Mrs. James McGrath, 348 1/4 West 53rd Street, Los Angeles 37, Calif.

Sirs: Wish we could have Al Pearce and Gang back, and it was wonderful hearing Nelson Eddy again.

And here is a word of praise for "Waltz Time," with Bob Hannan, a really fine voice. Has he done any recording, and does he sing request numbers? If so, we'd like to have some Stephen Foster songs now and then, and other old songs for which his voice is suited. Wouldn't "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton" sound grand by him? And Evelyn MacGregor and the Amsterdam Chorus are grand, too. Has Radio Life ever had an article about this fine group?

My only gripe is this: . . . what has become of "Sad Sack," our wistful little friend with the big nose and two left feet, whom we came to know through the Yank Magazine? And what became of Ex-Sergeant George Baker, creator of "Sad Sack"? Personally, I'd like to see this comic made into a movie, with Chill Wills as S.S. I think Herb Vigran did very well in the radio part. What has become of him?

"Waltz Time" is a back-east program, and Radio Life has not yet made good contact on a cross-country story. Thanks for your request, and we'll make additional effort. "Sad Sack's" creator, George Baker, is in New York now, drawing his cartoon for a national syndicate. The strip appears locally in the Sunday Times, by the way. Radio and movie plans for S.S. are indefinite, but there are certain negotiations in progress for both, we hear. You still hear Herb Vigran extensively on the Jack Paar, Bob Hope, "Man Called X," "I Deal in Crime," and "Life of Riley" programs, doing assorted parts.

Mrs. Mabel Guyette, 1309 Bates Avenue, Los Angeles 27, Calif.

Sirs: Have you had pictures of David Harding, Counterspy? And Sally, who sings A Little Bit o' Honey Candy Bar? I think she's a honey. She has a very sweet voice. Is she on any other program? Her voice is really musical. She should have more time on the air, and I think a lot of people will agree with me. How about a picture of her?

Don "Counterspy" McLaughlin

Here's your picture of "Counterspy," alias Don McLaughlin. As for "Bit o' Honey" Sally, will you watch for her in our upcoming "Folks Behind the Commercials" layout, issue of December 7? The Chicago agency with which we checked had only one portrait available.

Harriett Harris, KFAC, Hollywood

Sirs: Thank you so much for your mention of "The Punch and Judy Theater of the Air" in your column of October 5.

And thanks also for making me an "aunt." It sounded real friendly. However, there has been an understanding with the station that I will not use a title which might be confused with Uncle Whoa Bill. So I'm merely known as Harriett Harris and merry troupe of story-book characters.

Perhaps you'll recall me back in the days of "The Grouch Club." I was in the original evening show cast as "Mrs. Grouch" and also as the "Grouch Club" secretary, "Blossom Hammerschlag." Since then I've been busy with soap operas and children's programs in the Middle West.

Welcome back to Hollywood, Miss Harris. We're sure that many of our readers remember the "Grouch Club" days as affectionately as we do.

Mrs. Otto O. Bernhard, Box 25, La Mesa, Calif.

Sirs: Enjoy your magazine very much. Wonder if you could tell me what became of "Vic and Sade"? They were so good. No murder, fighting, weeping and wailing. Just everyday folks. "Sade" was funny when she was going to learn to drive and "Vic" tried so hard to get a ten-gallon hat. Wish they were on the radio again.

Paul Rhymer's delightful "Vic and Sade" adventures were brought back for a time by Mutual not so long ago, but as a once-a-week, half-hour program. The revision was disappointing to many listeners, and Hooperatings suffered accordingly. We hope, as you do, that the show will come back eventually in its original quarter-hour-daily form.

Mrs. F. R. Crunk, Bloomington, Calif.

Sirs: I would like to add my complaint to a lot of others in regard to the noisy programs. As a writer from Redlands said in the October 12th issue, the "Noah Webster" program was one of the best until the loud laughter, handclapping and whistling started. That program is just one of the many that could do without the noise. Also, why do we have to listen to the silly singing commercials? Yes, I know one can turn them off, but a great many times if the housewife does that, she will miss part of a program that's worth hearing.

Also, I do not like so many movie stars as guests on the programs. The movie stars are one class of people that do not have to advertise over the radio. Another objection is the murder stories. Why have them at all?

Would like to say that I am glad the "Mel Venter Pictorial" is now returning to the air. How about a picture and write-up on him? If Radio Life would devote just one page and one picture to each one, there could be more of the radio stars pictured each week. On pages five and six of the October 12 issue, there are seven pictures of one star. On pages 36 and 37 there are six pictures of the same person. On page 33 just one picture and the write-up, and in my opinion that is plenty to give an idea of how the radio people look and how they live, etc. How about it?

Radio Life has carried several pictures and small articles on Mel Venter, but will jot your request for another. We assume that our readers want to see more on their big favorites than one cut-and-dried picture and a few words, and even on our smaller articles we try to include as much color and "art" as possible. However, we're willing to put your "stimming" suggestion up for the vote of our other readers. How about it, public?

Mrs. Joseph M. Sanchis, 2745 Medlow Avenue, Los Angeles 41, Calif.

Sirs: I feel that Tom Breneman has done a service to the world since, through his program, he has taken away the bugaboo of old age. "Youngsters" in the eighties, nineties and even hundreds have demonstrated that at these advanced ages it is still possible to be witty, charming and energetic, and to live interesting lives.

These candidates for the orchid are an inspiration to all of us to look forward to old age with confidence, and with the thought that we can still be "in the race" and a joy to ourselves and others.

Before Tom Breneman, one felt rather well along the downward path to bitter old age when he arrived at his fortieth birthday; but all that is changed since Tom has brought us this extremely valuable and entertaining program in which he glorifies lovely old age.

A salute to Tom Breneman! The world is better because he has lived.

Mrs. M. J. Tomlinson, 321 Cornell Drive, Burbank, Calif.

Sirs: I agree heartily with Bill Kramer of Yucca Valley, California, (September 21) regarding his remarks on Louella Parsons. Punctuation marks don't mean a thing to her. She drops her voice in such odd places and the whole meaning is distorted. Why can't she give her news impartially, and not impose her personal feelings on the public? It would be interesting, for instance, to know what Orson Welles did to her to incur such disfavor. Her daughter, Harriet, was so good as a substitute.

I enjoy Jimmy Fidler, but oh! that commercial. It's the worst on the air. Also, why do singers so often change the tune of a song? On two different occasions I have heard "On the Sunny Side of the Street" simply murdered, and this is only one of many. Apparently "Leave It to the Girls" is not going to be released to the West Coast, as it is not listed in the September 28 issue. Am sorry, as this was good, clean fun.

Hope someone other than the office boy sees this letter, but anyway it's helped me get it out of my system.

"Leave It to the Girls" was omitted from the September 28 logs while program made a time shift from Sundays to Saturdays. You'll now find it listed Saturdays at 7:30 p.m., KHJ.

Mrs. Eddie Lyon, 622 1/4 North Oxford Avenue, Los Angeles 4, Calif.

Sirs: I'd like you to know that we buy your magazine every week, and enjoy it immensely. Your criticisms of radio are always tempered with fair thinking. I find that too many newspaper radio critics are given to almost cruel comments which are seldom constructive but more often so-called witticisms meant to amuse readers and induce the public to believe the writer clever. Your reviews and criticisms usually show both good and bad points in a show, and have a sensible suggestion or two for improving the poorer ones. Thank you for sticking to what is, in my opinion, the real purpose of critical commentary.

Joe McCarr, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: I think your Radio Life is the finest that's ever been printed. May I complain about the awful noise some programs call musical bridges? On "Sam Spade's" program, particularly, that terrible music spoils the whole show.

Miss Thora Eigenmann, Secretary, National Contesters Association.

Sirs: Thanks for that swell story on the Hoosiers. When I was in grade school in Bloomington, Indiana, and Ed East was in high school I tried to take his picture (without his knowing it). I got it, but he was too quick for me, and all I got was his back as he walked away with a fellow named Thurlow. Wasn't Art Baker a native Hoosier too? Someone told me he was.

