"ONE MAN'S FAMILY" will soon celebrate its eleventh birthday on the airwaves. Dawn Bender, above, who is now appearing on the show as Hazel Barbour Herbert's seven-year-old daughter, is seven in real life

NEW MEMBER

Little Dawn Bender Debuts on Radio in "One Man's Family"

"ONE MAN'S FAMILY" introduced a new member to radio listeners last month. And here she is! The same age in real life as her role calls for on the program, Dawn is a veteran movie trouser despite her years. She made her screen debut at the age of two weeks in "The Keeper of the Bees," and played her first speaking part with Kay Francis in "Confessions" at the age of two. In addition to being an actress, Dawn sings and is an expert skater. The last-named talent showed to advantage in the Sonja Henie film "Sun Valley Serenade." Dawn has clear olive skin, dark-brown eyes and light-brown hair. Her mother's greatest ambition is to keep her talented little daughter from becoming spoiled and smart-alecky. Says Mrs. Bender, "Dawn's old-fashioned and I want to keep her that way."

STARS GOLF FOR VICTORY

MORE than sixty golfers entered the victory tournament staged in Hollywood for the Army and Navy relief fund. Star golfers, amateurs and professionals, all joined forces to make the affair a success. Movietown glamour girls did their share by acting as score girls and doing their bit to entertain the crowds. Task of official referee was assigned to the tough guy of the movies—Humphrey Bogart. Marvin Stahl, Michigan professional, came out first in the tournament with a spectacular score of 64. Ellsworth Vines was a close runner-up. But Bing Crosby and Bob Hope, who really can play golf too, and who provided laughs aplenty with their running fire of gags at the same time, almost stole the show!

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER'S LION'S ROAR

Published in this space every month The greatest star of the screen!

When "Cabin In The Sky" was playing Broadway a couple of years ago, we went to the Martin Beck three or four times to hear the cello-voiced Ethel Waters singing "Taking a Chance on Love" and all the other melodies by Vernon Duke.

Here was a musical play with a real plot, a touch of poetry, too. What a film it will make, we said to ourselves, lion to lion.

And now Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is getting set to release "Cabin", happy in the knowledge that preview reports have branded it "a honey", "a dream" and just plain "excellent."

M-G-M rules the raves.

The trio of star entertainers heading the cast are Ethel Waters, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson and Lena Horne.

Lena is a find. She is destined to become another Florence Mills.

Nor must we fail to tell about Louis Armstrong, Rex Ingram, Duke Ellington and his orchestra, The Hall Johnson choir. They're all there in "Cabin In The Sky".

It's another excellent musical production by Arthur Freed. The screenplay is by Joseph Schrank. It is the first film that has been directed by the talented artist Vincente Minnelli and he is to be congratulated.

A few additional numbers appear in the film by Harold Arlen and E. Y. Harburg. One in particular is entitled "Happiness is a Thing Called Joe."

No more paragraphs on "Cabin" for the moment. Turning to other films, we recommend emphatically the current Spencer Tracy-Katharine Hepburn "Keeper of The Flame".

If you liked "Mrs. Miniver" and "Random Harvest", you will recognize the same M-G-M touch in this adaptation of the novel by I. A. R. Wylie.

How are the New Year's resolutions coming?

Well, they were too tough at that.

FIRED TO FAME

CHRISTENED Katharine Daley, Cass acquired her nickname in childhood, and it stuck. Now she is on her way up the movie-radio ladder, it bids fair to become a famous one. Encouraged by movie prowess with firearms, Cass (above) keeps trusty rifle at home

CASS knew as much about guns as a rabbit does about opera when she came to movies. But she caught on fast for her rootin', tootin' cowgirl role in Paramount's "Ridin' High," opposite comic Gil Lamb. Now Cass (above) is an expert pistol-twirler SCREEN'S top comedians make merry with La Daley after a recent broadcast. And it isn't often one sees Abbott and Costello sitting still and playing the roles of stooges for another prankster!

PLAYING gin rummy with her husband, Frank Kinsella (he's also her business manager), Cass forgets to put on her poker face, definitely gives away the fact that she's right on verge of yelling, "Gin!"

ONE straight photograph we were able to get of Cass at home (above) shows her as she really is—a poised and gracious hostess and, what's more, an excellent housekeeper. Rather difficult to believe that Cass got mike fright her first time on the air. Bing Crosby's easy manner saved her from utter collapse

Cass Daley Has a Face That Can Launch a Thousand Slips;
Now Both Movies and Radio Are Paging Her for 1943 Stardom

CASS DALEY, a hard-working factory girl, was a trimmer in a hosiery mill when her funny antics cost her a well-paying job. The factory foreman, at whom she made funny faces, called her into his office and said, "You're a hard worker, Cass. But you've made one too many faces at me. I don't care personally, but the other girls laugh too much at your clowning. It affects their work. I've got to let you go. But if you can make people laugh as you do the girls in the factory, you can make a fortune." So one of movie-radio's most-promising comediennes at the present time was literally "fired to fame," for her employer's advice started her on the road to getting paid for making people laugh. Cass conquered vaudeville and catapulted into the Ziegfeld Follies. Because she gave a "sock" act on the stage, she found herself making faces before the cameras in Movietown; doing a standout performance for "The Fleet's In." The same funny faces that intrigued her factory-day pals got her an invitation to appear on Bing Crosby's "Kraft Music Hall" air show. Of her past, present and future, Cass is modest and grateful. Says she: "A handclap is my real salary. I hope a laugh can be the public's reward. And so long as we can go along exchanging handclaps and laughs, I'll be happy." That, in a nutshell, is comedienne Cass Daley!

A GAL AND A MIKE

CASS has something to laugh about. She's beginning a screen and radio career that promises a rise to stardom

"SO you want expressions over the radio," says Cass. "Well, you asked for it." She would rather clown than eat any time

RUNNING the gamut of emotions in trigger-quick time is easy for Cass. Switching from laughter to disheveled Mrs. Frankenstein role is no trick at all!

It did my heart ensnare!"*

No other shampoo leaves hair so lustrous
... and yet so easy to manage!

HER GLEAMING LOCKS (shampooed with Special Drene) rival the glitter of her sequin gloves and dress! The smart simplicity of her lovely hairdo is accentuated by the tricky ornaments—satin bows with tassels of silken balls cut from ball fringe.

For glamorous hair, use Special Drene with Hair Conditioner added . . . the only shampoo that reveals up to 33% more lustre than soap, yet leaves hair so easy to arrange!

Nothing makes a girl so alluring to men as shining, lustrous hair! So, if you want this thrilling beauty advantage, don't let soaps or soap shampoos rob your hair of lustre!

