EDITORIAL Someone Special

The tragic death of singer/songwriter Harry Chapin last week not only served to dampen any happy developments or occurrences, it pointed out once more how members of the music industry can be counted on to be some of the most concerned and humanitarian members of society.

Sure, there is the public image of drugged-out, wild singers cruising around in stretch limos, but there's a lot more to it than that. In a recent editorial, Cash Box pointed out that members of the music industry have been in the forefront of the effort to muster national aid for the city of Atlanta during the tragic series of child murders there. More recently, the music industry honored Johnny Mathis as part of its continuing support of the City of Hope.

Chapin belonged in the latter category. As a concerned human being, Chapin devoted much of his efforts to a personal crusade against hunger around the world. In the name of that cause, he rallied support across the board and was responsible for directly or indirectly raising more than $500 million for the starving or undernourished people of the world.

As artists, musicians should certainly be able to go beyond the superficial — music, after all, is the one universal language of mankind. Many musicians leave a legacy of great music to inspire, console or just plain entertain. Others, like Chapin, leave that and a lot more.

Cash Box extends its most sincere condolences to the family and friends of Harry Chapin. It's hard enough these days to try and feed oneself and a family — to try to do that for the entire world is certainly something special.

CBS Radio Bows Young Adult Network, Sets Spring '82 Debut

by Mark Albert

LOS ANGELES — The CBS Radio Network has formed a young adult network that it plans to have in full service by Spring 1982. The as-yet-unnamed network will be targeted to the 18-34 year-old demographic and offer news and lifestyle features, as well as 24 music specials a year.

In focusing on FM music stations primarily listened to by the younger segments of the population, Robert L. Hosking, president, CBS Radio division, explained that most of these stations generally offer the same diet of music across the dial. "Due to the proliferation of stations in the '80s," Hosking said, "accurate, yet concise news and unique and inventive lifestyle features will be the key programming elements that will differentiate one station from another."

Hosking outlined that there will be 24 two-minute newscasts and four 90-second features, seven days-a-week. Hosking said that people in general, particularly young people, want to hear the news in a brief yet comprehensive manner. While the two-minute news updates will be provided by the existing CBS news department, the new network will feature correspondents not usually heard on the existing network.

"Our anchor people will be separate," Hosking said. "We don't want to infringe on or erode our existing affiliates and listenership by possibly having the same people on two stations in the same market. The news event may be the same," he continued, "but the new network will offer shorter accounts pertinent to young people so that we don't bump into ourselves, but rather complement ourselves."

A separate unit will be set up within the radio division to produce the 90-second features that will be youth-oriented in subject matter. Musically, Hosking said there would probably be two concerts or specials on artists per month and that they would vary in length of time. He said that some of this programming would be produced in-house, but also indicated that CBS was negotiating with outside sources for long-form programming as well.

More Flexibility

The new network will also be a departure from the established CBS Radio network in that it will have more flexibility with its affiliates. While current affiliates of the established network have been required to accept all programming offered ("36 hours per week including sports play-by-play") per CBS policy, the affiliates of the young adult network will be afforded the choice to select what offerings they desire. This procedure would be more in line with current policies employed by the other major

AFM Requests Negotiations For Video Residuals

by Michael Martinez

LOS ANGELES — American Federation of Musicians (AFM) president Victor Fuenzalba last week sent a letter to TV and film producers requesting a date be set for talks on musicians' residuals for product delivered to pay-TV and home video markets.

The union's move came on the heels of a settlement over the same issue between producers and the Writers' Guild of America (WGA), which recently ceased a 13-week strike. Also, the Directors' Guild of America (DGA) entered a home video pact with producers just prior to their July 1 contract deadline, averting a strike by that union.

The AFM joins the Screen Actors Guild

Goody Defense Files Final Brief Appealing Fake Tape Conviction

by Dan Nooger

NEW YORK — Defense attorneys for Sam Goody Inc. and vice president Sam Stolon filed a final reply brief in Brooklyn Federal Court on July 14, prior to oral arguments scheduled for July 17. The brief supported an earlier defense motion, filed on June 12 asking that the guilty verdicts against Stolon and the Goody chain for Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property (ITSP) and copyright infringement be overturned or a new trial ordered.

The prosecution's reply to the original defense motion and brief, which was filed on June 29 by John Jacobs of the Justice Department's Organized Crime Strike Force for New York's Eastern District, argued that the defense had disregarded much evidence presented by the prosecution that proved a connection between counterfeit tapes said to have been knowingly purchased by the chain and shipped to Goody's sister corporation, Pickwick in Minneapolis (Cash Box, July 11).

The defense brief argued that the prosecution failed to identify tapes shipped to Pickwick as those actually purchased by Goody from middleman Norton Verner. The testimony of Goody warehouse manager Michael Potrzeba that tapes purchased from Verner were "mingled with the Goody warehouse stock" and that he "pulled tapes out of warehouse stock" to fill the Pickwick shipment was cited, although the prosecution's brief argued that Potrzeba "is a liar."

The brief further argued that chargeback documents presented as evidence did not prove interstate transportation of "specifically identifiable tapes."

Didn't Know

The brief also argued that the government had not proved that the corporation had knowledge that the tapes purchased from the middlemen were counterfeits. In

NYC's Second Annual New Music Seminar Examines Roles Of Indies, Clubs And Radio

by Dave Schulps

NEW YORK — Twice as long, with more than twice as many participants as last year's meet, the second New Music Seminar, held at Privates in New York, July 13-14, drew approximately 650 people from all sectors of the music industry to address issues of concern to those trying to carve a niche in the future of the music business.

Co-sponsored by Rockpool's Mark Josephson, Dance Music Report's Tom Silverman, promotion independent Joel Webber and publicity independent Gary Kenton, the seminar also offered participants a program of performances by developing acts after each day's session.

While working with a decidedly loose definition of what constitutes "new music," the meet nevertheless occasionally managed to arouse genuine passions in its participants despite a sometimes distressing lack of direction in some of the discussions. Several themes recurred often during the 11 panel discussions, including distress over commercial radio's conservatism; racial categorization within the music business and on radio; the importance of establishing regional bases for new acts; the effect of the expansion of the video and cable TV industries on new music; and the new solidarity between disco and new wave entrepreneurs and audiences.

In a short address, keynote speaker Dave Robinson, president of Stiff Records, bemoaned what he referred to as the "drop in the standard of FM radio in this country" and stated that he is "looking forward to MTV (the Warner Amex all-music cable station) to change the situation dramatically."

Although they fell short in terms of actually proposing tangible and constructive solutions to the problems faced by new music entrepreneurs and oftentimes got sidetracked for too long on a particular individual's tangential complaint, the subsequent panel discussions brought out, too, the amount of enthusiasm shared by the majority of the seminar's participants.

Indie Examples

In a year when independent labels have become a bigger force in the music industry than at any time since the mid-'60s, the "Independent Label" panel addressed the issue of how the indies can grow and prosper. Heavily stacked with panelists from British indie labels, the discussion tended to point out the major differences

A&M Latest Indie To Establish Motion Picture/Video Division

by Michael Glynn

LOS ANGELES — A&M Records is making its second entry into film production in 13 years with the formation of A&M Films, Inc. Gil Friesen will act as president and chief operating officer of the A&M Records, Inc. subsidiary, in addition to maintaining his present duties as head of the record label. A&M Films will be based at record company's present headquarters located at the former Charlie Chaplin Studio on the A&M Hollywood lot.

Unlike the two other independently-owned labels that recently announced the creation of film and video production divisions — Island Visual Arts and Chrysalis Visual Programming — A&M Films has "no specific projects" planned at present for music-oriented features with acts under contract to the label, according to Friesen. However, the new A&M Films president did not rule out any future involvement with A&M recording acts.

"There is certainly a possibility that we could become involved in a project with one or more of our label's artists at some point," said Friesen. "This generation has grown up on TV and is therefore very visually-oriented. But nothing is planned right now."

Friesen added that A&M Films will be concentrating on "developing projects before making any staff announcements" for the new division, and that it "hasn't made any arrangements yet with any film studios for distribution." He stated that while it was "too early" to announce initial plans for A&M Films, the company would also investigate video production.

Harry Chapin Killed In NYC Auto Accident

LOS ANGELES — Boardwalk recording artist Harry Chapin was killed in an automobile accident July 16 on the Jericho Turnpike exit of the Long Island Expressway. The 39-year-old singer/songwriter was on his way to perform a free concert at the Lakeside Theatre in Eisenhower Park, Hempstead, N.Y. when the accident occurred.

Born on Dec. 7, 1942, Chapin was perhaps best known for his humanitarian efforts in fighting world hunger. A co-founder of world hunger

Recorded Music Units Boost Revenues At Thorn-EMI, WCI

Thorn-EMI '80-'81 Music Profits Reach $40 Million

LONDON — In spite of impressive showings by the music and consumer electronics divisions, Thorn-EMI reported pretax profits of $180 million for the 1980-81 fiscal year. While the music division showed a profit of $40 million and the consumer electronics operation brought in an additional $132 million, Thorn-EMI's overall pretax profits were $60 million less than last year.

Nevertheless, Thorn-EMI officials were optimistic about the figures, stating that the pretax profits were approximately $20 million more than had originally been expected due to a disastrous year suffered by the film division and the current recession in the U.K., where the worldwide conglomerate is headquartered.

In fact, Thorn-EMI's performance was impressive enough that the price of its stock rose sharply in the U.K. market after the announcement of the 1980-81 earnings.

The performance of the EMI music division was most impressive, going to $40 million in pretax profits after merely breaking even the previous year.

Rebounding from 1979-80, EMI America/Liberty Records in the U.S. scored well with product by country

Prior to his promotion, Rudin had been regional vice president, Northeast for PolyGram Distribution, Inc. (PDI) and before that, was New York branch manager. Rudin joined PolyGram in 1979

CBS Wins Suit Against Retail Chain Over Legality Of Move To 20% Returns

NEW YORK — The Superior Court of the State of Washington recently rendered a decision for over $220,000 in damages in favor of CBS Records and its 20% returns policy in a suit brought against Sound Records and Tapes, Inc. and its parent company, Gull Industries, Inc.

The defendants contended that in 1979 CBS wrongfully and without notice changed from an alleged 100% unlimited exchange policy to a 20% exchange policy

Marvin Cohn

Cohn Named To Senior VP Post At CBS Records

NEW YORK — Marvin Cohn has been appointed senior vice president, business affairs, CBS Records. Cohn will report to Walter Dean, executive vice president, CBS Records.

Cohn will be responsible for the overall direction of talent and music business properties negotiation on behalf of the CBS Records Division. He will oversee all matters on a national basis involving business relationships with artists, producers and other contracted persons on behalf of the Columbia, Epic, Portrait and CBS Associated labels. He will also be responsible for providing direction to the CBS Records A&R administration staff.

Cohn joined CBS in 1965 as senior financial analyst and subsequently held positions of increasing responsibility, including director, A&R administration; vice president, administration, music publishing; and vice president, talent contracts.

Cohn is a graduate of Brooklyn College and a New York State certified public accountant.

At that time, Gull Industries sought to return all CBS product held by Sound Records and Tapes. Upon refusal by CBS, payment was withheld by the defendants, resulting in the instigation of legal action by CBS.

Despite extensive documentation and oral testimony, the court found that the evidence did not show that the defendants were entitled to assume any right to unlimited record returns. The court held that all returns required the consent of CBS, except for instances involving special record categories.

PolyGram Records To Use Bar Code System

NEW YORK — PolyGram Records has made the basic decision to use the Universal Product Code (UPC) bar coding system. Guenter Hensler, executive vice president, operations, said, "While there are still a few problems to solve, the company plans full cooperation in implementing the system on our product."

No exact date has been set for when PolyGram product will start carrying the bar code.

At the present time, CBS, RCA, A&M, Warner Bros. and Chrysalis are using bar coding on all releases; while Capitol and MCA use the system on selected releases.

Recognized as one of pop music's first and greatest art rock bands, PolyGram/Threshold recording group the Moody Blues has returned from a three-year hiatus with an album that is once again a wondrous blend of classical music texturing and high energy rock 'n' roll. "Long Distance Voyager" is graced by an updated Moody's sound that should satisfy modern rockers as well as diehards from the "Days Of Future Passed" era.

Guitarist/vocalist Justin Hayward, bassist/vocalist John Lodge, flute player Ray Thomas and Graeme Edge, all original band members, remain the core, and, with the addition of long time collaborator/keyboardist Patrick Moraz, continue to forge the lush sound that foreshadowed the classical rock genre that featured such bands as Yes, Genesis and Emerson, Lake & Palmer.

The combined styling of the old and the new is a resounding success, as "Long Distance Voyager" is currently cresting the Cash Box Pop LP chart at #1 bullet.

One of rock's grand old bands, the Birmingham, England-bred group was formed in 1964 and became one of the sensations of the British invasion with its 1965 hit, "Go Now."

Armed with the mellotron, the latest keyboard invention, classical sensibilities and the ability to render songs from a wonderfully human philosophical point of view, the band set out to create a sophisticated form of rock. That quest resulted in "Days Of Future Passed," an elaborate thematic effort recorded with the London Symphony Orchestra.

The band has continued to perfect its distinctive symphonic rock sound through "In Search Of The Lost Chord," "On The Threshold Of A Dream," "To Our Children's Children's Children," "A Question Of Balance," "Every Good Boy Deserves Favour," "Seventh Sojourn" and "Octave."

The Moody's, who have recorded on their own Threshold Records since the late-'60s, return to vinyl, and their subsequent world tour proves that the band is still as vital and alive as it was when its "Nights In White Satin" became one of the anthems of the '60s and '70s.

Second Quarter Sales Up, Profits Decrease At CBS

NEW YORK — CBS has reported slightly higher second quarter revenues with lower net income and earnings per share compared with the second quarter of 1980.

Second quarter revenues were $998.2 million, up three percent from $971.8 million for the 1980 second quarter. Net income was $41.9 million, down 23% from $54.3 million for the 1980 second quarter. Earnings per share was $1.50, also down 23% from the $1.94 reported for the 1980 second quarter.

For the first six months of 1981, revenues were $2.0 billion, compared with $1.9 billion for the 1980 first half. Net income for the 1981 first half was $56 million, down 17% from $67.3 million for the 1980 first half.

The company's earnings for the quarter reflected higher profits for the CBS/Broadcast Group, with revenues for the quarter 12% higher than those a year ago.

CBS/Records Group revenues declined 10%, attributed to planned reductions of sales for the Columbia House division, the delay of record releases scheduled for the second quarter and softness in the overseas record market combined with the weakness of foreign currencies against the dollar.

Revenues for the CBS/Columbia Group declined slightly, and CBS/Publishing Group revenues were the same compared to the 1980 second quarter. CBS does not break out earnings reports of individual operations groups.

NEW AND DEVELOPING ARTISTS

NEW AND DEVELOPING ARTISTS

MICHAEL STANLEY BAND (EMI-America A809)
Falling In Love Again (3:29) (Bema Music Co./Michael Stanley Music Co. — ASCAP) (M. Stanley, B. Pelander) (Producer: E. Kramer, Michael Stanley Band)

The time has finally arrived for MSB, and the Ohio-based band is not about to let you forget it. A continuous wave of guitars rolls the unforgettable hook over and over throughout this dreamy rock ballad, while Stanley himself sings with the urgency of a Tom Petty.

LULU (Alfa ALF-7006)
I Could Never Miss You (More Than I Do) (3:10) (Abesongs Ltd. — BMI) (N. Harrison) (Producer: M. London)

Remember Lulu, the petite English lass that scored a worldwide hit in 1967 with "To Sir With Love?" Well, she's back again with a charming little number with a hook that should easily bring in a hefty catch of A/C, pop adult and Top 40 stations. Her phrasing bears just the slightest trace of an R&B influence to give the song a distinctive flavor.

JODY MOERING (Boardwalk NB7-11-113)
All Girls Want It (3:49) (Hanky Panky Music/All Girls Music — ASCAP) (J. Moering, M. Marans, W. Haas, H. Donig) (Producer: H. Donig)

With its suggestive title, no-holds-barred lyrics and brassy pop/rock arrangement, the debut single by Moering is certainly not your run-of-the-mill, coy love song. Moering plays the aggressive "modern girl" every note of the way, with a spunky vocal performance.

20/20 (Portrait 24-02399)
Strange Side Of Love (2:57) (Pictorial Music — BMI) (R. Flynt, S. Allen) (Producer: R. Podolor)

The dynamic, young L.A. unit returns with a bopping pop shuffle from the new "Look Out!" LP. 20/20's lanky bassist, Ron Flynt, handles the vocal chores here, giving the mid-'70s styled melody a slow, dreamy feel. Opting for less punch and more polish, this is more in the pop mainstream than most of the band's rockers.

