Dear RG:

Kudos to your "Los Angeles Radio Guide!" I've finally gotten a copy to see what all the fanfare is about. Any truth to the new rumor that Radio Guide will be doing a guide for the windy city—Chicago? I sure hope so, because great radio shows are hard to find. Keep up the good work, and I'll be looking for the Chicago version to hit the streets in the near future.

Tim Benko

Dear RG:

When I first saw a copy of Radio Guide, I said, "This is it!" I know you work hard and believe me, your work is appreciated, not only by those who consume radio in large quantities, but for those of us in radio who want to reach new listeners. I really appreciate the various cultural and news programs listed in your guide. Radio is a great way to learn about the other cultures in Los Angeles, because you can "peek" into their issues and concerns as they dialogue with each other, and they never have to know you're listening. Thank you!

 Host, Sunday Morning Live, KACE

Dear RG:

I must say Radio Guide is looking good. It's definitely the most complete source of listings available. Of course, that's the idea!

Thanks for making such a worthwhile contribution to the radio industry.

CLUB LIFE

Chlming with more intensity than a jetcraft engine and with no trace of theatrics or flash, New York City's Live Skull (whose current album, Positraction, can be heard on KXLU and KSPC) will be headlining a night of adventurous anti-pop rock when they perform live at Bogart's (6288 E. Pacific Coast Highway, Long Beach) on April 30. Led by the understated Thalia Zedek, a strong, deliberately droning woman who'll put up with no part of cutsey-girl plastic sexuality, Skull are primarily a band of guitar overkill. From the hookah-esque slink and fuzz of "Riches House" through the ceaselessly pounding beat and distorted wall-of-shimmer in "Circular Saws," they churn out great, grating sheets of dark and shining texture that are sure to scorch a few inner ear canals. They'll be supported by equally adventurous locals, the Jack Brewer Band: the new ensemble of the former Saccharine Trust frontman. In contrast to Zedek's feet-on-the-ground feminist intensity, Brewer is a wild and frenetic guy. He races from one corner of the stage to the other like a hamster on fire, ranting his nightmare poetry while his crew, a more traditionally rocking ensemble, lay down a solid beat. You'll hear more from them later on alternative rock stations. Bogart's is a comfortable, non-trendy place that has the feel of a giant living room. The terraced layout creates decent sight lines for even the shortest visitors. Ventilation is excellent—no sense of climbing inside an ashtray every time you take a breath. Sound is usually good. Twenty-one and over only, unfortunately.

—Andrea 'Enthal

BOOB JOB

Some gullible KPWR listeners were mighty upset when they waited hours for the free while-you-wait facelifts and breast augmentations, only to find out they had fallen for Jay Thomas' April Fools Day prank. Thomas told listeners the free service would be provided at 1631 N. Vine in Hollywood, a nonexistent address next to the old Angelyne mural, which has since been replaced by an 85-foot-tall mural of Thomas' head on a very shapely woman's body. A group of 40 listeners were so upset they turned up at the station to protest the gag. One woman even called KCBS-TV trouble-shooter Judd McIlvain and confronted Thomas on television. Thomas then offered to hold a telethon to pay for the outraged listener's expenses, if indeed it went towards plastic surgery.

By the way, the huge mural featuring Thomas' new look is visible from the executive offices of arch rival KIIS.

LITE LIVES

KOST, KBIG and KJOI have been attempting to lure former KIQQ/K-LITE listeners by using the word "lite" in their on-air spots, but San Fernando Valley's KGIL-FM went one step further by adopting the "K-LITE" name as its slogan identifier. KGIL's K-LITE format includes lighter hits of the sixties, seventies and eighties.

HOLLYWOOD IN NEW YORK

What was KIIS-FM's evening air personality Hollywood Hamilton recently doing hosting afternoon drive at New York's Z-100? Hamilton's camp says he was just vacationing and doesn't plan to change his name to Broadway Hamilton anytime soon.

