ON OUR COVER

Winsome air actress Sharon Douglas smiles at you on our cover, and looks patriotically pretty as she heralds the birth of the new American Broadcasting Company, formerly known as the Blue Network.

Mrs. R. A. Sedwell, 639 Magnolia Avenue, San Bernardino, Calif.

Sirs: Will you be kind enough to let me know where I can find "Johnny Murray Talks It Over"? They announced on Friday's program that he would appear on another network, but I fail to find it in this week's Program Finder or in the day by day lists.

Also, may I ask once more if "Gang Busters" is completely off the air? And, for those who like Jack Berch, as I do, we get that program at 10:15 on KPRO Riverside, at about 1400, weekly.

I would greatly appreciate your answers to my questions, and thank you.

"Johnny Murray Talks It Over" is logged at 8:00 a.m., Monday through Friday on KNX. Happy listening!

Yes, "Gang Busters" is off the air at present.

Jessie Byerley, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: At your earliest convenience will you please interview Arthur Q. Bryan? He is not only outstanding in radio, but one of the hardest workers for the war effort, and an A-1 citizen.

Arthur Q. is a Radio Life favorite, too. Perhaps you'll recall our article about him in February of last year. We titled it "An Oscar for Arthur Q."—and we'll keep him in mind as a most worthy subject for another story soon.

Lorry Greenmyer, 117 Bimini Place, Los Angeles 4, Calif.

Sirs: Would also like to add my protest along with all the others regarding the disappearance of "Those We Love," the best family drama on the air, as well as the best cast.

(One more protest hereby registered!)

Charlotte A. Wells, 4443 Verdugo Road, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: If you have any influence with sponsors of radio programs, speakers, or script writers, please use it to get them to reduce the current persistent crying, weeping and wailing that they are putting out. There is enough real sorrow in life without finding it in programs on the air. This is supposed to be entertaining and instructive, not an exhibit of all the possible weeping noises.

In "Joyce Jordan," Joyce weeps; in "Rosemary," Rosemary weeps. In

"Right to Happiness," Chi-chi persistently weeps. "Our Gal Sunday" has some of it. "The Farrells," "Mrs.

Doctor Malone," "Stella Dallas," all of them have that queer notion that weeping is of interest. Elaine Carington has it in her scripts.

Get these people to cheer up, and try some other noises. I don't believe that the public as a whole, cares for it.

Our chief influence lies in relating your complaint to powers-that-be via Ear Inspires."

Mrs. Arthur G. Brown, 1152 South Second Street, Alhambra, Calif.

Sirs: Why aren't "Vic and Sade" and "Easy Aces" with us anymore? Surely do miss them. We think "Glamor Manor" is a howl from beginning to end. Cliff Arquette is priceless. Wish his morning program could be repeated at night so the whole family could hear it. I think his characterization of Mrs. Wilson is the best thing on the air, and the audience seems to think so, too.

You say that Marion Mann was formerly with Don McNeill's "Breakfast Club". She still is, alternating every other week with Nancy Martin.

I cut out the entire week of "Program Highlights" in advance so that I never miss my favorites.

Have grown sick of all soap operas, and listen no more.

Oh yes, must mention Jane Cowl. She is excellent, as also is the new Constance Bennett program.

Both "Vic and Sade" and "Easy Aces" are so much in demand that it isn't probable that they'll be off the air much longer. Keep watching for news of their return.

Right you are—Marion Mann still appears with McNeill's "Breakfast Club" gang.

Roger Hopkins, 4830 Art Street, San Diego, Calif.

Sirs: We enjoy Marion Mann on "Breakfast Club", and would like to get her on "Sweetheart Time" too, but don't find it in your radio log.

We enjoy the stories of all our favorite radio friends, especially Frank Hemingway.

"Sweetheart Time" is heard Sunday, 10:30 a.m., on KJJ-Mutual.

Is the Policy of Bert Wheeler on A Fresh New Show, "Fresh-Up Time"; He's the Same Lovable Guy with a Smile in His Voice

Wednesday, 8:30 p.m., Mutual-Don Lee, KJJ

MR. BERT WHEELER, "Fresh-Up Show" Mutual Broadcasting System Dear Son:

I'd have written you sooner, but I haven't been feeling so well, ever since your show last Wednesday night. You wanted me to tell you how I like the show. It was very good. But there are a few things that puzzle me, Bert, and I wish you'd explain them to me in your next letter.

After you tell one of your jokes, I hear people laughing. Is that an audience there with you, or is it just a few of your friends gathered with you in the studio? I wish your Aunt Mae would be there to laugh for you—you know how loud she always laughs at everything. She's been working at one place for ten years, and the only reason the boss keeps her is because she laughs at all of his jokes.

Another thing, Son, Mr. Johnson, the man who runs the dry goods store at the corner told me that if you still wanted your old job back, you could have it.

Write soon.

Affectionately,

Mother.

"Ha, ha," modestly laughed comedian Wheeler, "you can tell she's crazy about the show."

