No Time on Her Hands

Doris Drew knows all about the problems of having a career and trying to run a home, but she seems to have found the perfect solution.

IDLE HANDS are the devil's workshop," one of grandmother's bromides, is a complete stranger to lovely Doris Drew, singing star on Tennessee Ernie Ford's radio and television shows.

Doris keeps so busy with her ten shows each week that she hardly has time to keep her weekly appointment at the hair-dressers. The young San Antonio, Texas, lass must be up every morning at 5 a.m. so that she may appear on time at the pre-show rehearsal of the Tennessee Ernie Ford television show which gets under way at 6:30 a.m. Doris rehearses with the cast until the 9 a.m. showtime when she breaks for a 45-minute breakfast period prior to going back into rehearsal for the following day's show.

Though this would be considered a full day's work for most of us, Doris, upon finishing the TV rehearsal at noon, flies immediately to CBS-Radio where she begins rehearsal for the Tennessee Ernie Ford broadcast. This rehearsal goes on until the 2 p.m. taping time, but the day is not over even after the radio show. At 2:30, after the show, Doris takes a break for lunch, then goes back to the radio studio to line up her songs for the following day. At 4:00 p.m., Doris calls it a day, and a day it is. Doris has been on her feet and going steadily for a solid ten and one-half hours. This goes on five days each week and certainly doesn't give her much time for idle hands.

Home

Though Doris loves her work and would never complain because she was going at it too hard or fast, it does present some problems. Doris, who used to spend a great deal of time with her three-year-old son Danny must now make precious use of every second she does get with him. On Saturday and Sunday, Doris and her husband, comedian Larry Allen, devote all their time to Danny. Doris, an outdoor girl at heart, spends as much time as possible teaching young Danny to ride horseback, swim and play golf. Though he is very young, Danny enjoys them all.

LOVELY DORIS DREW always manages to take the time from a very busy schedule to enjoy life with her three-year-old youngster, Danny. Here, Danny and Doris, who is seen on The Tennessee Ernie Ford Show over CBS-KNX and NBC-KRCA, emerge from the pool of their new North Hollywood home.

In addition, the Allens have just built a house in North Hollywood and are trying to find the time to furnish it. Their taste leans toward contemporary furnishings pictured in the den and dinette, but they haven't been able to put enough time together to furnish the living room which presently boasts a beautiful fireplace, carpeting and one chair.

Doris has packed a lot of action into her five-year singing career which started when she won a contest over 3,000 entrants and received a week's engagement at the Million Dollar Theater with Frankie Laine. The Texas miss was born to sing and is as much at home with a sentimental ballad as she is with a rhythm tune or a novelty song. Doris has played in night clubs throughout the country and had her own radio and television shows in addition to appearing on shows with Johnny Desmond and Jack Carson.

However, Doris thrives on her present schedule because she knows that no matter how late she may arrive home at night, it will be home and not a lonely hotel room.

THE COLORFUL Maurice Chevalier made his tint debut on a Max Liebman Spectacular. Audiences will be seeing more of him on other television programs in the very near future.

WHEN TWO ZANIES Ed Wynn and Red Skelton get together there are usually plenty of fireworks. Red is doing many of his telecasts in color this season.

Where Do We Stand Now On

Color TV

What progress has color television made? When will it be available for the 'masses'? Why is color television so costly?

By Mildred Ross

LOOKING at the world through rose-colored glasses is not only possible but it's become a respectable pastime for countless television viewers. More has been done this season to promote color television than ever before.

NBC has launched the most ambitious color schedule in its TV history. Their 1955-56 plans include mammoth one-shot productions and spectaculars, featuring the most celebrated stars in show business and embracing the entire field of entertainment. Daytime strips as well as evening shows will be tinted. NBC will average between nine and ten hours of colorcasting each week.

Although there is no question about NBC's taking the lead in color television this season, CBS is falling in line with a rapidly expanding color programming schedule. CBS has its own spectaculars, too, with equally celebrated stars but at present only averages between three and four hours of tinted television weekly.

ABC has no color plans whatsoever and DuMont's plans are limited to a few color films. KTLA plans periodic colorcasts.

Color "Firsts"

There's something for everybody in the realm of color programming . . . sports, musicals, operas, dramas, parades, and special events. Several so called "firsts" made a big splash on the color lanes. The first colorcast of an outdoor sports event ever presented on television, the Davis Cup Tennis Matches from the stadium at Forest Hills, New York, kicked off NBC's color coverage of a number of major sports events. The not-too-soon-to-be-forgotten 1955 World Series colorcast will go down in the annals of color history.

Another first was established last November when NBC premiered the British-made movie "Constant Husband" with Rex Harrison before the picture was shown in movie houses. The network paid $250,000 for the American rights. A high tariff, true, but it was another color first.

Highlights

Highlights on the color calendar include the Max Liebman musical comedy series, Producers' Showcase, the Milton Berle show, a series of Sunday color spreads, Maurice Evans productions, Wide Wide World, a bi-weekly remote with color inserts, Ford Star Jubilee, Red Skelton and Shower of Stars. Some of the Climax and Omnibus shows will also be tinted. In the daytime category Howdy Doody, NBC's Matinee Theater and an occasional Linkletter and Bob Crosby show will be in colorvision. The galaxy of names assembled for these shows is a bit breathtaking. Noel Coward, Mary Martin, Judy Garland, Jack Benny, Frank Sinatra, Patrice Munsel, Eva LeGallienne and Maurice Chevalier are but a few of the luminaries to be seen on the color lanes.

High Costs

These productions are expensive. The specs run as high as $300,000 or in some cases higher. However, the cost isn't due mainly to color. These shows would be expensive even in black and white with the high-priced talent involved. NBC approximates that color adds an average of 10 percent to the sponsor's bill, CBS says anywhere from five to 20 percent, depending on the type of show. But the sponsors aren't balking at the high tariff. They know that such shows attract large audiences and give the advertiser prestige.

