ON THE COVER

ALABAMA

BY KIMMY WIX

AND THE LIST GOES ON... Unlike many artists who have achieved enormous success throughout their musical careers, super group Alabama has maintained an on-going, thriving success story. It's a story which can hardly be described without actually utilizing a list of accomplishments. Then of course, using a mere list to describe a group which has been honored with over 200 awards, seems a bit insufficient. Nevertheless, when describing a Cash Box and ACM Artist Of The Decade recipient, one really has no choice but to stick to the list.

Alabama, a country-rooted band that has numerous times, crossed over to the pop charts, is listed as an Artist Of The Decade, but why? If we're sticking to the list, a logical answer would perhaps be that Alabama has recorded approximately 15 albums and has released over 30 singles since 1980. Most of those singles are listed as number-ones—and the list goes on.

Selling more than 50 million albums throughout their recording history, would certainly fit in somewhere near the top of the list. Still another high-on-the-list attribute would be Alabama's nine-year contribution to the famed June Jam, of which the group takes pride in hosting annually. And if there are any other charitable events which benefit from the highest of credibility and devotion, one can certainly rely on Alabama to be included on the list.

Most recently added to what seems to be a list of eternity, is another number-one single entitled "Down Home," which sparks from Alabama's current Pass It On Down project. "Down Home," penned by Rick Bowles and Josh Leo, has also been licensed for a special on-air promotion campaign currently being launched on behalf of the critically-acclaimed comedy series, Down Home, starring Judith Ivey. Both the Network Television Division of Paramount Pictures and NBC-TV joined forces to license the song.

Since there's no actual end to Alabama's long list of accomplishments, perhaps the most appropriate way to describe the group is with simply a list of four names: Randy Owen, Teddy Gentry, Jeff Cook and Mark Herndon—and from there, the list goes on...

FIRED AT POINT BLANK RANGE: Charisma Records recently celebrated the birth of its new blues-oriented Point Blank label with a tour featuring its artists Albert Collins, The Kinsey Report and Larry McCray. Before the start of the tour, dubbed the "Point Blank Revue," label executives and Point Blank artists got together at a rehearsal in New York. Pictured (front row, l-r) are: Collins; Charisma president Phil Quartararo; Donald Kinsey of the Kinsey Report and Larry McCray; (back row, l-r) The Kinsey Report's Kenneth Kinsey; Joanna Spock Dean, associate director, A&R for Charisma; Jeff Fenster, vice president, A&R, Charisma; and Point Blank head John Wooler.

KING OF THE HILL AND THE HARD ROCK PILE: Producer Beau Hill, known for producing such hard rock acts as Warrant, Ratt and Winger, has joined the Los Angeles-based Interscope Records as a partner. Hill's duties will include producing as well as discovering and developing talent. Himself a singer, musician and songwriter, Hill was lead singer and keyboardist for the band Airborne, which recorded an album for Columbia Records.

ON A VERY SAD NOTE, Cash Box joins with many people in the industry in mourning the passing of Ron Baron who died on April 13 in Los Angeles after a lengthy illness at the age of 42. Baron served as West Coast editor for Cash Box during the early seventies and later in various posts with ASCAP, and public relations firms, most notably Norman Winter, Assoc. where he was senior vice president. In 1987, with partner Richard Weaver, he launched Tale Weaving Publishing which became a successful boutique publishing house on the West Coast. The duo also formed public relations firm PR Works. Baron is survived by two sisters Robin and Liz, their families and his father, all residing in Southern California. In lieu of flowers, contributions or donations can be sent to the Harmony Workshop at 2049 Pacific Coast Hwy. #205, Lomita, CA 90717 (213-660-0219).

LOS ANGELES PHILHARMONIC: Ernest Fleischmann, managing director for the Los Angeles Philharmonic, has announced a new program designed to help gifted musicians from ethnically diverse communities in the area of classical music. The Los Angeles Philharmonic Fellowships for Excellence in Diversity are made possible by a donation from The Herb Alpert Foundation. In 1991, as many as five fellowships will be awarded in amounts ranging from $500 to $5000. Fellowship recipients will be selected on the basis of auditions that will be held on April 30 and May 1 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Dorothy Chandler Pavillion. Applicants must be Southern California residents between the ages of 16 and 30.

IT'S GOT A BEAT AND YOU CAN DANCE TO IT: Back to Bandstand with Dick Clark, a three-hour broadcast with the world's oldest living teenager, will air over the Unistar Radio Networks, April 26-28. Clark will reminisce, as will such special guests as Frankie Vallie, John Fogerty and Chuck Berry.

CALL HIM JOHN COUGAR GODDARD: John Cougar Mellencamp has finally begun work on his first album since 1989's Big Daddy. What was the rocker doing in his spare time? Directing and acting in Falling From Grace, a film written by Larry McMurtry and co-starring Mariel Hemingway, due from Columbia Pictures next year.

WANT TO TAKE A GUESS WHAT THE LARGEST SEGMENT IN MONETARY TERMS OF AMERICAN BUSINESSES WERE ACQUIRED BY JAPANESE INVESTORS OVER THE PAST FIVE YEARS? GO AHEAD, TAKE A GUESS: Entertainment companies. Surprise, surprise. That info, by the way, is from the May issue of Business Tokyo.

DATES, WE GOT DATES: April 24 and 25. Los Angeles' Gardenia nightclub. ASCAP's West Coast Cabaret Songwriter Showcase, hosted by Carol Lawrence. If you're interested in attending, call (213) 467-7444... October 2-6. Atlanta. The NewSouth Music Showcase. Hey, we know it's early, but if they're ready to talk to you (404-875-5579 is where you do the talking), it can't be that early.

■ SINGLES

□ LE KLASS: "That's What Love Can Do" (Life 4JM-71724)

The latest single from soul/pop/rock band Le Klass's excellent School Of Cool CD is a smooth yet gritty and undeniably soulful jam that Black radio should jump on. Though influenced by The Time, the infectious "That's What Love Can Do" shows that Le Klass (who hail from James Brown's home town of Augusta, Georgia) projects a funky identity of its own.

□ COLOR BE BADD: "I Wanna Sex You Up" (Giant/Warner Bros. PRO-CD-4720)

Color Me Badd's "I Wanna Sex You Up" is a naughty and suggestive yet not particularly explicit R&B/pop tune from the New Jack City soundtrack. The song was produced by Dr. Freeze, with Howie T and Spyderman serving as co-producers.

■ ALBUMS

□ WHODINI: Bag-A-Trix (MCA MCAD-10201)

Bag-A-Trix is Whodini's first album since leaving Arista for MCA, its first album since 1987's Open Sesame and its fifth album overall. Like before, the Brooklyn rap trio takes an approach to rap that is aggressive yet more melodic and danceable than most hip-hop. But while "Freaks," "Smiling Faces Sometimes" (a remake of The Undisputed Truth's early-'70s soul classic), "Lovers Or Friends," "Judy" and other songs on this 14-track CD have a better chance of being embraced in non-rap circles than N.W.A or Ice-T, Whodini's music is nonetheless harder and more "street" than MC Hammer. Producers on Bag-A-Trix include Joe "Run" Simmons of Run-D.M.C., Larry Smith and "Fresh" Gordon Pickett.

□ WHITE LION: Mane Attraction (Atlantic 7 82193-2)

White Lion gives a friendly roar to AOR radio with its latest CD, Mane Attraction. "It's Over," "Broken Heart," "Leave Me Alone," "Lights And Thunder," "She's Got Everything" and "Love Don't Come Easy" are among the commercial, slick cuts that have "AOR" and "MTV" written all over them. A fiery anti-war statement, "Wartime" is Mane Attraction's most engaging cut. All of the CD's 12 songs were written by Not-So-Cowardly White Lions members Vito Bratta (lead guitar) and Mike Tramp (lead vocals). The melodic Mane Attraction was produced by Richie Zito, known for his work with Heart, Cheap Trick, Berlin, Martha Davis, The Neville Bros., Eddie Money and Bad English.

□ THE CRUSADERS: Healing The Wounds (GRP GRD-9638)

A recent GRP newsletter claims, "In the history of jazz, no group has displayed the fortitude and longevity of The Crusaders." Oh, really? Ever heard of The Modern Jazz Quartet, guys? At any rate, Healing The Wounds, The Crusaders' first album since 1988, finds the only remaining original members, Joe Sample and Wilton Felder, joined by bassist Marcus Miller, guitarists Michael Landau and Steve Lukather, percussionist Lennie Castro and drummer William "Bubba" Bryant. Highlights range from an engaging interpretation of Joe Zawinul's "Mercy, Mercy, Mercy" to jazz/R&B numbers like Sample's "Pessimisticism" and Miller's "Shake Dance" to Sample's Brazilian-influenced "Little Things Mean A Lot." On Stevie Wonder's "Cause We've Ended As Lovers," The Crusaders improvise instead of simply playing the song note for note the way many "contemporary jazz" artists would. Healing The Wounds was produced by Miller, who's known for his work with Miles Davis—and who, thankfully, doesn't overproduce. While this 8-song CD has commercial appeal, it also has integrity and contains some engaging solos by Sample and Felder.

□ VANITY KILLS: 2 Die 4 (Hollywood HR-60996-2)

L.A. threesome Vanity Kills has a slick pop-rock release in 2 Die 4. Accessible hooks and a definite melodic sense give this 10-track CD a strong commercial appeal. "Fashion," "House Of Shame," "Lies" (not to be confused with The Thompson Twins' 1982 hit), and "Give Me Your Heart" are among the CD's upbeat songs, while "So Afraid" starts out as a ballad before evolving into a more upbeat number. Lead vocalist Eric Daniels, who handles the songwriting duties along with fellow Vanity Kills members Steve Baca (guitars) and Chris Borders (keyboards) has a somewhat Boy George-ish quality to his voice. 2 Die 4 was produced by Julian Raymond.

