic is another example of their musical power that goes to the very core of their individualistic talents. They have that magnetic force of being able to pull an audience with them, and once that happens, and it does happen with selections like, "Hey, Big Brother" or "I Was Born To Wander" a true type rhythm and blues tune, describing an excursion from Detroit to Los Angeles, and it would take an act of God to restrain either the audience or the group. "Sally Was A Goodtime Girl" and a solid oldie "Your Love Is Very Strange Baby" are super offerings exemplary of their special talents.

The group is about as exciting as any rock group going, and it doesn't take much to realize that they put that all important—special feeling—into their music. And, I would venture to say that their relationship with Motown has had a great deal to do with it. "Woman I Can't Bear The Thought of Losing You" and a fantastic rouser, "I just want to celebrate another day of living" keeps everything at the boiling point. There was just the slightest letdown when the musical offerings were interrupted so that Weldon McDougal, Motown's director of artist developments and special projects, presented Rare Earth with their 4th gold LP, "Rare Earth In Concert". And, most likely the group will soon be presented with their 5th gold LP for their latest, "Willie Remembers".

The Miracles Brighter Side Joe Quarterman Bobby Byrd

APOLLO THEATRE, NYC — The Miracles, making one of their first major appearances with their new 1st tenor lead singer William Griffin who is from Baltimore and who has been working with the group for about six months, are remaining in the (Smok-ey) miracle magic bag and the only change, at present, is the transition from Smokey to William. The group is presenting their usual repertoire and, in actuality, when you close your eyes and listen to William you could almost swear you were listening to Smokey. William is a youthful, tall and handsome and is most certainly going to be the new teenagers heartbreaker. Just as they might have done in the beginning of their career or during their ascendancy to stardom, the set included, "Ooh Baby", "This Is Your Life" and William delivered the tunes in a smooth-as-silk effortless manner. The Miracles definitely have a new beginning with William Griffin.

Brighter Side of Darkness, a group hailing from Chicago, have a bright future indeed. They are a solid act that features a lead who stands about 4 feet tall. And, when he went into their big hit "Love Jones", he wiped the audience with his 'get down' delivery. "Are You Ready" and "I Don't Want To Love Ya Baby" wrapped up their set and the group got a standing ovation, and deservedly so. A first rate group in every way.

Joe Quarterman & Free Soul, a group from the Wash. D.C. area, riding with a current hit R&B'er, "(I Got) So Much Trouble In My Mind" is another soul-solid performing group and they have the talent to keep right on moving with their funky style. "Work To Do" and "Woman's Got To Have It" came across in the groove and the audience was with them all the way.

Bobby Byrd with The Flames, a 10 piece backup band, brought the audience to its feet with offerings, "Stand On Up", a great funky swing tune with a solid beat, and Bobby with some 15 years in the business still gets the vocal across. And, he gets down on his knees. "If Loving You Is Wrong, I Don't Want To Be Right", was given a great treatment. Also, "Keep On Goin'" instigated a tremendous round of applause for Bobby and the audience wanted him to keep on goin'. This was another of the great Apollo shows.

Trapeze Reuben & The Jets

WHISKEY, L.A. — It seems that with only three instruments a hard rock group would have to be limited in sound capabilities. Well, Trapeze is a three-member hard rock group, and if there are circumscriptions to their music, they certainly aren't blatant. It seems to come down to the old cliché, it's quality, not quantity.

Trapeze simply sets down some good, hard funk, revolving around the lead guitar of Mel Galley, the bass and voice of Glenn Hughes, and Dave Holland on drums. A great deal of their success in establishing a full sound lies with the harmonic weaving of Hughes' vocals with Galley's lead. The instruments and vocals are consistently clear, crisp, and polished.

Reuben and the Jets is a good, fun-loving group that incorporates varying rhythms between an organ and two saxes, with strong guitar backing. They nicely fuse music from different eras into their act, including today's hard rock, the 50s rock 'n roll with added depth, and some good slowed down oldies.

MCA Videodisk

to operate through any commercially available television set by being attached to the VHF antenna input terminal. These playback units were described as "optical systems using a non-physical contact laser read-out electronically transmitted to the TV screen." The problem of deterioration caused by record wear is therefore non-existent, and the life of the laser "pick-up" is estimated to be some 1900 hours. The latter may be replaced for under $20.

Findlater stressed that in last week's demonstrations the company was "highlighting the entertainment aspects of Disco-Vision, although there are numerous additional applications for this technology, giving Disco-Vision an enormous range of business, educational and other uses." Among the latter are library uses, inventory controls and credit-card verification.

Capability

In this connection it is interesting to note that one side of a 12-inch Disco-Vision record can hold up to 40 billion "bits" of information. It is thus capable of recording over 400 million nine-digit numbers, or the social security numbers of every man, woman and child in the country, with room to spare—all on only one side.

Asked about a target date for getting the video disc and the playback units into the marketplace, Findlater could give no firm answer, saying, "Stanford Research Institute is making a comprehensive in-depth study of the manufacturing, marketing and distribution fundamentals for us. We prefer to await their recommendations before making any definitive decisions in these areas."

His associate Kent Broadbent, vice president of MCA Disco-Vision and director of the project's research and development division, did tell Cash Box, however, that "the way things are going, you could expect the system to be commercially available for home use by 1975 but probably not before."

According to Broadbent, the Disco-Vision wing of the company has had some preliminary talks with MCA Records, but only that. He would not comment on the subject of these talks.

Mike Maitland, MCA label president, said for his part that any connection between the two divisions was at this point "a bit premature, though the facilities are there."

The film division, in addition, puts at the system's disposal more than 11,000 films, dating back from the present to the '30s. The seven-minute demonstration itself drew from two dozen MCA properties ranging from the Mae West/W. C. Fields classic "My Little Chickadee" to the Ross Hunter production of "Airport." Viewers were given mock-ups of a five-record album offering "Airport" as a "complete motion picture for viewing on standard home TV sets."

Your Face," Roberta Flack; "Close to You," the Carpenters; "Make Me Smile," Chicago; "Candy Man," Sammy Davis, Jr.; "Country Roads," John Denver; "The Happiest Girl in the Whole U.S.A.," Donna Fargo; and such older oldies as "Hawaii Five-O," the Ventures and "Moon River," Andy Williams, in addition to virtually all early Beatles singles.

While these are the hottest of the oldies, the company is currently stocking more than 300 titles in its active file.

On the high end of the price spectrum is one of the hottest of all the new packages, Cobblestone's "Newport New York" six-LP set; the new "Tommy" on Ode; UA's new soundtrack for "Man of La Mancha," "Europe '72," by the Grateful Dead on Warner Bros.; "Living in the Past," with Jethro Tull; and Neil Diamond's two-record live performance set on Uni.

NARAS Ballots, Pre-Nomination List Mailed Out

NEW YORK—Ballots for nominations for this year's Grammy Awards were mailed recently to all active members of the Record Academy (NARAS) along with the official pre-nominations list from which voters may select as many as five entries in a specified maximum number of categories. Included with the mailing was a return envelope which must be received by Haskins and Sells, the independent accounting firm that will tabulate the ballots, on or before Thursday, Dec. 28.

National president Wesley Rose, in a message to members, has stressed the extreme importance of voting in this round, inasmuch as the ballots will determine the Grammy Awards finalists in thirty-nine different categories. "Unless you support the entries of your choice in this round by voting," he has warned, "those choices may not even make it into the final round."

The list of final Grammy nominations will be released on Monday, Jan. 22, when final ballots will also be mailed to members. The Grammy winners themselves will be announced.

Prior to Atkinson's presentation, Hero recipients were Bill Catino, branch promotional manager for the Cleveland-Pittsburgh area and Bud O'Shea, branch promotional manager in San Francisco.

In addition, a special Hero award was presented to New York branch manager Bob Mandel for his creativity in designing a special promotion supporting an embryonic Epic group, Robey, Falk & Bod. Mandel's work will be coordinated with the January release of the band's debut Epic LP.

Indies & NARM

outline their problems and objectives. The meeting will be chaired by Joseph Simone of Progress Distributing Co. in Cleveland, Ohio. Howard Ring of Music Merchants of New England, Woburn, Mass., will keynote the session.

At the Opening Business Session, a "Partners in Progress" (the convention theme) symposium will be held, at which Jack Solinger of Independent Music Sales in San Francisco will speak as the distributor on the panel. (Other "Partners" represented will be the rack jobber, indie retailer, and chainstore mass merchandiser.)

Following the opening business session, a Rap Luncheon will be held, which will be co-chaired by Seymour Greenspan of Summit Distributors in Chicago, and his "Partner in Progress" Marvin Schlachter, President of GRT Records. Distributors and manufacturers are invited to attend this Rap Luncheon, for a discussion of their mutual problems and ways in which to solve them.

Jules Malamud stated, "As a result of these three meetings (one for the distributors alone, one in which the distributors story is presented to the entire industry, and the combined distributors-manufacturer meeting), it is expected that plans will develop for future activities and programs for distributors, within the aegis of NARM."

Dick Murray Dies

NEW YORK—Richard (Dick) F. Murray, former general manager and foreign manager of ASCAP from 1946 to 1962, died in Sarasota, Fla. last Tuesday (12). Murray, 74 years old, retired from ASCAP in 1962 after suffering a slight cerebral hemorrhage. Prior to his position with the performing rights organization, Murray was with Paramount Pictures.

