GAVIN ANNOUNCES THE RICK CARROLL AWARD

At the 1990 Gavin Seminar for Media Professionals, the Rick Carroll Radio Innovator of the Year Award will be unveiled. It's named to honor Alternative Radio pioneer and KROQ Program Director, the late Rick Carroll. The winner, who will be chosen by members of the Gavin staff, will be a person who is dedicated to furthering new and innovative programming ideas.

It's also important to note the establishment of the Rick Carroll Memorial Fund, which will provide a scholarship to be used solely at the Sacramento State University Communications Department, Rick's alma mater. Those wishing to donate should contact Scott Mason at KROQ (818-567-1067).

Infinity Broadcasting (KROQ's owner) Vice President Tony Beradini is thrilled about both the award and the scholarship and plans to be on hand for the debut presentation.

WHOLE LOTTA SHAKIN' IN CHICAGO

Dave Shakes, currently the Program Director at WTIC/FM-Hartford, has been named to replace Buddy Scott at WBBM/FM (B96)-Chicago.

The 1987 recipient of the Gavin Small Market PD of the Year award, Shakes has been at WTIC for two years. He began as an intern at KFRC-San Francisco and went on to successfully program KWNZ-Reno and KSND-Eugene, OR.

"After programming a market leader such as WTIC-FM I wanted to move to a radio station that was an underdog and needed a turnaround," Shakes told the Gavin Report. "I got my wish."

B96 GM Tom Matheson said that Shakes is a good people person. He'll blow into the Windy City on January 8.

KIKX Goes Into Receivership—Staff Cut

Looks like Scrooge is alive and well in Colorado Springs

Top rated KIKX has unexpectedly gone into receivership, and as a result, new management has slashed a large portion of the staff and has asked others to take as much as a $5,000 pay cut.

Casualties include GM Barbara Beddor, PD Jeff Davis, and MD/PM Drive Personality Joe Kelly. Apparently the General Sales Manager and morning team will be gone before you read this.

Due to lack of payments, First Sierra Communications no longer holds claim to the station, and it is expected to revert back to previous owner Jack Higgins shortly. New General Manager John Dancer stepped in on Friday (15) and heads immediately began to roll.

Both Davis (719-260-6947) and Kelly (719-576-3361) are available. Since Davis joined the station it jumped from #7 to #1 in the market. "This thing was cookin'," Davis told the Gavin Report. "Everybody was talking about us."

Swindel Upped

Virgin Records Senior Vice President, Sales and Marketing Jim Swindel was promoted to Senior Vice President and General Manager.

Swindel has been with the company since 1987. "As a member of the original team here, Jim is one of the architects who have helped establish Virgin as a label here in America," said Co-Managing Director Jeff Ayeroff. "Without him, we wouldn't have made it."

Robert Barone Leaves Gavin

This week the Gavin family bids a fond farewell to Robert Barone, who for the past two years has Managed our Radio Services Division. He is joining Rough Trade Records. Robert will still be a part of our Editorial Staff and will regularly contribute reviews to the Alternative Section.

Replacing Robert is Seana Baruth, who has worked here as an intern and part-time for a year.

WHAT HAPPENED IN '89?

This is the final installment of our capsulized look at the events of 1989. We hope that this time next year you'll all be happy with your changes, working for the same company—only in a higher position!

•October 6: Clarke Ingram leaves KRQ-Tucson, arguably the #1 Top 40 station in the country, to go home to Pittsburgh and the PD-ship at B94...Veteran programmer Buzz Bennett leaves KHYY/FM (Y95)-Dallas, and Charlie Quinn, who recently exited Eagle 106-Philly moves right in...KXXR-Kansas City ups Gary Franklin from APD/MD to PD.

NAME THAT TUNE!