Since his happy debut as a radio regular several seasons ago, peppy Bert Wheeler has been handing out laughs to countless radio dialers. He can now be found on the Mutual-Don Lee weekly fun riot, the "Fresh-up Show" as one of those likable fellows you've all met at one time or another. He's energetic, conscientious and . . . well, always in trouble . . . a typical Wheeler character.

Plans to Stick

When he told Radio Life he liked radio and intended to stick, he wasn't kidding. A born showman, Bert has been entertaining thousands for a good many years. After the death of his beloved partner, Robert Woolsey, the show didn't stop for Wheeler. He carried on by endearing his slight, energetic figure, pathetic face, and soft voice to new fans through the medium of radio. He's still the lovable underdog who can make you laugh and cry at the same instant.

Appearing with him each Wednesday is a coterie of assistant merry-makers headed by Arthur Elmer, Jerry Lawrence, and Ruth Davey.

The fresh new spirit of the "Fresh-Up Show," brings to the air a feeling of cameraderie. The show will prob-▲ VETERAN OF MANY years of man-on-the-street broadcasting, Don Norman employs the Army's "walkie-talkie" equipment for his new ABC series. It is a separate short-wave station with the call-letters, KFGM.

▼ NORMAN INTERVIEWED BILL GOODWIN on Paramount lot where the actor-announcer is filming "Stork Club." "It was a first-rate bit of type-casting," Goodwin told Don, "because my wife and I are expecting the stork soon . . . I'm predicting June 29 as the date."

The Most

Show On

The Air

Monday through Friday, 3:15 p.m.
ABC-KECA

SOMETIMES it's a sudden tug at the heartstrings, like the time Don Norman asked a boyish-faced sailor what he wanted to do when the war is over. "Just go home to Mom," said the sailor.

When the war came, an edict was issued to broadcasting stations banning the man-on-the-street type of airshow, a program so completely unrehearsed and unpredictable that it was considered a risk to allow it to continue during crucial wartimes. Recently, however, the government has considered it safe to lift the ban, and these programs are fast returning to the ether waves.

Don Norman, veteran of many years of man-on-the-street broadcasting, has initiated his "walkie-talkie" series over the American Broadcasting Company network, utilizing the famous "walkie-talkie" shortwave equipment developed by the U. S. Army during this war.

With this modern portable broadcasting outfit, genial Mr. Norman goes wherever he wishes, to talk with people about almost every subject under the sun. Los Angelans have found him in any one of a number of spots these past few weeks—everywhere from the bustling corner of Hollywood and Vine to the campus of U.S.C. and the back lot at the Paramount Pictures studios.

At this writing, he is planning soon to conduct his program from the Santa Monica fishing pier, in the homes of a number of well-known people, and inside a moving automobile. "Of course, the car will have to keep going straight ahead," laughed Don. "We can't turn any corners, or the interference would cut us off the air."

Go Anywhere!

The show will also not limit itself to southern California; it will travel up and down the west coast. "We can go anywhere," Don beamed happily.

We were talking to the smiling mikeman in a conference room at Hollywood's Radio City ABC studios, where he had just finished listening to a recording of one of his broadcasts. Hearing it, his keen eyes wrinkled in merriment and his ready smile flashed often. It was obvious

The Man at the Mike

Don Norman's real name is Dalton Martin Don Norman Carroll Crosno. He was born in Crosno, Missouri, says "I don't know which of my relatives founded it." He started doing man-on-the-street broadcasts in 1935, when he was manager of a local radio station in Dubuque, Iowa. At first, he couldn't find anyone who would submit to an air interview, so he stood on a corner and talked to himself. "That's how I learned to ad-lib," he grins.

Later, he went to Chicago where he did the first man-on-the-street show to be aired on a network. It was a tremendous hit, and Don has been doing that type of program almost exclusively ever since then.

As a child, Don's health was poor. He spent the years between his twelfth and fifteenth birthdays in bed, studied with a tutor and qualified for college. He enrolled at the University of Cincinnati.

While bed-ridden, he also became interested in radio, read every available book on the subject, and in 1925, joined the staff of WLW, Cincinnati.

Besides radio, Don Norman has worked as a cab-driver, a "pitchman" at Coney Island, and as a singer with dance bands.

Before coming to Hollywood, he had become one of the most popular personalities in Chicago radio, conducting "Your Date with Don Norman" and "The Don Norman Show". Last year, he retired from radio for a much-needed rest.

Slight of build, with straight brown hair, a lean tanned face and a liking for sports clothes, Don spends his leisure time fishing and listening to broadcasts on his short-wave radio.

On June 19, 1942, he married his secretary, Irene Smith (whom he calls "Smitty"). He describes her as "a very, very pretty blonde who is very, very smart."

▲ ALAN LADD WAS stopped by Don Norman's roving microphone and Don's query, "Who runs things in your family?" "Well," smiled the film idol, "my wife talks very little at home."

he found deep enjoyment in his job and in the people he met doing it.