□ RUBY ANDREWS: Kiss This (S.D.E.G./Ichiban ICH 1104)

Ruby Andrews sings R&B on her 11-track CD Kiss This, but not R&B in an "urban contemporary" sense. A big-voiced belter, Andrews goes for a classic gospel-influenced southern soul sound as we knew it during the 1960s and early '70s (the years of folks like Etta James, Carla Thomas and The Staple Singers) on "To The Other Woman (I'm The Other Woman)," "Loving You," "As In Always," "Throw Some More Dirt On Me (The Shacking Song)," "I Want To Rock With You Baby," the title track and other "retro" cuts. Kiss This was produced and arranged by S.D.E.G. leader Swamp Dogg (who wrote most of the material with Jerry Williams) and Michael Lockett in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

As his name implies, Gangster Pat is a hardcore rapper on the "gangsta tip"—which is associated with N.W.A, Ice Cube, The Geto Boys, Ice-T, Schoolly D, Above The Law, Compton's Most Wanted, Criminal Nation, The Boo-Yaa T.R.I.B.E., Organized Crime Unit, Capitol Punishment Organization (CPO) and DJ Quik. "Project Pimps," "Legion Of Doom," "Gangsta S**t," "Incarcerated," "Homicide," "Shootin' On Narcs," "I'm Tha Gangsta" and the rest of the #1 Suspect CD sounds very much like "Comptonian" and South-Central L.A.-style hip-hop thanks to an abundance of profanity and references to guns, players, murder, etc. But Gangsta Pat (whose real name is Patrick A. Hall) is actually from Memphis. Pat's use of gallows humor is illustrated by a rap ballad titled "Gangsta's Need Love 2."

□ MICHAEL TOMLINSON: Living Things (Mesa R2 79029)

Singer Michael Tomlinson goes for a mellow pop sound that should fare well in adult contemporary circles on his 10-track CD Living Things. "Live Again," "Things The Angels Say," "I Might Be Dreaming," "Take The Breath" and "I Knew You Well" are among the CD's AC-friendly songs. Living Things, which Tomlinson produced and arranged with Dan Dean, was digitally recorded, mixed and mastered.

EAST COASTING

BY LEE JESKE

NINANINANINANINANINANINANINANINANINA: Al Hirschfeld, master caricaturist, was recently presented with ASCAP's Samuel Sacks Award for his unique portraits of America's musical and theatrical world. That's ASCAP president Morton Gould (right) doing the honors.

RING DEM BELLS: Went to see Tony! Toni! Tone! at the Ritz last week. Loved Tony, hated Toni, was kind of lukewarm about Tone. No, no, just kidding. Actually, the highly-touted New Jack Swingers from Oakland fell on their collective faces: the singing was mediocre, the band was downright crummy (and sweetened with tapes), even the outfits were less than thrilling. The New York audience sat stonefaced: "Do something, Oakland," seemed to be the attitude. Oakland failed to impress.

Impressive, real impressive, has been The Family Stand, the Black Rock Coalition band whose East-West album of last year has garnered some club success ("Ghetto Heaven," "The Last Temptation," recently "Sweet Liberation") but little sales. Based on two recent appearances—at Tramps and Wetlands—The Family Stand (whose three frontpeople are V. Jeffrey Smith, Sandra St. Victor and Peter Lord) is a Prince/Sly Stone-influenced R&B/rock outfit that can get an audience hopping with highly danceable, highly listenable melodies. In a battle of the bands with the Tonys, they'd do to the Oakland unit what the Reds did to the Oakland A's last year.

But something else disturbed me about the Ritz show. The Ritz, for some reason, installed metal detectors at the door. Now I understand the skittishness about rap concerts, but are metal detectors extending to all contemporary black acts? Do you have to pass through a metal detector to see, oh, Whitney Houston or Luther Vandross?

Okay, there are metal detectors; so going to the concert will be like flying to Oakland. And not only are there metal detectors, but there's a goon at the door with a wand, to electronically pat you down even before you hit the airport gizmos.

So there are I am approaching the man with the wand. He leans against the rail and waves me in; I guess I don't look like the type of character who'd pack an Uzi. Racist? Maybe. But then I go through the cages and I beep, a distinct beep. In fact, earlier that week I stopped by the bookstore at the United Nations and made that metal detector beep—turns out my leather jacket sets off metal detectors.

But, get this, the Ritz security guys just wave me through. I'm ready to rid myself of the jacket, but, hey, do I look like a guy who'd carry a weapon into a concert? Guess not.

Racist? Racist.

ROCKS AND GRAVEL: The Building, currently the hottest disco in town (check back with me in a week, though), has been booking live alternative rock on Friday nights for the past year. Upcoming: Crunch-O-Matic (Apr. 19), Sleeping Pills (Apr. 26), Front 242 (May 3), Raw Youth (May 10) and Earache's "Grand Crushers" tour. Oh, Karen Woods, where are you when we need you?... Are you tired of just reading about the Brazilian Rainforest? Now, thanks to Mickey Hart, you can actually listen to the Rainforest. On Voices of the Rainforest (Rykodisc), the human voices are supplied by the Kaluli Indians, but they share the disc with frogs, crickets, birds, running water and all sorts of other local sounds. Fortunately, the sound of a burning forest has been left off... Did I hear you ask the question, "Where can I go to read more about the great Leadbelly?" Did you say, "Where can I continue to get up-to-date information about the legendary Huddie Ledbetter?" Well, I've got answers for you. The Lead Belly Society (they break the man's nickname into two words; an unfortunate thing for papers like The New York Times, which would then have to refer to him as "Mr. Belly") publishes a quarterly newsletter, The Lead Belly Letter. Subscriptions are available for $15 per year from P.O. Box 6679, Ithaca, NY 14851... It's been six years since reggae dub poet Linton Kwesi Johnson was in a recording studio. But he's back and Shanachie's got him: Tings An' Times is out now. It's been seven years since Rita Marley hit a recording studio. But she's back and Shanachie's got her: We Must Carry On is out later this month (and look for her opening Aswad's West Coast shows). Dub poet Mutabaruka hasn't been studio shy: his fifth album, Blakk Wi Blak...K...K is also now out from Shanachie... What do Frank Sinatra and Steve Miller have in common? Probably a lot more than we think, but, for now, the fact that Capitol has put the former's Where Are You? and Come Swing With Me and the latter's Sailor, The Joker and Circle of Love on CD will have to do.

POINTS WEST

THE 13TH ANNUAL PLAYBOY JAZZ FESTIVAL's traditional series of free pre-festival community events will begin on Cinco de Mayo (Sunday, May 5) and continue through Friday, June 14. The activities planned for that six week period include: an outdoor jazz concert, a vocal jazz competition at the beach, a rare jazz film documentary anthology, a jazz cruise aboard the luxury yacht California Hornblower for 1,000 jazz fans, four in-school jazz concerts/clinics/workshops, a senior citizens concert, a jazz and food festival extravaganza in Beverly Hills, and a marching band New Orleans-style parade at the steps of Los Angeles' City Hall.

A new event among traditional favorites will be "Playboy Jazz in Beverly Hills." On June 9, the Beverly Hills Restaurant Assn. will co-sponsor a jazz, food and fun extravaganza at Beverly Gardens. Featured will be 30 food and beverage stations representing The Grill, La Famiglia, Lawry's, Bistro Garden, Yank's, Carroll O'Connor's Place, Tribeca, Mezzaluna and many more.

For the first time in the history of the festival, the pre-festival community events will be presented by a single sponsor, Guess Men cologne.

SUNDAY, MAY 5: Playboy Jazz Festival San Fernando Valley College Concert. Featured performers are singer Carl Anderson, Fattburger and Rudy Regalado.

MAY 10, 15, 22, 28: Playboy Jazz Festival and Ioaja Present "Jazz Goes To School." Featured performers are Rickey Woodard Quartet, Nedra Wheeler Quintet, Cedar Walton Quartet, and Phil Upchurch Quartet.

FRIDAY, MAY 17: Watts Senior Citizens' Concert. Featured performer is the Locke High School Jazz Band with special guests to be announced later.

SUNDAY, MAY 26: Playboy Jazz Cruise. Featured performers are Gerald Wilson's Orchestra of the '90s, Alphonse Mouzon and Yamaha Disklavier.

MONDAY, MAY 27: Playboy Jazz Festival Salutes The Winners. Featured performers are four of the winning high school groups from the Fullerton College Jazz Festival Vocal Competition, Long Beach Polytechnic, San Luis Obispo, Summerville 8 and Bellflower Ensemble.

SUNDAY, JUNE 9: Playboy Jazz In Beverly Hills. Featured performers are jazz legend Joe Williams, Capp-Pierce Juggernaut Band, and Poncho Sanchez.

FRIDAY, JUNE 14: Jazz At City Hall. Featuring the Re-birth Brass Band.

FRIDAY JUNE 14: Jazz On Film With Mark Cantor/Co-sponsored By AFI Fest. A series of jazz-related documentary style films in 16mm sound featuring Dizzy Gillespie, Gene Ammons, Jack Teagarden, Shorty Rogers, Thelonius Monk, and the International Sweethearts of Rhythm, Benny Carter and Cab Calloway, a set of jazz dance films, and some surprise presentations. This event is being held at the Samuel Goldwyn Theatre in Beverly Hills, and as is the case with most of these events, can be enjoyed absolutely free of charge.

Hollywood Records recording artists, The Party, were nearly nicknamed The Riot after their five song, 30-minute set and post-concert autograph session led to chaos at a Toronto shopping mall (3,000 fans rushed the stage). A recent appearance at Southern California's Sherman Oaks Galleria was only a little less frenzied when another three thousand fans were treated to a sizzling set by the quintet. Pictured above performing for the SRO crowd at the Galleria (l-r) are: Thy Party members Damon Pampolina, Tiffini Hale, Chase Hampton, Deedee Magno and Albert Fields.

TOKYO NEWS

TOKYO—DHV (Disney Home Video Japan) is preparing to release Filofax/Trouble Techo De Daigyakuten, the first title from its new label, Hollywood Pictures Homevideo, in Japan sometime in June. It will be distributed by Pony-Canyon in Japan. Hollywood Pictures Homevideo has been established as a subsidiary company of Walt Disney similar to already existing subsidiaries Touchstone Pictures and Walt Disney Pictures. "Hollywood Pictures has been developed, like Touchstone, to meet the increasing demands for comedy and drama with a target both of teenagers and adults," said Richard Cohen, vice president of Walt Disney Studio distributor, Buena Vista Home Video.

Video Arts/Japan is set to release a new series of musical documentaries entitled Masters Of American Music. The series will include pictures, materials and video footage of the great musicians who have played a vital role in shaping the United States music industry. Masters Of American Music is a joint venture of Multi Prize (USA) and Video Arts/Japan.

