Community 'threat' to Swedish radio?

by Kai R. Lofthus

STOCKHOLM — Sweden's commercial radio community is claiming that legislation making non-commercial "community" radio financially more attractive will lead to unfair competition for their stations.

The non-commercial radio bill was passed by the Swedish parliament on July 1. It will benefit community stations by abolishing government licence fees of Skr15 ($1.8) per hour; permitting certain types of syndicated programming for a

by Emmanuel Legrand, Music & Media editor-in-chief

For anyone interested in radio and music, a trip to the U.S.A. is always a treat.

Scrolling around the dial in U.S. cities such as New York, Miami or Washington DC always guarantees an aural experience. You can hear the expected and the unexpected, ranging from classic rock stations playing over and over again the same tunes they were playing 10 (even 20?) years ago, to ear-dazzling dense, modern, upbeat sound such as on DC 101 (rock) or WHFS (alternative) in Washington DC or KROCK in New York.

As the country which defined the model of modern commercial radio, the U.S.A. has pushed to the limit the concept of niche broadcasting, market segmentation and formatting—indeed, there are now so many formats that even the experts need a map to find their way around. They have even invented Lite AC—which sounds distressingly like a bad beer brand...

But what's really striking is that, in a country which claims to take pride in being a melting-pot of cultures, there aren't that many cross-format stations—such as Top 40 stations reputedly were in their golden age—which transcend all music genres.

The musical output of most radio stations caters for specific groups whose musical tastes are quite exclusive. A look at nationwide playlists shows that having a cross-over hit in the States is now harder than ever. In addition, looking at U.S. music from a European perspective, it appears that most of the genres which rule U.S. airwaves—rap/R&B, country and guitar rock—make comparatively little impact abroad.

That musical segmentation was quite apparent during Sony Music's international convention, held in Miami in the middle of July. The flow of products presented during those three days seemed to bear out the impression that U.S. record companies produce first and foremost for their domestic market.

However, in between a seemingly endless stream of teenage rappers, R&B crooners and alternative guitar-driven bands, the European-signed acts (including Anouk, Anggun and Wes) performing to Sony staff in Miami offered a real breath of fresh air. What they offer largely has no equivalent in the U.S. market, and thanks to that, they stand a chance to break in America, provided they receive the support of their record company and increased radio airplay.

In the rigidly formatted world of U.S. radio, Europop (call it what you will!) is currently spicing up the airwaves—and that's certainly a trend worth following.

Arcade sells up in France, restructures in Belgium

by Christian Lorenz & Marc Maes

PARIS/BRUSSELS — Dutch multimedia group Wegener Arcade is planning to sell its wholly-owned affiliate Arcade Music Company France, and is also undertaking a restructuring operation at its Belgian operation.

According to a statement issued by the board of Wegener Arcade on July 27, the company expects French investment company Wagram Equity Partners to agree to purchase a majority stake of 80 percent in Arcade France. Wegener Arcade will retain the remaining 20 percent of the company, which after the acquisition will be known as Wagram Musique.

Wagram Musique will be the exclusive French licensee for all the Arcade Music Group's international product in France. The new label's distribution will remain with Arcade's logistics partner, Dutch company DOC Data. Arcade Music Group-owned French labels Wotre and Flarenasch are not part of the deal, and will remain part of the Dutch group.

Arcade France had sales of $38 million in 1997, but incurred "substantial" losses, according to its parent company. The French label employs 75 staff, whose fate was uncertain at presstime.

The Arcade Music Company Belgium is grouping its label operations into two basic divisions following a successful merging of its promotional activities and last October's acquisition of independent Belgian label Alora Music.

The Creastars label is to become Arcade Belgium's main pop/artist development division, headed by Peter Vanderhallen, while CNR Music (to be headed by former Alora managing director Bert Burm) will look after MOR repertoire and the company's new Spanish dance label, BITmusic. Burm will also be responsible for the international exploitation of all the artists in both the CNR Music and Creastars divisions of the company.

"The [integrated promotions] strategy paid off, and now we are extending to the product and A&R part of the company," explains Arcade Music Company Belgium managing director Richard Dedapper.

Boost for BBC pop services

by Mike McGeever

LONDON — U.K. public broadcaster the BBC has earmarked £5 million ($8.2m) to be pumped into promoting its two national pop music networks and their live music programming.

The money will be spent on music programming, marketing campaigns and new on-air talent at national broadcasters BBC Radio 1 (CHR) BBC Radio 2 (MOR/AC). Matthew Bannister, director of BBC Radio, says: "This is about creating real impact for our public service broadcasting. The BBC's unique investment in live performances across its networks is a major cultural commitment."

Matthew Bannister

Funding for the war chest to be used to continue BBC Radio's audience battle against the commercial radio sector will come from trimming the annual operating budgets of all the BBC's national radio networks. A significant proportion of the £5 million will go on marketing and promoting mainly Radios 1 and 2 which, along with BBC local radio, currently enjoy cross-promotion on the corporation's two TV networks.

But some key players in the commercial radio sector say that the corporation is blurring its role as a public service broadcaster by moving Radios 1 and 2 too much into the mainstream. Radio 1 was repositioned as a "cutting edge" new music station by Bannister in 1993, but many observers argue the station has recently been drifting back towards a "poppier" sound during the daytime. Meanwhile, the historically-MOR

Radio 2 has been subtly altering its programming mix during the past couple of years towards more of an AC/gold sound, in order to attract younger listeners.

Tim Schoonmaker, chief executive of commercial radio group Emap Radio and chairman of the Commercial Radio Companies Association, says: "When the BBC's charter was up for renewal a few years ago, Radio 1 was falling over itself to say how distinctive its programming was [from commercial radio]. Now they are backsliding on it—outrageous."

He adds: "Radios 1 and 2 should be privatised. The commercial sector could run those stations just as effectively—if not more so—and save the licence payers £81m [Radio 1 and 2's combined annual budgets] a year. Then the BBC wouldn't have to go around and cut the budgets of Radio 4 [speech] and Radio 3 [classical], which are truly public services."

Skyrock is Paris' match

by Rémi Bouton

PARIS — Rap-friendly CHR/urban network Skyrock has overtaken NRJ to become the most-listened-to music station in the French capital.

The breakdown of Paris listening from French ratings organisation Médiamétrie for April-June 1998 (the national figures were published in last week's M&M) shows Skyrock chalking up a market-leading 9.2 percent weekly cumulative audience.