BLUE THUNDER—KNX FM

Traffic reporter Bob Tur recently made news by locating and picking up an Anaheim man from a remote campsite near the Arizona state line and flying him back to Santa Ana to receive a kidney that matched his rare blood type. This isn't the first time Tur has performed such heroics. In 1988, Tur rescued several people from the damaged Redondo Beach Pier.

CAMEOS:

KROQ's Poorman does "Heathers"

That was KABC's Michael Jackson appearing as a television talk show host in the made-for-TV-movie "The Case of the Hillside Strangler." Also look for KROQ's Jim "The Poorman" Trenton in the black comedy "Heathers."

YO, PIRATE!

Jon Bon Jovi
before the bomb blew

During the first week of April, KQLZ's Scott Shannon made his official debut on the airwaves, after two weeks of using the pseudonym "Bubba the Love Sponge." For his coming out party, Shannon lined up a number of big-name interviews including Elvis Costello, Eddie Van Halen, Guns N' Roses guitarist Slash and Jon Bon Jovi. The latter read the station's very first commercial—an ad for Bon Jovi's appearance at the Forum.

Shannon
On His Pirate
Island

Morning jock Roger Barkley has inexplicably left the folds of KJOI-FM radio. Tom Brown, a veteran of radio stations in San Francisco, Sacramento, New York and Philadelphia, has filled Barkley's 5-9 a.m. slot.

KIIS GOODBYE—KIIS-AM

KIIS-AM has gone back to simulcasting its FM signal after experimenting with an urban dance format. "The AM did exactly what we expected. It pulled a tremendous teen audience," said KIIS assistant program director Gwen Roberts. "With the L.A. market being as competitive as it is, we thought it would be better to pool our resources."

GUY KEMP—UPDATE

The notorious Guy Kemp, former outrageous morning jock on KMPC-FM (now KEDG), hasn't fallen off the planet. Kemp was last heard doing mornings at WBPR-FM (Power 98) in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. But on May 1, Kemp will resurface as part-owner/program director/morning show host at KCNA-FM in Oregon. The station's slogan is "Kickin' A." Says Kemp of his new station's format, "It won't be any of that EDGE-crap. It will be good, old-fashioned rock and roll, like KMET in the '70s."

RG-Cross-A-Tron

This week our roving flash man, Robby Robo "The T," stalked the wild Los Angeles causeways for the unsung heroes of safe crossings. Believe it or not, crossing guards listen to radio on the job and have a lot to say about what they hear and what is played. Below are a few champions you might watch for next time you have to get across a street.

ELAINE

"KJOI (98.7-FM) plays music that keeps me happy. I also like to look for big band tunes up & down the dial."

Curtis on the lookout for Jaybirds

CURTIS

"I'm a religious man, and I listen to KTYM (1460-AM) for all that religious talk & music."

HUGH

"Well, the talk and news from KNX (1070-AM) really keeps me company during the day."

JEANETTE

"I like 'young' music on KBIG (104.3-FM) & classical KFAC (92.3-FM)."

RENO

"I love George Putnam's 'Talk Back' on KIEV 870-AM."

GRACE

"KIIS (102.7-FM) helps me pass the time wait'n for those wacky kids."

Morning Wars...

You Choose the BOSS

Morning radio war has been declared, so let's put our little toy soldiers together and see which one's a winner. Could it be that pirate Scott Shannon from KQLZ? Or maybe it's those KLOS Marines Mark and Brian? Or is the Patton of radio— Rick Dees— here to stay? Call our HOTLINE NUMBER (213) 306-9722 or, if you'd like, fill out the ballot below and let us know who YOU listen to in the morning. Remember, you can vote for whoever is your fave morning DJ...they don't have to be listed on this ballot.

"The time has come to bring 'BOSS' radio back to Los Angeles. To put it simply, I'm on a mission from God."

—Scott Shannon, KQLZ

When KODJ-FM morning team Dean Goss and Michael Winslow recently broadcast from a tank on Sunset Boulevard, it couldn't have been more appropriate-- morning drive-time airwaves have become a battlefield these days.

