fame and fortune . . .

In each field there is one product that is recognized as the most distinguished in its sphere—the accepted peer among all others of its kind.

The single word that expresses the utmost in fine jewelry is TIFFANY.

In automobiles it is CADILLAC.

Among publications for industry and business it is FORTUNE.

And among annual trade publications for the field of motion pictures, radio and television it is FAME.

There is an indefinable, but nevertheless definite, extra measure of benefit—a greater prestige value derived by the many who make appropriate use of the pages of FAME. It represents a rewarding opportunity—an investment that pays well and soundly!

FAME is a Quigley Publication

Better Theatres

The authoritative Equipment and Refreshment Section of —

MOTION PICTURE HERALD

Published monthly as a section of the Herald, BETTER THEATRES is unquestionably the best read publication on theatre design, equipment and maintenance.

Reaches The
People Who Count—
The People
Who BUY!

Enjoying as it does the soundly entrenched, solid circulation of MOTION PICTURE HERALD, the BETTER THEATRES section has throughout the years performed in the Quigley tradition of progressive pioneering and influential leadership.

That these are not so many words is evident from the long list of now-accepted standards of design, equipment and maintenance which have become established in many thousands of the nation's theatres — and which were first advocated or received their greatest impetus through vigorous editorial campaigns in BETTER THEATRES.

BETTER REFRESHMENT MERCHANDISING is a special department in every issue of the HERALD — the pioneer in this important specialty. (Just as BETTER THEATRES was the first trade paper section devoted to the physical theatre.)

A
Publication

Watch for further additions to the long list of pace-setting innovations in the HERALD and BETTER THEATRES.

TV Channel Allocations

ON April 13, 1952, the Federal Communications Commission announced lifting of the "freeze" on new television station construction which had been in effect since September 30, 1948. In so doing, it also made public the allocation of the new ultra-high frequency channels and some changes in the existing very-high frequency bands. Theoretically, allocation of the ultra-high frequency channels makes possible 2,053 new stations in 1,291 communities. This includes 242 exclusive educational outlets and is in addition to the 108 TV stations then on the air. Following is the complete list of cities and the channels assigned to each. The population of each community is given in parentheses. The asterisk (*) preceding a channel number indicates a frequency reserved for educational use.

You can play it either way...

Some products call for TV commercials that sell fortissimo—with force and directness.

Others are better suited to the pianissimo approach—using commercials that sell softly, with ingratiating indirectness, charm and mood. And being able to create both types is important.

It's even more important to know when to use which, if you want your sales to end up bravissimo!

TELEVISION IN CANADA

Toronto, September, 1958

A MILESTONE in Canadian television may be reached this year with the promised opening of second TV stations in the key centres of the country. This, a much-debated question, will break the monopoly now held by the state-owned Canadian Broadcasting Corp. It makes available more showcases for advertisers and film distributors. There is only one station to a city at present.

The Government also proposes to separate the regulatory functions of the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. from its operational functions. A separate regulatory body will be set up by the Government that will deal with licenses and regulations.

These changes in the TV operation are the result of a combination of recommendations by the Fowler Commission on Broadcasting in Canada which made a months-long study of the industry in Canada, and its report provides a blueprint for the future of TV in this country.

Canadian TV viewing is still mostly a night-time project. Many expected that stations would open earlier in the day than at the supper-hour, but viewers and advertisers didn't respond to the degree that the stations had hoped.

Color-TV and Pay-TV are still very much discussed subjects here, with Pay-TV to be given its first trial in the fall, 1958, in London, Ont., by Telemeter, a subsidiary of Famous Players Canadian Corp., the country's largest theatre chain. This company, owned 51 per cent by Paramount Pictures, also controls three TV stations in Canada.

There is no color TV as yet, but most of the 52 stations including five satellites are joined by the longest microwave network in the world, stretching from Sydney, N. S., to Victoria, B. C., which opened July 1, 1958.

This year will see the first of a series of programs produced in Canada, exported to the United States. These programs, a dramatic series, will be produced by the Canadian Broadcasting Corp., and fed to the American Broadcasting Company, according to present reports.

Three TV film series have been produced in this country, with two more on the books for this year. Television Programs of America, through its Normandie Productions here, with two series under its belt already, plans one; Crawley Films will get into its first TV film venture with an official series on the RCMP.

As of March 31, 1958, TV stations in Canada covered 92 per cent. of households in Canada. These include stations recommended and not in operation. A total of 2,990,000 French and English households in Canada with TV, constitute 71 per cent. of all households in the country, while 79 per cent. households in the TV area have TV.

THE BRITISH YEAR IN REVIEW

by PETER BURNUP

London, September, 1958

BRITAIN boasts the world's deepest penetration of television among its populace. British Broadcasting Corporation's service, operating 18 transmitters, covers approximately 98 per cent of the population of the United Kingdom.

Starting from scratch with the passing of the Television Act July 30, 1954, the commercial and competitive service operated by the Independent Television Authority is approaching completion of its national network. By the second half of 1959 the service will be available to 43 million people, or almost 90 per cent of the United Kingdom's population. Commercial television's spectacular and speedy development here is probably unsurpassed in the field of mass entertainment. It is also abundant justification of Sir Winston Churchill's momentous and sagacious declaration that "in the expanding field of television an element of competition had become desirable."

The proposed introduction of a competitor to the somewhat prim and virtually Government-owned and controlled BBC Television Service became the occasion of embittered debate conducted in near-religious fervour; particularly having regard to the circumstance that the proposed service would derive its revenue from commercial advertising, whereas the BBC was sustained entirely out of money arising from the fees payable for domestic reception licences.

The debate cut sharply across all party loyalties, with the bitter allegation thrown around that the commercial system would lead inevitably to the debasement of moral and artistic standards. In the event and in accordance with the enabling Act of Parliament, the Independent Television Authority became hedged round with forbidding provisions as stringent as those applied to the BBC. Echoes of the original bitter condemnations are still in currency and Sir Robert Fraser, director-general of I.T.A. complains that "ancestral voices have once more been heard putting independent television firmly in its place, awarding it a sort of second-class moral status, circulating the idea that there is something radically lower in character and aim in independent television than in the BBC". All of which despite, realist-minded persons concede that it is the suffrages of the populace which matter most. And the public verdict is clear beyond peradventure. Even the BBC itself is now constrained to agree.

A recent report published by the corporation shows that of the 14,200,000 viewers with a choice of BBC or Independent Television programmes, 64 per cent watched I.T.V. and 36 per cent the BBC between April and June, 1958. In the previous quarter the proportion was BBC-38, ITV 62, and in the quarter before, BBC 34, ITV 66. The BBC consoles itself to some extent with the knowledge that there are normally three adults watching BBC in the evening for every two ITV viewers. Nevertheless, the verdict of the public tribune stands and there is the additional witness of the financial success which has attended the commercial service.

Following initial and considerable losses, the original programme contractors now show lush profits, in spite of rising costs of programming and the heavy overheads involved in part time transmitting. Associated Television records an operating profit of over £4 million for the year to April, 1958. Associated British Picture Corporation (which holds all the ordinary capital of ABC Television) increased its year's profit from £421,000 to £1.2 million and it is understood that Granada and Associated-Rediffusion (the other two largest programme contractors) show trading profits of £2 million and £3 million respectively.

So unexpectedly lush are those profits that any difficulties now awaiting the ITV companies may well be political as much as economic. A future Government, it is said, might easily think of special taxation, or some other measure equally displeasing to the companies. The success of the commercial network, nevertheless, lifts into the sphere of the practicalities the question of a third national TV programme.

The decision of how soon a third system might be established and by whom it should be operated rests with the Government alone. As long ago as 1952 the BBC laid a pre-emptive claim to the currently unused waveband and lately officially declared that "if the BBC is to have elbow room to carry on the long term policy of cultivating minority appeal, a second television service is essential." The commercial system also, not unnaturally, made a claim for more air space. Although the Government has yet to make known its own views it is obvious that preparatory steps thereto are already taking place. The only practicable channels now available are four in Band III which hitherto have been occupied by business radio services, mobile taxicabs and experimental services. The channels are in process of being cleared of their present incumbents.

It is understood that the appointment of a committee of inquiry to assist the Government in the matter is under active consideration. But a certain element of urgency arises. The BBC charter is due for renewal in 1962, that of ITA in 1964.

The system known as Eurovision made giant strides in 1958, as was evidenced in the viewing figures in connection with the series of football matches played in Sweden in June of the year for the World Cup championship. Members of the Eurovision link had paid £103,500 for the TV rights. No fewer than 9½ million people watched certain of the games on the BBC network. Comparable figures were reported in every European country subscribing to the link.