National CHR network NRJ has lost 100,000 Parisian listeners compared to the same period last year, falling to an 8.8 percent reach. Rival CHR network Fun Radio has also suffered capital punishment, losing more than 200,000 listeners since last year.

The Paris ratings are excellent news for Skyrock CEO (and 15 percent shareholder) Pierre Bellanger, who is currently finalising negotiations for the take-over of the station. "Bellanger and the Hachette Filipacchi group [which owns 85 percent of Skyrock] are poised to announce, early in September, the name of the buyer," says a Skyrock source.

National AC networks RFM and Chérie FM have both overtaken the previous AC leader in Paris, Europe 2, according to Médiamétrie. Amongst the local stations in Paris, community rap station Ado FM has made considerable progress (moving up to a 3.6 percent reach, level-pegging with established dance station Voltage FM), while rock station Oui FM (purchased last year by the U.K.'s Virgin Media Group) suffered its worst set of ratings for some years, down to a 1.3 percent reach.

Jon Webster

Chairman,
Technics Mercury Music Prize

As the 12 nominees for the 1998 Technics Mercury Music Prize for the best U.K./Irish album of the year were announced, the man who conceived the idea of a new award for "musical excellence" back in 1991 talked to M&M about the Prize's origins, progress and current status (story, page 3).

Q: How did the Mercury Music Prize idea come about?

A: I thought of it in 1991, when I considered the Brit Awards were a bit of a carve-up between the bigger record companies. The voting was too exclusive, and musical innovation was not rewarded. I wanted something independent and credible, with a voting system that would give less well-known music a chance and reward excellence. The Brits has since changed its voting system to give it a broader base.

Q: So, has the Mercury Music Prize lived up to your aspirations?

A: Yes. I was warned in 1991 that it would take six, seven years for it to become established and have an impact. Last year was the first really big effect the prize had on the market. Roni Size/Reprazent's [New Forms] album had sold, say, 25,000 copies before the award. When it won, Roni Size became a household name—at least in the music world—and sales went up to around 250,000. We've reached a new plateau of maturity and respect this year. I'm not complacent but we're getting there. What we need is more exposure.

Q: How important is radio coverage to that exposure?

A: [National public CHR broadcaster BBC] Radio 1 is very important. It's easy for the music world to assume everyone automatically knows about the Mercury Prize, but they don't. Radio builds exposure and respect, and it's good for all the nominees, not just the winner. Local and regional radio are also very receptive. With 12 artists, there are bound to be local connections they can pick up on.

Q: How has this year's change of sponsor affected you?

A: Technics took over from Mercury, whose parent, Cable & Wireless, had changed its way of doing business. Frankly, getting sponsorship is not easy, but with Technics, who seem to be in for the long haul, there's a direct symbiotic relationship. They have promotion ideas around the assumption that people who buy their equipment need something to play on it.

Q: What's your personal favourite from the 1998 nominees?

A: Cornershop [When I Was Born For the 7th Time]. A fantastic album. But, of course, I have absolutely nothing to do with the voting!

Heavyweight fight for new Madrid licences

by Howell Llewellyn

MADRID — Nearly 450 applications have been received for 25 new FM radio licences in the Madrid region of Spain.

Madrid's regional government, which has set up a commission of experts to examine each application, is expected to announce the winners in September.

The new licences are part of the Spanish government's decision to create 350 new FM licences throughout the country. An average of 17 applications have been received for each of the 25 Madrid region licences, but 33 applications have been received for the 106.3 FM frequency in the capital, the only one of the new licences powerful enough to reach all three million inhabitants of Madrid.

The number of applications is by far the highest for any region that has so far announced its licence hopefuls. For example, there were 80 applications for the 52 licences in Castilla y Leon, and nearly 300 for the 32 frequencies in Aragon.

The Madrid applicants include established radio networks such as SER, COPE, and Onda Cero Radio, plus smaller groups such as Radio Voz and Radio Blanca. There are also applications from various Catholic church-related groups, and from several newspaper companies.

Meanwhile, the Navarre regional government bordering the Basque Country in the north has awarded five of its eight licences, deciding to leave three unfilled. None of the major groups were awarded the licences, which all went to local applicants, including the University of Navarre and the region's first legal Basque-language (Euskera) station, Xorroxin Irratia, which will be based in the town of Lesaka.

Sud wields axe at RMC

by Rémi Bouton

PARIS — The restructuring plan at full-service French broadcaster RMC following its take-over by Sud Communications—the group formed especially to do so—will see the departure of half its 240 employees.

The plan aims to return the station to solvency by saving around Ffr70 million ($11.5m) per year. Ffr50m will come from the redundancies, and a further Ffr20m from savings on overheads. During its last financial year, RMC lost some Ffr90m on a turnover of Ffr160m.

The lay-offs will affect all areas of RMC, which has headquarters in both Paris and Monaco. The Parisian staff will decline from 51 to 12 (essentially journalists), while staffing in the Monaco offices will reduce from 166 to 100. Regional offices will also be cut drastically, to be replaced by correspondents. The bulk of the redundancies will take place during the summer, following negotiations with trade unions.

According to a source, the restructuring plans "will maximise synergies between Sud Radio and RMC in news, programming and advertising." The main shareholder of Sud Communications is Laboratoire Fabre, which owns full-service regional station Sud Radio. Sud Communications has already chosen Sud Radio's advertising agency, IP, to represent the new RMC. The source says the creation of an RMC/Sud Radio joint airtime package for advertisers should increase RMC's revenues by Ffr20-25m over three years.

Scheduling manager Jean-Marie Ferrand and programme manager Dominique Cantien are currently working on new RMC programming, but nothing concrete has yet been decided.

Sony Music Spain threw an after-show party for Mónica Naranjo following her recent performance in Madrid, at which she was presented with an eight-times platinum award (800,000 units) for Spanish sales of her album Palabra de mujer, by Sony Music Entertainment Europe president Paul Russell (left) and SME Spain president Claudio Condé (right).

NEW COLUMBIA GERMANY TEAM

BERLIN — Sony Music Germany's Columbia division has completed its management team with two key appointments. Ronnie Meister, formerly head of marketing, international repertoire at BMG Ariola Hamburg, joins Columbia in Frankfurt as marketing director, effective August 1. On the same day, ex-Edel Records A&R manager Sascha Lindemann will become label manager at Columbia's Dance Pool imprint, a position vacated by Markus Wenzel in May. Meanwhile, Wenzel and former Dance Pool A&R executive Peter Aleksander have launched their own dance imprint, Superstar Recordings, and have signed a label deal with Stuttgart-based EMI affiliate Intercord.

