PURPOSE. Antique Radio Classified is published for people involved in the radio collecting hobby. Its purpose is to stimulate growth of the hobby through the buying, selling and trading of radios and related items, and to provide a monthly forum for the interchange of ideas and information.

CONTACTING ANTIQUE RADIO CLASSIFIED.

All correspondence should be sent to:

A.R.C., P.O. Box 2, Carlisle, MA 01741.

Send only UPS, Federal, etc. items to 498 Cross St.

Telephone: (508) 371-0512; Fax: (508) 371-7129

Please no ads by telephone; thanks.

Your ads, renewals, letters, etc. can be handled faster and more efficiently if (1) each is on a separate piece of paper, and (2) your name, address and SUB# is written on each.

Unfortunately, A.R.C. is not staffed to answer letters with questions about antique radios or requests for advice. However, A.R.C. does solicit letters of interest to its readers and publishes them as space permits. A.R.C. assumes that permission is given to edit and to publish all correspondence and articles received unless otherwise indicated.

GARANTEE. You may cancel your subscription at any time and receive a pro rata refund for issues not yet mailed. If errors to ads are made by A.R.C., upon request a free correction will be run in the next available issue.

PAYMENT. Please send in full payment with your order or ad. A.R.C. does not carry accounts; all subscriptions, ads, etc. must be prepaid. Pay in U.S. funds. Checks drawn on a U.S. bank, money orders, VISA or MasterCard charges are preferred. Make check out to "A.R.C." U.S. stamps or cash are OK for small amounts. Canadian payers may send a Canadian check in U.S. funds, but please add $1.00 (U.S.) for conversion costs. On request, subscriptions will be prorated to amount sent; minimum term is one year.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS. Please notify us 4 weeks in advance of a change of address. Send both your new and old address, and include your SUB# and effective date of your new address. Temporary address changes can be made also.

SUBMISSION OF MATERIAL. Antique Radio Classified welcomes and solicits information that pertains or relates to radio history or collecting. This may include articles, book reviews, photos, information on upcoming radio events, meetings, antique radio organizations, radio auctions and price reports, sources of old radio and restoration supplies, and other related and interesting material. All material submitted should be neat and verified for accuracy. Unless prior arrangements are made, all submitted materials may be edited, become the property of Antique Radio Classified and will not be returned.

MAILING OF ISSUES. U.S. subscribers can receive A.R.C. by First or Second Class mail (Second Class is the way most magazines are mailed). The mailing of First Class copies is staggered over one to four days with faraway copies mailed before local copies. Non-U.S. copies are mailed on the first day. Second Class copies are mailed on the last day. Mailing dates change each month, but mailing is usually completed by the 26th of the month. First Class copies usually are received by the fifth of the month; copies by Second Class mail, by the tenth.

ETHICS. No person involved in the production of A.R.C. is to act on any information in the magazine until the day after local copies are mailed.

DISCLAIMER. The publisher is not responsible for any buying and selling transactions incurred, or for any other use of the contents of this publication.

Antique Radio Classified subscription rates, frequency of publication, content, policies, size and ad details, and rates are subject to change at any time by A.R.C.

DISPLAY AND BUSINESS CARD ADS - DETAILS AND RATES

The deadline is the first of the month for display and business card ad artwork, payment and repeat requests.

Advertising is accepted only for early items related to radio, communication, electricity, etc. All items must be described fairly; reproductions, reprints and not-original items must be so identified. Advertisers agree to respond promptly to inquiries and orders, and to resolve problems promptly if the buyer is not satisfied.

All advertising must be prepaid; see "Payment" paragraph above. Late ads will be run only if space and time permit. Since artwork is reduced to 63% in the printing process, originals must be the artwork size listed below. Do not send in artwork on art board or send negatives. Ads should be typeset or typed neatly with a carbon ribbon, black printing on white. If you want us to prepare your ad, include the one-time cost below for A.R.C. to make up the ad.

Photos should be at an 85 line screen; otherwise, add $8.00 per photo for screening. (Do not cut or trim photos or glue photos to artwork; submit separately.)

If you are confused by these requirements and terms, please contact A.R.C. before beginning to prepare your ad.

Page	Artwork Size (send in this size)		As Printed (size in magazine)		Cost for 1-month	Cost for 3-months	Cost for 6-months	One-time Cost for A.R.C. to make up Ad (if requested)

We will be happy to advise you on your ad ideas, estimate how much the ad will cost, recommend an ad size, etc.

We assume that advertisers want all ads which are submitted to run without delay; therefore, we will run the ad and bill for any additional work required for the ad to meet these specifications. A late ad will be run beginning with the next month.

"Tear sheets" will be sent only for 1/2 and full page ads, and if requested when the ad is submitted.

Business card ads are limited to one per advertiser. The 3-month rates represent about a 10% discount, the 6-month rates, 20%. Placement requests for display ads: add 15% but call first. Clubs: write for discount rates for meets.

EDITOR'S COMMENTS

Philco's classic Model 90 appears on the cover and in the feature article this month by Ron Ramirez. Ron, who contributed the Philco Model 20 article for the February 1991 issue, discusses the features of the Model 90 in both console and cathedral configurations.

Complementing Ron Ramirez's Philco 90 article is the report by Fred Geer on Philco 90 restoration tips. This restoration, however, was done by Fred's buddy, "Jack Althumb's." Our cover illustrates the result of his efforts.

Another April tongue-in-cheek article reports on the discovery of the "Crosley Dog," a post-production variation of the Crosley Pup. In this issue, Daniel Merz describes the one-tube super-heterodyne set which he found.

Unfortunately the AC Radio Renegades Club, who furnished The Eliminator for our April 1990 issue, did not plan a meet for April 1, 1991. All you AC radio boosters, show your support of their cause - "Gloria Alternatus Currentus" - by writing: A.C.R.R., 3426 Coldstream Ct., Lexington, KY 40502. Perhaps next year they will resur-rect this annual event.

Mark Oppat writes in "Nomenclature Nonsense" of the type of problems an unknowing radio restorer can get into as a result of inconsistent drafting symbols used on old radio schematic diagrams.

The final installment of the Old Tyme Radio Services Directory appears in this issue. A.R.C. has arranged with Andrew Mooradian to continue updating and publishing the directory. So, keep us informed of any changes in the listings and of any new services so that we can incorporate them into our next 1991 edition.

The recently published price guide by Marty and Sue Bunis - The Collector's Guide to Antique Radios - is reviewed in this issue. As I suggested in the January issue, the prices listed in this guide appear to be the best yet. Marty and Sue intend to come out with a revised edition in a year or so, so write them with your comments and revised price estimates, pointing out the inevitable errors, so that their next edition can be even better.