Morning drive, the equivalent to television's prime-time, has always been competitive in Los Angeles, where millions of listeners share their commute to work with their favorite radio station. Yet when Westwood One announced it had signed New York's top-rated air personality and programming mastermind Michael Scott Shannon to its new Los Angeles outlet, local radio, as we knew it, virtually exploded.

Even months before Shannon's debut on KQLZ-FM-Pirate Radio, there was a flurry of activity. KPWR-FM-Power 106 adopted the "morning zoo" tag which Shannon had coined years earlier. KIIS stole some of Shannon's contest ideas, and the management at KNX-FM decided it would be better off turning to oldies (now KODJ) than facing off with Shannon and company.

"This is definitely shaping up to be the biggest radio war in the history of Los Angeles, and we are going to be a player," said KODJ program director Kurt Kelly.

While Kelly may be optimistic that his station has a chance to battle it out with the big boys, Pirate Radio is likely to be the only newcomer that has the strategy and personality to be a serious contender with the elite cast that has topped the morning ratings for the last two years.

Their names are familiar. KPWR's Jay Thomas. KABC's Ken and Bob. KIIS' Rick Dees. Until recently, Dees was the undisputed king of morning drive, but the smart-ass Thomas and the veteran Ken and Bob team have been chipping away at the throne.

Shannon is Dees' new thorn in the side. During Pirate Radio's first week of broadcasts, using the pseudonym Bubba the Love Sponge, Shannon launched personal attacks on Dees' private parts.

But Shannon isn't the only one

Some Battle Talk

making noise in morning drive as a contender. Mark and Brian, the wise-cracking tag-team heard on KLOS, follow closely for their morning antics. KLSX's rising newcomer Peter Tilden has classic rockers in morning stitches. And KOST's Mark and Kim offer a more civilized alternative for folks who like their rock soft and humor subtle.

"We aren't going to be the number one morning show in Los Angeles, especially going up against Scott Shannon, but I would like to be the alternative," says KOST program director Jhani Kaye. "When people get tired of all the gimmicky yuck-yuck morning radio, if they want some information, a humorous look at something and some music, they come to us."

At least for now, Los Angelenos are tuning into the fast-paced morning shows of KPWR and KIIS and the fun talk of KABC, but Shannon's camp is determined to muscle their way to the top.

"It's a tall order to ask people to change their habits in morning drive," said KPWR program director Jeff Wyatt. "We had a tough task (with Jay Thomas), and Scott has a much tougher one."

—Craig Rosen

"Maybe we're a little bit corny, but then we're all a little corny at times. And that's what works."

Bob Arthur of KABC's Ker & Bob

"People who listen to us are keeping their eyes on the interest rates, hoping the variable rates on their mortgage aren't going to go up."

Mark Wallengen of KOST's Mark & Kim

"When Penn State comes out to play USC, is USC frightened? No. This is my home court, and I've been here a while. I'm going to do the same show no matter who comes to town."

Jay Thomas, KPWR

"There's room for everybody, and I think competition is healthy. We're going to have hot fun upside your head, Rick Shannon Thomas!"

Michael Winslow, of KOCU's Dean and Michael

The Sound Of SEX

As soon as FM radio popped on the dial, sex slid with a hush into our bedrooms. Every night we'd get seduced by those low, slow voices. Those breathy women. The Nighthirds and Early Morning Talkers. Well, sex sounds different these days, if you go by RADIO GUIDE's latest poll. It isn't found in the whispering murmurs or inflections of a radio personality's articulation. Now, it's more the whole package. Sexy is everything. And the winners are....

Ms. FM

JACKIE STEVENS

KJLH, News, weekdays

"I'm really surprised. There's some massive competition here in L.A. And it means I'm rating. See, I do news and public affairs. I'm not a jock, so normally that type of person would not have the numbers of listeners a jock would.

I've been told all through my broadcasting career my voice is sexy. But I'm a news person and a journalist. With that you want a commanding sound. But I guess there's still a uniqueness about a female voice being on the air, and basically people just relate it to being sexy.

I'm going to put this on my bio. Sure am. My biggest award was for number two position in Broadcasting Magazine, news category. That was six years ago. And so L.A.'s sexiest FM radio voice may be right next to it.