Since retiring from the Society, Murray and his wife, Terry, resided at 1832 Pendera Drive, Sarasota, Florida. In addition to his wife, Murray is survived by his son, Richard F. Murray, Jr., daughters Mrs. Betty Cooper and Mrs. Joan Smith, a brother, three sisters, grandchildren and several great grandchildren. Funeral services were held last Friday (15) in Sarasota.

Brut Label

soundtracks to several of the upcoming features from Brut Productions. The first of these, scheduled for release in early 1972, is the soundtrack from the black motion picture, "Book Of Numbers."

"The philosophy of our label is similar to that of The Buddah Group," Barrie continued, "in that we plan to concentrate on a limited number of artists and to give each of them a lot of backing. Our interest is in contemporary artists. This encompasses rock music as well as things that are a little out of the ordinary."

Apart from the soundtrack albums, the first Brut releases will be single records. At present, Brut intends to develop a company of limited size that will work with outside producers. For this reason, they feel a distribution agreement with an established label is more suitable than attempting to set up an indie distribution network. Both Brut Productions, and the parent company, Faberge, have been involved with the record buying public as a market for certain of their fragrances. Faberge has sponsored various television shows directed to young people, such as the recently aired "Good Vibrations From London".

Brut Records is a New York City based company, located in the offices of Faberge at 1345 Avenue of the Americas.

Elektra Sales Meet

leases the four-day convention will encompass a wide variety of industry, entertainment and recreational activities.

Live performances by several Elektra artists are slated, including Aztec Two Step, Bread, Casey Kelly, Mickey Newbury and Sweet Salvation. There will also be an hour-long feature film produced by award-winning photographer Frank Bez and William S. Harvey, executive vice president in charge of creative services and head of Elektra's new audio visual department. The film will feature new product by Carly Simon, Judy Collins, Curt Boetcher, Bread, Dana Cooper, Mickey Newbury, Billy Mermit, The New Seekers ("The Best of the New Seekers") and French singer Veronique Sanson. (This film is the debut offering of the company's audio visual department which was established a little over a month ago.)

Also previewed at the convention will be the first releases from Countryside, Elektra's joint label venture with Mike Nesmith into the country field, along with upcoming product on the Nonesuch classical line. The latter will be represented, too, by an exhibition of its prize-winning cover art.

In describing the industry features of the convention, the theme of which is "Sales Support Promotion and Promotion Supports Sales", George Steele, III, vice president, marketing, noted that there will be two seminars and a special interview with Elektra president Jac Holzman fielding questions pitched by "reporter" Joel Friedman, president of W-E-A Distributing Corp.

Dick Lavsky: Ad Music Is Tuned To The Ears Of Madison Avenue, Not Top 40

NEW YORK — There would be a greater number of hit songs coming out of musical commercial production if it were not for certain ad agency policies. These are the insights of Dick Lavsky, founder and president of Dick Lavsky's Music House Inc.

Economy

One factor limiting the potential of hits from spot production is economic. When budgets are low per project (as they always seem to be when the general economic picture looks bleak), "music is the first item cut." According to Lavsky, music may be sliced out entirely under these conditions. Or the agency may prefer to keep costs down by utilizing "library music," previously published material not identifiable as a hit to the general public.

Lavsky still finds a market for 200 or so pieces which he writes per year expressly for commercial purposes. Some of his recent projects include two for NBC ("This fall, NBC has it all" spots as well as the daytime promotional soundtrack, "I Like Being With You.") and a new jingle package for WNEW-AM.

Music Lag

There's always a general time lag in musical up-to-dateness in the minds of agency execs who commission music, according to Lavsky. Usually, their ears are two years behind what's happening on the charts. This detracts from an ultra-contemporary approach which would lead to more "hit" commercials in the chart sense.

Many agencies are afraid of rock in its purest form altogether. They feel it will limit the effectiveness of their product pitches and gravitate toward the MOR sound for the mass market. With so much of the record market being rock-oriented, this limits the chart success of the original "commercial" song to the MOR/Top 40 crossover segment of the industry.

Buying White

One look at the charts today and anyone can see that black music is stronger than ever. But with few exceptions, Lavsky notes that the agencies don't want black music for their commercials. For special projects, such as spots which will be aired only in heavily black markets or on soul radio stations, black can be beautiful to the agency. But black, like rock music is viewed as of limited mass appeal and hence not suitable for a national ad campaign.

This is doubly curious as many of the black vocalists of today started out recording commercials in the somewhat more rigid musical formats dictated by agencies. Lavsky cited Melba Moore and Varlerie Simpson as two examples.

Buying Hits

Still, hits do come out of the commercial music soundtrack. The most recent example of course is "I'd Like To Teach The World To Sing," a two-time Top 20 record this year for The New Seekers and The Hillside Singers, written as a Coca-Cola commercial. Past hits include "No Matter What Shape," and "The Girl Watcher's Theme." But frequently, agencies will pay huge sums for already established songs they feel fit the mood they are trying to create to sell their product. Donovan's "Wear Your Love Like Heaven" (for Love Cosmetics) and "Up Up And Away" (for TWA) were so purchased. So one could almost say that hits make commercials as often as commercials make hits under the present state of affairs.

Parakeets

Lavsky as a composer must work under conditions as they are and he regards each project as a special challenge. He is a songwriter who also must excel at arranging, producing, editing and engineering. The folks on his staff must also feel at ease wearing a number of hats. Music House's facilities include an eight-track studio and moog synthesizer. These features are dutifully noted on his business card above a more curious line, "Parakeet Training." Humor is an important part of success when working for and between client and agency.

A Hillside Xmas

NEW YORK — Metromedia's Hillside Singers have taped the "Wonderama Show" in the form of a Christmas special, to be seen on five different Metromedia outlets including WNEW-TV (New York), KTTV (Los Angeles), WTTG (Washington), WCTM (Minneapolis, St. Paul) and WXTX (Cincinnati). Also featured are the Bill Baird marionettes, singer/guitarist Chris Wallace and several animated Walt Disney characters. The show will be aired Dec. 24th.

Film Charles TV Special In Israel

HOLLYWOOD — "Ray Charles in the Holy Land" a television special starring Ray Charles to be shot in Israel in mid-December, is the first project to be filmed under the newly-formed Joe Adams Productions, Inc. banner.

Charles, the Raeletts, and the Ray Charles Orchestra departed for Israel following the Ray Charles Show's final performance at the Valley Music Theatre in Los Angeles, Dec. 10, for the special and a series of three concerts.

ABC Sets Up Radio Scholarships

HOLLYWOOD — Marv Helfer, vice president of ABC/Dunhill Records, has allocated company funds for two full scholarships for minority-group members attending the recently created Los Angeles School of Broadcasting. The creation of the scholarships marks another step for ABC in its continuing program of community involvement.

The Los Angeles School of Broadcasting, established this year by Don (Tracy) Malloy, is the first black-owned and operated broadcasting school in the United States. The aim of the school, according to Malloy, "is to turn out qualified announcers who can enter the broadcasting industry on a professional level." Scholarship funds will be given directly to the school, which will then select two recipients for the scholarships.

STATION BREAKS:

Ring Out The Old Department: Stations across the continent are busily compiling their year-end musical analyses for special broadcasts of various types. Soul programmers should take note of "Retrosoul '72," a three-hour countdown of the year's top r&b items produced by Chicago's Gib-tajon Productions (30 W. Washington, zip 60602) and narrated by WGRT's Don Sainte-John. CHUM's year-end festivities are planned to include the most significant news stories of the year as well as songs in their eight-hour New Year's documentary. New music director for WHN is Corrine Baldassano, replacing Bob Russo who's moved to assistant pd for the station. She's been a producer for Dean Lewis as well as Bob's assistant during the past two years at the New York MOR.

WIOD has found the football widow whose tale of woe is, in their opinion, saddest of all. Wives whose husbands are pigskin freaks were asked to submit short essays to prove their status as "Football Widow Of The Year." Judges included the wife of the Miami station's sports director Rick Weaver—Bobbie—as well as the wife of Dolphin running back Jim Kiick—Alice—and National Airlines Stewardess Karen Jones. As you might expect, the choice wasn't an easy one to make. One "widow" told of how she made a sexy negligee out of astroturf to get her husband's attention. Another recalled, "If it weren't for a particularly crucial half time, my husband never would have taken me to the hospital to have the baby." The winner was Mrs. Jeanie Hudson of Fort Lauderdale. She explained her husband's enrapturement with the sport as a problem in misplaced identity. She cited how Mr. Hudson rationalizes that Joe Namath is a native of his father-in-law's home town, that the University of Florida is his buddy's alma mater and so on.

"My husband manages to identify with the entire AFC, NFC, Ivy League, Southern Conference and even the Fort Lauderdale's Boys Football League," she concluded. First prize? Why, two tickets to the Super Bowl! You were expecting maybe season passes to the opera?

WBRU has begun broadcasting from its new 50,000 watt transmitter. The commercially licensed FM began in 1966 and went progressive rock in '69. . . . We've heard of jocks becoming recording artists, but few take the opposite route. One who mixes both careers together is Last Poets-member Felipe Luciano. He hosts a weekly show on NY's WRVR called "Latin Roots" (Sundays, 2-7 pm). The show's chief audience is the two million-strong Spanish-surnamed audience in the metropolitan area.