Speaking of books, Vestal Press expects to have Sievers' Crystal Clear available by early summer and Alan Douglas' Radio Manufacturers of the 1920s, Volume 3 by late summer.

Subscription Rates Increase June 1. As announced last month, the recent U.S. postal rate increase and other cost increases force us to increase our subscription rates. Fortunately we are able to keep the increase (11% for first class and 12.5% for second class) to less than the postal rate increase (15.2% and 25% respectively). So, as of June 1, subscriptions will cost $27.00 for second class mail and $40.00 for first class mail.

No one likes increases, but receiving A.R.C. monthly for as low as $2.25 per month is a bargain! You can avoid these increases by extending your subscription now. And remember - if you are extending or renewing before your expiration month, you get thirteen issues instead of just twelve.

Coming Meets. A.R.C. plans to attend two of the numerous April events: the April 20th New England Antique Radio Club meet in Nashua, N. H. and the Dayton HamVention April 26 - 28 at the Hara Arena in Dayton, Ohio. This event is the largest national gathering of amateur radio operators drawing over 25,000 hams, of which many are antique radio buffs. We will be at Booth 232, next to New Wireless Pioneers. Look us up.

Although we do not list ham flea markets on the Coming Radio Events pages because of space limitations and our antique radio focus, there are nearly always a few pieces of vintage gear at ham gatherings. Check for events near you in ham magazines, with a neighbor ham operator, or through a local ham club.

Multi-day events this month include the Colorado Radio Collectors' Denver show and the Houston Vintage Wireless Association's meet.

Make your plans ahead for attending the large summer and fall multi-day meets - Minnesota's Radio Daze '91 May-June, ARCA '91 in June in Baltimore, Michigan's Extravaganza '91 in July, Illinois' Radiofest '91 in August, and the AWA annual conference in September.

Happy collecting,

John V. Terrey

ON THE COVER

Fred Geer's drawing of the restored Philco Model 90 on the cover accompanies his special article for this April issue on the restoration practices of his buddy, "Jack Althumb's." We all hope that such occurrences are as much fiction as is Fred's story. Too often a collector will hastily attack a cabinet or set without giving the thought and study necessary for an original restoration. This means that you must use finishing materials available when the set was made - polyurethane is out!

Please, have as your goal restoration to original finish, but only after the finish is totally gone!

WITH THE COLLECTORS

The Philco Model 90

BY RON RAMIREZ

The year was 1979. A nineteen-year-old boy, who had been interested in antique radios for five years, was attending an auction in a small town. Although he had no money that day, he wanted to see the two old radios which were among the many items being sold. One of the radios was a somewhat ugly metal box Crosley with a round speaker that sat on top of its cabinet. Although he had never seen a radio like this before, it did not impress him a great deal.

However, it was the other radio that caught this teenage collector's eye. Even though he had seen pictures of this set occasionally in publications such as The Horn Speaker (Antique Radio Classified didn't begin publication until five years later), this was the closest he had ever come to a radio like it.

Standing just over 18 1/2 inches tall, its classic design would make it become, more than any other, the set most people would recall whenever thoughts of old-time radio might cross their minds. Remember, this was 1979, a time when many people, including this writer, thought of Bakelite, Catalin, and other plastic sets as radios that "would never be worth anything." Its cabinet was in beautiful shape; the original grille cloth was still intact; its four original knobs were in place. The small escutcheon proudly proclaimed, "Super Heterodyne 90 Philco."

"... its classic design would make it become... the set most people would recall whenever thoughts of old-time radio might cross their minds."

Due to lack of funds, the young collector could not bid, but he decided to stay at the auction to see what the radios would sell for. He was both surprised and disappointed when the ugly metal box set with its odd-looking speaker sold for only $7.50. But he was even more surprised and disappointed when the beautiful, classic Philco cathedral sold for only $10. He was surprised because the radios sold for so little, and disappointed because he could not bid. For the next several years, thoughts of that Philco cathedral radio ran through his mind, and he said to himself, "If only I had had a little money that day..."

Even today, I, who of course was that young collector, still wonder what happened to that Philco Model 90. To be honest, I wouldn't have minded acquiring the Crosley Gembox with its matching Crosley speaker also. As the years went by, that ten dollar Philco 90 stayed in my mind until finally, I decided I had to have one for my collection. By this time (1987), they had really taken off in value. When I was offered a Philco Model 70 — a seven-tube Superheterodyne which looks a lot like, but is slightly smaller than, the Model 90 — I gladly traded for it, even though it was not in very good condition.

MY FIRST MODEL 90

The following year, in 1988, I was talking to a fellow collector, John D. Hall of nearby Madisonville, Kentucky, who mentioned that he had recently attended an auction where a Philco Model 90 console had sold for $40. He then said, "You know, the guy that bought it is always buying things at auctions, then reselling them. You ought to go see him."

Knowing how much Philco 90 cathedrals were selling for, I thought this might be my only chance at a 90, even though it was a console, so I went to see him. The radio shown in Figure 1 was, and is, a very attractive set. It has its original finish which is very nice, except for the top of the cabinet, which is covered with tiny white dots. Apparently, the previous owner had left it uncovered when he painted the ceiling. The set was in playing condition.

Notice that the speaker is mounted at an upward angle, which Philco advertising would later refer to as "Philco's Famous Inclined Sounding Board." Even though by this time I was shying away from console radios because of the tremendous space they take up, I liked the set and bought it for $55. I brought it home and put it in my living room, the only radio which resides in the lower floor of my two-story house.

Then in 1989, I saw an advertisement for an auction in a distant town. Among the items offered was a "Philco table radio." I wondered, "Could it be a cathedral or some cheap '50s plastic set?" Well, I took a chance and drove over to the sale. As my wife, daughter, and I walked onto the property where the auction was being held, I spotted the radio across the yard. I could see only the back of it, but it was a Philco cathedral! As I hurried over to the table where it was patiently sitting, waiting to be auctioned off, I wondered, "Could it be?"

I got over to where it was, walked around in front of it, and to my joy and amazement — it was! Yes, ten years later, I had found another Philco 90 cathedral. Its original finish was in very nice condition, but its grille cloth was torn. The chassis was exceptionally clean; overall, it looked complete. I was very happy to find it and was determined to purchase it.

No, it didn't sell for $10 — I'll probably never come across a bargain like that again in my lifetime — but I did end up with the radio. It immediately became the favorite of all the radios in my collection.

RESTORATION

Looking the set over after I brought it home, I discovered that some long-ago radio repairman, or perhaps just some tinkerer, had modified my set, removing the original Type 47 audio output tube along with its five-pin tube socket, and installing a six-pin tube socket and a Type 2A5 tube.