RA HAMMERS PHONE HOAXERS

LONDON — U.K. regulator the Radio Authority has issued a new programming directive in response to complaints from the public regarding the increasing use of on-air "wind-up" phone calls by stations. Complaints to the authority have revealed that unwitting victims may suffer some distress—for example, on CHR station Viking FM/Hull a man was heard crying on air after being told (falsely) that he was being fined £2000 for not paying his road tax. The new guidelines require that permission be sought from "victims" before calls can be broadcast, and state: "The 'wind-up' call is a technique that, if it is to be used, requires care. The general idea behind 'wind-ups' should be that they are good-humoured and that 'victims' should not be exploited in an unacceptable way."

BONTON SIGNS BERTLESMANN DEAL

PRAGUE — Czech media and entertainment giant Bonton Holdings has entered a 50/50 local joint venture with Bertelsmann's World Of Music And Video mail order club. Bonton is the largest film, music and video distributor and the biggest music producer and retailer in the Czech Republic and Slovakia. Its interests also include CHR station Radio Bonton (half of which is owned by U.S. media group Clear Channel Communications), and record label Sony Music Bonton, a joint venture with Sony Music.

SCANDI BOOST FOR MATTHEWS

STOCKHOLM — BMG Entertainment is aiming to re-ignite European interest in Before These Crowded Streets, the current album by the Dave Matthews Band, with a major marketing campaign in Scandinavia. The campaign is centred around video rotation with MTV Europe's Nordic service, which will feature the album's second single Stay on high rotation from August 4 onwards. BMG will back up the airplay with a three-week advertising campaign on MTV, which is due to start on the same date. "Of all European markets, the Nordic region is most open to U.S. artists," says London-based BMG Entertainment International VP Freddie de Wall. "Before These Crowded Streets charted in all the Nordic territories. With Stay, we're targeting this region directly." In the U.S., the album topped the Billboard 200 chart and still ranks at number 24 after 12 weeks.

WEIS WINS ÖRF VOTE

VIENNA — Longtime ÖRF employee Gerhard Weis is to be the new general director of Austria's public broadcaster. The 59-year-old, who has worked for ÖRF for more than 30 years, was elected by the board of trustees in a 28-5 vote, with two abstentions. In a previous vote during June, Weis narrowly missed being elected to the position, which becomes vacant in November when current general director Gerhard Zeiler leaves to head German commercial TV broadcaster RTL. Weis will be responsible for overseeing Austria's four public radio stations and two TV stations in his new role.

MANAGEMENT SWITCH FOR COSTELLO

LONDON — Elvis Costello has signed a new worldwide management deal with RPM Music Productions and will now be represented at the New York-based company by Danny Bennett, the manager for almost 20 years of his father Tony. Costello's still-untitled 12-song collaboration album with Burt Bacharach is now set for release in Europe on September 28 as the first fruit of his multi-label deal with Mercury, PolyGram Classics and PolyGram Jazz.

New line-up for 3FM

by Robert Tilli

HILVERSUM — Dutch public CHR station Radio 3FM is to start its controversial new programming (M&M June 6th) on September 6.

The changes are designed to "streamline" the station's daytime music output and revamp evening and weekend slots, with less specialist programming.

Evangelist broadcaster EO, one of the public broadcasting organisations which contributes programming to 3FM, faces total elimination from weekday schedules. Ironically, it will get a Sunday evening slot (20.00-24.00), which appears to sit uneasily with the organisation's religious beliefs about Sunday working.

Comments EO press officer Yolande Blokland: "On TV and other public radio stations we have been airing programmes on Sunday for quite some time. We just had to be realistic—it was either take this or get nothing at all." Another Christian broadcaster, NCRV, has been further marginalised, reduced to a two-hour Sunday evening programme each week.

VPRO, which has been campaigning for the creation of an "alternative" Radio 3FM, has been allocated the 22.00-00.01 weekday time slot it had applied for. The new daily programme will be hosted by left-field DJ Lux Janssen. VPRO will also provide a new Saturday night specialist dance programme in the same time-slot, but has lost its Sunday afternoon programme.

Meanwhile, a newcomer to 3FM's schedules will be public broadcaster BNN, headed by ex-Veronica TV celebrity Bart de Graaf, which has been given two two-hour slots at the weekend.

Titanic sales on: Sony takes 2nd quarter

The duel between Sony and EMI for European chart honours shifted in Sony's favour during the second quarter of 1998, writes Terry Heath.

Fuelled by the ongoing sales of the Titanic soundtrack, Sony was able to break the U.K. group's dominance of the charts, which had extended through 1997 and into the first quarter of this year, with a virtual clean sweep of the various categories.

Sony's slight edge over EMI is shown in data compiled by Music & Media, based on chart positions in the Eurochart Top 100 Singles and the European Top 100 Albums charts. According to those figures, Sony captured a 22.5 percent share of the albums chart during January-June 1998, and a 21.3 percent share of the singles chart in the same period. EMI also recorded a 22.5 percent share of the albums chart, but failed to improve on its singles share, holding on to third place behind Sony and PolyGram (20.5 percent) with a 15.2 percent share. All three of those companies lost overall singles and albums chart share, compared to the first six months of 1997.

Sony's Celine Dion enjoyed a double chart-topping feat, with Let's Talk About Love (Epic/Columbia)—although edged out of top place on the second quarter's album chart by James Horner's Titanic soundtrack (Sony Classical) and Madonna's Ray Of Light (Maverick/Sire)—still racking up enough chart points to stay ahead in the January-June figures. Dion's single, My Heart Will Go On (Epic/Columbia), beat off the challenge from Madonna's Frozen (Maverick/Sire) and Savage

Garden's Truly Madly Deeply (Columbia) to stay top. Titanic's continuing strength also helps move Sony Classical up to an unprecedented position as the second most successful label during the first six months.

The chart percentages published by M&M on a quarterly basis are based on cumulative points collected by artists' and labels' charted products during the period surveyed. The M&M Eurochart Hot 100 Singles and European Top 100 Albums listings are compiled from the national sales charts of 18 European countries.

Popkomm. celebrates its golden decade

by Terry Heath & Christian Lorenz

German music and entertainment industry fair Popkomm. celebrates its 10th anniversary this year. What began as an informal get together of the German music industry in a small community centre ten years ago has since grown into the world's largest event of its kind, with more than 15,000 accreditations in 1997. Organised by Cologne-based company Musik Komm, the fair, its conferences and its extensive live music programme attract more international visitors and exhibitors every year. Popkomm.98 is expected to continue at that high level, while adding film and new media to its agenda.