Eleventh Hour Records recently sent an interesting letter and gift to all air personnel at Cleveland's WNCN, Boston's WBCN, Hartford's WHNC, Philly's WIFI and Chicago's WBBF-FM. We quote the missive: "Please accept this can of beans in the self-eliminating spirit in which it is given. We understand the problems involved in playing long cuts such as "Juggernaut" from our Polyphony LP. It's hard to squeeze in during commercial periods of the day. We feel that these beans may be our salvation on the above mentioned cut. Upon eating them at the beginning of your shift, we hope that you will soon be looking for a long, tasty cut to play while you dash off to organically recycle the beans. Please keep us posted on the results. We will be glad to ship you a case every week." Well, that's one approach to promotion!

Aircheck: Tom Adams, WIOD (Miami): "I was late for my show today; I had all my clothes stolen at a massage parlor."

GSF to Distrib Price/Purdy's Encounter Label

NEW YORK — Larry Newton president of GSF Records announced that the newly formed jazz label, Encounter Records, will be distributed in the United States by GSF. Encounter was recently formed by Lloyd Price and Bernard Purdie. The distribution agreement was set in conjunction with the appointment of Price as GSF's director of A&R.

Encounter will be concentrating its creative efforts on the rapidly expanding contemporary jazz market. Three albums featuring Seldon Powell a versatile jazz performer, "The Sands of Time", and East Coast have already been completed and two other artists are scheduled to record their initial albums for the label within the next few weeks.

In commenting on Encounter's merchandising and marketing concepts Price stated: "We plan to go all out in the packaging of our product and each album will be totally distinctive. The jazz buying public is a very sophisticated and selective group and we hope to appeal to their tastes through excellent recordings and superior packaging."

The company's initial release of five albums will be in mid January and special promotional campaigns are planned. The suggested retail list price of the albums will be $5.98.

Foreign affiliations are currently being discussed by Purdie and Price, and the New York firm of Kaplan, Gusick & Wachs will be handling negotiations with prospective licensees.

Gold Goes To Cornelius Bros.

HOLLYWOOD — The Cornelius Brothers and Sister Rose have been awarded an RIAA Gold Record for their second United Artists single "Too Late To Turn Back Now," and their recent "Don't Ever Be Lonely," as well as their UA debut album, may not be far behind.

A fourth single for the group, "I'm Never Gonna Be Alone Anymore," has just been shipped. Producer-engineer for all product is Bob Archibald, president of the Music Factory in Miami.

DUCE'S WILD — Danny Bonaduce, seen each week on "The Partridge Family", has signed his first recording contract with Lion Records, a subsidiary of MGM Records. The deal was negotiated between Mike Leferts of Bregman & Leferts, attorney to Steve Metz of Victrix Productions, and Clive Fox of Lion Records. Metz will produce Bonaduce for the label. He has completed his first single, entitled "Dreamland", which he produced in association with Norman Bergen and Bruce Roberts. The single will be released within the next two weeks, and will be performed on the Jack Paar Show on January 9th. The deal also calls for album product by the singer/actor. Seen in photo: Bruce Roberts (left), Steve Metz (standing), Norman Bergen (at piano) and Bonaduce (right).

POP PICKS

TROUBLE MAN—Marvin Gaye, Original Motion Picture Soundtrack—Tamla T322L

Marvin Gaye's last LP, "What's Goin' On," deserves much of the credit for turning soul around to its present high state of success and artistry. His long-awaited follow-up comes in the form of a soundtrack to a black action film, one in the tradition of "Shaft" and "Superfly," though much more instrumentally oriented. Gaye's current single is the title track, and his vocals do crop us as flourishes on many other cuts. But for the most part, Gaye's original score is an ostentive definition of just what a soul orchestra is; it has much to offer a wide cross-section of buyers.

BACK TO FRONT—Gilbert O'Sullivan—MAM 5

Gilbert proves he can do it again and again, better and better. The hit "Clair" would be enough to insure chart success for this, his second LP, but he offers us additional enticements of all sorts. Those thrilled by the various versions of "Who Was It?" will be happy to discover O'Sullivan's finally done it himself, definitively. There's heavy guitar stuff goin' down on "I'm In Love With You," and a sleighride type feeling to "Can I Go With You?" Gordon Mills produced and once again, a star is confirmed.

GREEN IS BLUES—Al Green—Hi/London SHL 32055

The man who emerged this year as the biggest thing to hit soul since Otis Redding and James Brown proves he had it all together back when. This is a repackage of his first LP recorded for the label, and the first Green product produced by Willie Mitchell. Most of the tunes are remakes, from Sunny & The Sunglows' "Talk To Me," on through the Temptations' "My Girl" and The Beatles' "Get Back." But there are two Green originals here, sketching out the plans for his future hits. Should have significant sales impact, as his roots are where he wants 'em—deep down into the soulful turf.

1957 1972—Smokey Robinson and The Miracles—Tamla T320D

During this past summer, Smokey & The Miracles went from city to city on a farewell miss on. America learned that the group would no longer be touring in its original state. Their fifteen year history is here traced in a live concert recorded in our nation's capital, at the Carter Barron Amphitheatre. It's all here, from "Bad Girl" to "We've Come Too Far To End It Now," on a 2-disk set. There's lots of interplay with the audience as well as the sounds. This is one touring group that will genuinely be missed.

REALLY—J. J. Cale—Shelter SW-8912

Ethnic musics of many varieties—especially early country and blues—frequently have one thing in common: a "basement" approach to sound wherein the bass and percussion throw a blanket on the damp floor for the other instruments to rest on. J. J. Cale has brought this kind of approach to rock and here, he brings it to the hyphenated varieties (country and blues-rock) as well. Muddy Waters' "Mo Jo" and his own countrified tunes like "Louisiana Women" both have that basement sound, bridging the gaps between. So what he's created here is a mood album of the multi-colored variety without straying from home. We like the address.

YOU'RE A GOOD MAN, CHARLIE BROWN—TV Cast—Atlantic SD 7252

TV will get an adaptation of the Off-Broadway hit when the Hallmark Hall of Fame presents the work on Feb. 9. Clark Gesner's score, including the charming "Happiness," is as sprightly as ever, and the people who play Charlie, Snoopy, Lucy, et al, are fine without being overly precious. Sure to be a big audience-rating winner, so stock up on this TV cast spin-off.

COME SOFTLY TO ME—The New Seekers—MGM/Verve MV-5090

The quintet, as we all know by now, is as pleasant to listen to as they are to watch. Their MOR approach is fresh and smooth, and their first LP for MGM should give their career an added boost. Title tune is the Fleetwoods oldie and there's plenty of new life breathed ever so gently into it here. Albert Hammond's "Down By The River" and a beautiful "Captain Stormy" are two more choice cuts. In their own league, you can hardly come up with a more winning team.

BIRTH DAY—The New Birth—RCA LSP-4797

The New Birth is a composite portrait of Harvey Fuqua's soul talent roster at the label, including members of The Nite-Liters, Love Peace & Happiness and vocalists Londee Loren, Bobby Downs and Alan Frye. As such, they don't get together too often, but it's more than a cousin's club when they do. This is their finest LP, and one we feel will be a very successful chart item, both soul and pop. Special mention must be made of the cut, "You Are What I'm All About." It's strangely subtle and unusual construction should place it in our minds alongside "Shaft" and "Let's Stay Together" in the months to come. It blows minds and influences people.

SANDY—Sandy Dennis—A&M SP 4371

Up until now, Sandy has been the exception to the rule that everything talented and British immediately makes it big in the States. Her dedicated band of followers might just be ready for some sudden explosion in size however; her latest solo LP tries to present a more rounded picture of Ms. Denny than any of her previous efforts. There are strings by Harry Robinson, and brass arrangements by Allen Toussaint. Of the ten tunes, eight are originals with one each by Dylan and Richard Farina. Much of the credit should go to Richard Thompson on guitar and mandolin, a veritable giant lollipop of refreshing and impressive licks.

GOLDEN HITS—Bill Haley And His Comets—Decca DXSE7-211

The great white father of rock 'n roll is still a top drawing act all over the world. This is the most comprehensive collection of his hits to date, a specially-priced two record set. The phrases he helped bronze for the fifties' hall of fame—"See You Later Alligator," "Shake, Rattle And Roll"—are joined by "Burn That Candle," "Rip It Up," "Thirteen Women (And The Only Man In Town)" and a rockin' complement of 19 more, including his biggest, "Rock Around The Clock." The first rock phenomenon still moves.

NEWCOMER PICKS

HURRICANE SMITH—Capitol ST-11139

A certain Norman Smith is known as the Beatles' engineer from the early days, and producer for acts like Pink Floyd. A certain Hurricane Smith has made his mark with three top singles in England and one which is currently bringing America over to his side, "Oh Babe, What Would You Say?" Liner notes reveal they are one and the same. As singer/songwriter, Smith combines a slightly raspy vocal instrument with some Gilbert O'Sullivanish musical hall two-step and the mammoth sax stuff of Frankie Hardcastle. Definitely commercial, and about as habit forming as you can hear it. We especially like "Back In The Country" and the current English hit, "Who Was It?"

AZTECA—Columbia KC 31776

A 17-piece rock group might look a little chancy on paper, but then Azteca is no simple pie-in-the-sky idea. Under the directorship of ex-Santana member Coke Escovedo, the band gets the Latin spirit movin' in the rock direction with little trouble. Those who groove on Billy Preston and early Santana (which is a sizeable segment of the record buying audience) will feel like Azteca's old friends. "Mami Linda" is the single and it smokes. Give this record air enough, and watch the fires blaze.