The best time I've had reporting for the Gavin has been collecting our staff's favorite song of the decade. Everyone groaned and asked to name more than one—and in some cases came back and changed their selection—but once pinned down to a single choice, most all came through. Some, like Betty Hollars who chose Terence Trent D'Arby's "Sign Your Name," didn't take a millisecond to think about it. Others, like Ron Fell, refused to knuckle under my pressure, and wouldn't pick just one. For better or better, here are the choices—and some comments. Keith Zimmerman chose Paul Young's "Wherever I Lay My Hat That's My Home," and brother Kent chose John Cougar Mellencamp's "The Authority Song," saying, "It has every element of rock n roll I like." Diane Rufer went with Boyz Scaggs' "Look What You've Done To Me." "I gotta pick Boz, right? He's my favorite." David "Slim" Beran wondered if I could mention the Butthole Surfers in the Gavin. Well, I just did, and David's fave is "Two Parter." Robert Barone chose Black Uhuru's "What Is Life?" and Linda Ryan, after deliberation, chose "Throw Your Arms Around Me" by Hunters & Collectors. My office-mate Natalie Cusenza flat-out refused to buckle. "Don't put mine, Beverly, 'cause I can't decide." She almost chose Madonna's "Lucky Star," but took it back at the last second. Natalie was able to help Dave Sholin break a tie between Peter Gabriel's "Sledgehammer" and Prince's "1999." "1999" won. Lisa Smith chose "Seven Year Ache" by Rosanne Cash and Elma Greer chose "That's What Friends Are For" in honor of the six kindergarten pals she's still tight with. Beth Hartley didn't have to think twice about U2's "Pride (In The Name of Love)," but Dodie Shoemaker took a week to come up with "Love Is The Great Pretender" by Animal Nightlife. Echo And The Bunnymen scored big in the Art Department, with Peter Grame picking "Ocean Rain" and Noel Barnes choosing "Do It Clean." Machele Fowers, when told that "Alison" was a '70s song, went with her original choice, "Tempted" by Squeeze; Ben Carlson liked "Once In A Lifetime" by the Talking Heads. After agonizing as only she can, Seana Baruth named Nanci Griffith's "There's A Light Beyond These Woods, Mary Margaret," and Brian Samson came up with Con Funk Shun's "Love's Train." Annette M. Lai fearlessly went with Whitney Houston's "The Greatest Love Of All," and Ian "Leon" Tanamachi liked "Misled" by Kool & The Gang. Cyndi Hoelzle, who has the most diverse Top Ten list you could ever hope to see, and John Martinucci were the only ones who chose the President, President of Emmis Radio and Executive VP respectively.

•November 3: Gerry Cagle returns to radio as Corporate PD and OM for Royce International Broadcasting Co... Linda Kirishjian hangs out her own shingle, forms New Art.

•November 10: Stuart Layne leaves radio on top, accepting the VP/Marketing position for Emmis-owned Seattle Mariners... Art Jaeger joins Capitol Records as Executive VP.

•November 24: John Peake takes over KRQ-Tucson as PD...Michael Plen officially named VP/Promotion at Virgin... Phil Quartararo announces the January 1 debut of Charisma Records.

same song: Public Enemy's "Don't Believe The Hype."

Being the writer, I have the luxury of not having to choose a favorite. Rather, I'm choosing what I feel is an important statement.

Public Enemy's "Fight The Power," to me, signals the end of the "Me" decade. We're moving from questioning authority to fighting it. It's about time.

Happy New Year! Beverly Mire

TOMORROW IS THE BEGINNING OF THE REST OF YOUR LIFE

by Ron Fell

MUSIC

- A wave of nostalgia for the music of the late sixties will come into vogue—no doubt inspired by the repopularization of Jim Morrison & the Doors via a film that at this moment is in pre-production.
- Digital Audio Tape (DAT) will not make a significant contribution to portable/personal music.
- The laser video disc will be a major form of music entertainment.
- A consumer device that will allow the user to mix and balance popular tracks to personal taste will come to market. A few courageous musicians will make unmixed, multi-track versions of their work for consumer mixing.
- The anti-personal portable stereo speaker beatbox will die a glorious death.
- The current trend of reviving has-been musical dinosaurs will end by 1991. Pop music sales leaders will continue to be fresh, young, innocent musicians not yet jaded by the business of music.
- Rap music will find melody and die.
- The New Kids On The Block will have to change their name, eliminating at least "New" and "Kids."
- The New York Times' Arts & Leisure section will begin to put Pop music features in the front half of the section.
- Radio-only promo singles will disappear for a brief period. Airplay chaos will eventually force a return to "tracks of emphasis."
- In the early '90s too many record companies will result in lower profit margins for even the strongest record companies. The mid-90s will see a return of accountants as label heads and merger mania will prevail to decade's end.
- Independent promotion will survive another wave of paranoia resulting from a yet-to-be-announced massive indictment of now-ancient promotion practices and programmer greed. The past and current "bounty" system will give way to stronger in-house promotion and an alliance of ethical independent promotion professionals.

RADIO

- Stations with nothing to lose will take all the chances.
- Ratings services will market psychographic data to great effect and the reliance on mere demographic data will become meaningless.
- Stations relying too heavily on research of any kind will attract too many passive listeners and will thus make themselves less attractive to advertisers who figure out that passive listeners aren't motivated by commercials.
- Stations with huge debt service obligations will resemble the current state of America's savings and loans. There will be no government bailout.

Our world got a lot smaller in the '80s. And in some ways we became closer as a result. This past generation benefited most from the quantum leap in communications technology. Into our lives have come cable television, the personal computer with modem, the compact disc, cellular telephones and the FAX machine. As we closed out the previous decade only the personal computer and cable television had a toe-hold on the '80s. The other conveniences had either not yet seen the light of day, or were costly, imperfed beasts beyond the reach of all but toy collectors on the cutting edge.

