PURPOSE. Antique Radio Classified is published for people involved in the radio collecting hobby. Its purpose is to stimulate growth of the hobby through the buying, selling and trading of radios and related items, and to provide a monthly forum for the interchange of ideas and information.

CONTACTING ANTIQUE RADIO CLASSIFIED.

All correspondence should be sent to:

A.R.C., P.O. Box 2, Carlisle, MA 01741.

Send only UPS, Federal, etc. items to One River Road.

Telephone: (508) 371-0512; Fax: (508) 371-7129

Please no classified ads by telephone; thanks.

Your ads, renewals, letters, etc. can be handled faster and more efficiently if (1) each is on a separate piece of paper, and (2) your name, address and SUB# is written on each. Unfortunately, A.R.C. is not staffed to answer letters with questions about antique radios or requests for advice. However, A.R.C. does solicit letters of interest to its readers and publishes them as space permits. A.R.C. assumes that permission is given to edit and to publish all correspondence and articles received unless otherwise indicated.

GUARANTEE. You may cancel your subscription at any time and receive a pro rata refund for issues not yet mailed. If errors to ads are made by A.R.C., upon request a free correction will be run in the next available issue.

PAYMENT. Please send in full payment with your order or ad. A.R.C. does not carry accounts; all subscriptions, ads, etc. must be prepaid. Pay in U.S. funds. Checks drawn on a U.S. bank, money orders, VISA or MasterCard ($10.00 min.) are preferred. Make check out to "A.R.C." U.S. stamps or cash are OK for small amounts. Canadian payers may send a Canadian check in U.S. funds, but please add $1.00 (U.S.) for bank charges. Subscriptions will be prorated to amount sent if amount is incorrect.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS. Please notify us 4 weeks in advance of a change of address. Send both your new and old address, and include your SUB# and effective date of your new address. Temporary address changes can be made also.

SUBMISSION OF MATERIAL. Antique Radio Classified welcomes and solicits information that pertains or relates to radio history or collecting. This may include articles, book reviews, photos, information on upcoming radio events, meetings, antique radio organizations, radio auctions and price reports, sources of old radio and restoration supplies, and other related and interesting material. All material submitted should be neat and verified for accuracy. Unless prior arrangements are made, all submitted materials may be edited, become the property of Antique Radio Classified and will not be returned.

MAILING OF ISSUES. U.S. subscribers can receive A.R.C. by First or Second Class mail (Second Class is the way most magazines are mailed). The mailing of First Class copies is staggered over one to four days with faraway copies mailed before local copies. Non-U.S. copies are mailed on the first day. Second Class copies are mailed on the last day. Mailing dates change each month, but mailing is usually completed by the 26th of the month. First Class copies usually are received by the fifth of the month; copies by Second Class mail, by the tenth.

ETHICS. No person involved in the production of A.R.C. is to act on any information in the magazine until the day after local copies are mailed.

DISCLAIMER. The publisher is not responsible for any buying and selling transactions incurred, or for any other use of the contents of this publication.

Antique Radio Classified subscription rates, frequency of publication, content, policies, size and ad details, and rates are subject to change at any time by A.R.C.

DISPLAY AND BUSINESS CARD ADS - DETAILS AND RATES

The deadline is the first of the month for display and business card ad artwork, payment and repeat requests.

Advertising is accepted only for early items related to radio, communication, etc. All items must be described fairly; reproductions, reprints and non-original items must be so identified. Advertisers agree to respond promptly to inquiries and orders, and to resolve problems promptly if the buyer is not satisfied.

All advertising must be prepaid; see "Payment" paragraph above. Late ads will be run only if space and time permit. Since artwork is reduced to 63% in the printing process, originals must be the artwork size listed below. Do not send in artwork on art board or send negatives. Ads should be typeset or typed neatly with a carbon ribbon, black printing on white. No reverse type if A.R.C. is to make up the ad. If you want us to prepare your ad, include the one-time cost below for A.R.C. to make up the ad.

Photos should be at an 85 line screen; otherwise, add $10.00 per photo for screening. Do not cut or trim photos or glue photos to artwork; submit separately.

If you are confused by these requirements and terms,

Page	ARTWORK SIZE (SEND IN THIS SIZE)		As Printed (size in magazine)		Cost for 1-month	Cost for 3-months	Cost for 6-months	One-time Cost for A.R.C. to make up Ad (if requested)

Business Card		2 x 3 3/4		1 1/4 x 2 3/8	not avail.	31.00	55.00	5.00

please contact A.R.C. before beginning to prepare your ad. We will be happy to advise you on your ad ideas, estimate how much the ad will cost, recommend an ad size, etc.

We assume that advertisers want all ads which are submitted to run without delay; therefore, we will run the ad and bill for any additional work required for the ad to meet these specifications. A late ad will be run beginning with the next month. "Tear sheets" will be sent only for 1/2 and full page ads, and if requested when the ad is submitted.

Business card ads are limited to one per advertiser. The 3-month rates represent about a 10% discount, the 6-month rates, 20%. Placement requests for display ads: add 15% but call first. Clubs: write for discount policy.

EDITOR'S COMMENTS

Features abound in this issue of A.R.C. Not only do we have an outstanding lead article, but we have included White's 1991 Index to A.R.C. Also, a record number of ads appear in this issue — over 800 boxed, photo and regular classifieds! And read below for another important change this month — the move of A.R.C.'s offices out of my home to quarters down the road.

