Policy

By law, the Voice of America, a part of the U.S. Information Agency, operates under the following directive: "The long-range interests of the United States are served by communicating directly with the peoples of the world by radio. To be effective, the Voice of America must win the attention and respect of listeners. These principles will govern VOA broadcasts:

"1. VOA will serve as a consistently reliable and authoritative source of news. VOA news will be accurate, objective and comprehensive.

"2. VOA will represent America, not any single segment of American society, and will therefore present a balanced and comprehensive projection of significant American thought and institutions.

"3. VOA will present the policies of the United States clearly and effectively, and will also present responsible discussion and opinion on these policies."

To implement this directive, these broadcasts present news and news-related items of American and world events, news analyses, commentaries, correspondents' reports, editorial roundups, and feature material such as documentaries, roundtable discussions, interviews and special events all of which provide overseas audiences with a balanced and accurate concept of the many facets of American life and clear information regarding U.S. policies.

Facilities

The Voice of America has a network of 109 transmitters: 41 in the continental United States and 68 overseas. These are short and medium wave stations ranging in power from 35 kw to 1,000 kw. The largest transmitter complex is at Greenville, N.C. There, 18 transmitters relay programs received via microwave from the Washington studios to audiences and relay stations abroad over 73 directional antennas. Total power at Greenville is 4,800 kw. Other domestic facilities are at Bethany, Ohio; Marathon, Fla. (MW); Delano and Dixon, both California.

Overseas relay stations are at: Munich, Germany; Kavala and Rhodes, Greece; Tangier, Morocco; Monrovia, Liberia; Tinang and Poro, The Philippines; Woolferton, England; Colombo, Sri Lanka; Bangkok, Thailand. These include short and medium wave transmitters, among which are three one-megawatt transmitters. VOA's total power is now 21,840,000 watts.

Local Placement

Many VOA tapes, music recordings and script materials are furnished by U.S. Information Agency offices overseas for local distribution and broadcast. Other relays and rebroadcasts are made through arrangements with local broadcasters in West Europe, Africa, the Near East, South Asia, the Far East and Latin America. For example, VOA's Spanish-language correspondents feed of 90 minutes, Mondays-Fridays, is rebroadcast by more than 800 Latin American radio stations.

Jamming

USSR jamming of VOA vernacular language broadcasts to the USSR and East Europe began in 1948 and continued until 1963. Other East European countries began jamming in 1950. Except for Poland (which stopped jamming in 1956) and Bulgaria (which continued to jam until September 1974), Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Romania ceased jamming VOA broadcasts shortly after the USSR stopped. Coincident with the invasion of Czechoslovakia (Aug. 21, 1968), the Soviet Union resumed jamming of VOA's broadcasts in Armenian, Georgian, Russian and Ukrainian. When VOA broadcasts in Uzbek began in September 1972, jamming also was instituted on these programs. In September 1973 all Soviet jamming of VOA broadcasts again was stopped without explanation.

The People's Republic of China began jamming the VOA Chinese-language broadcasts in 1956. At the present time (September 1976) it is the only country continuously jamming VOA programs.

Radio Billings 1935-1976

Figures for the years 1935 through 1967 are net time sales by stations and networks after all frequency and promotional discounts but before deduction of commissions to agencies and representatives. Figures from 1969 on were computed under a new formula and represent total amounts paid by advertisers for the use of broadcast facilities. They include commissions paid to advertising agencies and representatives and payments for broadcast time and programs, materials, facilities and services supplied by broadcast stations and networks in connection with the sale of time. Figures are based on FCC data.

¹Prior to 1971, data reflects factory sales by U.S. manufacturers plus those products imported directly by distributors or dealers for resale. All import statistics are based on average value as published by the U. S. Department of Commerce, which is F.O.B. and therefore excludes U.S. import duties, freight charged from the foreign country to the U.S. and insurance.

1971 and years following data reflects products produced or purchased by U.S. manufacturers plus those products imported directly by distributors or dealers for resale. Import statistics are adjusted to U.S. factory values, including U.S. import duties, freight charged from the foreign country to the U.S. and insurance.

²Other imports reflect those products imported directly by distributors or dealers for resale.

NAB Television Code

Preamble

Television is seen and heard in nearly every American home. These homes include children and adults of all ages, embrace all races and all varieties of philosophic or religious conviction and reach those of every educational background. Television broadcasters must take this pluralistic audience into account in programming their stations. They are obligated to bring their positive responsibility for professionalism and reasoned judgment to bear upon all those involved in the development, production and selection of programs.

The free, competitive American system of broadcasting which offers programs of entertainment, news, general information, education and culture is supported and made possible by revenues from advertising. While television broadcasters are responsible for the programming and advertising on their stations, the advertisers who use television to convey their commercial messages also have a responsibility to the viewing audience. Their advertising messages should be presented in an honest, responsible and tasteful manner. Advertisers should also support the endeavors of broadcasters to offer a diversity of programs that meet the needs and expectations of the total viewing audience.

The viewer also has a responsibility to help broadcasters serve the public. All viewers should make their criticisms and positive suggestions about programming and advertising known to the broadcast licensee. Parents particularly should oversee the viewing habits of their children, encouraging them to watch programs that will enrich their experience and broaden their intellectual horizons.

Program Standards

I. Principles of Governing Program Content

It is in the interest of television as a vital medium to encourage programs that are innovative, reflect a high degree of creative skill, deal with significant moral and social issues and present challenging concepts and other subject matter that relate to the world in which the viewer lives.

Television programs should not only reflect the influence of the established institutions that shape our values and culture, but also expose the dynamics of social change which bear upon our lives.

To achieve these goals, television broadcasters should be conversant with the general and specific needs, interests and aspirations of all the segments of the communities they serve. They should affirmatively seek out responsible representatives of all parts of their communities so that they may structure a broad range of programs that will inform, enlighten and entertain the total audience.

Broadcasters should also develop programs directed toward advancing the cultural and educational aspects of their communities.

To assure that broadcasters have the freedom to program fully and responsibly, none of the provisions of this Code should be construed as preventing or impeding broadcast of the broad range of material necessary to help broadcasters fulfill their obligations to operate in the public interest.

The challenge to the broadcaster is to determine how suitably to present the complexities of human behavior. For television, this requires exceptional awareness of considerations peculiar to the medium.

Accordingly, in selecting program subjects and themes, great care must be exercised to be sure that treatment and presentation are made in good faith and not for the purpose of sensationalism or to shock or exploit the audience or appeal to prurient interests or morbid curiosity.

Additionally, entertainment programming inappropriate for viewing by a general family audience should not be broadcast during the first hour of network entertainment programming in prime time and in the immediately preceding hour. In the occasional case when an entertainment program in this time period is deemed to be inappropriate for such an audience, advisories should be used to alert viewers. Advisories should also be used when programs in later prime time periods contain material that might be disturbing to significant segments of the audience.

These advisories should be presented in audio and video form at the beginning of the program and when deemed appropriate at a later point in the program. Advisories should also be used responsibly in promotional material in advance of the program. When using an advisory, the broadcaster should attempt to notify publishers of television program listings.

Special care should be taken with respect to the content and treatment of audience advisories so that they do not dissuade their intended purpose by containing material that is promotional, sensational or exploitative. Promotional announcements for programs that include advisories should be scheduled on a basis consistent with the purpose of the advisory.

II. Responsibility Toward Children

Broadcasters have a special responsibility to children. Programs designed primarily for children should take into account the range of interests and needs of children, from instructional and cultural material to a wide variety of entertainment material. In their totality, programs should contribute to the sound, balanced development of children to help them achieve a sense of the world at large and informed adjustments to their society.

In the course of a child's development, numerous social factors and forces, including television, affect the ability of the child to make the transition to adult society.

The child's training and experience during the formative years should include positive sets of values which will allow the child to become a responsible adult, capable of coping with the challenges of maturity.

Children should also be exposed, at the appropriate times, to a reasonable range of the realities which exist in the world sufficient to help them make the transition to adulthood.

Because children are allowed to watch programs designed primarily for adults, broadcasters should take this practice into account in the presentation of material in such programs when children may constitute a substantial segment of the audience.

All the standards set forth in this section apply to both program and commercial material designed and intended for viewing by children.

III. Community Responsibility

1. Television broadcasters and their staffs occupy positions of unique responsibility in their communities and should conscientiously endeavor to be acquainted fully with the community's needs and characteristics in order better to serve the welfare of its citizens.

2. Requests for time for the placement of public service announcements or programs should be carefully reviewed with respect to the character and reputation of the group, campaign or organization involved, the public interest content of the message, and the manner of its presentation.

IV. Special Program Standards

1. Violence, physical or psychological, may only be projected in responsibly handled contexts, not used exploitatively. Programs involving violence should present the consequences of it to its victims and perpetrators.

Presentation of the details of violence should avoid the excessive, the gratuitous and the instructional.

The use of violence for its own sake and the detailed dwelling upon brutality or physical agony, by sight or by sound, are not permissible.

The depiction of conflict, when presented in programs designed primarily for children, should be handled with sensitivity.

2. The treatment of criminal activities should always convey their social and human effects.

The presentation of techniques of crime in such detail as to be instructional or invite imitation shall be avoided.

3. Narcotics addiction shall not be presented except as a destructive habit. The use of illegal drugs or the abuse of legal drugs shall not be encouraged or shown as socially acceptable.

4. The use of gambling devices or scenes necessary to the development of plot or as appropriate background is acceptable only when presented with discretion and in moderation, and in a manner which would not excite interest in, or foster, betting nor be instructional in nature.

5. Telecasts of actual sports programs at which on-the-scene betting is permitted by law shall be presented in a manner in keeping with Federal, state and local laws, and should concentrate on the subject as a public sporting event.

6. Special precautions must be taken to avoid demeaning or ridiculing members of the audience who suffer from physical or mental affliction or deformities.

7. Special sensitivity is necessary in the use of material relating to sex, race, color, creed, religious functionaries or rites, or national or ethnic derivation.

8. Subscribers shall not broadcast any material which they determine to be obscene, profane or indecent. Above and beyond the requirements of law, broadcasters must consider the family atmosphere in which many of their programs are viewed. There shall be no graphic portrayal of sexual acts by sight or sound. The portrayal of implied sexual acts must be essential to the plot and presented in a responsible and tasteful manner. Subscribers are obligated to bring positive responsibility and reasoned judgment to bear upon all those involved in the development, production, and selection of programs.

9. The presentation of marriage, the family and similarly important human relationships, and material with sexual connotations, shall not be treated exploitatively or irresponsibly, but with sensitivity. Costuming and movements of all performers, shall be handled in a similar fashion.

10. The use of liquor and the depiction of smoking in program content shall be deemphasized. When shown, they should be consistent with plot and character development.

11. The creation of a state of hypnosis by act or detailed demonstration on camera is prohibited and hypnosis as a form of "parlor game" antics to create humorous situations within a comedy setting is forbidden.

12. Program material pertaining to fortune-telling, occultism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading, character-reading, and the like is unacceptable if it encourages people to regard such fields as providing commonly accepted appraisals of life.

13. Professional advice, diagnosis and treatment will be presented in conformity with law and recognized professional standards.

14. Any technique whereby an attempt is made to convey information to the viewer by transmitting messages below the threshold of normal awareness is not permitted.

15. The use of animals, consistent with plot and character delineation, shall be in conformity with accepted standards of humane treatment.

16. Quiz and similar programs that are presented as contests of knowledge, information, skill or luck, must, in fact, be genuine contests; and the results must not be controlled by collusion with or between contestants, or by any other action which will favor one contestant against any other.

17. The broadcaster shall be constantly alert to prevent inclusion of elements within a program dictated by factors other than the requirements of the program itself. The acceptance of cash payments or other considerations in return for including scenic properties, the choice and identification of prizes, the selection of music and other creative program elements and inclusion of any identification of commercial products or services, their trade names or advertising slogan within the program are prohibited except in accordance with Sections 317 and 508 of the Communications Act.

18. Contests may not constitute a lottery.

19. No program shall be presented in a manner which through artifice or simulation would mislead the audience as to any material fact. Each broadcaster must exercise reasonable judgment to determine whether a particular method of presentation would constitute a material deception, or would be accepted by the audience as normal theatrical illusion.

20. A television broadcaster should not present fictional events or other non-news material as authentic news telecasts or announcements, nor should he permit dramatizations in any program which would give the false impression that the dramatized material constitutes news.

21. The standards of this Code covering program content are also understood to include, wherever applicable, the standards contained in the advertising section of the Code.

V. Treatment of News and Public Events

General

Television Code standards relating to the treatment of news and public events are, because of constitutional consideration, intended to be exhortatory. The standards set forth hereunder encourage high standards of professionalism in broadcast journalism. They are not to be interpreted as turning over to others the broadcaster's responsibility as to judgments necessary in news and public events programming.

News

1. A television station's news schedule should be adequate and well-balanced.

2. News reporting should be factual, fair and without bias.

3. A television broadcaster should exercise particular discrimination in the acceptance, placement and presentation of advertising in news programs so that such advertising should be clearly distinguishable from the news content.

4. At all times, pictorial and verbal material for both news and comment should conform to other sections of these standards, wherever such sections are reasonably applicable.

5. Good taste should prevail in the selection and handling of news.

Morbid, sensational or alarming details not essential to the factual report, especially in connection with stories of crime or sex, should be avoided. News should be telecast in such a manner as to avoid panic and unnecessary alarm.

6. Commentary and analysis should be clearly identified as such.

7. Pictorial material should be chosen with care and not presented in a misleading manner.

8. All news interview programs should be governed by accepted standards of ethical journalism, under which the interviewer selects the questions to be asked. Where there is advance agreement materially restricting an important or newsworthy area of questioning, the interviewer will state on the program that such limitation has been agreed upon. Such disclosure should be made if the person being interviewed requires that questions be submitted in advance or if he participates in editing a recording of the interview prior to its use on the air.

9. A television broadcaster should exercise due care in his supervision of content, format, and presentation of newscasts originated by his/her station, and in the selection of newscasters, commentators, and analysts.

Public Events

1. A television broadcaster has an affirmative responsibility at all times to be informed of public events, and to provide coverage consonant with the ends of an informed and enlightened citizenry.

2. The treatment of such events by a television broadcaster should provide adequate and informed coverage.

VI. Controversial Public Issues

1. Television provides a valuable forum for the expression of responsible views on public issues of a controversial nature. The television broadcaster should seek out and develop with accountable individuals, groups and organizations, programs relating to controversial public issues of import to his/her fellow citizens; and to give fair representation to opposing sides of issues which materially affect the life or welfare of a substantial segment of the public.

2. Requests by individuals, groups or organizations for time to discuss their views on controversial public issues, should be considered on the basis of their individual merits, and in the light of the contribution which the use requested would make to the public interest, and to a well-balanced program structure.

3. Programs devoted to the discussion of controversial public issues should be identified as such. They should not be presented in a manner which would mislead listeners or viewers to believe that the program is purely of an entertainment, news or other character.

4. Broadcasts in which stations express their own opinions about issues of general public interest should be clearly identified as editorials. They should be unmistakably identified as statements of station opinion and should be appropriately distinguished from news and other program material.

VII. Political Telecasts

1. Political telecasts should be clearly identified as such. They should not be presented by a television broadcaster in a manner which would mislead listeners or viewers to believe that the program is of any other character.

(Ref.: Communications Act of 1934, as amended, Secs. 315 and 317, and FCC Rules and Regulations, Secs. 3.654, 3.657, 3.663, as discussed in NAB's "Political Broadcast Catechism & The Fairness Doctrine.")

VIII. Religious Programs

1. It is the responsibility of a television broadcaster to make available to the community appropriate opportunity for religious presentations.

2. Programs reach audiences of all creeds simultaneously. Therefore, both the advocates of broad or ecumenical religious precepts, and the exponents of specific doctrines, are urged to present their positions in a manner conducive to viewer enlightenment on the role of religion in society.

3. In the allocation of time for telecasts of religious programs the television station should use its best efforts to apportion such time fairly among responsible individuals, groups and organizations.

IX. General Advertising Standards

1. This code establishes basic standards for all television broadcasting. The principles of acceptability and good taste within the program standards section govern the presentation of advertising where applicable. In addition, the code establishes in this section special standards which apply to television advertising.

2. Commercial television broadcasters make their facilities available for the advertising of products and services and accept commercial presentations for such advertising. However, television broadcasters should, in recognition of their responsibility to the public, refuse the facilities of their station to an advertiser where they have good reason to doubt the integrity of the advertiser, the truth of the advertising representations, or the compliance of the advertiser with the spirit and purpose of all applicable legal requirements.

3. Identification of sponsorship must be made in all sponsored programs in accordance with the requirements of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the Rules and Regulations of the Federal Communications Commission.

4. Representations which disregard normal safety precautions shall be avoided.

Children shall not be represented, except under proper adult supervision, as being in contact with, or demonstrating a product recognized as potentially dangerous to them.

5. In consideration of the customs and attitudes of the communities served, each television broadcaster should refuse his/her facilities to the advertisement of products and services, or the use of advertising scripts, which the station has good reason to believe would be objectionable to a substantial and responsible segment of the community. These standards should be applied with judgment and flexibility, taking into consideration the characteristics of the medium, its home and family audience, and the form and content of the particular presentation.

6. The advertising of hard liquor (distilled spirits) is not acceptable.

7. The advertising of beer and wine is acceptable only when presented in the best of good taste and discretion, and is acceptable only subject to federal and local laws (See Television Code Interpretation No. 4).