Some 170 stations in 125 cities are equipped to carry network color to roughly 90 percent of the 35 million television homes in the country. But the percentage of television homes with color sets is still very small. In this area alone there's a distribution of 896 sets as compared to 2,202,126 black and whites. However, the potential is there and growing all the time.

But one factor that hampers this potential from mushrooming is the cost. Color sets run from $700 to $1,000 for a 19 or 21 inch tube. Some 22 of the 55 TV manufacturers have color sets planned for this fall.

The price is still high for the average consumer. Mr. Public might splurge on a color set if the price was brought down to $500. There are several reasons why the price of sets remains so high. One, the picture tubes are expensive. The average cost is about $100, five times the price of black and white. Components are expensive too. Although tube and component costs are being trimmed, producers are still losing money on every set sold. The reason, and the biggest cost problem, is the lack of mass production. There seems to be an impasse—the consumer waiting for lower prices and the manufacturer waiting for more orders before he can go into mass production and cut prices. Some set manufacturers are sitting on the sidelines waiting for an improved and cheaper tube before they go into production.

Time and time alone will overcome this impasse. There are varying opinions as to when it will happen. But truthfully, it is all a matter of conjecture.

Everyone agrees, however, that color is gaining momentum and as soon as the sets are taken out of the Cadillac class it will be full steam ahead for tinted entertainment.

HE WAS DOWN AND OUT

—but came back!

By

Ted Hilgenstuhler

HANK PENNY makes a living being funny. There was a time, however, during the past three years when life was no laughing matter for Hank. As most of our readers know, it was back in 1952-53 that Hank was sitting on top of the TV world. As a result of his appearances on the then high-rated Dude Martin Show, and later the Spade Cooley program, he was one of the most popular performers in our town.

In August, 1955, he realized a lifetime ambition when he started his own program on KHJ-TV, Channel 9.

However, for a two-year period from 1953 to 1955 Hank had hit bottom as far as TV was concerned. He was able to keep in bread and butter by making personal appearances throughout the Western states, but that was about all.

Low Morale and Bank Account

He not only went in debt, but worst of all (and this is especially bad for a man who must make other people laugh) his morale was low. He was down and almost out. Even Hank himself thought he could hear the inevitable count of "ten" coming up.

"I've never told this to anyone before, but I was seriously considering quitting show business entirely. It wasn't an easy decision to make. I have been entertaining people for the past 25 years. And for me to think about giving it all up and getting another kind of job—well, you can imagine how bad things had become."

What made Hank change his mind?

"That's easy to answer," Hank answered. "There were three people and one big incident which altered everything for me.

"FOUR" SAYS HANK PENNY. And "Five," says Sue Thompson. The newly-married couple are not indicating how many children each would like. That total adds up to nine—Channel 9, KHJ-TV. That's the station where you can see Hank's new show. (Dave Pell photo.)

"First and most important of all was my wife, Sue Thompson." Hank and Sue, a TV singer herself who was formerly wed to Dude Martin, were married in January of 1955.

"I could never possibly explain what a help Sue was. One odd thing about our marriage was that I have always said I would never marry a girl in show business. I had always thought it just wouldn't work out. I've found out differently with Sue. We had so much in common we helped each other. After being married twice before, I've got the right girl—I know that now.

"There is one disadvantage," Hank kidded. "When we do a show together, Sue gets all the fan mail!"

Two Men In His Life

Back to the serious side of his comeback, there were two other persons instrumental in putting Hank back in the TV spotlight where he belongs: his CPA, Harold Plant, and his business associate, Jack Renfro.

"Although I was in debt and not doing Harold any good, he stuck with me. In the five years I have known him he's been my constant adviser and counselor. I'll never be able to repay him for all he's done.

"Finally, there was my present partner, Jack Renfro. We met oddly enough when I sent in a penny postcard inquiring about the Moonridge Estates which Jack ran for several years. When I was at my lowest and ready to quit, he kept encouraging me to stick with it. He said that sooner or later I'd get the break I was looking for.

"Sure enough, one night while I was doing a casual at Riverside Rancho, right out of left field a man named Dan Burton, whom I had never met before in my life, approached me and said that Westinghouse was interested in sponsoring my TV show. I was excited but not overly so because in the past two years I had been given the brush-off and double-talk routine by too many people. After contacting Tom Dougherty from the agency—luckily he's a great Western fan—we finally agreed on terms. We're not only doing our local show on KHJ-TV, but we have even started to talk about a regional telecast.

"They say that in show business miracles happen overnight. It did for me. I don't know what will occur tomorrow or next week, but I can say one thing for certain: I'll never forget the lessons I learned, or the people who helped me, when I was down and out."

Davy Crockett's Keelboat Race

Wednesday, 8:00 p.m.
ABC-TV, Channel 7

Davy Crockett returned to the Disneyland circle with tales of a legendary nature rather than of historical import, and in doing so the series has lost some of its charm.

In the keelboat race segment, Davy and his pal George Russell meet Mike Fink, self-acclaimed King of the River, and get involved in a race down the Mississippi River. Fink, a raucous, heavy drinking character, breaks every rule of fair play in trying to beat Davy, who in turn has a few tricks up his own sleeve. The King of the Wild Frontier is quite obviously the victor in the race and the two opponents wind up as friends.

The high spot in an otherwise disappointing broad comedy was the trick shooting sequence between Davy and Fink. There's little doubt but that Davy knows how to handle his fire arms. New lyrics to the Davy Crockett ballad added another enjoyable note.

But whether viewers will go wild over the new Davy Crockett is at the moment debatable. M.R.

Benevolent Frank

Frank Taylor, President of Frank Taylor Ford, plays a benevolent role on Skipper Frank Herman's popular KTLA program. The Skipper recently conducted a Halloween mask contest for youngsters on his 5-day-a-week program, 4 to 5:30 p.m., and little Dana Robinson, age 4, of 2027 E. San Vicente, Compton, California, was the winner.

Frank Taylor hands the youthful artist the keys to a new Thunderbird Junior. Dana's brother, Randy, 8, came along for a preview look. He was proud of both juniors.

