QUIGLEY PUBLICATIONS ✦ NEW YORK

Foreword

TELEVISION ALMANAC appears now in its Eighth Edition, serving a young and vigorous industry with a competence born of more than a third of a century of service to the sister industry of the motion picture. The companion book to this volume, the Motion Picture Almanac, is now in its Thirty-fifth Edition. Varying in technique and procedure, the two media of expression nonetheless share many of the tools and a great deal of the personnel, in talent and administration. Thus the Television Almanac serves equally with information and pertinent data, of companies, organizations, services, always timely and complete.

TV Channel Allocations

ON April 13, 1952, the Federal Communications Commission announced lifting of the "freeze" on new television station construction which had been in effect since September 30, 1948. In so doing, it also made public the allocation of the new ultra-high frequency channels and some changes in the existing very-high frequency bands. Theoretically, allocation of the ultra-high frequency channels makes possible 2,053 new stations in 1,291 communities. This included 242 exclusive educational outlets and was in addition to the 108 TV stations then on the air. As of June 30, 1962, there were 612 TV stations on the air. Of these 508 were VHF and 104 were UHF. Of the VHF channels, 464 were commercial and 44 were non-commercial. Of the UHF channels, 84 were commercial and 29 non-commercial. Following is the complete list of cities and the channels assigned to each. The population of each community is given in parentheses. The (*) preceding a channel number indicates a frequency reserved for educational use.

BRITISH YEAR IN REVIEW

by PETER BURNUP

GR^{EAT} Britain has by far the greatest concentration of television in the whole of the Continent of Europe; 22 per cent of the populace here hold TV reception licences, as compared with its nearest rival, Sweden, with 17.6 per cent. (Surprisingly, France has a percentage of 4.9 only). Moreover, Britain has the lowest licence fee at £4. But behind that facade of seeming complacency there's a maze of uneasiness and embittered contention.

At the outset of the medium, the lofty BBC—the British Broadcasting Corporation—had the field to itself. But in 1954, at the instance of the then Prime Minister, Sir Winston Churchill, and against the advice of a public enquiry committee, a new body was set up known as ITA—the Independent Television Authority—ostensibly (as Sir Winston said) to give the BBC the spur of competition. The relative Act of Parliament charged the new Authority with the duty of providing “television broadcasting services additional to those of the BBC and of high quality, both as to the transmission and as to the matter transmitted”. When the Act was before Parliament, the scheme introduced was described as experimental. It would, at the end of the period of the Act, be comprehensively reviewed. The experiment has now been under way for some seven years.

Independent Television is a two-tier structure. It consists of the Authority and the programme contractors. The Authority's continuing functions are technical—to provide the means of broadcasting; and regulatory—to satisfy itself that the programmes comply with a number of requirements necessary to secure proper standards. The Authority does not produce the programmes; under the Act these are to be provided by commercial companies, known as programme contractors. The companies earn their revenue by selling television advertising time. They pay the Authority for the right, under contracts with the Authority, to provide the programmes. The Authority's remaining function, not in its nature continuous, is to choose the companies to which it lets the contracts.

For the last two years the whole pattern of broadcasting here has been under close examination by a committee appointed by the Postmaster-General and known as the Pilkington Committee for its chairman, the distinguished industrialist, Sir Harry Pilkington. The committee is assuredly scathing in its report. It condemns the vapid and puerility of many programmes provided in particular by the I.T.A. It blames the portrayal of violence in many programmes—particularly those imported from the U.S.A.—for the plague of crimes of violence lately afflicting this country. It proposes a complete dismantlement of I.T.A.'s present fabric in view of the virtual monopoly which in practice has fallen into the hands of four programme contractors composed mainly of theatrical impresarios and cinema combines like Granada, Associated British and, latterly, the Rank Organisation. (It is estimated that no less than £98½ million was spent on ITV advertising in the year ended June 30, 1962).

The Government had little difficulty in accepting three main Pilkington recommendations; namely, that the BBC should be accorded a second TV channel, that colour TV be permitted and that by gradual steps the standard line definition be increased to 625. There remains the problem of commercial TV's undue profitability.

In a recent House of Commons debate the Postmaster-General declared that there is no question whatever of the Government treating commercial television with vindictiveness. “I do not take the prejudiced view that the programme companies are anti-social and that they should be rehabilitated and tamed”, said the Minister. But those Pilkington denunciations have undoubtedly caused Whitehall vast concern.

In the vacuum occasioned by the Government's current affectation of indecision on the future of a variety of television issues there stands out like an excessively sore thumb the eventual fate here of so-called subscription, toll or pay-TV. The patient Pilkington Committee regarded the matter as so important that it despatched a mission to Toronto in order to investigate the so-called Etobicoke experiment there. The missionaries returned singularly unimpressed by their experience.

Says the Pilkington Report: “The companies wishing to engage in subscription TV founded their case on the better programming they expect it to provide. It could, they argue, afford programme items of a kind or quality which the present services cannot or will not provide; the ‘live’ showing of some sporting events, new cinema films, plays and other stage events featuring leading performers with items which would attract minority audiences. The argument being that a service financed by subscription will make good deficiencies in the present services”.

Urbane Pilkington will have nothing to do with those pleas. The committee concedes that the cost of a few possible programme items is always likely to be prohibitive, usually by design; new cinema films and stage successes in full are examples thereof.

Realist Pilkington gives little tolerance to the specious argument that a "wired" service could not properly be regarded as a TV service but rather as an extension of the box office and auditorium. The committee recorded its view—likely to be shared wholeheartedly by run-of-the-mill, commonplace citizens here—that whatever appears on television screens is still television, whether transmitted by wire or by radio.

Pilkington forthrightly recommended that no service of subscription, pay, or toll-TV be accepted in this country whether by wire, or, if frequencies became available, by radio. But the conflict assuredly doesn't end there.

Those aforementioned political pressure groups are harder at it than ever in regard to pay-TV; particularly in view of the Conservative Cabinet's current coyness in the matter and of sedulously whispered rumours in Whitehall enclaves that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan wants to know why there can't be a properly organised "field-test" of the much-condemned medium? Moreover, there are at least six firmly-entrenched financial interests in the field; each eagerly awaiting a franchise to enter upon those field-tests, including, notably, the Rank Organisation. The last-mentioned circumstance occasioned a monstrous fluttering in the dovetails of the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association.

A committee of the Association, under the chairmanship of eager, forthright Julian Douglas Richards—a former CEA president—addressed remonstrances on the matter to the Postmaster-General and the President of the Board of Trade. A memorandum of CEA's views—and fears—was sent to every Member of Parliament and to the Members of the House of Lords. Mr. Richards also evoked a widely attended press conference at which he claimed that the proposed franchise "would create monopolies which would put retail dealers at a disadvantage." He asserted that in the Toronto experiment there were no cultural programmes of any kind whatsoever. He foresaw a greater holocaust than ever in cinema closures were one of the candidates in the pay-TV contest to be conceded a franchise.

John Davis, deputy chairman and managing director of the Rank Organisation (as such a member of CEA) but never loth to join battle with his exhibitor-brethren, came out with a forthright denunciation of the Association's attitude. Mr. Davis accused exhibitors of "playing their usual role of King Canute" in their "wild" statements that many of them would be driven to shut down were pay-TV to be sanctioned. We believe, declared the Rank chief, that it is of prime importance to develop a British pay-TV system rather than to allow the American entertainment industry to get ahead of our own as it has so often in the past. It will be important both for the home and the export market. In so doing the Rank Organisation will be backing their views at their own risk.

Those brave words despite, in spite also of the skilled endeavours of those aforementioned pressure "lobbies", the likelihood is that the present Conservative Government faced with the mounting criticism of the Labour and Liberal parties, not to speak of its own insurgent members, will be chary of fixing yet another monopolistic interest on the nation's polity.

Presiding over his West Lancashire CEA branch and lapsing into a near-apocalyptic mood, much respected theatre man Frank Fennell mused aloud in the following terms (his branch was discussing this business of pay-TV): "I believe the time will come when films will be diffused to cinemas from a centralised studio and transmitting station and thus eliminate all the existing distribution arrangements". In early 1939 and just before the outbreak of war, poet-economist and the then chairman of Gaumont British, Isidore Ostrer, in Sibylline mode, televised into two of his London West End theatres a prize fight taking place some miles away at Harringay. Ostrer used the TV system devised by the late John Logie Baird, still spoken of here as the father of television and a man assuredly consumed with a near-Messianic fervour. The omens were all on Ostrer's side that night. The fight lasted the whole course and was charged with thrills. The Baird transmission likewise was unsurpassed at that time.

Current now in Great Britain and Northern Ireland are 12,039,643 TV domestic reception licences, comparing with the figure of 11.4 million obtaining the previous year. Manufacturers of receiving sets are more impatient than ever to make a start on the forthcoming 625-line standard and most of them introduced a range of convertible 405-625 receivers last year.

In spite of dealers' blandishments and an intensive advertising campaign by manufacturers the citizenry appears disposed to wait until the new service is operating.

The impatience among the manufacturers is understandable. The Postmaster-General's Television Advisory Committee recommended as long ago as June, 1960, that a change-over to the 625-line standard should be made. The advice was passed on to the Pilkington Committee with the result that a decision was delayed for two years. There is, however, one good reason for hastening slowly in the matter. The 625-line transmissions will be on ultra high-frequency wave bands which have not before been used for television in this country. Difficulties will be encountered, the most serious arising from the fact that reception of UHF broadcasts depends to a greater extent than VHF on an uninterrupted line of sight between the transmitter and the receiving aerial.

TELEVISION IN CANADA

Toronto, October, 1962

A new dimension to TV in Canada will be added if color is approved in coming discussions by the Board of Broadcast Governors on the subject. There will be a stumbling block. The state-owned Canadian Broadcasting Corp. just won't have the financing from the Government to provide facilities. Some of the private TV stations are equipped for color.

Nevertheless the CBC is continuing to spend money at a rapid rate despite a belt-tightening of its budget by the Federal Government. In addition the CBC has been faced with stiff competition from the nine-station CTV Television Network. The CTV group, although reportedly plagued with dissension in its ranks, has cut into the advertising revenue of the CBC. The CBC, battle-scarred, claims, however, to have held its ground.

While confident and cocky, the CBC screams in its annual report that the private TV stations have taken their share of the advertising dollar, and if they take more, the Government will have to shell out proportionately more to the CBC if its standards of broadcasting are to be maintained.

The CBC works hard at spending money. From a budget of $107,611,154 last year, $70,252,273 came from the public purse or taxes. The CBC blamed the second stations in the major markets for cutting into its revenue and a decrease in net revenue of $3,700,000. Gross commercial revenues for the period under discussion were between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 less than they would have been if there had been a single-station policy, claims the CBC.

