JACKIE ROBINSON, the local boy who made good in a big way, revealed plans for eventual retirement from baseball during accompanying interview.

Monday, 8:45 p.m.
ABC-KECA

WHEN Jackie Robinson decided to quit baseball after last season, it was the many letters he got from parents and children pleading with him not to that changed his mind. His Saturday radio broadcast on ABC (heard here on Mondays) has attracted bigger and better audiences, nine-tenths children. His own relaxation comes with playing with three-year-old Jackie, Jr. For the past two years he has worked with the YMCA as a youth counselor, a job which he eventually plans to make full-time. In his spare time, he visits children's hospitals and charity wards and answers letters that the youngsters write him. He wants to devote his life to making children happy, healthy and good citizens.

In Hollywood to make "The Jackie Robinson Story," the famed athlete had given ten interviews, posed for seven picture layouts, read the movie script and familiarized himself with the studio in the first four days. A Pasadena boy, Jackie was headlined for his exploits at UCLA between '39 and '41. Football, basketball and the broad jump won him three letters and national attention. He played baseball only one year in order to make his fourth letter. "I batted .063," he laughs, "and if you don't know what that means—it isn't good."

Reveals Plans for Future Based on Service*

By Joan Buchanan

Always interested in boys' club work, Jackie joined a Negro ball club in order to get to the East to make contacts. He was shocked at the conditions under which the players were forced to live and determined to get into the big leagues. History was made when Jackie, the first Negro to crack the color line in our national game, was signed by the Dodgers. Voted the most valuable player in the National League last season, Jackie has more than lived up to the faith that Dodger boss Branch Rickey has had in him. And with all his success, Robinson has never for a moment forgotten his original ambition, to point the way to good citizenship for unfortunate children.

The Right Way

"Just letting the kids know that there is someone interested in them means so much," he emphasizes. He works on their tremendous interest in sports to pull them "the right way," as he calls it. If a small boy tells Jackie that he wants more than anything to be a big-league ball player, Jackie will point out that first of all he must have a good education and learn to take care of his body, being careful not to smoke or drink while he is growing. He stresses the importance of team play and even credits his own success as a player to belonging to a great ball club. He knows that the youngster may forget his ambition as he grows older, but that whatever good habits may have been instilled along the way will become ingrained.

After appearing on many interview programs on both radio and television, including an appearance with the late Bill Robinson on the Milton Berle show, Jackie decided that his work with children could be aided with a program of his own. In the same spirit he granted the filming of his life story by producer Mort Briskin for Eagle-Lion films. He has felt no qualms of stage-fright in either his radio or movie chores. "Just one more challenge," he smiles.

His small son, Jackie Jr., a three-year-old bundle of spirit and energy, accompanied him to Hollywood. His daughter, Sharon, four weeks old at the time of this interview, stayed in New York with Mrs. Robinson. Tiny Jackie wants to be a baseball player during ball season, according to his father. Since watching the Western films on video, however, he has a new ambition—he'd like to be an Indian.

Answer 20 Questions

All the Things That TV Fans Have Wanted To Know (and Some of the Things They've Never Thought of) Kuklapolitans Answer.

Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 7:00 p.m.
NBC-KNBH, Channel 4

1. What are you made out of?

Fran: "Sugar and spice and everything nice."

Ollie: "Let me see—well, when I was a little boy my father used to say, 'Oh, that Oliver, he's all Dragon'—so I guess I'll say I'm all Dragon and a yard wide."

Kukla (answered by Fran and Ollie): "Tablespoon of worry, a bushel of sweetness, a cupful of ginger, a large portion of thoughtfulness, fifty barrels of seriousness and a carload of humor."

Burr Tillstrom: "Well, I'm stuffed with cotton and I work on strings."

2. Ollie, have you ever been in love?

Ollie: "Hmm-mmh, yes. I have been in love. I am in love. I very likely will be in love for a long time."

Kukla: "Who with?"

Ollie: "None of your business."

Fran: "He's in love with love."

3. How did you all meet Burr Tillstrom?

Kukla: "He came backstage in a show I was doing."

Fran: "I met him doing a bond

April 21, 1950

show during the war."

Ollie: "I met him in Chicago."

4. Where did the rest of the cast come from?

Buelah Witch: "I was one of many girls and we all went to school. I graduated with a Master's Degree from Witch Normal." (Buelah refused to continue without receiving a prize.)

Madame Ooglepuss: "Used to be an opera singer and voice teacher."

Fletcher: "My name is Fletcher Rabbit. I was performing in a road company of 'Hansel and Gretel.' Buelah and I were working the show together. That's where I came from."

Cecil Bill (answered by Ollie): "He's our stagehand; he came in one day when it was raining and he just stayed."

5. Ollie, is your real name Ollie or is that only your stage name?

Ollie: "My real name is Oliver Dragon. Ollie is only my stage name, my pseudonym, my nickname."

6. Who does your make-up and costumes?

Kukla: "We all have a little hand in it, but our supervisor, Joe Lockwood, whom you seldom see, helps us."

7. How old are each of you?

Fran: "I'm as old as Ollie."

Ollie: "I'm as old as Kukla."

Kukla: "I'm younger than springtime."

8. Do any of you ever say the others' lines by mistake?

Ollie: "He better not try saying any of my lines." (At this point there was a short scuffle and Kukla gave a sharp scream of pain.)

9. What do you all do for relaxation or for hobbies?

Fran: "I read and knit."

Ollie: "I sing sometimes and sometimes I take a hot bath. Other times I specialize in spring dancing."

Kukla: "I don't relax. Sometimes I just go to sleep."

Ollie: "He's so tense."

Kukla: "I asked Burr what his hobby was and he says he's thinking of taking up puppetry."

Ollie: "It's so hard on the hands."

10. Is Fran the first girl you've had in the act?

All: "Act? Who does an act? They got mixed up on that question."

11. Ollie, how do you take care of your tooth?

Ollie: "I brush it four times daily with my special brushes."

12. How has success changed your life?

Ollie: "Who's successful?"

Fran: "I used to get up at eight and now I have to get up at six."

Kukla: "I used to just go home, now I have to go home and answer letters."

13. Do you ever get any letters from famous people?

Kukla: "I got a letter from Gladys Swarthout today."

Ollie: "I got a letter from my mother. And Mary Martin wrote to me and sent me a picture that said 'To Ollie, that wonderful guy, with love.'"

Fran: "I got a letter from H. Allen Smith."

Kukla: "And Milt Caniff and Fred Waring and Ezio Pinza..."

14. What famous figure would you like to meet?

Ollie: "I'd like to meet Lou Gommovitz."

Fran: "You've already met him—he's our producer."

Ollie: "I'd like to meet him again."

Kukla: "I'd like to meet President Truman."

Ollie: "And Bess."

Fran: "Who?"

Ollie: "Mrs. Truman."

Fran: "That's better. How about Margaret?"

Ollie: "We could sing a duet. Oh, I'd like to meet everybody in the world!"

15. How much of your act is written down?

Kukla: "There's that word again—this isn't an act."

16. Did you meet with any parental objections when you went into the theater?

Kukla: "Oh, no."

Fran: "My mother practically drove me out of the house when I was ten."

Ollie: "My mother wanted me to go on the stage."

17. Do you contemplate moving the program to New York or Hollywood?

"Am I to Blame for Disc Jockeys?"

*Another Side of the Record Controversy
Story From the Viewpoint of an Insider*

WHEN bands were booked into the Palomar, I, as its exploitation manager, bought records and albums and took them to the five disc jockeys on the Los Angeles scene: Don Otis at KLAC, Carl Bailey, then at KRKD, Jack the Bellboy on KFVD, Al Jarvis on KFVB and Mel La Mon, who did "Yellow Cab Cabaret" on KFAC. My simple plan was that the jockeys would play the band's records, people would hear them and head for the Palomar to dance. I thought the jockeys would flip, they were so amazed. "Can the Palomar afford to do this?" some of them asked.

