Conventions

The NARM convention is just around the corner. The two recent radio conventions (Gavin, Country Radio Seminar) have concluded with some very positive reaction toward both, and what they accomplished on bringing artists, radio, and labels together. However, the bottom line in any industry, and the music industry is certainly no exception, is based on retail, over-the-counter sales and that is what NARM is all about.

It is the one time a year when the people whose responsibility it is to sell the product that represents our life's blood and the people who represent the artistic and business creativity that pump that blood, get together. March 11th is a date for opportunity, it's your opportunity, whichever side you represent, retail or manufacturer, to exchange ideas, formulate new techniques create new markets and avenues for sales.

We at Cash Box intend to be at full force at NARM. This convention will not be, for us, a period of relaxation or let up. Our extraordinary relationship with retail, both major and mom and pop demands that we attend and contribute to the business sessions and seminars, and we hope you feel the same. Opportunities for a true free exchange of ideas and programs are very rare, and we believe that the NARM convention, March 11-14 at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles will offer a real opportunity that will benefit every one individually and in total as a business. But to benefit, you must participate. We are looking forward to this convention with a genuine commitment to assist and aid wherever possible and help promote the co-operation that is necessary for us all to prosper.

See you at NARM, bring your thinking caps.

Dream Variations

by Langston Hughes

To fling my arms wide
In the face of the sun,
Dance! Whirl! Whirl!
Till the quick day is done.
Rest at pale evening . . .
A tall, slim tree . . .
Night coming tenderly

Black like me.

Mike Greene Named Full-Time NARAS President

NEW YORK – Mike Greene has been named full-time permanent president of NARAS, effective after the Grammy broadcast of March 2. Greene will be located at NARAS's Burbank offices and will serve on a professional basis under the direction of the annually-elected chairman of the board of trustees (currently Alfred W. Schlesinger) and the trustees, representing the seven local NARAS chapters.

Greene has served NARAS as volunteer president and chairman of the board for 1985 and 1986 and as a national trustee. He is currently president of the NARAS Foundation. A recording artist in his own right, Greene has most recently been located in Atlanta as executive vice president of Crawford Post Productions, a company involved in audio and video production, interactive video discs and satellite communications; and as President of Crawford, Greene & Assoc., a company involved in album projects and film scores.

MIKE GREENE

"We have worked closely with Mike over the past several years," said Schlesinger, "and know him to be a true leader and one who will be best able to take the Academy successfully into the '90s."

"There were many qualified applicants for us to consider and Mike Greene became our final choice after an exhaustive series of interviews."

"Van Halen's Monsters Of Rock" Tour To Hit The Road

NEW YORK – Van Halen, Scorpions, Dokken and Metallica will hit the road this summer in "Van Halen's Monsters of Rock," a roving extravaganza that will hit a minimum of 25 stadiums on the U.S. this summer. The tour will supposedly feature "the most elaborate staging every mounted for multi-site performances and will be the most costly tour in rock history." Each group will perform a full "headline" set on each stop of the tour. Tour dates have yet to be announced.

LITA ROCKS THE HARD ROCK – Ex-Runaway and current hard rock goddess Lita Ford was at the Hard Rock Cafe in Manhattan recently when her guitar was added to the Hard Rock's famous rock'n'roll memorabilia collection. Lita was also in town to promote her new self-titled album and new single, "Kiss Me Deadly." Pictured, from left: Dave Wheeler, vp, sales, RCA; Jim McKeon, vp, national album promotion, RCA; Michael Klenfner, SBK Entertainment Consultant; Ford; Bob Buziak, label president, RCA; Butch Waugh, vp of national promotion, RCA; Rick Dobbis, exec. vp, RCA; Sharon Osbourne, Ford's manager; and Steven Steinburg, exec. vp and partner, Dreamland Records.

LET IT RAIN – When the Rainmakers' "Tour Without End" swung through New York for two sold-out performances it rained the whole time the band was in town, no joke. Top PolyGram execs and radio personnel visited the Rainmakers backstage at the Bottom Line. Pictured, front (l-r): Scott, Saalborn, music director, WRKI/Danbury, CT; unidentified guest; Sally Israel, promotion director, WPTA/Philadelphia; Drew Murray, director, rock radio promotion, East Coast, PolGram; Brenda Romano, national director, pop promotion, PolyGram; Pat Rascona, New York local promotion manager, PolyGram; and Doug Brown, Good Music Management; Rear (l-r): Rich Ruth, Pat Tomek, Steve Phillips, and Bob Walkenhorst, The Rainmakers; and Bob Jamieson, exec. vp, marketing and sales, PolyGram.

BMI Co-Sponsors Moot Court Competition

New York – BMI and Yeshiva University's Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law are co-sponsoring a moot court competition which will focus on music industry related laws. The specific issues addressed are copyright control and obscenity laws.

The fictitious court case, to be argued in mid-March, is entitled "KRAP v. The Mothers of Contention" and concerns radio station KRAP's legal problems with a PMRC-like citizens group. Hank Shocklee and Eric Sadler, known for their work with Public Enemy and Fab 5 Freddy respectively, created an original four-minute rap at the behest of BMI. The case concerns KRAP's airing of this rap, which is structured around digitally sampled portions of other songs and contains language the FCC could rule obscene.

Moot court competitions simulate appeals in the Federal courts. For this one senior law students will argue issues of fair use in music sampling and FCC obscenity rulings before a panel of judges which will include former U.S. Supreme Court nominee Douglas H. Ginsburg and Federal Circuit Court Judge Alex Kosinski. A third judge has yet to be named.

This is the fifth year the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law has held an entertainment and communications law competition. Because of BMI's support the competition will be able to award a cash prize for the first time. A total of $5,500 will be distributed among the top two brief writers, the oralists, teams, and law schools they represent. Participants in the competition will come from schools nationwide.

TALENT ON STAGE

Ray Price

Ray Price is one of those rare breed of entertainers who can penetrate a genuine warmth and feeling in every song he performs. Whether performing rhythm & blues, pop, love songs, or the American music identified as country, Price masterfully, warmly and capably delivered his sound during his sold-out performance.

During the evening, Price performed songs encompassing a blend of musical styles: from timeless classics to beautiful love songs to sophisticated pop to his newer recordings, which are destined to make their impact in the archives of American popular music.

Throughout the performance, the audience was treated to renditions of "San Antone," "Crazy Arms," "Heartaches By The Number," "Release Me," "Make The World Go Away," "I Wont Mention It Again," "Don't You Ever Get Tired Of Hurting Me," "Help Me Make It Through The Night" and "The Mansion On The Hill" among others. In addition, Price performed his current hit "Big Ole Teardrops," available on Step One Records.

Price closed his set with one of his biggest hits, "Danny Boy," for which he received a well-deserved standing ovation from the packed house. It is one of the great pleasures to witness such a legendary American performer demonstrating his genuine, heartfelt talents so masterfully.

George Albert

Due to a printer's error, last week's On Jazz column was incorrect. This week we have two columns - below and on page 21. We apologize for any inconvenience.

ON JAZZ

80! - Stephane Grappelli (c), who'll be the subject of an 80th birthday concert celebration, April 14 at Carnegie Hall, with Ettore Stratta (r) and Pat Phillips, whose new Stratta/Phillips Productions Inc. will coordinate the event.

PASSING ON - Richard Bock, founder of the Pacific Jazz and World Pacific record labels, and a longtime west coast producer, died February 5 of a heart attack at the age of 61. Pacific Jazz recorded such artists as Buddy Rich, Gerry Mulligan, Gerald Wilson, Chet Baker, the Jazz Crusaders and Jean-Luc Ponty; it was an important label for the promotion of west coast jazz acts in the '50s and '60s. World Pacific was one of the first labels to try to forge a fusion between jazz and Indian music (Ravi Shankar recorded for World Pacific years before George Harrison found him), a particular interest of Bock's, who was a founder of the S.A.I. Foundation, a non-profit foundation dedicated to the teachings of Bhagavan Sri Sathya Sai Baba. Of late, Bock has been producing a number of records for Fantasy's Contemporary label, including albums by Frank Morgan, Terry Gibbs/Buddy DeFranco and Bud Shank.

Coincidentally, the Pacific Jazz and World Pacific labels are getting a new lease on life, with the introduction of "EMI-Manhattan Jazz Classics," a new CD-only midline imprint. Manhattan has steadfastly been reissuing Blue Notes for some time now, but has ignored the many other jazz holdings of the Capitol-EMI group, things like Pacific Jazz. Out not, from the Pacific catalogues, are The Immortal Clifford Brown, Gil Evans's New Bottle, Old Wine, Lambert, Hendricks & Ross's The Swingers, Gerry Mulligan/Chet Baker's Reunion, and Mulligan's California Concerts Volume One; coming in April are reissues of items by Mulligan, Lee Konitz, Annie Ross/Zoot Sims, Hoagy Carmichael, Jim Hall and Gil Evans (Great Jazz Standards).

Gil Evans, by the way, will turn 75 in May. A couple of years ago, you would have been hard-pressed to find any Gil Evans albums in stores, but the past few months have seen a particular boom in Gil Evans reissues (almost all available only on CD). There are the two Pacific Jazz albums listed above, Out of the Cool (Impulse!), There Comes a Time (RCA), and The Individualism of Gil Evans. Of course, the great arranger has had many of his Miles Davis collaborations issued on CD over the past year, worked and recorded with Robbie Robertson and Sting last year, and has led his own high-spirited big band every Monday night at Sweet Basil, where they've done several live recordings for Gramavision (recently Evans has been ill and has been temporarily out of the Basil slot). There's also an album reteaming him with Helen Merrill, due in the spring from PolyGram's Emarcy. Gil Evans CD bins will be well-stocked on his birthday, probably the best present he could have hoped for.

BOPPING AROUND - The Chameleon Music Group, a Southern California indie, has introduced a midline CD program, "The Chameleon DISCOVERY," that includes a number of jazz items from the Vee-Jay catalogue...The 1988 Boston Globe Jazz & Heritage Festival gets the land of the bean and the cod hopping, March 10-20, with performances all around the town from the likes of Mel Torme, Carmen McRae, George Shearing, Lionel Hampton, The O'Jays, the Fabulous Thunderbirds and The Modern Jazz Quartet; there will also be a special showcase for local talent. Call (617) 523-6686 for more information...Delta Music, a West German classical music label that releases its product on CD, cassette and (gasp!) DAT, has begun a jazz and new age label called "Jazzline." New Age guitarist Dagobert Boehm's Acoustic Moods is the first release...Mwendo Dawa, the popular (in Sweden) Swedish fusion group will play three quickie dates in New York: March 11 & 12 at the Jazz Center, March 19 at the United Nations' Dag Hammarskjold Auditorium...Alice Tully Hall in New York will host a jazz evening as part of the annual "Composers' Showcase" series: The Mingus Dynasty (doing an unrecorded Mingus sketch), Sun Ra (doing a solo piano thing called "New York Town"), and Freddie Hubbard, Jon Hendricks, Joe Beck and others joining the Philharmonia Virtuosi in the premiere of Charles Schwartz's jazz symphony, "Riding High." Schwartz is the founder of the series and I've found his jazz symphonies particularly uninteresting in the past...Vinylmania, a small independent record chain that practically owns the whole of Greenwich Village's Carmine Street, has opened a jazz-only store at 30 Carmine. Under the guidance of jazz record store vet Joe Milner, the store promises to "emphasize rare and unusual product both from the United States and abroad"...Speaking of downtown N.Y., the City's Tweed Gallery, 52 Chambers St., is hosting a photo exhibit called "Black Visions '88: Lady Legends in Jazz" through March 11.