NEW YORK—THE STYLISTICS: PEOPLE DO MAKE THEM

The Stylistics?—Who are they? Today, most people have heard about them or have become familiar with them. This is all the more remarkable because this kind of success has occurred within the space of a couple of years. The length of time The Stylistics have been working in the industry within this time they have had six single (A.V.) releases the act can already boast of sales of over one million. Their recent hit, "I'm Stone In Love With You" is currently a major singles chart and still climbing.

How did it happen that these five young men, who have sold up million or more sellers in the space of a couple of years, are aware that it usually takes ten years to get to the top, and, even then, it takes all ingredients to make it. Stylistics are well aware of their fortune. They accept whatever comes along and they don't let it go along. And, after seeing them perform, they are listening to their albums, "Stylistics" and "The Stylistics" to experience the core of truthfulness. To the right on, and dramatic and it comes in the form of "World Go Round", which was a major hit, and communicates openly and honestly. These are the same feelings to their fans. It is a beautiful act to see. Not only have they won over the crowd, but the speed of their success, is a major factor in forming a group.

To many of us, the Chicagoans of the past couple of years, in putting their thing in the hands of Andre Perry, president of Perry Studios in Manhattan. The Stylistics has announced the sale of their studio facilities to a Canadian entrepreneur.

The studio sale, Andre Perry, a veteran jazz musician, produced the Stylistics as Charles Aznavour and Johnnie Mathieu and is probably the most famous for his recording of Johnnie's Plastic Ono Band's "Give Me A Chance." The studio, which has been converted from an old building, was famous for its highly realized atmosphere. A staff of ten took care of all the artistic and technical duties. Perry, the founder of operating the business and drawing too much time and energy out of me. When I should be in the studio working with the boys, I found myself spending more and more time on the non-end of my own music business.

At the sale of the studio, Perry started a new creative music company called Good Noise Limited. The company, specializing in talent and record production is the Philadelphia American record producer and best known for his work on Elektra Records; Yael In a sense, he is now functioning as a manager; and Perry who is the coordinator and producer of the company head. The company was located at 163 St. George across Philadelphia. His buddies.

This is still a result of working hard. For sometime "You're A Big Break in late" and The Stylistics their own, were.

They were on the Jersey goes, Arrion said just so long as we might be cramped we graduated to what better, but especially in the Pa. But, we never interjected, "hell in Camden, New Jersey started working interesting points trying to move that is the fact. We may walk ready to go."

On their recent tour of the east coast, Capitol's recording group went to Philadelphia to visit Cash Box. Seated in the front row with the group are the national manager, artist relations, and to his right, Max Kenst relations, east coast.

IT'S IN THE BAG—Brown Bag Records launched its billboard campaign recently by displaying huge billboards on Sunset Strip. Shown above is a model of the Mom's Apple Pie advertisement, with another for John Hambrick's "Windmill In A Jet Filled Sky" located across the street in Hollywood.

Reddy Child

HOLLYWOOD — Helen Reddy, whose feminist anthem "I Am Woman" on Capitol hit the number one spot, gave birth to a baby boy, Jordan Sommers Wald, on Tuesday, Dec. 12, at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. This is Australian-born Ms. Reddy's first child by her husband and manager, Jeff Wald. She has a nine-year-old daughter, Traci, from her previous marriage.

Clara Ward Suffers Stroke

HOLLYWOOD — Clara Ward, 48, gospel singer and leader of The Clara Ward Singers, suffered a mild stroke over the weekend at her Baldwin Hills home here on Saturday, Dec. 9. Miss Ward was rushed to UCLA Medical Center in West Los Angeles where authorities later reported she was in fair condition.

Franklin Music As Retailer Of Year

PHILADELPHIA — Franklin Music Co. has been named Retailer of the Year by the Echelon Mall Merchant's Assoc., Echelon, N.J. The award was presented to Albert S. Franklin, president and operator of the four music stores that bear his name. Franklin received the award, the first of its kind to be given by the association, at a ceremony in the community room of the mall.

The Echelon store was chosen for the honor from among 114 merchants who have business establishments at the mall, according to James B. McLean, Echelon Mall manager. McLean said presentation of the award marked the first time the shopping center industry, which includes regional enclosed malls over the country, has given a retailer of the year award.

BUCK OWENS (Capitol P-3504)

In The Palm Of Your Hand (2:35) (Blue Book, BMI—B. Owens)

Buck's coming on strong with this original ballad that features his new writing style coupled with his old, emotional vocal sound. Topflite backing by the Buckaroos and immaculate production add polish to the total sound. Buck's got a top ten position in the palm of his hand. Flip: "Get Out Of Town Before Sundown" (2:48) (same credits).

RED SIMPSON (Capitol P-3495)

Those Forgotten Trains (2:10) (Central Songs/Glenwood, ASCAP—S. Monroe, J. Cunningham)

Red Simpson drove up last year's charts with "I'm A Truck" and "Country And Western Truck Drivin' Man." This Smiley Monroe/J. Cunningham song about trains shows that Red has more than a one-track mind; he should be on the surveys for years to come. Flip: "Milesaver Man" (2:38) (Jerry Chestnut, BMI—W. Woodward).

FERLIN HUSKY (ABC 11345)

True True Lovin' (2:23) (Ronbre/Coach Four, BMI—G. Nelson, C. Taylor)

For his first outing on the ABC label, Ferlin Husky lives up to his last name with a robust vocal that will capture considerable attention for this strong ballad sound. Flip: no info available.

DANNY O'KEEFE (Signpost SP-70012)

I'm Sober Now (2:42) (Cotillion/Road Canon, BMI—D. O'Keefe)

From the man who brought us "Goodtime Charlie's Got The Blues," comes a new original with potential to do easily as well as "Charlie" in both country and pop markets. O'Keefe comes across as a very convincing and theatrical vocalist on this disk, as well as a talented songwriter. Flip: no info available.

JEANNIE SEELY (Decca 33042)

Farm In Pennsylvucky (1:47) (Tree, BMI—J. Seely)

Right next to Kentsylvania lies the little town of Pennsylvucky. And what better place for Jeannie Seely to write about in her new song, being a young Pennsylvania gal who went down South to get into Country Music. A bright, happy and commercial sound. Flip: "Between The King And I" (3:05) (Tree, BMI—R. Lane).

CARL BELEW (Decca 33043)

Who Are You Saving It For (3:07) (4 Star, BMI—C. Belew, R. Harman, T. Stanley)

Carl Belew comes across with a standard ballad sound that has a good chance to score with its clever lyrical content. Flip: "I'm Taking Care Of Your Roses" (2:53) (same credits).

GILDA (Candy C-1025)

The Ballad Of Rosie Mae Miller (2:54) (Candle, ASCAP—G. Jordan)

Gilda Jordan most likely has a very big hit on her hands, and could very well be a new star on the horizon. Her original ballad has a funky arrangement and story line in which a slighted female gets her just revenge. The right combination to take Gilda to the top. Flip: "There Stands A House" (3:03) (Candle, ASCAP—G. Jordan).

DAVID WOELLER (Playboy P50015)

Hotel Christmas (2:43) (Evil Eye, BMI—S. Silverstein)

When one thinks of Christmas, a day at home with the family and the tree immediately comes to mind. But everyone can't be as fortunate, as David Woeller tells us via this bluesy Shel Silverstein composition about spending the holiday in a lonely hotel room. Due for extensive airplay. Flip: no info available.

Best Bets

DICK O'LERY (Country Showcase America 110)

The Christmas Flower (2:45) (Country Showcase, BMI—F. Gosman, D. O'Lery) A dramatic narrative reading with "Joy To The World" in the background showcases Dick O'Lery's theatrical flair as well as his Christmas spirit. Should command considerable attention. Flip: no info available.

CHERI LEE (Candy C-1012)

True Lovin' (2:28) (Candle, ASCAP—C. Davis) Cheri Lee puts bright vocals on top of a moving rhythm section that cuts a groove somewhere between country and r&b. Add a dash of strings, cook for 2½ minutes, and you have a hit recipe. Flip: "Help Me Make A Memory" (3:08) (Canary, BMI—B. A. Amos).

CHARLIE WALKER (RCA 74-0870)

Soft Lips And Hard Liquor (2:04) (Forrest Hills, BMI—W. Haynes, L. Allen) Soft lips and hard liquor are a tricky combination to handle, but it looks like Charlie Walker has got them under control for a tight sound with hit potential. Flip: "It's Better Than Going Home Alone" (2:45) (Blue Crest, BMI—T. Stearnes, G. Goleman).

JIMMY HYDRICK (Candy C-1016)

A Weakness She Can't Understand (2:23) (Candle, ASCAP—J. Hurley) In a well-paced and neatly arranged ballad, Jimmy Hydrick establishes a compelling vocal feel that should capture substantial airplay. Flip: "That's Not Me" (2:01) (Canary, BMI—M. & J. Hydrick).

Country LP Reviews

WHY IS ROY ACUFF—Hickory LPS 162

The question in full might be "Why is Roy Acuff known as 'Mr. Country Music'?" If there are any doubts, they can be answered by this double-LP set from Hickory. Amongst the many, many performers who gave their all to country, Acuff has the heritage and talent to earn the title. In addition to popularizing such classic tunes as "Wabash Cannonball" and "The Great Speckled Bird," Roy was the co-founder (with Fred Rose) of Acuff-Rose Music, the father of c&w publishing houses. Not only a collectors' item, but a memorable musical event.