The CBC, faced with a decline in revenues because of competition, is also faced with an austerity-controlled Government. It has had to cut back on a number of its capital projects, and thus not be able to serve nine per cent of the country's population not now serviced.

Canada has just under 80 TV stations. None has gone broke, although there have been some on the brink. There has been one station brought under the wing of another to become a satellite. Others have gone to outside sources for funds to continue operation.

The BBG has set out its policy on the transfer of shares of a Canadian broadcasting station to an American network. It recommended the denial of the application because the Board "is not prepared to recommend any transaction involving financial participation of American works in Canadian television stations." The policy is the outgrowth of an application which would have made the American Broadcasting Co. a partner in the operation of a Toronto station. The BBG's annual report indicates that information for 22 TV stations that started operations prior to 1958 shows a seven per cent increase in gross broadcast revenue over 1959 to 1961.

The average net profit however, declined 53 per cent. Revenues and net profits of TV stations increased at a substantial rate until 1959. The eight new TV stations in the major markets received $15,000,000 gross broadcast revenue during their first full year of operation. This had an affect on the revenues of existing broadcasting stations.

The BBG amended its regulations this year to permit any program provided from a British Commonwealth source, including motion pictures, to count as 100 per cent the Canadian content requirement. Stations are required to have 55 per cent of their air time devoted to Canadian content.

The CBC provided a network day of eight hours, shortened from 12 hours. The CTV network is providing 24 hours a week program material. The CBC with its 32 major stations, of which eight are owned and operated, provides 60 hours a week. Both networks, however, are using the big American productions to compete for ratings.

As free TV continues its battle, Telemeter continues to inch its way through the morass with new programming ideas. Latest on its agenda is the offering of large-screen TV of the out-of-city hockey games to viewers in Toronto. The Telemeter franchise in Canada is held by a subsidiary of Famous Players Canadian Corp.

Canada has more than 260 community antenna systems, most of which are members of the National Community Television Association of Canada. Famous Players, in preparation for an extension to its pay-TV operation, has taken over nearly five systems.

ARGENTINA

If 1961 can be considered as an experimental year for TV, 1962 might be looked upon as the most intense in its struggle for survival. The difficult financial situation that the country is undergoing; the political upheaval and its corollary of economic unsteadiness have brought about a withdrawal in advertising which is seriously hurting the normal development of the existing channels and forcing them in to a bitter struggle to obtain sponsorship for their enterprises.

Programs are still founded basically on TV film series and old features, mostly of American origin. Popular live numbers, especially comic ones and musical comedies are favourite. Quiz programs are also quite popular. The serials and features shown are dubbed in Spanish in Mexico and Puerto Rican labs. But a threat to force distributors to have some done in local labs, according to a bill already approved in the lower chamber of Congress, is still pending. Channel 13, anticipating itself to any legislation that might eventually be approved, has already installed a dubbing outfit which has recently turned out its first film.

The TV audience is constantly increasing. It is being outfit which has recently turned out its first film. up to where it is possible to obtain direct reception, there are about 800,000 TV receivers, which means an audience of over 3 million viewers. In the interior, the cities of Mar del Plata and Mendoza have each one channel. Cordoba has two and Rosario, the second city of Argentina and distant 190 miles from Buenos Aires, is linked by a coaxial cable, which retransmits Channel 7 from Buenos Aires. The middle class, which is undoubtedly one of the mainstays of TV is heavily supported by all other social classes. Most of the receivers are bought on long installment basis, mostly of 30 months, obliging those less economically favoured to abstain from any other form of entertainment in order to keep up their payments.

The National Council for Radio & Television announced some time ago that licenses for new channels would be granted to totalize 40 in the entire country and of which 15 would be authorized before the end of the current year. The deadline for these concessions was to have been May 28, but this has now been extended without fixing a date.

AUSTRALIA

In the past 12 months television has grown larger and larger on the Australian horizon. In Sydney and Melbourne the two commercial stations and one national station in each state continue to flourish, with the commercial stations outstripping by far the national station in general appeal. There are now more than a million TV set licenses issued in Australia.

TV also will go to 13 rural areas in Australia in the next couple of years as a result of moves by the Postmaster General's department to call for applications for licences in specified country centres. The A.B.C. will operate one station in each of the 13 areas and more than one commercial station may operate in each area also, a maximum total of 26 licences in these areas is quite possible.

To get a commercial licence local independent companies have to show that they are not associated with metropolitan stations and that they can provide a service comparable to that available to city viewers.

TV is having its first setback with insurance premiums on TV sets being increased drastically because of thefts of sets and racketeering by certain repair servicemen.

Despite agitation by Actors Equity, the bulk of material on TV—certainly the most popular programmes—is American filmed shows. It is not likely that there will be any change of policy on the part of TV station managers to grant more time to local talent at the expense of imported material.

AUSTRIA

The Austrian government-owned-and-operated television, having closed the year 1960 with a total of 200,000 registered sets against 127,402 in 1959, is still in a situation of expansion and improvement and is steadily gaining ground throughout Austria.

Statistics show that with 200,000 registered sets about one-tenth of the 2,200,000 households are in possession of TV sets and 100,000 sets are in operation in the city of Vienna alone.

Austrian TV, which has the highest tax in Europe ($2 per month per set) should now be able to considerably improve its programming as well as its inadequate operating facilities since tax revenues are increasing steadily and rapidly. However, Austrian government-owned TV is part and parcel of Austrian government-owned broadcasting. Since the latter has recently found itself in grave financial difficulties, these—though behind the scenes to be sure—also reach deeply into the television administration.

The budget of Austrian TV for 1960 was $6,100,000. The breakdown is as follows: programming, $1,800,500; salaries, $1,200,000; administration, $136,000. The rest of this amount is for technical expenditure. The receipts of 1960 were: a $2,500,000 bank credit guaranteed by the Federal government, $2,300,000 in monthly fees and about $400,000 from commercials.

Spots for commercials at $28 per second have caught on and can now be purchased for the time between 7:30 to 8:30 P.M. Occasionally they even fill intermission time during stage plays. In the first quarter of the year a total advertising time of 45 minutes was sold and transmitted, whereas in the second quarter of 1960 this time was doubled to the total of 90 minutes sold commercials for a three-month period. The quality of programs in 1960 has improved somewhat. Live TV plays have reached an excellent level and live transmissions from the legitimate stage are shown more frequently.

Total broadcasting time in 1960 amounted to 1,428 hours, an increase of 147 hours against 1959. Program breakdown: 23.2% news and sports, 15.2% movies, 13.4% educational, 12% musical and quiz shows, 2.7% serious music, 6.8% TV plays and 26.7% are participation programs in Eurovision or programs taken over directly from neighbouring Germany. Transmission time is from 7:30 to 10:30 P.M. nightly with transmissions from Germany at times lasting until 11:00 P.M.

BRAZIL

There are actually 25 television stations operational in Brazil and another nine have transmission equipment installed, transmit daily test periods, and will be in full operation by the end of this year. It is estimated, based on requests for channels from the Government licensing board, that by the end of 1964 between 45 to 50 stations will be on the air in Brazil.

Although there are actually only 1,100,000 receivers in the country, local manufacturers are hard pressed to keep up with the demand, the existing stations can reach 80 percent of Brazil's 70 million population, and national hookups can, and have already, linked Rio Grande in the south with Belem in the north, along over 4,5 thousand miles of coastline, going inland to include the cities of Brazilia, Goiania and Belo Horizonte.

Brazilian law requires that all owners of radio or TV stations be of Brazilian nationality. A further law stipulates that all foreign films shown on TV be dubbed, and that no station may transmit more than 22 half-hours of foreign films for each 72 hours of weekly transmission time. Stations which transmit less than 12 hours per day have a corresponding lower quota.

Seven sound studios, four in Rio de Janeiro and three in São Paulo take care of the dubbing of all the American and some Italian, Argentine and Mexican films that come into the country. An attempt has been made to produce TV serials in Brazil, but up to now it has been cheaper to import and dub them. This may change in the near future, owing to the instability of the Brazilian currency and the restrictions on profit remissions. Another aspect which may restrict the importation of film serials is a rising nationalism and a move to return to a law passed by ex-President Janio Quadros, which severely restricts the exhibition of foreign film serials on TV. This law was modified when the President took office, but how long this modification is going to stand up under the strain, no one can tell. It is, however, generally considered that the first American producers who bring their know-how of TV serial productions to Brazil will make a fortune.

CHINA (Communist)

Communist China has 23 TV stations and six relay centers.

Stations in Peking, Shanghai, Harbin, Tientsin, Shenyang, Changchun and Canton are on the air regularly for a limited number of hours while the other stations are still on an experimental basis. Programs include news, televised reports, popular science, culture and art, sports and children's items—rather poor fare on the whole—and these are received on communal sets since no receivers are allowed to individual buyers unless they are high Communist Party officials. A TV University has been initiated in Peking to train announcers and technicians. No programs from Western countries are shown on TV and trade with Communist China by Americans is barred by the U. S. Government.

CHINA (Taiwan)

The Taiwan Television Enterprise Company, Ltd., is operating a TV network, using the American-line system and constructed by a Japanese electronics concern.

DENMARK

Total number of receivers in Denmark: 700,000 (June 1, 1962).

Total number of commercial TV stations: None.

Total number of Government stations: 1.

Total coverage: 100% of population.

With the opening in the middle of June, 1960, of a transmitter covering the island of Bornholm, the Government station now has seven transmitters covering 100% of the population.

Television has increased rapidly, with a remarkable effect on the film trade. Four years ago 4,000 receivers were going.

A new television house, based upon an architect competition now finished, is about to be built during the next years. The work starts this Autumn, and the first part it is estimated to be finished in two years. The whole house, with seven studios, is expected to be finished within 10 years. The sending hours, now about 19 per week, will gradually be increased. The Government station is at present operating with two studios, two reporting vans, two films vans and two video tape machines. The station has 12 news correspondents in Denmark, and the film department has 11 photographers producing about 600 bigger and smaller films for TV per year. In order to compete with German television, a complete film group has been stationed in the south of Jutland.

It is still prohibited for organized distributors to sell films to television which, however, hitherto have succeeded in obtaining feature films from other sources. Only extracts of up to 300 meters may be sold by distributors to TV.

Taxation on television receivers is 15 per cent of Television and Danish sports unions have reached an agreement according to which each sports union is free to negotiate with television, which always offers to pay an estimated loss for showing the special event on TV. Until now comparatively few sports events have been shown on TV.