8. Advertising by institutions or enterprises which in their offers of instruction imply promises of employment or make exaggerated claims for the opportunities awaiting those who enroll for courses is generally unacceptable.

9. The advertising of firearms/ammunition is acceptable provided it promotes the product only as sporting equipment and conforms to recognized standards of safety as well as all applicable laws and regulations. Advertisements of firearms/ammunition by mail order are unacceptable. The advertising of fireworks is unacceptable.

10. The advertising of fortune-telling, occultism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading, character reading or subjects of a like nature is not permitted.

11. Because all products of a personal nature create special problems, acceptability of such products should be determined with special emphasis on ethics and the canons of good taste. Such advertising of personal products as is accepted must be presented in a restrained and obviously inoffensive manner.

12. The advertising of tip sheets and other publications seeking to advertise for the purpose of giving odds or promoting betting is unacceptable.

The lawful advertising of government organizations which conduct legalized lotteries is acceptable provided such advertising does not unduly exhort the public to bet.

The advertising of private or governmental organizations which conduct legalized betting on sporting contests is acceptable provided such advertising is limited to institutional type announcements which do not exhort the public to bet.

13. An advertiser who markets more than one product should not be permitted to use advertising copy devoted to an acceptable product for purposes of publicizing the brand name or other identification of a product which is not acceptable.

14. "Bait-switch" advertising, whereby goods or services which the advertiser has no intention of selling are offered merely to lure the customer into purchasing higher-priced substitutes, is not acceptable.

15. Personal endorsements (testimonials) shall be genuine and reflect personal experience. They shall contain no statement that cannot be supported if presented in the advertiser's own words.

X. Presentation of Advertising

1. Advertising messages should be presented with courtesy and good taste; disturbing or annoying material should be avoided; every effort should be made to keep the advertising message in harmony with the content and general tone of the program in which it appears.

2. The role and capability of television to market sponsors' products are well recognized. In turn, this fact dictates that great care be exercised by the broadcaster to prevent the presentation of false, misleading or deceptive advertising. While it is entirely appropriate to present a product in a favorable light and atmosphere, the presentation must not, by copy or demonstration, involve a material deception as to the characteristics, performance or appearance of the product.

Broadcast advertisers are responsible for making available, at the request of the Code Authority, documentation adequate to support the validity and truthfulness of claims, demonstrations and testimonials contained in their commercial messages.

3. The broadcaster and the advertiser should exercise special caution with the content and presentation of television commercials placed in or near programs designed for children. Exploitation of children should be avoided. Commercials directed to children should in no way mislead as to the product's performance and usefulness.

Commercials, whether live, film or tape, within programs initially designed primarily for children under 12 years of age shall be clearly separated from program material by an appropriate device.

Trade name identification or other merchandising practices involving the gratuitous naming of products is discouraged in programs designed primarily for children.

Appeals involving matters of health which should be determined by physicians should not be directed primarily to children.

4. No children's program personality or cartoon characters shall be utilized to deliver commercial messages within or adjacent to the programs in which such a personality or cartoon character regularly appears. This provision shall also apply to lead-ins to commercials when such lead-ins contain sell copy or imply endorsement of the product by program personalities or cartoon character.

5. Appeals to help fictitious characters in television programs by purchasing the advertiser's product or service or sending for a premium should not be permitted, and such fictitious characters should not be introduced into the advertising message for such purposes.

6. Commercials for services or over-the-counter products involving health considerations are of intimate and far-reaching importance to the consumer. The following principles should apply to such advertising:

a. Physicians, dentists or nurses or actors representing physicians, dentists or nurses, shall not be employed directly or by implication. These restrictions also apply to persons professionally engaged in medical services (e.g., physical therapists, pharmacists, dental assistants, nurses' aides).

b. Visual representation of laboratory settings may be employed, provided they bear a direct relationship to bona fide research which has been conducted for the product or service. (See Television Code, X.11) In such cases, laboratory technicians shall be identified as such and shall not be employed as spokespersons or in any other way speak on behalf of the product.

c. Institutional announcements not intended to sell a specific product or service to the consumer and public service announcements by non-profit organizations may be presented by accredited physicians, dentists or nurses, subject to approval by the broadcaster. An accredited professional is one who has met required qualifications and has been licensed in his/her resident state.

7. Advertising should offer a product or service on its positive merits and refrain from discrediting, disparaging or unfairly attacking competitors, competing products, other industries, professions or institutions.

8. A sponsor's advertising messages should be confined within the framework of the sponsor's program structure. A television broadcaster should avoid the use of commercial announcements which are divorced from the program either by preceding the introduction of the program (as in the case of so-called "cow-catcher" announcements) or by following the apparent sign-off of the program (as in the case of so-called trailer or "hitchhike" announcements). To this end, the program itself should be announced and clearly identified, both audio and video, before the sponsor's advertising material is first used, and should be signed off, both audio and video, after the sponsor's advertising material is last used.

9. Since advertising by television is a dynamic technique, a television broadcaster should keep under surveillance new advertising devices so that the spirit and purpose of these standards are fulfilled.

10. A charge for television time to churches and religious bodies is not recommended.

11. References to the results of bona fide research, surveys or tests relating to the product to be advertised shall not be presented in a manner so as to create an impression of fact beyond that established by the work that has been conducted.

Advertising Standards

XI. Advertising of Medical Products

1. The advertising of medical products presents considerations of intimate and far-reaching importance to consumers because of the direct bearing on their health.

2. Because of the personal nature of the advertising of medical products, claims that a product will effect a cure and the indiscriminate use of such words as "safe", "without risk", "harmless", or terms of similar meaning should not be accepted in the advertising of medical products on television stations.

3. A television broadcaster should not accept advertising material which in his/her opinion offensively describes or dramatizes distress or morbid situations involving ailments, by spoken word, sound or visual effects.

XII. Contests

1. Contests shall be conducted with fairness to all entrants, and shall comply with all pertinent laws and regulations. Care should be taken to avoid the concurrent use of the three elements which together constitute a lottery-prize, chance and consideration.

2. All contest details, including rules, eligibility requirements, opening and termination dates should be clearly and completely announced and/or shown, or easily accessible to the viewing public, and the winners' names should be released and prizes awarded as soon as possible after the close of the contest.

3. When advertising is accepted which requests contestants to submit items of product identification or other evidence of purchase of products, reasonable facsimiles thereof should be made acceptable unless the award is based upon skill and not upon chance.

4. All copy pertaining to any contest (except that which is required by law) associated with the exploitation or sale of the sponsor's product or service, and all references to prizes or gifts offered in such connection should be considered a part of and included in the total time allowances as herein provided. (See Television Code, XIV)

XIII. Premiums and Offers

1. Full details of proposed offers should be required by the television broadcaster for investigation and approved before the first announcement of the offer is made to the public.

2. A final date for the termination of an offer should be announced as far in advance as possible.

3. Before accepting for telecast offers involving a monetary consideration, a television broadcaster should be satisfied as to the integrity of the advertiser and the advertiser's willingness to honor complaints indicating dissatisfaction with the premium by returning the monetary consideration.

4. There should be no misleading descriptions or visual representations of any premiums or gifts which would distort or enlarge their value in the minds of the viewers.

5. Assurances should be obtained from the advertiser that premiums offered are not harmful to person or property.

6. Premiums should not be approved which appeal to superstition on the basis of "luck-bearing" powers or otherwise.

XIV. Time Standards for Non-Program Material

In order that the time for non-program material and its placement shall best serve the viewer, the following standards are set forth in accordance with sound television practice:

Non-Program Material Definition:

Non-program material, in both prime time and all other time, includes billboards, commercials, promotional announcements and credits as follows:

In programs of 90 minutes in length or less, credits in excess of 30 seconds per program shall be counted against the allowable time for non-program material. In no event should credits exceed 40 seconds in such programs. The 40-second limitation on credits shall not apply, however, in any situation governed by a contract entered into before October 1, 1971.

In programs longer than 90 minutes, credits in excess of 50 seconds per program shall be counted against the allowable time for non-program material. In no event should credits exceed 60 seconds. Public service announcements and promotional announcements for the same program are excluded from this definition.

3. Allowable Time for Non-Program Material.

a. In prime time on network affiliated stations, non-program material shall not exceed nine minutes 30 seconds in any 60-minute period.

Prime time is a continuous period of not less than three consecutive hours per broadcast day as designated by the station between the hours of 6:00 PM and Midnight.

b. In all other time, non-program material shall not exceed 16 minutes in any 60-minute period.

c. Children's Programming Time—Defined as those hours other than prime time in which programs initially designed primarily for children under 12 years of age are scheduled.

Within this time period on Saturday and Sunday, non-program material shall not exceed nine minutes 30 seconds in any 60-minute period.

Within this time period on Monday through Friday, non-program material shall not exceed 12 minutes in any 60-minute period.

3. Program Interruptions.

a. Definition: A program interruption is any occurrence of non-program material within the main body of the program.

b. In prime time, the number of program interruptions shall not exceed two within any 30-minute program, or four within any 60-minute program.

Programs longer than 60 minutes shall be pro-rated at two interruptions per half-hour.

The number of interruptions in 60-minute variety shows shall not exceed five.

c. In all other time, the number of interruptions shall not exceed four within any 30-minute program period.

d. In children's weekend programming time, as above defined in 2c, the number of program interruptions shall not exceed two within any 30-minute program or four within any 60-minute program.

e. In both prime time and all other time, the following interruption standard shall apply within programs of 15 minutes or less in length:

5-minute program—1 interruption;

10-minute program—2 interruptions;

15-minute program—2 interruptions.

f. News, weather, sports and special events programs are exempt from the interruption standard because of the nature of such programs.

4. No more than four non-program material announcements shall be scheduled consecutively within programs, and no more than three non-program material announcements shall be scheduled consecutively during station breaks. The consecutive non-program material limitation shall not apply to a single sponsor who wishes to further reduce the number of interruptions in the program.

5. A multiple product announcement is one in which two or more products or services are presented within the framework of a single announcement. A multiple product announcement shall not be scheduled in a unit of time less than 60 seconds, except where integrated so as to appear to the viewer as a single message. A multiple product announcement shall be considered integrated and counted as a single announcement if:

a. the products or services are related and interwoven within the framework of the announcement (related products or services shall be defined as those having a common character, purpose and use); and

b. the voice(s), setting, background and continuity are used consistently throughout so as to appear to the viewer as a single message.

Multiple product announcements of 60 seconds in length or longer not meeting this definition of integration shall be counted as two or more announcements under this section of the code. This provision shall not apply to retail or service establishment.

6. Reasonable and limited identification of prizes and donors' names where the presentation of contest awards or prizes in a necessary part of program content shall not be included as non-program material as defined above.

7. Programs presenting women's/men's service features, shopping guides, fashion shows, demonstrations and similar material provide a special service to the public in which certain material normally classified as non-program is an informative and necessary part of the program content. Because of this, the time standards may be waived by the Code Authority to a reasonable extent on a case-by-case basis.

8. Gratuitous references in a program to non-sponsor's product or service should be avoided except for normal guest identification.

9. Stationary backdrops or properties in television presentations showing the sponsor's name or product, the name of the sponsor's product, his trade-mark or slogan should be used only incidentally and should not obtrude on program interest or entertainment.

Note: From time to time the Code Authority issues advertising guidelines and clarifications expanding on provisions of the Code. Among areas covered are acne, alcoholic beverages, arthritis and rheumatism remedies, bronchitis, comparative advertising, children's premiums and offers, children's TV advertising, disparagement, hallucinogens, hypnosis, men-in-white, non-prescription medications, personal products, testimonials, time standards, toys, vegetable oils and margarines, and weight reducing products/services. Copies may be obtained from any NAB Code Authority office.

Time Standards for Independent Stations

1. Non-program elements shall be considered as all-inclusive, with the exception of required credits, legally required station identifications, and "bumbers". Promotion spots and public service announcements, as well as commercials, are to be considered non-program elements.

2. The allowed time for non-program elements, as defined above, shall not exceed seven minutes in a 30-minute period or multiples thereof in prime time (prime time is defined as any three contiguous hours between 6 p.m. and midnight, local time), or eight minutes in a 30-minute period or multiples thereof during all other times.

3. Where a station does not carry a commercial in a station break between programs, the number of program interruptions shall not exceed four within any 30-minute program, or seven within any 60-minute program, or 10 within any 90-minute program, or 13 in any 120-minute program. Stations which do carry commercials in station breaks between programs shall limit the number of program interruptions to three within any 30-minute program, or six within any 60-minute program, or nine within any 90-minute program, or 12 in any 120-minute program. News, weather, sports, and special events are exempted because of format.

4. Not more than four non-program material announcements as defined above shall be scheduled consecutively. An exception may be made only in the case of a program 60 minutes or more in length, when no more than seven non-program elements may be scheduled consecutively by stations who wish to reduce the number of program interruptions.

5. The conditions of paragraphs three and four shall not apply to live sports programs where the program format dictates and limits the number of program interruptions.

Interpretations

Interpretation No. 1

June 7, 1956. Revised June 9, 1958
"Pitch" Programs

The "pitchman" technique of advertising on television is inconsistent with good broadcast practice and generally damages the reputation of the industry and the advertising profession.

Sponsored program-length segments consisting substantially of continuous demonstrations or sales presentation, violate not only the time standards established in the Code, but the broad philosophy of improvement implicit in the voluntary Code operation and are not acceptable.

Interpretation No. 2

June 7, 1956
Hollywood Film Promotion

The presentation of commentary or film excerpts from current theatrical releases in some instances may constitute commercial material under the Time Standards for Non-Program Material. Specifically, for example, when such presentation, directly or by inference, urges viewers to attend, it shall be counted against the commercial allowance for the program of which it is a part.

Interpretation No. 3

January 23, 1959
Prize Identification

Aural and/or visual prize identification of up to ten seconds duration may be deemed "reasonable and limited" under the language of Paragraph 7 of the Time Standards for Non-Program Material. Where such identification is longer than ten seconds, the entire announcement or visual presentation will be charged against the total commercial time for the program period.

Interpretation No. 4

March 4, 1965
Drinking on Camera

Paragraph 7, Section IX, General Advertising Standards, states that the "advertising of beer and wine is acceptable only when presented in the best of good taste and discretion." This requires that commercials involving beer and wine avoid any representation of on-camera drinking.

Interpretation No. 5

April 8, 1975

The scheduling provisions of Section 1 (Principles Governing Program Content) shall not apply to programs under contract to a station as of April 8, 1975, all episodes of which were then in existence, if such station is unable, despite reasonable good faith efforts, to edit such programs to make them appropriate for family viewing or to reschedule them so as not to occupy family viewing periods. This exception shall in no event apply after Sept. 1, 1977. Any such programs excepted from scheduling provisions shall, of course, bear the required advisory notices.

Regulations and Procedures

The following regulations and procedures shall obtain as an integral part of the Television Code of the National Association of Broadcasters:

I. Name

The name of this code shall be The Television Code of the National Association of Broadcasters.

NAB Television Code

II. Purpose of the Code

The purpose of this code is cooperatively to maintain a level of television programming which gives full consideration to the educational, informational, cultural, economic, moral and entertainment needs of the American public to the end that more and more people will be better served.

III. Subscribers

Section 1. Eligibility

Any individual, firm or corporation which is engaged in the operation of a television broadcast station or network or which holds a construction permit for a television broadcast station within the United States or its dependencies, shall, subject to the approval of the Television Board of Directors as hereinafter provided, be eligible to subscribe to the Television Code of the NAB to the extent of one subscription for each such station and/or network which it operates or for which it holds a construction permit; provided, that a non-television member of NAB shall not become eligible via code subscription to receive any of the member services or to exercise any of the voting privileges of a member.

Section 2. Certification of Subscription

Upon subscribing to the code, subject to the approval of the Television Board of Directors, there shall be granted forthwith to each such subscribing station authority to use the "NAB Television Seal of Good Practice," a copyrighted and registered seal to be provided in the form of a certificate, a slide and/or a film, signifying that the recipient thereof is a subscriber in good standing to the Television Code of the NAB. The seal and its significance shall be appropriately publicized by the NAB.

Section 3. Duration of Subscription

Subscription shall continue in full force and effect until thirty days after the first of the month following receipt of notice of written resignation. Subscription to the Code shall be effective from the date of application subject to the approval of the Television Board of Directors; provided, that the subscription of a television station going on the air for the first time shall, for the first six months of such subscription, be probationary, during which time its subscription can be summarily revoked by an affirmative two-thirds vote of the Television Board of Directors without the usual process specified below.

Section 4. Suspension of Subscription

Any subscription, and/or the authority to utilize and show the above-noted seal, may be voided, revoked or temporarily suspended for television programming, including commercial copy, which, by theme, treatment or incident, in the judgment of the Television Board constitutes a continuing, willful or gross violation of any of the provision of the Television Code, by an affirmative two-thirds vote of the Television Board of Directors at a regular or special meeting; provided, however, that the following conditions and procedures shall apply:

A. Preferring of Charges—Conditions Precedent:

Prior to the preferring of charges to the Television Board of Directors concerning violation of the Code by a subscriber, the Television Code Review Board (hereinafter provided for) (1) Shall have appropriately, and in good time, informed and advised such subscriber of any and all complaints and information coming to the attention of the Television Code Review Board and relating to the programing of said subscriber, (2) Shall have reported to, and advised, said subscriber by analysis, interpretation, recommendation or otherwise, of the possibility of a violation or breach of the television code by the subscriber, and (3) Shall have served upon the subscriber, by registered Mail a Notice of Intent to prefer charges, at least 20 days prior to the filing of any such charges with the Television Board of Directors. During this period the television code review board may, within its sole discretion, reconsider its proposed action based upon such written reply as the subscriber may care to make, or upon such action as the subscriber may care to take program-wise, in conformance with the analysis, interpretation, or recommendation of the Television Code Review Board.