HANK THOMPSON'S GREATEST HITS VOL. 1—Dot DOS26004

Hank Thompson may well be the Golden Throat of country music. Somehow he manages to exude all the downhome basic feel that so much typifies c&w, but he can also place polish and finesse on top. His smooth style goes hand-in-hand with his suave stage presence, and even though records aren't visual products, his image comes across loud and clear. After the success of his "Yellow Cab" LP (a collection of Mills Brothers hits) and "Glow Worm" single, Hank should do very well with this greatest hits.

BABY IT'S SO HARD TO BE GOOD—Ernest Tubb—Decca DL7-5388

Here is an album that represents both the roots and branches of country music. Because of the fact that there is no generation gap in country (as there is in rock & roll), it's possible for an artist to start a career and then have it flourish over many generations. This is what has happened to Ernest Tubb, a member of the Grand Ole Opry since the 1940's. As the title song of this album, Tubb uses a tune by Harlan Howard. But keeping himself aware of change, Ernest has also included some songs by newer writers, such as Earl Kit Carson's "Big Blue Diamond" and Marty Robbins' "In This Corner." A winning set.

Buck Owens Sponsors 2nd Annual Pro-Celebrity Golf Tournament

BAKERSFIELD, CAL. — The Second Annual Buck Owens Pro-Celebrity Golf Tournament was held Nov. 4-5. More than 30 celebrities and 120 amateurs took over the greens at the Bakersfield Country Club before an estimated crowd of 400 onlookers for two days of golf.

The banquet and show Saturday night was again the highlight with well over 650 in attendance. Host Buck Owens was first on the bill with a rendition of "Mountain Dew." He then brought on Buddy Alan to sing "Lodi," followed by newcomer, Miss Stormy Winters who did an exciting version of "Proud Mary." The Bakersfield Brass were up next with "Daddy Don't You Walk So Fast," featuring vocal by Dave Gray. Susan Raye was brought on and did "Wheel of Fortune." Buck's portion of the show ended with "You All Come" with audience participation.

Comedian George Lindsey was "Master of Hilarities" for the evening. Surprise performer of the evening was motorcycle daredevil Evel Knievel who, at Buck's request, did a reading of one of his own poems which stated in conclusion, "to be a man, to do my best, to stand alone is my only quest." Bake Turner, defensive back for the NY Jets, displayed a fine country singing voice as he sang "Four Strong Winds" and Archie Campbell did his funny "spoonerism" version of "Cinderella" that he's made legendary on "Hee Haw." Cincinnati Reds catcher Johnny Bench, recipient of the Key To The City by Bakersfield Mayor Don Hart, was brought on by request and did a version of "Don't Mess Around With Jim." Mayf Nutter performed with "I Want To Go Home," spiced with his own recollections, and "Never Ending Song Of Love."

Also brought on stage was Bobby John Henry, local Bakersfield star, who performed "Easy Loving," and a command performance of Kristofferson's "The Taker." Rusty Draper was also on the boards for the evening as well as Foster Brooks from the "New Bill Cosby Show". Ronnie Prophet, did impressions featuring Louis Armstrong, Eddy Arnold, Kitty Wells, Tiny Tim and Johnny Cash.

Rounding out the show was Charley Pride who closed with versions of "Four Walls" and "Kiss An Angel Good Morning." The Buckaroos who provided expert backing for all performing celebrities.

The tournament is expected to outdo last year's for monies garnered. $25,000 is the projected figure for this year's proceeds with all funds going to the fight against cancer. Awards were given Sunday afternoon including five engraved Buck Owens All American guitars to the top foursome of John Brock, Jack Lund, Sam Tobias and Joe McFadden. Among the celebrities winning trophies were Mayf Nutter, Bob Morris, Peter Marshall, Efrem Zimbalist, Jr., Bobby Murcer and Dennis Ralston, international tennis star, who walked off with top celebrity honors.

NASHVILLE — The Country Music Assoc. has announced the winners in their annual radio competition for promotion of Country Music Month. First, second and third place awards are given for the most outstanding promotion done at the local level during the month of October.

The CMA judges awarded first place for 1972 to Radio Station KBAM in Longview, Washington. Second Place to WDVA, Danville, Virginia, and third place to KAFF, Flagstaff, Arizona. NASHVILLE — A Nashville office has been established for the publishing arms of the multi-million dollar complex of Word, Inc., and J. Aaron Brown has been chosen to head the operation.

Brown has been named general manager of the gospel division of Word Records' publishing companies. Canaanland Music (BMI) and Word Music (ASCAP), according to an announcement from the firm's home office in Waco, Texas. The establishment of the Nashville publishing division at 825 19th Ave., S. marks the first time the nation's leading gospel/religious recording and publishing company has located in Music City U.S.A.

Word, Inc., is the parent company of the Word, Canaan, Light, and Myrrh Recording Companies; Lexicon Publishing; Word Book Publishing Co.; Creative Resources (a division handling religious educational material on cassettes); Word Tours; and Word and Canaan Record Clubs; as well as the two publishing companies.

Country Artist of the Week: STONEY EDWARDS

TIME TO SING—Stoney Edwards has paid his dues and now's the time to sing the songs.

Stoney Edwards knows a great deal about trouble, and hard times. In fact, he's spent more time living his songs than singing them. Born on a small farm in Seminole, Oklahoma, Stoney's life has indeed been "Stoney"—filled with privation, hardship, and a misfortune plus a brush with death.

His first guitar as a kid was made out of an empty gallon bucket and an old window screen. When he started singing professionally, he had a chance to play with Bob Will's old band and he learned that life wasn't totally against him.

And, today, Stoney has learned to laugh as all the bad times are behind him. He has several albums on Capitol Records, and his current hot chart climbing single which was produced by Earl Ball is titled "She's My Rock".

Personal management by Ray Sweeney.

Young Tapes For Disks And TV

NASHVILLE — Mercury artist Faron Young went into the Mercury Studios on Dec. 5 for a recording session, and on Dec. 6 he taped a guest spot on the Hee Haw Show, which will be aired in the near future. Later in the month, the Wilburn Brothers (Doyle and Teddy) dedicated their entire show to "The Sheriff". The show featured all Faron Young songs and marked the first time in two years that Young has appeared on this show.

Faron's manager, Billy Deaton, reports the Young/Deaton publishing interests are flourishing. Songs included in recent sessions are "Give A Lonely Heart A Home", by Charley Pride, and "Imagination Running Wild", by Conway Twitty. Also, two songs from the Young/Deaton publishing catalogues, "She", and "Divorce Or Destroy", are featured on the Hank Williams, Jr. LP "Eleven Roses".

NEW YEAR

1972 In Review

Depending upon whom you talk to in the music and games industry, the past twelve months is either "the year of the dart game", "the blossoming of the family fun center arcade" or the "return to prosperity." Perhaps it's all three (and more) rolled up, spelling out one of the most satisfying years in a long time for most in the business.

The plethora of "dart games", or more correctly, wall-mounted remote-control panel-games, which start off with darts and moved into basketball, golf, bowling and football, brought a dozen or more new firms into the industry. In addition, both ChiCoin and Midway marketed several pieces in this genre . . . all earning terrific collections for operators (national average is over $40 gross per week).

One of the most unusual aspects of the game was that many distributors sold the game to operator customers, declaring no trade-in afterward. "After they've made the money, they can throw them away if they want . . . it's that kind of game," distributors stated.

Recession Thawing More Dollars for Op.

1972 was also the year the American public began to cut loose with more of that hoarded pocket money, as the recession, which began in 1970, finally thawed. More folks turned out of an evening at bars and diners and restaurants; even at big city arcades, and collections came back toward the level the trade "appreciates".

Quarter play on big games and music boxes helped bring up that earnings figure, but the skyrocketing operating costs sucked up the gravy pretty much anyway. More for the help, more for the machines, more taxes . . . thanks for 25¢ play. Was about time!

1972 saw the introduction of the first tape jukebox—Wurlitzer's Carousel—which plays 10 cassettes and also hit the right taste bud with hundreds of locations which previously didn't care to have a jukebox with top 100 type tunes. Almost a hit before it came out, the little tape player is so far back-ordered at this writing, the word at Wurlitzer is not "sell" but "have patience".

New Machines ALI Pins Bows

Console-styled machines, which resemble your own home stereo, made further success in 1972 and are now a recognized factor on the nation's locations. Both Rock-Ola and Wurlitzer sold plenty of theirs; and the NSM Consul 130-B from Germany performed likewise.

Other machine innovations during the year have to include the introduction of Allied Leisure's first flipper piece called 'Sea Hunt'. The item was not only the first pingame from this young factory but the first in an upright cabinet. Chicoin bowed a two-player rifle game called 'Twin Rifle' and scored terrific success with the item. Brunswick shocked the trade when it bowed a smash hit machine at the Sept. MOA Show. It's called 'Air Hockey' and it makes nothing but money.

Regional Seminars Score for MOA

On the association scene, MOA's John Trucano scored a historic success with his regional business meetings. Trucano, a Notre Dame graduate, got their Center for Continuing Education to collect data and suitable professors who could talk with authority to operators about the business of operating—from gaining and keeping locations to hiring help to keeping the books stright.