Since so many of your readers are contestants who take Radio Life to keep up with the programs that give money and houses and cars for telling why they like someone's soap or cereal, will you give me a couple of lines to invite them all to get behind the National Contesters Association? We're a non-profit organization made up of contestants all over the country, whose officers give a lot of time to keeping the "bad" influences out of our grand hobby and to sponsor fair play on the part of the contestant as well as the sponsor. Dues are only $2 a year, and they should be sent to Betty L. Goerss, treasurer, 23 Marion Drive, Mentor, Ohio. The next annual convention of the group will be held in Chattanooga next June.

Art Baker was born in the Bowery, New York, but spent a great deal of time in Indiana during his evangelist days. Thanks for your contest club information, and we're sure you'll have many takers from amongst our readers!

William Dixon, 9206 1/2 South San Pedro, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: Could you tell me why the "Village Store," starring Jack Carson, is on so late and on Saturday night? They record the program on Thursday for the East. Why couldn't they broadcast it on Thursday to the West Coast? He is a swell comedian, and his new show is better than last year. How about a story and pictures?

Praise be! "Village Store" has finally shifted to 6:30 p.m. Thursday on KFI, a change we've waited for as anxiously as you, but not possible, due to non-distribution of sponsor's products here. Radio Life did a two-pager spread on the show, October 19 issue.

DARTS FOR DOUGH" is a uniquely put-together show in one important respect: instead of sitting around a studio script table, co-creators Orval Anderson and Bert Wheeler with their staff light out for San Fernando Country Club. There, as they go around the course, each one contributes a gag or an idea for the up-coming show. Any one failing to kick through isn't allowed to tee off.

Radio Life, intrigued by this extraordinary procedure, sallied out to the Valley and saw for itself that the "Darts for Dough" gang played "Golf for Gags." Yep, we got pictures to prove it!

1. "DARTS FOR DOUGH" ABC Producer Sid Goodwin, an ace golfer, wants to show the staff how to putt, but he doesn't seem to be getting everyone's undivided attention. Interested party is club pro, Scotty Hamilton. Group around Emcee Orval Anderson (with script) are (standing) Bob Anderson of the show's "fiend department"; Eddy McKean, gag writer; "Dartman" Stewart Dean; prone or nearly so, Announcer Ted Meyers (rear) and Producer Bert Mitchell, Orval's partner. (ABC photos.)

"Darts for Dough" Staff Force One Another to Produce a Usable Show Gag for Every Hole on the Course

2. McKEAN COMES UP WITH A GAG, but Orval and Ted Meyers don't think it's funny enough. Here tiz: "That reminds . . . I was a very good student in school. Why, one week the teacher offered a prize for the best marks, and I studied till I was blue in the face—and I won the prize." "For the best marks?" "No, for having the bluest face!"

3. ORVAL IS DRIVING FROM THE FIRST TEE, his buddies, meanwhile, convulsed with a show gag they've just hit upon. Anderson, however, is disgusted, for it's a water gag they're immersed with, and for three consecutive weeks he's been immersed on the show.

4. IN ANSWER TO COMPLAINTS OF NEARBY RESIDENTS, "Vera Vague" (Barbara Jo Allen) honorary mayor of Woodland Hills, drops by to investigate the commotion. Her consternation soon turns to collaboration when she discovers the huddle of—"MEN! Bless their little hearts!"

5. ORVAL CONCOCTS AN IDEA that a good show stunt would be to bounce a "Darts for Dough" contestant in a blanket, the contestant meanwhile trying to hit the dart board. Producer Goodwin is the guinea pig being tossed by Orval and Brother Bob. "Vera Vague" eagerly outstretches her hands, hoping to catch a man.

6. EDDY MCKEAN AND BOB ANDERSON come up with an idea to use a caddy cart for a show stunt. Orval blissfully accepts the chance to try out the gag, pointing out that show preparation is not always up-hill work for opportunists like himself.

7. GAG PAYOFF ON "DARTS FOR DOUGH" SHOW. Here a contestant, Sgt. John Coby, is sitting in the caddy cart, pushed by Bob and Eddy, while Orval, right, emcees stunt. Fellow was asked to hit dart board while in transit across stage. Balancing a top hat was additional handicap. His score: a bullseye, the jackpot and $278.

◀ SAM HAYES REVIEWS a script which he will deliver with rapid-fire pace. He succeeds in cramming the complete gridiron picture into his weekly program, which brings radio listeners their most accurate pre-game predictions.

Touchdown Tipper

ing game trends and 82 per cent correct in picking actual winners. That 82 per cent looks even more impressive when one remembers the hundreds of games during those years that were settled by the margin of a single point, and the hundreds more that ended in ties.

From early Army days, Major Chapman had kept charts of team progress as he followed his grid favorites from game to game, and he soon realized that these charts were enabling him to pick the winners in eight out of ten games. The commercial possibilities that opened resulted in the formation of the A.A.G.I.

Success Mushroomed

Sam Hayes joined forces with the Major in 1937, bringing radio's millions their most accurate pre-game predictions through a twenty-six-station Don Lee chain. From that first string of twenty-eight stations, the program grew until it is now heard on more than forty-five Don Lee outlets plus seventy additional stations scattered throughout the country which air the program by transcription.

In addition to the air show, the sponsor, General Petroleum, issues over 400,000 copies of the "Touchdown Tips" sheet weekly for the West Coast, and thousands more are sent East by the A.A.G.I.

Hayes believes that a rigid adherence to system pays off in accurate forecasts, and his week's schedule is pretty well formatted after ten years of working at it.

The A.A.G.I. picks its games far in advance of their playing dates, going to press the Monday two weeks before game time. The recorded air show is cut the next Sunday, and the Wednesday after that, which is the Wednesday before the game, Sam airs his Don Lee show.

ONE MAN who'll freely admit that gridiron doings these Saturdays are strictly business — at least for him — is Don Lee's football forecasting ace, Sam Hayes. The rapid-fire forecasts that Sam airs each Wednesday night at 7:15 are the end result of a business as calculating and painstakingly exact as that of a C.P.A. or an income tax expert — and often more nearly correct.

Seven researchers, uncounted sound men, engineers and printers, announcer Frank Bingman, and Sam Hayes and Major Lyle B. Chapman, cofounder of the All-American Gridiron Index, all contribute their talents weekly to produce the radio show and forecast sheets that are known throughout the country as "Touchdown Tips," today ranked as the nation's most reliable forecaster.

"Touchdown Tips" is the end-result of the A.A.G.I., the brainchild of Major Chapman, a retired Army officer whose first love was football, ranking from his own playing days at Colgate.

Formed to bring science to the art of picking the winners, the A.A.G.I. best prove its success by the astounding facts that in picking over 15,000 games during its sixteen years it has averaged 93 per cent correct in pick-

The Andrews Sisters Answer 20 Questions

*Famous Singing Trio Tells
And Tell on One Another*

Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 9:30 p.m.
CBS-KNX-KSDJ

1. Can each of you describe the other two sisters with a word or two?

- a. Maxene describing Patty: "Talented."
b. Maxene describing La Verne: "Gracious."
c. LaVerne describing Maxene: "Vital."
d. LaVerne describing Patty: "Vacacious."
e. Patty describing LaVerne: "Clothes-happy."
f. Patty describing Maxene: "Horse-happy."

2. Sisters usually have some point of disagreement or pet argument. What's yours?

The one who happens to be on time for a rehearsal always climbs all over the two who happen to be late.

3. What inanimate object is the dearest possession of each of you?

Patty: "My home movie projector, I guess. We have double features in our living room about once or twice every week."

Maxene: "My new fireman-red Cadillac convertible—when I'm not on my horse, Golden Sis, I like to be in my Caddy."

LaVerne: "The circular bed I have in my room is beautiful, and all our guests comment on it. Besides, it's comfortable."

4. What trait in each of you most annoys the other two?

Patty when she's bein' lazy; Maxene when she's feelin' moody; LaVerne when she's actin' fluster-brained.

5. In what field do your tastes differ most radically?

Clothes, we suppose. LaVerne's a fiend for the latest fashion; Patty's just a little less inclined toward that direction; and Maxene leans 'way over on the other side of the fence. She likes her old Levis best.

