WHO'S WHO IN

World Radio History

This is the Year to Come

■ . . . and if great intentions produce great results, this could be TV's shining hour. Encouraged by the critical and rating reception given to "Death of a Salesman," all three networks are going all out to produce some of the finest plays ever seen on the small TV screen, performed by the finest actors money can buy. Many of these shows will be presented on ABC's ambitious "Stage '67" (see page 16 for further details). Others will alternate with "The Sunday Night Movie," under the title of "Sunday Night at the Theater," and still others like "The Crucible," "The Glass Menagerie" and "Othello" will be showcased as specials. And if this multi-million-dollar experiment in reviving living theater on TV is a success, then drama will certainly return to its past glory on a regular weekly basis next season. The new regular programming for this season, however, is the usual mixture of situation comedies, westerns, adventure and science fiction—together with the return of Milton Berle and Garry Moore to the weekly scene. Thirty-four new shows are at the starting gate, the same number as last year. Only a third of last season's shows survived and the odds are about the same for this year's entries. It's up to you to decide which shows will be hits; which will disappear in mid-season or in June. And it's also up to you to decide which of the many new actors in regular series will become overnight stars—or fade into oblivion. See pages 4-21 for a complete lineup of this year's new shows and stars.

This year, too, the networks are devoting five nights a week to presenting the newest and best Hollywood movies—some of which were seen on the big screen as recently as 1965. To make your viewing of these movies more enjoyable we've included the complete casts and critical ratings. This special bonus section starts on page 62—and we suggest you keep it on hand throughout the year.

In fact, we feel this magazine—the only one of its kind published—will add to your TV viewing during the season ahead. You'll find a program guide to all the evening shows on our inside back cover, and our index to stars and shows will help you find information about anyone in whom you are interested.

For
66-67

GENE KELLY in Jack and the Beanstalk with Bobby Riha

□ The sky's the limit for Jack and the Beanstalk and the sky's the limit for the entertainment specials the networks are presenting this season. Aside from "Jack and the Beanstalk," a musical offering starring Gene Kelly and featuring Bobby Riha as Jack, which will be aired Feb. 26, NBC will present some 40 other specials. "Alice Through the Looking Glass," due on Nov. 6 will star Judi Rolin in the title role and feature such outstanding performers as Jimmy Durante, Ricardo Montalban, Nanette Fabray, Agnes Moorehead, Jack Palance and the Smothers Brothers. The "Hallmark Hall of Fame" will present five dramatic productions, including "Anastasia," starring Julie Harris and Lynn Fontanne; "Barefoot in Athens," starring Peter Ustinov; "The Admirable Crichton" and "Blithe Spirit." George Hamilton will host "Class of '67," a one-hour variety show on Sept. 10 and will have as his guests Don Adams, Nancy Sinatra, Peter Nero and Lada Edmond Jr. Sidney Poitier will star in a two-hour adaptation of Shakespeare's "Othello" and Richard Rodgers has composed a score for "Saturday Night," a film showing how people in many lands celebrate Saturday night. NBC's "Project 20" series will offer: "The Law and the Prophets," a religious show narrated by Alexander Scourby on Jan. 29; "End of the Trail," with Walter Brennan telling the story of the Indians of the Great Plains; and "An Island Called Ellis," which will find Jose Ferrer exploring American immigration. On Nov. 27, James Cagney will narrate an animated musical, "The Ballad of Smokey the Bear" and animal lovers should also enjoy "The Incredible World of Animals," a series of specials based on the ever fascinating world of nature. Perry Como, Bob Hope, Danny Thomas, Lorne Greene and Tommy Steele will each be hosting their own specials, and other top show-business personalities will be honored in a weekly variety program entitled "Salute." Britain's royal palaces and their art treasures will be the subject of a full hour special to be telecast late in 1966, and a one-hour "Life of Christ" program is on tap as well. "The Bell Telephone Hour," which kicks off its new season on Sept. 25, will feature a new format consisting of musical documentaries about personalities, movements and new ideas in the field of music. In addition to all this, you'll also be seeing "Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies," "The Miss America Pageant," "Ice Capades of 1967," "The Golden Globe Awards" hosted by Andy Williams.

The CBS line-up is equally diverse. The season will be highlighted by several presentations of great dramatic classics, including Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie," Arthur Miller's "The Crucible" and John Gielgud and Claire Bloom in Chekhov's "Ivanov." Another of England's outstanding theatrical personalities, Emlyn Williams, will be seen on the network in his internationally acclaimed evening of Charles Dickens. A distinguished array of stars of the concert and ballet stages (Van Cliburn, Marian Anderson, Isaac Stern, Andres Segovia and Maya Plisetskaya to name a few) will perform in a 90-minute special entitled "S. Hurok Presents." Leonard Bernstein returns for another season of the New York Philharmonic "Young People's Concerts" and the incomparable "Peanuts" will be back on CBS in some new "Charlie Brown" specials. The '66-'67 season will also introduce to television the work of gifted author-cartoonist Dr. Seuss, who will be represented by a holiday color cartoon. "How the Grinch Stole Christmas." On hand to tickle your funny bone will be such comics as Jim Nabors, Dick Van Dyke, Carol Burnett and Lucille Ball with their own shows, plus Red Skelton's "Clown Alley," and a new Sinatra Special. The National Geographic Society will present four more specials. "Marineland Carnival" will display the talents of its bathing beauties and three other beauties, Miss Teenage America, Miss U.S.A. and Miss Universe will be crowned on your TV screen. Those hardy perennials, "Cinderella" and "The Wizard of Oz," will be back to brighten the calendar, ditto "The Nutcracker" ballet.

Most of ABC's special attractions will be part of its weekly "Stage '67" and Sunday Night at the Theater, but there will be other notable treats including Bob Goulet and Sally Ann Howes in "Brigadoon," and top sporting events.

DICK VAN DYKE

NEW ON NBC

NOEL HARRISON, who plays Mark Slate, is Rex Harrison's son, but he has managed to carve out a fine career for himself entirely on his own. Having entered the business as a folk singer in Europe, he soon captured the interest of Americans and was a smash hit on his first US tour back in 1960. Since then, he has made a steady climb toward stardom. Noel is 32, married and the father of 3 girls and a boy.

RANDY KIRBY is also the son of a famous pop. His dad, of course, is Duward Kirby of "Candid Camera." A New Yorker, Randy grew up surrounded by his dad's show business friends and quickly decided that an acting career was for him. After a B'way debut in a best-be-forgotten flop, Randy was signed for "Mame," but after one night in that smash musical, he had to pack his bag and head west for U.N.C.L.E. Single.

the girl from u.n.c.l.e.

STEFANIE POWERS, who plays April Dancer, came into the world in Hollywood on Nov. 2, 1942. After graduating from Hollywood High, she tested for a role in "West Side Story," got the female lead in "Among the Thorns" and was on her star-studded way. A talented painter and singer as well as actress, she became a big hit in "Experiment in Terror," followed it up with "Stagecoach" as well as numerous television series. Stefanie and actor Gary Lockwood, whom she dated for a year, have recently purchased their honeymoon cottage.

□ NBC boasts the first all-color nighttime program schedule in the history of television and, in addition to this feat, the network has lined up ten new shows designed to make your viewing a delight whether you have a color set or not.

Roger Miller reigns as "King of Variety" this year, and his show ("The Roger Miller Show") will feature outstanding guest stars as well as the singing farmboy himself.

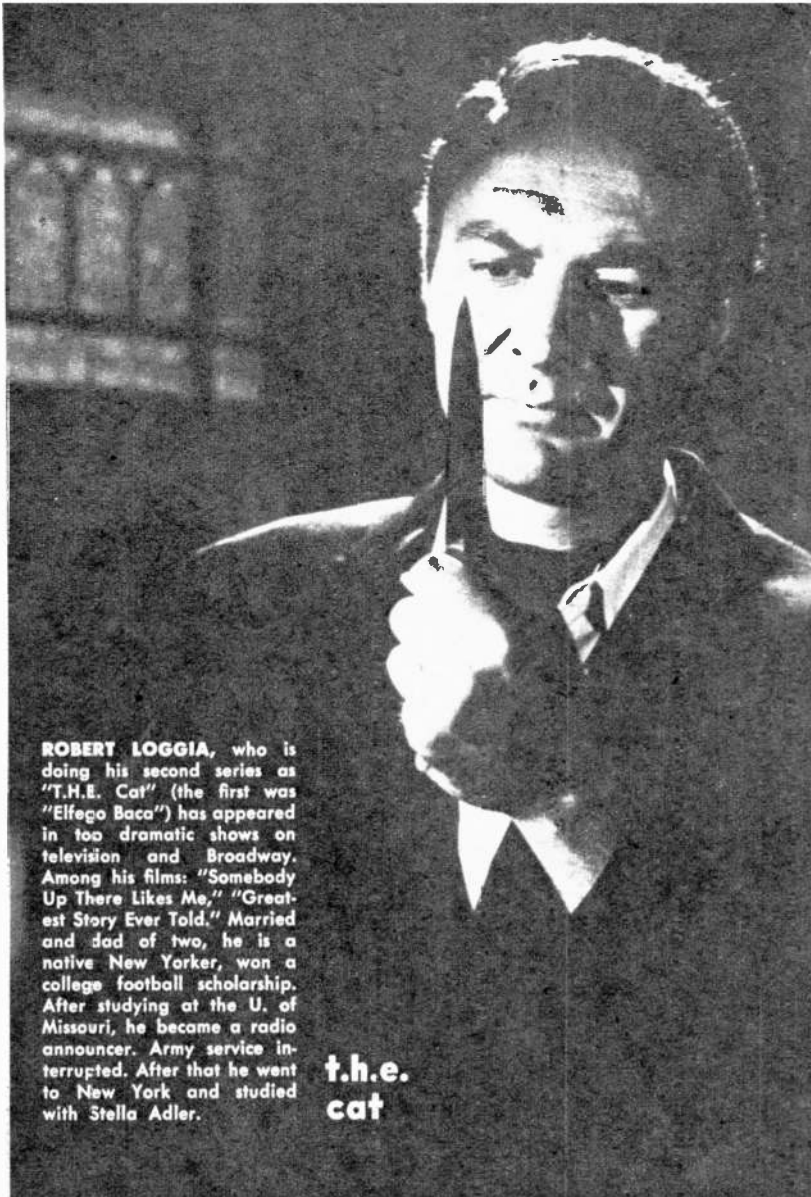

"The Monkees," one of four new situation comedies, features four bright young lads (David Jones, Peter Tork, Mickey Braddock and Mike Nesmith) as a quartet of wild, way-out singer-musicians who sport overlong hairdos, unconventional modes of clothes and have the distinction of being the world's most unknown teenage idols. "Hey Landlord!" stars Will Hutchins as a young man from the Midwest who inherits an apartment building in New York and comes to the big city to manage it. Comedian Sandy Baron co-stars as Will's roommate. "Occasional Wife" brings Michael Callan to the TV screen in the role of an extremely dedicated young bachelor who happens to be in the unfortunate position of needing a wife in order to succeed in business. "The Hero" is a TV series about the star of a TV series, in which Richard Mulligan portrays Sam Garrett, "the handsomest gun in the West" and the idol of millions. In real life, however, "The Hero" happens to have been born with ten thumbs, an allergy to sagebrush and a deadly fear of horses.

"The Road West" is an honest-to-goodness Western which stars Barry Sullivan as Ben Pride, a widower who leaves Ohio with his 2 children, his mother and his father to settle in the new territory of Kansas in the 1850's.

Two new crime shows hit the NBC airwaves this season. "The Girl From U.N.C.L.E." is the counterpart of "The Man From U.N.C.L.E." and stars Stefanie Powers as April Dancer, an attractive 24-year-old secret agent who has been trained to deal with THRUSH. "T.H.E. Cat" features Robert Loggia portraying T. Hewitt Edward Cat, a reputed ex-cat burglar who thwarts crime.

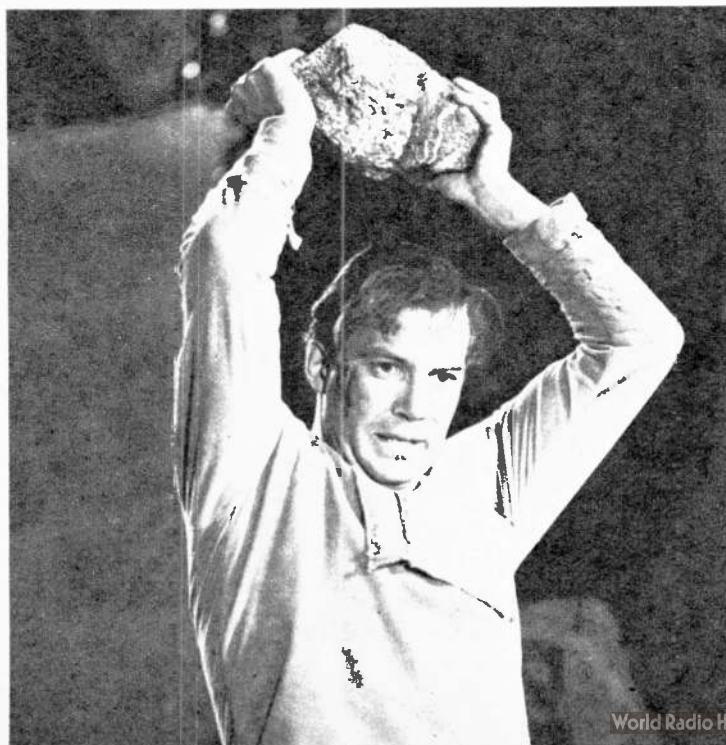

In the science fiction field, you'll see "Star Trek," a series dealing with a cruiser-size star ship, whose mission includes scientific investigation of previously unexplored worlds. William Shatner is cast as the ship's commander.

Last, but not least, you'll be seeing handsome Ron Ely as "Tarzan," that famous fellow who swings through the trees and averts all sorts of danger in the deep, dark jungle.

ROBERT LOGGIA, who is doing his second series as "T.H.E. Cat" (the first was "Elfege Baca") has appeared in too dramatic shows on television and Broadway. Among his films: "Somebody Up There Likes Me," "Greatest Story Ever Told." Married and dad of two, he is a native New Yorker, won a college football scholarship. After studying at the U. of Missouri, he became a radio announcer. Army service interrupted. After that he went to New York and studied with Stella Adler.

star trek

WILLIAM SHATNER, who plays Capt. James Kirk, was born March 22 in Montreal, Canada, began his career as a child actor, grew up to become one of the busiest actors in show biz. He's appeared on Broadway ("Suzie Wang," "Shot in the Dark") on TV ("Defenders," "Naked City," his own series "Far From the People") in films ("Judgment at Nuremberg") and writes scripts in what little free time he has left. Married to Glaria Rand, Bill has three young daughters.

