So you want to be a singer. If you have what it takes in talent and fortitude, "Talent Scouts" producer Larry Puck advises:

Don't Let Auditions Scare You

By Mildred Ross

SINGING is a tough game," expounded the sympathetic Larry Puck, producer of CBS's "Talent Scouts." And after nine years of auditioning talent for the show, Larry comes up with some sage advice for would-be singers.

"Singers usually try for big time before they are ready," he commented, "and there is no substitute for experience. Then, too, young vocalists often make the mistake of mimicking someone else's style. With enough experience a singer can project his own true personality.

Misguided

"Often, coaches misinform singing aspirants and whether it's intentional or otherwise is immaterial . . . it's harmful. A misguided singer can struggle for years to gain recognition. We had a cute little Irish lass audition for us one day with a blues tune. The blues no more suited her perky wholesome personality than a dirge. When we asked why she selected the particular number she told us that her teacher said the only way for her to get ahead would be by singing torchy ballads. We advised her to come back and sing for us after she had prepared more suitable material. She did . . . was an instant hit . . . and signed to appear on 'Talent Scouts.'

"The pot of gold and glamour appeals to the thousands of would-be singers. So often fan magazines forget to write about the hardship and gruelling work behind a successful vocalist. But even if they did I guess the stardust in singers' eyes would blind them to the realities."

Auditioning talent is one of the most difficult of all jobs. Not only is the singer in a state of nervous anxiety but the people passing judgment must be entirely impersonal and often hard-hearted in arriving at their decisions.

Patience

After watching auditions at KNX one afternoon we were impressed with the infinite amount of patience displayed by Larry and some of his staff. They gave every performer a fair chance. None of this brush-off with a one song audition. If "Talent Scouts" have confidence in a performer they will listen to several different auditions until they feel he's ready to appear on the show. "Talent Scouts" was devised to give young professionals national recognition. Sometimes the chance to be seen on a national TV hookup is just the thing that is needed to spur these young hopefuls on to success.

Ace Ochs conducts preliminary talent auditions in Hollywood for Larry Puck who comes out to the Coast periodically to pick the finalists for the Godfrey show.

Ace contends that the most difficult task he has is getting people to relax. He usually does this by telling them that their careers will not begin or end with "Talent Scouts." If a performer is not selected it is not necessarily a reflection on his talent. A program must be balanced. Because it is not feasible to have three baritones on one show, "T. S." will often hold a singer for a call back.

Fortunately auditions don't scare everybody. Some of the winners of Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scouts" who have risen to stardom include Eddie Fisher, Rosemary Clooney, Vic Damone, George Shearing and Florian Zaubach.

THE TIME is drawing near when the longest contest in television will come to an end.

Beginning with the week of Monday, September 12 Al Jarvis will start the Grand Finals of his teenage contest which has been running on his KABC-TV shows, "Make Believe Ballroom," and "Hi Jinx" ever since August, 1954.

In addition to the time element, the final figures are really quite amazing.

Over 10,000 school kids in Southern California actively participated in the contest.

With a "champion" a day being picked, over 1,200 teen-agers were selected as "champions" during the year.

This figure was narrowed down each month to a one Championship Team for each month, beginning in August, 1954. The monthly winners, their ages, schools, and ambitions are shown on these pages. (The July winners, because of an early press date, are shown on the inside of the magazine.)

All during the summer, the previous winners have been dreaming about coming back in the fall for the Grand Finals. All the monthly champions have now been picked, and they are preparing for the Grand Finals starting next month.

All Winners

The Grand Winners will be announced on the night of September 17. Actually, on that night all the contestants will be "winners" because the contest will have been narrowed down to four couples by that time. The first place winners receive $1,000; second place, $500; third place, $300; and fourth place, $200.

In addition to that, daily, weekly, and monthly "champions" have already received various prizes and cash awards.

Serious Steppers

"I think the main thing that has impressed me as well as the many other people about this contest," Al Jarvis explained, "is the seriousness with which the kids enter and participate in the contest. From beginning to end, they're dead serious about it.

"As much as I know the kids themselves and their parents and friends have enjoyed participating in a program such as ours, I think I've gotten just as big a kick out of it. I never cease to be amazed by their vitality, earnestness, politeness, and despite what many would have you believe, their intelligence."

Although the winners, to date, have been picked mainly for their dancing ability, Al tells us that the finals will take other personal factors into consideration.

All those connected with the KABC-TV year-long contest, particularly Al and his right-hand man, Joe Yocam, should be complimented for the wonderful job they have done.

And to the lucky twelve couples who are to battle it out for final honors, we can only say: good luck!

▼ OCT. Dance Champions: Rachel Rios, 642 S. Eastman Ave Garfield High School. Ambition: Nurse. Age: 15. Sterling Epps, went to Cantwell High School now in Air Force. Plans return for final contest. Ambition: Hot rod driver. Age: 17. (Boy in picture is Rachel's substitute partner).

▼ NOVEMBER Dance Champions: Joan Thomas of 3200 West Verdugo, Burbank. School: John Burroughs. Ambition: Nurse. Gene Rigio of 844 No. California, Burbank. School: Notre Dame High School. Ambition: Professional drummer.

This one couldn't get away

When "Father Knows Best" was about to have its last breath, its loyal viewers got up and created quite a ruckus. As a result, the show is back on and more popular than ever.

By Bruce Ramsey

AS JANE WYATT and Robert Young walked in to lunch that day they weren't looking smug. They should have been, though, because the stars of "Father Knows Best" had discovered they had a show that was so popular that public demand forced its continuance.

You may have heard of all the awards this CBS-TV effort had won. And then came the startling news that it was to be canceled. For a few weeks things were sort of up in the air, but then the word leaked out that it was going to continue with a new sponsor. And at a new and more favorable time.

Looking Back

"Certainly we're proud of the reaction," Bob remarked happily. "We always felt we had a good show. Neither Jane nor I would have stuck it out this long if we hadn't believed in what we were doing. We knew what we were getting into when we went into TV and if we weren't still happy about it we'd bow out. The show is such a pleasure to both of us because our producer, Eugene B. Rodney, never settles for half measures. He is so careful about such basic matters as good scripts and casting."

Movies vs. TV

"I'm thrilled about 'Father Knows Best' for another reason too," commented Jane. "TV has given me a big lift. I had made a lot of movies before I went into this show but except for a very few they were the type of pictures I could easily forget. Certainly I miss not making any super-duper films but I don't want to make any more mediocre things. I think the scripts on TV are, as a whole, better than the movie scripts."

"I certainly agree with that," Bob put in. "Out of the more than 100 pictures I made only about ten were exciting, and you know, I can't even remember all of those."

"I have missed not being able to make pictures, though, but there has not been the time. How can you do both TV and movies without seriously jeopardizing your health?" However, I would like the chance to do a different kind of part once in a while."