SINGLE RELEASES

OUT OF THE BOX

BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN

One Step Up (4:21) - Columbia (38-07726) - Bruce Springsteen/ASCAP - B. Springsteen - Producer: B. Springsteen - J. Landau - C. Plotkin

Springsteen offers another gem from Tunnel Of Love, a gentle reminder of life's little (or not so little) setbacks. It's the interplay between the wistful message and his plaintive music that makes this song, and the album such a wonderfully honest and insightful treatise on the state of the modern heart. Should play well everywhere Bruce is Boss, and points in-between.

FORCE M.D.'S

Couldn't Care Less (3:59) - Tommy Boy (7-27978-A) - Jobete Music Co. Inc. - MCA Music Pub. - R.C. Songs Inc./ASCAP - R. Scher - A. Godwin - Producers: R. Halpern - R. Scher

Here the Force take it easy with a down-tempo groove. Another single from the Touch and Go album, this one features a cool as menthol vocal over a plucky little track that's really well laid out. Lush vocal chorus makes this platter a good snack for any radio menu that serves soul. Should do well on Black Contemporary and CHR

MARILYN MARTIN

Possessive Love (3:14) - Atlantic (7-89128) - Johnny Yuma Music/BMI-WB Music-Bleu Disque Music Co.-Webo Girl Pub. Inc. admn. Warner Bros./Dobbs/ASCAP - P. Leonard-Madonna - J. Winding - Producer: P. Leonard - M. Verdick

This Madonna-penned hit allows Marilyn to venture further into the world of funk-pop. Her inspiring performance with Phil Collins in the ballad "Separate Lives" broke her into the top of the charts, and this energetic and hooky tune should place her again at the top of the pops.

Should be a major add on all formats especially CHR.

Thrill Seekers (3:57) - Reprise (7-27982-A) - Troutman Music Co.-Saja Music Co./BMI - R. Troutman - Z. Troutman - Producer: R. Troutman

Roger's "I Wanna Be Your Man" is flirting with the top-ten and features a unique little vocal flange that really hooks. Here you get more of the same in a funky number that expands and contracts like a cosmic accordion. Vocals are all heavily processed into a Jetsons-like timber, with creative sonic arrows flying around. A great production, danceable and fun to listen to.

FEATURE PICKS

JOE COCKER - Two Wrongs (4:01) - Capitol (P-B-44101) - Blackwood Music (Canada) Ltd.-High Frontier Music-Hallclay Music-Red Admiral Music Inc. PROCAN/BMI - E. Schwartz - D. Bendeth - Producer: C. Midnight

A rock-solid number for Cocker to lay down his gravel-road vocals. Features fat guitar strums and a solid base and back-beat that delivers the tune into the realm of commercial rock and roll. A winner from Unchain My Heart.

MIKE OLDFIELD - Magic Touch (3:37) - Virgin (7-99402) - Virgin Music Inc./ASCAP - M. Oldfield - Producers: M. Oldfield - G. Downes

First single from the Islands LP, this track features the voice of Max Bacon (ex-GTR) doing a progressive hit, immaculately produced and arranged. Oldfield has written everything from "Tubular Bells" to "Family Man".

AGNETHA FALTSKOG (DUET WITH PETER CETERA) - I Wasn't The One (Who Said Goodbye) (4:06) - Atlantic (7-89145) - Music Corp. of America Inc.-Zigmanian Inc./BMI - M. Mueller - A. Zigman - Producers: P. Cetera

This is a smash ballad-duet that features Agnetha Faltskog, formerly lead singer in ABBA with another super-group refugee Peter Cetera of Chicago. From her Cetera-produced solo LP I Stand Alone.

MERRY CLAYTON - Yes (3:04) - RCA (6989-7-RAA) - Hands Down Music/ASCAP - T. Fryer - N. Cavanaugh - T. Graf - Producer: M. Lloyd

From the soundtrack LP Dirty Dancing this is a hopping bit of Richard Perry-ish dance that features the exciting horn syncopations and gospel-tinged vocals that make American Music great. Hit potential for CHR.

HIROSHIMA - 311 (3:13) - Epic (34-07728) - Little Tiger Music-WB Music Corp.-DQ Music/ASCAP - D. Kuramoto - D. Quander - Producer: D. Kuramoto

Modern dance groove features an easy paced soulful delivery. Should fit in well with dance and hit radio formats. Look out for this one.

VINCENT ST. MARTIN & GLASSEYE - Pauline (3:36) - Atlantic (7-89133) - Wood'n Music-Stone & Greene Music/BMI - R. Sabino - Producers: C. Greene - B. Stone

A really catchy little ditty reminiscent of an early seventies hit with eighties production and writing sensibility. Should score well on CHR radio.

JERRY HARRISON - Rev It Up (3:30) - Sire (7-27977-A) - Construct Music Inc./ASCAP - J. Harrison - J. Sieger - E. Brooks - Producer: J. Harrison

From the Casual Gods album, this is a robust bit of white soul that features a scritch-scratch rhythm guitar and a funk-a-delic base line. Should be an easy entry for all formats.

DAN REED NETWORK - Ritual (3:41) - Mercury (870 183-7 DJ) - Mind & Body Music-PolyGram Music Pub. Inc./ASCAP - D. Reed - Producer: B. Fairbairn

This is how a contemporary rock record should sound! Raw, yet precisely produced, massive in sonic scope yet eminently down to earth. Has a flavor of Bowie with a little more dirt. Great add-on for AOR.

THE SISTERS OF MERCY - This Corrosion (4:24) - Elektra (7-69434) - Blackwood Music Inc./BMI - A. Eldritch - Producer: J. Steinman

Jim Steinman lends his unique stamp to the Sister's mean moan to produce a cohesive record with unique commercial/artistic potential. Scoring well on video and should breakthrough on AOR/Dance formats.

BASIA - Time And Tide (4:00) - Epic (34-07730) - Cornevon Music Inc./BMI - B. Trzetrzelewska - D. White - Producers: Basia - D. White

This record is a rarity, really creative songwriting, great singing, inspirational lyrics. Add on fantastic vocal performance and you have a winner.

ALBUM RELEASES

TOTO

The Seventh One - Columbia (FC 40873) - Producers: G. Massenburg-B. Payne-Toto - Bar Coded

Toto should enjoy tremendous resurgence at Top 40 and AOR radio, as well as retail, with this powerful collection of quality pop/rock numbers. Especially noteworthy is "Stay Away," a powerful rocker which features Linda Ronstadt providing exceptional backing vocals. "Pamela," the album's first single, is already making big noise at radio and is headed up the pop chart.

ROBERT PLANT

Now And Zen - EsParanza/Atlantic (7 90863-1) - Producers: T. Palmer-R. Plant-P. Johnstone - Bar Coded

Plant returns full force (with Jimmy Page in tow on a couple of cuts) with this collection of AOR crossover gems. Strong production values coupled with top musicianship should prove an instant winner. Now And Zen's advance single, "Heaven Knows," is already topping AOR playlists nationwide, Top 40 radio has already started adding as well.

NEW AND DEVELOPING

BIG PIG

Bonk - A&M (SP 6-5185) - Producer: N. Launay - Bar Coded

"Seven vocalists. Three drummers. Two percussionists. One harmonica player. One female Sri Lankan lead singer. No guitars." ...another gimmick? Hardly. Big Pig have released one of the most startling, if unconventional, debut LPs in recent memory. Watch for instant attention at several levels. First single, "I Can't Breakaway," should make significant noise...

NEW AND DEVELOPING

THE DYNATONES

Shameless - Warner Bros. (9 25672-1) - Producer: J. Gaines - Bar Coded

Shades of Fabulous Thunderbirds and Huey Lewis' News radiate from this package of rock n' blues. Bay Area outfit should find an appreciative audience with their debut Warner Bros. effort. Watch for AOR to take instant notice... Guest shots from the T-Birds Kim Wilson and guitarist Steve Cropper prove equally effective. Good album.

FEATURE PICKS

AGNETHA FALTSKOG - I Stand Alone - Atlantic (7 81820-1) - Producer: Cetera - Bar Coded

Faltskog, formerly of ABBA, shines on this Peter Cetera-produced project. Tailor made for Top 40 and A/C, with a wide demographic appeal. Already a hit in many countries...

ZODIAC MINDWARP & THE LOVE REACTION - Tattooed Beat Messiah - Vertigo/PG (832 729-1) - Producers: D. Balfe-T. Drummond - Bar Coded

Debut U.S. effort from much publicized thrash band should generate instant attention (ala The Cult, Guns And Roses, et al). Watch for heavy Album/College/Alternative play immediately.

JOHNNY HATES JAZZ - Turn Back The Clock - Virgin (7 90860-1) - Producers: C. Hayes-M. Nocito - Bar Coded

U.K. chart-toppers should fare extremely well stateside with their debut release. Watch for heavy Alternative/AOR out of the box; first single up is "Shattered Dreams."

THE CHURCH - Starfish - Arista (AL-8521) - Producers: G. Ladanyi-W. Wachtel-The Church - Bar Coded

Co-produced by The Church with L.A. kingpins Greg Ladanyi and Waddy Wachtel, Starfish should finally garner band the mainstream attention they so richly deserve.

UNDERWORLD - Underneath The Radar - Sire/WB (9 25627-1) - Producer: R. Hine - Bar Coded

AOR/Album radio and adventurous Top 40 outlets should take notice of this powerful band's talents first - with a wider acceptance coming in time. Lend an ear to "Call Me Number One," "Pray" and "Glory! Glory!"

DRIVIN' N' CRYIN' - Whisper Tames The Lion - Island (7 90699-1) - Producer: A. Fier - Bar Coded

Wow! Heartfelt music (sort of a formative Stones) encompasses everything from burnin' rock to almost traditional country folk music. ATTN: Alternative and AOR - give Drivin' N' Cryin' a spin. Produced by Anton Fier (founding proponent of the Golden Palominos).

GERRY WOO - Listen To My Heart Beat - Polydor/PG (833 520-1) - Producers: Various - Bar Coded

Young, talented pop vocalist gained attention via advance single, a cover of "Hey There Lonely Girl" - and should continue to prove a force on the pop charts. Also of interest is a cover of Bon Jovi's "Never Say Goodbye."

THE WOODENTOPS - Wooden Foot Cops On The Highway - Columbia (BFC 40861) - Producers: S. Litt-Rolo - Bar Coded

Wooden Cops On The Highway, The Woodentops' second album for Columbia, will undoubtedly continue to build band's successful reputation with critics and hopefully expose outfit to a wider demographic. Co-produced by Scott Litt (REM).

CENTERFOLD - Centerfold - Columbia (BFC 40843) - Producers: K. Towns-P. Jones - Bar Coded

Strong mix of powerful funk/pop and incredibly soulful ballads should propel duo to instant attention at B/C formats first. Dance, club and Top 40 play should come in time...

PAUL CARRACK—Chrysalis recording artist Paul Carrack is pictured performing during an intimate set held last week at the Third Annual Gavin Seminar For Media Professionals in San Francisco.

BOPPIN' AT GAVIN - Points West trekked to San Francisco for a few days last week to attend the Third Annual Gavin Seminar For Media Professionals (held at the historic St. Francis Hotel) and thought that we would provide you with a brief recap (for complete Gavin coverage see page 24 - this issue).

The third annual seminar was comprised of numerous seminars dealing with all formats of radio: from Top 40 to Adult Contemporary to Urban to Alternative to Country. Each seminar dealt with different aspects of radio - programming, marketing, promotion, etc. Things got off to an excellent start with Linda Ellerbee's humorous and effective keynote address on Friday (12) and held strong throughout the weekend.

The convention's "Third Annual Album/Alternative Cutting Edge Show," hosted by Sire VP Howie Klein, featured T Bone Burnett treating the attendees to an acoustic reading of "The Wild Truth" and "Euromad" - two tracks found on his brilliant new Columbia LP, The Talking Animals. Also at the seminar's "Cutting Edge" show was Elektra recording artist Ruben Blades, who spoke with Klein about his career, international politics and upcoming LP (his first English-language project). Reprise recording artist Bryan Ferry also joined the panel, discussing his career and music.