THE UNDERTONES (Harvest 5027)
It's Going To Happen! (3:37) (West Bank Songs Ltd. — ASCAP) (D. O'Neill, M. Bradley) (Producer: R. Bechirian)

Ireland's Undertones laces its youthful, exuberant pop/rock with punchy horn blasts, adding a new dimension to its normally stripped down sound on the first single from the new "Positive Touch" LP. Progressive pop in the best sense, the tune proves that the quintet has definitely grown without sacrificing its simple, boyish charm.

FAIR WARNING (Sweet City/MCA MCA-51145)
She Don't Know Me (3:40) (Bema Music Co., a div. of Sweet City Records, Inc. — ASCAP) (M. Avsec) (Producer: M. Avsec, C. Maduri)

The man responsible for the wonderful layered vocal sound on Donnie Iris' "Ah! Leah," Mark Avsec, has done it again with midwest band Fair Warning on a number he penned himself. The harmonies and melody are reminiscent of that great Cleveland band The Raspberries, with superb production.

VAN STEPHENSON (Handshake WS8 02140)
Hotter In The Night (3:29) (House Of Gold Music, Inc. — BMI) (V. Stephenson) (Producers: B. Montgomery, J. Silbar)

Fans of the early Eagles and Dan Fogelberg sound will probably find a lot to like about this offering from newcomer Stephenson. The smoldering guitar licks and bottom heavy rhythm is reminiscent of the Eagles' "Witchy Woman," while Stephenson's lighter-than-air vocals are on Fogelberg's turf. Prime pop.

ZIGGURAT (Robox RBX 1801)
Run With The Wind (3:55) (Emeryville Music — BMI) (B. Geresti, D. Sansom, N. Barfield) (Producer: B. Reneau)

There simply is no neat category to slide Ziggurat's music into. Although the quintet hails from Georgia, the music on this cut is a far cry from what is generally considered "southern rock." Lead singer Dave Sansom sings with the dramatic pop inflections of a Billy Joel.

HITS OUT OF THE BOX

GLEN CAMPBELL (Mirage WTG 3845)
I Love My Truck (2:50) (Glentan Music — BMI) (J. Rainey) (Producer: G. Campbell)

The truck has replaced the horse for the urban cowboy, so Campbell's romanticizing is only fitting. And you don't have to drive a big rig to appreciate the down home melody in this tune from the soundtrack to The Night The Lights Went Out In Georgia.

PEACHES & HERB (Polydor/MVP PD 2178)
Freeway (3:09) (Bull Pen Music, Inc./Wah Watson Music — BMI) (K. St. Lewis, M. Ragin) (Producer: F. Perren)

Put down the convertible and crank up the speakers for this hard-driving R&B exercise from the dynamic duo. Harder-edged than previous efforts from the twosome.

THE CANTINA BAND (Millennium YB-11818)
Summer '81: Surfer Girl/Fun, Fun, Fun/409/I Get Around/Dance, Dance, Dance/California Girls/Wouldn't It Be Nice/Help Me, Rhonda/Good Vibrations (4:18) (Irving Music, Inc./Guild Music Co. — BMI) (Producers: M. Monardo, L. Quinn, B. Civitella)

Nothing less than a Stars On 45 clone band covering Beach Boys hits with a disco beat and Meco at the controls.

HERBIE HANCOCK (Columbia 18-02404)
Everybody's Broke (3:53) (Hancock Music/Polo Grounds Music — BMI) (H. Hancock, J. Cohen, A. Mouzon, G. Christopher) (Producers: D. Rubinson, H. Hancock, Friends)

Vocalist Gavin Christopher sings the no money blues on a strong new mainstream funk number from Hancock and friends. A stellar side crew that includes the Brothers Johnson and drummer Alphonse Mouzon help Mr. Hands out on this B/C killer.

PATTI LABELLE (Philadelphia Int'l ZS5 02309)
Rocking Pneumonia And The Boogie Woogie Flu (3:26) (Cotillion Music, Inc. — BMI) (H.P. Smith) (Producer: L.A. Huff)

On her first release for Philly International, Labelle digs into the southern grit on this rockin' cover of the Huey "Piano" Smith tune that was a big hit for Johnny Rivers.

WISHBONE ASH (MCA MCA-51149)
Get Ready (3:13) (Jobete Music, Inc. — ASCAP) (W. Robinson) (Producer: N. Gray)

As rowdy and raucous a cover of the old Smokey Robinson and The Miracles hit as you're likely to find, this is a re-recording of the album track from the "Number The Brave" LP.

SLIM WHITMAN (Cleveland Int'l/Epic 14-02402)
Can't Help Falling In Love With You (3:20) (Gladys Music — ASCAP) (H. Peretti, L. Creatore, G. Weiss) (Producer: P. Drake)

Perhaps the perfect song for Slim, Whitman's wonderful warble has never sounded more at home. Production and arrangements balance the contemporary with the traditional, while Mr. Songman ties it all up on a high note.

PETER FRAMPTON (A&M 2350)
Breaking All The Rules (4:20) (Almo Music Corp./Nuages Music, Ltd./Bluebeard Music — ASCAP) (P. Frampton, K. Reid) (Producers: D. Kershbaum, P. Frampton)

Shades of Humble Pie! Frampton rocks again, breaking out the heavy fuzz guitar licks on the anthemic title cut from his current LP.

GRACE JONES (Island ID 4977)
Use Me (3:41) (Interior Music, admin. by Irving Music, Inc. — BMI) (B. Withers) (Producers: C. Blackwell, A. Sadkin)

This stunning dance cover of the Bill Withers hit features one of the most inventive uses of a basic reggae rhythm to date. Jones really comes into her own as a truly unique stylist with her staccato phrasing.

ALICE COOPER (Warner Bros. WBS 49780)
You Want It, You Got It (3:26) (Ezra Music/Hened Music/Phosphene Music — BMI/Glasco Music/United Artists Music Co., Inc. — ASCAP) (A. Cooper, E. Scott, C. Kampf, B. Steele, E. Kaz) (Producer: R. Podolor)

The Coop plugs in the synthesizers once again, as he did with the "Clones" single, and snarls with his usual zest through the first single from the forthcoming "Special Forces" LP.

ELO (Jet ZS5 02408)
Hold On Tight (2:59) (Blackwood Music, Inc./Jet Music, Inc. — BMI) (J. Lynne) (Producer: J. Lynne)

EDDIE RABBITT (Elektra E-47174)
Step By Step (3:42) (Briarpatch Music/DebDave Music Inc. — BMI) (E. Rabbitt, E. Stevens, D. Malloy) (Producer: D. Malloy)

THE BEACH BOYS MEDLEY (Capitol A5030)
Good Vibrations/Help Me, Rhonda/I Get Around/Shut Down/Surfin' Safari/Barbara Ann/Surflin' USA/Fun, Fun, Fun (4:05) (BMI) (Editor: J. Palladino) (Engineer: D. Henderson)

ELTON JOHN (Geffen GEF 49788)
Chloe (4:40) (Interson Music — ASCAP) (E. John, G. Osborne) (Producer: E. John, C. Franks)

AFM Requests Negotiating Session For Home Video, Pay-TV Residuals

(SAG) and the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA) in seeking to improve its position in the race for residual payment in the burgeoning home video/pay-TV markets.

SAG president William Schallert last week announced that the residual structuring gained by writers and directors would serve as a blueprint for residual demands when SAG negotiates its contract in 1983.

The AFM will have the opportunity to negotiate for such repayment when producers' negotiator Billy Hunt opens a date for discussion with that union.

Ready For Negotiations

"We had been in discussions with the producers for several weeks, and they indicated that they would be able to discuss the home video issue after some settlement in the writer's strike," said Fuentealba.

The producers, upon settlement of the AFM strike earlier this year (Cash Box, Jan. 24), promised that they would negotiate with the union on the home video/pay-TV issue at an undecided later date. The AFM, in turn, conceded to providing material for the home video market without a formal contract. The union already has a contract for commercial television and feature film product provided to the home video and pay-TV markets.

When asked if the AFM demands for residual payment for original product provided to the home video market would be similar to what was gained by the DGA and WGA, Fuentealba said, "We have not had a chance to assess the value of those contracts, but we intend to do so before entering discussions with the producers."

Both the DGA and WGA have settled home video contracts entitling members to 20 percent of producers' gross after recoupment.

In the resolution of the SAG/AFTRA strike last year, the unions gained a pay-TV/home video payment formula calling for 4.5% of the distributors' gross after 10 days of persistent play in the first year of release.

Responding to inquiries as to whether the AFM membership would be willing to strike if the union leaders and producers could not agree on a home video repayment formula, Fuentealba said, "I can't comment because we haven't even met on the issue yet."

The nearly seven-month, on-again, off-again AFM strike left many members penniless, and the union, in efforts to compensate striking members, also suffered financial difficulty. The union's financial status was a subject of substantial concern during the AFM's recent annual convention held in Salt Lake City (Cash Box, July 4), where union delegates discussed ways to alleviate more than $1 million in bank loans and dues debts with the AFL-CIO.

WCI Reports Record Second Quarter Sales

for the 1981 second quarter, compared with $16.2 million a year ago.

Operating income for the filmed entertainment was $18.7 million for the 1981 second quarter, compared with $14.5 million a year ago.

Publishing and Related Distribution had operating income of $3.8 million for the 1981 second quarter, a 50% increase over the 1980 figure of $2.5 million. This primarily reflected worldwide licensing fees from the Superman II film.

Warner Amex showed continued subscriber growth. Since the beginning of 1981, subscribers to the Warner Amex Satellite Entertainment Company (WASEC) "The Movie Channel" and "Nickelodeon" increased by 74% and 55%, respectively. During the second quarter, Warner Amex inaugurated QUBE two-way interactive service in its greater Cincinnati franchise area — the first major market to receive QUBE since the original QUBE installation in Columbus, Ohio. Music TV, WASEC's newest program network, will begin operations on Aug. 1, 1981.

WCI is engaged in the communications and entertainment business through operations in consumer electronics and toys (Atari Inc., Knickerbocker Toy and Malibu Grand Prix), filmed entertainment (Warner Bros. Pictures, Warner Bros. Television, Warner Home Video, Panavision and Licensing Corporation of America), recorded music and music publishing (Warner Bros. Records, Elektra/Asylum Records, Atlantic Records, WEA Corp., WEA Manufacturing, WEA International and Warner Bros. Music), direct response marketing (Franklin Mint), publishing (Warner Books, Mad Magazine, DC Comics and Warner Publisher Services), cable television (50%-owned Warner Amex Cable Communication) and other operations (Warner Cosmetics, Inc. Cosmo Soccer and Warner Theatre Prod.).

Melvoyn Elected To Top L.A. NARAS Position

LOS ANGELES — Composer/keyboardist Michael Melvoyn was recently elected president of the National Academy of Recording Arts & Sciences (NARAS), L.A. Chapter, with Earl Palmer, Sr. (first vice president), Tom Morgan (second vice president) and Morgan Ames (treasurer) also being elected to new posts.

Newly elected national trustees include Garnett Brown, Ron Kramer, Eddie Lambert and Jay Lowy, who join re-elected trustees Marilyn Jackson, Mauri Lathower, Palmer and Sue Raney. Trustees currently filling first terms are Marilyn Baker and Jules Chaikin.

KEEPIN' THE SUMMER ALIVE — Unless you've been hermetically sealed in a mayonnaise jar for the past few months, you must have noticed that "Surf's Up" within the music industry. The Ventures have come out of retirement and are on the road; new surf music-inspired bands like Jon and the Nightriders are starting to pop up; and surf punk has even become an oft-used addition to the local vocabulary. But perhaps the key reason for this sand and surf sound revival is the 20th anniversary of The Beach Boys. While bands aren't exactly putting out Beach Boys material to honor The Boys, it's a strange coincidence that there is a deluge of music currently in release that is directly inspired by the Brian Wilson-led group. Another key influence in this present spate of releases is the "Stars On 45" medley. Capitol has just released a four-minute single featuring Beach Boys songs strung together in medley fashion. Classic performances by the band of towheaded hodads from Hawthorne, Calif. like "Good Vibrations," "Help Me Rhonda," "I Get Around" and "Shutdown" have been mixed beautifully. The Capitol release, of course, features the "real thang," if you will, while Millennium has produced a more "Stars On"-fashioned single, complete with clone band, Meco Monardo production and steady disco kick drum. The Millennium medley is performed by a group called The Cantina Band, which, while talented, doesn't quite hit the harmonies and obtain the energy of the original "Good Vibrations" band. . . . Brian Wilson is also the chief reason why CBS has just put out a two-album "Sounds of Summer" compilation set entitled "California U.S.A." The LP features 20 songs from the corporation's vaults (14 Columbia and six Epic) that carry the mood and feel of a top down, cruisin', PCH summer. The theme of the album carries on in the tradition of "California Girls," in that every state in the Union becomes part of the Golden State when summer is in full swing. "We don't anticipate selling a tremendous amount of records with this album," said Epic A&R VP Gregg Geller, who conceived the record's idea. "The idea was something on this album . . . surf's up forever."

SING OUT ON MONTEGO BAY — "We want to make this year's Reggae Sunsplash the Monterey Jazz festival of reggae music," says Oliver Magnus of Synergy Prod., which is promoting the festival on the west coast this year. The event, which will run Aug. 4-8 in Montego Bay, Jamaica, is different from past festivals not only because it is being extensively promoted, but because a new governmental regime has taken over in Jamaica and is investing $300,000 in the production of this year's spectacle. The fourth annual Sunsplash is not only the biggest concert ever staged in the Caribbean, but it will also be part tribute to the late Bob Marley and a celebration of Jamaica's Independence Day (Aug. 3). It's also a special four days because it features such mainstream artists as Stevie Wonder, The Isley Brothers and Roberta Flack. And yet, Magnus is still calling Sunsplash an "academy of reggae. Every great reggae artist still plays Sunsplash. It is the nature of the show." The skanking crowd will be treated to a true reggae wonderland this year with Jimmy Cliff, Dennis Brown, Black Uhuru, Toots & The Maytals, The Mighty Diamonds, Third World, The Wailers, Gregory Issacs, Barrington Levy, Marlene Davis and Leroy Sibbles on the bill. Rita Marley will also make a special appearance, and a set by The Melody Makers (composed of five of Bob Marley's children) are other festival highlights. "With all the major labels signing reggae artists, you know the music has finally been accepted," says Magnus. "Reggae is going to bust wide open this year, and Sunsplash is going to be part of it." The early August celebration will, of course, take place at Jarrett Park in Montego Bay, and Magnus says the sponsors (the government of Jamaica and Red Stripe Beer) are expecting crowds of between 20,000 and 30,000 people a day. Those on the west coast who are interested in attending the festival and the beach parties and fashion shows that go along with it should contact Magnus at (213) 475-6383.

HOLLYWOOD HIGHS — New rock watering hole Blackie's Bar in Santa Monica has lost its lease and has been shuttered . . . L.A.'s finest punk band, X, has scored a major coup for new rockdom in the city. Exene and the gang will play the Greek Theatre Aug. 15. Another strange but wondrous upcoming date at the Griffith Park venue is a new romantic evening with Adam And The Ants Sept. 13 . . . New romance will also be in full flower at Club Lingerie when blitz kingpin Steve Strange will appear in a special edition of The Veil July 27 . . . Lingerie has the corner on renaissance rock in L.A., but Cathy De Grande is cornering the blues and white R&B scene with its "Blue Monday" shows. King Cotton & The Kingpins will now be the house band on Mondays and L.A. Weekly writer Bill Bentley and DJ Phast Phreddie will split the spinning chores . . . Barry Manilow will make his first appearance in L.A. in over a year with his shows at The Forum Aug. 8-9 and Anaheim Convention Center Aug. 10 . . . New wave folk night at The Whisky will get a nice boost July 30 when John Doe and Exene of X will hold acoustic court with Tito Lariva of the Plugz and Phranc for some mellow neuroticism.

TIDBITS — Lindsey Buckingham's solo debut on Elektra/Asylum will be out in early fall and is entitled "Law And Order" . . . Record company president/trumpet player Herb Alpert and his family narrowly escaped tragedy while staying in Mexico City two weeks ago. Alpert was working on a special recording in the city for Latin American release. The family was resting at the Camino Real Hotel when fire broke out on the building's fourth floor. Alpert, his wife, Lani Hall, his daughter and governess only had time to grab passports and his beloved Tijuana Brass trumpet in escaping the treacherous flames. When all was said and burned, two people were killed and 20 injured in the fire that left the hotel in ruins . . . MCA has signed British rockers Sniff 'n' The Tears.

year, Chapin was named commissioner of world hunger in 1978 by President Jimmy Carter. Throughout his career, Chapin raised in excess of $550 million to fight world hunger.