"We avoid monotony pretty well on our show," Jane added. "Somehow, our scenes are different each week and this helps an actress. I'd hate to be in a show where everything seemed alike."

Variety

"Characterization-wise there is a monotony," Bob went on. "Yet because the situations are always so different there is a diversification. And, too, our characters behave like human beings and not like stereotypes. None of us ever reacts the same to

In & Out of Focus (General Comment)

Change in Jarvis Contest

Since TV-Radio Life prepared the feature story on the Al Jarvis contest on pages 4 and 5, KABC-TV has made a switch in plans.

Because of pro football games which were just scheduled, the finals in Jarvis' annual contest will take place on Saturday, October 8 at 9 p.m. on Channel 7.

In addition, two more winners for August and September will be selected, making a total of fourteen winning couples.

Skelton Emotes

One can never accuse the "Climax!" series of getting in a rut. They've televised every kind of dramatic category in the books. And not to be daunted by the challenge of doing a live dramatic show is CBS's favorite clown, Red Skelton.

Red has been set for the September 8 "Climax!" ainer, "Public Pigeon Number One." His ten minute pantomime demonstrating how to get out of jail promises to have a laugh a minute. The video adaptation of the Don Quinn script, written more than ten years ago, is just up Skelton's alley.

That Live Feeling

When KCOP increases its power to 170,000 watts September 12, it'll become the most powerful station in Los Angeles. Accompanying the station's increased power will be a revision of its daytime programming.

With emphasis placed on live talent, KCOP will present Florence Thalheimer's "Family's Are First," Bill Balance's "Balance 'n' Records," Linda and Lou Crosby, and Jay Stewart starring in "Ranch Party." The only film segment in the daytime lineup will be Dick Garton hosting a movie at two in the afternoon.

Recently KNXT revamped its daytime programming to accentuate live shows, now KCOP is adding twenty hours of "live" programming. This could be a boon to the housewives who must be weary of the tired old westerns, which generally flood the videolanes during the day.

"See It Now" Expands

"See It Now" will be viewed on a flexible schedule next season. In order to give Ed Murrow and Fred W. Friendly more time and wider scope to treat their subjects in greater length and depth, the series will be aired on hour and hour-and-a-half long formats.

Old Plots Revamped

Basic ideas, with a bit of revamping periodically, stand the test of time. When "Our Miss Brooks" returns to the videolanes next month you'll note a few revisions. Madison High School gives way to a pending freeway and "Miss Brooks" and "Mr. Conklin" wind up in an elementary school. Bob Sweeney joins the cast as the assistant principal and a new heart interest, a muscular gym teacher, for Eve Arden appears on the scene. New characterizations, a new locale and the same successful premise, promise to have "Our Miss Brooks" riding high on the CBS airwaves.

Revisions on "Burns and Allen" and "Favorite Husband" will also be in evidence. Just as "I Love Lucy" switched to a Hollywood locale, "Burns and Allen" pull a reverse and for the first sixteen weeks of the new season their shows will have a New York background.

When "Favorite Husband" moves into the old "See It Now" time slot, Vanessa Brown will have the Joan Caulfield role. With Bob Sweeney becoming a regular on "Our Miss Brooks" the next-door neighbor role in "Husband" has been tentatively set for Steve Dunne. Barry Nelson and Alix Talton continue in their regular roles.

It looks as though revamping is going to be a new trend for returning situation comedies.

Around TV Row

Austin Green, KNXT's weather man, adds a travel show, "Holiday USA," to his agenda. . . . Skitch Henderson is pretty happy about the boys at UCLA growing vandykes a la Skitch and calling them "skitch's." . . . Look for a femme counterpart to "Howdy Doody" to be named "Heidi Doody" debuting on the NBC videolanes very soon.

"Lassie" will be shown in England next fall. . . . Betty Hutton isn't daunted by her "Satin and Spurs" flop on television last fall. She'll brave the NBC color cameras again in October. . . . Sheila Graham's show is being dropped at the end of the month to allow for the expansion of the "Home" series.

Realizing it was not a suitable property, lovely Marie Wilson has junked her proposed "Miss Pepperdine" series. . . . Jack Benny makes his "Show-er of Stars" debut on October 6 in the musical "Time Out For Ginger." . . . Viewers will be spared additional "Disneyland" repeats when the all-new fall series bows September 14 with the premiere showing of "Dumbo."

KTTV is planning a brace of new shows to fortify their strong position when the fall shows hit the networks. . . . Gloria "Voluptua" Pall has a role in the August 30th stanza of "Make Room For Daddy." . . . Frankie Laine, socko song stylist, is a classical music fan.

Color TV, on a closed circuit basis, is being used as a merchandising aid by Gimbels in New York City. . . . Bill Hayes is busy packaging his own show for next season. . . . Sportscaster Mel Allen has completed a film short titled "The Making of a Yankee."

KABC-TV will televise half-hour portions of the Pasadena Pops Concerts beginning September 9. . . . Jock Mahoney lists, in order of preference, his early hobbies: dolls, sling shots, model planes, older dolls. M.R.

"Music '55"

Tuesday, 8:30 p.m.
KNXT, Channel 2

If you like modern jazz, indubitably you'll find "Music '55" one of the best band shows on the videolanes. The CBS series stars Stan Kenton and his "progressive jazz" band, aided and abetted by top pop guest stars.

Sharing the spotlight with Kenton recently were perky Peggy King, the hi-de-ho man of music, Cab Calloway, and a terrific combo The Calvin Jackson Quartette. Stanton's pleasant, articulate personality keeps the show rolling at as rapid a pace as is set by his vibrant and lively music.

Calloway's rendition of "It Ain't Necessarily So" and "Summertime" are fast becoming perennial favorites. Although the arrangement on "Summertime" was far removed from the Gershwin score it fitted Calloway's talents. Petite Peggy was most outstanding in her "Oh, No You Can't Take That Away From Me" number during which she plaintively sang to male mannikins.

Low key lighting, diversified camera angles and overall imaginative production makes "Music '55" a thoroughly enjoyable, well-integrated band show. M.R.

situations. Father isn't always blowing his cork on our show and mother isn't always the wise one who twinkles over the kids' heads. We also get a sense of variety from looking at each program as a motion picture with a beginning, middle, and end."

Both were silent for a moment and then Jane said quietly, "We've been fortunate indeed. So many performers work terribly hard and never really know if their efforts are appreciated—or even wanted. Bob and I have found that apparently what we have been doing on TV has been welcomed in homes. We feel a much greater responsibility now than we even did before. And we are going to continue to give the best we can to all those who have made it possible for us to go on giving at all."

Bob got up, having finished his lunch, turned to Jane, and said, "And now, Jane, let's get back to work."