He told us he had no particular rules for handling people or keeping the show going smoothly. "I simply let the people talk," he explained, "and I never laugh at them, always with them!"

▼ SHOE-SHINE BOY on the Paramount movie lot, Dave Williams, told the inquisitive mikeman: "I used to appear in pictures myself as an extra—but I found out I could make more money shining shoes!"

VICTOR BORGE is a suave, dashing gentleman who has a way with Americans. You'll like his easy-going humor and enchanting sense of whimsy.

Tuesday, 6:30 p.m.,
NBC-KFI

WHILE LUNCHING with Victor Borge, Radio Life discovered a story so full of drama and excitement that it would be labeled the figment of some mad pressman's dream by most readers.

In this day of world-shaking events and uncountable sorrow, we daily hear many incredible tales and shake our heads in wonder. Yet when we read a story such as Mr. Borge has to tell, we sit back and think, "Wait a minute, you don't expect me to believe that. How far will a press agent go for a good scoop?"

You're all familiar with the clever songs and patter of that gentleman tagged as the "Unmelancholy Dane" or the "Scandinavian Scamp." By now his summer air show for the Johnson Wax Company is a "must" on your listening list. Perhaps, you are unfamiliar with his face and immediately picture a tall, blond viking type with a charming accent and a way with Americans.

But you're wrong. In reality, Mr. Borge is a six-foot brunet with flashing black eyes. His lithe physique is usually garbed in impeccably-cut plaids or conservative pin-stripe suits. And his charm lies in his quiet, almost whimsical continental manner.

Bleak Beginning

But let's go back to the bleak October day in 1940 when an unknown

The Dramatic Side Of A Funny Man

(Summer Bonanza No. 1)

By Betty Mills

The Wit and Charming Humor of Victor Borge Have Withstood Nazi Terrors to Bring a New Kind of Laughter to America

refugee from Denmark stood upon the docks of New York. He had hurriedly left his native land, knowing his name was on the Nazi black list. He had always wanted to come to America, perhaps not under such abrupt circumstances, but he was here—and he was alive.

In Denmark, Sweden and on the continent he had been the most popular and highest paid entertainer. Now he was nobody. Just another refugee and one who didn't speak a word of English.

He was broke. What money he had possessed was in the Nazi-held banks of his homeland. But he wasn't discouraged. He intended to start a new life in this new country.

With the help of his American-educated wife and American movies, he learned to speak the American way. He went to picture after picture, sitting through each three times. At the end of the day he would go home and try out his newly-gained knowledge on his wife, Elsie.

One year later he ran into a friend of a friend who invited him to guest on the "Kraft Music Hall." This, happily thought Borge, might be the chance I've been waiting for. "The night of the broadcast he nervously took his place at the piano.

He stayed for a fifty-four week engagement.

"You ask me how I like radio," he smiled, "I love it. After all it introduced me to the American public. But aside from that, it is exciting, always going forward."

Original

If you've never watched this musician at work you have a treat in store. He and the piano blend harmoniously to present enchanting original compositions. Nearly all of the music he uses is his own. As for his language lessons, please don't ask us to explain them; only Mr. Borge can do that. The inflation double-talk (you know, where two and too become three—and four become five, etc.) and the punctuation language are his favorites. They are translations from his Danish repertoire.

"How," your incredulous reporter asked, "do you dream up your routines?"

"No special way," he laughed. Perhaps they come to him in the shower or at a concert or originate from something he hears on the radio. He works on them diligently and is a worrier. He's afraid he'll never be able to top his last week's performance.

Since his American debut in 1941 he has been carefully building himself as a comedian. He loves entertaining people and feels he is at his best when improvising. He can walk onto a bare stage or into a crowded room totally unprepared and play for hours. This is what he likes to do best.

At home he works when there is work to be done. He is never idle. If he isn't listening to music he is making it. His wife worries about him and thinks he is working far too hard. "Maybe she's right," he grinned. "Before I went on radio, I used to have hair to here—" indicating his brow line—"but now I have it only up to here—" pointing to his slightly receding hairline. "I pull it all out in nervousness."

Here for Rest

It was for rest reasons that he returned to California a few months ago. But when radio again beckoned, he postponed all thoughts of a vacation and buried himself in preparations for a new show. After the summer season is concluded he is going on a concert tour.

His wife was not to be outdone and enticed him into a ranch house in Northridge. There they have wide open spaces and she hopes he'll relax. But knowing Mr. Borge, who has tours and perhaps a forthcoming movie on his mind, we doubt it.

Mrs. Borge, who was recently selected as one of the ten best-dressed women, has her husband to thank for the title. He selects her clothes.

Taps

Last week radio mourned the death of well-liked announcer-emcee, Gary Breckner, who died on June 24 from injuries sustained in an automobile accident near Redlands, California.

Breckner came to radio in 1928 as a sports announcer. He later branched out as emcee and his CBS interviews from Catalina Island were summer favorites. When John Conte was called into service a few months ago, Breckner took over his duties as emcee for the "Maxwell House," as well as substituting for Tom Breneman on "Breakfast in Hollywood" during the latter's two week vacation.