Skipper Frank's cartoon carousel is rated one of the top daytime shows.

"The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial"

KNXT, Channel 2
Saturday, 6:30 p.m.

If you didn't catch TV's version of "The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial" last Saturday, you missed one of the best—if not the very best—dramatic shows yet seen on your screen.

Based on the novel, and already a successful movie and stage play, the hour-and-a-half Ford production naturally had great advance billing. It lived up to and even exceeded expectations.

With the exception of Frank Lovejoy (Lt. Stephen Maryk) who filled in for the late John Hodiak, the cast was the same as that of the original Broadway show. As a result, therefore, each person had his lines and mannerisms perfected to a T. Considering his last-minute assignment, Lovejoy gave an extremely capable performance.

As the author Herman Wouk intended, Lloyd Nolan (as Captain Queeg) and Barry Sullivan (as defense attorney Lt. Barney Greenwald) captivated both the spotlight and the audience. Nolan's gradual breakdown from a "normal" to a "sick" war-weary Captain was a masterpiece of acting.

As a final note, director Charles Laughton, with discretion and decorum, paid a final word of tribute to the late John Hodiak.

If TV can continue, even periodically, to come up with such performances as this one, the "infant" medium can soon proclaim that it's ready to throw away the diapers and try on its first pair of long pants.

Lifelines

BY EVELYN BIGSBY

THANKSGIVING 1955 CAME AND WENT in Independence, Missouri, without sight of the town's leading miss. Absent from the big old white house and from around the ex-president's festive table was the daughter of the family—fair-skinned, blonde-headed Margaret. Weeks before she had confided to me that she wouldn't be able to get home because she was working—hard—in radio.

FROM NBC's RADIO CENTRAL in New York, Miss Truman is on the air Monday through Friday from 9:15 to noon and from 2:00 to 3:30. Locally, KFI carries portions of the program, called Weekday.

"I HAVE TWO NBC CONTRACTS," pert Margaret explained. "One for TV and the other for radio. I was frankly pleased when I was approached with the idea for Weekday. I think radio has been neglected."

BESIDES HER ACTUAL MIKE TIME, Margaret must devote many hours daily to rehearsal. These heavy duties make it hard for her to carry on her voice practice, but regardless, she plans to wax some more records. Any movie offers are being frozen for the time being.

HER BIGGEST PROJECT OF LATE has been an autobiography. She has done her own story because "I was threatened by others proposing to do it." After her writing appears as a series in Good Housekeeping, the material will come out in book form.

MARGARET LAUGHINGLY TOLD ME she still hasn't learned any fancy cooking. Her specialty is a meal of steak, baked potato and salad. She always buys desserts. But now that she is on a program aimed primarily at women, she is on guard, claiming "If I don't look out they'll teach me to cook on my own show." Incidentally, that pretty bit of whistling which comes on the air before Margaret is hers.

AT HOLLYWOOD AD CLUB LAST MONDAY, guest speaker Jackie (People's Choice) Cooper delivered a serious address on the L.A. vs. N.Y. television battle for supremacy. Jackie had some good ideas, but I can hear our Chamber of Commerce howling in protest over his words, "In my opinion if all television production is centralized on the West Coast, television can only stagnate."

JACKIE WENT ON TO POINT OUT the value of checks and balances prevailing with competition and the stimulation resulting from it, too. He even said he felt the competition of TV had been important in forcing the movies to produce better pictures. "Competition is essential for creative artistry and commercial advancement," Jackie concluded. "As long as television were to have two so-called centers, which could provide this healthy competition to one another, we will have this advancement."

(Personally, I believe the L.A. vs. N.Y. TV hassle will resolve much the way radio did. Let's face it, there'll always be the legitimate stars in New York, always the opera and a certain number of personalities who just like it there and wouldn't move here for millions—Art Carney claims to be one of these. Though Los Angeles may nab the heftier hunk of programming, New York will always have an integral share of it, so why fuss and fume?)

QUOTING ANOTHER STAR (Jack Webb) who told Variety the other day, "I feel the public can get fed up seeing you too often; that's why I turn down guest shots. The public is deserving of a rest from me." I sympathize with Jack's plaint. I think his sponsor wasn't too sharp when insisting that Webb finish his Dragnet marathon. If Jack could have brought in another actor to play with Ben Al-

WHY WORRY AND WONDER?

Is the picture on your Television screen getting dimmer? Do you get the sound as clear and strong as it used to be? Are there any other little troubles which disturb your TV enjoyment?

Don't wait until your set breaks down and keep wondering in the meantime when it might do so.

That picture tube is quite an expensive item if it has to be replaced. Yet for only $10 for one full year Television Industries will write a warranty on your tube if she is working properly now.

Or if you prefer to have all parts guaranteed they will inspect your set without obligation and write a Parts Warranty for $15 per year, on a two year basis, covering all parts, tubes, transformers, channel selector unit, speaker and of course, the large picture tube, up to and including a 21-inch screen, regardless of age or make.

This warranty also incorporates a service agreement which provides that all labor charges are to be limited to a fixed price. All house calls for repair are charged at a flat rate of $3.50 per call. This is not an hourly rate but a fixed price.

There is much more behind your TV screen than meets the eye. A complicated layout with hundreds of electronic components has to develop approximately 19,000 volts to feed a 21-inch screen. With high voltage of that power anything could break down in your set at any time.

The wise thing to do is to make sure that your TV set is in good operating condition. It is better to be safe than to be sorry.

Television Industries covers all districts of Greater Los Angeles, San Diego, San Bernardino, Riverside, Pomona and nearby communities, Monday through Saturday, six days a week.

So, why worry and wonder? Call Television Industries at PR. 0301 for further information, or mail the coupon below to Television Industries, 4031 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles 5, Calif.

Television Industries,

You will be glad you did. Only 30 minutes from Palm Springs. Investigate before you invest.