Each year, A.R.C. is fortunate to have Frank White prepare the detailed listing of all the persons, companies and radios mentioned and pictured within our pages. Last March, the cumulative index of June 1984 through December 1990 was included; this March, we include an update of 1991 issues. As in the past, the Index is printed in the center of the issue so that it can be removed for convenient reference.

Michael Molnar has contributed our feature this month — an article on Louis A. Hazeltine and his invention of the neutrodyne circuit. Michael actually researched his article at Stevens Institute of Technology where Hazeltine developed the circuit.

I hope that the short article on the restoration of a Philco 84 by Dwane Stevens, a newcomer to collecting, will encourage other newcomers to tackle the repair and restoration of their sets. Dwane actually sent the article along with his new subscription to A.R.C.

Also on the topic of restoration, the second part of Richard Foster's series on Cabinet Refinishing and Repair the Right Way appears this month. Richard discusses how to solve the various problems of veneer repair.

Three auctions are reported by Ray Chase this month. Keep your eyes open for general auctions near you that might include a few radios. Sometimes, bargains can be found, especially if only a few collectors show up.

And speaking of auctions, note the long-overdue "Oops!" below which reports a significant error in an auction that A.R.C. reported in January 1989.

Our book review this month, contributed by Fred Geer, covers the Howard Sams' six-volume set of Radios of the Baby Boom Era. These books are a valuable reference for the collector of radios manufactured between 1946 and 1960.

In addition to our Photo Review, we have a short article by Ron Boucher on obtaining a digital frequency readout from pre-digital era radios.

Although we added 8 pages this month to make room for the Index and the additional ads, we did have to delay a couple of articles, including a review of Alan Douglas' Volume 3 of Radio Manufacturers of the 1920's. Look for the article section to return to its usual size next month.

A.R.C. Moves. After over five years of publishing A.R.C. out of my home, I was fortunate to find another location here in Carlisle where A.R.C. finally could have a real office of its own. A.R.C. had spread from my one-room office to five rooms — all throughout my house! With nine people working on each issue, it was rather crowded, to say the least. A change became imperative.

February 22 was moving day. With the larger quarters, we hope that when you are nearby, you will stop and say "Hi." While here, you might look over our numerous books on collecting.

Please note that there is no change in our mailing address — it is still P.O. Box 2, Carlisle, MA 01741. (We also receive mail at P.O. Box 802.) Only Federal Express and other non-U.S. Postal Service shipments should be addressed to the new address: One River Road, Carlisle, MA 01741.

Club Events. I encourage you to attend one of the many club activities for collectors scheduled in March. All clubs encourage newcomers to attend; after your first visit, you will wonder why you waited so long. In just a few hours at a flea market or meet, you will meet new friends and learn firsthand about collecting, radios and pricing.

A.R.C.'s next major trek will be to the Dayton HamVention on April 24, 25 and 26. Although we set up at very few radio amateur gatherings, the sheer size of this one (over 30,000 attendees last year) and the number of hams who collect radios make this a fun time for us all. Even if you are not a radio amateur, try to make it to this event and look us up at our inside booth.

Happy Collecting.

John V. Terrey

OOPS!

Back in January 1989, A.R.C. reported on a Peabody, Massachusetts, auction where a Pepsi drink dispenser transistor radio was reported to have sold for $1,300. We learned only recently that this price was an error at the auction caused by confusion over an absentee bid. The $1,300 sale was rescinded, and the radio was resold in the $200 to $300 range. Next month, A.R.C. will present a discussion of various problems with auction prices and auction reporting.

ON THE COVER

Our cover this month shows Louis A. Hazeltine and a prototype of his neutrodyne receiver which was presented to the Smithsonian Institute in 1956.

Hazeltine began working on the neutralization problem during World War I. By 1923, numerous manufacturers were producing neutrodyne sets under Hazeltine's license. Michael Molnar has contributed the story of the creation of the neutrodyne for this issue.

WITH THE COLLECTORS

The Birthplace of the Neutrodyne

BY MICHAEL P. MOLNAR

When you tell someone you are taking time off to sightsee in Hoboken, New Jersey, you are likely to get a strange stare. But today's Hoboken has been restored and "gentrified," making it quite a nice place to visit in itself. However, the reason for my trip as a radio collector was to visit Stevens Institute of Technology, the birthplace of the neutrodyne radio circuit.

I was a student at Stevens about 20 years ago. Stevens is a highly regarded engineering college perched on Castle Point in Hoboken. It overlooks the Hudson River and has a panoramic view of New York City. My destination was the library where some early neutrodynes, which are direct descendants of the first neutrodyne, are on display. The prototype was invented and built on the campus by one of Stevens' most famous graduates and professors, Louis Allen Hazeltine.

From this first prototype, shown in Figure 1, evolved the production models built by licensed manufacturers starting in 1923. Eventually over 1 1/2 million offspring were produced before they became obsolete in the late 1920s. This prototype also led to the creation of the Hazeltine Corporation, which started on the Stevens campus and has become a leading electronics company.