Instead, use Special Drene! See the dramatic difference after your first shampoo . . . how gloriously it reveals all the lovely sparkling highlights, all the natural color brilliance of your hair!

And now that Special Drene contains a wonderful hair conditioner, it leaves hair far more glamorous . . . silkier, smoother and easier to arrange, right after shampooing! Easier to comb into smooth, shining neatness! If you haven't tried Drene lately, you'll be amazed!

You'll be thrilled, too, by Special Drene's super-cleansing action. For it even removes all embarrassing, flaky dandruff the first time you use it . . . and the film left by previous soapings!

So, before you wash your hair again, get a bottle of Special Drene with Hair Conditioner added! Or ask your beauty shop to use it. Let this amazing improved shampoo glorify your hair!

*PROCTER & GAMBLE, after careful tests of all types of shampoos, found no other which leaves hair so lustrous and yet so easy to manage as Special Drene. Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Soap film dulls lustre—robs hair of glamour!

Avoid this beauty handicap! Switch to Special Drene! It never leaves any dulling film, as soaps and soap shampoos always do.

That's why Special Drene Shampoo reveals up to 33% more lustre!

Rickenbacker's Message to America

Seven Men Stand as Living Witnesses to an American Hero's Unshakeable Faith in the Power of Prayer!

In Captain Eddie Rickenbacker's message which follows, he describes only the latest of his narrow escapes from death. For this American hero has entertained death as a companion ever since he was a daredevil racing driver in his teens. In World War I, Rickenbacker shot down twenty-six German planes, a record that, so far, has not been topped by any American ace in World War II. In 1941, he was so badly injured in a Georgia plane crash that doctors feared for his life. Yet he lived to bring home to the American people the simple truth that "Man's extremity is God's opportunity" to point a way through faith. Captain Rickenbacker's message is here reprinted just as it was broadcast over "The Army Hour" program on Sunday, December 20, 1942. —The Editors.

SITTING here in the comfort of my own home on a Sunday afternoon, just five days before Christmas, I find it rather difficult to visualize that entirely different world some thousands of miles away in the Pacific from which I have just returned. Few Americans who have not been there can comprehend that world in which our armed forces are making the gallant fight for us, for such Sunday afternoons and Christmases.

Perhaps I can make it a little more real by telling you a part of my story of these past few weeks.

I know that I am here today because of a kindly Providence, the gallantry and guts of our fighting men—and the same holds true for each of you, even though you were not lost in the Pacific. But let me start at the beginning of my story.

Now, of course, those American airmen who fly over great bodies of water in distant battle areas can have few of the navigation devices possible in domestic flying.

I left Hawaii with Colonel Adamson, Captain William T. Cherry, Second Lieut. James C. Whittaker, Second Lieut. John DeAngelus (sp.), Master Sergeant James Reynolds, Sergeant A. T. Kaczmarczyk and Private John Bartek headed for a tiny island in the Pacific. We had no last-minute weather data on the areas to which we were to travel. There were no stations along the route, no teletype to give us data on weather. We had a radio which could be used only sparingly and for long-range forecasts. Conditions for such flying are being constantly improved but are necessarily limited by the necessities of war. It was the morning after our take-off when we called for bearings that our radio problem showed up. We kept flying on what we believed to be our course. I suspected that we had a stronger tail wind than had been calculated originally and that we had overshot. This proved to be the case. But we had no choice other than to keep on our course and try the old box-like method of locating a ship or an island. Under such flying conditions, you get what is called "island eyes." You see land from many different angles and it proves to be nothing more than cloud shadows. But when you're as anxious to find land as we were, with the rapidly diminishing supply of gas, those illusions multiply tenfold. Our radio operator started pounding out the SOS and kept it up for a solid hour. In the meantime, we started cruising on only two engines to conserve our supply of gasoline and dumped out everything in the way of tools, mail, equipment and baggage—everything we could pry loose, regardless of its value. Indeed, it takes just such a moment to make one realize how worthless are the material things of life. Our men on the fighting fronts have come to know this, too, as I shall presently tell you. We got ready for the crash. We knew if we hit the top of the swell, we would go down with the plane; but we were fortunate enough to hit the bottom, which gave us a chance to abandon ship. We did not have much time, so we had to get out as quickly as possible, taking care only to launch our rubber raft-boats and get into them. We did not take time to save even our rations, and once free of the plane we were afraid to go back to it for fear of going down when the ship sank.

Colonel Adamson got a sprained back in the course, and Sergt. Kaczmarczyk went overboard when the two-man raft turned over. Unfortunately he swallowed some salt water and was very seasick for several hours and really never recovered. We ran into a five-day calm which left the ocean like a mirror. It was beastly hot. Most of the boys had thrown away their shoes, socks and hats and suffered intensely from the heat. In those long twenty-four hours of each day and night, no one was ever really comfortable. We had no rain until the eighth night. We saw nothing in the way of planes or ships. We had saved only four oranges. We lived those eight

Judy Garland-Dave Rose Crack-Up Leaves Movietown Disheartened; Connie Bennett Relates an Anecdote

By FRANCES LONG

Busiest-laziest. Gary Cooper's present line-up of movie chores in the making rather belies the fact that he is sometimes referred to as the laziest man in Movietown. He's doing "The Story of Dr. Wassell" for DeMille, with Edna Ferber's story Saratoga Trunk for Warner Bros. next on the list. Coop won the Wassell role over twelve prospective name candidates. In this he will portray Lieutenant Commander Corydon M. Wassell, who won the Navy Cross for saving the lives of nine desperately wounded sailors by transporting them single-handed from Java to Australia. And now, by golly, Gary's being paged to do the role of Captain Eddie Rickenbacker when the famous adventurer's life story is filmed . . .

Unbeatable Betty! That's what Hollywood is calling Betty Grable these days. Villagers say that she has more pep than a carload of vitamin pills. After dancing all day on the "Coney Island" set at 20th Century, Betty took three visiting Navy ensigns dinner-dancing. From there the party moved over to the Hollywood Palladium on Columbia Square's Emerald Way for some fancy jitterbugging. What's more, the little star didn't slight any of her partners when it came to being one girl with three dancing escorts. Next day, bright and early, Betty was hoofing it again at the studio with nary a sign of fatigue. Which reminds us—put "Coney Island" on your future movie-date list: It's stacking up to a great musical . . .

Double-blessing rumor. Local medico's predictions have it that Mrs. Alan Ladd (Sue Carol) should prepare to receive two additions to her family. Alan, who's just been inducted into the Army, is so excited by the news that some doubt is entertained as to whether he will be able to devote his undivided attention to soldering chores until after the blessed event. Meanwhile, Bing and Dixie Crosby, who have heard about the doctor's prediction, offered the Ladds the use of the bassinets and other various and sundry appurtenances that were used for their own twins . . .