A Calvary Captain in the last war, Breckner again tried for active service but was rejected because of his age (49). Surviving are his widow and son, Robert, a Naval lieutenant, whose wedding Breckner attended the night before his death.

Did Come True

Once upon a time there were two boys who had dreams of some day owning their own radio station.

Dreams are made of pretty thin stuff and seldom, if ever, come true you say?

Well, this little story DID come true. It has just happened to two of Hollywood's nicest radioites—Dick Joy, an announcer-news-caster; and Don McBain, radio technician.

The Federal Communications Commission has granted them a construction permit for a standard broadcast station to be erected at Palm Springs and both McBain and Joy expect to have their station—a 250 watt on 1340 kilocycles—operating early this fall, possibly in October.

Ever since they were kids in knee-length pants, McBain and Joy have had visions of owning their own radio station. So, about six months ago, they decided to investigate the possibilities and came to the conclusion, after a complete survey, that Palm Springs was the ideal spot.

They have obtained the full cooperation of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, business men and civic groups and, as a result of a special survey made by the Chamber of Commerce there, will accentuate such programs as news, good music, sports, school, church, Army and civic.

"Old Grads"

On July 1st, those mighty-minded moppets, the "Quiz Kids" rounded out their fifth year on the airwaves by gathering in the schoolhouse of the air a distinguished quintet of "Old Grads" plus the five youngest "Quiz Kids" and Joe Kelley, genial quiz-master-of-ceremonies.

The alumni were Joan Bishop, 18, who recently made her operatic debut; Cynthia Cline, 19, a junior at Northwestern University; Van Dyke Tiers, 18, who is studying advanced chemistry at the University of Chicago; Jack Lucal, 18, freshman at Harvard University, and Seaman 1/c Richard Frisbie, 18, who represented the sixteen former "Quiz Kids" now serving with the armed forces.

In rounding out five years in radio, the "Quiz Kids" have received $135,000 in war bonds from their sponsor in return for answering 2,640 questions, 86 percent of them correctly. They have appeared in seven movie shorts, entertained servicemen at sixty camps, navy bases, hospitals, and canteens, and heard themselves eulogized on the floor of the U. S. Senate.

Their chief accomplishment, they feel, is the fact that they have sold $118,800,000 worth of war bonds.

NEXT WEEK

For a long time now, Radio Lifers have asked that we bring you a story about our editor, busy Evelyn Bigsby. Now that editor Evelyn has become an official member of the open-side-of-the-mike set, with her weekly air column, the staff of Radio Life thought it high-time we answered our readers' requests. Therefore, next week, we shall present the only material ever to emanate from our typewriters without a final editorial okay from Y'Ed—a story on "the boss" written by her staff, plus some delightful pictures of the lovely lady flanked by radio's famous.

In addition, this forthcoming issue will bring you fine word-and-photo features on Helen Morgan of "One Woman's Secret", "Romance of the Ranchos", Lawrence Tibbett, Arch Oboler and Hal Styles.

They say there is nothing new under the sun . . . but we can point out two things at the moment! This column, which will bring you news about the happenings at your American Broadcasting Company station KECA, in Hollywood, and "County Fair", the first of a series of brand new shows which hits the airwaves on Tuesday night, July 10, over KECA at 7:30.

So as Alan Young (KECA at 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday) would say, "Here we go, you bet you" . . . "County Fair", just as its name implies, promises to take you down the midway of that good oldtime festival which was the annual delight of the countryside. Jack Bailey, the man who'll do most of the talking on the new show is a graduate of the old-school of county fair and side-show "barkers", having spent several years "making the pitch" for fairs and carnivals from New York to San Diego. Bailey is a busy man these days for in addition to his new "County Fair", he recently took on the duties of emcee on "Darts for Dough", that riotous quiz show, and good KECA listening, too, on a Sunday afternoon.

Servicemen in or near Hollywood have the opportunity of a lifetime these days. Arlene Francis and her hilarious "Blind Date" program are now holding forth from the KECA studios every Monday at 5:30 p.m. (Rebroadcast over KECA at 9:00). The winning servicemen who are chosen each week for dates with Hollywood's most glamorous gals, dine and dance at popular Hollywood night spots with all expenses paid by the sponsor. And, fellows, if the girls at the first Hollywood broadcast are a sample of the "femme de fair" Arlene offers to servicemen, the line will take on the proportions of a third front at the Highland studios when Monday nights' call to arms is sounded. So, servicemen hurry right over, there are still three weeks left before Arlene and company return to Gotham!

Ted Malone, American Broadcasting Company's war correspondent par excellence, says, "Don't worry about readjustment problems when your boy or man comes home from the war—when the average healthy serviceman comes home and gets his shoes off, he's readjusted". Malone should know, for he spent over a year living at the fighting front with your fighting man and mine, and did an outstanding job of reporting the war from the G. I.'s point of view. Malone's new five-a-week series of programs is heard on KECA, Monday through Friday mornings at 10:15.