THE WORLD WAR I YEARS

The Hoboken of the early 20th century was very different from the city of today. An easy ferry ride from Manhattan, it was a getaway place for New Yorkers who might want to take a holiday by the river. However, when World War I broke out, the U.S. Navy disrupted the quiet campus life to seek out the help of the engineers at Stevens.

During this time, the young Professor L.A. Hazeltine was called away from his teaching duties to work for the Navy at the Washington Navy Yard. Here he designed the SE1420 Navy receiver. For his time, Hazeltine brought a unique approach to this receiver, as well as to his other projects. Instead of designing by trial and error, he did his engineering with pencil and paper. He built a reputation among his peers for completing his design on paper, and then having a model built that worked right the first time.

THE NEUTRALIZATION CIRCUIT

However, in the design of the Navy receiver, Hazeltine was bothered by an electromagnetic coupling between the coils. His answer to this problem was not to remove the coupling but rather to invent a circuit to "neutralize" the coupling. With the Navy Department's encouragement and the help of its attorney, Hazeltine applied for his first patent on this neutralization circuit.

As it turned out, the coupling in the Navy receiver was not a serious problem, and the neutralization circuit was not included in the final design. When the war ended and Professor Hazeltine returned to Stevens Institute, his concept of the neutralization circuit went with him.

At Stevens, Hazeltine set up his lab and office in the Navy Building, shown in Figure 2. The Navy had built this workplace for Stevens during the war. At the same time, commercial radio production was reviving, and radio's popularity was on the rise.

One of the biggest problems with the radios of this era was caused by the triode tubes used in all sets. The capacitance that develops between the elements of a triode tube causes an electrical coupling through the tube and thus a feedback or oscillation when it is being used to amplify. This squealing made radios difficult to operate or enjoy. Many engineers were attempting to solve these problems, but Professor Hazeltine, with the concept of neutralization he had developed in his work with the Navy, had a head start.

THE PROTOTYPE NEURODYNE

About this time Hazeltine was introduced to Harold Wheeler, then a student in Washington, D.C. Wheeler had built a radio of his own which neutralized some of the coupling problems. Hazeltine was impressed with the radio and told Wheeler of his own work and his patent application. Perhaps seeing this radio inspired Hazeltine to go back to the lab where, with his assistant John Dreyer, he built the prototype neuro-

What Is A Neurodyne? What is Neutralization?

The neurodyne, or neurodyne circuit, was developed to correct a problem inherent in the common TRF (Tuned Radio Frequency) receiver — oscillation, or squealing, in the RF amplifier stages. Oscillation takes place when a portion of the output signal (at the plate) in an amplifier is coupled inductively or capacitatively to the input of the amplifier (the grid). The coupled signal also must be "in phase" with the original input signal.

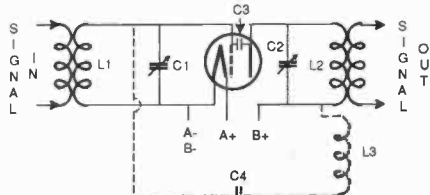

Inductive Coupling. As indicated in the diagram below, the output signal can be inductively coupled to the input of the tube if the output coil (L2) and the input coil (L1) are physically close and in line (like this: | |). Coupling can be reduced to negligible levels by placing the coils farther apart and at right angles to each other (like this: | —). Another arrangement minimizing inductive coupling is: / \. (Neurodyne receivers use this method to minimize inductive coupling.)

Capacitive Coupling. Provided the input and output coils and their connecting wiring are separated, one may wonder how capacitive coupling occurs. The answer is from within the vacuum tube itself: the tube grid and plate form a small amount of capacitance. This capacitance (represented by C3) couples a portion of the output signal to the input of the tube. Although the output signal is "out of phase" with the input signal, the combination of C3 and the input circuit tuned circuit (L1 & C1) change the phase of the coupled signal sufficiently to make it "in phase," and oscillation occurs.

Hazeltine's Neurodyne Circuit. Hazeltine's approach was to feed an "out of phase" version of the output signal back to the input of the tube so as to neutralize, or cancel, the signal coming through the grid-plate capacitance (C3). Coil L3 is arranged to obtain this "out of phase" signal, and capacitor C4 couples it to the input. Since the two signals cancel each other out at the grid, no oscillation can occur. (Editor) dyne radio, shown in Figures 3 and 4. In addition, a financial arrangement was made with Wheeler not to pursue his own patent but to join forces with Hazeltine and Dreyer.

The story that follows is a popular page in radio history. A group of radio companies had joined forces to become the Independent Radio Manufacturers, Inc. (IRM). Its purpose was to survive threats of patent infringement lawsuits. As it turned out, the IRM's law firm had a young attorney named Willis Taylor who had been a student of Professor Hazeltine. While representing Hazeltine and his neutrodyne patent, Taylor solved IRM's problem by licensing the company to build Hazeltine's new neutrodyne radios.

Before long, the radio marketplace was populated by long boxes with the three big dials that became a fixture in American homes. These three dials created a radio that anybody could tune. On any given night, stations could now be logged in and tuned in at the same numbers.

Soon the Hazeltine Corporation was formed and set up its first offices in the Navy Building. From here, engineering services were provided for the licensees, and research was done to continue the evolution of the circuit. As the company grew, New York offices were added, and eventually the Hoboken office was closed.

