New Angle on Angling

Big Fish, No Fish—and Lots of Fun. That's What the Average Fisherman Is Used to on His Own Ocean Jaunts, and That's What He Gets on These Filmed Visits About the Briny With "Mac."

By Jane Pelgram

THERE'S NOT A night of the week when you can't talk about fishing. For hours. But try to provide a good, active film about fishing for even one night of every week. It isn't easy. The fish has a lot to say about what is going to come out on film—and what isn't. If the pescados have fled for a few days, that's it.

Don't Count on the Fish

Mac McClintock, manager of the Pierpoint Landing and oftentimes central figure of KLAC-TV's exciting "Action Fishing" series, beats this tough rap through keynoting the Landing's fishing activities with informality. Every foot of film doesn't have to show the fisherman fighting a sail or marlin or tugging against the pull of a monstrous black sea bass.

When the camera was out on one of the half-day boats (Pierpoint sends out half-dayers, family boats, Catalina-bound, kelp boats, sleepers and anything else the sportsman demands), a film entitled "Set That Hook" was to be made. The expert fisherman featured was ready for his part, and each time the bait was nibbled he worked away at setting hooks with a vengeance. In his enthusiasm he pulled the stunt of the luckless beginner. He yanked so savagely that the bait, far from having the hook set, flew back and hit him in the face. This was left in the film of the evening. Mac felt probably every viewing fisherman could identify himself with the mishap.

Knows the Public

The Los Angeles-born, Ben Franklin High-trained McClintock once upon a time had ample opportunity to study

(Please Turn to Page 34)

THE SEA IS CALM, the stern isn't crowded, and all's right with the world with the group at the top of this page. The girls at the right above are happy as birds, even if the one in the dotted blouse would probably have gotten her thumb torn should a big one have taken the line out and started that reel going. The haul at the right is an actual unretouched photograph of a thirteen-year-old who filled older hearts with envy when he hauled up this huge black sea bass and had the Pierpoint boat bring it in. It's a safe bet the briny bootie displaced several less lucky passengers! (Merrick photos.)

First Nighter

The Little Theater Off Times Square Broadcast Has Never Originated There

By Donna Scott

WHY SURE I'd like to revive the "First Nighter" series" was Barbara Luddy's instantaneous reply several months ago to an anonymous phone query.

As a result of this query, the familiar ring of "Curtain, curtain going up . . ." is again heard along NBC airwaves, thanks to the anonymous caller, who is no longer a mystery. He is Mr. Frank Cooper, radio entrepreneur, who agitated comic Alan Young and persuaded a rightfully stubborn cosmetic firm to relinquish its broadcasting rights to "First Nighter."

Campana has owned "First Nighter" since its inception in 1930. After an absence of two years from the airwaves, they were persuaded to let the show return, even though they were no longer sponsoring it.

"First Nighter" scripts must meet rigid requirements. Acts of violence, abusive or sacrilegious language, and intended humiliation are taboo. Not only does "First Nighter" appeal to the Midwest "Bible belt" but it appeals to everyone who enjoys wholesome, gay entertainment.

Barbara Luddy

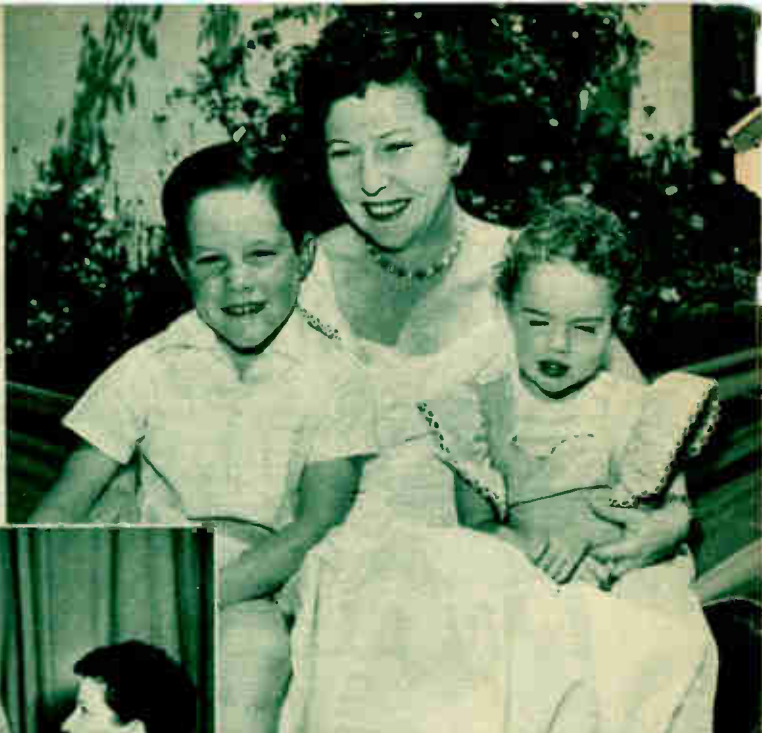

Diminutive Barbara Luddy has been co-starring in the "First Nighter" series since 1936. She lives in Van Nuys with her husband, Ned LeFevre, NBC staff announcer, and their two children, Christopher Michael, five, and Barbara Luddy, Jr., twenty-eight months. Jovial Barbara has transferred her nickname, "Biddy," to her young daughter. With "Biddy" and "Biddy Little" being called about the house it sounds as if the LeFevres were characters from nursery-book land. "Biddy" senior spends a great deal of her spare time sewing. She loves to make frills for Junior and curtains, drapes and slip covers for the house. Her husband claims he can tell the seasons by the curtains in the windows.

Olan Soule

Barbara's leading man is Olan Soule. After a diversified theatrical background, Olan took over the regular male lead on "First Nighter" in 1943. His predecessors were Don Ameche, who introduced the show to radio audiences in 1930, and Les BARBARA LUDDY AT PLAY with "Chris" and "Biddy Little." (Left) Olan Soule ponders over Barbara's dialogue during "First Nighter" broadcast.

Tremayne. Olan's youthful, student-like countenance belies his years of show-business experience. At seventeen his initiation was with a repertory tent company, where he served as truck driver, prop man, drummer, actor and specialty performer. Since then he has become one of the country's finest dramatic actors.

When not actively participating on his radio program, Soule works in motion pictures and television. In his spare time, he practices wood-working, is in charge of Cub Scout Pack 78, and is an active member of the First Christian Church of North Hollywood. Of his two children, twelve-year-old JoAnn shows promise of following a theatrical career; while ten-year-old Jon is busily preoccupied with more important things such as baseball.