A fast-growing new community, Yucca Valley (or Yucca Village, as the subdivision is called) was only a small trading post seven years ago but since its subdivision it has become a haven for those seeking a restful locality for retirement, or relief from the effects of the California smog.

Yucca Valley is situated in a forest of Joshua Trees, surrounded by protecting hills and commands a magnificent view of the San Gorgonio range, which boasts of Southern California's highest snow-capped mountain. The homes are carefree and informal—designed for out-door living—and—comfort. Those who think that the desert is barren should view some of the local gardens and shrubbery.

The water is abundant and of the finest quality—many visitors bottle it and take it home for drinking-in preference to coastal water. The soil is rich and productive, giving the homeowner a chance to indulge in a creative hobby that is both interesting and fruitful.

This climate is very beneficial for sufferers of Arthritis, Asthma, Sinus, High Blood Pressure and many types of heart conditions. Let Mother Nature go to work for you. Water is pure and soft, no chemicals added. Complete details will be furnished upon request. Help yourself to health and love living here in Yucca Valley, Calif., elevation 3300 ft. where no air conditioners are needed.

HOLLAND'S TUNNEL

DUG BY JACK HOLLAND

At a luncheon honoring impresario Sol Hurok, who has been selected by NBC to scout talent for the network, the old-hat question was put to him: "Do you think the TV public really wants culture, such as you intend to offer?" To begin with, it was rather an insulting question to ask this man who has introduced many big names in the concert, musical and dance field to America—and to a public that was obviously anxious to receive such talent. But more than that, it was again proof that the American public is still being considered as a group of moronic idiots who want only pat, formula, even mediocre fare on TV.

I may be as nutty as a fruit cake in my belief, but I do think that no one really knows what the American public wants. Maybe it is all against good music and good dancing on TV. Maybe such fare is too highbrow for them, but I have a sneaking hunch that there's a big audience waiting for such offerings. The only trouble is that no one has really taken time to give them anything but the formula stuff. At the luncheon the business of ratings was discussed—and Hurok was asked what ratings he felt his types of shows would get.

Naturally, he had no way of knowing but he did hazard the guess that they would be a lot higher than most people would believe. I think he has a point there, but, frankly, if you're to go by ratings it is pretty difficult to get any all-around picture of what the public wants. It does seem time for TV to take a chance—if it is a chance—and give audiences something different, something worthwhile. That's why Hurok's plan seems especially encouraging. Let's see what his ballets, his singers, his good music accomplish. Let's see if there really is a large hunk of the public that wants what he can give. If he lays an egg, all right, but at least you will have proved one way or the other what our public is made up of.

Has it ever occurred to you how few outstanding new personalities TV is developing? What ones would you name from the past year? What man or woman was introduced to TV and went on to be a hit—in 1955? Is there another Gobel, for instance? You'll find the pickings very slim. There has been a lot of talk about networks' unearthing and developing new talent, but where is such new talent? The latest development along these lines is the joint venture by NBC and KRCA to showcase talent on a show called KRCA Kapers. It is to start on KRCA Monday, November 28.

This sounds like a good idea, a necessary move. And with Ernest Glucksmann, who has produced some of the top extravaganzas and the Martin and Lewis shows, at the helm, this looks as though it won't be any fly-by-night operation. This is the kind of thing that has been needed on TV for a long time. It should be given all possible encouragement by every other network and station. TV sorely needs new faces, stars of its own. It can't continue to be a medium that has to borrow from other mediums for its talent.

It suddenly occurs to me that NBC has been getting a lot of attention in this column. It just so happens that they brought forth items worthy of discussion. So, not to overlook anyone else, we love CBS, ABC, KTTV, KTLA, KNXT, KABC, KHJ, KCOP, and all the radio stations.

TV-Radio Lifelines

exander, which would have permitted Sgt. Friday only infrequent appearances on the pictures being shot recently, it might have helped both the show and Jack.

SPEAKING OF APPEARANCES, remember Lifelines predicted that Jeff Donnell would be back with George Gobel this season? Even Jeff herself couldn't believe it when she read it here, but now she knows that our crystal ball was clear. Things are now looking up for this pretty girl whose role of wife collapsed simultaneously at home and on TV.

ROBERTA LINN SEEMS TO BE knocking 'em dead in her Las Vegas engagement. It's about time this miss really hit the top and maybe this is IT.

DANNY THOMAS IS SET FOR EDWARD R. MURROW'S Person to Person on Christmas week, December 23. This'll be a heart-warmer, for sure.

KLAC THREW ITS SEASONAL PARTY, always one of the year's highlights, in the Crystal Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel with the station's BIG FIVE deejays as special hosts. Peter Potter, watching his now-blond Beryl dance with somebody else, told me he was quite happy over his move to KRCA. Bumped into Mickey Rooney, who was in a gay mood over his projected TV series with NBC. It's a leprechaun-type show on which shooting will start right after New Year's. Also beaming was Jim Morgan, ex-Queen for a Day producer, whose Don't Trust Your Wife series has bagged a sponsor. Edgar Bergen will be master of ceremonies.

Pick of the Pix

By Aubrey Dahl

I put on my Brooks Bros. overalls the other day and had lunch with Tom Schultz, head of the Schultz Advertising Agency (he was thinking of calling it Batten, Barton, Durstine and Schultz, but decided against it) which handles the accounts for White King and Barbara Ann (soap and bread) which in turn sponsor the first run Sunday night movies on KTLA. This is to inform you that Mr. Schultz tries to get good pictures, that he keeps his commercials short and palatable, that his program has kept a consistent audience for over five years and that he is grateful, that he's a nice guy, that the lunch was good, that the drinks were better, that he doesn't like British movies, and that he has scheduled for this week one of the finest British films ever made, to wit:

"The Fallen Idol." (5) Dec. 4, 7:30. A view of the mystifying, illogical adult world as seen by a child is a most difficult thing to bring off in a movie, but Carol Reed has accomplished it here in a humorous, suspenseful and highly intelligent film. Most of the action takes place in a foreign embassy in London, where the small son of the ambassador has been left in charge of the butler, for whom he has an abiding affection. The butler is in love with a typist in the embassy, and when the butler's wife discovers the liaison, there is a quarrel, the wife slips from the top of the stairs and kills herself. The butler and the typist attempt to disguise the true story of the tragedy in order to avoid notoriety, and the boy, who has been witness to everything, backs them up. When at last the butler is accused of murder, the boy tells the truth but cannot make himself believed. Into this little tale of discreet passion, author Graham Greene has injected a story of friendship between man and boy that is no less than fulfilling in its appeal, and an understanding of children's desires and beliefs that is remarkably discerning. Ralph Richardson, as the butler and Michele Morgan, as the typist, are both excellent, while the boy, Bobby Henrey, in spite of a mopet actor's haircut, is thoroughly believable. I cannot say enough good about this 1949 picture. It is top notch all the way.