PLEASE NOTE

In answer to readers' requests, TV-Radio Life is designating motion pictures in the logs by placing the word, "Movie," in the margin preceding the program. This will enable those who wish to single out flicker fare to do so at a glance.

HOW ABOUT COLOR TELEVISION?

Various Spectaculars have been transmitted in color lately and have been received very well on Black and White TV sets. Several stations are sending Color Testpattern at various intervals during the day for experimental purposes.

Information gathered from well informed sources shows the long-awaited appearance of Color Television Receivers with large screens will reach the consumer market by the end of next year.

The manufacturers of Color TV sets are still working on the basic scientific developments of circuits and the simplification of the production of Color TV Picture Tubes. There is, however, unanimous understanding between all concerned that no matter how soon or late Color TV may reach the market, your black and white TV set will be used for many years to come.

Now all you have to worry about is keeping your present set in a condition which guarantees satisfactory performance.

The wise thing to do is to make sure that your TV set is in good operating condition. It is better to be safe than to be sorry.

Call Television Industries at RI. 9-0301. They will inspect your set without obligation and write a parts warranty for only $15.00 per year, on a two-year basis, covering all parts, tubes, transformers, channel selector unit, speaker, and of course, the large picture tube, up to and including a 21-inch screen, regardless of make or age.

This warranty also incorporates a service agreement which provides that all labor charges are to be limited to a fixed price. All house calls for repair are charged at a flat rate of $3.50 per call. This is not an hourly rate but a fixed price.

Television Industries covers all districts of Greater Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Pomona and nearby communities, Monday through Saturday, six days a week.

For further information, simply call RI. 9-0301 or mail the coupon below to Television Industries, 4031 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles 5 Calif.

Pick of the Pix

By Aubrey Dahl

I'm putting in a bid right now to appear on the $64,000 Question and I would choose Movies as my category. Why, I'd breeze right through the easy ones, like, "Who was acclaimed as the greatest lover in silent films?" "Buster Keaton." I'd say, and be right, of course. Then they'd ask tough ones like, "Who is the star of 'Mr. Roberts'?" And I'd say . . . I'd say . . . and then they'd ask, "What actress just won an Academy Award? Her first name is Grace." And I'd say . . . I'd say . . . Well, anyway, ANTIDISESTABLISHMENTARIANISM.

"Night in Paradise." (5) Aug. 28, 7:30. This TV first run is a 1946 Walter Wanger production that emerges as a fairly enjoyable satire on the glory that was Greece. Persian Princess Merle Oberon comes to the court of rich King Croesus, Thomas Gomez, 550 B.C., for her marriage to said king. She desires a life of comfort, you see. Then Aesop, of fable fame, played by Turhan Bey (Does he wear a turban, hey?) arrives at the court disguised as an old, old man and tosses wisdom around the while he convinces Croesus that war is a foolish pursuit. He charms Miss Oberon, is charmed in turn, and appears in her boudoir one humid evening as the young and handsome lover he really is. Miss Oberon casts off her old faults of avarice and hypocrisy and determines to become a woman worthy of Aesop. They flee Croesus (not very sharp, that Croesus) and wind up in each other's arms in as wildly improbable a finish as has been wrought in some time. The picture at times is serious, to its detriment, at times descends into farce, to its benefit, but under Arthur Lubin's direction is nearly always diverting.

"Wherever She Goes." (2) Sept. 2, 12 midnight. The Australians are not noted for their cinematic achievements, but this Down Under effort has its points. It is the story of the young life of the eminent Australian pianist, Eileen Joyce, and traces her career from her struggles as the daughter of a poverty-stricken coal miner to her ultimate success on the Albert Hall concert stage.

"My Pal, Trigger." (9) Aug. 29-Sept.

2, 7:00. This picture inaugurates a new series on Channel 9 consisting of some hundred or so Roy Rogers-Gene Autry feature films made during their careers with Republic Pictures. The films will be shown Monday through Friday at seven, as with last season's "Channel 9 Movies." This kickoff episode tells how Roy acquired Trigger. It seems that Gabby Hayes won't allow Roy to breed his mare with one of Gabby's beautiful Palomino stallions, so neighboring rancher Jack Holt takes a hand and brings the lovers together one humid night, but kills the Palomino in the process. Holt does, not Roy's mare. Anyway, Roy offers the result of this love match, who is Trigger, of course, to Gabby, but he won't accept and then there is a horse race which Trigger wins from Gabby's other Palomino, a mare. Trigger loses his heart to her as they cross the finish line and they get together one humid night and there is another foaling (this thing reads like a Greek tragedy, don't you think?) and this time it's twins and in a very cute ending, Trigger faints. Holt goes to jail for something or other, Roy and Gabby patch up their differences and YOU GET TO WATCH THIS PICTURE EVERY NIGHT IN THE WEEK EXCEPT SATURDAY AND SUNDAY AND WON'T THE WEEKENDS BE EMPTY?

"It Always Rains On Sunday." (4) Sept. 1, 1:00. Dadblast it, and there ain't nothin' on TV . . . Roy and Gene won't be on again till Monday. Wait a minute, what's this? Why, Roy's on Channel 4 at 6:30. Let it rain, Hot dawg!

HOLLAND'S TUNNEL

The motion picture industry and the theater owners have come up with a provocative idea. Called Audience Awards, it is intended to give the paying public a chance to make their selections next fall for best picture, best actor and actress, most promising new male and female personality. About 50,000,000 votes are expected—and prizes will include such little items as a three-bedroom, two-bath house, completely furnished, with a new car in the garage, and clothes in the wardrobe closet. In addition, trips around the world will be offered. This is a plan that will once again stir the public's interest in movies—and it is a project that TV could well adopt. If the public were allowed to vote for best performances, best TV dramatic or comedy show, and all the other categories, not only would they be more interested in TV but the industry would get a much-needed cross-section of what the public really thinks—and wants. After all, audiences should have their say about awards. They're just the ones who buy the tickets—and the TV sets.

Maybe you caught that Robert Montgomery summer show of a couple of weeks ago in which a nice little, meek man ran a summer theater and lived a nice, little, meek life—except for a shrewish wife. This one took the prize as the most inane offering of the year. All the talk, all the hysterics, all the high-sounding phrases came through with a dramatic blank. So many of the shows from New York are trying so hard to be arty that they are simply getting into a trite pattern. If something isn't done soon, audiences are going to think that nobody can afford to be happy in a TV drama. Everybody's got to suffer and suffer. This is okay, but haven't audiences suffered enough already? Why turn TV into a psychiatrist's couch?

From the Mail Bag: In the column giving one reader's views about Channel 5 shows, here is an answer: ". . . her (the reader) unfair rating of Jimmy Fidler got me 'fightin' mad' . . . he gives his listeners and viewers honest facts about the well-known glorified celebrities of the movie colony. . . . There has been too much sham in the build-up of unworthy stars, directors, writers, promoters, etc., whose personal lives are a disgrace. . . . Jimmy Fidler should not be put in the doghouse for fearlessly telling the truth." Mrs. Rae Suchman.