LEONARD NIMOY, who plays Mr. Spock, appeared in a production of "Hansel and Gretel" when he was 8, decided then and there that show business was for him. When he grew up, he studied at the Pasadena Playhouse, was soon working on TV shows like "Dr. Kildare" and "Outer Limits," flicks like "The Balcony" and "Seven Days in May." Leonard is married and the father of 2 children.

occasional wife

MICHAEL CALLAN was spotted in the Broadway hit "West Side Story" and brought to Hollywood by Columbia. He's Philadelphia-born (Nov. 22, 1935), is going great guns in the movies, where you saw him in "You Must Be Joking"; "Cat Ballou." He and wife Corlyn have often had marital strife, in spite of their two children. Mickey's a sensational triple threat showman; he sings, dances and acts with equal skill and charm.

PATRICIA HARTY, who plays Greta Veblen, is a Broadway veteran by virtue of her featured performances in "Fiorello" and "Sail Away." She is a dancer-turned-actress from Washington, D.C. whose first appearances were in choruses of the "Perry Como," "Garry Moore" and "Pat Boone" shows. She has fulfilled acting assignments in several TV series and just completed her first film, "Harvey Middleman—Fireman." Divorced.

the hero

RICHARD MULLIGAN, who plays The Hero, once planned to be a priest, developed an interest in acting while attending Columbia U. After trying his wings in summer stock, he did B'way plays like "Nobody Loves an Albatross" and "The Mating Game," chalked up many TV credits. While appearing in "The Group" flick, he wed actress Joan Hackett, and has a son by a previous wife. A native New Yorker.

MARIETTE HARTLEY, who plays The Hero's wife, was born June 21, 1940 in New York City, grew up in Connecticut, where she appeared in Children's Theater productions. Eventually, she graduated to Shakespeare, toured the country with the Shakespeare Festival, stopped off in H'wood to do movies like "Marnie" and "Ride the High Country," TV-ers like "Bonanza." Last season she was a regular on "Peyton Place."

hey, landlord

WILL HUTCHINS, who plays the Landlord, is not only a talented actor—he's also smart and strong. The possessor of a Masters degree and a Phi Beta Kappa key, he once planned to become a boxer, later switched to acting and became famous as the star of the "Sugarfoot" TV series. Married to Carol Burnett's sister Chris, 6'1" Will has an infant daughter, Jennifer Jane. He was born in Los Angeles, Calif. on May 5, 1932.

SANDY BARON, who plays Chuck Hooksratten (in the bottom bunk), is a native of Brooklyn, N.Y. He gave up school teaching in order to become a comedian. He got his first pro experience in off-Broadway shows like "Second City," worked his way up to B'way productions like "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" and appeared quite frequently on TV's "That Was the Week that Was." Sandy's happily wed to dancer Geraldine Crotty.

road west

KATHRYN HAYS, who plays Elizabeth Reynolds, gave up a career as one of New York's most glamorous high fashion models in order to become an actress. She got her first acting break on TV's "Naked City," went on to do three B'way plays and more than 40 TV shows. She recently completed her first film, "Night of the Tiger." The bride of actor Glenn Ford, Kathryn has a daughter by a former marriage. She's 31.

BRENDA SCOTT, who plays Midge Pride, was born in New York City, moved to Hollywood with her family while in her teens. The niece of the legendary May Busch, she made her professional acting debut in "My Three Sons," won an Emmy nomination for her performance on an "Alcoa Theatre" episode. Brenda, who is still single, is an avid reader, likes to try her talented hand at writing short stories.

CHARLES SEEL, N.Y.-born veteran actor, started his career with D.W. Griffith, worked in hundreds of stage, radio, TV shows and films; is wed. KELLY CORCORAN, who plays Kip, is Noreen's baby brother; was born in LA, Aug. 8, 1958, debuted at tender age of 1 in "Bachelor Father."

ANDREW PRINE, who plays Timothy Pride on this full hour western, was born on February 14, 1936 in Jennings, Fla. He attended the Univ. of Miami, where he majored in scenic design, and began acting while still in college. In 1959 he scored in the prize winning B'way play, "Look Homeward Angel." He is divorced from actress Sharon Farrell, was formerly seen in TV series "The Wide Country."

GLENN CORBETT, who plays Chance Reynolds, was born in El Monte, Calif., had his first brush with acting at Occidental College, near L.A. His professional career was launched when he won a small role in Columbia's "Crimson Kimono," was furthered by appearances in "Man on a String," "All the Young Men." He was cast as a regular on "It's a Man's World" and "Route 66" TV series.

BARRY SULLIVAN, who stars as Ben Pride, went West to play in a top-rated picture, "Lady in The Dark," and stayed to make horse operas for five years. Then he went to MGM in 1949 and flowered into a Grade-A actor. Born Patrick Barry in N.Y. on Aug. 29, 1912, he started out to be a lawyer, wound up playing Broadway before H'wood beckoned. Divorced twice (last Gita Hall), he's a father.

tarzan

RON ELY, who stars as Tarzan, developed his rippling muscles while working as an oil-field hand in his native Texas. He majored in radio-TV while at Texas U., then went to Hollywood to put the things he learned into action. His first break was a role in the film "South Pacific," after which he was handed the starring role in TV's "Malibu Run" series. 6'4", 210-pound Ron was born in Hereford, Texas on June 2.

show

ROGER MILLER is a farm boy from Erick, Okla., who began his career by entering local talent contests as a boy. When he grew up, he headed for Nashville, Tenn. and soon acquired a reputation as a fine songwriter as well as a superb entertainer. His hit record, "King of the Road," shot him to stardom and his 1-man TV show last season was so successful he was given a weekly spot this year. Roger is married, recently moved from his country dwellings to a swank apartment in New York.

monkees

MICKEY DOLENZ is the son of actor George Dolenz, embarked on his own career at the age of ten when he was cost as the star of the "Circus Boy" TV series. An extremely talented teenager, he's played dramatic roles on such shows as "Peyton Place" and "Mr. Novak," had to master the drums for his present assignment. Mickey is a native of L. A.

MIKE NESMITH was born in Dallas, Texas, attended collage in San Antonio, where he farmed an interest in folk singing and guitar playing. After graduation, he set out for Hollywood, spent some time working with a combo, later went back to being a single. He was appearing at a folk club called Ledbetter's when he auditioned for and won a role in "The Monkees."

PETER TORK developed an interest in folk singing as a child, went to New York's Greenwich Village at the earliest possible moment to pursue a career in the field. His skill with such instruments as the guitar, piano, bass and banjo helped him to land a job with the Phoenix singers, but after 6 months he left the group. He was born in Washington, D. C.

DAVID JONES is a 5'3" bundle of talent who shelved plans for becoming a jockey in favor of an acting career. Born in Manchester, England, he worked regularly on BBC radio shows for several years, got his big break when he was cast in the hit musical, "Oliver." He came to the U.S. with the show, stayed to do "Pickwick" and to make guest appearances on TV.

show

MILTON BERLE, who returns to the home screens on ABC-TV this year to reclaim his title of "Mr. Television," was the first star in TV nearly 20 years ago. He started as a dramatic actor in silent films when he was five, but it was his imitation of Charlie Chaplin in an amateur show that convinced his mother Milton's future was in show business. He was born in New York, July 12, 1908, and played his first stage role in Atlantic City in a revival of "Flowerdora." He made his radio debut in 1934 and his TV debut June 8, 1948 on "Texaco Star Theater." He married Ruth Colgrave on Dec. 9, 1953, has an adopted daughter Vickie, who lives with Milt's ex-wife Joyce Matthews, an adopted son, Billy, whom he brought into his life in 1962.

ABC offers a grand total of 16 new shows this year, featuring everything from "camp" crime fighters to young actresses trying to make good in the world of greasepaint (i.e. "show biz").

"The Green Hornet" is the much-looked-forward-to adventure series which stars Van Williams as Britt Reid, the newspaperman who is devoted to fighting crime—and who fights it with the most fantastic weapons imaginable. "The Felony Squad" is also concerned with hampering hoodlums, but this series is the more conventional type and has Howard Duff, Ben Alexander and Dennis Cole as its stars.

In a fighter vein, you'll be seeing "The Tammy Grimes Show," which stars Tammy as a young woman whose zest for living and living it up often carry her delightfully beyond the fringe of reason. "Love on a Rooftop" is the heartwarming and humorous story of a young married couple (played by Judy Carne and Peter Deuel) in their very first apartment. "That Girl" is none other than Marlo Thomas, who portrays a high-spirited young lass who leaves the comfort of her parents' home to make her own way as an actress. "The Pruitts of Southampton" is about a rich family turned poor, and the cast includes such funny folk as Phyllis Diller, Reginald Gardiner and John McGiver.

"Hawk" is a new kind of adventure drama with a new kind of hero; Burt Reynolds plays an Iroquois Indian who works the night side of the District Attorney's Detective Bureau. "The Man Who Never Was" is loaded with intrigue and takes place during World War I. "Rat Patrol," on the other hand, has World War II as its setting and follows the exciting adventures of a small but deadly group of four commandos (Chris George, Justin Tarr, Larry Casey and Gary Raymond) who stalk the enemy in North Africa.

"The Time Tunnel" is a science fiction series about two young scientists (James Darren and Robert Colbert) who invent a tunnel that can project them into another time and another place.

You'll be seeing four new westerns, including "The Rounders," starring Patrick Wayne, and "The Monroes," a tender, human drama about 5 orphaned youngsters in the early American West. Also making their debuts are "Iron Horse," a rugged action story of the Gold Rush days, which stars Dale Robertson, and "Shane," the classic story of a western gunfighter who will be played by David Carradine.

Milton Berle will have his own hour-long variety show and to round out the new shows, ABC is presenting a series called "Stage '67," which you can read more about on page 16.

JUDY CARNE, who plays Julie, was born Joyce Botterill in Northampton, England on April 27, 1939. She started dancing at the age of 3, took up acting at 8 and was appearing on the London stage by the time she was 16. Brought to the U.S. in 1962 to co-star in the "Fair Exchange" TV series, she was also seen last season as a regular on "The Baileys of Balboa." Like the girl she plays in "Rooftop," Judy's a recent divorcee.

PETE DEUEL, who plays David, gave up plans for a career in medicine in order to go into show biz. Born Feb. 24 in Rochester, N.Y., the handsome six footer attended St. Lawrence University, but left after two years to enroll at the American Theatre Wing. He got his first break in the film "Wounded in Action" and was a regular on last season's "Gidget" TV series. So far, Pete's still single. He's 26.

love

PHYLLIS DILLER, who now has her own series on ABC, rose to fame via her guestings on the old Jack Paar show. She was quickly signed to cafe appearances and suddenly the former housewife and mother of five found herself a star. Born in Lima, Ohio, on July 17, 1917, Phyllis "wowed them in the laundromat and PTA," before making a cafe debut in San Francisco's Purple Onion in 1955. Most of her humor centered around her husband "Fang" (Sherwood Diller), but on Sept. 3, 1965, she decided that 26 years with him was no laughing matter. The divorce was quickly followed by a wedding (and separation) from actor-singer Warde Donovan.

REGINALD GARDINER, who imitates trains, wallpaper, and lighthouses, was born Feb. 27, 1903, at the very famous site of the Davis Cup matches, Wimbledon, England. He gave up passing fancies, for the ministry and architecture, for 30-odd London plays and 20-odd English films before Beatrice Lillie arranged to transport his wit to the U.S. "Born to Dance" convinced us to hang on to him. He's married, livens up "The Pruitts" considerably.

JOHN MCGIVER is an actor-by-accident. A former high school teacher who couldn't support his wife Ruth and ten children on his salary, he took to writing radio and TV plays. He was drafted for an off-Broadway show, landed a job on TV and movie work followed. A vet of 80 TV shows, McGiver was born in N.Y., got his M.A. from Columbia University. "Glass Bottom Boat" was his most recent movie.

RICH LITTLE, who plays the neighbor, is considered one of the top impersonators in the country today. He got his big break two years ago on "The Judy Garland Show" and since then, he's been making 'em laugh in night clubs from New York to Las Vegas and has appeared on such TV shows as "The Hollywood Palace," "Ed Sullivan," "The Dean Martin Show" and "The Jackie Gleason Show." Single, he was born in Ottawa, Canada, Nov. 26, 1939.

BARBARA BOSTOCK, who plays the neighbor's wife, started off her show biz career with the famed June Taylor dancers, moved to Broadway in the chorus of "Silk Stockings" and replaced Carol Haney in the road company of "Pajama Game." She made her film debut in "Girls on the Loose," was featured in "Visit to a Small Planet." Barb's also been seen on many TV shows. Wed, she was born in Palm Beach, Florida.

that girl

tammy grimes show

TAMMY GRIMES is a product of Brookline, Mass. society, but after making her debut she fled to New York to study acting. She hit it big when she became Broadway's "Unsinkable Molly Brown," has since been seen on TV variety shows and several other New York plays. Divorced from actor Christopher Plummer (by whom she has a daughter, Amanda, 10) she's the recent bride of Jeremy Slate. Tammy admits to 32 years old.

RICHARD SARGENT, who appears as Tammy's brother, hails from Carmel, Cal., weighs 175, stands 6'2½", celebrates his birthday on April 19. He first attracted attention in "Bernardine," but had previously appeared in numerous small TV and movie roles—not to mention 25 plays at Stanford U., where he studied drama. Between acting jobs, Dick goes surfing, putters around the house. His pfx include "The Ghost and Mr. Chicken."

TED BESSELL was born March 20 in Flushing, Long Island, N.Y., developed an interest in acting while attending Georgetown U. In 1958 he headed for New York, enrolled in the Neighborhood Playhouse and began chalking up roles on daytime TV and in summer stock. A few years later, he migrated to Hollywood where he landed a running part in the old "It's a Man's World" TV series. Ted's blond, blue-eyed.

MARLO THOMAS originally planned to become a teacher but, being the daughter of famed comedian Danny Thomas, she soon discovered she had greasepaint and not chalk in her veins. After graduating from the University of Southern Calif., she made her acting debut in the old "Sunset Strip" TV series, made her biggest splash last spring in the London production of "Barefoot in the Park." Born Nov. 21 in Detroit, Michigan.

HIRAM SHERMAN may be doing his first series but he is a familiar face to audiences who have seen him in hundreds of live TV dramas. Sherman was born in Springfield, Ill. on Feb. 11, 1908. He made his Broadway debut in "Shoemaker's Holiday" and has been a favorite of casting agents ever since. Until this year home was N.Y., but, regardless of the fate of "The Tammy Grimes Show," Hollywood will try to keep him.

the rounders

RON HAYES, who plays Ben, was born Feb. 26 in San Francisco, Calif. After graduating from Stanford U., he served in the Marines, embarked upon a career in radio after his discharge. His radio work led to other forms of show business and he's been seen on such TV shows as "Daktari" and "Flipper" and in films like "Face of a Fugitive." Ron loves playing stepfather to wife Bert's 3 kids, has 3 of his own by a previous wife.

CHILL WILLS has a first name due to some wishful thinking. He was born on the hottest July 18 in the entire history of Seagoville (more wishful thinking?), Texas. As a boy he appeared in tent shows as a singer-guitarist, later played vaudeville across the U.S.A. He was signed up by MGM for "Boom Town" after being spotted at the Trocadero. Married to dancer Betty Chappelle, they have two children.

