Sirs: What's become of our early sunrise program that Andy and Virginia used to have? I've been gone for several years and on my return I've missed them. And also, where's "Mary Marlin"? So many of our daily programs have left the airways and I know there are others who join me in wishing and waiting for them.

Andy Mansfield can now be heard on KWKW, Monday through Friday, 1:35 p.m. to 1:55 p.m. Virginia is busy being a housewife. No sign of "Mary Marlin" coming back.

How about "Vic and Sade"? There's a former daytime favorite that's back on Thursday evenings at 8:30.

quality of their programs. Children will soon outgrow the "Whoa Bill Club"—but it's a fine, really necessary program fulfilling its purpose, and I would be interested (and curious) to know the real name of "Uncle W. B." or a picture, etc.

As an afterthought, and a "reverse sentiment," there is one announcer acting in the line of duty who I'd enjoy not hearing; the man who refers to Campbell's Soup and says (shivers) "MM-mm-m-GOOD." That short, but sweet and sticky statement brings forth one comment—"Ugh!"

"Uncle Whoa Bill" is genial Nick Nelson. Radio Life carried an article about Nick and the gang in the February 3 issue. We agreed with you about the "Whoa-Billers" with the exception of one thing—we haven't yet outgrown the "Whoa Bill Club!"

ALTHOUGH actually, Herb Vigran didn't become "Sad Sack" until just a few weeks ago when the new airshow was inaugurated, Herb himself will tell you that he has been "Sad Sack" for over two years. For that length of time, the actor was wearing khaki that was no stage costume in an Army camp that was no movie set.

"And all of us guys in the Army," related Vigran earnestly, "turned to see what the 'Sack' was doing the minute we got hold of a Yank magazine, because every guy in the Army thought of the 'Sack' as himself—including me."

After years of skipping meals and pounding pavements in search of acting assignments, thirty-six-year-old Vigran had just established himself as a successful character actor in Hollywood radio when Uncle Sam called him to the colors in October of 1943. "That made me a little sad," grinned Vigran, "and the Army made me a 'Sack'."

The actor was stationed with the Infantry at Camp Roberts for six months, then transferred to the Torney General Hospital at Palm Springs, where he was placed in charge of entertainment, staged shows and taught classes in stage acting and radio production. He was discharged from service in October of 1945.

Looking very unlike "Sad Sack" (save for the discharge button in his lapel) in a conservative well-pressed dark blue suit, his thinning black hair combed neatly back, actor Vigran talked with enthusiasm about his new radio assignment. The title role on this CBS comedy series that is based on George Baker's familiar comic-strip character, is Vigran's initial starring part.

He expressed gratitude to the show's producer, Ted Sherdeman. "It was Ted, in fact," reminisced the actor, "who gave me my very first Hollywood radio job—on Hedda Hopper's 'Brent House'."

Said Sherdeman of the "Sad Sack" show, "We're having fun with it," and Vigran pointed out, "That's typical of Ted. When he's putting together a radio show, he always says, 'Let's have fun with it,' and as a result, so does the audience."

Cast of the "Sad Sack" show includes Sandra Gould as "Lucy Twitchell," Ken Christie as "Lucy's father," Patsy Moran as "Mrs. Flanagan, the landlady," and Jim Backus as "Chester Fenwick."

Ex-Navyman Dick Joy is its announcer. Ex-Coast Guardsman Char-

MECHANICS FOR RADIO AUDITION are much the same as real radio show, involving scripting, casting, production, assemblage of studio audience, and other details which must be carried out meticulously. Here, audition is ready to be recorded before audience in NBC's Studio C.

What About Radio Auditions?

Three Out of Every Four Shows Tested Never Get On the Ether

By Leo Brattis

D ID YOU KNOW that a new radio show is auditioned every week at NBC's Hollywood Radio City?

Did you know that the cost of these test programs runs upwards to $100,000 annually?

And, finally, did you know that only one in every four of these programs ever actually gets on the air? The rest are auditioned and found wanting.