With 11 hit albums to his credit, Chapin was in the midst of a comeback with Boardwalk Records after an absence from the recording scene. Among his most famous hits were "Taxi," "Cat's In The Hat," "WORLD" and last year's "Sequel."

In addition to his singer/songwriter activities, Chapin also received an Academy Award ("Oscar") nomination in 1968 for Legendary Champions, a short he wrote, directed and produced.

Commenting on his relationship with Chapin, Boardwalk president Neil Bogart said, "Harry Chapin was a man whom I was proud to call a friend. He understood what it meant to give of himself — to the family and friends he dearly loved and to the fans who enjoyed a decade of his talent and charm.

"But Harry didn't let it stop there," Bogart added. "In the fight against world hunger, he gave tirelessly of himself and became a great example of what it means to be a true humanitarian. I shall miss him dearly."

Chapin was educated at the Air Force Academy in Colorado and Cornell University in New York City.

Chapin is survived by his wife, Sandy; their five children, ranging in age from five to 21; two brothers, Tom and Steve; and his parents.

HITS OUT OF THE BOX

HITS OUT OF THE BOX

ESCAPE — Journey — Columbia TC 37408 — Producers: Mike Stone and Kevin Elson — List: None — Bar Coded

Journey is included in that AOR hit hierarchy (Foreigner, AC/DC, Rush and REO) that has virtually owned the FM rock airwaves the past few years. Like the other bands Journey is a crystalline mainstream rock band that is the next candidate for a long stand at the top of the chart. The fivesome from San Francisco has become slicker and more commercial with each successive outing, but it has always remained true to its straight ahead rock 'n' roll roots. Great rhythms, brilliant hooks, the guitar licks of Neil Schon and the helium vocals of Steve Perry make the band one of the most successful and distinctive today.

HEAVY METAL — Soundtrack — Various Artists — Full Moon/Asylum DP-90004 — Producers: Various — List: 15.98

The soundtrack to this film based on the ideas of the noted animated sci-fi fantasy magazine, Heavy Metal is one of the most ambitious and star-studded musical packages of the year. Featuring heretofore unreleased material by a virtual who's who list of modern rock, the two record set has blockbuster written all over it. There's a band and song for every taste on this album — heavy metal (Blue Oyster Cult, Black Sabbath), mainstream rock (Sammy Hagar and Journey), new wave (Devo), and pop/jazz fusion (Donald Fagen).

JUST BE MY LADY — Larry Graham — Warner Bros. BSK 3554 — Producer: Larry Graham — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

The former leader of Graham Central Station couldn't have been farther away from home last year when he came up with "One In A Million You." But he scored platinum with the songs and his career began anew. Reminiscent of modern day Lou Rawls, with his deep rich vocal style, Graham's turned into a master of B/C-pop crossover ballads. He should easily repeat last year's success with "Just Be My Lady." The single is one of those shimmering, building ballads that sounds better with each successive listening. Other fine ballads include "Guess Who," "Loving You Is Beautiful" and the George Bensonish, "Remember When."

THE FRIENDS OF MR. CAIRO — Jon and Vangells — Polydor PD-1-6326 — Producer: Vangells — List: 8.98

These two card carrying art rockers linked up for a successful duo album last year, but this time out, the Greek keyboard player and the British soprano make a bid for commerciality. Sure there are those spacey, celestial voyages on the second side of this LP, but the first side is an attempt to hit the mainstream. And it should work. The title track is an inventive synth-dance tribute to gangster movies that is full of special effects and bits of famous films that should become a pop/AOR novelty hit. "The Friends Of Mr. Cairo" is followed by a keyboard-oriented, straight ahead rocker that also works.

NEW AND DEVELOPING ARTISTS

NORTH COAST — Michael Stanley Band — EMI America SW-17056 — Producers: Michael Stanley and Eddie Kramer — List: 8.98

Up until last year, The Michael Stanley Band couldn't get arrested outside of Cleveland, but the dauntless sextet broke out like wildfire last year with the "Heartland" LP and the single, "He Can't Love You." A successful tour and a national reputation followed. This time, this hot midwestern entity is back and grabbing for the brass ring, and they should get it.

SAD CAFE — Swan Song SS 16048 — Producer: Eric Stewart — List: 8.98

Let's hope that Sad Cafe isn't doomed to the fate of its key influence, 10cc, which was one of the great but unrecognized pop bands of the '70s. The Manchester-born septet has hung around for five years making songs that have humor, sophistication and pop gloss, but no one has noticed. Now with a new label (Swan Song), the Eric Stewart-produced unit should finally hit pay-dirt. The album's opening track is tailor made for pop AOR, with a classic hook, an insistent piano melody and plenty of rock swagger.

STANDING TOGETHER — Midnight Star — Solar S-19 — Producers: Leon Sylvers III and Midnight Star — List: 8.98

This album represents the first LP release under the new Elektra/Asylum-Solar pact, and it's a true B/C winner. The talented L.A.-based octet plays a brand of slick funk and progressive R&B that immediately lends itself to radio airplay. It's an effervescent dance-oriented act that has been guided by the platinum hand of producer Leon Sylvers, and the gang should eventually gain the success of a Lakeside or a Shalamar. Glossy without losing the funk, the album best tracks are "I've Been Watching You" and the title cut.

ROCK THE WORLD — Third World — Columbia FC 37402 — Producers: Third World — List: None — Bar Coded

This Jamaican sextet has been one of the most successful acts merging rock blues and soul with reggae. In existence since 1973, the band has become more commercial with each outing, and "Rock The World" is perhaps its most accessible album to date. The themes of the songs by the six talented musicians are purely Rastafarian, but the music is full of special effects. This is reggae music straying away from roots without losing the emotion or intensity.

JOE JACKSON'S JUMPIN' JIVE — Joe Jackson — A&M SP-4871 — Producer: Joe Jackson — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

Joltin' Joe has shed his new wave stylings for the time being to have a bit of a knees up with the jazz and swing favorites of the 1940s. And he's completely up for this boppin' tribute to swing. He enlisted a hot band of revivalist jazz players, and, Jackson, himself, has the perfect voice and energy for this type of music. Fans of "I'm The Man" and "Sunday Papers" will be shocked, but this music is as infectious and adventurous as anything he's done. AOR should give it a shot and reap the righteous riff.

BALANCE — Portrait NFR 37357 — Producers: Balance — List: None — Bar Coded

This trio led by former Blues Magoos singer Peppy Castro lives up to its name by achieving a musical balance between hard driving contemporary rock and the spirited, high harmony American pop of mid- and late-'60s. Wonderful commercial and listenable, the album is fairly bursting with possible Top 40 hits like "Breaking Away," and "It's So Strange," but songs like "Fly Through The Night" and "American Dream" prove the band isn't afraid to kick out the hard rock jams.

BEAUTY AND THE BEAT — The Go Gos — I.R.S. SP 70021 — Producers: Richar Gotterher and Bob Freeman — List: 8.98

Judging from the songs on the debut album and its fetching live performances, The Go Gos are on the verge of becoming the girl group of the 80s. The L.A.-based fivesome plays a punchy brand of modern day pop rock that sounds as fine on the car radio as it does on the dance floor. Unlike other bands of the Go Gos ilk, the quintet manages to be cute without becoming cutesy. Producer Richard Gotterher proves himself heir apparent to Phil Spector with this album.

LOUISE MANDRELL — Louise Mandrell — Epic FE 37424 — Producer: Buddy Killen — List: 8.98 — Bar Coded

The success of this album is almost assured, thanks to the overwhelming audience response to Mandrell's current television show with sisters Barbara and Irlene. This package is a collection of previously released material on Columbia and Epic — three duets with husband R.C. Bannon and seven solo efforts. Mandrell is a very talented lady and does a good job on such tunes as "You Never Cross My Mind," "Everlasting Love" and the duet, "I Thought You'd Never Ask."

THE DEEP END — The Swimming Pool Q's — DB Records DB 55 — Producers: Bruce Bacter and The Swimming Pool Q's — List: 7.98

The Swimming Pool Q's are the second band to be let out of the bag by tiny Atlanta-based label DB Records. And like label-mates Pylon, The Q's play in an irresistibly quirky, cool jerky new wave dance style. Alternately humorous and dramatic in its musical themes and vocal arrangements, The Q's are more versatile than most bands of the new dance genre, and musically, it has it all over The 52s.

DEEP DOWN & REAL — Nina Kahle — Lifesong LS8132 — Producers: Terry Cashman and Tommy West — List: 8.98

Fans of both the soft adult sounds of Burt Bacharach and Carole Bayer Sager and the light folk rock sound of Joni Mitchell and Carole King will sit up and smile upon listening to Nina Kahle's new album. Even the Christopher Cross crowd should love songs like "Tahiti, So Can I." Filled with pretty piano melodies and swelling strings, this album is a must for A/C-pop stations. Best cuts on this attempt at a "Tapestry 1981" are "Reach For The Sky" and "Love A Man."

Brisk Import 12" Singles Sales Boost Action On East Coast

doesn't work, there's nothing you can do." Like Downstairs' Kulish, Dawidjan said that 12" singles are the healthiest sellers in his store, characterizing current album sales as "slow." "We can sell 50 copies of an imported single during a single day at our store," Dawidjan added. "Once the word gets around that we've got a certain record, people come flocking in looking for it.

"We rely heavily on input from DJs in determining what we order," he said. Tone's Frank Diaz also believes that the market for imports in the 12" format is sizeable enough to demand the attention of the majors. "There's not one good 12" a manufacturer can't sell 100,000 of," he said. "Maybe 100,000 doesn't mean anything to a big company like CBS, but for the independent it means big money."

Although he sees large sales on selected import 12" titles, Barry Kobrin, owner of Important Records, which deals mostly with rock and dance-rock titles, feels that the market is still too limited to warrant heavy involvement by the majors. "Sure, there are a few big selling records," he conceded, "but there aren't enough hot disco 12" titles for the majors to want to get into it heavily. When they did that in the past, they ended glutting the market with losers. They don't know how to pick their spots. Look at what they did with picture discs. If they'd put out limited editions of, say, 25,000, they'd have made money on them. Instead, they geared up for a big market that wasn't there."

The market glut has also somewhat affected the 12" import market as well. Scott Anderson, co-owner of Nu Music Distributors, which deals mostly with small labels, said his company has "sort of pulled out of the 12" import business. Just about every smaller distributor and major one stop in New York is now bringing in imports by the thousands. I've seen too many smaller guys get burned in that situation, so I've gotten out."

At the moment, most of the best selling 12" import titles are records that are successful domestic 45s, but have not been commercially released as 12". Blondie's "Rapture," estimated by some to have sold upward of 150,000 imported units in this country, was one of the successes that opened the doors for the entry of many of

Promo For Locus Bowed

NASHVILLE — A major national campaign on Audiofidelity Records' internationally distributed gospel line, Locus Records, was recently launched. A sampler gospel album, being serviced to press, retail and radio, will also be made available to the consumer at a suggested retail list of $4.98.

The package will include catalog product by the J.C. White Singers, Missionary Jubileers, Charles Taylor Singers, Rubinstein, Eugene Toon and Jimmy Milligan with the Cross Jordan Singers. Label general manager Carmen La Rosa said that the company would back the project with substantial marketing and merchandising support.

Capitol Bows Phone Promo For Mercury

LOS ANGELES — Capitol Records has devised a unique promotion for recording artist Eric Mercury in support of his debut single and LP for the label, "Gimme A Call Sometime."

Starting July 17, Capitol established two toll-free numbers to phone in to hear a prerecorded message from Mercury in keeping with the "Gimme A Call Sometime" theme. The numbers are (800) 421-4135 and, for California only, (800) 252-0473. The promotion will continue for a month.

the one-stops and distributors into importing. Since that time, big import sellers of domestic hits have included Grace Jones' "Pull Up To The Bumper," Prince's "Gotta Stop Messing Around," Change's "Paradise/Hold Tight" and Rick James' "Give It To Me Baby." The latter was a surprise import seller, because Motown here allegedly would not let its foreign licensee issue a full-length 12" of the song. Even though it is close to a minute shorter than the American 45, the import is still doing good business at retail.

While U.S. hits that are unavailable here as commercial 12" discs have been among the best sellers as imports, big import sellers that do not originate as American releases are now being watched carefully by both domestic indies and majors for possible licensing here. Such companies as Prelude (with the Nick Straker Band's "A Little Bit of Jazz") and Sam (with the Evasions "Wikka Wrap") have begun to license the imports as soon as they start breaking in the clubs and turning them into big regional hits here. Recently, Epic scored with Billy Ocean's "Night (Feel Like Getting Down)," RFC/Atlantic released Suzie Q's "Get On Up, Do It Again" domestically and Capitol is about to do the same with The B.B. & Q. Band's "On the Beat." All three started out as strong import 12" sellers.

Additionally, there appears to be renewed interest in European-produced dance music, both in disco and dance rock, of which much will sell here without domestic release. Lene Lovich's "New Toy" has sold between 30,000 and 40,000 imported 12" units, according to Stiff America head Bruce Kirkland, whose Stiff Tees import arm distributes the record here. Stiff decided to promote import sales on "New Toy" rather than put out the record here. It has used the sales base established by the import to lay the groundwork for promoting Lovich's forthcoming Stiff/Epic five-track EP, which they hope will eventually build her into an album act here.

Most dance-rock imports, handled for the most part by album-oriented importers such as Jem and Important, do not sell the same kind of quantities as the disco-oriented 12" product. Lovich's strong sales, however, are possibly a sign that some crossover is taking place between the genres. There are other indications that the new wave rocker is beginning to accept the 12" single. The Clash's "Magnificent Dance," released as a commercial 12" by Epic here, "has sold 65,000 copies," according to Scott Folks, the group's product manager at Epic, who added that he felt the prior availability of the import "more than anything helped to create a buzz at street level which helped sell our 12".

Fueled by the current success being experienced by import merchandisers, the majors once again seem to be willing to try their hands in the 12" format. "They've got to realize that 12" discs are for a special market and that's it," said Frank Mendez, assistant sales manager at Stratford Distributors in New York.

WHAT'S IN-STORE

COVER STORY — We all know how important impulse buying is. Generating excitement and catching the customer's eye is the key, and not just for the retailer. Los Angeles-based photographer Dick Zimmerman has shot album covers for a wide range of artists, including Barbara Mandrell, The Village People, Tom Jones and Huey Lewis and the News. But while these artists represent a broad range of styles, the photos on their covers all have one thing in common: they grab the prospective buyer. "You want to make people turn their heads," says Zimmerman. "I always have it in the back of my mind that I'm trying to sell records. I get a very direct look. I'm just not crazy about photos that don't relate to the buyer." Initially working for magazines in New York and London, Zimmerman didn't really become heavily involved in shooting LP covers until he moved to L.A. in 1975. Since then, he has photographed more than 200 covers and gained a special reputation as an image maker. "The record companies frequently bring me up-and-coming artists and want me to help develop an image for the artist," he said. "It's almost like being a trouble-shooter. Barbara Mandrell was a good example: they wanted something more glamorous than her Nashville image. I think what we did with her has really helped to enlarge her following." The photographer also finds that working with record companies affords him more freedom than most photo assignments. "You're very rarely confined by the companies. They want you to create. Occasionally an art director will pop into a session and then leave, but recently they've been letting me do it by myself. If it's a big name, the label may be more involved. You don't want to smack people in the face with something that's radically different. When we change somebody's image, there's frequently a progression from album to album. But I always try to have as much control as possible with art departments. I don't push, I just recommend. Sometimes I'm even able to have influence with the type of logo and lettering used." However, Zimmerman makes it clear that his desire for artistic control isn't predicated simply on his own interests. "When I shoot artists, we frequently become friends," he said. "It's almost like I'm there to help them follow this project through. The control is for the artist as well as for myself."

TEAC, BASF UNVEIL JOINT PROMOTION — A promotion by the TEAC Corp. of America and BASF Systems Corp. is offering five BASF Professional II pure chromium dioxide cassettes free to purchasers of any TEAC cassette deck. The offer is extended through all authorized TEAC dealers in major metropolitan areas in the U.S., including New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Boston and Washington, D.C. BASF marketing director Mark Dellafera described the promotion as "a great trial vehicle," which he hopes will attract new customers to the high-quality cassette. "Once the TEAC buyer tries our new PRO II chrome, we're certain he'll come back for more," said Dellafera.

