Well, if it wasn't the WE FIVE it should have been as this young A&M recording group is causing much conversation in the music world.

It started approximately three years ago when Mike Stewart whose brother John is one-third of the famed Kingston Trio formed The Ridge Runners, a largely folk oriented group. Their first effort in a folk saturated field fell on deaf ears. John, who had great faith in his brother's ability, repeatedly brought his brother's group to the attention of Frank Werber, manager of the Kingston Trio. Months of hard work, endless hours of rehearsal, and countless revisions and refinements, resulted finally in the nucleus of an excitingly individual music concept. By this time, Werber had formed TRIDENT PRODUCTIONS, INC., a Kingston Trio owned independent production company and succeeded in obtaining the services of Don Graham as National Promotion Chief, and it was agreed to sign the group to a recording contract.

On April 20th, 1965, Werber brought WE FIVE into the Columbus Recording Studios in the basement of the Columbus Tower in San Francisco. Here, in the same area once occupied by the original Hungry i, in Trident's new ultra modern studio, the initial recording steps began.

WE FIVE HAVE ARRIVED!

After six long hours spent in total dedication to the final product, the record was as ready as human effort could make it. This was WE FIVE in Thought and Soul. This was You Were on My Mind."

With the new record completed, it now became the job of Trident Productions to arrange for distribution through a national record company. After close scrutiny of all companies in business today, A&M Records became "most likely to succeed." This enthusiastic young company, owned and operated by Jerry Moss and Herb Alpert, who had experienced a phenomenal two and a half year growth with Tijuana Brass, agreed that the sound of WE FIVE generated such

SPOOKS 'N THINGS

By GENE PRICE (10 p.m. - 2 a.m.)

What will you be doing this Saturday night? I imagine a lot of you will be doing something special, for this is Halloween week-end! I have been trying to find some protective measures. to keep my car from being soaped down (not that it doesn't need it . . . and water, and gasoline, oil, tires, motor . . .)! Just last night, I guess it must have been "dry run" time in my neighborhood, 'cause a lot of little "crumb grabbers" came by my apartment house looking for handouts, until I told them to leave, 'cause this was my territory! I was watching a rerun of 'Shindig,' and Jimmy O'Neal (my favorite comedian), when suddenly, the door rang; I don't have a doorbell (some of these kids pound real hard)! I got up from the couch, where I was sitting with a tall, cool one (a blonde, about five feet ten), and proceeded toward the door! Upon opening the door, I was pleasantly surprised to look down upon a sweet little girl, with rather a round smiling face, accented by two beautiful sparkling blue eyes, that gazed at me from behind a black cardboard mask, obviously too small to fit flush against her pudgy, fluffy little cheeks. I said "Hi! Aren't you a little early?" She looked at me rather dumfounded, and said "No, I'm a widdel late, I've gotta' be home by nine!" I couldn't help but grin and said, "No, honey, I mean Halloween isn't until Saturday!" After a short pause she said, "Weally . . . Twick or Tweat!" She held out a large brown paper bag, which quickly popped open revealing the night's take! Bending down to take a look at her precious booty, I spied two pieces of bubble gum (one had been chewed a little, but not enough to throw away, and after all, winter was coming on!) a balloon, with a decal of Herman Munster on one side, which she offered to inflate for me . . . in one breath, and lying in the center of the bag, was a cluster of oatmeal cookies, each about two inches in diameter. I noticed that her little treasure chest contained no fruit, so I said, "Just a minute honey, I think I have something you'll like." I turned and went into the kitchen, and picked out a large delicious apple. When I returned, she was still holding the bag open, but was looking at the TV, and doing a "pony sized" version of the pony! I said "Here you are Sweetie," and dropped the apple down into her bag. I smiled quickly and asked, in a manner practiced by many parents, "Now what do you say?" She looked at me, and then looked down into her sack, and then looked back at me and said, "You dirty old man, you broke all my oatmeal cookies!"

Little Partners, take care, and have a nice Halloween!