As we approach the '90s what can we expect as the next instruments of convenience and pleasure? As far as creative extensions of existing items, how about:

- Five inches of compact disc music (seventy-five minutes) on a three-inch disc.
- Pocket-size cellular telephones with headsets.
- A wider audio dynamic range of telephone transmission and reception.
- Low-cost televideo phones.
- Low-cost, faster, plain paper FAX machines.

I'll bet that by the end of the next decade almost everyone will be cellular and that the main purpose of telephone lines will be for the reception of what we now rely on satellite dishes and cable for: diversified television programming. It's highly likely that the satellite dish will have become obsolete by the turn of the century, having been buried by the revolution of fiber-optic technology.

In just the past decade, the telephone, the computer, the FAX machine and CNN have led to someone's wildest dream—The Global Village. News, both bad and good, now travels at the speed of light. The portability of news gathering devices in radio and television has accelerated our quest for the truth.

The workplace is about to be populated by the first generation of kids who grew up with digital watches, pocket calculators and PCs, the way we grew up with slide rules and a semester of typing in high school.

Some members of the '70s "Me Generation" made a few mistakes in allowing technology to babysit and train the next generation. As a result, some of tomorrow's work force, though prepared to manipulate its generation of devices, won't know what to do with an unsharpened pencil, and won't be able to hold a meaningful conversation in any language other than English. That latter could relegate us to hermit status in the Global Village. Preoccupation with the Super Mario Brothers and the Mutant Ninja Turtles reminds me of the brilliant scene in "Being There," when Peter Sellers as Chauncey Gardner attempts to ward off a threatening gang on the streets of Washington, D.C. with the flick of a television set's remote control.

I don't think we should rely solely on the next generation to save the world. Saving our planet requires the collective focus of all generations on two extremely critical issues: the environment (a physical condition) and a moralist mindset (a social condition).

We need to pledge our human resources to heightening awareness around the world to our disintegrating environment, particularly the rainforests and ozone layer. But even more immediate should be our concern for the world's homeless and hungry. Think about it. Thousands are dying EVERY DAY through no fault of their own.

My prayer for the next ten years is that we learn to care more for our fellow human being and that we learn to live with our environment and make it better. ●

He's sold over 75 million records and was the first Country artist to perform at Carnegie Hall. Eddy Arnold, who began his career with RCA in 1949, recently inked a deal for a new record to be released in February. Witnessing the signing is that fabulous RCA trio, Jack Weston, Randy Goodman and Joe Galante.

Garth Brooks has been opening shows for Kenny Rogers on a Dole sponsored tour. The duo toured together in November and will continue until the end of December.

WMZQ-Washington, D.C. gave listener Louise Jannelle something to celebrate when she won a $1600 Martin guitar signed by CBS artists' Tammy Wynette, Rodney Crowell, Vern Gosdin, Shenandoah, Mary Chapin Carpenter, Ricky Van Shelton and Shelby Lynn. The artists signed the guitar before the finishing process, thereby ensuring their signatures will remain forever. Shelby Lynn (left) was on hand for the presentation.

INSIDE COUNTRY

STATION HAPPENINGS. Willie Nelson just happened to be appearing in concert in Palm Springs on the same day that KCMJ held its Annual Toys For Tots gold tournament. Needless to say Willie showed up on golf course ready to play, and helped MD Rick Young and crew raise money for Toys For Tots...Wendi Lee is the new Music Director at WOKD-Arcadia...Ken Cameron is no longer Music Director at CFAC-Calgary. Brent Estabrooks is joining the staff from CKGY-Red Deer as MD and will be doing an on-air shift...KSAN-San Francisco's Lee Logan and Nikki Courtney will be getting married on December 30th on the Hawaiian island of Kauai. The happy event takes place on the couple's eleventh anniversary together...KRED/AM-Eureka helped out with this year's Salvation Army Food Drive and the Marine's Toys For Tots program. Dana Hall reports they raised over 7,000 pounds of food and toys...WSCP-Pulaski conducted an End Of the Decade listener poll and MD Debra Anne reports her listeners named the Charlie Daniels Band as group of the decade and "Uneasy Rider '88" the song of the decade...KXKW-Lafayette is changing to a News/Talk format at the beginning of 1990.

PROGRAMMERS ARE TALKING ABOUT. Charlie Kampa at KBRF-Fergus Falls is getting good response to the Signatures II album...Roger Lewis at KXIA-Marshalltown says his listeners love the "Walkin', Talkin', Cryin', Barely Beaten Broken Heart cut from the Highway 101 lp...Jim Quinton at WCHK-Canton tells us that Alan Jackson's "Home" is doing really well for him...Ed Paulson at KQIL-Grand Junction says he could play the Ricky Van Shelton single 24 hours a day and his listeners would still want more, and they can't keep it in the stores...When Steve Martin at WVMI-Biloxi started playing the Marsha Thornton record, one of his listeners was especially happy to hear it. Marsha's brother Terry Thornton is stationed at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi and was thrilled to hear his sister on the air.