PAT WAYNE, a 26-year-old son of John Wayne, is a strapping 6'1" 180-pound star athlete who starred with the books in school, too (a straight A student). He first gave indications that he was top material when he played a young West Pointer in 1956's "The Searchers" and he was besieged by fan mail. Last in "Shenandoah." He wed Peggy Hunt last year.

NEW ON ABC

LOUISE SOREL, who plays Melissa Grant, began her career in New York, where she appeared on the stage in "Take Her, She's Mine," "Lorenzo" and, more recently, "The Sign in Sidney Brustein's Window." She is familiar on TV for her performances in "The Defenders," "Naked City," "Doctor Kildare" and "The Fugitive." As a "Hawk" regular, she's headed for fame.

BURT REYNOLDS, who plays Hawk, decided to become an actor after a near tragic auto smosh-up ended his plans for a career as a pro football player 3 years ago. After appearing in "Mister Roberts" in New York, he was summoned to Hollywood, where he co-starred in the "Riverboat" TV series and appeared in numerous other shows. Tall, dark and handsome, Burt was born in Palm Beach, Fla.

ELAINE NADEAU, who plays "Scooter," a lookie model, had only one TV credit (an appearance on "The Nurses") to her name when she auditioned for the "Hawk" show, but with solid training at Corcoran Tech and the Herbert Berghof Studio behind her, this 21-year-old blonde beauty won out over 60 other actresses and has the requisites for a notable acting career.

the hawk

rat patrol

CHRIS GEORGE, who plays Sgt. Sam Troy, the unquestioned leader of the "Rat Patrol," is probably one of the most familiar young faces on TV, having been featured in many major series. Currently, he's being primed for his big breakthrough in films, co-starring with John Wayne and Robert Mitchum in Howard Hawks' epic western adventure "Eldorado."

GARY RAYMOND, who plays Sgt. Jack Moffitt, is being seen on TV for the first time this season. His face is not unfamiliar to movie goers, however, and his screen credits include the role of Saint Peter in "The Greatest Story Ever Told," the title role in "Playboy in the Western World," and a co-starring role with Richard Burton and Claire Bloom in "Look Back in Anger." He's a native Britisher, wed.

LARRY CASEY, who plays the studious Albert Luckey, got his big break back in 1959, when he went straight from high school to a part in Alfred Lunt and Lynne Fontanne's last B'way play, "The Visit." His career was briefly interrupted by a stint in the army, but on returning to civilian life, he took up where he left off and has been seen on New York taped TV shows like "The Magnificent Yankee."

JUSTIN TARR, who plays Pvt. Tully Pettigrew, the charming rascal from Kentucky, is making his professional acting debut in "The Rat Patrol." But although he is fairly inexperienced, he has the unique scalowag quality that intrigues women and amuses men and he is expected to go far in establishing himself in this series and eventually becoming a major star.

felony squad

HOWARD DUFF is ready to plunge into the fourth series of his long career. His first was radio's "Sam Spade," his second "Mr. Adams and Eve," in which he costarred with wife Ida Lupino. Howard was born in Bremerton, Washington, Nov. 24, 1917, grew up in Seattle, served in the Army, launched his acting career with a vengeance. "Brute Force," his first movie made him a star. Duff is 6' tall, weighs 187 pounds, has a charming daughter Bridget.

BEN ALEXANDER, best known for "Dragnet," is back in his first series in a decade. Ben started out as a child star. But when he became typed as a bad boy he quit. In 1929 he was talked into one last role—in "All Quiet on the Western Front." But he won so many awards for the role that he couldn't leave. In 1935 he switched to radio. When Webb asked him to play Officer Frank Smith, he jumped at the chance. He's married, the father of two.

DENNIS COLE began his career as a movie extra, worked up to bit player and is now headed for stardom. Born July 19, 1943 in Detroit, Mich., 6'1½" Dennis has been seen in such flicks as "Bye Bye Birdie" and "The Comancheros," co-starred for 16 weeks in the daytime serial "Paradise Bay." He's very happily married.

LEE MERIWETHER has come a long way since she won the "Miss America" title back in 1955. A familiar face to TV viewers for the past few years, she used to be a regular on the "Today" show, also on "Bourbon Street." A native of Los Angeles, Lee was born May 27, 1935, spent most of her childhood in Phoenix, Ariz. She aspired toward an acting career while in school, used her "Miss America" winnings to pay for dramatic lessons. A sports fan.

*****
 ABC's "Stage '67" promises to be the most ambitious regular weekly series on TV this season. Each Wednesday night at 10 PM, this show will present a different comedy, musical, drama or documentary, written, directed and acted by some of the greatest names in the entertainment field. As we go to press, the following shows are already either completed or in preparation. We think it will be well worth your time to make Stage '67 a regular viewing habit.

NEW ON CBS

the garry moore show

GARRY MOORE—he of the bristling crew-cut—has returned to the helm of "The Garry Moore Show" after being off TV for several seasons. He has a new format but Garry still insists he's a writer, not a funnyman. Since his Baltimore birth on Jan. 31, 1915, Thomas Garrison Morfit has wanted to write. He left high school for good, in fact, to write a play with F. Scott Fitzgerald. The play never found a buyer, so Garry took a job writing for a radio station. One day the station's comedian didn't show. Garry, unhappily, was elected to pinch-hit—and he was great. Reluctantly, he gave in to his fate and, in 1942, after picking up experience in Balt. and St. Louis and a new name in Chicago, he went to N.Y. On CBS's "Carnegie Caravan," he was paired with Jimmy Durante, and for 4 years they were a solid team. Soon after, he got his own show. Garry's wife Eleanor is a Richmond girl. They met at a party when they were 14, and they courted 7 years. They have 2 sons—26-year-old Mason, 23-year-old Garry, Jr.

DURWARD KIRBY is back with Garry on his new show after co-hosting "Condid Camera." Born in Covington, Ky., he attended Purdue, then became a radio announcer. Garry Moore put him into a running spot, and he went to town. "He could play any type of person," says Garry. Married, he lives with his family in Bronxville, N.Y. His son Randy, a successful young actor, is an "Girl From U.N.C.L.E."

ANN SHERIDAN, who plays Henrietta, was born Clara Lou Sheridan on Feb. 21, 1915 in Dallas, Texas. She originally planned to become an artist, became a star instead when her sister entered her photo in a Hollywood "Search for Beauty" contest. Redheaded Annie won hands down, snagged a contract and attracted so much attention she became known as the "oomph" girl at Warners in the thirties and forties; made dozens of top films. She was seen last season as a regular on daytime TV's "Another World." Twice divorced, she's now Mrs. Scott MacKay.

DOUGLAS FOWLEY (far left) is a director, writer and drama teacher as well as an extremely talented actor. Born May 30, 1911 in New York City, he studied acting at UCLA, made his film debut in 1933 in "The Mad Game." He has since appeared in more than 100 motion pictures, was a regular on the "Wyatt Earp" TV series a few seasons back. He has directed more than 80 stage presentations and has written numerous original stories.

RUTH McDEVITT (far right) was born Sept. 13, 1895 in Coldwater, Mich., got her acting training at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York City. The star of such Broadway productions as "Picnic" and "Harvey," she has been seen on such TV shows as "Dr. Kildare" and "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" and in films like "The Birds," "Parent Trap," "Boys Night Out." Ruth, a widow, boasts 6 grandchildren, 6 great-grandchildren.

□ The new shows this season on CBS will be ushered in on Sunday, September 11, by the premiere of "It's About Time," 7:30-8:00 PM. Frank Aletter and Jack Mullaney play the world's first backward astronauts, who manage to pilot their spaceship back into the prehistoric era, where they encounter a tribe of cave-men, including Imogene Coca and her spouse, Joe E. Ross.

Also having its premiere that night will be "The Garry Moore Show," 9:00-10:00 PM starring a gentleman who needs no introduction to the nationwide audience that has applauded him for so many years, with his long-time associate, Durward Kirby, in an hour of comedy-oriented variety.

On Monday, there will be three new presentations, "Run, Buddy, Run" from 8:00 to 8:30 PM, stars Jack Sheldon in the title role. Sheldon, actually a jazz musician by trade, revealed his comedic talents as bachelor Fletcher Kinkaid on "The Cara Williams Show." In his new series, with the emphasis on laughs, he plays an innocent young citizen chased for rubbing out purposes by a sinister mogul in the person of Bruce Gordon, Jim Connell plays Gordon's son.

Later on Monday evening, from 9:30 to 10:00 PM, the spotlight shines on "Family Affair," which finds Brian Keith cast as an affluent bachelor, Sebastian Cabot as his impeccable British manservant, and three children, small boy-and-girl twins and a teenage girl, as the constant challenge to the peace of mind of the gentleman and the gentleman's gentleman.

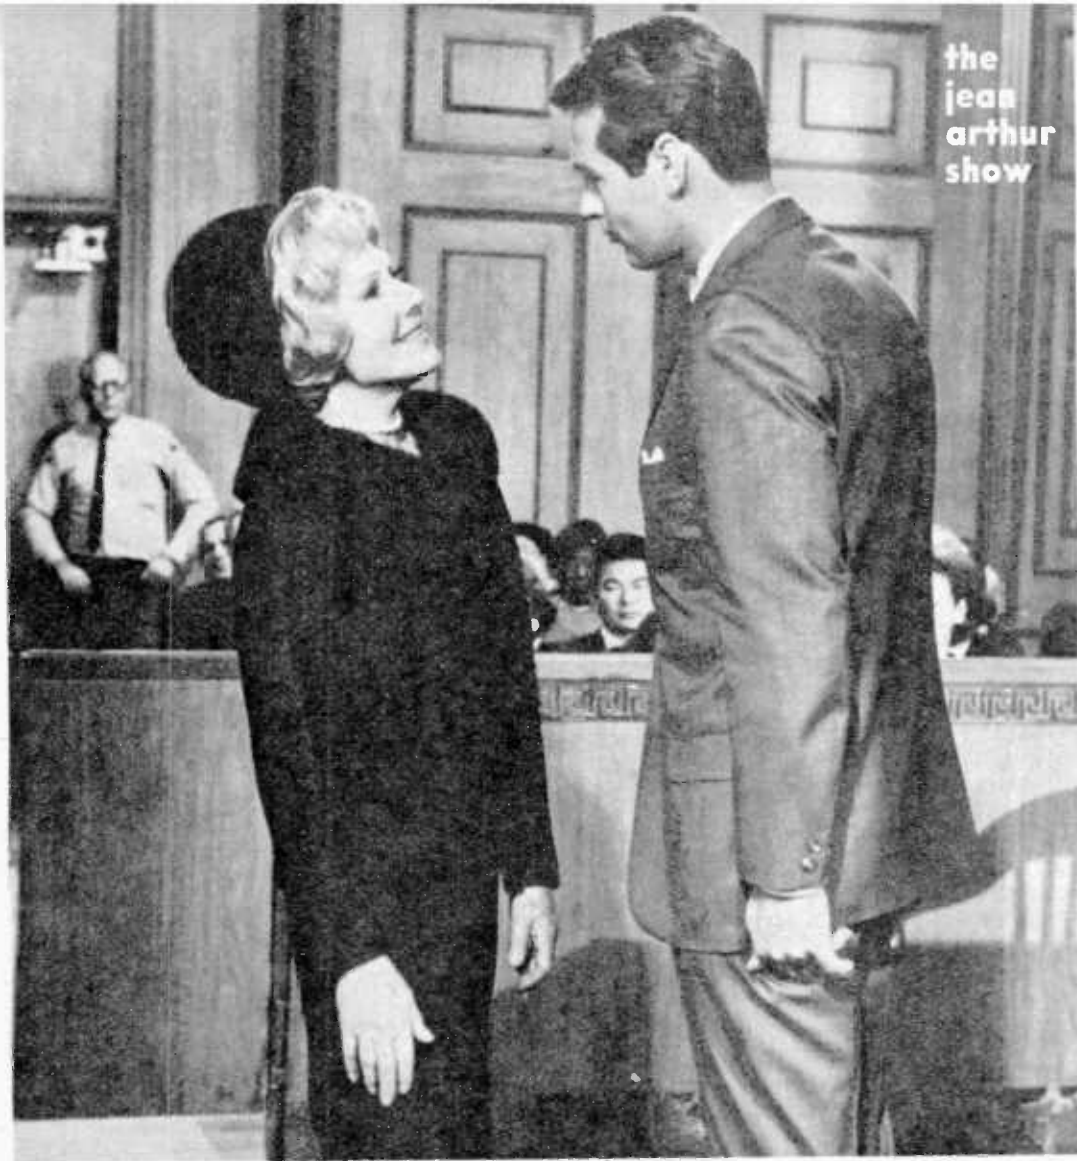

Immediately following, at 10:00-10:30 PM, one of the great ladies of Hollywood will be seen in her first television series,

"The Jean Arthur Show." Miss Arthur plays a lawyer, whose son is also a lawyer. The son, played by Ron Harper, doesn't always agree with his mother's lighthearted approach to life, and the resultant comedy reveals the light touch for which Miss Arthur is so justly famous.

On Thursday, the new show is "Jericho," 7:30-8:30 PM. Don Francks, John Leyton and Marino Masé play a trio of Allied counter-intelligence agents in World War II, whose exploits behind enemy lines are carried out under the code name, Jericho.

Friday's new series will be "The CBS Friday Night Movies." Together with "The Thursday Night Movies," it will draw upon a treasury of motion picture successes (see page 66-69).

Saturday's new shows are "Pistols 'n' Petticoats" and "Mission: Impossible." The outskirts of a town named Wretched, Colo., would hardly seem to be the place you'd find the likes of Ann Sheridan, but that's where you'll see the beautiful star of so many Hollywood triumphs as she, Ruth McDevitt and Douglas V. Fowley portray the most amazing family in the old west in "Pistols 'n' Petticoats," 8:30-9:00 PM. They are as lovable a family of dead shots as ever you will see. And after they have won their lighthearted battles for law and order on our frontier, the scene shifts to the more modern world of globe-girdling undercover work of "Mission: Impossible," 9:00-10:00 PM. Steven Hill is the agent who heads the Impossible Missions Force, with a crew of experts ranging from sultry Barbara Bain to electronic whiz Greg Morris, strong man Peter Lupus and the extremely versatile impersonator Martin Landau.

BRUCE GORDON, who plays Devere, was born Feb. 1, 1916 in Fitchburg, Mass., worked as a theatre usher before finding his way to the "bright" side of the footlights. He acted in some of TV's first experimental shows and his career grew with the business. He appeared for 4 years as Frank Nitti in "The Untouchables" series and spent 4 months playing Gus Chernak in "Peyton Place." Bruce is married to former musical-comedy actress Jane Farrar, has 2 stepsons.

JAMES CONNELL, who plays Junior, was working toward a career as a serious actor when he discovered he had a talent for comedy. He put together a night-club act and never went back to the heavy stuff. Born July 13 in New York City, he has written comedy material for such stars as Dick Gregory and Vaughn Meader, has been seen on TV shows like "The Andy Griffith Show" and "Candid Camera." James is single, has been in Hollywood since 1965.

it's about time

IMOGENE COCA, who plays Shag, was born into a show business family on Nov. 18 in Philadelphia, Pa. She made her debut as a tap dancer at the age of 9, emerged as a superb comedienne in "New Faces of 1934." After years of stage and night-club work, she teamed with Sid Caesar on TV's "Your Show of Shows" and rocketed to fame. Wed to King Donovan, Imogene was briefly in "Grindl."