ITA and its programme contractors lament that they cannot participate in Eurovision exchanges unless they are prepared to "insulate" from advertising only programmes received from or supplied to other member countries. They are taking steps, their director general says, to seek a modification in the practices of the European Broadcasting Union, which would take account of the special methods of financing ITA established in the controlling Act of Parliament.

How soon practicable colour television may become a reality here remains stubbornly among the imponderables. Over a term of years the BBC and certain equipment manufacturers have been carrying out independent research into the medium with, reportedly, varying though generally satisfying results. But two separate circumstances militate heavily against the development.

The Government has yet to give its view on what type of system should be adopted for a United Kingdom colour service; the question being whether to adopt the Continental 625-line picture definition, or to perpetuate a compatible service on the present 405-line picture definition. The over-riding circumstance is, however, the price that would be asked for a colour receiver which, under the most favourable conditions, would be three times that now asked for a normal black and white set. That, having regard to the uncertain economic outlook here and the continuing restriction of hire purchase operations, would appear to put colour TV out of court in the foreseeable future.

Notoriously, the advent and spectacular growth of commercial television here is the greatest single contributory to the catastrophic decline in admissions to motion picture theatres; indeed the rising graph in the number of domestic reception licenses has corresponded precisely throughout the last three years, though in inverse ratio, to that of theatre admissions. Theatremen nevertheless admit freely that box office prosperity during and immediately after World War II was wholly abnormal, with the corollary that a period of reappraisal, agonising or otherwise, had become inevitable.

Authorities like the Rank Organisation's realist John Davis concede that in the field of mass entertainment television is the first medium which has competed with the cinema for the mass audience. In his analysis of the situation, Mr. Davis sees three phases in its development.

At the outset, by reason of the novelty and, additionally, hire-purchase commitments of viewers the impact was startling and far-reaching. In the intermediate phase, the gloss of novelty having worn off, show business—namely, the drawing power of a show—exerted itself. The public once again became selective and discerned the immense advantage of the cinema over television, given first rate films screened under ideal conditions. Mr. Davis declined to be drawn in regard to the ultimate of his three phases. He maintains that television's competitive power has been obscured by the sale of huge numbers of old American films to world television services, particularly in the U.S. and in this country.

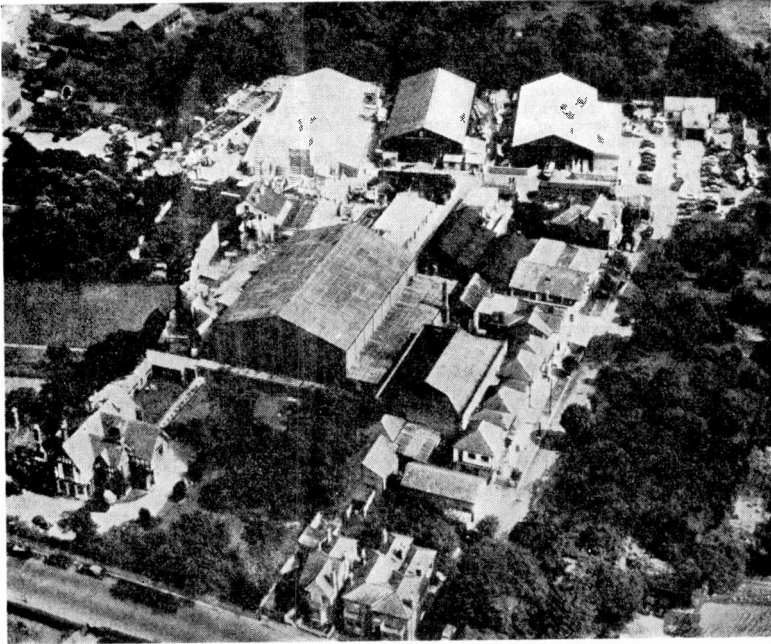

Britain's motion picture exhibitors, irked by what they characterised as unfair competition involved in American distributors unloading backlogs of feature films to television programme contractors, took drastic action and, surprisingly to many, enlisted distributors (albeit with a degree of reluctance among the latter) to their aid. An organisation was formed under the name of the Film Industry Defence Organisation Ltd whose function is to purchase any feature film putatively on offer to television interests. Finance for the operation is found from a levy of one farthing on all paid admissions other than children's matinees or charity performances or where a theatre's weekly net takings are less than £200. ($560.00). The Kinematograph Renters' Society—mainly comprised of American distributors—agreed that its members should incorporate a clause in all renting contracts ensuring payment.

Mr. Davis believes that, in the ultimate outcome, a marriage will be arranged between the two industries; a marriage, he says, of knowledge, techniques and know-how, although the markets and the finished product will be quite different. Television undoubtedly, Mr. Davis adds, has had an effect upon taste and the public is clearly demanding from the cinema something "different" from that which it can see on the television screen free for nothing at home. That is an exciting new development, the Rank Organisation chief maintains, which will encourage the creative people of the motion picture industry to make better films to meet this demand.

Integration of established motion picture interests with commercial TV clearly develops as a singularly profitable operation.

One surprising though dramatic witness to the cultural responsibility current among commercial TV contractors is seen in a just made announcement that the companies are to contribute "at least" £100,000 to the arts.

ARGENTINA

Argentina still has only one TV channel, located in Buenos Aires. It transmits about nine hours of programming daily, except on Saturdays and Sundays, when the total is increased to 15 hours.

Plans are under study now for the establishment of four more stations in Buenos Aires, probably during the current year, as well as stations in Mar del Plata, Mendoza, Bahia Blanca, Rosario and Cordoba.

According to best estimates there are about 180,000 TV receivers in use in Buenos Aires and surrounding towns.

Of the total programming approximately 70% are live shows and 30% film, the latter mostly of American origin dubbed in Spanish. These include Rin Tin Tin, Jungle Jim, Texas Ranger's, I Love Lucy, Cisco Kid, Highway Patrol, Father Knows Best, Sheriff of Cochise, Lassie, etc. The feature films shown are mostly Argentine, Italian, French, Spanish, Czech, Russian and some independent American product.

The popularity of TV is constantly increasing and many million pesos are invested yearly in publicity.

AUSTRALIA

Television is booming in Australia. The situation here differs from overseas in several ways, one being that national as well as commercial stations operate, another being in the control of the commercial stations. Here, newspaper interests control TV for the most part. In Sydney, Consolidated Press controls Channel 9 (TCN) and Associated Newspapers controls Channel 7 (ATN). In Melbourne, the Sun-Herald owns HSV while the other commercial station is run by a very mixed group which includes movie, radio and legitimate theatre interests. National stations are ABN (Sydney, Channel 12) and ABV (Melbourne).

There are now in excess of 220,000 television licenses in Sydney and Melbourne and the number is growing rapidly. TV is Australia's boom industry and is directly responsible for the tremendous growth in hire purchase spending in recent years. Things have reached the stage where TV is probably the nation's biggest advertiser, at least in Sydney and Melbourne and is going very heavily for radio time. However, there have been a large number of sets returned because the payments could not be kept up (the average set in Australia comes higher priced than an American color set to U.S. buyers) and some hire purchase companies are reported tightening up on their latitude to purchasers of sets.

Australia gets the top American programmes, Steve Allan, Dinah Shore, Rin Tin Tin, Disney and many more. Movies are used a good deal.

TV, combined with hire purchase of sets, has had a marked effect in movie business and has more sharply drawn the line between survival and failure. One theatre has closed for the winter months in the Sydney suburb of Maroubra and its closure is attributed to the inroads of TV.

With sets being bought in great numbers every week, with new stations about to be built in two more major cities, and with extension being mooted for rural areas, TV can be said to be definitely the coming entertainment medium.

—FRANK O'CONNELL

AUSTRIA

During the past 18 months in Austria, government owned and operated television has made considerable progress. The number of receivers has greatly increased, particularly in the first six months of 1958. The actual number of registered sets stands at 32,868, plus an estimated 5,000 non-licensed. Since a considerable number of sets are being operated in public places, it is estimated that approximately 35% of the total population is being reached.

An average of three hours and 45 minutes of programming is produced daily at three major production centers in Vienna and relayed over 8 strategically located broadcasting towers. The mountainous character of the country creates considerable technical difficulties, all of which however are rapidly being overcome. Studio and production equipment are as yet inadequate, due to limited funds available, but great efforts are made to overcome any existing shortcomings.

Of all programs, 45 to 50% originate live, 20 to 25% film and 20 to 25% are participation programs in Eurovision or programs taken over directly from neighbouring Germany. Among the live programs, an effort has been made in direct transmissions from many of the numerous legitimate stages, with an average of three stage plays a month from Vienna theatres. During the Summer of 1958 opera, as well as stage plays, were successfully transmitted directly from the famous Salzburg Festival.