6. Can you name a low point and a corresponding high point in your collective careers?

Before and after Lou Levy, "Bei Mir Bist Du Schoen," and all that followed.

7. Describe your first meeting with Bing.

With Bing, there's no difference between the first time you met him and the time you saw him just the other day. He just walks up with a casual, "Hiya" like a friend from 'way back. We met him first in New York in 1940 for a Decca recording date to cut "Yodelin' Jive" and "Ciribiribin."

8. If you weren't famous as a singing group, what three careers do you think you might have been happy with?

Patty: "I like to draw. As an artist of sorts, I imagine."

Maxene: "Dramatics thrill me. If I had the ability to be an actress, I would have liked to be one."

LaVerne: "Since clothes delight me so, a dress designer, naturally."

9. Are any of you recognized by fans when you're alone, or do you have to be all together in order to be recognized by the public?

If we're walking together, three abreast and in step, with our mouths open, we're likely to be recognized—they know us by our tonsils. Alone—we're sometimes recognized, sometimes not.

10. Which of you was the first to start singing and whose idea was it that you should become a singing trio?

Maxene was the soloist in the beginning, with LaVerne usually accompanying her on the piano. Patty didn't join the act till she was practically an old woman (about seven or eight years old)—then she really took over. About forming a trio—well, it happened like this. LaVerne was an avid fan of one up-and-coming young radio singer name of Harry Lillis Crosby, and when he appeared on a show with one girl (trio name of the Boswell Sisters, LaVerne—who had a terrific natural ear for music—memorized their arrangements, and suggested that the three of us try some trio singing. At that time, it was strictly for our family gatherings around the parlor piano, for our amusement—and probably our neighbors' annoyance.

11. Do you own copies of all the records you have made and what is your favorite?

No—not all of 'em. Our favorites are usually the slower, sweeter numbers. Surprised?

12. Is there anyone you haven't sung with that you think would be good in an Andrews recording?

We're always happy to dig a new disc with Der Bingle, of course—and lately, we've been happy to merge with a couple of other terrific guys for Decca dates. Namely, Danny Kaye and Burl Ives. We're hoping maybe to make a couple of sides with Carmen Miranda. We did two numbers with her once when she appeared as guest on our "Eight-to-the-Bar Ranch" show—and we had a lot of fun with them.

13. Has any one of you ever ac-with a complex of some sort," Val grins.

At seventeen the voice turned to what is termed "lyric tenor" and Val began his nightclub and band vocalist engagements that brought him to the Coast and the Armed Forces Radio Service "Command Performance" that in turn led him to the Columbia Broadcasting System microphone.

Personalized Songs

Val's choice of songs runs toward romantic ballads, such as "Night and Day," "Begin the Beguine," "Peg O' My Heart" or "Stardust," and when he's at the mike, it's easy to see why the Delmar interpretation of these is so successful. Val always seems to be singing to an imaginary person standing just opposite him. Questioned about this trick, young Mr. Delmar smiled in that quick, engaging way and explained.

"As you say, I usually am singing to someone. A girl whom I imagine to be standing just across the mike.

Army Khakis to Civilian Slacks Is a Transition That Is Pretty Familiar. But From Barked Commands at Marching Men to a Lyric Tenor on the Air — That's Something!

Monday-Friday, 11:30 a.m.

EARLY last September, a slightly-built blond chap, walking with a cane, came to CBS for a quarter-hour morning musical show. Four years before, Val Delmar had been discovered by CBS scouts when he appeared on "Command Performance" at this same CBS mike. But Val stepped out of a singing career into the Army.

Now he's back from the historic Battle of the Bulge by way of three years in Army Hospitals, and had a very definite reason for the selection of "Ghost of a Chance" as the lead-off song on his new series. Val wants to use that song to get back at the crepe-hangers who say a G.I. doesn't have a ghost of a chance out of the Army.

The incident was typical of Val's outlook. He is still an ambulatory patient at McCornack Veterans Hospital in Pasadena, California, as the result of a bullet which nearly shattered his leg. But he'd be horrified should anyone use the words "brave" or "courageous" about him. As Val brightly says, "A couple more years and a couple more plastics and my leg will be as good as new." He always adds, "Isn't that lucky?"

The Army papers that Val is now in the process of turning in toward his discharge show that his birthplace was London, England, in the year 1920. When he was nine, Val was brought to this country and settled in Boise, Idaho. When he was thirteen years old, Val apparently felt things weren't moving along as fast as he had anticipated, so the boy struck out on his own, working his way through high school by golf caddying, dishwashing, gardening . . . anything that carried him to towns where he could also get jobs singing.

"At that time I had a definite soprano voice. It really was plain 'pretty.' Lucky it didn't leave me

It makes it so easy to mean the song. The girl? Oh, she's my wife, and I might add . . . if I can use that old phrase, 'my severest critic'."

Val met his wife, "Nickie," while he was stationed at Beaumont General Hospital, in Texas, when he had returned from overseas in 1946. Singing for a group of service men one evening at an entertainment, he spied an unusually pretty girl in the audience. It was "so easy" that night, too, to direct his songs to her. At the end of the evening the two

RADIO IN REVIEW

NEWS and COMMENT

For Love o' Mike (General Comment)

We Attend Wedding

Radio turned in one of its slickest jobs last week in its coverage of Princess Elizabeth's wedding, an event that must have made many a connoisseur of fictional air programs drool with envy, for it had all the magnificent elements comprising thrilling listening. There was throng-color, pageantry, romance, suspense, and wonderful music, all accentuated by the sheer fact that this was real!

Reception was exceptional and mechanics of quick shifts from one pick-up to another were smooth as glass. Except for one instance, when crowd cheers were cut in for too long a spot and made irritating background to the commentary, color from the packed streets was larded throughout with just the right amount of intensity and prolongation to give the listener the actual feel of being there.

Of all the reporters, Edward R. Murrow gets our nod for the most interesting comments. None of this "They ought to be arriving now—but it is still too foggy to see—here they come—no, no, it's the escort, but they'll be here any minute." Murrow was on familiar ground and continually threw in inconsequential but intimate remarks that vivified the scene—"The Dean is now straightening his robes . . . Princess Margaret Rose is shepherding the two small train bearers . . . they're waiting and various persons are gesturing . . . Philip is looking back to see if his wife's train is in order." Small chit-chat like this is just the detail any keen on-the-spot observer gets satisfaction in noting and relating afterward to friends who weren't there.

Although most women listeners would probably have liked to hear more detailed descriptions of the wedding dress and other finery, we thought "the boys" handled their fashion notes sufficiently, having obviously been thoroughly briefed.

Radio Life followed the entire proceedings from the time the glass coach left the Palace until the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh, he saluting and she waving, returned beamingly for the wedding reception. The final pick-up, coming as it did to complete the cycle from Palace to Palace, gave the listener a feeling of complete satisfaction. We were willing to let the bridal pair and their 100 chosen guests adjourn behind the big doors of Buckingham to eat their wedding breakfast away from the throngs.

When the broadcast ended, it was 5 a.m. in Hollywood, but in 120 minutes we had actually been in London attending the wedding without moving out of our own living room. Radio could do this! We marveled.

As we snapped off the dial, our morning paper thumped the door step. We revised a cliché: "As old as today's newspaper."

Rumors Are Flying

Philip Morris has renewed Milton Berle, after all. . . . Henry Morgan and the Eversharp-Schick folks may bury the hatchet. . . . Jack Paar will fade late in December. . . . Tom Breneman going into the publishing business with a digest mag—not about radio and not about Tom. Contest will be held to pick a name. . . . Former radio favorite, Benay Venuta, to be seen in movie, "I, Jane Doe." . . . Norman Corwin will do screen play for "All the King's Men." It's his first. . . . Tentative title for the Cathy Lewis-Elliott Lewis show is "That Man and That Woman." . . . Colleges in question are being pressured to televise the Rose Bowl game to the hospitalized vets. . . . Weekly doings of the saddle stars is the theme of a program co-starring Dale Evans and Redd Harper now being auditioned. . . . Lolly Parsons' Hooper tops all Hollywood commentators exclusive of Winchell. . . . Rumored, but not confirmed by sponsor, is the unwelcome news that "Ford Theater" may be dropped after first twenty-six weeks. . . . Bob Burns will be back on the air in a transcribed weekly half-hour series. . . . Frank E. Mullen, NBC executive vice-president, says television in two years will be coast-to-coast. . . . Cass Daley will have an announcement soon about radio plans. . . . January 2 is the date of the new Danny Thomas show. . . . Humphrey Bogart asked for a guest spot on the Carson show. Here's Hush Jingle

In answer to the many people who called Radio Life last week pleading for Ralph Edwards's "Miss Hush" jingle in print, here 'tis:

Second for Santa, first for me,
Thirteen for wreath, seven for tree,
Bring me an auto, a book and a ball
And I'll say Merry Christmas in spring not in fall.