PAT CARDI, who plays Breer, was born May 2, 1952 in Patchogue, N.Y. but moved to Hollywood with his family at an early age. He was discovered for films while helping out at an Italian restaurant, made his debut in "The Quick and the Dead" and went on to win roles in such flicks as "Youngblood Hawke" and "Let's Kill Uncle," TV shows like "Detectives," "Slattery's People," "12 O'clock High."

FRANK ALETTER, who plays Mac, was born Jan. 14 in College Point, N.Y., developed an interest in acting while serving in the army. After his discharge, he studied at New York's New School for Social Research, made his B'way debut in "Mr. Roberts," was the star of the old "Bringing up Beddy" TV series. Frank is married to actress Lee Meriwether, has two daughters, Kyle, 6, Lesley, 2.

JACK MULLANEY, who plays Hector, got his acting break by walking into a producer's office and complimenting him on his work. Result: a role on a TV drama. Born Sept. 18 in Cincinnati, Ohio, he appeared on B'way in "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker" and "Soft Touch," was a regular on the "Ensign O'Toole" and "Ann Sothern" TV shows. Jack is a bachelor. He's been seen in films like "Spinout."

CLIFF NORTON, who plays The Boss, is a native of Chicago, Ill., where he began his career as a disc jockey at the age of 19. He later broke into TV and had his own daily program, "The Public Life of Cliff Norton," in Chicago for two years. Now a vet of countless network series ("The Farmer's Daughter," "McHale's Navy," etc.) he has also been seen in movies like "The Russians Are Coming." Divorced, Cliff has two kids. Birthdate—March 21.

JOE E. ROSS, who plays Gronk, is already known to TV viewers, thanks to his running roles on the "Sgt. Bilko" and "Car 54, Where Are You?" TV series. Born Nov. 18 in New York City, he began his career as a singing waiter at 16, was working as an announcer-comedian in a Hollywood club when he was spotted by a producer and cast in a Joan Crawford flick. Married to the former Beverly Wood, Joe makes his permanent home in Hollywood.

batman

ADAM WEST, who plays Batman himself, was born William Anderson on Sept. 19, 1928, developed an interest in acting as a child when his parents took him to the local theater in his native Walla Walla, Wash. After graduating from Whitman College, he did graduate work in radio and TV at Stanford, took jobs singing, driving a truck and delivering milk to earn a living. After doing a stint in the army, he went to Hawaii to work as director and performer on a daily TV and radio show, finally hit Hollywood and landed a leading role on "The Detectives." A string of movie and TV assignments followed and he was on his way. Currently a bachelor, Adam was formerly married to Billie Lou Yeager and to Ngaru Frisbie, has two children, Jonelle, 8, and Hunter, 7, by his second wife. He stars in the new "Batman" movie.

BAT FRIENDS

BURT WARD, who plays Robin, was a complete unknown when he snagged the role, has attained fame and fortune in one short season. Born Burt Gervis in Los Angeles, Calif. in 1945, he's a lad of many talents, which include surfing, ice skating, karate and painting as well as acting. The 5'8" blue-eyed "boy wonder" quit college to marry teenaged Banney Lindsay, who recently presented him with a new baby.

MADGE BLAKE, who plays Aunt Harriet, developed an interest in acting as a child but was past 40 before she ever set foot on a professional stage. Born May 31 in Kinsley, Kansas, she studied drama at the Pasadena Playhouse after raising her two sons. She made her screen debut in "Adam's Rib" and has since played roles in hundreds of stage, screen and TV productions. She's a grandmother of four.

ALAN NAPIER, who plays Alfred, the butler, was born Jan. 7 in Birmingham, England, attended the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts before beginning his professional career with the Oxford Players. He arrived in Hollywood in 1939 and, since then, has been featured in more than 60 movies, including such classics as "Song of Bernadette" and "Julius Caesar." He also has 4 Broadway plays to his credit.

NEIL HAMILTON, who plays Police Commissioner Gordon, worked in silent films with D. W. Griffith in the 1920's, has been a steadily employed actor ever since. A veteran of countless plays ("State of the Union," "Solid Gold Cadillac," etc.), films ("Good Neighbor Sam," "The Patsy," etc.) and TV shows, Neil has been married for 43 years and lives in Hollywood. He was born Sept. 9, 1899 in Lynn, Mass.

STAFFORD REPP, who plays Chief O'Hara, began his career as a child in his native San Francisco, where he impersonated popular stars of the day. He went on to become a radio actor, finally crashed television and movies. He has appeared in 30 movies, including "I Want to Live" and has been seen on almost every long running TV series. Stafford, who was born on April 26, makes his home in Studio City.

BAT FOES

FRANK GORSHIN, who plays The Riddler, was born and raised in Pittsburgh, Pa., has wanted to be in show biz from the time he entered high school. He landed his first job in a small Los Angeles night club where, after one week, he was spotted by Steve Allen and was invited to appear as a guest on Allen's TV show. After that, his career was off and running and he has worked steadily. Wed.

BURGESS MEREDITH, seen regularly as the Penguin, worked as a reporter, haberdasher, vacuum cleaner salesman and tie clerk before becoming one of the best known actors in show biz. Born in Cleveland, Ohio, he joined Eva Le Gallienne's Repertory Group in 1930, found himself a Broadway star a few years later. A delight of the drama critics, Meredith has broadened his career to include TV and movies.

CESAR ROMERO, who is having a ball playing The Joker, is a suave-looking "Spaniard" from New York City. He has been busy most of the time since his smash debut in "The Thin Man," which followed two stage careers as dancer and actor! Of Cuban parentage, Cesar was born Feb. 15, 1907. A bachelor, he is always in demand at Hollywood's best parties as well as on the television and movie screens.

DAVID WAYNE, hilarious as the Mad Hatter, has long been commuting from Broadway to the movies to television and back to Broadway again. Born in Travers City, Michigan, on January 30, 1916, David got his first taste of theatricals via marionette shows. Married and the father of three children, he scored first real hit in Broadway's "Finian's Rainbow," and went on to make movie history in "Portrait of Jennie."

RODDY McDOWALL, the squirmy Bookworm, made an easy transition from child actor to adult star, has won laurels in plays like "Compulsion," "Camelot," movies like recent "Lord Love a Duck" and "Inside Daisy Clover." Born in London, England, Sept. 17, 1928, he won all hearts in "How Green Was My Valley," in 1941 and in numerous pictures throughout WW II. A crack photographer, he lives in New York City.

peyton place

DOROTHY MALONE, who stars as Constance Carson, was born in Chicago, Illinois on Jan. 30, 1925. She grew up and attended school in Dallas, Texas, where she was active in dramatic clubs. While appearing in a college play she was spotted by a talent scout and whisked to Hollywood, where she made her film debut in 1946's "The Big Sleep." Ten years later she won an Oscar for "Best Supporting Actress" as the result of her work in "Written on the Wind." But then her career was in a rut until "Peyton Place" hit the air. Divorced from Jacques Bergerac and the mother of two daughters, Dot is completely recovered from the illness that almost took her life in 1965 and is more popular than ever before. She is 5'7" tall, has blonde hair and blue eyes.

TIM O'CONNOR, who plays Elliot Carson, was born July 3 on Chicago's rough South Side, took up acting in 1948 after a friend suggested enrolling in a school for radio drama. He headed for New York several years later, where he worked his way up from bit parts to leading roles in Broadway shows like "First Love" and "General Seeger." After being cast in "Peyton Place," Tim moved to Los Angeles with his wife, actress Mary Fickett and young son, Tim. He and Mary are now separated.

BARBARA PARKINS, who plays Betty Anderson, was born May 22, 1942 in Vancouver, Canada. Adopted, she moved to Los Angeles with her mom while in her early teens. An accomplished dancer as well as an actress, she began her career appearing with small drama groups, worked up to TV shows like "Wagon Train" and "Perry Mason," then became a star with "Peyton Place." Single.

JAMES DOUGLAS, who plays Stephen Cord, was born in L.A. on May 20, became interested in acting at University High and UCLA. After a 21-month tour of army duty, he did little theatre work, made his TV debut on "Dragnet," film debut in "Designing Woman." Scores of other roles followed. He wed Dawn Busby in 1951. They have three kids, Kim, 12, Taryn, 11, and Cort, 3.

LANA WOOD, who plays Sandy Webber, was named after Lana Turner and is Natalie Wood's younger sister, yet has a quality all her own. Born March 1, 1946 in Sonta Monica, Calif., she began acting as a child, has been seen in "The Fugitive" and "Dr. Kildare," among other things. Lana is interested in writing, lives in a West Hollywood apartment. She has been divorced three times. Her recent ex is Steve Oliver.

STEPHEN OLIVER, who plays Lee Webber, was a Beverly Hills cabbie with only one acting job to his credit when he was cast in "Peyton Place," but four years of dramatic training prepared him well for the job. Born Stephen John Welzig on November 29 in Philadelphia, Pa., the rugged newcomer is an avid reader as well as sportsman, hopes to do extensive traveling in the future. He's divorced from Lana Wood.

RYAN O'NEAL, who plays Rodney Harrington, is a native of Los Angeles (born April 20, 1941) but grew up in Mexico, England and Germany. His first acting job was on a German TV series, after which he headed for Hollywood and became a regular on the short-lived "Empire" series. His marriage to actress Joanna Moore just ended but Ryan is the proud pop of a daughter, Tatum, 3, and a son, Griffin, 2.

CHRISTOPHER CONNELLY, one of six children, was born Sept. 8, 1941 in Wichita, Kansas. He became interested in acting while in school, spent two years at the Pasadena Playhouse before tackling Hollywood. His first TV job was a role on "The Eleventh Hour" and he has been busy ever since with TV shows and movies like "What a Way to Go." He's single, has been dating Patricia Morrow exclusively.

LEIGH TAYLOR-YOUNG, who joins "P.P." this fall in a coveted ingenue lead, was born 21 years ago in Washington, D.C. She spent her childhood on a farm in Fredonia, Kansas, then attended Northwestern U, where she was a star drama student. In her sophomore year, she headed for N.Y., was discovered by Gower Champion and cast in "Three Bags Full." Her work in that play resulted in a 20th-Fox contract.

EVELYN SCOTT, who plays Ada Jacks, was born April 20 in Brackton, Mass., began her career in radio, first as an assistant program director, then as an actress. Now a veteran of all phases of show business, she's been seen in such films as "Wicked Woman" and "I Want to Live," TV series like "Bonanza" and "Bachelor Father." Redheaded: Evelyn is wed to Urban Hirsh, lives in a hillside house in Hollywood.

PATRICIA MORROW, who plays Rita Jacks, has been acting since childhood. She started on radio, later appeared on the L.A. stage as Mary Martin's sister in "Annie Get Your Gun"; made her film debut as Lana Turner's daughter in "Marriage Is a Private Affair" at one-month old. Pat, who was born on Feb. 17, 1944, attended San Fernando State College, now steady dates Christopher Connelly.

FRANK FERGUSON, who plays Eli Carson, has a teaching degree from Cornell U. but has spent the last 34 years working in front of a camera instead of a blackboard. Born Dec. 25 in Ferndale, Calif., he has probably appeared in more movies and TV shows than any other living actor but it was "Peyton Place" that finally gave him real audience recognition. He likes to fish, hunt and cook. Frank lives in the San Fernando Valley with his wife.

GARY HAYNES, who plays Chris Webber, hails from Dallas, Texas, where he chalked up his early acting experience at the Dallas Theatre Center. After a 4-year stint in the Marine Corps, he took up residence in New York, performed in coffee-house and off-Broadway productions. A part in a LeRoi Jones play took him to Hollywood, where he was snapped up by "Peyton Place." Born March 8, 1937, Gary's married, is an expectant dad, hopes to be launched on a film career soon.

PAUL LANGTON, who plays Leslie Harrington was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, April 17 and began his career in vaudeville playing a one-inch harmonica. Turning to acting, he studied at several California drama schools, finally snagged a contract with MGM and worked in films like "Destination Tokyo" and "Sea of Grass." Married and the father of an 8-year-old boy, Paul's appeared in many shows, including "Kraft Theatre," and "Suspense."

GEORGE MACREADY, who plays Martin Peyton, is what you might call a villain's villain—smooth, suave and sophisticated. College-educated, with 175 B'way and stock plays under his belt, he came to Hollywood in 1943 to screen debut in "The Commandos Strike at Dawn." He scored big in "Gilda," then played only one sympathetic role in his next 50 films. Born Aug. 29, 1909 in Providence, Rhode Island, George was last seen in "The Great Race."

ED NELSON originally planned to be a lawyer, got bitten by the acting bug while studying at Tulane University. Unable to find fame in N.Y., he went to Hollywood in 1956, won roles in movies like "Elmer Gantry" and TV shows like "Gunsmoke" and "Combat." Ed lives in Pomona, Calif., with wife Pat, and 6 kids, Gregory, Chris, Cynthia, Mary Beth, Mary Pat and Anne Marie. He was born Dec. 21, 1928, in New Orleans, Louisiana.

KENT SMITH, who plays Dr. Morton, was born March 19, 1909 in New York City, became interested in acting as a child and made his Broadway debut as a young man in "Dadsworth" with Walter Huston. Movie roles followed, and he has chalked up numerous credits like "The Fountainhead" and "The Balcony." A resident of Bev. Hills, Kent's married to actress Edith Atwater, who, by a lovely coincidence occasionally plays his wife on the show.

RUTH WARRICK, who plays Hannah, is best remembered by movie-goers for her portrayal of the first Mrs. Kane in 1940's classic "Citizen Kane." Miss Warrick decided she wanted to be an actress when she was 14 and began singing on radio in her native St. Joseph, Mo. While at the University of Kansas City she attracted the attention of the Mercury Theatre headed by Orson Welles. After a few dozen Hollywood films, she switched to TV.

andy williams
show

ANDY WILLIAMS began his career as part of a quartet—the other three members being his three older brothers. The boys, known as The Williams Brothers, toured clubs and theatres in the U.S. and abroad for 6 years but, when the act broke up in 1952, Andy went out on his own and soon snagged a job as featured vocalist on Steve Allen's old "Tonight" TV show. He was promoted to his own show in 1958 and, since then, has won numerous awards including an Emmy for the 1962-63 season. Presently under contract to Universal Pictures, Andy was seen on the screen in "I'd Rather be Rich" and has appeared in several summer theatre productions. A native of Wall Lake, Iowa, the handsome singer wed French actress Claudine Longet on Dec. 15, 1961 and is the proud pop of a daughter, Noelle, 2½; and a son Christian Jay, 1½. See Andy now on Sunday nights.