Several performances were held within the St. Francis: Primitive Man Recording Co./I.R.S. recording artists The Balancing Act, Warner Bros' Underworld, and PolyGram recording act The Dan Reed Network all provided well-received live sets throughout the three day seminar.

Easily the musical centerpiece of the entire weekend was Paul Carrack's acoustic set held in the Italian Room of the St. Francis. Carrack, who is enjoying tremendous success via his One Good Reason LP, presented a breathtaking set that included "Give Me The Reason" and "Double It Up" (from his new LP) as well as a fiery treatment of the Temptations' classic "Ain't Too Proud To Beg." Following a request, Carrack launched into a fantastic and well received reading of "Tempted," a hit for Squeeze (which Carrack sang lead on) in 1981.

On Saturday (13), Rhino Records hosted a free concert in Union Square (across from the St. Francis) that featured the label's recording artists House Of Freaks and The James Harman Band. Both acts provided top-quality, crowd pleasing performances that seemed to especially capture the attention of the AOR programmers in attendance.

Throughout the city, numerous other performances targeted at the Gavin crowd (who received free admission) were taking place: such artists as Alexander O'Neal, Natalie Cole, Dramarama, Cherelle and Treat Her Right were among the many acts who provided entertainment.

T BONE BURNETT—Columbia recording artist T Bone Burnett is pictured performing at last week's Third Annual Gavin Seminar For Media Professionals during the "Third Annual Album/Alternative Cutting Edge Show."

A bevy of celebs were spotted in the days surrounding the convention, especially visible at the various label hospitality suites that were open both Friday and Saturday nights. Among those sighted partaking in the free food and drink were Rebbie Jackson, Joan Jett, Eliza Gilkyson, Lita Ford, Morris Day, Tonio K, Carlos Santana, Bonnie Hayes, Wendy & Lisa, Teena Marie, Club Nouveau, Pebbles and Jonathan Butler.

Until next week...

LOS ANGELES - The ears perk and do a double take - coming out of the car radio is "(Sittin' On) The Dock of The Bay", Otis Redding's signature song, but it's being sung by... is it Ray Charles, or is it Joe Cocker? No, it's Michael Bolton who has captured the soul incarnate of Otis. Bolton, a singer-songwriter-producer who is enjoying nearly 26 weeks on the charts with his first single "That's What Love Is All About" from his new album The Hunger, had written and performed a harder-edged rock on his first two Columbia LP's. However, Bolton is heavily rooted in R&B, and "Dock Of The Bay" was his favorite choice for a cover.

"One thing led to another," says Bolton. "I had 'Dock of The Bay' in mind. Jonathan Cain (Journey veteran who co-wrote and produced three other tracks on the album) said he'd love to produce it. I spoke to Mickey Eichner (Senior V.P., A&R) at Columbia in New York and told him I was interested in cutting the tune. Eichner said, 'I think you should hurry up and do it then, because I just told James Taylor to do it. I think it's time for that song to happen again.' I think Mickey was right!"

Judging by the performance of the tune which cracked the Cash Box top 40 last week, Michael Bolton has confidence "(Sitting On) The Dock of The Bay" will extend the success of the album, despite protests by purists. "I didn't know whether radio would play the tune, I thought we'd get resistance. This thing about 'sacrilegious acts' when you record certain tunes - how dare you touch that song! I didn't think it was pretentious, I would never say I'm gonna do it better than Otis. It's more of a tribute."

"Thelma Redding (Otis' widow) said she cried when she saw me perform the song. And I was on the phone with Steve Cropper (who co-wrote and produced the original Redding recording) and he was giving me the same kind of endorsement. These are special things that happen, confirmation that I did something good, something right. Columbia used this really well in some ads to fight the resistance of people who were deciding on their own that we shouldn't do that song. It's always great to have success, but it's been a greater honor to have people like that appreciate it."

On The Hunger, Bolton freely ranges from harder-tinged rock/pop to R&B, without too much concern about mixing up styles. "I'm hitting a wider area than I've ever hit before. We have at least three more strong shots at singles. 'Walk Away' the ballad I wrote with Dianne Warren, that would put us back into the area of 'That's What Love Is All About'. And the two other possibilities (to be picked later) are gonna open up even more of an audience. This is certainly not the heavy record I've done in the past. But I've yet to hear from my old fans that the record is too light. Only the heavy-metal magazines gave us some flak."

"I have this insane dream, I guess," says Bolton, "of hitting people so hard where they live that people go out and buy the record and the rest of the record grows on them, even though they think it's not what they like."

Part of the appeal of the LP is the strong writing and producing. Bol-

FEATURE SPOTLIGHT

Morris Day Casts "Fishnet"

By Julius Robinson

LOS ANGELES - Morris Day knows what he wants - as a member of the Minnesota Rat Pack that includes Prince, Jerry Jam and Terry Lewis, he's a man of definite musical and creative convictions. In his first album The Color of Success, Day reflected his seminal work in the Twin Cities with early groups that included the afore-mentioned gentlemen, including his group The Time with Jam and Lewis. His new album "Daydreaming" carries on his dedication to an "attitude", a kind of unrelenting funk that carries a taste of sophistication mixed with street values. Add on to this Day's award-winning work in Prince's film Purple Rain and you see the picture - Day has a vision, and even the tongue-in-cheek chart-topping single "Fishnet" from the new LP reflects it.

"The connection between the sing-every singer on the Brazilian music scene," he says - and spent three years ('83-'86) touring with Milton Nascimento (including an American tour).

"I started doing my own gigs around '82," he says, "and my first record, which was only released in Brazil, came out in '84."

Ricardo plans to spend a good amount of time in America now. He's working with Herbie Mann's Jasil Brazz and looking forward to putting his own band together for an American tour. He's also part of a cooperative band in Rio called Zil.

"The instrumental music scene is getting better in Brazil," he says. "I just played a few outdoor concerts where a lot of people showed up, and a lot of people knew about what we were doing. From my generation of musicians, there are about five or six people who have bands who are doing some nice music."

Long Distance shouldn't have far to travel to be widely-accepted by fusion-oriented radio stations and American fusion fans, who have always had a hankering for the rhythmic sounds of Brazil.

"I'm already thinking about my next record," says Ricardo Silveira. "I have to come up with a good record after a good record."

Their is a sexuality about Morris Day's writing, that sometimes makes his tunes a little risqué. It's another factor that he won't compromise about. "It's kind of crazy - second verse of 'Fishnet' is (singing) Closer I can see/these drawers I could not pass. I try to keep an eye on it, though. I try to make it humorous and fun but not distasteful. You have to take into consideration though that there's not a lot you can sing about that kids don't already know."

Day denies that he's sexist. "I don't try to put the emphasis on 'macho'. I like to think that I'm firmly planted as the man. I enjoy singing about a nice woman with big legs and fishnet stockings. I enjoy these things... looking at 'em and singing about 'em!"

SONGS AND STORIES
Though she hasn't been home to South Africa in 28 years and though she hasn't had a U.S. album release in 19 years, to Americans Miriam Makeba is perhaps the best known South African musical performer. That's due in part to our own extreme ignorance of non-Anglo pop musics, and, of course, to the oppressive apartheid regime. But largely it's due to Makeba's distinguished career and her rise to fame here in the late 50s and early 60s.

Already a star at a young age in South Africa, it was her appearance in a 1956 documentary Come Back, Africa, that brought her to the attention of Harry Belafonte and others. From her first performances at the Village Vanguard to her Top 13 1967 hit "Pata, Pata" she was something of a sensation. Yet her life has hardly been filled with a star's luxury. Denied entry to her own country in 1960 to return for her mother's funeral, she has lived in exile since. In 1968, after her marriage to Black Panther leader Stokely Carmichael, she found herself blacklisted in the U.S. Only this past year, as part of Paul Simon's Graceland tour, did she play here again.

BUST THIS, MTV - Miriam Makeba recently shot a video for her new album Sangoma with the cast of the Broadway musical Sarafina!

This tale and that of a lifetime of struggle are told in Makeba's new autobiography Makeba: My Story, written with James Hall and published by New American Library. The book is fascinating on several levels: as testament to the way the political is personal, as African narrative, and as the history of a courageous woman whose life has been filled with trials. Accompanying the book is an equally beautiful personal document, the album Sangoma. Released by Warner Bros, which has issued LPs by Graceland tour-mates Ladysmith Black Mambazo and Hugh Masekela, it's a collection of traditional songs recorded by overdubbing Makeba's voice to form a small choir against which she solos. Along with two new township jive records on Virgin Earthworks, the compilation Thunder Before Dawn and Mahlathini's The Lion Of Soweto, Sangoma is a welcome addition to a growing number of South African releases.

HOW YA LIKE ME NOW? - The star of the Jive/RCA rap showcase The *Word Is Rap (Jan. 22 at Club Very Nice in Manhattan) was Kool Moe Dee (c). Best stage show went to Steady B, and most amazing was D.J. Jazzy Jeff & Fresh Prince. Shown above, from left: Rick Dobbis, exec. vp, RCA; Richard Smith, vp of R&B promotion, RCA; Mr. Moe Dee; Mike Omansky, vp of marketing and operations, RCA; and Barry Weiss, vp of marketing and operations, Jive Records; kneeling are Bridgeport rappers the Skinny Boys.

OF KANGOLS AND THE KID - The Kangol Kid of rap group U.T.F.O. (best remembered for their smash "Roaxanne Roxanne" and their recent Lethal on Select) will be stepping out on his own to do some production work. Presently he has two acts, Class A, a harmony group from Jersey City, New Jersey, and Miss Mississippi, a Miss America contestant and talented vocalist. He'll still be recording with U.T.F.O., and looks forward to the challenge of competing with himself: "You can't lose. I'll produce all these groups and have them out there on the charts and go right back with my group and say, 'Ok, now let's go beat that.'"

Encouraged by U.T.F.O.'s production and backing group Full Force, Kangol first tried his hand at producing in '86 with Whistle's "Just Bugging," which became a Top 20 B/C hit. He went on to produce the Whistle album and to work with none other than Darryl Strawberry. He's recorded three songs with Class A, all ballads, in his 8 track home studio and hopes to shop them around soon. He'll also be managing the group. One of their first priorities will be a benefit for the homeless in Jersey City, a basketball game at a local high school to be followed by a performance. Miss Mississippi is presently seeking management and a record deal. Anyone interested in contacting the Kangol Kid kan kall (718) 756-6979.

ing and acting," says Day, "is the attitude. The way I deliver, the way I talk on a record is similar to the way I talked in the movie. It reflects Morris Day. The director went over the dialogue with us and asked us to say it the way we normally would."

Morris Day wants to have a firm hand in his creative output. He did almost all the work on his first solo effort himself, but on Daydreaming he brought in help. "I worked with my wife who co-wrote and co-produced most of the album. Jerry Jam and Terry Lewis I brought in for two numbers, 'Fishnet' and 'Love Is A Game'. I brought them in obviously because we felt they could add on something that no one else could do. Familiarity and friendship were of course very important."

THE BEAT

INSIDE GOSPEL DEBUTS-Veteran radio personality Candida Mobley has been selected to host Inside Gospel for Bailey Broadcasting Services according to executive producer and president Lee Bailey. Mobley will anchor the show's anticipated mix of music, interviews and assorted surprises from the world of gospel music personalities.

CANDIDA MOBLEY

As a short form daily/weekend program in the mold of earlier Bailey vehicles Radioscope and King: From Atlanta To The Mountain Top, Inside Gospel is expected to be lively, informative and tightly produced. Mobley has co-hosted Radioscope segments since that award winning program's inception nearly five years ago. She is accordingly well-versed in the Bailey production style, which emphasizes creativity, original interviews, re-creations of timeless events, and sneak previews of special material in daringly innovative presentations. As it debuts, Inside Gospel has logged a very impressive stations lineup. Airing twice daily or on weekends, on upwards of fifty stations.