There is no commercial television in Austria as yet and none contemplated for the immediate future. However, it is realized that sooner or later, a certain amount of commercial participation is inevitable.

It is noteworthy the Austrian Television programs reach a sizable audience in Czechoslovakia and Hungary, and viewers in Czechoslovakia particularly participate eagerly in Austrian quiz programs. In recent months several prizes were won by Czechoslovakian viewers.

—GEORGE J. WINNER

BELGIUM

A couple of years ago, the first experimental TV broadcasts began in this country. As a result, video is now in its official operation phase. From the 1st of January, 1958, all those who are in possession of a TV set are obliged to pay a tax of 840 Fr. a year, —about $16.50—which allows them to follow all the broadcasts.

The interest in the new medium is continually increasing and follows a strongly rising line, notwithstanding the still high cost of an installation. A really good TV set costs about 20,000 Fr.—$450—and for a decent antenna one has to pay about 8,000 Fr.—$160. This means, that a complete installation costs as much as 28,000 Fr.—$560.

Belgium runs two official TV broadcasting stations under state control, one in the Dutch and the other in the French language. Very often, programs from Holland and France are taken over by our national stations, in such a way, that a really fruitful interchange with our neighbor countries is brought about.

Though the artistic quality of the programs is still not very high, and though by no means does it come up to expectations, it is constantly growing in a manner which gives good hope for the future.

An agreement has been concluded with the motion picture industry, which has allowed the TV broadcasting of motion pictures whose theatrical possibilities are thought to be exhausted. An exception is made for purely aesthetic or very artistic pictures, whose exploitation in a normal theatre is not possible. Such motion pictures are allowed to be programmed by TV.

The number of TV sets sold has now exceeded 400,000, and everything points to the possibility, that within a couple of years, this number may be doubled. If this expansion keeps on, it is to be supposed that within five years or so, every Belgian family will have a TV set at its disposal.

BRAZIL

Presently, the number of viewers in Brazil is figured at around 300,000 in São Paulo, 150,000 in Rio de Janeiro and 20,000 in Belo Horizonte, which are the only cities having TV stations. So far, there are no relay towers in the country. All of the TV stations are of private ownership, and there are no government-owned stations.

Popular enthusiasm for television has grown considerably since last year, although the number of TV receivers in the cities which have telecasting stations is still very small as compared to their population. Programs have improved and diversified since the introduction of quiz shows of the "$64,000 Question" kind.

The existing TV stations are:

Rio de Janeiro—TV Tupi—owned by Emissoras Associadas (Associated Broadcasting Stations)—manager Fernando Chateaubriand.

São Paulo—TV Tupi—owned by Emissoras Associadas—manager Edmundo Monteiro;—TV Record—manager Paulo Machado de Carvalho;—TV Paulista—manager Vitor Costa.

Belo Horizonte—TV Itacolomi—owned by Emissoras Associadas.

DENMARK

Total number of receivers in Denmark: 100,000 (May 1, 1958)

Total number of commercial TV stations: None.

Total number of Government stations: 1.

Total coverage: 80% of population.

The Government station now has five transmitters covering about 90% of the population.

Two years ago 4,000 receivers were going, in 1958 22,000 and now 100,000. Since Danish television was connected with Eurovision in the autumn 1956 the number of receivers has been increased steadily by 1,500-2,000 a week. Competition from TV can now be registered in the film trade, and negotiations are taking place between TV and the Danish film organizations. Up to now it is prohibited to sell feature films to television for all organized distributors. Only extracts of up to 300 meters may be shown.

Taxation on television receivers is 15 percent of the wholesale price, including a tax of kr.3.15 per tube in each receiver. The license to the State is d.kr.55.—per year as against kr.20.—for radio sets. Television has about 10 weekly sending hours plus coverage of various sports and other topical events. Television is controlled by the State, and there is no advertising in the programmes.

FINLAND

During April, 1957, tests began for the new Finnish TV. Ordinary TV programs began in the autumn of 1957—officially, Southern Finland can see programs from Soviet-Estonia; the Southwest Finland from Stockholm; and the east of Finland from Leningrad, USSR. A television set owner in Helsinki can now see TV programs every day in the week,—without paying any licenses. The Finnish radio plans to build a TV-network during the years to 1960. Then shall the whole of Southern Finland—with the half of the population of the country—2,000,000—see the Finnish TV. Part of the programs shall be sponsored, the Finnish Radio Network will sell some of the TV-time to interested companies. How it will work we shall be able to see in about a year.

—SVEN G. WINQUIST

FRANCE

There has been an important increase recently in the number of TV sets in operation in France.

On May 31, 1958, there were 795,000 registered TV sets and it is estimated there are at least another 70,000 unregistered. These unregistered sets will be rooted out by the authorities because they don't pay the TV tax. Most of them will eventually pay so the approximate figure of 865,000 sets is probably nearer the mark.

Of these, 9,000 are installed in cafés and public places.

One reason for the relative slowness of development is that the French government has chosen the 819 line-cycle which is more costly to produce than, for example, the 625.

The aim is that France should have the best quality sets even though they might cost a little more. This is holding up sales. The effects of credit restrictions due to the financial situation will not be felt for some time, but it is expected to hinder the development of sales to some extent.

The most important news this year has been the purchase of Monte Carlo TV by the French government network.

The Monte Carlo station, which is on the periphery of France, was independent and carried advertising. It was not a financial success and after difficult negotiations, in which at one time an American system was involved, the French government bought out the station. This means that there is now no TV advertising beamed on France.

The whole of France is now virtually covered by TV and the question of a second channel is under consideration. It is too early to give any details. It is not certain whether this channel, if and when it is established, would be government owned or private. All TV in France is, of course, state-owned now.

In any case a special law will have to be voted permitting commercial TV. Eurovision is developing rapidly. Sweden is the latest country to join and sport provides the bulk of the programmes.

GERMANY

Television is fast coming forward in Germany. The number of registered receivers, which passed the million mark in November, 1957, was up to 1,570,000 on May 1, 1958. With one set to every 33 inhabitants, Germany has now reached second place in Europe after Great Britain. Some 808,000 sets were produced in 1957, of which 179,000 were exported, mainly to other European countries. The average price per set is $140. Thus television is by no means confined to upper income brackets. Rather, on the contrary, it seems to be most popular among the lower and middle income groups.

In Germany, television is in the hands of the nine existing broadcasting companies, which are licensed regionally but are otherwise independent and politically neutral. There is so far only one program of about four hours daily, to which seven of these companies contribute. In addition, each station daily carries about a half hour of programming of regional interest. A second general program is envisaged, but whether it is to have the same sponsors as the first one (as the broadcasting stations, the churches and some political parties wish), or private sponsors (as industry wishes), or whether it will be a national station (as the government wishes), is at present still the subject of a lively public controversy.

The present program, which was initiated in 1954, has no doubt improved in recent years, but it still is somewhat provincial and could well stand competition. According to opinion polls, nearly half of the audience is not satisfied with the program while more than half say they are.

Motion picture theatres are just beginning to feel the competition of the new medium. While the presentation of current features is, by agreement, limited to six minute runs, 57 pictures of other categories were televised in 1957. For the first time since the war theatre attendance, which used to increase six to 10 per cent annually, has stagnated in 1957. On the other hand, some motion picture producers have taken on casting features for television.

No doubt, television in Germany, as elsewhere, is looking forward to what seems a bright and promising future.

HOLLAND

The influence of television in Holland is rapidly increasing. The number of sets at this moment is already more than 300,000, which figure, in comparison to others countries, is thought to be quite significant. (Holland has a total population of about 11 million people). There is not yet any commercial TV.

TV in Holland is organized by the Nederlandse Televisie Stichting (NTS), under governmental control, with five sub-divisions: a Roman-Catholic section, a Protestant section, a political (social democratic) section, another Christian division and a neutral section. The broadcasting companies, K.R.O., N.C.R.V., V.A.R.A., V.P.R.O. and A.V.R.O., represented by these divisions, want to keep their influence on TV.

The approximate cost of a TV set, antennae included, is from fl. 650,—to fl. 1,800.—($1 is fl. 3.80). A yearly contribution of fl. 30.—is due by the owners of a set, to be paid to the government.

Feature films are programmed once a week, on Tuesday night. These pictures are old ones (non-American), though of post war vintage. A considerable number of Rank pictures are among them, also Italian films, pictures of four to seven years ago. The Dutch trade organization does not permit new pictures to be televised.

Quality of programs is increasing. Competition to motion pictures is obviously increasing, though the Dutch trade organization is following the development closely.