LAURY'S PROMOTIONS — The four-store Laury's Discount Records chain has been featuring a number of promotions. July 16 was carnival night at the Niles, Ill. superstore. Tying in with the Santana single, "Winning," the theme was "Win during Laury's Carnival Night." Games, clowns and prizes were a part of the festivities, and a special advertising blitz included sandwich boards at local shopping centers and support from Chicago's WLUP radio. . . . A drawing for a ride in a hot air balloon was used to promote Phil Collins' "In the Air Tonight." Advertising support came from WXRT-FM. . . . A CBS Classics sale is singling out "Phases of the Moon," an album of Chinese music. A joint promotion with WFMT features a drawing for a dinner at a swank Chinese restaurant. . . . August will be PolyGram Classics month at all four stores. DC, Philips and London specials will be rotating, and a special champaign brunch will kick things off.

SLOW YET STEADY — The 23-year-old Variety Records chain has opened its seventh store, located in the Wintergreen Plaza in Rockville, Md. Variety president Joseph Goldberg also revealed plans to open an eighth location, this one in the new Hechinger Mall in Northeast Washington, D.C.

RECORD BAR NEWS — The North Carolina-based Record Bar chain has been getting aggressive in Texas. The campaign in the Lone Star State began with the chain's first store in Odessa in February of last year, and with the addition of its new Corpus Christi outlet, the Texas total now tallies five, with plans to unveil 10 more in the next two years. In celebration of the expansion, Record Bar executives recently journeyed to Corpus Christi for a combination opening celebration and strategy planning session. Joining store manager Robbie Heath and district supervisor Guy Thibaut as hosts were company president Barrie Bergman and wife Arlene, vice president of marketing Ralph King, marketing coordinator Bill Bryant and AD-Ventures Advertising Co. director Michael Vassen. . . . The company's seventh annual convention, slated for July 26-29 at the Hyatt Hotel, will feature entertainment by The Marshall Tucker Band, James Galway, Delbert McClinton, Donnie Iris, 4-Out-Of-Five Doctors (the fifth doesn't make convention calls), and The Brice Street Band. PolyGram president Robert Sherwood will be the keynote speaker, and representatives of other labels will also be on hand. Open suites, a popular feature at last year's meet, will be back, giving managers the opportunity to get together informally with members of each department from the home office. An awards banquet will conclude the festivities.

INNER CITY'S MASTER PLAN — It's no secret that times are tough. Yet, over the last few years, Inner City Records has continued to expand its profile while other labels, both large and small, have been forced to cut back on their release schedules. Inner City president Irv Kratka denies that there's any formula for success, but points to the diversity of his company's catalog and its continually heavy release schedule as factors that have helped to keep Inner City in the forefront of the jazz world. "I don't think there's a formula to help indies survive," Kratka told us. "What we do is release five or six albums a month, and that helps us sustain our validity by keeping us out there in the marketplace. We now have four straight years of continuous releases behind us. That presence is an important part of any record operation, and most indies do not maintain the kind of product flow that will help establish them." The small but muscular firm has produced some 300 releases in the last five years, and while it has aggressively sought young talent, much of the Inner City catalog has been obtained through licensing deals. "We license approximately 70% of our material," said Kratka, "and it gives us an intense depth of product supply in all areas. Our product range is broad, from mainstream through fusion and some free jazz. My interest in jazz goes back to the age of 13, when I heard Benny Goodman at the Paramount, and I recognize the validity of all jazz forms and enjoy them. Even if they only make sales of 2,000-3,000, they're still my baby. I feel there are no limits. To me, the Vogue catalog we've licensed from France represents a treasure trove, with artists like Willie "the Lion" Smith and Sidney Bechet. We're going to have nine records by Django Reinhardt. The fact that we're so diverse has helped us obtain more records. We seem to have open channels to everybody." Aside from licensed material, the company has always been active in finding and recording its own new artists. "I look for music that appeals to me on repetitive listening," said Kratka when queried on his artistic yardstick. "It's a matter of hearing what's strong and looking for hooks, and then going with the artist." Perhaps more than any other aspect of Inner City, this search for new talent has been most rewarding to the company honcho. "It's a very pleasant thing for me to select a band like Condor and see them go to #2 in England. It's a universal endorsement of one's opinion." Kratka has also had his opinion endorsed by other record companies — following the success of his Inner City albums, keyboardist Jeff Lorber was spirited away by Arista, and present roster member Dan Slegal will be moving to Elektra at the completion of his Inner City contract. Yet Kratka understands this as a condition of the marketplace. "I understand that that's the way of the world," he said. "We've learned a great deal over the last two years. Even though it's of secondary importance, Jeff's records have continued to sell for us since he went to Arista." Over the coming months, Inner City will continue to expand. A network of 12 salesmen and distributors located around the country offers the label a unique advantage over most independently distributed labels. The recent addition of Graham Moses to the label's roster gave the firm its first foray into the rock world, and the label's new general manager, Gary Hall, will be signing reggae artists soon. Inner City's audiophile tape series is also a growing arm of the company and will total 92 titles by September. "We're a small company," said Kratka, "but I'm not sure more people would help us accomplish more. Our key ingredient has been the high level of energy with which we deliver everything we're doing."

STEVE LACY MARATHON — Columbia University station WKCR-FM will be presenting a 75-hour non-stop marathon of the music of soprano saxophonist Steve Lacy. fred goodman

YELLOWJACKETS — Yellowjackets — Warner Bros. BSK 3573 — Producer: Tommy Lipuma — List: 8.98

Take three seasoned session players, add a generous dose of guitarist Robben Ford's savory sound, shake well and serve. That's the recipe for this light but satisfying fusion feast. Adding additional spice to the pot are studio stalwarts Ernie Watts, Paulinho Da Costa, Bobby Lyle and Lenny Castro. These Yellowjackets should have no trouble creating a buzz.

CONVERSATIONS — Max Roach — Milestone M-47061 — Producers: Orrin Keepnews and Ralph Kaffel — List: 9.98

What's to say about drummer Max Roach? The man simply has not had any fallow periods during his long and still strong career. Saxophonists Clifford Jordan and George Coleman, and the great trumpeter Booker Little get ample opportunity to display their extensive talents on this two-record set culled from the Debut and Riverside archives. An absolute joy.

GOLDEN LADY — Abbey Lincoln — Inner City IC 1117 — Producer: uncredited — List: 7.98

One of the premier jazz vocalists, Aminata Moseka Abbey Lincoln's albums are always a welcome addition to any record collection. An outstanding band lends its support, with Archie Shepp on saxophone, Hilton Ruiz on piano, Roy Burroughs on trumpet, Freddie Waits on drums and Jack Gregg on bass. A cleaned-up version of the original French issue, this Inner City release presents Abbey in a relaxed and loose setting. The title track is a soul-stirring cover of the Stevie Wonder tune.

CHROMATIC PALETTE — Tal Farlow — Concord CJ 154 — Producer: Carl E. Jefferson — List: 8.98

It's nice to see that Tal Farlow, the guitarist's guitarist, is returning to the swing of things. After a prolonged absence, Farlow is back and actively recording for Concord. Although there are no real surprises here, Farlow's technical command is always a revelation, and pianist Tommy Flanagan and bassist Cary Mazaroppi keep things on an even keel. The cover of "Nuage" would impress even Django.

SUPERBAND — Charlie Persip and Gerry LaFurn — Stash ST 209 — Producer: Bernard Brightman — List: 7.98

The rumors have been confirmed: drummer Charlie Persip and trumpeter Gerry LaFurn do indeed have a hot 17-piece big band. Featuring creative and inventive arrangements by Slide Hampton, Jack Walrath, Frank Foster, Gary Anderson and Frank Gordon, the Superband keeps things rollin' while displaying the individual firepower of some of Manhattan's most underrated musicians.

NOW IS THE TIME — The Multiphonic Tribe — Sugarhill Records SH 260 — Producer: Dick Griffin — List: 7.98

Trombonist Dick Griffin surrounds himself with some talented friends. While the arrangements are a little drab, the contributions of Griffin, saxophonists Bill Saxton and Clifford Jordan, drummers Billy Hart and Freddie Waits and pianists Hubert Eaves and Don Smith pull this one out. "The Queen" and "Multiphonic Blues" are the stand-outs here.

RADIO

AIR PLAY

THE GREAT AMERICAN TIMEPAST — Millions of fans across the country continue to broil and thirst for baseball as the summer wears on without our national pastime due to the current players' strike. But while baseball fans are incensed and frustrated, and peripheral businesses like taverns and restaurants lose money without the usual patronage that spills out to those locales after a game, TV and radio were really thrown a screw ball. Programming and advertising have had to be juggled to fill the void. Radio has probably suffered more. Television at least had the visual advantage of being able to present fare ranging from boxing to Wimbledon and golf tournaments to motorcycle and bicycle racing events that somehow just wouldn't have the same impact coming over the airwaves the way baseball does. Radio is big business, and there's a lot of money being lost in advertising for each game that gets scrubbed because of the strike. Some stations have resorted to broadcasting minor league games, others have re-created famous games thanks to the talents of veteran sports announcers. And new hope is on the way for radio to bring in lost revenues, as well as excite and pacify baseball lusting fans young and old. Beginning last weekend (July 17-19), the NBC Radio Network began broadcasting the best World Series games of all time. Not recreations, but the actual play-by-play as it actually went down in its entirety. Each weekend will feature three games for as long as the strike lasts. Just for openers, the first game features the likes of Lou Gehrig and Joe Dimaggio in game three of the 1936 World Series that pitted the New York Yankees against their crosstown rivals, the New York Giants. Last weekend's re-broadcasts also featured games six and seven of the 1957 showdown between the Yankees and the Milwaukee Braves. So far, 44 of the top 50 markets have cleared the NBC Radio Network offerings, according to NBC spokesman Pete Hamilton. In addition to the games, one of baseball's most famous announcers, Mel Allen, will be providing a pre-game show and wrap-up after each game.

TIMELESS STARS — KRLA/Los Angeles station manager and air personality Art Laboe (r), received his star on Hollywood's Walk of Fame July 17. Pictured with Laboe recalling many memorable years is long-time friend Dick Clark, who spoke at Laboe's dedication ceremonies.

LOCALIZING A NATIONAL STANDARD — Radio has plenty of competition these days. Not only do stations fiercely compete with each other for a piece of the pie, but they also have to worry about TV, cable, home entertainment and now satellite broadcasts, as well. Local advertising is important, but so are the national ad dollars. Apparently, radio has no standard by which national ad agencies can best gauge where to place their business. Part of the reason is that Americans in general have become a transient group of people across the country, and it has become increasingly difficult for local programmers to perceive what his or her community's needs are. Cognizant of this problem, national radio representatives McGavren Guild Radio and Multiple Systems Analysis (MSA), a communications consultation firm, have joined forces to conduct a national qualitative study of the American radio listening audience. The study has been designed to determine both day-to-day usage of radio and the critical areas of audience perceptions. The key issues to be studied include: changing listening patterns; the future of AM radio; radio's role relative to other commercial media in day-to-day entertainment; what listeners expect from programming; is there a perceived difference between AM and FM; is there really a need for AM stereo; what type of mix do listeners expect between music and features; and how much radio listening will be affected due to fragmentation and the onset of cable? MSA developed a national sample of adults, 18-54, and put together a questionnaire with the consultation of broadcasters and advertisers. It is expected that full analysis and results should be ready by September. At that time, McGavren Guild and MSA will conduct a series of workshops to discuss the reports with broadcasters and advertisers.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION — The Birch Report, a monthly radio audience measurement service, has completed conversion to a major data processing system that cost the company in excess of a quarter of a million dollars. The Birch Report is expanding nationally as an alternative to Arbitron. With the recent additions of Phoenix and Portland, the company is now represented in 50 markets. In addition to the monthly reports, quarterly service has been added in Gainesville, Fla., Green Bay, Wisc., and Appleton-Oshkosh, Wisc. Birch vice president David Gingold said that despite the capital investments and cosmetic changes, the Birch Report would continue to be offered at a price "well below Arbitron" . . . Westwood One's Great American Radio Show, was renamed The Rock Album Countdown to give it a more descriptive title and one that sponsors could more easily use, according to president Norm Pattiz.

NEW JOBS — George Johns has been named vice president of corporate operations for Southwestern Broadcasters, Inc. (SBI), which owns seven radio stations, including KOGO/KPRI/San Diego and KCCW/KZZY/San Antonio. Johns comes to SBI from Fairbanks Broadcasting, where he was VP of programming . . . Paul Fiddick, VP/GM at WEZW/Milwaukee, was named senior vice president for Multimedia Radio, which owns WEZE, as well as KAAY/KLPQ/Little Rock and WAKY/WVEZ/Louisville . . . Former KHJ/Los Angeles air personality Rick Dees is back in town as the new morning man at KIIS-FM. Dees and his crazy cast of characters, which also features his wife Julle, began July 13 and can be heard Monday through Friday 6 a.m. - 10 a.m. . . WKTU/New York late night personality Carlos De Jesus has become the program director there, succeeding Dale Reeves, who now mans the WKTU airwaves between 2-6 a.m. . . Michael Mayer was named music director at WRIF/Detroit. mark albert

Quarterly Measurement, 1980 Census Have Little Effect On Spring Arbs

by Mark Albert

LOS ANGELES — Arbitron's Spring Quarterly Measurement sweep for 1981 (March 19-June 10) is the first to have 1980 Census figures implemented, updating the 1970 Census figures that were most recently used. But as the advance figures for quarter hour shares trickle in for the major markets, neither updated population and demographic counts, nor quarterly measurement appear to have brought about the balance and parity between stations that various broadcasters had hoped it would provide.

In nearly every market where the 12+ quarter hour share results are in, the previous leading stations in the Winter book still led their respective markets, baseball was still a huge plus for those stations broadcasting games before the strike took place, and AOR and rock in general still enjoyed a healthier return as usual for this time of year.

In Chicago for example, talk/adult contemporary giant WGN once again led the way despite a drop of a full point to 9.5 from its Winter perch of 10.5. WBBM-AM, which carries the Chicago White Sox games, benefited, however, with a full point jump to 7.1. Beautiful music-formatted WLOO slipped to third place in the overall market to 6.7, down from 6.9, and country powerhouse WMAQ held even at 5.1 for fourth place. Rounding out the top five was WLS-AM, although the Top 40 station dropped to 4.9, down from 5.3.

WLS-FM, however, continued its climb along with DJ Steve Dahl, pulling a 4.3, up from 3.5. Surprisingly, all of the AORs went down, with WMET again leading the way with a 3.5, down from 4.0; while staunch rival WLUP (remember the Tom Petty clash) fell to 3.1 from 3.4.

In Boston, AOR leader WCOZ continues to amaze those who don't believe in youth oriented audiences as it widened its market lead with an 11.1, up a tenth from its Winter quarter hour shares. Adult contemporary WHDH was second with an 8.5, down from 10.3. The big story in Boston, though, was rocking WXXS, which jumped to 7.1 from 5.0 and into third place in the overall market.

In Philadelphia, all-news KYW again led the way and enjoyed a great Spring book with the help of the Phillies broadcasts, pulling a 12.3, up from 9.4. Nearest competitor WMGK, an adult contemporary-formatted station, was also up, going to 7.7 from 7.2. The use of the new census figures may have had an effect in the City of Brotherly Love, as black-formatted stations in general did very well. WDAS-FM came in third with a 6.8, up from 6.2 in the Winter book, and WCAU-FM rose to 3.4, up from 2.6. Like Chicago, all of the AORs went down, with WMMR still leading in that area with a 5.2, down from 5.9. Top 40 rocker WIFI was the real story in Philadelphia, (continued on page 41) networks — ABC, NBC, and RKO — all of which have networks catering to the younger demographics.

CBS Radio Forms Young Adult Web

NBC Radio launched its young adult network, The Source, more than a year ago with youth-oriented features and long-form programming such as concerts and music specials. The Source's immediate success since then has clearly demonstrated that the young adult market had yet to be sufficiently tapped. ABC Radio already had its Contemporary and FM networks, both successful, and in June 1981, announced plans for an AOR/Top Tracks Network aimed at 15-34 year olds, which will debut in January 1982 (Cash Box, June 20). RKO Radio debuted youth-oriented network programming in October 1979, and in April of this year formed two new networks to meet the increasing needs of stations to attract specific audiences (Cash Box, April 11). The Mutual Broadcasting System, primarily known for news, information, sports and country extravaganzas, debuted Dick Clark's National Music Survey the weekend of May 30-31 on 465 stations, again pointing out an untapped youth market for radio (Cash Box, June 13).

CBS' move is further evidence of the major networks' expanding operations to help radio stations remain competitive with other forms of home entertainment and media by offering more diverse programming to attract fragmented audiences and available revenues.