In those days the record problem was no problem. The station usually made a tie-up with a music store—we'll plug your store if you supply the records for our programs. Some of the tiny stations still do this. Often the late-at-night disc jockeys were merely guys stationed alone out in the sticks to night-watch the transmitter. No one thought of them as important enough to pressure into playing this or that in order to plug a client.

The scene changes to 1945 and I come back to Hollywood after the war to take up record exploitation again—but what a change! There were at least eighteen disc jockeys and another being born every minute. They got (and still get) between thirty-five and forty free records a week. We had brought on and nurtured a situation locally that had gotten out of hand—and the same thing that has developed in the same ratio everywhere else in the U.S. A lot has been written in the trade papers about the jockeys making or breaking a record or an artist while actually knowing nothing about music—that the band business has reached its present low because disc jockeys stopped playing instrumentals and made stars out of the band singers—that the jockeys are throwing their weight around and are too impressed with their own importance.

If so, I'm partly to blame for passing those free albums and records around. The jockeys get many more records than they can play on their show. Sometimes a "Rag Mop" or "Chattanooga Shoe-Shine Boy" will come along and all the record companies will rush to get their artists to record it and into the hands of the local disc jockeys, and the boys will wind up with five records of five singers doing the same tune. The jockeys have found out that they can't satisfy everyone and some of them have stopped trying to please anyone.

Too Much Music

Additionally, the output of the record companies has increased so tremendously since 1939 that I can't even estimate the amount. There is so much music on the air now that the better it is the less chance it stands of being played. That sounds contradictory? Take Mrs. Average Housewife, who listens to her favorite disc jockey with half an ear. He's grinding out the tunes one after the other and Mrs. A.H. barely hears them. Suddenly, a song with a gimmick or a few tricks comes along—that attracts her attention. She listens because the trick can make an immediate impression, regardless of what the tune is actually like. A beautiful ballad is easily lost in the shuffle of the novelties and gimmicks.

Each record company has a budget for exploitation of its product. If the budget happens to be small, a lot of disc jockeys are not going to get free copies of the records. The record-company man will make an attempt to get the discs to the guys with the biggest audiences. The other jockeys, asked why they haven't played a certain record, will reply, "I didn't get a copy." Three sources supply records gratis, the publisher of the music, the record company and the exploitation man who represents the artists. Sometimes I give out two copies to each jockey—one to go in the station library, one to spin. Actually, it's possible for the jockey to receive five records of the same person singing the same tune. The jockey has a legitimate story on his side and so have the record companies. The giveaway has got to stop somewhere—and when it does, some jock won't get some record.

Some of the boys discover a tune, build it up and kill it—you can credit them with the whole operation. It's no news that a novelty can be killed overnight. The fan clubs do their bit to add to the evil. They hear a new disc sung by their star and immediately they are on the phone to the stations, demanding to hear the record. It may be a lousy record, but the jockey will play it if the public demand warrants it. Organized fan clubs pushing a star and public demand, however, are not the same thing.

I actually don't think that many disc jockeys have a personal axe to grind. Here and there throughout the country there are jocks who have gotten tunes of their own recorded, and naturally they push these if they can. Only where personalities are closely entwined do the clashes occur. If a jockey doesn't like a song plugger and doesn't like the tune he's pushing either, he won't play it. If, however, he likes the guy and the artist, he'll still play a tune he doesn't like himself. If I know that a jockey just doesn't like the sound of my client's voice, I don't antagonize him by insisting that it's his duty to play my client's record. I know that one guy not playing it isn't going to make that much difference. (Look at Sammy Kaye and Guy Lombardo records—the jockeys very seldom play them and yet they sell just as many copies of tunes as the artists that are plugged by the jockeys.)

With all the overlapping of exploitation and the plethora of music and records that stack up on a jockey's desk, there are bound to be involvements somewhere. Recently, a station manager remonstrated with his disc jockeys—who the heck were all these characters running in and out all day with records? It was taking up valuable time and disrupting the office routine. It was, of course, the various pluggers and exploitation men, enthusiastic as ever. One of the girls in the record library decided to figure out just what the contribution of the "characters" amounted to. She discovered that the station had effected what amounted to a retail saving of between twenty-five and thirty thousand dollars worth of records! That's a lot of shellac—maybe it's too much.

I would like to marvel at the oft-repeated complaint anent the quality of the advertising gems freely flung at us . . . here we have programs of great merit on occasion delivered to us absolutely free of cost. True, they are loaded with advertising matter of varying degree from pleasure-giving to displeasure-giving, but taken by and large, what can one expect? All that flood of entertainment sans speck?

Having this in mind, it has occurred to me that it might be good to establish a Radio Advertisers Week in which listeners and advertisers would give each other full attention . . . it would give recognition to the sponsors and enable them to consider the effect of their far-flung words, and if necessary, tone down the phraseology employed. In my opinion, every benefit should not go unrecognized. Who can deny the benefits received from the greater majority of programs?

I would like also to have an annual Station Week, honoring in particular those stations which provide enjoyable music round the clock. Without wishing to be partial, I must say that KFAC is a source of great joy to many listeners.

Miss M. A. Morrissey, 1758 Sixth Street, Santa Monica, Calif.

Some time ago I read an article in your magazine about "The Hour of St. Francis," on KLAC, Sunday, 8:45 p.m. This is the most inspirational program that I have ever listened to on the radio and I want to thank you for bringing such fine entertainment to my attention.

Lillian Ingle, 1934 East Fourth Street, Long Beach, Calif.

More about Mercedes McCambridge. I was one of those who wrote a dislike for the quality of her voice and I still feel the same. I cannot listen to her on the radio . . . have tried to concentrate on a program with her but all I hear is her unusual voice. Now Miss McCambridge in motion pictures is quite a different story. She is a very good actress and because of this one cannot help but forget all else about her. Her voice seems to make little difference and to be in the background as one watches with great interest her fine acting ability.

Name and address withheld, Los Angeles, Calif.

I'm a radio fan and a weekly reader of your magazine and this is the first time I've written a letter of this sort. I feel there are many excellent programs on the air and that many of the smaller and independent stations have wonderful shows like "Memory Lane," KXLA, 10:30 p.m., and several other good disc-jockey shows. Personally, I feel we do not have enough good organ music and was sorry that Bob Mitchell was not retained after last summer's replacement.

Three cheers for Mercedes McCambridge . . . she was fine on "Hollywood Bylins."

Irene Bakley, address withheld, Los Angeles, Calif.

I was at the "Hollywood Music Hall" when they had the "Mellomen" on the show and I honestly believe that this quartet should be on more. Their style is different and their manners toward their fans are outstanding. It is very seldom we hear a group like them. Never have I heard such a blend of voices . . . my thanks to producer Cliff Howell for having this quartet on his show and I hope he'll have them back again real soon.

Eli Waldman, 2645 Vineyard Avenue, Los Angeles 16, Calif.

I "Point with Pride" to the March 19 broadcast of "California Caravan." I think this program was expertly written and dramatized. A lot of credit in particular should go to Michael Hayes, Ed Max, Virginia Gregg and Leo Cleary. This program already has the reputation for being of particular value to young people for its historical presentations which are both interesting and educational. Last, but not least, a salute to Lou Holzer and Bob Purcell.

Mrs. Jean Rath, 1312 Westminster Avenue, Alhambra, Calif.