Why has Popkomm. fared so well in a fairly static music market? If you ask Musik Komm managing director Uli Grossmaas, the fair's strength is that it is politically loaded, that it invites discussion of business conditions rather than taking them for granted.

"Right from the beginning, pop music always meant more to us than retail, licensing and distribution," says Grossmaas. "Popkomm. fingers much earlier stages in the value chain. It started in the late '80s as an industry-internal dialogue between independent labels and majors on the then prevailing conditions of the music business. Now, 10 years on, that dialogue has extended to take in a much larger frame of reference."

"This year," adds Musik Komm deputy MD Ralf Plaschke, "we want to give a more concrete idea of this new, expanded framework of the entertainment industry. With a focus on spoken word recordings, film and new technologies, we're trying to demonstrate innovative ways for the music business without losing sight of the core skills of the industry."

Grossmaas underlines that core tasks such as A&R, marketing and promotion will continue to form the basis for Popkomm. Widening the fair's view is part of Musik Komm's commitment "to nurture an ideological climate in which people communicate long before the finished product appears," says Grossmaas. "Pop music is a business which thrives on emotions. These emotions have to be re-evaluated in the light of changing social and economic conditions."

A political agenda

As European politicians continue to acknowledge the economic importance of the music industry, Popkomm.98 highlights the closer relationship between music, politics and the law in the digital age.

As well as the plethora of concerts and showcases, what is proclaimed as "the world's biggest get-together for the music industry" also has a strong representation from the world of politics, examining the serious questions of copyright and accountability posed by the border-breaking advent of electronic communications.

The party atmosphere generated by Popkomm.98's welcoming media event, scheduled for the evening of Thursday, August 13 and organised by Musik Komm, EMI and VIVA 2, will give way the following day to a programme of lecture and discussion topics, in some cases featuring top politicians invited to share their view of the digital future with record industry executives anxious to protect intellectual property rights.

Germany's federal minister of justice, Professor Dr. Edzard Schmidt-Jortzig, kicks off proceedings at 13.00 on Friday, August 14 with his opening address on the theme: "Will record manufacturers remain equal partners with the lords of the Internet?"

The session, acknowledging that the technical foundations of the Internet are already in place, addresses the fact that it is now up to politicians to decide if—and how—record labels can be guaranteed a legally sanctioned independent source of income from on-line services.

The legal landscape

A subject so close to the business interests of the music industry is bound to generate lively—possibly controversial—discussion.

After it, from 15.00-16.30, a presentation on the current legal situation of music on the Internet will highlight the future challenges facing the legislators.

Kurt Kember, head of the copyright law department of the World Intellectual Property Organisation (WIPO) will outline the international agreements reached by WIPO; Volker Schöfisch, secretary of state at the German ministry of justice and Stefan Engel-Flehsig, secretary of state at the ministry of education, science and technology will cover the government's role in attempting to combine adequate protection with an encouraging environment for developing electronic communications.

Remix problems

On the theme of legal rights, a session organised by German music publishers' association DMV on August 14 (beginning at 14.00) will feature a panel including artist/producer Mousse T and Polygram Gmbh director Dr. Torsten Siefert in a discussion session titled "Remixing, Sampling, Publishing."

Although remixes have been a feature of the music scene for some time, they have developed to the point where they can have little in common with the original beyond the title. This can lead to a host of legal problems, and the panel will attempt to answer key questions such as: where should remix authorisation be sought?; Who owns the copyright/sampling rights?; Are additional rights necessary?; Can lyrics legally be altered?; Who benefits financially from remixes?

The session will be moderated by Billboard's Wolfgang Spahr, German bureau chief of M&M's sister publication.

Soundtrack successes

Saturday, August 15 has as one of its themes the exploitation of recordings from film soundtracks, opening with an address at 11.00 by Randy Gerston of Rysher Entertainment U.S.A., music supervisor on the phenomenally successful film and soundtrack Titanic.

Supported by Filmstiftung Nordrhein-Westfalen Gmbh, one of the regional German bodies responsible for allocating government grants to film makers, the address and following panel discussions will examine the dynamic crossover trend between film and pop music. Panelists will include Dieter Kosslick of Filmstiftung Nordrhein-Westfalen Gmbh and Christoph Ott of international film distributor Buena Vista, and the films Trainspotting and Lola rennt will be highlighted in specific case studies. Stars of Lola rennt will also visit the Radio Village stand (see page 3).

Radio focus

Music radio comes into its own from 11.00 on August 15 with two discussion sessions: "Campus On-Air" and "Is Radio Killing The Video Star?"

The first of those looks at the progress of college radio in Germany over the past two years, and discusses whether, with stations such as the Ruhr University in Bochum already on-air, we are seeing the emergence of an innovative "independent" radio format.

In the second, a panel including Gerald Baars, managing director of German network Eins Live, and Christian zu Salm-Salm of MTV Networks Gmbh, leads discussion on the development of radio brands and multimedia concepts.

VEDAS POPS IN

With its fey, lo-fi originality, weird vocals and strong hook, Roy Vedas' debut single Fragments Of Life (Mercury) is destined to be one of this year's memorable pop moments. In its original form it's not much of a club tune, so the remixers drafted in for this project have provided a rhythm for every type of disco on two 12-inchers. For house fans, the PF Project's Omega Mix stomps along Italian style, while break-beat lovers can rock to the hardstep vibe and sub-audio bass of the D.O.S.E. Mix. Vedas' own Roymix adds big drums and a touch of sleaze.

COMPOST SMELLING SWEET

The latest release from Munich's Compost is the Jazzanova EP. The fruit of a new collaboration with Berlin-based label Jazzanova Records (also known as JCR), each of its three tracks is fresh, sassy, melodic and pleasantly challenging. The music is risqué, with tasteful splashes of complexity and some fine arrangements. Contrary to what Frank Zappa once said, jazz is smelling rather good these days, thanks to tougher beats culled from the fringes of dance culture.

LIFE IN THE FREEZONE

Over the last five summers, a July ritual has established itself—checking out the latest Freezone compilation. Compared to the funky, electro-tinged Dangerous Lullabies Vol. 5 last year, The Radio Is Teaching My Goldfish Ju-Jitsu is a laidback affair dominated by the deep'n'mellow side of instrumental hip-hop and house. Across the 23 exclusive contributions by the likes of DJ Q, Eddie "Flashin'" Fowlkes, Funk D'Void and others, the overall tone is sophisticated enough for home or club listening.