Double trouble. Gene Tierney is the star who has been going through a siege of that. Gene just got back from a visit with her husband, Oleg Cassini, at Ft. Riley, Kansas, when she was notified that he had been stricken with pneumonia and was in a serious condition. And to add to her troubles, Gene's home in one of the Hollywood canyons was almost washed down the hillside in the flood that swept southern California recently . . .

Excited man! Sidney Greenstreet is his name, and he's featured in Warner Bros.' picture "Casablanca," the movie that scooped the market when President Roosevelt landed in the real Casablanca for a conference with England's Churchill the same week the picture hit the nation's theaters. Sidney's been a hard man to find ever since the day he received a call at the lot from his nephew, who is a doctor and who is in Hollywood for a furlough after three years of active service with the British army . . .

Muni broadcast. Paul Muni, who has been devoting the major portion of his time to the revival of "Counsellor at Law," took a few hours out recently to do the Red Cross broadcast over NBC. Muni seldom appears on the air, but the letters which flood the radio studios when he makes one of his infrequent airings show that he has a tremendous following. Incidentally, it is reported that Mr. Muni is the most recent celebrity name to be added to the fabulous "Stage Door Canteen" cast . . .

Disheartening. Hollywood's been pretty glum about the news of the Judy Garland-Dave Rose split-up. For it was one marriage the town had bet on to stay intact. If any marriage was ever given generous odds for success, this one was it. Just seems a shame that two such fine folks, with everything in common, couldn't make a go of their marriage . . .

Jottings from Movietown. Bing Crosby has bought a ranch at Elko, Nevada, which he may utilize to further his interests in breeding racers . . . Maria Manton, Marlene Dietrich's daughter, has announced her engagement to Richard Haydn. My, my, can you imagine the glamorous Marlene a grandma! . . . Jeanette MacDonald, who has done her forty-fourth broadcast via the short waves for "Command Performance," says that servicemen the world over request Ave Maria more than any other song . . . Jackie Coogan, Hollywood's one-time million-dollar kid, is now a full-fledged glider pilot in America's Air Forces. Was graduated from the Victorville, California, Army Flying School recently . . . It's official that Mickey Rooney has been tabbed 1-A by his Uncle Sam . . . Hedda Hopper, Hollywood columnist and actress, who's noted for her outlandish hats, now has one with her name outlined around the crown. Cracked one wag who saw it, "Omigosh, Hedda! Has your by-line gone to your head?" . . . We've just learned that movie-makers are eying Cornelia Otis Skinner's delightful book, When We Were Young and Gay. Wouldn't Cass Daley make a swell-elegant Cornelia in the movie? . . . Mae West is fixing to star in a musical with a South American background. Title at present is "Tropicana" . . . Hollywood wag says that love went off like a delayed bomb in sudden marriage of Ginger Rogers to Jack Briggs. Jack played a bit part in Ginger's "Tom, Dick and Harry," but La Rogers never "saw" him . . . Sister Kenny, famous Australian nurse and authority on infantile paralysis, whose life-work is being made into a movie with Rosalind Russell doing the star role, has had a Liberty ship named after her . . . Remember Eric von Stroheim who used to play meanies in silent-day pictures? He's back in Hollywood for a role in "Five Graves to Cairo." Eric used to employ dictator tactics as a director, but reports are that time has mellowed him and that he's really a nice person to meet now . . . Irving Berlin will play himself when "This Is the Army" comes to the screen under the Warners banner . . . Walter Huston will have the role of the village philosopher and scholar in "North Star," movie with a Russian background that Lillian Hellman is now readying for the screen . . .

Chuckle of the week. Constance Bennett can't take her favorite Movietown hair-dresser on all her trips, so, in order to save time and trouble with strange operators, La Connie always carries a picture of herself in her favorite hair-do on all jaunts. In New York recently, Miss Bennett made an appointment at an ultra-ultra beauty salon under her married name of Mrs. Roland. When she arrived, she showed the picture to the operator, saying she wanted her hair done that way. The girl looked, smiled, and excused herself for a moment. In the next booth, Connie heard her say, "Get the dame next door. She wants to have her hair dressed so she'll look like Constance Bennett."

FONDA (in role of Corporal Colin Spence) recalls, too, Valentine's (Maureen) impulsive kiss as he left for African front. Then he had no doubt but that she would marry his author friend Tommy Benedict (Reginald Gardiner, left), now a famous war correspondent. Tommy knew what he wanted, brashly took it!

JUST before nightfall, Fonda (Colin Spence) wakes from a doze to see a Nazi plane overhead. He watches as it lands at the oasis and disgorges paratroops. After dark, remembering the dying sergeant's orders to get his men to safety, Colin reconnoiters. Next morning he and his men attack!

WOUNDED in the fierce skirmish that follows, Colin (Fonda) regains consciousness in Cairo hospital after his rescue by British patrol. He is told that he and his pals are heroes, but his one thought is of sending a proposal of marriage by cable to Valentine (Maureen)

MOVIE REVIEW

"The Meanest Man in the World"

Cast: Jack Benny, Priscilla Lane, Eddie (Rochester) Anderson, Edmund Gwenn, Matt Briggs, Anne Revere, Margaret Seddon, Helene Reynolds, Don Douglas, Harry Hayden, Arthur Loft, Andrew Tombes, Paul Burns. A 20th Century-Fox production, from the play of the late George M. Cohan. Produced by William Perlberg and directed by Sidney Lanfield.

What Movie-Goers Can Expect: The return of Priscilla Lane, who does a good job co-starring with Jack Benny in a slaphappy comedy about a struggling young lawyer who's a flop until he decides to become a meanie in his profession. Benny as the lawyer, ably aided and abetted by Rochester, his faithful stooge of six years' standing, handles the part admirably, in spite of having only fair material in role. Verdict: Passable nonsense for the whole family.

*Musical rhymes are heard a lot,
Singing commercials we like not;
But there's nothing we can do,
So we suffer the same as you.*

The above jingle was written with apologies to the papa of them all, the tuneful Pepsi-Cola rhyme, forerunner of the present siege by singing commercials. Although people gripe about them, nevertheless they sing 'em and swing 'em. However, whether the listener is conscious of it or not, the product being launched on wings of song does stay in his mind.

To date figures show that the people have been told "Pepsi-Cola hits the spot, etc.," about five hundred thousand times; and the jingle is now a member in good standing of chamber-music circles, having made its bow to long-hair musical audiences through the facilities of WQXR, the New York station which caters to the "elite" of the music world.

Austen Groom-Johnson and Alan Kent are responsible for the "whole thing." Alan will be remembered by radio listeners as one of our better announcers. He gave up his announcing chores to devote his time exclusively to jingle-jangle-jingle.