The concept has stabilized with a new host, and Bailey expects the project will do as well as Radioscope or King have done. "Now that Candida Mobley is hosting, Inside Gospel has the right chemistry to make the show one of our most exciting radio events. We look forward to the unique presence that she will bring," noted Bailey, who cited the Gospel music field as currently receptive to syndicates.

A native New Yorker who grew up in Fayetteville, N.C., Mobley is very familiar with the subject matter of Inside Gospel, as an active member of Los Angeles' West Angeles Church Of God In Christ. The multi faceted Mobley has also incorporated her love for physical fitness into a daily on-air aerobicise routine over KJLH-FM.

C.C.COOPER-Breaking out on the musical scene is singer, songwriter, producer C.C.Cooper with her hot new release entitled Totally New on Krisma Records. A newcomer with veteran status offering widespread charm and appeal to the world of entertainment. Like many artists of the past and present, C.C. has worked a number of years performing in clubs, working in recording studios and writing her own original material.

Music has always been an integral part of C.C.'s biographical composite beginning early in her childhood. C.C. studied piano, formed a female vocal group and is now pursuing a solo career. She is an artist driven by vigilance and perseverance. She has lived a dual existence for the last few years to keep her dream alive. She is contemporary, exhibiting a universal sound with an appeal to all ages and backgrounds. With her appealing voice, style and high visibility, no wonder a new star is on the horizon.

RUSSELL IS HERE-Singer-songwriter Brenda Russell calls her newest album Get Here, but if she were looking for an alternative title, Homecoming would be a likely candidate. For it was, at A&M Records, that Brenda began her solo career, and since then she has compiled a resume as writer, singer, producer, and all around musician as impressive as any in the business. With Get Here, Brenda has delivered an album showcasing the diversity of her gift of song on everything from energized dance-floor grooves to emotion-packed ballads.

BRENDA RUSSELL

Music began as a family affair for the Brooklyn, New York born Brenda Gordon. Her father was a professional singer who performed for a time with the legendary Ink Spots; her mother was a singer-songwriter as well, and both parents encouraged Brenda's interest in music from her early childhood.

Brenda's solo career began in 1979, when she recorded the acclaimed Brenda Russell album featuring So Good, So Right, for Tommy LiPuma's A&M/Horizon Label. A second A&M album, Love Life followed in 1981. When LiPuma moved to Warner Bros Records, he quickly signed Brenda and produced her third album Two Eyes.

Along the way, Russell's efforts were hardly confined to her solo recordings. She had also established an estimable reputation as a writer, with songs covered by Earth, Wind and Fire, Anne Murray, Roberta Flack and many others. She had also collaborated with Michael McDonald, Melissa Manchester and David Foster to name a few. Brenda had also developed a solid standing as a session singer, working with performers as diverse as Barbra Streisand, Elton John, Cher and Bette Midler, and as a background singer on the road with a host of top names.

In 1984, Brenda recorded a fourth solo album in Stockholm, Sweden, where her previous lps had been consistently successful. Although the album was never distributed in the United States, it laid the groundwork for Get Here. And with Get Here, Brenda Russell has delivered an album that promises to be very rewarding, indeed.

WALLERT PRESIDENT-Industry veteran Charles Wallert one of the top songwriters-producers in the business has been appointed president of New York based Original Artists Records. The company will focus on telemarketing of music projects for new and established artist.

The initial project is a double album (featuring the many original hits) and a video on the legendary O.C. Smith.

OMITTED-Last week we talked about the great project we heard on Frankie Gaye produced by Al Cleveland. During our excitement we failed to list a phone number for those interested in this great talent. For more information call 213-296-0055 or 213-665-5345

Humanitarian adjective

Concerned with human welfare and the alleviation of suffering. Syn. charitable, compassionate, human, humane, merciful.

Soul noun

The essential being of a person, regarded as being immortal.

Talent noun

An innate capability. Syn. aptitude, faculty, flair, genius, gift.

Lou Rawls proper noun

A person, born in the wanning years of the great depression on the southside of Chicago. A man whose talent and soul merged early in life, sending him on a mission that led first to singing in a gospel quartet, The Pilgram Travelers, then on to bringing his intense and unique vocal stylings to a larger audience through singing what they used to call "The Blues." Which, to street folk from Chicago to New Orleans, meant Lou Rawls was recording R&B/pop music . . . and no one, before or since, has ever done Lou Rawls' brand of blues any better.

My own first exposure to Lou Rawls came while watching Ed Sullivan's Toast of the Town. Some sort of big black bird was shown flying over a set made to resemble a tenement district with outside iron fire escapes trellising brick buildings, with pulley-strung clotheslines stretching from window to window. It looked a lot like my neighborhood on Niagara Falls, New York's lower 13th Street . . . a street that dead-ended onto the railroad tracks that bordered the east end of town. . . a future-less kind of street where kids grew up because there was no other choice, long before the advent of community action programs or food stamps, or People United to Save Humanity. Anyway, when Lou Rawls walked through that set talking and singing about a "Dead End Street," about the wind blowing through clothes that had long lost their ability to withstand the Chicago chill... about The Hawk skimming across Lake Michigan . . . about a neighborhood like mine . . . well, the image of that set, the deep richness of Lou Rawls's voice, became as etched in my mind as the taste of my mom's molasses cookies. It is, in fact, my most vivid memory of television during that era.

Lou Rawls then is as Lou Rawls now, a vocal stylist capable of stirring up images that sometimes we don't want to remember, but somehow can't forget. He sings of life, and life is hard. And there is no doubt that life on the wrong side of the tracks is what his audiences identify with. Lou has, after all, recorded "Tobacco Road" - everyone's basic poverty song - a minimum of four times, not to mention the hundreds of times that particular ditty has made its way into his live sets in the course of his remarkable career, which spans two and a half decades and envelops the world.

Whether he's giving the patented Rawl's touch to a standard like "Stormy Monday" in one of his constant live performances at the pre-eminent venues across the country, or interpreting new music for release on the Gamble-Huff label, he has an air of accessibility, of being touchable, reachable, one of the people. His commitment to his fellowman is not a cloak he puts on at Christmas and takes off after the wrap of his Parade of Stars telethon, but rather part of the fabric of his life, the central thread in the Lou Rawls tapestry.

It's a tapestry that came close to being shredded before it was so brilliantly colored with the products of a successful career as entertainer/humanitarian. In 1958 a young Lou Rawls was on the road singing background for his friend, Sam Cooke. They were driving together, speeding through the blackness of a November night when an accident occurred that forever changed the course of Lou's life. Sam Cooke was unharmed, though he was marked by fate to live only another seven years; a third party in the automobile was killed, and Lou himself spent five and one-half days in a coma. "I got a new life . . . a second chance to clean up my act. I was jumping and partying, just having fun. Had I died at that time, I would have just been a grain of sand in the Sahara as far as my life having meaning, or my contributing something back to society. So I began reflecting and I realized that there was a purpose to the accident. If it hadn't happened, I might have lived long enough to learn about acceptance and understanding, about direction and human kindness, but I would have just been taking up time and space for a long time before I put those lessons to work."

Lou's career of service began in 1955 when he enlisted in the Army's 82nd Airborne Division, home of the "Screaming Eagles," working his way up to the rank of sergeant before rejoining his gospel group, The Pilgrim Travelers, in 1958. "We got hazardous duty pay, which I thought the recruiter said was $50 a jump . . . it turned out to be $50 a month . . . but I have great respect for the military, for the veterans who put their lives on the line for this country."

His world-wide tours of military bases and frequent visits to military hospitals give credence to his statements. "What more could anybody do," Lou asks, "than to be willing to give their lives? I'm just doing what I can to say thank you for all of us."

Throughout the years, Lou has held on to his sense of commitment and has always looked at his music as a communication tool, a way of reaching and touching his audience. Nothing pleases him more than for someone to approach him and say, "I feel like you're singing to me; how do you know what my life is like?"

Lou's sensitivity, combined with his rich voice which Ed McMahon says is "smoother than molasses," has enabled him to capture the essence of life and love on record. His very first album, Lou Rawls Live, released on Capitol, went gold and earned him national recognition. His second effort, Love Is A Hurtin' Thing, brought him his first Grammy nomination in 1966. In 1967 he did capture the statue for the previously mentioned single, "Dead End Street," and repeated the run to the winners' podium two more times over the next several years, taking home Grammys for "Natural Man," and "Unmistakably Lou." All in all, Lou has nine Grammy nominations to his credit, a pair of American Music Awards, plus two Beach Music Awards, and he also is the recipient of an honorary doctorate for his work with the United Negro College Fund.

His most recent telethon, held on December 26, 1987, resulted in the receipt of contributions in excess of $10,600,000. Overall, The Parade of Stars has presented over fifty million dollars to the UNCF, aiding 42 black colleges and thousands of eager students who would have not been able to reach for their personal stars without the help of this particular star. Additionally, the "Lou Rawls' Celebrity Golf Tournament" is presented each year as another event with its proceeds earmarked for the UNCF.

"I haven't visited Howard or Tuskegee to look at a new bank of computers, or to meet the additions to the teaching staff that these funds have made possible, though I know these things exist. I get my satisfaction when someone comes up to me and says 'Thanks for giving me a chance' . . . or a grandmother touches my arm and just kind of smiles at me, and her eyes are all misty . . . those are the moments. Those are the moments." ■

No Lou Rawls story would be complete without the mention of Lou's long-standing relationship with the Anheuser-Busch corporation, which provides corporate sponsorship and immense general support for not only the Parade of Stars telethon, but for many other shows and events that benefit the United Negro College Fund.

A Very Special Tribute

"We can never do enough to show our gratitude to Lou Rawls for his pioneering role with the Parade of Stars telethon. Lou is a man of remarkable courage and conviction. Many years ago he had the courage to follow his dreams. That landed him in Hollywood. Today, through the Parade of Stars, he shares his success with many thousands of students who are pursuing their own unique dreams."

Christopher Edley
President and Chief Executive Officer
United Negro College Fund

"I've known Lou Rawls since I was a little boy because he was, and is, a dear friend of my father's (Billy Eckstine, ed.). As a vocalist he goes beyond being one of the best, he is the definition of 'smokey-room soul.' His dedication to UNCF is something every artist should aspire to . . . in a world where many take, Lou Rawls continues to give. . . . And besides all that, his version of 'Tobacco Road' will always be on the Ekstine top 20 hit list. He's the master."

Ed Eckstine
Sr. V.P./General Manager
Wing Records

"We feel that Lou Rawls has done for Garfield what Vince Guaraldi did for Charlie Brown. He has given him a musical persona that makes him a definite cool cat. The songs used in the Garfield specials, starting from the first one, Here Comes Garfield, were all written by Desiree Goyette and Ed Bogus with Lou in mind. He has been with us for all seven Garfield specials, and will be with us for any specials we do in the future. The man is material to the event . . . there is no other singer with that particular feeling; Lou Rawls is the essence of soul."

"Lou Rawls is not only a great guy, but a natural when it comes to talent."

Tony Bennett

"Lou Rawls is a tremendous talent, and to me he will always be among the top male vocalists. He is to be commended for the enormous energy he has put into the United Negro College Fund telethon. I am very pleased to be his friend."

George Benson

"I have worked with Lou many times and have always respected his talent - his ability to relate to audiences across the board - regardless of age or background. I appreciate Lou for his commitment to people, his desire to 'give back' and I am happy to have been an integral part of his Parade of Stars telethon for the past five years."