(Mrs. Suchman doesn't seem to like most Hollywood stars. As for telling the truth, Mr. Fidler has had more than a few slips on that score on his present show and on past efforts, too.

We feel this way—he is making his living on Hollywood and yet he has always run it down and with not too much regard for facts. However, we're glad to present Mrs. Suchman's views.)

On the Mary Margaret McBride item: "I couldn't resist telling you I absolutely agree with you on the Mary Margaret McBride commercials. When I first saw one I could hardly believe my ears (and eyes). . . . As the commercial went on and on I thought to myself. 'This can't be for real.' But it was. . . ." Mrs. Pauline Kearney.

And another: "Just want to send a word of thanks for that wonderful comment about Mary Margaret McBride. It expressed the opinion of a multitude of people . . . a child could give a better commercial . . . she informed us she was raised on a farm. I always heard you could take the girl from the farm but you could not take the farm from the girl. Now I believe it." Mrs. F.M.A.

(Not that being raised on a farm is at all bad, but it looks as though Mary Margaret is not such a gem after all on TV. Yet, she just goes on working. Wonder if she really can bake a cake? She has to have some qualifications to keep the job.)

Performers may come and performers may go but Harry Belafonte continues to be one of the really fine artists in the business. It took TV to bring him to the public's attention and he has continued to build in stature. His present Cocanut Grove stint is probably his best job to date. From the minute he walks on that floor—in fact, even before he makes his appearance—he has the audience in his hand. Even if clubs, as such, are a big bore to you, Belafonte is well worth a visit.

The week's most amusing—and embarrassing—sight on TV: the smoke being blown into Rush Adams' face as he sang during a "Bandstand Revue" stint. This was an effect? The guy on the other end of that blower was certainly being energetic. He engulfed Rush. This was a real bomb! In fact, most of that particular show was pretty deadly. This was a production???

Early-Bird Billy Wardell Wakens And Works, While World Sleeps

It takes two alarm clocks in order to make sure the CBS-KNX musician gets up in time for the early-morning Harry Babbitt Show.

By Mildred Ross

"It takes two alarm clocks to get me up," yawned Billy Wardell, radio's early bird musician.

Bill is musician, straight-man for the CBS-KNX Harry Babbitt show. Ever since he quit playing piano with dance bands, he swapped late hours for early sunrises, he's relied on the two-alarm system. He keeps one alarm clock next to his bed and the other out of reach across the room on his dresser. Having two alarms is a safety precaution—just in case one should fail to ring.

Instead of groping for a cup of coffee at 5 a.m. to awaken him, Billy reaches for the morning paper and sleepily glances through it. We would hate to have Billy give a recap of the news in his sleepy condition!

Billy has his first cup of coffee with the gang at the studio. They eat breakfast together after the show, then spend another hour or more rehearsing. Billy has completed his work on this show just about the time most people are getting to their offices. However, in addition to the Babbitt show, Billy is a staff musician and on call for other assignments.

Co-operation

Babbitt and Billy work together in the selection of songs, usually programming for a week at a time. They'll often argue over one song or another, and while Harry could insist on doing a particular number, he'll listen to Bill's ideas of maybe why he shouldn't do it.

They are both close friends. They golf together frequently, visit each other, and because of this close relationship Billy knows all of Harry's singing "tricks"—knows how to suggest the right songs for the show, keeping within Harry's range.

Billy enjoys doing the early morning program of fun, informal music and chit chat. "We take fluffs in our stride . . . never fussing about them. We can laugh at our own mistakes and keep the tempo of the show rolling," he comments.

Understand Singers

"I derive a great deal of gratification in working with Harry. He's one of the nicest guys in the world to work with. I understand singers and can "breathe" with them, that's why I prefer being an accompanist to being a solo performer. Perhaps it's my early training.

My mother's a singer and she's a severe critic. But when she says I know how to work with singers that's really a compliment. Mother's eighty now but she still sings with the WCTU Choir.

Billy left his home in Memphis, Tennessee, at the age of fifteen to help the family finances. Moving to New York he joined a dance orchestra and for several years thereafter he toured the hotel circuit with various name bands.

In 1939 he joined Fletcher Wiley's "Housewives Protective League" as pianist and arranger. Billy had to get up at six in the morning for this show and that's when he instituted the two alarm clock system. During the war, Billy took an enforced leave of absence for a booking in the South Pacific Theater of Operations. You can bet that the army was not one to change Billy's early morning habits. But it was just as well that they insisted on sunrise reveille because when Billy returned to CBS he was assigned to do the Babbitt show, and that means rising at five in the morning.

Notes
to You

By ANDY MANSFIELD

(KFI, Monday thru Friday, 8:45 a.m.)
(Saturday, 9:30 p.m.)

All categories are represented in this week's top long-playing items from the major discories—jazz, classical, film soundtrack, vocal and dance. "Pete Kelly's Blues" is available on labels, with a third one to come. RCA-Victor features the small group of top west-coast jazzmen known as "Pete Kelly's Big Seven" playing eleven tunes from the picture (all standards) and introduced by Producer Jack Webb. Columbia's version features the same combo, plus Ray Heindorf's Orchestra, apparently from the soundtrack of the film. Many numbers are duplicated, although in different versions, and both should garner their share of sales from jazz lovers who'll see the picture—for this is top-drawer stuff.

"Interrupted Melody" features selections from MGM's film biography of soprano Marjorie Lawrence, which were also taken from the picture's soundtrack. Star of these performances is Eileen Farrell (singing voice of Eleanor Parker) and what a terrific job this gal turns in on the operatic sequences from "Carmen," "La Boheme," "Il Trovatore" and many others. Truly, one of the top sound-track releases of the year on MGM Long-Play.

"Les and Mary" (Capitol) should be another biggie for the voices and guitars of the Pauls, who make an awful lot of music for just two people, thanks to the multiple recording technique they've perfected. All 16 selections are just about as varied as you'd wish, with blues, spirituals, ballads, ragtime, and western examples included to satisfy the most critical.

"Cavalcade Of Dance" (Coral) features Paul Whiteman's "New" Palais Royale Orchestra playing music for every dance craze from the polka, through the waltz and turkey trot, to the present. A mighty clever album, produced in co-operation with the Fred Astair Dance Studios, that should further popularize Whiteman's rejuvenated dance style which was the rage of the '20s.

(P.S. . . . Selections from these albums will be heard on our "Turn Back the Clock" radio programs, KFI, 8:45 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Thanks for readin' and listenin'. A.M.)