At the present time in the Stevens' library, a file is kept with information and press clippings on Hazeltine's life. Also in the library are two radios. One of them, shown in Figure 3, is a kit-looking radio using Fada components and some unusual variable neutralizing condensers. This may have been a prototype found in one of the "build your own" magazine articles. The second radio, shown in Figure 5, appears to be a common Freed-Eisemann NR-5 except for a unique factory inscription on the front panel to Willis Taylor, the attorney who put together the Hazeltine and IRM alliance. The inscription reads that the radio is a gift "with appreciation to my friend from Louis Allen Hazeltine."

A Postscript on the Navy Building

I had spent many hours in class in the Navy Building in the early 1970s, but never learned of its significance to radio history until recently. It was built as a temporary structure during World War I and was torn down about ten years ago. My interest in neutrodynes stems from those academic years in the Navy Building where Hazeltine's laboratory had been located years before. This article is a part of my continuing research on neutrodynes, and I would welcome contact from anyone with useful photos or information on the subject.

RESTORATION TOPICS

BY DWANE STEVENS

When I first saw the old cathedral radio sitting there awaiting its turn at the auction block, I wondered why it had been kept around and not thrown away. I told my wife I would bid on it for spare parts since anything in that condition couldn't possibly be restored.

That was a year ago at an estate auction when I was looking for an old radio to supplement my enormous collection of three. Just recently, at the November auction during the VRPS/AWA (Vintage Radio and Phonograph Society/Antique Wireless Association) Convention '91 in Irving, Texas, that same old "junkie" brought a lot of attention and a considerable price, to my amazement. Figures 1 and 2 show the "before" and "after" phases of the Philco 84 Deco cathedral.

I started my new hobby of antique radio collecting after visiting with a business acquaintance who was a collector. It was an easy transition for me since I've been a ham radio operator for about 15 years, but was never interested in vintage radio or refinishing anything until recently.

Since I am a newcomer to this fascinating hobby, I want to send a message to others like myself: 1. Never think of discarding an old radio just because it not only is older than World War II, but also looks as if it had been sitting in the battlefield. 2. Never underestimate your abilities to restore a piece of our history to the amazement of others and yourself.

I realize that many A.R.C. readers are professionals at restoration, but there are also many newcomers, like myself, who can do a decent job and actually have fun too! Purists might disagree with amateur restoration, but if it would save many of these antique examples of our past from the trash heap, wouldn't it be worth it?

Some hints: ask for help. Furniture refinishers are often very friendly and happy to give free advice. Check your local library. There are many fine books on refinishing. Take your time. You can do a much better job if you don't rush it. Check A.R.C. advertisers — many carry a wide supply of products for refinishing. If you are really not up to refinishing, then by all means, let the pros handle it.

How about electrical restoration? Think you can't handle it? Try reading Old Time Radios! Restoration and Repair by Joseph J. Carr. You just might surprise yourself. Even if you simply refinish the cabinet, you will save another radio from the garbage pile and have something to display proudly. Getting it to play can come later.

I once bought a cathedral and a large Crosley Bakelite which had been in a shed for years; each contained a nest of mice. The wiring was so bad I never dreamed the sets would work. But after much frustration and many times of trying "just one more time," they now sound great.

To all you new radio buffs considering restoration and repair — by all means listen to the pros, but never underestimate your own abilities.

PHOTO REVIEW

This column presents in pictorial form many of the more unusual radios, speakers, tubes, advertising, and other old radio-related items from our readers' collections. The photos are meant to help increase awareness of what's available in the radio collecting hobby. Send in any size photos from your collection. Photos must be sharp in detail, contain a single item, and preferably have a light-colored background. A short, descriptive paragraph MUST be included with each photo. Please note that receipt of photos is not acknowledged, publishing is not guaranteed, and photos are not returned.

VOGUE PROMOTIONAL PICTURE RECORD - In 1947, General Electric Co. contracted Vogue Recordings, Inc. to produce a limited number of records to be given away to promote their new instrument transformers. Both sides are shown here. (Kurt Nauck - Houston, TX)

ZENITH CONSOLE MODEL 12S-265 - This classic floor model, built in 1938, has walnut veneer and bird's-eye maple inlay. A rare, very Art Deco set, it has one AM band, two SW bands, a robot dial, and motorized tuning. (Dale M. Brown - Costa Mesa, CA)

PHILCO MODEL 49-603 - This AC/DC 5-tube travel radio comes in an easel-style cabinet with a tooled leather front. It is shown in the open position. Art Deco in style, it looks like a book when closed. (Fred Geer - Jacksonville, FL)

MYSTERY RADIO - This radio on display at the Vintage Radio and Communications Museum of Connecticut has no manufacturer's name on it. A multiband set, it has both foreign and standard broadcast bands. The joinery of the case is of a commercially manufactured quality. The chassis contains two 25Z5 tubes as twin rectifiers, a 25L6, a 6R7, a 6K7, a 6A8 and a BK23B ballast. On the bottom of the cabinet and the bottom of both front doors are stamped the letters "IX." Any information about this set would be appreciated. (John Ellsworth - New Britain, CT)

Cabinet Refinishing and Repair the Right Way Part II — Cabinet Repair

BY RICHARD FOSTER

A letter from a collector asking for information on cabinet repair and refinishing prompted Richard Foster to prepare a two-part outline of his technique. Part I — "Cabinet Refinishing" — was in the January 1992 issue of A.R.C. In this second part, he presents his procedure for cabinet repair. (Editor)

Most cabinet repairs come in two categories: (1) reassembly of loosened parts, and (2) patching or replacement of veneer. I use three favorite tools: a sharp chisel, a razor saw and a low angle block plane. Fabrication of new parts is usually for the experienced woodworker.