"Lou is, in addition, of course, to being one of my favorite singers, a very wonderful close personal friend. I had been aware of the work the UNCF did to help underprivileged students get an advanced education, so when the opportunity came, in the person of Lou Rawls and in the form of the Parade of Stars telethon, for me to participate, I welcomed the chance to do whatever I could. When you think of how society will benefit for generations to come from the education UNCF is helping to provide today . . . well, it's a harvest that we as a people will be reaping for quite a long time. There's a lot of good Karma involved here. Lou Rawls is much more than a star as a singer; he's a star as a human being. I'm very proud to call him friend."

Ed McMahon

"I think Lou Rawls has one of the greatest voices ever to be captured on record. One of the greatest of all time. And he also has a consciousness, a real desire to help others. That's the best combination for success as an entertainer, and for personal success as well. He's grown from giving."

Kenny Gamble
Chairman of the Board

"The one thing that really impressed me about Lou was his total professionalism, his total cooperation. I worked him extremely hard in the studio . . . we both wanted to put out a great album. He's just a great guy to work with. It's unfortunate that Love All Your Blues Away wasn't released before certain industry situations caused the loss of product across the board. The album should have made big waves, the man is an ocean of talent."

ON JAZZ

MANCINI, HENDRICKS & MANCINI — Jon Hendricks (l) recently vocalized at Santa Monica's The Loa to benefit the Society of Singers, which is presided over by Ginny Mancini (e). That's Henry Mancini (r) hornning in on things.

POLYDAYS—PolyGram Jazz has just put out another sparkling set of CD reissues from its vaults, almost everything augmented by extra material. Don Byas on Blue Star is the rarity of the lot—23 tracks by one of the greatest tenors of them all, all recorded on 78s for a small European label. Somewhat less rare, but no less worthwhile, are Art Blakey and the Jazz Messengers' thunderous 1958 - Paris Olympia (from the Fontana catalogue), and, from Verve, Count Basie in London; Stan Getz Plays (particularly brilliant early Verve Getz); the landmark The Individualism of Gil Evans, with enough extra tracks to nearly double the playing time of the LP; Bud Powell: Jazz Giant, and Bill Evans Alone. Prime stuff this, and the beginning of what should be a momentous year of CD reissues from the folks at PolyGram Jazz.

PolyGram Jazz, as is now well known, has taken on distribution of the sister Black Saint and Soul Note labels, with PolyGram Special Imports now just a memory. The Black Saint and Soul Note catalogue represents the finest single contemporary jazz label—Italy's Giovanni Bonandrini has steadfastly recorded the artists on the cutting edge of jazz, along with some of the best of the bebop talent, winning the last four Down Beat Critics Polls for Label of the Year in the process. PSI distributed all of these records during the past few years: from the big names to the little names. The Black Saint and Soul Note catalogue numbers well over 200 items, and PSI had it all available. PolyGram Jazz, which hews closer to a "what-sells/what-doesn't sell" ethic, is going to distribute only selected items from the catalogue; their new catalogue lists just over 80 Black Saints and Soul Notes. The rest of the catalogue is, apparently, up for grabs, if a distributor wants to take on a label that's being picked over. PolyGram Jazz, at the same time, is also going to be distributing Europe's much smaller Owl, Red, Minor Music and JMT labels, dropping Sound Aspects from the PSI roster.

MILES — It must be hard for people who don't know all that much about jazz to understand the endless fascination with Miles Davis that jazz fans of every age have. Go hear his current band and you hear some okay trumpet-playing patched on to some very ordinary funk/fusion. Listen, Fantasy has just released the CD version of Miles Davis: Chronicle—The Complete Prestige Recordings on eight CDs in a box with a $125 list price. Just listen to any of this — drop the laser anywhere on these discs — and music that is so haunting, so piercing, so brilliant, and so authentically American will burn a hole into your brain. Miles Davis was one jazz genius, make no mistake about that, and this set — which covers everything between the Birth of the Cool and the Columbias (now also being reissued on CD) — is absolutely essential. A landmark CD package!

THEIR BUDDY — A Buddy Rich Scholarship Fund, for talented and needy drum students, has been established at the NYU School of Music. The Musicmasters label is going to "assist in this endeavor and is calling on the entire jazz community to lend its support." Musicmasters, which has a fondness for big bands, has just penned a deal with the Mel Lewis Orchestra, which they recorded last week during the band's 22nd (!) anniversary engagement at the Village Vanguard.

NAT "KING" — Capitol has begun an extensive Nat Cole CD reissue program and that is, for the most part, good news. Cole, of course, recorded tons of schlock for Capitol — syrupy romantic stuff that has its place, as syrupy romantic schlock always will. However, in this batch of syrup are a number of fine items — things like Just One of Those Things (And More), with charts by Billy May, and Love is the Thing (And More), with charts by Gordon Jenkins. And in this batch of syrup is one of my personal favorite albums, one of those albums that I'd tell Tower Pulse! that I'd cart away with me to a desert island. The album is After Midnight and it's released here as The Complete After Midnight Sessions. It's a simple, low-keyed jazz date, recorded in 1956, and it is glorious. Nat Cole on piano and vocals, John Collins on guitar, Charlie Harris on bass, Lee Young on drums and Stuff Smith, Harry "Sweets" Edison, Juan Tizol and altoist Willie Smith playing solos and obligattos (not together — each track has five players only). The album is positively bewitching. And this reissue (the album's been out of print for a long time) has five additional tracks — two with Edison, one each with the other guys — that are just as delightful as the rest of the album. Pure magic. In a word: perfect.

Ooh-Pop-A-Dah: Dizzy Turns 70 With A Great Performance

By Lee Jeske

NEW YORK - Forget about textbooks, grainy old newsreels and crumbly bits of newspaper for a minute. It's black history month and, without too much trouble, we can uncover a living, breathing, active piece of black history in our midst, a true giant of Afro-American culture - John Birks "Dizzy" Gillespie of Cheraw, South Carolina. One of the dozen most important jazz figures of all time, I reckon, and a man who can be called "one of the true giants of 20th Century American music" without much fear of contradiction.

That claim is made next week by noted jazz broadcaster Willis Conover at the start of Wolf Trap Salutes Dizzy Gillespie: An All-Star Tribute To The Jazz Master, a 90-minute segment of PBS' Great Performances that celebrates the 70th birthday year of the great Diz. Gillespie turned 70 last October (quietly playing some college in the midwest somewhere on the day itself); this special was taped at Wolf Trap last June. The concert was five-and-a-half hours long and was, without question, the greatest single tribute to a living jazz musician I've ever witnessed. The television production - generously spiked with old film clips - features only a teeny-weeny bit of the concert, but it does give a much-deserved hunk of national television time to a jazz figure of monumental proportions. Dizzy Gillespie, folks, is a giant.

Gillespie is too often undervalued, something that is due, in part, to his longevity, his ebullient spirit and generosity, and the fact that his greatest innovations were tied in with Charlie Parker. If Parker was the "bop," Gillespie was the "be" in bebop, but Parker lived free and died, and Gillespie shook his ass, clowning around and lived for, so far, 70 years. He wasn't weird and mysterious like Miles and Monk, wasn't wild and self-destructive like Parker, wasn't self-serious and pompous and outrageous. He's just plain Diz - quick to help out a young musician with an encouraging word or a pat on the tush, willing to take gigs anywhere anytime, happy to make fun of himself or anything else. He's also been careless about his bands - never managing to put together the kinds of razor-sharp units that, say, Art Blakey or Miles Davis were able to assemble. Nah, Dizzy Gillespie often just slaps together guys who are workmanlike players, but good foils for his unstoppable schtick. The guys are sometimes exceptional, but the sheer personality of Gillespie overwhelms them.

The show at Wolf Trap, and the Great Performances version of it, gives us the bebop, of course, but it also highlights Dizzy Gillespie's groundbreaking role in the blending of latin rhythms into jazz, focuses attention on his marvelous big bands, gives us a taste of the man as general jazz mover and shaker.

"I'm sort of a teacher," says Gillespie.

"If you play trumpet in jazz, you're influenced by Dizzy," says Wynton Marsalis. If you play jazz, period, you're influenced by Dizzy Gillespie.

The program gives us Wynton (a neo-bopper), J.J. Johnson (a bebopper), and Benny Carter (a pre-bopper) doing "Birks Works"; Dizzy, Steve Turre, Mongo Santamaria, Candido, Dave Valentin, David Amram, Jimmy Owens, Arnie Lawrence, Chris White, Ignacio Berroa, Nicky Marrero and Sam Rivers doing "Fiesta Mojo"; Flora Purim, Airto, Freddie Hubbard and others doing "Tanga"; six trumpets (Dizzy, Wynton, Freddie, Owens, Jon Fad-dis, and Vaughn Nark) doing "Tour de Force"; Dizzy, James Moody and Jon Hendricks scatting through a wild "Ooh-Pop-A-Dah"; Dizzy and Oscar Peterson dueting on "All The Things You Are"; Dizzy and Sonny Rollins (with Hank Jones, Mickey Roker and Rufus Reid) tearing up "Wheatleigh Hall"; and Dizzy and Carmen McRae dueting on "This is the End of a Beautiful Friendship." And other little snippets - an isolated Moody solo, the famous clip of Gillespie and Parker doing "Hot House," a clip of Gillespie, Max Roach and Jimmy Carter doing "Salt Peanuts," lots of talk about Dizzy, lots of delightful old stills and film clips.

The show, though, leaves out tons of stuff: particularly a bullish, all-star big band that Gillespie rehearsed meticulously for hours before the concert. There's more Dizzy and Oscar, more Dizzy and Sonny, more Dizzy and Carmen, more of everything. Those who taped the concert taped all the rehearsals (there were lots of rehearsals), taped the whole concert, taped lots of interviews. Some of the performances on the show are trimmed down - a solo gets killed here, a chorus gets removed there. But it's an important show. PBS, which serves up operas and ballets and symphonies by the platterful, generally ignores jazz. Dizzy Gillespie is an entertainer, but he's not serious enough for PBS. Jazz isn't classy enough for PBS. Jazz isn't art. So we welcome a special like this with open arms, of course, and hope it's not just the usual drop in the bucket.

Back to Gillespie for a minute. Very few of the greatest jazz innovators are still alive and even fewer are still active. There's Gillespie, Miles Davis, Roy Eldridge, Benny Carter, Lionel Hampton, a couple of others. Dizzy Gillespie's chops aren't what they used to be - on some nights they're strong (on this Wolf Trap show they're strong), on other nights they're weak - but the music he makes is vibrant, living music. He's an enormous figure in American music; somebody who should be celebrated daily, not every 70 years. Where's his Kennedy Center Honor? Where was the kind of attention paid to his 70th birthday that is routinely paid to milestone birthdays of our living classical composers? Why didn't PBS air this special around the time of his birthday rather than holding it for Black History Month?

In any case, black history means jazz, of course, and it means Duke Ellington and Louis Armstrong and Lester Young and John Coltrane and Jelly Roll Morton and Charlie Parker and all of the dead icons. But it also means John Birks "Dizzy" Gillespie and Miles Davis and Benny Carter and Roy Eldridge and Lionel Hampton and Ella Fitzgerald and other living, breathing, working icons.

Wolf Trap Salutes Dizzy Gillespie: An All-Star Tribute To The Jazz Master airs February 26th over most PBS stations. Gillespie's band is out there almost every day - at festivals, at clubs, at concerts. His records are very much in print, and his CD catalogue is growing (the recent RCA/Bluebird CD reissue of his '40s big band sides is particularly important). He's got a new record - Dizzy with strings - in the can. Last summer, he toured at the helm of a big band for the first time in ages, and the band smoked. This summer's there's talk of a Gillespie Afro-Cuban band tour.

There is history in the history books. And, sometimes, there is history right in front of our eyes.