Veteran KOWL Disc Jockey Appeals to Latin Americans

Lionel Sesma, better known as "Chico," has been doing a great deal to eliminate race prejudice, especially on behalf of the Mexican-Americans. Here are the details.

By JEAN CORLIS

Young people of Mexican-American background are rallying around a new leader; a man of their own background who speaks to them in English and promotes their civic pride, yet appeals through music to the warm gaiety of their Latin blood. This is "Chico," the first Mexican-American disc jockey, who is starting his fifth year on KOWL.

Lionel Sesma, known as "Chico," is a good-looking young man in his mid-twenties. He has been called "sweet," "charming," and "kind." He is a man of deep feeling, married, the father of small children, yet he is not too far removed from the thoughts and feelings of the teen-agers he knew as a student at Roosevelt High.

He knows the problems and frustrations of a minority group. He became upset when he read the stories in the papers of what was happening among the Mexican-American youth . . . the incidence of gangs and terrorism. He knew that only a small percentage of the young people were involved, and he determined to help the others.

"Chico" broadcasts every day from 3:30 to 5:30, though when he started in 1950 he had only half an hour a day. His show was an outgrowth of the war . . . appealing to those Americans of Mexican or Latin descent who were second-generation Americans, especially to those boys who had gone to war and merged into groups from many different backgrounds.

When they came back from the war they were anxious to be like other Americans, to break away from the Mexican or Spanish spoken in their homes, while retaining the culture of their parents. These younger people prefer to be appealed to in the American language, with occasional references in Spanish or Mexican to things which are an integral part of their heritage. They do not like to hear the half-Mexican, half-English dialect of the uneducated peon portrayed in the movies.

There are about 400,000 people of Latin descent in Los Angeles. KOWL has three personalities to appeal to the different groups of Spanish or Mexican-descent Angelenos. Elena Salinas and Sr. Orozco appeal to the older people born in Mexico who still speak Spanish or Mexican. "Chico" speaks to the youth born in this country who are striving to become Americans of Mexican or Spanish descent.

He started out by saying . . . "Look, all you kids . . . come down and go on the air with me. Let the people come to know you." As a result of his invitation he has received hundreds of letters from different organizations who are interested in helping young people. Now on each program he has a young representative of the various groups. They go on the air and tell what each group is doing, the dances they are holding, the public services in which they are engaging. He is inspiring these young people to a pride in their heritage and a resolution to make people proud of the Mexican-Americans in their midst.

Organizer of the "Latin Holiday" dance-fest, held two years ago in a downtown Los Angeles ballroom, "Chico" and his five local Latin-American bands were such a tremendous success (attendance was equalled only by Xavier Cugat and Perez Prado) that "Chico" has since become a band-leader and puts on dances every weekend. His popularity is so great that crowds far exceed the capacity of the ballroom. But the crowds are gay and happy and orderly because the man they all look up to is there to lead them.

NEW CHAMPION

The TV-Radio Life—Bill Burrud softball team pulled an upset last week by vanquishing the previously undefeated "You Asked For It" team, 11 to 1.

Solid hitting, steady pitching, and an alert defense highlight by two double plays, featured the victor's attack.

The losers threaten revenge in the upcoming tilt this week at the Hollywood ball field at Cahuenga and Santa Monica Boulevards.

NEXT WEEK

The "What's My Line?" panelists are on the cover plus a revealing story about their own particular lines. Another highlight is a frank story on George Liberace. In addition you'll be interested in feature articles on "N.O.P.D." The Whiting Girls and their amusing comments about each other, the radio show "Conversations," and George Rony, the man whose TV exploits put a price on his head.

The regular columnists will be around and you'll want to read the other news features in our next issue. As usual, TV-Radio Life gives you more stories and more up-to-date information than any other television magazine. No wonder it's the best dime buy in town.

Ear, Eye Inspire the Pen

Mrs. Ronald M. Bach, Costa Mesa

Would you please settle an argument between my husband and myself. He says Dick Stewart and Don Hayden, who plays "Freddie" on "My Little Margie," are one and the same person. I say they are not. Who is right.

As usual, the lady in the house is right. Although Dick and Don are look alike, they are not the same person.

Joseph Lautman, Los Angeles

I just got home from a late session of the "Strictly Informal" show with its all-star cast.

I have been listening to the radio and catching TV shows off and on for the past twenty-five years. And last night about half-way through the show, the entire stage production halted and all of the performers stopped and actually applauded the audience for being so responsive to the show. How is that for a switch in rewarding an audience? The audience seemed to get a big kick out of it.

Mrs. Robert Simpson, Monterey Park

Why is Lawrence Welk and his wonderful orchestra not on our TV any longer?

We have enjoyed his program on Friday for at least five years. We even hated to go out on that evening because we didn't want to miss it. Friday has nothing to keep us home now. Yes, I know the party who has that place, but it cannot begin to fill it for us. We know each of the Welk bunch by name and face and feel like they are all personal friends. They are all so entertaining in more ways than one.

We were very pleased to see them and hear them on the stage of our Monterey Park bowl and what an excellent hour and a half program heard by a crowd estimated to be around 14,000, the largest crowd to ever attend our bowl concerts.

Just another word about a letter in your magazine. Surely a correspondent stepped on our toes by saying such untruths about one of our favorites, Ed Murrow. We have always watched and enjoyed his programs so much and listened to his wartime reporting from England. We are 100 per cent American ourselves and would never for one minute think Ed Murrow was anything other than the same. And believe me I have no use for Commies or anything that even smells of commies.

As things stand now, Lawrence Welk is heard on the ABC-TV Network, but not locally.

Mrs. W. Kelly, Los Angeles

Have never written before but wish to say I firmly believe that the Orrin Tucker Show is wonderful and lovely Roberta Linn adds the finishing touch. She is adorable and sweet and a grand personality and singer.

I also have not cared for Lawrence Welk's Show since she left it. There is so much missing without her. I will admit they have good performers. Every man is tops.

Ruthie Forqueran, Los Angeles

Evidently, you have never bothered to watch what fans think is KTLA's top show, "Western Varieties."

Informality, friendliness, humor, the top Western acts, and top guest stars compose this wonderful family show.

With the swell Doye O'Dell as host, the show has a legion of fans young and old.

The new all-star "Western Varieties" features a spanking new format with big names in the Western field in guest appearances and the best in variety acts.

If there were more wholesome shows like this on TV, there would be little or no rise for criticism of the shows daily seen by the younger generation.

Mrs. L. F. De Marte, Los Angeles

For a long time I have resented these pitchmen who scream at us and beat on auto fenders. The two who are the worst in my book are Dick Lane and Gary Goodwin...

Radio Ramblings

Edgar Bergen returns to the CBS airlines October 2 for his nineteenth year of network broadcasting. . . . Anna Maria Alberghetti will blend voices with Gary Crosby on next Sunday's show. . . . Vacationing Arthur Godfrey returns to the air on September 12.