In case the mysterious "Miss Hush" is still unidentified when this hits print, we can tell you who it isn't. Those names already guessed, and guessed wrongly are Spring Byington,

NEXT WEEK

Have you often wondered how the people who "do the commercials" look? We don't mean mikemen, but people like those singing about "Poor Miricm" on Bob Hope's show or the Oxydol sparkle gal. If you have wondered about these folks, you'll relish next week's feature, "Radio's Not Unsung Heroes."

Have you read Art Linkletter's new book, "People Are Funny"? Then you'll enjoy our spread of pictures, culled from our files to illustrate some of the book's funniest incidents.

Are you a sports fan? Then you'll like the article and photos on KMPC's energetic sports department. Lud Gluskin is our Man of Music (did you know he and Jimmy Durante were once a team?) and Maurie Webster is featured as an "Ex-Mikeman." Dud Williamson grins from our cover and is covered in a special story, while Flashbacks continue their fascinating series of old time pictures. Meet you in the pages of next week's Radio Life!

KECA mike memos

By VIRGINIA WEST

To begin with . . . hearty congratulations to KGO, sister station of KECA, which steps up to 50,000 watts of power on Dec. 1st . . . KGO, ABC's station in San Francisco, inaugurates its new transmitter at Newark, on the east shore of the bay, on that date. Big plans are afoot for celebration of the event, with special programs being arranged and important guests on hand to commemorate the occasion.

So important is ABC's "California Caravan," historical dramas depicting this state's colorful past, considered by the Los Angeles Board of Education, that the show's producer and director, Lou Holzer, has been invited to lecture before radio drama classes of the city's high schools. Using scripts of the documentary program, Holzer will actually produce the plays, using students as his cast. Holzer, who makes his lecture tour without compensation, addressed the first student group at Manual Arts High School, with twelve other schools to follow during the succeeding weeks. "California Caravan" is a regular Sunday afternoon (1:30) feature on KECA. . . . Another important drama series, "The Greatest Story Ever Told," also aired on Sunday afternoons at 3:30, over ABC-KECA, will present a Christmas cycle of five broadcasts beginning Nov. 30. Dramatizing the story of the birth of Christ, the first episode is titled "And Her Name Was Mary."

ABC Commentator Walter Winchell, who has done such an outstanding job of collecting and disbursing funds for cancer research in the name of his friend, Damon Runyon, during the past year, will mark the anniversary of Runyon's passing on Dec. 10, by distributing $325,000 more and attaining the million-dollar mark set when the Runyon Memorial Fund was established. With the first million dollars distributed, Winchell states, the Runyon Fund will not slacken its expense-free money raising and research spurring activities. . . . The three entertaining and informative programs which have been such a popular part of the operas aired from New York's "Metropolitan" each Saturday (KECA at 11 a.m.) are again a part of the broadcasts. These include the "Opera Quiz," with Olin Downes; "Opera News," presided over by Boris Goldovsky, and "Opera Round Table," in which leaders in the field of music participate.

... Always a Best Bet ... 790 ...

AROUND RADIO: Just so that you won't wonder . . . the "character" pictured above really isn't all dressed up to attend a Saturday opera. . . . On the contrary, he's "That Feller McKellar" . . .

"Aunt Fanny"

Doug McKellar, to you . . . who dishes out music of a waxed variety, along with some sage advice and amusing chatter over KECA's wave-length every Monday through Friday morning at 6:30 . . . Yes, we mean that wee hour . . . 6:30 a.m. . . . but that's nothing really! . . . Think of that "Morning Watcher," Ralph Langley, who opens the station on weekday mornings at 5:30! And he seems to have a lot of fun . . . besides doing a good turn now and then for some worthy cause. Recently, Ralph completed a very successful campaign to secure text books for use of hospitalized veterans in this vicinity. . . . Here's a gal who's also heard weekday mornings at 8, on the Breakfast Club with Don McNeill. . . . She's "Aunt Fanny," who is, incidentally, in the market for a new Gay 90's costume. . . . They're hard to find, says the trim and modish Miss Fran Allison, who plays the role of the gossipy "Aunt Fanny." . . . Speaking of wardrobes, KECA's own Star Gazer, Frances Scully, came back to Hollywood with a whole trunkful of new things from her New York holiday. We haven't seen the gal in the same outfit twice since she returned!

Mail to the contest has been averaging about 10,000 letters a day, but on November 18 it hit a peak of 22,000 letters. The following day, one delivery brought in 15,000 letters. The Public Library called the "Truth or Consequences" office with the news that people were standing in line at the research shelves in order to get a chance at a copy of Who's Who!

Radio Research by Radar

Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, has announced the application of wartime radar principles to audience measurement in radio.

The extraordinary device will measure with the speed of light the size of radio audiences and will provide reports showing the minute-to-minute trends for all segments of the audience—in cities, small towns, and farms, and in all income levels.

A cross section of different types of radio homes will be equipped with a special device that will automatically and continuously report back to the transmitter while radio sets are turned on. Each report will contain the information concerning the time the set is in use, what programs are being heard, what the income level of the family is and in what type of location the program is heard.

The new technique has been dubbed IAMS (Instantaneous Audience Measurement Service), and was conceived in the network's research laboratory by Dr. Peter C. Goldmark, Columbia's director of engineering research and development.

Your Cue (Shows You May Like)

Harriet Cruise

Re-discovered is the sweet singer, Harriet Cruise, who may be heard each Tuesday and Thursday morning at 10:45 on station KWIK, Burbank. Under the name Harriet Cruise Kemmer, the singer was well known to mid-west radio listeners for many years and her program will be doubly welcomed by her former fans.

Miss Cruise's singing style and range are a little more inclusive than that of the usual radio singer. The nearest comparison we can make of her voice is to that of Joan Roberts of the "Oklahoma" cast.

In her fifteen-minute program, the singer manages four or five songs in the popular vein but on the show that we caught, her standard rendition of a standard, "Tea for Two," was the best.

The Cruise theme song, "That's Why Little Boy Blue Was Blue," still serves to introduce her program (in fact that's what stopped our dial when we were trying for something else). The program welcomes requests, so drop a card to the station if you're in the mood for Miss Cruise's "personalized songs."

"Brooding with Brady"

Early rising may be regarded as good fortune or ill, depending on your outlook at the respective merits of watching the sun rise as opposed to that extra wink or two while you're still tucked in snugly.

Your resultant humor of a morning may color your reaction to KNX's Monday through Friday 7:00 a.m. offering, "Brooding with Brady." You'll either wish him a plague and mutter that producers should stick to producing, or you'll drop all activity to hang over your radio in terror of missing a single syllable of his grumbling, ad lib whimsey.

The latter category (including us) will hold that Mr. Ben Brady does more with this fifteen minutes than the later-hour big-time dealers in sniping can drum up in their time. Ben has only his three transcribed spiels, "Pyroil," "Vel" and "Colgates," to turn into fun. Considering the transcriptions are the same, daily, Brady displays the greatest facility of wit and words.

Probably because this comic was for six years a practicing attorney-at-law

In New York City, later produced West Coast shows for an agency, and meanwhile poked his pen into scripts of such shows as "Inner Sanctum" and "Mr. and Mrs. North" is he able to keep a fresh line of nonsense going without getting tiresome and redundant.