REASSEMBLY

For reassembly work, fussy restorers choose hide glue that is melted in a glue pot. It is strong, gives good setup time, and is reversible, allowing the cabinet to be fairly easily disassembled later, if necessary, and reglued. Heat or steam will soften hide glue. Prepared hide glue is not a good choice because it contains preservatives that weaken it, and it is often stale.

A second choice is white glue, again easily reversible and also easy to clean up. Yellow glue is strong, but it is difficult to deal with if you have a problem and you want to reverse it. White glue is easier to clean off a surface to be finished, where any glue will act as a sizing and keep the stain from penetrating the wood. Hide glue, white glue and yellow glue are all generic terms. Numerous brand names are available at hardware and craft supply stores.

A $\frac{3}{4}$ " paint brush is a good tool for spreading glue. Coat both surfaces of anything to be glued, and remember that glue will not fill gaps; they will have to be filled with wood. For clamping the bottoms of cabinets, bar clamps and the huge rubber bands that Brookstone sells are good. I also use heavy straps, such as old seat belts to pull things together.

PATCHING AND REPLACING VENEER

Veneer can be patched by cutting out the broken or loose area with a sharp knife and making a piece to fit the gap. All old glue and fibers underneath must be removed. Try to find a slip of veneer with a matching grain, glue both surfaces and clamp gently, using some aluminum or plastic to spread the force of your clamp over the whole area. White glue is good for this, as you can more easily start the glue job over if you don't like the results.

I undercut the edges of the gap slightly with the knife or chisel so that the top edges are the contact point at all edges. A triangular patch is easier to hide than a rectangular one at the back edge of your Philco 70. The back edges of patches can be trimmed with your razor saw and then planed gently with a block plane.

Larger areas — for example, the top of a console — can be veneered. There are many exciting products on the market today including contact cement for veneer. For the beginner, I recommend the new paperbacked veneers with adhesive already on the veneer, since they do not have to be flattened before use and will not split when handled. There are also prepped veneers that go on with an iron! These items are readily available through many woodworking and craft supply catalogs and stores.

Prepare the surface, lay on the veneer and iron it down. Apply the contact cement with a roller to both the surface and the veneer. Wax paper or acrylic sheets, like those used for inside storm windows, when placed between the cabinet surface and the new veneer, allow you to align the veneer, and then to draw out the sheet as you press down the veneer. A rubber roller will help you press it down. Never dampen sheets of veneer to be used with contact cement; this causes bubbles.

MAJOR PROBLEMS

Veneer Ripples: The most vexing problem in all cabinet repairs is ripples in the sides of a cathedral radio. Most cathedral cabinet arches are constructed of thin plywood with a layer of veneer on both sides. However, some General Electric cathedral cabinets have no inner layer of veneer on the inside of the arch, and the substrate cracks leave front-to-back ripples on the outside. There is almost no treatment for this problem, outside of new custom-made arches, which are fiendishly expensive and beyond the skills of an amateur.

Up-and-down water damage ripples on the sides can be dealt with in the following way:

First, remove the moldings if possible. You need to get glue under all the surfaces of the ripples, as a dry spot will leave a bubble. I use old bandsaw blades; you could use a hacksaw blade with the wavy teeth ground off, for example. The tool must be long and thin. Be thorough in spreading glue under ripples; try a heat gun or hair dryer to soften the old glue first. The surface of the ripples must be dampened, and then the whole area pressed with enormous pressure.

The best results I've had so far are with pieces of Plexiglas cut to fit the area both inside and outside, pressed under pieces of $\frac{1}{2}$ " or $\frac{3}{4}$ " plywood using as many clamps as you can put on. Ripples will not lie down unless dampened by glue inside and some water outside. The Plexiglas provides a very flat, waterproof surface that glue won't stick to. If you use white glue, a damp rag will clean off any excess. There always is some that will squeeze out.

An exception to using this method is with the Philco 70 or Philco 90 cathedral arch. This arch is done in mahogany veneer on the front, laid on solid wood with no substrate. Over the changing seasons, wood movement causes the veneer to come away in spots. Gluing down the bubble makes it stronger than the adjacent area, which soon pops up on its own. The only solution is to take off the whole affected area and reveneer it. For best color and grain match, veneering the whole arch is the way to go.

Finally, for smaller imperfections, there are colored wood-patching products like Plastic Wood. There are filler pencils in hundreds of colors, as well as shellac sticks to burn in larger imperfections. They are used on an old spatula or kitchen knife heated in a burner; the stick melts and the goo spreads into the imperfection. These are good for dents in good finishes and come in many colors.

Dents in Wood: How do we deal with dents in wood? Many dents can be raised. The process is simple. Wood expands when wet. The dent is, therefore, dampened and then heated either with a soldering iron, a wood burner, a bit of metal heated on the stove, or even a steam iron. The resulting steam expands the wood fibers, raising the surface of the dent. A small one will come back. A deep one probably needs a shellac stick. It's always worth a try.