The purchase of TV sets by installment buying is still popular, otherwise the increase of the number of sets could not have been effected. The Dutch TV station is in Bussum. The most important directors are Max Douwes, Ger Lugtenburg, Fred Bredschneider, Ben Steggerda, Peter Koen, Gijs Stapperschoef and Wim Bary.

Philips is a big manufacturer of TV sets.

IRELAND

In the Republic of Ireland where all broadcasting is a State monopoly, there is no telecasting service, but there are 30,000 owners of domestic TV receivers. These are tuned in to Northern Ireland's BBC-TV station from distances up to 150 miles, or to the BBC and British Commercial stations across the Irish Sea in Birmingham, England, 190 miles away.

Reception from Northern Ireland is reasonably good, but that from Birmingham depends on fine weather conditions. Nevertheless the sales of TV receivers are increasing.

Pressure from domestic viewers and from the Irish TV manufacturing firms (one of which exports to Britain) has forced the government to consider the establishment of a TV transmitting service.

The government agrees that the advent of such a service is inevitable, but considers the costs too high for its overloaded budget, yet it refuses to allow commercial interests supply a service.

Rival local and American interests have each offered to provide a TV station and programme service if given rights to earn revenue from sponsored material.

A government commission has been set up to examine the different propositions and to find a solution which can best relieve the taxpayer, yet leave the government as much control of programmes as possible.

The cinema trade protests that any kind of TV service must inevitably be state financed increasing the taxpayers' already overloaded burden. Advertising experts assert that TV must depend on sponsored programmes, and that in this small country the transfer of ads from press to TV screen will kill provincial newspapers and many local publications.

Meanwhile the sale of TV receiving sets continues steadily.

—TOM SHEEHY

ISRAEL

There is still no television service in this country, nor is any contemplated in the immediate future. This year, however, negotiations were reported to have been held with RCA and a French company with a view to the eventual establishment of a service. No details of the negotiations were announced.

—ALBERT de MATALON

ITALY

Italian television is little more than five years old. Its impact and influence can be gauged by the way each political party monitored the news broadcasts during the 1958 election campaign to see that the seconds of air time were evenly distributed. (The Prime Minister had earlier decided that there would be no actual campaigning permitted on TV.)

Ninety-six percent of the peninsula and Sicily receive the programs of RAI-TV, the government network. Such good coverage in a mountainous country is made possible by nearly 300 transmitters. Wealthy private groups are at present suing the government in an effort to break the TV monopoly. But since the government can not be sued without its permission, it seems unlikely that the present monopoly will be threatened for some time. It is patterned on the RAI radio monopoly which, however, was never absolute because of the existence of Radio Vatican and the Italian-language broadcasts from other European countries.

At present RAI-TV operates only one channel. Programs ordinarily begin at 5 P.M. and terminate usually around midnight. On Sundays programs begin earlier to include a sports event. Italy frequently joins Eurovision for a special events hookup with other countries.

Commercials are permitted for 10 minutes each day and all are confined to one short musical program. In spite of this cramming, there is a waiting list of would-be sponsors.

The number of sets in Italy is expected officially to pass the million mark soon. Each set owner is required to pay (as in radio) an annual subscription of about $22. If one assumes that there is some bootlegging of sets, the actual number may have passed the million mark months ago.

The number of viewers for each receiver is higher here than in the U.S. because the cost of the cheapest 17-inch, Italian-made set ($200) forces most people to watch their favorite programs in bars and cafes. The most popular shows are also shown in the neighborhood movie theatres.

In quality, Italian TV is usually conceded to be the best on the Continent. One explanation for this is that the government has given it its full support from the beginning. Another explanation is that its best programs are still unblushingly modeled on American shows. For three years the equivalent of the "$64,000 Question" was the leader here. Now it has been supplanted by "Twenty-One" and "Name that Tune." Some American kinescopes have been shown here (either dubbed or with a superimposed spoken commentary) to great success. Full-length operas (complete with 20-minute intermissions of silence) are often given.

In the early days Turin, Milan and Rome equally contributed to the programs. Today signs indicate that Rome will soon dominate.

Censorship became a major issue in 1957 and it is more severe than for films, with the Vatican frequently scolding the network. Pope Pius XII was given a gold-encased TV set three years ago by American Catholics and he is said to take an active interest in this new force of communication and propaganda. In that respect, His Holiness is like any other Italian.

JAPAN

Japan's rapidly expanding television industry now has 68 stations on the air of which 23 are government-owned and supported by a monthly toll of 83¢ collected from the more than 1,500,000 owners of TV sets whether they listen to the "official" stations or not. By the end of 1959 plans call for 108 TV stations to be on the air of which 50 will be government stations.

What the planners envisage is a web of microwave and cable circuits covering the four main islands that comprise Japan so that 90% of the country's 90 million population will be served.

It would appear that it will not be long until Japan's TV industry will be second only to that of the U.S. in the number of stations and people served.

The Japanese people are wild about TV as entertainment and possession of a set is taken as a sign of high social standing and prosperity since the cheapest sets are equal to two months pay for the average white collar worker. These 14-inch "off-brand" sets sell for about $100 while "name" brands bring almost twice this price, with 17-inch and 21-inch sets running considerably higher. The sets are manufactured in their entirety in Japan with the exception of glass blanks for picture tubes which are usually brought from the U.S. A small export trade in TV sets is carried out since non-payment of local excise and sales taxes bring the sets down to competitive levels and price cuts under domestic levels are usually made for the international market.

Commercial stations in Tokyo charge $833 for 30 minutes air time compared to $500 in the smaller cities, and the cost for mounting a half-hour production is around $1,100 since wages for talent and TV crews are relatively low.

The Japanese take great pride in the new Tokyo TV Tower, modelled along the lines of the Eiffel Tower but topping that, 1,050-foot structure by 10 feet. Their tower is topped only by the antennas atop the Empire State and Chrysler buildings and a TV tower in Oklahoma. An elevator carries sightseers to the top and TV studios and recreation facilities are built into its lower reaches.

Almost all of the TV shows imported are American and two-thirds of these are dubbed into Japanese while the rest carry superimposed captions in Japanese so that the audience may understand them. Among the most popular programs are: "Heckle and Jeckle", "Mighty Mouse", "I Love Lucy", "Science Fiction Theatre", "Superman", "Alfred Hitchcock Presents", and "Dr. Christian."

Of the local programs, sports—baseball or Japanese-style wrestling—get the biggest audiences followed by samurai dramas, Japanese music and jazz musical shows. The TV stations usually are on the air about 9 hours daily in the morning, noon and evening weekdays with full schedules on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. Though American studio equipment is usually used, the Japanese are manufacturing some broadcast items. American TV receivers can be used after minor alterations because the Japanese use the same 525-line scanning system. There is no Trendex system in use and the most popular performers are not "made" in TV but come from the stage, movies and recording companies. Trade organizations include the National Association of Commercial TV Broadcasters, Kosoku-doro Building, 8, 7-chrome Nishi Ginza, Tokyo, and Broadcasting Corporation of Japan (in charge of government stations). NHK, 2 Uchisaiwai-cho Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo.

MEXICO

Television in Mexico is becoming more and more popular. Stars born to fame on the electronic screens, are now as popular and beloved as the movie idols of old days. Payment for TV acting has, of course, reached a new high lately, and big sums of money are being offered to popular film stars in an effort to lure them into TV activities.

Mr. Oton Velez, Jr., one of the chiefs of the Mexican radio industry, stated recently that radio and television are by no means enemies, nor will TV in time displace radio from the Mexican home. "Radio," he says, "has a field of its own, and so does TV." But despite this authorized opinion, it is a fact that more and more people are buying high-price TV sets, and staying home evenings around a TV screen.

Recently, Ray Milland and Gregorio Wallerstein, ace Mexican film producer, joined forces to produce bilingual long and short films for TV, domestic and foreign. NBC of New York, is reported to be investing 26 million pesos in the production of 52 half-hour programs, a series called "Super-Circus", in this country. The Ministry of Communications has received recently eight new petitions for authorizations to establish TV stations in Mexico: two in Ciudad Obregon, and two in Hermosillo, both in Sonora state; one in Monterrey; one in Ciudad Juarez and one in Chihuahua City; one in Piedras Negras, Coahuila state.

All these circumstances form a good index of the prosperous condition of TV in Mexico.

A Mexican Company, Industrias Nacionales del Sonido, S.A., has obtained from the Ministry of National Economy, permission to operate a factory for the manufacture of television sets—where every single part of these machines will be made, free from taxes. This means that TV sets will now be produced at a much lower cost than the imported ones, and even people with very limited means will now be able to get one. It is the purpose of the Ministry in granting this concession to further popularize TV in Mexico until, they say, it reaches every single home in Mexico as a means of culture, education and amusement.