Two shows to make their debuts on KECA in recent weeks deserve mention here . . . "The Sheriff", heard at 6:30 every Friday evening . . . and "The Fishing and Hunting Club of the Air", heard at 8:30 p.m., on Wednesdays.

"The Sheriff", played by Robert Haag, unlike the usual hard-ridin', gun-totin' frontiersman, is an honorably discharged Marine whose methods of law enforcement in Canyon County lean toward scientific detection methods. "The Fishing and Hunting Club of the Air" is arranged for pappy's special benefit! Aside from the authentic information to be given by Dave Newell, editor of Field and Stream Magazine and his staff, there'll be "tall tales" vouched for by the experts.

July Coronet magazine devotes four pages to the Breakfast Club and the zany antics of Don McNeill. Example:

Singer—I have a riddle. If a WAC is a woman soldier and a WAVE is a woman sailor, what is a WOC? McNeill: A WOC? What is a WOC? Singer: A WOC is something you frow at a wabbit. See what we mean? Eight to nine is Breakfast Club time on KECA. Coronet's "Story Teller" is heard at 6:55 p.m. It's good, too.

Stay Tuned to 790

MIGHTY MYSTERIES . . . You'll hear two full hours—count 'em—two full hours of chills and thrills if you tune KECA on Friday nights from 7 to 9! Here's a schedule that should make even the most avid mystery fan happy! That amazing Major North—"The Man from G-2" is heard at 7; when you hear that familiar buzzzzzzzz you'll know your old friend "The Green Hornet" has moved into the Friday night 7:30 spot; "This is Your FBI", exciting adventures from the files of the FBI follows at 8. And if by now you're not a nervous wreck, stay on for those fantastic and supernatural tales told on "The Weird Circle" at 8:30!

9:05 p.m. (25 min.) Discussions by prominent men. Studio audience is invited to participate in forum.

Variety

Tuesday, July 10 — "County Fair," KECA, 7:30 p.m. (30 min.) A trip down the midway with Jack Bailey for your guide.

Comedy

Wednesday, July 11—"G. I. Laughs," KNX, 7:30 p.m. (30 min.) Jokes sent in by soldiers; emceed by William Gargan.

Women's Program

Monday, July 9 — Polly Patterson, KMPC, 9:15 a.m. (15 min.) Monday through Friday. Home economics.

WHO'S GUESTING

Variety

Sunday, July 8—Evelyn Bigsby, KECA, 9:15 p.m. (15 min.) Phil Harris is guest.

Music

Monday, July 9 — "Telephone Hour," KFI, 9:00 p.m. (30 min.) Jascha Heifetz is guest on program originating in Hollywood.

It's our guess that bandman PHIL HARRIS could walk away with the honors in a contest for the typical American guy. This vet trouser with his broad humor and a jovial personality has contributed a great deal to the success of the Jack Benny show and we're glad to see him as the master of the "Little Red Shoohouse" as substitute professor for Kay Kyser on Wednesdays at 7:00. Phil will hold this spot for the next three months with servicemen and women acting as audience-participants exclusively for the broadcasts. Don't miss being around to get in on some fast moving fun.

SOMETHING NEW: One of radio's best scripters, Carlton E. Morse (One Man's Family and I Love a Mystery) has a new series set to begin this coming Saturday at 8:30. Entitled, "The Younger Generation," the half hour program is set on Bainbridge Island, a short ferry ride from Seattle, and the characters will be the members of the Mills Family including George Mills, a Seattle insurance broker; his wife, Ellen, a son John, daughter Judith, twin grandchildren, Eve and Eden, and a younger grandson, Roger.

If you missed the initial broadcast of the Music Hall with Edward Everett Horton last Thursday, be sure to catch this week's show at 6:00. Horton is still one of the funniest characters ever to hit the air . . . While Rise Stevens, the Met soprano, is presenting her musical show on Mondays at 6:30, the cast of Information Please is touring the European theater for the USO. Beatrice Lillie and Reginald Gardiner join the experts for the trek. Miss Stevens will have this time period until some time in September . . . Madcap Ralph Edwards of "Truth or Consequences" recently defied everything and became a newspaper boy, covering the route he handled years ago as a school urchin. This was because his young nephew Randall had a severe case of sunburn and was confined to bed. . . Offers for jobs have come to Hal "Great Gildersleeve" Peary from two interesting parties. The first is an undertaker who wants the comic as a business partner. "In our work", said the Grim Reaper's deputy, "a cheerful note is needed." And the second is an auctioneer who wrote, "You have the perfect voice and personality to make a highly successful auctioneer, and perhaps radio won't last forever." —Advertiser.

MIDNIGHT MYSTERIES

Mystery and horror programs being the rage, the Fred Speare Radio School is up to date with its "Midnight Mysteries" program on KMPC, Saturdays at 10:30 p.m.