When people meet me they aren't surprised. The look goes with the sound. Or should I say, the actual look is equal to the look they've conjured up of me. I think often, especially with the male voices, listeners' images aren't one with the real people. Have you noticed most males in radio...are short?"

Ms. AM

CAROLE HEMINGWAY

KGIL, 2-6 p.m., weekdays

"I think this is wonderfully fun. It's really unexpected. People may think it's incongruous because they are always thinking feminists don't have a sense of humor and feminists aren't interested in sex. But that's a myth.

I don't try to project a sexy voice. But I have a lot of passion about what I'm talking about, and I'm very clear and straightforward and intimate. I love my callers. I don't care if they fight with me or joke with me. I get connected with them, and there's an intimacy that evolves that is sexy. And people often say they love my laugh. And a good genuine laugh is sexy. Because sex is also fun.

Sex certainly goes beyond the voice. It just hits you in a way you don't really know where it's coming from. And since on the radio all I have to communicate with is my voice, I think what's happening is I'm obviously communicating me.

I'm going to call my Aunt Betty, my mother and my brother. My brother will go into a tirade about how superficial media is. And this will be the capper."

Mr. FM

HOLLYWOOD HAMILTON

KIIS, afternoon drive-time

At 15, H.H. built his own bootleg radio station in the basement of his parent's home, in Reno, Nevada. He combined Radio Shack equipment with his mom's stereo. On a clear day he spoke to about 12 people. Then the FCC knocked on his door and demanded it be dismantled. Now H.H. is FM radio's sexiest voice. Maybe sexy has something to do with H.H.'s irreverence for rules.

"This is funny. I like this a lot. I never thought of myself as having a sexy voice at all. I figure I'd definitely win it for the Mr. Squeaky category. I'm pretty much myself on the radio. There's no set rap. I don't read liners. Everything I do is ad lib. I'm maybe not as obnoxious in real life. Or that loud. Or that egotistical. When people hear you night after night, they build up such an image in their mind. An image you will never live up to. It's all theater of the mind. And hundreds of thousands of people do this to me. It's amazing.

Getting sexiest voice is definitely something to talk about on the radio. I would definitely thank all the people who voted for me, from the bottom of my toes to my head. It's all so subjective. Every listener has their own opinion about voices. From loving a deep voice kinda guy to a young sounding guy. Everybody's got their own sound. My voice does go through an Optimod, which makes me sound older. Everybody sounds a little older than what they actually are, at least on KIIS.

The radio's an amazing medium. One night I told everybody in Orange County to go into their bathrooms and flush the toilet at the same time when I said 'Go.' Well, what happened was, it messed up the drainage system. The Department of Water and Power had a lot of problems. There's a lot of power in being on the radio."

Mr. AM

DON STEELE

KRLA, afternoon drive-time

We nabbed The Real Don Steele and gabbed in between all the button pushing, announcing and record spinning that makes this guy a true sleight of hand magician. He doesn't miss a beat. Maybe he'll change his name to "Oh So Sexy Don Steele."

"I've always thought that my voice was probably The Sexiest of All. Finally someone else appreciates my closet talent, heavy on the closet. I'm going to call Pirate Radio up first because I'm vying to become Bubba the Love Monkey. Sexy...means everything.

(from the booth) 'Hey baby we're bringing back the good times with your favorite oldies all the time, listen to this- is this sexy or what? KRLA, dfg. AM finally got sexy baby.'

Well, it's only rock and roll but I like it. And again I am thrilled and delighted with this sex sweepstakes. Sexy means everything.

(from the booth) 'What it's all about baby, all oldies all the time, KRLA with me the Real Don Steele. Hey mobile phone, let's check out the mess that's happenin with Denise Fondo. Good Afternoon Denise, do you think I'm talkin pretty sexy today?' (aside) Projection is half the game.

So, what do you think I'll get for sexiest voice? If it's a T-shirt, make it an extra large, folks!"

THE DREAM TEAM

Fraze...