Many people have asked just where this cycle will end. We can only answer in the words of the good Major Bowes, "'Round and 'round she goes and where she stops nobody knows"...

THE RADIO FRONT

The Phillips H. Lord "Gang Busters" success recipe is as follows: Something must happen within the first twenty seconds of the program—a shot, a smashed window, a woman's scream—no matter what it is, it must be something to make the listener sit up and take notice. With the beginning of the program's eighth year on the air, they are now awarding a thousand-dollar war bond to any listener supplying a clew or clews leading to the arrest of number one criminals . . .

Henny Youngman, the Broadway funnyman and runner-up in the Jack Benny "Who Plays the Fiddle More Off Key" stakes, has been signed as a permanent member of the "Kate Smith Hour." Henny has been touring Army camps and we hear he's a riot . . .

Col. Stoopnagle's introduction on his "Stooperoos" series is followed by much hilarity from the studio audience. The comedian sits at the console of the mighty gaspipe organ and goes through the motions of playing the theme song. As he is introduced, he stands up and takes a bow—but the organ goes on, played by Johnny Gart, who is hidden behind a screen . . .

Alan Reed (Falstaff Openshaw of the CBS Fred Allen show) is practically freezing during this cold spell due to the scrap-metal drive. When he moved into his country home, some five hundred pounds of old metal were stored in his basement. Being a patriot, Alan called the authorities and asked them to pick up the metal. They did. Shortly thereafter, he decided to convert his oil burner to its original coal-heat unit. "That's easy," said his landlord. "All the coal-heating parts are stored in the basement." When Reed finally came to, he was heard to mutter something about having just one coal heater to give to his country to help give the Axis a hot foot . . .

Many people who lived and laughed during the rushing twenties are getting a terrific boot out of the CBS "Only Yesterday" program. Benny Rubin and Mary Small add a nostalgic note with their stories and songs of that era . . . It sure pays to muffle your question on NBC's "Truth or Consequences" if you are a war mother. The consequence not only helps the Government in one way or another but also does something fine for the mother and son . . . Woody Herman is leaving New York for a picture assignment in Hollywood . . .

Johnny the Call Boy has a field day! For the world's first midget premiere, his friends attended Ginny Simms' show as his guests. Not satisfied to be "just audience," they got up on the stage and gave out with entertainment in a pre-show jamboree. Bill Thompson, of Wallace Wimple fame, did a number of excellent characterizations, and Eddie Cantor dropped in after his own rehearsal. Wandering around amongst the little people, Eddie had them in stitches with his "For once in my life I really feel like a man" . . .

After the recent rainstorm in Hollywood (Chamber of Commerce please look the other way), Jimmy Cash, singing sensation of the "Burns and Allen Show," looked to see what damage was done to his victory garden and discovered one lone, full-grown, ripe strawberry. How it got there is still a mystery, and Jimmy doesn't know whether to send it to Ripley, frame it or divide amongst the family—bite by bite . . .

Scheduled to sing A Touch of Texas, Dale Evans got a little nervous before broadcast-time wondering what her family in Texas might think of the not too complimentary offering. Charlie McCarthy, noticing Dale's stew, tipped off Bergen, who instantly went into a huddle with orchestra-leader Ray Noble. A few minutes before the show was due to go on they came up with another number, making pretty Dale Evans a happy girl again . . .

Must say it was a pleasant surprise t'other night when Johnnie Johnston popped onto the screen at the local cinema as leading man in M-G-M's "Priorities of 1942." The last time I saw Johnnie he was peddling his wares on Don McNeill's "Breakfast Club." It made me wonder what's happened to some of the other former Breakfast Clubbers.

Evelyn Lynne, they tell me, is living in Oklahoma while her hubby is on duty with the Marines. She stopped by the studio recently, said "Hello" to the gang. And Clark Dennis, you know, has a Tuesday night job on "Duffy's," aired from New York. Gale Page, 'tis said, is in Hollywood, retired from both radio and the movies. Then there's Fibber McGee, Molly and Bill Thompson, who were Breakfast Clubbers back in the early thirties. Now, whatever happened to them?

Curley Bradley of the Ranch Boys trio is still in there pitching at a Chicago mike, but he's switched from singing to comedy lines as a "Club Matinee" emcee. One of his sidekicks, Shorty Carson, is warbling cowboy ditties at WGN, while the other, Jack Ross, has returned to his ranch in the

On the scheduled night he took his place on the platform, raring to orate. Listening idly to the speaker who preceded him, the gentleman's parting shot hit him like an ax.

" . . . In concluding my address," the speaker was saying, "I should like to read a little poem titled 'Cooperation.'"

"Cooperation?" Ed muttered to himself. "I call it sabotage!" . . .

RAVEL'S "BOLERO" BY NEW YORK PHILHARMONIC, BARBIROLI CONDUCTING, SUN., CBS

Grace Moore and Charles Kullman, Guests of "Telephone Hour" Mon.;
Lotte Lehmann Begins CBS Concerts; Morton Downey Returns to Radio

By ROBERT BAGAR

New York World-Telegram Music Critic and Associate Program Annotator for Philharmonic-Symphony Society of New York

AMONG the interesting works selected by John Barbirolli for the Philharmonic-Symphony's broadcast on Sunday afternoon is the "Bolero," by Maurice Ravel. For the sake of the record, be it reported that the rest of the program will include the overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor," by Nicolai; the Cesar Franck Symphony in D Minor, Abram Chasins' "Parade" and Respighi's symphonic poem, "The Fountains of Rome."

As for the "Bolero," it was composed specifically for a ballet production of the celebrated Ida Rubinstein. The dancer and her company performed the ballet, and, of course, the music thus obtained its world premiere. That took place at the Paris opera on November 22, 1928, the conductor being Walter Stramm.

It was the Philharmonic Society of New York that first brought this extremely tantalizing music before an American public. The date was November, 14, 1929, and the conductor was Arturo Toscanini.

For that ballet performance of the "Bolero" Alexandre Benois had done the costumes and settings. The scene was that of a tavern, whose chief object was a large table. On that table the noted danseuse did the solo choreography, the rest of the company standing about the room watching the performance. According to Prunieres, "The dancer executed a stylized interpretation of the 'Bolero' amid the growing excitement of a crowd of spectators encouraging her with their applause and their pounding heels. At the moment when the music took a dramatic turn, we saw a brawl. Everything seemed to be swept along by the music, a most beautiful spectacle."

Actually it was the Toscanini-Philharmonic performance of the music in the concert hall that launched the "Bolero." Mr. Toscanini, with his customary perceptiveness, detected things in the music that had not been realized previously. He changed the tempo to that which we know so well now. He heightened certain aspects of the orchestration, accenting beats here and there, and, in general, doing one of his justly famous interpretative reconstructions.