The long professional association of Barbara Luddy and Olan Soule has fostered a fast friendship for their respective families.

For the Record

Just for the record, and with no intent for disillusionment, "First Nighter" broadcasts have never originated from Times Square. The prelude to an evening at the theater is so authentically re-created that it is difficult to convince some "First Nighters" that the show does not come from Gotham. But in keeping with the spirit of the show, tails and tuxedos are worn on certain occasions.

The King With Two Thousand Queens

By Ted Hilgenstuhler

▲ JACK BAILEY WILL SOON crown his 2,000th "Queen for a Day." A man with a tremendous background and a variety of occupations, Jack's introduction to radio came in 1938, and he has had "the bug" ever since.

MRS. ROSE BASCH and husband have been very happy since they came to America from Czechoslovakia two years ago. Nevertheless she has never forgotten the many months of misery and torture which she spent in a German concentration camp during World War II.

A prison number tattooed on her arm would not let her forget. Plastic surgery was the only method which could eradicate this bitter memory, and Mrs. Basch just didn't have the necessary cash for the operation.

One afternoon this Los Angeles housewife attended Jack Bailey's "Queen for a Day" show at the KHJ studios. Her ticket number enabled her to be chosen as one of the twenty-one lucky contestants.

She Wins

When Jack read what she would do "if I were chosen Queen for a Day," he selected her as one of the five finalists.

From there on the audience took over. After hearing her heartbreaking story they chose her as "Queen for a Day."

Of course Mrs. Basch was excited about the many fabulous gifts regularly presented to the Queen. But her biggest thrill was realized when the DP mark on her arm was removed by plastic surgery.

Give or take a few tears or laughs, all of the Queens' stories are as dramatic and sincere as Mrs. Basch's. Ever since April 30, 1945, congenial, fast-talking Jack Bailey has been acting as emcee for the loot-hungry women. He will crown the 2,000th Queen next month.

Bailey Background

The ageless Bailey (he won't say how old he is) was born John Wesley Bailey III on September 15 in "the teens of the 1900's" in Hampton, Iowa. He's married, has no children, and lives in Hollywood.

During his lifetime the blue-eyed, brown-haired KHJ star has been an insurance salesman, cook (he has a book out called "What's Cookin'"), musician (plays five different instruments), instructor at a dance school, gas-heater cleaner, silverer, house painter (drawing is his favorite pastime), and, of course, radio actor. A real Jack-of-all-trades, if there ever was one.

Will Not Abdicate

When asked if he ever got bored with the same routine day after day, Jack gave a straightforward answer.

"Maybe it sounds corny and trite. But I can honestly say I love to be around people and my job never gets monotonous. Even on bad days—and everyone has them—I get a pick-up from doing the show."

Concerning the future, Jack hopes to keep doing the same thing. "After all, you can't beat it," he commented. "The ladies do all the work, and we get all the money!"

KORLA PANDIT

Music . . . Marriage . . . Moods

A blonde beauty from the state of Washington won the heart of a mysterious artist from India. Lovely Beryl Pandit, a former illustrator, met Korla through mutual friends.

Their friendship quickly developed into a romance, and after a brief courtship they were married. Their three-and-a-half-year-old son, Shari, is a blend of the East and the West. Although he resembles his father, Shari possesses the same traits as any other American pre-schooler.

Life is literally a song in the Pandits' San Fernando Valley home. Aside from Korla's musical genius, Shari has a natural aptitude for music. He sings on key perfectly and loves to listen to music hour after hour. No toy seems to please him more than an album of classical records.

Korla's professional life is not diluted by his personal one. The Pandits are reticent about publicizing their family life and try to keep the two completely segregated. The devoted Pandits feel Korla's artistry is what's important and not his private life.

Music

Korla Pandit's enchanting Oriental and Occidental music continues to charm ever-increasing audiences. He firmly believes that music is the universal language and that it can help bring unity to the world. He likes to feel that his music serves a greater purpose in life than pure entertainment. (And from among the many letters our magazine receives we can vouch for the spiritual effect of Korla's music.)

Korla's philosophy, "Music never dies, because it ever materializes into beautiful forms," is shared by his sponsor, Manchester Boddy, owner of Descanso Gardens and publisher of the Daily News.

It is rather odd and interesting that the publisher of the Daily News sponsors a show on KTTV, which is owned by the Los Angeles Times.

Women

Granted Korla's music is inspiring, we find his opinions regarding women far more interesting. There isn't any doubt in Korla's mind that women dress to please men. By way of a switch, his wife Beryl is always being surprised by his "fluffy" purchases. Here's a man who luxuriates in dressing his wife to suit his discriminating taste.

"I believe that clothes should be subordinate to a woman's personality," opines Korla. "Some women can wear anything, but they are in the minority. Instead of following fashions blindly," he cautions, "let common sense prevail."

"A woman can be appealing at any age," says dreamy-eyed Korla. "Sincerity and heart-warming understanding are her greatest assets. Surface beauty is eye-catching, but so often fleeting. A cheerful, amiable disposition," he continued, "is much more gratifying."

Beautiful but vacant faces leave Korla cold. "A woman's eyes are her most attractive feature. They are full of magnetism . . . the windows to a woman's soul, transmitting her inner thoughts," he added softly.

This Week in TV

In & Out of Focus (General Comment)

"March of Time"

That most familiar among news coverages, the Westbrook Van Voorhis-narrated "March of Time," makes a reappearance on TV soon, under the sponsorship of the Miller Brewing Company.

Hope the folks down South get this on whatever cable does carry shows Dixie-ward. They seem to do a lot of complaining about (a) quality of TV shows and (b) beer sponsors.

They all are in for an October shock when the "March of Time" and the Miller Brewing Company announce this major co-venture. Yes, suh!

Second Glances (Critical Comment)

We Point With Pride

. . . To the California Teachers Association re-entry into TV entertainment entitled "Campus Farmers," seen on KECA-TV Saturdays at 4:00 p.m. Last week, for instance, that group of "Campus Farmers" which falls in the leopard-lover class saw how to keep their pets' nails trimmed! Next week a lesson in the care of tropical plants unfolds. There's apparently never to be a dull chapter in this constructive show that remembers "entertainment" is the spice of TV education.

. . . To a delightful bit of whimsical fun on the electric pictures which run under the title "Ricky and the Magic Trolley." KECA-TV brings "Ricky," "Mr. Mulligan," "The Gloop," "Abdul the Drab Arab" and a host of other mad characters childward daily at 5:45 p.m. There are villains, mystery and danger, but somehow the adventures never become what we would consider too frightening for a child to consume in five-times-a-week doses, even when the gang gets to the "Blot-to Grotto"!