I'm appalled to think that a fine show like Garry Moore's had to leave the air for lack of a sponsor when "Nona from Nowhere," a monstrosity from start to finish, has one. From theme, commercial to story, it is nauseating and should never have been permitted. We wrote cards for Garry Moore and wished we could hear his full hour every day . . . the afternoons were most refreshing with the line-up for Garry, Steve Allen and Arthur Godfrey. Now we miss Garry.

E. S. Waldman, address withheld, Los Angeles, Calif.

It seems to me that such a long-standing program as the "Lux Radio Theater" should give credit to the top men who aid in putting on the show each week. William Keighley, the producer, Lou Silvers, the musical conductor are the only ones who received credit, although sometimes the adapter is mentioned.

Why not give credit to Fred MacKaye, who directs the program, and the over-all supervision of Cornwell Jackson. Without strict supervision and direction, I don't think the show could come off as well as it has.

Fred MacKaye was recipient of a Radio-TV Life Distinguished Achievement Award and is subject of an upcoming feature story.

Your Cue (Shows You May Like)

"Dimension X"

Science-fiction fans, your day has come as far as radio networks are concerned. All networks are planning such shows, and first to the post is NBC with "Dimension X," KFI, 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

The first story was an adaptation of "The Outer Limit," a recent Saturday Evening Post yarn set in the year 1965. A test pilot in a new rocket ship returns to Earth (they always capitalize it in science-fiction lore) with a tale of space-men who will destroy us if we explode a new type bomb. The Earth-men do and whether or not our planet is destroyed is left to the imagination of the listeners.

The following week, the broadcast concerned the work of "humanoids" in the year 2006. Humanoids are efficient robots invented to take nasty work off Earth-men's hands. This story, too, pointed out the fallacy of such super-science thinking.

"Dimension X" should please all science-fiction fans mightily and intrigue the rest of the slow old 1950-model listeners. Production is excellent—music and sound effects are appropriately eerie. Norman Rose is the weekly host of the program and a different cast is used in each thirty-minute drama of the future.

It seemed odd to us that the present is so neglected in this series, though the creators may be planning something about it on future programs. Enough is happening in 1950 in this vein to puzzle and interest listeners. At any rate, the time is ripe for Orson Welles and his "Men from Mars" to make a comeback just like Dixieland and vaudeville.

"Strictly From Dixie"

This show takes us back to our adolescence when we sternly collected 1000 signatures attached to a statement begging the "Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin Street" to stay on the air. We were too far ahead of our time; "Lower Basin" went off and never did return. But now, Dr. Henry Levine with "Strictly from Dixie," practically the same show, has been swept back on the tide of approval that has suddenly struck Dixieland music whether mickey-moused like the Firehouse Five or played like the real McCoy.

"Strictly from Dixie," KECA, 8:00 p.m. Monday, is the real McCoy, or the real-est that could occur on a radio network. Recently, the original "Lower Basin Street" vocalist, a gal by the name of Dinah Shore, guested on the new program and reminisced about the old show (didn't mention our petition, though). She revealed that the page, Dick Charles, who wrote "Mad About Him Blues" for her is now producer of the program and that most of the musicians are back in their chairs. Dinah was sweet and nostalgic about her affection for the

NEXT WEEK

Pictures and personalities are to be found in profusion, come next week's edition of Radio-Television Life.

Tex "The Western Sinatra" Williams is our man on the cover, and inside you'll find him and his gang the subject of a happy story.

Radio's long-lived "Telephone Hour" is spotlighted in an anniversary report on the famous program, with rare photos right out of the pages of the show's own scrapbook.

One of our magazine's favorite features of all, "Flashbacks," is continued with two more pages of precious old photos to treasure.

One of your favorite shows, "Queen for a Day," the video version, is pictured and discussed in another feature.

And, in addition to Tex, personalities profiled are the delightful ZaSu Pitts and wonderful Hilo Hattie.

Plus "Seen on the Radio and Video Scene" candidals!

Yes, you'll love the pictures and much enjoy meeting the people in our forthcoming issue. That's next week. Don't miss it!

gang and its music. New vocalist, Mary Lou Harp, did a bang-up version of "Mad About Him Blues" in tribute to Dinah.

If you're one of the 1000 who signed our original petition, you don't have to be told what the program is like. If not, rest assured that it's one of the better examples of Dixieland, that Dr. Levine is astute on the clarinet and that Charles Woods' introductions are as ringing as those done for the Boston Symphony. And you'll hear such dearly beloved old classics as "Muskrat Ramble," "Original Dixieland One-Step," etc. Oddly enough, this group doesn't use a fire siren on the second chorus of "That's A-Plenty."

Playbacks (Critical Comment)

We Point With Pride

... To "Dinner at Eight" presented by the Actor's Company on CBS Easter Sunday. Top theatrics by Rosalind Russell, fine legit acting by Otto Kruger, pathos and drama by Charles Boyer and Dorothy McGuire, characterization by John Garfield and comedy by Paul Douglas and Jan Sterling. Plus the fine direction of Fred McKaye. What more can you ask?

... To Art Tatum's guest shot on the Steve Allen show. The great pianist played "Someone to Watch Over Me" and "Yesterdays" in his amazing manner for an audience that appreciated every note. Especially interesting was Tatum's revelation that the two pianists who most inspired him were Fats Waller and Lee Sims, the latter recently featured in our "Flashback" series.

... To the return for a guest appearance of Jerry Colonna on the Bob Hope show. We haven't heard such audience laughs since the last time Jerry appeared.

... To the fine, full-blown melodramatics of Mutual's "I Love a Mystery." The adventures of "Jack," "Doc" and "Reggie" take us back to our early radio-listening days with their mysteries replete with hair-raising screams, mysterious "enemies," banging shutters and ghostly footsteps. And no psychology.

... To the Hollywood Bowl Easter Services, broadcast with dignity and beauty in spite of the raindrops that plopped on the microphone.

... And to another charming guest appearance by Gloria Swanson, this time on "Twenty Questions," intriguing audience, listeners and Herb Polesie alike.

... To Ezio Pinza's dramatic singing-acting performance in the "Death of Boris" scene from "Boris Godunov" on the "Telephone Hour's" tenth-anniversary program. And the next day we read in a Hollywood chatter column that it wasn't generally known, but Pinza had lost his voice. The rest of the Metropolitan stars should lose their voices like that!

... To Olivia de Havilland's repetition of her remarkable performance in "The Snake Pit" on "Lux Radio Theater." A difficult enough role to enact in front of a camera, it seems an extraordinary feat to recreate it before a microphone set-up, sans sets and make-up. And Leo Genn makes such an entrancing psychiatrist that we still wish he'd married the heroine!

... To Frank Fontaine as "John L. P. Silvon," the sweepstakes winner on the Jack Benny show.

We View With Alarm

... The regulars who are still turning up with regularity on the audience-participation shows. One of them, a Brooklynite, has become as familiar to us as Arthur Godfrey or Bing Crosby. We're surprised that she doesn't become as well known to the emcees.

... People on audience-participation programs who pick categories that they know nothing about. We've visited some of the programs and seen that they often do have a selection of subjects from which the contestants may choose. So we're still wondering why some jasper will pick "Famous Songs" and then be unable to identify even "Swanee River."

... Commercials that are so ridiculous that the listening audience can hear the studio audience trying not to laugh. Having an actress walk up to a mike as a show is fanfared on the air and exclaim, "Oo-oo! Nasty dandruff!" or something equally poetic, deserves a laugh and often gets it.

... Commercials that require a $10,000-a-week guest star to come on after the show and say, "Yes, I am never without Blank's soap chips. I've used them for years," while the audience mentally calculates how many years it's been since the star has had to wash so much as a hanky hem.