His performance brought the house to its feet in a wild demonstration, thanks to the power and magnetism of the music itself, its tart rhythms and tangy melodic phrases, the magnificence of the reading. It would not be exaggeration to say that most interpretations of Ravel's "Bolero" are modeled on that of Mr. Toscanini.

As pointed out previously, Respighi's "Fountains of Rome" also takes a prominent place in Mr. Barbirolli's program. This work is a companion piece to the composer's "Pines of Rome." Eight years separate the writing of the two, the "Fountains" being composed in 1916, the "Pines" in 1924.

Both of these are symphonic poems. In the "Fountains of Rome" Respighi treats of the visions and moods conjured up by four of Rome's famous fountains. Each of these is represented by a movement. Consequently the composition is divided into the following parts: "The Fountain of Valle Giulia at Dawn," "The Triton Fountain in the Morning," "The Fountain of Trevi at Midday," and "The Villa Medici Fountain at Sunset."

The music is not to be construed as descriptive of each of the fountains. Rather did the composer attempt to suggest impressions that occurred to him. And in each case he endeavored to bring the surrounding scene before the mind of the listener.

In the first section, for instance, he tries to convey the thought of a pastoral setting, for there are droves of cattle passing beside the Fountain of Valle Giulia at dawn. In the case of the second fountain, Triton, he brings up visions of naiads and tritons as they disport themselves among the jets of tumbling water.

The third section, Trevi Fountain at midday, "visualizes" a majestic procession of water-folk, so to speak, with Neptune in the forefront. The fourth section is nostalgic. It suggests sunset, the calls of birds, the rustling of leaves. The music ends serenely.

The "Fountains of Rome" was given its first performance at Rome under the direction of Arturo Toscanini. It has been performed in this country many times and by many orchestras under many conductors. It is, incidentally, one of the Toscanini specialties—but then everything the noted maestro conducts is his specialty.

(John Barbirolli conducts the Philharmonic-Symphony in the above program over CBS on Sunday, February 14.)

Songs From Opera

The enormous following of Grace Moore, Metropolitan soprano, movie star, radio and concert luminary, will be glad to know that the lady takes her turn again on the "Telephone Hour" over NBC. This makes the third or fourth—perhaps fifth—appearance of the singer on that program.

In line with this particular program's policy of presenting "encore music," the kind of music "the public waits through a whole concert to hear," Miss Moore will be heard in a well-known aria, "Il est doux, il est bon," from Massenet's "Herodiade." That, I should judge, is the piece de resistance of her share of the program's doings.

Also scheduled to sing on that broadcast is Charles Kullman, young American tenor of the Metropolitan. Mr. Kullman is no stranger to radio listeners. Nor is he to opera-goers. He has been a Metropolitane for several years—one of the more gifted ones, by the way.

The chief possessions of this singer are a substantial voice, intelligence and fine musicianship. He is an artist with tremendous assurance. Conductors always feel safe with him, he is that dependable.

At the Metropolitan he has lent his attractive qualities to many of the so-called "spinto" roles in opera, like Rodolfo in "La Boheme," Des Grieux in "Manon," Faust in "Faust," the Duke in "Rigoletto," Walther von Stolzing in "Die Meistersinger," Julien in "Louise" and so on. He is one of those performers who can do almost any part in the particular field of the "spinto."

For this broadcast Mr. Kullman will sing, among other items, the famous aria "E lucevan le stelle" from the last act of Puccini's "Tosca."

(Grace Moore and Charles Kullman appear on the "Telephone Hour" Monday evening, February 15, over NBC.)

Lotte Lehmann Concert

For the first program in her new CBS concert series on February 15, Lotte Lehmann has scheduled "Andie Musik" (Schubert), "Mainacht" (Brahms), "Auftrage" (Schumann), "Sweet Was the Song" (Attey) and "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes" (Conn arrangement).

Morton Downey, now heard daily on Blue Network

MORTON DOWNEY'S return to the airwaves, of course, has met with a good deal of approval around the circuit. His fifteen-minute, five-times-a-week, Coast-to-Coast broadcast over the Blue Network will bring forward a great number of the pieces he used to sing in the old days. In addition to those he will be heard in many other current favorites, ranging from torch ballads to highly sophisticated lyrics.

You will remember that Mr. Downey began his radio career back in the '30's. He had been doing quite well in the movies, but the old wanderlust, you know, the urge to conquer new worlds, finally brought him to radio.

He was given a fifteen-minute sustaining spot nightly. Before long he was offered a contract. It was his and his backers' pleasure to discover that the program was being listened to by millions of people.

It wasn't long before Morton Downey was in the big-money class, and not too much later he became the "highest-paid singer in the world."

Born at Wallingford, Conn., Mr. Downey did a lot of singing in his youth. When he was about fifteen years old, he took a job as a candy-butcher on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad. Instead of hawking his wares in the approved monotone, he "sang" them. All of which did not get him very far, however. Anyway he kept in trim. And he used to play hookey from the candy-butcher's job, taking little engagements on the side.

Pretty soon he came to New York and got work with a music-publisher. He was made a full-fledged song-plugger, and as such he got around, as song-pluggers usually do. That led, somehow or other, to an engagement with Paul Whiteman's band. In that organization he used to fake playing a saxophone. His real function was singing.

Appearances in vaudeville, night-clubs and shows followed. Finally came the chance to sing in the motion picture "Syncopation." He was an immediate hit in that. There were more pictures. Then, naturally, came radio. Until he joined Whiteman he had never taken a singing lesson in his life. He himself says that when he had the time to study he didn't have the money, and that when he made the money he could never find the time. Of course, this is not a good plan to follow, unless you are a Morton Downey.

No Actor's Paradise

Actor Les Damon was regaling the cast of NBC's "Right to Happiness" with stories about his tour of New England last summer in "Boy Meets Girl." Coming out of the theater one night, Les says, he overheard one of the stalwart New Englanders remark, "That play was so funny, I could hardly keep from laughing!"

To Adolf, With Love

Either Hirohito, Benito or Mr. Schickelgruber, and maybe all of them, are going to reckon with the name of Bobby Ellis, nine-year-old actor heard in "The Guiding Light." Bobby is sending his name and the numbers of his latest war-bound purchase to a California bomber factory, which will inscribe his name on one of their most lethal products. Bobby is going to listen carefully for the result.

Hillbilly King

Uncle Dave Macon, heard on "Grand Ole Opry," earned the title of "King of the Hillbillies" as a result of fifty years' experience as a mountain minstrel. Born October 7, 1870, at Smart Station, Tennessee, Uncle Dave learned his showmanship from guests at his parents' theatrical boarding-house in Nashville. He has played in vaudeville, picture houses and from the back of a truck since his teens, and now, after seventeen years on "Grand Ole Opry," this banjo-strumming, comedy-singing septuagenarian is known from Coast to Coast as the youngest old man in radio.