(i) Notice of intent

The Notice of intent shall include a statement of the grounds and reasons for the proposed charges, including appropriate references to the television code.

(ii) Time

In the event that the nature of the program in question is such that time is of the essence, the Television

Code Review Board may prefer charges within less than the 20 days above specified, provided that a time certain in which reply may be made is included in its Notice of Intent, and provided that its reasons therefor must be specified in its statement of charges preferred.

B. The Charges:

The subscriber shall be advised in writing by Registered Mail of the charges preferred. The charges preferred by the Television Code Review Board to the Television Board of Directors shall include the grounds and reasons therefor, together with specific references to the Television Code. The charges shall contain a statement that the conditions precedent, herein before described, have been met.

C. Hearing:

The subscriber shall have the right to a hearing and may exercise same by filing an answer within 10 days of the date of such notification.

D. Waiver:

Failure to request a hearing shall be deemed a waiver of the subscriber's right thereto.

E. Designation:

If hearing is requested by the subscriber, it shall be designated as promptly as possible and at such time and place as the Television Board may specify:

F. Confidential Status:

Hearings shall be closed; and all correspondence between a subscriber and the Television Code Review Board and/or the Television Board of Directors concerning specific programing shall be confidential; provided, however, that the confidential status of these procedures may be waived by a subscriber.

G. Presentation; Representation:

A subscriber against whom charges have been preferred, and who has exercised his/her right to a hearing, shall be entitled to effect presentation of his/her case personally, by agent, by attorney, or by deposition and interrogatory.

H. Intervention:

Upon request by the subscriber-respondent or the Television Code Review Board, the Television Board of Directors, in its discretion, may permit the intervention of one or more other subscribers as parties-in-interest.

I. Transcript:

A Stenographic transcript record shall be taken and shall be certified by the chairperson of the Television Board of Directors to the office of the Secretary of the National Association of Broadcasters, where it shall be maintained. The transcript shall not be open to inspection unless otherwise provided by the party respondent in the proceeding.

J. Television Code Review Board: Counsel:

The Television Code Review Board may, at its discretion, utilize the services of an attorney from the staff of the NAB for the purpose of effecting its presentation in a hearing matter.

K. Order of Procedure:

At hearings the Television Code Review Board shall open and close.

L. Cross-Examination:

The right of cross-examination shall specifically obtain. Where procedure has been by deposition or interrogatory, the use of cross-interrogatories shall satisfy this right.

M. Presentation:

Oral and written evidence may be introduced by the subscriber and by the Television Code Review Board. Oral argument may be had at the hearing and written memoranda or briefs may be submitted by the subscriber and by the Television Code Review Board. The Television Board of Directors may admit such evidence as it deems relevant, material and competent, and may determine the nature and length of the oral argument and the written argument or briefs.

N. Authority of Presiding Officer: of Television Board of Directors:

The Presiding Officer shall rule upon all interlocutory matters, such as, but not limited to, the admissibility of evidence, the qualifications of witnesses, etc. On all other matters, authority to act shall be vested in a majority of the Television Board unless otherwise provided.

O. Films, Transcriptions, etc.:

Films, kinescopes, records, transcriptions, or other mechanical reproductions of television programs, properly identified, shall be accepted into evidence when relevant.

P. Continuances and Extensions:

Continuance and extension of any proceeding or for the time of filing or performing any act required or allowed to be done within a specific time may be granted upon request, for a good cause shown. The Board or the Presiding Officer may recess or adjourn a hearing for such time as may be deemed necessary, and may change the place thereof.

Q. Findings and Conclusions:

The Television Board of Directors shall decide the case as expeditiously as possible and shall notify the subscriber and the Television Code Review Board, in writing, of the decision. The decision of the Television Board of Directors shall contain findings of fact with conclusions, as well as the reasons or bases therefor. Findings of fact shall set out in detail and with particularity all basic evidentiary facts developed on the record (with appropriate citations to the transcript of record or exhibit relied on for each evidentiary fact) supporting the conclusion reached.

R. Reconsideration or Rehearing:

A request for reconsideration or rehearing may be filed by parties to the hearing. Requests for reconsideration or rehearing shall state with particularity in what respect the decision or any matter determined therein is claimed to be unjust, unwarranted, or erroneous, and with respect to any finding of fact shall specify the pages of record relied on. If the existence of any newly-discovered evidence is claimed, the request shall be accompanied by a verified statement of the facts together with the facts relied on to show that the party, with due diligence, could not have known or discovered such facts at the time of the hearing. The request for rehearing may seek:

- Reconsideration
- Additional oral argument
- Reopening of the proceedings
- Amendment of any findings, or
- Other relief.

S. Time for Filing:

Requests for reconsideration or rehearing shall be filed within 10 days after receipt by the respondent of the decision. Opposition thereto may be filed within five (5) days after the filing of the request.

T. Penalty, Suspension of:

At the discretion of the Television Board, application of any penalty provided for in the decision may be suspended until the Board makes final disposition of the request for reconsideration or rehearing.

U. Disqualification:

Any member of the Television Board may disqualify himself/herself, or upon good cause shown by any interested party, may be disqualified by a majority vote of the Television Board.

Section 5. Additional Procedures

When necessary to the proper administration of the Code, additional rules of procedure will be established from time to time as authorized by the By-Laws of the NAB; in keeping therewith, special consideration shall be given to the procedures for receipt and processing of complaints and to necessary rules to be adopted from time to time, taking into account the source and nature of such complaints; such rules to include precautionary measures such as the posting of bonds to cover costs and expenses of processing same; and further provided that special consideration will be given to procedures insuring the confidential status of proceedings relating to Code observance.

Section 6. Amendment and Review

Because of the new and dynamic aspects inherent in television broadcast, the Television Code, as a living, flexible and continuing document, may be amended from time to time by the Television Board of Directors; provided that said board is specifically charged with review and reconsideration of the entire Code, its appendices and procedures, at least once each year.

Section 7. Termination of Contracts

All subscribers on the air at the time of subscription to the Code shall be permitted that period prior to and including the earliest legal cancellation date to terminate any contracts, then outstanding, calling for program presentations which would not be in conformity with the Television Code, provided, however, that in no event shall such period be longer than 52 weeks.

IV. Affiliate Subscribers

Section 1. Eligibility

Any individual, firm or corporation, which is engaged in the production or distribution, lease, or sale of recorded programs for television presentation, subject to the approval of the Television Code Review Board as hereinafter provided, shall be eligible to become an affiliate subscriber to the Television Code of the NAB.

Section 2. Certification of Subscription

Upon becoming an affiliate subscriber to the code, subject to the approval of the Television Code Review Board, there shall be granted forthwith to each such affiliate subscriber authority to use a copyrighted and registered seal and declaration, in a manner approved by the Television Code Review Board, identifying the individual firm or corporation as an affiliate subscriber to the Television Code of the NAB. Such authority shall not constitute formal clearance or approval by the Television Code Review Board of specific films, programs or other recorded material.

Section 3. Duration of Affiliate Subscription

The affiliate subscription shall continue in full force and effect until 30 days after the first of the month following receipt of a written notice or resignation. The affiliate subscription to the code shall be effective from the date of application subject to the approval of the Television Code Review Board.

Section 4. Suspension of Affiliate Subscription

Any affiliate subscription and the authority to utilize and show the above-noted seal may be voided, revoked, or temporarily suspended for the sale or distribution for television presentation of any film or other recorded material which by theme, treatment, or incident, in the judgment of the Television Code Review Board, constitutes a continuing, willful or gross violation of any of the provisions of the Television Code, by a majority vote of the Television Code Review Board at any regular or special meeting. The conditions and procedures applicable to subscribers shall not apply to affiliate subscribers.

Section 5. Representation of Affiliate Subscribers

Any affiliate subscriber or group of affiliate subscribers may authorize an individual or association to act for them in connection with their relations with the Television Code Review Board by filing a written notice of such representation with the Board. Such representation, however, in no way will limit the right of the Television Code Review Board to suspend individual affiliate subscribers in accordance with the provisions of Section 4.

V. Rates

Each subscriber and affiliate subscriber shall pay "administrative" rates in accordance with such schedule, at such time, and under such conditions as may be determined from time to time by the Television Board (see Article VI, section 8, C. Television Board [3] and [4], By-Laws of the NAB); provided, that appropriate credit shall be afforded to a television member of the NAB against the regular dues paid to NAB.

VI. The Television Code Review Board

Section 1. Composition

There shall be a continuing committee entitled the Television Code Review Board to be composed of not more than nine members, all of whom shall be from subscribers to the Television Code. They shall be appointed by the President of NAB, subject to confirmation by the Television Board, and may include one member from each of the subscribing nationwide television networks. Members of the Television Board shall not be eligible to serve on the Review Board. Due consideration shall be given, in making the appointments, to factors of diversification of geographical location, market size, company representation and network affiliation.

No person shall continue as a member of the Television Code Review Board if the station or entity he/she represents ceases to subscribe to the Television Code. In such case a vacancy occurs in the office immediately, and a successor may be appointed to serve out the unexpired term.

All terms shall be for two years, commencing at the close of the annual meeting of the membership following appointment.

A. Limitation of Service:

No person shall serve for more than two terms of two years each, consecutively, as a member of the Television Code Review Board; provided, however, this limitation shall not apply to network representatives.

Serving out the unexpired term of a former member shall not constitute a term within the meaning of this section.

B. Meetings:

The Television Code Review Board shall meet at least twice in each calendar year on a date to be determined by the Chairperson. The chairperson, or the Code Authority Director, may, at any time, on at least five days written notice, call a special meeting of the Board.

C. Quorum:

For all purposes, a majority of the members of the Television Code Review Board shall constitute a quorum.

Section 2. Authority and Responsibilities

The Television Code Review Board is authorized and directed:

(1) To recommend to the Television Board of Directors amendments to the Television Code; (2) to consider, in its discretion, any appeal from any decision made by the Code Authority Director with respect to any matter which has arisen under the Code, and to suspend, reverse, or modify any such decision; (3) to prefer formal charges, looking toward the suspension or revocation of the authority to show the Code seal, to the Television Board of Directors concerning violations and breaches of the Television Code by a subscriber; (4) to be available to the Code Authority Director for consultation on any and all matters affecting the Television Code.

VII. Code Authority Director

Section 1. Director

There shall be a position designated as the Code Authority Director. This position shall be filled by appointment of the President of NAB, subject to approval of the Board of Directors.

Section 2. Authority and Responsibilities:

The Code Authority Director is authorized and directed: (1) to maintain a continuing review of all programming and advertising material presented over television, especially that of subscribers to the Television Code of NAB; (2) to receive, screen and clear complaints concerning television programming; (3) to define and interpret words and phrases in the Television Code; (4) to develop and maintain appropriate liaison with governmental agencies and with responsible and accountable organizations and institutions; (5) to inform, expeditiously and properly, a subscriber to the Television Code of complaints or commendations, as well as to advise all subscribers concerning the attitudes and desires program-wise of accountable organizations and institutions, and of the American public in general; (6) to review and monitor, if necessary, any certain series of programs, daily programming, or any other program presentations of a subscriber, as well as to request recorded material, or script and copy, with regard to certain program presented by a subscriber; (7) to reach conclusions and make recommendations or prefer charges to the Television Code Review Board concerning violations and breaches of the Television Code by a subscriber; (8) to recommend to the Code Review Board amendments to the Television Code.

A. Delegation of Powers and Responsibilities:

The Code Authority Director shall appoint such executive staff as is needed, consistent with resources, to carry out the above described functions, and may delegate to this staff such responsibilities as he/she may deem necessary.

NAB Radio Code

Preamble

In 1937 a major segment of U.S. commercial radio broadcasters first adopted industry-wide standards of practice. The purpose of such standards, then, as now, is to establish guideposts and professional tenets for performance in the areas of programing and advertising content.

Admittedly, such standards for broadcasting can never be final or complete, because broadcasting is a creative art, always seeking new ways to achieve maximum appeal and service. Therefore, its standards are subject to periodic revision to reasonably reflect changing attitudes in our society.

In 1945 after two years devoted to reviewing and revising the 1937 document, new standards were promulgated. Further revisions were made in subsequent years when deemed necessary. The objectives behind them have been to assure that advertising messages be presented in an honest, responsible and tasteful manner and that broadcasters, in their programing, tailor their content to meet the needs and expectations of that particular audience to which their programing is directed.

The growth of broadcasting as a medium of entertainment, education and information has been made possible by its commercial underpinning. This aspect of commercial broadcasting as it has developed in the United States has enabled the industry to grow as a free medium in the tradition of American enterprise. The extent of this freedom is underscored by those laws which prohibit censorship of broadcast material. Rather, those who own the nation's radio broadcasting stations operate them—pursuant to this self-adopted Radio Code—in recognition of the needs of the American people and the reasonable self-interests of broadcasters and broadcast advertisers.

The Radio Broadcaster's Creed

We Believe:

That Radio Broadcasting in the United States of America is a living symbol of democracy; a significant and necessary instrument for maintaining freedom of expression, as established by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States;

That its contributions to the arts, to science, to education, to commerce, and therefore to the public welfare have the potential of influencing the common good achievements of our society as a whole;

That it is our obligation to serve the people in such manner as to reflect credit upon our profession and to encourage aspiration toward a better estate for our audiences. This entails making available to them through all phases of the broadcasting art such programing as will convey the traditional strivings of the U.S. towards goals beneficial to the populace;

That we should make full and ingenious use of the many sources of knowledge, talents and skills and exercise critical and discerning judgment concerning all broadcasting operations to the end that we may, intelligently and sympathetically:

Observe both existing principles and developing concepts affecting our society;

Respect and advance the rights and the dignity of all people;

Enrich the daily life of the people through the factual reporting and analysis of news, and through programing of education, entertainment, and information;

Provide for the fair discussion of matters of public concern; engage in works directed toward the common good; and volunteer our aid and comfort in times of stress and emergency;

Contribute to the economic welfare of all by expanding the channels of trade, by encouraging the development and conservation of natural resources, and by bringing together the buyer and seller through the broadcasting of information pertaining to goods and services.

Toward the achievement of these purposes we agree to observe the following:

I. Program Standards

A. News

Radio is unique in its capacity to reach the largest number of people first with reports on current events. This competitive advantage bespeaks caution—being first is not as important as being accurate. The radio code standards relating to the treatment of news and public events are, because of constitutional considerations intended to be exhortatory. The standards set forth hereunder encourage high standards of professionalism in broadcast journalism. They are not to be interpreted as turning over to others the broadcaster's responsibility as to judgments necessary in news and public events programing.

1. News Sources. Those responsible for news on radio should exercise constant professional care in the selection of sources—on the premise that the integrity of the news and the consequent good reputation of radio as a dominant well-balanced news medium depend largely upon the reliability of such sources.

2. News Reporting. News reporting should be factual, fair and without bias. Good taste should prevail in the selection and handling of news. Morbid, sensational, or alarming details not essential to factual reporting should be avoided. News should be broadcast in such a manner as to avoid creation of panic and unnecessary alarm. Broadcasters should be diligent in their supervision of content, format, and presentation of news broadcasts. Equal diligence should be exercised in selection of editors and reporters who direct news gathering and dissemination, since the station's performance in this vital informational field depends largely upon them.

3. Commentaries and Analyses. Special obligations devolve upon those who analyze and/or comment upon news developments, and management should be satisfied completely that the task is to be performed in the best interest of the listening public. Programs of news analysis and commentary should be clearly identified.

titled as such, distinguishing them from straight news reporting.

4. Editorializing. Broadcasts in which stations express their own opinions about issues of general public interest should be clearly identified as editorials.

5. Coverage of News and Public Events. In the coverage of news and public events broadcasters should exercise their judgments consonant with the accepted standards of ethical journalism and should provide accurate, informed and adequate coverage.

6. Placement of Advertising. Broadcasters should exercise particular discrimination in the acceptance, placement and presentation of advertising in news programs so that such advertising is clearly distinguishable from the news content.

B. Controversial Public Issues

1. Radio provides a valuable forum for the expression of responsible views on public issues of a controversial nature. Controversial public issues of importance to fellow citizens should give fair representation to opposing sides of issues.

2. Requests by individuals, groups or organizations for time to discuss their views on controversial public issues should be considered on the basis of their individual merits, and in the light of the contributions which the use requested would make to the public interest.

3. Discussion of controversial public issues should not be presented in a manner which would create the impression that the program is other than one dealing with a public issue.

C. Community Responsibility

1. Broadcasters and their staffs occupy a position of responsibility in the community and should conscientiously endeavor to be acquainted with its needs and characteristics to best serve the welfare of its citizens.

2. Requests for time for the placement of public service announcements or programs should be carefully reviewed with respect to the character and reputation of the group, campaign or organization involved, the public interest content of the message, and the manner of its presentation.

D. Political Broadcasts

1. Political broadcasts, or the dramatization of political issues designed to influence voters, shall be properly identified as such.