The mysteries are written by a prominent Hollywood mystery-scripter, Howard Smart, who also authors "Adventures of Bill Lance" and "Michael Shayne." Smart is soon to become part of the Speare staff, with a class in radio script writing. Other new departments are Sound Effects, to be conducted by Art Fulton, gadget man of the "Main Line," "Michael Shayne" and other shows; and Vocal Training under Arline Jackson, formerly with NBC.

NEW HOBBY

Vivian Fridell, the Mary Noble of NBC's "Backstage Wife," has a new hobby which she is turning into gifts for her radio friends. Vivian buys printed chiffon and silk scarves and various colored sequins which she sews to scarves, outlining the pattern with contrasting colors.

HIS FAN
Bob Matthews, Lou Costello's new singing discovery on NBC's Abbott and Costello show, got his first fan letter yesterday. All it said was, "And they talk about Sinatra."

NEW BOOK
Fans of Columbia's star and emcee, Jack Kirkwood, will be interested to know that they can get a full report on the comedian in a recently published book entitled "There's Laughter in the Air." The tome also contains excerpts from Kirkwood scripts.

ably zoom high as long as it keeps fans laughing with situations like this:

Wheeler: Well, well, young man, what can I do for you?

Man: Is this the ninth floor?

Wheeler: Yes, I think it is.

Man: Oh, aren't you the floor-walker?

Wheeler: Do I look like a customer?

Man: Well, I'd like to know where the garden department is.

Wheeler: Before I answer that question, how old are you? Where were you born? Do you read L'il Abner and who does your laundry?

Man: What's the idea of asking me all those questions?

Wheeler: I'm lonesome. Nobody ever wants to talk to me. Gee, I at anything Bing Crosby does—but now, of all things, he's learning Chinese!

It all happened when NBC's "Groaner" gave one of his Auroratone (color pattern) discs to Capt. T. H. Lung, for presentation to his commander, Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek. The Generalissimo was so impressed with the recording that he has requested Der Bingle to wax an Auroratone recording of the Chinese National Anthem. The Rev. Charles Meeus, a Catholic missionary from Chungking, wish I was back in business for myself.

Man: What business were you in?

Wheeler: Once, I opened a jewelry store. But something went wrong.

Man: What happened?

Wheeler: I made so much noise opening it the cops caught me.

is coaching Crosby in the phonetic pronunciation of the Chinese words.

Lamplighter's Jazz Show

Jazz devotees may not be aware that they can match such contemporary jazz men as Zutty Singleton, Eddie Miller, Nappy LaMar, Teddy Bunn, Vic Dickenson, Emmett Berry, Mildred Bailey, Jack Teagarden, Coleman Hawkins, Eddie Heywood, the King Cole Trio, the Mills Brothers, Oscar Pettiford, Duke Ellington and others by "digging" Ted Yerxa's Sunday Session over KPAS at 2 p.m. Yerxa, the "Lamplighter," devotes this half-hour program, to an unrehearsed, ad lib expression of true jazz.

"G.I. Journal"...

as an authentic testing ground for the jokes.

Even before our men started coming back from overseas, AFRS was getting reports on what the men did and didn't like by way of radio humor. Now, the writers of the Journal (formerly top scripters for stars like Benny, Bergen, and Burns and Allen) evolve their funny remarks and if they're in doubt as to their "socko," they still leave the lines in and let the men at the Canteen decide.

If the boys laugh long and hard, the gag stays in. If it flops, out it goes. This convenient manner of grading gags is made possible by a show-saving feature — editing — which puts a Journal production on a basis similar to movies.

For a half-hour comedy script like this one, there should be several hours' rehearsal to assure a smooth presentation. But when Hollywood's top stars readily volunteer to squeeze a Journal performance into their already-crowded schedules, there isn't time for hours of rehearsal. So they punch in at the Canteen for a once or twice over lightly, the show is recorded—and if there are any fluffs or "eggs," they are taken out when the record is edited. The result is a tight, fast-moving thirty minutes of exactly what the boys like. AFRS knows it, because all the gags, and the songs, too, have been pre-tested.

Such editing has also saved many a performer a red face. Like Jerry Colonna . . . who forgot the opening lines to his song, but knowing that the mistake could be taken from the record, calmly signalled the orchestra leader to start all over again!

Famous Editors

"G.I. Journal" was conceived about two years ago by Sgt. Sterling Tracy and Kay Kyser. Kay played for the program for more than ten weeks, and when he was called out of town to do camp appearances, Bing Crosby stepped in as "editor." When Bing went on tour, his "son," Bob Hope, took over, followed by Jack Carson. From then on, these four stars have tried to rotate as editors of the Journal.

After the first few months, the show outgrew the studio at Radio Recorders and it moved to Columbia Square. But something was haywire. The scripts, written especially each week by two top men whose style best suited the stars appearing, didn't seem to hit the mark. The gags fell flat before a civilian audience which didn't seem to get the point of the jokes. Producer Frank O'Connor (Sgt. at AFRS) wondered if the problem might be solved by moving the show to the Canteen. The same script that had played to frozen faces at CBS, wowed the G.I. crowd at the service center.