Digital Frequency Counter

BY RON BOUCHER

Years ago I came up with a way to overcome one of the shortcomings of 1930s radios designed for listening to shortwave broadcasts.

These radios looked great, sounded good, and could pull in the stations. The problem was that very often you didn't know to what station you were tuned. You had only an approximate idea of what frequency the station was on. Even with a station log, all you could do was a good guess.

My solution was a non-surgical way of giving my 1930s radio a digital frequency readout.

Superheterodyne radios have internal oscillators that emit a weak radio signal. You can demonstrate this with two AM radios. Put them close together and tune one of them to a clear spot on the high side of the band; then, turn up the volume. This is the receiving radio. Turn the volume down on the other radio and begin tuning it, starting from the low end of the band. This is the sending radio. When you tune the sending radio past a certain spot on the dial, you will hear a weak signal or squeal on the receiving radio.

If you can detect and measure the frequency of these weak signals, you can determine to what frequency your superheterodyne radios are tuned. It works with both tube and transistor sets.

To obtain a frequency reading I use a Micronta Model 351 digital frequency counter with LED display, sold by Radio Shack in the early 1980s. Batteries never last long, so a battery eliminator is a good idea.

This counter has a connection at the top for a stub antenna. The same setup is used to measure the frequency of a transmitter. I replaced this antenna with a machine screw which secured a wire to the input of the counter.

On the other end of the wire, I wrapped a coil around a wooden quarter-inch dowel. Ten turns was enough. I used a wooden dowel so as not to de-tune the circuit by placing metal near it. I placed the coil in the vicinity of the oscillator tuning gang and secured it with glue.

To calibrate your installation, all you have to do is tune in carefully to a station on a known frequency. Subtract that frequency number from the reading, and that is your conversion number. It will be different for each radio.

For example, if you tune to a station on 1250 kHz and your meter says 1.706 MHz —

$$1.706 \text{ MHz} - 1.250 \text{ MHz} = .456 \text{ MHz}$$

.456 is your conversion number. (This is also the intermediate frequency of your radio.)

It is really great finding a frequency in a log and being able to tune it in on the first try.

(Ron Boucher, PO Box 541, Goffstown, NH 03045)

Ron often has radios for sale and his lists are sent upon request.

AUCTION REPORT

Three auctions are reported by Ray Chase this month. Two general auctions were held at Berman's Auction House, Dover, New Jersey, on November 13 and 27, and included some radios. The auctioneer was Alan Glaubman.

A third general auction was held on November 14 at the Alderfer Auction Co., Hatfield, Pa. This very large auction house advertised a radio collection along with its general merchandise. The auctioneer was Vernon L. Martin.

Note the higher than usual prices obtained for ordinary common table radios of the "all American five" vintage, including very common plastic and wood models. Otherwise, prices were not out-of-the-ordinary — only a few surprises here and there.

BOOK REVIEW

Radios of the Baby Boom Era

By Howard W. Sams & Co.

REVIEWED BY FRED GEER

Great news! In Radios of the Baby Boom Era, Howard W. Sams has reduced 512 Photofact sets into a very usable 6-volume set covering 3456 radios. Each book averages 328 pages with approximately 581 photos. Collectors who have waited for a more compact Photofact reference will welcome this set.

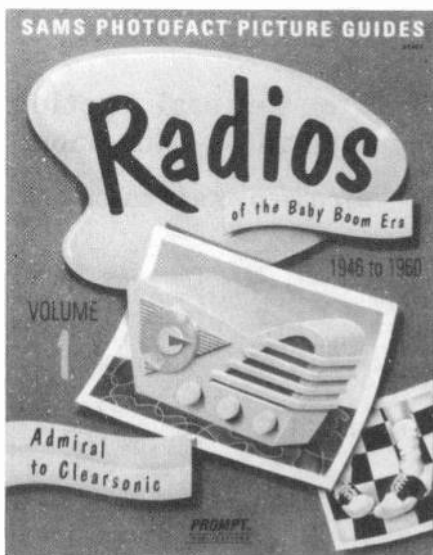

In 1946 Howard W. Sams & Co. began a unique service with its Photofact program. Having procured the radios from manufacturers, Sams then dissected them and photographed each cabinet. Each Photofact presents one radio model, including photos of the radio, its chassis top and bottom view (showing parts locations), parts list, a schematic and other needed information. Other cabinets may have used the same chassis, a fact which explains why all cabinets are not represented.

In Radios of the Baby Boom Era, selected black and white radio photographs are reproduced from the original Photofact. Each page has two radios featured, along with brand, model number, type of radio (AM-FM or SW), number of tubes, power supply, tuning range, manufacturer, Photofact set number, and year published. (Note: a radio had to be in production or on the market before a Photofact was published.)

Volume 1, for example, covers 45 brands from Admiral to Clearsonic. The first 7 pages are the same in each volume. Page 1 points out 5 or 6 noteworthy radios. Page 2 lists the top radio shows in 1946 and 1957 or 10 hit songs from 1950 to 1960. A little more variety could have been used here.

Baby Boom makes identifying an unknown radio elementary. A quick hour-and-a-half run-through of all six volumes identified several unknown sets in my collection. With Baby Boom, identifying missing cabinet parts — knobs, dials and trim — is a simple matter.