We didn't know all this until recently ourselves, so we decided to take Radio Life's readers behind the scenes to find out what happens before a program goes on the air. We chose "The Fourth Estate" because we think it's a program that will "sell," one that you will be hearing one of these days. When it gets a spot on the network, it will be the culmination of years—yes, years—of planning and hard work.

The history of "The Fourth Estate," which stars Mark Hellinger in dramatizations of thrilling true stories about newspaper men, goes back eight years, to 1938. Homer Canfield, now production director of

NBC in Hollywood, was then writing a syndicated radio column, and he thought often of the strained relations which existed between newspapers and radio. He decided that a true-to-life program like "The Fourth Estate" would not only be good entertainment but that it would bring about a friendlier relationship between two great media.

Preliminary Survey

It was not until late in 1945 that he had a chance to put his idea to a test. At that time he discussed the program with radio writer Warren Lewis, who was still in the Army but expecting to be out at any moment. In January, when Lewis was discharged, he immediately began a survey of top men on the Los Angeles dailies, asking them three questions: "Why doesn't your paper cooperate with radio?" "What sort of program would you like to hear on the air?" "If we presented such a program, would your paper give it publicity?"

The newspapermen told Lewis that they would like to hear L. D. Hotchkiss of the Los Angeles Times, Dave Brandeman of the Examiner, Phil Garrison of the Daily News and many other editors and reporters. When they all indicated that they Sirs: Can you tell me why they make the awful noise they call music every time they have a play or drama? That awful noise or what they call music spoils it all. Can there be something done about it? I listened to "Brainstorm" on Sunday and it spoiled the whole show on that account.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD NASSOUR leave First Methodist Church of Hollywood following their wedding last week. The lovely bride is Sharon Douglas, radio actress. See story in Radio West.

Wedding Day for Sharon

Sharon Douglas is a beautiful girl any day in the week, but you should have seen her the night of July 31! That's right, it was Sharon's wedding, and the present Mrs. Edward Nassour looked like everybody's conception of the perfect bride as she walked down the aisle of the Hollywood First Methodist church. Her wedding dress, designed and executed by her mother, was of white silk, organza and lace embroidered with seed pearls.

Radioites Janet Waldo and Connie

Haines served at the wedding reception. Husband Nassour is well known in Hollywood as head of Nassour studios. Radio actress Douglas (pardon, Nassour) (Rudy Vallee show, NBC's "Life of Riley," etc.) will continue with her career, latest news of which is that she'll be prominently cast with singer Dennis Day in a coming series.

NEXT WEEK

A long-time favorite of yours (and ours, too) smiles from next week's cover page. And what a beautiful smile the gentleman has! Who? Don Ameche, of course! When Radio Life called upon handsome Don and his family of fourteen (honestly) we were delighted with the Ameches at home. Hope you'll be, too. Not to digress, we have another rare treat — Dog's Best Friend, Pinto Colvig by name. The delightful Pinto has amused you for years. Maybe you didn't realize that "Arf" you heard last night was no dog—that was Colvig . . . "Counterspy makes another appearance on our pages while MBS' California Cavalcade" makes its debut in the magazine . . . Those "Jacks of All Trades", decorators this time, show what they can do . . . parking lot. One day last week, the National Broadcasting Company's roof looked as if a convention had landed on it. We wondered if the employees were holding a picnic. But no, it was the annual newscast of the Radio Institute series.

One group of students gathered on the front steps and spied into a microphone to the recipients on the other end—in this case, the roof. It looked as if all participants were having such a jolly time, they didn't wish class to end, for the operations continued far into the day. Who knows, perhaps a future radio great was receiving his first chance to comment on the passing parade below him.

Back for a Visit

We've had so many phone calls about lovable Virginia Sale of the ex-"Those We Love" program that we knew our readers would be delighted to learn Virginia is in Hollywood for a few weeks' visit. The star is working on a picture at RKO and living at the nearby Studio Club.

The day we chatted with her we recalled to mind the large comfortable house she and husband Sam Wren occupied in Hollywood. "It was a wonderful house," Mrs. W. smiled, "and when we decided to leave California, we weren't sure what kind of New Yorkers we'd make. But we're crazy about it."