RAPPING IN THE U.K.

The U.K.'s rap scene has come a long way in the last two years. With Wai Wan's debut album on Capitol due shortly plus Grouphomelivinproof (Payday) producing music that is undeniably excellent and unmistakably British, 1998 looks set to be an important year for Britain's head-nodders and motormouths.

Amongst the cream of the new crop is London-based label Freskanova.

The label debuted in the charts last year with the Freestylers single B-Boy Stance, which sold 46,000 units in the U.K. alone, and has just put out its first label compilation, Rough Technique Vol. 1. Across 18 tracks ranging from the pop/ragga of B-Boy Stance, the jazzy Real Heavy Science by Mad Doctor X and the R&B pop of Bill, Ben & Baggio's Pusherman, the unifying factor is high quality—both in the rhyming and the old skool electro-funk.

Freskanova promotion manager Amanda Sinclair observes: "We've even managed to get established house DJs like Judge Jules, Graham Gold and Pete Tong playing our breakbeats and we're getting amazing support from [London dance specialist station] Kiss FM." The mainstream media are also waking up to the sound of U.K. hip hop. On July 23, MTV recorded a Freestylers' concert—complete with break dance crew and local guest rappers—at London's Subterania club for its PartyZone programme for later broadcasts.

No Mermaid, but Lohan makes waves

by Paul Sexton

If early retail reaction is any indicator, Irish singer Sinéad Lohan's second album, No Mermaid (Grapevine), will be the one to take her from the shallows of the specialist section into the pop-rock mainstream.

The confident 12-song collection is out on Grapevine across most of Europe on August 10 (Germany has to wait until September). In the U.S. Lohan is signed to Interscope, which will release No Mermaid simultaneously with Europe; she has already played a month-long club tour stateside.

No Mermaid is the follow-up to Who Do You Think I Am?, which sold some 40,000 copies in Lohan's native Ireland. That debut was originally released on Irish indie Dara before Grapevine signed Lohan and gave it a full U.K. release in 1995.

The new album will be followed by the single Whatever It Takes, already an Irish airplay favourite since its release there in May. Grapevine are taking great encouragement from a positive press and radio reception to No Mermaid, with BBC Radio 2 swift to playlist the title track. But as Grapevine international marketing director Jo Donnelly says, the label is especially heartened by the number of retailers who believe the album can perform well in the rock racks, not just the folk music pigeonhole that many chose for its predecessor.

"Retailers from Holland and Germany have said to me there's no question of the album going anywhere other than the rock and pop section," says Donnelly. "That'll make a huge difference. Internationally, this is Lohan's first proper album release, so these countries don't have the baggage of having known her as a folk artist."

Lohan, now 27, says anything which lets her

get away from the "rootsy Irish singer-songwriter" stereotype is welcome. "There's no point in me saying 'no, I'm not your standard stereotype,'" she reflects. "The best thing is to go out and do it. I felt very restricted on the first album because of my lack of experience. It was started eight years ago, and recorded before I had any live gig experience. I felt a lot more confidence this time."

Lohan recorded No Mermaid between April and September last year at the New Orleans studio of Malcolm Burn, whose credits include Peter Gabriel and Shawn Colvin. "I knew what he was into," she says. "The record has a definite New Orleans influence and some of the tracks are quite laid back because it was so hot there."

European media, retailers and label licensees were out in force at Lohan's July 19 concert at London's Olympia Theatre which served as a launch party for the album. Lohan will start a European showcase tour in the first week of September, which Donnelly says is likely to include half a dozen shows in Germany and "maybe 10 to 12 dates altogether."

With Interscope extremely upbeat about the record, her U.K. label is having to cope with heavy demand for Lohan's time. "We have to share her with the Americans," says Grapevine's Donnelly. "They want her lots."

Vengaboys' magical mystery tour

by Robbert Tilli

Four hit singles in the Netherlands in just over six months have drawn international attention to the Vengaboys—a Dutch pop act headed by one of the country's most popular CHR DJs.

According to their label Breakin' Records, the Vengaboys are two Spanish "underdog" club DJs—Danski and DJ Delmundo—who tour local holiday resorts in a clapped-out bus during summer holidays to spin discs in seedy bars for the tourists.

However, in Hilversum, the heart of the Dutch record and radio industry, it's no secret that DJ Delmundo is actually the artist name of Wessel van Diepen, a popular radio DJ on CHR station Radio 538 and VJ on Holland's music TV station The Music Factory (TMF). To confuse things further, neither Danski nor Van Diepen feature in the Vengaboys' on-stage lineup. The latter is a 50/50, male/female quartet fronted by vocalist Kim.

At presstime, the Vengaboys' third single Up & Down, the title track to their debut album, was at number 13 in Germany. Meanwhile, in the Netherlands, their fourth single release We Like To Party—which peaked at number 2 in the Mega Top 100 chart in June—is still at no. 5.

Up & Down, the album, is on its way to gold status (50,000 units) in the Netherlands. Dutch album sales were boosted briefly by a publicity stunt masterminded by Van Diepen, which involved a fake press release claiming that the master tapes of the album had been stolen. Internationally, Up & Down has been released in Germany (Motor/PolyGram), Italy (Time), Belgium (Jive), Spain (Max Music), France (Scorpio) and across Asia (Avex).

Van Diepen began his career as a producer/recording artist in the early 1990s with a string of dance hits, including James Brown Is Dead by LA Style (1991), and—more recently—Rhythm Of The Night by Nakatomi. Combining the careers of a radio DJ and a recording artist might be considered a conflict of interest by some. However, says Van Diepen: "Having a hit single with Up & Down in Germany proves that my music hits a note with the fans, regardless of what else I do for a living."

VARIOUS FOR FILMS—EDIT 3

Freibank/PIAS
International release date:
September 14

Album Spotlight doesn't usually feature compilations but this week two albums which are simply too good to be overlooked have come along; neither is what one would call regular greatest hits fare, but both include otherwise unavailable tracks by artists to watch out for. For Films—Edit 3 is a collection of stunning instrumentals, wherein electronica, drum'n'bass, electro funk and lo-fi tracks combine to form soundtracks for imaginary movies. The album features artists from Spain, Russia, Germany, the U.K. and Chile, with exciting new talent like Barry Künzel, José Carlos Mac and +24.Lunatek next to established artists like Panacea and Die Haut. There are also a couple of "supergroup" jams on this album, such as Can founder member Jaki Liebezit joining Mouse On Mars' Jan St. Werner on Pluramon's Tel.Bell. The album is the brainchild of Hamburg-based music publishing company Freibank, which plugged film makers, TV producers and advertising agencies two years ago with Edit 1, a tour de force of contemporary electronic music from Kreidler to Visit Venus.