2. Political broadcasts should not be presented in a manner which would mislead listeners to believe that they are of any other character.

3. Because of the unique character of political broadcasts and the necessity to retain broad freedoms of policy void of restrictive interference, it is incumbent upon all political candidates and all political parties to observe the canons of good taste and political ethics, keeping in mind the intimacy of broadcasting in the American home.

E. Advancement of Education and Culture

1. Because radio is an integral part of American life, there is inherent in radio broadcasting a continuing opportunity to enrich the experience of living through the advancement of education and culture.

2. Radio broadcasters, in augmenting the educational and cultural influences of the home, schools, religious institutions and institutions of higher education and other entities should:

(a) be thoroughly conversant with the educational and cultural needs and aspirations of the community served;

(b) develop programing consonant with the stations particular target audience.

F. Religion and Religious Programing

1. Religious programing shall be presented by responsible individuals, groups or organizations.

2. Radio broadcasting reaches audiences of all creeds simultaneously. Therefore, both the advocates of broad or ecumenical religious precepts, and the exponents of specific doctrines, are urged to present their positions in a manner conducive to listener enlightenment on the role of religion in society.

G. Responsibility Toward Children

Broadcasters have a special responsibility to children. Programing which might reasonably be expected to hold the attention of children should be presented with due regard for its effect on children.

1. Programing should be based upon sound social concepts and should include positive sets of values which will allow children to become responsible adults capable of coping with the challenges of maturity.

2. Programing should convey a reasonable range of the realities which exist in the world to help children make the transition to adulthood.

3. Programing should contribute to the healthy development of personality and character.

4. Programing should afford opportunities for cultural growth as well as for wholesome entertainment.

5. Programing should be consistent with integrity of realistic production, but should avoid material of extreme nature which might create undesirable emotional reaction in children.

6. Programing should avoid appeals urging children to purchase the product specifically for the purpose of keeping the program on the air or which, for any reason, encourage children to enter inappropriate places.

7. Programing should present such subjects as violence and sex without undue emphasis and only as required by plot development or character delineation.

Violence, physical or psychological, should only be projected in responsibly handled contexts, not used to excess or exploitatively. Programs involving violence should present the consequences of it to its victims and perpetrators.

The depiction of conflict, and of material reflective of sexual considerations, when presented in programs designed primarily for children, should be handled with sensitivity.

8. The treatment of criminal activities should always convey their social and human effects.

H. Dramatic Programing

1. In the design of dramatic programs it is in the interest of radio as a vital medium to encourage those that are innovative, reflect a high degree of creative skill, deal with significant moral and social issues and present challenging concepts and other subject matter that relate to the world in which the listener lives.

2. Radio programing should not only reflect the influence of the established institutions that shape our values and culture, but also expose the dynamics of social change which bear upon our lives.

3. To achieve these goals, radio broadcasters should be conversant with the general and specific needs, interests and aspirations of all the segments of the communities they serve.

4. Radio should reflect realistically the experience of living, in both its pleasant and tragic aspects, if it is to serve the listener honestly. Nevertheless, it holds a concurrent obligation to provide programing which will encourage positive adjustments to life.

In selecting program subjects and themes, great care must be exercised to be sure that treatment and presentation are made in good faith and not for the purpose of sensationalism or to shock or exploit the audience or appeal to prurient interests or morbid curiosity.

5. In determining the acceptability of any dramatic program, especially those containing elements of crime, mystery, or horror, consideration should be given to the possible effect on all members of the listening audience.

In addition, without sacrificing integrity of presentation, dramatic programs on radio shall avoid:

(a) the presentation of techniques of crime in such detail as to be instructional or invite imitation;

(b) presentation of the details of violence involving the excessive, the gratuitous and the instructional;

(c) sound effects calculated to mislead, shock, or unduly alarm the listener;

(d) portrayals of law enforcement in a manner which does not contribute to its proper role in our society.

I. General

1. The intimacy and confidence placed in radio demand of the broadcaster, the networks and other program sources that they be vigilant in protecting the audience from deceptive broadcast practices.

2. Sound effects and expressions characteristically associated with news broadcasts (such as "bulletin," "flash," "we interrupt this program to bring you," etc.) shall be reserved for announcement of news, and the use of any deceptive techniques in connection with fictional events and non-news programing shall not be employed.

3. The broadcasters shall be constantly alert to prevent inclusion of elements within programing dictated by factors other than the requirements of the programing itself. The acceptance of cash payments or other considerations in return for including the choice and identification of prizes, the selection of music and other creative programing elements and inclusion of any identification of commercial products or services, trade names or advertising slogans within the programing are prohibited unless consideration for such inclusion is revealed to the listeners in accordance with Sections 317 and 508 of the Communications Act.

4. Special precautions should be taken to avoid demeaning or ridiculing members of the audience who suffer from physical or mental afflictions or deformities.

5. The broadcast of gambling sequences deemed necessary to the development of plot or as appropriate background is acceptable only when presented with discretion and in moderation, and in a manner which would not excite interest in, or foster, betting nor be instructional in nature.

6. Quiz and similar programing that is presented as a contest of knowledge, information, skill or luck, must in fact, be a genuine contest and the results must not be controlled by collusion with or between contestants, or by any other action which will favor one contestant against any other.

7. Contests may not constitute a lottery.

8. Listener contests should not mislead as to the nature or value of prizes, likelihood of winning, nor encourage thoughtless or unsafe acts.

9. No programing shall be presented in a manner which through artifice or simulation would mislead the audience as to any material fact. Each broadcast must exercise reasonable judgment to determine whether a particular method of presentation would constitute a material deception, or would be accepted by the audience as normal theatrical illusion.

10. Legal, medical and other professional advice will be permitted only in conformity with law and recognized ethical and professional standards.

11. Narcotic addiction shall not be presented except as a destructive habit. The use of illegal drugs or the abuse of legal drugs shall not be encouraged or be presented as desirable or socially acceptable.

12. Material pertaining to fortune-telling, occultism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading, character-reading, or subjects of a like nature is unacceptable if it encourages people to regard such fields as providing commonly accepted appraisals of life.

13. Representations of liquor and smoking shall be de-emphasized. When represented, they should be consistent with plot and character development.

14. Obscene, indecent or profane matter, as proscribed by law, is unacceptable.

15. Special sensitivity is necessary in the use of material relating to sex, race, color, age, creed, religious functionaries, or rites, or national or ethnic derivation.

16. The presentation of marriage, the family and similarly important human relationships, and material with sexual connotations, should not be treated exploitatively or irresponsibly, but with sensitivity.

17. Broadcasts of actual sporting events at which on-the-scene betting is permitted by law should be presented in a manner in keeping with federal, state and local laws, and should concentrate on the subject as a public sporting event.

18. Detailed exposition of hypnosis or material capable of having an hypnotic effect on listeners is forbidden.

19. Any technique whereby an attempt is made to convey information to the listener by transmitting messages below the threshold of normal awareness is not permitted.

20. The commonly accepted standards of humane animal treatment should be adhered to as applicable in programing.

21. Broadcasters are responsible for making good faith determinations on the acceptability of lyrics under applicable Radio Code standards.

22. Guests on discussion/interview programs and members of the public who participate in phone-in programs shall be treated with due respect by the program host/hostess.

Interview/discussion programs, including telephone participation programs, should be governed by accepted standards of ethical journalism. Any agreement substantively limiting areas of discussion/questions should be announced at the outset of the program.

23. The standards of this code covering programing content are also understood to include, wherever applicable, the standards contained in the advertising section of the Code.

24. To assure that broadcasters have the freedom to program fully and responsibly, none of the provisions of this Code should be construed as preventing or impending broadcasts of the broad range of material necessary to help broadcasters fulfill their obligations to operate in the public interest.

II. Advertising Standards

Advertising is the principal source of revenue of the free, competitive American system of radio broadcasting. It makes possible the presentation of all American people of the finest programs of entertainment, education, and information.

Since the great strength of American radio broadcasting derives from the public respect for and the public approval of its programs, it must be the purpose of each broadcaster to establish and maintain high standards of performance, not only in the selection and production of all programs, but also in the presentation of advertising.

This Code establishes basic standards for all radio broadcasting. The principles of acceptability and good taste within the Program Standards section govern the presentation of advertising where applicable. In addition, the Code establishes in this section special standards which apply to radio advertising.

A. General Advertising Standards

1. Commercial radio broadcasters make their facilities available for the advertising of products and services and accept commercial presentations for such advertising. However, he shall, in recognition of his responsibility to the public, refuse the facilities of his station to an advertiser where he has good reason to doubt the integrity of the advertiser, the truth of the advertising representations, or the compliance of the advertiser with the spirit and purpose of all applicable legal requirements.

2. In consideration of the customs and attitudes of the communities served, each radio broadcaster should refuse his/her facilities to the advertisement of products and services, or the use of advertising scripts, which the station has good reason to believe would be objectionable to a substantial and responsible segment of the community. These standards should be applied with judgment and flexibility, taking into consideration the characteristics of the medium, its home and family audience, and the format and content of the particular presentation.

B. Presentation of Advertising

1. The advancing techniques of the broadcast art have shown that the quality and proper integration of advertising copy are just as important as measurement in time. The measure of a station's service to its audience is determined by its overall performance.

2. The final measurement of any commercial broadcast service is quality. To this, every broadcaster shall dedicate his/her best effort.

3. Great care shall be exercised by the broadcaster to prevent the presentation of false, misleading or deceptive advertising. While it is entirely appropriate to present a product in a favorable light and atmosphere, the presentation must not, by copy or demonstration, involve a material deception as to the characteristics or performance of a product.

4. The broadcaster and the advertiser should exercise special caution with the content and presentation of commercials placed in or near programs designed for children. Exploitation of children should be avoided. Commercials directed to children should in no way mislead as to the product's performance and usefulness. Appeals involving matters of health which should be determined by physicians should be avoided.

5. Reference to the results of research, surveys or tests relating to the product to be advertised shall not be presented in a manner so as to create an impression of fact beyond that established by the study. Surveys, tests or other research results upon which claims are based must be conducted under recognized research techniques and standards.

C. Acceptability of Advertisers and Products

In general, because radio broadcasting is designed for the home and the entire family, the following principles shall govern the business classifications:

1. The advertising of hard liquor shall not be accepted.

2. The advertising of beer and wines is acceptable when presented in the best of good taste and discretion.

3. The advertising of fortune-telling, occultism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading, character-reading, or subjects of a like nature is not acceptable.

4. Because the advertising of all products and services of a personal nature raises special problems, such advertising, when accepted, should be treated with emphasis on ethics and the canons of good taste, and presented in a restrained and inoffensive manner.

5. The advertising of tip sheets and other publications seeking to advertise for the purpose of giving odds or promoting betting is unacceptable.

The lawful advertising of government organizations which conduct legalized lotteries is acceptable provided such advertising does not unduly exhort the public to bet.

The advertising of private or governmental organizations which conduct legalized betting on sporting contests is acceptable provided such advertising is limited to institutional type announcements which do not exhort the public to bet.

6. An advertiser who markets more than one product shall not be permitted to use advertising copy devoted to an acceptable product for purposes of publicizing the brand name or other identification of a product which is not acceptable.

7. Care should be taken to avoid presentation of "bait-switch" advertising whereby goods or services which the advertiser has no intention of selling are offered merely to lure the customer into purchasing higher-priced substitutes.

8. Advertising should offer a product or service on its positive merits and refrain from discrediting, disparaging or unfairly attacking competitors, competing products, other industries, professions or institutions.

Any identification or comparison of a competitive product or service, by name, or other means, should be confined to specific facts rather than generalized statements or conclusions, unless such statements or conclusions are not derogatory in nature.

9. Advertising testimonials should be genuine, and reflect an honest appraisal of personal experience.

10. Advertising by institutions or enterprises offering instruction with exaggerated claims for opportunities awaiting those who enroll, is unacceptable.

11. The advertising of firearms/ammunition is acceptable provided it promotes the product only as sporting equipment and conforms to recognized standards of safety as well as all applicable laws and regulations. Advertisements of firearms/ammunition by mail orders are unacceptable.

D. Advertising of Medical Products

Because advertising for over-the-counter products involving health considerations are of intimate and far-reaching importance to the consumer, the following principles should apply to such advertising:

1. When dramatized advertising material involves statements by doctors, dentists, nurses or other professional people, the material should be presented by members of such profession reciting actual experience, or it should be made apparent from the presentation itself that the portrayal is dramatized.

2. Because of the personal nature of the advertising of medical products, the indiscriminate use of such words as "safe," "without risk," "harmless," or other terms of similar meaning, either direct or implied, should not be expressed in the advertising of medical products.

3. Advertising material which offensively describes or dramatizes distress or morbid situations involving ailments is not acceptable.

E. Time Standards for Advertising Copy

1. The amount of time to be used for advertising should not exceed 18 minutes within any clock hour. The Code Authority, however, for good cause may approve advertising exceeding the above standard for special circumstances.

2. Any reference to another's products or services under any trade name, or language sufficiently descriptive to identify it, shall, except for normal guest identification, be considered as advertising copy.

3. For the purpose of determining advertising limitations, such program types as "classified," "swap shop," "shopping guides," and "farm auction" programs etc., shall be regarded as containing one and one-half minutes of advertising for each five-minute segment.

F. Contests

1. Contests shall be conducted with fairness to all entrants, and shall comply with all pertinent laws and regulations.

2. All contest details, including rules, eligibility requirements, opening and termination dates, should be clearly and completely announced or easily accessible to the listening public; and the winners' names should be released as soon as possible after the close of the contest.

3. When advertising is accepted which requests contestants to submit items of product identification or other evidence of purchase of products, reasonable facsimiles thereof should be made acceptable. However, when the award is based upon skill and not upon chance, evidence of purchase may be required.

4. All copy pertaining to any contest (except that which is required by law) associated with the exploitation or sale of the sponsor's product or service, and all references to prizes or gifts offered in such connection should be considered a part of and included in the total time limitations heretofore provided. (See Time Standards for Advertising Copy.)

G. Premiums and Offers

1. The broadcaster should require that full details of proposed offers be submitted for investigation and approval before the first announcement of the offer is made to the public.

2. A final date for the termination of an offer should be announced as far in advance as possible.

3. If a consideration is required, the advertiser should agree to honor complaints indicating dissatisfaction with the premium by returning the consideration.

4. There should be no misleading descriptions or comparisons of any premiums or gifts which will distort or enlarge their value in the minds of the listeners.

Programming on Radio Stations in the United States

Formats

Following, in alphabetical order, by city, state and call letter within each classification, is a listing of program formats and the radio stations that use them.

For convenience the editors have combined the format types indicated by the stations into logical groupings. A station using a combination of formats may appear under several classifications. Blocks of programming averaging less than some 20 hours per week are considered "special programming"; a list of stations by special programs is presented in a supplementary directory.

In many cases more specific information on format or special programming is given in individual listings in the C section station directory, including addresses for each station.

TWO NEW COLLINS SOUNDS:

THE MARK 8 & THE POWER ROCK

A new high efficiency 5-kW AM transmitter and a new high performance stereo console at lower prices . . . They're here! The new Power Rock AM transmitter with high performance, super-efficiency and a super-competitive price. And a Collins eight channel stereo console that offers superior performance at a price 50% less than our ten channel model.

The new Collins 828E Power Rock 5-kW AM transmitter: Uses switching modulation (the time-proven technique used in most high efficiency regulators) and a new high efficiency RF amplifier. This adds up to lower power bills • Features an advanced output network called Q-Taper which improves frequency response and reduces adjacent channel cross-modulation interference • Other goodies: Automatic power output and modulation control. 125% modulation capability. Built-in diagnostic aids. Plus other features that foreshadow the day of automatic transmitter operation • And it's all in a cabinet the size of a 1-kW unit!

The new Collins Mark 8 Stereo Console is an engineer's delight: All plug-in construction — switches, PC boards, attenuators and amplifiers. Plus a host of other maintenance aids • Performance that equals consoles several times its cost: 22 dB of headroom. ½-dB frequency response. ¼% harmonic and intermod distortion. Big 25-W monitor amps. 5-W headphone amps. And optional machine control functions for ease of operation.

For more information on the Power Rock and the Mark 8 or any of the full line of Collins quality broadcast products, contact your local Collins Broadcast salesman. Or Broadcast Marketing, Collins Commercial Telecommunications Group, Rockwell International, Dallas, Texas 75207. Phone: (214) 690-5574 or 5424.

Quad or the best comes

AVR-3

Ampex is the only company in the world that manufactures both helical and quad video-tape recording systems.

The best of quad comes from Ampex. AVR-3 with "intelligence," Super High Band Pilot, and full teleproduction capabilities. AVR-2 with optional switchable Super High Band Pilot/ High Band Color, plus optional EC-2 Edit Controller capability.

The best of helical comes from Ampex. VPR-1 with AST, a realistic alternative for broadcast applications, plus optional, broadcastable, slow motion, still-frame and editing capability. VPR-10 with a portable, battery-powered field acquisition capability that's fully compatible with VPR-1 playback

So you can get dependable guidance from Ampex, if that's what you need. And you can get the best of either quad or helical from Ampex as soon as your needs are defined.

Think about that the next time somebody

Helical, from Ampex.

PROBLEM SOLVERS

There are two kinds of suppliers in this world: (1) those who don't want any part of your problems and (2) those who want to help you solve them. All the first group is interested in is getting your order. Get in and get out is their motto.