"Kind Hearts and Coronets." (13) Dec. 6, 8:30. Here is the second of the Alec Guinness comedies which are now beginning to make their appearances on the various channels. A young and poor eight times removed cousin to royalty, Dennis Price, determines to succeed to the family title by removing those cousins who keep him so far removed from it. The eight include a vicar, a sea captain, a grande dame, an inventor, an autocrat, and all of them are played with estimable skill by Mr. Guinness. The eight become seven and then six and so on as the young pretender gradually succeeds in his grand scheme, until just as he is about to enjoy the fruits of his labors, he slips and is lodged in prison under a sentence of death. What happens then has been touted as an unusually surprising ending, but I think you'll see it coming long before there is any chance at astonishment. None-the-less, the picture is very funny with some moments of really high comedy. For instance, Price has booby trapped the inventor's materials and as he is having tea with the inventor's wife, there is a muffled explosion in the background which the wife dismisses with some slight irritation as someone burning leaves or somesuch. Joan Greenwood plays a fellow schemer with her usual baritone sultriness, while Mr. Price is quite sultable as the climber.

"Tahiti Honey." (4) Dec. 8, 4:45. Simply cook over open flame.

Label Talk

By TERREA LEA

Well folks, I have news of two new products to buy and save labels from. First is TiLo—the Original-Sensational Cleaner for ceramic tile. TiLo doesn't contain abrasives that scratch and wear the surface. If you want the easy way to remove grease and dirt, fungi growth, scum, rust stains, mineral deposits and smoke and soot stains from showers, chrome fixtures, glass, ceramics, swimming pool and brick fireplaces you just can't find anything better than TiLo Ceramic Tile Cleaner.

The second product is TILO Wax. After using the cleaner, use TILO Wax to give a gleaming luster and protection to ceramic, metal and plastic tile. And for Label Bank, save just the word TILO from the label on both products and receive four points for the half pint and eight points for the pint size. Oh yes, TILO Wax is wonderful to protect the mortar between tiles and keep it snow-white. Try it won't you?

Next week I'll have more new products for you and I just might mention that very soon Label Bank will be announcing a beverage that most of us drink for breakfast. In fact, that word breakfast is part of the name. Of course, I can't tell you about it yet but I will very soon.

When I think of all the new products and look at the list already in Label Bank I realize just how much Label Bank is growing. By leaps and bounds. This time last year there were only eight brands. Now there are 38. Before the year is up there will be well over forty. That gives over 400 individual products with labels that can be redeemed for over three hundred Nationally Advertised Premiums. If you haven't sent for your free premium catalogue you'd better do it right away. Just write to Label Bank, Dept. TVRL, 727 No. La Brea Ave., Hollywood 38, Calif.

And folks, don't forget to tune in to my new radio program. It is heard Monday through Friday, 10:30-11:00 p.m. on KABC . . . that's 790 on your dial. I'm singing for you and playing recordings of your favorite folk artists. I hope you'll be listening.

Don't forget now, next week . . . more new Label Bank products. Until then . . . bye.

Radio in Review

For Love o' Mike (General Comment)

Radio Ramblings

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans have been cited by the National Association for Retarded Children for their untiring efforts on the organization's behalf. . . . Gil Henry salutes musicologist Harry Warren this week. . . . KNX's Nelson McIninch farm program originates from Indio on behalf of the date industry.

Recent Arthur Godfrey guesting on the Amos 'n' Andy show was a big blurb for his life story currently running in a national magazine. . . . Round, Round the Christmas Tree, Gene Autry's new song shows promise of chalking up big Yuletide sales. . . . Jack Rourke moves his KABC show to the Moulin Rouge.

Just to clear up any confusion, Queen For A Day will continue to be heard on KHJ-Radio after the first of the year when the video version moves to NBC. . . . Wendell Noble returns to the airplanes on KABC with Light For Today, a program of homey philosophy and appealing music. . . . Carroll Alcott is slated to take a European tour with the USAF starting December 15. . . . Andy and Virginia Mansfield report that response to their special "St. Louis Blues" tribute program to composer W. C. Handy was tremendous.

Christmas Repeat

The ninth annual production of The Joyful Hour will headline KHJ's Christmas programs with a musical and dramatic adaptation of the story of the Nativity.

This particular program, which was aired on Mutual last year, will be repeated in answer to popular demand, according to Father Patrick Peyton, producer of the program.

The broadcast will star screen personalities Ann Blyth, Maureen O'Sullivan, Irene Dunne, Jeff Chandler, Stephen McNally, and J. Carrol Naish. Special Christmas music will be offered by the Roger Wagner Chorale. Harry Zimmerman wrote the original score and will direct the orchestra.

Babbitt Sets Record

Harry Babbitt, who began his eighth year with KNX last month, hired a statistician (he got him for a song) to do a little figuring for him. Harry was more than somewhat interested in trying to find out just how many songs a fellow singer during a seven year period.

Of course Harry has been singing longer than that—he started as a singing band leader in St. Louis, then went with Kay Kyser's organization—but he told the statistician just to run down the data on his singing over KNX.