On Lens (About Studio Happenings)

The Real McCoy on Channel 2

In our July 18 issue of TV-Radio Life there ran a story on a gentleman with some pretty good ideas, Colonel Tim McCoy. Apparently operating under the blithe assumption that everyone knows the entertainingly educational Colonel is on KNXT, no mention of when and where was made! So for you brand-new set owners who haven't yet picked up the Colonel's Saturday night or weekday late-afternoon shows, that's it . . . KNXT, Channel 2.

Names, Please

Finding it a bit difficult to play a good game of "Roller Hockey" under the handicap of being referred to as "Hey, you!" the gals are asking KTTV viewers to find names for their two teams.

Prizes are in store for you who send the best two names to KTTV, Hollywood 28. One name to a postcard is all it takes. One name good enough to be selected. And you can find out who won by watching Sunday nights at 9:30.

Lucky Postcard

Jack Rourke counted some more mail last week—and hit the 250,000 mark. And the lucky lady who sent the jovial stunts-for-prizes'emcee the postcard which brought his fan-mail count to a quarter of a million was Mrs. Betty Ann Hassen, a shut-in, of Santa Monica.

Mrs. Hassen, who says sewing is one of the hobbies she is able to enjoy, wins a beautiful new sewing machine. For just writing a postcard to Jack at KTTV's "Ladies Matinee".

Off Lens (Personalities)

"Tonga" Comes to Earth

"Tonga," of ABC-TV's "Space Patrol," alighted long enough on Thursday, July 10, to become the bride of Bob Sheldon, KECA-TV assistant director and floor manager.

The two, who have worked together for several years and started out as just "pals," were married by Superior Court Judge Ben J. Scheinman in his chambers at the City Hall, Los Angeles, at 9:00 o'clock in the morning. It is the first marriage for each.

The couple will live in a spanking new apartment, full of modern gadgets, near the studio. We know the building is pink, but the Sheldons have yet to decide on the decor of their own abode therein.

Futuristic, maybe?

Truman's New TV Role

On July 30 the current President of the United States is scheduled to make his TV bow as panel guest. He's appeared as plain President many times, when only a speech to the nation and not any gimmicky bit was required of him.

On the 30th, Mr. Truman appears to answer questions shot at him by some ninety-odd kids from all over the United States. Said "kids" are playing "Senator" on Theodore Granik's "Youth Wants to Know," via NBC-TV. We'd rather "meet the press" than face that many eager teen-agers, uninhibited and well-informed as they are today.

JULY 29

On the Ball

With Ted Hilgenstuhler

ODDS 'N' ENDS

Each night of each week of each TV year, people have watched more sporting events than they ever dreamed of seeing in person. And all for nothing, yet!

But it's not strictly a one-way deal. The fans appreciate what TV has done for them, and they especially appreciate the work of the various TV announcers.

You don't believe me? Then ask Gary Goodwin and Tom Harmon!

On Friday night, July 18, they had a "Gary Goodwin Night" at the Ocean Park Arena for the popular KLAC-TV announcer.

Then, on Tuesday, KHJ-TV's Tom Harmon is to be honored by the fans and the Hollywood Baseball Club at Gilmore field. Everyone attending the game receives an autographed picture of the former Michigan star.

Just shows to go you that you TV toughies aren't as hard-boiled and critical as you sound sometimes when sitting around your sets.

... Heard from Mr. and Mrs. Jules StrongBow, who are now in Hawaii on the second week of their vacation:

"This is terrific, Ted. Hawaii is even more beautiful than in the travelogues. The water is warm as soup. ... Your wrestling editor won a hula contest last night. He will have to give a demonstration when he returns."

—This I gotta seel Must be a hull-ava hula. (Jules is a mere six feet six, 330 pounds.)

... Looking over the official batting figures released each week by George Goodale of the Los Angeles Angels, I note that shortstop Gene Baker (a defensive demon who should be ready for the big time next season) also leads the club in almost every department of hitting. Gene has been at bat more times, scored more runs, gotten more hits, smacked more doubles and triples, batted in more runs, and stolen more bases than any other Angel. He even has more strikeouts! Can't say he ain't consistent!

Handy Hints

By Dorothy Gardner and Dick Garton, stars of KTLA's "Handy Hints," Monday through Friday, 6:45 p.m.

Each week we pick the best Handy Hint sent directly to TV-Radio Life, 6361 Selma Avenue, Hollywood 28, and use it, with your name and address, in this column as well as on the air over KTLA. Wednesday evening at 6:45. A lovely gift will be sent to everyone whose hint is used here as KTLA-TV-Radio Life Hint of the Week.

Here is this week's winner: Ruth A. Evans, 430 South Sycamore Street, Santa Ana, California.

The hint is:

This hint is for lady gardeners. If you find that the regular man-size hoe and shovel are too heavy and clumsy to work with in the garden, buy a child's toy set of tools. The rake you can use "as is" to clear out leaves, etc., from under leafy plants and shrubs. It gets in between plants easier than a large one with less chance of injury to stems, etc. For the shovel, remove the handle and replace it with a long broomstick handle. It is light in weight and easily handled. It serves as both hoe and shovel in the flower beds for light cultivating and certainly saves a lot of bending and backbreaking labor.

IF YOU HAVE AN OLD WOODEN SALAD BOWL AROUND, YOU CAN MAKE A VERY NICE CANDLE-HOLDER, FLOWER-BOWL COMBINATION. First paint or varnish it (so as to protect it for water), then drive a large nail straight through the center of the bottom of bowl, so that when the bowl is turned upright the point of the nail is sticking up about two inches. You then wrap the bottom of candle with scotch tape, about two inches up, so that when you gently push the candle down on the nail, it won't crack. That makes your candle-holder. Now you can use the bowl to float flowers in, or put fruit in the bowl, or use it as a planter for ivy by placing peat moss in first (as peat moss doesn't need the drainage).

YOU DON'T HAVE TO LIGHT YOUR OVEN THESE WARM NIGHTS. JUST DO YOUR BROILING ON TOP OF THE STOVE. Take an old cast-iron skillet and a grill-ribbed rack from an old oven, and cut a circle about half an inch larger than the diameter of the skillet. Then bend the ends back the distance of the extra half inch so that the grill will be one-half inch from bottom of skillet. Steaks and chops broiled in this manner are just as delicious as those grilled in the outdoor barbecue pits and are much less trouble for just a family meal.