BOB HOPE had a Congressional Medal of Honor awarded to him because of his devotion to the cause of entertaining servicemen all over the world—and proved once again he deserved it in Viet Nam last Christmas (pictured with Jerry Colonna and Jack Jones). Born in Eltham, England, on July 9, 1903, Leslie Towne Hope came to this country as a youth, grew up in Cleveland, started his career in vaudeville and eventually made it to Broadway, where he scored in "Roberta" and "Red Hot and Blue." Paramount got him for "The Big Broadcast of 1938" and he did double duty as the star of his own radio show, later switching to TV. Bob wed Dolores Reade in 1932, and between 1940-1946 they adapted Linda, Tony, Nora and Kelly. Old "Ski Nose" also acts as host on the alternating "Chrysler Theatre."

the red skelton show

RED SKELTON is one of show biz' great durables. Neither illness nor family tragedy (son Richard died of leukemia) have kept Red down. He now has his own film studio, racks up a record 15th year on CBS-TV's "Red Skelton Show." Starting with a medicine show at 10, Red did burlesque, vaudeville before winning stardom in MGM movies 25 years ago. He and wife Georgia have one daughter, Valentina, 19 years old. Red's dad, a clown, died when Red—who was born in Vincennes, Ind. on July 18, 1913—was still a tot.

VARIETY COMEDY

the danny kaye show

DANNY KAYE has long been an international celebrity. As ambassador-at-large for the UN International Children's Fund, he has made six trips around the world to raise funds for needy children. His favorite nation, next to the U.S., is England, where he is a legend. Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., he began his career by playing summer resorts and night clubs, soon graduated to Broadway. His first film, "Up in Arms," was made in 1943. Married to writer Sylvia Fine, he has a daughter Dena.

ART CARNEY returns to "The Honey-mooners" after becoming a star on his own in such films as "Yellow Rolls Royce" and stage hits as "The Odd Couple." Born in Mount Vernon, N.Y., 47 years ago, Art started his career with the Horace Heidt band, then went to work on radio impersonating voices of Roosevelt, Eisenhower, etc. After a stretch in the army he was hired by Gleason. Art is wed to Jean Myers, has children, Eileen, Brian, Paul.

SHEILA MacRAE takes over the old Audrey Meadows role on "The Honey-mooners." Born Sheila Stephens the comedienne was working in summer stock when she met and married Gordon in 1941. She retired to raise four children but once they were of school age teamed with her husband in a highly successful night club act, where her impressions of Streisand and Channing were a riot. Now she's doing a "single" for a while—with Gordon's blessings, of course.

the jackie gleason show

JACKIE GLEASON is returning to his 4th CBS-TV season with "American Scene Magazine." Among the hottest properties on television, Jackie conquered Broadway too with his performance in "Take Me Along." Switching to the movies, he was equally acclaimed for his roles in "The Hustler," "Gigot," "Requiem for a Heavyweight," "Soldiers in the Rain." The sound comic was born in Brooklyn in 1917, has 2 daughters. Jackie has long been separated from his wife, but no divorce is set.

FRANK FONTAINE comes from a long line of entertainers, his grandparents having been circus performers and his parents vaudeville headliners. Born in Cambridge, Mass., Frank toured with his folks until he was 17, then married acrobatic dancer Alma Claire Wakham and formed his own act. He made several movies before becoming a regular funnyman on Jackie Gleason's show. He's the father of 11 children.

VARIETY MUSIC

the johnny carson (tonight) show

ED McMAHON spent several danger-packed years as a Marine fighter pilot before embarking upon his present career as a TV announcer. A native of Detroit, Michigan, the 6'4" Ed teamed up with Johnny Carson on "Who Do You Trust?" back in 1956 and the two have been a duo ever since. Currently displaying his announcing talents on "The Tonight Show," Ed commutes to N.Y. from Philadelphia, where he lives with wife and four kids.

the ed sullivan show

ED SULLIVAN is now enjoying his 19th year as a top-rated television emcee. His Ed Sullivan Show on CBS-TV, initiated in 1948 as "Toast of the Town," has vastly augmented the already considerable measure of fame that Ed enjoyed as a columnist for the New York Daily News. For thirty years a top journalist, starting on the old New York Graphic, Ed began his Daily News column in the early 30's, became one of NY's outstanding byliners with his column, "Little Old New York." Father of one, grandfather of four, Ed lives with his wife in New York, travels abroad often in search of fresh talent, has helped many newcomers.

JOHNNY CARSON started his career in show business as an amateur magician, amusing buddies with tricks he picked up from a magic course. Born on October 23, 1925, in Corning, Nebraska, he went from an Omaha radio station to a job as a writer for Red Skelton. He won his first kudos as a comedian when he went on to sub for Red. He's appeared in comedy roles on many network shows since and, until he took over as host of NBC-TV's "Tonight," he was the popular emcee of a day-time quiz program, "Who Do You Trust?" He wed his second wife, Jo Ann Capeland in 1963 and he has three children from his first marriage.

the perry como show

PERRY COMO originally planned to become a barber, took up warbling instead and managed to make a name for himself as a top TV and recording star. Born in Canonsburg, Pa., (May 18) he got his first singing job with Freddy Carlone's band, subsequently signed up with Ted Weems and traveled to Hollywood. A natural for movie musicals, he made his screen debut in "Something for the Boys," went on to star in his own radio and TV shows. Perry's wed, the father of three and grandfather of one. That's Judy Garland guesting with Perry.

DANNY THOMAS is as well-loved by the trade as the public, for he has done countless favors, boosted many youngsters to fame. Born Amos Jacobs, Jan. 6, 1914, in Deerfield, Mich., he climbed to fame via night clubs, radio, movies. In 1962 he and Mrs. Thomas celebrated a 28th wedding anniversary. They have two daughters (Marlo has her own series this year) and a son. Danny's "Make Room for Daddy" is now seen as daytime re-runs. Danny'll appear on the now acclaimed comedy-variety NBC Specials.

the danny thomas specials

the dean martin show

DEAN MARTIN, TV's most casual musical star, was born in Steubenville, Ohio on June 17, 1917, was a fighter, millhand and gas-station attendant before he joined Jerry Lewis in an act at Atlantic City's 500 Club in 1946. They literally tore the house down and went on to sensational things together on radio, in night clubs and in films. Then the two split up, and Dean concentrated on making a name for himself as a dramatic actor as well as a singer and did just great. Once divorced, he has four children from that first marriage, three with wife Jeanne Biegger.

JIM ROBERTS was serving in the army in Guam during W.W. II when he made a hit in a G.I. show touring the Pacific. After his discharge in 1946, the handsome Kentuckian decided to be a singer, studied at the Herbert Wall School of Music and joined the Earl Carroll organization as a soloist and there met his future wife, Jane Silk. When the theatre closed Jim went into musical comedy, then joined Welk.

NORMA ZIMMER, the lovely Champagne Lady, was born in Larsen, Idaho on July 13. Although her father was a violin teacher, Norma's interest was in voice and after graduating from high school, she headed for Los Angeles and a career. For a while she sang with groups like the Norman Luboff Choir, finally struck out as a soloist and landed her present job. Norma's happily married, has 2 sons, Randy, 17, and Mark, 15.

LAWRENCE WELK played the accordion for church socials at 13 in his native Strasburg, N.D. At 21, he began his career as a soloist, though he couldn't read music. He formed his own band consisting of drums and accordion. Later, his band, augmented by saxophone and piano, was invited to play on WMAX. Radio work was supplemented by one-night stands, which led to long-term engagements. In 1955 he and his band were signed for ABC-TV. Wed 35 years to his wife, Fern, he is dad of a son, Larry, 27, daughters, Shirley and Donna; has five grandchildren.

NATALIE NEVINS is the newest addition to the Welk family. A pert brunette with a lilting voice and unlimited future, Nat has fast become a favorite with viewers. The Irish lass from Philadelphia was vacationing in California when she met Welk. On March 6, 1965 she was invited to guest on the show; made such an impact she was invited to stay on. Nat, a flutist and talented comedienne, studied music at Mt. St. Joseph's Chestnut Hill College; U. of Pennsylvania.

THE LENNON SISTERS, Dianne, Peggy, Kathy and Janet, are homebodies who love to sing. Dianne and Peggy have their own homes and families. Kathy still lives with her parents in Venice, Calif. and Janet just wed in 1966. The Lennons owe the start of their career to a flu bug that confined Lawrence Welk to his home. For weeks Lorry Jr. had been besieging his father to audition a classmate, Dianne Lennon, and her three sisters, but there never was time. While Welk was ill, Lorry rounded up the sisters and herded them into the sickroom. The rest is history. Welk liked what he heard, and the Lennon Sisters made their first appearance on ABC-TV with the Champagne Music Makers on Christmas Eve, 1955. A month later they were signed as regular members of the show. Dianne left the group to be married in October, 1960, and rejoined her sisters in the fall of '64. Peggy became the wife of bandman Dick Cathcart in May, 1964, and on March 17, 1965, added little Julianne Mary to the growing roster of children of the Music Makers. Dianne and her husband, Dick Gass, are parents of two little girls, Mary Estelle and Dianne Isabelle. Besides appearing on the weekly ABC-TV program, the girls have become synonymous with SRO when booked as a singing group. They scored a solid hit when they appeared with the Welk company in a Carnegie Hall concert. All are native Californians. Dianne was born in Los Angeles on Dec. 1, 1939; Peggy, who was 25 on April 8, 1966, was also born in Los Angeles; Kathy, who celebrated her 23rd birthday Aug. 22, 1966, was born in Santa Monica, and Janet was born June 15, 1946, in Cuiver City. Although the Lennons have received hundreds of offers for solo appearances they refuse to break up the group and will stay together, rumors to the contrary.

Hilarity Begins At Home

(SITUATION COMEDY)

the lucy show

LUCILLE BALL, one of TV's best loved comedienne, plunged headfirst into show biz at 15. Born Aug. 6, 1911, in Jamestown, N.Y., the energetic redhead landed her first chorus job in the road company of "Rio Rito," switched to modeling when she was fired after five weeks. A serious bout with pneumonia halted her career for nearly four years, but she made a comeback and eventually attracted the attention of Eddie Cantor, who gave her her first H'wood role in "Roman Scandals." After a series of bit parts, she made it big in "Roberto," went on to score in countless movies and her own TV show, "I Love Lucy," in which she co-starred with Desi Arnaz. Now wed to comedian Gary Morton, Lucy has 2 children by Arnaz, Lucie Desiree, 15, and Desi IV, 13.

SITUATION COMEDY

ELIZABETH MONTGOMERY, who plays Samantha, grew up in the shadow of her famous father, Robert Montgomery. Born in Hollywood on April 15, 1933, Liz was attacked by the acting bug when she was 6, and plunged headlong into a career when she was 18. After a year of study, she made her debut on her father's TV show. Once launched, she went on to do other TV works, films like "The Court Martial of Billy Mitchell." Divorced from Fred Cammann and Gig Young, she's now wed to "Bewitched" director Bill Asher. They have 2 sons, Robert (who arrived at the same time as "Tabatha," the baby on "Bewitched") and Bill, Jr.

DICK YORK, who plays Samantha's perplexed husband, was born Sept. 4, in Fort Wayne, Indiana and decided to be an actor when he was in short pants. He made his radio debut at the ripe young age of 9 and went on to stage work from there. He was featured in "Tea and Sympathy" on Broadway, later starred on stage in "Bus Stop." Dick's movie debut came with "My Sister Eileen" and dozens of other films followed. He's wed and a dad of five beautiful youngsters.

AGNES MOOREHEAD, Samantha's mom Endora, a real doll in person, was a schoolteacher; has been a fixture in Hollywood ever since her first role in film classic "Citizen Kane." Daughter of a Boston Presbyterian minister, she taught drama at U. of Wisconsin before attending Academy of Dramatic Arts in N.Y. and was born December 6. She's divorced. Agnes got an Oscar nomination for film "Hush . . . Hush, Sweet Charlotte."

bewitched

ANDY GRIFFITH went from top success on the Broadway stage ("No Time for Sergeants") to equal success on the screen ("Onionhead"), and with "The Andy Griffith Show" via CBS-TV, he conquers TV. Mount Airy-born, on June 1, 1926, Andy is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, began acting with college theatricals, later did stock before crashing Broadway stage. He and wife Barbara are parents of an adopted son, live in L.A., but their real home is a farm in North Carolina.

FRANCES BAVIER was born Jan. 14, 1903 in New York City. Educated at Columbia University and the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, she debuted on Broadway stage in early 1920s, has done stock, radio, repertory, movies, you-name-it. TV fans first took her to their hearts in the "It's a Great Life" series. She has found a whole new fame on "The Andy Griffith Show" and loves every minute of it. Hobby: cooking. And Andy and Ronny are the boys to appreciate it!

RONNY HOWARD (left) (no relation to the famed Ronald and Leslie Howard of England and Hollywood) has become a star playing Andy's son Opie. Born March 1, 1954, in Duncan, Oklahoma, he was son of a director of USO shows, debuted at 2 under dad's aegis in summer theatre. All boy, he enjoys swimming, boating, baseball, would like to continue career in acting. A true child of show business, he watches cameramen work, and tries to learn everything he can.

Born Dec. 17 in Jasper, Ala., he made his debut as a comic in New York's Greenwich Village, has been seen in films like "Ensign Pulver" and TV shows like "Gunsmoke." George is married and has 2 children.

my three sons

FRED MacMURRAY, who plays Steve, was a saxophonist, singer and comedian before settling on acting for his life's work. Born on Aug. 30, 1908 in Kankakee, Ill., he attracted the attention of a Hollywood scout while appearing on Broadway in "Roberto," was cast in his first movie, "Grand Old Girl," in 1935. Since then he has played everything from Western heroes to comic professors in such pics as "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," "The Apartment" and "The Absent-Minded Professor." Fred has two grown children by his first wife, Lillian Lamant, who died in 1953, is presently married to actress June Haver and has adopted 9-year-old twin daughters. The MacMurrays make their home in Brentwood, California.

WILLIAM DEMEREST joined "My Three Sons" last season, but Bill's been in hundreds of films and is a familiar face to everyone. He was born in St. Paul, Minn., on Feb. 27, 1892, began his career in vaudeville in 1905; played stock, worked carnivals, hit Broadway and made movie debut in 1927's "Fingerprints." He has been active in films ever since.

DON GRADY, now 22, has made the role of Robbie his own. Ambitious Don as a kid formed his own orchestra, had his own newspaper. He was born in San Diego, June 8, 1944, thinks he may write and direct when he grows older. He was a Disney "Mouseketeer" for a period.

BARRY LIVINGSTON, (center) was a replacement last season for Tim Considine and is the brother of regular Stan in real life. Barry was born in Los Angeles on December 17, 1953. He is in the seventh grade at school and math is his favorite subject, baseball his pet sport.

STANLEY LIVINGSTON, (inset) second youngest of MacMurray's three "sons," was discovered by a scout at a Hollywood swimming pool, signed for Ozzie Nelson's TV show. Now 15, he thinks maybe he'd rather be a fireman than an actor. His ambition may be deferred.

please don't eat the daisies

BRIAN NASH, who plays Joel, is a ten-year-old redhead who has been in show business since he started doing TV commercials 4 years ago. Born in Glendole, Calif., he has been seen in such shows as "My Three Sons" and "Bewitched," likes to swim, water ski and fish when he has some time away from the cameras.