At that time, only the comedy spots were recorded before a live audience. Music was recorded at the studio and added when the entire program was "assembled." Corp. Jim Burton, who succeeded Sgt. O'Connor as producer, felt that the audience was really being cheated. So. Lieut. Jimmy Grier was asked to present his Coast Guard band on the program. When Jimmy went overseas, Dick Aurandt became music editor and each week has a wonderful time dreaming up special touches for the now-complete edition.

Sings Original Number

An added attraction of each Friday night's "cutting" is a number by petite Connie Haines, who sings the original song of the week—a song written by a serviceman overseas. Hundreds of exceptionally good songs have been received. When Connie's busy schedule doesn't permit her to make her usual appearance at the Canteen, she goes to a recording session with Major Meredith Willson and the AFRS orchestra, and the result is a perfect version of some aspiring songwriter's dream child.

Like all AFRS programs, "G.I. Journal" boasts a million dollar cast every week—with Hollywood's great appearing as editors, secretaries, reporters, or office boys. A recent cast had Frank Sinatra as editor, with Fibber McGee and Molly trying to help him out so he could make a good impression on "columnist" Ginger Rogers. Supplementing these stars were Arthur Q. Bryan, the King Sisters, and Mel Blanc.

No matter who else is on the bill, it's Mel who always steals the show with his impersonation of Private Sad Sack—the G.I. version of his Mooney character on "Point Sublime." Sad Sack turns up every week either because he's lost on maneuvers, has won an overnight pass in a crap game, or just because the show couldn't get along without him.

For example: Bing says, "Now, Sack, she's a serious young girl. She'll probably expect you to marry her and raise a family. Maybe as many as three children.

Mel: Th-th-three children? But I'm an ar-ar-army ma-ma—I'm a sold-sold-sold—Oh, what the heck! That's thirty-six points, anyway!

Besides Bing, Hope, Carson, and Kay, other editors who've blue-pencilled the Journal have been: Bill Bendix, Jack Haley, Monty Woolley, Jack Benny, Burns and Allen, Frank Morgan, Judy Canova, Robert Benchley, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, Miltor Berle, Bette Davis, Red Skelton, Roy Rogers, and Orson Welles.

Expert "Staff"

Frequent staff members have been Linda Darnell (who has done more than fifty shows and is a real favorite) Jerry Colonna, Rochester, Arthur Treacher, Peter Lorre, Ransom Sherman, Ish Kabibble, Jane Wyman, Lucille Ball, Rita Hayworth, Fanny Brice, Hanley Stafford, Andy Devine, Verna Felton, Elvia Allman, Bea

Proud Papa

Kruger served in World War I in the U. S. Navy, and made his debut in Hollywood pictures in 1920.

He has been married to Sue MacManamy "for the twenty-five shortest years of my life." For the past many months, Mrs. Kruger has been in the East with daughter Otilie.

"The house has been so lonely," frowned Otilie's father. "There has been just the maid, and our dog. In fact, for eight terrible weeks, there was just the dog. What a time I had managing that big house by myself and working on a picture at the same time. I'm very meticulous, and pushing a vacuum cleaner through the entire house was no easy chore."

At their home in Westwood, the Krugers have a full-acre Victory garden. "I have to have one," laughed Otto. He is Deputy Coordinator of Food Production in this area, and tours some three hundred farms regularly to oversee the citizens' home food crop.

This post, his picture work and his recently-inaugurated radio series keep him incessantly busy. Regarding radio, he declared, "I liked it, and I've had to lick it. I took time to learn as much as I could about voice control, microphone technique and all the particular details concerned with this medium. Veteran air performers can act circles around screen stars who aren't radio-wise."

Pleased about his new program, which is partly his own idea (it is a dramatic series presenting plays suitable for screen production), he is now looking forward to the night when he and daughter Otilie will work at a microphone together.

ways, Borge is a happy and contented American. He longs to visit his homeland, but doesn't intend to remain. "Just remember this," he said, "When you've seen the terrible things I have, the taxes I pay to the government are a small rent for such happy living."

Benedaret and of course Mel Blanc.

Gags on Spam and vienna sausage and also nicknames for GI food that couldn't be explained to civilians always tickle the Canteen audience. And sure-fire gags are the ones which feature the weekly "personal ads" in the "G.I. Journal."

This one was with Hope: "Sergeant from overseas would like to meet girl who could teach him rumba. Object: Speed up my rotation plan!"

Yes, it's "Strictly G.I.!" Just what the boys ordered,

"G.I. Journal"...

THE GAG SHOW THAT YOUR BOYS ORDERED

GI'S AROUND the world have their own special brand of humor . . . they know what they want to laugh at and what they think is unfunny. Tell them a joke about KP or "Maggie's drawers" (a complete miss on target practice) and they'll respond with a polite chuckle. Dish out some gag about saving your tires and they'll greet it with weak snickers. They've heard too many cracks about camp life, on the one hand, and as for the humorous twists of life here at home, the lads have been away too long to grasp the ludicrous from our situations.