 "KILLER AT LARGE," Robert Lowery, (7), 11:30 p.m.

A couple of observations: "King Kong," a great motion-picture spectacle made about twenty years ago, is currently showing at a local first-run theater and cleaning up at the box office all over the country. I applaud this action. If all the old films are shown in movie houses, maybe we TV viewers will get to see the new ones on our home screens. The results of this trend could be, however, that we'll have to wait forty years instead of twenty to see a movie on television. In the case of an epic I saw the other night, I could easily have waited forty years.

Became a traitor and went out to a cinema the other night, and there I sat through a fifteen-minute short which proved to be nothing but a long commercial for one of the national banking institutions. I'd rather have watched the guy who dips pieces of paper in lanolin and pulls his hair till it looks like a fright wig.

"International Lady." George Brent and Ilona Massey in a spy melodrama that possesses the standard amount of secret papers and gunshots. Miss Massey and Mr. Brent embrace at the con-

"Farewell Again." This is about a British warship, its officers and men, and the few hours they are able to spend in an English port before they are ordered to sea again. The very able Leslie Banks and Flora Robson head the competent cast.

"City Without Men." A colony of wives and sweethearts live near a prison and wait for their men to be released. Linda Darnell is one of the spouses, convinced her husband is innocent, which, of course, he is, and Edgar Buchanan is the has-been lawyer who is urged to rise to the occasion, which, of course, he does.

"Mimi." This is Puccini's "La Boheme," except that the music has been dispensed with, making it about as effective as a radio show without sound. Gertrude Lawrence plays the ailing young lady and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., is the dashing swain who woos her.

"Divorce." Bruce Cabot, Kay Francis and Helen Mack in an old picture about Nevada's major industry. Miss Mack has since become one of the more astute radio and television producers.

"Winner's Circle." I'll take a chance and say this is about horse racing, which automatically makes it interesting as far as I am concerned. Elliott
 Lewis does the narration.

PREVIOUSLY RECOMMENDED . . .

"Winterset." Maxwell Anderson's poetic tragedy. With Burgess Meredith and Margo.

"Sidewalks of London." Charles Laughton, Vivien Leigh and Rex Harrison in an entertaining piece about the buskers, the street performers of London.

San Diego CHANNEL CHATTER

Weather Man Marciano

Every weekday evening at 6:45 and on Sunday evenings at 6:30, housewives, farmers, businessmen and the pleasure-bent gather around their TV sets in San Diego to get the "word" on Channel 8.

The word? Yes, the word—the Weather Word—that is, from the expert brain and mouth of KFMB-TV's weather expert, Joe Marciano.

Joe Marciano's amazing ability to memorize and glibly recite temperature figures across the county has astounded his viewers and hardly a night goes by but what there are several phone calls asking how he can learn and recite his figures.

Contrary to what you would expect,

Joe is NOT a weather man from the U. S. Weather Bureau. Joe is employed at the Navy Electronics Laboratory here in San Diego as a Theoretical Meteorologist in the Atmospheric Physics Section. (Whew!) In fact, he's the senior meteorologist at the station.

Joe Marciano is a graduate of the University of Chicago, B.S. (meteorology), M.S. (meteorology). It was a four-year course and Joe made it in two, including the M.S. It worked like this. Joe checked in at the U. of Chicago in 1946. He petitioned for examinations and wiped out the freshman and sophomore years. Then by doubling up he took his junior and senior work in one year. He took graduate study at normal pace—thus progressing from a beginning student to a Master graduate in two years. Said the Dean as Marciano received his M.S.: "Why don't you stick around and get acquainted?"

Joe is only 33 and has been in the profession thirteen years: weather observer, weather forecaster, research meteorologist, university instructor, private consultant, and now television personality.

He was in "weather" in the Air Force in all departments including forecasting weather for ferry-flying missions to England across the North Atlantic. Later he forecast weather for the Air Transport Command flights across the "Hump."

Joe is married, has two boys, and owns his home in San Diego. He was born in Rochester, New York.

LOOKS AS IF THE POLITICAL CONVENTIONS are a shot in the arm and just what the doctor ordered for summer TV. Like big brother radio, television is supposed to languish during the dog days, but set sales have been up and people have certainly been looking the past few days. Saw a newspaper article about the department stores' studied steps to combat TV looking with super sales. One store played it smart and placed TV sets at strategic places so that customers wouldn't be afraid of missing anything really important at the conventions. TV networks and stations are footing a fantastic bill running into seven figures because time was preempted from commercial shows to bring the conventions to viewers. In a way this seems bad, because so much of the political looking was not tops.

A NETWORK MIGHT STILL BE money and lookers ahead to take convention proceedings off the cable, edit to a crisp turn, and release to busy fans who haven't time to watch continuously.

SCOTTE GRAY, TV RECEPTION expert who did the splendid series for TV-Radio Life last fall, came by to install the antenna for my new house, and being a person who can't resist an "interview" when the subject looks promising, I quizzed Scotte while he worked. He said he was now busy installing master systems for hard-to-receive areas, especially canyons out in Bel-Air and Beverly Hills. I asked him if he was going to do anything down in Palm Springs and he said he thought it would take $250,000 to bring acceptable TV there. He figures, after having covered the whole area with a helicopter and having done quite a bit of testing, that it would require a ten-mile relay, reaching 5000 feet up Mt. San Jacinto. One Palm Springs man with money but without TV offered Scotte $10,000 if he would bring in decent reception, but he had to refuse because it can't be done for that.

CERTAINLY THE MONEY IS IN THE desert town to pay almost any price for a picture, but many of the well-cushioned inhabitants are people from show business and actually go to the desert from Hollywood to get away from it all. One TV star Scotte mentioned turned TV down cold for his Palm Springs hacienda. Seems he has TV sets all over his mansion here and is a refugee when he vacations.

WELL, IT WAS GOOD FOR A CHUCKLE, anyway. Caption in last week's TV-Radio Life labeled KNBH's Barbara Logan of Johnny Dugan's Show a "former linotype operator." It should have read a "former lion tamer." Guess our linotype operator couldn't believe his eyes when he read this and changed copy accordingly.

Radio in Review

For Love o' Mike (General Comment)

"Marines in Review" Anniversary

"Marines in Review," the Corps' top network radio show, recently completed its first year of broadcasting over the nation-wide facilities of the American Broadcasting Company. (KECA, Saturday, 7:30 p.m.)