I do not believe old radios should be modified or altered. I think they should be kept as original as possible. Therefore, the first thing I did was to remove the 2A5 and the incorrect six-pin tube socket and to install a proper five-pin tube socket and Type 47 tube. After rebuilding some condensers and aligning the set, I found that it played as well as it looked (see Figure 2).

I placed the 90 cathedral away from most of my other sets, in a room upstairs that I use as a kind of office. Whenever people came to visit us, I showed them my other radios and then brought them into my office to point out the "king" of my collection. I would plug it in and let it play.

THREE CHASSIS VERSIONS

You may not know that the Model 90 was made in three different chassis versions. The early Model 90 uses two Type 45 tubes in push-pull, in the audio output stage. It also has a "normal-maximum" switch mounted at the back of the chassis. The "normal" position was to be used except in places far from local radio broadcasting stations, in which case the switch could be put in the "maximum" position, supposedly to give "extreme distance range."

The second version of the 90 did not have the "normal-maximum" switch, but did have automatic volume control (AVC), a circuit which maintains the receiver volume at a constant level, regardless of changes in signal strength. It also has only one audio output tube, a Type 47.

In the third version, the oscillator function, which had been handled by a separate Type 27 tube in previous versions, was combined with the first detector tube, a Type 24. Push-pull audio output also returned to the Model 90, using two Type 47s.

MODEL 90 HISTORY

The Model 90 was made in 1931, the year

Philco introduced its first Superheterodyne radios. Besides the nine-tube Model 90, Philco also offered the seven-tube Model 70 Series and its top-of-the-line eleven-tube Model 112 Series that year, among others.

Of course, the Model 90 was offered in cabinet styles other than the two shown in this article. It was also sold in lowboy and highboy console cabinets. In addition, Philco offered the Model 290, a 90 with a phonograph in a console cabinet, and the 490, a 90 combined with a Philco Model 4 shortwave converter. I have never seen a 290 or a 490.

The 90 cathedral shown in Figures 2 and 3 uses the second version chassis. The 90 console shown in Figure 1 has the third version chassis. Both are excellent performers, and the AVC makes a big difference.

I have never owned a 90 with the "first version" chassis without AVC, but I do have two Model 70 cathedrals and a Model 370 chairside set, none of which has AVC. The sets with AVC are easier to operate; you don't have to keep your hand on the volume control while tuning.

Alas, this story does not have a happy ending. I was looking through the classified advertisements in the September 1990 issue of Antique Radio Classified, and I spotted an ad from a fellow wanting to buy a Philco 90 cathedral. Having found myself unemployed in late August 1990, and knowing that I had bills to pay and a family to support, I sadly realized that the 90 had to go. The fellow bought the set, and now the "king" of my collection, at age sixty, is in retirement in Florida.

The 90 console still sits in our living room, but there is an empty space upstairs in my office. As my wife has told me, I'll get another one. I just hope it doesn't take another ten years!

(Ron Ramirez, 811 Maple St., Providence, KY 42450)

At age fourteen, Ron Ramirez began to collect a variety of 1920s battery sets, cathedrals, tombstones, and consoles. He is now concentrating on repairing Philco radios made between 1928 and 1937. Ron would like to hear from anyone interested in forming an antique radio club in his area.

LETTERS

Excerpts from a few letters showing the diversity of viewpoints of our readers:

You have a great publication. Keep up the good work! A.R.C. is/was my best antique radio investment!

S. Hickman, Plainview, Tex.

... White's Index [appearing in the March A.R.C.] should be put out as a separate issue ... and sold. ... [Most people I talk to] view it with a rather ho-hum attitude. ... It comes out bulky and cumbersome ... runs up costs ... [which] I don't want to pay for. ...

D. P. Smith, Olney, Ill.

I really liked your A.R.C. March issue - the fattest issue yet!

H. Faulkner, New Castle, Del.

I wish your index was separate, but no trouble finding it as it is so thick. Keep flying those good issues.

S. Lopes, Concord, Calif.

Really appreciated the complete index you included in the March issue. I'm sure this cost you plenty in extra printing and postage charges; it really shows your dedication to the hobby.

B. Carlson, International Falls, Minn.

This transistor radio collector takes exception to Mr. Schehrer's statement in the March A.R.C. ["...Quit taking ads for transistor radios, plastic clock radios and other such trash". . .] . . . Hasn't Mr. Schehrer ever heard of baseball, hot dogs, apple pie and transistor radios?

The Crosley Dog Discovered

BY M. DANIEL MERZ

In 1925, Crosley sold the Crosley Pup radio for $9.75. This novel, one-tube regenerative set has recently become a much sought after collector's item priced at up to $300. A less known prototype is the Crosley Dog, a post-production variation of the Pup. This set, shown with the Pup in Figure 1, never reached production because of tube shortages and patent violations.

On first examination, the set appears to be of the regenerative design for which Crosley held a licensing agreement with Howard Armstrong, the inventor and radio pioneer. Actually, the set is a Superheterodyne, a more advanced design. Since RCA held the patent rights to this design, the Dog never went into production, and Crosley continued with regenerative-type radio over a number of years.

The large tube, a Western Electric 355 specially fitted with a 25 mA filament, never reached commercial production until 1939. It was then used as a thyratron with a sixteen-amp filament. Some experts argue that the tube added little to the performance of the radio and was largely a cosmetic feature for increasing sales.

The Crosley Dog, like some RCA sets of the period, employed the impregnable chassis design. In this case, the design was probably intended to conceal the innards and avoid patent infringement prosecution.

The internal workings of this set were examined by a collector who said this Dog resembled much later sets and was approximately forty years ahead of other designs of the period.

The faint appearance of the acronym "S?NY" engraved on an internal chipped component remains a mystery and could not be linked to any of the known radio pioneers or manufacturers of the early period. Because it is truly one-of-a-kind and in working condition, the value of this Dog is indeterminate.

(M. Daniel Merz, 312 Sierra, Richland, WA 99352)

April Fool! Dan Merz is, in reality, the "manufacturer" of the Crosley Dog, which he describes as waiting to be discovered by the public. In addition to the one prototype described in the article, Dan plans to build two others for friends. The set truly lights up when turned on and operates as an AM radio. Dan writes that it is amazing how much the set sounds like an old radio with the speaker muffled inside. To allow the right amount of sound to exit without a visible gap was a tricky design challenge. (Editor)

Jack Althumbs — The Radio Destroyer!

BY FRED GEER

Everyone knows Jack Althumbs — he's that radio collector down the block. He has radios galore, and all who see them shake their heads in wonderment. You would too!

I don't want to be critical. Jack has a right to treat his radios any way he wants. I will try to explain what happens when Jack applies his talents to radio restoration.

Now Jack is a really likable fellow who, while working on radios, will invite you over for a beer and a chat. This one Saturday will stick in my mind a long time.