The sales of video software in Japan for February 1991 totaled 19,008 million yen ($146 million), an increase of eight percent over the comparable month of the prior year. As was the case in January, this large increase is attributable to the growth in volume and money of cassettes.

The total sales of video software in Japan for the year 1990 (Jan.-Dec.) was 309,063 million yen ($2,207 million), up 18.5 percent over the previous year, according to the Japan Assn. of Video Software (JVA). A breakdown of the JVA figures reveals a 16.5 percent increase in video cassette revenue while video discs increased 25.9 percent over the prior year. Movies comprised the largest share of video cassettes with 65.6 percent, followed by animation (14.8 percent) and music (9.7 percent). On the other hand, for video discs, background music made up the largest segment with 72.4 percent, followed by movies (10.5 percent), music (7.2 percent) and animation (5.7 percent).

The Saint ain't gettin' on the glam tip. Symbol Of Salvation was produced by Dave Jerden, who has also worked with Jane's Addiction (the folks who walk off stage without completing a set when the urge strikes them) and Alice In Chains...

STUDIO SAVAGERY: Due out May 28 on Walt Disney Records is For The Children, a various-artists thang that will benefit the Pediatric AIDS Foundation. The album will contain material by Bob Dylan, Paul McCartney, Elton John and Heart, who recorded an acoustic song titled "Autumn To May." For those of us with fond memories of acoustic gems from Heart's early years such as "Soul of The Sea" and Dreamboat Annie's title track, the idea of hearing The Wilson Sisters in an acoustic format again is intriguing... Roadcracer/Roadrunner has a release date of May 14 for thrash metal posse Xentrix's Dilute To Taste. Bang those heads, moshers... Solid Ball Of Rock, Saxon's tenth album and first for Charisma Records, is slated for release on April 30... Symbol Of Salvation, gothic head-bangers Armored Saint's first release since their live EP of 1988, Saints Will Conquer, is due out on May 14 on Metal Blade/Warner Bros. HIGHWAY TO HELL: Swallow This Live is the working title of a live Poison album that may come out in late fall. Besides live material recorded in Miami, Tampa and Orlando—Poison seems to have a thing for Florida—the album will include five studio songs that were excluded from Flesh & Blood... Queensryche has been on the highway to hell since mid-April as part of a North American arena tour that lasts until early June...

VILLAINS ON VIDEO: MTV Unplugged will premiere a segment on R.E.M. on Wednesday, April 24 from 10 p.m./-11 p.m. and repeat it on Sunday, April 28 from 11 p.m.-12 midnight. The segment, taped at Chelsea Studios in Noo Yawk on April 10, contains acoustic performances of "Losing My Religion," "The End Of The World As We Know It" and "Fall On Me"...

PLATINUM, GOLD & ROCK: Duuuuuude! Megadeth's fourth album, Rust In Peace has been certified gold by the Recording Industry Assn. of America (RIAA) for sales exceeding 500,000 units. Other gold albums by Dave Mustaine & Friends include 1986's Peace Sells... But Who's Buying and 1988's so far so good...so what!. Touring with Judas Priest last year certainly didn't hurt Rust In Peace's sales... Also certified gold by the RIAA is Queen's Innuendo, which Hollywood Records released in February. Innuendo, the band's "comeback album," is the tenth Queen album to reach gold...

NEW FACE

The Beer Dawgs

BY ALEX HENDERSON

THE BEER DAWGS HAIL FROM CALIFORNIA'S STATE CAPITOL OF SACRAMENTO, but their Elvis At The Hogshed CD on Interstate

Records has more of a down-home southern rock sound than something one would typically associate with The Golden State. In fact, The Beer Dawgs have opened for southern rockers like The Marshall Tucker Band and The Outlaws as well as country great Buck Owens. A four-piece band, The Beer Dawgs consist of Bob Pearce (vocals, guitar, slide guitar), Steve Wall (lead guitar, keyboards, vocals) Joe Lev (bass guitar) and Bill Peck (drums, percussion). Listening to "Elvis On The Ouija Phone," "Elvis At The Hogshed," "502 Suhffle," "Too Much Trouble,"

"Beer Dawg Blues" and other songs on the seven-track CD—which consists entirely of original material—one gets the impression that The Beer Dawgs are a tongue-in-cheek band that doesn't take the whole thing too seriously. In other words, The Beer Dawgs (who resemble scruffy bikers) sound like they're having fun. The Beer Dawgs' hotline is (916) 344-BEER.

Greek Theatre Marks 60 Years; 1991 Lineup Announced

L.A.'S GREEK THEATRE CELEBRATES its 60th anniversary. For six decades, the famous outdoor venue (located in the Griffith Park area of the Hollywood Hills) has presented the biggest names in music. At an April 17 press conference held in celebration of the anniversary, the Greeks's activities—past and future—were noted.

Stan Findelle of Performance Magazine presented the Theatre of the Year award (for a 3,000-plus-capacity venue) to James M. Nederlander, Sr., chairman of the board for Nederlander Companies (which books the Greek); and Greek Theatre general manager Susan Rosenbluth. Also in attendance were Johnny Grant, the "honorary mayor of Hollywood;" Los Angeles City Council president John Ferraro; Stan Sanders, president of the Board Of Commissions and The Dept. Of Parks & Recreation; Aerosmith's Jimmy Crespo; Rip Taylor; Jimmy Espinoza of Midnighters fame; show-biz veteran Donald O'Connor; and original members of The 5th Dimension. Speaking on the Greek's importance and its plans for the future, Nederlander exalted it as "the most beautiful theatre in the U.S."

Alex Hodges, vice president of booking for Nederlander West Coast, gave a run-down of the wide variety of music this season will offer. Scheduled performers include The Kentucky Headhunters, who open the season on April 26; Hank Williams, Jr; Dan Fogelberg, whose show will be his first live appearance in three years; Little Richard; Santana; Chicago; the Temptations; Aretha Franklin; Harry Belafonte; Stevie Nicks; Engelbert Humperdinck; The Whispers; Tom Jones; K.T. Oslin; Liza Minelli; Peter, Paul & Mary; The Black Crowes; Larry Carlton; Joe Cocker; Hiroshima; and The 5th Dimension. A few days before the 5th Dimension's August 10 reunion show at the Greek celebrating their 25th anniversary, the group is receiving a star on the Hollywood Walk Of Fame. For the whole season, servicemen who fought in the Persian Gulf will receive a 10% discount.

This year, the Greek and the City of Los Angeles will be giving 6,000 tickets away to L.A. residents who cannot afford to purchase tickets so they can also enjoy, as the Greek has called its shows, "an evening under the stars."

Memorable Greek Theatre shows were remembered, including Harry Belafonte's performance during the Watts Riots of 1965 and a show that took place when fires were ravaging the nearby hills of Griffith Park.

Each month, a different L.A. station will sponsor the Greek's 60th anniversary celebration, including K-Lite, KIIS-FM, KLSX-FM, KBIG-FM, KZLA-FM and KACE-FM.

In an official statement, Frank Sinatra—who isn't touring, but will make a special appearance at the Greek on August 1 in celebration of the 60th anniversary—noted, "In 1931, when the Greek Theatre opened, the Star-Spangled Banner' was officially designated as the country's national anthem. So you see, the theatre is in good company. Congratulations on 60 years of great music, and I plan to be on your stage for each of the next 60!"

ON JAZZ

BY LEE JESKE

AUTHOR, AUTHOR: At BMI's party for Burt Korall's Drummin' Men, the author (center) stopped for a pose with the inimitable Clark Terry and the inimitable Frances Preston.

ON THE BEAT: Good scholarly jazz books continue to come out in spite of the fact that their authors are paid diddly, their promotional budgets are diddly, and bookstores tend to treat them with little more than contempt. They continue to come out because their authors are in love with their subjects. Jazz books, almost without exception, are true labors of love, usually written during weekends and vacations, very late at night and very early in the morning.

Drummin' Men: The Heartbeat of Jazz: The Swing Years by Burt Korall (Schirmer, $24.95) has a cover photo you can almost feel: Gene Krupa with his hair in his eyes, his suit buttoned and his sticks in mid-barrage. The photo sums up the book: If the Swing Era had a motor, it was the man behind the traps, either flailing away (a la Krupa) or playing with the ease and assurance of a dandy knotting a silk tie (Jo Jones).

This is the book Korall, a drummer himself, was meant to write, and his heart is on every page: He loves the men he's writing about, loves the way they turned rhythm into art. Korall is a generous author: He talks to people who were there and then puts what they had to say down in their words.

Stanley Kay on the tragic Dave Tough, asking Buddy Rich for help: "Buddy wanted to help him and asked what he needed. 'Money' was Dave's response. Buddy gave him all he had—a hundred dollars. He asked if that was enough. Dave said it wasn't, took it, turned, and walked away."

Mel Lewis on Buddy Rich: "You couldn't capture him. He just had something no drummer ever has had or ever will have. I don't know how it came about. No one does. Not even Buddy knew."

Illinois Jacquet on the deformed Chick Webb: "Chick was the greatest of all drummers—a musician who had what only God can give. He was built for the drums. You follow me? The way his body conformed to the drums—it was God's work, God's gift."

Jo Jones on Jo Jones: "No drummer influenced me. Any time I saw a drummer, I knew what he was going to do after he had played two bars."

The reminiscences and anecdotes are connected with handsome, well-woven narratives about the geniuses behind—literally and figuratively—the Big Band Era's gleaming brass. There are long profiles of Krupa, Rich, Tough, Jones, Webb, Ray McKinley, and Sid Catlett, and shorter pieces on Sonny Greer, George Wettling, Cozy Cole, Jimmy Crawford, O'Neill Spencer, Cliff Leeman and Ray Bauduc, all of whom added something to the beat of jazz.

Burt Korall wrote his book in his spare time; he works full-time at BMI. He did a fine job, tossing a richly-deserved spotlight on a dozen or so men who did most of their work well behind the spotlight.

Korall says he's going to begin working on a book about the legions of drummers who followed the Swing Era. He'll have no more important subject than Kenny Clarke and he'll have no chance of writing a more thorough and heartfelt portrait of this somewhat neglected figure than Mike Hennessey has turned out in Klook: The Story of Kenny Clarke (Quartet).