Television is controlled by the state, and there is no advertising in the programmes.

FINLAND

During April, 1957, tests began for the new Finnish TV. Ordinary TV programs began in the autumn of 1957—officially. Southern Finland can see programs from Soviet-Estonia; the Southwest Finland from Stockholm; and the east of Finland from Leningrad, USSR. A television set owner in Helsinki can now see TV programs every day in the week,—without paying any licenses. The Finnish radio plans to build a TV-network. Then shall the whole of Southern Finland—with the half of the population of the country—2,000,000—see the Finnish TV. Part of the programs shall be sponsored, the Finnish Radio Network will sell some of the TV-time to interested companies.

FRANCE

There has been an important increase in the number of TV sets and by the 31st of March, 1962, the figure given by the authorities was over 2,554,821.

The Second Chain has now been officially announced by Mr. Robert Bordaz, director general of French Radio and TV.

M. Bordaz said that credits had been released by the Ministry of Finance and that the Paris region would receive the first programme in 1964. Later other parts of France would receive the programmes.

The director general said that this chain would be state-owned and would not take advertising. He thought it would find its own personality and denied that the Government's plan was to have one "intellectual" programme and one "popular" programme.

GERMANY

Television has made progress in Germany in the past year.

The number of registered receivers, which passed the million mark in November 1957, was up to 6,643,000, on July 1, 1962, including West Berlin. This means that there is one set to every 8 inhabitants. Thus Germany is holding its second place in Europe, after Great Britain.

In Germany television is in the hands of the nine existing broadcasting companies, which are licensed regionally but are otherwise independent and politically neutral. There is so far only one program of about four hours daily and six on Sundays. Eight of these companies contribute to it. In addition each station daily carries an hour or two of programming of regional interest.

Furthermore, these stations are telecasting a second program of about three hours daily. However, in Spring of 1963 they no longer are going to telecast this second program since after long negotiations the different states of the Federal Republic of Germany have formed a new organisation called "Zweites Deutsches Fernsehen". This organisation is supposed to start telecasting on April 1, 1963. The "Intendant" (general manager) of this organisation is Professor Dr. Karl Holzauer and their program director Ulrich Grahmann.

Beginning with this date it is supposed that there also will exist a third program which is going to be telecast by various stations on a regional basis.

The present program, which was initiated in 1954, has no doubt improved in recent years, but is still not satisfactory and could well stand competition. According to opinion polls, nearly half of the audience are not satisfied with the program while more than half say they are. There is no colour television yet in Germany.

Motion picture theatres are feeling the competition of the new medium in Germany.

In the Soviet Zone of Germany there are today 1,564,389 television receivers, an increase of roughly 350,000 in the past year. Some 15 different types of television sets are offered by the four television equipment producers in the Soviet Zone.

HOLLAND

On a total population of more than 11 million people the approximate number of 1,250,000 sets is very high compared with the situation in other countries, and still the influence of TV is sharply increasing. It means a very strong competition to motion picture theatres. There is not yet any commercial TV.

TV in Holland is organized by the Nederlandse Televisie Stichting (NTS), under governmental control, with five sub-divisions: a Roman-Catholic section, a Protestant section, a political (social democratic) section, another Christian division and a neutral section. The broadcasting companies, K.R.O., N.C.R.V., V.A.R.A., V.P.R.O. and A.V.R.O., represented by these divisions, want to keep their influence on TV.

The approximate cost of a TV set, antennae included, is from fl. 650.—to fl. 1,800.—($1 is fl. 3.62). A yearly contribution of fl. 36.—is due by the owners of a set, to be paid to the government.

Feature films are programmed once a week, on Tuesday night. These pictures are old ones (non-American), though of post war vintage. A considerable number of Rank pictures and some 20th-Fox films are among them, also Italian films. Pictures of four to seven years ago. The Dutch trade organization does not permit new pictures to be televised.

Quality of programs is improving. Competition to motion pictures is obviously increasing, though the Dutch trade organization is following the development closely.

In order to compete with TV, the purchase of scooters, cars, more travelling abroad, etc., the trade organization has a special advertising campaign in the newspapers under the motto: "Go More to the Movies."

The purchase of TV sets by installment buying is still popular, otherwise the increase of the number of sets could not have been effected. The Dutch TV station is in Bussum.

Philips is a big manufacturer of TV sets.

IRELAND

On January 1, 1962, the first television service in the Republic of Ireland. Telefís Eireann, was inaugurated.

Television, like sound broadcasting, is a state monopoly, and responsibility for both services is vested in Radio Eireann, the Broadcasting Authority. This Authority, appointed by the Government, consists of between seven and nine members serving on a part-time basis under a chairman selected by the Government. The present chairman is Eamon Andrews, an Irishman who has had wide experience in British television and radio.

The Minister for Posts and Telegraphs, who is responsible for the autonomously operated Authority, reserves to himself the duties of fixing and collecting license fees from domestic viewers, licenses transmitting stations, and has a veto on the appointment and conditions of the Authority's top executive, the director general, who is employed full time. Ed Roth, an American, is currently director general.

Telefís Eireann opened with one transmitter in the Dublin area serving an estimated population area of 1,200,000 people. It is hoped ultimately to have five transmitters serving the whole country. The first two transmitters, for the present, will transmit simultaneously on the 405 and 625 line standards. The other three when completed will use 625 line standard only.

The Authority, which has the responsibility to provide programmes of suitable cultural and national content currently provides approximately 45 viewing hours a week, of which 22 hours are home originated programmes and the rest are imported from the United States and Britain. Financed initially by a £2 million repayable Government loan and a non-repayable loan of £500,000, the service is expected to be self-supporting with revenue from domestic licenses and that earned from spot advertising. A domestic viewer's license costs £4 per annum. There are already 100,000 receiving sets in operation. 80 per cent of which are able to receive programmes from Britain's BBC-TV and Independent TV stations as well as Telefis Eireann.

Because of the impact of television on current cinema attendances, and its anticipated increase as new transmitters come into operation, the Government has abolished cinema admission taxes as of October, 1962.

—TOM SHEEHY

ISRAEL

There is still no television service in this country, nor is any contemplated in the immediate future. This year, however, negotiations were reported to have been held with various foreign organizations with a view to the eventual establishment of a service. No details of the negotiations were announced.

—ALBERT de MATALON

ITALY

The Italian Television is almost ten years old. It is a great instrument of divulgation and all the political parties use it—by turns—for conferences and debates.

Its programs begin at 3 P.M. and finish after 12 P.M. In the morning scholastic lessons are periodically broadcasted for adults.

There is a great variety in the programs of the Italian Television: films and documentary films for youth, spectacles broadcasted from many cities of the world, films among which many American pictures, popular programs equivalent to the "$64,000 Question" and others originally created in Italy. The number of sets in Italy are now about 3,000,000 distributed all over Italy, comprising the islands (Sicily and Sardinia), but especially in the North and Central Italy. The listening is technically perfect in all the regions also in these with mountains thanks to the 400 transmitters.

The second channel operates in more than the half of the entire territory. Almost 1,500,000 of the 3,000,000 sets belonging to the Italian families have the second channel.

The subscribers to the Radio only are more than 10,000,000. The broadcasting radio stations are in the principal Italian cities. The programs are more than 50. The Italian Radio (especially the Rome stations: 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th and the Vatican Radio) are broadcasting uninterruptedly day and night. From 11 P.M. to 8 A.M. the programs are composed by classic musics and by other kind of music, each 30 minutes and adjourned advices in four languages is broadcasted.

The Italian Television and Radio are technically among the best of Europe. The Eurovision connections are in perfect efficiency as those in Mondovision and particularly efficacious has been the connection with Telstar. The "opinion service" of the RAI-TV has done an inquiry from which it results that between 9 P.M. and 10 P.M. the persons assisting to the TV programs through the 3,000,000 sets are about 15,000,000.

The broadcasting of films doesn't augments—excessively—the total amount of the persons. This happens when the broadcasted films are very important and this—logically—provides a contemporary reduction of the attendances in the cinema which are bearing also a heavy system of taxes, this thing doesn't happens for the RAI-TV.

The subscription rate for the Television is of Lit. 12,000 yearly. The subscription rate for the Radio only is of about Lit. 4,000 yearly. Besides the total amount of the subscriptions which is very high, the RAI-TV receives the collections for advertising. The advertising part of the broadcastings, also if it is about a quarter of the intere broadcastings, is—generally—tolerable, in fact there aren't the complaints on the political and public plan.

JAPAN

With more than 80 per cent of urban households and some 50 per cent of country households boasting TV receivers, the number of black-and-white TV sets are now estimated at well over 12 million, a saturation figure in a population of 94 million which is second only to the United States.

The figure is even more remarkable in that, unlike the U.S., each set owner must pay the quasi-governmental NHK Corporation the sum of 92 cents even though he may prefer the 44 commercial stations to the 132 stations operated by NHK throughout the country.

Generally, the four major networks—Tokyo Television (KRT), Nihon TV (NTV), Fuji TV (FTV) and Nippon Educational TV (NET)—provide far livelier programs than does NIKK, since the latter operates a number of strictly educational stations while the networks (despite NET's name) believe more in pulling power than in education.

TV Broadcasting stations now average about 17.5 hours a day on the air with added hours on weekends and holidays showing about 90 per cent domestic product and about 10 per cent imported shows, mostly from the United States, but almost invariably dubbed in the Japanese language. By count there are about 80 American series now running and popularity polls show that they rank right up near the top with Japanese audiences. Imports are controlled by the Government by limiting the amount of money to be expended or there would be even more on the air for even at the low wages for performers and technicians it is hard to compete with the excellence of the American product.

The filmed product screened by Japanese TV stations comprises about 24.4 per cent of all programs, and of this 16.7 per cent are American or European. The Government allows prices of $500-$800 for half-hour shows and about $1,500 for hour shows. Thus a half-hour show costing $800 will run up to $2,000 after duty of nine cents a meter, taxes, commissions, and dubbing takes place. Station time in Tokyo runs about $1,250 per half hour (20 per cent extra for color) and a usual "national" showing covering 15-19 stations can be had for as little as $10,000 in station time.

Motion picture producers in Japan have made every effort to keep the TV stations from getting their hands on full length features, although the studios themselves have investments in the TV stations and make some special TV films for them. Of the 187 full length features shown on Japanese TV in 1961, 91 were old American films bought for $1,500 to $1,800 while the rest were of European extraction of from Japanese independents.