Rap In 1987: Bigger And Deffer

By Joe Levy

This was the year that all the naysayers who thought of rap as a fad were finally silenced. Rap broke out of New York: the records showed fertile hip-hop scenes in Miami (home of 2 Live Crew and Luke Skywalker Records), Philly (home of Schooly D and Steady B), and L.A. (home of Ice T). Rap went gold: Salt-N-Pepa, Dana Dane, and Whoodini were certified by the RIAA last month. Rap went pop: LL Cool J muscled in on Barry White's territory with "I Need Love," and Salt-N-Pepa's "Push It" is currently #22 on the Cash Box Top 100 Singles Chart. No trend, no fad, and no sell-out, rap continues to grow, mutate, and bust up into the mainstream.

The facts of rap and hip-hop culture remain the same this past year as the year before, the year before that, and every year in the music's nine year recorded history (and decade plus performance history): rap was the most vital, relentlessly creative, innovative, self-renewing and modernist form of popular music.

Rap was big business, so big business got into rap. Following the triumph of RUN-DMC, who made rap crossover a reality with "Walk This Way," and the platinum success of the Beastie Boys, you could hardly expect the major labels to ignore rap.

Any more. So while the independent labels still put out most of the year's rap albums (and that's whole albums, not just singles), the majors got into the act bigger than ever.

Jive/RCA led the pack, picking up the most, and many of the best, independent rappers. They repackaged and re-released Philly gangster Schooly D's second album, Saturday Night, and released old-school master Kool Moe Dee's second album, How Ya Like Me Now? (hip-hop's most consistent full album yet, and a stone masterpiece of rhythm, attitude, and language). They also signed Boogie Down Productions, minus DJ Scott La Rock, who was tragically gunned down last August. BDP's Criminal Minded, on the independent B-Boy Records, was the underground sensation of the year. Jive also put out Whoodini's Open Sesame.

Warner Bros. signed a distribution deal with Cold Chillin' Records and released M.C. Shan's Down By Law. Sire issued Ice T's Rhyme Pays. Warner Bros. also has a L.A. rap compilation, Rhyme Syndicate, due out in March.

MCA put out Heavy D. And Boyz's Living Large, one of the six rap albums currently on the Cash Box Top 100 Albums Chart. Capitol signe

Gavin Seminar Wrap-Up

By Tom De Savia

LOS ANGELES – Last weekend marked the "Third Annual Gavin Seminar For Media Professionals" held in San Francisco, CA. The convention, a gathering of radio moguls, record industry execs and others, annually provides attendees with informative, interesting and sometimes controversial seminars dealing with all aspects of radio.

The several seminars held over the three-day meeting encompassed nearly all formats of radio; dealing with such topics as promotion, marketing and programming.

1988's keynote speaker, author and radio and television personality Linda Ellerbee, addressed the audience with humorous and poignant tales of her experiences in the radio and television mediums. She spoke candidly about the difficulties she encountered, problems she overcame, and eventually triumphs received throughout her career.

Among the more notable seminars: "The Inevitable Top 40 And Urban/Contemporary Face-Off!," where representatives from both formats openly and candidly discussed their accomplishments, as well as problems encountered at their respective stations - the "Face-Off" was "refereed" by WBMX/Chicago's Lee Michaels; "The Third Annual Album/Alternative Cutting Edge Show," hosted by Sire Records VP Howie Klein, featured discussion with Reprise recording artist Bryan Ferry, actor and Elektra recording artist Ruben Blades, KCPX/Salt Lake City Program Director Lou Simon, CFNY/Toronto Program Director Don Berns, and Columbia recording artist T Bone Burnett (who also performed a couple of songs acoustically); "The Leaning Tower Of Top Forty" in which Sunny Joe White of WXKS/Boston, WKTI/Milwaukee's Tim Fox, John Robert of KEGL/Dallas, and LIVE 105/San Francisco's Richard Sand along with host Dave Sholin addressed the validity of the phrase "All the hits, all the time."

Other seminars included "Adult Contemporary/The First 15 Years And The Next Generation," "Urban/Contemporary: Ratings And Revenue - Are You Getting Your Fair Share," "State-Of-The-Art Production On A State-Of-The-Economy Budget," "Marketing: Making The Most Of Your Radio Station," "The Dirty Dancing Soundtrack Phenomenon - How Movies And Music Rocked Radio," "Filling The Airwaves With Jazz - A Music Radio Clinic" and "Marketing Country."

Sleeping Bag rap duo Mantronix, whose In Full Effect is sure to join Heavy D on the charts soon. Def Jam/Columbia continued their success story with LL Cool J's second record and the earth rattling debut from hip-hop's heaviest group of militants yet, Public Enemy.

4th & Broadway/Island hit big with Eric B and Rakim's Paid In Full, which sold like mad and inspired the dance/hip-hop smash "Pump Up The Volume" by M/A/R/R/S. The same sampling technology that fueled that British studio collage made Stock Aitken Waterman's "Roadblock" possible, and was in fact responsible for the backing tracks of most rap records this year. Digitally sampled drum beats, horn parts, bass lines, and guitar riffs were pieced together with remarkable sophistication, and remarkable disregard for copyright laws. Though there's probably nothing wrong with piecing together drum beats from one song and the bass line from another, Eric B and Rakim's "I Know You Got Soul" takes just about all there is of Bobby Byrd's song by the same name, and somebody can expect a call from some lawyer sometime soon. Sampling James Brown records was the major fad (this list is just too long, but start with Eric B, Spoonie G's "The Godfather," and Kool Moe Dee's "How Ya Like Me Now?"), and Brown is said to be suing, or thinking of suing, but no one can say who, where, or when. By the time this is all settled, if ever, hip-hop will have moved on, you can be sure. The latest trend is sampling Elvis Presley records.

As far as production and trend setting go, the major talents were Herby Azor, known as the Super Def Produca Herby Luv Bug, and Bill Stephney, Hank Shocklee and Carl Ryder who together produced Public Enemy's Bum Rush The Show. Azor had huge smashes with Dana Dane and Salt-N-Pepa and earned himself a showcase on Next Plateau, Herby's Machine. He compresses hip-hop, funk, and pop into one space, without much regard for anything but good times. In that regard, much of his work has the feel of the party jams of Sugarhill Records. The Public Enemy crew are interested in creating the most innovative, in-your-face sound around. Their hard-edged work is political in form and content: it sounds black and it sounds angry.

And of course, the independent labels that for years nurtured and eventually broke rap continued to do the lion's share of research and development. Fresh Records put out the new Just Ice LP. The Ultra Magnetic MC's released singles on Next Plateau that were amazing. Profile had Dana Dane and the great Sweet Tee, whose single "It's Like That Ya'll" was one of the year's best. Stetson put out On Fire and a single,

"A.F.R.I.C.A.," on Tommy Boy. Spoonie Gee's comeback LP, The Godfather, was on Tuff City Records out of Long Island City. Miami rap continued to grow (though not get a whole lot better) with the M-4 Sers' I Am A Star on JR Records. MC Lyte got plenty of press and airplay in New York with her street rap "I Cram To Unstand U (Sam)" on First Priority. Rap may have bum rushed the boardroom, but the beat went on with the indies.

Bolton

ton collaborated not only with Cain and Warren, but with Keith Diamond (whose credits include Mick Jagger and Billy Ocean). Diamond also produced several tracks. Other writers include Martin Briley, Eric Kaz, Bob Halligan and Neil Schon.

As a writer and producer in his own right, Bolton produced two cuts from Cher's new Geffen album, which is doing extremely well. He has written songs for the Pointer Sisters and Laura Branigan. However, his first love remains writing and singing his own tunes. "I enjoy producing, but, since you asked, I don't want to spend my whole life in the studio. Sometimes I get nuts in front of a mixing board, I just wanna get out! If I had a choice, I'd write - I now write 30, maybe 35 songs a year. And of course I love to sing."

Bolton credits Ray Charles as a major influence on his singing. "I have a big Motown influence, and Ray Charles especially. He's had an effect on so many people. Take Joe Cocker, he's so close to Ray Charles you wouldn't believe it. You can take things off of their records and play them back to back, every line and inflection, you'd be shocked. Michael McDonald, James Ingram, also all big Ray Charles fans."

Bolton has appeared on numerous TV shows including Late Night, Solid Gold, American Bandstand, Top of the Pops. He's especially excited about a show in Memphis, a tribute to the classics, which will include Booker T. and Steve Cropper serving as a back-up players for "Dock..."

"The main thing I want to accomplish," concludes Bolton, "is the continuation of the present. I wanna write songs for other people and do my own albums, and of course do some heavy touring." If the future is anything like the present, Michael Bolton can do exactly what he wants for as long as he likes.

Day

For all his lightness and sensuality, Morris Day is acutely aware of the limitations he operates under in an industry with blatant racial categorizations. "It's a fine line, there are politics to be considered in music making. I'm not the kind of artist that can come out with a pop record and

35 YEARS AGO IN CASH BOX

February 28, 1953 - The death of Hank Williams continues to be the hottest music story of the year. That the country would be stunned was expected. That the press would carry minute details of the western artist's life was expected. That tributes from all segments of the music industry would be forthcoming was expected. That an upsurge in the sale of Williams disks would follow was expected. But the tremendous hold that the chanter had on the hearts of the listening public was totally unexpected. No one could deny that the singer was held in great esteem and was deeply beloved by all. But the overpowering extent of the grip this country boy had on his public could never have been fully realized were it not for his unfortunate early death. Within a matter of a few short days, the rush to market Hank Williams tributary disk was on. Every company, major and indie, issued eulogies in the form of hymns, orations, or direct chats with the deceased Hank Williams. Very rarely, in the record biz, does more than one recording make it big. But this is no ordinary circumstance. It seems that almost every disk released with this theme has found a ready market. It was the practice of Frank Walker, MGM prexy, to write Williams on the first of each year. This year, although the western singer-writer was already dead, Walker wrote the letter nevertheless. The missive was so fine a tribute and so tenderly done that The Cash Box asked permission to reproduce it in full. The letter started a chain of events that culminated finally in the issuance of a record by disc jockey Jimmy Swan of WFOR, Hattiesburg, Miss., on which Swan read the Walker letter... "The Last Letter" opens with the slow tender chanting of a hymn.

alienate my black foundation that I've established at black radio. I don't really think there is such a thing as a pop song, or a black song. When a song catches on there's no formula that makes it pop and not R&B."

Day talked about the album, and his thematic planning. "I like to create a whole visual concept for an album. The song "Daydreaming" explains it. It's about a woman dreaming about being with Morris, having a great time, riding in his Rolls-Royce, and wearing fur coats - it's an index. Now "Love is A Game", out of the Jam and Lewis workshop, it's explaining that love is a give and take.

I'm not here trying to dominate. So there's both sides."

As far as the future, Morris Day would like to do more films. He hasn't done one since Purple Rain because he's choosy about roles. "I read more scripts than 20th Century Fox does! I've read nearly 40% of the scripts that were completed as films in the last two years. In the meantime, the rent's paid. If I was a starving actor I'd be out there going for everything."

One thing can be said for sure, Morris Day is firmly in control of his career, and will proceed only when he's ready. And he's is now ready.

DAVID PUTTNAM DIVISIONARY PRODUCER COMMENTS ON THE STATE OF THE FILM INDUSTRY - This week we're devoting our entire column to recent comments of London-born David Puttnam, film producer extraordinaire. He is unique, because here is a producer who is not just a deal-maker, but a filmmaker - a man who sees movies not so much as "industry", but as an opportunity to advance the cause of art, of education, of mankind. Such high aspirations are grounded in a keen sense of the commercial; his films have enjoyed critical and popular success - among them are Midnight Express, Chariots of Fire, Killing Fields and The Mission. He is credited for having helped launch the careers of several great young directors including Alan Parker, Ridley Scott, Michael Apted, Roland Joffe and Adrian Lyne. In fact Puttnam received the Eastman Second Century Award on Feb. 9th for his encouragement of young talent. Despite his recent departure from Columbia Pictures, he remains the conscience of Hollywood, a man with the courage to make meaningful, important films.