This, perhaps, is due more than anything to the lovely house the Wrens—ten-year-old twins Christopher and Ginny, too—recently bought in Ossining, New York. Reputed to have been built in 1789, the red-brick, two-story, ivy-covered home is one of the most historic in the community. Back in 1790, it was a well-known inn, fre-

By VIRGINIA WEST

On these warm summer evenings when you are sitting languorously in an easy chair with a cool drink (iced tea, of course) and a blank mind—there is nothing that will sharpen your wits more than a peppy quiz show. Let's start with that dollars for knowledge show "Break the Bank" with Bert Parks, master-minding the proceedings as emcee, heard on ABC-KECA at 9:00 p.m. on Fridays... Then there's Lew Lehr and "Detect and Collect," which moves to a new day, Saturday nights from 6:30 to 7:00. If they'd tried to manufacture a perfect master-of-ceremonies, for "Detect and Collect," they couldn't have done a better job than nature did on Lehr, that priceless hunk of show-stopping zanity... Also on Saturday, you'll hear "Win, Place or Show" at 7:30 p.m. Not long ago, Eddie Marr, headman on the show, hit on a new idea. As a gag he offered a dollar to anyone who would like to tell a funny story. The idea caught on—and is now a regular "part of the act"... On Sunday at 12:30 p.m., ABC-KECA brings you "Right Down Your Alley," the bowling match quiz heard from the Roxy Bowling Alley in New York City. Incidentally, Bill, that is, ex-Lieutenant Colonel William Ernest Slater (he's the emcee) is one of the top sportcasters in the nation. He's done everything from World Series baseball to the Olympic Games from Berlin—and now, bowling.

JANE ADAMS

Another Sunday quiz show is "Darts for Dough" (ABC-KECA, 1:00 p.m.) with the emcee aided and abetted by Jane Adams, Universal star. Jane puts the mike-conscious contestants completely at ease with her gracious charm when she introduces them to Niles... At 7 p.m. on Tuesday nights, Michael Roy presents that prize and surprise show, "Take It From There." This show carries much "weight" with the studio and listening audience, because the jovial master of ceremonies, "Big Mike," tips the scales at the 260 mark.

— Tune KECA — Stay All Day —

Many of the ABC commentators are vacationing this month. Ed Sullivan (hear his famous "Pipelines" on Mondays at 8:15 p.m.) just returned to New York from Southern California where he sandwiched somewhat of a vacation between his radio and newspaper tricks. By the way, Ed just received a citation for his wonderful war work at the Halloran General Hospital... When Ted Malone, Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 10:15 a.m. and Tuesday nights at 6:30, visited this city recently, he went completely Hollywood! Flying madly from one place to another on special deals for his sponsor, Westinghouse, he managed to write his speeches and radio scripts in off moments whenever he had a chance to sit down... Jimmy Fidler is still on his much needed vacation. On Sunday, Hal Gibney, West Coast commentator, will be heard on KECA at 5:30 p.m., subbing for Jimmy.

— Tune KECA — Stay All Day —

NOTES ON NOTABLES: Frances Scully, who co-emcees with Bob Latting on the star-studded "Hollywood and Vine" show, heard from the famous Vine Street Brown Derby, Monday thru Friday at 1:30 p.m., is a collector of autographed pictures. The keystone of her collection, which today numbers more than fifty-five, is a picture from Colleen Moore, inscribed: "To Frances Scully, with all good wishes, Colleen Moore" Some performers admit that they sing for their own amusement, others frankly state that with them it is strictly a business. But Kenny Baker, film, stage and radio star of "Sincerely, Kenny Baker," KECA Thursday nights at 8:15 now, says that he sings for the entertainment of his listeners, and those who know his sincerity of purpose believe this is so. Kenny is assisted by lovely Donna Dae, the colorful emceeing of Jimmy Wallington and the music of Buddy Cole and his men.

quently sought by ex-soldiers of the Revolutionary War.

Several years ago Frank A. Vanderlip, once president of a large New York banking concern, bought every house in the village with the idea of rebuilding the old houses whose frayed architectural beauty attracted him. He is reported to have spent $25,000 rebuilding the Wren home.