Due to the fact that many radio stations in markets of all sizes subscribe to some form of outside programming provided by networks, advertising and revenue has blossomed for networks this past year (Cash Box, May 30). That was one reason for CBS' decision to expand.

"Our developing this new network is also a result of an ever changing radio marketplace," explained Hosking. "We (CBS) intend to continue our growth in the '80s and maintain a high level of quality associated with CBS. We also have an affiliate board that meets with our affiliate reps twice a year, and through their very frank feedback and our market research, this new network is a positive stride in positioning ourselves as leaders in this decade."

NSAI Sponsors Summer Seminar For Songwriters

by Jennifer Bohler

NASHVILLE — The Nashville Songwriters Assn., International (NSAI) here will sponsor its first summer seminar July 25 at the Belmont College Business School. Designed to educate songwriters in certain business aspects of publishing and writing, the seminar will offer a total of eight classes.

With pre-registration nearing 100 songwriters from across the United States, NSAI executive director Maggie Cavender has already deemed the first summer seminar a success and added it would probably become an annual event.

"We are certainly looking forward to this seminar with a great deal of zest because we think it's going to be one of the better things we've been able to offer for the price ($40)," Cavender said. "The seminar's goal is to get both the professional and aspiring songwriter interested in all aspects of songwriting — all things that are so necessary to know about to be able to compete in today's market."

The classes offered cover a wide variety of topics pertinent to songwriters, from copyright protection and how to make demos to the complexities of contracts. Each registrant can attend five of the eight classes offered, while the remaining three will be available on tape.

The seminar will begin at 8:00 a.m. with an introduction and orientation period, which will be followed by the concurrent morning classes. (8:40-10:40 a.m. and 10:50 a.m.-12:50 p.m.).

Three will be offered; two should be selected. The first class is: Songwriter Contract Awareness with instructors Richard Perna, president of Music Publishing Consultants and Malcom Mims, attorney, Bardsdale, Whalley, Gilbert, Frank, Ludwick and Milom.

The second morning class, titled Nashville Number System, Music Theory and Harmony for Songwriters, will have Randy Goodrum, songwriter and president of NSAI as the instructor.

The third morning class will be Copyright Protection and Establishing Proof with instructor David Ludwick, attorney with Bardsdale, Whalley, Gilbert, Frank, Ludwick and Milom.

Following lunch, the concurrent afternoon sessions will begin (1:50-3:50 p.m.; 4:00-6:00 p.m.). Like the morning session, three classes will be offered; and two should be selected. Classes include Money Sources, instructed by Music Publishing Consultant's Perna and Scott Siman, an attorney with Benson, Ellis and Siman.

Another afternoon session, titled Making Demos and Preparing to Pitch, will also feature Goodrum as the instructor. The class will cover how to demo the song and present it to a publisher. The third afternoon class, titled Foreign Publishing, will be taught by Terry Smith, director of publishing for the Dr. Hook Organization.

Following an hour break for dinner, registrants will be offered two evening classes to select from (registrants should choose one). The classes are Being Your Own Publisher, instructed by Smith and Perna; and Co-Writing, instructed by Johnny MacRae, professional manager, the Combine Music Group and Bobby Braddock, songwriter, Tree Publishing.

Country Radio Ratings In Urban Markets Continue To Climb In Spring Arb Book

by Tom Roland

NASHVILLE — An overview of the advance ratings currently available from Arbitron for six major markets in the Spring Quarterly Measurement revealed that country stations as a group consistently command a larger share of the radio market than they did in the 1980 Spring book.

Five of the six markets rated — Boston, Detroit, Los Angeles, New York and San Francisco — showed overall improvements in country numbers; while Chicago, which was the only market surveyed to drop, went down only 0.2 from last year's figures.

In New York, where WKHK-FM recently converted to country, perennial leader WHN still maintained a substantial share of the country market with a 2.4 share up from a 2.2 showing in the Winter ratings period. WKHK reached a 1.0 mark, after a 0.8 score in the Winter book.

As he has said in the past (Cash Box, March 14), WHN program director Ed Salamon was not concerned with strides made by WKHK. "As of this book, I don't believe that they're up to a competitive level with us," Salamon maintained. "In the marketplace, from a sales point of view, we're much more competitive as we are from an audience point of view, and many, many of the other stations in New York are more a consideration than WKHK."

"The only places that we tend to compete with WKHK is in buys for country music-type events and clubs, which are a very small part of the picture at WHN; so, as of

Salem Country Music Festival Series Bows

NASHVILLE — R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., manufacturers of Salem Cigarettes, will be sponsoring Salem High Country Music Festivals in the fall, beginning Oct. 9 in Washington D.C. The series of concerts will be held in conjunction with Country Music Month. C. K. Spurlock and KS Prod. will be promoting.

The fall series will feature four concerts in four cities — the Washington date; Dallas/Ft. Worth, Oct. 16; Houston, Oct. 24 and Louisville, Oct. 31. Performing artists will be announced later this month.

The Salem High Country Music Festival was tested earlier this year at the Omni in Atlanta with the Oak Ridge Boys, Dottie West, Ray Stevens and Con Hunley.

yet, the station isn't that much of a competitive concern.

"Any growth that WKHK has gotten has not been at the expense of WHN," he added. "It's been all new listeners from the FM band. They definitely haven't cut into us at all."

WHN dropped only 0.1 from last year's 2.5 figure, which was posted at a time when it was New York's sole country outlet. Thus, the overall country music share grew from 2.5 to 3.4 in the last 12 months in New York.

As in New York, Los Angeles had just one country station, KLAC, in 1980. In the Spring book last year, that station was able to corner a 4.2 share of the market; yet, with three major competitors in this book, it was only able to muster a 2.9.

"I don't consider it a serious drop in light of the new country competition we have here in the Los Angeles market," remarked Don Kelly, general manager at KLAC. "We have two major competitors — KHJ and KZLA-FM — and we have KZLA-AM, which is not necessarily major, but they're still there with a signal. There's also a station in Orange County (KORJ)."

Peaking In L.A.?

KHJ pulled a 1.9 share this book, while KZLA-FM and KZLA-AM managed marks of 1.7 and 0.2, respectively. That gave country a total of 6.7 in the Los Angeles market, impressive next to last year's 4.2 showing. However, each of the three leaders lost points from their Winter shares, leading some observers to wonder if the trend toward country music had peaked in L.A.

KHJ program director Charlie Cook offered an opposing view of the situation. "I think it's just a soft book," said Cook. "If you look at L.A. and the stations that scored well this book, it was the black stations and the rock 'n' roll stations, and I think that books tend to go like that."

The Spring book was the first book in which Arbitron used the 1980 census instead of the 1970 census, and, possibly, more diaries were mailed to black listeners since the more recent poll revealed that the black population grew at a faster rate than the overall U.S. population.

Kelly also felt that a widening acceptance of country fare on pop radio was a contributing factor to the sudden decline. "There are so many crossover artists now that some of the country audience goes to even the pop stations," he ventured.

Cook agreed that country crossover to pop was a factor, but for different reasons. "A year ago, pop music was very black," he pointed out. "You've got to remember that. I think that the people who don't like black music said, 'Hey, I gotta start looking around for something else.' As they started

CMA DJ Award Finalists Named For 1981 Ballotting

NASHVILLE — The Country Music Assn. (CMA) has announced the finalists for the 1981 CMA Disc Jockey of the Year Awards for small, medium, and large markets.

Among the finalists for the small market (under 50,000) award are: Dandelion, WIOV/Ephrata, Pa.; Billy Dilworth, WLET/Toccoa, Ga.; Jay Larry James, KHUT/Hutchinson, Kan.; Tom Reeder, WKCW/Warrenton, Va.; and Jacki West, WGTO/Cypress Gardens, Fla.

The finalists for medium markets (50,000-500,000) include Sam Faulk, WLWI/Montgomery, Ala.; Buddy Raye, WWVA/Wheeling, W.V.; King Edward Smith IV, WSLC/Roanoke; Don Walton, KFDI/Wichita; and Tim Wilson, WAXX/Eau Claire, Wis.

The six finalists for large market (over 500,000) category are Bob Hooper, WESC/Greenville, S.C.; Sammy Jackson, KLAC/Los Angeles; Chuck Morgan, WSM/Nashville; Chris Taylor, KYNV/Omaha; John Trimble, WRVA/Richmond, Va.; and Lynn Waggoner, KEBC/Oklahoma City.

All CMA members were eligible to vote on the first ballot in April, and all disc jockeys who were nominated on five or more ballots were placed on the second ballot, which was mailed to CMA members in the DJ and Radio/TV categories.

This year, there are six large market finalists. John Trimble of WRVA, who appeared on the second ballot among Medium Market nominees due to an administrative error, was reclassified a Large Market contender since Richmond's metro area population exceeds 500,000.

The winners, who are selected by a panel of anonymous judges prominent within the broadcasting industry on the basis of the finalists' airchecks, will be made public on the CMA Awards Show slated for Oct. 12 on CBS, and will receive their awards during the CMA Disc Jockey luncheon.

SESAC Elects New VPs

NEW YORK — SESAC Inc. has elected three new vice presidents — Nicholas Arcomano, counsel; C. Dianne Petty, director of country music; and Jim Black, director of gospel music. The officers were elected at a meeting of the rights organization's board of directors in New York City.

Arcomano joined SESAC in August 1970 in the legal department and was appointed counsel last year. Prior to joining SESAC, he was assistant to the director of operations at American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP).

C. Dianne Petty joined SESAC in April 1979 as head of the firm's Nashville-based country music division. She began her career in 1969 as promotional assistant to Paul Cohen. In April 1970 she joined ABC Publishing as director of Nashville operations, and from 1972-1976, coordinated southeastern tours for various ABC Records artists. In 1978, she became the first woman to be elected a vice president of ABC Music Companies, Inc., a post she held until she joined SESAC in 1979.

Jim Black joined SESAC in April 1974 as director of the firm's gospel division. Before that, he had been a disc jockey and program director of WWGM in Nashville and hosted a nationally syndicated gospel radio show, From Nashville... It's Gospel Country. He has performed with the Chuck Wagon Gang and founded his own group, the Concordes. A longtime member of the board of directors of the Gospel Music Assn. (GMA), he is a member of the Gospel Disc Jockey Club of America and serves on the Gospel Music Radio Seminar committee.

Big Like A River (2:55) (Prime Time Music, Bobby Goldsboro Music — ASCAP, Mastercraft Music, House of Gold Music — BMI) (A. Wilburn, J. Duncan) (Producer: N. Wilson)

They're a little bit Dave and Sugar, a little bit Capitols and a lot of talent. The gospel-tinged vocals, upbeat arrangement and excellent production should do much to propel this debut release by Tennessee Express onto the charts.

E.W.B. (Paid PAD 142)

We Could Go On Forever (4:07) (Jelco Music Inc. — ASCAP) (J. Elliott) (Producers: Ram Records)

Groups seem to be the thing this year, and now there's another prime contender in that category. Soft vocals, memorable guitar work, a pretty piano arrangement and a hot sax solo make this debut release from E.W.B. a top choice for country formats and a sleeper for pop.

ROLLIN' — Sony Curtis — Elektra 6E-349 — Producers: Thompson, Osborn and Young — List 8.98

Noted for his prolific songwriting this time out, singer/songwriter Sonny Curtis uses only two of his own tunes and honors his contemporaries by covering their works. Though Curtis can rollick with the best of them — ala "Good Ol' Girls," the softer, slower tunes are where he really shines. Particularly note the Curtis-Jerry Allison penned "More Than I Can Say" (Lec Saver struck it big with this one), "Sweet Misery" and the Randy Newman-penned title track.

Panels, Participants Announced For Upcoming Talent Buyer's Seminar

NASHVILLE — Six 90-minute panel discussions and two three-hour showcases will highlight the upcoming Country Music Assn. (CMA)-sponsored Talent Buyer's Seminar, slated for Oct. 9-12 at the Hyatt Regency hotel here. Registration forms are being mailed out this week.

"This year, rock promoters and representatives from cable television systems are being invited to attend the seminar in an effort to make them more aware of the enormous profit potential in country music," seminar chairman Joseph Sullivan said. "One of America's leading concert promoters reports that 78% of the shows booked for 1980 used country talent as opposed to 35% in 1979.

"In fact, anyone who is not aware of the tremendous impact that country music is having in America's marketplace is probably losing important profit," Sullivan continued. "Record companies report an increase of 25-30% in country record sales this year, and country is now the second largest selling category of music in the United States. Since 1978, more than 600 radio stations have changed their formats to full-time country, a country music magazine was the nation's fastest growing publication during 1980 and country music was responsible for some of Hollywood's top grossing movies last year. Additionally, as evidenced by the success of the Country Music Spectacular satellite broadcasts over Radio Luxembourg, country music is beginning to make an impact in marketplaces around the world."

The panel discussions, which will take place at the Hyatt Regency, will be spread over a three day period: three Oct. 10; two Oct. 11 and a final discussion Oct. 12. Joe Talbot of Joe Talbot and Assoc. will moderate the first session, titled "The Where and Care of Country Music: What Has Propelled it to Today's Heights?," with panelists the Grand Ole Opry's Minnie Pearl; Bill Denny, Cedarwood Publishing; and David Skepner, Loretta Lynn Enterprises.

The next Oct. 10 discussion concerns "The How and Now of Country Music: What Is Being Done To Sustain Its Prevailing Strength?," which will be moderated by Top Billing International's Tandy Rice, and include panelists Joe Galante, RCA Records; Dick Clark, Dick Clark Prod.; Ed Boyd, Columbia Prod. Radio division; Jack Hurst, Chicago Tribune; and Bernard Schwartz, Universal Pictures (producer of Coal Miner's Daughter).

"Uncle Len" Ellis, WLJE/WAKE Radio, will lead the last discussion on Oct. 10 titled "Creativity — The Answer To An Empty Building." Panelists include Wayne McCary, Eastern States Exposition, Springfield, Mass.; Chick Morris, Feyline Presents, Englewood, Colo.; Bill Luther, Von Braun Civic Center, Huntsville, Ala.; Bruce White, Star Theatre, Merrillville, Ind.; and Robert Franklin, Madison Square Garden, New York.

The Oct. 11 discussions begin with "The Why and Buy of Country Music: Varied Markets Find It Pays to Book Country," moderated by Bette Kaye, Betty Kaye

MSMA Re-elects Johnson To Board

NASHVILLE — The Muscle Shoals Music Assn. (MSMA) board of directors has re-elected Jimmy Johnson president, David Johnson vice president and Barbra Wyrick secretary/treasurer for 1981-82.

Also elected were session keyboardist Steven J. Nathan and Muscle Shoal Horns member Ronnie Eades, who will fill two vacancies on the board of directors in the musicians category.

In its July meeting, the MSMA board agreed to participate in the local Colbert-Lauderdale Junior Achievement program by sponsoring one JA group during the year.

THE COUNTRY COLUMN

THE KILLER'S STILL FIGHTING — The latest report on Jerry Lee Lewis lists him in critical but stable condition in the Memphis hospital where he recently underwent surgery for a perforated stomach. In case you didn't hear, Lewis appeared to be recovering quite nicely when a high fever alerted physicians to the presence of a massive infection in the abdominal cavity, which resulted in additional surgery July 10. Surgeons spent five hours removing what a medical report called "a multitude of abscesses." Everybody knows what a fighter Lewis is — it shouldn't be too long before he's back in action. Well-wishers can send cards or flowers to Lewis in care of the Methodist Hospital South in Memphis. We at Cash Box would like to extend our best wishes to Lewis and family.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT — Still no firm signing between Conway Twitty and Elektra

Jerry Lee Lewis

Records (Cash Box, July 18). If Twitty does leave MCA, what will happen to the singing partnership he and Loretta Lynn (MCA) have fostered for so many years? According to our sources, the future of the two artists recording together would lie with their respective labels being able to work out a deal. . . . Ace Nashville bassist Jack Williams is relocating to Los Angeles in about a week. The former Slowpoke member tells us he will be putting together a new rock band, hit the club circuit and begin label shopping. The move will follow a week in the Rocky Mountains writing with Ken Hensley. . . . Marty Robbins was one of two acts to perform at the White House for President Reagan July 4. The other was Frank Sinatra. One of the President's requests? The Robbins classic, "A White Sport Coat And A Pink Carnation." Robbins reports that was the first time he had ever met our country's leader and came up with an interesting analogy concerning the Secret Service. "They remind me of bluegrass pickers. They never smile" . . . Joni Mitchell, look out, Nashville has its own profound/prolific singer/songwriter. Her name is Judy Eron, and her style is a lot like Mitchell's early works. Her lyrics are often witty and are delivered with a wry understanding of life. She's on Barleo Records. . . . Songwriter Kent Robbins, writer of such country hits as "She Just Started Liking Cheatin' Songs" and "I'm A Stand By My Woman Man," has formed Kent Robbins Music, Inc. (Broadcast Music, Inc.), in association with Buzz Cason of Southern Writers Group, USA. Southern Writers will administer the catalog internationally for Robbins, who was formerly a staff writer for Pi-Gem Music in Nashville. . . . Another major motion picture is going to be turned into a weekly television series. This one is Nine to Five, the movie that marked Dolly Parton's cinematic debut. The possible NBC series will be modeled closely after the Jane Fonda-Lily Tomlin-Parton movie, and speculation in Hollywood has Dolly's sister Stella a close contender for the secretary role Dolly played in the film. . . . Belated congrats to Silverline songwriter Michael Foster for his recent BMI award for "Heart of Mine," which was recorded by the Oak Ridge Boys (The song was nominated for a Grammy earlier this year.) Foster traveled to Los Angeles last month to accept his award from BMI for one of the "Most Performed Songs of 1980". . . . The "World's Largest Indoor Country Music Show," a concert taped at the Pontiac (Mich.) Silverdome, will be a syndicated special this summer, already set to air in over 100 markets. The concert featured such artists as Kenny Rogers, Dottie West, the Oak Ridge Boys, Don Williams, Larry Gatlin and the Gatlin Brothers Band and others. 70,000 attended that one. . . . First Artists Management Enterprises Inc. (FAME) has opened its offices in Nashville at 2500 Hillsboro Rd., suite 7-B. The operation is being headed by Haran Hunter.