This blockade may be broken since the recent bankruptcy of one of the major film producers, Shin Toho, passed its library of some 400 films to Fuji TV which was holding them as collateral for an unpaid loan. Undoubtedly TV is cutting into theatre admissions in Japan, which are down 15 per cent in attendance (box office gross suffered only slightly due to higher admission prices and a lowering of taxes) but it is nothing like the situation which once confronted U.S. theatre owners. Japanese moviemakers do not take the threat lightly, however, and they have brought pressure to bear without much result on the Government to place more restrictions on the use of imported series and full length features for use on TV. They have also called summit meetings with Government officials and TV executives to try and work out some means of co-existence.

Meanwhile the five major studios are sitting fast on their huge libraries of films and refusing to sell them to TV no matter how attractive the price and how poor the company books are looking. With some exceptions, Japanese audience tastes parallel American tastes in TV fare and the numerous Westerns rank high on the popularity list. American TV stars are making more and more trips to Japan where even relatively minor characters meet with tumultuous receptions and much acclaim from the local fans, who flock to see them in person.

The Japanese still like to see their own version of Westerns—the Samurai sword-play drama—and for mass audience appeal nothing can surpass baseball (sometimes on all channels) or Japanese-style wrestling.

Advertising on TV is growing and at last count was 27 per cent of the total annual advertising bill or $536 million (a 39 per cent gain for TV ads over last year).

Color broadcasting is limited to a few hours a day, since very few of the 5,000 color sets are in the homes due to their cost (about $900). The industry is expanding: NHK is working on a $14 million TV City in Tokyo, which will have 15 sound stages (some of them of 10,440 square feet) and be ready in 1964 in time for the Olympics.

Japanese TV studios are as modern as any in the world and they boast the highest TV tower of its kind—the 1,060-foot Tokyo Tower which houses studios, shops and an observation platform for tourists.

Japan is producing TV equipment of all kinds and in the past year or so has furnished a number of Asian and Near East countries with complete broadcasting facilities and large numbers of receivers (these last at cheaper prices than are enjoyed at home where they bring in over $70 million a year in sales taxes).

Trade organizations include the National Association of Commercial TV Broadcasters, Kosoku-doro Building, 8, 7-chome, Nishi Ginza, Tokyo, and Broadcasting Corporation of Japan (NHK), 2 Uchisaiwai-cho, Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo, which is in charge of government non-commercial stations (without advertising).

KOREA (South)

Television was introduced into South Korea in 1956 by the commercial station HJKZ-TV operated by Daehan Broadcasting Co. but a fire wiped out the venture in 1959. Meanwhile in 1957 the United Nations Command, United States Forces Korea, established AFKN-TV to provide entertainment for the armed forces.

In 1961 the Government-owned Korean Broadcasting System's KBS-TV went into operation, creating a tremendous demand for receivers among the civilian population. Plans to develop relay stations to serve points not covered by the Seoul station are under way.

LEBANON

A television broadcasting service was launched in Lebanon in May, 1959. Programs are scheduled for three to four hours daily. In addition, Lebanese viewers are able to pick up broadcasts from Cyprus and some European stations. Lebanese National Television, the new company, is owned by shareholders and directed by technicians who studied in the U.S. and Europe.

In 1960 a second station started operations. This is government-owned and operated. There are no government controls on the formation of TV broadcasting companies.

TV receivers are expensive, the average price being $300 a set. Sets now on the market come from U.S., England and Germany. By 1962 considerably more than half the population owned sets.

MEXICO

A Television set has become in Mexico an article of prime necessity. The urge of every Mexican home to get a TV set is so great that numerous poor families, living in houses not much better than huts pride themselves on a television set that is being painfully paid on the installment plan, peso by peso. There are about 1,500,000 to 1,750,000 sets in use in the country today.

Sometimes neighbors contribute to meet the monthly payments, as they gladly pay an entrance fee of 25 or 30 centavos (2 or 2.5 cents) to watch their favorite program. Those homes may lack good water services, a heater, a good gas range or a washing machine but those matter less than a TV set. And so, 1959 registered an even greater sale of TV sets in Mexico than the record year 1958. Distributing houses have been established in every corner of town and their sales reached an estimated high of 200,000 sets in 1960. Large screens are favorite among Mexican fans, and only a reduced number of portable or small sets were sold.

More and more restaurants and bars, commercial lunch-counters and even some department stores, have succumbed to the idea of installing TV sets. It is a common sight in Mexico City, after dusk, to see crowds in front of shop windows of some important commercial houses on the main streets, watching a program. The interest of the Government is resulting in better and cleaner programs.

A plan is under study by the country's educational authorities to use electronic screens in the classrooms of Mexican schools. There is a strong movement among teachers backing the idea of teaching certain subjects through TV screens. At the end of 1958, the first TV station to operate exclusively with educational programs was installed with an investment of more than 30 million pesos. It is transmitting from Channel 11; but nothing really worthwhile was done in this regard during 1960.

In Guadalajara, the second largest and most important city in the Republic, a very important and powerful plant, similar to that of Telecentro in Mexico City and Monterrey, was recently installed and is now operating with modern equipment, and very attractive programs. It fills an urgent need for TV shows in Western Mexico.

NEW ZEALAND

Television is pushed hard by its manufacturing and retailing interests, but it still has made little real impact on the entertainment field. Reasonable sets are offered at £175 to £220 ($486 to $610), reception is fairly good—programmes are not of a general high standard. Some items, particularly locally-produced interest programmes, are excellent but a lot of the overseas material used in the early days of television elsewhere, is poor.

Nevertheless, television interests the very old and the very young—those that are confined to the four walls of their homes, and they are indebted to it for providing them with entertainment to fill in their leisure hours. No feature films are used on television here—the policy of the new Government-appointed corporation set up to control both radio and television being to leave that type of entertainment to the theatres.

The prospects for our industry here are still good. A big majority of New Zealanders prefer to seek their entertainment elsewhere than in their homes. Concerts, stage shows, ballet, vaudeville, boxing, wrestling, all attract large crowds. Rugby football, horse racing, athletics and all types of outdoor sports and recreations also draw thousands of patrons.

NORWAY

TV in Norway has been operating since late 1960, with programmes increased to 13 hours per week. Number of sets have increased from 50,000 to about 127,000. As the TV is Government controlled and cinemas are municipal it is the same interests prevailing in both media. If cinemas should be hurt by TV, the Finance Department and the municipalities would have to pay. An agreement has therefore been established for the procedure and policy of TV, in order to hurt cinemas as little as possible. TV will use special TV-produced shorts, cultural and documentaries, comparatively few features and preferably so late in the evening that at least the two first shows per day in the cinema should not be affected. So far only 16 mm. films may be telecast.

OKINAWA

Civilian stations Okinawa-TV and Ryuku Hoso (KSDW-TV) broadcast daily programs to some 200,000 sets owned by the natives while the Armed Forces TV Service broadcasts to about 12,000 American-owned sets.

Okinawa is Japanese territory under control of the United States so the American broadcasting system is used.

PERU

Television is one of Peru's fastest growing industries. There are four channels in Lima (4, 7, 9, 13).

Channel 7 is non-commercial and is operated by the Ministry of Education. It operates only a few hours a week on an erratic schedule and has few viewers. Channel 4 (Radio America) is the oldest station, working since 1958. There is a fourth operating channel in the country, channel 2 in Arequipa; it is associated with Lima's channel 13 (Radio Panamericana).

Television has a strong appeal to people of all social classes. Even in the barriadas (slums) one finds TV antennas. It is the practice there for owners to charge one sole admission to watch nightly TV. There are said to be 65,000 sets in operation in the Lima area with an average viewing audience (according to McCann Erickson, the advertising firm) of 4.5 persons per set. This would give a potential total audience of about 300,000 persons. Others place the figure higher.

Programming depends greatly on Westerns and mystery (detective) shows from the United States that have been Spanish-dubbed in Mexico. There are also many motion pictures from the United States that are either dubbed or with titles. Film programs are preferred to live because of the cost factor. There are a number of live programs—amateur talent reviews, discussions, etc. Stations prepare their own news programs using live and film sections.

A minute spot at prime time (8-10 P.M.) costs about 700 soles ($26). However, as many as 10 spots are grouped together, lessening impact. Nevertheless, prime time is sold out. A 15-minute spot costs 200 soles ($7.41) and a half-hour show costs between 6,000 and 8,000 soles ($200-$300 approximately). The stations are working very close to the break-even point, and channel 9 failed.

PHILIPPINES

Inter-Island Broadcasting, owners and operators of DZTV Channel 13 have contracted with Fuji Telecasting of Japan to construct TV stations at Davao, Cebu, Bacolod, Baguio, Cagayan de Oro, and Mount Saint Rita to complete an inter-island network.

The six channels on the air at Manila were pioneered by Alto Broadcasting System (DZAQ-TV) in 1953 followed by Chronicle Broadcasting Network (DZBB-TV).

Receivers are presently estimated at about 100,000.

PUERTO RICO

There are about 150,000 television sets in Puerto Rico, for a population of 2,300,000. Most of the public places such as restaurants, clubs, have television sets for their patrons and the medium is available in local hotels upon request.

Even though most Puerto Ricans know English, and the number of persons who will acquire a working knowledge of English will increase considerably through intensification of English instruction in public schools and the migration of Puerto Rican families to the United States, and workers who come back from the States with more knowledge of English, television programming is in English and Spanish. WKAQ-TV, owned and operated by the newspaper El Mundo, on channel 4, has 30 per cent programs in English of which 10 per cent have Spanish sub-titles.

Kinescope versions of top North American television shows are represented on both stations.

American manufacturers of cigarettes, electric appliances, soaps, detergents, and other products which use television widely have increased their budgets for this type of advertising medium.

SCOTLAND

With three existing commercial TV stations, and satellite stations planned for the Highlands and Islands, Scotland remains one of the really staunch television nations. The BBC-TV transmitters also serve a large portion of the country, and a 99 per cent coverage is planned by 1964, with low-powered transmitters in many northern and northwest towns. A new television studio in Glasgow is due for completion in 1963, and this is likely to increase Scottish BBC-TV output to 10 hours weekly, giving an average of seven hours in Summer and 4 in Winter.

The commercial TV company for Central Scotland, controlled by newspaper magnate Roy Thomson, recently celebrated its fifth anniversary. According to Television Audience Measurement Ltd., nearly five times as many viewers now watch independent television in the Central Scotland ITV area screened from the ITA transmitter at Black Hill, as compared with opening night on August 31, 1957. The number of ITV viewers in Central Scotland has jumped from an opening-night total of 670,000 to 3,155,000. 77 per cent of the private household population of the area. The average number of individuals to each ITV home is 3.46.