Jack had found an extra clean Philco 90. It needed a soap and water cleanup and a good dusting inside. Jack thought it needed more. Nursing my beer, I stuck around and bit my tongue while witnessing the Philco's total destruction.

Jack began taking the speaker out, puncturing its cone several times with his tools. He then carelessly bounced it on the bench letting it fall to the floor, giggling it once more right in the cone and bending its frame. Next, came the grille cloth board. A gentle wham with a claw hammer missed its mark, gashed through the cloth, cracking and splintering one fret. Jack mumbled that he had a "nice" piece of red cloth, saved from an old bathing suit, that would add punch.

Out came the chassis, the forgotten knobs flying across the shop and landing behind some rubble. He had jerked on the chassis so hard that it slipped out of his hands and crashed against the bench, breaking a tube and smashing a few plates of the open variable condenser.

Jack inspected the cabinet and pushed a splintered fret back in place. Smiling he said, "A drop of Elmer's will get this fixed." Taking a can of paint stripper and an old brush off the shelf, he began slopping the remover on the cabinet, as his brush shed its hairs. With a crumpled newspaper, he wiped away some glop. Much residue was left dripping down the sides. Putting the cabinet down, he drank a big slug of beer and gave a satisfied belch!

Picking the cabinet up, he took some twenty-grit sandpaper to help level some rough blobs the remover had missed. Sanding across the grain, he scraped and gouged, leaving deep scratches. After holding the cabinet up for inspection, he soaked an uneven coat of opaque stain over its surface with a dirty rag. His serious face revealed that he was deeply enjoying his work.

Before the stain was good and dry, he took some paper and rubbed off the stain, revealing some wood grain. Once more, the dirty brush was soused in a can containing old thick varnish. As he moved his brush around the cabinet, an uneven coat formed little runs that merged into big runs puddling along the cabinet bottom. Setting the now finished cabinet on the bench, he stepped back to admire what he had done.

Plucking the bent speaker from the floor, he attached it to the chassis. He then walked over to a nearby radio, took a tube, and put it in the Philco chassis. Plugging in the chassis resulted in a flash of blue from a tube, a loud roar and some smoke. Splashing water only worsened matters. I quickly unplugged the radio for him. Grinning, with a flushed face, he said, "Don't guess this one is going to work."

Reassembling the Philco went fast. He hammered the speaker studs, dinging the fret work a few times. Then, squirting glue on the red bathing suit, he plastered it in the opening. I kind of laughed, as the change pocket zipper was showing just above the dial. That did not matter, as hairs lost by the brush sort of formed a beard under the dial.

Giggling the speaker once more, he managed to find, in all the clutter, two nuts that would hold it in place. Forcing the chassis into the cabinet was little trouble; some runny varnish lubricated its path. Looking for the knobs was a hapless task; he took some out of a box. None matched in size, shape or color.

Braking his arm to pat himself on the back for a job well done, he placed the set on a table where all could admire it. Several months later I saw this ad in A.R.C.:

FOR SALE: Expert restored Philco 90. Chassis may need some work, untested. Send SASE for other beautifully restored sets priced from $150. Jack Althumbs, 313 Tacky Ln., Somewhere, U.S.A.

(Fred Geer, 6042 Brookridge Rd., Jacksonville, FL 32210)

April Fool! Fred Geer sent us this tongue-in-cheek article on how not to restore an antique radio. We thought it would be just perfect for our traditional "April Fool" issue. Although some collectors may claim to have seen radios that have been subjected to his techniques, we hope that Jack Althumbs will remain only as fiction. (Editor)

Nomenclature Nonsense When a Meg Is Not a Meg

BY MARK T. OPPAT

I feel sorry for these "new guys" getting into restoring AC radios of the 1930s, which have been my bread and butter since I started restoring radios in 1973. I feel sorry because I know they are being frustrated by the same things that drove me crazy when I started. However, they have to "learn the hard way" too, except now we have a great publication like A.R.C. to help.

Anyone doing servicing usually locates a schematic first and replaces capacitors (a must for a quality restoration) and often some resistors too. Here's where the problems begin. The old schematics often use different codes than are in use today.

A good example is a Stromberg-Carlson schematic from about 1937, shown partially in Figure 1. There is a weird code here for meg (remember, meg is million). Usually the upper case omega Ω is the symbol for ohm, the unit of electrical resistance. Apparently, Stromberg-Carlson used the traditional ohms horseshoe mark Ω , upper case Greek omega, when it meant million, and used the "W"-shaped mark ω , lower case omega, for ohm.

How did I determine this? Look at the Type 6G5 tuning eye circuit in Figure 1. The resistor is always 1 megohm across the plates, and this "appears" to say "1 ohm" on the schematic. Look elsewhere and you see a lot of what appear to be small resistances. We now see that old radios mostly use resistances in the 500,000 ohm range, so obviously the code here is unusual.

I remember a few years ago a guy brought me a radio he had already started to repair with replacement components. This is the kind of repair I most dread. It was a nice 1936 Zenith black dial. He had a schematic, and not knowing much about electronics, he was just replacing everything, trying to get it going (the worst method there is, folks).

Well, I looked under that big chassis and found several 10 megohm resistors stacked in series all over. He had been reading the Zenith schematic, and seeing the "M" listed next to most resistor values, he logically thought it meant meg or million. [This early usage of M is verified in S. Gernsbach's Radio Encyclopedia, page 112, which states, "Meg or mega-symbol-M - The prefix placed before the name of a unit to denote one million times (10^6) that unit - for example: megohm."]

Surprise!! In many old schematics, "M" also means "times 1000," as "K" does today. He saw values of 50M, which he thought meant 50 meg.

This is not a resistor you can find because it is never specified for any circuit. He was buying 10 meg resistors, which you can find, and adding them in series!! If you see a value of higher than 5 meg in an old radio, be suspicious, and look at the other values on the schematic to get your bearings.

(Mark T. Oppat, 167 Caster, Plymouth, MI 48170)

Mark Oppat has been restoring radios since 1972. In 1973, he joined the Antique Wireless Association (AWA), printed some business cards, and began servicing sets for the general public, primarily Philcos and Zeniths of the 1930s. Today, as "Antique Audio" he is widely known for his service work in the metro-Detroit area. Antique Audio will be offering reprints of hard-to-obtain 1930s servicing books in the near future.

PHOTO REVIEW

This column presents in pictorial form many of the more unusual radios, speakers, tubes, advertising, and other radio-related items (covering the years 1900-1950s) from our readers' collections. The photos are meant to help increase awareness of what's available in the radio collecting hobby. Send in any size photos from your collection. Photos must be sharp in detail, contain a single item, and preferably have a light-colored background. A short description must be included with each submitted item. Please note that receipt of photos is not acknowledged, publishing is not guaranteed, and photos are not returned.