BEETHOVEN OUTSELLS BEATLES!

Beethoven was never like this. Youngsters and adults alike crowded and jam-packed Central Park in New York City for what was billed as just an ordinary outdoor concert by the New York Philharmonic. They stood for hundreds and thousands of feet back and craned their necks toward the podium especially set up for the occasion for this great outdoor concert. Beethoven's Ninth Symphony rolled off before 70,000 bending pairs of ears and the audience appreciatively yelled for more. The bravos took over as the symphony orchestra began the first of a series of weekly planned concerts in several different New York City boroughs. The same concert with the Beethoven itinerary was repeated on Staten Island, the Bronx and in Brooklyn's Prospect Park.

"Who said the classics were dead?" Those were the words of one British sailor who stopped in to get an earful of the Central Park proceedings.

"Man, I dig this the most!" said one Village beatnik making his way to the front in a milling throng.

One lady said she never had been so storm-tossed at a concert before but she seemed to enjoy every minute. From every part of the New York area, they thronged and they wanted more and more.

Following the lead of the classic turn of late in Great Britain, American classic expression has certainly found a real outlet with these free park concerts.

enthusiasm at the A&M offices that they hurriedly agreed to a promotional and distribution contract.

Meanwhile WE FIVE were preparing themselves for the shows ahead and the completion of their first album. When they felt they were ready they released their first single recording of You Were on My Mind and it became an overnight success selling in excess of one hundred thousand copies in a little over two weeks. Then followed the album which is also entitled You Were on My Mind which also proved to be a hit by selling over one hundred and fifty thousand copies in a three week span.

The WE FIVE have been seen on television on such shows as Shindig, Shivaree, Hollywood Palace, 9th Street West and if you were among the ones watching Bob Hope Presents on October 20, you once again saw WE FIVE introduced to the nation by Mr. Hope. We talked with Don Graham, National Promotion Chief, just before going to press, and Don tells us to watch for WE FIVE soon to be seen on night time national television very soon.

WE FIVE consists of Mike Stewart, leader and arranger, Bob Jones the baritone-tenor of the group, Pete Fullerton a fine tenor, Jerry Burgan the other tenor of the group and of course Beverly Bivens lead singer with a vocal range of low tenor to high soprano, and we might add, Beverly Bivens is one of the best lead voices to come along in a long time. While she sings lead singer, she is always mindful of the rest of the group and does not "drown" them out as many lead singers do. And this is what makes WE FIVE we think, such a "BOSS" sound around the Bay Area.

We at KEWB are happy to know WE FIVE and every one connected with them and sincerely wish them every continued success, and we also feel that we can say, "When WE FIVE do it again, "You'll hear it FIRST on BOSS RADIO KEWB/91.

Americans in Royal Show

Peter, Paul and Mary, and Tony Bennett have accepted invitations to appear in the Royal Variety Show in London next month, cables Lance Fielding.