Kenny Clarke took all he learned from the drummers in Korall's opus and, in concert with Dizzy Gillespie, Charlie Parker and others, turned it into bebop in the '40s. He was then a founding member of the Modern Jazz Quartet before mid-'50s America drove him to Paris, where he stayed until his death six years ago: teaching, co-leading a superb big band with Francy Boland, playing with local and visiting musicians of every style and age.

Hennessey loved Clarke and, a Paris resident himself for a while, was a close personal friend of his. It doesn't cloud the book—Hennessey is too keen a journalist to get goeey on us—but it does fill it with warmth and humanity. Here was a man who was universally loved and respected ("of the scores of people I interviewed," writes Hennessey in the preface, "...not one...had an unkind word to say about him"), but whose name in the States became dimmer every year he was away.

Hennessey, like Korall, lets others do much of the talking, and much of the talking is done by Clarke himself, a wise and urbane man. Here is what he says about his profession:

"I never tried to become a celebrity. I wanted to be a musician and to please musicians. To be an accompanist—that's my greatest ambition. It is not the role of a drummer to be a star. Drummers who have made concessions to easy popularity with the public have only had fleeting success. If you tell a drummer, 'Man, you're great!' then he tends to forget his proper role and starts to play for the public. He is ruined in advance because there will come a time when the other musicians don't want to play with him anymore."

There are giants among us, giants who casually pass our way every day. Some of them pass noisily, like Buddy Rich. Others tip-toe by, like Kenny Clarke. There's little reward in sitting down and battling a word processor or typewriter for several years to let the world know about them, to tap a largely disinterested public on the shoulder and say, "Psssst, listen up!"

Burt Korall and Mike Hennessey have been doing just that for decades, as journalists and, here, as authors. So has John Chilton, whose The Song of the Hawk: The Life and Recordings of Coleman Hawkins (Michigan University Press, $32.50) is his latest, and best, labor of love about a jazz giant.

But it's not enough. Where is Peter Keepnews' long-awaited biography of Thelonious Monk? Where is Stanley Crouch's long-awaited biography of Charlie Parker? Why hasn't Dan Morgenstern done a biography? Where are well-researched, definitive books on Lester Young, Duke Ellington, Louis Armstrong, John Coltrane and all the other jazz greats? They are not there because, alas, labors of love don't pay the rent, don't pay the taxman, don't feed the family. The money goes to Kitty Kelley and Albert Goldman on the popular side, to biographies of Pablo Picasso on the scholarly side.

Thanks to Korall and Hennessey and Chilton, and their many colleagues, for taking the time. Their spare time.

RHYTHM & BLUES

NEWS: West Grand Music, a Gordy Company, is operating in Hollywood at the firm's Sunset Boulevard headquarters with Iris Gordy at the helm as president. Ms. Gordy, a former vice president of Motown, produced or executive produced many of Motown's biggest names—Smokey Robinson, the Temptations, the Four Tops and Diana Ross—as well as launching the careers of artists such as Rick James, Teena Marie and DeBarge. West Grand's director of A&R is Michael A. Brown, formerly of Capitol Records. The company's debut artist is vocalist Louis Price, whose recently released single, "Play It By Heart," is being marketed and distributed through Motown.

Bust It/Capitol recording artists One Cause In Effect, Special Generation and B Angie B are currently in the middle of a tour of American clubs and theaters. What sets this tour apart from the norm, however, is the fact that the artists are taking time out from tour duties to travel to local schools to warn against drugs and gangs, and to encourage students to stay in school. Drawing from their own religious and personal experiences, the artists share anecdotes and stories that will hopefully inspire and encourage the students to continue their education without succumbing to distractions.

TWO TREATS IN ONE: Choreographer George Faison and Sherry Bronfman were among guests who joined Ashford and Simpson at The Shark Bar in New York. The dynamic duo celebrated the birthday of Calvin Ashford, interior designer, and previewed some of the music from their soon to be released album. Pictured (l-r) are: Faison, Nick Ashford, Calvin Ashford, Bronfman and Valerie Simpson.

GIVING A SAMPLE TO MCA MUSIC: Composer/keyboardist Joe Sample recently signed an international administration deal with MCA Music Publishing. The new agreement will encompass both Four Knights Music, which contains all of Sample's catalog from the Crusaders as well as his early work, and Blue Ballet Music, comprising his current Warner Bros. solo project and album, Ashes To Ashes. Pictured (l-r) are: Scott James, vp of Motion Picture and TV Music; Leeds Levy, president, MCA Music; Elizabeth Anthony, director of Talent Acquisition; David Connelly, assistant to the president; Carol Ware, vp of Creative Services; Sherry Orson, manager of Creative Services and Sample (seated at the piano).

RAP/DANCE

NEWS: By the time Crystal Waters' "Gypsy Woman (She's Homeless)" reached record stores, it was already a big hit. Produced by the Basement Boys, the record was a smash at radio in New York and San Francisco, and picking up steam across the country. With a hook so powerful many assume it to be the title (la da dee, la la ou), "Gypsy Woman" promises to be huge in clubs and on radio.

on 4th & Broadway, is currently in the studio producing the new Poor Righteous Teachers album, a chore he's handled before for King Sun, YZ and the Poor Righteous Teachers' Holy Intellect. He's also announced plans to release a compilation album of Trenton, New Jersey's finest.

REVIEW:

Banderas

Banderas (whose single, "This Is Your Life," was the Pick O' the Week a few weeks ago) have just released their debut album, Ripe, a collection of thoughtful and provocative songs that have had even the notoriously cynical British press tripping over itself with effusive praise... and it's well deserved. With dark and provocative lyrics that are just this side of cynical, Banderas take on topics such as religious faith ("The Comfort of Faith"), women being objectified for advertising purposes ("She Sells"), unrequited love ("Why Aren't You In Love With Me"), and the meaning of life ("This Is Your Life"). Though most of the album is dance music influenced versus being actual dance music (as the single is), it serves to help stretch the boundaries of dance. Much like the Pet Shop Boys and New Order (and a handful of other acts) have done for years now, Banderas inject intelligence between the grooves. If you choose to simply hang on to the beat, that's fine; chances are, though, you'll find yourself singing along at some point, and realize that this is not your typical dance music fodder. Literate and affecting, Banderas are a welcome respite from brainless, mindless-by-the-numbers formulas that have replaced inventiveness and creativity in dance/pop music.

COCINANDO

This week's column is written by San Antonio-based freelance writer Ramiro Burr, who weathered a Kurd-like storm in Monterey and two plane cancellations in Houston to deliver the contents below in time. Edited by Tony Sabourmin.

IF GRUMBLINGS ARE A SIGN OF INTELLECTUAL MATURITY, then the Tejano Music Awards—a non-profit organization founded in 1980 by current executive director Rudy Treviño and former board president Gilbert Escobedo to annually acknowledge accomplishments by the onda tejana artists and promote overall excellence in the field—is becoming very wise. However, in spite of it being the most important event on the Tejano calendar, many industry members are calling for improvements in the ballot tabulation and award selection processes.

Rudy Treviño

"The main problem has to be the way they count the ballots," said Al Zamora, Sony Discos' national promotion director. "This year they introduced a 900 number to vote by phone, but there didn't seem to be any safeguard against multiple votes from the same house. And the way the ballots are distributed, put out in stores and other outlets, there will always be a problem with ballot-stuffing."

According to Zamora, Sony executives considered having a meeting with TMA officials to express their concern on various issues, a cue probably taken from Tejano star Little Joe Hernández, who has refused for the past several years to compete in the TMA unless the methodology was drastically improved. This was particularly accentuated after the disclosure that eight of the 12 artists performing in the March 2 event—which is taped and broadcast to a potential viewing audience of 13 million—were from Capitol/EMI-Latin.

"It's important to us that the Awards have credibility," said Zamora who favors a voting system based on radio personalities and retailers specializing in the onda business. Frank Zuñiga, manager of the most recent Fonovisa acquisition, Grupo La Sombra, agreed that "sales and airplay are an important part of a band's popularity. Some groups draw more than others but they don't even get nominated."

"Ballot voting isn't the same as people voting with their dollars," said Manuel Rangel, president of Rangel Distributors, concurring that airplay and sales are a more accurate reflection of an artist's hot index. Rangel noted that each year there are three top artists: Mazz, La Mafia and La Sombra. "However, only one, Mazz, wins at the awards," said Rangel, adding "I'm not putting down Mazz. Their album last year was a super-seller. But what about the other guys? They were hot, too!"

"I can't buy the fact that La Mafia doesn't get enough public votes when we are the only group to break attendance records in Texas," hyperbolized Henry González, manager of the top Houston group, which did have three gold records in 1990. "Why doesn't La Mafia win while some artists have ballot parties?" asked González rhetorically. "That shouldn't be allowed."

The gripes don't end there. Zuñiga additionally thinks the awards "should have new talent. Too often they use the same groups, especially for the pre-awards events, and then at the awards again. New groups need the exposure more than top groups." Zuñiga would also like to see more educational workshops and seminars on such industry topics as securing contracts, artist copyrights, insurance, management and booking basics. Yet he's quick to admit, "What else is there besides the awards?"

"Once again, it's the people's vote," explained TMA executive director Rudy Treviño in a tone indicative that his never-ending patience with the topic is rapidly diminishing. "And we favor no record labels." Referring to the majority of winners pulled by CEL, he said "the ones that deserve to win do so based on the public's vote." Treviño also pointed out that the awards is a year-long project, culminating with the gala night, and that the TMA's small staff is limited in what it can do. The 900 number set up for the voting process, according to Treviño, was programmed not to tabulate any votes in excess of four per calling number.

Treviño also responded to criticism that TMA's annual scholarship fund (two $2,500 scholarships are awarded to two students interested in pursuing a musical degree) is an insignificant fraction of the organization's yearly budget, estimated at just under $500,000 (funded mostly by founding corporate sponsors Anheuser-Busch and The Coca-Cola Company).

"We lost money on the awards during the first nine years," he said, mentioning such additional costs as increasing expenditure in video production ($110,000, according to Treviño), security, celebrity hosts' transportation ("upwards of $20,000") as well as the vote tabulation costs (done by a private security firm as opposed to the more costly, but legally certifying CPA firm).

"It was only last year that we made a little money," Treviño said. "We eventually want to increase the amount of scholarships we give."