Quiz Kid Brushes Up on History

Recovering from his recent bout with chicken pox, six-year-old Joel Kupperman, the mighty mathematical mite of the "Quiz Kids" show, whiled away the hours by reading a standard history of the United States. In the first hundred pages he noted two misstatements!

Joe Ain't No Orthographer

Joe Laurie, Jr., one of the three laughmasters of "Can You Top This?," has mastered all the tricks a comedian can learn but never the simple art of spelling. Joe has engraved on his stationery that noted quip by Mark Twain: "I don't give a darn for a man that can spell a word only one way."

Birthplace of Stars

Kenosha, Wisconsin, is a star-breeding city. It is the birthplace of Fredric March, Don Ameche, Orson Welles, and Raymond Edward Johnson of the "Inner Sanctum" mysteries.

Music Made Easy

Bobby Hookey, five-year-old NBC singer, takes only three days to learn a song—words and music. Bobby doesn't read music. Bobby doesn't read. His mother learns the songs first and teaches them to him.

"Nutty Nemos"

A new feature called "Nutty Nemos" will be heard hereafter on Wednesday versions of "Club Matinee." (Nemo: Trade term for a program picked up by remote control.) First "Nutty Nemo" took listeners to the cuckoo courtroom of Judge Homer Hotsquat in Indescribable, Ind.

Cavalcade Star in Stage Play

Ed Jerome, star member of the Cavalcade Players, has been assigned the role of George Washington in the Broadway play "The Patriots," replacing Cecil Humphreys, who fell and broke his thigh.

Dinah Dresses Up

When Dinah Shore, singing star of Eddie Cantor's program, appears in the after-show following the broadcast, she invariably wears evening gowns. The reason? Eddie figures that the legions of service men who flock to his broadcasts are anxious to see Dinah as utterly feminine as possible. Hence the dictum against street clothes or tailored suits, the usual attire of most femme radio vocalists.

STRETCHING is thinning in the right spots. This lass does it the sure way, bending to slip a card between her toes for the exercise

FEMININE FORUM

By EDITH HAMPTON

Slenderize for Slacks

SO YOU'RE one of the girls who never wears slacks. You think you just weren't built for them. And that is probably because you've let your shoulders sag and tummy protrude, because you've indulged in fattening sweets, and trousers tell your story.

But these are the days of the slacks brigade. We lassies wear them for work and play—in the factory and at home—in fact, night and day! What's more, there's not a reason in the world why you too shouldn't be able to wear slacks with the same flair as your slender sister. It's just a case of eliminating a bulge here and a bump there, of self-control in the face of tempting delicacies, of good hard work—and by that we mean exercise! So check up on yourself. Take a long look in your merciless mirror and figure out just where to begin.

Start with your posture. You'd be surprised how few of us really know how to stand correctly. And in many cases it's ungraceful posture that causes those humps and hills. Your head should be up, shoulders back and hips tucked under you where they belong. A good way to achieve posture-perfection is to stand with your back against the wall—back up to it until your heels touch the baseboard. Now flatten your spine against it until every vertebra is touching. Then try to stand that way without the aid of the wall! It may be hard at first, but you'll get the hang of it in time. And another rule to remember is this: When you walk, walk from your hips, not your knees. Your posture is much better when you take good healthy strides instead of tripping little steps.

Next is your diet, and that's important! Now, no one expects you to waste away to a shadow, far from it! These are days when we all keep as fit as we can. So eat three good meals a day, plenty of fruit, vegetables and milk. Be sure to include all the vitamins and minerals that are necessary for health and vitality. There's only one "don't," and you can guess what that is! Don't go in for fattening desserts and between-meal titbits! It's those fluffy ice-cream treats and chocolate bars that add the extra pounds and inches.

Last of all we come to your campaign against bulges! The places that need it most are usually hips, waist and tummy. So spend a few minutes each morning concentrating on those spots, and a few more before you hop into bed at night. The exercises are simple to do and won't wear you to a frazzle. Start with your waist. Stand with feet wide apart, arms outstretched to the sides. Then without moving your feet an inch, turn as far to the right as you possibly can. Then face front, and repeat, this time to the left. You'll feel the pull on your waist muscles right away. Another good one is to sit on the floor and bend—all the way to your toes. If you slip a playing-card between your toes each time you bend, you'll know you aren't slacking. Then for hips, try this one: Sit on the floor, raise both your legs at once and then roll back and forth. Do this about twenty times. And if your tummy needs flattening, lie on your back, raise your right leg straight up in the air. Lower it, and at the same time raise the left. Continue, kicking like a scissors, keeping your back flat on the floor and your

Kidneys Must Clean Out Acids

Excess acids, poisons and wastes in your blood are removed chiefly by your kidneys. Getting up Nights, Burning Passages, Backache, Swollen Ankles, Nervousness, Rheumatic Pains, Dizziness, Circles Under Eyes, and feeling worn out, often are caused by non-organic and non-systemic Kidney and Bladder troubles. Usually in such cases, the very first dose of Cystex goes right to work helping the Kidneys flush out excess acids and wastes. And this cleansing, purifying Kidney action, in just a day or so, may easily make you feel younger, stronger and better than in years. An iron clad guarantee insures an immediate refund of the full cost unless you are completely satisfied. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose under the money back guarantee so get Cystex from your druggist today for only 35c.

FUSSING ABOUT in the kitchen between making pictures and selling war bonds is the favorite pastime of pretty Ruth Hussey, who appears with Lionel Barrymore and Van Heflin in M-G-M's "Tennessee Johnson." Recipe for Ruth's pet avocado and cottage cheese salad is given herewith

WHAT'S COOKING!

By GEORGIA SCOTT

Trimming for a Washington's Day Dinner

IN OTHER years, you may have hopped into the family car and rushed to a favorite hostelry for your Washington's Birthday dinner. This year, however, with the OPA lurking at every corner, your best bet's to frill up a good home-cooked repast. If your hubby's doing his bit for Uncle Sam far from the home fire, why not invite some of your in-the-same-boat girl friends or your in-laws. You can all have a gala George Washington's Day at this old-fashioned get-together.

Maybe you're working in a defense plant or doing volunteer work and find it difficult to whip up elaborate meals. You undoubtedly dread a holiday with all its extras. Plan your meal carefully and you'll find it really a simple job, once you get the hang of it. Go ahead with enthusiasm. Bring out your best silver and linen. Buy some tiny American flags to decorate each guest's place—let each carry one home as a souvenir. If you're having your dinner in the evening, serve it under candlelight and save some of that electricity for later. Dinner tastes so much better served in an attractive setting.