... All the young actresses who feel they must strain their throats in order to sound like Tallulah Bankhead or speak on the intake of breath in order to sound like Margaret Sullavan. Many of them only manage to sound as if they had just come off the "People Are Funny" talking derby.

... The attempt on "International Airport" to recreate the piano-playing of Herman Chittison and the acting of Staats Cotsworth of "Crime Photographer" in like scenes. For a while last week we thought that "Photographer" had magically appeared on another station, so close was the imitation.

On Mike (About Studio Happenings)

Godfrey Made It

Arthur Godfrey finally managed to get through a barbershop-type harmony treatment of "Dear Old Girl" with Bing Crosby and Perry Como on CBS's "Bing Crosby Show" recently, but it was tough going. In the trio's first rehearsal of the song, Godfrey broke into laughter in midstream when John Scott Trotter, the show's portly maestro, a man who perspires considerably while batoning, draped a towel around his neck. The combination of the sad song and the towel broke Godfrey up. Second time around, Godfrey was doing fine until, during one of his solo lines, Bing cast an affectedly pained glance in Arthur's direction. Godfrey burst into laughter again. I just can't go through with it when Crosby gives me that look," he chuckled. "I'm suffering," replied Bing. The third rehearsal, fortunately, went off without a hitch, as did the actual broadcast.

Prize Questions

Can you answer these five questions, for which contestants won a total of $11,370 in cash for five couples on NBC's "Break the Bank" since the first of the year?

- (1) What two famous movie stars, who have been seen often together as lovers on the screen, starred in "The Keeper of the Flame"?
- (2) What was the name of the president who was the father of the first child to be born in the White House, September 9, 1893?
- (3) What is the capital of Uruguay?
- (4) In what year did George Washington lay the cornerstone of the building which still stands today as the Capitol of the U.S.?
- (5) What well-known six-foot actor

The answers: (1) Katherine Hepburn and Spencer Tracy ($1,800); (2) Grover Cleveland ($1,450); (3) Montevideo ($1,500); (4) 1793 ($1,000); (5) Raymond Massey ($5,620).

Off Mike (Personalities)

Along Radio Row

We walked by the NBC artists' entrance the other day and saw a big mobile truck parked at the curb. Radio and television personalities disappeared in one door and emerged out of another a few moments later. Turned out to be the Los Angeles County TB and Health Association mobile chest-X-ray unit, giving free X rays to all who were interested in the fight against TB. Walter Woolf King, emcee-host of "Lights, Camera, Action," Walter Grauman, the producer; Lurene Tuttle and announcer Hal Gibney were among those "looking pretty" for the X ray, Jimmy Durante roaring with laughter over his X ray—still don't know why it struck him so funny.

... Visiting with Norma Jean Nilsson and her mother in Wil Wright's ice-cream emporium. Norma Jean showed us her wallet and it may interest Jack Carson to know that he shares honors in the picture section along with Mrs. Nilsson and Norma Jean's collie, Caesar. ... Oddest experience of the week—sitting in the corridor at CBS reading in a gossip column that poor Lucille Ball had lost her voice, while blasting in our ear is Lucy's voice as she rehearses her lines for "My Favorite Husband." ... Thinking how last year Shirley Gordon of the Radio-TV Life office decided to interview Mercedes McCambridge, made a call to her home, got her on the phone and did the story the next day. The other day, Shirley tried it again and so far has talked to ten people, each one passing her one step nearer Mercedes.

... Visiting the Beverly Hills Hotel last week to see the "Original Amateur Hour" gang, we were struck by the unusual gloom of the place. Later learned that Walter Huston had died the night before in his suite. Our first thought was how glad we were that we'd heard his last broadcast on "Theater Guild" several weeks ago. He played his famous role of "Mr. Scratch," the devil in "The Devil and Daniel Webster," and we can still hear his final lines in the play: "Wonder who I can make a bargain with next? You—how about you out there?"

Speak Up

Bill Conrad, a highly competent actor, was called in to replace Gerald Mohr last week for the "Philip Marlowe" show, because the latter had not fully recovered from surgery.

It so happens that Mohr is tall and slender, while Conrad is rather plump and none too tall.

During the rehearsal an angular actor who was playing the heavy opposite Conrad gave such a sinister interpretation of his role that the producer, Norman Macdonnell, was moved to suggest that he soften the portrayal somewhat, so Conrad could still control the situation.

"All right," said the heavy, "I'll play him flabby."

And this remark prompted another actor, sitting on the sidelines, to say, "I told you before that you were playing him too tall."

"President" to Washington

Edward Arnold, ABC's "Mr. President," will be a step closer to the White House when he entrains to Washington for participation in ceremonies marking the Sesquicentennial founding of our nation with President Truman, Vice-President Barkley and other Washington dignitaries.

One of the highlights of the celebration will be Arnold's delivery of a patriotic oration, backed by the music of the four U. S. service bands.

Edwards Snappy Dresser

Ralph Edwards, NBC emcee, has been named the best-dressed man in radio in the annual survey made by the Custom Tailors Guild of America, and was cited for his "imaginative use of contrasting colors which spotlight his exuberant personality at or away from a mike."

'Homer's' Mother to Rome

Mrs. Kelk, mother of Jackie, who portrays "Homer" on NBC's "Aldrich Family," leaves this month with Cardinal Spellman and a group for a Holy Year visit to Rome.

Pit & Podium

By JOAN BUCHANAN

Since anticipating the zither boom, occasioned by the music in the British film, "The Third Man," I've been interested enough to go into the American zither situation. In the great New York local 802 of the Musicians Union, there are only nine zither players listed and some of them hadn't worked for years. A Sunset Strip night spot actually advertised in the trade papers for zither players. Frank DeVol, musical director of the program that CBS insists is called "The Jack Smith-Dinah Shore-Margaret Whiting Show," instituted a search for a zither player when he programmed the "Third Man" theme on the series. He found one Franz Gottschalk, a zither expert who had given up his card in the Musicians Union because of lack of work opportunities. Back in demand, he's back in the business.

Responsible for all this stringed excitement is, of course, the little Middle-Europa musician, Anton Karas, who played his tune within hearing of British director Carol Reed and Orson Welles. The poverty-stricken artist boomed himself and his instrument to fame overnight. At present, Karas is in this country, ready to embark upon a concert tour. His English is confined to the one word "hello"—but that doesn't interfere with his music-making.

Even more than zithers, Dixieland is back. My brother says that be-bop did more than anything else to popularize it. A group of some of the best two-beaters in the business can be heard in concert on Sunday afternoons at 2:30 at the Florentine Gardens on Hollywood Boulevard. Such artists as Jess Stacy, Stan Wrightsman, Lou McGarrity, Nick Fatool and Matty Matlock (both from the Crosby show) have been heard in recent weeks. Impresario is Bernie Billings, tenor-sax man. Many of the musicians are from the top radio bands and you hear them nightly without realizing it.

Jellied Apricot Salad

(You'll love this)

- 1 No. 2 can apricots
- 1/3 c. chopped pecans
- 1 orange
- 1/2 c. chopped dates
- Mayonnaisse
- Whipped cream
- 1/2 c. seedless raisins
- 1/2 maraschino cherries
- 1 pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin

Drain apricots well from juice. Measure juice and to it add enough water to make one and three-quarters cups liquid.

Heat to the boiling point and pour over gelatin, stirring until dissolved. Let chill.

When just about ready to set add apricots that you have diced, orange sections with all membrane removed and cut in cubes, dates, nut meats, cherries sliced, then pour into individual molds and chill thoroughly.