Still, TMA criticism is growing and not constrained to the labels. Albert Dávila, GM of top tejano station KEDA-AM, said: "They (the TMA) are getting bigger each year, with more pre-shows and parties added on. But I don't see them doing more for the artists." Jessie Villareal, manager of Houston's Island Club, said the Tejano Awards have always had the perception of heavy political maneuvering.

"They need to get more feedback in order to minimize that. If they would just gather up people from the industry and get input in the organization it would go a long way to strengthen the awards."

NEM ENTERTAINMENT—Ross Elliot, NEM director of Talent Acquisition, announced the signing of songwriter/producer Brian Tankersley to a long-term publishing agreement. Tankersley has cuts he has written on albums by newcomers Trent Dean (Chrysalis), Judson Spence (Atlantic) and The Ministers (Hollywood Records). In addition to songwriting, Tankersley has produced seven #1 hits in the contemporary gospel market as well as an additional 25 Top 10 singles.

IVAN LINS—Renowned Brazilian singer/composer Ivan Lins (Reprise) has released Awa Yio, (pronounced A-WA EE-OH, his second recording to be released in the United States on this label), the follow-up to his critically-acclaimed 1989 album Love Dance. Lins is best known in the U.S. for writing songs that have been recorded by top artists such as Quincy Jones, George Benson, Manhattan Transfer and The Crusaders, among others. Jones was nominated for Best Jazz Instrumental Performance for his recording of Lins' "Setembro" on the multi-Grammy-winning Back On The Block album, while he won in that category for his version of Lins' "Velas" from his previous album, The Dude. For Lins, Awa Yio represents a return to his roots. Co-produced by Stewart Levine and Larry Williams, producers of Love Dance, Awa Yio contains 11 compositions with lyrics by Brazilian poet Vitor Martin. Unlike Love Dance, the new album is sung entirely in Portuguese, his native language. The title cut is an expression meaning "we go" in the African idiom Yoruba, commonly heard permeating the language in Brazil. Songs like "Que Quer De Mim (What Do You Want of Me)" and "Turmalina" deal with love, while "America Brazil," "Meu Pais (My Country)" and "Ai Ai Ai Ai Ai" address the political and social conditions of Brazil, a stance for which Lins and his lyricist are known in their homeland. The tracks were recorded at Bearsville Studios in Woodstock, NY with Tony (Peter Gabriel's band) Levin on bass, Simply Red guitarist Heitor T.P., Vinnie Colaiuta on drums and both Lins and Williams on keyboards. Vocals were recorded at Multi Studios in Rio de Janeiro. Lins is planning selected live U.S. dates in the summer...

SESAC, INC.—International representation agreements just completed by SESAC, have advanced the total number of such pacts held by the performance right society to its highest number ever. SESAC recently put the finishing touches on a unilateral performance representation agreement with its Canadian counterpart, SOCAN. This agreement, which is retroactive dated January 1, 1991, is furthering SESAC's repertory in Canada. The current SOCAN organization is the result of a 1990 merger between two long established performance rights organizations, CAPAC and PROCAN. SESAC's new agreement with the resulting society, supercedes the previous one with CAPAC. Also, SESAC's International Relations Department, headed by vice president Joaquin Fernandez, has completed negotiations with the Brazilian mechanical rights organization, ADDAF. Performing rights in Brazil for the SESAC repertory are represented by UBC...

STREET BUZZ—Jimmy "Z", well-known L.A. sax/harmonica player/vocalist/writer is starting to mix his debut Ruthless/Atco release, produced by multi-platinum, Grammy-award nominated Dr. Dre (N.W.A., Michel'le). "Funky Flute," "Phone Sex" and "Evil" are a few of the titles co-written by "Z", Dre and new "hot" L.A. songwriter/producer David Harvey. Based on Dre's track record, Ruthless and Atco expect this release to be another monster. I'll keep ya posted...

SWITCH—MCA Records has released the original motion picture soundtrack for Blake

Edwards' film Switch. Featuring the Don Was produced Lyle Lovett single, "You Can't Resist It," this off-beat comedy stars Ellen Barkin as a "male chauvinist" resurrected inside a woman's body to atone for his callous womanizing. A brand new arrangement of Lovett's song musically offers one explanation for Barkin's pre-transformation ways. A soulful cover of Joni Mitchell's "Both Sides Now" by Paul Young and Clannad serves as the theme for the opening credits and end titles. This song takes on new meaning in the context of Switch. Other music in the soundtrack overtly drives home plot points, particularly Ronnie Milsap's rowdy "Old Habits Are Hard To Break" and Pretty Boy Floyd's nasty "Slam Dunk." Just as effective, but used more subtly, are new songs "Barren Ground" by Bruce Hornsby & The Range and "So Quiet, So Still" from Nathalie Archangel, from her upcoming MCA release. Rounding out the soundtrack are Jody Watley's "It's All There," Joe Ely's "Are You Listenin' Lucky?," Indecent Obsession's "Dream After Dream" and The Jets' "Sendin' Out A Message."...

SHEENA EASTON—What Comes Naturally (MCA), Sheena Easton's first album in more than two and a half years, is a powerful work reinforcing her position as one of pop music's most distinguished vocalists. For the album, she wrote: "The Next Time," "The First Touch of Love" and "Half A Heart." The title cut co-written by Antonio Armato and Nick Mundy, with rap lyrics by Armato and Gina Go-Go, is produced by Denny (always on the charts) Diante and Nick Mundy, and is an out-of-the-box "smash." Sheena Easton is hot as ever!...

ON THE ROAD—Whitney Houston kicked-off her North American "I'm Your Baby Tonight" tour on Thursday, April 19th, in Knoxville, TN. She's scheduled to appear in 70 cities throughout the U.S. and Canada and will continue through late summer. The show's production will employ state-of-the-art lighting and sound. Mark Fisher and Jonathan Park, whose previous credits include the Berlin production of The Wall and the Rolling Stones' "Urban Jungle" tour, head up the set design team. Backing Houston will be an 11-member band, four dancers and a vocal background group, featuring her brother Gary. Vocal trio After 7 will open the show. If you've never seen Whitney Houston live, do yourself a favor and go. She's the "real deal!"...

INDIE PROFILE

PROFILE RECORDS

IN MAY 1991, PROFILE RECORDS CELEBRATES ITS TENTH ANNIVERSARY. During its first decade,

King Sun

DJ Quik

the New York-based Profile went from being a small, obscure label to one of the two largest indies in the country (the other being Fantasy). While Profile isn't strictly a rap label—the outfit has also released its share of rock, reggae and, of course, dance music—hip-hop certainly did its part to build Profile. "Whenever intended to do as much rap as we wound up doing," Profile president Cory Robbins explains. "We always intended to do some rap, but it wound up being the kind of music that made us what we are. Probably 40-50% of all the records we ever put out are not rap; but the ones everyone knows, for the most part, are."

Profile made its debut in 1981 with Grace Kennedy's dance single, "I'm Starting Again," which Robbins licensed from a British label. During its early years, Profile's successes ranged from dance hits like Sharon Brown's "I Specialize In Love" (1982) and Paul Hardcastle's "Rain Forest" (1985) to Old School rappers Dr. Jeckyl & Mr. Hyde's "Genius Rap" (1981). But Profile is best known as the home of Run-D.M.C., who went triple platinum with Raising Hell and enjoyed three platinum albums: Run-D.M.C., King Of Rock and Tougher Than Leather. Other rappers signed to Profile include Rob Base (who scored platinum with It Takes Two and gold with The Incredible Bass), Dana Dane (whose Dana Dane With Fame went gold), Special Ed, King Sun, Sweet Tee, Poor Righteous Teachers, DJ Quik (whose debut album, Quik Is The Name, is almost gold), L.A. Star, Ron "C", Nemesis, Twin Hype, Euro-K, Freeze and B.K.A. Profile's non-rap roster ranges from thrash metal headbangers Leeway and rootsy rockers The Accelerators to reggae artists Barrington Levy, Pablo Moses, Frankie Paul, Frigthy & Col. Mite, Nardo Ranks and Cutty Ranks to the dance music of Judy Torres and Chanelle.

"We liked rap from the first time we heard it—we being my partner Steve Plotnicki and I," Robbins recalls. "That was about 1979. I thought rap was the most interesting, exciting music to happen in a long time. Steve was working at a one-stop as a sales person back in 1979 and 1980, and he used to see these street guys come in and sell thousands of records out of the trunks of their cars. They would find these artists, press some records, go to the one-stops, sell them 1000 12" singles for two bucks a piece and walk out with $2000 in cash—and next week, come back and sell another thousand records. Part of the inspiration in starting Profile was seeing how people with nothing could sell thousands of records. I don't think they were as ambitious as we were—they weren't taking it to the next level of being national and international and having contracts with the artists and having promotion people. So we saw this as an opportunity that nobody else was really capitalizing on... We always thought rap's gonna be bigger. Every year, somebody would ask us, 'Where do you think it's gonna be next year?' We didn't know, but it got bigger every year—including last year. (MC Hammer) had a nine-million-selling album (with Please Hammer, Don't Hurt 'Em). When Run-D.M.C. had a three-million selling album with Raising Hell (in 1986), that was unheard of."

One thing Robbins clearly regrets is that Profile's rock releases haven't fared as well as its rap releases. "We really haven't had any substantial success with rock; so we're not doing as much with it as we used to," Robbins notes. "Reggae's the area we're the most committed to as far as expanding into something new. We'll probably have six to eight reggae albums out in 1991... Right now, we're not actively looking to sign rock artists. We don't have a rock A&R person right now. We have two rock albums coming out this year: Leeway and The Accelerators. But I don't think we'll sign any more rock acts until we find a better way to approach it."

More than a few majors have offered Profile distribution deals over the years, but Robbins has chosen to remain independently distributed. Robbins asserts, "I like the way things are going. I like being totally independent. But at the same time, the frustrating thing is not being able to break a group like The Black Crowes. I'd like to have a band like The Black Crowes and be successful with it."