Collectors with photographic memories will see many cabinets that look alike, differences being only the brand label, dial or knobs. There are several very noticeable missing radios; for example, Fada Bullet 1000, Westinghouse's Refrigerator, and Arvin's Hoppy radio.

Baby Boom has large clear photographs that make identification of each radio effortless. Large photos reveal subtle differences that would be lost in a smaller format.

and an index of manufacturers' city and brand names are also included.

The section entitled "Fixing Up Your Old Radio" provides a troubleshooting guide to getting the set into operation. A typical schematic for a 5-tube AC/DC superheterodyne is keyed to a table that tells what each part does in the circuit. Also listed are parts suppliers, collector publications and clubs for the old radio enthusiast. There is information on how to obtain a Photofact for any model pictured.

Howard W. Sams Co. has produced 150,000 Photofacts in the past 46 years. We are lucky to have the extensive information that we have, and whether you buy one volume or all six, Baby Boom, will be responsible for your better communication with other collectors. These volumes will become indispensable when collectors wish to concentrate on the years 1946 to 1960.

Radios of the Baby Boom Era, in 6 volumes, is in a softbound 8 1/2" x 11" format and has a total of 3,456 photos. The selling price per volume is $16.95 or $101.70 for all 6 volumes. That's just 3 cents per photo! It is available from Howard W. Sams & Co., 2647 Waterfront Parkway East Dr., Indianapolis, IN 46214, A.R.C., and A.R.C. advertisers.

ACTraveler

On-the-road AC power

Have you ever wanted to power up a radio, TV, soldering iron, oscilloscope, electric drill, electric screwdriver, or your personal computer while on the road, camping, or at your favorite antique radio swap meet. Perhaps you would like to power the battery charger for your H.T., cellular phone, camcorder, or portable tools.

Now, with the ACTraveler it is easier than you ever dreamed. Just plug into your cigarette lighter with this pocket sized 15 oz. hi-tech marvel.

It delivers up to 140 watts continuous power (200 watts for 5 minutes) and can deliver 400 watts to handle the startup surge some loads require. It has built-in safeguards to protect your battery from excessive discharge and it meets U.S. and Canadian safety standards. All this and a 3 year warranty for only $125.00. Shipping prepaid in the U.S. (200 watt model available)

MESSAGE: Do you collect regular or novelty transistors? Do you find it difficult to locate other people who are interested in transistors? Would you like to join a network of transistor collectors? This is a new and exciting field of radio collecting, and transistor prices for both novelty and regular sets are climbing at a steady pace. I have started a national network of transistor collectors which will offer a monthly transistor newsletter, featuring transistor-related articles and classified ads. If you would like more information about joining the transistor network, send a LSASE or give me a call. Please include any suggestions or ideas you might have to help get the ball rolling. Olde Tyme Radio Services Directory

TO BE UPDATED!

LISTINGS ARE FREE!

Antique Radio Classified, now the publisher of the Olde Tyme Radio Services Directory, is developing an updated, comprehensive listing of available antique radio services. In addition to services, the directory includes publications, museums, buyers & sellers and other related topics. See Sept. 1990 through April 1991 of A.R.C. for the most recent edition of the directory. The new edition will be serialized in future issues of A.R.C.

To insure that you are listed in the upcoming edition, please complete and return this form (or a photocopy, or the information on a separate piece of paper) as soon as possible. If you have been listed before, we would appreciate your sending in the information again to insure the accuracy of your listing. Please feel free to send any other information that will help us accurately describe your offering. Thanks!

WHITE'S INDEX TO A.R.C. - 1991

Compiled by Frank R. White, KBØTG
P.O. Box 2012, Olathe, Kansas 66061

Antique Radio Classified is pleased to print in this March 1992 issue, the 1991 Index to A.R.C. compiled again this year by Frank R. White. This index, covering 1991 only, follows the comprehensive 1984-91 Index, printed in the March 1991 issue. (All back issues are available from A.R.C. for $3.50 each, postpaid in the U.S.)

It is the intent in this index to reference all photographs, historical names, company names, model names, article titles and schematics contained in the text of all issues of A.R.C. Follow-up corrections (Oops) are also included as entries.

The index is divided into three sections:

1. Index of Persons, Company Names and Model Names
2. Index of Miscellaneous Topics
3. Index of Articles

FOR SALE: One mint, electronically restored DeWald Lyre in all brown marble - $695, will consider trades for high end transistor radios or collections. Now here's the really big news this month. Due to unprecedented popular demand, Mister Transistor is now repairing/restoring most early transistor radios. To date I've had complete success with over 90% of these older sets bringing them back to like new condition inside and out. And don't ask about the remaining 10%, that's my secret. Call for details but please save the basket cases, Frankensteins, and other hairy beasts for someone else. This month I'll list a few of the mint and near mint sets ready for sale. Sony TR84, TR610, TR6050, TR714, TR817; Panasonic R607, T50AA, Philco T-70, Emerson 911, several 888s, GE P830C, P831E, Bulova 290P, 290L (with Raytheon chassis), Continental TR801, RCA 8BT8JE, and many more. In addition I've got a fully restored Philco 70 for $350, several Arvin and Sears metal sets and many novelty transistor radios as well. Some fine collectible plastics remain so please call. Again guys and dolls, I don't make up lists, so save your stamps and envelopes. And remember "Mister Transistor is Radioactive." Henry B Cohen, 2459 Eighth St., Fort Lee, NJ 07024. The 5881 is Russia's selected military 6L6WGC and is regarded as the very best 6L6 type in the world. Eric Clapton recently replaced the Philips/Sylvania 6L6 STR's in the custom Soidano amp which he uses live, with SOVTEK 5881's because of their milky smooth sound. Discriminating musicians thruout the world are retubing with the SOVTEK 5881/6L6WGC.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING POLICY