AMRAD CRYSTAL RECEIVER - This is the Type 2575 crystal set with a unique plug-in detector unit. It was manufactured by the American Radio and Research Corporation of Medford Hillside, Massachusetts, and sold in 1922. (Dave Crocker - Duxbury, MA)

DETROLA MODEL 310 - This late 1930s cabinet features a carrying handle and beautiful inlay work across the bottom front consisting of ninety-nine pieces. The set uses seven octal tubes and has six electronic push buttons. It has an early, built-in loop antenna, and operates on AM/SW. (Victor G. Marett - Miami, FL)

JVC MODEL 3100 TRANSISTOR TV - This space-age, pyramid-shaped set of the early 1970s was mentioned as an unusually styled collectible in the January 1990 A.R.C. article entitled "Early Transistor Radios and TVs." Note the robot-like appearance, especially when closed. (Alexandria Nelson - Albuquerque, NM)

BENRUS CHASSIS 10B - This handsome clock radio has a heavy extruded metal case with a brushed brass finish. It is a five-tube set with the volume and tuning controls on either side and clock controls in the rear. The miniature tubes and Civil Defense (Conelrad) triangle on the tuning knob date this radio in the early 1950s. (Victor G. Maret - Miami, FL)

SILVERTONE PRECISION SERIES THREE - This seven-band communications receiver with external speaker was manufactured in 1938. (Russell Schoen - Clintonville, WI)

GLED RADIO - The Gled receiver is a four-tube battery set manufactured in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1924. The company made only two models, the other a six-tube portable using 199-type tubes. (Walter Worth - Wollaston, MA)

BOOK REVIEW

The Collector's Guide to Antique Radios

By Marty & Sue Bunis

REVIEWED BY RICHARD FOSTER

Marty and Sue Bunis have done a very nice job with a most difficult task. And the prices seem to be reasonably accurate — what you might expect at an ordinary meet or flea market rather than the higher prices often seen in downtown San Francisco or Paris.

The larger format — 8 1/2" x 11" — is a nice change from the other price guides available, and the glossy paper makes a very clean presentation. Every page has several nice color photos, some of them mouth-watering. Although the price guide is not pocket-size, which some might consider a disadvantage, the photos more than compensate. The photos made this reviewer wish for an "encyclopedia of antique radios" rather than just a price guide. The Bunises' effort would be a super beginning for a future worthy project, a counterpart to the Complete Encyclopedia of Motor Cars. Obviously such a work would be huge, but see how this collector's guide can whet the appetite! And the price is right at $16.95.

Making a price guide always has its pitfalls, and this one is no exception — for example, an Atwater Kent Model 50 worth over $500 is listed at $65. [Although in 1984, A.R.C. valued the Model 50 at $500, it has been erroneously valued at $175 and $40 to $60 in other recent price guides. Editor.] But on the whole, this collector's guide is helpful.

In general, this is a book I like to look at, and I would certainly recommend it to anyone interested in antique radios. There are two things I would change: add hundreds more photos, and since books like this become gospel, avoid showing refinished or altered radios. Congratulations to Marty and Sue on a nice job.

The Collector's Guide to Antique Radios by Marty and Sue Bunis is published by Collector

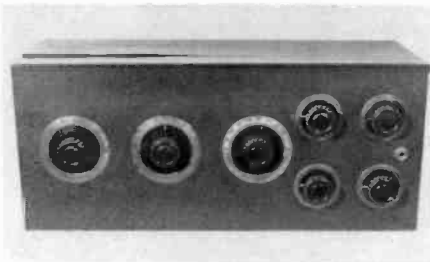

Books, a division of Schroeder Publishing Co., Inc. It has 175 pages with over 400 color photographs and over 5,000 prices covering radios from 1920 to 1959. The book is printed in softbound only and is in 8 1/2" x 11" format. It is priced at $16.95. It is available directly from Marty and Sue Bunis, RR 1, Box 36, Bradford, NH 03221 and from the publisher, A.R.C. and other A.R.C. advertisers.

Author's Notes

A.R.C. invited the authors, Marty and Sue Bunis, to comment about their research and work in producing their "Collector's Guide to Antique Radios." The following is their response. Editor.

We have amassed a file of approximately 20,000 3 x 5 cards, each of which represents a different model number. They are filed alphabetically by company and then numerically by model number, and they take up more than five large dresser drawers! (If anyone knows of any library file cabinets for sale, we are definitely interested!) We put as much information as possible on each card, including photos, and as new info becomes available, we update accordingly.

Our sources for pricing are varied. We use the ads in A.R.C. and other radio classified publications, "For Sale" lists from individuals, auctions, flea markets, antique shops, radio meets, advice from collectors, etc. To arrive at the final published "value" of each radio, we generally discard the high and the low price and average the rest. The book is meant to be a "guide" and the prices are not guaranteed, as there are many factors that affect the value of a radio -- condition, rarity, location, etc.

The book evolved from our frustration at not being able to find a good, comprehensive price guide when we first became interested in radios four years ago. We would see radios for sale and have no idea of their value. We started out to make a "shirt pocket-sized" notebook that we could carry around to shows and antique shops. At that point, we were very naive about how much information there was to be had! Now four years later, even with 20,000 cards, we are adding new models all the time!

We approached seven publishers with our idea for the price guide, and we were fortunate to receive contracts from two of them. We decided to sign with Collector Books because of their good reputation for quality books at a reasonable price. They will also be publishing a second edition, which we are "guesstimating" will be available in one to two years.

The second edition will include all models listed in the first book with updates on pricing and will also include over 2,000 additional models not listed in Book One. It will also include over 500 all new photos, with no repeats of Book One. We always welcome the invitation to photograph a collection, no matter how large or small, new or old.

More Cortland Street Memories

BY ALTON A. DUBOIS, JR.

Alton DuBois tells us that he read and reread the July 1990 A.R.C. article, "H. L. Schneck — A Legend of Cortland Street." The article triggered many memories about the radio shops that depended on Cortland Street for their needs. (Editor)

I visited Cortland Street during the late thirties when I was a kid in and out of school. At the time, I was into radio and worked for several radio stores and engineers.

One of the most interesting stories I can tell is about a radio parts store in Mt. Vernon, New York, called Davis Radio. One of the brothers of the owners was a traveling salesman named Moe Davis, whom I met at many shops where I worked.

In those days, the radio shops did not have to buy a stock of tubes outright. The different suppliers competed for the privilege of supplying us. Moe was unique. He would call on the various radio shops in the Westchester, N.Y. area, take orders, check on the consignment inventory of tubes, and charge us for the ones we had sold. If we needed a special part that was not in the Davis' inventory, he would say, "Give me a week," and then go down to Cortland Street to find it for us.