NEW ZEALAND

Even the Labour Party which had openly advocated an immediate start for TV, went into office in 1958, a further postponement has been announced.

The country's economy will not stand the expenditure of the large capitol sums involved in TV installation and programming and it would appear as if TV may be several years away yet. In the meantime, experimental TV is being demonstrated and several large radio firms are already equipped to swing over to set production at short notice.

The drop in overseas prices for primary products, wool, butter and cheese, has caused New Zealand to draw in its belt and do without "extras" for the time being.

A close watch is being kept on TV development in United States, Great Britain and Australia so that when New Zealand does okay TV, it will have avoided many of the headaches and will benefit considerably from the experience of others.

No decision has yet been made whether the U.S. 525- or British 405-line systems of TV will be adopted, but this will undoubtedly be largely influenced by the amount and quality of the programme material offering. No doubt, also, the fact that Australia has adopted a 625-line, 50-frame per second system will have a big bearing on New Zealand's ultimate choice.

There is no public agitation for haste and the marking time policy seems to have been well received.

—R. A. USMAR

NORWAY

The Norwegian government's development of TV is proceeding, although slowly. At present approximately 70 sets are spread around southern Norway bordering the capital of Oslo, most of them sponsored sets for their own technicians. Key-personnel has been appointed and try-out programmes are scheduled once in a while.

Hilly Norway is giving plenty of head-aches to technicians, and an unusual and expensive array of relays must most probably be constructed in times to come.

It is hoped that regular service might perhaps be in operation around 1960. While trades and business are requesting that the future TV shall accept commercials, the government people want to keep the station strictly off business and advertising, covering expenses from TV's own subscribers as well as with money from the non-commercial radio station, which each year gives quite a few millions in surplus.

—FINN NYMAN

PUERTO RICO

There are about 100,000 television sets in Puerto Rico, for a population of 2,300,000. Most of the public places such as restaurants, clubs, have television sets for their patrons and the medium is available in local hotels upon request.

Even though most Puerto Ricans know English, and the number of persons who will acquire a working knowledge of English will increase considerably through intensification of English instruction in public schools and the migration of Puerto Rican families to the United States, and workers who come back from the States with more knowledge of English, television programming is in English and Spanish. WKAQ-TV, owned and operated by the newspaper El Mundo, on channel 4, has 30 per cent programs in English of which 10 per cent have Spanish subtitles.

Kinescope versions of top North American television shows such as I Love Lucy, Schlitz Playhouse of Stars, Public Defender, The Unexpected, Life is Worth Living, Public Prosecutor, etc., are represented on both stations. Most popular are the 64 Dollar Question and Truth or Consequences, and their counterparts in Puerto Rico.

American manufacturers of cigarettes, electric appliances, soaps, detergents, and other products which use television widely have increased their budgets for this type of advertising medium. Consequently the newspapers and magazines have lost advertising revenue.

The reason for this is that the two leading newspapers operating in Puerto Rico have a circulation each not reaching over 100,000, while there are now over 100,000 television sets in operation and the number is increasing considerably.

—E. SANCHEZ ORTIZ

SCOTLAND

Scotland, a lively and world-conscious part of the United Kingdom, with a nationalistic outlook all its own, is being well served by growing television services, both of the British Broadcasting Corporation and independent operators.

As more people become owners of television sets, the number and scope of local programming is increasing, and some healthy rivalry is being indulged in between the BBC-TV organisation and the Scottish Television Limited, an independent group controlled by Roy Thomson, Canadian newspaper owner and radio station chief, and programme contractor for Scotland.

Mr. Thomson has brought a fresh Canadian approach to his television operation, and is capturing a large section of the viewing population, often scoring over the more dignified BBC. His company owns the former Theatre Royal, Glasgow, and has recruited both Scots and Canadians to its staff. The managing-director of Scottish Television is J. M. Coltart, and Rai Purdy is executive programme director. J. Anthony Jelly is director of advertising.

The British Broadcasting Corporation has extensive plans for a new television studio adjoining its sound-broadcasting base at Queen Margaret Drive, Glasgow. Many important programmes are transmitted from the present sound-studios and from a temporary TV studio in the East side of Glasgow. Andrew Stewart is Scottish controller, with Gordon Gildard as head of programmes.

As of July, 1958, there were 604,068 television license-holders in Scotland. The majority of these, were in Glasgow and vicinity, followed by Edinburgh. The BBC-TV network covers the greater part of Scotland. Scottish Television, the commercial station, is planning a greater market as TV signals from its Blackhill transmitter become stronger. It made a good start with fairly thorough coverage of the entire central Scotland area.

The remoter parts of the country are not greatly populated, but commercial TV is scheduled to cover the entire stretch from north to south within a few years. The present estimate is that over 300,000 homes had sets converted to take the independent channel as well as the BBC-TV channel.

—GORDON IRVING

SOUTH AFRICA

The Union of South Africa is still without television service and likely to remain without it for many years in the future. The director general of the South African Broadcasting Corporation has nothing to report on the matter, while the Government says simply that "progressive research and experimentation in the television field has been and still is being carried out, but purely as research and experimentation." The reasons for the TV lag here are many, including the geographical layout of the country, which would make nation-wide service extremely expensive, and the fact that the South African Broadcasting Corporation has been in financial difficulties with just its radio services.

SWEDEN

The Swedish TV began in the Autumn of 1956. One station was organized in Stockholm and one in Gothenburg and these two stations exchange programs. An ordinary TV week in Sweden sees about six hours of "live" programs, plus one or two pictures each week and some serials. Swedish, French, American (USA), British and Soviet pictures have been shown on TV and serials like "I Love Lucy" and "Jungle Jim" and "Patty Page Show".

The future for the Swedish TV seems very promising. As of April, 1958, Sweden has about 100,000 TV sets and it is not impossible that this figure will increase sharply in another year.

—SVEN G. WINQUIST

SWITZERLAND

As of mid-1958, there were 36,739 TV sets in operation in Switzerland, of which 32,484 were in private homes and 4,255 in public places. Five stations are on the air, four in the German language and one in French. Before the end of 1958, two Italian language stations were scheduled to start operations. The Government also has authorized the construction of small repeater and relay stations so that transmissions can cover remote areas.

The French and German language stations schedule about 18 hours of programming a week, of which approximately 70 per cent are live and 30 per cent are film. Some sort of hook-up is contemplated between the French and German language stations with the new Italian language stations to permit an exchange of programming.

All telecasting in Switzerland is government-controlled. There are no commercial operations. The PTT administration is responsible for the transmitters and technical equipment, while the Swiss Broadcasting Corporation handles all programming. Annual licenses cost 84 francs for private sets and 168 for public sets.

—ARTHUR GOEPFERT

TURKEY

Since 1950 the "Istanbul Teknik University" of the Turkish Republic, under the leadership of the dean of the faculty, Prof. Mustafa Santur, has started experiments on television not merely as a lesson but as a preparation for a general interest scheme. In 1951 a 100w Philips set with 625 lines was bought by this University for experiment. Its effect could run 30 kilometres on a straight line. A group of students of the University has started with great enthusiasm. The installations were made and a studio was prepared.

Public television exhibitions have started on an experimentation basis and provoked a real interest not only among the students but among the general public. A little later receivers were placed in the main streets from where the general public could actually see a television program since up to that time they could only read about it. Soon a regular weekly program was broadcast Thursday from 5 to 7 P.M. and the whole affair was regularly organized as a Turkish Television under the direction of Prof. Adnan Ataman, who is actually active in this position.

Since the gift by the "Voice of America" of seven reception sets was made to the Technical University, television programs can be seen in different sections of the city and around it regularly two times a week from the University studios. Besides the public receivers there are about 50 private sets now in Istanbul. There could be sold ten times more if sets were available under the restrictions of importations with foreign currency.

The programs include the fields of education, arts, music, sports and features. It can be said definitely that Television has created a general interest in the Turkish public.

VENEZUELA

There are two commercial television stations in Venezuela.

1. Televisa, Director Jaime Ballentyne, Pres. Gonzalo Veloz Mancera. This station operates on Channels 4, 9 and 11. Channel 4 is in Caracas, Channel 11 is Radio Cultura operating on 5,050 kilocycles, and Channel 9 is Televisa del Zulia. Channel 13 will be operating at the end of the year in Valencia. Marconi equipment is used. All installations were made by Venezuelan engineers after extensive investigations in operation and equipment in England. Channel 4 is the only station that presents a live religious program directed by Padre Francisco Hernandez. Mass is officiated by Padre Hernandez.