ARTIST HAPPENINGS. With the merger of Capitol and Universal (see last week's News section in The Gavin Report), all Universal artists will now be listed on the Capitol label...Look for the long-awaited new O'Kanes album titled "Imagine That" to ship sometime in January, and the first single to ship next week...Southern Pacific will join The Doobie Brothers for a special pay per view cable television show that will air on Thursday, January 25th. Filmed at Pearl Harbor, the proceeds from this special will benefit the Vietnam Vets Foundation...When Billy Joe Royal's lp "The Royal Treatment" went gold, it marked the first gold album in his distinguished twenty-year career.

We'll talk to you again the week of January 8th. Have a wonderful Holiday season!

P.D. NOTEBOOK

by Eric Norberg

THE END OF THE '80S

Concluding our three week look back at notable trends and events of the 1980s, as reflected in this column's year-end summaries, the headline on the 1987 retrospective was "Dawn Of The New Age," continuing: "Almost every December, I'm able to write about a 'format of the year,' and 1987 is no exception. The hoopla surrounding the new New Age music format still amazes me. Although I don't for a minute think we are seeing the birth of a 'one-in-every-market' format here, I do see a significant potential audience, composed at least partly of those who seek background music but are too young for the all-orchestral approach.

"One major programming trend that hasn't received much attention in recent years is the waning of the traditional Beautiful Music station. This is partly because their demos grew 'too old' (these stations had become irrelevant to younger listeners), and partly because there have been no significant releases of lush instrumental covers of recent hits for many years.

"The death of the background music LP market was directly attributable to the success of the background music station. Why should anyone buy recordings by Mantovani, Percy Faith, etc., when FM radio provided them for free? By bringing about the end of the production of the music they were using, Easy Listening stations more or less put themselves out of business. Today, they have largely mutated into 'Lite A/C' stations, with a mix of researched, mostly older, vocal A/C hits designed not to intrude...New Age stations provide instrumental music for background use, and a younger demo to boot. Such stations fill a hole in the marketplace...There is also good reason to think the New Age formats will draw 'disaffected radio listeners'...However, I cannot help but think that some of the stations plunging into this format without really understanding what they are doing have unreasonable expectations, and will look for another bandwagon in a year or two." We also noted "New Age stations had better find a way to announce titles and artists to assist in sales of the records they are playing, or they too run the risk of destroying the industry they are dependent on." Most did increase the announcing of selections; but in fact some of these stations have been changing format recently. Complicating matters has been a hybridization of jazz and New Age which has had at best mixed success in 1989.

During 1988 we had several spirited columns containing reader mail on "speeding up records," a practice which has become harder to do, though not impossible, with the growth of the CD as the source of broadcast music. In September of 1988, "P.D. Notebook" passed its tenth anniversary, and we paused to remember again the late Bill Gavin, who invited us to begin it as he converted the Gavin Report from a mimeographed newsletter to a magazine format.

The 1988 year-end column noted the continued growth of Urban Contemporary as a challenge to Top 40 in some markets, and continuing efforts to improve AM and FM radio technically and through regulative changes from the FCC.

And that brings us now to 1989—and the end of the 1980s! This has been the decade of FM dominance and AM retrenchment. We've seen FM station valuations skyrocket, losing all relevance to stations' billing levels—FM stations are frequently traded like securities these days, bought for insane prices simply in the belief that a year or two later they can be resold for even higher prices. This sort of bubble eventually collapses when potential buyers are forced to say "we agree it's worth it, but we can't manage the price," and that point hasn't been reached yet, due to the explosion of "leveraged buyouts" in which "junk bonds" (high interest bonds with greater investor risk) are issued to pay these inflated prices. The junk bond market began to tremble in September of this year, as some major companies, struggling under massive debt, faced default on their bonds. At some point FM values will collapse as the market for these unrealistically high prices dries up, and many who paid such prices will find themselves unable to maintain their own debt service and unable to find buyers who will pay even as much as they did. This will probably spark a string of prominent bankruptcies. The bargains, today, are on the AM band, where good facilities have been sold for very little money this past year—or in a few cases have simply been given away.

Interestingly, 1989 proved to be rather unexpectedly the year in which "singles" made a significant comeback. The RIAA began the year by reducing the standard for a "gold record" from 1,000,000 singles sold to only 500,000, and then saw 69 1989 singles certified gold by mid-September! Only two singles were certified in 1988—and three in 1987. The lower sales standard was the primary cause of this explosion of gold, but nine of those 69 singles sold over a million, and one over two million, which returned the business to the certification levels of 1985. The cassette single was given considerable credit for this, but even vinyl singles were selling better than in the previous two years.