"The most thrilling thing about our new home," bragged Virginia with a twinkle in her eye, "is that George Washington slept there!"

50,000 Watts

Last week, the FCC granted KMPC's request to increase its power from 10,000 to 50,000 watts, thus putting the station in a class with KFI and KNX.

"With this new maximum power," said R. O. Reynolds, Vice-President and General Manager, "the management of KMPC re-dedicates itself to serve the people of our city, our state, and our nation, and to be a vigilant champion of free speech and the preservation of Americanism."

Scare

Having seen the birth announcements sent out by Rosemary De Camp (soon to return as "Judy" on CBS' "Dr. Christian") and her lawyer-judge husband, John Shidler, we were curious about the reactions of the recipients.

The announcements were mailed in legal-sized envelopes bearing the return address, "Office of City Court, Torrance, California," and were printed in the form of a Forcible Detainer, Stipulation for Judgment. At first glance, they most certainly bore all the marks of the real thing, until one read farther to find Rosemary De Camp Shidler named as plaintiff and Martha Shirley Shidler as defendant, and their case stated as follows: "Whereas, the said Defendant, since the beginning of this action, has been evicted from the premises by the Plaintiff on the 25th day of July, 1946, at the Torrance Memorial Hospital, at about 4:25 a.m., the said Defendant weighing 6 pounds, 8½ ounces..."

Neil Reagan, producer of "Dr. Christian," was among the radio-ites who received the novel announcement and when we asked him what he thought of it, he smilingly admitted that he'd been the perfect foil.

"Honestly," he stressed, "I couldn't think of any reason I should be getting one, but when I opened that envelope and found the word 'Judgment' staring me in the face, I know I blushed a beet-red, and worried and wondered about it for a full sixty seconds or more before I really read it and found out what the whole thing was about. Whew!"

on such shows as CBS' "Suspense" and Mutual's "Michael Shayne" (she's "Phyllis Knight" on that one), Cathy explained that she's been bedded in the hospital for a physical check-up.

"I guess it's this hasseling business," she grinned, "but I'd be worse without it. I listened to 'Mike Shayne' on the radio in the hospital last Monday, and actually bawled because I couldn't be there!"

Cooperative Workshop

If any of the Radio Life readers have noticed the stories in local newspapers and columns concerning the NBC Cooperative Workshop, you need this introduction to a project that has shot into prominence overnight. We're talking about the weekly "broadcast," complete in every detail, except actual transmission, that Herb Purdum, NBC Page Supervisor, has organized with the blessings of Sidney N. Strotz, Vice President in charge of NBC's Western Division. The "broadcast" is written, produced and directed by NBC employees, garnered from the page staff, parking lot, offices, maintenance crew and mail room. The actors, actresses, announcers, engineers and sound effects people come from this same group of employees.

"Here, at last," says Purdum, "is what the industry has been screaming for . . . a training ground for talent. And what talent!

"Take the first casting audition, for example. Over in the center of the stage, using a music stand to hold his script, was Wallace Hayes from the NBC parking lot.

"Chris Brown, a page, was seated on a chair by the back curtain. Although interested in writing and having recently had a story published in Radio Life, she was at this time preparing to do a dramatic monologue she'd written herself. Down in the audience were a couple of girls from the mimeo department, Norene Whitney and Geraldine Whitney, preparing a dual audition. Behind me were numerous people talking eagerly, planning, praying. They were the embryo producers and writers of the workshop. Jack Robinson, who had recently sold three scripts to 'The Adventures of Bill Lance' and Betty Mears from the NBC writing department, who had successfully written and produced a show for a Washington State local network; Nicki Fredont, a veteran actress of the Hollywood area, now working in the NBC Program department. These composed the nucleus of the production staff of the workshop.

"When Charles Buck, the NBC producer who was to work with us for the audition, came in, there was a ripple of emotion through the group. Here it was! Here was the beginning! Here was the future!"

Last Wednesday night, the Workshop presented its third production. Dalors Bennett, who was present for the opener, had already left her page-girl assignment at NBC to take a singing role with the "Oklahoma!" road company. Another girl, Darlene Mihillief, had been given a screen test by Frank Borzage.