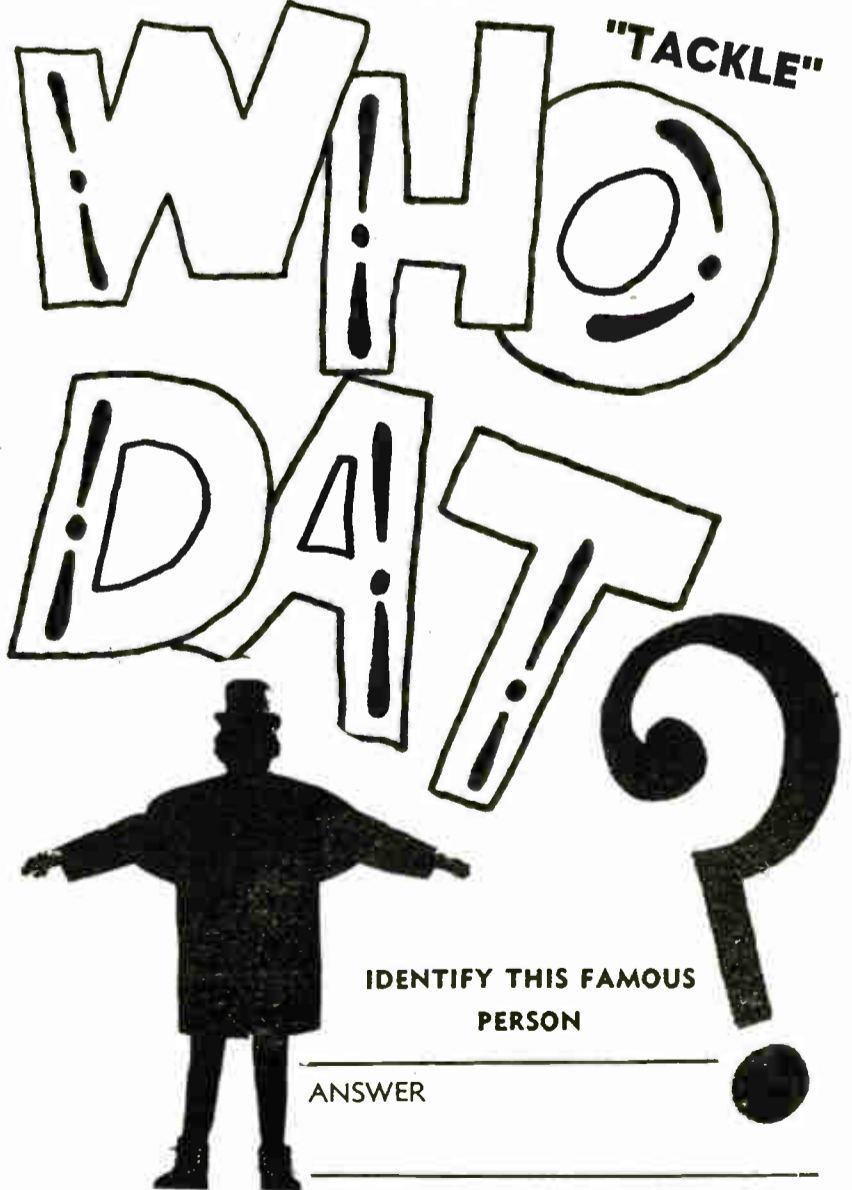

They join the cast, picked from the world's finest entertainers, which will be seen by the Queen at the London Palladium on November 8.

Fielding adds: "Bennett would like like to bring the Duke Ellington or Count Basie bands to work with him in the Performance, but this move is still in the negotiation stage."

eyes

Why do model girls have such lovely eyes? Because they know how to make them up. Now we're going to tell you the secrets of making eyes that everyone will notice, everyone will admire. It doesn't matter what shape or size your eyes are—read on and discover what you don't know about making eyes into beautiful eyes...

1 Smooth white shadow on the entire lid, dab powder over it. 2 With brown powdered shadow make an arc just above the fold in the lid. Use grey or black if you prefer. 3 Apply a light-colored eye-shadow or liquid make-up to the area below the line and above the lid. 4 If you use false lashes, apply them now. Put them as near to your own lashes as possible then trim to suit your own lashes. 5 With a liquid or cake liner and a thin brush draw a fine line directly above the lashes—don't extend this any further than the corner of your eye. 6 Apply mascara (most model girls get a good effect with the block type). Two thin coats is better than one thick one. 7 The final touch—a little colour on the eyebrows (if needed). Don't make hard lines. Use the pencil in fine strokes to give a feathery effect.

KEWB'S REPORTER SILLY-WILLY DIPSEY REPORTS

We hear from our HOLLYWOOD reporter, "HALF-CRAZED," that child star, NANCY NOTHING, will be trying to make a comeback in movies very shortly. NANCY, as everyone remembers, was cast as a GARGOYLE in the movie, Tammy Meets Dagwood Bumsted, which was produced by LLOYD LOSER during the early 30's. We all at KEWB wish Nancy "lots-a-luck" . . .