Of course, there were many other salesmen traveling around Westchester at that time. Even Hans Sohms, who founded Sohms Electronics in White Plains, New York, sold on the road.

As for me, I worked after school for the laboratories of Jack Arthur in Eastchester, N. Y. Later I worked for Livingstone Radio in Ossining, N. Y. In both places, I was an apprentice.

Arthur paid me ten cents an hour to build Meissner radio kits and amplifiers, which he sold to bars and restaurants. Livingstone was a straight radio repair shop, as well as a police radio maintenance contractor for several departments in the area. He paid me eight dollars a week.

After World War II, I worked for Amman Radio and for Shwedo Electronics in Scarsdale, N. Y., followed by thirty-two years with the FCA Service Company. I guess there's no doubt that I could call myself an old-timer.

Olde Tyme Radio Services Directory

1990 A.R.C. Edition, Part 6

COMPILED BY ANDREW MOORADIAN, 5 PRISCILLA LANE, WINCHESTER, MA 01890

"Antique Radio Classified" has obtained permission from Andrew Mooradian to serialize the latest edition of his "Olde Tyme Radio Services Directory," with a few additions entered by A.R.C. Part 6 is the conclusion of the directory. Thanks to Andrew for the tremendous job he has done in compiling this valuable resource for the antique radio community. © 1989 by Andrew Mooradian.

Beginning with the upcoming 1991 "Olde Tyme Radio Services Directory," A.R.C. takes over the compiling of the information to printing it in A.R.C. With the help of readers, A.R.C. hopes to make this directory the most comprehensive list of radio services available. Write to A.R.C. if you have a service you can provide, if you know of one that you can suggest, if you wish to change or delete your listing, or if you have any other suggestions.

When writing to a service listed, please include a long SASE for reply and tell them that you saw their listing in the Olde Tyme Radio Services Directory in A.R.C.!

Within each category, the listings are alphabetical by two-letter state code.

RADIO ADVENTURES

The Antique Radio Boys and the Garrulous Grebe — Chapter 5

BY STAN DRYER

The story so far: The Antique Radio Boys, Terry, Jimmy, and Gary, are searching for a missing Grebe CR-4 stolen from the millionaire Frank Beaucart. After a number of hair-raising escapes, they discover from Secret Agent Dick Wood that the evil Dr. Krull is probably behind the theft and may be trying to corner the market on CR-4s. In the last thrill-packed episode, Terry confronts the bully Barton Sneer, and cleverly makes him reveal that Dr. Krull has kidnapped Alicia Allenby, sister of the radio historian, Douglas Allenby. Krull is trying to force Allenby to award first prize in the Old Tyme Radio Performance Competition to his daughter Karmella Krull. The boys visit Dick Wood to make him aware of developments. While they are in his repair shop, an alarm sounds. They rush outside. Looking up, they see the heavy metal radio tower falling directly towards them.

"Quick," shouted Terry, "back into the shop!"

The three boys and the secret agent flung themselves back through the doorway. The heavy steel tower crashed to the ground on the very spot where they had been standing.

"Holy Hertz!" cried Gary, as he stood up to survey the wreckage outside. "Another microsecond out there and we would have all been horizontally polarized!"

Agent Wood climbed over the remains of the tower and carefully examined the guy wires that had supported the tower. "These have been cut!" he cried. "There is no doubt in my mind that this tower has been sabotaged."

"That tower is not the only thing that is a little bent out of shape," said Gary. "Is this more of Dr. Krull's work?"

"I strongly suspect so," said Agent Wood grimly. "This is a serious business. I shall no longer be able to contact headquarters over our cryptically secure radio network. Worse yet, this episode indicates that not only is Dr. Krull aware of my suspicions, but he is probably having my every move closely watched."

"That is serious," said Terry. "However, I do not think that Krull will watch us all that closely."

"Right," said Wood. "If we are going to locate where Krull has Alicia imprisoned, you boys are going to have to do the job."

"I'm up for it," said Terry in his simple, manly fashion. "How about you two?"

Gary and Jimmy chorused their willingness to do the work at hand.

"Now, here is my plan," said Terry. "Agent Wood, would you be willing to loan us that 1924 Flexodyne Model AZ-7 you have in your collection?"

"Certainly," said Dick Wood. "All my resources are at your disposal. But why do you want that particular model?"

"As you know," said Terry, "the Old Tyme Radio Performance Competition will be broadcast not only on a national radio network, but on a shortwave frequency that can be received on the Grebe CR-4. If I know the evil Dr. Krull, it will be just like him to listen to the broadcast on one of the stolen CR-4s."

"Just the insolent kind of thing that rat would do," said Jimmy.

"And the very act that will betray him," added Terry. "The CR-4 he will most probably use will be the one stolen from Frank Beaucart. As you remember, Beaucart told us that its regenerative circuit was particularly unstable and broke into oscillation at the drop of a hat."

"Very clever," said Agent Wood. "I see now why you wish to use the Flexodyne."

"Well, will someone clue me in?" asked Gary. "You kind of lost me when you were getting Dr. Krull to drop his hat."

While the more astute of our readers have probably already guessed Terry's plan, we shall recount his response for those less familiar with the more esoteric facets of radio lore.

"The Flexodyne AZ-7," explained Terry, "has a highly directional loop antenna and uses the particularly sensitive Sodian detector. On the day of the broadcast, we shall set up our receiver and search for the regenerative oscillations emanating from Krull's CR-4. By turning the antenna, we can determine at which heading of the compass we receive the strongest signal. That will give us the direction of Krull's lair."

"Right," said Jimmy excitedly. "And then we move the receiver to a new location and repeat the process. We'll have two lines on a map that point to Krull. And where they cross will show us his exact position."

"Kind of X marks the spot where we cross off Krull," cried Gary.

"You have certainly done your homework," said Agent Wood. "The Flexodyne AZ-7 is exactly the receiver I myself would have picked to do the job. With its Signal Strength Meter, you'll have no trouble finding the position of the antenna that gives a maximum signal."

"Well, what are we waiting for?" demanded Gary. "Let's get going!"

"Hold on there," said Terry with a smile. "The contest isn't until this Saturday. I propose that we return tonight to pick up the equipment. We'll put the Flexodyne in an old box, and pile the top with old radio components. Whoever is watching will just think you're giving away some junk stuff to us."

And so the plan moved ahead. The boys picked up the receiver, antenna and batteries and headed home on their bicycles, keeping careful watch to see if they were followed. Once back at Terry's house they set up the equipment and checked to see if it would operate properly.

"Are all the battery and antenna wires connected?" asked Terry.

"All systems go," answered Jimmy.

"Then let's power up," said Terry. "Put on your earphones." He turned on the power switch and checked to see if the tubes lit up.