Typical of his antics is the morning recently when Ben undertook to list, for housewives yearning for employment, a series of jobs. Each vocation was neatly robbed of its desirability and discarded, leaving the lot of friend housewife as the ultimate in luck. It doesn't sound too hilarious on paper, but with the Brady touch and understatement it was elegant comedy. In fact, that about sums up his whole show. If it's Brady... it's funny.

Charles Collingwood

News analyst Charles Collingwood (KNX, 5:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday) should be well known to listeners for his work as war correspondent, reporter and as the American half of last year's delightful Anglo-American letter-writing program, "Transatlantic Mail."

Now holding down Harry Flannery's former spot (Flannery is heard on KHJ, 8:00 a.m. Monday through Friday), Collingwood should build as faithful a West Coast news following as he did a New York audience, where he handled daily newscasts and special events broadcasts.

Collingwood has just about the clearest news delivery on the air. His enunciation is above reproach, and his personal familiarity with many of the persons and places about which he speaks gives him an authority of manner. He can call up his European background in the news to relate today's happenings in the light of what went before.

Introduced as the "distinguished" news analyst, Collingwood sounds a little young to rate among that company. However, in the light of his broadcasting accomplishments, the adjective may be well deserved.

"Grand Slam"

Each Monday through Friday a.m. at 8:30, via KNX, the folks at home compete with the folks in the studio for a "Grand Slam." Announced by Dwight Weiss, and femceed by singing Irene Beasley, the tournament of wits leads off with the familiar "Is it music?" "Is it fun?" "Is it prizes?" Everyone screams "Yes!" and the guessing begins.

Irene reads a letter chosen from the stupendous number sent to the program by hopefuls and usually sings a song suggested by the letter. The studio participant must later answer questions about the song just sung, or else the answers to questions asked in the letter. Hints to these answers are given by melodies played on an organ and piano in the studio. Only obvious difficulty is set up by the blending of musical media that admittedly are not concert material.

For each of the five musical questions constituting a "game," there is a prize. If the studio contestant fails on a question, the at-home participant receives a gift. Electric roasters, nylon hose, electric alarm clocks, pressure cookers and full sets of Club aluminum change hands right and left.

Principal attractions of the program are the daily chances each mike-sider has of participating by way of a game-letter sent in, and Irene's own vivacity and lively singing that manage to lend a fresh appeal daily.

Sponsor Continental Baking Company sees to it that full entrance particulars are given after each session with Beasley and the boys, the music-fun-prize format seems pretty obvious and amazingly easy sounding. Who knows, you might pick up a super-duper set of pots and pans or a fancy electric gadget for your trouble . . . if you try.

Hoagy Carmichael

Hoagy Carmichael "Stardusted" his way back, November 15th, onto CBS' Sunday afternoon airplanes, with the same rhythmic, individual singing and playing that's long since marked him as a favorite. Each Sunday at 2:30 p.m. over KNX, Hoagy at the big piano, Buddy Cole attending the upright and secretary Shirlee Turner will broadcast, presumably from Hoagy's own music room at home. This gives a good opportunity for light continuity, prompted by Shirlee opening mythical letters and reading questions aloud to Mr. Carmichael. Hoagy's answers to queries such as "How do you write a song?" "How long does it take to make up lyrics?" bring out representative little stories about the song-writing field, and the men who immortalized themselves with twelve fast lines, and better yet, give Hoagy a chance to illustrate with singing and playing.

The time is a completely informal period, cleverly scripted and arranged so as to avoid that taggly what-do-we-do-now feeling that sometimes results from complete casualness. Hoagy himself is a past master at sitting at the eighty-eight singin' and talkin', and Shirlee's second season with him shows her to be completely familiarized with the easy Carmichael timing.

Interpolated into the music-making on Hoagy's first Sunday was a bit of advice to listeners, suggesting that each wire his or her Congressman asking that provision be made for aiding the Navajos, Indian tribe of northern Arizona and New Mexico, who are facing a winter of starvation on their government reservation. Hoagy reminded his listeners that the Navajos have been Americans for many hundreds of years, and that more than 3500 Navajo men sacrificed their lives in World War II.

There was no indication such a departure would be part of the regular quarter hour. It was a nice thought, Hoagy, and we hear you were the first to follow your own advice.

"Winner Take All"

One of the few quiz shows that isn't guaranteed to throw us into a temper, is the distinction held by "Winner Take All," KNX, 2:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

"Winner Take All" rates this high rank in the list of radio quiz shows by eliminating the "Who was the first president of the United States? I'll give you a hint—his first name was George . . . did you do your washing this morning? The Washington monument is named after him . . ." type of question.

Like the old game of dodge ball or like a spell-down, the "Winner" in question goes on collecting the prizes as long as he goes on being the winner. A challenger competes with the standing winner in answering a series of three questions. If the challenger defeats the winner, he in turn can hold the prize-getting position as long as his intelligence and memory hold out. Theoretically, if the contestant were bright enough, he could go on winning until the program went off the air in the summer. In practice, this hasn't happened yet, though some of the participants have been able to collect a goodly supply of loot by standing pat for over a week.

The quality of the questions asked by the emcee, Bill Cullen, is comparatively high. We jotted down the questions answered by a contestant one day last week and found we had the answers to "What is vertigo?", "What sculptor created 'The Thinker'?" and "What is the old lady of Threadneedle Street?". In order the answers are dizziness, Rodin and the Bank of England. Now maybe these wouldn't stump a John Kieran or a Franklin P. Adams, but as far as Mr. and Mrs. Quiz Show Audience are concerned, we think they're pretty good.

Playbacks (Critical Comment)

Spike Jones

The KNX, Friday at 7:30 p.m. Coca-Cola "Spotlight Review," starring the king of the washboard-whistle-bell treatment, Spike Jones, and the slyly innocent Dorothy Shay of "Feudin' and Fightin'" fame, holds two surprises. First surprise is the choice of Spike as a big time spotlight holder. The same sponsor is presenting music in the milder manner in the way of Ginny Simms and Percy Faith one time, and Morton Downey another. Second surprise is the big band with which Spike weekly augments his novelty stuff. It's a good band.

The hootings and howlings that embellish some of the best-known popular ballads have their place, and that place is on a juke box, where only the deliberate dropping of a coin summons the caterwauling to ear. That's reaction number one of a Friday evening.

Reaction number two is "Why, when Jones can get up a band like the big outfit, does he bother with the ricky-ticky clanking of the other bunch?"

Immediate answer is found, naturally, in Spike's income tax records.

About Miss Shay's performance, nothing particularly bitter comes to mind. You can either take Miss Shay or leave her alone. Pendulumed to fame and the title "Park Avenue Hill-billy," Dorothy continues with the melodically backwoods style that many find entertaining.

Probably attendance at one of the Spike Jones City Slickers stage "Revuees" would lend greater amusement to the listening of his air hour. Patrons term them "riotous," the word we can't quite summon for the air show.

"Child's World"

In the Manhattan home of Miss Helen Parkhurst, founder of New York's progressive Dalton School, some startling discussions are currently at sway. A chance to hear part of them is presented, courtesy of wire-recording and the American Broadcasting System, over KECA Sundays at 4:00 p.m.

"Child's World" is part of a great psychological movement to educate parents through the wisdom of their own children. An alarming theory to those who have always concluded that the Chicken came before the Egg. But, as our modern family clinics are so patiently explaining, we were all young once and if our clear opinions at that time had been allowed to flower without the repression of frustrated elder discipline, perhaps this sorry world would not be the whirligig it is today. Which may or may not be uncomfortably true.

In harmony with this vast reorganization of parent-offspring relations, Miss Parkhurst gathers a clan of bright little boys and girls about her fireside. To her leading questions on God, education, politics, home-life, etc., she gets precocious but surprisingly keen responses. Adults are promptly to conclude that maybe they're not possessed of the beans to say what's what around home after all. Whether the entire project is to society's benefit is no longer a consideration. The first dangerous seeds have spread root . . . it's every man, woman or child for himself, from here on out.