Sports car driver, HUBB KAPP, tells this reporter in another KEWB EXCLUSIVE interview, "The reason that I lost the last big race, was due to the fact that I was attacked by millions of tiny humming-birds during the third lap of the race, and this is what caused me to spin out." (A likely story sez we) . . .

The very beautiful BETTY BILGE dropped by the KEWB studios the other afternoon to say hello, and to tell us that she will soon be back in business, which we feel is mighty fast considering her accident. The accident in case you have forgotten, happened during the Labor Day week-end, when Betty mistook the Nimitz Freeway for the Oakland Airport and made the mistake of landing her 1914 SPAD on same during the 5:15 traffic jam. To this we say, "Fly low and slow, Betty" . . .

There was quite a bit of panic around the KEWB studios this week when engineer FRED FUNNY mistook a 110 volt outlet for his earphone jack. When last seen, FRED was doing a rather fast BOSA-NOVA across the water in front of our studios . . .

And while we are on the subject of surprises, KEWB BOSS MAN GENE PRICE (10-midnite), had a little "jolt" yesterday when he found out that he is a winner in the 'Dr. Spock Connect a Dot Contest.' Gene, we are happy to report took second place for his entry entitled, Why I Love Roses and Other Things . . .

Our Beloved Program Director, BELBA W. DRANCE, wishes us to announce that KEWB will be the ONLY station in the entire state of California that will be bringing you, LIVE AND DIRECT, reports from the upcoming SILK WORM RAISERS and DOOR KNOB LOVERS MEETING. This event is held only once every two years and the winner receives a ONE-WAY ticket for two to beautiful Wake Island. This only proves what we at KEWB say, "KEWB IS MOST, ON THE COAST" . . .

The KEWB picnic was held last week end and a grand time was had by one and all. Music Librarian MARSHA MUZAK was the featured performer at the picnic. All went well for a good 11 minutes until Marsha got out of it, and started doing her version of the FRUG. We later found out that the FRUG is a great deal like the NUM-NUM INDIAN RAIN DANCE. Radio Station KEWB can make some lucky reader a very good deal on several HUNDRED sandwiches and HARD BOILED EGGS.

KEWB Reporter, SILLY-WILLIE-IPSEY, will be reporting to you each week in the BOSS "30." We invite your questions and comments on various subjects of the day. Write: SILLY-WILLIE-DIPSEY, 91 Jack London Sq., Oakland . . .

THE RISE AND RISE AND RISE OF GLEN YARBROUGH

Singer GLEN YARBROUGH, who was seen in concert Saturday evening October 16 at U.C.'s Harmon Gym, is no newcomer to the music world.

After many years in the singing world beginning at Grace Church in New York to the month of May in 1959 when a chance meeting in "Cosmo Alley" a Los Angeles night club, brought Glen the friendship of a man named Lou Gottlieb, himself a well known name in the music world, along with Alex Hassilev and the rest is history.

Organized as the LIMELITERS, these three men in the next four years became one of the most popular folk-singing groups in the nation. The outstanding solo voice in the group, Glen was the featured performer on all ballads and it was his voice that gave the Limelitters' sound its unmis-

In spite of the group's success, by the summer of 1963 Glen had decided that it was time to move on. He explains that the excitement of performing with a group was beginning to wane. He was bored with folk music, tired of traveling and itching to see if he could make it as a single. And make it he has, with all albums currently selling well and a full schedule of concert, television and nightclub appearances in the months ahead.

One thing is certain, however, no matter where Glen goes he will continue to be his own man — determined to be casual, determined to be free. And no matter what the future brings, Glen will continue to sing for he has to open his mouth to let the music pour out of his heart, as you can hear by his latest RCA Victor album It's Gonna Be Fine.

Everybody's Buddie

-- Buddie Greco

Singer Buddy Greco, who opened in the Venetian Room of the Fairmont Hotel October 21, is what could be called a "singer's singer."