We belong to the group that wants to help you solve your problems. If one of our standard consoles or audio systems won't solve your problem, we'll custom-engineer one that will and we'll stick with you until we've got the answer. We've been doing it this way for more than ten years.

Get in and get involved is our way of doing business.

THINKING IKEGAMI? THINK CAMERA MART

Because we're a full-service Ikegami Dealer.

The more you know about ENG, the more you'll be interested in the advantages of Ikegami. In terms of image quality. Ease of setup. Handling. Compactness. Whatever criteria are important to you.

At Camera Mart, we feature the entire line of Ikegami quality products—from network-quality cameras to entire remote units. And we service what we sell—with factory-trained technicians and factory-approved facilities.

The ENG package described below is just one of the many we offer for rental, lease or purchase. We'll be glad to give you a demonstration...or assemble a package to meet your own special requirements.

CAMERA MART CUSTOM IKEGAMI PACKAGE.

The camera: Ikegami's HL-77,* completely self-contained. High-sensitivity color in a compact, lightweight three-Plumbicon package. All in a single low-profile 16mm-size camera with eye-level CRT monitoring on take and playback, plus many more features you'll appreciate.

The lens: The Canon f/1.6 10-100mm zoom, for wider wide-angles and tighter tele's.

The recorder: Sony's easy-to-operate VO-3800—a 30-lb. package that gives you up to 20 minutes of NTSC color on a single U-Matic® cassette which can be edited on the 2850.

*Also available with HL-35.

Plumbicon is a trademark of N.V. Philips

OPTIONAL ACCESSORY: "VIDEO CRASH CART"

Custom-designed to make production safer and smoother, with reduced set-up and strike time, easier transport and fatigue-free shooting.

Sturdy, welded construction with 2-position handle lets you transport or operate in upright "handtruck" or horizontal "dolly" position. So it can go virtually anywhere your crew can go.

Holds camera backpack, recorder, AC adapter, cables—even extra cassettes.

OTHER PKGS.: TALK TO US ABOUT YOUR NEEDS

If we're known for anything, it's our ingenuity and flexibility. Talk to us about your needs, and we'll customize these packages to meet them—or come up with whatever else best fits your requirements, from the many major lines we carry. If you're just getting into ENG (especially from film), you'll find we speak your language. Write or call Ken Seelig or Hal Rainey for more information.

Cinema Products:

Our kind of ENG/EFP

The reliable MNC-71CP!

If you know our CP-16 — the 16mm sound camera that is recognized worldwide as the standard in TV-newsfilm — you know Cinema Products!

You know of our responsiveness to the needs and requirements of the working TV-newscameraman... our sensitivity to his input from the field.

And you know of our commitment to provide him with the most reliable, highest-quality, cost-efficient TV-news gathering tools: lightweight, rugged and dependable equipment, with a minimum of downtime.

We are therefore extremely pleased to introduce the all-new MNC-71CP — the only ENG camera that bears the Cinema Products logo.

A breakthrough in ENG camera design

Manufactured by NEC, Japan's largest manufacturer of broadcast equipment, the MNC-71CP is, without a doubt, the finest and most advanced camera of its class — specifically designed from its inception to be used both as a compact, lightweight, fully self-contained ENG camera as well as a broadcast-quality, versatile field production camera (with sophisticated remote production control capabilities, such as the ability to balance the MNC-71CP to match the colorimetry of other cameras in the field or in the studio).

Lightweight and compact (no backpack), the MNC-71CP is ideally balanced for on-the-shoulder operation.

Optimum performance

Extensive use of LSI micro circuits developed uniquely by NEC dramatically reduces the number of individual components in the camera. As a result, the MNC-71CP is significantly more stable in performance, 7 to 14 times more reliable in circuit operation, as well as considerably lower in its power consumption.

MNC-71CP with 5" viewfinder, mounted on Universal 2030 fluid head tripod (equipped with double handles). Also shown: Remote Production Control Unit and Remote Control Panel ("Paint Box"), camera case and related accessories.

Logical functional design

Everything about the MNC-71CP has been designed from the ground up for simple operation and easy maintenance. It is therefore logically and simply laid out in terms of control placement, fast set-up and registration, and accessibility of parts.

For example, merely opening the camera sideplates exposes all internal circuit boards without requiring the use of a module extender, and the removal of just six screws permits access to the pickup tubes for quick replacement even in the field.

Service and parts availability

Behind the MNC-71CP is Cinema Products' outstanding reputation for after-sales service. The same consistent and dependable backup we have always provided for our CP-16 line and Steadicam™ — an extensive dealer organization and full factory support.

camera...

Since NEC directly manufactures all circuit components for the camera, you are guaranteed a full supply of replacement parts for the life of the camera. And we will make these available anywhere in the United States within 24 hours!

Unprecedented 1-year warranty

So confident are we of the MNC-71CP and its reliable performance, that it is covered by the standard Cinema Products full one-year warranty (unprecedented in the broadcast industry!). And, there is no service charge ever for warranty work.

Available here and now

Make the most of your ENG dollar with the all-new MNC-71CP — the reliable ENG/EFP camera with reliable CP backup. What's more, it is available here and now to take care of your immediate needs.

Steadicam (Universal Model) enhances MNC-71CP production capabilities in the field: providing utmost flexibility and fluidity as well as saving time and cutting costs. It is ideal for TV specials, documentaries, and commercials.

Merely opening the sideplates of the MNC-71CP permits checking all internal circuits without using a module extender.

OUTSTANDING FEATURES & OPTIONS

- High-transmittance prism optics (maximum aperture f/1.4).
- 3-tube RGB system features Saticon® or Plumbicon® 2/3" tubes, as desired.
- Built-in linear matrix for high fidelity in tracking colors from high-to-low light levels.
- Three-position gain control: 6 to 12 dB additional gain for greater flexibility in boosting for extremely low light levels.
- Built-in, easy-to-use filter wheel arrangement.
- Automatic white and black balance circuits.
- Built-in microphone and intercom amplifiers.
- Signal-to-noise ratio: 51 dB.
- Complete accessibility of circuit boards and pickup tubes for easy maintenance.
- Fast set-up facility for converging the camera.
- Remote production control capabilities include the ability to balance the MNC-71CP to match the colorimetry of any number of cameras in the field and in the studio, as well as genlock, master pedestal control, servo-iris control, etc.
- A full range of options and accessories further enhances the MNC-71CP's capabilities as an outstanding ENG/field production camera for battery or AC operation.

AND...TO TIE IT ALL TOGETHER... THE JVC RM-83U REMOTE AUTOMATIC EDITING CONTROL UNIT.

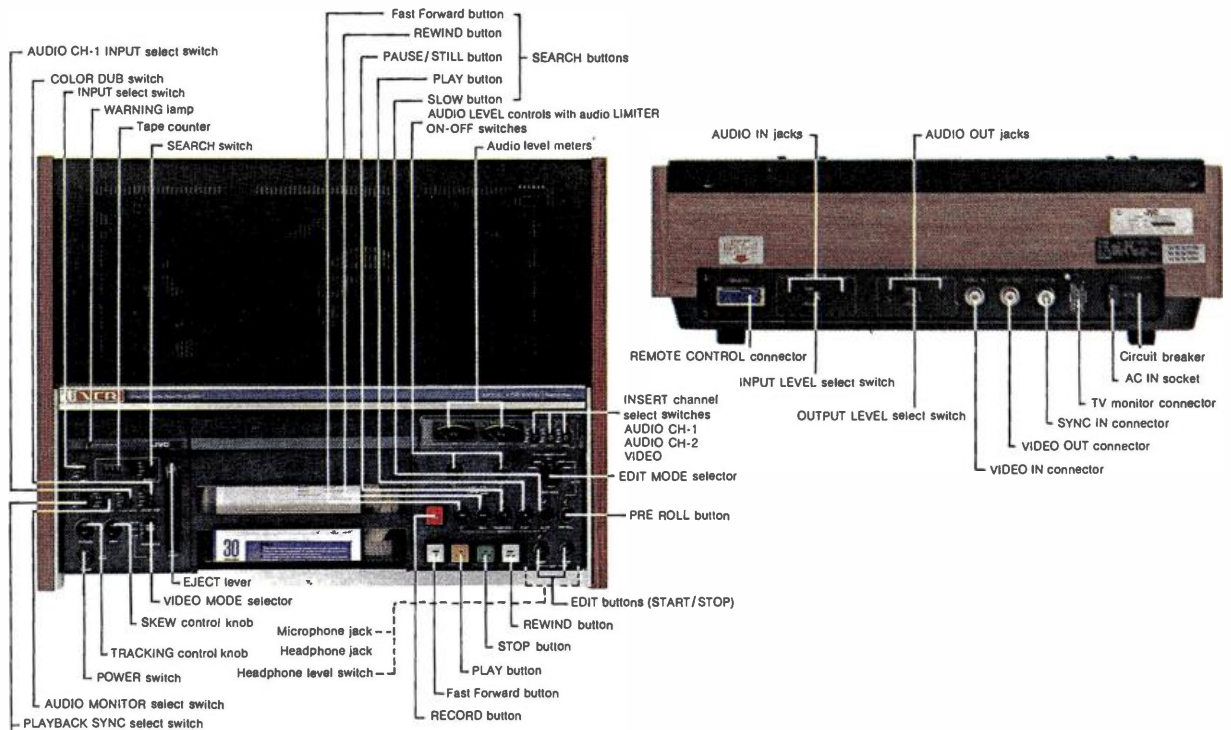

The RM-83U completely controls two JVC CR-8300U recorders for fast and accurate insert and assemble editing.

Its two independent LED timers (indicating minutes, seconds, and tenths of seconds) can be put on "Hold," so you can precisely identify the edit point. They then return to real time. "Hold" again at the end of the edit, and you've timed the length of your insert. Both clocks memorize the edit point—for fast and accurate review, you quickly return to it by touching "Search".

Not only can you review, you can preview. A unique rehearsal editing feature lets you see your edit without putting a signal on the tape. You can be sure you've got exactly what you want, exactly where you want it. After you've previewed, both machines go back to the edit point automatically. If you like what you saw, just push "Start" and you have it.

There are many more great features, such as the automatic safety device that shuts off both recorders if a tape is left in still-frame for 10 minutes. Get all the details on both the RM-83U and the CR-8300U by writing today to the address listed on the back page.

BASIC A

is the audio control system you can afford.

BASIC A is available at a price almost any station can afford... about one-third the cost of many existing systems with fewer capabilities.

This system will operate all of your existing reel-to-reel decks, Instacarts, Go-Carts, single-play units or carousels. Don't throw anything away. Just let BASIC A take over. Update peripheral equipment as you can.

Any time you want to expand, just add optional modules. You won't have to buy a whole new system to get the increased capabilities you need.

In these and other ways, BASIC A helps you control costs.

At the same time, BASIC A is, technologically, the state-of-the-art in audio control systems. It's easy to program (it understands English), gives you positive control of rotation and the consistent sound you want.

DELTA ELECTRONICS

NEW

OIB-3 OPERATING IMPEDANCE BRIDGE — The new OIB-3 features direct reading of 'R' to 1000 Ohms and 'X' to 900 Ohms. The OIB-3 also contains an integral rf amplifier.

NEW

AMC-1 AMPLITUDE MODULATION CONTROLLER — Provides automatic control of the modulation levels of an AM broadcast transmitter.

NEW

APC-1 AUTOMATIC POWER CONTROLLER — Provides automatic control of the antenna current of an AM broadcast transmitter.

NEW

TCA-N-EX AND TCA-N-EXR SERIES RF AMMETERS — Equipped with output provisions for direct attachment of remote reading meters. Complies fully with new FCC regulations for remote metering.

Antenna Monitoring

AAM-1 ANALOG ANTENNA MONITOR — FCC type approved. Provides accurate true ratio and phase readings. Easy to interface with existing control systems. AAMH-1 provides hardwired remote control of AAM-1.

DAM-1 DIGITAL ANTENNA MONITOR — FCC type approved. Provides digital readout of amplitude, ratio and phase. Also available: DAMA-1 Base Current Adapter for remote digital readout of antenna base currents; DAMX-1 to extend capacity of DAM-1 up to 12 towers.

Transmitter/Antenna Remote Control

TMCS-1 TRANSMITTER/ANTENNA REMOTE CONTROL SYSTEM — Provides digital readout and control of the DAM-1 and transmitter over a single voice channel. Other systems available: DAMR-1/DAML-1 for digital readout and control of the DAM-1 only; DAMH-1 for use where the remote control point is close enough to the monitor to permit hardwired inter-connection.

Measurement/Test Instruments

OIB-1 OPERATING IMPEDANCE BRIDGE — For antenna system measurements under transmitter power. May also be used as a conventional bridge.

RG-1B RECEIVER/GENERATOR — Two-watt signal generator with a tracking detector. Built-in rechargeable battery power supply for full portability in making low power impedance measurements. For use with OIB-1 or other RF bridges.

CPB-1 COMMON POINT IMPEDANCE BRIDGE — Monitors common point impedance continuously. Designed for permanent installation.

Other Products

TCT-() TOROIDAL CURRENT TRANSFORMER — Provides accurate, stable R.F. samples for phase and amplitude measurements. Available in three sensitivities. Also available: TCTR-1 Compensated Rectifier Circuit to provide DC voltage for remote current measurement when used with TCT-().

MJ-50 METER JACK — A make-before-break in line jack assembly that permits "hot" insertion of OIB-1 Bridge or Ammeters.

Towers

for your individual requirements

Looking for BIG SYSTEM capability in your tower supplier? Fort Worth Tower Company has it. For two decades we've been building high quality communications towers, large and small. Towers for public utilities, railroads, public safety agencies, microwave firms, and the many other communications industries where big system reliability is essential. Towers individually engineered to fit each system's unique requirements.

Fort Worth Tower Co. also offers a complete array of support equipment for your system including microwave reflectors, equipment lifts, and many other related items. You get top performance with a perfect match of equipment and accessories.

For maximum reliability, include a FORT WORTH MOBILT EQUIPMENT BUILDING in your specifications. Designed expressly to house communications electronic equipment, Fort Worth Mobilts withstand any climate or location problem...house electronic equipment according to the most rigid standards. Your building comes with supporting I-beams. Simply drop on your site, connect the service inlet, and you're in business. Mobilts save you time and money because complete wiring is installed at the factory. Many options are available in size, outside finish, wiring and ventilation. You'll find a Mobilt exactly suited to your needs.

We'd like to put our products and experience to work in your system. For full information and a precise quote on your project, please contact us. We'd like the opportunity to serve you.

Video switchers.

New, Super Powerful CD 480 The Smart Switcher
Revolutionary modular switchers with unprecedented production power. They outperform the largest conventional switchers, yet are extremely simple to operate. Their power and ease of operation are due to CDL's new Sequential Effects (SFX) Amplifier, which can cut, mix or wipe between two Background Sources and two separate Key Sources either individually or in any combination. Models with one or two SFX Amplifiers provide all the standard and optional features you need, including Rotary & Random wipes, RGB Shadow keys, Hard and Soft Color Border wipes, Color Border keys, Quad with Color Borders, Encoded Chroma keying, Key Mask generator, and 16, 24 or 32 inputs. A variety of modular accessories will continue to keep your switcher smarter than the rest as new technology develops.

VS-10

An inexpensive broadcast quality 8-input switcher that features flexibility and ease of operation. Self-contained electronics for rapid installation in ENG and other small mobiles.

VS-14

Sophisticated enough for large studio production, yet compact and inexpensive enough for small mobiles. Soft wipes and keys—even a Downstream keyer—are standard. Self-contained and remote versions available.

VS-1260S

An amazing value

Now the smallest station can afford a conventional 20-input mix/effects switcher of the highest quality and reliability. All features, including an Encoded Chroma keyer and Bordered keys, are standard (not optional, as is often the case). And the price is astonishingly affordable.

Automation.

System 100

Computer controlled automation system for Technical Operations that communicates directly with a Business Computer System. Stores and retrieves the schedule with entry error checking, makes automatic time corrections, performs complicated audio/video switching sequences (including dissolves, fades, wipes and keys), assigns machines, verifies material, and prints the "As-Aired" log.

Master Control Switchers

Ranging from CDL's new CD 480 MC to a 2 Bus MCS-829 or a 3 Bus MCS-770. All 3 can be interfaced to System 100 Technical Automation System.

Tape editing systems.

PEC-120

Video Tape Editor
A computer editing System with easily operated control panel and CRT display for rapid and precise control of VTR's & Switcher CDL's unique Self Learning Cueing Software Program is a new feature.

EDS-200

Video Tape Editor
A two machine Time Code microprocessor Editor that interfaces to Quad or Helical VTR's.

Also a complete line of production and TV terminal equipment, including:

- SMPTE Time Code Generators and Readers
- Video and Pulse Distribution Amplifiers
- Chroma Keyers: RGB and Encoded
- Processing Amplifiers
- Audio/Video Routing Switchers
- Pulse Assignment Systems
- Machine Control Systems

VIDEOCASSETTE EDITING. MADE FOR SPEED. MADE FOR ACCURACY. MADE FOR QUALITY. MADE by JVC.

JVC INTRODUCES THE CR-8300U FULL EDITING VIDEOCASSETTE RECORDER...

FOR FASTER EDITS

Now you can significantly cut the time you spend editing 3/4U-format tapes, thanks to JVC.

The unique bi-directional search control of the CR-8300U Electronic Editing Recorder lets you fast-forward at 7 times normal speed. Reverse at 10 times normal.