"The crisis the industry has suffered," says Puttnam, "And one of the things that makes films cost -more than they need, and creates the kind of neurosis that we all work with, is the narrowness of the talent base. It isn't because there are not enough gifted people around. It's narrow because the insecurity of the industry makes it that way. People would rather give a movie to the wrong director who has a good name which they can then hide behind. They'll do that rather than take a chance on the person who might be exactly the right director. The fear is that if it goes wrong somebody will say 'well why did you choose him?' It is fear of blame, fear of getting it wrong, fear of failing. But you can't have that dominate a creative environment. A creative environment cannot be dominated by a fear of failure. It's not possible if our industry is to creatively develop.

David Puttnam

"This is a fear driven society and I sometimes think deliberately so, because what fear does is place power in a very few hands. If you can create an atmosphere, an environment of fear, it allows very few people to take control. In a society, in an environment where there is no fear, power becomes devolved from the center and more people are answerable for the quality of their work.

"We've somehow got to create a cushion whereby the very best and brightest people who come into the industry don't become cynics in their first three years and then just become part of the problem. I really believe in the saying 'If you're not part of the solution, then you're part of the problem.' We've got to make all these kids part of the solution and not just additional baggage for the industry to carry.

"I think the industry should be aggressively investing in training, particularly of minorities. The industry's record in hiring minorities is appalling. Women are slowly getting it together. I think that the relationship between the training process and the industry should be redefined. In Europe, it's about being involved, being part of a great movie. It's being part of the process. In Europe the process comes first, here the business comes first.

"I have a question I keep asking and nobody ever answers it. I'm told directors, actors and their agents have never been in a stronger position. If this is true, that the artists are beginning to take control of the industry, and if this has been true for a few years, why are most pictures so bad? That question in Europe would form the nub of a very important debate.

"I sincerely believe that most people within the studios on the day they entered the industry were positively motivated. The problem is they've been so battered and made so cynical by the time they had any kind of position of responsibility that they find it difficult to function. There is this lovely thing...on the inside of the desk of George Bernard Shaw when he died...there was a quotation that said 'Be true to the dreams of your youth.' And that's what it seems the motion picture industry consistently fails to do."

on to become an international star of the first magnitude, and we're proud, once again, to be playing a part in his extraordinary career."

Rogers has other ties with members of the Warner Brothers family, too. For example, current head of Warner Brothers' Nashville operations, Jim Ed Norman, was a member of a band called Shiloh in the early 70's. Kenny Rogers was so impressed with the band that he secured an Amos Records recording deal for them, and served as their producer. Norman said, "I'm thrilled to be involved with Kenny Rogers, especially since our relationship dates back to the early 70's. It is with great personal enthusiasm and excitement that I look forward to working with the man who made such a big contribution to music and the world."

Kenny Rogers echoed the sentiment from his side of the fence, "The enthusiasm and professionalism of the Warner staff has contributed to the company's endurance as a major force in the record industry. They know that making music can be fun, exciting and, with a little luck, successful. Having the opportunity to work with old friends like Jim Ed Norman and Mo Ostin again really makes it feel like a homecoming!"

International singing star, actor, photographer and humanitarian Kenny Rogers has been signed to an exclusive worldwide recording contract with Warner Brothers Records, it was announced by Warner Brothers board chairman Mo Ostin.

Houstonian Rogers began his illustrious professional career in 1966, when he was recruited for the New Christy Minstrels. One year later, he formed The First Edition and signed with Reprise Records. Following three huge record successes, the group was re-billed as Kenny Rogers and The First Edition. The group had scores of hits while on Reprise and performed together until 1975.

"Love Lifted Me" was Rogers' debut solo album and, by his second effort, "Kenny Rogers," he had earned a Grammy for Best Country Vocal Performance, and a gold single, both for the hit "Lucille." What followed were releases that would earn him 15 American Music Awards, 6 Academy of Country Music Awards, 4 Country Music Association Awards, a second Grammy (for "The Gambler") and several People's Choice honors. His record sales have made him one of RIAA's most-awarded artists in their platinum certifications program.

Kenny Rogers has also made his mark in other areas of the arts. He has made five CBS television specials, five television movies, and a full-length feature motion picture. Rogers has also had two books of his photography published.

Warner Brothers board chairman Mo Ostin was part of Reprise Records when Kenny Rogers and The First Edition called the label "home." It's with some degree of nostalgia that Ostin comments, "It's great to welcome Kenny back to the Warner Brothers' family. We're proud to have been there in the beginning. Since then, of course, Kenny has gone

ALBUM REVIEW

JOHN ANDERSON - Blue Skies Again - MCA, 42037

The title cut starts this LP off in a pleasant manner. The best way to describe the arrangement may be "slow swing." John Anderson is a true country singer, with a rare mellow quality to his sound. However, John has added some extra expression and feeling on his latest releases. For example, one can hear the "giving up" in his performance of "Quittin' Time." Two singles have been taken from this album..both of them winners: "Somewhere Between Ragged And Right" and "When Your Yellow Brick Road Turns Blue."

PAKE McENTIRE - My Whole World - RCA, 6607-1-R

"Good God, I Had It Good," his latest single, is the first cut, but there is much more to this album. The mood changes and tempos offer the listener a good variety. Pake is at his best, and there are some fine arrangements and featured pickers on this product. RCA should be proud of the results. "Ruby Baby" sounds fine. There is some of that late 50's rock 'n roll timber in Pake's vocal. We were impressed with "Somebody's Baby". It shows the tender side of Pake McEntire. Excellent overall production and product.

OUT OF THE BOX

BARBARA MANDRELL (EMI America, B-43042) Angels Love Bad Men (3:20) (Tom Collins, Waylon Jennings-BMI) (W. Jennings, R. Murrah) (Producer: T. Collins)

Barbara and Waylon Jennings team up on this song, written by Waylon and Roger Murrah. The sound comes out great. Beautiful and sincere vocals. We're not sure the title thought always holds true, but it's an intriguing thought. The storyline compares the "bad men" of yesteryear with the modern specimen of the same. The melody, with the minors, is haunting. It's a different direction for Barbara, and it surely sounds good. We look for fantastic chart results.

FEATURE PICKS

SKIP EWING (MCA, 53271) Your Memory Wins Again (3:05) (Acuff-Rose, Milene-BMI/ASCAP) (S. Ewing, M. Geiger, W. Mullis) (Producers: J. Bowen, S. Ewing)

MCA should be beaming over this new artist. All of you chart watchers, get ready! Let's all do some "get-down" dancin' and country rockin' with Skip. His vocal performance is smooth and flowing in up-tempo form. Fantastic beat, and the ride sounds feature super pickin', piano and bass. Production is outstanding.

DWIGHT YOAKAM (Reprise, 7-27994-A) Always Late With Your Kisses (2:10) (Peer International, Rightsong-BMI) (L. Frizzell, B. Crawford) (Producer: P. Anderson)

Yoakam takes this old Lefty Frizzell song and curls his vocal around it so many times that he wraps it up for keeps. It features the Bakersfield beat, of course, and some solid steel and fiddle sounds. The arrangement is an attention-getter. It's country all the way, again..but, then, Yoakam knows a good thing, right?

MEL TILLIS (Mercury, 870 192-7) You'll Always Come Back (3:05) (Anlon, Go-Glo-ASCAP) (N. Mailer, A. Badalamenti) (Producers: H. Shedd, A. Badalamenti)

The title of the song is appropriate. Mel Tillis comes back again with a great performance on his new release. Soft and beautiful arrangement and production. Strong and basic country lyrics are set to a symphony of sound. Oh, yes, Mel has a winner-of-a-release aimed straight at country hearts. Great job all the way around.

MICKEY SMILES ON MOTHER'S DAY. While Mickey Gilley was in Los Angeles to be a presenter on the American Music Awards telecast, he and his son, Greg, were guests on Joan Lunden's "Mother's Day" show. Greg is pursuing a career in the heavy metal music field. Joan questioned Mickey and Greg about their different views and tastes in music. The show will air in late Spring. Left to right, Greg, Joan and Mickey all look very happy with the results of the interview.

HANK, JR. LEADS THE PARTY FUN. Hank Williams, Jr. led the parties on the Nashville set of his new Warner Bros. video "Young Country," which was released as a single and music video recently. Looking over the crowd, you will note some other famous faces of the young country group. The single is currently climbing the charts for Hank, Jr..

NASHVILLE NOTE-ABLES

Tony McGill...The Pearl of Pearl, Mississippi!

Tony McGill sat rather shyly on the couch during the first few minutes of our conversation. I was impressed with his manners and personality. Tony is a very successful "Indie artist," who records on the Killer Records label. Taken in comparative context, the record label name seems to be completely wrong for this handsome young man. However, when one considers the successes of his records, he has had some "killers"!

Tony's latest single, "For Your Love," was another chart climber for the native of Pearl, Mississippi ("just across the river from Jackson"). He has reached the #1 position on our Indie Charts more than once. Tony McGill is polite and grateful. "I'm really pleased that the Indie artists are getting so much airplay. And, the deejays have gone back to telling the listeners who the artist is on the record. Seems like we're getting back to what's important to the listener in radio. They're taking requests, and the stations are starting to play what they really like, again..no matter what label it's on."

Tony McGill has a manager named Jackie Thompson, who is very proud of Tony's success and appeal as a country singer. Jackie hosts a weekly TV show in Jackson, Mississippi and, of course, when

Tony isn't out on the road doing personal appearances, he appears on Jackie's show. The show has a 50's format and promotes the same feel as Tony's own opinions of music. "I like good ol' country music," says Tony, "but I love the new things, too. I like music and lyrics which relate to the average person."

"Country music has always been my choice. I never wanted to be rock and roll. But, I believe the rock and roll of the fifties is much like a lot of today's country music. Our music is getting stronger all the time. Country has a big slice of the pie, now. I see a lot more young fans coming our way."

Killer Records producer, Tommy Dee, has produced all six of Tony's chart records, and Tony was quick to give him a lot of well-deserved credit. The products have been first class all the way, and Tony credits Tommy Dee's professionalism as the key to their steady success.

Tony McGill does a lot of touring in Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi. He has built a huge following of fans in that area of the country. He has been a featured act for seven consecutive years at the Mississippi State Fair. Why not?! Tony McGill performs songs with real feeling. He is one of the best at song interpretation.

Tony has that humble shyness which surfaced, and captured the fancy of a nation, in another young man from Mississippi in the late 50's. Don't get me wrong. I'm not comparing Tony to Elvis except in manner. Tony will be embarrassed even at that. But, I am comparing him to his competition of today. He's a star. He may not yet be the biggest light in the country music skies, but just go see one of his performances...and watch him shine!

Joe Henderson

INDIE SPOTLIGHT

JOHNNY RUSSELL & LITTLE DAVID WILKINS (16th Avenue, B-70406) It's Quittin' Time (2:12) (Tree, Crosskeys-ASCAP/BMI) (R. Hellard, M. Garvin, B. Jones) (Producer: J. Bradley)

Johnny Russell and Little David do some country rockin' on this release. The tempo and the beat will keep you jumpin'. The guys have a good time with this one. And, when I say "guys," the musicians are certainly included. We really enjoyed the arrangement with a lot of "hot" piano and plenty of great fill sounds. If you're driving home from "quittin' time," with this one on the radio, be sure to stay within the speed limit. You'll want to speed up automatically.

DARK HORSE CONSENSUS

BOBBY G. RICE - A Night Of Love Forgotten - Door Knob, DK 88-295

According to the majority of our reporting radio stations, Bobby G. Rice has the record to keep your eye on. The talent of Bobby G. Rice has been recognized, once again, as he gained the Dark Horse Consensus this week. Some of the many stations giving Bobby their vote were: WAGI, KFGO, WKKN, WJJC, WKCW, WSDS, KBOE and KJUN.