Grampian Television, Ltd., the commercial company covering north and northeast Scotland, with cinema magnate Sir Alexander Boyne King as chairman, is one year and three months old. It has approximately 145,000 homes viewing programmes, nearly 50 per cent more than on station's opening night on September 30, 1961. The maximum potential number of viewing homes in the Grampian area is about 230,000. Border Television, Ltd., with studios in Carlisle, northwest England, serves southwest and southern Scotland as well as the Lake District of England. Scottish Television, Ltd., is doing a commendable job.

A new commercial television station to cover a large area of the West of Scotland, and possibly the Hebrides, is planned by the British Independent Television Authority. The new station, a "satellite" of one of the existing stations, will bring programmes to about 50,000 people and will cost $300,000 to build. It should be operational early in 1964.

SOUTH AFRICA

The Union of South Africa is still without television service and likely to remain without it for many years in the future. The director general of the South African Broadcasting Corporation has nothing to report on the matter, while the Government says simply that "progressive research and experimentation in the television field has been and still is being carried out, but purely as research and experimentation." The reasons for the TV lag here are many, including the geographical layout of the country, which would make nation-wide service extremely expensive, and the fact that the South African Broadcasting Corporation has been in financial difficulties with just its radio services.

SWEDEN

The Swedish TV began in the autumn of 1956. One station was organized in Stockholm and one in Gothenburg. An ordinary TV week in Stockholm sees about 14 hours of "live" programmes and six hours of film. Swedish, French, American (USA), British and Soviet pictures have been shown on TV, and serials like "The Perry Como Show", "20th Century", "Perry Mason", "Hitchcock Presents", "Gunsmoke", "Disneyland", "Robin Hood" (British) and "Colonel Flack".

The future for the Swedish TV seems very promising. As of January 1, 1962, Sweden had about 1,000,000 TV sets and about 30 transmitters.

—GOESTA ERKELL

SWITZERLAND

As of May 1, 1962 there were 228,809 TV sets in operation in Switzerland. Ten transmitters and 15 boosters are on the air, 12 in the German-speaking part of Switzerland, eight in the French-speaking part and five in the Italian-speaking Tessin.

The French and German language stations schedule about 26 hours of programming a week each; the Italian language transmitters about 20 hours weekly, of which six hours are produced by Tessin's own O.B.van whereas the rest consists of programmes relayed from the German and French speaking parts of Switzerland, with commentary in Italian, as well as from Italy.

All telecasting in Switzerland is government-controlled. There are no commercial operations. The PTT administration is responsible for the transmitters and technical equipment, while the Swiss Broadcasting and Television Corporation handles all programming. Annual licences cost 84 francs for private sets and 168 for public sets.

THAILAND (Siam)

Two stations—the Thai TV System and Thai Army Station—are on the air daily in Bangkok though transmission hours are limited. Receivers are estimated at 150,000. Three more stations in Khonkhaen, Lampang and Haadyai planned to be on the air by the end of 1962.

TURKEY

German Turkish negotiations have started for the development of the first network in Turkey. Officials participating in the negotiations included, from the Turkish side, Nejat Sonmez, general director of the press office and Muzaffer Oke, technical manager of the Turkish Broadcasting system. Kämuran-Evliaglu, Turkish Minister for Press and Tourism Affairs was also present.

German delegates were Hans Sterchen, manager of the European affairs office in the Ministry of Press, and Kurt Lecker, Press Attaché of Western Germany in Ankara. A German technical committee is expected shortly in Ankara to start planning the TV network, which will cover Turkey.

The network will be the most important in the Middle East and will cover at the first step areas of Istanbul, Ankara, Izmir and Adana.

Propositions were also received by several French, Japanese, Italian and American corporations.

VENEZUELA

There are three commercial television stations in Venezuela:

1. Radio Caracas Television: managing director, Amable Espina. Channels 2, 3, 7 and 10. RCA equipment. This is by far the best station, with very little unsold time. It is operating about 16 hours a day.

2. Vene-Vision. Channels 4 and 9. Managing Director Valeriano Humpierrez. Marconi Equipment. This station is the previous Televisa and was completely reorganized and revamped at the beginning of 1961. It has a strong A.B.C. interest. Operating seven hours daily.

3. Ondas del Lago Television. This is the only channel in Maracaibo. Managing Director—Nicolas Vale Quintero. Operating an average of five hours daily.

There is also one Government-owned station, Televisora Nacional, channel 5, operating about four hours every evening and admitting no advertising. The programs are mostly cultural, news and documentary.

All television equipment used in Venezuela is imported, mostly from the U.S.A. No statistics are made concerning the number of sets sold or used in the country. The number of sets is privately estimated at 250,000 to 300,000.

The legislation ruling television permits certain percentage of total time to be used for imported filmed programs. No difficulties have arisen in selling any imported programs because of the legislation. Two new channels have been authorized, Channel 8 owned by Juan Lorenzo Mendoza (Cedesa) and Channel 11 Radio Valencia TV of which Diego Cianeros is one of the shareholders.

YUGOSLAVIA

The Yugoslav television network is to continue its experimental program for at least another year. It was supposed to start its regular operations this year, but owing to considerable delays in building of several relay towers the experimental stage had to be extended into 1962.

The Government earmarked eight billion dinars for the building of an imposing 14-story Radio-Television home in New Belgrade, which is already in construction, to be completed in 1965, according to the technical experts. Up-to-date installations and modern equipment will be provided for nine studios (today Belgrade has only one), two of which will have seating capacity of 1,500.

Several relays already under construction will much improve the reception in the part of the country (covering nearly nine million people), excluding Dalmatia and Montenegro, which receive excellently television programs from Italy and Austria, much better than the domestic programs.

One of the most significant projects will be the building of modern radio-television studios in Belgrade, Novi Sad, Zagreb, Ljubljana, Sarajevo, Titograd, Skopje, Pristina and Koper, Istria. Very extensive work is being already carried out on the television network to cover the entire country and to make the Yugoslav television comparable with other countries especially in the field of culture. Now, the funds are available, and the Yugoslav television will serve twenty millions of Yugoslavs by the end of 1965.

The television is constructing currently several high and expensive relays, the biggest of which is one under construction on the Avala hill, some 17 kilometers south of Belgrade, and another near Subotica, on the Yugoslav-Hungarian border, which will make it possible for Yugoslavs to carry more programs from the European countries.

The number of television sets has much increased, and the estimate is 70,000, the imported and domestically produced under the foreign licenses. The cost of locally produced television sets is 200,000 dinars and they may be bought on the installment plan. The imported ones are brought into the country only by a few privileged citizens, since the ordinary people have to pay very high customs duty, which few can afford.

The advertisement service which for many years had been neglected, has lately been much extended and improved, carried daily jointly by all three television studios—Belgrade, Zagreb and Ljubljana.

All republics except Montenegro, where the domestic programs do not reach at all, pay 1,000 dinars monthly fee, and that will remain until Yugoslav television begins regular operations.

The Television Code

The Television Code

A NEW CODE of standards and practices for the television industry went into effect March 1, 1952 following a series of developments almost a year in the making.

The code is an aftermath of a meeting held in Washington in June, 1951 at which NBC made public a code of its own. Set up as a standard of operations in television, this code bore an essential resemblance to the instrument earlier adopted by the same network for radio broadcasting. Both NBC codes, a Code of Standards adopted for radio by the National Association of Broadcasters—predecessor organization of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters—in Atlantic City in 1947 and now the industry-wide TV code, drew upon the Motion Picture Production Code for their pattern.

Four subcommittees were active in preparation of the television code throughout the summer of 1951. Their tentative draft was approved by the NARTB board in September and a final polishing job undertaken in Washington shortly before the text was ratified in Chicago, October 19, 1951.

The TV code provides for a review board consisting of five members of the NAB. This board is empowered to enforce the rules governing programming and advertising. There will be issued a Seal of Approval, available to subscribing members whether affiliated with NARTB or not. While the power to hold in check unfair and unscrupulous acts will be vested in the Review Board, the common impression in television is that this will be largely an unwritten power. The Review Board was increased to seven members in June, 1959, effective January 1, 1960.

In those phases that deal with programming and its approaches, the code bears striking similarity to the Motion Picture Production Code, conceived and formulated in 1929 by Martin Quigley, and ratified by the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors Association of America, Inc. which became the Motion Picture Association of America, Inc. late in 1945 when Eric Johnston was named president.

Meeting in Bandera, Tex. in February, TV board members of NAB approved a review board of five and adopted a plan for financing administration of the code as well as an operating budget of $40,000 for the first year of operations.

There have been various revisions of the code over the years. This most recent edition, the seventh, is dated May, 1962.

Under the financing plan, each subscribing TV station pays $405 a year. If it is an NAB member, $250 of this is credited against NAB dues, leaving $155 for defraying code administration costs.

The Code is copyrighted by the National Association of Broadcasters. The Code Authority maintains offices in Washington, New York and Hollywood. Robert D. Swezey is director, with offices in Washington.

Text of the revised code follows:

Preamble

Television is seen and heard in every type of American home. These homes include children and adults of all ages, embrace all races and all varieties of religious faith, and reach those of every educational background. It is the responsibility of television to bear constantly in mind that the audience is primarily a home audience, and consequently that television's relationship to the viewers is that between guest and host.

The revenues from advertising support the free, competitive American system of telecasting, and make available to the eyes and ears of the American people the finest programs of information, education, culture and entertainment. By law the television broadcaster is responsible for the programming of his station. He, however, is obligated to bring his positive responsibility for excellence and good taste in programming to bear upon all who have a hand in the production of programs, including networks, sponsors, producers of film and of live programs, advertising agencies, and talent agencies.

The American businesses which utilize television for conveying their advertising messages to the home by pictures with sound, seen free of charge on the home screen, are reminded that their responsibilities are not limited to the sale of goods and the creation of a favorable attitude toward the sponsor by the presentation of entertainment. They include, as well, responsibility for utilizing television to bring the best programs, regardless of kind, into American homes.

Television, and all who participate in it are jointly accountable to the American public for respect for the special needs of children, for community responsibility, for the advancement of education and culture, for the acceptability of the program materials chosen, for decency and decorum in production, and for propriety in advertising. This responsibility cannot be discharged by any given group of programs, but can be discharged only through the highest standards of respect for the American home applied to every moment of every program presented by television.

In order that television programming may best serve the public interest, viewers should be encouraged to make their criticisms and positive suggestions known to the television broadcasters. Parents in particular should be urged to see to it that out of the richness of television fare, the best programs are brought to the attention of their children.

Advancement of Education and Culture

1. Commercial television provides a valuable means of augmenting the educational and cultural influences of schools, institutions of higher learning, the home, the church, museums, foundations, and other institutions devoted to education and culture.