Start the whole thing with a half grapefruit—you might try covering it with brown sugar and baking for a few minutes in your hot oven. Perch a cherry in the center to make it look pretty. If you can inveigle your butcher to part with some ham steaks, use them and cook with pineapple for added flavor. You may have to take a substitute for your meat dish, but at any rate, a delicious avocado and cottage cheese salad will add zest to any meal. Ruth Hussey reaps compliments galore on hers, which she generously consented to let us tell you all about.

What could be better to round off the whole meal than a tempting chocolate cherry log that's made so easily—and uses very little of that oh-so-precious sugar. With these two all-important trimmin's added to your menu, the party is sure to be a success and your light-hearted friends

The one subject about which no woman should live in doubt!

Continuous action for hours with safe new way in feminine hygiene!

No woman should be denied the facts... the up-to-date facts about feminine hygiene! Your happiness, your health and well-being may be at stake, unless you know the truth!

Unfortunately, many women who think they know have only half knowledge... and still depend on old-fashioned or dangerous information! They rely on weak, ineffective "home-made" mixtures... or risk using over-strong solutions of acids which can so easily burn and injure delicate tissues.

Today, modern well-informed women everywhere have turned to Zonitors—the new, safe, convenient way in feminine hygiene.

Zonitors are dainty, snow-white greasless suppositories which spread a protective coating... and kill germs instantly at contact. They deodorize—not by temporarily masking—but by destroying odors. Cleanse antiseptically, and give continuous medication for hours!

Yet Zonitors are safe for delicate tissues. Powerful—yet non-poisonous, non-caustic. Even help promote gentle healing. So convenient; no apparatus, nothing to mix. At all druggists.

FREE: Mail this coupon for revealing booklet of intimate facts, sent postpaid in plain envelope. Zonitors, Dept. 7304A, 370 Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y.

The 97 Lb. Weakling who became

"The World's Most Perfectly Developed Man"

"I'll prove that YOU, too, can be a NEW MAN!"

Charles Atlas

Charles Atlas
Holder of title,
"The World's Most Perfectly
Developed Man"

I KNOW, myself, what it means to have the kind of body that people pity! Of course, you wouldn't know it to look at me now, but I was once a skinny weakling who weighed only 97 lbs. I was ashamed to strip for sports or undress for a swim. I was such a poor specimen of physical development that I was constantly self-conscious and embarrassed. And I felt only HALF-ALIVE.

Then I discovered "Dynamic Tension." It gave me a body that won me the title "World's Most Perfectly Developed Man."

When I say I can make you over into a man of giant power and energy, I know what I'm talking about. I've seen "Dynamic Tension" transform hundreds of weak, puny men into Atlas Champions

Only 15 Minutes A Day!

Do you want big, broad shoulders—a fine, powerful chest—biceps like steel—arms and legs rippling with muscular strength—a stomach ridged with bands of sinewy muscle—and a build you can be proud of? Then just give me the opportunity to prove that "Dynamic Tension" is what you need.

No "ifs," "ands," or "maybes." Just tell me where you want handsome, powerful muscles. Are you fat and flabby? Or skinny and gawky? Are you short-winded, peppy. Do you hold back and let others walk off with the prettiest girls, best jobs, etc.? Then write for details about "Dynamic Tension" and learn how I can make you a healthy, confident, powerful HE-MAN.

"Dynamic Tension" is an entirely NATURAL method. Only 15 minutes of your spare time daily is enough to show amazing results—and it's actually fun! "Dynamic Tension" does the work.

Send for FREE BOOK

Mail the coupon right now for full details and I'll send you my illustrated book, "Everlasting Health and Strength." Tells all about my "Dynamic Tension" method. Shows actual photos of men I've made into Atlas Champions. It's a valuable book! And it's FREE. Send for your copy today. Mail the coupon to me personally. Rickenbacker's Message days on them and they were scrawny oranges at that. I would carve each orange into eight parts, very conscious of the fact that seven pairs of eyes were watching intently this simple but all-important operation. Johnny Bartek, in my rubber raft, had an Army-issued Bible in his pocket and the second day out we organized prayer meetings in the evenings and mornings. We took turns about reading passages. We prayed for our deliverance. After the oranges were gone and terrible pangs of hunger gripped us, we also prayed for food. Seven men are my witnesses that within an hour after the prayer meeting, when we first prayed for food, a seagull flew in from nowhere and landed on my head. I caught him, wrung his neck, used his innards for fishing-bait and divided the remainder equally around. No part was wasted. We ate body and bones. All were delicious.

We were able to get barely enough water for sustenance by replenishing our stocks each time we ran into a rain-storm. Usually mariners try to avoid a black squall, but we made it our business to get into it. We had no experience in catching water but we soaked up our shirts, socks and handkerchiefs and then wrung the water into a big bucket. The storms brought more than welcomed water; they brought cold winds.

Colonel Adamson was ill; Sergt. Kaczmarczyk's condition became critical. To shield him from the cold at night we moved him into our rubber raft and I cuddled him into my arms, like a mother would cuddle a small child, to give him the warmth of my body. On the night he died he asked to get back into his small raft. I have never heard a sound which affected me so much as this last gasp of life; and when morning came, we had stripped him of clothing, lifted him overboard gently, and he disappeared into the ocean. I had completed one of the hardest jobs I have ever had.

QUESTION: That was the thirteenth night at sea, Captain Rickenbacker? What happened between then and the time you were finally rescued?

CAPTAIN RICKENBACKER: Captain

Harris, I learned more about six men than anyone else in the world knows. Any sins of omission or commission were confessed. We were seven men not without hope but grimly aware that we hovered between life and death.

On the seventeenth evening we saw our first sign of life—a single-engine plane about five miles away. As it sank behind the horizon, our hearts sank with it. The next day we saw two more planes. They also missed us. The following day there were four of them but they also passed us up—two on either side. But it was heartening to know that the Navy and the Army Air Forces had not given up the hunt. However, we realized that we were a tiny speck on a mighty big ocean.

On the twentieth night reluctantly we decided to split up, on the theory that to give the Navy and the Army Air Forces several tiny specks on a wide ocean might result in saving some of our lives. I knew there were three of our party who could hardly last more than another forty-eight hours. If some parts of our days and nights on the ocean seemed like a nightmare, our rescue by the Navy still seems like a dream. I shall be eternally grateful.

CAPTAIN HARRIS: Then, Captain Rickenbacker, after a brief recuperation you proceeded with your mission to the Secretary of War?