Completely produced by Camp Pendleton personnel, the show was "dreamed up" in the camp's Public Information Office by Technical Sergeant Eddie Yuhl and Lieutenant George Francis.

"Marines in Review" has suddenly become "big-time" radio listening!

The present format of the show is the result of constant experimenting, and combines music and drama with on-the-scene reports of Marines in various phases of training and recreation.

A typical broadcast consists of stirring marches; at least one popular number old or new, sung by a Marine vocalist; a dramatic skit, generally the story of a Marine decorated for bravery; and a tape-recorded visit with Marines at work and in training.

All talent for the thirty-minute show is found in the various units at Camp Pendleton.

Hep Cats Get Set

Jazz history will be made on Saturday, July 26, at the Shrine Auditorium when two of radio's top record spinners, Gene Norman and Frank Bull, present their third annual Blues Jubilee.

Highlighting the line-up of talent are blues singers T. Bone Walker and Jimmy Witherspoon; song stylist Helen Humes; Big Jay McNeely's orchestra, and a host of other stellar attractions.

Playbacks (Critical Comment)

when it came to pure reporting—concrete facts, analysis, interviews, comments, and criticisms—the cameraless commentators did a superb job.

Off Mike (Personalities)

Virgil Pinkley

Virgil Pinkley, news commentator of the program "Pinkley at Six" over KFI, has more than twenty years' experience as a reporter, editor, news director and publisher to qualify him for his important job of giving up-to-the-minute news facts as they occur. Besides his radio program and other activities, he is the editor-publisher of the Los Angeles Mirror.

Currently, Pinkley is in Chicago covering the political conventions. He phones his news to KFI daily and the station tapes his news for release at air time.

After the conventions, Mr. Pinkley is contemplating various trips to the news fronts around the world, in order to keep his broadcasts factual and up-to-date. His personal contacts extend around the globe and he is constantly receiving communications from foreign editors, officials and well-qualified observers.

Virgil Pinkley

Virgil Pinkley was bitten by the journalism bug while attending San Bernardino High School. He has had a colorful career as a newsman, receiving many commendations and citations, and looks forward to spending his next twenty years doing very much the same as he has done in the past two decades.

Ticket Situation

From Coast to Coast, summer or fall, rain or shine, thousands of radio fans trek to Hollywood every month to see their favorite stars and programs.

Muriel Horner, box-office head for all CBS-KNX radio tickets, says that the favorite personality of out-of-towners is Art Linkletter. They all want to see his "House Party" and "People Are Funny" broadcasts. Quiz shows fall into the most popular category, but the most difficult broadcast to obtain tickets for is the Jack Benny Show.

Every request for a radio ticket is acknowledged, according to Miss Horner. A card is sent to the radio listener who has requested tickets, informing him that he will be furnished with tickets during his visit to the city.

Record Notes to You

By ANDY MANSFIELD

THIS WEEK'S NATURAL SEVEN: Jane Froman's "Wish You Were Here" (Capitol). Four Freshmen's "Tuxedo Junction" (Capitol). Johnnie Ray's "A Sinner Am I" (Columbia). Percy Faith's "Jamaican Rumba" (Columbia). Dick Haymes's "Never Let the Sun Set on a Quarrel" (Decca). Barbara Ruick's "Delishious" (MGM), and Ahmad Jamal's "Billy Boy" (Okeh).

JAZZ: Johnny Hodges (Mercury) leads the way with quiet but very listenable versions of "Who's Excited" and "Sweepin' the Blues Away" . . . arrangements are melodic, yet in modern vein and highlighting Johnny's always good sax work. . . . For contrast, there's Count Basie's "Why Not" and "Fawncy Meeting You," with heavier brass and stronger uptempo that stops to pick no daisies. . . . And for Dixie fans, there's Pee Wee Hunt's new "Dixieland Detour" on Capitol—six choice items like "Panama," "Livery Stable Blues," "Bonnyard Shuffle," "Muskrat Ramble," "Stomp Off," and "Shake It and Break It"—great listening and dancing for lovers of two-beat jazz.

REISSUES: First of a series of great records of yesterday made their appearance this week on the Okeh label. Bessie Smith, greatest all-time blues shouter, sings "Gimme a Pigfoot" and "Take Me for a Buggy Ride" to an all-star band backing . . . and Louis Armstrong features "Confessin'" and "If I Could Be With You," both with mellow vocals by Satchmo. . . . Great stuff for collectors and for those who have wondered how these great jazz figures sounded yesterday.

VOCALISTS: Bing Crosby and Jane Wyman (Decca) have one of those light and breezy platters in "Zing a Little Zong" that's the best in this novelty tune from Bing's new flicker. . . . Frank Sinatra (Columbia) has a terrific pair of sides in the lovely "Luna Rossa" and the tempo'd "Tennessee Newsboy." . . . Connie Haines (Coral) shows to great advantage on the oldie "Mississippi Mud," with washboard band backing. . . . Peggy Lee (Decca) duplicates her "Lover" with the similar tempo'd "Just One of Those Things" to GREAT G. Jenkins backing. . . . Kay Starr (Capitol) sounds like the Starr of a decade ago (and that's good) on "Kay's Lament" and "Fool, Fool, Fool." . . . Doris Day's "Take Me in Your Arms" and Jo Stafford's "Pretty Boy" (both Columbia) look like sure-fire platters. . . . Grab yourself an earful of these and you'll see why records are coming back. . . . A.M.

PERILS OF GILL

For some it may have been the "Perils of Pauline," but to KBIgers it is the "Perils of Cliff Gill," station's operation manager. Cliff fell overboard while mooring the station's "floating studio" La Belle, and was forced to wear gigantic six-foot-ten Carl Bailey's clothing.

Ear, Eye Inspire the Pen

Linda Abbott, 1208 Green St., Glendale, Calif.

If there was a cleaner show on TV than Red Skelton's, I'd like to see it!

Judy Hosler, Route 2, Box 296, Saugus, Calif.

How did Doris Day acquire the nickname of "Dodo"?

Doris Day has been called this for many years, because it has always seemed an appropriate nickname for her. To the best of our knowledge, it was started by Les Brown and his boys when Doris was a featured vocalist with the band.

Doris Day

Mrs. G. B. Curtis, Los Angeles, Calif.

Although I think Danny McShain is a dirty wrestler, I think he deserves a vote of thanks for being decent enough to take Rito Romero's place in a recent match after injuring him the preceding night, and above all giving the purse to Romero.

Mrs. R. C. Bailey, Los Angeles, Calif.