2. It is the responsibility of a television broadcaster to call upon such institutions for counsel and cooperation and to work with them on the best methods of presenting educational and cultural materials by television. It is further the responsibility of stations, networks, advertising agencies and sponsors consciously to seek opportunities for introducing into telecasts factual materials which will aid in the enlightenment of the American public.

3. Education via television may be taken to mean that process by which the individual is brought toward informed adjustment to his society. Television is also responsible for the presentation of overtly instructional and cultural programs, scheduled so as to reach the viewers who are naturally drawn to such programs, and produced so as to attract the largest possible audience.

4. The television broadcaster should be thoroughly conversant with the educational and cultural needs and desires of the community served.

5. He should affirmatively seek out responsible and accountable educational and cultural institutions of the community with a view toward providing opportunities for the instruction and enlightenment of the viewers.

6. He should provide for reasonable experimentation in the development of programs specifically directed to the advancement of the community's culture and education.

7. It is in the interest of television as a vital medium to encourage and promote the broadcast of programs presenting genuine artistic or literary material, valid moral and social issues, significant controversial and challenging concepts and other subject matter involving adult themes. Accordingly, none of the provisions of this code, including those relating to the responsibility toward children, should be construed to prevent or impede their broadcast. All such programs, however, should be broadcast with due regard to the composition of the audience. The highest degree of care should be exercised to preserve the integrity of such programs and to ensure that the selection of themes, their treatment and presentation are made in good faith upon the basis of true instructional and entertainment values, and not for the purposes of sensationalism, to shock or exploit the audience or to appeal to prurient interests or morbid curiosity.

Responsibility Toward Children

1. The education of children involves giving them a sense of the world at large. It is not enough that only those programs which are intended for viewing by children shall be suitable to the young and immature. In addition, those programs which might be reasonably expected to hold the attention of children and which are broadcast during times of the day when children may be normally expected to constitute a substantial part of the audience, should be presented with due regard for their effect on children.

2. Such subjects as violence and sex shall be presented without undue emphasis and only as required by plot development or character delineation. Crime should not be presented as attractive or as a solution to human problems, and the inevitable retribution should be made clear.

3. The broadcaster should afford opportunities for cultural growth as well as for wholesome entertainment.

4. He should develop programs to foster and promote the commonly accepted moral, social and ethical ideals characteristic of American life.

5. Programs should reflect respect for parents, for honorable behavior, and for the constituted authorities of the American community.

6. Exceptional care should be exercised with reference to kidnapping or threats of kidnapping of children in order to avoid terrorizing them.

7. Material which is excessively violent or would create morbid suspense, or other undesirable reactions in children, should be avoided.

8. Particular restraint and care in crime or mystery episodes involving children or minors, should be exercised.

Community Responsibility

1. A television broadcaster and his staff occupy a position of responsibility in the community and should conscientiously endeavor to be acquainted fully with its needs and characteristics in order better to serve the welfare of its citizens.

2. Requests for time for the placement of public service announcements or programs should be carefully reviewed with respect to the character and reputation of the group, campaign or organization involved, the public interest content of the message, and the manner of its presentation.

General Program Standards

1. Program materials should enlarge the horizons of the viewer, provide him with wholesome entertainment, afford helpful stimulation, and remind him of the responsibilities which the citizen has towards his society. The intimacy and confidence placed in Television demand of the broadcaster, the network and other program sources that they be vigilant in protecting the audience from deceptive program practices.

2. Profanity, obscenity, smut and vulgarity are forbidden, even when likely to be understood only by part of the audience. From time to time, words which have been acceptable, acquire undesirable meanings, and telecasters should be alert to eliminate such words.

3. Words (especially slang) derivative of any race, color, creed, nationality or national derivation, except wherein such usage would be for the specific purpose of effective dramatization such as combating prejudice, are forbidden, even when likely to be understood only by part of the audience. From time to time, words which have been acceptable, acquire undesirable meanings, and telecasters should be alert to eliminate such words.

4. Racial or nationality types shall not be shown on television in such a manner as to ridicule the race or nationality.

5. Attacks on religion and religious faiths are not allowed. Reverence is to mark any mention of the name of God, His attributes and powers. When religious rites are included in other than religious programs the rites shall be accurately presented. The office of minister, priest or rabbi shall not be presented in such a manner as to ridicule or impair its dignity.

6. Respect is maintained for the sanctity of marriage and the value of the home. Divorce is not treated casually as a solution for marital problems.

7. In reference to physical or mental afflictions and deformities, special precautions must be taken to avoid ridiculing sufferers from similar ailments and offending them or members of their families.

8. Excessive or unfair exploitation of others or of their physical or mental afflictions shall not be presented as praiseworthy. The presentation of cruelty, greed and selfishness as worthy motivations is to be avoided.

9. Law enforcement shall be upheld and, except where essential to the program plot, officers of the law portrayed with respect and dignity.

10. Legal, medical and other professional advice, diagnosis and treatment will be permitted only in conformity with law and recognized ethical and professional standards.

11. The use of animals both in the production of television programs and as part of television program content, shall at all times, be in conformity with accepted standards of humane treatment.

12. Criminality shall be presented as undesirable and unsympathetic. The condoning of crime and the treatment of the commission of crime in a frivolous, cynical or callous manner is unacceptable. The presentation of techniques of crime in such detail as to invite imitation shall be avoided.

13. The presentation of murder or revenge as a motive for murder shall not be presented as justifiable.

14. Suicide as an acceptable solution for human problems is prohibited.

15. Illicit sex relations are not treated as commendable. Sex crimes and abnormalities are generally unacceptable as program material. The use of locations closely associated with sexual life or with sexual sin must be governed by good taste and delicacy.

16. Drunkenness should never be presented as desirable or prevalent. The use of liquor in program content shall be de-emphasized. The consumption of liquor in American life, when not required by the plot or for proper characterization, shall not be shown.

17. Narcotic addiction shall not be presented except as a vicious habit. The administration of illegal drugs will not be displayed.

18. The use of gambling devices or scenes necessary to the development of plot or as appropriate background is acceptable only when presented with discretion and in moderation, and in a manner which would not excite interest in, or foster, betting nor be instructional in nature.

19. Telecasts of actual sport programs at which on-the-scene betting is permitted by law should be presented in a manner in keeping with Federal, state and local laws, and should concentrate on the subject as a public sporting event.

20. Exhibitions of fortune-telling, occultism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading and numerology are acceptable only when required by plot or the theme of a program, and then the presentation should be developed in a manner designed not to foster superstition or excite interest or belief in these subjects.

21. Quiz and similar programs that are presented as contests of knowledge, information, skill or luck must, in fact, be genuine contests and the results must not be controlled by collusion with or between contestants, or any other action which will favor one contestant against any other.

22. No program shall be presented in a manner which through artifice or simulation would mislead the audience as to any material fact. Each broadcaster must exercise reasonable judgment to determine whether a particular method of presentation would constitute a material deception, or would be accepted by the audience as normal theatrical illusion.

23. The appearances or dramatization of persons featured in actual crime news will be permitted only in such light as to aid law enforcement or to report the news event.

24. The use of horror for its own sake will be eliminated; the use of visual or aural effects which would shock or alarm the viewer, and the detailed presentation of brutality or physical agony by sight or by sound are not permissible.

25. Contests may not constitute a lottery.

26. Any telecasting designed to "buy" the television audience by requiring it to listen and/or view in hope of reward rather than for the quality of the program, should be avoided.

27. The costuming of all performers shall be within the bounds of propriety and shall avoid such exposure or such emphasis on anatomical detail as would embarrass or offend home viewers.

28. The movements of dancers, actors, or other performers shall be kept within the bounds of decency, and lewdness and impropriety shall not be suggested in the positions assumed by performers.

29. Camera angles shall avoid such views of performers as to emphasize anatomical details indecently.

30. The use of the television medium to transmit information of any kind by the use of the process called "subliminal perception," or by the use of any similar technique whereby an attempt is made to convey information to the viewer by transmitting messages below the threshold of normal awareness, is not permitted.

31. The broadcaster shall be constantly alert to prevent activities that may lead to such practices as the use of scenic properties, the choice and identification of prizes, the selection of music and other creative program elements and inclusion of any identification of commercial products or services, their trade names or advertising slogans, within a program dictated by factors other than the requirements of the program itself. The acceptance of cash payments or other considerations in return for including any of the above within the program is prohibited except in accordance with Sections 317 and 508 of the Communications Act.

32. A television broadcaster should not present fictional events or other non-news material as authentic news telecasts or announcements, nor should he permit dramatizations in any program which would give the false impression that the dramatized material constitutes news. Expletives (presented aurally or pictorially) such as "flash" or "bulletin" and statements such as "we interrupt this program to bring you . . ." should be reserved specifically for news room use. However, a television broadcaster may properly exercise discretion in the use in non-news programs of words or phrases which do not necessarily imply that the material following is a news release.

Treatment of News and Public Events

News

1. A television station's news schedule should be adequate and well-balanced.

2. News reporting should be factual, fair and without bias.

3. A television broadcaster should exercise particular discrimination in the acceptance, placement and presentation of advertising in news programs so that such advertising should be clearly distinguishable from the news content.

4. At all times, pictorial and verbal material for both news and comment should conform to other sections of these standards, wherever such sections are reasonably applicable.

5. Good taste should prevail in the selection and handling of news:

Morbid, sensational or alarming details not essential to the factual report, especially in connection with stories of crime or sex, should be avoided.

News should be telecast in such a manner as to avoid panic and unnecessary alarm.

6. Commentary and analysis should be clearly identified as such.

7. Pictorial material should be chosen with care and not presented in a misleading manner.

8. All news interview programs should be governed by accepted standards of ethical journalism, under which the interviewer selects the questions to be asked. Where there is advance agreement materially restricting an important or newsworthy area of questioning, the interviewer will state on the program that such limitation has been agreed upon. Such disclosure should be made if the person being interviewed requires that questions be submitted in advance or if he participates in editing a recording of the interview prior to its use on the air.

9. A television broadcaster should exercise due care in his supervision of content, format, and presentation of newscasts originated by his station, and in his selection of newscasters, commentators, and analysts.

PUBLIC EVENTS

1. A television broadcaster has an affirmative responsibility at all times to be informed of public events, and to provide coverage consonant with the ends of an informed and enlightened citizenry.

2. The treatment of such events by a television broadcaster should provide adequate and informed coverage.

Controversial Public Issues

1. Television provides a valuable forum for the expression of responsible views on public issues of a controversial nature. The television broadcaster should seek out and develop with accountable individuals, groups and organizations, programs relating to controversial public issues of import to his fellow citizens; and to give fair representation to opposing sides of issues which materially affect the life or welfare of a substantial segment of the public.