They DID and three seminars took place early in the year that were, as the kids say, "out of sight." The first seminar took place at Notre Dame and had 55 operators in attendance. Based upon the response to those two fact-filled days, the group went on to Las Vegas where 95 operators turned out at the Sands to see the "same show". Then another SRO performance in New York City's Hilton Hotel. The program will continue in 1972 and the credit goes to Trucano.

Wingrave MOA Pres; 25th Anny Pgrm.

Harlan Wingrave of Kansas succeeded Trucano as MOA president at the Sept. 14-16 convention in Chicago. Wingrave vowed to continue the good work, while adding his own theme for his term—the celebration of the national association's 25th anniversary. Indeed, as Wingrave toured the regional association meetings throughout the fall and early winter, that was the theme he pounded out (presenting 25th anniversary gavels to each group's president). The next show should be a stunner, when MOA will put out the red carpet in its own honor.

Down in Washington, meanwhile, just about nothing happened with the copyright thing. MOA is still backing its $8 per box per year bid, while other contesting groups huddle for additional burdens on the operator. 1973 should see some action in that long, arduous struggle.

Key events on the manufacturing level have to be topped by Seeburg's successful separation from Commonwealth United Corp. Now called Seeburg Industries, the firm's executive brass (with exception of president Sam Stern) moved into New York City back in March, taking up residence in the new General Motors Building on Fifth Ave.

Bally Mfg. Corp. in its continuing effort to purchase key overseas distribution companies, made constant headlines during 1972. In addition to its acquisition of Australia's Electronics Amusements and Hong Kong's Jack Rooklyn Amusements, Bally also bought Germany's Gunter Wulff Appartebau for a reported $11 million. The latter firm, one of Europe's most prominent makers of pay-out equipment, now ranks Bally far and away the undisputed leader in gaming equipment.

At home, Bally announced the formation of Carousel Time as an operating arm of the corporation, designed to pursue the blossoming fun center style of games operation in shopping malls. By mid-year they had installations in 15 states. Indeed, this new area of the industry finally became a reality; unfortunately, largely due to professional arcade people and even entrepreneurs from outside the industry, rather than to the efforts of the street operator. It became clear to many resistant chain store owners that mini-cades within their stores often outearned every other concession in the place, based upon square-footage. However, some operators (like Bally's Carousel Time) prefer to lease space as tenants, rather than concession, for their installations.

New Companies Into Coinbiz

In addition to the dart game manufacturers entering the industry, a new games manufacturer called For Play, Inc. out of California joined the trade and released their now-successful 'Las Vegas Gallery' (a target/dice/card gallery on the style of the Seeburg Bear Gun). Firm's products are marketed exclusively thru ACA of California and the latter's regional distributors. ACA product vice president Mickie Greenman was highly instrumental in the rapid distribution of the Gallery; also in the company's expansion in the in-store fun center business.

Personnel Changes At Coin Factories

Executive promotions and appointments on the manufacturing level included Earl Ramsey to Rowe International presidency, succeeding the retiring Harry Martin; Bud Lurie to the presidency of Seeburg Products Div.; Jim Newlander to VP domestic marketing at Rowe (also Paul Huebsch to general sales manager and Dave Howle to field sales manager at Rowe); Aaron Goldsmith to executive vice president of ATI's (All-Tech) Leisure Time Group and Ron Crowder to ATI sales manager; Russ Eckel to Rowe Customusic chief, and Mel Kalb to sales manager of Nutting Associates.

With the retirement of 20 year Wurlitzer veteran sales director Bob Bear this fall, Tonawanda chief Amile Addy assumed responsibility of sales and set Nat Hockman as Eastern US sales coordinator and Ralph Cragan for the same in the west, under a new sales chain of command. Late in the year, Addy appointed Ken Malick as Wurlitzer's new product sales manager, with the tape playing Carousel as his first project.

Foreign Market Remains Strong

The flow of new and used equipment to and fro the foreign markets was brisk during 1972, getting a healthy start at the Jan. 25-27 Amusement Trades Exhibition in London. The Japanese operating industry took a second position only to the US with 1.4 million vending units on location by mid-year. The export of US manufactured pool tables into Europe in particular was extremely healthy during the year . . . many wondering why it took so long for the European industry to catch up on one of America's most lucrative pieces of equipment. Rowe International signed an exclusive pact with American Shuffleboard of New Jersey to handle the latter's coin and home billiard products thru their European branches and independent distribution outlets. Ball Fruit of England bought ACE and Mecca from the Grand Hotel chain. And Bally opened up distribution points in Guam, Venezuela and Africa for gaming and amusement devices.

Distributor Moves People & Places

Significant events on the distribution level during 1972 have to be headlined by the purchase of Empire Distributing by Bally Mfg. Deal was consummated late in December. Another startling development was Wurlitzer's appointment of Dale Distributing to handle their music line throughout the entire nation of Canada. Rock-Ola also created a significant Canadian move with the appointment of New-Way Sales Co. to traffic their music and vending line throughout Western Canada.

Joe Schwartz, owner of Chicago's National Coin Machine Exchange, sold the company to Photo Vend and retired. Mort Levinson stayed on at this Wurlitzer distribution outlet. Wurlitzer appointed David Rosen, Inc. to handle its line out of Philadelphia. Appointment was made back in March. Wurlitzer also appointed Jim and Pat Bilotta (Bilotta Music Co.) for Western New York State, with the exception of the broad Buffalo territory which went to Advance Distributing. Wurlitzer Co. veteran Dick Smith was promoted to the top management slot over all Wurlitzer owned branch distributors, coordinating sales out of the DeKalb complex.

A new full line distributor opened its doors during 1972 down in Memphis when Allen Smith came on as a Rock-Ola music distributor, with such games lines as Chicago Coin. Bob Jones of Robert Jones International opened his giant new quarters in Dedham, Mass. early in 1972, boasting the Rock-Ola music and vending line and such games lines as Bally and Midway.

Also from Dedham, industry veteran Irwin Margold retired from the top spot at Trimount Automatic Sales later in 1972 to become a full time consultant for Rowe International, operating out of Miami. Margold's consultant duties was greatly responsible for the introduction of Rowe's lottery ticket vending unit in both Mass. and New Hampshire during 1972, also for the import of a coin-op table soccer unit strictly for Rowe dealers. Marshall Caras took over as Trimount general manager.

Jim Ginsburg left Banner Specialty (Philadelphia) during 1972; banking expert William Moore joined up with Banner also during 1972. Marc Rodstein was appointed Banner's general manager.

Seeburg's Columbia, S.C. outlet moved into sumptuous new quarters in Cayce, S.C. during '72. Wurlitzer's Denver branch also moved into new building in April; likewise J&J Distributing (Rowe AMI) into new quarters in Indianapolis in March.

Barry Feinblatt bought the United Billiards, Inc. share in United Amusement International becoming sole owner during 1972. Vic Conte returned to the Rock-Ola fold as a distributor out of Syracuse during 1972.

Eastern Novelty Co., one of the nation's leading suppliers of parts and supplies (especially in the billiard equipment area) changed its formal name to Imperial Billiards during 1972, to better reflect the scope of its activities.

Tragedy struck a number of distribution companies (indeed many operators) during 1972 when torrential floods stuck both the Rapid City, S.D. area and the territory around north-central Pennsylvania and south-central New York State. D&L Vending and Roth Novelty Co. (Wilkes-Barre) were particularly hard hit with near 90% water damage to the equipment inventory and places of business. But thanks to help from tradesters both in and out of the area, all firms were back in action within weeks.

Veterans Pass On During 72

Unfortunately, every year-end summary story includes mention of industry members who passed away during the preceding twelve months. Veteran distributor/jobber Ed Heath (Heath Dist., Macon, Ga.) died Jan. 7th. Max Perlman, who ran the Atlantic New York Corp's East Hartford, Conn. branch for 20 years, passed on Dec. 30th (71). On Jan. 15th, a renown leader of the operating industry, Jim Tolisano, died. The former president of MOA and the Florida Amusement and Music Assn., had sold his route more than one year prior to his death, and was devoting his time to running his fabulous arcade on Treasure Island, Florida when he died.

In early February, George Goldman, co-founder of General Vending Sales Corp. (Baltimore) passed on. Then on February 18th, a leader in the manufacture of jukeboxes, beloved by many in the trade, left us when Wurlitzer's Roy Waltemade died. Roy had spent the bulk of his career running the North Tonawanda operation for Wurlitzer and had scarcely begun his retirement when he died. On May 6th, Farney Wurlitzer, son of Wurlitzer Company founder Rudolph, died at the age of 88.

Paul Kotler, founder of the National Shuffleboard Co. in Jersey, passed on. Kotler realized one of his fondest dreams before he died when the entire National manufacturing complex moved into giant new quarters in Green Brook, N.J.

Hy Lesnick, operator of Richmond Music Co. and another staunch association leader (both in Virginia and with MOA) died on June 26th. On July 18th, a tradester often referred to as a "living legend" died on July 18th at the age of 60. He was Bert Lane whose manufacturing and promotional inventiveness both in amusement games and parks attractions launched many ideas onto the market, including kiddie rides and coin-op slot car racing. Lane was also the inventor of "ice cream on a stick" for Eskimo Pie.