2. Radio Caracas, T.V. Director Amable Espina, Channels 2 and 10. RCA equipment is used.

There is one government owned station, Director Dr. Juan Usler Pietri. This operates on Channel 5 and is called Televisora Nacional. This station operates only about three hours and evening, and has no advertising. The programs are documentary and cultural.

To date the average cost of equipment and transmission in Venezuela covering all stations is Bs20,000,000 ($6,000,000.)

All receivers are imported.

Televisa broadcasts 60 hours a week, Radio Caracas 90, and the government station 15. Cost of transmission per hour is Bs1,000.00 ($300). The programs consist of 72 per cent live talent, 28 per cent films. There are about 30 television distributors in the field.

For the first time in several years after a struggle by the operators of the television stations, the field appears to have great possibilities. While the stations are no longer losing money, they are just covering expenses. The future predicts the beginning of financial gains for the first time. Every possible effort is being made by both commercial stations to extend television relays to other cities with a view in the end of covering a 4,000,000 audience or two-thirds of the country's population in the next year and a half.

YUGOSLAVIA

Yugoslavia was to have television finally in September this year. After four years of work in the experimental centers in Belgrade, Zagreb and Ljubljana, the Yugoslav Government insisted that regular television programs must start in September, but at the same time, the television committee received complete funds in domestic and foreign currency for building the studios and to buy three complete television stations, in the United States, Italy and Western Germany.

In Yugoslavia, especially in the frontier regions along the Italian and Austrian borders, reachable by the Italian and Austrian television stations, there are about three hundred television sets now. It would be very hard, though, for the average Yugoslav to part with a "small fortune" to buy a set, costing up to 180,000 dinars ($600). Istra, the major factory for film equipment in Slovenia, promises soon to put on the market a set costing about half that.

The three Yugoslav television stations, with some slight difference in strength, will cover an area including about 6,000,000 of Yugoslavia's 18,000,000 inhabitants.

The main editorial board of Yugoslav television has been already formed, and the editors have been in England, America and Western Europe to gain experience for the work.

The Television Code

Television Code

NEW CODE of standards and practices for the television industry went into effect March 1, 1952 following a series of developments almost a year in the making.

The code is an aftermath of a meeting held in Washington in June, 1951 at which NBC made public a code of its own. Set up as a standard of operations in television, this code bore an essential resemblance to the instrument earlier adopted by the same network for radio broadcasting. Both NBC codes, a Code of Standards adopted for radio by the National Association of Broadcasters—predecessor organization of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters—in Atlantic City in 1947 and now the industry-wide TV code, drew upon the Motion Picture Production Code for their pattern.

Four subcommittees were active in preparation of the television code throughout the summer of 1951. Their tentative draft was approved by the NARTB board in September and a final polishing job undertaken in Washington shortly before the text was ratified in Chicago, October 19, 1951.

The TV code provides for a review board consisting of five members of NARTB. This board is empowered to enforce the rules governing programming and advertising. There will be issued a Seal of Approval, available to subscribing members whether affiliated with NARTB or not. While the power to hold in check unfair and unscrupulous acts will be vested in the Review Board, the common impression in television is that this will be largely an unwritten power.

Intensive promotion on behalf of the seal is contemplated. Subscribing stations will be permitted to televise it so long as they adhere to the code itself. The Review Board will be charged with the policing task and report violations to the board of directors of NARTB who will be empowered to revoke the seal by a two-thirds' vote from which there will be no appeal.

In those phases that deal with programming and its approaches, the code bears striking similarity to the Motion Picture Production Code, conceived and formulated in 1929 by Martin Quigley, and ratified by the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors Association of America, Inc. which became the Motion Picture Association of America, Inc. late in 1945 when Eric Johnston was named president.

Meeting in Bandera, Tex. in February, TV board members of NARTB approved a review board of five and adopted a plan for financing administration of the code as well as an operating budget of $40,000 for the first year of operations.

The review board, designed to be a preliminary hearing group in considering complaints that specific TV programs and advertising practices violate the code, included the following:

John E. Fetzer, owner of TV station WKZO-TV at Kalamazoo, as the chairman; J. Leonard Reinsich, vice-president, WSB, Atlanta; Mrs. Scott Bullitt, owner of KING-TV, Seattle; William B. Quarton, vice-president and general manager, WMT-TV, Cedar Rapids and G. Richard Shaffo, president of WIS-TV, Columbia, S. C.

Under the financing plan, each subscribing TV station pays $405 a year. If it is an NARTB member, $250 of this is credited against NARTB dues, leaving $155 for defraying code administration costs.

The Code is copyrighted by the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters. It is reprinted with the permission of the Television Code Review Board.

Text of the revised code follows:

Preamble

Television is seen and heard in every type of American home. These homes include children and adults of all ages, embrace all races and all varieties of religious faith, and reach those of every educational background. It is the responsibility of television to bear constantly in mind that the audience is primarily a home audience, and consequently that television's relationship to the viewers is that between guest and host.

The revenues from advertising support the free, competitive American system of telecasting, and make available to the eyes and ears of the American people the finest programs of information, education, culture and entertainment. By law the television broadcaster is responsible for the programming of his station. He, however, is obligated to bring his positive responsibility for excellence and good taste in programming to bear upon all who have a hand in the production of programs, including networks, sponsors, producers of film and of live programs, advertising agencies, and talent agencies.

The American businesses which utilize television for conveying their advertising messages to the home by pictures with sound, seen free-of-charge on the home screen, are reminded that their responsibilities are not limited to the sale of goods and the creation of a favorable attitude toward the sponsor by the presentation of entertainment. They include, as well, responsibility for utilizing television to bring the best programs, regardless of kind, into American homes.

Television, and all who participate in it are jointly accountable to the American public for respect for the special needs of children, for community responsibility, for the advancement of education and culture, for the acceptability of the program materials chosen, for decency and decorum in production, and for propriety in advertising. This responsibility cannot be discharged by any given group of programs, but can be discharged only through the highest standards of respect for the American home, applied to every moment of every program presented by television.

In order that television programming may best serve the public interest, viewers should be encouraged to make their criticisms and positive suggestions known to the television broadcasters. Parents in particular should be urged to see to it that out of the richness of television fare, the best programs are brought to the attention of their children.

Advancement of Education and Culture

1. Commercial television provides a valuable means of augmenting the educational and cultural influences of schools, institutions of higher learning, the home, the church, museums, foundations, and other institutions devoted to education and culture.

2. It is the responsibility of a television broadcaster to call upon such institutions for counsel and cooperation and to work with them on the best methods of presenting educational and cultural materials by television. It is further the responsibility of stations, networks, advertising agencies and sponsors consciously to seek opportunities for introducing into telecasts factual materials which will aid in the enlightenment of the American public.

3. Education via television may be taken to mean that process by which the individual is brought toward informed adjustment to his society. Television is also responsible for the presentation of overtly instructional and cultural programs, scheduled so as to reach the viewers who are naturally drawn to such programs, and produced so as to attract the largest possible audience.

4. In furthering this realization, the television broadcaster:

- a) Should be thoroughly conversant with the educational and cultural needs and desires of the community served.
- b) Should affirmatively seek out responsible and accountable educational and cultural institutions of the community with a view toward providing opportunities for the instruction and enlightenment of the viewers.
- c) Should provide for reasonable experimentation in the development of programs specifically directed to the advancement of the community's culture and education.

Acceptability of Program Material

Program materials should enlarge the horizons of the viewer, provide him with wholesome entertainment, afford helpful stimulation, and remind him of the responsibilities which the citizen has towards his society. Furthermore:

- a) (i) Profanity, obscenity, smut and vulgarity are forbidden, even when likely to be understood only by part of the audience. From time to time, words which have been acceptable, acquire undesirable meanings, and telecasters should be alert to eliminate such words.
(ii) Words (especially slang) derisive of any race, color, creed, nationality or national derivation, except wherein such usage would be for the specific purpose of effective dramatization such as combating prejudice, are forbidden, even when likely to be understood only by part of the audience. From time to time, words which have been acceptable, acquire undesirable meanings, and telecasters should be alert to eliminate such words.
(iii) The Television Code Review Board (see Regulations and Procedures of the Code, V, Section 3, Authority and Responsibilities) shall maintain and issue to subscribers, from time to time, a continuing list of specific words and phrases which should not be used in keeping with this subsection. This list, however, shall not be considered as all-inclusive.
- b) (i) Attacks on religion and religious faiths are not allowed.
(ii) Reverence is to mark any mention of the name of God. His attributes and powers.

- c) (i) Contests may not constitute a lottery.