A&M Records began experimenting with the "non-single single"—releasing songs simply by marking them on album CDs sent to radio stations. However, the lack of an actual single release eliminated such songs from consideration on many charts, which stuck to a policy of not listing album cuts, so the customs and criteria of the industry so far have not proven accepting of such an efficient technique. WRITING ON THE WALL by One 2 Many was one hit that was victim to these standards.

As so often has been noted in these year-end columns over the past ten years, technical developments in AM and FM were among 1989s highlights. AM radio received an FCC mandate to conform to the new NRSC-2 10 kHz bandwidth limit by next summer, a requirement which can be attained by adopting the NRSC-1 pre-emphasis curve and filter. The NAB built and began testing an "anti-skywave antenna" which might allow higher AM nighttime power without increasing interference, and testing a new above-ground radial counterpoise system which could reduce the cost of building future AM antenna systems by as much as 80% with no loss of efficiency. Harris joined Nautel in offering solid-state transmitters all the way to 50 kw, and other manufacturers prepared to introduce similar models as well.

In programming, AM saw a growing diversity of alternative formats, including "all business news," which by the end of the year had entered a great many major and medium markets, but so far without the ratings to show whether it would attain long-term success.

In FM, 1989 saw much controversy erupt after an attack on the merits of FMX stereo by Dr. Bose of MIT. Class A FMs were granted a blanket power increase—but with such restrictions, designed to avoid an increase in interference, that the majority of FMs in the northeast, who had initiated the proposal, would not be able to take advantage of it. The FCC permitted upgrades of Class A stations to low-power Class B and C facilities, in more remote areas where no increase in interference would result, and allowed directional antennas to be used on FM to offer more latitude in transmitter placement without increasing interference to existing stations. And years of controversy continued about the technique of "composite clipping" to generate the loudest possible sound, while Modulation Sciences introduced a new "more accurate" modulation monitor for FM which would flash its light only when the sort of overlevel spike the FCC considers "unacceptable overmodulation" occurs, which according to the company would allow another decibel or two of loudness without the need for composite clipping, and the concomitant loss of quality.

1990? It's bound to be an interesting year. I end the 1989's as I began them—inviting your letters and comments. They have frequently proven to be the highlight of the column, and the Gavin Report has grown to consider "P.D. Notebook" its unofficial "letters column." When something bugs you, interests you, or prods you to respond, please do! Write me c/o the Gavin Report.

See you in February at the Gavin Seminar in San Francisco. And happy holidays! ●

JAZZ NEW RELEASES

Whew! What a year it's been. To finish things off, here's our ten favorite discs of 1989 for both Jazz and Adult Alternative. See if you agree or disagree with the Zimmermen. If you like, within the next two weeks send us a copy of your top ten favorites. If we get enough of an interesting consensus and response, we'll print a slew of them. Send them to us at 140 Second Street, San Francisco, CA 94105. Mind you, these titles are not necessarily in order. But then again, maybe...Keith and Kent Z.

JAZZ

1. THE FABULOUS BAKER BOYS - Music By Dave Grusin (GRP)
Music from a great movie that, like all superb soundtracks, added a stunning dimension to the film. There's something utterly believable and lifelike about the main themes that kept us reaching for it time and again.

2. TRIANGULAR - Ralph Peterson Trio (Blue Note)
V - Ralph Peterson Quintet (Blue Note)

Drummer/bandleader Peterson was so full of good ideas he filled up two releases. Both sessions featured pianist Geri Allen, who's always on top of her game when the tape rolls. Forceful, edge-of-your-seat Bop that sings as well as burns.

3. ON FIRE - Michel Camilo (Epic)

One of the nice guys of Jazz made remarkable strides on his second solo effort. One of the great piano showmen, Camilo creates excitement and keeps things fun.

4. STORIES - Tom Harrell (Contemporary)

Easily one of this year's most thrilling talents when you consider this man's amazing soloing, composing and arranging capabilities. Seeing him live was an unforgettable experience. Hearing Stories for the first time was one of the year's Jazz highlights.

5. THE TRUTH IS SPOKEN HERE - Marcus Roberts (Novus/RCA)
Listening to Marcus Roberts on his debut solo project was like getting an intriguing Jazz history lesson, as well as an insight into a talented player's soul. Roberts reinforced the importance of the Blues' place in Jazz.

6. AMANDLA - Miles Davis (Warner Bros.)

Amandla showcases Miles' fascination with polyrhythms, panning sounds across the musical canvas and fooling with the spaces between notes. God bless Miles for the half dozen or so times he's changed music for the better. He never looks back and that's good.

7. LOVE WARRIORS - Tuck & Patti (Windham Hill Jazz)

The future looks so bright for these two, they could start wearing shades. Hard work, love and dedication emanate from their music.