ONE FREE 20-WORD AD for subscribers in each issue; additional words are 15¢ each. See details below. Classified ads must be received (not just postmarked!) by NOON on the ad deadline. Late ads are held for the following issue. Please enclose correct payment with all ads. Stamps or cash are OK for small amounts. (Canadian and other foreign advertisers, please see "Payment" on page two for methods.) "Free words" cannot be accumulated from month to month; free words must be requested when ad is submitted.

Please write each ad on a separate sheet of paper, especially when included with other A.R.C. correspondence. Include SUB# with ad. Ads may be sent in advance; but, write each ad on a separate piece of paper and indicate the month (or successive two months) you want the ad to run.

Please write legibly and use both capital and small letters. Do not use dashes between words. Some numbers and letters can look alike, for example 1, I and l (the number one, the capital I and the small L.) Write the following characters clearly (especially in model numbers): 1, I and l; 0, O, o, Q and D; r and n; 6, b and G; V, U, u, v and Y; A and R; 5, S and s; 2, Z and z. We try to correct spelling errors, so when using an uncommon word or manufacturer which looks similar to a common word or manufacturer, note it so that we do not "correct" it. Editor's comments are in [brackets].

Advertising is accepted only for early items related to radio, communication, etc. All items must be described fairly; reproductions, reprints and not-original items must be identified as such. Advertisers agree to respond promptly to inquiries and orders, and to resolve problems promptly if the buyer is not satisfied.

Publisher reserves the right to edit ads without notification to the advertiser and to reject ads for any reason. Publisher is not responsible for errors due to illegibly written ads or for any other reason. Since club activities receive free advertising on the Coming Radio Events page, the free 20 words may not be used for club activity ads. See inside front cover for additional information.

CLASSIFIED AD DETAILS

Deadline: NOON - 10th of the month!

Classified ads must have a standard heading such as WANTED, FOR SALE, FOR TRADE, FOR SALE/TRADE, SERVICES, MESSAGE, HELP, AUCTION, MEET, etc. This heading is the only bold or all-capitalized words allowed in the ad. Capitalize only manufacturer names, model names, etc. Wanted and For Sale ads are mixed together to encourage the reading of all ads, including the Wanted ads. This standard ad format makes scanning the ads easier.

Before writing your ad, please look over the ads in a recent issue of A.R.C., and try to write your ad in the same style. Full name and address is required in all classified ads; we will add it if you forget.

To encourage varied content of the ads, the same classified ad may be run only once per issue and for only two consecutive months. (To run an ad longer, use a boxed classified or display ad.)

Classified Ad Rates per Month

Subscribers:

First 20 words: FREE
15¢ per word for extra words over 20 plus
10¢ per word for a shaded ad (count all words including free words).

* Subscribers may take 20 free words on only one ad each month.

Non-Subscribers:

30¢ per word plus
10¢ per word for shaded ad.

Please do not forget to send in the extra 15¢ per word when your classified ad runs over the free 20 words; your payment will be appreciated, and it will help to keep A.R.C. healthy.

BOXED CLASSIFIED AD DETAILS

Deadline: 1st of the month!

Boxed classified ads can run unchanged for three months or more. No words are free. Ads may be shaded and may include bold and all-capitalized words freely. The ad need not begin with For Sale, etc. Minimum run is 3 months, prepaid.

Boxed Classified Ad Rates per Month

Nonshaded ads:

25¢ per word for all words,* none free, plus
10¢ per word for each bold word plus
10¢ per word for each all-caps word.

Shaded Ads (All words are bold at no charge):

35¢ per word for all words* plus
10¢ per word for each all-caps word.

Non-Subscribers:

Add 20¢ per word to above costs.

*Three words can be bold-all-caps at no extra charge.

for all ads with drawings or photos!

Drawings and photos are encouraged as the response to your ad is much larger and the reader knows better what you want or are selling. Send in your drawing or photograph, and A.R.C. will reduce it or enlarge it as needed.

$8.00 per month for each photo or drawing
(If ad is canceled, this amount cannot always be refunded.)

CHANGES & CANCELATIONS

Please check your ads carefully before sending them in. Once ads are received, it is not always possible to refund the amount sent, pull the ad or make changes.

IMPORTANT — COUNTING WORDS — IMPORTANT

The standard headings: WANTED, FOR SALE, etc., count as one word each time used in an ad. Name, address and (one) telephone number, count as 6 words, regardless of length. Ham call letters and business name can be included in the 6 words and do not count extra. Full name and address is required in all classified ads — it does not cost extra! Each additional word, abbreviation, model number or number group, extra telephone numbers, etc. count as one word. Hyphenated words count as two words.