- j) The use of gambling devices or scenes necessary to the development of plot or as appropriate background is acceptable only when presented with discretion and in moderation, and in a manner which would not excite interest in, or foster, betting nor be instructional in nature. Telecasts of actual sport programs at which on-the-scene betting is permitted by law should be presented in a manner in keeping with Federal, state and local laws, and should concentrate on the subject as a public sporting event.
- k) In reference to physical or mental afflictions and deformities, special precautions must be taken to avoid ridiculing sufferers from similar ailments and offending them or members of their families.
- l) Exhibitions of fortune-telling, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, and numerology are acceptable only when required by a plot or the theme of a program, and then the presentation should be developed in a manner designed not to foster superstition or excite interest or belief in these subjects.

Responsibility Toward Children

1. The education of children involves giving them a sense of the world at large. Crime, violence and sex are a part of the world they will be called upon to meet, and a certain amount of proper presentation of such is helpful in orienting the child to his social surroundings. However, violence and illicit sex shall not be presented in an attractive manner, nor to an extent such as will lead a child to believe that they play a greater part in life than they do. They should not be presented without indications of the resultant retribution and punishment.

not enough that only those programs which are intended for viewing by children shall be suitable for young and immature. (Attention is called to general items listed under Acceptability of Materials.) Television is responsible for those programs of all sorts which occur at the times of day when children may normally be expected to have the opportunity of viewing. Television shall exercise care in the following respects:

- a) In affording opportunities for cultural growth as well as for wholesome entertainment.
- b) In developing programs to foster and promote the commonly accepted moral, social and ethical ideals characteristic of American life.
- c) In reflecting respect for parents, for honorable behavior, and for the constituted authorities of the American community.
- d) In eliminating reference to kidnaping of children or threats of kidnaping.
- e) In avoiding material which is excessively violent or would create morbid suspense, or other undesirable reactions in children.
- f) In exercising particular restraint and care in crime or mystery episodes involving children or minors.

Decency and Decorum in Production

1. The costuming of all performers shall be within the bounds of propriety, and shall avoid such exposure or such emphasis on anatomical detail as would embarrass or offend home viewers.
2. The movements of dancers, actors, or other performers shall be kept within the bounds of decency, and lewdness and impropriety shall not be suggested in the positions assumed by performers.
3. Camera angles shall avoid such views of performers as to emphasize anatomical details indecently.
4. Racial or nationality types shall not be shown on television in such a manner as to ridicule the race or nationality.
5. The use of locations closely associated with sexual life or with sexual sin must be governed by good taste and delicacy.

Community Responsibility

A television broadcaster and his staff occupy a position of responsibility in the community and should conscientiously endeavor to be acquainted fully with its needs and characteristics in order better to serve the welfare of its citizens.

Treatment of News and Public Events

1. A television station's news schedule should be adequate and well-balanced.
2. News reporting should be factual, fair and without bias.
3. Commentary and analysis should be clearly identified as such.
4. Good taste should prevail in the selection and handling of news:

Morbid, sensational or alarming details not essential to the factual report, especially in connection with stories of crime or sex, should be avoided. News should be telecast in such a manner as to avoid panic and unnecessary alarm.

5. At all times, pictorial and verbal material for both news and comment should conform to other sections of these standards, wherever such sections are reasonably applicable.

6. Pictorial material should be chosen with care and not presented in a misleading manner.
7. A television broadcaster should exercise due care in his supervision of content, format, and presentation of newscasts originated by his station, and in his selection of newscasters, commentators, and analysts.

8. A television broadcaster should exercise particular discrimination in the acceptance, placement and presentation of advertising in news programs so that such advertising should be clearly distinguishable from the news content.

9. A television broadcaster should not present fictional events or other non-news material as authentic news telecasts or announcements nor should he permit dramatizations in any program which would give the false impression that the dramatized material constitutes news. Expletives, (presented orally or pictorially such as "flash" or "bulletin" and statements such as "we interrupt this program to bring you . . ." should be reserved specifically for news room use. However, a television broadcaster may properly exercise discretion in the use in non-news programs of words or phrases which do not necessarily imply that the material following is a news release.

PUBLIC EVENTS

1. A television broadcaster has an affirmative responsibility at all times to be informed of public events, and to provide coverage consonant with the ends of an informed and enlightened citizenry.

2. Because of the nature of events open to the public, the treatment of such events by a television broadcaster should be effected in a manner to provide for adequate and informed coverage as well as good taste in presentation.

Controversial Public Issues

1. Television provides a valuable forum for the expression of responsible views on public issues of a controversial nature. In keeping therewith the television broadcaster should seek out and develop with accountable individuals, groups and organizations, programs relating to controversial public issues of import to its fellow citizens; and to give fair representation to opposing sides of issues which materially affect the life or welfare of a substantial segment of the public.

2. The provision of time for this purpose should be guided by the following principles:

- a) Requests by individuals, groups or organizations for time to discuss their views on controversial public issues, should be considered on the basis of their individual merits, and in the light of the contribution which the use requested would make to the public interest, and to a well-balanced program structure.
- b) Programs devoted to the discussion of controversial public issues should be identified as such, and should not be presented in a manner which would mislead listeners or viewers to believe that the program is purely of an entertainment, news or other character.

Political Telecasts

Political telecasts should be clearly identified as such, and should not be presented by a television broadcaster in a manner which would mislead listeners or viewers to believe that the program is of any other character.

Religious Programs

1. It is the responsibility of a television broadcaster to make available to the community as part of a well-balanced program schedule adequate opportunity for religious presentations.

2. The following principles should be followed in the treatment of such programs:

- a) Telecasting which reaches men of all creeds simultaneously should avoid attacks upon religion.
- b) Religious programs should be presented respectfully and accurately and without prejudice or ridicule.
- c) Religious programs should be presented by responsible individuals, groups, and organizations.
- d) Religious programs should place emphasis on broad religious truths, excluding the presentation of controversial or partisan views not directly or necessarily related to religion or morality.

3. In the allocation of time for telecasts of religious programs it is recommended that the television station use its best efforts to apportion such time fairly among the representative faith groups of its community.

Presentation of Advertising

1. Ever mindful of the role of television as a guest in the home, a television broadcaster should exercise unceasing care to supervise the form in which advertising material is presented over his facilities. Since television is a developing medium, involving methods and techniques distinct from those of radio, it may be desirable from time to time to review and revise the presently suggested practices:
  - a) Advertising messages should be presented with courtesy and good taste; disturbing or annoying material should be avoided; every effort should be made to keep the advertising message in harmony with the content and general tone of the program in which it appears.

- b) A sponsor's advertising messages should be confined within the framework of the sponsor's program structure. A television broadcaster should avoid the use of commercial announcements which are divorced from the program either by preceding the introduction of the program (as in the case of so-called "cow-catcher" announcements) or by following the apparent sign-off of the program (as in the case of so-called "trailer" announcements). To this end, the program itself should be announced and clearly identified, both audio and video, before the sponsor's advertising material is first used, and should be signed off, both audio and video, after the sponsor's advertising material is last used.
- c) Advertising copy should contain no claims intended to disparage competitors, competing products, or other industries, professions or institutions.
- d) Since advertising by television is a dynamic technique, a television broadcaster should keep under surveillance new advertising devices so that the spirit and purpose of these standards are fulfilled.
- e) Television broadcasters should exercise the utmost care and discrimination with regard to advertising material, including content, placement and presentation, near or adjacent to programs designed for children. No considerations of expediency should be permitted to impinge upon the vital responsibility towards children and adolescents, which is inherent in television, and which must be recognized and accepted by all advertisers employing television.
- f) Television advertisers should be encouraged to devote portions of their allotted advertising messages and program time to the support of worthy causes in the public interest in keeping with the highest ideals of the free competitive system.
- g) A charge for television time to churches and religious bodies is not recommended.

Acceptability of Advertisers and Products—General

1. A commercial television broadcaster makes his facilities available for the advertising of products and services and accepts commercial presentations for such advertising. However, a television broadcaster should, in recognition of his responsibility to the public, refuse the facilities of his station to an advertiser where he has good reason to doubt the integrity of the advertiser, the truth of the advertising representations, or the compliance of the advertiser with the spirit and purpose of all applicable legal requirements. Moreover, in consideration of the laws and customs of the communities served, each television broadcaster should refuse his facilities to the advertisement of products and services, or the use of advertising scripts, which the station has good reason to believe would be objectionable to a substantial and responsible segment of the community. The foregoing principles should be applied with judgment and flexibility, taking into consideration the characteristics of the medium and the form and content of the particular presentation. In general, because television broadcast is designed for the home and the family, including children, the following principles should govern the business classifications listed below:

- a) The advertising of hard liquor should not be accepted.
- b) The advertising of beer and wines is acceptable only when presented in the best of good taste and discretion, and is acceptable subject to Federal and local laws.
- c) Advertising by institutions or enterprises which in their offers of instruction imply promises of employment or make exaggerated claims for the opportunities awaiting those who enroll for courses is generally unacceptable.
- d) The advertising of firearms and fireworks is acceptable only subject to Federal and local laws.
- e) The advertising of fortune-telling, occultism, spiritualism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading or character-reading is not acceptable.
- f) Because all products of a personal nature create special problems, such products, when accepted, should be treated with especial emphasis on ethics and the canons of good taste; however, the advertising of intimately personal products which are generally regarded as unsuitable conversational topics in mixed social groups is not acceptable.

