Foreword

Radio's Next 85 Years

Westinghouse probably employed some engineers named “Jack” and “Bob” when they bravely put KDKA, Pittsburgh on the air back in 1920 – but it wouldn’t have occurred to anybody to call the entire venture “Jack” or “Bob” - or “Max” or “Mike” or “Simon.” Much less “Magic” or “Kiss” or “The Wolf” or “The Pig.”

Radio’s changed dramatically in your lifetime – and the speed of that change went into warpdrive right around 2000, as the Internet and other fresh technologies like satellite radio, MP3 players and radio-capable cellphones made the “old media” look pretty creaky to Wall Street.

But any medium that reaches 95% of Americans every week by virtue of one billion (yes, a billion) radio receivers must be doing something right. And it’s still free – no subscription to buy. There’s certainly no time to rest on the laurels of 85 years of history, though. This was the year that radio took a hard look at itself in the mirror and faced up to problems that had been brewing over the past decade – excessive spotloads, sometimes-mediocre creative, and decreased investment in marketing and promotion. Wall Street understands those kinds of evaluations – especially in what it calls “mature” industries. That’s right – radio has officially passed from being the marvelous high-single digit growth machine of the late 1990s to being a mature industry that still produces extraordinary cash flow and margins. Time and again radio pros tell us “I still love this business – there’s nothing else like it.”

Can radio reinvent itself yet again? You bet.

This Radio Book Directory (formerly known as the M Street Radio Directory) endeavors to provide some of the tools that can help people who want to use radio, to improve it, to syndicate a hot new show, and maybe even buy a few stations. Inside you’ll find –

- Information on more than 14,000 U.S. and Canadian radio stations, including call letters, frequency and contact information.
- Formats, researched by the experts at M Street and Inside Radio.
- Stations listed by radio markets (look near the back).
- Format charts that are the standard of the industry, showing the trends in both commercial and non-commercial stations.

Time to thank some people – like our advertisers, who help make this Radio Book possible. And our many friends who call, write or e-mail with news of local format or people changes and engineering updates. We literally couldn’t do this without them. Like us, they “just want to get it right.” And like us, they care about the quality of the information available to the industry.

Obviously some formats and department heads and cities of license will change from the time we sent this Radio Book to the printer’s – so check www.TheRadioBook.com for the latest.

Has radio got another 85 years in it? We’ll bet the answer is “yes” – and you’ve got our word that we’ll do our part to make it happen.

The M Street Database Format Codes

As the broadcast industry itself evolves, so do radio station formats. Classifications and definitions are amended from time to time to reflect current trends. Here is the current set of format classifications.

AAA	Adult Alternative An eclectic playlist based on rock music but with some other forms of music such as blues, folk and jazz included. The target audience is generally from ages 25 to 54.	CWO	Classic Country This station plays no country music that's currently on the country charts in music industry trade publications. Exactly how old the music played on the Classic Country station is can vary. Some stations could reach back to the 30's while others might play only selections from the 70's and on.
ACW	AC & Country Just what it says. A near 50/50 blend of music from the two formats.	CWT	Traditional Country The Traditional Country station aims for a sound that "reflects country music before it was made contemporary" through the addition of drums and non-stringed instruments in the 70's. Traditional Country stations play music that's in current release that has this "traditional" sound along with older music with a "traditional" sound.
ADC	Adult Contemporary An adult oriented pop/rock station. The Adult Contemporary station will play many of the same records as are currently heard on mainstream CHR stations or were part of mainstream CHR in the 80's and 90's but will leave out those that are at the extremes of rock, rhythmic and rap. The target audience runs from 25 to 54 and may skew	DNC	Rhythmic-CHR A contemporary hit radio station that focuses on rhythmic music.
ADH	Adult Hits Promoted as "We Play What We Want" with playlists that draw from music from the 70's forward, and commonly branded as "Jack," "Bob," et al.	DNX	Dance Closely related to Rhythmic-CHR but focused more on pure dance club music.
AMR	Americana A blending of the rock music played on the AAA station with country and folk music.	EIT	80's Hits A blend of rock and pop music of the late 70's through early 90's with an emphasis on rock and a total absence of any of the dance music that was part of pop music in this period.
BGS	Black Gospel Gospel music and spirituals of the type heard in predominantly black churches. The format may also include teaching and ministry programs of varying lengths programmed throughout the broadcast day.	ETH	Ethnic Programs primarily in languages other than English and/or directed to groups of specific national origin. These stations often utilize block programming in which programs in one language or of one national group target are followed by programs of a different language or national group target.
BIZ	Business News An all-news or news-talk station focusing on business and financial issues. This can be in the form of news blocks that cover current events in the business world and/or talk shows that dispense financial advice.	EZY	Easy Listening This format is distinguished by the programming of "lush" orchestral arrangements of standards and popular songs. Recordings of vocal performances of standards and soft sounding pop tunes may also be included in the programming.
BLG	Bluegrass A station whose playlist focuses on Bluegrass music. Some traditional sounding country music may be included in the programming as well.	FLK	Folk A station whose playlist focuses on Folk music. Some traditional sounding country music and softer rock music may also be included in the programming.

CCN	Contemporary Christian A station that sounds very much like an ADC-adult contemporary, CHR-contemporary hit radio or HAC-hot adult contemporary station with the significant difference that the records played are all of a religious rather than secular nature. The format may also include teaching and ministry programs of varying lengths programmed throughout the broadcast day.	FRM	Farm A station that focuses on providing agricultural or agri-business news and information. This could be accomplished through news-blocks, talk shows or information that's interspersed with the airplay of country music.
CCN	Contemporary Christian Rock-driven alternative or harder rock Christian-themed music A format that focuses on current popular music, often encompassing a variety of styles from rock through dance, that appears on the mainstream music charts in music industry trade publications such as Billboard and Radio & Records.	GOS	Gospel Music Traditional gospel music and spirituals. The code may also be used as a "catch all" for a station that mixes both black gospel and southern gospel. The format may also include teaching and ministry programs of varying lengths programmed throughout the broadcast day.
CLA	Classical Airplay of orchestral music, chamber music, opera and other forms of non-contemporary vocal music.	HAC	Hot AC Adult CHR might be another way of looking at this format. The Hot Adult Contemporary station plays much of the same music as the CHR station but avoids music that appeals only to the younger CHR listeners.
CLR	Classic Rock Mainstream rock of the 60's, 70's and 80's with little or no current rock music included.	INF	Surveillance/ Weather/Traffic These are fully licensed radio stations that provide programming that is more commonly associated with Traveler's Information Service (TIS) radio stations. Their programming consists solely of one or more types of information with no other entertainment programming
CLX	Classic Hits A blend of rock and pop music of the late 60's through early 80's with an emphasis on rock and a total absence of any of the dance music that was part of pop music in this period. CPN	cp-new Assigned to a new station that has been authorized to build its transmitting facility but has never been on the air. The format is generally manifest as a very young skewing CHR station with high energy disc jockeys, call-ins and a large proportion of novelty records.
CTY	Country A station playing a variety of country music styles. Although this station will play music currently listed in music industry trade publication charts in Billboard and Radio & Records, the amount of older country music played on the station may vary greatly between 25% and 75% of the playlist.