Another happy NBCite was Parking Lot attendant Jack Lawrence, signed to sing with Earl Spencer and his band.

Aye! Yi! Yi!

Well, twirl our tartans! The Scots have taken over the Radio Life office, and Vine Streeters are any day likely to catch sight of a trio of lassies energetically engaging in the highland fling! Reason is Alan Young's visit of last week. The NBC comedian was garbed in the picturesque costume of the Wallace clan, and your Radio Life reporters were enchanted to the point of twiddling our tootsies in a reasonable facsimile of an old Scottish folk dance, with Alan supplying the authentic flavor.

Sinatra's bobby-soxers are passe! We're off to the land of the heather!

Where His Hat Hangs

New York air actor Jack Lloyd, heard regularly the past few years on such East coast shows as the "Kate Smith Hour," "Armstrong Theater," "Theater Guild of the Air" and "The Sheriff," gave us a ring on the phone the other morning to let us know he's here to become a "native son" of sunny California. You'll be hearing him on Hollywood shows now—but, of course, the first thing we asked him was: "How did you find a place to live???"

"Well, I call it home," he laughingly replied, "but it could be more correctly described as an abbreviated telephone booth!"

"Cinderella" Pauline

MIKES AND MARRIAGE

Cathy Lewis, who plays the role of "Mrs. Sweeney" on the CBS "Sweeney and March Show," has an apt technical adviser in the person of pretty Beverly Sweeney, Bob's real-life spouse. Beverly was a former member of the KNX-CBS staff herself.

VOICE OF THE SCREEN

The dramatic, sonorous voice you hear in the opening of the picture "Walk in the Sun," belongs to Bill Gillespie of the KNX "Sunrise Salute" show. In addition to the opening narration, Bill does seven ballads in the picture, although he is never seen in the film.

about the MBS Dorsey nationwide hunt for a new girl vocalist from her brother, a student at the University of Chicago.

"I was afraid the record would get broken in the mails," she confessed, "so the only thing to do was to deliver it. Only I haven't seen Mr. Dorsey yet."

The young singer has never had singing lessons, but got a job recently singing with a small band in Topeka, thirty-five miles from home. Up until that time she had kept house in Osage City for her mother and father, a section foreman for the Missouri Pacific railroad.

When her parents objected strongly to her coming to Hollywood alone, Pauline felt she could make an independent decision since she had earned her own living. "Besides, I had a worthwhile reason—to insure my entry in the contest," she explained earnestly.

It being Pauline's first visit to the film capital, one would expect her to say something about the glamour on display. So far, however, she's most impressed of all by California's palm and orange trees. "Back in Kansas, we don't have trees like that," she said. "I just can't get over how different they are."

Peaceful Summer

A picture postcard postmarked Highland Park, Illinois, indicates that Alice Frost is enjoying a peaceful interlude away from her hair-raising experiences at the microphone as the feminine member of NBC's adventure-chasing young marrieds, "Mr. and Mrs. North."

Alice writes us that her ideally-uneventful vacation has only once been marred—when she and husband Bill Tuttle were caught in a cloud-burst in their open convertible!

He Ought to Know

We had to chuckle over the most recent guest on Mutual's "Leave It to the Girls" show. He was Charles Revlon, president of the Revlon Lipstick and Nail Enamel Company, who chatted with the panel of experts, Madge Evans, Florence Prichett, Robin Chandler and Eloise McElhone. His advice to the gals—the arts of kissing and making-up.

A Real Mystery

Gale Gordon, who plays the brave "Gregory Hood" on KHJ's "Case Book" series, has taken on a real-life mystery. He and his clever wife, Virginia, are remodeling an old and strange house into which they expect to move by the first of September.

The house, termed "weird" by Gordon, is four stories, straight up and down, with the front entrance on street level and the living room four flights up. It is being re-done by Virginia, who is proving her skill as an interior decorator as well as a talented actress.