Buddy not only works well with a small group, but will make you "sit up and listen" when working with a big band, as evidenced by many of his EPIC albums. We had the pleasure of hearing Buddy Greco on opening night in the beautiful Venetian Room of the Fairmont, and I think it's safe to say, "Our Buddie" will continue to go a long way.

JOHNNY "G" NOTES

(6 - 10 p.m., Monday - Friday)

PAUL REVERE and the RAIDERS, who are currently riding the charts with their Columbia outing of Stepping Out, became the rage of the Northwest two years ago. Formed in Portland, Oregon, by their leader whose real name is Paul Revere, the group consists of five members — three guitarists (one of whom, lead singer Mark Lindsay, doubles on sax), electric organ and drums. The group has specialized in playing teen dances and conquered their own area before attempting to break into records or a nation wide tour. They're also very much appreciated in Honolulu, where with two or three days' advance notice they can pack a capacity audience of some 8,000 teenagers.

FREDDIE CANNON will be getting a lot of exposure this week via the tapings that he made for HULLABALOO, HOLLYWOOD A GO GO and NINTH STREET WEST, all of which are being set for television which will be seen soon. Watch for a new Warner Bros. LP by Freddie soon to be released.

DICK CLARK'S CARAVAN OF STARS featuring DONOVAN, PAUL REVERE and the RAIDERS along with HANNA-BARBERA's, DANNY HUTTON is set for November 23rd concerts dates . . . GARY LEWIS and the PLAYBOYS who are skedded for a series of one nighters will wind up on the 18th of November, and DICK and DEEDEE are off to Europe for a three week spin about the old world capitals . . . PETE BENNETT, personal promotion man for the ROLLING STONES, said that their latest London disking of Get Off My Cloud, is a nationwide thing and that the sky is the limit.

Now that many of you have had the chance of hearing the album, The Savage Young Beatles what is your official opinion. Who is KING — RINGO or PETE BEST? As you know, PETE BEST was the original drummer with the Beatles. Let us know your opinion of the best drummer, send your answer to: RINGO AND PETER, KEWB 91 JACK LONDON SQUARE, OAKLAND.

We see that SONNY and CHER's recording of I Got You Babe, was certified by the Record Industry Assn. of America as a MILLION SELLER in the U. S. The disk, which is now a world wide smash, was released on June 14th and became Number 1 in mid-August. It hit the top spot in Great Britain that same month and is now moving up to the tops of the charts in Germany, Holland and Italy, Australia, Hong Kong and many other countries. Total sales of the record throughout the world are expected to be over three million . . .

Lettermen Slate Tour

The Lettermen have scheduled 18 college performances for the month of October. This tour, which will cover seven states, marks the first large scale Western itinerary given by the group.

The colleges are Utah States University, Logan, Utah (1); University of Nevada, Reno (5); University of Pacific, Stockton, Calif. (6); Bakers-field College, Bakersfield, Calif. (7); Cerritos College, Norwalk, Calif. (8); University of California, Santa Barbara (9); College of Southern Utah, Cedar City (12); Arizona State, Tempe (14); University of Arizona, Tucson (15).

The final two weeks of October will be spent playing concert dates at Texas Western College, El Paso (16); Sam Houston State Teacher's College, Huntsville (19); Texas State University, Commerce (21); Texas A & M, College Station (22); McNeese College, Lake Charles, La. (6); Southeast Louisiana College, Hammond (27); Northeast State College, Monroe, La. (28); Louisiana Tech, Ruston (29); Birmingham Southern College, Birmingham, Ala. (30).

Can You Find It?

One of the most exciting sports to "happen" here in Northern California is without a doubt, Surfing. This thrill a second sport is catching on like wildfire and has been for the past couple of years. In the weeks to come KEWB/91 will be giving you "Hot-doggers" plenty of your wet wiggly words right here in this column. If you are a surfer and have an interesting fact or two about yourself or a friend just drop a line on a postcard to: SURFING, KEWB, 91 JACK LONDON SQUARE, OAKLAND, CALIF. and we will be glad to print it. Who knows about your surfing feats unless you tell 'em about it? Got some pitcures? We'll use them! Meanwhile, until next week, I'm heading for Jone's Point on the 17 Mile Drive between Monterey and Carmel to "Hang 10." . . .