So (before turning with cowardice to Jack Benny's program instead) Radio Life feels compelled to offer only the most timid "Child's World" dissemination. We ourselves grew up with the sentimental idea that mom and dad did know best, that their instruction was to our benefit and that we could take over the overwhelming questions of the world when education and experience had made us good and ready. We would have been at a dumbfounded loss if asked to analyze the ten points of the Taft-Hartley bill or take a learned stand on Communism vs. Democracy. Not so the present generation. One can only wonder from where on earth so many quiz kids have sprung at once.

On Mike (About Studio Happenings)

We View With Alarm

One thing we will never understand is why studio audiences are considered necessary equipment at dramatic shows. Now along comes "Studio One," the fine hour-long dramatic program, with a change of policy that includes the addition of an over-sized audience. Regular listeners found that last week's offering, "Young Man of Manhattan," suffered in comparison with earlier offerings merely because the audience laughed, applauded and whistled.

Another random thought that occurred to us during the past week's listening was—when is Kate Smith going to sing again? Possessor of a truly God-given voice, owner of an unexpected comedy sense, Kate could make our world much happier with her joyous singing than she does with her not-so-joyous newscasting.

Off Mike (Personalities)

Levant Leaves

Oscar Levant's brusque touch will be obvious through its absence from the December 11th Kraft Music Hall session. The composer-pianist is taking a week's leave while he flies to New York for recording sessions with both the New York Philharmonic and the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestras, no less.

Tied Tight

As ABC's "Bride and Groom" starts its third year on the air, the intriguing fact is disclosed that of the 516 couples married in connection with the program, only three have, as far as is known, been divorced subsequently. Children have been born to 207 of the 516.

Apparently the officiating ministers do a pretty good job of tying the marital knot tightly.

Proud Name

Basil Rathbone's character of "Inspector John Burke" on Mutual's "Scotland Yard" is possessor of the most imposing name in radio. According to the scripters of the program, "Burke's" real tag is "Edmund Bois-Gilbert Saint Martin Montmorency-Burke, 18th Duke of Staffordshire." He uses the simplified name in dealing with the criminal element. Then again, if he used his whole name, the program would be half over before he'd been introduced to the audience!

RECORD NOTES TO YOU
By ANDY MANSFIELD

- 1 note—fair
 - 2 notes—pleasing
 - 3 notes—very good
- Chord in G—tops

KWKW, 12.45 p.m. Daily

ALBUM OF THE WEEK

Eight good reasons why Carmen Cavallaro is a great favorite with so many are included in his new album of top tunes of yesteryear. The relaxed touch of this nimble fingered eighty-eight makes such old favorites as "Lover," "The Very Thought of You," "If I Had You," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," "Cocktails for Two" and the others live again. Mr. C. C. rates a Chord in G—but definitely! (Decca).

RECORD OF THE WEEK

Margaret Whiting is showing marked improvement in each new recording. This time it's the ballad, "Let's Be Sweethearts Again," and that new novelty, "Pass That Peace Pipe." Both tunes are backed by the increasingly popular music of Frank DeVol and his boys and that "easy on the ears" vocal group, the Crew Chiefs. But it took Maggie and her tribe and "Peace Pipe" to bury the hatchet and come up with "heap big" three notes. (Capitol).

FRANK SINATRA

Frankie gets away from ballads for a change and his versatility is again proven . . . First, in the cute new novelty, "The Dum-Dot Song." The dum dot is a gum drop and you can take it from there, which Frankie does to good advantage with the Pied Pipers and backed by the Axel Stordahl orchestra. Second, Frankie does the rhythm number "It All Came True," this time backed by Alvy West and the Little Band with some swell instrumental stuff. This is definitely three-note material. (Columbia).

DENNIS DAY

How could the lad go wrong with two beautiful Irish numbers like "Mickey" and "Peggy O'Neill"? This is his best to date! Backed by Charles Dant and his orchestra and beautiful arrangements featuring violins and harp, Dennis has a recording that will live for years to come. Sure and how could we help but give the lad three of the biggest, finest notes we 'ave? (RCA-Victor).

PHIL HARRIS

The inimitable Harris is in again—this time with two oldies. "Ding Dong Daddy from Dumas" and "Some Little Bug Is Going to Find You." Phil has a style all his own, and whether the tune is new or old, he makes you like it . . . to the tune of three notes. (RCA-Victor).

NEXT QUESTION

On his way out of NBC's "Kraft Music Hall" recently, irascible Oscar Levant was stopped by a critic, who asked: "How did you like the show?" "Frankly," replied Levant, "I was a bit disappointed." "And who are you to be disappointed?" demanded the critic. "Well," snapped Levant, "who do you have to be to be disappointed?"

COOPER

12:00 - 5:00 A.M.
 TUESDAY THRU SUNDAY

THE VOICE

Producer-announcer Stuart Phelps, frequently seen and heard via Don Lee Television's W6XAO, has just completed narration of a six-reel documentary made by Paramount in conjunction with the State Department. Called "Education, U.S.A.," the commentary will be translated into twenty-eight languages to be shown throughout the entire world. Much of the film was devoted to the grounds, classes and extra-curricular doings of California's own UCLA.

LET 'IM HAVE IT

When the "Sweeney and March" script required her to slap Hal March as hard as she could, actress Gloria Blondell turned "sissy." "Can't do it," she insisted, "it would hurt me more than Hal." The soundman, with a swift side clip of his own, finally had to take over.

DOUBLE BILLING

Despite pressure of his radio and newsreel work, CBS newscaster Lowell Thomas (who has lectured throughout the world in more than fifty nations) is continuing his travels this season. And, as they used to say, something new has been added. Thomas is being joined in his cross-country itinerary by his son, Lowell, Jr. They will jointly present "A Flight Around the World," a color film photographed by Lowell Jr. while he was in the Air Force during the war, and including several sequences on the atomic bomb tests at Bikini.

A STITCH IN TIME

In a grand gesture against high prices, amazing Cliff Arquette bought five yards of gay print material last week and stitched up three sport shirts. Casts of "Dick Haymes' Show" and "Point Sublime" report that the results are terrific, even with no button-holes or buttons. Cliff is using small safety pins to keep the outfits together.

CENSUS

An average of 69,530 persons per month watched radio shows broadcast from NBC's Hollywood studios during the first ten months of 1947.

As a result of his early deadline, weekends at the A.A.G.I. offices in Glendale are a continual din as late scores and game statistics are checked team by team, progress of each club charted on its separate form chart and predictions of the future game made from the charts. Seven staffers go through more than seventy papers weekly to get background material on each team, and the smaller colleges and conferences keep in touch with Hayes and Chapman by weekly correspondence. Game statistics are then entered on each team's chart and the graphs they form, plus comparative strength as shown on past performance, enable Sam to predict the outcome of the games for that week's "Touchdown Tips."

Recording the program is a minor engineering triumph, since more than seventy dubbings have to be made before midnight on Sundays, with recordings of the program generally starting around eight.

The show is cut simultaneously on eighteen different turntables, and in three sections. Then the first section is played back, being cut onto the platters with the second and third sections. The second section is then played with the first and third section platters picking it up; and the third section is then fed to the first and second, giving fifty-four complete records in four motions, generally taking about forty-five minutes. The entire record is played back and eighteen cuts are made from it, so that in about an hour's time the seventy records have been cut and made ready for shipping, saving about one and one half hours. Labelling and packing run concurrently with the cutting of the last eighteen sides and the entire production is always wrapped up in time to hit the midnight air-express.

Pressure Work

Speaking with one of the fastest-paced voices in radio, Sam Hayes rips through enough pages of scripts to keep an ordinary announcer busy for twenty minutes, cramming a complete picture of the football situation into his weekly stint.

Sam accompanies his staccato forecasts with a nervous and rhythmic tapping on the floor, varying his footwork to keep pace with his voice, to the fascination of both announcer and engineer.

First regional newscaster in radio, Sam does his news stint today on a year-around basis, but his first love is still the football season. However, Sam's generally happy to see another season end so that he can close the books on a few thousand more games, grab himself some relaxation from everlasting poring over form charts and graphs, and enjoy the life in California.

Hayes takes extraordinary pride in California and works out his love of the state by contributing both time and money to boys' club projects, speaking tours, and almost anything else that will make friends for Californians.