TV performers must work very hard. Certainly the thought uppermost in their minds is to please the viewers. Yet, one misstep and they are immediately shut out of the home, not because they are bad actors, but because they have practiced the wrong part.

A. J. Fortner, 1662 E. 7th St., Pomona, Calif.

More people are interested in Billy Graham than in any ten other figures in TV. My TV set would go into the junk pile if there were no religious programs.

I really like Mike Malone, Jeff's girl on "Files of Jeffrey Jones."

F. G. Vella, 3426 Winslow Dr., Los Angeles, Calif.

With reference to your subheading — "We View with Alarm . . . the seeming inability of an emcee like Bob Hope" — is utter rubbish. Bob Hope's greatness lies in his expert sense of humor, lovable personality, and sincere humility.

Mrs. R. L. Miller, 513 North Western Ave., Santa Ana, Calif.

Is Sue Thompson Dude Martin's wife? It has been debated in our family for some time.

Sue Thompson is not married.

Carol Cron, 4174 Oakwood Pl., Riverside, Calif.

To what address might I send to get a photo of Virginia Hewitt ("Carol" of "Space Patrol")?

Send your request to her at "Space Patrol," ABC-TV Center, Prospect and Talmadge Avenues, Hollywood 27, Calif.

D. DeCastro, Tujunga, Calif.

The music Korla Pandit plays is always the same. See him once, and that stony stare, and you see him always the same. Give me Jose Iturbi or Artur Rubinstein.

Maxine Dumke, 732 W. Cedar Ave., Redlands, Calif.

Betty White has been a personal friend of mine for a long time, as has Mary Sampley. Two finer girls never lived.

J. L. Messersmith, 3625 Moore St., Venice, Calif.

We have had our TV for two years now and enjoy it more all the time—from "Beany" and the "Playcrafters Club" to "Dragnet" and just about our favorite program, Lawrence Welk and his band. I find myself smiling right back at the Welk men and Roberta Linn. And Myron Floren is a favorite personality of many of us.

Harry J. Beardsley, 603 Hall of Justice, Temple and Broadway, Los Angeles, Calif.

Commercials! Commercials! Commercials! Ye gods—what a Heaven 'twould be if most of these glorified salesmen might be dunked in some bottomless sea!

Miss N. M. Roseboom, 354 Fifth Ave., Venice, Calif.

Betsy Mills of KTTV is attractive, plays the harp, and sings well.

Mary Fisher, 401 South Grand Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

I love the way Father Barbour of radio's "One Man's Family" says "Mary." No one in this world ever said it so beautifully. It is like a prayer.

J. Anthony Smythe (Father Barbour)

Cliff Stark, 3747 Elmwood St., Riverside, Calif.

I think KNBH should be given some kind of medal for televising Florence Chadwick's swim across the Catalina Channel.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Parker, 1235 N. Garden St., Pomona, Calif.

We are sixty-five years old. All of our family love Roberta Linn for both her charming personality and her lovely voice. It provokes us that we can't see her when she sings on "Frosty Frolics."

Eleanor Esquino, 279 E. 19th St., San Bernardino, Calif.

In a recent article you said Doris Day's blonde hair was "slightly dyed." Don't you agree that Miss Day's hair would be "slightly bleached"?

Our mistake. "Bleached" would be the correct term.

Mrs. Lou Blumberg, 437 No. Ardmore, Los Angeles, Calif.

Think Joe Graydon is a nice guy, but can't understand why he sings so "off key." Our cat runs and hides every time she hears him.

Janet B., Los Angeles, Calif.

Has anyone noticed how beautifully Betty White is handling "Hollywood on Television" while Eddie Albert is away? Let the one who dared say she's catty, take note and feel ashamed. Hope she keeps "Hollywood on Television" on the air for many years.

Mrs. B. Bennett, 12479 E. Garvey, El Monte, Calif.

I would appreciate all the old Christmas, birthday, Easter or any other cards that your readers could send me to make a screen to put around a little bed at Sister Kenny's Hospital. I have done this for several children's hospitals and it has cheered them so much to have the different pictures to look up at while getting their treatments.

How about it, folks? Here's a chance for our Ear and Eye enthusiasts to do a little bit for a great big cause.

Carol Cron, 4174 Oakwood Place, Riverside, Calif.

Is Ken Mayer ("Major Robertson" of "Space Patrol") over thirty? To what address could I send to get his photo?

Ken Mayer is thirty-four. For individual photos, as for all photos of radio and TV stars, write to him personally at his studio: KECA-TV, ABC Television Center, Prospect and Talmadge Avenues, Hollywood 27, Calif.

Emily Stockton, 1393 1/2 W. 91st Pl., Los Angeles, Calif.

It's bad when we get so old and have no sense of humor left. I'm sure Red Skelton fans, and I'm sure he has several million, think he's tops.

Lillian Randolph

Mrs. John Longenecker, 11415 Chenault St., West Los Angeles, Calif.

We love the whole "Beulah" cast and Miss Lillian Randolph is fine as "Beulah." We never miss it when we are home and so hope it will be on again soon.

Mrs. Dolores Armbruser, 11057 Brink, Norwalk, Calif.

Sure wish Wade Ray had a show of his own. He's wonderful in my opinion.

Irene Howland, 4829 Coliseum St., Los Angeles, Calif.

My husband and I sure do think Ina Ray Hutton is tops. Full of pep, and oh! what a wonderful personality.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hass, 6329 Rita, Huntington Park, Calif.

From Grandpa right down to our youngest offspring we all but wept at the news of our favorite, Red Skelton, going off the air. We hope he has a much-deserved rest and returns completely well.

V. Richardson, 9727 Abilene St., Rosemead, Calif.

I think "Dangerous" should be dropped from Danny McShain's name, and "Cry-Baby" substituted.

H. Fisher, Los Angeles, Calif.

Is Ginny Jackson Ina Ray Hutton's daughter?
Ginny and Ina Ray are no relation at all.

Mrs. Dorothea Leach, 12524 E. Rush St., El Monte, Calif.

Valli Keen of the Charlie Aldrich Show is very charming and very friendly. Also want to compliment Charlie Aldrich and give him a word of praise. He deserves it.
We have a special feature coming up on Charlie Aldrich.

Judy Ashford, Santa Monica, Calif.

Is "Space Patrol" on film or is it directly from the studio at the same time we viewers see it?

"Space Patrol" is seen "live" Monday through Thursday and on kinescope Friday and Saturday.

Wild Red Berry:

My Philosophy

(Pinch-hitting for the vacationing Jules StrongBow, Wild Red Berry offers our readers this second exclusive column on his "philosophy.")