Eula Beal, contralto; Olive Mae Beach, soprano; Allan Watson, baritone; Frank Holiday, tenor; the Inglewood Park Quartet and Frederick Olson, violinist, will join with the augmented orchestra, conducted by Earl Towner, in a gala half-hour concert of "Melodies America Loves." Some of the selections to be heard are "Serenade" by Tchaikovsky, Rachmaninoff's "O Cease thy Singing," "Every Flower" from Puccini's opera "Madame Butterfly" and "Panis Angelicus" by Cesar Franck.

IN PERSON

At Last Hollywood's Radio Row
Has Welcomed Vincent Pelletier
As a New Resident in Its Midst

By
Tod Fredricks

Monday through Friday, 10:45 a.m.
NBC—KFI-KFSB

IT TOOK twenty years of radio to bring Vincent Pelletier to Hollywood and twenty minutes to make him decide that the place looked "wonderful" . . . as wonderful, that is, as a city which isn't Chicago and the home of his beloved family can look.

Mr. Pelletier, whom so many of you identify with the old Carnation Contented Hour, is in California to carry on the announcing chores of NBC's "Masquerade." And now that he's here, he says, he's taking a new lease on life.

Just what does that entail, Mr. Pelletier?

"It means," he explained with a twinkle in his eyes, "that I'm a frustrated ham who wants to go back to acting."

Since his radio debut back in 1927, Vincent has been recognized as one of the best announcers in the business. But many people have forgotten that he began as a singer—and that his acting ability equals his mike speling.

"So—I guess I'll have to show them. It really is like starting a new life, you know. I've never been here, although my wife and I have always intended coming. My first project is to send for the family."

Wife Edna, affectionately tagged Eddie, and the four Pelletier children are still residing in Chicago while Papa seeks a home for them in Los Angeles. He was fortunate in sub-leasing friend Bill Thompson's apartment in Hollywood while Bill is on vacation. "But it isn't large enough to accommodate the six of us," he added. "What I need is a house."

Old Home Week

Descending upon Hollywood radio brought a pleasant surprise to Pelletier. So many of his ex-Chicago co-workers are now established here. "Every day I run into another familiar face," he smiled, "and that keeps me from missing the family too much."

He modestly describes himself as "strictly a family man" whose first interest in life revolves around the needs of his wife and children. "Eddie and I met when she was the pianist for a children's show I announced and on which I acted. We decided we ought to quit telling stories to other people's children and concentrate on a family of our own."

The three girls have French names because Mother and Daddy thought they sounded so beautiful. But thirteen-year-old Vincent was saved from being a junior by the middle name of Edgar in memory of Edgar A. Guest, with whom Pelletier worked for many years. Cheri Lynné is eleven; Mary Denise is five and baby Therese Michell a little over one year old.

"Mary Dee" boasted Vincent, "seems to be our only moppet inclined toward the theatre. At any rate she sings amazingly well for her age. When she was three, she so astounded Percy Faith with her rendition of 'Paper Doll' that he recorded it for us."

Daddy Pelletier, who doesn't sing any more, would like to write some day; is an avid movie fan; enjoys golf, bowling and squash. "I guess next to missing the family," he wistfully added, "I miss my golf clubs. I made sure at least ten times the night of my departure that they were right by the door where I wouldn't forget them. . . I forgot them."

lated Tuffy's partner, Chet Lauck. "They've got 'em all over the place."

Tuffy laughingly explained that two of the "kids" belonged to him while the others were neighborhood chums. "Yes," he added thoughtfully, "I guess we do have a lot of kids around."

The beautiful Encino Dutch-Colonial home which Mr. G. off-handedly describes as shelter for wife, children, dogs, and horses is a spacious seven-roomed white building, with smart touches of fieldstone. Ensnconed in five and three-quarter acres of rolling lawn and citrus crops, the Goff home is complete with stables, exercise track and a cool blue pool.

Seven years ago, Tuffy and his pretty spouse Elizabeth designed the "ideal" home. They had found the necessary acreage in Encino (an ex-golf course) and were anxious to materialize their dream "stuff." "Today," Tuffy laughed, "you couldn't pry us out of it."

"Anything Goes"

It's a house designed strictly for comfort. Mr. Goff's varied collection of leather craft and hunting instruments is as much "at home" as is Mrs. G.'s lovely china collection. "In other words," Elizabeth laughed, "anything goes."