Aside from working hours, Sam spends his time with his family, or touring one of the many Southland golf courses, where he credits himself with a game that seems to win consistently for him. Most of his other likes are concerned with creating sports facilities for California youths, but his main ambition is to take a busman's holiday some fall—and travel around the country watching football teams whose records he knows better than they do themselves.

Men of Music— Val Delmar

were introduced, and a few months later, married. Now three Delmars, Val, Nickie and daughter Terry Lee, age four months, keep house in Pasadena.

Val is possessor of a nervous energy that keeps him rushing from one thing to another. If he's off the air for the day, and home from the almost daily visit to the hospital for treatment or completion of his release from the service, Val delightfully tends Terry Lee, tinkers with his record player, pitches in to help with the housework, or goes hunting new records.

Completely a paradox to his own choice of vocals, Val's record taste runs to Stan Kenton, Boyd Raeburn or Duke Ellington arrangements. And he has some very definite ideas about the playing of this music.

Plan Record Room

"Of course there are so many other things to buy first, but records are a someday 'must' in our household. Nickie and I like the same things, and one of our most cherished plans is a room in which we will keep nothing but a recording machine and plenty of the discs we like. Then we can play them as loudly as we please, and if people want to chatter during the music, they can step outside."

Singer Delmar has a natural ambition to have his own coast-to-coast show, and backs it with some convictions that usually make for success.

"If you like what you're doing, and really work at it..." he stopped and flashed that Delmar grin again, "and get some really good breaks, like I did, you can get your foot in the door. From then on it's up to the individual.

"I hate to use the old words 'hard work' and 'perseverance,' they've been done to death... but I know they have been greatly accountable for my good luck."

Val uses the word "luck" as a generality. He has no talisman of any sort, and only one superstition. He won't sing before breakfast.

"I'm just waiting for the day I rush down to the studio in a big hurry to do my show, and remember I've had no breakfast. That'll be the end of that superstition...!"

Imagining that Val would hold a treasured memory, Radio Life asked what radio performance he best remembered.

"I had a four-day pass a little more than a year ago, just after Nickie and I were married. So when we came to Hollywood I got a whole bunch of radio tickets and we went to all the shows.

"I was walking with crutches at the time, and no sooner did the emcees on the audience participation shows see this poor G.I. on crutches... I looked like a ghost anyway, from tearing around making the most of the four brief days... than they hauled me up on the stage to get a crack at the prizes."

Val's voice dropped to apology. "You know, it was really embarrassing. We finished up the day with f-o-u-r hundred dollars!"

Then he laughed. "Those fellows couldn't have picked anyone in the studios that needed the dough more! What a day! I'll never forget those radio shows."

The Lady Writes a Letter

Los Angeles, Calif.
Nov. 10, 1947

Dear Radio Life:

GOSH, 'tain't often that a gal has a chance to write about her favorite radio announcer, but that's the task assigned to me, and I'll make it short and snappy. My favorite spieler is in his early forties; has blue eyes, offset nowadays by a nice tanned skin, and a pate that is rapidly assuming the hue of solid gray—add 170 lbs. to a five foot eleven inch frame—top it with a circular barren spot on the top of his head—finish off with a long, black cigar—and you have a word picture of Charles A. Clifton, Chief Announcer at Station KRKD.

Charlie, known as the "Bald-Headed Boy from Baltimore," has been on KD for about ten years, the first five as turf commentator, the last five as announcer. He and Ned Connor teamed up for their "Paddock Flash" program for the first five years, with their tales of the turf, stories of jockeys, owners, trainers and incidents, humorous and otherwise, in connection with the thoroughbreds. This program was voted the most popular of its type in the country, attested by thousands of letters, and commendations not only from racing associations, but from racing commissions as well.

His endeavors to create a love for thoroughbreds, especially two-year-olds, rather than the speculative angle of racing, received its reward at the Rancho San Luis Rey, when he was publicly called before an audience of 5,000 by Charles Cooper, member of the California Racing Commission, and when for the first time he was besieged by autograph hunters. He still thrills over that reception.

Came the war—the elimination of racing—and the team of Connor and Clifton was broken up—temporarily. At that time he took on another partner—he hoped for life, and the green eyes of jealousy must have entered the mind of Ned Connor, who had been appointed manager of KRKD; for Ned offered Charlie a position as commercial announcer for the station—from then on, take Charlie's words:

"Imagine a guy from Baltimore, accustomed to slur the English language and straight from the environment and peculiar phraseology of the racing track, and you can imagine what I had to contend with. No wonder my first sponsor waited two minutes after my first broadcast, and said 'Get that guy off—or take me off.'

↑ HERE'S THE SUBJECT OF THE ACCOMPANYING LETTER. He looks as if he might be answering the lady—then, again, he might be typing his afternoon's script. (Carroll Photo Service photo.)

"But I must have improved somehow, 'cause I'm still here, and when Doug Douglas, dean of Los Angeles announcers, was made head of the public relations department, they put his mantle of 'chief announcer' on me. Nowadays, I like to concentrate on the news. We here at KD take pride in our news—we like to give our listeners a comprehensive picture of what's going on in the world, in language they can all understand. I like to keep up on my news, and so read all the daily newspapers, plus the weeklies, and the Washington news letters.

"Secondly, comes my 'Serenade' from 9:00 to 10:30 on Sunday morning for the Model Furniture Manufacturing Company. I believe this is one of the nicest programs on the station for those who like relaxing music on the lighter side. From time to time we invite our listeners to select the music for the entire program, and I believe my greatest thrill came when we had Miss Gene Jones and Mrs. Georgia Caywood of Radio Life as guest program directors—and I didn't even know they had listened to my program, but it shows how they get around."

To get back to my own picture of Charlie Clifton. He's a cook's delight, with a great big healthy appetite, never refuses a second helping; in fact, will ask for it, if it's good—and then loves his gooey desserts—and I mean gooey. Strictly a homebody and you have to pry him away from the house—doesn't like night clubs, but just likes to have friends drop in—and that means anywhere from two to ten people at his home five nights a week—(he works the other two)—and every gathering ending in a card game of some sort, although he prefers bridge, admitting he's the world's worst poker player, to which his friends shout their agreement.

Right now, he devotes his off-days to preparing his "Sports Dial," which is heard at 5:30 p.m. daily over KRKD. After all, sports was his original line.

Here I am down to the end of the page, and I got lots more to say about him, but I don't have room—but my advice is to tune in Charlie Clifton (KRKD, 1150 kc) and you'll hear one of the loveliest voices on radio, a voice that will reach your heart—well, at least it did mine—After all, I am

Mrs. Charles A. Clifton.

NBC-KFI-KFSD

DESPITE a battered pencil stuck over his ear and a wad of gum chewed with vigorous rhythm, Bob Hope presents an Esquish appearance when he strides on stage for the wind-up of his radio rehearsal. His suit is freshly pressed, his white shirt and handkerchief are immaculately crisp, and his gaudy tie is knotted in precisely the right twist.

It's usually about an hour before air time—in another few minutes the audience will come tromping into the auditorium. While secretaries and script girls scurry to and fro, sound men check their paraphernalia, and photographers grab a few last shots, Hope pleasantly asks his cast, "Can we try this finish, dear people?"

By now all performers are dressed for the night's broadcast. Rehearsal, in progress since mid-afternoon, was broken long enough for the feminine contingent on the show to slip into longish glamour gowns. Orchestra leader Les Brown has snatched a shave and Colonna has brushed his moustache.

There's a relaxed, jocular, but businesslike feeling to the proceedings. Naturally, on a show entering its ninth year on the air, the gears mesh pretty smoothly. The cast has had since the previous night to become acquainted with the script, for a first reading has been held, followed by a preview with full studio audience at NBC. A recording has been made of the preview, and before going home, the cast members have listened to it. Customarily running one hour, the preview script has then been pruned by the writers, who have carefully clocked the reception various gags have received from the studio audience. A revised script has been ready for the Tuesday afternoon rehearsal.

Seldom do Hope & Co. ever "mike" a full show on Tuesday. When they arrive at the place of broadcast about 3 p.m., cast members first go into a script session, then adjourn to the stage, where important spots, especially those with guest stars, are put on mike. Spots are timed to the second, while the show's chief writers, four in number, listen attentively and prepare to make cuts.