Some of those promos found their way into specialist record shops—and the rest, as they say, is history. Edit 3 is the first volume to get a full commercial release. The album will be presented to retailers and distributors in a special promo edition at Popkomm.98 in Cologne from August 13-16, or check out Freibank's internet site [www.freibank.com] for sound samples.

VARIOUS FUNK 21—THE ALBUM

Partisan
International release date:
August 3

Bored silly with sissy drum'n'bass tracks? Funk 21 is the label of U.K. club promoter Terry Wilson and it rocks; now Wilson has joined forces with up and coming London-based indie Partisan to release this collection of new talent. A combination of bold beats, tight arrangements and no slack makes this stand out. Highlights include Tertius & Professor Smalls' Wolf and 9th Episode, Seeka's Dialogue and Outpost and Selim vs. Steel's Ain't Who Ya No—Watch A No. Keep your ears open for Partisan's next release—Nu Perspective, due out September 1—a compilation of new tracks from Creative Wax, the label which launched the career of Alex Reece. A promo 12-inch with an ultra hard Flytronix remix of Jazz Cartel's Blue Haze is due out on August 17.

Please send review copies, information and artist photographs for consideration as Album Spotlight entries to: Christian Lorenz, Music Editor, Music & Media, 23 Ridgmount Street, London, WC1E 7AH, U.K.

Talk radio

by programming editor Mike McGeever

Be careful what you wish for; it might just come true...

In France it's hard enough to get new music played on the radio without the added hurdle of that country's insane airplay quota legislation, as last week's M&M front page underlined. And yet, there's a certain inevitable irony in the picture which French labels' body SNEP paints of the effects of the quota system.

Laws which were drawn up to encourage French language music, by ensuring that francophone productions receive substantial airplay, now seem to be cutting off access to France's airwaves for new talent—the lifeblood of any music industry.

Against a background of what he described as a "lifeless" music market SNEP's general manager, Hervé Rony, has called a crisis meeting in September to discuss the "perverse" effects of the regulations which mean French broadcasters risk the wrath of broadcasting regulator the CSA if less than 40 percent of their output meets the francophone criteria.

At the time it was introduced, the concept of a quota requirement seemed like a good idea for the music industry—although it was introduced much to the frustration of broadcasters. The short term attraction lay in building up exposure to domestic talent and rosters—and thereby building sales. That's commendable.

But the alarming long term consequences of the quota regime have been shrinking playlists, and a decrease in new additions to playlists. Some quarters of French radio even run the risk of becoming "gold" stations by default as they continue to give substantial airplay to home-grown tracks that are up to four years old, simply so they can (grudgingly) fill the quota.

The fact that at least 31 percent of French music radio output during the first six months of this year was "gold"—up significantly from the previous year—is not good news for the listener or the record industry. It makes for sterile radio.

With the amount of music that is currently breaking borders across Europe, French programmers must be frustrated trying to find room on their playlists or rotations for new tracks they suspect would work for their audiences, particularly when those tracks are working for their counterparts and their audiences in other territories.

When SNEP holds its "crisis meeting" to discuss how to tackle the current situation, surely they must allow serious representation from the radio industry? After all, no-one else knows the CSA better—they deal with its regime on a daily basis.

Those countries which are contemplating introducing quotas at home would be well advised to look closely at the effects of the experience in France. Their record industries must ask themselves whether the perceived medium term gain is worth the long term pain...

WILL SMITH
JUST THE TWO OF US
Columbia
Producer: Sauce
Publisher: not available

— airborne —

Yet again Will Smith manages to pick the right R&B original to use as a foundation for one of his poppy raps. This time around, he's opted for the Grover Washington Jr./Bill Withers gem from 1981, managing to put a contemporary slant to it without losing the character of the original. One of the first stations to programme the song outside the U.K.—where it's been all over the airwaves during the past few weeks—is French regional CHR network Radio Vibration, which covers a large portion of the central part of the country from its Orléans base. Head of music Nicolas Manteau explains: "We added this track because we think it's an excellent version of an evergreen, which sounds fresh and familiar at the same time." Manteau continues: "At this stage, it's still a little bit too early to judge its progress—our listeners have hardly had the chance to react to it—but as it fits in nicely with our format, we're confident that things will turn out all right." Concludes Manteau: "Although this is a new record, we are playing it at least twice a day in all dayparts because it fits in so well."

SPICE GIRLS VIVA FOREVER

Virgin
Producers: Richard Stannard & Matt Rowe
Publishers: Windswept Pacific/PolyGram

— airborne —

Although some started to write off the fab five when they became four, they have remained hugely successful—at least up until now—and Viva Forever looks set to maintain that record. Supported by a classy video, this excellent ballad is likely to be around for some time, largely due to the fact that it's suitable for a multitude of formats. At the Netherlands' leading national AC network Sky Radio 100.7 FM/Bussum, the song first went on air on 11 November last year as a featured album track, although it's only now that it's been formally added to the playlist. One of the station's programmers, Vranz van Maaren, explains: "With established artists who fit our format really well, we always check out a whole album and we were immediately convinced that this was one of the best songs on it. We're not really surprised that our listeners responded very well to it from the early days onwards, and now that it's been released as a single, it will probably be massive." Referring to ongoing press speculation about the band's future, Van Maaren concludes: "If this does turn out to be their swansong, they would be leaving the scene with a bang."

On the air

M&M's weekly airplay analysis column

If "music sounds better with you," then radio certainly sounds better with a sprinkling of Stardust.

Gary Smith, author of M & M's weekly dance column Dance Grooves, was spot on when he predicted a couple of weeks ago that the cheesy disco of Stardust's Music Sounds Better With You (Roulé/Virgin) would cross over to radio, but nobody expected it to be so soon!

After hitting the Border Breakers chart last week, it's racked up the biggest increase in chart points on that listing this week, rising to number 10. And on the European Radio Top 50, the sideline of Daft Punk's Thomas Bangalter enters at number 46, due to a combination of airplay on alternative and dance stations across Europe plus major networks in Italy and many stations in the U.K. In London, demand is such that the import 12-inch is shifting shiploads at twice the normal domestic price.