Serve in lettuce cups, the edges of which have been just lightly dipped in paprika, and add half mayonnaisse and half whipped cream as a dressing. Do not completely cover salad with the dressing, but just a portion of it.

RECORD

Notes to You

By ANDY MANSFIELD

(Hear Andy and Virginia, KMPC, Monday-Friday, 6:00-7:00 a.m.)

BEST RENDITIONS ON WAX THIS WEEK: Kay Starr's "Hoop-Dee-Do" (Capitol) . . . Billie Holiday's "God Bless the Child" (Decca) . . . Art Tatum's piano solos (Capitol) . . . and Lu Watters' Yerba Buena Jazz Band and "Weary Blues" (Mercury) . . . What with pop novelties stealing the scene with melodies deliberately lifted from folk music, classics, and standards of yesterday, here is one reviewer who isn't going to stick his neck out on the prediction that "Santa Lucia," Drigo's "Serenade," and the rest will or will not become popular under their new titles. After all, who is Mansfield to say that "Little Angel, Little Darlin'" isn't such a hot tune when thousands have cheered its rendition at the Met? . . . By the way, "Little Darlin'" used to be the famous Quartet from "Rigoletto"! This is song writing? . . . Paul Weston's Orchestra (Capitol) has a great pair of big-band Dixieland specials in "Panama" and "Original Dixieland One-Step" that'll remind you ver' much of Bob Crosby's swingsters of 1937. Similarity of Weston and Crosby arrangements suggests they were scored by the same arranger, probably Matty Matlock. . . . Martha Tilton back on Coral wax with "I've Got a Heart Filled With Love" and "Ask Me No Questions," both on a Western novelty kick and from Martha they sound good, but then, anything this Liltin' Gal does is good listenin'. . . . Dick Haymes, to Gordon Jenkins's customary fine backing, comes up with a fine pair of standards in "Ol' Man River" and "The Song Is You" on Decca's unbreakable series. "River" has an especially showy arrangement which greatly complements the Haymes rendition. . . . Ray Anthony Orchestra (Capitol) offers a contrasty pair of discs in the muted-brass, singing-sax-styled "Count Every Star" and the "Darktown Strutters' Ball," a hell-for-leather two-beater in the current Dixieland mode. Watch this band this year! . . . Ralph Flanagan (RCA-Victor) is another maestro to be reckoned with, especially when it comes to tunes like "Spring Will Be a Little Late This Year" and the rhythmic spiritual instrumental, "Joshua." . . . Tony Martin's re-issues on Decca are some of the best this lad ever made. Especially effective are Tony's early cuts of "Perfidia" and "Flamingo." (P.S. . . . Don't be surprised if MGM's top vocalist switches to the Capitol label. . . . A.M.)

"AMERICA'S MOST INFLUENTIAL WOMEN"

Five women voted "America's most influential" have been awarded gold medallions by NBC's Mary Margaret McBride. The honors went to Eleanor Roosevelt, Emily Post, Sister Elizabeth Kenny, Clare Booth Luce and Dorothy Thompson.

WRITING CALIBER UP

William Spier, who edits as well as produces CBS's "Suspense," claims that the caliber of writing throughout the country has gone up tremendously in the past decade. He bases his observation on the scripts that pour into his office from free-lance writers all over the country.

GAGS OF THE WEEK

F. Schulein, Box 3415, Los Angeles 53, Calif.
 Heard on the Arthur Godfrey Show:
 Robert Q. Lewis: There are only two ways of being a great success on television. Either being a wrestler or a puppet!

Tom Verdugo, 1343 Melross Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.
 Heard on the Bing Crosby show:

Crosby: Jimmy, after your wedding I hope you weren't too bashful to kiss your bride.

Stewart: Oh, I'll say not. After the ceremony I stood in line like everybody else...went around six times!

Mrs. C. D. McClenathen, 1217 South Highland Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.

Heard on "My Friend Irma":

"Mr. Clyde": What's this bill amounting to fourteen dollars for transportation for, Irma?

"Irma": The other day when you told me to run around the block I took a taxi instead!

In & Out of Focus (General Comment)

Looks Like

Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis literally cut their TV audition last week in Chicago when they appeared on NBC-TV's mammoth East-Midwest show called "Saturday Night Revue" (part of the two-and-a-half-hour "Show of Shows." The "SNR" is the portion emanating from Chicago.) The pair are currently at work actually whipping up their own TV'er with the help of writers Charlie Isaacs and Harold Goodman. . . . KTLA's "Dixie Showboat" and "Hollywood Career" (formerly "Girls Only") are being syndicated by Paramount Television for national release. . . . Pilot Radio Corp., which makes those marvelous little Pilot Portable TV sets, has come up with the answer for harried parents whose children won't give it up till all channels darken. Their big new set has double doors that lock! . . . and Natalie Kalmus, in conjunction with Richmond Television Corporation, has come out with a marvelous line of video cabinets, built to accommodate the big new screens, and designed to fit any and all home decorating schemes to a "T". . . . According to a report by the Radio Manufacturers Association, all TV manufacturers are now moving into production of twelve inches or larger. Everybody wants 'em. . . . The Masquers, a group of venerable showmen from vaudeville, stage and movies (a parallel to the East's Lambs' Club) have packaged a video show which is currently being presented in the East for sponsorship. Format is dramatic and variety, and the Masquers is full of top names in both. . . . "The Clock" was snapped up by Emerson Radio just after Lever Bros. dropped it, and will continue on NBC-TV through the summer, alternating with "The Big Story." Show has been seen here on KNBH Wednesdays at 9:30 p.m. with no word of change. . . . Hoot Gibson is set to appear in person on KLAC-TV, each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Show will find Hoot prologuing for ten minutes with Gibson Westerns being serialized into twenty-minute periods following his appearance. . . . Milton Berle is now making Victor records. Of what, we don't yet know—and don't much care. We happen to like both his singing and yukking. . . . KTLA had to shift sixteen programs and days to accommodate the wrestling telecasts.

More Wrestling— More Trouble

The wrestlers, who bowed off television before because they felt telecasts hurt the gate, and thus their own percentage, trickled back for the KTLA Thursday sessions and KECA-TV Friday matches.

Almost immediately KLAC-TV offered wrestling from the Pasadena Arena every Monday night. Major difference is that MCA offered the KTLA and KECA-TV scraps at $4,000 each, while the independent operator who handles Pasadena includes time and talent in his $2,700 offer. Naturally everyone else concerned is screaming.

While the Pasadena operator, who owns his auditorium and feels he can authorize telecasting from there when, if and as he chooses, is so right, MCA has a contract with all the wrestlers.

MCA has suggested KLAC-TV pull out and avoid a fuss that is being set up by Ford and Hoffman Radio, who are picking up the chit on KTLA and KECA-TV, and who are pretty steamed not only over the fact that the KLAC-TV rassler package would go for $1300 less than they paid, but would constitute the third night, whereas they believed their two bought and paid-for mat nights would be the only two in the field.

They'll all probably get into the same old fuss, with all wrestling leaving the channels. This could get pretty dull.

Stop, Listen, Look (Shows You May Like)

"Music in the Morgan Manor"

KECA-TV's Wednesday night (8:30, Channel 7) "Music in the Morgan Manor" is just what the title implies, no matter how you read that "manor." It's Russ's same old manner of music, and the show is presumably laid in a combination living room, music room and den in the Morgan home, a gathering place for the orchestra leader's talented friends.

Russ and the whole crew who participated to make those popular records whose sale ran into the millions recreate the music for viewers; various guest stars put in appearances; and a nice air of informality reigns. One night recently we spied Joe Venuti behind a false beard that was later jerked so the hot violinist could get into the act almost as Joe Venuti. We say "almost" because Venuti never did get his violin up and start playing. A rather obvious omission—and one that served no purpose other than to disappoint the many fans of the musician-comedian.