Often during rehearsal Bob will stop to give performers suggestions on line interpretation. His suggestions are always followed unquestioningly, as his fine sense of timing and punching is universally recognized.

Often, too, Hope stops the rehearsal to put a mike-unfamiliar guest star at ease. Changing the subject completely, he'll keep quipping until he sees the nervousness of his visitor vanish. Unlike many top stars, who forbid visitors at rehearsal, Hope is noteworthy good-natured. Apparently he'll stop anything but the actual show to be nice to people. However, he'll stand for no nonsense and properly puts into their places any who aren't attending to business. At out-of-studio appearances, when students or local visitors steal into rehearsal and plunk down in the front row, Hope often shows his dislike of the intrusion by muffing the punch lines of his gags. Such unwanted "guests" have been known to laugh heartily at this antic, completely ignorant of the trick Bob has cunningly played and thinking that if he said it, it must be funny.

Gracious Chap

After Hope's first broadcast of the season from El Capitan Theater, Radio Life was jammed backstage with the milling score of show workers, all congratulating Hope on the broadcast. Bob, quite wilted, had one thing on his mind: was the broadcast as good as those around him said it was? Nevertheless, concerned as he was and ready to let down, we heard him when a girl approached and asked if she could bring some out-of-town relatives backstage to meet him. His answer was a gracious, "Sure, bring 'em back!" This is not the usual star's answer, we can assure you.

On the other hand, when Hope is concentrating on rehearsal, he often brushes aside any levity. During a recent "miking," Les Brown was wanted at once. The orchestra leader, who was using a break in rehearsal to shave, hurried on stage with his face covered with lather. Everyone expectantly awaited a hilarious reaction from Hope.

They were disappointed. The comedian, intent on business, played it straight. While others stifled their giggles, Hope completely ignored Les' ludicrous appearance.

New Station, at 1490 Kilocycles, Presents Well-Known Ether Favorites And San Fernando Valley Happenings

Billy Gray

KWIK, "the voice of the San Fernando Valley," Burbank, is one of the newest radio babies on the local scene, but its lusty wailing has already caught the ears of listeners. It made its debut October 5, 1947, with the aim of giving adequate coverage of events in the Valley.

Avenue Recreation Center to carry youth and cultural activities, such as the Burbank Symphony and Choral Society.

Jockey List

Entertainment is another important segment of KWIK programming. The station boasts an imposing list of disc jockeys, including David Street, who spins the wax from 8:35 to 9:30 every Tuesday and Thursday evening. He is also starring on NBC in his own program, the David Street Show; he was featured singer on the Joan Davis-Jack Haley program as well as the "Parkyakarkus" show.

Al Gail

Jack Narz

A quick look at the log tells the story. Regular programs, such as "What's Doing in the Valley," five times a week at 6:35 p.m., feature interviews with prominent organizational spokesmen and news of social, fraternal and civic activities. Burbank residents add to their knowledge of government by turning an attentive ear to the Sunday night broadcast at 8:35, "Your City and Mine," with Mayor Paul Brown interviewing a different guest each week.

Eddie Maxwell, top special material writer and song writer for 15 years, interviews the stars direct from Dave's Blue Room on the Sunset Strip every night except Monday from midnight to 3 a.m., on the "Musical Round Table."

Michael Roy handles the platter and chatter from KWIK every night except Saturday, from 10 to midnight. Roy, a veteran radio man, has been heard with Andy Russell,

Accepted an engagement without the other two? If so, where and when?

We stick together like adhesive.

14. What's the nicest compliment you've ever received?

Our mother's sacrifice and Lou Levy's drive, for the benefit of the Andrews Sisters' career.

15. Has there ever been any record that you yourselves didn't care for that was a big hit?

We hated having to do "Beer Barrel Polka"—but, after we counted those customers, love dat song!

16. Do you test your choice of songs on any one person or group on whose tastes you rely?

The answer to this is a big Y-E-S! Our manager—and "our husband" (he's married to Maxene)—Lou Levy. He sings like Andy Devine with a cold—but he can tell a hit a mile away.

17. Have any or each of you any good luck talisman or formula you employ during shows and recording dates?

We've been in the business long enough to know that the only way to have luck is to work hard for it, and keep working.

18. What singing group do you particularly admire, and why?

The Mills Brothers—do we have to give a reason?

19. Have you ever written any songs, and if so, what happened to them?

No—never! We have enough trouble just sticking to our end of the business. Singing 'em is almost a 24-hour job—and don't think we're kidding!

20. What's your biggest musical ambition? Personal ambition?

The answer to both of those is the same answer everybody else would give. Musically and personally, we'd like always to like what we're doing. As long as we like to sing, we'll keep on singing. Even if nobody wants to listen. (What are we saying!) Personally, we're accomplishing a long-standing ambition right now—to stay home in California long enough to know what staying home feels like. It feels mmmmm-good! (From the soup of the same flavor!)

Introducing KWIK

Alan Young, Abbott and Costello and many other top names.

Sergeant Duke Norton, who spins the discs for the "Army Platter Parade" from 12:30 p.m. to 1 p.m. every day except Sunday, started in show business at the age of five, playing roles in "Our Gang" comedies and Mack Sennett films.

Carl Bailey, "Radio's Tallest Announcer," handles proceedings for KWIK on "The Record Shelf," heard for three hours each Sunday morning from 9:30 to 12:30.

More Staff

Added to the imposing list of talent are the men behind the mike at KWIK. Bob Campbell, staff announcer and production manager, started his broadcasting career in Minneapolis. He later served on the staff at KFI and KECA, and in 1945 joined NBC. Campbell has also been heard over the Mutual network on the "Sherlock Holmes" show.

Burleigh Smith has been in radio for eight years. He was a free lance radio actor in Hollywood for several years and served as staff announcer on KHJ and ABC.

Wes Battersea brings to KWIK 17 years' experience in radio and the legitimate stage. He is well remembered locally for his deft emceeing on the CBS show, "Jack in All Trades."

Jack Narz, ace sportscaster and announcer, was formerly with the Mutual station in El Centro, has distinguished himself by his competent handling of the high school football games.

Announcer Bob O'Sullivan broke into radio on the NBC station in Iowa and served his apprenticeship on several stations in the Midwest.

Executive Staff

Sam Kerner, president and commercial manager, has been actively engaged in radio for 15 years. He's currently engaged in producing the David Street show on NBC.

Billy Gray, vice president, was a radio, film and stage personality for 20 years, is best remembered for his "Little Matilda" characterizations and his role as Eddie Cantor von Zell, Jr.

▲ NOT ONLY an accomplished actress but a fine singer too is Betty Wragge, heard on Mutual's "True Detective Mysteries" Sunday, 1:30 p.m.

Carl Aultman, treasurer and assistant sales manager, was the assistant producer of the "David Street Songshop" and other transcribed programs.

Don Forbes, general manager, has been associated with radio for 20 years in positions ranging from station manager to engineer. But he is best known as one of the Richfield reporters on NBC for seven years. Mr. Forbes was also chief announcer for CBS in Hollywood.

Rich Background

Al Gail, director of news and special events, brings 10 years of varied news experience to the KWIK news bureau. During the past four years he was News Editor for CBS in Hollywood. Gail was also a foreign correspondent in Mexico for the New York Post.

No story about KWIK would be complete without mentioning two other exclusive entertainment features.

In the early days of radio, one of the nation's most popular air personalities was Charles W. Hamp. A long-time resident of the San Fernando Valley, he can be heard in his musical stylizing over KWIK Mondays through Fridays at 1:15 p.m.

When "Fibber McGee and Molly" first took to the airways back in 1935, they picked as their first regular vocalist a talented young chap with a mellow voice, Ronny Mansfield. Later, Ronny became an international favorite following his triumphant engagement in London. He has played and sung his way through every state in the Union and is now staff pianist at KWIK.

▲ FANNY BRICE, the mischievous plague of "Daddy's" life on CBS, is in real life a proud grandmother. Here she displays her youngest grandchild, Wendy Stark, one year old October 31. Miss Brice's anniversary is October 29.