KIM TYLER, who plays Kyle, made his film debut at the age of 18 months in "Mr. Belvedere Rings the Bell," and has been working steadily ever since. The son of show business parents, freckle-faced Kim was born April 17, 1954 in Northridge, Calif., is an outstanding young athlete as well as a very talented thespian.

JOE AND JEFF FITHIAN, (bottom pic) who play the Nash twins are, obviously, real-life twins who were born 12 minutes apart on February 26, 1958. They have been acting since they were 18 months old when they were chosen to appear in a TV commercial and, in addition to their television appearances, they have also been seen in the movie, "What a Way to Go" with Shirley MacLaine and Paul Newman. Jeff and Joe, who are identical in looks and temperament, attend St. Elizabeth's School in Van Nuys, California, excel in swimming, boxing, skating and riding and can sing almost any popular and rock 'n roll song of the day.

PAT CROWLEY, who plays Joan Nash, began her career as a teen model, became interested in acting and snagged a role in a B'way show, "Southern Exposure," shortly after her graduation from high school. Born Sept. 17, 1932 in Olyphant, Pa., she made her movie debut in "Forever Female," has since done loads of TV and movie work. Pat's also a very talented singer, likes to sew and play tennis whenever she has any spare time.

MARK MILLER, who plays James Nash, has a slew of stage, screen and TV credits behind him, and turned down many chances for a series until this adaptation of Joan Kerr's best-seller was offered to him. Mark, tall and handsome, was born in Houston, Tex., November 20th, and graduated from Lamar High. Studied architecture at Texas A & M. His interest in acting took him to N. Y. He's married to Beatrice Ammidown and has two adorable daughters.

the big valley

BARBARA STANWYCK, one of Hollywood's all-time greats, stars as Victoria Barkley the head of "The Big Valley" family. Born Ruby Stevens in Brooklyn, New York on July 16, 1907, Babs started as a chorus girl, came to Hollywood in 1929 for "Locked Door" and starred in such films as "So Big," "Double Indemnity" and "Executive Suite," to mention a few. In 1960 she did "The Barbara Stanwyck Show." Divorced twice—from the late Frank Fay and from Robert Taylor, she won this year's "Best Actress" Emmy. Barbara is the force that has kept "The Big Valley" from personal and professional feuding.

PETER BRECK, who plays Nick Barkley, was born March 13 in Rochester, N.Y. and originally wanted to be a singer. After graduation from high school, he switched to acting. His first film role was in "Thunder Road," other credits include "I Want To Live" and the TV series, "Black Saddle." An expert horseman, Peter is married, has two lovely children.

LEE MAJORS started his career with a bang as the illegitimate son of Victoria's late husband who finds that achieving his rights means responsibility. 6'1", blond-haired handsome Lee hails from Middleboro, Kentucky, is 25 years old, was discovered by agent Dick Clayton. Once divorced, he has one child; hopes to become a leading man in films. Birth-day: April 23.

LINDA EVANS Audra, Victoria's only daughter, part elf, part witch, and at all times all-woman. A graduate of Hollywood High, Linda was given her big chance by Walt Disney in "Those Crazy Callows" opposite Brandon de Wilde. Her TV experience includes "Bachelor Father," "Ozzie and Harriet," and "The Eleventh Hour." Single, a native of Hartford, Conn., born on Nov. 18.

CHARLES BRILES Eugene, Victoria's youngest son; sensitive, unsure of himself but slowly finding his way and realizing his own identity. Only 20 years old, Briles' experience so far has been confined to local theatre in Los Angeles (where he was born Dec. 17). But he's been at it—notably in Shakespeare—since he was 7. Single, he lives with his parents; plays the field, girl-wise.

RICHARD LONG Jarrod Barkley, Victoria's eldest son. Richard has come a long way since his early movie "All I Desire," starring Barbara Stanwyck. Now one of the best established men, he has a brilliant list of TV credits in addition to his role as Rex Randolph in "Bourbon Street." Dick was born in Chicago, Ill. on Dec. 17, 1927. After first wife Susan Ball died, he wed Mara Corday.

bonanza

LORNE GREENE was a Canadian newscaster twenty years ago, but millions know him only as the father in "Bonanza." Born in Ottawa and educated there, he planned to go into engineering until he began to act in college. This was what he wanted. Years of stock and radio led him into TV when producer Fletcher Markle discovered his voice. Has been in plays here and England. Father of 21-year-old twin sons, Lorne has been married twice. He's 50.

MICHAEL LANDON, born Eugene Orowitz, won his spurs in "Bonanza" and it has brought him happiness. Born in New York, his mother is Peggy O'Neil of musical comedy fame; his dad was a theatre manager. Mike had offers from 46 universities for outstanding skill as a javelin thrower. He entered University of Southern California and got into films by taking a screen test for a chum. Mike is married to second wife Lynn Noe, is the father of five kids.

DAN BLOCKER of "Bonanza" weighed 14 pounds at birth (in Texas), 200 at 12 and 300 when he got the role of Hoss Cartwright. Known in hometown as the "Big'n" he grew up fighting to prove his strength. He never lost, but decided to become a teacher. Got his B.A. in drama instead, and acted on Broadway in "King Lear." After Korea, he married his childhood sweetheart, moved to California and has four "lil'ns," two of whom are twins.

gunsmoke

JIM ARNESS starts his 12th year as Matt Dillon in "Gunsmoke." Born in Minneapolis, 43 years ago, Jim interrupted his college in Wisconsin to fight in WWII. Back in Minn., Jim became an announcer, then moved to the film capital. He spent three hard years in many jobs before he made twenty films. "Gunsmoke" brought him stardom but his marriage to wife Virginia Chapman ended. He is devoted to his kids, Craig, Jenny Lee and Rolfe. He loves sailing and fishing.

AMANDA BLAKE, who plays Matt's girl friend, never wanted to be anything but an actress. Formerly Beverly Louise Neill of Buffalo, N.Y., she wanted to live in a large ranch house with a swimming pool. Today she has made it all come true. The house is hers, and the career is hers. She started in films at MGM when she was in her teens; then went to TV in "Red Skelton Show." She married rancher Jason Day (her third husband) back in August 1964.

MILBURN STONE, who portrays Doc Adams in "Gunsmoke," (far left) was highly flattered when he became an honorary member of the Kansas Medical Society. He was born in Burton, Kansas, declined an appointment to Annapolis to join a traveling acting company. Has played stock, radio, TV and films for more than 25 years. Married for nearly as long, to wife Jane. He makes furniture when he's not using green thumb in the garden of his home.

the virginian

DOUG McCLURE, who plays Trampas in "The Virginian" series, won fame in earlier TV stints in "Checkmate" and "Overland Trail." Born in Glendale, Calif., May 11, 1935, he was spotted by scouts while attending Santa Monica College. His clean-cut blond looks put him over. In films he has been in "Beau Geste," "Gidget," "Shenandoah." Doug, divorced from his second wife Barbara Luna, has one daughter from his first marriage.

DON QUINE, who plays Charles Bickford's grandson, is a versatile and talented actor who has had considerable stage experience and has been seen on numerous top television productions. Some of the series you may have seen Don on include "Rawhide," "The Fugitive" and "Peyton Place." Now that he's appearing regularly on "The Virginian," he's expected to soar to stardom in record time.

JAMES DRURY, who follows several famous actors in the role of The Virginian in the weekly NBC series, came to Hollywood in 1954 from stock and off-Broadway roles. His first film was "Blackboard Jungle," in which he had a one-line part. Among his other films: "Diane," "Love Me Tender," "Bernadine." He had a top role in "Elfego Baca" series. Divorced, Jim has two children, he lives alone, and keeps his private life private.

SARA LANE, who plays Charles Bickford's granddaughter, made her professional debut at the age of 9 months in a TV soap commercial, was seen last year in the suspense movie, "I Saw What You Did." Born 17 years ago in New York City, blonde, blue-eyed Sara lives in Malibu, Calif. with her actor father and actress mother and is a junior at Santa Monica High School. A whizz with horses, she also loves swimming.

CHARLES BICKFORD, another new cast addition, has chalked up 36 solid years of cinematic success, and is still going strong. He just published a best-selling autobiography. Born Jan. 1, 1889, in Cambridge, Mass., Bickford planned to be an engineer, got sidetracked to acting when a stranger came over and offered him a job in burlesque. After 700 stock roles, two Broadway leads, he signed to film debut in "Dynamite."

ROBERT WOLDERS, who plays Clete Hunter, a newcomer to "Laredo" was born in Holland, appeared in European films like "El Greco" and "Juliet of the Spirits" before coming to the U.S. On this side of the Atlantic, he has had roles in "Von Ryan's Express," "Beau Geste" and "Tabruk" and in TV shows like "The John Forsythe Show" and "Run For Your Life." Bob holds a masters degree in psychology. Birthdate: Sept. 28.

laredo

wild, wild west

ROBERT CONRAD, who plays James T. West, hails from Chicago, where he was born Conrad Robert Falk on March 1, 1935. He began his career as a singer but later decided acting was more his cup of tea. Warner Brothers provided his first big break by giving him a long-term contract and handing him a co-starring role in the "Hawaiian Eye" TV series. A fan of flamenco music, Bob is the father of two daughters.

ROSS MARTIN, who plays Artemus Gordon, was born March 22 in Grodek, Poland, but came to the U.S. with his family when he was only a few days old. He grew up in New York City where he took part in amateur contests, later worked in vaudeville and radio. As his career zoomed, he was in "Hazel Flagg" and "Shinbone Alley" on Broadway. A former regular of "Mr. Lucky," Ross is still a bachelor.

PETER BROWN, now doing his second TV western, was born in New York (Oct. 5, 1935) moved on to Washington State, then on to Alaska. While stationed there, he made show biz debut; after the service he went into stock, films and finally his role of Johnny McKay in his first series "Lawman." He's divorced from Diane Jergens. An all-around type, he is hipped on music.

WILLIAM SMITH, a formidable athlete and linguist, made his TV debut in an Ed Wynn show as a plumber. Then he spent a year in England filming "Zero 1." On his return to Hollywood he did "Asphalt Jungle," then guested on "Stoney Burke," "Mr. Lucky" and "The Virginian." Smith was born in Columbia, Mo., and went to California when he was five. Has MA from UCLA.

PHIL CAREY's role of the rangers' commanding officer is his second plunge into a TV series. Remember him in "77 Bengal Lancers"? Phil slipped out of marine uniform after World War I and into college with the modest ambition of being a radio announcer. College dramatics (Univ. of Miami) got him started; Hollywood snapped him up for 20 pix. He has two girls and a boy.

NEVILLE BRAND was lured into a TV series because it gives him a chance to be a hero. A Congressional Medal of Honor winning soldier of WW II, he aimed for an acting career soon after his discharge from service, finally launched it with "D.O.A." Born in Kewanee, Ill., on Aug. 13, 1920, Neville has been divorced twice, has 3 daughters, is now separated from wife #3.

BIG GAME FOR SMALL FRY

(CHILDREN'S SHOWS)

YALE SUMMERS (far right) majored in business and government at Cornell, but it's unlikely that either field will have access to Yale's talents for a long time to come. Because of his success as Jack in the "second season" TV hit "Daktari," Yale is destined for a long and profitable career in television and movies. Born in New York City on July 24, Roy Reed Neuvohner (his real name) never thought of becoming an actor. But soon after graduation from Cornell, while Yale vacationed in Vegas, Martin Rackin, then head of Paramount Pictures, suggested he give it consideration. Two months later, the brown-haired, blue-eyed charmer headed for Hollywood and was on his way. Yale appeared in over twenty major TV shows before landing a regular role in "General Hospital." He switched from operating rooms to jungle. Bachelor.

MARSHALL THOMPSON (left), TV's "Daktari", started his career in Los Angeles high school plays and made his screen bow at 18 in "Reckless Age." Born in Peoria, Ill., on Nov. 26, 1926, to a dentist father, a singer mother, Marshall is also the descendant of first U.S. Justice Marshall. He's wed to Barbara Long. They have a daughter, Janet.

HARI RHODES (center), who plays Mike, is an actor by day, writer at night, and is now working on his second novel. Born April 10, 1932 in Cincinnati, Ohio, Rhodes served in the Marine, studied drama in college, then came to Hollywood for films. He's wed, has two step-children.

daktari

CHERYL MILLER, who plays Paula Tracy, was born Feb. 4 in Sherman Oaks, Calif., made her movie debut in the cradle in "Casanova Brown." As a child actress she appeared in over 100 films; later studied at the L.A. Conservatory of Music and went on to appear in almost every TV show filmed. She co-starred in MGM's "Clarence the Cross-Eyed Lion," and when that movie became a weekly series, Cheryl stayed on in her original roles. She is still single.

(CHILDREN'S SHOWS)

ED AMES, who plays Mingo, was a member of the famed singing "Ames Brothers" before turning his talents toward the dramatic end of show biz. Leaving the quartet in 1961, Boston-born Ed studied acting in New York, appeared in such plays as "The Fantastics" and "Carnival." 3 years ago he decided to try his luck in Hollywood, wound up with important roles in TV shows like "Redigo" and "The Gunfighter." Nope, he hasn't given up singing, records for RCA.

PATRICIA BLAIR, who plays Rebecca Boone, is a Texas beauty, having been born in Fort Worth and raised in Dallas. A one-time Dallas newspaper reporter, she got nipped by the acting bug, went to New York to study, worked as a photographic model to support herself. Eventually she wound up in Hollywood, was put under contract to MGM and became a regular on the old "Rifleman" series. 5'7" tall, Pat hates housework, prefers a glamour girl image.

VERONICA CARTWRIGHT, who plays Jemima Boone, is only 16 years old, but she's already chalked up an impressive list of acting credits and is the proud possessor of an Emmy Award (for her performance in a TV documentary, "Tell Me Not in Mournful Numbers"). Born in Bristol, England, Veronica and her family moved to Hollywood when she was 5. She worked as a child model, got TV roles, finally began landing movies like "The Birds."

DARBY HINTON has the most envied job of any youngster on TV—that of Daniel Boone's son. Every boy in America would love to be in his place. Darby is only seven years old and he's been an actor for six and a half of them. He started in a crib on "Playhouse 90." Since that beginning, he has been seen in over 50 feature films and TV shows. Darby loves scuba-diving, riding horseback. This lucky lad has the gift of rapid memorization.

FESS PARKER (left), the original "Davy Crockett," is back in coonskin for his third season in "Daniel Boone" after a brief time in civvies as "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington." A typical product of Texas, Fess was born in Fort Worth, on Aug. 16th, 1925. Fess stands 6'5" in his stocking feet. While at U.C.L.A., he auditioned for and got a part in a touring company of "Mr. Roberts," and his career as an actor was launched. Away from the cameras, Fess lives in Santa Barbara with his wife Marcie Rinehart and son Fess, III, daughter, Ashley.