CAPTAIN RICKENBACKER: Yes, in just two weeks, through the cooperation of Mr. Stimson and General Arnold, there was a new ship and crew sent out from the States so I could accomplish the real purpose of my mission. I got in New Guinea for a close-up look at our boys there. You simply cannot know and unfortunately I cannot tell you for obvious reasons just what a tremendous job our men are doing out there. Nor is there any way for me to convey to you adequately the hardships they are undergoing and the bravery they are displaying. Everything our fighting forces do in New Guinea is done the hard way. Everything in the way of transportation is by way of air. Troop movements, gun movements, munitions, supplies and the evacuation of all wounded—and all this under the most adverse conditions. But our officers and men are working night and day. They know they have a difficult job but their only thought is to get on with it, to get at the enemy and conquer him. This is a tougher job than most of us understand. The Jap is no funny little man to our boys who must kill or be killed in facing him. The Jap is a tough enemy, able and willing to endure great hardships, who believes in victory for Japan and is quite willing to die for Japanese war aims.

One encouraging note is the fact that our great program of training combat pilots is beginning to pay dividends. With experience, our fliers are constantly improving. The air battles in the Pacific area I visited are more and more Allied victories because of the superior American pilots and superior American planes. The Japanese, on the other hand, have not been able to replace their first-line pilots they have lost. More and more they are flying this great battle of the skies with what we would call second-stringers. But they still have the advantage of being many miles closer to their bases, which makes their job easier than ours.

I should mention particularly the fine work of the P-38's in the New Guinea campaign. The P-38 has proved itself there.

CAPTAIN HARRIS: From New Guinea, Captain Rickenbacker, you went to Guadalcanal?

CAPTAIN RICKENBACKER: I get choked up when I think about our men on Guadalcanal. They live and die and fight in a veritable hell-hole. If you could only know what the boys on Guadalcanal are doing for us and the future generations, you would find it as hard as I do to enjoy the comforts of home this Sunday afternoon. Our Army, Navy and Marine airmen are risking their lives every day to blast enemy ships, shoot Zeros out of the skies and drop their bombs on enemy installations. Our fighters are besting the enemy about four or five to one, and the B-17's, the Flying Fortresses, are scoring somewhere between nine and ten to one.

They are achieving these results for us, despite almost indescribable difficulties, because this is war. These conditions cannot be changed, and the job has got to be done.

In my opinion, the reason our men have endured in these far-away regions is due principally to the stimulation of their combat success and their inborn belief that the vast resources of America are being marshalled to support them on the same scale as they give their all on a round-the-clock, round-the-calendar basis.

Speaking as a private citizen to my fellow citizens, I plead for additional effort, an all-out total effort to the end that we may increase the production of planes, ships, guns, ammunition and all supplies that our fighting men must have in greater abundance. If through some miracle we could bring our combat troops back to America and put them into the factories and put the present war workers out in the slit trenches and the malaria-infested jungles of Guadalcanal and New Guinea, I know that within thirty days we would see our production doubled. And I know that if those of us raising cries of objections to being rationed could visit the battlefields as I did, you would realize the utter shame and infamy of your position. I could not help but think of the fact that the old rubber in one old tire was enough to make two or three of those rafts which saved our lives and which are saving the lives of our airmen every day.

I believe I have been saved by a Divine Providence, but not for my life alone. I am deeply conscious that one mission I have is in behalf of the men I saw in Guadalcanal, in New Guinea and the other battle areas all over the world where your sons, brothers, husbands and friends are fighting for you and me. If I can help you to understand that more is required of each of us as individuals, more and more until you're equaling the effort, because you can never approximate the sacrifices our men are making on the battlefronts—if I can only help you to understand that, then I will be able to enjoy the first afternoon I have spent at home in many weeks. And only through your efforts can our men on the many battle areas around the world fight with the absolute confidence of victory.

This momentous message by Captain Eddie Rickenbacker was heard as a part of "The Army Hour" broadcast on December 20, 1942, over NBC. "The Army Hour" may be heard every Sunday over NBC at 3:30 p.m. EWT, 2:30 CWT, 1:30 MWT, 12:30 PWT.

What's Cooking!

will depart and spread the good word around that as hostess you're "tops."

Avocado and Cottage Cheese Salad

- 2 medium size avocados
- lemon juice
- 1 cup cottage cheese
- 1 tsp. minced onion
- ½ tsp. celery salt
- dash of cayenne pepper

Cut avocados in half, lengthwise. Peel. Hollow out stem ends slightly. Sprinkle inside and out with lemon juice. (Note: A good method for peeling avocados is to cut the skin into four or five sections with the point of the knife and peel as you would a banana—Ruth Hussey does it in the photograph on Page 35.) Combine cheese, onions and seasonings. Blend thoroughly. Fill avocado halves with cheese mixture. Press two halves together. Wrap in wax paper and chill thoroughly. Cut chilled avocados in round or lengthwise slices. Place on lettuce-garnished salad plates. Top with mayonnaise.

Chocolate Cherry Log

- ¾ cup sifted Pillsbury's Sno Sheen Cake Flour
- 1 tsp. baking-powder (or ¾ tsp. double acting)
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 4 eggs, slightly beaten
- ¼ cup sugar
- ½ cup light corn syrup
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 2 tablespoons melted butter

1. Sift flour once, measure; add baking-powder and salt; sift together twice. 2. Beat eggs until foamy throughout; add sugar and corn syrup gradually, beating constantly until thick and lemon-colored. Add flavoring. 3. Sift in dry ingredients, a small amount at a time, folding carefully but thoroughly. Fold in butter. 4. Spread evenly in a greased, lined fifteen-by-ten-inch shallow pan. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees Fahrenheit) for about fifteen minutes. 5. When baked, trim off crisp edges, turn out on damp cloth at once and remove paper. When cool, spread with the following filling:

Cherry Filling

- 5 tablespoons cornstarch
- ⅓ tsp. salt
- ¾ cup corn syrup (light or dark)
- 1 No. 2 can (2 cups) sour cherries, chopped fine
- ½ cup cherry juice
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

1. Combine cornstarch, salt and corn syrup in top of double boiler. 2. Add combined cherries and juice gradually, stirring constantly. Place over boiling water; cook until thickened (about twenty minutes). 3. Remove from boiling water; add lemon juice, mix well. Chill thoroughly. 4. Spread on cake and roll up as for jelly roll. 5. Frost with this sugarless chocolate frosting.

Sugarless Chocolate Frosting

- 2 squares (2 ozs.) unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
- ½ cup corn syrup (light or dark)
- 1 egg yolk, unbeaten
- 2 teaspoons milk
- ½ teaspoon vanilla

1. Combine ingredients in order given; blend. 2. Place over cracked ice or cold water; beat with spoon until thick enough to spread (about ten minutes). 3. Then spread the frosting and garnish the cake with maraschino cherries and citron leaves. Slice and serve.