STUDIO TRACKS — The legendary Joe Cocker was in Music City Music Hall in Nashville recently, recording a couple of songs with the Crusaders (MCA). The songs, which will most likely be included on the Crusaders' upcoming album release (September), are "I'm So Glad I'm Standing Here Today" and "This Old World's Too Funky For Me." Roger Whittaker has also been laying tracks at the Music Hall. . . . At Quadrafonic in Nashville, Johnny Duncan is in with producer Steve Gibson; Dave Olney (Rounder Records) is in with producer Gibson; and Doble Gray is in with producer Bud Reneau. . . . At Creative Workshop in Nashville, Dottie West is in with producer Brent Maher and Randy Goodrum; and Steve Sharp is in with producer Buzz Cason and engineer Todd Cerney.

HONORS FOR KILGORE — In appreciation of his 16 years as an opening act for his show, Hank Williams, Jr. recently presented Merle Kilgore with a custom made D-41 Martin guitar. The instrument is covered with pearl, boasts 14 karat gold keys and Kilgore's initials in pearl on the pick guard. According to the Country Music Foundation, Kilgore holds the record as longest running opening act in the history of country music.

FOSTER ROAST — Because of prior commitments, neither Johnny Cash nor Brenda Lee will be able to attend the upcoming Fred Foster roast in person (July 26). Instead, they have videotaped special messages to the man who is considered a legend in the country music industry. And speaking of Foster, still no word on the reactivation of Monument Records — only that it will happen.

JOHN DENVER, USA — John Denver will kick off his 1981 concert tour July 30 in Denver (somehow appropriate) with two days at the Red Rocks. From there, Denver will hit 12 more cities in 14 days. Denver is hot off a successful tour of Japan, his first tour of that nation in three years.

CAN YOU HUM A FEW BARS? — During the recording of their current MCA album, "Smooth Southern Highway," the Thrasher Brothers were surprised by a visitor, Paul Anka, who, along with Barry Mann and Cynthia Weil, penned "As Long As We Keep Believing," a tune included on the Thrashers' album. Pictured in the studio are (l-r): Jim Thrasher; Anka; and Buddy and Joe Thrasher and John Gresham of the group.

Dan McKinnon

PERSONALITY PROFILE — After working several years with a struggling San Diego newspaper, Dan McKinnon determined that another form of media just might be his forte. On Feb. 1, 1962, he purchased KSON/San Diego in an estate auction, having no previous background in radio. Due to his experience in the San Diego market, as well as his insight in the broadcasting industry, McKinnon changed the multi-formatted Southern California station to country in September 1963, a change that has proven to be extremely profitable. His almost 20 years of broadcasting achievements have not gone unnoticed among industry leaders. McKinnon was elected to two terms on the board of directors of the National Assn. of Broadcasters (NAB) in the late '60s and early '70s. He has been honored with numerous awards from various civic and industry groups. McKinnon has been a member of the Country Music Assn. (CMA) for 15 years and served as its president in 1977. Last year he was the recipient of the CMA's coveted President Award commemorating his work in initiating the first post awards radio broadcast over NBC radio following October's CMA awards. In addition, McKinnon's civic contributions deserve recognition and praise. Among a variety of duties performed, he led the Billy Graham Crusade in San Diego in 1976, serving as chairman. Last year, McKinnon was narrowly defeated in the race for a seat in the United States Congress. Future plans? Articles and rumors have been banded about the Southern California area and elsewhere that President Reagan may have him in mind to head the United States Civil Aeronautics Board.

KTTS AIRS HEE HAW RADIO SHOW — KTTS/Springfield, Mo. has begun to air weekly, half-hour radio shows featuring the top stars from the television program, Hee Haw. Country Radio Ratings In Urban Areas Continue To Climb In Spring Arb Book to look around, I think the pop stations realized that, 'Time out, maybe we're not playing the music that most people want to hear,' so, all of a sudden, Eddie Rabbitt, the Oak Ridge Boys, Don Williams, Willie Nelson, Johnny Lee and Mickey Gilley all cross over to pop.

"Now the mass appeal audience says, 'Wait! My old pop station — now it's playing the stuff I like,' so they tend to stay a little longer with the pop stations than they did a year ago."

Down In Chicago

In Chicago, where, unlike the other five major markets studied, there were no stations that switched to a country format in the past year, WMAQ upped last year's 4.9 figure to 5.1, while its closest country competitor, WJEZ-FM, held steady at 3.1. WJEZ's AM sister, WJJD, fell from a 1.3 mark to 0.9. Thus, country's overall status in the nations' hub dropped from 9.3 to 9.1.

The biggest surprise in the early figures was in the Detroit market, where WWWW-FM (W4), an AOR station that switched to country in January, became the first newcomer to overtake an established country outlet. The station's 4.4 outing led traditional leader WCXI by a full point, after the latter had posted a 5.1 score in the 1980 Spring book.

W4, a Shamrock broadcasting station, acquired a new program director, Dene Hallam, a new general manager just two days before the ratings period began.

"We gave the listeners what they wanted," said Hallam, "and what I perceived they wanted when I came to the city, and that is lots of good music (the music that they like as opposed to the music that I like personally) and disc jockeys that blended with the music — that weren't buried by the music and didn't overpower it.

"If you look at the ratings that are released around the country so far, an AM station is still the #1 country outlet in every market — in L.A., in New York, in Chicago — we're the only FM station to beat the AM country, and WCXI was not a slouch station."

Adding the 0.6 rating of nearby Canadian station CKLW-FM, country maintained an 8.4 share of the Motor City, whereas WCXI and CKLW together accumulated a 5.9 in last year's ratings.

In San Francisco, KNEW picked up a 3.1 share, while KSAN, another AOR convert, added a 2.1 figure. The combined 5.2 showing was a vast improvement for country over the 2.9 mark held by KNEW last year when it was the market's only country outlet.

In Boston, WDLW stretched its numbers to 1.3 from last year's 0.8.

The statistics for the Spring Quarterly Measurement were taken by Arbitron from a sampling that covered a period from March 19-June 10.

All figures represent average quarter hour shares, 12+ for the metro area, Monday through Sunday, 6 a.m. to midnight and do not reflect stations' total listening audiences.

Christian Booksellers Assn. Convention Draws In Excess Of 7,200 In Anaheim

by Jennifer Bohler

ANAHEIM, Calif. — Over 3,600 participants and 3,605 exhibitors jammed the Anaheim Convention Center here for the annual Christian Booksellers Assn. (CBA) Convention, scheduled to run from July 18-23. The annual gathering, bringing together the major merchandisers and labels in the gospel music field, promised to meet or exceed last year's total registration of 7,300.

As in years past, the highlights of this year's events are the 16 educational workshops scheduled throughout the six-day convention, as well as the annual CBA Banquet and the showcases scheduled to highlight gospel talent.

Following registration on July 18, the Concert Extraordinaire, featuring Tom Netherton, Andrus Blackwood and Co.; Kathie Sullivan, City Limits; and emcee Grady Nutt, was scheduled. A worship service conducted by Lloyd John Ogilvie was offered at 10:30 a.m., followed by a "Pacesetter" session with Howard Hendricks at 2:30 p.m. and a Musicales by Lexicon at 7:30 p.m.

Following morning devotions at 8 a.m. with Herbert Lockyer, which will start the July 20 activities, the exhibit area will open at 9 a.m. Three concurrent workshops will be offered, beginning at 10:30 a.m. The first, titled "You and Your Money," will be conducted by LaVose Newton. The second, "How To Sell Bible Reference Books," with John Kohlenberger, and the third, an orientation session for first timers and newer stores. A general session with Tim LaHaye and Elisabeth Elliott has been scheduled for 1 p.m.

Concurrent with the exhibit area opening on July 21, two more workshops are scheduled, beginning at 9 a.m. The first will be "The Family Business — How To Make It Work" ($20 fee), which will be conducted by Frank Buttrick. The other workshop will be an international session with Bill Moore, entitled "The Best Is Yet To Be." Beginning at 10:30 a.m., two more workshops have been scheduled, "How To Buy And Sell Greeting Cards," with Roy Lessin and Mike Rustin, and "Delegating Our Work," with Lavose Newson. An overseas dealers reception and luncheon has been scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. Afternoon activities will begin at 1 p.m. with a general assembly.

At 3 p.m., three more workshops have been scheduled — "Types of Business Structure," with Keith Doyon; "Motivational Seminars," with George Shinn; and "Merchandising Records and Music with Class," with Stan Jantz. The past president's dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p.m.

The July 22 workshops will begin with three more concurrent sessions — "Using the Computer in Larger Bookstores," with John Keller; "How To Keep The Money You Make," with Allan Willey; and "Advertising Records and Music With Flair," with Jantz. Following an awards luncheon at noon with Dr. Joe Aldrich, afternoon sessions will begin at 3 p.m. They will be titled, "Effective Communications at Home," with Andre Bustanoby; "Reaching the Spanish Market," with Lavern Gregory; and "Jewelry — Know Your Product and Display It," with Bob Siemon and Dean Herrbolt.

The final day, July 23, will begin with a continental breakfast at 7:30 a.m. Workshops are scheduled for 10:30 a.m. and will include "Store Personnel Management," with Red Rudy; "Sales Forecasting," with Murray Fisher; and "Preserving What You've Built," with Doyon. A general session with Walter Martin is scheduled for 1 p.m., with a CBA board of directors meeting set for 2:30 p.m.

PIR Gospel Label Signs Two Acts

by Jennifer Bohler

NASHVILLE — In spite of a previous assignment of the name Salvation Records as a trademark, the new gospel label started by Philadelphia International Records (PIR) is currently moving ahead in its plans to be fully operational by the end of the year (Cash Box, July 11).

Due to the previous assignment of rights to the name Salvation Records, the new PIR label will have to be re-named — a process that is currently under way, according to Mighty Three Music Group president and acting gospel label head Earl Shelton.

Despite the setback in naming the label, Shelton said he has already signed two acts and is currently negotiating with a third. Signed to the label are Clarence Fountain and the Original Five Blind Boys of Alabama, who have been singing for 42 years; and the Young Delegation, a group from Philadelphia. Shelton declined to name the artist the label is currently negotiating with.

Shelton said the Blind Boys recording is something of a departure from the group's usual product, with a couple of tunes written by Kenny Gamble and Cecil Womack. Explaining it as a very contemporary recording, he said it should be a well-received album release. The Young Delegation release will be a mixture of traditional and contemporary product, which, Shelton said, reflects the direction of the labels.

Though PIR is distributed by CBS Records, it has not yet been determined if the new gospel label will be included in that agreement.

As it stand now, the label will be headquartered in the Gamble/Huff building in Philadelphia. Harry Coombs, vice president of marketing/sales and promotion for PIR, and Rebecca Butler, who works with Coombs, will also be involved with the gospel label.

ALBUM REVIEWS

JUST PIANO . . . PRAISE II — Dino Kartsonakis — Light LS 5790 — Producer: Tom Keene — List: 7.98

This album is a collection of gospel standards old and new, with a sprinkling of classical arrangements like "Moonlight Sonata." Dove award winner Kartsonakis maintains his status as gospel's premiere pianist, evoking expression with each note. Traditional tunes like "His Eye Is On The Sparrow" are complemented by more contemporary cuts in medley form.

HEARTS OF FIRE — Sweet Comfort Band — Light LS 5794 — Producers: David Diggs and Jack Joseph Puig — List: 7.98

The Sweet Comfort Band exemplifies the best of contemporary Christian music, featuring tight arrangements and production. The group's stylistic prowess is exhibited throughout as driving rhythmic cuts like "Isabel" are meshed with the more mellow "The Road" and "Just Like Me." The overall rock feel lends itself to pop crossover.

LOOKING FORWARD — Bob Bailey — Triangle TR 145 — Producer: Paul Stilwell — List: 7.98

This album represents Bailey's first effort since signing recently with Traingle. The album features four self-penned tunes, including the title cut, which features a duet with Light artist Reba Rambo. Strong vocals, with driving rhythm tracks, are characteristic of the tight arrangements throughout.

THE RHYTHM SECTION

ALL THAT JAZZ — The West Coast jazz summer saga continues to expand. With the Count Basie Orchestra's finale at the Playboy Jazz Festival still reverberating throughout the southland, the jazz focus moves further up the coast to the inaugural Santa Barbara Jazz Festival, to be held Aug. 14-15 at the Santa Barbara County Bowl, located near the Pacific surf bordering the central California city. To be featured during the city's inaugural jazz fest are Maynard Ferguson, Zoot Sims, Clark Terry, Shelly Manne, Chet Baker, Pellin, the Al Vizutti Band, The Carla Bley Band, Freddie Hubbard and his quintet, Cal Tjader and his sextet featuring guest Willie Bobo, Tania Maria, Mongo Santamaria and band, Mundell Lowe and Bill Berry and the L.A. Band. . . . From Sept. 18-20, the jazz vibe will move even further north to the engaging natural environs of Monterey, where Lowe, Tjader, Terry and Berry will join Richie Cole and Alto Madness, Flora Purim and Airto, Sarah Vaughn, Billy Eckstine and The Hi-Los for the 24th annual Monterey Jazz Festival, the most revered of West Coast jazz fetes. . . . On another jazz front, Aussie jazz/fusion outfit Crossfire was recently signed by Headfirst Records, which plans release of their digitally-mastered LP, "East of Where." At the end of July.

AIRWAVES — KDAY/Los Angeles recently hosted the Sam Watson celebrity All-Stars in the second annual Minnie Riperton Celebrity Softball game, defeating the celebrities 4-2. Held July 12 at Centinela Park in Inglewood, the game, which attracted more than 5,000 spectators, was sponsored to support California Assemblywoman Gwen Moore's statewide initiative to declare July 5-12 "Minnie Riperton Week." The concept's genesis springs from L.A. Mayor Tom Bradley's declaration last year that the city would honor Riperton, who died in 1979 of breast cancer. Following last year's KDAY softball game, donations from several fund-raising events went toward establishment of the Minnie Riperton Cancer Research Fund. Some of the celebrities participating in this year's softball fest included members of the Elektra/Asylum group Side Effect and actors Eric Laneuville, Stoney Jackson, Dwayne Jesse, Darrow Igus and Chip McAllister.

OTHER ALTRUISM — Solar Records chief Dick Griffey recently donated 1,000 free tickets to Los Angeles-area youth to attend the July 5 performance of the Solar Galaxy of Stars held at the Inglewood Forum. Griffey said that recycling resources back into the community was a step toward assuring an ongoing, healthy symbiotic relationship between the label and the supporters of Solar product.