ROBERT LOGAN, who plays Jericho Jones, was born May 29, 1941 in New York City, moved to Los Angeles with his family when he was 9. He was spotted by a movie scout while dining at a luncheonette, made his acting debut in "Claudelle Inglish" shortly thereafter. He was a regular on "77 Sunset Strip" for two years, playing "J.R.," the parking lot attendant. 6'4" Bob wed beautiful Susan Henning in 1966.

BOB KEESHAN conceived his own CBS-TV show, which delights all kids and many adults. Now 38 years old, he started on the TV as the amusing "Clarabelle" on the "Howdy Doody Show," then created two other TV shows which were well-received, "Corny the Clown" and "Tinker the Toy-maker." Father of three young Keeshans, who are their dad's most ardent fans, he lives with his family in West Islip, L.I., is happiest being a real homebody.

discovery

BILL OWENS, who takes over this season as the new host of this much acclaimed children's show. Owens, born in Grand Forks, N. Dakota, graduated cum laude from USC in 1953. He made his radio debut in 1953, then joined the Air Force. Upon his return in '55 he made a name for himself in broadcasting in North Dakota, went on to Ohio where he contributed spot news for "Monitor." He's wed to Rose-Bobo. Kids: Carolyn, 9, Dick, 7, Lisa, 5.

ROBERT BRAY doesn't find playing the role of a forest ranger difficult—he was born on a forest range in Kalispell, Montana, grew up in the Western outdoors and now lives in the San Bernadino National Forest. Before embarking upon an acting career, he worked as a lumberjack and a cowpuncher, did a hitch with the Marines in the South Pacific. Married and a father, his TV credits include "Twilight Zone" and "Maverick." Bob's 6'3" tall.

walt disney

WALT DISNEY's "Wonderful World of Color" is enjoying its fifth spectacular season. Holder of numerous Oscars, Walt was born in Chicago, Dec. 5, 1901, hit it big with his first cartoon brainchild, "Mickey Mouse," in 1928. Scores of short and feature-length cartoon masterpieces followed, with Walt branching into feature films along the way. Married and a father, he's always been on the prowl for ideas to amuse and delight audiences.

GUY WILLIAMS, who plays Prof. Jahn Robinson, was formerly known to TV viewers as the swashbuckling hero of the "Zorro" series. A native of New York City, he was born on Jan. 14, got his first big acting break in a "Studio One" production. 6'3" tall, handsome Guy is married to a former model and is the father of two children, Steve, 14 and Toni, 8.

JUNE LOCKHART, who plays Maureen Robinson, is the daughter of the late Gene Lockhart, made her professional debut when she was only 8 years old. Born June 25 in New York City, she grew up in Beverly Hills, has been seen in movies like "The Yearling" and in B'way shows like "For Love or Money." She had a 6-year stint as the mother on the "Lassie" series. June's married to architect John Lindsey, has 2 daughters.

ANGELA CARTWRIGHT is a little English miss who crossed over to Canada when she was a tot, and made the long journey to Hollywood, where she was launched on a movie and TV career. Born on Sept. 9, 1952, Angela was signed for "The Danny Thomas Show" after one audition.

lost in space

MARK GODDARD, who plays Don West, was born July 24, 1936 in Lowell, Mass., became interested in acting while attending Holy Cross College in Worcester, Mass. He first sought a career in New York, but finally decided he'd rather try Hollywood. He has had running parts in 3 previous TV series, "Johnny Ringo," "The Detectives," "Many Happy Returns," has been in movies. He lives in Beverly Hills and is married.

JONATHAN HARRIS, who plays Dr. Zachary Smith, is a former pharmacist who had so much fun impersonating his customers he decided to become an actor. He did 125 plays in summer stock, hit B'way in "The Heart of the City," went on to carve out a career in TV, appearing as a regular on such shows as "The Third Man" and "The Bill Dana Show." Married for 27 years to the same woman, Jonathan is a native of N.Y.

MARTA KRISTEN, who plays Judy, was born in Oslo, Norway, Feb. 26, 1945 and was orphaned at the age of two weeks. Four years later she was adopted by an American couple and brought to the states. Discovered while dining at a drive-in restaurant in H'wood, she has been seen on such TV shows as "Dr. Kildare," in movies like "Beach Blanket Bingo."

BILLY MUMMY, who plays Will, broke into show biz in 1958 by appearing on a local children's TV show in Los Angeles. His performance caught the eye of a casting director and he soon found himself with a career, which includes pics like "Dear Brigitte" and "Palm Springs Weekend." Born Feb. 1, 1954 in San Gabriel, Calif., he spends his free time boating.

BRIAN KELLY, the son of a former governor of Michigan, was expected to follow his dad into law and politics. Instead, he took up acting, worked as a radio and TV announcer in his native Detroit, went to New York to study acting. He gravitated to Hollywood, did a few TV stunts, was spotted by "Flipper" producers while he was busy doing volunteer work. Brian is divorcing actress Laura Devon; hopes to combine acting with a directing career. He was born on Feb. 14, 1931.

TOMMY NORDEN is one of seven children, all in show business. A model at the age of 5, Tommy advanced to TV commercials, snagged roles in 2 B'way musicals. A native of New York City, born on September 25, he has done guest spots on such shows as "J.S. Steel Hour" and "Route 66," and worked with Sophia Loren in the motion picture "Five Miles to Midnight."

LUKE HALPIN fell into show business nearly 10 years ago when his piano teacher suggested him for a role in a "Studio One" show. More TV followed and in 1953 he was cast in the movie "Flipper." He was signed to repeat his role in the new TV series based on the film. Born on April 4, in Astoria, N. Y., Luke is a water-sports enthusiast—naturally.

MIND YOUR A's

got
secret

STEVE ALLEN's myriad fans are delighted to see him as the host on this popular CBS-TV game show. Married to actress Jayne Meadows, Steve is a highly talented actor, pianist, composer, author, you name it! His many-faceted talent was on view a few seasons ago when he hosted the hour-long "Steve Allen Show." The son of two vaudeville comedians, Steve was born in New York City in 1921, is the father of four sons.

BILL CULLEN has a lot to laugh about these days. But as a child in his native Pittsburgh, he was afflicted with polio, and hospitalized for nine months after an auto accident. He used to imitate radio announcers for fun, then decided to be one. Emceeding on a small station preceded 1943 job as N.Y. radio m.c. of "Winner Take All," and stardom on "The Price Is Right." Now on "Eye Guess" Bill is wed to singer Carol Ames.

BETSY PALMER has proven her talents in films and TV dramatic shows. She is now in real demand as a TV panelist because of her evident intelligence and spontaneous charm. Born Patricia Betsy Hrunek, Nov. 1, 1929, in Chicago, she appeared in high school dramatic shows, went into stock, little theatre, then TV. In private life she's married to obstetrician Dr. Vincent Merendino, is the mother of a daughter, Melissa, 4.

HENRY MORGAN started out as a pageboy at a radio station. He was then 17. Since then he has held a variety of jobs in radio and TV, each one better than the last. Joining "I've Got a Secret" ten years ago, he quickly won fame for his dry wit, intelligent barbs of American manners and mores. Brilliantly alert, he is bookish chap in private life. Henry was born in New York City, Mar. 31, 1915. He is divorced.

BESS MYERSON may have shone as Miss America of 1945, but she is still beautiful and magnetic enough to be Miss America of 1965. A Bronx, New York girl, she learned flute, piano at early age, has soloed with N.Y. Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra. Divorced from Capt. Allan Wayne, she is proud mother of Barbara, has remarried recently. She was on TV's "The Big Payoff," also does several top TV commercials.

He's married and the proud father of a married daughter.

NANCY HANSCHMAN DICKERSON, NBC News correspondent, was formerly a member of the Washington staff of CBS News, continues to base in the Capital. First woman correspondent to have joined CBS News since the advent of TV, she had been with them till 1963, was associate producer of "Face the Nation." Born in Wauwatosa, Wisconsin, she graduated from the U. of Wisconsin in 1948, later did graduate work at Howard University. Nancy is married.

RON COCHRAN, ABC newscaster, is a native of Canada, but has lived in and reported from almost everywhere in the United States. After graduation from Parsons College in Iowa, he became a Physics instructor but soon turned to news reporting. And he hasn't left it since. He calls it his hobby as well as his profession. During World War II, he was a special FBI agent. He is married and lives in Washington, D. C. with his wife and two kids.

PAULINE FREDERICKS has found herself the only woman at events attended by men, takes this in stride. As NBC News UN correspondent, she is first woman ever elected President of UN Correspondents Association. She has covered many world crises and big stories like the Nuremberg Trials. Born in Gallitzin, Pa., she worked for the Washington Star, later wrote for North American Newspaper Alliance. Single, she likes all active outdoor sports and is very well-read.

NEWSCASTERS

FRANK GIFFORD, CBS-TV's Director of Sports, is a natural for sportscasting since he was the star player of the New York Football Giants for 11 years. Born on August 16, 1930 in Santa Monica, Calif., good-looking Frank began his athletic career in high school, took up TV reporting and commenting in 1961. He and his wife Maxie have 3 children, Jeff, 13, Kyle, 10, and Vicki, 7, and make their home in New York City.

RAY SCHERER, top White House correspondent for NBC-TV, is noted for analytical mind, sharp, incisive reportage. A graduate of Valparaiso University in Indiana, he began his journalistic career on the Fort Wayne, Indiana, Journal-Gazette, joined NBC in 1947. Married to former Barbara Hetzner, he is the father of two children, lives with his family just outside Washington, has had close acquaintanceships with Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and L.B.J.

JIM JENSEN is CBS's handsome anchor man. He joined the network in January 1965 and has served as a reporter-correspondent on news stories both in and out of the studio. He was born in Wisconsin and graduated from the Univ. of Denver as a journalism major. His career as a newsman started in the Midwest, shifted to Boston and finally took him to New York. A WW II Air Force veteran, Jim is married and the father of four children.

ERIC SEVAREID, who has added to his many laurels as author and news commentator with his latest CBS News assignment, is noted for his "CBS Reports" programs, has won many broadcasting awards. Born in Yelva, North Dakota, Nov. 26, 1912, he began at 18 as a newspaper reporter on the Minneapolis Journal. After attending the University of Minnesota, he joined the staff of the Paris Herald Tribune, and the United Press. His WW II broadcasts are famed.

FRANK MCGEE, NBC News correspondent in New York, believes that "when you are dealing with news you are dealing with people," conducts his work accordingly. Born in Monroe, La., in 1921, he served in the Army in WW II, later was a jack-of-all-trades with small radio station in Shawnee, Okla., gradually moved onward and upward through all phases of news coverage. Married to the former Nialto Beard, he is dad of 2, lives in comfortable N.Y. suburb.

HOWARD K. SMITH, whose intelligent newscasting has made a big impact over ABC-TV, has racked up an impressive reputation at the News' Washington Bureau and as moderator of programs like "Face the Nation." A Tulane graduate, and an author, he was born in Louisiana in 1914. A Rhodes scholar, he studied in Germany, joined CBS in 1941. Wed to Benedicte Traberg, a former Berlin correspondent for a Danish paper, he has 2 kids, Jack, Cathy.

EDWARD P. MORGAN, a Peabody-Award winner and ABC news commentator, is particularly noted for his coverage of special events like political conventions, election nights and presidential inaugurations. He defines his aims as "listener-identification." A newsman for 30-odd years, Edward has been, at various times, a magazine editor, a roving correspondent and a top producer for radio. His articles have appeared in magazines like Esquire and Atlantic Monthly.

LAWRENCE E. SPIVAK is noted for his record of scoops, which he ascribes to congenital curiosity. His exciting "Meet the Press" NBC-TV panel show won nationwide fame. A Harvard graduate, he was born in New York, served as business manager of the American Mercury in its great days, under H. L. Mencken. Married and a father, Spivak has four lovely grandchildren. He is often consulted for expert views, commutes to New York from Washington.

MERRILL MUELLER, NBC newsman, has traveled round the world many times in his 30-year career, covering events like the Spanish Civil War and the Battle of Britain. He began his news career at 14 on a Connecticut daily, was a correspondent for Newsweek and INS. He has been praised for his hard-hitting convention reports in 1952, 1956 and 1960. Married to former Edith Nicholson, he lives on a Connecticut farm, relaxes with farm work, reading.

ROBERT TROUT, who took leave of his nightly CBS New York show to become the network's roving European correspondent this season, and to do several CBS reports, is a vet of nearly 35 years of experience. Born in Wake County, N.C., Oct. 15, 1908, he began as announcer in Mt. Vernon Hills, Va., doing everything from poetry reading to giving hunting and fishing advice. When CBS bought the station in 1932, Trout came too as "legman and editor."

EDWIN NEWMAN, a leading light of NBC-TV News, is a past master of shrewd analysis of world situations no matter where. Born in New York, he graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1940, joined up with INS and UP in Washington before Navy service in WW II. A full-time NBC News correspondent in London after the war, he has been a prolific writer for such magazines as The Atlantic, Harper's, Esquire. He has covered events since 1955.

SANDER VANOCUR is augmenting his fine newscasting reputation as one of NBC-TV's two White House correspondents. Born in Cleveland, Ohio, he was graduated from Northwestern University, attended the London School of Economics. After 2 Army years, he worked for British newspapers and BBC, then was transferred to CBS in London. Later he was with NY Times before joining NBC. Wed, he is dad of son, Nicholas. Hobby: history of the White House.

MARLENE SANDERS is a 5'5" strawberry blonde who presides on ABC-TV's "News With the Woman's Touch." Born Jan. 10 in Cleveland, Ohio, she attended Ohio State U. and the Sorbonne in Paris and has won all sorts of awards for her reporting prowess, including McCall's "Golden Mike" Award and the Robert E. Sherwood Award. In private life Marlene's Mrs. Jerome Taubin, is the proud mom of a 6-year-old son, Jeffrey.

MIKE WALLACE has made CBS his headquarters. His "Mike Wallace Interviews" made him famous, then went into syndication. Mike was born Myron Wallace in Brookline, Mass., on May 9, 1918. He is a graduate of the U. of Michigan, a Navy veteran, a former announcer and one-time emcee of the quiz-show "Who Pays?" Divorced, Mike is remarried, and lives with his wife Lorraine and children at Sneden's Landing, N.Y. His news analysis is deft.

(DAYTIME DRAMA)

DON HASTINGS who plays Dr. Bob Hughes was born in Brooklyn 32 years ago and has been acting since he was five. In 1940 he started as a child singer on "Coast to Coast On A Bus," went on from there to tour with "Life With Father" and made his Broadway bow in 1944 in "I Remember Mama." Stage, radio and TV have filled his every moment since. He was on "Capt. Video" for six years. Don is married, has two girls.

HELEN WAGNER, who has found her greatest fame to date as Nancy Hughes in "As The World Turns," was born in Lubbock, Texas, became interested in acting as a young child, staging impromptu plays in the garage for an audience of neighborhood kids. At Monmouth College, in Illinois, she went in for dramatics, followed by small radio and TV bits, plus summer stock. Married, she's studied singing, likes reading.