Handsome youngsters, Garry, twelve, and Gretchen, eight, are of diversified interests. Garry, at present quite a young man of the world, is saving his pennies to purchase a B-29. "He's determined to be a pilot," explained his patient father.

Gretchen, who is a replica of her lovely mother, is an excellent horse-woman. "We have our own horses and enjoy riding together," pointed out Elizabeth.

Since "Papa" is such an avid hunter, the three "little Goffs" also have learned the art of hunting and fishing. The whole family often visits nearby fishing heavens for a fling with the reel and rod.

Another favorite family pastime is movies... only the Goffs are fortudepartments and the school of public health at UCLA. After more than four hours of visiting these spots and talking to the doctors in charge, they came back for the show's rehearsal with a new enthusiasm and feeling of responsibility.

"Conquest," sponsored jointly by the Tuberculosis and Health Associations of Los Angeles County, Long Beach and radio station KFI, is not only a new program but a new type of public health show, replete with music, drama and mystery. Written by Karl Schlichter, who wrote the highly successful venereal disease program, "Unseen Enemy," produced for two years on KFI, "Conquest" tells through exciting drama the stories of man's conquest of disease.

Basic material is taken from actual records in the city, county and state health departments, is then re-created and dramatized by top-flight performers.

Men of Music

No. 6 of a Series

Harry Zimmerman

HARRY ZIMMERMAN, Don Lee's musical director, is a man without hobbies . . . because his hobby, like his work, is music. A conductor, a composer, and an arranger, Zimmerman would rather hear music, talk music, and create music than anything else.

Chicago-born, he attended the American Conservatory of Music and started his career as an organist for motion picture theaters. Soon after, he was playing on Chicago radio stations. But it wasn't until he went to CBS with his own show that he started the career which includes ten years of doing vocal arrangements for bands, motion pictures, and radio stars, and which has made him one of the outstanding Men of Music of today.

In 1937 he joined Orrin Tucker's band as an arranger; did music for Tucker's vocalist, Bonnie Baker, including the famous "Oh Johnny" number that rocked the nation. While he was with Tucker, he helped the band leader make a picture in Hollywood that sold Zimmerman on Southern California; in 1943, he came west

He has done vocal arrangements for various motion picture companies, and since 1944 has been music director at the Don Lee network, conducting and arranging such programs as "California Melodies," "Adventures in Rhythm," and "The Feeling Is Mutual." He makes all the arrangements for Betty Rhodes' vocal numbers; last summer helped Eddie Howard organize the band on the Billie Burke show.

Slim-built, brown-eyed, self-effacing, Zimmerman shies from public notice as much as he can. Possessed of a tremendous energy when he is conducting, he is the antithesis off stage, punctuated by a delightful, quiet sense of humor which complements his personality perfectly. He shares a house in Los Angeles with his mother and a brother, with whom he sometimes plays ping-pong. Since his brother is a champion and he is not, about all he gets out of the game is the exercise and plenty of nate to possess their own projection room. "We alternate our efforts with those of other movie makers," Tuffy kidded.

His Morning

Because he is such a family man—although he'd probably shudder at the title—Goff cooks Sunday breakfast for his brood. That's the morning he "ad libs it." "Ad libbing it," we learned, means that Tuffy prepares anything he can conjure up on the spur of the moment. "And he has the makings of a fine cook," prompted Mrs. G.

"But Tuffy's true love," she laughed, "is his hunting and fishing equipment." 'Tis his hobby, his spare time and his idea of a good time. We used to wonder if he didn't possess too much equipment, but he and his equally enthusiastic pals thought of a way around that. They now claim they are buying a present for each other's birthday or something. Somehow, they always manage to keep a reasonable facsimile for themselves... and you never saw so many birthdays in one year!"

would like such a program as "The Fourth Estate," Canfield and Lewis got busy on a script.

Their first story dramatized the adventures of Jack Adams, an Examiner reporter who cracked a counterfeiting ring. Edmund O'Brien, resuming his acting career after a turn in the armed forces, was chosen to play the part of the heroic newspaperman.