"Let's tune for that shortwave station over in Elmsford," said Terry. He checked his frequency table and set the dial to the correct numbers. A small turn of the dial and the boys could hear the catchy beat of a rumba coming in on the air waves.

"That's the station," said Jimmy. "It beams its broadcast to South America at this hour."

"Okay, Gary," said Terry. "Turn that antenna and see how the signal varies."

Gary moved the antenna slowly and watched as the Signal Strength Meter peaked and then dropped. He moved it back to its top reading.

"That's it," cried Terry with delight. "Elmsford is right to the West where the antenna points."

"That's okay here in your basement," said Jimmy, "but how will we be able to handle it when we're out in the woods with a map?"

"Good thought," said Terry. "We'll have to make an indicator that moves with the antenna and shows on a circle the direction it is pointing. We'll mount a compass on the unit so we'll be able to know where North is."

Like most red-blooded American boys, the Antigue Radio Boys were good with their hands. Setting to work in Mr. Johnson's well equipped shop, Terry and Jimmy constructed a circle of plywood and inscribed it with the points of the compass. Next, they devised a pointer to indicate the direction of the loop antenna. Gary acted as quartermaster in the effort, supplying the "troops" with pieces of pie and glasses of milk from Mrs. Johnson's well stocked larder.

"There," said Terry when the antenna and pointer were firmly mounted on the board and a reliable Boy Scout compass was attached, "that should do the job."

"It's going to be a real surprise to Krull when he finds out we know all the angles," quipped Gary.

The radio competition was scheduled to begin at ten in the morning the next Saturday. The Antique Radio Boys rose early to finish their chores and gathered at Terry's house well before that hour.

Terry had mounted a large picnic basket on the carrier of his bicycle into which he fitted the Flexodyne receiver. The other boys concealed the antenna and the necessary batteries in the saddlebags of their bicycles. As they set out, they could have been any trio of fun-loving American boys out for a healthy day in the outdoors rather than three serious young men intent on a lifesaving mission.

"Where to first?" asked Jimmy, as they started out.

"I think we should try Barton Hill," answered Terry. "It is wooded so we shall not be observed, but it commands a sweep of the countryside.

It was a hard pedal up the trail that led to the top of the hill. Gary fell behind and arrived with the batteries just as the two others finished setting up the receiver and the antenna.

"I think this should be renamed Barton Mountain," said Gary, panting as he climbed off his machine.

"It is just ten o'clock," said Terry. "Let's get those batteries connected."

They attached the necessary wires, donned their headphones, and adjusted to the frequency of the shortwave station just in time to hear the announcer say, "Welcome to a trip down nostalgia lane! WKWK brings you the Old Tyme Radio Performance Competition."

"Quickly," said Terry, "turn that antenna and see what we can pick up."

Jimmy rotated the antenna back and forth patiently for several minutes. The voice of the announcer rose and faded as it turned to and from the direction of the station.

"I don't think it's going to work," said Gary. "Krull is probably listening in on a transistor radio, which is not a regenerative set."

"Patience," said Terry. "Even evil Dr. Krull would not stoop that low."

As he spoke a faint whistle broke in on the voice of the announcer. Quickly, Jimmy turned the antenna, and it had come close to determining the direction of the maximum signal before the sound had faded.

"You got it," cried Gary. "I can just see Krull cursing and banging on the set."

"We better wait for one more signal," said Terry, "and fine tune our direction."

They waited another five minutes and then the regenerative whistle sounded again. Jimmy moved the antenna a few degrees back and forth, his eyes fixed on the Signal Strength Meter. "That's it!" he cried, as the signal stopped. "We've got one directional fix."

Quickly, the boys laid out their map, and marked out a line from Barton's Hill in the direction indicated.

"That's funny," said Jimmy. "The line on the map indicates the transmissions are coming from somewhere in Boonis Swamp. There's no way Krull would be in there."

"Well," said Gary, "I guess we've struck out.

Might as well reverse directions and head home."

"That's it!" cried Terry. "Thanks Gary, you've told us where we've made our mistake."

"I have?" questioned Gary.

"Yes," answered Terry. "When you said 'reverse directions,' I realized that a loop antenna could be receiving the maximum signal from either side. We've got to draw another line on the map 180 degrees from the first one."

This new line indicated a number of possibilities, as it passed through some isolated areas of Carlisle that were accessible by road.

"I think we should move down to the end of Maple Street," said Terry. "That should give us a good angle for the next fix."

Twenty minutes of hard pedaling brought them to the Maple Picnic Grove where the receiver was set up just in time to hear the rasping tones of Karmella Krull's alleged singing of "Radio Girl, My Radio Girl."

"I think you flunk as a singing coach," said Gary.

"Hush," warned Terry. "Let's zero in on the next regeneration."

Sure enough, in a few minutes another whistle was heard. This one lasted long enough for Jimmy to get an excellent directional reading. The line was laid out on the map, and the intersection with the previous plotting determined.

"The lines cross right at the old Sibley homestead," cried Jimmy. "That must be where Krull has his hideout. The place was abandoned for years, but I understand it was rented a few months ago."

"Well, let's get going," urged Gary. "Back to your house, Terry. We'll call Dick Wood, get the troops mobilized and then have some lunch"

"I'm afraid not," said Terry. "We dare not call Wood on the phone as his line may be tapped. We can't take the time to bicycle all the way across town to his house. But, we can be at the Sibley place in fifteen minutes."

The boys left their bicycles about a quarter of a mile from the Sibley Homestead and proceeded cautiously on foot through the woods towards the old house. They stopped at the edge of the woods to reconnoiter. There appeared to be no one about.

Quietly they crossed the few yards of open ground to the house and peered in the nearest window. A quick glance told them they had struck pay dirt. The evil Dr. Krull sat hunched next to a Grebe CR-4, earphones on his head. Around him were piled dozens of other stolen Grebes.

"What do we do now?" whispered Gary.

"For starters, how about raising your hands over your heads and turning slowly around," said an insolent voice behind them.

The boys turned to look directly into the business end of a revolver held in the hand of a sneering Vernon Gridleak.

WIRELESS COMMUNICATION IN THE UNITED STATES

The Early Development of American Radio Operating Companies

BY THORN L. MAYES, W6AX

240 Pages - 160 Illustrations - Softcover

The glory days of high powered wireless, spark transmitters, arc transmitters and mighty Alexanderson alternators.

Factual accounts of alternators, arcs and sparks, and of coherers, barretters and tikkers!

Unscrupulous stock promotions that by chance yielded technical breakthroughs.