8. WHEN HARRY MET SALLY... - Harry Connick, Jr. (Columbia) to day listening. His vocals are outstanding and this set should help him achieve breakthrough status—and Jazz programmers told the world first!

9. FRIENDS TO LOVERS - Gary Herbig (Headfirst/K-tel)

As far as exploring the idiom of slick, commercial, blue-eyed Southern California Jazz, we thought this one came out on top of the heap.

10. ESTRANGEIRO - Caetano Veloso (Musician/Elektra)

Clearly our left field pick this year, Caetano Veloso made a brilliant, original statement in the year of Brazil. Every single track smokes. Go back and find your copy of this five-star gem.

ADULT ALTERNATIVE

1. PAINTING MUSIC - Billy Joe Walker (MCA Master Series)

It was great to see this one go number one, particularly when it contained some really aggressive, heads-up playing.

2. SIDEWAULK - Capercaillie (Green Linnet)

Sure we have a weakness for great Scottish/Celtic musical visions, but this record was track-for-track awesome. If he were alive today, Robbie Burns would have raised his pint of bitters with pride.

3. LETTER FROM HOME - Pat Metheny Group (Geffen)

These guys put a headlock on both Jazz and Adult Alternative this year. From the gigs and the CD, it's apparent Pedro Aznar was the major factor in diversifying Pat's band sound—so much, in fact, that we think Pedro ate Lyle Mays' lunch every time we saw them onstage.

4. WATERMARK - Enya (Geffen)

Another amazing Celtic release. Enya and her thousand voices really took all of radio by storm. It will probably be years before the follow-up arrives.

5. DANCING WITH THE LION - Andreas Vollenweider (Columbia)
Uncompromising and unique. Andreas finally had the budget to do something really adventurous. We still find it odd that this record didn't garner a Top 40 hit. It would have been beneficial for all concerned.

6. ACADIE - Daniel Lanois (Opal/Warner Bros.)

The Zimmermen's release of the year! It's no accident that great artists like Robbie Robertson, U2, Bob Dylan and Peter Dinklage rely on his supreme good sense in the studio. This record is strong in imagery, roots and conceptual genius.

7. HOME AGAIN - Thom Rotella (DMP)

Even though this set was recorded with audiophile care, Home Again didn't take itself too seriously. An enjoyably clear and concise statement.

8. LIVING IN THE NORTHERN SUMMER - Jim Chappell (Music West)

Jim Chappell looked around and saw things getting so needlessly intense and complicated that he composed this childlike, honest piece of work. Programmers agreed and it topped our charts for a spell.

9. THAT WE DO KNOW - Uncle Festive (Denon)

The playing on this set is so "up," precise, interlocking and clever that you can't help but enjoy it. We did. So it made our list.

10. YELLOW MOON - The Neville Brothers (A&M)

Music with soul and social conscience in an age that desperately needs all that it can get. Another great Lanois production.

ALBUM—OR WHATEVER—RADIO INTO THE NINETIES. I SAY, "BRING ON THE ...

CYBERPUNKS

by Kent Zimmerman

Note: The following is either a dream or a nightmare (or both) and should be viewed purely as such.

One of my closest friends strongly believes that one art form can learn from the mistakes and pitfalls of another. For instance, we in radio and music need only look at the plight of network television to see the future of lowest common denominator programming. Network television is a dying brontosaurus living on the vegetation of dwindling ideas as writers are shackled by the moral clocks and codes of network etiquette, severely handicapped by the fact that they must compete with cable networks who needn't censor or redub their movie presentations, or other representations of reality, for entertainment's sake. Aside from the Sunday Night Movie Of The Week or the Late Show, premier television offers us Joan Collins and Bert Convy while cable television more often draws from the cream of the box office appeasers. Hell, even Alan Alda and Ted Danson have since jumped ship to movies.

But let us forget television for the moment, because their situation literally offers no hope for the creatively broken-hearted. Instead, let's try popular literature, specifically Science Fiction, supposedly a high-tech, innovative format of creativity. Check what's happened in their camp and look at some of the rebellious outgrowths that are evolving in their space field. Perhaps radio and rock n roll could learn a few lessons looking at the situation occurring over yonder, over there, out in the cosmos.

Every time a decade ends, we Americans tend to think in futuristic terms. What will the future look like? So-called "Sci-Fi" writers made mad livings speculating on the imagination and uncertainty of what was to come, whether it be space travel, making love, music or the simplest modes of local transportation. Yet as the late eighties segue into the (so far) not-so-nice-not-so-kinder-not-so-gentler nineties, the George Jettisoned view of the fiberoptic future (which, by the way, has arrived, hasn't it?) has given way to a more way to a melting pot horror show thanks to the Europeans, specifically the soon-to-be-organized European economic axis lead by the British is buying the USA lock, stock and barrel. So now that the future has arrived, what happened to the concept of Science Fiction?