And you can do it while the tape is threaded on the head. You don't have to stop to rethread.

The unique preview feature lets you pass the signal from a second source through the CR-8300U while it's playing, without erasing the tape. You'll cut down on false starts by knowing what your edit will be like.

FOR MORE ACCURATE EDITS

Accuracy is what the JVC CR-8300U is designed for.

The unique built-in Pre-Roll rewinds tape for about 4 seconds from the actual editing point, and puts the recorder in stand-by mode. When you push "Edit Start" the CR-8300U first plays back about 4 seconds of rewind program, then goes automatically into the recording mode at the edit point. You're assured of the highest accuracy.

When you assemble edit, video and audio signals are edited simultaneously. When you insert, you can edit video and either audio channel independently or in any combination. Either way, accuracy is ± 5 frames.

You want still frame and slow motion? You've got them. The forward speed can be adjusted from 0 to 1/15th normal speed. You'll always find the exact frame you want.

And the tape counter doesn't just count. It has a memory. When you know you'll want to find a particular point again you reset the counter to "000". Then when you rewind, it will automatically stop the CR-8300U right there.

No other moderately priced videocassette editor has this combination of features to give you the accuracy you're looking for.

FOR THE HIGHEST QUALITY PICTURE

But speed and accuracy are nothing without quality. And quality is what the JVC CR-8300U has most of. It has everything you need for NTSC-type color video built-in.

Automatic Phase Control and patented Color Dubbing assure generation after generation of duplicates with stable color lock and highest quality.

There's a built-in Dropout Compensator. There's a video S/N ratio of better than 45dB (unweighted) on the Rohde & Schwarz noise meter. An audio S/N ratio of better than 45dB. Independent Audio VU Meters and Controls for both channels (which can be operated either automatically or manually) help you upgrade the quality of low-level audio recordings.

Black & white resolution is better than 320 lines; color, better than 240.

And if "flag-waving" turns you off, all you have to do is turn on the CR-8300U. The frame servo locks on the odd field, so every edit is smooth and clean.

JVC WORKS WITH YOU

JVC has worked with broadcasters and producers to give you what you want, what you say you really need. Speed, accuracy, quality. And the features you need to get them.

Features like an external sync input for V-locking other sources. A built-in capstan servo mechanism for jitter-free, stable tape speed. An internal time-lapse meter to make regular maintenance easier. And a new remote-control system you can learn about by reading the next page.

Dymek AM5 Tuner: Worth Talking About

Here's what your colleagues say about our new AM5 tuner monitor:

“ In regard to ... the operation of the AM5 tuner we purchased this past year, the program, production and news staff have been ecstatic. With the AM5 we can show “off air” response up through 15,000 Hz and there is almost no discernable difference when switching monitors from “off console” to “off air.” ... I am well pleased... ”

Carl A. Lewis
Chief Engineer
KLMS Radio, Lincoln, Nebraska

“ I am pleased to report that the (AM5) units perform superbly ... When the DA5 antenna was connected and ... adjusted properly, all interference was reduced and the background noise was almost as low as an FM station. ”

Arthur F. Marko
AM Engineering Supervisor
WOR Radio, New York

“ We are exceedingly pleased with our AM3 and AM5 tuner. The output quality and separation, etc. are excellent ... We have used your tuners extensively for monitoring and recording, and have found them to be superior to anything else that we used in the past. ”

Harry H. Curtis
Manager Technical Operations
American Broadcasting Company

The AM5 is an excellent inexpensive AM monitoring tuner. That's why 35% of Dymek sales are to radio stations. Special features such as less than 1% distortion, the best ceramic filters, solid state construction, and the 150-600 ohm option have made the AM5 the choice of AM broadcasting stations in the United States and Canada.

MASTER AUDIO METER™

Toward the development of excellence

Excellence is achievable if it can be measured. Master Audio Meter is a precision dual-channel panel instrument that can display those important PEAK program levels as well as RMS (VU) values, selectively in stereo or simultaneously in mono.

Master Audio Meters combine exceptional resolution and accuracy over a wide dynamic range with easy-to-read light bars providing the precision measurement capability so necessary in the development of audio excellence.

NEC

The Broadcast Equipment Company you'll be hearing a lot more about.

You'll hear about us, because we're making it a practice to listen to you. As the world's second largest maker of broadcast equipment, we're not in a position to dictate; and we won't—even when we're number one.

We have a line of equipment in the U.S., that's well worth your investigation: VTR's, TBC's, frame synchronizers, etc. And we're ready to expand it. When you're ready.

Just let us hear from you.

Daniel Lee, President, discussing Stylus Replacement Policy with Howard Williams, Chief Engineer and Ken Rasek, Audio Engineer.

"Not the loudest sound in town, but the best quality" claims WXRT, Chicago, longtime Stanton user. . .

WXRT is a progressive rock, FM station, unique in many ways. Its whole operation, Administration, Sales, Engineering, Programming, Broadcasting, Transmitting (even the tower), is located in one place . . . an unusual set-up for a major market.

In a market crowded with as many radio stations as Chicagoland, the excellence of sound can make or break a station like WXRT . . . which paly's no tapes . . . has no recorded commercials . . . and goes totally with disc-to-air and live copy.

Since WXRT uses no limiters or compression to magnify the level of their signal, their turntables and cartridges are crucial to their sound quality.

For over 10 years, the station has used the Stanton product in its turntables. Today, it even uses the 681 Triple-E for disc-to-air playback and, although this stylus was not designed for back-cueing, the engineers and announcers report no problem.

Leading radio stations around the nation depend on Stanton 681 Calibration series cartridges, because they offer improved tracking at all frequencies . . . they achieve perfectly flat frequency response to beyond 20 kHz. Its stylus assembly, even though miniaturized, possesses greater durability than had been thought possible to achieve.

Each 681 Triple-E is guaranteed to meet its specifications within exacting limits, and each one boasts the most meaningful warranty possible . . . an individual calibration test result comes with each unit.

Whether your usage involves recording, broadcasting or home entertainment, your choice should be the choice of the professionals . . . Stanton 681.

The Thomson-CSF Laboratories Microcam[®] is the lightest broadcast-quality portable color television camera in the business. And if your business is covering news, sports or special events, you want to make sure it all gets covered. While other cameramen are pausing for a breather, you're still going strong.

Total system weight is:

- Camera head (with 6:1 lens) and viewfinder 8½ lbs.
- Shoulder pad 6.3 oz.
- Electronics pack 3 lb. 8 oz.
- Interconnect cable 1 lb. 2 oz.

Microcam will go anywhere. Capture anything. Live or on tape. And Microcam's ability to operate at extreme low-light levels makes it especially valuable for ENG.

Microcam's low power consumption of 24 watts provides a full hour of operation from a 2½ lb.

built-in battery pack. And for extended operation, a 4 lb. silver-cell battery belt operates Microcam 5 hours on a single charge.

With a two line vertical image enhancer and comb filter as standard equipment, Microcam will effectively upgrade your present system. And Microcam is priced lower than most portable cameras.

The Thomson-CSF Laboratories Microcam. Less weight. Less power consumption. And less on your budget.

Tip of the iceberg or flash in the pan? Our competitors thought we were just dabbling in the broadcast equipment market, but as we added Beaucart® Splice Finders and Cart Machines to our Beaucart Motors and Heads, it became obvious that we were here to stay. And now we've coordinated all these activities into our new Broadcast Products Division to make us more productive and efficient. And there's more to come. A whole lot more. For a look at your future, write today or call (203) 288-7731. We're the Broadcast Products Division, UMC Electronics Co., 460 Sackett Point Road, North Haven, Connecticut 06473.

Q.
 What's smaller than a breadbox, tells the truth, and won't flutter your RFI or wow your wallet?

A. FIDELIPAC®
WOW & FLUTTER METER.

For less than $350.00 you can have a portable, solid-state instrument that quickly and accurately measures the wow, flutter and drift characteristics of any sound reproducing device... cartridge or reel-to-reel tape recorder, turntable, film chain, etc. It's easily connected to your equipment and features a standard phone output jack for oscilloscope connection as well as a self contained switchable weighting filter. With its internal precision 3,150 Hz reference oscillator and its complete immunity to EMI and RFI, Fidelipac's Model 65-390 Wow and Flutter Meter is truly indispensable for your test bench or studio.

At Last, a Cart Machine that Keeps its Cool

Telex/Magnecord broadcast cart machines run cool and steady. So cool no ventilation is required, so steady not even voltage or frequency fluctuations will alter their speed. Thanks to our dc servo flutter-filter drive.

The MC series offers broadcasters a host of options, including field convertability from mono to stereo or play to record and, of course, end of message, secondary/tertiary cue tones.

Designed for type A or B carts, the MC series meets all NAB specifications, offers full immunity to EMI and RFI, is remote controllable and automation compatible with CMOS digital logic. Audio muting, air damped low voltage dc solenoid and fast forward are standard features on every MC unit.

Four broadcast cart machines to choose from in the Telex/Magnecord MC series. Running cool and steady. With a pleasant surprise—they're affordable.

AUTOMATIC, ONE-STEP TAPE ERASER AND SPLICE LOCATER

ITC's
ESL-IV

$495

Now you can erase cartridge tape and locate the splice in the same operation automatically — without chance for human error. Simply insert your cartridge and press the start button. There's nothing else to actuate or hold down. When the splice is located, the machine automatically releases the cartridge — fully erased!

The ITC ESL-IV Series machine is super-fast (25-29 IPS), but gentle with tapes in NAB size A cartridges. It is super-quiet, super-rugged and ITC engineered to outlast and out perform any other eraser or splice locator made. Pays for itself in time saved and consistent results. All this and our famous 2-year warranty plus a 30 day money-back guarantee of satisfaction.

Reserve your unit now! Just call us collect at (309) 828-1381 for more information.

Send us his name and address.

You could change his life.

Someone around you has unrealized potential. It could be a delivery boy with an interest in electronics or a waitress who's always wanted to be a medical technician. Someone who isn't suited by a four-year college, but who is looking for a more rewarding career.

Education is still the key. Technical schools and vocational courses are just a couple of directions which lead to new job opportunities. To challenging and rewarding pursuits that can make people better than they were before.

You can help that someone whose life could be improved by going to technical school. Just mail his or her name and address to the "Careers" address below. We'll send a free record-brochure full of entertaining, unbiased information on the thousands of job opportunities made available by this training. Your encouragement and our facts—they just might do the trick.

So, take a minute. Change a life. Send us that name and address today.

Broadcast Education

Broadcasting Education

The following guides, most of which are regularly updated, can provide detailed information on educational opportunities in most areas of communications-broadcasting:

The American Film Institute Guide to College Courses in Film and Television. Washington, D.C.: Acropolis Books, 1977 (6th edition). Available in paperback, this lists schools by state and details program emphasis and faculty, facilities, costs, and lists specific courses offered.

Aspen Handbook on the Media: 1977-78 Edition. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1977. (3rd edition). Also a paperback, this book, now an annual, includes much information on schools (research ongoing, a detailed list of guides to all of communication education, schools with communications law education, etc.) and due to annual updating is the most current source here.

Broadcast Education: 1975. Washington, D.C.: National Association of Broadcasters, 1975 (14th edition). This biennial guide lists colleges (2 year, 4 year and graduate programs) by state, showing number of courses and credits offered, major facilities, scholarships or assistantships provided for graduate students, and a list of faculty members. The gist of this booklet, with some additional statistical information, appears in Journal of Broadcasting 19:453-495 (Fall 1975).

Colleges and Universities Offering Courses and Degree Programs Involving Educational Broadcasting. Washington, D.C.: National Association of Educational Broadcasters, 1974. This guide provides answers to a 10 question mail survey with schools listed alphabetically, regardless of state.

"Doctoral Programs in Broadcast Education," in Educational Media Yearbook 1978, edited by James W. Brown. New York: Bowker, 1978. First version of an annual guide with information on Ph.D. programs showing data on courses, financial support, faculty, program emphasis, etc.

Books on Broadcasting

Compiled with the assistance of Christopher H. Sterling, department of radio-television-film, Temple University.

This bibliography supplements other listings published in previous Yearbooks. It is intended to briefly organize and annotate a selective list of the most useful currently-available titles on general broadcasting, history of radio and television, organization and economics, law and regulation, broadcast journalism, entertainment programing, public (noncommercial) broadcasting, the broadcast audience, cable television, world broadcasting, production and performance guides, and technical books.

Prices and publication data are as of October 1977. Titles are listed only once. Annotations are intended to be descriptive rather than evaluative.

General Reviews

Bogart, Leo. The Age of Television. New York: Ungar, 1972 (3rd ed.). 549 pp. $14.50.

Update of the 1956 and 1958 edition of the best early book on TV's role, programing, patterns of viewing, radio listening in the TV age, and TV's relationship to effect on reading, movies, sports, etc. This edition adds 125 pages of notes keyed to text, plus new introduction and appendix on broadcast research (with bibliography) for the 1958-71 period.

Brown, Les. Television: The Business Behind the Box. New York: Harcourt, Brace Jovanovich, 1971. 365 pp. $8.95/2.95.

Somewhat dated but frequently cited view behind the scenes at network-level programing decisions by the then broadcast editor of Variety (now with the New York Times), focusing on the inter-relationship of management and programing.

Chester, Giraud, Garnet Garrison, and Edgar Willis. Television and Radio. New York: Appleton-Century-Crofts (now published by Prentice-Hall), 1971 (4th ed.). 613 pp. $11.95.

Revision of work first issued in 1950, with first half devoted to description and analysis of broadcasting, and second to production and performance practices.

Head, Sydney W. Broadcasting in America: A Survey of Television and Radio. Boston: Houghton-Mifflin, 1976 (3rd ed.). 629 pp. $16.

Single volume history, description and analysis (often critical) of the industry, complete with detailed and chart-supported discussions of the physical basis of radio-TV, with a review of the economics and regulation of broadcasting, and the industry's influence on the nation. Supplemented with more than 100 pages of annotated and subject-divided bibliography.

Hilliard, Robert L. ed. Radio Broadcasting: An Introduction to the Sound Medium. New York: Hastings House, 1974 (2nd ed.). 312 pp. $10.95/6.95.

Revision of 1967 work, this contains sections on the development and analysis of broadcasting, studio and operating facilities, program formats, writing for radio, management, producing and directing, and performing. A good introduction for those seeking their first job in the field.

Mayer, Martin. About Television. New York: Harper & Row, 1972. 433 pp. $10.

Readable and sympathetic survey of the industry including a major emphasis on programing on both local and network levels, ratings, selling time, industry organization and operation, etc. Somewhat broader in coverage than Brown (above) with its material on local and noncommercial broadcasting.

Stanley, Robert H., ed. The Broadcast Industry: An Examination of Major Issues. New York: Hastings House, 1975. 256 pp. $13.50/7.95.

The most recent of several books from this publisher based on sessions of the International Radio and Television Society, this book offers addresses and discussion on television news, broadcast regulation, short- and long-range economic questions, public television and license renewal.

Sterling, Christopher H., and Timothy R. Haight, eds. The Mass Media: Aspen Guide to Communication Industry Trends. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1977. 400 pp. $20.00/7.95.

A statistical abstract of all media (books, newspapers, magazines, films, recordings, radio, television, and cable) covering size, ownership, economics, employment, content, audience, and U.S. media abroad. Consists mainly of some 200 tables with accompanying text description and sources.

History of Broadcasting

Barnouw, Erik. A History of Broadcasting in the United States. New York: Oxford University Press, 1966, 1968, 1970. 344 pp., 391 pp., and 396 pp. $11 each. Entitled A Tower in Babel (to 1933), The Golden Web (1933-1953), and The Image Empire (from 1953), this is a standard history of the industry and its content, written in a flowing fashion tying broadcasting to related societal events.

Barnouw, Eric. Tube of Plenty: The Evolution of American Television. New York: Oxford University Press, 1975. 518 pp. $14.95/15.95.

A condensation of the series above (and an updating for the early 1970's), but covering only television, this is an illustrated social history of the medium dealing more with the news and documentary content of television than with entertainment.

Dunning, John. Tune in Yesterday: The Ultimate Encyclopedia of Old-Time Radio, 1925-1976. Englewood Cliffs, N.J.: Prentice-Hall, 1976. 702 pp. $17.95.

Probably the best of an increasing number of such alphabetical guides to the salad days of network radio entertainment programming, this provides lengthy essays on most shows with cast lists, dates on and off, etc. Best used with Summers (below).

Lichty, Lawrence W., and Malachi C. Topping, eds. American Broadcasting: A Sourcebook on the History of Radio and Television. New York: Hastings House, 1975. 723 pp. $26.50/15.

A collection of nearly 100 articles (many contemporary with the events described) on the technical development of radio, stations, networks, economics, employment, programming, audience and regulation. Each section concludes with several tables of historical statistics and illustrations, and the book offers bibliography and index.

McMahon, Morgan E. Vintage Radio: 1887-1929. McMahon's Vintage Radio (Box 2045, Palos Verdes Peninsula, Calif. 90274), 1973 (2nd ed.). 263 pp. $10.95/8.95.

An illustrated guide to early radio receivers and parts thereof, divided by manufacturer, and showing model years and original prices along with many period advertisements. Directory of early receivers, a brief historical overview, and index are included.

A Flick of the Switch: 1930-1950. McMahon's Vintage Radio (address above), 1975. 312 pp. $10.95/8.95.