Ted Rubey, founder of Marvel Mfg. Co. (Chicago parts suppliers) passed away on July 31st at the age of 75. On Oct. 11th, fresh from visiting the NAMA Trade Show in Atlantic City, Advance Dist. president Morrie Lerner died in Syracuse, N.Y. His company management was taken over by his wife and two sons.

Robbins On Soccer Game Success

CHICAGO — "Unquestionably the fastest growing coin machine operation in this country is the soccer football or football, or football!" said Joe Robbins, vice president of Empire Dist. this city. "These open playfield soccer games, played by two of four players, originated somewhere in Europe and have been popular for years throughout that continent."

Robbins pointed out that, "way back in 1963, Empire brought over some soccer tables from Belgium. Unfortunately, tests in various locations were unsuccessful," he continued. "We tried again in 1964, 1965, with a similar lack of success; however, a company in Cincinnati subsequently imported a table from Germany and concentrated on franchising and college-type locations with some measure of success."

"A table imported from Italy by Empire achieved marked success in Upper Wisconsin, starting in 1969," he said. "It gradually grew in popularity and by mid-1971 other areas in the USA started to enjoy similar success. Imports began to flow into this country, from Italy, Germany and France."

Some states such as Wisconsin, Texas and Louisiana are in the midst of a real boom with the soccer machines, according to Robbins, but there are many states which haven't been touched. They, too, will get into it eventually, he predicted.

Robbins pointed up the fact that there are several US manufactured units, as well as the foreign makes.

"Tournaments have been conducted on local levels," he said, "and eventually these will spread and blossom into regional and possibly even national affairs.

"It's difficult to predict the popularity of this machine," Robbins stated. "It takes time, patience, and some concentration in an area to get it started. People have to learn how to play it. But once the fever gets up, it spreads like wildfire!"

In conclusion Robbins said, "for the operators it's a marvelous business. The machines are mechanical, low in cost and they operate on a 25¢ coin. The income actually increases as time goes on. The service is practically nil. Put all these ingredients together and they make a recipe for real profits! Certainly 1973 will be the biggest year yet for the soccer football!"

Rock-Ola Releasing Model 451 Compact; Mini Juke Has Big 450 Features Also

CHICAGO — Ed Doris, executive vice president of Rock-Ola Manufacturing, has announced that Rock-Ola has begun delivery to its distributors of the new 100 selection phonograph, Model 451. The Model 451, according to Doris, is the companion to the big "WORKS", the 160 selection Model 450, which has been on the market since last October.

The "LITTLE WORKS," Model 451, Doris continued, has all the features and eye appeal of the Model 450. The 451 has the same "Animation" ... "Lenticular Glass Panels" ... and the "Red Hot Shimmering" color scheme.

"Like the big 'WORKS,' the 'LITTLE WORKS' has the same world famous Rock-Ola mechanism and the same dependability which have long been a Rock-Ola tradition," Doris declared.

Referring back to the color scheme of the 70's, Doris mentioned that the Model 451 is "even more beautiful than its big brother because all of the shimmering colors and red hot eye appeal are condensed into a smaller compact cabinet.

"In addition to all of its eye appeal," Doris continued, "the Model 451 has all the customer conveniences which have made the Model 450 such a hit since its introduction. The Model 451 has the same sightline program deck which includes the ten-numbers-in-line selection system right up on top at finger tip level. This selection system is now up top along with the Compute-A-Flash Record Now Playing indicator along with the complete instruction column, coin slot and coin reject button."

Les Rieck, Rock-Ola's sales manager for the music division, added that like all Rock-Ola phonographs, the "LITTLE WORKS" is a serviceman's dream—providing total accessibility to all internal components. The 451 is equipped with a counter-balanced dome which lifts by itself and stays lifted. The entire program holder assembly either swings out or can be completely lifted out for easy title strip changes. And when the dome is completely open, the selection switches, should service ever be needed, are right at the serviceman's eye level. In addition to these features, Rieck pointed out that the Model 451 has the same swing out, in-unit serviceability where the amplifier power and credit units and rejector housings can swing out for in-unit testing.

The Model 451 provides location filling sound by means of the powerful Rock-Ola stereo amplifier and 2 full range 5" x 7" oval speakers and 2 powerful 12" full range speakers.

"All of these features and customer conveniences," Doris went on, "are contained in a cabinet with a shape of 'right now.' This magnificently streamlined cabinet has sides of Black and Gray Onyx Conolite and with its dazzling chrome trim will upgrade any location and appeal to any patron."

The cabinet measures 48" High, 31 7/8" Wide, and 26-15/16" Deep. Despite its compactness, the Model 451 has every feature of the 160 selection phonograph, including "Two Plays—Two Bits," with the exception of the "1/4 Quarter Play" which is an optional accessory.

The Model 451 will work with all other optional accessories, such as Rock-Ola's electrical money counter, motorized volume control, Manual volume control, microphone paging kit, alarm system "L" pad, "LP pricing," and the 506 wallbox.

Doris concluded, saying that despite the addition of such new and modern things as Animation and its Red Hot Shimmering design, Rock-Ola never changes things such as its dependability and serviceability. He added that the Model 451 is now on display in all the distributors' show rooms along with the big "WORKS", Model 450, and the famous Rock-Ola Console Deluxe Model 447.

EASTERN FLASHES

May we at Cash Box extend our very best wishes for a happy holiday season to all in the local trade. Let's hope 1972 brings us all some happier tidings, like a pickup in collections for mid-town operators and a fair and speedy ruling in the flipper game case. Indeed, as far as New York City operators are concerned, the flipper case gave more than a few ulcers during the year. As far as the State itself was concerned, the situation with free play battles served up scant results. Let's all hope the industry gets what's just during 1973.

Looking back, highlights touch on a great UJA drive among local tradesters, serving up plenty of donation pledges to the charity, in the honor of Max Weiss, this year's guest of honor. Al Denver is still president of the local MONY association and the lion of the New York trade couldn't be in better spirits as the year ended. He's still a battling tiger when the interests of the trade are concerned—would that other associations have such a man at the helm. And Millie McCarthy herself is still State association chief. This gal, a super credit to the industry, would be a success in whatever endeavor she tried. Her experience in local and state government has secured many a victory where industry concerns were at issue.

Among the many who sent us cards and phoned in holiday greetings was old buddy Jack Mitnick from Hialeah. We're happy to report that Jack has been appointed Eastern US sales supervisor for the Murrey & Sons coin and home pool table lines. He'll be working out of his Hialeah office, covering the territory by phone plus some road trips. First carload of Murrey tables arrived in Florida last Friday with the second one to come in this week. "I'm really proud to handle this line," said Jack. "Gordon Murrey's tables are well established in the home and commercial fields and now I'll be working to establish his great coin-op line in our industry." Murrey tables come in the popular sizes (6', 7', 8' and even a coin-op 9' regulation sized table). And now that he'll be shipping from Florida, it knocks the freight charges down considerably for customers hereabouts who've been ordering out of the Murrey & Sons factory out in Los Angeles.

Also from Florida, we extend the best for the season from the game at Allied Leisure—Dave and Bob Braun, Ron Haliburton and Gene Lipkin. Their Crack Shot 2-player machine gun target game is shipping out to dealers with gusto, Gene proudly notes. "Test collections show this piece to be one heck of a quarter collector. It's amazing what happens at the location when you install it. The customers can't get their hands off it," says Gene. The Crack Shot incidentally, can be knocked down quite easily for access to the location and can pass thru a 30" door. Four bolts remove the front portion (which has the two machine guns mounted atop it).

THE JERSEY BOUNCE—Holiday greetings from Nick, Sol, Mike and also from Mrs. Mary Cusano out at the American Shuffleboard plant in Union City. They really enjoyed a super sales year with both home and coin-op products. Most interesting is the enormous orders they secured during the preceding year on the long-board shuffleboard tables. That most staple of tavern pieces will be around until the end of time. . . . Bert Betti, Johnny Rafer, and Jerry Gordon at Betson wish their many friends and customers holiday greetings.

CHICAGO CHATTER

To all of our friends in the industry—Happy Holidays!

WILLIAMS ELECTRONICS INC. is about ready to release an exciting new two-player called 'Swinger'. Factory distributors can look forward to sample shipments in about a week or so. Watch for it!

OUR CONDOLENCES TO National Coin Machine Exchange prexy Elmer Schmitt whose wife, Helen, passed away on Sunday (10). Visitation was held last week at the Henry W. Mueller Funeral Home in Chicago. Funeral services were held on Thursday, Dec. 14.

IF YOU HAPPEN TO HAVE a 1973 calendar handy you might want to mark the dates April 6-8 when the NAMA Western Show will be held in the Community Concourse, San Diego, Calif. This will be the first time the convention is being held in San Diego and the association expects registration of some 3,000.

EDDIE ZORINSKY OF H. Z. Vending and Sales in Omaha is running for mayor of the City of Omaha. We wish him well. Eddie will no doubt be campaigning very vigorously for the next few months in preparation for their April election. His victory would be a credit not only to himself and his family (most especially his father, Hymie) but to the entire coin machine industry of which he has been a very energetic member. Eddie's activities in civic affairs are well known: he has held other public offices. We understand the Omaha newspapers have been interviewing him for some features articles in conjunction with the campaign . . . Needless to say, much of our phone conversation with Hymie Zorinsky centered on the above, however, he also expressed interest in the upcoming State Legislature meeting which, he hopes, will result in the lifting of the present ban on free play.