INDIE LP REVIEW

MAURA SULLIVAN

MAURA SULLIVAN - If You Want My Love - Playback, PL-13008

Oh, my goodness! What a talented and unique vocalist this beautiful young lady is! I'm taking this LP home with me. Maura is convincing no matter what the tempo. If you want to hear a "different" voice, just turn your ear to Maura Sullivan. "Never Like This" is simply stunning, and "Trouble" is an up-tempo number, which Maura conquers in fine fashion. This lady could be the discovery of the year in country music. She's exceptionally talented, beautiful, intelligent and versatile! If you see this one on the shelf, buy it! It could become a collector's item.

ROZ BOWIE - Dixie - Bluestem, BM-42387

If you're looking for something different and touching to add to your collection, look no farther. This product is strong in both categories! Roz Bowie has a fine voice, and this talented black singer does a six minute version of "Dixie" which is simply beautiful. Roz sings some verses of the "Southern Anthem" which you have probably never heard. There is much more on the album, too. Roz has that same patriotic sincerity, and universal appeal, Kate Smith had. The old favorites are here, and some fine new compositions. "Take Me Home" is a memorable selection done Roz Bowie style.

IT'S A HIT!

RAPPIN' WITH THE WRITERS: DAVID CHAMBERLAIN

In fun, I asked David Chamberlain if, like Picasso did, he was going through his "blue period". However, when one realizes that his latest two hit songs were "Have I Got Some Blues For You", recorded by Charley Pride, and "Am I Blue", recorded by George Strait, it is obvious that David Chamberlain is anything but blue.

David started singing in Texas barrooms, around his hometown of Ft. Worth, when he was 18. His uncle was a songwriter, and he always encouraged David to write. After moving to Houston, where he sold furniture during the day and performed at night, David decided to come to Nashville in 1976. It was an overnight decision.

He met Bud Logan (now a well-known producer) and they became good friends. "Bud told me to go to Tree Publishing and hang around," said David. "It didn't take long, listening to those great writers, to realize that I had a lot of growing to do." Nearly a year later, David signed with Tree. He spent four years as a writer for them, and he did grow in a hurry.

After David left Tree, Ronnie Gant signed him at Acuff-Rose Publishing (since acquired by the Opryland Music Group). The country artists have been good to David and vice-versa. Just to name a few, David has had cuts by George Strait, Charley Pride, Conway Twitty, Keith Whitley, Ronnie McDowell, Tammy Wynette, Johnny Duncan, Barbara Fairchild, Sammi Smith, Johnny Paycheck, Dottie West, Gene Watson, Donna Fargo...and many more.

He is now recording on the Country International label, and recently recorded the highest jump ever on a national chart by an indie artist. His recording of "I Owe, I Owe" jumped 14 places on the charts in one week, after receiving a Cash Box Indie pick.

AROUND THE ROUTE

Caught up with Bally Midway prexy Joe Dillon just before he left for San Francisco (11) to complete the final cycle of the Bally Midway traveling show—the star of which is the factory's hot, new "Escape To The Lost World" pingame. The firm just reinstated this program of regional presentations and the response thusfar has been super. As Joe said, "We feel comfortable taking our product to the customers" (which is something the factory hasn't done for a good many years) and it's a move that is doubly gratifying from an economic standpoint in that distributors don't have to spend big bucks traveling out to factory headquarters from all corners of the country. With this new series of regional events Bally Midway has gone a step further than the norm by holding an open forum with area operators (immediately following the luncheon presentation for distribs) which has provided a lot of very valuable information and feedback, as Joe noted. He feels very strongly about the program and suggests that to make it even more effective, two manufacturers could get together and hold their respective showings on the same day, right in the distributor's backyard so to speak, to avoid any conflict in dates and to benefit everyone involved. Worth thinking about... Meanwhile, "Escape To The Lost World" is doing just beautifully on test, Joe told us, and it was very well received at both the ATE and IMA shows. This time around, Bally pulled out all stops, hosted their own booth space at the foreign shows, and had a contingent of execs from Bally corporate (headed by Bob Mullane, Roger Keese and Bill Pel-tier) along with members of the design team to further emphasize their activities in the European market... It's not often that we can keep Joe Dillon on the phone for more than a couple of minutes but we lucked out so we also learned about a new piece they've licensed from a developer in Japan. This is their first licensed piece in quite some time. It's called "Rabbit Punch" and it will be released as a kit—and no, it is not a boxing game. By Joe's description, it's more in the loight hearted vein, where the main character is the rabbit whose mission is to save the bunny princess. Players can buy in up to a certain point but, thereafter, they must employ skill to go all the way. Watch for it!

From out of the past, Joe Cal Cagno called the Cash Box office this week to chat a little and find out what's happening in the industry. It was nice meeting him by phone. He told us about a record he did some 18-20 years ago, called "Hava Nagelah" on the Skylight label, which was very successful on jukeboxes. He's thinking about a possible re-make and we are wishing him well if he decides to do it.

Dateline Phoenix, where we spoke with general manager Sal DeBruno of Betson Pacific, at the facilities of the newest member of the BP network. As previously reported in Cash Box, Betson Pacific acquired Phoenix Coin-Op Dist. early this year. Right now, Sal is concentrating on making arrangements for the big gala they're planning for March 24, which will be a combination open house, grand opening and post-ACME '88 showing! As Sal was telling us, the transition went very smoothly and without interruption. "We're doing very well out here," he said, "We have all the major lines and a terrific crew for back-up." Incidentally, this coming April, Sal will celebrate his 49th year in coinbiz! He started out while still in his teens, working after school, initially doing deliveries and repairs. He's chalked up a lot of experience, both in operating and distributing, over the years and has made a million friends. We congratulate him on his upcoming anniversary and wish him continued success. Here's to the next 49, Sal!

All set to go! Clyde Knupp, chairman of the Jukebox Promotion Committee, items that all five jukebox manufacturers have pledged contributions to the JPC Fund, meaning there will now be some money to at least get started on various programs they are planning. Next move is to solicit financial support from the distributor community and Clyde is optimistic that this, too, will come to pass. One of the first projects the Committee is launching (in conjunction with National Jukebox Month this coming November) is the preparation of a brochure, outlining the advantages of the jukebox in terms of entertainment value, earning power, et al, which ops can use as a sales tool at the location level. A Jukebox Month poster is also on the planning board. Another idea under consideration is a video, focusing on how to market the jukebox, which would be made available to distributors. "Our aim is to provide operators with sales aids and all of the essentials for promoting the jukebox and dealing with locations," said Clyde. On March 29, the Jukebox Promotion Committee will travel to New Jersey to meet with curator Charlie Hummel and view his extensive collection of jukebox memorabilia, which includes some of the very first phonographs ever produced. Clyde told us there's a strong possibility Hummel might host an exhibit at AMOA

Expo '88, showcasing some of this historic jukebox material. The Committee has a comprehensive campaign on the planning board which, with the funding they need, will be in full force over the next several months.

State association news. ICMOA, the Illinois state ops association, is looking to set a new record for this year's combination pool/darts tournament. They're expecting 3500 people in Peoria, IL for the big event, April 8-10. As of now, the state group has already sold 20 exhibits for their annual convention, scheduled for June 10-12 at Pheasant Run in St. Charles, IL and executive veepee Art Seeds tells us they anticipate that several more exhibitors will climb aboard by showtime. On the legislative scene, ICMOA and its sister association the Chicago Metropolitan Music & Amusement Assn. have been on constant watch with respect to a proposed resolution in Chicago that would put curtailments on arcades and game rooms located within a certain radius of schools, during the hours of 8 am and 3 pm. Through the efforts of both organizations, there's been a delay on the ordinance. At the February 4 ICMOA board meeting a number of resolutions were adopted, including one supporting the Coin Coalition's drive to develop a dollar coin. The association also expressed support of Toledo, Ohio operator Bill Beckham (Red Baron Amusements) in his efforts to clarify the issue of parallel boards. More details on this subject later.

At presstime we learned that some Colorado operators are up in arms over the possibility of video lottery machines being employed out there.

New Kit From Konami

CHICAGO - "Haunted House" is the latest kit in release from Konami. It's a horizontal monitor kit, for one or two players, and it is equipped with one joystick and two buttons (attack/power up jump) for controlling the game action. In addition, Haunted House offers the continuation feature.

The scenario presents a unique "honeymoon" twist where the player's wife has been kidnapped by the evil Vampire and the groom must fearlessly embark on a quest to find his missing bride. He begins his mission with a whip as his only weapon; however he can obtain a more powerful weapon (chain or sword) by destroying specific enemies. As certain enemies are destroyed the player collects small and large hearts which appear on the screen and the amount of hearts collected determines the number of time a power-up item can be used. The power-up items include a torch, for burning the enemies; dynamite for blowing them up; a boomerang for destroying all enemies in front; a timer for freezing the enemies and a cross that can radiate destructive crosses.

There are six bone-chilling stages that confront the player throughout the course of the mission and each presents an assortment of creepy adversaries. The stages include a graveyard, complete with skeletons, bats, the living dead and a wicked mermaid guarding the burial ground; a cave, containing all sorts of boogeymen and hidden enemies; a banquet room, where knights, dwarfs and scary phantoms are encountered; a basement, a clocktower and, finally, a vampire's room - all presenting spine-chilling challenges. At the climaxing stage of play, when the player finally annihilates the vampire he rescues his bride and they live happily ever after!!

Further information about the new kit may be obtained through factory distributors or by contacting Konami, Inc. at 815 Mittel Drive, Wood Dale, IL 60191.

Consumer Video Sales Top $13.1 Billion in 1987

CHICAGO - Consumer electronics manufacturers set record sales in color TVs, camcorders and VCRs in 1987.

Year-end data released by EIA's Consumer Electronics Group shows over 19.3 million color TVs were sold in 1987, the most sold in the product's 34-year history.

With 1987 sales of over 13.3 million units, the household penetration of VCRs now stands at 52 percent with approximately 12 percent of the households first-time buyers. While VCR sales enjoyed a modest increase of 1 percent last year, the camcorder category, the "hottest" video product, jumped more than 37.3 percent to over 1.6 million units.

Waco Hosts Dynamo's 'Challenge The Champs'

CHICAGO—The sport of air hockey was big news in Waco, Texas the weekend of January 23-24. The agenda included "Challenge The Champs" exhibitions, a charity fundraiser, and a national rankings challenge match featuring a full lineup of top players. The festivities attracted extensive newspaper, television and radio coverage.

The promotional activities began on Saturday afternoon at the Lake Air Mall, home of the Videoasis game room. Videoasis co-owner Larry Burns and Dynamo's Mark Robbins put the event together it took center stage at the busy shopping mall. The championship Exhibition featured Robbins, a 2-time winner; and Patrice Nale of Houston, a 4-time national women's champion. Also on hand were Paul Marshall of Dallas, Mike Nelson of Houston, and Mike Barry of Philadelphia, all highly ranked players. Challengers had the option of making a $2 donation to the Waco Animal Shelter which realized a total of $100 from the event.

The evening activities shifted to Just For Fun II, an arcade located near Baylor University which has been enjoying success with Dynamo Air Hockey. A full turnout of young people and adults lined up to challenge the champs.

On Sunday, the action returned to Lake Air Mall, with an official U.S. Air Table Hockey Association challenge match featuring Mike Barry (#13 U.S.) versus Paul Marshall (#5 U.S.). Marshall dominated the match, prevailing 4 sets to 0.

Mary Harrington, co-owner of Videoasis, reported that interest in the newly formed air hockey league has soared since the promotion and plans are underway to send the winners of the league to the March nationals in Houston.

Pictured in the accompanying photos are (photo 1, r) two-time winner Robert Hernandez, faring off with one of the young challengers;