Morgan recently inaugurated the policy of each week awarding an outstanding young person in the music field with a beautiful Crosley (his sponsor) television set. Little Toni Harper, the phenomenal colored singer not yet in her teens, was Morgan's first choice, and her performance was charming.

Morgan himself usually does a song with which he is closely identified, and you don't have to be a fan of either Morgan or the old tunes to enjoy his "nowhere" voice that is redeemed by absolute feeling and style.

The show can serve as an admirable example of how to utilize music for the visual. As a matter of fact, the show could easily be a simulcast—going out on the air as it does on the video channels . . . or could, we think, if a couple of the pretty girls who help on commercials and generally lend color were either taught how to speak or replaced by a more mellifluous-voiced bit of pulchritude.

(Benny Goodman is currently replacing Russ Morgan and his band for several weeks.)

Second Glances (Critical Comment)

"McMahan's Minstrels"

KTTV has allocated their middle of the week (9:00 p.m., Wednesday, Channel 11) to a lavish new show appropriately dubbed "McMahan's Minstrels," after sponsor McMahan's Furniture Stores.

McMahan's have gone "first class" in their production, with stars Tudy Williams, headline vocalist; Norwood Smith, handsome, rich-voiced baritone; song stylist Jack Powers, the Leonard Gordon chorus; comedians Peenie Elmo and Bud Harrison and interlocutor Tiny Stowe giving it everything they have.

Format allows for the Dixieland band (full band) to do its stuff, for vocalists, dance routines and gags galore, but it seems to us the title "Minstrels" is a misnomer. There are a lot of alliterative terms—musicmakers, musicians, musicale, merrymakers—that, we felt, would better have described the show, particularly as "McMahan's Minstrels" are (or were, for their first week,) almost immediately preceded on another station by a much more "minstrel" show held on a TV-station-built levee.

The commercials were presented in a fashion that showed honest effort toward integrating them. Possibly "integration" of commercials is intended to make them more pointed. A commercial is a commercial, and to us always as obvious as a sore thumb, and whether that is good or bad depends upon how grateful you are for the particular entertainment on view. We happen to be grateful to the McMahan show for a half hour of jolly musical comedy—despite our stubborn insistence that it isn't our idea of a minstrel show—so have nothing but chuckles over the commercials.

"Cole's Cozy Corner"

KECA-TV bowed in a musical-variety half hour (Channel 7, Wednesdays, 9:30 p.m.) starring Buddy Cole and Vonnie King (also known as Mrs. Buddy Cole and Yvonne King), and called "Cole's Cozy Corner."

The name was most appropriate. It seemed to us that half the time the conversation got so cozy viewers must have been lost. Husbands and wives invariably have little jokes and by-words that don't exactly fracture or enchant casual hearers, and in our case this was so true. Even the Coles' first guest, Hoagy Carmichael, went in for patter more than for piano-playing, and the latter is definitely Hoagy's forte.

Both Vonnie and Buddy are well known to music lovers—Buddy for his albums, accompaniments and solo performances on both organ and piano . . . Yvonne for her vocalizing as one of the King Sisters vocal quartet with Alvino Rey and Horace Heldt's bands, and for her own blonde loveliness.

The show is slated to go for twenty-six weeks, so any minor deficiencies, such as lack of interesting chatter subjects, can be cleaned up. The musical talent is there—plenty of it—and the two people parading it should be a drawing card.

BERG PLANS NOVEL

Gertrude Berg, creator of "The Goldbergs" on CBS and CBS-TV, has been signed by Simon and Schuster to write a novel based on her radio and television series.

Handy Hints

By Dorothy Gardiner and Keith Hetherington, stars of KTLA's "Handy Hints," Mon.-Fri., 6:45 p.m.

Each week we pick the best Handy Hint sent directly to Radio-Television Life, 6361 Selma Avenue, Hollywood 28, and use it, with your name and address, in this column as well as on the air over KTLA, Friday evening at 6:45. A lovely gift will be sent to everyone whose hint is used here as KTLA-Radio-TV Life Hint of the Week.

This week's winner is: Mrs. Mary R. Barron, 2413 Fairmount Avenue, La Crescenta, Calif. Her entry is:

Before cutting material that has a tendency to ravel, pin your pattern firmly on it, then mark around the pattern edge with a wax crayon. Cut on this line and the material will not ravel.

* * *

For the fishermen: Attach your boat lock key to a cork and if you happen to drop it in the water when fishing, it will not sink.

Rub your fingernails over a bar of soap before doing work in your garden. Your nails will be much easier to clean afterwards.

A painting hint: Punch a series of holes in the groove around the top of paint can, where the lid fits in, then when the excess paint is scraped off the brush it will run back into the can instead of running down the outside.

Save your egg shells and put them through your food grinder. Add to your garden to give lime to the soil.

Wrapped gift boxes will arrive in perfect condition if you cover the bow with a round oatmeal lid before wrapping for mailing.

Take a set of child's blocks with letters on them and use them for drawer pulls on their dressers or wardrobe. They can be fastened to the drawer by putting a screw through the drawer from the inside and screwing the block to it from the outside. You can pick out his initials from the blocks, using his nickname, full name or just initials. Use whatever fits on the number of knobs there are.

With June weddings so near, there are so many showers at this time. Here is a suggestion: Buy a hardwood rolling pin and have all the guests autograph it, with a dark pencil. Then have it coated with clear shellac. It makes a nice display in the china cabinet and is something the bride can be proud of.

Sorry!

ONLY PEOPLE CAN SHOOT HAWTHORNE

WE DON'T WANT TO SEEM UNREASONABLE, BUT BECAUSE OF THE UNPRECEDENTED DEMAND FOR OPPORTUNITY TO SHOOT HAWTHORNE, WE ARE OBLIGED TO LIMIT THE CONTEST TO PEOPLE.

HERE'S WHAT'S GOING ON

Music City, that gigantic but friendly music store at the corner of Sunset and Vine in Hollywood, is cooperating with Radio-Television Life to bring you this big, amusing, 8-week contest. The thing is now in its third week. Still time to win a television set!

HERE'S WHAT YOU DO

You simply take one or more pictures of Hawthorne off your television screen while he is on the air (Monday thru Friday, KLAC-TV) and send or bring it or them to Music City, Sunset & Vine. Use any kind of a camera. Catch a picture of a "most typically Hawthorne" pose or expression.

WONDERFUL PRIZES

For the most typical Hawthorne shot each week, Music City awards an RCA-Victor Record Player Attachment and $10 worth of Records!

For the best picture chosen from the eight weekly winners, Music City will award a new, 1950 Portable Motorola Television Set.

WONDERFUL JUDGES

The judges are lovely singer Kay Starr, band leader Harry James and photographer Howard Zieff.

WHAT! YOU DON'T OWN A TELEVISION SET YET???

Okay, bring your camera to MUSIC CITY, Sunset & Vine, and SHOOT HAWTHORNE there!

NOT TOO BIG OR NOT TOO SMALL. Keep your photos within the 2x3 or 11x14 sizes.

Follow the contest in this magazine each week and watch Hawthorne for winning pictures.

Tips to Photographers for Getting Best Pictures in the "Shoot Hawthorne" Contest

From Howard Zieff, chief of still photography, Television station KLAC-TV, Hollywood.