ROSEMARY PRINZ, a favorite as Penny Hughes, has taken on a new career as a singer and her first album of songs, "TV's Penny: Rosemary Prinz Sings" was a best seller among her many fans. Rosemary, a native New Yorker, has been on this show since its debut on Apr. 2, 1956. Before turning to acting she worked as a salesgirl, typist and hat-check girl, but after gaining experience in summer theater, she zoomed in radio, B'way.

DON MacLAUGHLIN has been called "the actor with the typical American man's voice." A native of Webster City, Iowa, he studied at Northwestern and the University of Iowa, then became a teacher, later a writer. Realizing acting was his real love, he got into radio, made Broadway, found his biggest audience as Dr. Jim Brent in "Road of Life," followed by "As The World Turns." Married, he is the father of 3, enjoys painting.

PETER BRANDON, who plays Don Hughes, was seen on TV's "Young Doctor Malone," in Broadway's "Ondine," "The Hidden River." Born in Berlin, Germany and brought here at 14, Peter attended school in New England, and in 1944 when he wasn't quite 18 got his first job on radio in New Jersey. A stint in the army followed; then he headed for N.Y. He's wed to Jane Clark, has 2 kids, Mary, 10, and Bill, 8.

another world

VIRGINIA DWYER, who plays the unsinkable Mary Matthews on this NBC daytime drama, hails from Omaha, Nebraska. She met up with the acting bug while attending college, cut short her education in order to pursue a career. Her first vehicle to stardom was radio, on which she appeared in shows like "Mr. District Attorney" and "Front Page Farrell." Later she got running roles on TV soaps. Married to a director, Mary has a 21-year-old daughter.

SHEPPERD STRUDWICK, who plays Jim Matthews, has played leads in no less than 26 Broadway shows, beginning with "Both Your Houses" back in 1933. He has also appeared in more than 40 films ("A Place In the Sun," "Joan of Arc," etc.) and scores of TV programs. Born in North Carolina, the distinguished looking Mr. Strudwick is married to actress Margaret O'Neill and is the father of one son. He and his family make their home in the East.

days of our lives

MAC DONALD CAREY played opposite Gertrude Lawrence in "Lady in the Dark"—his first Broadway part in 1940. After this auspicious beginning, he went to Hollywood in 1942 for "Dr. Broadway," was in the Marines a year later but came back to do dozens of movie roles. Mac was born in Sioux City, Iowa, Mar. 15, 1913. He married Betty Heckscher in 1941; they have five children. He was previously seen in his own TV series called "Lock-Up," made in Hollywood.

CHARLA DOHERTY, who plays Julie Olson, once hoped to be a famous author, wrote a 1,000 page historical novel at the age of 13. She changed her ambition when she met the ol' acting bug, though, and now, at 20, she's on her way to stardom. When not slaving in front of the TV camera, Charla attends classes at UCLA, where she is working toward her B.A. in History, and manages to fit in ballet classes as well. Her hobby is antique hunting.

edge of night

ANN FLOOD, Nancy Pollock in CBS-TV's "Edge of Night," took up dramatics in college, then went into summer stock. Radio and NBC bit roles followed. Wed to NBC exec Herbert Granath, she made her TV debut in Orson Bean's WOR-TV show. Two years ago she graced the NBC-TV show, "From These Roots," in the role of Elizabeth. Ann met her husband when she was selling tickets at Rockefeller Center and he was working as a pageboy.

LAURENCE HUGO (Attorney Mike Karr) was born in Berkeley, Calif., on Dec. 22, 1917. After his 1939 graduation from University of California, he joined the Neighborhood Playhouse in N.Y.C., London's Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts, debuted on Broadway in "Distant City," served in the army, then returned to the stage, breaking into television in the 1950's. Larry, as he is known to friends, is married to Carolyn Gary. They have two kids.

the guiding light

ELLEN DEMING is a convincing and moving Meta Roberts in CBS-TV's daytime drama "The Guiding Light," made a hit in the earlier radio versions too. Born in Schenectady, N. Y., she studied drama under the late, great Maude Adams of Stevens College in Mo., then did kiddie shows, summer stock along the Eastern seaboard. Married to ad exec Hal Thompson, she is mother of Erica, 1, and Keith, 7, is homebody, loves cooking, cleaning, marketing.

THEODORE GOETZ, who plays Papa Bauer on CBS-TV's "The Guiding Light," was a leading actor of the Stote Theatre of Vienna until WW II. Born in Vienna in 1894, he served with Austrian Army in WW I, then turned to acting with several Viennese theatre groups. Among his TV credits are "Studio One," "The Philco Playhouse," "Play of the Week," plus many others. He joined "Guiding Light" in 1947 when it was on radio. He's married.

love of life

RON TOOME, who is a big heartthrob as Dr. Bruce Sterling, is a dead-ringer for film star Rod Taylor, but unlike Rod, Ron is an all-American. Born in Chicago, Ill., on Oct. 24, brown-eyed, 6' tall, Ronald studied with the Actor's Company, attended Wright College and headed for New York. Brilliant performances off-Broadway led to the running part on this show. Divorced, he lives quietly and spends his spare time delving into the study of astronomy.

AUDREY PETERS, who is Vanessa Dale Raven in CBS-TV's daytime serial "Love of Life," has much stage experience to her credit, did comedy with Jackie Gleason, understudied a lead in Chayevsky's play "Middle of the Night." A veteran of top TV dramatic shows, she is also an accomplished dancer, studied with Jerome Robbins, has dancing credits in eight Broadway shows. When not working, her hobby is: play-going! She keeps dancing, too.

search for tomorrow

MARY STUART has come to identify herself closely with her role of Joanne Barron in CBS-TV's "Search for Tomorrow," claims she even takes Joanne home with her. Still no complaints from hubby Richard Krolik, a TV director. Born in Miami, Florida, Mary was raised in Okla., joined a local drama group, followed up with USO shows. Discovered by Joe Pasternak, she has done many films, TV shows, would like to do a Broadway play one day soon.

TERRY O'SULLIVAN finds his dramatic chores as Arthur Tate in CBS-TV's "Search for Tomorrow" a refreshing and challenging change of pace from his many years' work as a radio announcer in such assorted spots at Tulsa; Joplin, Mo.; and San Diego. Born on a farm near Kansas City, Mo., Terry recently divorced wife, actress Jan Miner. He commutes from a N. Y. apartment to a N.H. farm, which, he says, reminds him of his old Kansas home.

secret storm

HAILA STODDARD is Pauline Fuller on "Storm." She's been an actress for 25 years but she always craved to be a producer as well. In 1960 she produced a hit, Broadway's "A Thurber Carnival." Born in Montana, she moved to Calif., and graduated from U. of Calif. with a degree in science, only to go straight into acting. Haila is married to actor Whitfield Connor and has three children; Robin, Chris and Jay. The family lives in Manhattan and Connecticut.

WARD COSTELLO has many interests—writing, painting, carpentry, pipe collecting but his main endeavor is acting and he's been hard at it, successfully since 1950. At various times he's been a fisherman, truck driver, ranch hand. That's all past now and Ward is settled down well. He's married to Lorraine Grover; they have four sons and a daughter. The family lives in Westport, Conn. His only worry? "I do engage in a lot of hobbies rather than none."

dark shadows

JOAN BENNETT, one of the three lovely and talented daughters of famed actor Richard Bennett (sisters Connie and Barbara, now deceased, were also actresses), has been in films since "Bulldog Drummond," in 1929. Born in Palisades, N. J., in 1910, she's been divorced three times, has four daughters. One of her husbands was famed producer Walter Wanger. She prefers television to films, and is enjoying the starring role in "Dark Shadows" because it enables her to work and live in New York.

ALEXANDRA MOLTKE, who plays Victoria Winters, was born in Stockholm, Sweden, but moved with her folks to New York City at the age of 3 months. After making her acting debut as Joseph in a school Christmas play, she decided she had a flare for drama, studied at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, where she was a star pupil. A travel enthusiast, Alexandra lives in Manhattan with her family, spends her free time writing children's books.

LOIS EDMONDS, who plays Roger Collins, grew up on a sugar plantation near Baton Rouge, La., got his early acting experience at Carnegie Tech and with stock groups in the East. He made his Broadway debut in "Candide," has since appeared in numerous shows, both on and off the Great White Way. Having recently completed two films, "Red Over Red" and "The Fifth Arm of the Swastika," he enjoys spending his free time at his home in Setauket, N. Y.

a time for us

BEVERLY HAYES, who plays Jane on "A Time for Us," was born and raised in a Chicago suburb, and is the daughter of TV pioneer Melbourne Hayes, who presented commercial TV in this country for the first time at the Chicago Fair during the mid-thirties. After attending Drake U., the 5'1", 117 pound, blue-eyed brunette came to N. Y. to study at the Neighborhood Playhouse. Bev is wed to actor Gordon Gray, who used to play Steve on this show.

TOM FIELDING, who plays Steve Reynolds, wanted to be an actor from the time he was a child in Poughkeepsie, New York. When he was 16 he was signed as an apprentice at Bucks' County Playhouse. He then entered Northwestern U. as a drama student but returned to N. Y. for private study. He made his first TV appearances in Hollywood on "Temple Houston" jettied East again for a big part an "Lave of Life," before his role. Born July 11, he's 23, single.

the doctors

JAMES PRITCHETT, who plays Dr. Matt Powers, is a lawyer-turned-actor, whose face has long been familiar to daytime TV viewers. A former regular on "The Secret Storm" and "As the World Turns," he began his career understudying the lead in B'way's "Two for the Seesaw," finally graduated to important roles of his own. Jim, who hopes someday to do a musical, is a native of Lenoir, N. C., is married and the father of two young daughters.

ELIZABETH HUBBARD, who plays Dr. Althea Davis, is an award-winning Broadway actress, having been cited last year for her role in "The Physicists." Born in New York City, she studied at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London, was first seen on Broadway in "The Affair," later appeared in "Look Back in Anger," "Kwamina" and "The Passion of Josef D." In spite of her impressive credits, however, viewers prefer her as simply Althea.

general hospital

JOHN BERADINO, star of ABC-TV's new "General Hospital," began his dramatic career at the age of 7 in the "Our Gang" movies. As he grew older, however, his attention turned from acting to baseball, and he spent 14 years with the major leagues, playing first with the St. Louis Browns, then with the Cleveland Indians. A leg injury forced him to return to his native Los Angeles in 1953 and his acting career was resumed. Berardino's a handsome six-footer.

EMILY McLAUGHLIN, who plays Jessie Brewer, was born Dec. 1 in White Plains, N. Y. She decided upon a career in the theatre at the age of 8, followed it up several years later by enrolling at New York City's Neighborhood Playhouse and snagging a role in B'way's "The Frogs of Spring." Now a show biz vet, she's been seen on TV shows like "Bus Stop" and "Checkmate," was a regular on "Young Dr. Malone" for 2 years. Married to Robert Lansing, she has one son.

the nurses

MARY FICKETT, well-known for her creation of Eleanor Roosevelt in "Sunrise at Campobello," will appear in the starring role of "The Nurses," now on ABC. Her previous TV appearances were as hostess on "Calendar" and she had starring roles on "The Defenders" and co-starred with James Daly in "Don't Go Upstairs." She appeared on movie screens with Bing Crosby in "Man on Fire" and most recently she was hostess of radio's "Ask Miss Fickett."

MELINDA PLANK, who plays Gail Lucas, is an accomplished ballerina as well as actress. Born Feb. 27 in Shelby, Ohio, she appeared with the New York City Ballet at the age of 14, danced with several other companies before deciding to try her hand at drama. She won a leading part in TV's "Our Five Daughters" and also starred in the film, "The Greenwich Village Story." Blonde, petite Melinda is wed to management consultant Jeff McKenzie.

On these, and the following six pages, are the casts, original release dates, and critical ratings of the Hollywood feature-length motion pictures which will appear on Network TV for the first time during the 1966-67 season. The three networks will devote a combined five nights and approximately ten hours a week to these movies (the majority of which appeared in theaters within the past five years). With the exception of "specials" like Hans Christian Andersen (Nov. 4) and Music Man (Sept. 15-16) the exact nights have not yet been set for all the showings. (Your local paper can supply that information.) Naturally, there will be hundreds of old, old movies re-run in afternoon and late night hours, since each local station has its own individual library, but this section is devoted to cross-country prime-time new programming only.

SYNDICATED

A Different Time In A Different Place

SOUPY SALES is the star of his own nationally syndicated show and was seen recently in the movie "Birds Do It." What Soupy does — among other things—is get stars like Sinatra and Sammy Davis to appear on his show and receive a pie in the eye. But as the picture on this page proves, Soupy only does unto others what he will let others do unto him. Born in Franklinton, N.C., he grew up in Huntington, West Virginia. He went to Marshall College, majored in journalism, wrote scripts for radio. He became a disk jockey in Cincinnati, changed his name from the rather uninspired Milton Hines to Soupy and moved onward and upward to Los Angeles and New York. He gave up his bachelorhood in 1950 and has two sons. And, of course, he is also the father of "The Mouse."

SYNDICATED SHOWS

the merv griffin show

MERV GRIFFIN, a formidably gifted man, above with Sean Connery, is giving "The Tonight Show" some stiff competition on his late-night gab fest. Merv, who was born July 6, 1925, in San Mateo, Calif., grew up there, majored in music at the U. of San Francisco. His big-time talent (as singer, pianist, actor) has taken him everywhere—into recording, radio, TV, night clubs, the live stage and even movies. Wed to comedienne Julann Wright, they live in New Jersey.

DAVID SUSSKIND, whose marathon TV interviews are syndicated throughout the country, is a controversial figure, professionally and privately, and is the head of Talent Associates, a New York based producing company. David, a live-wire 43, grew up in Boston, is a Harvard grad. He intended to teach after a Navy hitch but TV got him first. He's divorced from Phyllis Briskin and has two daughters and a young son. He recently re-wed. (Bill Poley and Jack Gould guested with David.)

open end

jo pyne show

JOE PYNE whose controversial West Coast "Talk" show is now in national syndication, was born some 40 years ago in Philadelphia, Pa., distinguished himself in combat with the Marines in World War II, did interview shows in various cities before settling down in Los Angeles. A man who always knows where the action is and usually manages to bring it right to his studio, Joe can be seen on NBC's "Showdown" this season.

mike douglas
show

MIKE DOUGLAS is the star of the 90-minute daytime variety and talk show from Cleveland, Ohio. His career in show business has covered radio, night clubs, and the dance-band era. He started out in radio as a child singer, was sidetracked by sports, then went back to the songs. His career was interrupted by World War II, but following the service he was back in the show business swing. He has been hosting this show for 3 years. Married, he has three kids. Carol Burnett guested with Mike.

girl talk

VIRGINIA GRAHAM, of the nationally syndicated "Girl Talk," is a "brain" as well as a TV star. The daughter of a Chicago merchant, she enrolled in the U. of Chicago at 16, graduated in 2½ years with a Phi Beta Kappa key. After doing modeling and fashion commentating in her home-town, she went to New York and landed a spot on the "Zake Manners Show." "Food For Thought" followed and, eventually, "Girl Talk." Wed to Harry Guttenberg. That's Eva Gabor guesting with Ginny.