During Profile's early years, the majority of its sales were vinyl. But in 1991, Robbins says, Profile's sales are 15% CD, 82-83% cassette and 2-3% vinyl. Of course, Profile would be selling even more cassettes were it not for counterfeiters. "One of my biggest concerns right now is counterfeit tapes," Robbins stresses. "I think it's the biggest problem facing the record industry right now. With rap music, it's probably cutting into 20% of the sales. We've had records that sold 300,000 copies that, a year or two ago, would have sold 400,000 copies—and I think a lot of it's because of counterfeit tapes. Here in New York, there are counterfeit tape vendors on all of the major streets. Everybody's getting robbed—the artists especially. King Sun gets livid about this. We sold around 70,000 copies of his latest record, Righteous But Ruthless. Every King Sun tape that's counterfeited is a dollar he's not getting, and he needs it. If we sell 70,000 copies of a King Sun album that would have sold 80- or 90,000, that makes a big difference to him."

fellow bebop jazz alto saxophonist Sonny Stitt) had only two years to live when Crisscraft, newly reissued on CD with two bonus tracks, was recorded in 1975. Criss and sidemen Ray Crawford (guitar), Dolo Coker (piano), Larry Gales (bass) and Jimmy Smith (a drummer who shouldn't be confused with the Philly organ master) are in fine form on "The Isle Of Celia," a haunting, Latin-flavored number atypical of Criss; the passionate yet relaxed "This Is For Benny" (as in Carter, not Goodman); and a moving interpretation of Benny Carter's "Blues In My Heart." For the bonus tracks, Muse provides an alternate take of "Blues In My Heart" and a heartfelt reading of the pop standard "All The Things You Are."

CHUCK WILLIS: Back To The Blues (Ichiban ICH 1106)

The title Back To The Blues may lead some to believe that Chuck Willis strayed from the blues in a big way, but if the singer/guitarist's last effort, Footprints, is any indication, down-home blues isn't something he gave up. At any rate, the singer/guitarist gets down on such urban blues cuts as "Bow-Legged Woman," "I Ain't Jivin' Baby" and covers of Howlin' Wolf's "I Ain't Superstitious" and Percy Mayfield's "Strange Things Happening," but shows his appreciation of classic soul on "Don't let Success (Turn Your Love Around)," "My Adorable One" and Etta James' "Tell Mama," titled "Tell Papa" on this 9-song CD. Mojo in effect.

WARRIOR: Fighting For The Earth (Metal Blade 26531-4)

A massive "Right on dude!" to Metal Blade for reissuing this headbanger effort on CD. Recorded in 1985, Warrior's Fighting For The Earth is the type of gothic metal that isn't prevalent in 1991—a time when the hard rock/metal scene is rigidly divided into the "glam" and "thrash" camps. Brutal sledgehammer aggression and a definite melodic sense make for a powerful combination on "Only The Strong Survive," "Fighting For The Earth" and other cuts that enslave.

JIMMY LUNCEFORD & HIS HARLEM EXPRESS: Live At Jefferson Barricks, 1944 (Hindsight HCD-221)

Glenn Miller asserted that Jimmy Lunceford's Harlem Express was the ultimate swing big band, saying, "Duke (Ellington) is great. (Count) Basie is remarkable, but Lunceford tops them both." While Miller's assertion is certainly debatable, Lunceford did front one of the most hard-swinging, vivacious units of the Swing Era—a fact illustrated by the CD reissue Live At Jefferson Barricks, 1944. "Wham," "Jeep Rhythm," "Estrelita" and "For Dancers Only" are fine examples of the fire Lunceford & Co. generated. For the uninitiated, Hindsight is a Welk Group-owned label specializing in live big-band recordings from the '30s and '40s that weren't intended for commercial release. The Hindsight catalogue also boasts excellent CDs by Ellington, Basie, Artie Shaw, Claude Thornhill, Stan Kenton and others.

F.A.R.M. Fest '91 Sings Out For Help

THIS SOUNDS LIKE A JOB FOR A GROUP OF SUPER HEROES! Well, maybe they're not exactly super heroes, but they have certainly proven to become super country stars, who have agreed to come to the rescue of financially stressed Oklahoma farmers. Country greats Vince Gill, Garth Brooks, Restless Heart and Joe Diffie have all agreed to use their talents in helping such farmers at F.A.R.M. Fest '91. The benefit concert is set for 7 p.m., May 26, at Oklahoma City's Myriad Convention Center.

F.A.R.M. (Farmers at Risk Matter), a non-profit Oklahoma foundation, was created earlier this year to provide support to state farmers. The idea for the special concert sparked from members of the Rural Crisis Task Force due to the alarmingly high rate of suicides among Oklahoma farmers. After the force met, it soon became apparent that there was very little money available for programs which would directly benefit troubled rural Oklahoma. The force afterwards sought out ways to assist the farmers.

Three of the artists scheduled to perform at F.A.R.M. Fest '91 have an Oklahoma connection. Grammy award winner Vince Gill is from Oklahoma City. Country Music Assoc./American Music Award winner Garth Brooks hails from Yukon and is an Oklahoma State University graduate. Three members of Restless Heart also have various Oklahoma ties.

For ticket information, call the Myriad Box Office at 405-236-2333, or Carson Attractions at 918-584-2000.

A recent Music City signing marks both a working reunion between country sensation Mickey Gilley and Jim Ed Norman, and a new recording project for the entertainer. Norman, president, Warner Bros./Nashville, is the producer responsible for ten of Gilley's #1 hits. Gilley's first release will be a joint effort with Heartland Records and will feature a mixture of his signature songs and some newly recorded songs from the '50s and '60s. Pictured from (l-r) are: Norman, Gilley, and engineer Eric Prestidge. (Photo credit: Don Putnam)

MARK COLLIE RE-SIGNS WITH WILLIAM MORRIS—MCA recording artist Mark Collie has re-linked with the William Morris Agency after a five-month absence, during which time he was with Entertainment Artists. Morris/sr. vice president.

Country Tid-Bits...

COUNTRY STARS TEAM UP TO BRING "T" TO TELEVISION—Production was completed earlier this spring in Austin, Texas, where country music stars Dolly Parton and Asleep At The Wheel's Ray Benson co-starred in Sandollar Productions' T. The finished production is scheduled to air in the fall as an NBC Movie-Of-The-Week. Parton, who portrays a singer named "T," teamed up with Benson to write the project's songs and musical scores. Benson portrays bandleader "Ben Rayson" and members of Asleep At The Wheel appear as the band.

THE TRADITION CONTINUES—Country headliners such as Emmylou Harris, Ronnie Milsap and Kathy Mattea will be featured on stage at the 4th Annual Merle Watson Memorial Festival, at Wilkes Community College Gardens in Wilkesboro, North Carolina. The concert celebration scheduled for April 25-28, will feature the best in Old Time, Bluegrass, Country, Folk, Gospel, Blues and Mountain music. Other artists scheduled to perform at the annual event include Marty Stuart, "Doc" Watson, Pete Seeger, the Dillards, Jerry Douglas, the Nashville Bluegrass Band, Alison Krauss & Union Station, and Mark O'Connor. Over 40 additional acts are also slated for performance throughout the 4-day festival. For more information, call 919-651-8666.

LIFE-SIZE HANK WILLIAMS STATUE IN THE WORKS—Merle Kilgore, personal manager to Hank Williams, Jr., recently announced that Mayor Emory Folmar and the City Council of Montgomery, Alabama have set aside a plot in the city park for the erection of a life-size statue of the immortal Hank Williams, Sr. The unveiling of the statue will be conducted by Hank, Jr. on September 17.

KILLEN "UPS" CONTROL AT AMBASSADOR TRAVEL—Music City business magnate Buddy Killen announced his acquisition of controlling interest in the Nashville-based Ambassador Travel Agency, in which he has been a partner since 1983.

CMA ANNOUNCES STAFF CHANGES—Two vital position changes recently took place within the CMA's staff. Angie Acker has been appointed special projects assistant. Acker will assist in all areas of the special projects department, including the coordination of Fan Fair booths, CMA Award Show, and CMA participation in NACA and NARM. Janet Williams has been appointed to the staff of public information department as public information assistant. Williams has worked in the department since October 1990.

TOM LAFFEY JOINS CELEBRITY INTERNATIONAL—Innovative promoter Tom Laffey has joined the team at Celebrity International Inc., in the capacity as booking agent. Prior to his recent move, Laffey served as director of promotions for the Jim Halsey Company.

NASHVILLE NOTES

BY KIMMY WIX

RODNEY CROWELL TO PLAY NEW ORLEANS JAZZ FEST

Rodney Crowell

Grammy award-winner Rodney Crowell is the only country artist selected to play the 22nd Annual New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival. Crowell will headline on the Ray Ban stage on Friday, April 26. The gold-selling recording artist will join such musical luminaries as B.B. King, Miles Davis, Wynton Marsalis, Los Lobos, Harry Connick, Jr., The Indigo Girls, Michael McDonald and the Neville Brothers at the 10-day festival. Over 3,000 musicians, local artists and special guest stars from around the world play for more than 300,000 people during the annual event.

CEE CEE CHAPMAN SERVES 2ND YEAR AS AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY CELEBRITY SPOKESWOMAN

Cee Cee Chapman

Recording artist Cee Cee Chapman is the 1991 celebrity spokeswoman for the American Cancer Society. Chapman began her association with the society in 1990 at the ACS Crusade in Atlanta, Georgia.

TRAVIS TRITT HEADLINES MAJOR BENEFIT SPECTACULAR

Travis Tritt

Travis Tritt's Country Club," a gala country-style fundraising event which will be highlighted by and hour-long concert performance by country star Travis Tritt, will take place at the Pickwick Center in Burbank, California on Tuesday, April 23, 7 p.m.-midnight. The event will benefit Options House of Hollywood, a non-profit organization which provides temporary housing and counseling to homeless youth in a pleasant, structural and safe environment.

"Through his dedication to serving people in need, Travis Tritt has proven that his enormous talent is exceeded only by his generosity," says Michael Dubelko, president of The Cannell Studios and president and member of the board of directors of Options House.

As host, Tritt has been dubbed the event's "Club President," with KZLA Radio's Ken Cooper serving as "Director of Membership" and master of ceremonies.

"I'm very proud to be a part of this event and such a worthy organization as Options House," Tritt says. "The escalating population of homeless in this country and especially the number of youths on the streets of Hollywood is startling. I feel that it's our job to do all we can to help."

For ticket information, call 213-856-7906.

Bluegrass legend Bill Monroe recently took time to perform with the Hunter's Lane High School String Band at the Nashville Grammy In The Schools program. Monroe and the student band performed for 600 Nashville area high school music students. Grammy In The Schools, sponsored by the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences (NARAS), enables music industry professionals and artists to talk with high school students about pursuing a career in music. The Grammy In The Schools program takes place in ten various cities across the nation.