- 1—Wait for Hawthorne to hold still before you shoot. Don't try to catch him moving around.
- 2—Be sure your television screen presents a sharp, clear contrast at the time you shoot.
- 3—A gray image on the screen is better than a jet black, muddy one.
- 4—A tripod is essential, as the image tends to vibrate. Hand holding the camera will only add to such movement, causing a blur.
- 5—Best results will be had by shooting at a tenth of a second at f.8, using film that has the speed of 61 tungsten, such as super XX.
- 6—Be sure that your camera is exactly perpendicular with the screen.
- 7—DO NOT use flash or lights of any kind.
- 8—In focusing on the screen, get as large an image in your camera as possible.

FIRST WEEK'S WINNER:
GEORGE CHRISTENSON,
8941 SAN MIGUEL AVE.,
SOUTH GATE, CALIF.

Kukla: "No, but we'd love to come for a visit."

18. Ollie, what advice would you give to people who would like to have a head of hair like yours?

Ollie: "Brush your hair thoroughly and wash your hair thoroughly and get somebody like Kukla to comb it for you."

19. What are your favorite songs?

Fran: "We like the ones specially written for the program by Jack Fascinato."

20. What has been your most exciting moment in television?

Ollie: "October 13, 1947, the first moment that Kukla, Fran and Ollie banded together for the first time."

All: "And we haven't changed since!"

One More Challenge

at Vero Beach, Florida, for the Dodgers training season. This year he picked up little extra weight, but moaned as he recalled the '48 season when he gained so much that Leo Durocher ran him back and forth between first and second base until he was ready to drop. He reveals that he does get relaxation from playing ball now, although for the first couple of years it was a hard job. What are a big-league ball-player's emotions when he's playing an important game—isn't it natural to work up a good hate for the other team? Not at all, according to Jackie. "You don't have any love for them," he smiles, "and if they get in your way, you'll knock 'em over with no qualms. After the game is over, you're friends again. After all, you're all making a living together." Playing clean and hard and doing everything possible for the good of the game, is emphasized over and over again by Jackie.

What has been his biggest thrill during his baseball career? "The 1947 opening game of the World Series," he smiles reverently. "The entire Dodger team stood around third base and the Yankees grouped at first while the band played the national anthem. I was so full of pride that I nearly burst!"

Jack Bailey, emcee of Mutual-Don Lee's "Queen for a Day," received an unusual coronation when two women were chosen "Queens" for the first time in the program's history. Since there was only one crown, the "Queens" placed the jeweled tiara on Bailey's head.

More Ups Than Downs

And Hattie McDaniel Definitely Puts That Gal "Beulah" Way Up in the Ups

By B. J. Hammer

Monday-Friday, 9:30 p.m.
CBS-KNX

HATTIE MCDANIEL claims that her motto is "I ain't dead yet." Which is a masterpiece of understatement. She's equipped with enough vitality, ambition and talent for two. And it's carried her to the heights of her profession.

She's remembered as the first person of her race to win an Academy Award, an honor she received for her performance in "Gone With the Wind"—and for the past two years she's been "Beulah," a character which has become one of the best beloved on the air.

The reality of "Beulah" comes from within Hattie herself. She speaks of the cast as "a wonderful family." Ernie Whitmore, who plays her boy friend, she calls "Bill" even off mike. She even admits that she sent him a "Beulahish" Valentine last February 14. She once stayed up all night cooking in order to bring a celebration dinner to the studio for the whole cast and crew of the program.

Hard Work Ahead?

Hattie has had offers to be "Beulah" on television, too, but she doesn't see how she can do both versions at once. She hasn't even made a movie during her radio seasons, except during summer vacation time. "And eventually you get through with a movie," she sighs. Hattie did appear on the Ed Wynn show and had herself a fine time dancing and singing "Some of These Days."

Few realize it, but the comedienne is actually a radio pioneer. She thinks she may have been the first Negro girl singer on the air. In 1923 she was vocalist with George Morrison's orchestra and sang her songs into a horn.

She has always worked toward the goal of a successful career in show business, though there were times when she took menial employment to tide her over. On one occasion, she found a maid's job a shortcut to success. She was stranded in Milwaukee so she took a job as maid in the ladies' room at Sam Pick's Suburban Inn. One night a crowd of late-comers blew in, expecting entertainment with their dinner. The band had gone, the entertainers had gone. "Seems to me I heard that the maid sang," someone remembered. Hattie was invited onto the floor to sing. "I put on a fresh apron," she recalls, "and sang the 'St. Louis Blues.'" For three years, she headlined the floor show at the Inn, so resounding was her debut.

Hattie made her Hollywood debut in a Lloyd Hamilton comedy about Africa and worked in a Dorothy MacKaill movie for seven dollars as an extra. "Sometimes I used to think, 'If I don't get a break, I'll die!' But I didn't die," she laughs. In "Showboat," Hattie got her break. She appeared with Irene Dunne, Allan Jones and Paul Robeson in the film version of the famous musical and got another boost as the gum-chewing maid in Katharine Hepburn's "Alice Adams."

▲ "BEULAH" AND "Harry Henderson" discuss a household matter. Hattie always dresses in a crisp costume for her radio role. (CBS color cover by Eddie Braslaff.)

Tears and Triumph

Her biggest thrill came on the famed Academy Award night. Though she had been nominated, she didn't think she could win and didn't plan to attend the dinner. A studio executive called her up and said, "Hattie, I just have a feeling you'd better go." When Hattie was presented with her Oscar she couldn't hold back the tears, and as she made her way back to her seat she was stopped by Louella Parsons, who said, "Hattie, you've made me cry."

SOME PURE HOKE is demonstrated by Cliffie Stone, Herman the Hermit and Tennessee Ernie on their Saturday night session from El Monte. Tennessee's tooth is really not missing, it's just waxed over. (KLAC-TV-Howard Zielf photos.)

Saturday, 7:15 p.m.
KLAC-TV, Channel 13

SOME of the good old days when man, woman and child stomped their shoes to the rhythm of hoe-downs, laughed heartily at the homeliest of jokes and even got out on the soaped floor to show the greener generation a few fancy waltzes, have come back via video on KLAC-TV's "Hometown Jamboree."

With Cliffie Stone, host and maestro of the aggregation, Tennessee Ernie, Herman the Hermit, and tiny Bucky Tibbs (four feet, eleven inches, ninety pounds), the "Jamboree" rolls out the carpet at El Monte's Legion Stadium and for a full jolly hour shows folks how to spend a gala Saturday night, Western style.

"Hometown Jamboree"

By Gaye Howe

ADDING TO THE VOCAL varieties are Eddie Kirk and tiny (four-foot-eleven-inch) Bucky Tibbs. Eddie's name is popular in the Western field of music, but Bucky is a newcomer who was "discovered" by Cliffie at his Record Corral.

Excepting Bucky, who got her job as featured vocalist when Cliffie heard her accompanying some records at his Record Corral and decided she was plenty talented, the whole cast brings to the program a wealth of background in the Western music world.

Cliffie, the slightly shy emcee, got his start by tooting the tuba in Burbank High School's band. However, after marching all day in a parade with the big horn wrapped around him, Cliffie's ambition gave way to an instrument which he made sure he'd never have to tote on his back . . . the bass fiddle. His first paying job came with a Hawaiian trio. The boys, who thought they were about the luckiest musicians in the world, played five nights a week for three collars apiece. The job folded when Cliffie advanced to Stuart Hamblen's radio show in 1935.

Not Cut Out to Act

Although he turned in a few performances at Pasadena Playhouse, Cliffie admits they didn't bring out any thespianship so he kept on strumming the bass, with Freddie Slack at Slapsy Maxie's, and in Ken Murray's "Blackouts" of '42 and '43.