Two gross of pencils later the baggy-eyed statistician feebly handed a sheet of paper to Harry indicating that on his Second Cup of Coffee Club program for the past seven years, plus other shows, guest appearances and his current co-starring spot on Matinee, Harry has performed more than 43,000 songs!

It would have suited Harry had his statistical-minded friend stopped there, but he went further and came up with the astounding information that Harry has sung a total of 4,143,360 individual notes of music.

"Whew," commented Harry in a hoarse voice, "no wonder I feel a little tired every now and then!"

Queen's Corner

Jack Bailey plans a special Queen For A Day broadcast from the Moulin Rouge theater restaurant on December 1. The emcee is currently searching for a Queen Of Liberty to ride on her own float in this year's famed Pasadena Rose Parade.

Theme for the 1956 parade is "Pages From the Ages," and the float on which the Queen will ride symbolizes the Constitution of the United States. Applicants, unmarried, must send their entry blanks and photos to Queen For A Day, Hollywood 28, California, on or before December 18.

In honor of the upcoming Mozart Bicentennial Year, James Fassett will present as his New York Philharmonic Symphony broadcast feature the sound of an authentic replica of the piano Mozart himself played on the December 4 broadcast.

Music Award

KHJ-Radio's Jack Wagner Show has been chosen to receive the "Gold Record Award" as the "Best Radio Program of Popular Recorded Music for 1955," by the Westlake College of Modern Music on December 14th.

Jack will be in good company when he accepts his Gold Record. Among the winners in other categories are Frank Sinatra, Les Brown, Billy May and Ella Fitzgerald.

MONDAY PRECASTS

Time Change

PRIVATE WIRE, KABC, 6:00 p.m. John Baird's unique financial and business program is heard at this new time Monday through Friday. Mr. Baird presents special material direct from the New York Stock Exchange floor. Formerly heard at 5:45 p.m.

Who's Guesting

VOICE OF FIRESTONE, KFI, 8:30 p.m. Rise Stevens, Metropolitan Opera mezzo-soprano, is guest with Howard Barlow and the Firestone Orchestra.

What's New

WALT DISNEY'S MAGIC KINGDOM, KABC, 11:00 a.m. Heard direct from Disneyland, a new show featuring games and contests with Donald Novis and Wally Boag, tentatively set as masters of ceremonies. (Monday through Friday.)

Ear, Eye Inspire the Pen

Mrs. Myrtle Mathews, Orange

How wonderful to have Lawrence Welk and his fine musicians back. Such a fine looking group and lovely Alice Lon adds much to the enjoyment of the program. Hats off to Lou Crosby for his work on the Dodge commercials. Let us keep this fine clean-cut group with us forever.

Mrs. J. Brown, Montrose

This is our gripe. As a business woman, and a club woman, I hear many comments on TV. We are greatly disappointed in learning that Jeff Donnell, as "Alice" in the Gobel show is discontinued. She was a beautiful personality, which will never be replaced. Please bring Alice back. She was a big part of the show and I assure you, many listeners think so. A change of the vocalist would have been acceptable, in fact, we all thought we were going to have a new one. Why not?

Jeff Donnell has returned as "Alice" on the George Gobel show.

Miss Lee Meyer, San Gabriel

Wonder why the producers of Gun-smoke couldn't have had the same cast on their TV show, as on the radio? Was very disappointed with the TV program.

There's something about the cast of the radio show that makes it what it is—their voices, and natural, easy manner of portraying their roles gives one the feeling of realness—of being a part of the play one's self. The TV show had no such effect upon me.

Sorry about this, as I'd really been looking forward with great anticipation to enjoying the TV program as much as the radio—and what a let-down.

Mary Comstock, Los Angeles

Hurrah for Eye and Ear. We all want Betty White back. Let's do it. We agree with Mrs. Craig.

Mrs. Linda Kurtz, Huntington Park

I just had to write in hopes that you will print my letter, so everyone who feels like I do will write in also. I would like to thank everyone who made it possible for the Meet Millie show to continue. I have been a constant viewer of their show since we bought our television almost two years ago. I sincerely think the show is something CBS should keep on the air.

Also I would like to salute Al Jarvis for his two shows. He really is doing a great job for the teen-agers of today.

Mrs. Mary Hughes, North Hollywood

Hurray for "What I Want to Be" on the Mickey Mouse Club. Something geared to intelligent people. I'm thrilled that my children are enjoying it, too. We all love the little hostess Pat, and the man Alvy. Let's have more of these interesting stories, and when can we see these two persons again?

IT'S THE VOICE

It's little wonder KABC's Orval Anderson receives so many fan letters from listeners telling him how much they like his voice. Orval got his first radio job as a singer on a North Dakota station, and his baritone voice has that resonant quality so pleasing to any ear.

TEACHER

KNX Radio newsman Max Roby once taught journalism at the University of Utah.

FRIDAY PRECASTS

Who's Fighting
GILLETTE FIGHTS, KFI, 7:00 p.m. Carl "Bobo" Olson vs. Sugar Ray Robinson, 15-round world middleweight championship bout from Chicago.

Liberace—Pro and Con
Whoever gets the Democratic or Republican nomination for the Presidency, should hire a guy named Liberace as his campaign manager.

The 25-hour a day charm, hand-shake, and smile routine that he constantly works at is really amazing. One hour alone with Margaret Truman herself, and I'll bet she'll vote the straight Republican ticket!

Doubly amazing is the meteoric rise Liberace has accomplished in the past few years. Proof of his popularity came last week at the premiere of his first starring picture, "Sincerely Yours." He packed both the Pantages Theater and the stands and streets surrounding it.

The picture itself should please everyone. For those who dislike Liberace and look upon him as a freak or an odd-ball in the entertainment world—there's ample film footage to laugh at and ridicule. (One of the opening scenes in the bathroom and the closing scene at Carnegie Hall where he breaks into a dance will provide plenty of bait for the jokers to get their teeth into.)

For those who love their "Lee"—there's mush galore and music by the score to swoon and sigh over.