MULTI-TRACKING — The upcoming Warner Bros. LP by Al Jarreau is set to ship to WEA branches July 29. The LP features such guest artists as Tom Scott, George Duke, Dean Parks and Steve Gadd. Jarreau is also scheduled for a 25-date tour of America and Europe to support the LP. . . . Sigma Sound Studios in N.Y. and Philly are brimming with activity, including recording sessions with PIR's Teddy Pendergrass, Atlantic's Spinners and an Epic project with The Jacksons. Pendergrass was recently at the Philadelphia facility, where he was in a mixing session, produced by Ken Gamble and Leon Huff with Sigma Sound prexy Joe Tarsia engineering. The Mtume/Lucas brainkind is producing The Spinners' new LP project in New York with engineer Jim Dougherty, while at the same facility, John Luongo recently completed mixing a Jacksons single, "Walk Right Now." Sigma is hosting other projects in progress including work by Ashford & Simpson, D.J. Rogers, Gladys Knight and Jessica Cleaves. . . . Elektra/Asylum artist Lee Ritenour, who is currently enjoying broad-based success with his LP "Rit," is in the studio producing a debut album by Eric Tagg for Japan Victor Corp. (JVC). Tagg is a featured vocalist on "Is It You?" and other cuts from Ritenour's LP. . . . A rap record titled "General Hospi-tale," a parody of ABC-TV's popular daytime soap General Hospital, was produced by Harry King featuring Boston-based studio outfit The Afternoon Delights. MCA has released the single in 7" and 12" formats. . . . Polydor/MVP Records recently released "Sayin' Something" by Peaches & Herb. . . . Composer/singer Janice Pendarvis, who is featured on the new Inner City LP by Japanese jazzist Terumasa Hino, is putting the final touches on her first solo album at A&R Studios in New York, with the basic tracks having been recorded in May at Dynamic Sound in Kingston, Jamaica. Producing with Pendarvis were Clive Hunt and Earl Chin, who, upon completion, will shop the LP at various labels for his Rootsman Productions. Pendarvis describes her project as a tasty synthesis of Jamaican reggae and homegrown R&B funk. With artists like Anthony Jackson, Bernie Worrell, Bobby Keyes, David Spinozza from the States and Earl Smith, Mikey Boo, Val Douglas, Sticky and Dean Frazier of Jamaica, her claim could very well hold up.

S.A.S., Inc., headed by Sidney A. Seidenberg, recently announced the signing of Buddah/Arista artist Robert Winters and Fall through Jimmy Bee, president of Bee/Alexander Prod., which produces and promoted Winters. . . . A&M Latest Indie To Establish Motion Picture/Video Division

"Basically, all we've done so far is announce the formation of A&M Films to make the industry aware of us, particularly writers and producers," indicated Friesen. "Our decision to create A&M Films was based on our desire to get back into other areas of entertainment, and we felt that the time was right to embark on such a venture. So many opportunities are present now with the new technologies."

First Try

A&M first entered the TV and film production business in 1968 as part of a joint venture with Creative Management Assoc. executive Perry Leff. The division lasted only one year after four announced productions were left uncompleted.

music by trying to integrate, but by playing one strict format. Copeland expressed his astonishment that even the lowest rated AOR station in a large market would not take the chance on a format change to all new wave. "After all, they would only stand to gain ground; they couldn't lose," he reasoned.

The "Marketing" panel revealed a great deal of dissatisfaction by the smaller labels with the marketing efforts of independent distributors. Bobby Ragona of Fire Sign Records stated that he would sell directly to accounts cheaper than to a distributor, "because they have no idea how to sell a 12" that's being played in the clubs."

Perhaps the best organized panel of the seminar, the "Artist Development and A&R" panel, saw various label representatives explain their philosophies in signing and developing acts. Gary Baker, a music attorney, gave an interesting look at how the balance of power in contract negotiations shifted from the group to the label after the business began to go soft in 1979.

The "Retail" forum centered around discussions of the majors' inability to deal with the ma and pa and specialty stores and their inability to use the 12" single format correctly. RCA Records was singled out by retailers on the panel as "the only label that helps and listens to the ma and pa stores."

The "Press and Publicity" seminar contained a lengthy and lively discussion of the typecasting of music by race within the business. In response to a question from the floor about why someone from the Village Voice would not send someone to see an unknown band when it came into town, Robert Christgau of the Voice told of the problems of big media covering small acts and small media covering big acts, spoke of the value of fanzines, and suggested that a reputation had to be built through small media before one could expect big media coverage.

The "Clubs and DJ" panel discussed the importance of interaction with other media in establishing a long lasting role for a club within a dynamic scene.

The final panel, "Trends in New Music," was supposed to be a summation of the entire event, but it proved to be a letdown in that few constructive points were made, and what should have been a discussion in which some conclusions were drawn ended the seminar on a discordant note.

Mark Josephson of Rockpool, one of the seminar's co-sponsors, said he was pleased with the overall results of this year's meet, despite some reservations about the way the panels were conducted. Josephson said that the attendance and level of participation at the seminar were encouraging enough to make him want to repeat the event again next year.

A survey of other label executives involved in video production revealed that while the production of promotional clips have either remained constant or increased, due to demand from cable TV programmers, clubs and other areas, there are no immediate plans to form film and/or video divisions. However, most executives added that labels do wish to remain flexible in order to respond quickly to the needs of cable TV and the growing home video market, and, as such, would not rule out the creation of more artist specials.

"The WCI labels do have a video division under (WCI Records Group senior vice president) Stan Cornyn, and if any of us in the (label) video divisions comes up with an idea that we think will make sense for an act, we'll take it to him," said Sherry Goldsher, Elektra/Asylum national artist development coordinator in charge of video. "My posture is that I'm open and receptive to different ideas from our acts or anyone else within the organization."

Goldsher noted that E/A recording group Queen was recently the subject of a video special sold to ON-TV, a subscription TV service, but added that "the group initiated the idea," as well as produced the program, while Goldsher herself offered "help and guidance" only for the project.

"We might consider dovetailing a special on an act with an album release," added Goldsher. "That would make sense to me. But I have to stress that we have nothing on the planning boards at this time."

Warner Bros.'s TV and Video department is planning to produce a video special on the Montreux Jazz Festival in Switzerland this year, "if everything comes off as we hope," according to director of TV and video Jo Bergman. Presently, the label is distributing Devo: The Men Who Make The Music, already released on videocassette to the home market by Warner Home Video, in addition to The Who's Face Dances, to cable and network TV.

"There's been a slow build-up in the amount of video production we've done this year," said Warner's Bergman. "We're quite busy right now with pieces in production or recently completed on Larry Graham, Marshall Tucker Band, Grace Jones and The English Beat, and we're planning to do a promotional clip on Al Jarreau as well."

Bergman noted that while WCI's Cornyn talks to all the heads of the video divisions for the WCI labels, "he does not direct our individual activities" on a day-to-day basis. As far as producing further specials, such as the planned Montreux project, Bergman said, "It's really not a question that can be answered right now."

"Certainly, as far as getting to create a long piece of material, it's more fun and creatively satisfying for us, but whether we'll be increasing those specials is very hard to say," she pointed out. "It depends on a number of circumstances."

RCA is also increasing its output of promotional pieces, according to label vice president of merchandising Jack Chudnoff, but there is still a question as to when, or to what extent, the record company will become involved in production of acts for RCA SelectaVision VideoDiscs.

SelectaVision Involvement

"We're presently servicing all cable networks, pay TV and clubs, and we do get feedback on when and where our promotional videos are being utilized," said Chudnoff. "But the records division, to my knowledge, has not been contacted as of yet to become involved with RCA SelectaVision."

Clarke/Duke Project: Pooling Resources To Produce A Hit

the duo — their aggressive, no-holds-barred funk/rock attack has struck a chord with audiences, particularly in concert.

"It's quite a mixed audience," said Duke, "although also quite weird. You get the rock 'n' rollers, the jazzers and the funkateers. But we win 'em all over — it doesn't take long for them to start bobbin' their heads."

"At one show," added Clarke, "we were playin' a groove that was so funky; really black. And all these little blonde chicks in the front row — it was like the first time they had ever heard funk. It was a gas."

"Both of us have experience in rock and funk, and both of us like it," Duke added. "The fact that we have the experience and can put it all together makes it more valid. By the end of an evening, our audience is all there. And that's the proof of the pudding. Sometimes, because of the length of the show, it's impossible to play all the things the audience wants to hear. But we satisfy."

Both artists have always been concerned with satisfying their listeners, and both take pride in giving their audiences what they come to hear.

"I remember how hard it was for me to make the jump from clubs to the larger halls," recalled Duke. "After 'Reach For It,' I went on stage and just died. It was awful; we had no stage show, nothing. But," he added with pride, "I went back and made up for it three months later. I found I had to do things to make myself more accessible to the people in the back row. I still believe that 80% of what people hear is what they see. You have to stage yourself."

While winning over a live audience is no problem for Clarke and Duke, the narrow format of AOR radio presents quite another story. Like many other black, rock-oriented bands, the Project has frequently found itself locked out of the playlists of many radio stations.

"You're talkin' to an authority," said Clarke when queried on the subject. "I think that's really been the whole story of my career. My basic musical attachment is to funky rock 'n' roll. The heavier it is, the better. I've made records with material that could've been played on certain stations, and my last record, 'Rocks, Pebbles and Sand,' had cuts that were suitable for AOR. Without naming names, there was a station in L.A. where I was told there were to be no more records played by Third World artists. I was shocked, because the guy who told me loved the record. But he said all he could do was listen to it in his car on the way home. And that really depressed me.

"The majority of my life in the music industry has gone this way," Clarke continued. "One of the great things about the '60s was that it brought the races together, more so than at any time in history. The '70s came, and it was a heavy marketing period. It separated things to the point of craziness. Now you have black stations and white stations and a few that go in between. Personally, I think that's a sad state of affairs."

But Clarke tempered his assessment with optimism.

"I think AOR will one day play more black music," he added. "When I was playing in the Return to Forever band, some of the AOR stations were the first to pick up on us. And I know it's only natural that funk and rock come together, because they can't get any further apart. I'm happy that this cubbyholing is being brought out. For me, the stuff's a big waste of time. It's in our environment, and it has to be confronted. My wife's a caucasian, and I've been wondering what the hell I'm gonna tell my kids."

AOR notwithstanding, "The Clarke/Duke Project" has been a pleasurable diversion for the two. Although there are plans for a second album, the duo will continue to pursue their solo careers. "It'll help to keep the Clarke/Duke Project real special," said Duke.

"We each have our own records," said Clarke, "and we wanna continue to do that. We want our collaboration to remain an event."

Along with the personal rewards, the two friends, well known prior to the advent of the Project, have managed to expand their already sizable followings.

"I think a lot of people buying this record don't know who we are," said Duke. "'Sweet Baby' has introduced us to a new market. For us to show up on an Adult Contemporary chart is incredible. It's a real gas to see our names there."

'Dancercize' LP Pulled Following Court Order

LOS ANGELES — At presstime, Cash Box learned that a cease and desist order had been issued against Carol Hensel and Dancercize, Inc. to stop distribution and sales of the "Dancercize" LP on Vintage Records, currently #33 on the Cash Box Top 200 Albums chart. The original suit, alleging violation of a copyrighted trademark, was brought by John Devlin.

United Kingdom

LONDON — To oversee the exploitation of the libraries of Universal and Paramount Pictures, Cinema International Corp. N.V. has appointed Roy Featherstone as president of CIC Video International B.V., which will distribute CIC Video product worldwide, outside of the U.S. and Canada. Featherstone leaves MCA, where he has been president of international record distribution. He set up the CIC U.K. Video operation in December 1980 and was instrumental in CIC setting up distribution in Scandinavia through Esselte. Featherstone, who will maintain offices in London, stated his aims thus: "The strength of the Universal and Paramount libraries makes CIC Video an important entry into every territory of the world. It is my goal to see that CIC Video B.V. attains a leadership position in each market it enters." Succeeding Featherstone in the chair at MCA is expected to be Stuart Watson, who, under Featherstone, had been head of marketing at MCA until now.

The Performing Rights Society (PRS) held its annual general meeting at the London Hilton on July 2. Among the news passed on to members was that following last year's passing of the 30 million pound barrier, collections this year had totalled a little under 40 million pounds. Administration costs account for 21% of the collected income, a five percent increase over last year due to the need for more staff and an 18% pay award given to most staff members last summer. Left to distribute to members was, approximately, 33 million pounds. Domestic income to the PRS rose by an unprecedented 28% during 1980, largely due to inflation, but also in part due to new tariff rates and initiatives to strengthen effectiveness through increased efforts of representatives in the field. For the first time, collections from the BBC and from domestic live performance both topped ten million pounds. Against this background of growing financial stature it was announced that the PRS will be offering interest-free loans to writer-members who, it is proposed, will be entitled to borrow between 500 and 5,000 pounds from the society, though the sum may not exceed one third of the member's average earnings over the last three years. A scheme offering loans to PRS management executives had been bitterly criticized by some members over the last two years. The new loans will be re-payable direct from members' earnings and presumably are intended to allow members to buy expensive instruments or to embark on long-term writing projects. The PRS has sent a telegram to Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher deploring her plans to cut subsidies to the BBC for its overseas services.

TORONTO — The "Stars On" project continues to sell at a brisk clip. About one-quarter of the 300,000-plus units of the album sold are in cassette configuration... Speaking of Quality, the label intends to repackage 14 artists' catalogs in best-of compilations with a $6.98 suggested list price. Among the featured artists will be Lovln' Spoonful, Mitch Ryder, The Platters, Bill Haley, Ronnie Hawkins, Gene Pitney, Johnny Cash and Tommy James and the Shondells. A radio-retail sampler disc will precede the series... Loveboy enters the studio at the end of July to begin work on a second album... A second disc from the underrated Straight Lines is due in early August, as is a third disc from Martha and the Muffins... PolyGram has re-signed Dianne Tell... WEA will soon reissue the Mandala album, which was originally to have been part of a two-fer release by MCA that was to have included the "Bush" album. Domenic Trolano and Roy Kenner both made initial impressions on the music world through the projects... As if we haven't heard enough about re-issues, Attic Records' Ralph Alphonso has been culling the publishing vaults for an all-Canadian '50s-type album. But he is stalled by unsuccessful attempts to find who owns the rights to the Ugly Ducklings album. He pleads with us through this column to find the person or firm with the rights to the music. Proprietors should respond to Alphonso at Attic, 98 Queen Street East, or at (416) 862-0352... Gang of Four, which put on perhaps the most gripping of concerts this city has seen in months, will enter the studio in August for a third album. Vocalist Jon King says a live album will likely follow the third disc... The Colonial Tavern, mentioned here a few weeks ago as the site for the "Imagine" tribute to John Lennon (which thankfully closed after just a few weeks) has repaired its basement room, and is calling it Riffs. Local unsigned writer Jim Eaves is breaking the place in, and it's no secret the club is looking to book imported talent soon... The Police, The Specials and The Go-Gos are playing a 40,000-capacity show in Oakville, Ontario, about 30 miles west of here, on Aug. 25... Nash The Slash, who recently joined forces with Gary Numan in the latter's farwell concert, is off on his "Tour Of The Lost Continent" jaunt across Canada. No further recording plans scheduled... PolyGram has issued a second Killing Joke album, "What's This For!" within three months of a first release... The Trooper recording contract is still up for grabs, which is strange. The band's track record in this country is phenomenal, despite critical disdain. "Hot Shots," the band's greatest-of package, remains the all-time best-selling domestic disc.

Harsher Piracy Penalties Seen By U.K. Government

LONDON — Harsher penalties for record and tape piracy is one of the chief proposals of the British government as part of a revised U.K. copyright law. However, the Thatcher Administration maintains that it is opposed to a surtax on blank tape and audiovisual equipment to compensate the record industry, which estimates $100 million as the annual sales loss from home taping.

The government's opposition to a tape surtax was qualified by a statement that no final decision could be made as of yet. However, in a publicly released document prior to formulating legislation, it conceded that blank taping hurt record revenues, but intimated that a tax would be unfair to most consumers.

Aside from piracy, other government proposals included extending import restrictions to cover pirated films and videodisks. Under the current law, only book imports whose copyright would be infringed upon are restricted.

Montage Inks With RCA

LOS ANGELES — Newly formed Montage Records has entered into a European distribution pact with RCA. The first product scheduled for distribution under the new pact is an LP by rock group Visitors in August.

superstar Kenny Rogers, Scottish pop singer Sheena Easton and veteran songstress Kim Carnes; while the Capitol Records arm of the U.S. operation had a worldwide hit with Neil Diamond's soundtrack to the film The Jazz Singer.

"The music division made a significant recovery in profits, reflecting strength of management in depth throughout the worldwide operations," said Thorn-EMI chairman Sir Richard Cave in a prepared statement. "Profitability improved in many areas, but particularly in the United States, South Africa and Australia. Profits in the U.K. and Europe have not yet recovered to acceptable levels."

Another source of optimism for Thorn-EMI was the performance of its consumer electronics operation, which brought in pre-tax profits of approximately $132 million during the year. The bulk of the revenues came from sales of color TVs and rental of TVs and videocassette recorders.