ROCK-OLA MFG. CORP'S George Hincker informs us that the factory is just about ready to commence production on the new '451' model 100-Sel. phonograph! Watch for it!

BRUNSWICK'S AIR HOCKEY—A STRONG ITEM AT WORLD WIDE DIST! "It's the best money-maker in several years," said Howie Freer, "Collection reports are outstanding!" . . . World Wide played host last week to a couple of engineers from Hal Computer Inc. in Florida who conducted a two day series of service schools on the firm's current dart and golf games line, including the 'Halgame'.

NICE TO KNOW that Illinois ranks second in the number of MOA members from the state. New York is in the lead with 77 members—Illinois has 66 . . . And speaking of MOA, Fred Granger is reminding members once again that the deadline for enrolling in the association's Group Catastrophe Health Care Plan is Dec. 31. Members desiring further information about the plan may call the Insurance Administration Office in Chicago, collect, at the following number: (312) 922-5253.

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

Seasons Greetings to the local industry from Bob Portale and the entire gang at Portale Automatic down on Pico. Machine wise, Bob is anxiously waiting delivery of Rock-Ola's model 451 compact jukebox. He also reports an over-stuffed order book for the new CHICOIN all-star football ball game Holiday Greetings likewise from Hank Tronick, Al Bettelman and the rest of the C. A. Robinson crew. . . . George Muraoka, Mickie Greenman extend their best on this festive season to one and all in the greater LA area and surrounding counties. Seasons Greetings from ACA prexy Henry Leyser in Oakland. . . .

Western Convention-Exhibit of Vending and Food Service Management (NAMA Western Show), Community Concourse, San Diego, Calif. The Convention Hotel is the Royal Inn at the Wharf. (This is the first time that the NAMA Western Show is being held in San Diego. It started in 1960 and it has been previously held in Los Angeles, Anaheim and San Francisco. The expected attendance will be around 3,000. . . .

Big event for the SeeWest staff (formerly Struve) during 1972 was promotion of their own Bud Lurie to the presidency of the Seeburg Products Div. We must confess a bit of confusion over the chain of command at Seeburg but we and local tradesters are happy that Bud commands over the music and vending machine area.

MILWAUKEE MENTIONS

We'd like to take this opportunity to extend our sincere holiday greetings to everyone and our best wishes for health and happiness in the New Year!

THE MILWAUKEE COIN MACHINE OPERATORS ASSOCIATION held its monthly meeting on Tuesday, December 5 at The Chalet in West Allis, with association prexy Arnold Jost presiding. Among operators in attendance were Jim Stansfield (president of the Wisconsin Music Merchants Assn.), Wally Bohrer, Clarence Smith, Doug Opitz, Art Manske, Orville Carnitz, Irv Beck and association secretary Red Jacomet. The group's first meeting of the New Year, which would normally be held on Tuesday, the 2nd, has been re-scheduled to January 9 because of the holiday.

RUSS DOHERTY OF Rapids Coin plans to spend the holidays in a warmer climate—and that sounds like a great idea in view of weather conditions in this neck of the woods! He and his family depart for Florida December 21 and are hoping to tour Disneyland while they're out there! Have fun, folks!

BOB RONDEAU OF EMPIRE DIST. in Green Bay hopes to schedule a Rock-Ola service school in the very near future. Meanwhile, he says, the "450" model phonograph is one of his biggest sellers of the day! Another is the Midway "Table Tennis"!

HAD A RARE OPPORTUNITY to say hello to Clint Pierce of Pierce Music in Brodhead, who just happened to be in the office when we called last week. He asked us to convey his (and Marie's) holiday greetings to everyone—which we are happy to do!

Chasen Named to Heavy ARA Spot

PHILADELPHIA — Melvin Chasen has been elected a corporate vice president of ARA Services, Inc., according to William S. Fishman, president.

Chasen joined ARA September 1 as chairman and chief executive officer of its ARAVEN Services Company division, which operates commercial and public location vending facilities. His offices are in Miami.

After starting his own commercial vending firm in New York in 1956, Chasen expanded its operation to Florida where he owned Ace-Saxon and Martab, companies acquired by ARA in 1969. NOVA Apparate Salutes Europe Distribs

HAMBURG — Alfred W. Adickes, owner of NOVA APPARATE, Hamburg, Germany, recently held a series of annual award dinners. These award dinners, which are tied into the introduction of the new Rock-Ola phonograph line each year, have become one of the high points of the European coin machine industry. The highlight of this series of meetings, is the award made to the top 10 jobbers of the Rock-Ola phonograph line for outstanding sales achievement. The award is a beautiful sterling silver trophy with gold personalized lettering.

This year's grand award dinner was held at the Hotel La Reserve in Beaulieu-Sur-Mer, France, hosted by Adickes. This year's dinner was highlighted by the attendance of special guests from the Rock-Ola factory in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Doris and Mr. and Mrs. Art Janacek were NOVA's special guests. Doris is Rock-Ola's executive vice president and Janacek is Rock-Ola's export manager.

At the dinner this year Adickes was assisted by Mrs. Doris in the presentation of these special award trophies. Alfred Adickes concluded the dinner by congratulating all of his jobbers for their past success which made 1972 a record year for the Rock-Ola line and expressed his optimism and confidence that 1973 would break all previous records.

Colorado Coin Mechanics School Succeeding Well

FORT MORGAN, COLORADO—In the span of three months since its establishment The Coin Machine Technical Training Institute, Ltd. of Fort Morgan, Colorado, has undergone considerable expansion on both the administrative and academic levels. Supplementing the regular program of studies is a special refresher course which the institute is now offering for students interested in a partial program of training on a particular phase of the course or a specific machine. This course is priced at $300.00 per phase.

"We are working with the military on the possibility of receiving students under a program called 'Project Transition,' which would enable military personnel with six months or less remaining time in the service, to enroll for our course," said institute administrator Barbara Frank. "We have also been contacting various educational facilities (community colleges and high schools) to arrange for our representatives to address students, on a seminar type basis, and familiarize them with our program and with the coin machine industry in general."

Asked whether the present enrollment is largely from the institute's home state of Colorado, Ms. Frank replied, "Some of our students are from Colorado, of course, but we have a sizeable number from other areas such as Fairbanks, Alaska, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Texas, New Mexico and New York. We have also had inquiries from foreign countries and recently signed up a student from Mexico City."

Since the institute's recruitment program has reached nationwide proportions, additional personnel are being hired to service various areas of the country. Mr. Roy Pettengill and Mr. Pat Brower have been appointed to serve as directors of recruiting for the state of Texas; Mr. Fred Mills will serve in a similar capacity for the state of New Mexico. Additional appointments will be announced.

"Numerous operators have been most cooperative in sending us their requests for technicians and job availability lists," Ms. Frank said. "We are encouraging all operators to do likewise so that we may amplify, to the government agencies and the military, the fact that there does exist a great need for trained technicians in our industry. We are also grateful to the manufacturers for sending us the schematics and training materials, as well as the equipment we need in our work," she concluded.

Starting today, every other wallbox is fat, ugly and old fashioned.

The slim, beautiful and easy to use and service 506 Tri-View is here.

We tore out the pages and replaced them with a revolutionary new program system. Triangles that display one third of a 160 selection program with each turn of the knob. All 160 with just two turns. Or a 100 selection program with just one turn of the knob.

And the whole program assembly "snaps-out." You change title strips quicker than ever before.

The time you save adds up to an extra call or two a day.

From the inside looking out, the 506 is the picture of location serviceability. Our new digital selection system circuitry is fully exposed for plug-in replacement.

New, more efficient stereo speakers put out delightful sounds. If the people in the booth want to hear it, they'll have to deposit the coins first. Then they can choose high or low personal volume setting.

Look inside the 506 rear housing and you'll see more Rock-Ola service features. A solid state transmitting unit that works with either solid state or relay receivers by simply moving one jumper wire on a P.C. board.

Switch another jumper wire and you've converted from 160 to 100 selection operation.

Yet another jumper wire un-plugs to convert program banks of twenty record sides to LP play and pricing.

Fantastically easy!

And you'll service the 506 less frequently because the cash box is the biggest a wall-box ever had.

From the side, the 506 is a slim 5 3/4-inches deep at the base, 4 5/8-inches deep at the top.

The front housing is hinged. Just open, remove the Tri-View program holder. Total accessibility.

If you never liked wallboxes because they were too much trouble to service, get ready to fall in love with the 506!

Could a customer have it any easier? No more letter/number combinations to cause mistakes. Our ten-numbers-in-line selection system and player instructional panel speeds up the play.

Pair up the 506 with any Rock-Ola jukebox. Old or new. Even intermixed with existing wallbox installations.

But who'd want to keep an old wallbox now that the 506 is here?

ROCK-OLA
THE SOUND ONE

If all the music operators in America could get together and design a wallbox that would solve all their problems, they'd re-invent the Rock-Ola 506.

Jukin' Bone.

From 15,000 miles a month to 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ RPM

Jukin' Bone's tour just took them 15,000 miles to over 30 dates, and it built up an excitement everywhere they played that carries right through on their new album.

"Way Down East," a song collection that can only be described as "stone-down funk," played by six musicians who know damn well what it's all about.

The new single: "Cara Lynn" b/w "Sayin' It Is Easy," 74-0823 forced out of the album by tremendous D.J. response.