"It's a good tune, and it's massive on the dance floor at the moment. We had quite a lot of requests for it, so I decided to make it a Hot Shot [powerplay]," says Steve Kirk, head of music at CHR local station Q102.9 FM/Londonderry in Northern Ireland. The Stardust track is the latest in a string of dance records which Q102.9 has jumped on early, and which have crossed over from the evening hours to the daytime playlist.

Other dance tracks the station picked up on before their U.K. release include Sex On The Beach by T-Spoon (A La Bianca) and Everything's Gonna Be Alright by Sweetbox (RCA). "We like to keep our playlist fresh," Kirk explains, "with about 12 new additions each week. But although we're popular among younger listeners, I want to keep the playlist as broad as possible. So we also play Shania Twain and Van Morrison for the 55-year olds."

Back on the European Radio Top 50, Des'ree's lease of Life (Sony S2) at the top has been extended to a fifth week. As the Major Market Airplay section shows, she's also finally hit the No.1 slot in one of the regional charts—Italy is the place. Although The Spice Girls rocket up to number 3 with Viva Forever (Virgin), after receiving the "greatest chart points gainer" title for the third consecutive week (and being "most added" for the second consecutive week), there's still a sizable gap between them and Des'ree.

Des'ree

At 36, the highest new entry is Simply Red's cover of The Air That I Breathe (East West), with support from the U.K., Denmark and Germany. At number 39, proving size does matter, Jamiroquai's Godzilla soundtrack extract Deeper Underground (Sony S2) comes in via radio support on radio in the U.K. and Italy. The other single from the monster movie is even bigger, however: Come With Me by Puff Daddy & Jimmy Page (Epic), hits number 14, thanks to additions in the U.K. and Germany.

Further down, at number 41 we find Sash!, whose Mysterious Times (X-It) is developing well in the U.K., Denmark and Italy. And finally, bubbling under this week are New Kind Of Medicine by Ultra Nate (A&M), Bailando by Loona (Motor/Polydor), Suddenly by Gala (Do It Yourself), Falling In Love Again by Eagle-Eye Cherry (Superstudio/Polydor), and Boyzone's No Matter What (Polydor).

The European Radio Top 50 chart is based on a weighted-scoring system.

Songs score points by achieving airplay on all of M&M's reporting stations with contemporary music fulltime or during specific dayparts.

Stations are weighted by market size and by the number of hours per week.

Mercury Prize: brimful of Asia?

shop's When I Was Born For The 7th Time (Wiiija) were selected from over 130 entries for the shortlist, which has been extended from 10 to 12 this year.

The chair of judges, Simon Frith, described Rafi's Revenge during a press conference in London on July 28 as "a provocative debut. A passionate, political album that is explosive and thrilling." Cornershop, he added, had delivered a "remarkable album that brims with wit."

The winner of the 1998 prize, this year sponsored by Japanese-owned hardware manufacturer Technics for the first time, will be announced at a presentation dinner on September 16.

Rumours suggest that the organisers are considering re-locating the ceremony from its traditional venue, the Grosvenor House hotel, to a new location. London's Sheperds Bush Empire—one of the capital's leading music venues—is tipped as the hot favourite to host the show. Mercury Music Prize chairman Jon Webster says "we are looking at options."

Rafi's Revenge is among the favourites to win, according to book-makers William Hill. With odds of 9:1 it ranks just behind Robbie Williams's Life Thru A Lens (Chrysalis) and Catatonia's International Velvet (Blanco Y Negro), which both stand at 6:1. Virgin Records has the two top contenders in the race, with Massive Attack's Mezza- nine at 5:1 and The Verve's Urban Hymns at 2:1.

Pulp get their third consecutive nomination for This Is Hardcore (Island); they won the Mercury prize with Different Class in 1996, but are relative outsiders this year at 12:1.

Webster, who conceived the idea of the Mercury as a new award for musical excellence in 1991, claims "people do get turned on to different kinds of music via the Mercury Prize, especially the 'older' music fan." He cites the biggest beneficiary to date of the award as Roni Size & Reprazent's New Forms (Talkin' Loud/Mercury), which won the award in 1997 (see Open Mike, Page 5).

Capital launches on-line music store itself as an entertainment company. Many U.K. broadcasters contend they are handcuffed by current broadcasting legislation and lack of available frequencies in their attempts to expand their core business of radio.

The new Capital/Telstar on-line music retail service will be available on seven Capital station websites operated by the company's multimedia arm, Capital Interactive. Visitors to the sites will be able to order more than 220,000 music titles from major and independent labels, and will receive orders by mail within 72 hours.

Fulfilment will be handled by Telstar's distribution division, and the service will be promoted on air via Capital's stable of stations across the country.

Last year Capital and Telstar set up a new independent record label, Wildstar. The label's first two U.K. signings, pop/R&B acts Conner Reeves and Lutricia McNeal, have both enjoyed chart success in the U.K.

Telstar founder and chairman Sean O'Brien comments: "This latest joint venture builds on an existing relationship, and combines Capital's strong brands and on-air promotional capabilities with our operational distribution and marketing expertise."

group's interests in European broadcaster CLT/UFA.

In his new role as president and CEO, Zelnick will oversee BMG's worldwide music and video operations in more than 50 countries, with a total turnover of $4.4 billion. He will report directly to Dornemann, who will continue to serve as BMG Entertainment chairman.

In a statement issued on July 28, Dornemann comments: "My enormous confidence in Strauss' abilities, and the success he has achieved in managing BMG in North America, enables me to delegate more responsibilities to him so that I can more comfortably balance my own responsibilities for both Bertelsmann's music and television activities, which will continue to become increasingly important to the company over the next couple of years."

In a related move, Dornemann has announced that all of BMG's corporate finance and legal operations will report directly to BMG Entertainment executive VP and CFO Thomas McIntyre, effective immediately. LaVerne Evans has been promoted to co-general counsel and senior VP, business and legal affairs and reports directly to McIntyre, alongside Joel Schoenfeld, who now serves as co-general counsel and senior VP government affairs.

maximum of 10 hours per month; and by allowing such stations to increase their transmission areas, where appropriate.

According to the legislation, the licence fees are to be removed because they are "marginal compared to the licence fees that are collected from commercial stations." The income which the Swedish state collects from non-commercial radio has fallen from Skr4 million in 1993 to Skr1.8m last year, compared to a total of Skr120m raised from the commercial sector in 1997.