Stone claims he started rollin' in 1943 when he was signed as comedian and bass fiddler on CBS's "Hollywood Barn Dance." (He lasted as long as the show did . . . four and a half years.) The same year was also the beginning of his still popular "Wake-Up Ranch" on KFVD and a live talent program, "Hometown Jamboree" on KXLA, which is also aired from El Monte on Saturday nights.

Herman's Cliffie's Dad

One of the most enjoyed entertainers on the teleshow is Herman the Hermit, Cliffie's dad. The delightful bearded character is a seven-man band rolled into one and can get a musical note out of anything and everything imaginable, including battered frying pans and coffee percolators, all shapes and sizes. Herman's garage is reputed to be crammed with unique instruments that would make a junk dealer joyous.

Tennessee Ernie

Adding to the hilarious antics is Tennessee Ernie, popular recording star and Western entertainer, who once yearned to be an opera singer and even trained his talents at the Chicago Conservatory of Music. However, the second world war intervened, and after his discharge from the Air Corps, Tennessee (Ernie Ford) turned up announcing on KFXM in San Bernardino. Lately, Tennessee's name has become synonymous with "Mule Train," his most popular waxing to date.

Tennessee and Cliffie are the writers of "Smoky Mountain Blues," and recently when both boys' wives were "expecting," they penned "Anticipation Blues." Tennessee and his wife heralded their first-born, Jeffrey, a few months ago. Cliffie and his Mrs. (former vocalist Dorothy Darling of the "Aristocrats") will be passing out cigars this month for the third time . . . already there are six-and-a-half-year-old Steve and Linda Darling, who tops her brother by a year.

The rest of Stone's band includes accordionist Billy Liebert (who has performed in Detroit concerts and was formerly with Texas Jim Lewis); violinist Harold Hensley (used to be with the "Tobacco Tags" in the Deep South); Charlie Aldridge at the electric guitar (hails from Eggwah, Oklahoma, and was with Spade Cooley); steel guitarist Speedy West (nicknamed in jest because of his laconic personality); Al Williams at the bass (Al was once with Harry Sosnick's society orchestra); vocalist Eddie Kirk and drummer Johnny Powers. On the technical end of "Hometown Jamboree" are producer Milt Hoffman and director Joe Landis.

Their cracker-barrel type of entertainment is bound to appeal to the majority of viewers, whether they be cosmopolitans or straight from the hills. As Cliffie says, "We're just having a good time and want folks to share our fun."

ALWAYS THE CLOWN, TENNESSEE expresses bewilderment as emcee Cliffie tries to bring him into line. The fellows have also combined their talents in the songwriting field, having penned "Smoky Mountain Blues" and "Anticipation Blues."

DRESSED IN THEIR SUNDAY BEST, Cliffie, Tennessee and Eddie take time off from work for a bit of pleasantries. Check Cliffie's buckskin-fringed shirt for a classy note of Western garb.

KNBH, Channel 4

THE FAMOUS "LAUREL AND HARDY" series, while part of the great stock of old film KNBH procured, are feature films, run as a separate series one night a week. (Print from original film.)

THE EARS, THE DERBY and most especially the crossed eyes mark one of early filmdom's most famous . . . Ben Turpin. Lounging around in a lion skin he burlesqued all femmes fatale, or fleeing from ponderous women he represented all henpecked husbands. (Print from original film.)

BACK in the dim days when the pies thrown in comedy sequences were actually pies, and not sawdust-and-paste concoctions, a huge series of flickers were made starring some of the greatest actors and pantomimists of all times.

For some years art houses have featured these old reels as precious, infrequently shown bits of lost art. Professors have penned reverent articles about them. While they actually were comedies, they came to be regarded more as museum pieces.

Currently KNBH is presenting film from the greatest array of both sound and silent filmed comedies ever assembled for television. The series started last February, and Channel 4 has a full year's supply.

THE DARING BUNCH OF DARLINGS WHO MADE UP Mack Sennett's Bathing Girls must, alas! go unidentified for the most part. The beauty in the front, however, with the brocade suit and outstretched arms is Marie Prevost, who went on to become a De Mille star. One of her last movie roles was "Sin of Madeline Claudet," a Helen Hayes picture.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN AND BEN TURPIN POKE FUN at Leo White in a bit of one of the Chaplin silent comedies, "The Count." White only last year was making a comeback as a television packager and independent movie writer; but death took him. Before Ben Turpin's death about five years ago he served as Paramount gateman from time to time.

during the days when a studio visitor was as likely to run into a live lion around a movie set as he was a star, are Harry Langdon, Bert Lahr, Joe Cook, Andy Clyde, "Our Gang," Ben Turpin, Chester Conklin, Will Rogers, Fatty Arbuckle, the Keystone Kops, the Mack Sennett Bathing Beauties and myriads of others whose names spell the "Who's Who" of early motion pictures.

Each Monday and Friday night the familiar mustached face and lovable little figure of Charlie Chaplin, whose clock-like working of arms and legs has been imitated by two generations, is featured in one and two-reelers made as far back as 1916 and 1917. Some of the best-known of this series, "One A.M.," "The Count," "The Cure," "The Immigrant" and "The Pawnshop" belong to the off-the-cuff series of which twelve were made in twelve months. The legendary Mabel Normand, qualified as "one of the two women in pictures who could be both beautiful and funny," appears in many of these. Carole Lombard, the other of the respected femme duo, is featured in some of the Mack Sennett series shown.

One actor seen in the old films, peering innocently through horn-rimmed glasses as he raced through danger which today only a stunt man could handle, went on to distinguish himself as Harold Lloyd. Another prentice hand was a frozen-faced little fellow named Buster Keaton.

KNBH is wisely garnering the biggest audience possible for "Comedy Time" by presenting the films as straight comedy, slotted into an early hour when children rule the household television watching. Children need no reason underlying the antics of comedians. The fast-moving, fantastic footage, alive with pies in the face, house-scalings and a gentle art that always has been and is now known only as "prat-falls," delights kids. The lack of dialogue on the silents which are run seems to enhance. At the same time the station hooks adults who either "remember when," appreciate the series as the art form it has become, or who just want to see what is fracturing Junior.

In this day of keen competition for the newly popular old-time film, Bob Guggenheim, head of KNBH's film department, wisely maintains complete silence as to where he procured the precious reels.

"I can tell you we got some of our old Christy comedies from Sam Hayes' own collection," he will grin. (Sam is an NBC newscaster of eighteen years' standing.)

Cutting the Comedy

NBC, realizing that television's transmission is bound to detract from the clarity of even new film, didn't make the mistake of torturing viewers by running the original films. Brand-new prints are made as each comedy is screened and chosen for running.

"The screening is more necessary because of film content than because of quality," Guggenheim revealed. "Before the days of the Hayes (now

At present, the actress lives in a large twelve-room house. It's too big for Hattie and her housekeeper, though it's filled with mementos of her years in show business and her "collections." (She explains these by saying, "I never played as a child so now I have 'collections.'") She wants to move into a "small, cozy cottage."

Hattie has a legion of fans and she replies to all their letters. At Christmas time she sent out an estimated five thousand cards. She has very definite ideas about becoming a success in show business and is writing a book, "Help Yourself," to pass them on. "Children always want to start from the top—and there just is no such thing," she smiles. "I've been up and I've been down but I've never been too proud to take a job doing anything until something theatrical came along."

"I saw a lot of these comedies when I was a kid, and missed a lot that today winds up on our editing-room floor. But I don't think the children of today would miss as much as we did . . . and I know their parents wouldn't!"

MICKEY ROONEY ONCE UPON A TIME DYED HIS HAIR black and made a series of early talkie comedies known as the "Mickey (Himself) McGuire" shows. He hasn't stopped since. (Print from original film.)