A continuation of the book above, this volume includes television receivers of the first (1930's) and second (1940's) generations. Brief historical overview material and a wealth of illustrations, but this one lacks an index.

Metz, Robert. CBS: Reflections in a Bloodshot Eye. Chicago: Playboy Press, 1975. 428 pp. $13.50.

A chronology of CBS's almost 50 years of development. Mr. Metz, reporter for the New York Times, presents a series of vignettes stressing the roles of various individuals in CBS's past and present. With chapters on the creation of the network, the development of TV.

Settel, Irving. A Pictorial History of Radio. New York: Grosset & Dunlap, 1967 (2nd ed.). 210 pp. $6.95.

Arranged by decades, this pictorial account stresses programs and personalities, with many script excerpts.

Settel, Irving and William Laas. A Pictorial History of Television. New York: Grosset & Dunlap, 1969. 209 pp. $7.95.

A sequel to the book above, this is also arranged chronologically with more than 70 pages dealing with the pre-1950 period.

Shulman, Arthur, and Roger Youman. How Sweet It Was: Television, a Pictorial Commentary. New York: Shorecrest, 1966. 448 pp. $5.95 (Bonanza reprint).

Detailed coverage of network television programs, arranged by genre, and consisting almost entirely of pictures and captions on personalities, music shows, comedy, specials, drama, action-adventure, westerns, quiz shows, daytime programming, and news. Unfortunately a decade out of date, this is still the best television pictorial review available. (A chronological version going up to 1972 appeared as The Television Years in a Popular Library paperback for $1.50 in 1973).

Sterling, Christopher H., and John M. Kittross. Stay Tuned: A Concise History of American Broadcasting. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth Publishing Co., 1978. 550 pp. $14.95.

An organized history which attempt to give balanced treatment to industry size and organization, economics, educational and later public broadcasting, content (both entertainment and news), audience research and characteristics, regulation, and a bit of context of international broadcasting—all of this done in a series of specific periods in broadcasting's development. Chronology, statistical tables, photos, a unique technical guide-glossary, bibliography.

Summers, Harrison B., ed. A Thirty-Year History of Programs Carried on National Radio Networks in the United States, 1926-1956. New York: Arno Press, 1971 (reprint of 1958 edition). 228 pp. $10.00.

The standard source listing of radio network programs by season including program title, sponsor, number of seasons on the air, network, program length, day and time on the air, and sample seasonal rating. Best used with descriptions in Dunning (above).

Terrace, Vincent. The Complete Encyclopedia of Television Programs, 1947-1976. New Brunswick, N.J.: A. S. Barnes, 1976. 914 pp. (two volumes). $29.95.

The best listing of network TV shows available to date, with alphabetical format by title and information on cast, program type, network, dates on and off, etc. Best updated by David (see under entertainment programming below).

Organization and Economics

Heighton, Elizabeth J., and Don R. Cunningham. Advertising in the Broadcast Media. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth, 1976. 349 pp. $12.95.

The first broad book-length overview of this subject published since 1959, this book includes chapters on the development of broadcast advertising, structure of the industry, objectives and strategies, marketing research and media planning, talent, producing and evaluating commercials, buying and selling time, and questions of social responsibility in advertising.

Accounting Manual for Broadcasters, edited by the Institute for Broadcasting Financial Management, Suite 308, 360 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 60601. $20. 1972.

Indexed heavy duty sheets in vinyl covered hard binder. Prepared in cooperation with Ernst & Ernst 50 pages text and guidelines, plus financial reporting forms. Covers depreciation and amortization, intangible assets, firm contracting accounts, operating income accounts, accrued music license fees. (See also the Accounting Manuals for both radio and television issued by the NAB for its members)

Frazier, Gross & Clay, Inc. Radio in 1985. Washington, D.C.: National Association of Broadcasters, 1977. 88 pp. $10.00 ($5.00 to NAB members), paper.

Current information and detailed projections of radio technology, regulation, audience and radio's economic future. Dozens of tables, and interesting AM-FM comparisons.

Johnson, Joseph, and Kenneth K. Jones. Modern Radio Station Practices. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth, 1972 [a revised edition is due in 1978]. 268 pp. $7.95.

Sections on programming (with special chapters on both music and news), promotion, sales, research, governmental and nongovernmental controls, and the physical and operational plant. Supplemented with 14 station profiles providing in-depth analysis of issues discussed earlier.

Koenig, Allen E., ed. Broadcasting and Bargaining: Labor Relations in Radio and Television. Madison: University of Wisconsin Press, 1970. 344 pp. $8.

The only book of its kind, this reviews the development and effect of unions in radio-TV, arbitration in broadcasting, and problems of specific kinds of employees and unions, with a look at the likely future.

Noll, Roger G., Merton J. Peck, and John J. McGowan. Economic Aspects of Television Regulation. Washington: Brookings Institution, 1973. 342 pp. $8.95.

The current situation and prospects for change in commercial television, pay TV, cable television, public TV, new television technology, and what policies should be developed for improving television. This is a detailed and annotated scholarly analysis.

Jack Beebe, and Willard Manning Jr. Television Economics. Lexington, Mass.: Lexington Books, 1974. 218 pp. $15.

The first part explores economics of television programming while the second reviews other questions of public policy toward television. Both parts suggest a variety of policy options based on data presented.

Quail, Ward L., and James A. Brown. Broadcast Management: Radio, Television. New York: Hastings House, 1975 (2nd ed.). 464 pp. $16.50/8.95.

A totally rewritten version of the 1968 book, this now has sections on principles of management, the management of personnel, the audience, programming, broadcast sales, managing for profit, broadcast engineering, the manager and regulation, and lengthy essays by the authors as to the likely future.

Routt, Edd. The Business of Radio Broadcasting. Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.: TAB Books, 1972. 400 pp. $12.95.

The role of the radio station in the community, sales, programming, administration, technical operations, and legal aspects including licensing, fairness, etc.

Law and Regulation

Ashley, Paul P., in collaboration with Camden M. Hall. Say it Safely: Legal Limits in Publishing, Radio, and Television. Seattle: University of Washington Press, 1976 (5th ed.). 238 pp. $9.50.

First issued under this title two decades ago, this book has become a standard introduction to a changing and complicated field. Coverage is updated on libel, quotations and ads, privilege, comment and criticism, pictures, the right of privacy, political broadcasts, a new chapter on pornography, free speech and fair trial, copyright, etc.

Devol, Kenneth S., ed. Mass Media and the Supreme Court: The Legacy of the Warren Years. New York: Hastings House, 1976 (2nd ed.). 400 pp. $14.50/8.50.

Best current collection of important decisions and parts of media-related decisions divided into such topics as prior restraint, censorship of obscenity, libel, right of privacy, trial by newspaper or television, public access to the media, etc. Includes useful case notes and overview articles as well.

Francois, William E. Mass Media Law and Regulation. Columbus, Ohio: Grid Inc., 1975. 470 pp. $13.50.

With 100 pages devoted to specific problems of broadcasting, this volume offers a broader media context in discussing libel, privacy, free press vs. fair trial, newsmen's privilege, advertising etc. The result is a good mixture of journalism and law, stressing recent important cases, decisions and trends.

Friendly, Fred W. The Good Guys, the Bad Guys, and the First Amendment: Free Speech vs. Fairness in Broadcasting. New York: Random House, 1976. 268 pp. $10.

A narrative and analysis of the Red Lion and other cases that have shaped the fairness doctrine, this book concludes that the issues are not clear-cut, making it difficult to tell the good from the bad guys.

Jones, William K. Electronic Mass Media: Radio, Television and Cable. Mineola, N.Y.: Foundation Press, 1976. pp. $9.75.

After brief overview of issues in Chapter I, book consists of case and decision excerpts on comparative proceedings, concentration of control, network practices, regulation of programming, cable television and subscription (pay) services.

Kahn, Frank J., ed. Documents of American Broadcasting. New York: Appleton-Century-Crofts (now published by Prentice-Hall), 1973 (2nd ed.). 684 pp. $10.95 (3rd ed. due in 1978).

Collected cases, decisions, and other documents of the FCC, Congress and various courts on regulation of broadcasting, program controls, freedom of expression, broadcast journalism and the public interest. Each section offers an updated reading list.

Levin, Harvey J. The Invisible Resource: Use and Regulation of the Radio Spectrum. Baltimore: Johns Hopkins Press, 1971. 432 pp. $12.

The book is divided into four parts. One, the spectrum system—including the major users of the spectrum. Two, alternatives in the allocation and management of the spectrum. Three, the level of spectrum development. Four, the potential of competition as a means of preserving resources of the spectrum.

National Association of Broadcasters' Legal Guide to FCC Broadcast Rules, Regulations and Policies. Washington, D.C.: NAB, 1977. 600 pp. $70.00 ($35.00 to NAB member).

Books

Prepared under the direction of NAB General Counsel Erwin G. Krasnow, this invaluable book makes some ordered sense out of a welter of rules and regulations—and thanks to its loose-leaf format will be regularly updated. Content includes deadlines, application and filing process, programming policies and practices, announcements, commercial policies, contests and promotions, ascertainment, equal employment, etc. Reprints many important FCC and NAB regulatory documents and has a detailed topical index.

Schmidt, Benno C. Jr. Freedom of the Press vs. Public Access. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1976. 296 pp. $17.50/6.95.

Compares the differences between print media and broadcasting from a regulatory point of view. Not easy reading, but the discussion and analysis is comprehensive on the questions of libel and access, fairness in broadcasting, and Tornillo vs Red Lion.

Shapiro, Andrew O. Media Access: Your Rights to Express Your Views on Radio and Television. Boston: Little, Brown, 1976. 297 pp. $8.95.

Chapters deal with political broadcasts, radio-TV news, fair coverage of public issues, advertising and fairness, personal attacks, editorials, and complaints—with the present legal status in each area.

Toohey, Daniel W., Richard D. Marks, and Arnold P. Lutzker. Legal Problems in Broadcasting: Identification and Analysis of Selected Issues. Lincoln, Neb.: Great Plains National Instructional Television Library, 1974. 203 pp. $8.75/5.95.

This book combines description and analysis with about 100 case studies showing specific legal problems and their resolution. Covered is freedom of expression, (including libel, fairness, political broadcasting, violence), and business aspects of programing (copyright, lotteries, income taxes, etc.).

United States House of Representatives, Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. Options Papers Prepared by the Staff for Use by the Subcommittee on Communications. Washington, D.C.: Government Printing Office, 1977. 664 pp.

Background material for the current reconsideration of the 1934 Communications Act, this volume contains (aside from common carrier material), a study of spectrum allocation, nearly 200 pages on broadcasting policy, a chapter on public broadcasting, options for cable TV regulation, telecommunications and privacy, and suggestions for restructuring of government regulation.

Broadcast Journalism

Ashmore, Harry S. Fear in the Air: Broadcasting and the First Amendment—the Anatomy of a Constitutional Crisis. New York: Norton, 1973. 180 pp. $6.95.

A discussion of the major pressures on broadcasting, especially in news and special events programing. Mr. Ashmore believes the major problem is a public feeling that broadcasters are somehow to blame for many of the nation's problems.

Bagdikian, Ben H. The Information Machines: Their Impact on Men and the Media. New York: Harper & Row, 1971. 359 pp. $8.95/2.95.

A Rand Corp. study on the organization and operation of print and broadcast journalism which projects likely future technological developments and their impact on news and society. Discussion shows inter-relationships between economics, news problems, audience needs, and the business operation of the news media.

Diamond, Edwin. The Tin Kazoo: Television, Politics and the News. Cambridge, Mass.: MIT Press, 1975. 269 pp. $9.95.

Deals with news formats and the audience and, more specifically, with the content of public news. Mr. Diamond focuses on several case studies of TV news, including the Vietnam war coverage, the Pentagon Papers, several chapters on former President Nixon (including Watergate coverage) and TV as a political tool.

Epstein, Edward Jay. News From Nowhere: Television and the News. New York: Random House, 1973. 321 pp. $7.95/1.95.

A highly critical analysis of the network evening newscasts as the author surveyed them in 1968-69, focusing on the organization and process and how they effect the news product.

Fang, Irving E. Television News. New York: Hastings House, 1972 (2nd ed.). 478 pp. $12.50/7.50.

An expanded and revised edition of a standard text first issued in 1968. Deals with the problems of TV news, how to handle them, editorials and fairness, election coverage, libel, access, section 315, privacy etc. New are a glossary, reference notes and a bibliography. Examples and illustrations throughout.

Johnstone, John W. C., Edward J. Slawski, and William W. Bowman. The News People: A Sociological Portrait of American Journalists and Their Work. Urbana: University of Illinois Press, 1976. 257 pp. $9.95.

The result of a 1971 national study of press, wire service, news magazine, and broadcast newpeople. The book analyses their background, education and training, differences between print and broadcast media types, division of labor within the field, rewards and satisfactions in journalism, and the role of news people in the news process.

Kraus, Sidney, and Dennis Davis. The Effects of Mass Communication on Political Behavior. State College: Pennsylvania State University Press, 1976. 308 pp. $16.50/7.95.

The most recent review of research and industry findings on print and broadcast coverage of campaigns and other political events, this volume offers sections on the role of the media in supplying political information, media and the political process, and media and the electoral process.

Miles, Donald W. Broadcast News Handbook. Indianapolis: Howard W. Sams Co., 1976. 397 pp. $7.95.

A guide to radio station news operations on the scene, during civil disorders, involving fairness to minorities, the police beat and courtrooms, searches and rescues, government and politics, the style of the newscast, and the industry and the profession.

Powers, Ron. The Newscasters. New York: St. Martin's Press, 1977. 243 pp. $8.95.

Critical analysis of both national and local TV newscasts and newscasters, decrying the happy talk syndrome and lack of substance, especially in local journalism. There is much detail in specific national figures, and national trends in news presentation—with few good words for the "news doctors."

Roult, Edd. Dimensions of Broadcast Editorializing. Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.: TAB Books, 1974. 204 pp. $8.95.

One of the few books on this subject the text explores the differences between print and broadcasting, discusses FCC rules, ways and means of editorializing. Sample station editorial practices in varied-sized markets are included.

Entertainment Programing

(see also section on history)

Adler, Richard, ed. Television as a Social Force: New Approaches to Television Criticism. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1975. 171 pp. $15.00/3.95.

Eight essays on the role of television programing in American life.

Adler, Richard, ed. Television as a Cultural Force. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1976. 199 pp. $15.00/4.95.

Sequel to the book above, this offers nine essays focusing on entertainment programing of various types, along with a brief bibliography.

Cantor, Muriel G. The Hollywood TV Producer: His Work and His Audience. New York: Basic Books, 1972. 264 pp. $7.95.

Only study of its kind, this is based on a scholarly survey of television series producers, exploring their working conditions, views of the audience, and how these things effect their product—TV entertainment.

David, Nina. TV Season 75-76. Phoenix, Ariz.: Oryx Press, 1977. 245 pp. $13.95.

The second volume of an annual reference series covering all network, syndicated, and national public broadcasting programs aired in the past season. The indexed volume lists more than 1350 entertainment series, movies, special and documentary programs, etc., providing full cast and credits for each as well as time and network. For historical information like this, see Terrace under history, above.

Johnson, William O. Jr. Super Spectator and the Electric Lilliputians. Boston: Little, Brown, 1971. 237 pp. $6.95.

Based on a five part series in Sports Illustrated, this is an overview of how television has effected and covered professional sports in America.

Newcomb, Horace. TV: The Most Popular Art. New York: Anchor Books, 1974. 272 pp. $2.50.

Dissects and analyzes the major kinds of popular network television programing, concentrating on prime-time examples, with chapters on comedies, westerns, mysteries, doctors and lawyers, adventure shows, soap operas, news sports and documentaries.

Newcomb, Horace, ed. Television: The Critical View. New York: Oxford University Press, 1976. 314 pp. $4.

Twenty essays on particular shows, program genres, the role of television in our culture, and the esthetics of television content.

Parish, James Robert. Actors' Television Credits: 1950-1972. Metuchen, N.J.: Scarecrow Press, 1973. 879 pp. $18.50.

Listed in alphabetical order by name, then chronological order by program series, with specific episode and network as well as date noted.

Shanks, Bob. The Cool Fire: How to Make it in Television. New York: W. W. Norton, 1976. 318 pp. $9.95/3.95.

Behind-the-scenes information several notches better than most books of the type—this one written by an ABC executive who discusses national and local television programing as a continuing process with many examples from his own background.

Smith, Robert R. Beyond the Wasteland: The Criticism of Broadcasting. Falls Church, Va.: Speech Communication Association, 1976. 105 pp. $5.

Two parts deal with the process of criticism, and then specific issues in broadcast criticism (journalism, cable, social effects, etc.).

Whitfield, Stephen E., and Gene Roddenberry. The Making of Star Trek. New York: Ballentine Books, 1968. 414 pp. $1.95.

Useful as a behind-the-scenes analysis of the development, design, and production of a network television series. See also David Gerrold's The World of Star Trek (Ballentine Books, 1973—$1.50) for a different approach to the same program and background analysis.

Public (Noncommercial) Broadcasting

Brown, James W., ed. Educational Media Yearbook: 1977. New York: R. R. Bowker, 1977. 433 pp. $21.95.

The fourth volume of an annual review series that includes extensive bibliographies and reference material on the status of public broadcasting and instructional media as well.

Nyhan, Michael J., ed. The Future of Public Broadcasting. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1976. 372 pp. $18.50/6.95.