It's bigger than a breadbox

Can we get this picture of me any smaller? I'd really like to be a postage stamp at some point...I wouldn't want my ego to go out of control. Maybe I can get KLSX to put up a bunch of MINI billboards—1/2 inch by 1/2 inch....put up five million all over town. People would say, "Yea, who's that little guy? I wanna listen to him!"

...at the Flicks

Anyway, The Dream Team, starring Michael Keaton, Stephen Furst, Peter Boyle and Christopher Lloyd, has a great cast, but my idea of a DREAM TEAM would be Michelle Pfeiffer, Traci Lords, supermodel Paulina and Marilyn Quayle. Now, there's a dream team.

The Dream Team is about a group of psychiatric patients who are on a field trip in New York City. They get separated from their doctor and have to fend for themselves in the Big Apple. In the process, they run into all kinds of incidents, including many supposedly normal people who turn out to be far crazier than they are. At the end of the movie, they have pulled together as a team, solved a crime, reunited with the doctor and made a big step towards gaining their self esteem and confidence as human beings.

It's an interesting premise and with an uplifting ending. And a pretty interesting little film. Although once again, I didn't see it, so how would I know? I gave it a nine on my scale because I have no scale. Who knows what that means? Well that's it for Frazee at the Flicks this week. I'm going to go back to dreaming about having a bigger picture.

Frazer Smith is on 97.1 KLSX 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. Saturdays. Frazee at the Flicks, produced by Premiere Radio Networks, can be heard M-F at 5:20 p.m. You can also see Frazer live at the Ice House every Tuesday and Wednesday nights and the Laugh Factory every Friday night.

Sweet Dreamers: Christopher Lloyd, Peter Boyle, Stephen Furst and Michael Keaton

TRAVELS WITH DAD

My father was not a talkative man. We would often ride in the car for hours not saying a thing to each other. I would watch buildings go by, racking my brain for ways to make interesting conversation.

He seemed to always be thinking, trying to chip away in his mind at the enormous debt that faced our family. And I could never think of a topic that would alleviate that financial burden, even if only momentarily. I wanted so much for him to like me, to understand why I always volunteered to ride with him, to hear me say something perceptive, or ingenious, or funny. I wanted him to enjoy my company. But I could never easily think of anything to say.

Sometimes I'd ask him if we could listen to the radio, and it was a very sticky question. There was very little music that my father could stand. So we listened to the all-news station. I can clearly remember the station identification—KFWB, News 98—with that ticker-tape clicking sound in the background.

I used to be fascinated by the lilt with which anchors imparted the news. The sound had a poetic rhythm and meter to its authority. We would ride in the wine interior of the expansive Cadillac Seville, our thoughts punctuated by the tempo of their voices.

Sometimes, with any luck, there'd be a story that would inspire a question from me or an audible comment for my father's benefit. A story about a celebrity who died during an epileptic fit initiated a conversation about a college buddy of my father's with epilepsy.

"His nickname was 'Boob,'" my father said, "and he did the two worst things an epileptic could do."

"What?" I asked, baited.

"He rode a motorcycle."

"No," I said, disbelievingly.

He nodded. "And he worked in construction. The type of job where you're up in a sky-scraper, raising and lowering those huge metal beams."

The sports wrap up would occasionally spur some banter about sports figures. This is how I learned that my father's favorite team was the Miami Dolphins. This is how I can amaze my friends with things like who made up the triumvirate of power that drove the Dolphins to back to back superbows: Jim Kiick, Bob Griese and Larry Csonka. Their Jersey numbers were 66, 12 and 39, respectively. And that Larry Csonka first broke his nose at nine when the bully down the block hit him with a brick. These were the things my father would tell me as we rode along listening to All News 98.

In a few months, just before I turned 13, my father left town in the middle of the night. There was a note to my mother explaining how this was the best solution to their problems. And for some reason, the question that people always seemed to ask me for the next few years was "Why do you really think he did it?" And even though I would shrug my shoulders, I knew.

The thing is that on the radio, if you made a mistake, it wasn't such a big deal. In an hour, the news would start again, and you would have a chance to do it from the beginning. And you could keep trying it over and over, until you got it right. But my father realized things just weren't like that.