But try something like this and see what happens:

Jack Benny: Now, Paulette, let's rehearse the love scene for our play.
Paulette: Must we?

Jack: Don't worry. If it gets too hot we can always split a salt tablet.

Bob Benchley and Jack Carson as two ex-servicemen:

Jack: How are we going to get dates for tonight?

Bob: How are we going to get dates? Why Jack you told me that when we got out of the army you could walk down the street and bowl ➡ KAY KYSER WAS original "editor" of "G.I. Journal," still makes frequent appearances on show. Little Connie Haines sings an original song at each "pressing." Men from overseas are the composers.

➡ POPULAR G.I. team appearing recently was Danny Kaye and Linda Darnell. Of the feminine guest stars, Linda is one of the Canteen's most popular. She's done filthy "G.f. Journals."

➡ MEL BLANC, as Private Sad Sack, steals the show every week. His Sack routine is a G.I. version of his Mooney on "Point Sublime." Here, Jerry Colonna does a 'take' at Sack's language.

Jack: Yeah, but I didn't know they were going to take away my flame-thrower!

* * *

Bing: What are you waiting for?

▲ RHYTHM, HOT AND LOW DOWN, when these three Journal stars collaborate. Rochester and Lucille Ball perform to the drumming of Arthur Treacher.

Aim her at me and pull the trigger.

Andy: Right this way, Miss.

Chili Williams: Helloooo.

Bing: I-yi-yi—live ammunition!

Result? The lads roar for more. And thereby hangs the story of the Armed Forces Radio Service show, "G.I. Journal."

From Canteen

Of the four AFRS audience shows, the Journal is the only one recorded before a Hollywood Canteen audience. The others—"Command Performance," "Mail Call," and "Jubilee"—are waxed before a studio audience.

There's a reason for originating the Journal from the Canteen. It's a show built largely on G.I. gags, and only a G.I. audience can serve of such worthy content that they were published in a national magazine for the benefit of other parents and their teen-age offspring. One concerned itself with the swelling problem of juvenile delinquency, another was in regard to youthful Otilie Kruger's acting aspirations. "The highest compliment you will ever be paid as a performer," Otto Kruger wrote to his daughter, "is when one of your own co-workers comes up to you and says, 'You are a wonderful trouper, Otilie.' No other praise will ever mean as much . . ."

Wrote "Dumbface"

Recently the actor received a glowing missive from eighteen-year-old Otilie, written in New York where she has been playing a small part in the Broadway production, "I Remember Mama." She wrote: "Dear Dumbface (her pet name for her father): It has happened! . . ."

A crisis had arisen during the evening's performance when an actress failed to appear on cue. Otilie went on in her stead, ad libbing the role to perfection. When she came off stage, everybody rushed over to give her thanks and congratulations. One old-time actress asked the others to step aside, grasped Otilie's hand and declared with real emotion: "You are a wonderful trouper, my dear . . ."

"I just stood there and cried, Daddy," wrote the girl. "Now I know what you meant . . ."

"It is wonderful," Kruger continued. "In just nine months, since her

O TTO KRUGER couldn't keep his eyes off his wrist-watch as he talked to us about his charming wife and his pretty daughter. "They've been on the Super-Chief for two hours now," he told us excitedly. "In just a few days, they'll be home with me again."

Mr. Kruger, host of CBS' "Hollywood Preview" and a gentleman of debonair appearance with a deeply tanned face and crisp wavy graying blond hair, couldn't suppress the excitement he felt at the thought of his forthcoming reunion with his family. "There are going to be photographers at the train when they come in," he went on happily, "and I'm so proud of myself; I've wired Albuquerque to have corsages delivered to my wife and daughter there so they'll have them to wear for the pictures. I think that was a nice thing for me to do," Kruger beamed. "Some men seem to think of those nice little things to do all the time. I don't. I wish I did."

Mr. Kruger did, nevertheless, write to his daughter a series of letters

She has taken part in a Broadway success, received flattering praise from leading New York theatrical producers, understudied, saved the show in a crisis, gone on the road, even had all her money stolen from her dressing room, which happens at least once in the life of every actor."

Mr. Kruger's blue eyes twinkled as he talked of the auspicious start of his daughter's acting career. The actor's own professional life had no less an exciting beginning.

Is Musical

At an early age, the actor was a skilled musician and could play piano, cello, guitar, clarinet and piccolo. When only twelve, he conducted a symphony orchestra through the bombastic rhythm of the William Tell overture.

Educated in Toledo, Ohio and at Columbia University and the University of Michigan, Kruger consecutively tuned pianos for a living, did electrical work, punched cattle and tramped around the world for an entire year.

Later, he hopped freight trains to join a repertoire company in the middle west, became an actor at the salary of nine dollars a week. In time, he headed some nine stock companies. David Belasco once said of him, "He is the hope of the American stage."