Managing director of commercial AC network Mix Megapol, Marcus Forsell, says he is unhappy about the greater freedom being given to the community radio sector. "We pay considerable fees for our broadcast licences, and we don't want to have unfair competition," he insists.

Anders Nilsson, managing director of networks Radio Rix (AC) and Power Hit Radio (dance/CHR), agrees: "Anyone can start their own [non-profit making] organisation and then play music all day with a small percentage of the costs we have to bear. I'm not sure that this is what the politicians had in mind."

A wide-ranging legislative review of Swedish commercial radio presided over by Niklas Nordström, chairman of Sveriges Socialdemokratiska Ungdom (the governing Swedish social democrat party's youth wing), was to be published last year, but has now been postponed until December 1 this year, following widespread criticism of the review from politicians and the radio industry.

Major Swedish stations are being consulted throughout the committee's work in order to avoid the kind of problems experienced last year. Says Nilsson: "This time around, the review seems more liberal, but the preliminary proposals are still unacceptable."

"The intention is to award the licences to those whom the authorities find most suitable, instead of awarding them in an auction. They also want to keep the restrictions on syndication. Niklas Nordström says it will be permissible to carry syndicated programming on [future] digital radio services, but not on analogue commercial radio. I just don't understand the logic behind this."

Sterne De Luxe, Oliver Lieb, Sven Dohse, Funk D'Void, Marshall Jefferson and Marillion.

Participating radio stations confirmed so far include Hessischer Rundfunk/Frankfurt, Radio NRW/Oberhausen, Radio Fritz/Potsdam, HR XXL/Frankfurt, Berliner Rundfunk, Radio Hamburg, Kiss FM/Berlin and German international broadcaster Deutsche Welle.

Berlin-based syndicator On Air Syndication will be providing the broadcast equipment and production staff in the studio. Radio professionals can record interviews or whole programmes, edit them on-screen on the computer and then send their material, live or pre-produced, to their respective home stations direct from a location right at the heart of the world's largest music and entertainment fair.

ISDN lines will be provided by Deutsche Telekom, whose experienced engineers can advise on all practical matters regarding ISDN and the necessary encoding/decoding equipment

by Mike McGeever

LONDON — With a view to expanding its mainstream U.K. dance network Galaxy, Chrysalis Radio has agreed to pay £6 million ($9.9 million) to current owner Soul Media for black music station Choice FM/Birmingham.

The deal, which must be approved by U.K. regulator the Radio Authority and cleared under general competition legislation, does not affect Choice FM in south London, which remains within the Soul Media fold.

If approved, the acquisition would give Chrysalis its second FM service covering Birmingham—it already owns soft AC regional station 100.7 Heart FM, based in the city. The deal, seen as the latest development in the consolidation of the U.K.'s commercial radio industry, would give the group its fourth Galaxy-branded outlet.

Chris Wright, chairman of parent company the Chrysalis Group, describing the purchase as "a rare opportunity," says: "The addition of another major metropolitan licence moves Chrysalis Radio towards its millenium vision of leading-group status."

Chrysalis' £6 million buys it a niche station with a 2.7 percent market share (140,000 weekly listeners) which generated revenues of £599,000 in the year ending September 1997; it's a price at which some observers have expressed surprise.

Chrysalis Radio chief executive Richard Huntingford responds: "Obviously radio prices over the past couple of years have been reasonably high. But when we evaluate any of the acquisition targets we model on what we can derive out of those stations under our management. Those who evaluate a station on past [revenue] performances are on the wrong track."

He adds: "When you look at the premium other groups have paid—such as Capital Radio for [alternative rock station] Xfm or Emap for Melody [soft AC/MOR] in London—for the privilege of having a second FM service in a major market, then £6 million for Choice compares very favourably."

Off the record

A stunning 100.6 percent increase in operating income of the Sony Corp's music operations for the three months ending June 30 was largely thanks to increased license fees and a new direct marketing arrangement, according to the company. Latest figures showed Sony's operating income from music up to $59m. Total music revenues for the period were $1.24 billion—up 26 percent compared to the first three months of 1997.

A brief statement this week confirmed that U.K. labels' body the British Phonographic Industry (BPI) and its retail counterpart the British Association of Record Dealers have formed a new joint venture to own and market the U.K.'s music charts, as per OTR's report last month (M&M, July 11).

German TV station Viva will hand out its Comet music industry awards for the third time this year during Popkomm.98 on August 14. Rammstein, Jason Nevins, Young Deenay, Guido Horn, Wes, Guano Apes and 4

Rammstein

The Cause will perform at the Comet ceremony; the show will be broadcast on Viva on August 22 and a day later on sister channel Viva 2... Staying on a Popkomm. theme, Dover, Spain's all-time most successful indie band (with sales of their album Devil Came To Me at the 400,000 mark), look set to play their most important concert ever at the event—without a label. The band, who separated from indie Subterfuge in April, are negotiating with at least two majors, but "there probably won't be any decision until after the summer break," according to guitarist Amparo Llanos. Dover share the stage on August 13 with Nina Hagen, Anouk and Superjesus.

In the U.K., PolyGram-affiliated label London Records has promoted general manager Laurie Cokell to the post of managing director. Cokell replaces Colin Bell, who left to join Elton John's management in May (M&M, May 30). Cokell has promoted Sacha Cowlam to head TV and radio promotions, and Alan Parks to the position of creative director.

Media company Emmis Communications, one of the top 10 U.S. radio operators, has opened a Paris office. The company, aiming to expand "strategically and rapidly" overseas, has appointed Randall Bongarten—former president of NBC Radio—president of Emmis International. He also oversees Emmis' national Hungarian network Sláger Rádió.

OTR hears U.K. regulator the Radio Authority has received 13 applications for a major regional licence to serve central Scotland, including the cities of Glasgow and Edinburgh. Several of the applications propose new dance and alternative music formats.

Former BMG Entertainment International senior vice president A&R and marketing Heinz Henn is to set up a charity foundation in memory of his late wife, Caroline. The fund will help to finance the New York-based Caroline Henn Centre, scheduled to open in May 1999. The centre, linked to the Mount Sinai Hospital (N.Y.) and the Martell cancer research foundation, will train doctors to specialise in cancer medicine. Henn, who left BMG after 11 years at the end of June to launch his own company (Henn Entertainment) is planning various—possibly music-related—activities to raise funds.