Irving R. Levine, NBC correspondent has become the first Western non-Communist radio correspondent since 1948 to receive permanent accreditation to Russia. . . . Sterling Tracy has been signed to direct the top-rated "CBS News Room Sunday Desk" . . . Gene Autry and Tennessee Ernie are making appearances at various state fairs in the Midwest.

On September 17 Don Lee launch their twenty-ninth year of airing top West Coast college football games. . . . "Housewives Protective League" celebrates its twenty-first birthday this month. . . . Murdo MacKenzie and Buddy Cole visit Bing at Hayden Lake for a recording session. . . . Margaret Truman has become "Monitor's" special correspondent, reporting on her two-month European vacation.

Quote from CBS' "Guiding Light": "You can't erase the past, but you can keep it in proper perspective." M.R.

Radio Creates Star

Lovely Laurie Carroll auditioned for "Talent Scouts" two short months ago and her life hasn't been the same since. She was such an outstanding winner when she appeared on Arthur Godfrey's show that she was besieged with offers.

She received an invitation from Rodgers and Hammerstein to audition for their new musical "Pipe Dream," and was also offered a lead part by them in the new touring company of "The King and I."

This week the talented lyric soprano guests on CBS's "The Woolworth Hour." It looks as though "Talent Scouts" has certainly been a springboard for Laurie.

"Miss KNX—The Perfect 35 Girl"

At times, the demands made upon the fourth estate can be very distracting. For example take the arduous chore the ladies and gentlemen of the press are being called upon to perform on August 25. They are to be judges in the selection of "Miss KNX—The Perfect 35 Girl." "Miss Thirty-five" or rather "Miss KNX" will be the official hostess for KNX's celebration of its thirty-fifth anniversary on Saturday, September 10.

The corps of working press will undoubtedly rise to the occasion and meet the challenge, and unquestionably a lot of them will offer their services to KNX to help them celebrate their thirty-fifth anniversary when it rolls around.

Colonels Have Their Day

While Oklahoma's Governor Raymond Gary was in town last week for the preview of "Oklahoma" he visited KNX's "Matinee." Max Roby, newscaster on the show, and vocalist Louise O'Brien, ex-Oklahomans, were duly appointed Honorary Colonels on the Governor's staff.

Radio Hits the Road

Time was, not so long ago, when the people came to radio in Southern California. Ticket lines were blocks long in Hollywood radio centers.

But today, the story is somewhat different. Decentralization of population, television, traffic . . . a dozen influences have cut down the attendance of listeners at actual broadcasts. Not the least of the factors is the trend of many stations to put their shows on tape minus an audience.

KBIG's answer to the apparent lack of audience, not listenership, interest was to send its disc jockeys out into the wide world to meet the public. The station acquired a Volkswagen miniature bus and a speedy little Chevrolet Corvette sports car. The Volks has been converted by engineer Bill Dalton into a complete mobile broadcast unit with turntables. The Corvette whisks KBIG special events director Stu Wilson and news director Larry Berrill to spots deserving special event coverage by telephone wire.

As a result of their new mobility, KBIG's dee jay's have been able to originate this year in all eight Southern California counties served by the Catalina Station signal. They have chatted and shaken hands with thousands of fans; signed autographs; passed out pictures and other mementoes of the station.

In all its remotes, KBIG lives up to its program policy of "Music You Like, Just Enough News and the Right Time, All Day Long." All talk segments are restricted to a maximum of five minutes, and there are never more than two per hour.

"Southern Californians are sure curious about what announcers look like, and what makes our remote broadcasts tick technically" says lanky 6-foot-10 Carl Bailey. "On weekend remotes especially, many will come up and tell me they heard us on the air and decided to drive twenty to fifty miles just to say hello and watch us work."

Judging by the way the crowds gather around the KBIG deejays on location, they listen to the radio as well as watch television. Stu Wilson has observed teen-agers waiting interminably to hear him play a loved favorite.

Getting a suntan, beating the smog, meeting lots of nice people, these are some of the reasons given by the KBIG record spinners when asked why they like remotes. Since they are all married men, they don't dare mention another advantage: Marilyn Barnett or Darlene Coats, the live models who impersonate the KBIG trademark mermaid and who act as hostess at such KBIG exhibits as the county fairs.

The year 1955 is going down in KBIG's annals as the year radio hit the road and converted a numbered spot on a dial into something warm, human, personal and companionable.

The question most baseball fans ask me is, "Chuck, is the Pacific Coast League through?"

To be perfectly frank I'm afraid my answers to these fans have been "Yes" . . . but let me hasten to explain that I believe the Coast League can be re-incarnated; however, the League cannot hope to survive alone.

The fans must attend the games of course, for that is where the revenue to pay the ball players' salaries comes from and, most important of all, the Los Angeles press must give the Pacific Coast League the same type of billing in their newspapers as they give UCLA, USC and even the distant major leagues.

And speaking of the majors; unfortunately this hullabaloo about the majors moving west has deeply hurt the PCL clubs in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Hollywood. A few years back Mr. V. X. Flaherty, of the Los Angeles Examiner, started taking pot shots at the PCL alleging, among other things, that when he went to a PCL game he had to cringe in horror for fear that an outfielder might be conked on the noggin by a fly ball.

Of course this is ridiculous. Sure the majors would draw big in LA; sure you'd like to watch the Yankees and Red Sox; sure I'd like to see the majors. But I would also like to drive a Cadillac and own a home in Beverly Hills, both of which are out of the question right now as far as I'm concerned. I'm very happy living with my family in Reseda and perfectly content to tool my present car along the freeways.

Bad parallel? I don't know, but it makes just about as much sense.

This idea of major leagues for the west is nothing new. As a matter of fact Gil Stratton, the very able PCL umpire and CBS sportscaster, has a copy of a paper printed out here in 1930, which bannerlines a story that reads, "Why wait till 1935 for major league ball?"

Here it is twenty five years later and the gentlemen of the press still scream for major league ball. There is no doubt in my mind that the majors will move west but till then we should all support what we have.

I love baseball; it has been my life. I owe what success I have achieved in life to baseball and, by the same token, these same Los Angeles writers who day in and day out make their living out of baseball continually harass the PCL. They seem to have forgotten that they are merely reporters. The majority have overnight become experts in all fields of sports. They no longer report on the game but rather proceed to point out the errors, calling this team or that "hapless," etc.; but constructive criticism, hardly ever.

Of course this doesn't apply to all local writers. There are three who do an outstanding job in coverage of the PCL, Charlie Park does an excellent job, as does the Sports Editor of Hollywood Citizen News, Bob Panella. And Lupi Saldani when he covered PCL ball for the defunct Daily News. These three in my estimation are Major League Writers.