- g) The advertising of tip sheets, race track publications, or organizations seeking to advertise for the purpose of giving odds or promoting betting or lotteries is unacceptable.
2. Diligence should be exercised to the end that advertising copy accepted for telecasting complies with pertinent Federal, state and local laws.
3. An advertiser who markets more than one product should not be permitted to use advertising copy devoted to an acceptable product for purposes of publicizing the brand name or other identification of a product which is not acceptable.

Advertising of Medical Products

1. The advertising of medical products presents considerations of intimate and far-reaching importance to the consumer, and the following principles and procedures should apply in the advertising thereof:

- a) A television broadcaster should not accept advertising material which in his opinion, offensively describes or dramatizes distress or morbid situations involving ailments, by spoken word, sound or visual effects.
- b) Because of the personal nature of the advertising of medical products, claims that a product will effect a cure and the indiscriminate use of such words as "safe", "without risk", "harmless", or terms of similar meaning should not be accepted in the advertising of medical products on television stations.

Contests

1. Contests should offer the opportunity to all contestants to win on the basis of ability and skill, rather than chance.

2. All contest details, including rules, eligibility requirements, opening and termination dates should be clearly and completely announced and/or shown, or easily accessible to the viewing public, and the winners' names should be released and prizes awarded as soon as possible after the close of the contest.

3. When advertising is accepted which requests contestants to submit items of product identification or other evidence of purchase of product, reasonable facsimiles thereof should be made acceptable.

4. All copy pertaining to any contest (except that which is required by law) associated with the exploitation or sale of the sponsor's product or service, and all references to prizes or gifts offered in such connection should be considered a part of and included in the total time allowances as herein provided. (see Time Standards for Advertising Copy.)

Premiums and Offers

1. Full details of proposed offers should be required by the television broadcaster for investigation and approval before the first announcement of the offer is made to the public.

2. A final date for the termination of an offer should be announced as far in advance as possible.

3. Before accepting for telecast offers involving a monetary consideration, a television broadcaster should satisfy himself as to the integrity of the advertiser and the advertiser's willingness to honor complaints indicating dissatisfaction with the premium by returning the monetary consideration.

4. There should be no misleading descriptions or visual representations of any premiums or gifts which would distort or enlarge their value in the minds of the listeners.

5. Assurances should be obtained from the advertiser that premiums offered are not harmful to person or property.

6. Premiums should not be approved which appeal to superstition on the basis of "luck-bearing" powers or otherwise.

Time Standards for Advertising Copy

1. In accordance with good telecast advertising practices, the time standards for advertising copy are as follows:

*Length of Advertising Message
(Minutes and Seconds)*

Length of Program News Programs	All Other Programs
(Minutes)	Day and Night	Class "A" Time	All Other Hrs.
5	1:00	1:00	1:15
10	1:45	2:00	2:10
15	2:15	2:30	3:00
25		2:50	4:00
30		3:00	4:15
45		4:30	5:45
60		6:00	7:00

2. Reasonable and limited identification of prize and statement of the donor's name within formats wherein the presentation of contest awards or prizes is a necessary and integral part of program content shall not be included as commercial time within the meaning of paragraph 1. above; however, any oral or visual presentation concerning the product or its donor, over and beyond such identification and statement, shall be included as commercial time within the meaning of paragraph 1. above.

3. The time standards set forth above do not affect the established practice of reserving for station use the last 30 seconds of each program for station break and spot announcements.

4. Announcement programs are designed to accommodate a designated number of individual live or recorded announcements, generally one minute in length, which are carried within the body of the program and are available for sale to individual advertisers. Normally not more than 3 one-minute announcements (which should not exceed approximately 125 words if presented live) should be scheduled within a 15-minute period and not more than six such announcements should be scheduled within a 30-minute period in local announcement programs; however, fewer announcements of greater individual length may be scheduled, provided that the aggregate length of the announcements approximates three minutes in a 15-minute program or six minutes in a 30-minute program. In announcement programs other than 15 minutes or 30 minutes in length, the proportion of one minute of announcement within every five minutes of programming is normally applied. The announcements must be presented within the framework of the program period designated for their use and kept in harmony with the content of the program in which they are placed.

5. Programs presenting women's services, features, shopping guides, market information, and similar material, provide a special service to the listening and viewing public in which advertising material is an informative and integral part of the program content. Because of these special characteristics the time standards set forth above may be waived to a reasonable extent.

6. Even though the commercial limitations of the Code do not specifically prohibit back-to-back announcements, such a practice is not recommended for more than two announcements, either at station break or within the framework of a single program.

7. Any casual reference by talent in a program to another's product or service under any trade name or language sufficiently descriptive to identify it should, except for normal guest identifications, be condemned and discouraged.

8. Stationary backdrops or properties in television presentations showing the sponsor's name or product, the name of his product, his trade mark or slogan may be used only incidentally. They should not obtrude on program interest or entertainment. "On Camera" shots of such materials should be fleeting, not too frequent, and mindful of the need of maintaining a proper program balance.

Dramatized Appeals and Advertising

Appeals to help fictitious characters in television programs by purchasing the advertiser's product or service or sending for a premium should not be permitted, and such fictitious characters should not be introduced into the advertising message for such purposes. When dramatized advertising material involves statements by doctors, dentists, nurses or other professional people, the material should be presented by members of such profession reciting actual experience or it should be made apparent from the presentation itself that the portrayal is dramatized.

Sponsor Identification

Identification of sponsorship must be made in all sponsored programs in accordance with the requirements of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the Rules and Regulations of the Federal Communications Commission.

REGULATIONS AND PROCEDURES

The following regulations and procedures shall obtain as an integral part of the Television Code of the National Association of Broadcasters:

Section 1. COMPOSITION

There shall be a continuing committee entitled the Television Code Review Board. The Review Board shall be composed of five members, all of whom shall be from the Television membership of NAB. Members of the Television Board of Directors shall not be eligible to serve on the above specified Review Board. Members of the Review Board shall be appointed by the President of the NAB, subject to confirmation by the Television Board of Directors. Due consideration shall be given, in making such appointments, to factors of diversification of geographical location, company representation and network affiliation. Those members appointed, following promulgation of the Code, shall serve until immediately following the annual NAB convention of 1953. Immediately following the end of the annual meeting in 1953 there shall be appointed three members who shall serve for two years and two members who shall serve for one year starting at the time of appointment.

Starting in 1954 and every even-numbered year thereafter, two members shall be appointed for two-year terms; and then in every odd-numbered year thereafter, three two-year members shall be appointed.

A. Limitation of Service:

A person shall not serve consecutively as a member of the Review Board for more than two two-year terms or for more than four years consecutively after April 30, 1953.

A majority of the membership of the Television Code Review Board shall constitute a quorum for all purposes unless herein otherwise provided.

Section 3. AUTHORITY AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Television Code Review Board is authorized and directed:

(1) To maintain a continuing review of all television programming especially that of subscribers to the Television Code of the NAB; (2) to receive, screen and clear complaints concerning television programming; (3) to define and interpret words and phrases in the Television Code; (4) to develop and maintain appropriate liaison with governmental agencies and with responsible and accountable organizations and institutions; (5) to inform, expeditiously and properly, a subscriber to the Television Code of complaints or commendations, as well as to advise all subscribers concerning the attitude and desires program-wise of accountable organizations and institutions, and of the American public in general; (6) to review and monitor, if necessary, any certain series of programs, daily programming, or any other program presentations of a subscriber, as well as to request recordings, aural or kinescope, or script and copy, with regard to any certain program presented by a subscriber; (7) to reach conclusions, and to make recommendations or prefer charges to the Television Board of Directors concerning violations and breaches of the Television Code by a subscriber; (8) to recommend to the Television Board of Directors, amendments to the Television Code.

A. Delegation of Powers and Responsibilities:

The Television Code Review Board may delegate, from time to time, such of its above-specified responsibilities, as it may deem necessary and desirable, to a Staff Group of the NAB.

B. Meetings:

The Television Code Review Board shall meet regularly once each quarter of the calendar year on a date to be determined by the Chairman. The Chairman of the Review Board may, at any time, on at least five days' written notice, call a special meeting of the Board.