The release of Paul Overstreet's latest RCA album, Heroes, was the cause for celebration at a reception hosted by BMI. Overstreet (center), who has won BMI Country Songwriter of the Year honors for the past four years, is pictured with (from left) manager Bobby Roberts; BMI/Nashville assistant vice president Harry Warner; album co-producer Brown Bannister; and BMI senior director, writer/publisher relations, Joyce Rice.

Nashville Radio Recieves Top Honors From The ACM

WSIX RADIO GARNERS BOTH STATION AND DJ OF THE YEAR AWARDS—

Bill Boyd, executive director of the Academy of Country Music's board of directors, recently announced the winners in the categories of "Disc Jockey of the Year," "Radio Station of the Year" and "Country Night Club of the Year."

WSIX's Gerry House was honored as the Academy's Disc Jockey of the Year—a first-time-ever win for House, who currently serves as WSIX-FM's top morning man. This marks the second straight year and third time overall that WSIX has picked up a "Hat" award from the Academy of Country Music.

The winners in the Disc Jockey and Radio Station of the Year categories are determined by votes from promotional personnel employed by record labels, independent promoters and representatives of major music industry trade publications, as well as the promotional and publication members of the ACM.

In addition, the Crazy Horse Steak House & Saloon picked up its fifth consecutive Country Night Club of the Year award, which is determined by the same voters as the Radio Station and Disc Jockey awards—plus managers, agents and bookers who are most associated with country music night clubs.

On Wednesday, April 24, NBC Television will air the Academy's 26th annual awards presentation ceremonies, produced by Dick Clark Productions, Inc. The ceremonies will emanate from The Universal Amphitheatre in California.

(We would love to publish information about events happening at your station. Please send us any press releases, pictures, etc., for use in upcoming issues.)

■ SINGLE RELEASES

OUT OF THE BOX

□ BILLY DEAN: "Somewhere In My Broken Heart" (Capitol/SBK)

Producers: Chuck Howard/Tom Shapiro

Writers: Billy Dean/Richard Leigh

This tenderly touched ballad drifts in as a leaf riding the ebb of a clear country stream. "Somewhere In My Broken Heart," the newest release from super rising star Billy Dean, sparks a shattered, yet almost peaceful, lyrical depth. In addition to such a spill of the soul, is the simplicity of an acoustic guitar and a tranquil vocal delivery that creates a luring motion capable of capturing any listener.

FEATURE PICKS

□ TONY TOLIVER: "Swinging Doors" (Curb/Capitol 79703)

Producer: James Stroud

Writer: Merle Haggard

Only occasionally are we gifted with a new country song that gets us this excited! Actually, the song isn't so new and "excited" is to say the least. "Swinging Doors" sparks newcomer Tony Toliver's follow-up to his recent "Bar Stool Fool" and features the great Merle Haggard, who originally introduced this honky-tonk classic, and who also happens to be one of Toliver's musical heroes. The vocal harmony these two create together is magically superb. Although Haggard adds a great interest appeal to this number, it's Toliver who contributes its fresh edge. His tangy and soulful delivery attribute to what's perhaps called the best of real, heart-n-soul country singing! The fancy piano work? Yep, Toliver again.

□ MOLLY & THE HEYMAKERS: "He Comes Around" (Reprise 26443)

Producers: Paul Worley/Ed Seay

Writers: Molly Scheer/Gary Burr

YES! YES! YES! Their second release is finally here! When this charismatic band hit the scene with their sizzling "Chasin' Something Called Love," the face of country music revealed a brand new expression, and everyone smiled right back. The follow-up from Molly & The Heymakers, entitled "He Comes Around," comes across with the same winning qualities—a barrel-load of energy, spicy instrumentation, flavory vocals and an authentic roots-n-roll drive. Once again, lead vocalist Molly Sheer stings the tune with her fiery mandolin, which has thus far become one of the new group's leading ID tags.

□ LARRY BOONE: "To Be With You" (Columbia 38 73813)

Producers: Steve Buckingham/Marshall Morgan

Writer: C. Peters

Boone bounces back with a bit more snap, crackle and pop on his second Columbia release. "To Be With You" presents a your-love-is-worth-anything theme and flaunts Boone's hearty-rugged vocals better than ever. Stellar production also drips from this cut, as well as excellent lyrics and the best of traditional instrumentation.

□ CONWAY TWITTY: "One Bridge I Didn't Burn" (MCA 54077)

Producers: Conway Twitty/Dee Henry

Writers: Steve Dean/Jim McBride

This long-time country veteran proves over and over again that his ability to sing remains quite consistent, but the area in which Twitty never ceases to amaze us is that one of emotion. With his latest release, "One Bridge I Didn't Burn," Twitty's heart and soul seems to melt down to the core of this thought-probing ballad, and brings to surface a vocal performance that's truly commanding.

INDIE INSIGHT

Cricket Rhodes: Sincere About Country Music

Cricket Rhodes

THE TITLE OF RECORDING ARTIST CRICKET RHODES' LATEST SINGLE, "Are You Sincere," perhaps questions love, but if directed toward herself about country music, the answer is an obvious "yes!"

After only recently being signed to Nashville-based AMI Records, Rhodes is quickly gaining ground within the realms of country music. "Are You Sincere" jumps up ten slots this week to #59 on Cash Box's Top 100 Country Singles Chart. Although the single marks her first release from the AMI label, it's certainly not her first taste of national chart success. In September, 1990, Rhodes' "With His Hand In Mine" single rose to #55, and in June, 1990, her first-ever release entitled "I'd Love To Get In Trouble With You" garnered the #5 position on Cash Box's Up And Coming Chart.

Influenced early in life by such country-greats as Patsy Cline, Brenda Lee and Connie Smith, it's no surprise that Rhodes developed a comparative singing style—a diverse vocal package which wails with soul-stirring blues and deep traditional values.

Perhaps considered somewhat of a newcomer to country radio, Rhodes is certainly no stranger to the country music stage. After having performed in numerous clubs throughout the south, as well as various fair circuit dates, Rhodes has consistently garnered a devoted audience following. The Jackson, Mississippi native also placed second in the famed Wrangler Country Showdown—a recent honor that not only boosted the singer's determination, but opened her door to musical success just a bit wider.

While Rhodes' door to success continues to open and her performance continues to hit the listening audience with a positive punch, one can assume that the answer to "Are You Sincere" will only become more and more confident for this newcomer's recording career. A definite "yes" to say the least.

INDIE FEATURE PICKS

□ HOLLY LIPTON: "Lonely Teardrops" (Evergreen EV-1130)

Producer: Johnny Morris

Writers: B. Gordy, Jr./T. Carlo

This gal is the proud owner of excellent singing ability. Over and over again, recording artist Holly Lipton proves to be perhaps the top choice of all female recording acts signed to an independent label. In this doo-wop-enhanced tune, Lipton wails out a powerful performance that's hard-driving and definitely worth the airplay.

□ DANIEL RICHARD: "Stand-In Woman" (Fox Fire FF889)

□ MICHAEL STEIN w/MARY-ANN REDMOND: "We Are With You" (Stratton 002)

□ JOE LONSDALE & NORTHEWYND: "The Face Behind Those Bottles" (Saddlestone SS-014)

Midway Launches Promo For Bally's Harley Davidson Pin

CHICAGO—Following up an extremely successful marketing program launched for Bugs Bunny's Birthday Ball pinball, Bally has now established a promotional campaign that involves major Harley-Davidson licensees. The result is an impressive collection of official Harley Davidson merchandise that is available at special discounted prices for any and all locations that are interested in creating prize packages for on-site Harley-Davidson pinball tournaments, contests or any other competitive events. In addition, authorized Bally distributors can also take advantage of these offers for point-of-display items, or sales support merchandise to their customers.

Following is a list of the participating companies and the products they are offering:

AA World Class Embroidery—a collection of top-quality embroidered patches officially licensed by Harley-Davidson. Contact: Sid Hauser at 1-800-526-0411 or 201-489-0808.

American Ranger Incorporated—such unique merchandise as compact discs and cassettes of poems and songs that capture the Harley experience, along with a book of poetry and 100% cotton Holy Ranger t-shirts. Contact: Martin Jack Rosenblum at 414-332-7474.

R.A. Briggs & Company—an authentic colorful "Born In The USA" Harley-Davidson 100% cotton velour beach/shower/towel. Contact: Bally Customer Service at 1-800-366-2346.

IXSPA 2000—a full selection of Harley-Davidson athletic footwear in adult and children's sizes, plus tops, jackets and t-shirts. Contact: Peter Mahmet at 609-275-6777.

P.M.I. Toys & Novelties—a cuddly line of distinctive plush Harley-Hogs, available in a variety of sizes up to three feet tall. Contact: Jay Foreman at 1-800-562-5266.

Raintree, Inc.—a collection of officially licensed Harley-Davidson buckles, bolo ties and large keychains, all hand-cast, hand-polished, hand-painted. Contact: Howard Yudell at 818-765-0900.

RK Stratman, Inc.—a complete line of personalized items such as silk-screened and embroidered garments and ballcaps, mylar decals, embroidered emblems plus novelty items available with individual custom applique. Contact: Sales representative at 1-800-458-1481.

3D Emblem Corporation—apparel and accessories, including t-shirts, sweatshirts and tops for men, women and children, bandanas, crafted pewter, bronze and silver earrings, bracelets, pins and rings; all featuring Harley-Davidson trademarks and insignias. Contact: Mark Hawk at 1-800-433-7607.

Two-Gether Leather Mfg.—uniquely crafted, Harley-Davidson inspired leather belts, wallets and other accessories. Contact: Charles Rosen at 906-932-4949.

All of the official Harley-Davidson merchandise is available at special discounted pricing when the caller mentions the secret word: "Bally's Harley-Davidson."