All this reminds me of a story that concerns the Boston Braves, (Milwaukee). When the Braves were based in Boston they took a horrible lashing from the writers. The writers seldom had a good word for the Braves in spite of the fact that each spring the Braves would finance a month's vacation to Florida for the writers and their families. It cost them nary a dime for transportation, food or housing, yet these same writers literally bit the hand that fed them.

The owners at long last threw up their hands in despair, when fans no longer supported the team, and moved them to Milwaukee.

And what happened to these critics of the Braves, the so-called sports writers? Well the Boston papers then had a few writers who had nothing to write about so the logical solution was to hand them their walking papers. Some fifteen of them were let go and all because they looked upon themselves as great critics, not reporters; and the same can happen here in the West.

As you all know, this all came to a head when Gale Wade, the able Angel outfielder, guested prior to an Angel game on my KHJ-TV pre-game show and expressed his surprise at the coverage of the local teams by our local press. I have received thousands of letters from you fans on the subject and I'm happy to report that in all the mail received to date only one fan sided with the writers.

I'd like to express my thanks to you who took the time to write to me and let me in on your feelings in this matter. All I can say is that I sincerely hope the PCL has not been murdered by these writers. . . . If they will come to their senses and do the job we all know they can do, then there indeed is hope for baseball in the west.

But until that time we may wake up one morning and find we have no professional baseball in Los Angeles and believe me it COULD happen!

*Manager and discoverer Cliffie Stone gives some new insights into
"Tennessee Ernie"
Ford, Molly Bee, and other members of the "Hometown Jamboree"

a new approach to Ernie and Molly

▲ FOR MANY DIFFERENT reasons Cliffie Stone is almost like a "second father" to Molly Bee. TV fans during the past five years have practically watched Molly grow up right before their eyes.

THERE'S A strange relationship between Cliffie Stone, Tennessee Ernie and Molly Bee. Strange, that is, for Hollywood.

There are no $ signs in their eyes when they look at each other. When you consider the business they are all in, and when you consider what the connection is between the three of them, this is an unusual trait.

There's no use denying it: show business may mean a lot of different things to a lot of different people, but when it comes to the dollar and cents column, it's a strict business proposition the same as any other financial operation.

The "starry-eyed fan" or "the dedicated actor" may look upon show business in a different light, but if they do they neither make nor understand what success really is. A buck is just as important in show business as in any other enterprise.

To some, the Almighty Dollar is

All-Important. There are many agents, actors, singers, producers (you name them) who wouldn't move a finger or drop an eyelid without having every moment and movement signed, sealed, and delivered in a neat little contract.

Now here's where Cliffie and Ernie (and yes, Molly Bee, Joannie O'Brien and all the rest of the former and present "Hometown Jamboree" gang) enter the picture again.

Big Time

In case you hadn't heard, during the past two years "Tennessee Ernie" Ford has catapulted to the top ranks (and thus to the top money bracket) in the entertainment world with his daytime NBC-TV program, his daily CBS coast-to-coast radio stint, his records, movies, and night club dates.

Little Molly has also been as busy as the proverbial Bee. (Okay, so it's a lousy pun.) Anyhow, Molly has climbed the ladder of success right along with Ernie.

And of course, as all local TV fans know, Cliffie Stone is still rolling smoothly along with his perennial "Hometown Jamboree" TV show, now seen on KTLA.

And guess who their business manager is? That's right, the same man who gave both of them their first break in the business, the first man who had confidence in their ability: Cliffie Stone.

Actually, Cliffie is one of the few men we know who can lead the "double life" of being a business manager as well as a performer. It wasn't very long ago that Cliffie was the big boss, and Ernie was one of the fellows who worked for him.

The big, jovial bandleader laughs when anyone asks him if he has become jealous because Ernie has definitely become the bigger success of the two.

"That's silly," Cliffie says. "What's good for Ernie is good for me. If he goes up. I go up. I'm not complaining."

▲ CLIFFIE IS not only not jealous of Ernie's nationwide success, but as Cliffie himself explains it, he gets a chance now and then to appear on the NBC-TV network—something which he probably might never have achieved alone. (NBC photo.)

▼ HERE THEY are together: Ernie and Molly. If it hadn't been for their undeniable talent—they wouldn't be on top now, where they belong and where they will probably stay for quite some time.

No Contract

It was almost two years ago that Ernie came up to Cliffie and asked him outright if he'd be his business manager.

"But I've never done anything like that before," Cliffie replied.

"You know me. And you know the business. What else do you have to know if you're to become my manager?" Ernie asked.

Cliffie didn't have an answer for that. They shook hands. To this date, that handshake is the only binding contract they have. And from what we know of both Ernie and Cliffie it's a far better and more lasting contract than any ten lawyers could ever draw up.

There's more than just the common association in show business that holds Ernie and Cliffie and all the "Hometown Jamboree" gang together. To use a western expression: they're just the same kind of people.

No Arguments

"Honestly," Cliffie explained during a TV-Radio Life interview (he looked as if he really didn't expect us to believe what he was going to say) "in all the time I've known Ernie, we've never had an argument. I mean a real argument where he had one steadfast opinion and I had the opposite viewpoint. There have been times, for example, when we've disagreed on what would make a good number to sing. But we wouldn't argue about it. We'd just wait. If it turned out all right—and this has happened several times—either Ernie or I (whichever one was wrong) would come up with an expression such as, 'Say, you were right about that, after all—weren't you?' To that, we'd both agree—and then we'd be right back where we started—still no argument."

Ernie and Cliffie have much more in common. They are both good family men. When they're on the road alone—to be perfectly frank—they don't go gallivanting around town like two high school kids.

"To put it in as few words as possible, I think that Ernie and I both have the same basic Christian outlook on life. That's really the only way I can explain it," Cliffie said.

As far as Molly is concerned, in many ways Cliffie is a "second father" to her.

"I think Molly is one of the few people in show business, if not the only person, whom the public have almost virtually watched grow up on television. She was eleven when she started with me, and now she's sixteen, and during all the time she has been seen constantly on my shows, and on others.

"From the very beginning I was always firmly convinced that Ernie had the potentiality of greatness as a performer. I think time has proved me right. I think he has a universal appeal that few entertainers can match.

"I think Molly has that same quality. She too will be a big star some day, on her own."

What about Cliffie Stone, the performer? Will he ever achieve for himself what he has done for Ernie and Molly?

"I doubt it," Cliffie says honestly. "I want to remain a performer because I like it and because I think it helps me to be a better manager for other people. But as far as stardom is concerned, I really don't care. I'm happy just the way I am."

and they go on and on

"Amos 'n' Andy" have been around for over a quarter of a century. What has made it such a popular show and is it still attracting good audiences in these TV days?