It stagnated. It became controlled by an old school still ruling the roost from the planet Xymox where princes and space priestesses and wizards gyrate, where there's a hammerlock on what gets published and appreciated by the Sci-Fi consumer. Stars Wars and Star Trek. Beam me up Scotty, for I have seen the future and it's as bland as the Eisenhower era. Visionaries and futurists like Harlan Ellison (who you will be able to meet at the upcoming Gavin Seminar) saw it coming and jumped ship. Rather than write in a futuristic stupor, writers like Ellison brandished their socio/political principles and became humanists writing about human beings rather than machines, robots and hidden galaxies. Call Harlan Ellison a Sci-Fi writer and you risk a fat lip or a dead animal sent to your office fourth class mail. In fact, Ellison has a rider in his speaking contract prohibiting such a description. So much for the elite. Now what about the young turks?

"The sky above the port was the color of television, tuned to a dead channel."

Enter the Cyberpunks.

Faced with a fascination for the future (which, by the way, attracts a sizable male book-buying demographic) but a disdain for the thought of staying entrenched in the future/past, a school of writers spun off of the dismal Sci-Fi world controlled by the classicists. Writers like William Gibson and (fill in more names) led a crusade, creating a nu view of the future partially rooted in the present, pessimistically speculating the future. These writers were then pegged (for want of a marketing handle) Cyberpunks. Cities weren't magically spic and span clean like the communities where George Jetson flew back and forth to work. The environment is filthy. Citizens wear filtration masks. Computer bandits and cowboys roam the streets stealing data banks and bytes of information, pirating technology, joining guerrilla looting teams sponsored by competing corporations who deal in high stock information. In fact, space is only a distant desert, hardly ever mentioned. We're stuck here on earth, crowded, confused and coughing.

Get the connection yet?

Ten years ago, rock n roll and radio was experiencing the end of a back-to-the-basics punk rebellion. To me, the Sex Pistols will always be nearly as important as the Beatles, if only because they helped strip rock n roll of its excesses. Since, and quite naturally, new excesses, like moss, have formed with the influx of technology. Producer Daniel Lanois, for instance, cites the problem as being rhythmic, "too many knucklehead rhythms" being programmed by those whose only talent lies in their access to the machinery. Having thus failed to capture the imaginations of the educated rock aficionado with canned rhythms and foggy reverberating mixes, we seem to have swung back to the Classics in search of the elusive adult ear. So sadly, the "me" decade ends after approximately three years of back pedaling. Not only are we mired in the Classics, but here come the reunion bands. Need I recap the list starting with the Rolling Stones, and Paul McCartney singing Beatles songs? I know what you mean. It's downright painful. That's why I say,

Bring on the Cyberpunks.

Since we can't stop the tide of technology (nor do we want to), we need a radio format that will use technology as a weapon rather than merely a marketing tool or burnout detector. I mean, think about it, ferchrissakes. Album Radio doesn't even play albums. They play CDs, and CD singles at that. Consumers stuck in the vinyl age can't even buy a vinyl version of Bob Dylan's new albums, though they may still want to. To escape the Classicists, we need to concede that a new Rock audience will demand new parameters defining what rock n roll is and what it can do for the active, curious listener. Either that or pray for such an emergence. Rock Top Forty? In principle, maybe, since that "format" constitutes anything from Phil Collins to Bon Jovi. But frankly, Rock Top Forty is a little too square, maybe a little too juvenile. Don't get me wrong, we need a cue from the youthful listener. But we must first cultivate the listener's need, then his or her mind. There's a modern world that needs to be emulated via this new format in order to appeal to the imaginations of the intelligentsia, after which, if you have the hearts and minds of the intelligentsia, the rest of the mainstream will fall in line. Hey, that's how classic artists like Pink Floyd were born. I advocate the rise of a bastardized, crossbred style of a new rock n roll radio. Look at the buying markets that have risen during the eighties that were totally unsanctioned by airplay. I'm talking about metal, rap, skatepunk, punk—from rad music of the streets to high tech feel-good adult instrumental music. The spirit of these outside, outland music forms may give birth to a

INSIDE ALTERNATIVE RADIO by Linda Ryan

new dimension of rock radio listener. Programmers will not be able to escape the realities of the computer world. Their audiences will be working from their homes, telecommunicatively linked to the mothership by a modem. At these home/offices, the radio will be on. Individuals will be pleased rather than settling on group compromises. Matters such as the ecology, the economy and the world in general will be important and will need to be occasionally touched on by the musicians themselves. Information will be a necessity. Such a new format could be a rock n roll transmutation of what's happening with unfamiliar instrumental, high brow Jazz and Adult Alternative radio. It will be a new format that will experience growing pains and industry-wide skepticism. And it won't be easy because there's bound to be a painful period of risk and waiting that this new format of radio must weather in order to survive THEN thrive. Broadcast groups with a large leveraged corporate nut to crack each month will not like this. It will be difficult to describe, but immediately identifiable when heard. Nothing will be "too anything"—too rocky, too wimpy, too ditsy, too techno, too black, too white, too Euro.