Eighteen articles on all aspects of current public broadcasting make this an important policy-oriented overview of public television and radio today, including instructional broadcasting, financing, specialized audiences, program trends, patterns of control, and an annotated bibliography.

Schramm, Wilbur. Big Media, Little Media: Tools and Technologies for Instruction. Beverly Hills, Calif.: Sage Publications, 1977. 315 pp. $17.50/7.50.

A detailed overview of the literature assessing the effectiveness of instructional media, including evidence from the field, from experimental studies, from teachers, and economic angles. "Big" media include television and sound film while "little" media mean less complex systems like radio and slides.

Wood, Donald N., and Donald G. Wylie. Educational Telecommunications. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth Publishing Co., 1977. 370 pp. $9.95, paper.

The most current text overview of both public broadcasting and instructional media including the convoluted history of public broadcasting, the current structure, issues in public and instructional media, program production and storage-utilization, etc. A cogent and well-organized overview of a large field.

The Broadcast Audience

Bower, Robert. Television and the Public. New York: Holt, Rinehart & Winston, 1973. 205 pp. $7.95.

Based on a national 1970 survey, this is an updating of the 1963 book by the late Gary A. Steiner, The People Look at Television. About a third of the questions used were the same for both surveys. The basic conclusion is that people are watching more television, but are also somewhat more critical of what they see. Comstock, George, et al. Television and Human Behavior. Santa Monica, Calif.: Rand Corp., 1975. Three volumes, $27.

The first volume is a large, unannotated but subject-divided guide to the literature on television's effects, the second deals in annotated abstracts of selected key studies, and the third reviews what we know now, and research efforts now going on and projected for the future. A comprehensive guide to post-1960 research.

Davison, W. Phillips, and Frederick T. C. Yu, eds. Mass Communication Research: Major Issues and Future Directions. New York: Praeger Special Studies, 1974. 248 pp. $13.50/5.95.

A summary of what is known about uses of mass communication by individuals, media and socialization, functions of media for groups, media and the state, media and the political system, professional personnel and organizational structure in media, media management, new information technology and areas of needed research.

Kline, F. Gerald, and Phillip J. Tichenor, eds. Current Perspectives in Mass Communications Research. Beverly Hills, Calif.: Sage Publications, 1972. 320 pp. $15/7.50.

Despite the similarity in title and purpose, there is little overlap here with the book above. Sections cover research on gatekeeping, information diffusion, the interpersonal context of mass communication, socialization and media, media in political campaigns, the communication environment of the urban poor, sex and violence, and environment and communication.

Lessor, Gerald S. Children and Television: Lessons from Sesame Street. New York: Random House, 1974. 291 pp. $10.00.

The development, planning, production, and research about effects of the Children's Television Workshop program, with a stress on the apparent results of the series.

Liebert, Robert M., John M. Neale, and Emily S. Davidson. The Early Window: Effects of Television on Children and Youth. Elmsford, N.Y.: Pergamon Press, 1973. 193 pp. $9.50/6.50.

The three authors were active on the surgeon-general's research program on TV and Social Behavior and much of what is reported comes from that massive research. The result is an attempt to explore all such research and chapters include the overall growth process, production and content in TV today, TV and aggressions, the prosocial effects of TV, the commercial interests, government and industry role and an overview.

Noble, Grant. Children in Front of the Small Screen. Beverly Hills, Calif.: Sage Publications, 1975. 256 pp. $15.

An international overview of research on and concern about all aspects of children's television and its effects. Emphasis is on reviewing television as an escape, child development and television, media definitions of roles, TV and violence and delinquent behavior, etc.

Cable Television

Baer, Walter S. Cable Television: A Handbook for Decision-Making. New York: Crane, Russak, 1974. 241 pp. $11.

A reprint of a Rand Corp. study, this overview discusses cable technology, cable system economics, ownership options, local planning for a cable system, cable franchising considerations, making public access effective, and public services on cable.

Baer, Walter S. Cable Television: Franchising Considerations. New York: Crane, Russak, 1974. 294 pp. $13.50.

Combines five Rand Corp. reports: a guide to the technology of cable, the process of franchising, technical considerations in franchising, citizen participation in planning, and citizen participation after the franchise.

Carpenter-Huffman, Polly, Richard C. Kletter, and Robert K. Yin. Cable Television: Developing Community Services. New York: Crane, Russak, 1975. 274 pp. $12.75.

Reprints Rand Corp. reports on making public access effective, cable applications for municipal services, cable's uses in education, and a cable guide for education planners.

Committee for Economic Development. Broadcasting and Cable Television: Policies for Diversity and Change. New York: CED, 1975. 120 pp. $4/2.50.

Based on studies begun in late 1971 by a research and policy committee consisting of people inside broadcasting and cable as well as outside observers, critics and researchers. The report contains an introduction and summary of recommendations and sections on the public responsibilities of commercial broadcasting, a policy for public broadcasting, the potential of cable and organizing regulation for change.

Hollowell, Mary Louise, ed. Cable Handbook 1975-1976. Washington: Communications Press, Inc., 1975. 303 pp. $6.95.

Sixteen sections deal with technology, regulation, cable development models, cable world-wide, the many different public services potentially available through cable, and local origination and funding. There is also a glossary and bibliography.

MacAvoy, Paul W., ed. Deregulation of Cable Television. Washington, D.C.: American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research, 1977. 169 pp. $3.75, paper.

Part of the Ford Administration papers on regulatory reform, this book includes a general background paper, a response to that, a multi-author assessment of costs and benefits of cable deregulation, and a summary of recent developments—and predictions of the future.

Rivkin, Steven R. Cable Television: A Guide to Federal Regulations. New York: Crane, Russak, 1975. 371 pp. $16.

Reprints the Rand Corp. study which analyzes in detail the current FCC cable rules and regulations and adds some 200 pages of relevant FCC cable documents and legal cases.

World Broadcasting

[Annan Commission]. Report of the Committee on the Future of Broadcasting. London: Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 1977. 522 pp. about $12.00, paper.

The focus of current debate on the future development and organization of British commercial and BBC broadcasting, this detailed report not only reviews the development and current status of radio-TV in the UK, but offers some useful suggestions for consideration elsewhere.

Hale, Julian. Radio Power: Propaganda and International Broadcasting. Philadelphia: Temple University Press, 1975. 196 pp. $12.50.

Historical review and current analysis of radio broadcasting between nations in all parts of the world, comparing among other things, the Nazi, Communist, American and BBC models.

Head, Sydney W. Broadcasting in Africa: A Continental Survey of Radio and Television. Philadelphia: Temple University Press, 1974. 453 pp. $23.

A country-by-country survey by a score of scholars, with discussion as well of cross-system functions and international services, foreign aid, religious broadcasting, training, educational uses of radio and television, technical problems, etc.

Namurois, Albert. Structures and Organization of Broadcasting in the Framework of Radiocommunications. Geneva: European Broadcasting Union Monograph 8, 1973. 211 pp. $5.

Highly organized outline of the different ways world broadcasting systems are arranged, financed and operated, with a stress on comparative analysis.

Paulu, Burton. Radio and Television Broadcasting on the European Continent. Minneapolis: University of Minnesota Press, 1967. 290 pp. $7.50.

Best current analysis of broadcasting in Western Europe (excluding United Kingdom) arranged by topic: facilities, structure and organization, finances, information and entertainment programs, etc.

Tunstall, Jeremy. The Media Are American: Anglo-American Media in the World. New York: Columbia University Press, 1977. 352 pp. $14.95.

Latest and most balanced of the several recent books critical of the industrialized countries' domination of world press and broadcasting communication, this provides a wealth of information on the development and economic clout of British and American media—and a review of where each system is dominant, and with what effect.

World Communications: A 200-Country Survey of Press, Radio, Television, Film. New York: Unipub (Unesco), 1975. 533 pp. $21.

The standard comparative description of major media, by region of the world, and by country, first issued in 1950, and last revised in 1964. Wealth of data.

World Radio & TV Handbook. New York: Billboard Publications, annual. Pagination and cost varies.

Standard guide to the hours, frequencies and programs of international shortwave and television broadcasting.

Production and Performance Guides

Hilliard, Robert L. Writing for Television and Radio. New York: Hastings House, 1976 (3rd ed.). 461 pp. $16.50.

A standard writing text first published in 1962, this is arranged by type of program from commercials, news and sports, features and documentaries, talk programs and game shows, to music and variety, children's shows, women's programs, minority and ethnic features, educational programs, and drama. Many script examples.

Hyde, Stuart. Television and Radio Announcing. Boston: Houghton-Mifflin, 1971 (2nd ed.). 400 pp. $9.95.

Revision of a standard first published in 1959 with the first part providing guidance, and the second giving practice assignments.

Levitan, Eli L. An Alphabetical Guide to Motion Picture, Television and Videotape Production. New York: McGraw-Hill, 1970. 797 pp. $24.50.

Illustrated guide to facilities and procedures.

Lewis, Colby. The TV Director/Interpreter. New York: Hastings House, 1969. 225 pp. $8.95/5.95.

Illustrated practical advice to broaden the perceptual role of the television director.

Millerson, Gerald. The Technique of Television Production. New York: Hastings House, 1970 (3rd ed.). 440 pp. $14.50/7.20.

One of the best standard guides to the overall production process (another is Zettl), this offers more than 1,100 diagrams to supplement a detailed text.

The Technique of Lighting for Television and Motion Pictures. New York: Hastings House, 1972. 366 pp. $17.95.

Standard book on the subject (see also the same author's shorter version TV Lighting Methods from the same publisher for $7.95).

Nisbett, Alec. The Technique of the Sound Studio for Radio, Television and Film. New York: Hastings House, 1972 (3rd ed.). 557 pp. $14.50/10.50.

The standard and most detailed book on all aspects of audio (part of the information is presented in simpler form in the author's The Use of Microphones from the same publisher).

Spottiswoode, Raymond, ed. The Focal Encyclopedia of Film and Television Techniques. New York: Hastings House, 1969. 1,100 pp. $37.50.

Monumental gathering of alphabetically arranged information (with symbols to show application to either film or television), which combines equipment, history, production methods, facilities use, etc. Clear diagrams supplement often technical text.

Willis, Edgar E. Writing Television and Radio Programs. New York: Holt, Rinehart & Winston, 1967. 372 pp. $10.

One of the basic how-to-write-for-broadcasting texts, this focuses heavily (the first 200 pages) on dramatic writing, and then offers shorter chapters on other program genres.

Zettl, Herbert. Television Production Handbook. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth, 1976 (3rd ed.). 534 pp. $12.95.

Heavily revised and updated revision of standard task first published in 1962, this book now relies on photos rather than diagrams. Includes portable TV equipment, up-to-date videotape equipment, and small-format television. This (with Millerson above) is a standard source.

Zettl, Herbert. Sight, Sound, Motion: Applied Media Aesthetics. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth, 1973. 399 pp. $18.95.

Unique work providing heavily illustrated discussions of use of light, color, area, depth and volume, time and motion, and sound, as well as inter-related use of all of these.

Technical Books

Bartlett, George, ed. Engineering Handbook. Washington: National Association of Broadcasters, 1975 (6th ed.). 540 pp. $45.

Standard loose-leaf volume of technical information for both radio and television operations.

Costigan, Daniel M. FAX: The Principles and Practice of Facsimile Communication. Philadelphia: Chilton

Books, Colleges, Universities

Book Co., 1971. 270 pp. $10.

Includes history, how it works, transmission standards, quality, economics, standards, and a survey of commercial hardware and systems as of 1970.

DeMaw, Doug, ed. The Radio Amateur's Handbook. Newington, Conn.: American Radio Relay League, annual. Pagination and price varies.

Standard guide of technical and legal information for "hams" and others.

Etkin, Harry A. AM/FM Broadcast Station Planning Guide. Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.: TAB Books, 1970. 192 pp. $12.95.

Chapters are offered on planning, frequency search and channel allocation, preparing engineering data for Form 301, basic floor plans, transmitter plant, wire and power needs, towers and antenna systems, studio and monitoring equipment, program automation, mikes, preventive maintenance tips, proof-of-performance tests and description of some sample operations. Many diagrams accompany the text.

Fink, Donald G., and David M. Lutyns. The Physics of Television. New York: Doubleday Anchor Science Series, 1960. 160 pp. $1.95.

Chapters on communication process, light, electricity, etc. lead to specific and chart-illustrated descriptions of the American standards for both black and white and color television.

Knecht, Kenneth. Designing and Maintaining the CATV and Small TV Studio. Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.: TAB Books, 1976 (2nd ed.). 281 pp. $12.95.

Writing in non-technical terms, although dealing with technical subjects this is a helpful book for those entering this field with little experience. Chapters include study of the studio pulse system, switching systems and video effects, cameras and lighting equipment, RF and video monitors, video terminals, distribution systems, audio mixing consoles, audio program sources, maintenance shop etc.

Kiver, Milton S., and Milton Kaufman. Television Simplified. New York: Van Nostrand Reinhold, 1973 (7th ed.). 612 pp. $15.95.

Most recent edition of a standard reference work for more than 25 years—covers all aspects of television operation and transmission.

Marsh, Ken. Independent Video: A Complete Guide to the Physics, Operation and Application of the New Television. San Francisco: Straight Arrow Books (order from Simon and Schuster in New York), 1975. 212 pp. $7.95.

A vividly clear diagram-illustrated exposition on electronics basics, AM-FM optics, acoustics, the camera, VTRs, color video, sound systems, cables, switching and generators, the production process, etc. Though aimed at community video types, this book is solid and offers much to anyone concerned with the technical background of broadcasting.

Martin, James. Future Developments in Telecom- munications. Englewood Cliffs, N.J.: Prentice-Hall, 1971. 413 pp. $14.95.

Text and diagrams by an IBM scientist look to the near and distant future of cable TV, other means of transmission, tie-ins to computers, spectrum use changes, satellites, mobile radio transceivers, etc.

Sessions, Kendall W. 2nd Class FCC Encyclopedia. Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.: TAB Books, 1975. 604 pp. $10.95/7.95.

Coverage of FCC exam elements 1-2-3 and 9 in question and answer format with over 400 illustrations and a 5,000 word index with cross-references.

Swearer, Harvey F. Commercial FCC License Handbook. Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.: TAB Books, 1971. 432 pp. $8.95/5.95.

Material, including illustrations and sample questions, for FCC 1st, 2nd, and 3rd class phone licenses.

Television Newsgathering. Scarsdale, N.Y.: SMPTE, 1976. 168 pp. $12.50.

One of the first detailed discussions of the technical requirements for the operation of an ENG newsroom with details on equipment, set-up of facilities, etc.

Woram, John M. The Recording Studio Handbook. Plainview, N.Y.: Sagamore Publishing Co., Inc., 1976. 496 pp. $35.00.

Information on the basics (decibels, sound), microphones and loudspeakers, signal processing devices, magnetic recording, noise and noise reduction, recording consoles, recording techniques and several appendices.

World Radio and Television

The following summarizes radio and television broadcasting around the world. Stations and transmitters used for international and armed forces programs are included. Transmitter counts for each country are for main transmitters and often include low power relays, repeaters, satellites and/or translators. Where current information is not available, radio set counts have been estimated by Broadcasting.

Note: Domestic radio stations in foreign countries often use shortwave and longwave frequencies, as well as the medium wave frequencies corresponding with the standard AM broadcast band in the U.S. Longwave (lw) frequencies below 500 khz are generally used in Europe, Africa, the Middle East, and Asiatic U.S.S.R. Medium wave (mw) frequencies are between 500 and 1,600 khz and are used on all continents. Shortwave (sw) frequencies are between 1,600 and 30,000 khz and are used for domestic broadcasting on all continents, especially in tropical areas. On long, medium, and shortwave, the mode of transmission is amplitude modulation (AM). Most foreign frequency modulation (FM) radio broadcasting is on the same frequencies as those used in the U.S., although some countries use a band between 60 and 88 mhz.

Unless shown as commercial (coml), government broadcasting activity identified below is without advertising. Some independent broadcasting organizations, such as the BBC, operate under statutory authority and are so identified. Statutory, nongovernmental broadcasting may be supported by receiver license fees, advertising, subsidies, or a combination.

National Call Sign Allocations by Country

Note: Call sign prefixes are allocated by international agreement. They constitute the first character, or more often, the first two characters of the station's call sign, and thus indicate the country in which the station is located. Every nation in the world has been assigned one or more of these prefix codes. It should be noted, however, that stations are not required to use call signs, and most Eurasian and African nations do not make extensive use of them. In countries that do use calls, some prefixes may be reserved for services other than broadcasting, or not used at all. The United States, for instance, has been allocated exclusive use of "K", "N", and "W", as well as part of the "A" series, but only "K" and "W" are employed to identify broadcasting stations.

The Traveling Museum.

More than 8 million people saw the Smithsonian Institution last year... without coming to Washington, D.C.

They visited one of more than 200 exciting and informative exhibitions which the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service (SITES) circulates around the country.

Just about any organization in any community can sponsor a Smithsonian traveling exhibition. And there's a wide variety of artistic, historical and scientific topics to appeal to a specific group or a general audience.

Now, many more Americans can enjoy the benefits of a trip to the Smithsonian ...right in their own home towns.

It's just another way the Smithsonian is helping Americans to know their world better.

For more information about the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service, write to SITES, Department PS, Washington, D.C. 20560. SITES is a professional service of the Smithsonian Institution.