By Jon Bruce

CLIFF HOWELL is an enthusiastic and energetic man of radio who has been directing the "Amos 'n' Andy" radio shows for CBS for about five years. As number one fan for the work of Freeman Gosden and Charlie Correll, the real-life Amos and Andy, he's not at all surprised that this program is still one of the all-time popular greats.

Reasons for Success

"There are many reasons why this show is so popular and why it has been a success for all these years," Cliff said sincerely. "For one thing, its characters are real human beings. The 'Kingfish' is, for instance, a sly old rascal who represents the feeling most of us have of 'Would we steal if we could get away with it?' Andy is the gullible one who is the friend of the world and is a foil for the 'Kingfish.' Amos represents the intelligent one who has a family, lives a good life, and is respected.

"The show is a success too because it has proved to be the answer to the kind of entertainment most people want. Remember when it was the kingpin of all radio? I can recall going into a restaurant for dinner one night when suddenly there was a musical fanfare. All service was stopped, people ceased eating, and everyone waited for the 'Amos 'n' Andy' show to go on the air. After the program was over, service and eating were resumed. And I can also recall when movie theatres used to advertise the fact that they would stop the running of the picture to allow audiences to hear 'Amos 'n' Andy.' People just weren't going anywhere for fear they'd miss their favorite program.

"We get other indications of its continued popularity too by the number of people who want to see Freeman and Charlie record the programs. We always try to get people who are Amos 'n' Andy fans in the audience. We almost always have more people than we can take care of.

"One of the reasons for the continued excellence of the program is the writing of Joe Connelly and Bob Mosher. They almost miraculously manage to come up with consistently entertaining and top scripts."

The Story

Of course, there are some people who weren't around when "Amos 'n' Andy" were the rulers of the air. And so some don't know of the amazing success story of Freeman Gosden and Charlie Correll. It's a story that is as fantastic as has been their success.

The two men met years ago in Durham, North Carolina where Charlie was playing the piano and trying to direct a choral group. They joined forces and went around the south putting on shows. From here they went to Chicago where they entertained as a singing team. Then one day Bob Boniel, program director of WEBH, an independent radio station in Chicago, asked Freeman to dramatize a certain show. Freeman said he couldn't do that but he did suggest that he and Charlie do a program in which they would imitate a couple of colored men. Boniel went for the idea and told Freeman to come back in about a week with a possible script.

"Why wait a week?" Freeman asked. "We'll be here tomorrow."

And he and Charlie stayed up all night working on a show. They decided to use two characters—one big and one small. Mutt and Jeff were the popular comics of the day so this seemed like a good formula. They got together a script, called their characters "Sam" and "Henry," and went on the station where they were very popular for two years.

At the end of that time transcontinental radio came to the fore and the boys wanted to go network. They asked Boniel to release them.

"I can't hold you," he said, "but you can't take the names of 'Sam' and 'Henry' with you. They're our property."

Well, the boys left anyway. They got together a script, were all set to go on network, but hadn't come up with the right names for their characters. One day, going down in an elevator, they heard the operator greet someone with "Hello, Famous Amos." A little later he called someone else. "Handy Andy." When Freeman and Charlie got off the elevator they had the same idea at the same time. Why not call their characters Amos and Andy?

"Besides," Freeman laughed, "we get first billing with them—A and A."

When they went on the air with the show the critics really piled into them—called the program a dud. One day they ran into Bing Crosby, who was just on his way up. He told them how much he liked the show. Jack Benny was another who predicted it would be a hit. So Freeman and Charlie continued to work on it and added new characters, among them the "Kingfish." Remember Andy's famous introduction of this character: "I was watchin' an excavation when I put my hand in mah picket to get mah watch and I found myself shakin' hands with the 'Kingfish'."

The rest is history. Cliff Howell, who began in radio in 1928 as an announcer and singer, is a happy guy in his job. He feels like many other millions do—as long as "Amos 'n' Andy" are on the air, radio will continue to be a mighty potent medium.

Hook and ladder drama

"Central Alarm" takes you to a fire for on-the-spot interviews with victims. This dramatic reporting delivers a radio punch.

MANY PEOPLE think you don't die until your time has come, but we try to beat that time," says Fire Inspector Robert Patterson.

The serious inspector is narrator of the exciting documentary series, "Central Alarm." Three weeks after its local debut on KABC, the program received such widespread acclaim that it was extended to ABC's regional net.

Inspector Patterson sincerely hopes that the program will influence people to use more caution. There is an average of 400 fires in the city each week. Ninety percent of them are caused by carelessness and of this figure ten to forty percent of the fires are set deliberately.

Patterson "chases" ten fires each week from which he gleans three that are suitable for broadcast. With mike in hand he brings on-the-spot coverage of fires. The inspector has an advantage over other reporters because he is permitted to enter a burning building and thus can give a far more dramatic and comprehensive report than a newspaper man.

Recordings

The inspector, who has had five years of firefighting experience originally began making tape recordings at fires in 1950 with a recorder mounted on a fire-fighting apparatus and connected to the storage battery. It was a rather awkward set-up with the firemen continually tripping over the mike cord. Invariably sirens drowned out half of his interviews. After much experimenting he overcame his technical difficulties by devising a soundproof box for his mike and switching to a portable recorder.

"It may be paradoxical," remarked Patterson, who has covered all kinds of fires in quest of interesting broadcast material, "but fatality and damage cannot always be measured by the size of a fire. I have witnessed explosions which rocked entire neighborhoods. The vibrations were frightening. Yet the only injury sustained was by one woman who burned her hands. Then on the other hand there was the small electric appliance which shorted, setting fire to a house. The flames engulfed the frame structure and a sleeping family was wiped out . . . burned beyond recognition.

"The greatest fire hazard is smoking in bed. Many people don't realize that smoke from a smoldering mattress 'drugs' victims before they realize that their bed is afire. If they don't pass out from the smoke first, they are usually too overcome by it and cannot struggle to get up and make a break for safety."

Fire Alarms

Patterson further explained that costly fire alarm boxes are gradually giving way to telephones, particularly in residential areas, as a means of calling the fire station. If there is no box in your immediate neighborhood, dial 116 anywhere in the city limits and you will connect directly with central alarm.

If the operator asks you seemingly foolish questions, answer them. There is a reason for wanting to know the nearest cross street to your address. Under duress, people have inadvertently given the fire department their wrong address.

The first five minutes of a fire determines how devastating the damage can be, so if you think you can put out your own fires, fine, but call the fire department first or have someone do it for you. Then proceed to do whatever you can to extinguish the fire. Even if you succeed in putting out a fire, it's important for the firemen to inspect walls and floors. You are not expected to know about embedded sparks or weakened surfaces.

"We don't want to lecture or read statistics to our audiences. We have learned that we can't get our message across that way. But we do hope by taking everybody to a fire on 'Central Alarm' we'll prove just how wasteful and unnecessary fires can be." Robert Patterson concluded thoughtfully.