If it's right, it will just be. And the new listener will be ready simply because it's new, simply because it's "pirate," if you will.

Who cares if the nineties give us the next musical technology, lest it be visual, not in the sense of video, but in the next artistic realm of holographic stim/simulation? So what if maybe DAT becomes the cassette equivalent or high-tech counterpart to CDs. Who cares when blank CDs able to be recorded on finally arrive? Isn't that a revolution that's already just around the corner? Isn't it already written? Holographic images? Who cares? I'm curious about what's not yet written, what's not yet laser-etched in stone.

The future belongs to those poised to press forward. Consider the present climate. Right now Album Radio is stuck in a 60/40, 70/30 and 80/20 percent mix of past and present, with the past still winning hands down. But can it last? And when it falls, you'll be hearing the yearn for a brand new breed of radiopunks, cowboys, outlaws, Blade Runners and Manroids walking the streets of Dodge City and Ratings Town. On their concho belts will hang the shrunken heads of the fearful, the past tensors. In one hand will be a lap top, in the other either a guitar or a stack of digital source material. There's no escaping their emergence. The dust of their gallops curl far away, just above the horizon. They are the merchants of imagination. They are the directors of the theater of the mind. And when the public tires of having everything spelled out in utter videotext detail, they will be the new power brokers, the new commissioners of speculation and interpretation—what it might be, what it could be, rather than precisely what it is. End of story. Bring on the Cyberpunks. ●

Last week the chart of the Top 100 alternative artists was featured (p. 28 if you missed it). This week my ever faithful assistant Robert Barone lists his Top Ten albums of the decade. I've also done my Top Ten songs of the decade. There were too many to name, so I cheated. I made an Indie Top Ten as well as a Major Label Top Ten. I also want to thank Robert Barone for helping me for the six months (!) that I've been here. He is leaving to work at the Rough Trade store here in San Francisco, although he will continue to write in my column. He will be able to find some great music to tell you about while at Rough Trade. I look forward to it, as I'm sure you all do, and join with me in wishing Robert the best of luck with his new venture in the New Year. Good luck Robert—we'll miss you.

Happy holidays and best wishes for 1990!

PERSONAL PICKS

SINGLES by Dave Sholin

Once a year I get to forego all objectivity and put together a top ten list based solely on personal taste. Here then are my ten choices among the best of 1989.

ROXETTE - The Look (EMI)

Easily ranks as my favorite song of the year. KDWB PD Brian Phillips sent me a cassette of the then-import at the start of the year and I'll always remember putting it in the cassette deck of my car and grinning from ear-to-ear within the first ten to twenty seconds of the intro. Annette M. Lai will testify that for at least a month no one could leave my office without hearing it at full volume.

FINE YOUNG CANNIBALS - She Drives Me Crazy (IRS/MCA)

Roland Gift's soulful performance held up after months of heavy airplay. Special and unique, "The Raw And The Cooked" rates as my favorite album of the year.

PAULA ABDUL - Straight Up (Virgin)

If there was one artist who dominated Top 40

all year long, it was this exciting singer/dancer/choreographer. Six straight hits, but I'll take this one over all the rest.

TONE LOC - Wild Thing (Delicious Vinyl/Island)

Proof that you don't need a big budget to score a hit. Creative writing and the introduction of Rap with a beat earns high marks for this shining example of originality.

ENYA - Orinoco Flow (Sail Away, Sail Away, Sail Away) (Geffen)

I picked it on November 18, 1988, but it didn't chart on the Top 40 until February 24, 1989. Like the song, the video is one classy work of art.

LOVE AND ROCKETS - So Alive (Beggars Banquet/RCA)

Kent Zimmerman turned me on to this track in early April. I've loved it ever since.

Since I favor uptempo material, ballads rarely appear in this yearly list. But this beautiful melody and sensitive lyric was impossible to resist.

MADONNA - Like A Prayer (Sire/Warner Bros.)

Aside from all the attention and controversy the video generated when it was first released, the lead single off Madonna's album deserved to go to #1 despite the objections of some critics.

YOUNG MC - Bust A Move (Delicious Vinyl/Island)

Incredibly talented Marvin Young helped Tone Loc get on the chart and then put his imagination and artistry to work on his own masterpiece. Like "Wild Thing," it made Rap accessible to the masses.

SOUL II SOUL - Back To Life (Virgin)

Like "Fine Young Cannibals," here's another one of 1989's finest albums—from start to finish. Tough to choose between this track and "Keep On Movin'"—I tossed a coin.