The significant gains made by the music and consumer electronics operations, however, were negated by a disastrous attempt to enter the American film market via involvement in Associated Film Distributors, a venture Sir Richard termed "a real disappointment."

Profits on films, video software and leisure dropped to five million dollars, down from $15 million the year before.

Bally, Leisure Systems To Run Amusement Centers In Asia

CHICAGO — Robert E. Mullane, president and chairman of the Board of Directors of Bally Manufacturing Corp. and Cyril Fung, chairman of the Board of Directors of Leisure Systems Ltd. of Hong Kong, announced that Bally and Leisure Systems have completed an agreement to form a Hong Kong joint venture company called Bally Leisure Systems, Ltd. The joint venture company plans to develop and operate a chain of Aladdin's Castle family amusement centers in Asia, each center to contain a large variety of coin-operated amusement games, similar in concept to the chain of Aladdin's Castle family amusement centers owned and operated throughout the United States by Bally.

The new agreement provides for the possible future development and operation of Aladdin's Castle family amusement centers in Indonesia, Macao, Malaysia, the People's Republic of China, the Philipppines, the Republic of China (Taiwan), Singapore and Thailand in addition to Hong Kong.

Under the agreement, the joint venture company will immediately begin to seek licenses and sites for the Aladdin's Castle family amusement centers. The first of such family amusement centers is set to open in Hong Kong in August. The new Aladdin's Castle centers will be financed, constructed, owned and operated by the joint venture company which will be equally owned by Bally and Leisure Systems Ltd.

Bally Manufacturing Corp., leading manufacturer and distributor of coin-operated amusement and gaming equipment, operates Bally's Park Place Casino Hotel in Atlantic City, New Jersey through an 83%-owned subsidiary and also owns and operates Aladdin's Castle, Inc., a national chain of over 230 family amuse-

Games Impounded By Midway Mfg. In Arizona Action

CHICAGO — The United States Marshal's Service recently seized numerous video games and electronic circuit boards in connection with a second civil action for copyright infringement brought by Midway Mfg. Co. of Franklin Park, Illinois in Phoenix, Arizona.

This action names as defendants KK Industrial Service Company, The Razwood Corporation, d/b/a Starship Fantasy arcade, and Mercer Manufacturing, as reported by Midway. Midway further advised that the impounded goods seized under court order at the Starship Fantasy arcade included 36 cocktail and upright games alleged to infringe Midway's copyrights in "Galaxian," "Pac-Man" or "Rally-X," plus assorted labels inscribed with Midway's trademarks for games.

Additionally, the company said that various circuit boards for games alleged to infringe Midway's copyrights in "Pac-Man" and "Rally-X" were seized at the facility maintained by Mercer in Tempe, Arizona, and impounded under court order.

In an earlier action brought by Midway in Phoenix against Sutra Import Corp., Sutra West, Bernard Shapiro, d/b/a Bernie's Specialty, and Noma Enterprises, for infringement of Midway's copyrights in "Pac-Man" by the importation and sale of Gobbler video games, judgment was entered Williams Wins Infringement Case In Newark, N.J.

CHICAGO — Williams Electronics, Inc. announced that it had prevailed in its copyright infringement action recently filed in the Federal Court in Newark, New Jersey against Artic International, Inc.

United States District Judge Herbert J. Stern on Wednesday, June 24, 1981, upon the application of Williams, entered a Final Injunction Order against Artic. The Court's order permanently enjoined Artic, its agents, employees and others acting in active concert or participation with them from infringing Williams' copyrights for its video game "Defender," according to Williams. It was further reported that the order also permanently enjoined Artic from using, vending, distributing or advertising any electronic video games or component parts thereof embodying any part of Williams' copyrighted audiovisual materials or copyrighted computer program.

Judge Stern retained jurisdiction to determine Williams' other claims and assess damages against Artic.

Williams president Michael R. Stroll stated that the company was gratified with the decision of the Court. He indicated that Williams views any violations of its copyrights with seriousness and intends to continue vigorously prosecuting any violators.

Explosive Action In Stern's New 'Super Cobra' Vid

CHICAGO — Stern Electronics, Inc. announced plans to begin production, in late July, of "Super Cobra," an explosive, new video game licensed by Stern from Konami Industry of Japan. The solid state one or two player game is abundant in fast action play features and equipped with explosive sound effects that are synchronized with the play action.

Additionally, Super Cobra has a very outstanding feature which offers players the option of starting a new game at the defense level attained in the previous game. It allows players to pick up where they left off, so to speak, when a flashing message signals that there are 10 seconds remaining to re-start the game either by use of an earned credit or the insertion of a coin. As pointed out by marketing director Tom Campbell, this feature "will certainly enhance the earnings potential of the

Williams Bows New Multi-level Multi-ball Pin-game In 'Pharaoh'

CHICAGO — "Pharaoh" is the latest multi-level, multi-ball pin-game being introduced by Williams Electronics, Inc. It offers plenty of heated pinball action and, symbolic of ancient Egypt, is enhanced by bold, colorful artwork and fascinating design.

There are numerous options for advancing scores but to obtain the highest score, thereby challenging the age-old secrets of the mighty Pharaoh, players should shoot for the new "Stop and Score" feature which they can start by making the two sets of drop targets on the upper level of the playfield. Hitting any target will light that target for 1,000 points and start the color coordinated light on the opposite bank flashing. Hitting that flashing light will advance a letter in the word P-H-A-R-A-O-H for 5,000 points. The next step is to shoot for the Hidden Tomb, located on the bottom level, which starts a countdown flashing on the backglass with a score starting at 3X lit P-H-A-R-A-O-H value. For even higher point scoring, there's the difficult Slaves Tomb shot which activates the countdown for 5X lit P-H-A-R-A-O-H value. A shot to the top or bottom level eject hole collects the backglass score which decreases in value in 100 point increments with time used.

In addition to activating the countdown timer, the valuable Slaves Tomb shot will also light the "???" lanes. Rolling over the "???" lane will award randomly either mystery

Williams' Newest Pin-game Is 'Pharaoh'

Players can beat Pharaoh at his own game by hitting the captive ball, which is situated on the top playfield, during "Stop and Score" play. This fabulous shot will collect the entire initial "Stop and Score" value (either 3X or 5X lit P-H-A-R-A-O-H value) without deductions for time. Making the captive ball during regular play collects 5,000 points for each light lit on P-H-A-R-A-O-H.

For added excitement, Pharaoh's playfield allows two ball multi-ball action. When a player lights the "R" in P-H-A-R-A-O-H, making either eject hole when lit will lock up a ball. As soon as the second ball is shot onto the playfield, multi-ball play initiates with 2X scoring. Only one multi-ball opportunity is allowed per ball.

Completely lighting P-H-A-R-A-O-H activates the Slaves Tomb and Hidden Tomb alternately for extra ball.

Another opportunity for high scoring against Pharaoh is offered players via Williams exclusive bonus ball feature. A bonus ball is offered to the player with the highest score when two or more players take up the challenge. The bonus ball is released with the player's last ball and two ball play is allowed for 25 seconds (operator adjustable) with 2X scoring.

In order to delay the finality of a draining ball, hitting the lower level drop targets builds up the timer lights for Magna-Save (tm), another exciting Williams feature. Players direct the number of seconds used for Magna-Save via the left and right red control buttons forward of the flipper control buttons for spectacular playfield saves.

Pharaoh's brightly hued backglass recaptures the era of the great rulers of Egypt, visually depicting the mystery and magic of the tombs that have withstood the destruction of time to remain as enduring monuments to the mighty Pharaohs. The speech element portrays a spectre that haunts one such monument, a protector of the treasures within and of the soul of Pharaoh. The eerie voice defies and taunts 20th century man to penetrate the age-old mysteries buried deep within the tomb.

The new model is available through Williams' distributors. Further information may be obtained by contacting Williams Electronics, Inc., 3401 N. California Ave., Chicago, Illinois 60618.

against Sutra for damages, costs and attorneys' fees in the amount of $130,800, and an injunction against further infringement. The action is still pending against the other defendants although a preliminary injunction order was entered enjoining any further infringement by them of Midway's copyrights in the "Pac-Man" game, according to Midway.

Midway advised that these actions are part of the company's continuing efforts to actively enforce its proprietary rights against infringers in its highly popular video games, "Galaxian," "Pac-Man," "Gorf" and "Wizard Of Wor."

AMOA Pleased With Elimination Of Location List Rule

CHICAGO — The Copyright Royalty Tribunal (CRT) decision to eliminate the location list rule from the copyright law has received a favorable reaction from the members of the AMOA, according to the association's president, Norman Pink. The regulation required operators to submit an annual list of all jukebox locations to the CRT in compliance with the copyright law.

Since the regulation's inception in 1978, AMOA has consistently campaigned against it; initially with testimony before the CRT, followed by a suit for a permanent injunction (October 1978) and subsequent appeals to the U.S. District Court, the U.S. Court of Appeals and, ultimately, the U.S. Supreme Court. The association filed a second motion for reconsideration by the CRT, which resulted in the ruling being overturned.

"This is something we (AMOA) have fought long and hard for," said Pink. "Businesses should not be required to reveal that kind of information."

Past AMOA president Wayne Hesch was also pleased with the recent ruling. He pointed out that the AMOA remained relentless in its efforts to eliminate what he termed "an unfair and heavily opposed regulation."

"It has taken a good deal of time and effort," said Hesch, "but nothing would have been accomplished if the AMOA had not persisted so vigorously."

'Matter Of Survival'

A number of the operators agreed with the assessments of Hesch and Pink. As one pointed out, "It's a matter of survival; why should an operator be required to submit his list of locations and risk the loss of business. I am thankful that the location list ruling was overturned."

Another operator said that by revealing their locations, operators would be placed in a vulnerable position, leaving themselves wide open for solicitation by competitors game." The appeal is for skillful players as well as novices, since the option provides the opportunity to experience all of the various play levels which previously might not have been attained.

The game theme puts the player in control of a helicopter which must be navigated through enemy territory in order to penetrate 10 defense systems. During the course of action the player is bombarded on all sides by enemy tanks and rockets, UFO's and surface-to-air missiles.

A joystick allows for full control of the helicopter and there are Laser and bomb buttons for destroying the attackers. Destruction of enemy fuel tanks awards extra fuel and at 10,000 points the player is awarded a Bonus Chopper. The level of difficulty increases after penetration of each defense system.

Super Cobra will be available through Stern's distributor network. Further information may be obtained by contacting Stern Electronics, Inc., 1725 W. Diversey Parkway, Chicago, Illinois 60614.

Sikorski In At URL

CHICAGO — Universal Research Laboratories, Inc. of Elk Grove Village, Illinois, announced the recent appointment of Richard Sikorski to the newly created post of senior vice president of operations. Sikorski comes to URL (A subsidiary of Stern Electronics, Inc.) from Scheduling Corporation of America, Oakbrook, Ill., where he served as management consultant to electronics and plastics manufacturers.

In his new position, Sikorski will oversee all URL manufacturing operations.

and others. For example, it was observed that in a matter of a single day an operator with 100 locations could have them all solicited by someone else who is in possession of his list, before he had a chance to do much of anything about it.

One of the most active opponents of the location list rule was Stern Electronics. In its filed comments with the CRT, Stern argued that the location list rule provided no useful assistance to copyright owners but imposed an expensive burden. The manufacturer also maintained that the rule subjected operators to "potential competitive harm by requiring them to disclose their customer list unnecessarily."

Pink said he was very pleased that Stern took such an active role in Washington at the recent CRT hearings. "Stern's help is very much appreciated," he said. "It has opened the door to greater cooperation between the legislative group of AMOA and those of the newly organized Amusement Device Manufacturers Assn., since we are all working toward a common goal."

As a result of the efforts of AMOA, Stern and others, the CRT voted by a three-to-one margin on June 5 to eliminate the list ruling (Cash Box, June 20). The decision is subject to appeal.

NMA Elects New Officers, Board Chairman

NASHVILLE — At their first meeting on July 13, the newly elected and expanded board of directors of the Nashville Music Assn. (NMA) elected a board chairman and 1981-82 officers and appointed chairmen of six committees. The board also voted to expand membership categories to include film and video, and an interim director was elected to represent that category.

tion of Steve Khan) are very important; we're able to kill two birds with one stone because they serve a function as an advertising vehicle, and they also help promote and merchandise our artists, particularly in Europe and the Far East, where they're still very important."

Arista video coordinator Ernie Ferrari also said that the label was producing more video promotional clips than ever before, and the label will support superstar acts on the scale of Barry Manilow and Dionne Warwick, who will appeal to an older, A/C-oriented audience, and, therefore, will be more salable properties for cable and pay-TV, with specials. However, he hastened to add that the company is not planning to move into production for the videodisc or cassette "as of yet."

chairman of the board by acclamation. The new officers include Bob Beckham (Combine Music Group), president; Jim Rushing (songwriter), executive vice president; Connie Bradley, (southern regional director, ASCAP), secretary; Charlene Wilhite (ASCAP), assistant secretary; Joseph E. Sullivan (Sound Seventy Corp.), treasurer; and Hollie Potts, (Sound Seventy Corp.) assistant treasurer.

The board also elected five vice presidents, including Rick Blackburn, vice president, and general manager, CBS Records/Nashville; Tom Collins, president, Pi-Gem Music; Bonnie Garner, director of A&R, CBS Records Nashville; Buddy Killen, president, Tree Publishing; and Norbert Putnam, producer.

Actress and singer/songwriter Sherry Paige was elected an interim director in the film and video category, and a second board-member from that group will be elected at the next board meeting.

Board members appointed as committee chairmen include Johnny Rosen, Studio Committee; Roger Sovine, Membership Committee; Steven J. Greil, Contemporary Music Committee; Bob Morrison and Thomas Cain, Songwriters' Committee; Moses Dillard, Black Music Committee; John Lomax III, Media Committee; Sherry Paige, Film and Video Committee; and Steve Gibson, Producer/Engineer Committee.

ing that the decision was binding only in the state of Washington, said that it could be "very persuasive" in similar cases pending in New York and Tennessee.

"We think the burden of proof has now been shifted to the other side," said Tyrell. "I feel we would have been in desperate trouble if we had lost, but we can now say to the courts: 'we're a national company, we don't have different policies from state to state.'"

A similar case yet to be heard in New York involves CBS and the now inoperative Record Haven, Inc. Despite the decision against Gull Industries, Record Haven president Sam Fischelberg has no plans to drop his suit against CBS. Fischelberg maintains that his case is somewhat different and that Record Haven was a victim of prejudiced return policies.

"We issued requests for RA's (Return Authorization statements) prior to the change in policy," said Fischelberg. "In that respect, our merchandise was backup at the time of the policy switch."

No date has been set for the case.

Tigers baseball games, enjoyed a good book with an 11.0, up from 10.6; while its nearest competitor, AOR-formatted WLLZ, placed second with an 8.0, a considerable drop from its Winter rating of 9.2. AOR in general was up in Detroit, however, as WRIF climbed to 4.8 from 4.3, and WABX moved to 3.9, up from 3.1. The attraction in Detroit this time was WWWW, the AOR station that converted to country and hit paydirt with a 4.4, up from 1.9. WJLB remained the leading black station in Motor City, despite dropping to 2.6 from 3.0.

All figures represented average quarter hour shares, 12+ for the metro area, Monday through Sunday, 6 a.m. to midnight and do not reflect stations' total listening audiences.

MICK FLEETWOOD

AS WITH ANY PERSONAL ACHIEVEMENT WORTHY OF PUBLIC MERIT, "THE VISITOR" BEGAN AS A DREAM. AND IT WAS MICK FLEETWOOD'S BELIEF IN WHAT HE WOULD FIND THAT FINALLY MOVED FIVE TONS OF MUSICAL AND RECORDING EQUIPMENT TO A LITTLE VILLAGE IN GHANA LATE LAST DECEMBER.

THEN, FOR THE NEXT SIX WEEKS, OVER 200 MUSICIANS FROM ALL OVER GHANA GATHERED IN ACCRA TO JOIN WITH PRO-

DUCER RICHARD DASHUT, BASSIST GEORGE HAWKINS, GUITARIST TODD SHARP AND A GHANAIAN PERCUSSION SECTION IN WHICH THE OLDEST PLAYER IS 12 YEARS. MICK FLEETWOOD'S DREAM BECAME A REALITY.

"THE VISITOR" IS MICK FLEETWOOD'S TRIUMPH, BUT IT IS MUCH MORE: IT IS A GIFT FOR THE WORLD FROM A PLACE THAT NEVER STOPS GIVING. EXECUTIVE PRODUCER: MICKEY SHAPIRO AFL1-408C