Some people would lead you to believe that I am talked-to, talked-about, lied-to, lied-about, and with my persecution complex force myself upon the unsuspecting public.

There is one thing certain, however; even though they hold me down, help me up, walk and sit upon me, I do know where I am, what I am, and why I am.

I'm a success in the wrestling world because: I have keen vision, dauntless courage, sustained vigor, grim determination, brilliant ideas, glittering thoughts, manly reserve, and intestinal fortitude. These admirable traits, along with my modest plainness, winning smile, beaming countenance, enduring grace, elusive charm, congenial attitude, glossy smoothness, tacit understanding, emphatic index, vivid imagination, laudable enthusiasm, sparkling fury, accurate judgment, clean sportsmanship, democratic ideals, impregnable poise, a high standard of wrestling, and my pompous words, have rightfully and deservedly earned me the title to be King of all the Wrestlers.

As an integrated, socialized, and highly motivated individual from Pittsburg, Kansas, the Sunflower State, I meet all comers, regardless of size, weight, creed or color.

I analyze and scrutinize my opponents from all angles, curves and viewpoints, and group them into categories. These categories remain Top Secret. My major objectives in wrestling are to paralyze, to hypnotize, and to drive them through the mat.

My strategy is to compel my opponents to proceed to a state of bewilderment, genuine uncertainty, and to a state of a disturbing sense of inferiority. From there, my opponents are in an awkward, perplexing, vexatious situation, and really on the horns of a dilemma.

To really understand and fully appreciate me, I am a graduate of the "University of Hard Knocks." This achievement would not have been possible without the wonderful aid of Professor Charles Randolph of San Bernardino (world's greatest photographer) and my private and very capable tutor, Verl Teeter.

I advocate physical health, sensory beauty, personal affection and social compassion. I firmly believe that until one has learned the art of self-confidence and self-restraint in short, self-management, he is at the mercy of his moods.

I also believe that mere experience in life without a philosophy in the foreground has little value. As we can hear only that which we have our ears attuned to hear, and that which echoes in our spirit.

I sincerely hope that these few thousand gems of wisdom which I have expounded unto you these past two weeks, will aid you in your own philosophy of life—as they have aided me.

And if you don't believe what I have said, at least I want you to think about it.

the public's tastes, especially those of the public who were enjoying a day's outing. Mac acted as spieler on the Catalina Steamship Lines for some years before he worked the fishing barges and tuna boats as a hand. Each proved of inestimable value, training-wise, when Pierpoint started the weekly TV show, composed principally of silent film narrated by Mac. Each film runs 223 feet, and currently there is enough stock to run for twenty-two weeks. Nor is all of it filmed around the antics of some happy guy pulling in yellowtail from the stern of a Pierpoint boat. There is some underwater film so good that Disney, seeing the expert skin diver at work, signed the swimmer as a producer of some of the Disney-made underwater footage.

The Character

As both comedy relief and good training, there is also "The Character" series. In these "The Character" goes fishing, "The Character" takes out one of the Landing's U-Drive Boats or goes skin diving. In these bits the young Fish and Game Department employee who plays "The Character" does all the wrong things that can prove dangerous to himself and a pain in the neck to fellow sportsmen.

The show incorporates last-minute news about fishing catches and big runs, and holds a mystery-fish contest that rewards lucky closest guessers with passes to the Pierpoint boats.

No Echelon!

One such family, from Illinois, entered a contest, won their coveted passes, and hustled down to the Pierpoint Landing, smitten with the thought of finally meeting McClintock was going out. A young man in jeans was swabbing the floor of the Landing office, whistling as he mopped up the water from a broken fish tank. The couple stopped the lackey and asked if he would tell them where to find the man who was on TV. They so wanted to meet him!

The "mopper" was Mac. To the islanders of Illinois this was a surprise and probably a disappointment. To the real fisherman it comes as no news that the successful operator is the guy who between big ones is perfectly happy mopping up, as long as he's mopping up ocean water!

KTTV NEWS ROOM

◀ ALTHOUGH MOST of his feminine viewers would not agree with him, George Putnam, KTTV newscaster and KECA radio announcer, said he would rather make a hit with his news than with his necktie. (KTTV-Rothschild photo.)

he has ever met in show business. After starting his announcing chores with the "Sons" he began wearing tailored Western style clothes and now wears them as often as he does a business suit.

TV is the great thing in George's life. He believes it is "the greatest opportunity for young news reporters to combine all the elements of the newspaper business and of show business." He said, "It's a first-name medium . . . and I enjoy meeting people who have seen me on the screen and call me 'George.'" Newsmen who gather the stories which Putnam uses on his KTTV program have his highest respect. He admitted that he "almost went the newspaper route" himself.

Feminine Fans

Although George's viewing audience may number more feminine set-siders than masculine fans he didn't hesitate to admit, "I'd rather make an impression with the news than with the kind of tie I'm wearing."

What does he think about women and especially about his huge feminine following? "I think women are peachy. Women are more alert and better informed than their husbands today, because they have more time to watch and listen."

Ladies Like Their News From Putnam

WHEN GEORGE PUTNAM was twenty-four years old and a successful radio announcer in New York City, there weren't enough girls, enough pent-houses or big stories to satisfy him. Today he has discovered "I can live any place and be happy."

California outdoor living, television newscasting, the informality of KECA's "Sons of the Pioneers," and tinkering with cars interest George today more than anything he left behind in New York. One thing he left behind was an Eastern announcing record which caused Walter Winchell once to say, "George Putnam's voice is the greatest in radio." Time magazine also stated: "No other newscaster or commentator has more listeners in the New York metropolitan area than George Putnam."

Started in Minneapolis

He started his announcing career in Minneapolis on a small radio station after leaving his home town of Breckenridge, Minnesota. After gaining experience in newscasting and as a general staff announcer, he went to NBC in New York in 1939. From 1941 to 1944 he shared the role of commentator for Movietone News with Lowell Thomas, was emcee of "The Army Hour" and narrator for "That They Might Live." In 1949 he did his first "Week End in Europe" with Tele-News, where he left New York on Friday evening, interviewed families in England, Germany, Ireland and Newfoundland and went on the screen the following Monday.

Putnam has learned a lot about the informality and family feeling of working in radio through his association with the famous "Sons of the Pioneers." He believes they are "the nicest gentlemen and artists"

George is one newscaster who has faith in the listener. He said, "I think the listener is a lot brighter than he is given credit for. I want to deliver the facts to him, but let him form his own opinion."