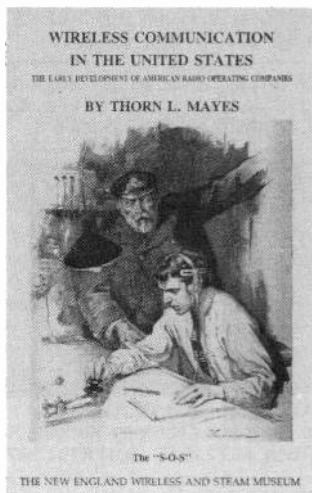

Unpublished letters...early drawings of spark transmitters.

"Coherent history of the brash early years of wireless...photos are rare gems...the Mayes book is it!" - Ludwell Sibley, AWA Old Timer's Bulletin.

"Superbly printed - the photos are clear and sharp. Some of the photos are truly unbelievable. Great book...buy it." - Barry Wiseman, The Electric Radio.

"On a scale of one to ten, Wireless Communication in the U.S. certainly rates a ten," Jim & Felicia Kreuzer, Antique Radio Classified.

Revised 3/1/91

I BUY TV'S AND RADIOS !

Any Condition... Any Quantity!

TV'S – Early or Unusual
RADIO'S – Catalin, Mirror
Unusual & Novelty
Early & Novelty Transistors

Okay – I've Built The Storage Garage... Now I Need TV's !!

We've sold over 200 vintage televisions in 1990 (including the props in "Avalon" and "Last Exit To Brooklyn" motion pictures), and we hope to sell at least 250 in 1991! Dozens of our collectors are depending on YOU to sell me early, interesting TV's.

We pay $1,000 to $10,000 for pre-1942 TV's, regardless of condition! $20 to $500 for 1940's and interesting 1950's and 1960's B&W televisions. $200 to $4,000 for pre-1956 color TV's! And, we're talking CASH – CASH – CASH ...regardless of the slow economy!

We also need at least 75 Catalin radios this year – and we'll pay top CASH dollar to buy them from you!

If you're a TV collector, remember we now have in stock about 150 vintage TV's from early RCA's to Predicta's, JVC's and Sony's – plus two prewar TV cabinets!

TV's for under $200...

- Three Philco 48-2500's ... the lot – $199!
- Five mid-'50's painted metal TV's ... the lot – $185!
- RCA 721-TS, side-veneer poor ... $155
- ... and 150 more bargains ...

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING POLICY

ONE FREE 20-WORD AD for subscribers in each issue; additional words are 15¢ each. See details below. Classified ads must be received (not just postmarked!) by NOON on the ad deadline. Late ads are held for the following issue. Please enclose correct payment with all ads. Stamps or cash are OK for small amounts. (Canadian and other foreign advertisers, please see "Payment" on page two for methods.) "Free words" cannot be accumulated from month to month; free words must be requested when ad is submitted.

Please write each ad on a separate sheet of paper, especially when included with other A.R.C. correspondence. Include SUB# with ad. Ads may be sent in advance; but, write each ad on a separate piece of paper and indicate the month (or successive two months) you want the ad to run.

Please write legibly and use both capital and small letters. Do not use dashes between words. Some numbers and letters can look alike, for example 1, l and I (the number one, the capital I and the small L.) Write the following characters clearly (especially in model numbers): 1, I and l; 0, O, o, Q and D; r and n; 6, b and G; V, U, u, v and Y; A and R; 5, S and s; 2, Z and z. We try to correct spelling errors, so when using an uncommon word or manufacturer which looks similar to a common word or manufacturer, note it so that we do not "correct" it. Editor's comments are in [brackets].

Advertising is accepted only for early items related to radio, communication, electricity, etc. All items must be described fairly; reproductions, reprints and not-original items must be identified as such. Advertisers agree to respond promptly to inquiries and orders, and to resolve problems promptly if the buyer is not satisfied.

Publisher reserves the right to edit ads without notification to the advertiser and to reject ads for any reason. Publisher is not responsible for errors due to illegibly written ads or for any other reason. Since club activities receive free advertising on the Coming Radio Events page, the free 20 words may not be used for club activity ads. See inside front cover for additional information.

CLASSIFIED AD DETAILS

Deadline: NOON – 10th of the month!

Classified ads must have a standard heading such as WANTED, FOR SALE, FOR TRADE, FOR SALE/TRADE, SERVICES, MESSAGE, HELP, AUCTION, MEET, etc. This heading is the only bold or all-capitalized words allowed in the ad. Capitalize only manufacturer names, model names, etc. Wanted and For Sale ads are mixed together to encourage the reading of all ads, including the Wanted ads. This standard ad format makes scanning the ads easier.

Before writing your ad, please look over the ads in a recent issue of A.R.C., and try to write your ad in the same style. Full name and address is required in all classified ads; we will add it if you forget.

To encourage varied content of the ads, the same classified ad may be run only once per issue and for only two consecutive months. (To run an ad longer, use a boxed classified or display ad.)

Classified Ad Rates per Month

Subscribers:

First 20 words: FREE

15¢ per word for extra words over 20 plus

10¢ per word for a shaded ad (count all words including free words).

* Subscribers may take 20 free words on only one ad each month.

Non-Subscribers:

30¢ per word plus

10¢ per word for shaded ad.

Please do not forget to send in the extra 15¢ per word when your classified ad runs over the free 20 words; your payment will be appreciated, and it will help to keep A.R.C. healthy.

BOXED CLASSIFIED AD DETAILS

Deadline: 5th of the month!

Boxed classified ads can run unchanged for three months or more. No words are free. Ads may be shaded and may include bold and all-capitalized words freely. The ad need not begin with For Sale, etc. Minimum run is 3 months, prepaid.

Boxed Classified Ad Rates per Month

Nonshaded ads:

25¢ per word for all words,* none free, plus

10¢ per word for each bold word plus

10¢ per word for each all-caps word.

Shaded Ads (All words are bold at no charge):

35¢ per word for all words* plus

10¢ per word for each all-caps word.

Non-Subscribers:

Add 20¢ per word to above costs.

*Three words can be bold-all-caps at no extra charge.

Deadline: 5th of the month for classified and boxed classified ads with drawings or photos!

Drawings and photos are encouraged as the response to your ad is much larger and the reader knows better what you want or are selling. Send in your drawing or photograph, and A.R.C. will reduce it or enlarge it as needed.

$8.00 per month for each photo or drawing (If ad is canceled, this amount cannot always be refunded.)

CHANGES & CANCELATIONS

Please check your ads carefully before sending them in. Once ads are received, it is not always possible to refund the amount sent, pull the ad or make changes.

IMPORTANT — COUNTING WORDS — IMPORTANT

The standard headings: WANTED, FOR SALE, etc., count as one word each time used in an ad. Name, address and (one) telephone number, count as 6 words, regardless of length. Ham call letters and business name can be included in the 6 words and do not count extra. Full name and address is required in all classified ads – it does not cost extra! Each additional word, abbreviation, model number or number group, extra telephone numbers, etc. count as one word. Hyphenated words count as two words.