ON THE GREEN! A record forty AMOA board members and spouses participated in AMOA's 13th annual Bob Nims Golf Classic at the Camelback Golf Course in Scottsdale, Arizona, during the mid-year board meeting this past February. There were ten four-member scramble teams, which is a departure from the individual competition of past years. Eleven of this year's forty participants were women, by the way. Pictured as he welcomed golfers to this classic event (photo 1) is AMOA past president and tournament namesake Bob Nims (A.M.A. Distributors-Metairie, LA), who puts in a lot of time each year coordinating the event. Also pictured (photo 2) is the second place team, composed of Russell and Aida Love (Royal Vending Services-Santa Fe Springs, CA) and Phil and Debbie Elum (Elum Music-Massillon, OH), with the leather two-suitier carry-on bags they received as prizes. Chuck Milhem of Valley Recreational Products and Joe Dillon of Williams Electronics rate a salute for not only sponsoring the tournament, but for providing the tournament prizes; and Greg Sullivan of National Sports Games in Phoenix must also be recognized for sponsoring the awards party.

AROUND THE ROUTE

BY CAMILLE COMPASIO

MONDIAL DISTRIBUTING, INC. will be holding an open house for its branch in the Pittsburgh area. Event will take place on Saturday, May 4 at Conley's Motor Inn, which is located at 3550 William Penn Highway in Monroeville, Pennsylvania. Naturally, the welcome mat will be out for area customers and guests, who will enjoy not only the hospitality of the house but a full display of equipment, including some of the very latest video and pin releases. The Pittsburgh staff, headed by newly appointed branch sales manager Doug Wilson, will be on hand to greet everyone and provide whatever assistance is needed. For further info, contact Doug at 412-733-1220 or the parent company, Mondial International at 914-738-7411 in Pelham Manor, New York.

WHODUNIT? Better yet, Who Shot Johnny Rock? This is a terrific follow-up to Mad Dog McCree and, as Betson's John Margold noted, it will have an even greater impact. The scenario involves four suspects and a gorgeous blonde, packing a tommy gun, who is intent on finding the one who killed her boyfriend. For this, she solicits the help of the player, of course! As John said, all you need here is "a steady eye, nerves of steel—and lots of dollars!" Quite a game! The discs will be shipped around July 1... And by the way, wasn't it great to meet the Mad Dog McCree actor and the stunt woman from the saloon who both appeared live in the Betson exhibit at ACME '91 and really captivated visitors!

ON THE WAY. Atari Games' marketing chief Mary Fujihara advised that the Panarama Hard Drivin', which you saw at ACME, will be in delivery around the end of May. As for the Batman kit—first run is sold out—it's doing extremely well.

BABYLAND. Congratulations to Premier's Dan Clarton on the birth of 8 lbs. 5 oz. Kelly Ann, who timed her arrival for 4:30 am on March 24, just as Dan was setting things up at ACME. Needless to say, he rushed right home to be with his missus in time for the delivery... This coming October, Taito America's Julie Filips and her hubby will be welcoming their first child. Seems like only yesterday Natalie Kulig was in the same boat. Her baby is already seven months old. Hats off to the Taito America ladies! So who's next?

ALRIGHT! Jaleco has been testing its new E.D.F. (Earth Defense Force) kit at the University of Illinois, Chicago Circle Campus, for the past five weeks, with very encouraging results. The game room houses about 50 pieces and E.D.F. has ranked among the top four, with average earnings exceeding three hundred dollars per week at this point in the test run.

HOW ABOUT ALL OF THOSE TERRIFIC post-ACME regional showings that have been going on. Our trade's distributors certainly rate a salute for providing their customers the opportunity to see all of the latest equipment that was displayed at the convention. Naturally, Cash Box will continue its ongoing coverage of some of these events. Keep tuned.

ACME '91: Upside, Downside

BY DOC ENGLISH

ACME '91 PLAYED TO MIXED REVIEWS in the Vegas glitterdome. After skipping through aisles and sifting through brochures, many operators seemed to see an upside and downside to the show.

Upside, first. Music rolls merrily along. The tide still rises for the compact disc phonograph. Rock-Ola, Rowe, NSM, Wurlitzer, Pioneer. Just had to mention their names. Pool and darts strong as ever. Valley, Dynamo, Merit, Arachnid, Valley. Just had to mention their names.

Pinballs were well represented. Data East pushes the envelope again with Checkpoint; ignition start, new style scoreboard readout, select your own music from classical to rock to rap, vibrating engines. Williams attempts to relive the success of Pinbot with the Machine—Bride of Pinbot. Gottlieb is ready to challenge with the country and western theme Cactus Jack's.

Redemption—voted most likely to redeem. Bromley's Ghost Town, a throwback to the old style rifle galleries of Midway and Chicago Coin. Strictly mechanical. Sleeper—Leprechaun's Pot of Gold. Guide a golf ball through a swiss cheese shaped cylinder. Best reprise—Data East Cosmogangs. Most unique—Williams' Slugfest. A revival of the ever popular mechanical pinball baseball with the uniqueness of a dispenser that gives out baseball cards. Taito may have a hit with its mole bashing game if it reconsiders the price.

Video, dedicated. If nothing else, by the sheer weight of numbers there is always something good in video at the show. Odds on favorite for super stardom? Konami's The Simpsons—testing at $600 a week! Atari's strong, silent, with legs, medieval bombardment and castle building game, Ramparts, just keeps making money. A top five arcade piece. Betson follows Mad Dog McCree with Who Shot Johnny Rock? Data East's Assault could surprise. War fever is not over yet. Leland's Super Off Road bore a son—Indy Heat. A three-player driving game. Race cars, not pick-up trucks. Namco Final Lap 2 sitdown—perhaps the best competitive machine on the market. Steel Gunner—a double gun testing extremely well. SNK's NEO-GEO—more software on the way. Across the board, this has been a strong system for nearly nine months. Arguably a must buy. Ask any operator who owns one for a testimonial.

Sega earns a special paragraph for Time Traveler, the most talked about game at the show. It's a hologram, perceived as a significant step forward in visuals, but the game, a Dragon's Lair descendant, was unfinished and relied too much on memorization of moves, not spontaneous action. On the other hand, many barely restrained the urge to reach into the machine and grasp the realistic, three dimensional characters. The factory claims 60 days to production. Many hope they take their time and fulfill, rather than botch, the promise of 3-D. Sega also displayed Rad Mobile upright and deluxe sitdown. A cross-country driving game with sharp graphics and deft touches like oncoming traffic, cross traffic, headlights, windshield wipers during rainstorms, crash scenes, pursuing good-ole-boy police, and banked roads looming over cities.

Kits. A decent selection. Atari's Batman—a one-player based on the movie exploits of the caped crusader. Atari's Ramparts—a two-player version, with joysticks, of the arcade hit. American Technos' WWF II—sequel to the blockbuster. Capcom's Streetfighter II—a red hot dedicated, now a kit, a mano-select-a-character karate battle. Irem's Gun Force—looks like a Super Contra, but earns like a Raiden, one of the most consistent kits of the last six months. Romstar's NEO-GEO—Burning Fight—an excellent addition to an already potent lineup. Some call it the new Final Fight. Sega—last year MVP; this year, Clutch Hitter. Just in time for opening day. Taito's Hat Trick Hero—never too soon to gear up for Soccer's World Cup. Leprechaun's Bowl-a-Rama—an update that should restore your Capcom Bowl to its original collections. Enough choices to satisfy anyone's palate.

And now the downside. To a number of operators and distributors, one show has become indistinguishable from the next. The show lacked allure. It was top heavy with manufacturers and distributors, while many operators turned away with a 'no thank you.' Some even questioned if Vegas is the proper venue for a show.

From the so-what-else-is-new department, complaints about the over-abundance of high end games. "Pricey" was the buzzword. Operators praised certain games, but when they heard the price, smiles changed to frowns of disbelief. Even kits, once the best buy in the business, came under attack. $1,200-1,500 is the common parameters. No longer a bargain anymore, kit prices such as these open the door even wider for parallel boards. Some manufacturers, with their circuitous justifications, argue that they price equipment based on its earning power. If this were true, a number of videos would sell for $1.98!

Except for Sega's Time Traveler, there were no significant technological advances, and even this hologram received tempered applause. It appeared in rudimentary form, a fascinating idea that had not yet become a full-fledged game. Expectations of digitized graphics that added so much to High Impact and Pit Fighter went largely unsatisfied. Only Batman makes some use of it.

Operators bemoaned thematic reruns. A plethora of karate and shoot 'em ups; and how many ways can you serve up baseball, soccer and bowling? Even the most highly touted game, The Simpsons, is executed in a traditional fighting format. Perhaps what someone said about literature and the movies applies to videos; there are only about seven basic story lines, the ingenuity is in how you embellish them. Possibly we are condemned to repeat these themes ad infinitum, no matter how fervently we try to escape them. An extra dose of imagination must overcome the snare of staleness.

ACME '91 offered promise and disappointment, but the definitive evaluation of any show cannot be made at the show or directly after the show. In six months all will be revealed: some "can't miss" machines may be misfits and some ugly ducklings may become swans. Unfortunately, an operator cannot wait six months to make a decision. Pass the tarot cards, please. The crystal ball is in the shop.

Atlas Packs 'Em In At ACME '91 Showing

CHICAGO—Atlas Distributing, Inc. hosted one of its most successful post-ACME '91 regional showings to date on Thursday, April 4. There were about 200 traders in attendance, including factory people and representatives from 85 operating firms. The equipment layout was outstanding, with a full abundance of newly introduced pieces for operators to view and evaluate. Most importantly, the mood was upbeat! (photos by Pam Caposieno)

Atlas ops Craig Rohde and Bruce Neuber (shaking hands with new dad, Dan Clarton) at Gottlieb's Cactus Jack's.

Atlas sales rep Wayne Watson admiring the custom made Mario Bros. suspenders Nintendo's Mike Minor is sportin'!

Takin' a try at Kaneko's Gals Panic are area ops Bill Hilty and John Lewis of A & A Services in Waukegon.

Batman, an honored guest—in video and life size—is pictured with Atari's Frank Cosentino and our host Jerry Marcus.

Adding glamour to the occasion (l-r) were: Konami's Tina Ferguson and Mary Hermanson, Aladdin's Sherilee Kohler and SNK's Rachel Davies.

Posing at the other end of Putting Challenge are Atlas' Jerry Marcus and area op Stan Ruzicka.

Where you see darts, you'll find Valley Recreation's Bob Corrigan (l) and Merit's Mike Gannon—and that's CB's Camille Compasio who stopped by to chat.

This op was too engrossed in Match Five to face the camera; however, you'll recognize Grand Products' Dave Marojske and Stan Jarocki, smiling approvingly!