Emphasis on Drama

His appeal as a TV newscaster comes from his intense determination to make reporting "dramatic." Although he reports on the visual and vocal mediums, he stated: "I still like to see the news in print."

When his time is his own, George likes to go horseback riding, train dogs, tinker with his car, talk to people out of his profession and just "enjoy living."

At twenty-four there wasn't enough of anything for George, but today at thirty-eight he has no great desire for wealth or fame. He isn't looking for the exciting story to give him stimulation to go on in his career because "every day's work is a highlight in my career."

A Panel Without Plunging Necklines

By Sara Hannah

PAUL PIERCE, moderator for KNBH's "First-Time Voters," takes a positive stand on one thing. "Politics is serious business on television. We are not in the business of starting fights on TV."

Each week Paul, long familiar to radio and TV audiences on other shows, welcomes four or five first-time voters to his "First-Time" panel. He also invites two politicians who will answer all questions regarding this year's presidential election, put to them by the panelists. Such men as Averell Harriman, Democratic candidate for President; Thomas Joseph Mellon, Northern California manager of "Governor Warren for President"; and David Foutz, representing Estes Kefauver, have been on camera.

Informative

Paul believes strongly that this type of panel telecast should be informative, above all else. He objects to panelists who deliberately ask "loaded" questions or questions aimed at embarrassing the politicians or taking personal slaps at them. It is not meant as a "sounding board" for citizens who have rabid opinions for or against any political party, maintains moderator Pierce.

During the question-and-answer sessions on the KNBH program, Paul feels like a "verbal juggler." He uses diplomacy rather than a gavel to bring order to the verbal exchanges. He admits that he does get "that desperate feeling when someone starts talking." He said, "I wonder what they are going to say next. The whole thing could go completely overboard in a second. People get very excited when they start talking politics."

No Expert

Many viewers think Pierce is an expert on politics simply because he moderates "First-Time Voters." Pierce disclaimed any such credit, stating "I know all about the political situation, but only because I take time to study the news every day. Of course that is only natural, as I do it for my nightly TV newscast."

He believes most citizens are uninformed because "They don't take time to watch, listen to and read both sides of current political issues." "First-Time Voters" moderator does not worry about pulling viewers away from top entertainment video fare such as "I Love Lucy" or Arthur Godfrey. He said, "There is excitement building every day during this political year. We don't have any trouble getting our share of the audience."

"First-Time Voters" always makes an effort to keep discussions current. Before the convention they concentrated on convention delegates, during the convention it was the campaign itself and after the convention it's the mechanics of voting.

"Non-Partisan" Paul

Paul doesn't take any credit for originating the idea of "First-Time Voters," which he believes is "wonderful for TV, for the viewers, for the agency and for myself." He insists that he is "just part of the hired help on the program."

In his position as moderator of a political panel, he makes a serious effort always to maintain his "non-partisan" viewpoint when he is on camera. Of course he receives letters from viewers accusing him of favoring Republicans and others accusing him of being partial to Democrats, often on the same telecast.

He believes that the greatest question yet asked on the show came from an immigrant woman. She asked both politicians, "What is the difference between a Republican and a Democrat?"

Paul mentioned that he enjoyed well-known political leaders who appeared as panel members. We wondered why he hadn't asked the famous Hungarian panelist, Zsa Zsa Gabor, to appear on his panel.

"Zsa Zsa Gabor? No, because my wife would never forgive me if I did."

PAUL PIERCE, MODERATOR on KNBH's "First-Time Voters" (above insert) and his political panel ready for a telecast. TV starlets collect the weekly "straw vote," which is announced each week to indicate local presidential political trends.

IN ONE OF HIS MANY informal moods, Manager Wheeler jokes with two of his mythical usherettes, Phyllis Lynne and Betty Mills, during an intermission on "Jackson's Theater." Wheeler, sometimes referred to as "the second Arthur Godfrey," puts on three daily KTTV movie shows and doesn't quit work until three or four in the morning.

ALTHOUGH JACKSON WHEELER never uses superlatives himself in selling a product, there's no doubt in anyone's mind, particularly the sponsor's of his three movie shows, that he is one of the super salesmen of our time. (KTTV-Rothschild photos.)

FRIENDLY JACKSON WHEELER yawned a bit and relaxed behind his studio desk. It was almost one o'clock in the morning and the KTTV movie king had just finished his last flicker for the night.

Kiddingly he remarked to his early-morning viewers: "How would you folks like to see another picture at this hour?"

The Answers

During the next twenty-one days the smooth-talking, suave manager got his answer—over 27,000 of them to be exact.

Included in the mail were more than seventy-five petitions signed by various aircraft factories; one of them from the Firestone swing-shift crew included 4,000 signatures. Restaurant people and "regular night owls" also added to this astronomical figure. ("It's no baloney, either," says Jackson, "because I've still got them Show, 11:20 p.m.)

The Late, Late Theater, or the "Swingshift Theater," as it is sometimes called, started on May 5 at 1:00 a.m.

Late, But Still First

That the show was an immediate success was not too surprising. The most amazing part about this story of "graveyard TV" is that no station in Los Angeles had thought of it before.

Previous to KTTV's experiment, the only other known all-night program on television was on WDTV in Pittsburgh, one of the nation's leading steel centers. Figures indicate that the Smoky City had approximately 220,000 people working on the swing shift.

A survey taken by KTTV showed that there were more than 465,000 people working on the swing shift around Los Angeles.

Honesty Pays Off

Actually, as we have already stated, Jackson Wheeler was almost forced into this TV gold mine. He didn't have to do it.

A former CBS announcer ("I have the unique reputation of having done 4,200 consecutive coast-to-coast broadcasts"), he had already made his two movie shows and his own fifteen-minute sports program the largest one-man advertising account on KTTV's books.

He and his wife, Thelma, have two children, Charles, eight, and Judith Elizabeth, five, and are expecting a third addition to the family. An active Cub-scout leader, Wheeler recently turned down a $100,000 contract to go back to New York.

Described as "the West Coast's Arthur Godfrey," he sells his products on the assumptions that "people are not stupid" and that "honesty pays off."

No Superlatives

"I don't 'schlock' the people. I never use superlatives such as 'best,' 'wonderful,' or 'beautiful.' Instead of pushing my products in the public's face, I merely ask my viewers to try them. The day I put on something that is wrong, that's the day I'll quit television."

The day will never come, as long as Jackson Wheeler keeps rolling along TV's Revenue Avenue the way he has been.