A few Sundays ago, an audience crowded into Studio C at Hollywood Radio City to see the new program. They saw Hellinger, O'Brien, a full orchestra, and such top radio "names" as Gayne Whitman, Lou Merrill, Cathy Lewis, Theodor Von Eltz, Hal Gerard, Eddy Fields and Jimmy Eagles. With smooth-running production behind them, this cast put on an exciting half-hour program which was not heard outside the walls of the studio itself, but which was faithfully transcribed on two 16-inch records which are even now being played and talked about by interested sponsors and advertising agencies.

Thus, after eight years, "The Fourth Estate" came to life. Will it be another of those hundreds of shows which are auditioned and found wanting? We don't think so. But even those programs which never do get on the air have a valuable place in the radio scheme of things, for they are the listener's guarantee that only the very best in entertainment shall reach him.

very happy day for me if Columbia, National and American would follow the example set by Mutual.

It was with great misfortune that my radio dial fell upon KNX, Tuesday at 11:15 p. m. It was Frankie Carle and his orchestra from the Palladium. The music was fine—don't get me wrong—it was the announcer and the crowd that irked my peace-loving soul. They wandered their way through several selections, accompanied by the endless bobby-soxers' screams and the announcer's antics, until we reached the pay-off. Thus: "Now, here's Carle's Boogie, played by Margie Gray's father." Margie Gray, I remembered, was Frankie Carle's vocalist. Perhaps they called Frankie practice in jumping up and down, which comes in handy when he's on the podium.

The brothers have a parrakeet which talks incessantly, asking "Where's Harry?" every five minutes. It also knows how to wolf-whistle, a trick Zimmerman has taught it.

Currently Zimmerman is busy with the arrangements and conducting of "California Melodies" on Mutual, Thursdays at 7 p.m. He is also working on a series of instrumental numbers, first of which is soon to be published by Triangle Music Corporation, titled "Designs in Melody." The selections were originally conceived for orchestra, have been re-arranged as piano solos.

Inspiration

Not long ago Zimmerman was in a Hollywood cocktail bar with some friends. One of them yelled across the room at the proprietor, "Hey, Mr. Moon!" It struck Zimmerman as a terrific idea for a song title. A lyricist was sitting next to him and they started to work.

The result? "Hey, Mr. Moon" was aired recently on "Feeling Is Mutual," is due for publication soon along with another Zimmerman melody, "Tired of Dreaming."

her father because he is rather old for a band leader. That was the only solution I could figure out. Now, to me, that joke was nothing short of just plain stupid. Perhaps Frankie Carle, Margie Gray and the orchestra caught on, but certainly very few listeners would be able to make heads or tails of it. Things like that are exactly what spoil music for me. I listen to music programs because I want to hear music, not an announcer's tired, corny, twenty-year-old jokes.

After Mr. Carle and Co. left the air, my ear drums were promptly bent double on the same station, when another leather-lunged announcer screamed, "Comin' on from the Trianon!" (applause, screams, choking sounds and what-have-you) "Good Evening, Ladies and Gentlemen..." (opening continues for one minute, forty-three seconds). All through the selections people screamed and jabbered, and made it very difficult to hear the music. One character in particular seemed to be planted about one foot from the mike, and with a lull in the music, he would make a noise like a St. Bernard with his tail in the wringer.

I like music. I like the radio. I like announcers. But can't something be done to make musical programs musical rather than what they are today?

We think Mutual has made a fine beginning. Certainly the other networks will realize this. Incidentally, Frankie Carle IS Margie Gray's father (Gray is her singing name) but that doesn't lessen the arguments on your side.

Sirs: I am looking forward to the forthcoming issue featuring Western stars that you've promised. And I hope my favorites, Bob Wills and the Texas Playboys are not left out.

Let's have something on Harry Mitchell. He is wonderful. I for one, am happy that Perry Ward has been replaced with Jay Stewart on "What's Doin', Ladies?" He shouted so loud he drowned out the contestants' voices. Ditto Jack Bailey.

Radio Life's "Western" issue will be out the first of September. Bob Wills is not on the air at present, so he'll have to wait until another time.