HOOKS AND SPOOFS AND STUFF --By Ron Reynolds

HAPPY HALLOWEEN . . . all KEWB broadcasts this weekend come to you on a ghost-to-ghost hook-up. Oops, sorry 'bout that. Seriously, I hope you dig KEWB on the Halloween weekend because the October 30-31 weekend is something special on Channel 91.

Because this is the Halloween weekend I'd like to offer you (at absolutely no extra charge) some of my favorite Great Pumpkin Jokes . . . with apologies to Charlie Brown . . . good grief!

First, there is no such thing as a ghost. My uncle told me so, and he should know. He's been dead for ten years. As one ghost said to the other, "DO YOU BELIEVE IN PEOPLE?" Friday's are the most unlucky days. I have a friend who's so superstitious he won't work any week that has a Friday in it.

On the Level

This is true . . . and after you stop shuddering you might seriously consider the following as your next club project. There are a number of mortuaries in the East Bay that actually pay clubs one dollar per person for every member who tours their facilities.

Sounds like the ideal Halloween project for every civic-minded organization. And get this — you get to see the curling irons, make-up department, wardrobe, and embalming room. Plus, you're given a tour of the coffin department. And did you know that every coffin has a spring in it? Very gartifying huh? Your final resting place will have running water.

Elsewhere

The latest rumors from TVLand are that Shindig may be one of the ABC shows to bite the dust when the television networks rearrange their schedules in January.

At this time the networks won't confirm anything. It's reported that their program decisions probably won't be made for another few weeks and one of the ideas they're trying out is 'guest hosts on the Shindig shows.' If the audience doesn't go for this, and the ratings don't climb, Shindig may wind up shunned, un-dug, and CANCELED.

October 2 (Saturday night) Shindig ratings according to the Arbitron service were 8.2 compared to its competition's 18.2 for Jackie Gleason and 16.8 for Flipper. The Trendex rating gave Shindig a 9.6 compared to Gleason's 15.4 and Flipper's 13.2!.....

And Another Thing

Ever wonder how much it costs your folks to raise you? A government study recently reported the cost of raising a child from infancy to age eighteen as about three times what it was twenty years ago. If your folks have an annual income of around $6,000 they spend approximately $24,000 on YOU. If their income is around $15,000 a year they spend close to $59,000 bringing you up. So next time the folks revoke your privileges remember they're just trying to protect their investment.

Girls dig this! A society has been formed at a university in England to assist the females that are shocked by the standard of morality there. It's called the Anti-Free Love Society and when a girl finds herself in a hot-spot because a guy's advances are getting too serious, she can telephone a special number and another member of the society will give her moral support.

Long Hair

There can be some serious disadvantages to wearing the long Beatle haircuts. From the KEWB-line to Norway comes word of a student who got his hair caught in a lathe and narrowly escaped disaster. The superintendent of the trade school is reported to have told students they must either get haircuts or wear HAIRNETS.

And this closing thought to the attention of all University of California students. There's a coffee bar in London, according to the Insider's Newsletter that posts the following sign: "Beatniks not admitted unless accompanied by cash."

LP Album Available

College football songs get the "big sound" treatment in a newly-recorded exclusive LP record album which presents 18 top flight songs including: Notre Dame, Michigan, Army, UC LA, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, and 12 other rousing victory marches. Featured in a back-to-school promotion by Colgate-Palmolive Company, the album (not available in record shops) is offered as a premium with Tackle Medicated Clear Gel acne preparation.

Valued at $3.98, the record is offered to Tackle purchasers for $1.00 with the name "Tackle" from any Tackle Medicated Gel package. A special display package featuring the record album premium offer is available at leading drug counters.