2. Requests by individuals, groups or organizations for time to discuss their views on controversial public issues, should be considered on the basis of their individual merits, and in the light of the contribution which the use requested would make to the public interest, and to a well-balanced program structure.

3. Programs devoted to the discussion of controversial public issues should be identified as such. They should not be presented in a manner which would mislead listeners or viewers to believe that the program is purely of an entertainment, news, or other character.

Political Telecasts

1. Political telecasts should be clearly identified as such. They should not be presented by a television broadcaster in a manner which would mislead listeners or viewers to believe that the program is of any other character.

(Ref.: Communications Act of 1934, as amended, Secs. 315 and 317, and FCC Rules and Regulations, Secs. 3.654, 3.657, 3.663, as discussed in NAB's "A Political Catechism.")

Religious Programs

1. It is the responsibility of a television broadcaster to make available to the community appropriate opportunity for religious presentations.

2. Telecasting which reaches men of all creeds simultaneously should avoid attacks upon religion.

3. Religious programs should be presented respectfully and accurately and without prejudice or ridicule.

4. Religious programs should be presented by responsible individuals, groups and organizations.

5. Religious programs should place emphasis on broad religious truths, excluding the presentation of controversial or partisan views not directly or necessarily related to religion or morality.

6. In the allocation of time for telecasts of religious programs the television station should use its best efforts to apportion such time fairly among the representative faith groups of its community.

General Advertising Standards

1. This Code establishes basic standards for all television broadcasting. The principles of acceptability and good taste within the Program Standards section govern the presentation of advertising where applicable. In addition, the Code establishes in this section special standards which apply to television advertising.

2. A commercial television broadcaster makes his facilities available for the advertising of products and services and accepts commercial presentations for such advertising. However, a television broadcaster should, in recognition of his responsibility to the public, refuse the facilities of his station to an advertiser where he has good reason to doubt the integrity of the advertiser, the truth of the advertising representations, or the compliance of the advertiser with the spirit and purpose of all applicable legal requirements.

3. Identification of sponsorship must be made in all sponsored programs in accordance with the requirements of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the Rules and Regulations of the Federal Communications Commission.

4. In consideration of the customs and attitudes of the communities served, each television broadcaster should refuse his facilities to the advertisement of products and services, or the use of advertising scripts, which the station has good reason to believe would be objectionable to a substantial and responsible segment of the community. These standards should be applied with judgment and flexibility, taking into consideration the characteristics of the medium, its home and family audience, and the form and content of the particular presentation.

5. The advertising of hard liquor (distilled spirits) is not acceptable.

6. The advertising of beer and wines is acceptable only when presented in the best of good taste and discretion, and is acceptable only subject to Federal and local laws.

7. Advertising by institutions or enterprises which in their offers of instruction imply promises of employment or make exaggerated claims for the opportunities awaiting those who enroll for courses is generally unacceptable.

8. The advertising of firearms and fireworks is acceptable only subject to Federal and local laws.

9. The advertising of fortune-telling, occultism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading, character reading or subjects of a like nature is not permitted.

10. Because all products of a personal nature create special problems, such products, when accepted, should be treated with special emphasis on ethics and the canons of good taste. Such advertising of personal products as is accepted must be presented in a restrained and obviously inoffensive manner. The advertising of particularly intimate products which ordinarily are not freely mentioned or discussed is not acceptable. (See Television Code Interpretation No. 4)

11. The advertising of tip sheets, race track publications, or organizations seeking to advertise for the purpose of giving odds or promoting betting or lotteries is unacceptable.

12. An advertiser who markets more than one product should not be permitted to use advertising copy devoted to an acceptable product for purposes of publicizing the brand name or other identification of a product which is not acceptable.

13. "Bait-switch" advertising, whereby goods or services which the advertiser has no intention of selling are offered merely to lure the customer into purchasing higher-priced substitutes, is not acceptable.

Presentation of Advertising

1. Advertising messages should be presented with courtesy and good taste; disturbing or annoying material should be avoided; every effort should be made to keep the advertising message in harmony with the content and general tone of the program in which it appears.

2. The role and capability of television to market sponsors' products are well recognized. In turn, this fact dictates that great care be exercised by the broadcaster to prevent the presentation of false, misleading or deceptive advertising. While it is entirely appropriate to present a product in a favorable light and atmosphere, the presentation must not, by copy or demonstration, involve a material deception as to the characteristics, performance or appearance of the product.

3. The broadcaster and the advertiser should exercise special caution with the content and presentation of television commercials placed in or near programs designed for children. Exploitation of children should be avoided. Commercials directed to children should in no way mislead as to the product's performance and usefulness. Appeals involving matters of health which should be determined by physicians should not be directed primarily to children.

4. Appeals to help fictitious characters in television programs by purchasing the advertiser's product or service or sending for a premium should not be permitted, and such fictitious characters should not be introduced into the advertising message for such purposes.

5. Dramatized advertising involving statements or purported statements by physicians, dentists, or nurses must be presented by accredited members of such professions. (See Television Code Interpretation, No. 5.)

6. Advertising copy should contain no claims dealing unfairly with competitors, competing products, or other industries, professions or institutions.

7. A sponsor's advertising messages should be confined within the framework of the sponsor's program structure. A television broadcaster should avoid the use of commercial announcements which are divorced from the program either by preceding the introduction of the program (as in the case of so-called "cow-catcher" announcements) or by following the apparent sign-off of the program (as in the case of so-called trailer or "hitch-hike" announcements). To this end, the program itself should be announced and clearly identified, both audio and video, before the sponsor's advertising material is first used, and should be signed off, both audio and video, after the sponsor's advertising material is last used.

8. Since advertising by television is a dynamic technique, a television broadcaster should keep under surveillance new advertising devices so that the spirit and purpose of these standards are fulfilled.

9. A charge for television time to churches and religious bodies is not recommended.

Advertising of Medical Products

1. The advertising of medical products presents considerations of intimate and far-reaching importance to the consumer because of the direct bearing on his health.

2. Because of the personal nature of the advertising of medical products, claims that a product will effect a cure and the indiscriminate use of such words as "safe", "without risk", "harmless", or terms of similar meaning should not be accepted in the advertising of medical products on television stations.

3. A television broadcaster should not accept advertising material which in his opinion offensively describes or dramatizes distress or morbid situations involving ailments, by spoken word, sound or visual effects.

Contests

1. Contests shall be conducted with fairness to all entrants, and shall comply with all pertinent laws and regulations. Care should be taken to avoid the concurrent use of the three elements which together constitute a lottery—prize, chance and consideration.

2. All contest details, including rules, eligibility requirements, opening and termination dates should be clearly and completely announced and/or shown, or easily accessible to the viewing public, and the winners' names should be released and prizes awarded as soon as possible after the close of the contest.

3. When advertising is accepted which requests contestants to submit items of product identification or other evidence of purchase of products, reasonable facsimiles thereof should be made acceptable unless the award is based upon skill and not upon chance.

4. All copy pertaining to any contest (except that which is required by law) associated with the exploitation or sale of the sponsor's product or service, and all references to prizes or gifts offered in such connection should be considered a part of and included in the total time allowances as herein provided. (See Time Standards for Advertising Copy.)

Premiums and Offers

1. Full details of proposed offers should be required by the television broadcaster for investigation and approved before the first announcement of the offer is made to the public.

2. A final date for the termination of an offer should be announced as far in advance as possible.

3. Before accepting for telecast offers involving a monetary consideration, a television broadcaster should satisfy himself as to the integrity of the advertiser and the advertiser's willingness to honor complaints indicating dissatisfaction with the premium by returning the monetary consideration.

4. There should be no misleading descriptions or visual representations of any premiums or gifts which would distort or enlarge their value in the minds of the viewers.

5. Assurances should be obtained from the advertiser that premiums offered are not harmful to person or property.

6. Premiums should not be approved which appeal to superstition on the basis of "luck-bearing" powers or otherwise.

Time Standards for Advertising

In accordance with good telecast advertising practice, the time standards for commercial material are as follows:

1. Prime Time

Definition: A continuous period of not less than three hours of each broadcast day within the station's highest rate time periods. Commercial material for both individually sponsored and participation programs within any 30-minute period of prime time may not exceed 4 minutes plus total station break time in the aggregate of 70 seconds. Commercial material in prime time includes billboards, public service announcements, promotional announcements for other programs as well as commercial copy.

2. Non-Prime Time

Definition: All time other than prime time. Commercial material for both individually sponsored and participation programs within any 30-minute time period in non-prime time may not exceed 6 minutes plus station break time. Commercial material for all other periods of time shall not exceed this ratio, except that individual programs of 5-minutes duration may include commercial material not in excess of 1 minute 15 seconds and individual programs of 10-minutes duration may include commercial material not in excess of 2 minutes 10 seconds. Not more than three announcements shall be scheduled consecutively. Commercial material in non-prime time does not include public service announcements, promotional announcements for other programs, and opening and closing "billboards" which give program or sponsor identification.

3. Station Breaks

In prime time, a station break shall consist of not more than two announcements plus non-commercial copy such as station identification or public service announcements. Total station break time in any 30-minute period may not exceed one minute and ten seconds. In other than prime time station breaks shall consist of not more than two announcements plus the conventional sponsored 10-second ID. Station break announcements shall not adversely affect a preceding or following program.

4. Prize Identification

Reasonable and limited identification of prize and statement of the donor's name within formats wherein the presentation of contest awards or prizes is a necessary and integral part of program content shall not be included as commercial time within the meaning of paragraphs 1 and 2. above; however, any aural or visual presentation concerning the product or its donor, over and beyond such identification and statement, shall be included as commercial time within the meaning of paragraph 1. above. (See Television Code Interpretation No. 6.)

5. Care should be exercised in the selection, placement and integration of non-program material in order to avoid adversely affecting the program content or diminishing audience interest.

6. Programs presenting women's services, features, shopping guides, market information, and similar material, provide a special service to the listening and viewing public in which advertising material is an informative and integral part of the program content. Because of these special characteristics the time standards set forth above may be waived to a reasonable extent.

7. Any casual reference by talent in a program to another's product or service under any trade name or language sufficiently descriptive to identify it should, except for normal guest identifications, be condemned and discouraged.

8. Stationary backdrops or properties in television presentations showing the sponsor's name or product, the name of his product, his trade-mark or slogan may be used only incidentally. They should not obtrude on program interest or entertainment. "On Camera" shots of such materials should be fleeting, not too frequent, and mindful of the need of maintaining a proper program balance.