For those who are middle-rollers (such as I, I must confess)—there's much to be said both pro and con for the Warner Bros. production.

Several admirable points: they kept Lee's trademark smile down to a minimum. And there were moments when he and the supporting cast turned in some fine dramatic and humorous scenes.

No matter what anyone says or writes about the film, Liberace, once again, will be smiling all the way to the bank.

The top remark of the night came. I thought from Dick Moore, the headman over at KTTV where Liberace performs each week for his TV audience.

"The tide has turned," the affable Mr. Moore commented as he pointed to the departing throng. "TV is not hurting the movies anymore. We're developing stars for them now!"

Dick Moore

Whadda He Say?

Another humorous gem during the week was told by Dick Lane of KTLA at the inauguration of Ben Hunter as the honorary mayor of Hollywood at the Palladium on Sunday night. As most TV fans know, Dick has been working steadily at KTLA with bossman Klaus Landsberg ever since 1942. (Over 13 years in this "infant industry"—an amazing record in itself.)

It seems that when Landsberg was experimenting back in those early days, one of his programs was picked up accidentally by a ham operator. Landsberg explained who he was.

"The hell you say!" came the astonished reply from the ham operator.

Landsberg gave his frequency signal.

"The hell you are!" again replied the stunned, articulate interceptor.

To each of his scientific observations, Landsberg received the identical reply. It was probably the first—and last—station identification of its kind ever used.

On the Sports Scene: A big bravo to Lee Giroux and his coverage of the local football scene this year on KHJ, particularly his calling of the USC-UCLA classic. And a not-too-loud, well-intentioned boo to Roy Story and his calling of the Green Bay Packer-49er game last Sunday. The poor guy kept calling the wrong player, the wrong yard-line, and the wrong times. When the final gun sounded, he concluded with, "The clock run out!"

I can take a hint. So long till next time.

A GLANCE AT MURROW in a highly exuberant mood. Celebrities are willing to do Person to Person because they know they can trust Murrow not to ask embarrassing questions.

TOO PERSONAL for

Person to Person?

More unexpected things have happened on Person to Person but nothing seems to faze Edward R. Murrow who presides over this intriguing show. Not even the surprising personal revelations.

By Jack Holland

PERSON to Person is the CBS show that probes into the most private lives of our most prominent people. As such, it should be something of a headache. But so far no one is having anything but fun on the KNXT-CBS show.

Sure, it's personal. As such, it is of interest. And yet, neither Edward R. Murrow nor Jess Zousmer and John Aaron, its co-producers, have run into problems where a celebrity won't discuss his innermost private thoughts and feelings.

Most Personal

"Frankly, we have been surprised the people are as happy to discuss their lives for us as they are," John Aaron commented when he was interviewed in New York. "We always ask the guests what they'd like to talk about before we plan the show, since we're not anxious to do any expose kind of thing. For that reason we have done few shows on politicians. We have only presented one senator, John Kennedy, no congressmen, no governors and no presidential candidates. We did Adlai Stevenson, but not until after he was defeated. The guests tell us what they'd like to talk about and they usually reveal a lot more than you'd expect.

IT WAS SOMETHING OF A SCOOP when Marlon Brando agreed to go on Person to Person since he is cagey about his private life. He and co-producer John Aaron move his bongo drums into position for the telecast.

As long as they feel they aren't being pressed to talk about very personal things they'll talk a lot more freely.

"For this reason, I think we have been surprisingly personal on Person to Person."

There have been many interesting experiences on the show—and some amusing revelations.

When James Petrillo, head of the Musicians' Union, went on the program the only condition under which he'd appear would be that his eight grandchildren were to be on too. At one point in the program he was holding a trumpet and tooting a few bars. He had played the instrument before in his career. One of his grandchildren started pulling at the trumpet. Petrillo, a little annoyed, raised his hand as if to strike the youngster but suddenly stopped, let his hand fall carefully on the kid's head and patted him. This was an interesting sidelight to Petrillo as a grandfather that nothing else could have captured.

Then there were the amusing cases of the British ambassador and Eartha Kitt. The British ambassador was told to put the batteries in his pocket so he could better follow instructions and hear Murrow. He sheepishly confessed he had no hip pockets. His tai-for just didn't make them for his suits.

Before the Eartha Kitt show went on, there was considerable excitement. A huge hunk of the ceiling in her apartment fell down and there was much hurrying about getting the place cleaned up in time for the show. She had just re-done her apartment and the ceiling hadn't dried sufficiently.

When Martha Raye was the subject, a hurricane almost canceled out the show. Local residents, who were interested in Person to Person, rushed to the rescue by bringing in generators.

"The night we did June Allyson and Dick Powell proved to be different too." Aaron went on. "It was filmed in the middle of the heat wave in California. The crew on the show turned in an expense account of $80 for ice. When the item was questioned, it was learned they needed that much ice to cool off the cameras."

Mary Martin found that her appearance on Person to Person did more for her, as far as making herself known to audiences, than anything she has done on TV. After her appearance on the show she had to stop coming into town with her husband, as she had been used to doing, because so many fans suddenly mobbed her.

A new sidelight to Ed Sullivan was unearthed when he appeared on Person to Person. He has a tremendous affection for his French poodle, Bojangles. His devotion to the dog is comparable to his devotion for his wife—and that's really being devoted. On the show, Bojangles started to growl and wouldn't stop. It was very difficult to hear Ed over the noise, but he wouldn't think of getting the dog out of the way.

Even Edward R. Murrow hasn't escaped the influence of doing Person to Person.

Murrow Gets It Too

"Ed gets a lot of free comments from the cab drivers." John Aaron smiled. "The cabbies used to say to Ed: 'You're a nice guy, but you're breakin' up my home. My wife wants to watch your show and I like to watch the fights.' Now Ed gets into a cab and the man says, 'I don't care too much for Person to Person. I like the fights better. But my wife—she thinks you're okay. She says you're so relaxed she expects you to fall asleep some night on the show.'"

"As for Ed, he considers Person to Person his favorite show. It is more fun to him. He tries always to conduct himself as he would if he were a visitor in the person's home. As such, he never feels he has the right to ask too personal or embarrassing questions."

TV is a revealing enough medium as it is, but when it does a Person to Person kind of show, it really probes. Only those with things to hide in their closet, however, would be afraid to appear on this most personal of all programs. The others would say, "Come on in."

▲ JUNE ALLYSON AND DICK POWELL, with their daughter were interviewed on Person to Person on one of the hottest days of the past summer. And what happened to those TV cameras!

▶ EARTHA KITT went on in spite of a near catastrophe. A good deal of emphasis was placed on her cat—and you can tell from this that she kind of likes the feline.

▼ MARILYN MONROE appeared on the show but another woman stole it. Here Ed Murrow, the inveterate cigarette smoker, gives the glamour girl a light.

↑ JOHN WAYNE plays Mike Cronin who thinks he has the year's fattest sports story under wraps. Wayne's son Pat appears as rookie Lyn Goodhue, into whose father's doubtful past the reporter digs.

The Waynes, John & Pat in "Rookie of the Year"

PLAYING THE role of a small-town sports writer, movie idol John Wayne appears on TV screens Wednesday, December 7. The show is NBC-KRCA's Screen Directors Playhouse. Along with Wayne in "Rookie of the Year" is another Wayne—in the title role—"Duke's" sixteen-year-old son Pat. An "A" student at Loyola High School, a varsity football player and a minor actor in some of his dad's pictures, Pat encounters his best role to date in this teleplay.

Kiddingly the Wayne father spoke of himself and fellow cast members Ward Bond and Jimmy Gleason as playing "supporting roles" to the son Wayne. But in true fatherly fashion, John Wayne also doled out advice to his lad embarking on a bigtime acting job: "Always be on time, know your lines, and, most important, never think you know more than the director."

The last bit of wisdom was especially appropriate inasmuch as "Rookie of the Year" boasted "name" director John Ford.

THE ELENA SIDE OF

Millie

By Jack Holland

SHE BREEZED into the room looking like an advertisement for vitamin pills. Elena Verdugo was feeling absolutely no pain.

Her high spirits weren't occasioned just by the fact that Meet Millie went back on CBS-TV when everyone thought the show was kaput. She was happy, of course, that the public clamor for more of Millie kept the program on, but Elena is almost always the bubbling kind of girl.

Show Returns

Millie went back on so suddenly I had a chance to realize it before it began. "I wasn't on just having a little getting fat, and had a lot of going to Alaska. It was me why I chose Alaska. When I got one-day notice to go back on the show. At the time I suffered mixed emotions. I wasn't sure I could make that first performance. I was in a state of fatigue because I had bent off TV and I was just trying to unwind. Then I had to start winding up again.

"Everything seems to be happening at once. I had liked doing Millie and had regarded each show day as a challenge, but I had conditioned myself to the idea of not working. It was hard trying to learn all those lines so suddenly. Not that I ever know them until the performance itself. I'm just not the get-in-there-and-pitch kid and I guess I'm kind of a headache at times."

Nobody around CBS looks upon her as even slightly painful. She is a popular young lady over CBS way.

"When I did what I thought was the last show I got a choked up feeling. Elena bubbled on. "I didn't think I'd be so affected. And then when I did the first one on the return I had a great feeling of fulfillment, like I was accomplishing something."

"Of course, the mere fact that I'm playing in a comedy surprises me. I had never done comedy before. I'd MILLIE DOESN'T USUALLY look like this on the CBS-KNXT show, but this is the way Elena Verdugo looks in her home. She has another career in addition to her TV stint—that of mother to a very alert six-year-old boy.

done several dramatic things, but I had started out as a dancer. And if you'll pardon me for saying so, I was a very good dancer. In fact, I've been thinking of doing my own act in a club—if I can get up enough ambition.

"You see, I'm a pretty lazy person. I'm not what you'd call a fired-up career girl. I like to work and I have illusions of being the best and the biggest but I also like to loaf."

Elena was once all-career. When she was quite young she was under contract to 20th Century-Fox and went to school on the lot, along with Roddy McDowall, Stan Clements, Linda Darnell, and others. Stan, or "Stash" as she calls him, was a rough and ready character with a Brooklyn accent you couldn't cut with a knife. He was a decided contrast to the young, dignified English lad, Roddy.

"I'll never forget one morning in class when Roddy had to make a speech about points of interest in England," Elena commented. "After he finished Stash got up and did an imitation of Roddy's accent. The teacher reminded him that it wasn't right to ridicule another because of the way he spoke or because of his background. And then she turned to Roddy and said, 'I hope you'll never try to imitate Stanley's accent.' With great dignity and scorn, Roddy exclaimed, 'Heaven forbid!' Roddy is now doing wonderful work in New York on the stage and in TV. I don't know what has happened to Stash."

Private Life

Elena is living with her mother, who has been very ill, and her six-year-old son Richard. She and her former husband are separated.

"Richard is quite a character," Elena said with motherly pride and some amusement. "He loves to embarrass me. Like when I pick him up at school he yells out, 'Here's Millie!' He knows I don't like that so he gets a big kick out of my reaction. He also has given me a few uneasy moments when an escort comes to take me out. One evening I had this date and I didn't want to go. I made the mistake of telling Richard I preferred staying home. When my escort arrived, Richard said to me, 'I thought you didn't want to go out.' He then repeated the remark for the escort's benefit."

Elena doesn't go out very much and she says she never really dates. She is usually with her close friends. As for love, she avoids the issue.

"Let's just say I'm in love with love," she grinned.

She is domestic enough, though, to enjoy wifely duties. But she added quickly, "I like to cook and keep a house if I'm doing it for someone I love. I don't think, however, that a house or any possessions mean much unless you share them in a marriage."

The conversation switched to a man she knows. Her eyes lit with a meaningful smile crossed and she suddenly became silent. She must really be in love???