9. Each opening and closing "billboard" regardless of the number of sponsors shall not exceed 20 seconds in programs longer than one half-hour or 10 seconds in programs of one half-hour or less.

Section 5. ADDITIONAL PROCEDURES

When necessary to the proper administration of the Code, additional rules of procedure will be established from time to time as authorized by the By-Laws of the NAB; in keeping therewith, special consideration shall be given to the procedures for receipt and processing of complaints and to necessary rules to be adopted from time to time, taking into account the source and nature of such complaints; such rules to include precautionary measures such as the posting of bonds to cover costs and expenses of processing same; and further provided that special consideration will be given to procedures insuring the confidential status of proceedings relating to Code observance.

Section 6. AMENDMENT AND REVIEW

Because of the new and dynamic aspects inherent in television broadcast, the Television Code, as a living, flexible and continuing document, may be amended from time to time by the Television Board of Directors; provided that said Board is specifically charged with review and reconsideration of the entire Code, its appendices and procedures, at least once each year.

Section 7. TERMINATION OF CONTRACTS

All subscribers on the air at the time of subscription to the Code shall be permitted that period prior to and including the earliest legal cancellation date to terminate any contracts, then outstanding, calling for program presentations which would not be in conformity with the Television Code, provided, however, that in no event shall such period be longer than fifty-two weeks.

IV

Affiliate Subscribers

Section 1. ELIGIBILITY

Any individual, firm or corporation, which is engaged in the production or distribution, lease, or sale of recorded programs for television presentation, subject to the approval of the Television Code Review Board as hereinafter provided, shall be eligible to become an affiliate subscriber to the Television Code of the NAB.

Section 2. CERTIFICATION OF SUBSCRIPTION

Upon becoming an affiliate subscriber to the Code, subject to the approval of the Television Code Review Board, there shall be granted forthwith to each such affiliate subscriber authority to use a copyrighted and registered seal and declaration, in a manner approved by the Television Code Review Board, identifying the individual firm or corporation as an affiliate subscriber to the Television Code of the NAB. Such authority shall not constitute formal clearance or approval by the Television Code Review Board of specific film programs or other recorded material.

Section 3. DURATION OF AFFILIATE SUBSCRIPTION

The affiliate subscription shall continue in full force and effect until thirty days after the first of the month following receipt of a written notice of resignation. The affiliate subscription to the Code shall be effective from the date of application subject to the approval of the Television Code Review Board.

Section 4. SUSPENSION OF AFFILIATE SUBSCRIPTION

Any affiliate subscription and the authority to utilize and show the above-noted seal may be voided, revoked, or temporarily suspended for the sale or distribution for television presentation of any film or other recorded material which by theme, treatment, or incident, in the judgment of the Television Code Review Board, constitutes a continuing, willful or gross violation of any of the provisions of the Television Code, by a vote of three members of the Television Code Review Board at any regular or special meeting. The conditions and procedures applicable to subscribers shall not apply to affiliate subscribers.

Section 5. REPRESENTATION OF AFFILIATE SUBSCRIBERS

Any affiliate subscriber or group of affiliate subscribers may authorize an individual or association to act for them in connection with their relations with the Television Code Review Board by filing a written notice of such representation with the Board. Such representation, however, in no way will limit the right of the Television Code Review Board to suspend individual affiliate subscribers in accordance with the provisions of Section 4.

V

Rates

Each subscriber and affiliate subscriber shall pay 'administrative' rates in accordance with such schedule, at such time, and under such conditions as may be determined from time to time by the Television Board (see Article VI, section 8, C. Television Board (3) and (4), By-Laws of the NAB); provided, that appropriate credit shall be afforded to a television member of the NAB against the regular dues which he or it pays to NAB.

VI*

The Television Code Review Board

Section 1. COMPOSITION

There shall be a continuing committee entitled the Television Code Review Board to be composed of not more than nine members, all of whom shall be from subscribers to the Television Code. They shall be appointed by the President of the NAB, subject to confirmation by the Television Board, and may include one member from each of the subscribing nationwide television networks. Members of the Television Board shall not be eligible to serve on the Review Board. Due consideration shall be given, in making the appointments, to factors of diversification of geographical location, market size, company representation and network affiliation.

No person shall continue as a member of the Television Code Review Board if the station or entity he represents ceases to subscribe to the Television Code. In such case a vacancy occurs in the office immediately, and a successor may be appointed to serve out the unexpired term.

All terms shall be for two years, commencing at the close of the annual meeting of the membership following appointment.

A. Limitation of Service:

No person shall serve for more than two terms of two years each, consecutively, as a member of the Television Code Review Board; provided, however, this limitation shall not apply to network representatives.

Serving out the unexpired term of a former member shall not constitute a term within the meaning of this section.

B. Meetings:

The Television Code Review Board shall meet at least twice in each calendar year on a date to be determined by the Chairman. The Chairman, or the Code Authority Director, may, at any time, on at least five days written notice, call a special meeting of the Board.

C. Quorum:

For all purposes, a majority of the members of the Television Code Review Board shall constitute a quorum.

Section 2. AUTHORITY AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Television Code Review Board is authorized and directed:

(1) To recommend to the Television Board of Directors amendments to the Television Code; (2) to consider, in its discretion, any appeal from any decision made by the Code Authority Director with respect to any matter which has arisen under the Code, and to suspend, reverse, or modify any such decision; (3) to prefer formal charges, looking toward the suspension or revocation of the authority to show the Code Seal, to the Television Board of Directors concerning violations and breaches of the Television Code by a subscriber; (4) to be available to the Code Authority Director for consultation on any and all matters affecting the Television Code.

VII*

Code Authority Director

Section 1. DIRECTOR

There shall be a position designated as the Code Authority Director. This position shall be filled by appointment of the President of NAB, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors.

Section 2. AUTHORITY AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Code Authority Director is authorized and directed: (1) To maintain a continuing review of all programming and advertising material presented over television, especially that of subscribers to the Television Code of NAB; (2) to receive, screen and clear complaints concerning television programming; (3) to define and interpret words and phrases in the Television Code; (4) to develop and maintain appropriate liaison with governmental agencies and with responsible and accountable organizations and institutions; (5) to inform, expeditiously and properly, a subscriber to the Television Code of complaints or commendations, as well as to advise all subscribers concerning the attitudes and desires program-wise of accountable organizations and institutions, and of the American public in general; (6) to review and monitor, if necessary, any certain series of programs, daily programming, or any other program presentations of a subscriber, as well as to request recorded material, or script and copy, with regard to any certain program presented by a subscriber; (7) to reach conclusions and make recommendations or prefer charges to the Television Code Review Board concerning violations and breaches of the Television Code by a subscriber; (8) to recommend to the Code Review Board amendments to the Television Code.

A. Delegation of Powers and Responsibilities:

The Code Authority Director shall appoint such executive staff as is needed, consistent with resources, to carry out the above described functions, and may delegate to this staff such responsibilities as he may deem necessary.

INTERPRETATIONS OF THE TELEVISION CODE

Interpretation No. 1

June 7, 1956, Revised March 3, 1960, March 15, 1962

Integrated and Piggy-Back Announcements

There are two types of announcements advertising multiple products or services:

- (1) The Integrated Announcement and
- (2) The Piggy-Back Announcement.

The basic difference between the two is the audio and video treatment.

(1) The Integrated Announcement is one advertising two or more products or services. WHICH IS SO EXECUTED IN AUDIO AND VIDEO PRESENTATION THAT IT ACTUALLY IS A SINGLE ANNOUNCEMENT. Such an announcement will be counted as a single announcement under the commercial limitations of the Code, provided that:

- (a) the products or services are related in character or purpose, or
- (b) if the products or services offered are those of the same sponsor.

(2) The Piggy-Back Announcement is one advertising two or more products or services. WHICH IS SO EXECUTED IN AUDIO AND VIDEO PRESENTATION THAT IT ACTUALLY IS TWO OR MORE SEPARATE ANNOUNCEMENTS. Such a piggy-back announcement will be counted as two or more announcements under the commercial limitations of the Code.

Interpretation No. 2

June 7, 1956, Revised June 9, 1958
"Pitch" Programs

The "pitchman" technique of advertising in television is inconsistent with good broadcast practice and generally damages the reputation of the industry and the advertising profession.

Sponsored program-length segments consisting substantially of continuous demonstrations or sales presentation, violate not only the time standards established in the Code but the broad philosophy of improvement implicit in the voluntary Code operation and are not acceptable.

Interpretation No. 3

June 7, 1956
Hollywood Film Promotion

The presentation of commentary or film excerpts from current theatrical releases in some instances may constitute commercial material under the Time Standards for Advertising. Specifically, for example, when such presentation, directly or by inference, urges viewers to attend, it shall be counted against the commercial allowance for the program of which it is a part.

Interpretation No. 4

June 7, 1956
Non-Acceptability of Particularly Intimate Products

Paragraph 10 of the Advertising Standards reads in part. "The advertising of particularly intimate products which ordinarily are not freely mentioned or discussed is not acceptable."

Products for the treatment of hemorrhoids and for use in connection with feminine hygiene are not acceptable under the above stated language.

Interpretation No. 5

July 17, 1958, October 2, 1958
Dramatized Advertising (Presentation of Advertising, Paragraph 5)

1. The term "statement" shall include the portrayal in any manner of a physician, dentist or nurse. Thus, the simulation of such professional people may not be undertaken even by visual means only.

2. There are instances of advertising depicting persons obviously of some professional standing. By the nature of the props and setting, such portrayals could be that of medical, dental or nursing profession members, even though direct reference so indicating is not made. Such presentations, unless made by accredited members of these professions, are not acceptable.

3. This restriction does not preclude reference to comprehensive scientific research, studies or surveys, providing, however, that such claims can be fully supported.

4. The term "accredited" defined. In this context the use of the word "accredited" is synonymous with "having legal sanction." Thus, an "accredited" member of the medical profession is one who has completed the required education in a recognized institution of learning, who has passed all necessary state examinations, and who has been granted leave by his resident state to practice a particular branch of medicine.

Interpretation No. 6

January 23, 1959
Prize Identification

Aural and/or visual prize identification of up to ten seconds duration may be deemed "reasonable and limited" under the language of Paragraph 4 of the Time Standards for Advertising. Where such identification is longer than ten seconds, the entire announcement or visual presentation will be charged against the total commercial time for the program period.

Interpretation No. 7

October 4, 1960
Non-Acceptability of "Hard" Liquor (General Advertising Standards, Paragraph 5)

This restraint applies to the advertising of products and/or services in themselves not hard liquors, but which in their presentation, induce the use of hard liquor.
