8 Jazzanova: The Importance Of Being Earnest

Call it what you want — nü-jazz, electrip-hop or house jazz; but we'll just call them Jazzanova. One of the most highly anticipated records of the year, this Berlin-based sextet of DJs and producers offers up In Between, bringing together traces of hip-hop, funk and jazz in an electronic delight. DJ Alexander Barck took the time to talk with CMJ about the release, the Kollektiv music community and the "Jazzanova sound": "We like to keep people on their toes. When people are surprised, it brings the liveliness back to both them and to the music. We have to constantly surprise people to keep them listening."

ESSENTIAL

ORISHAS

Emigrante (Surco)

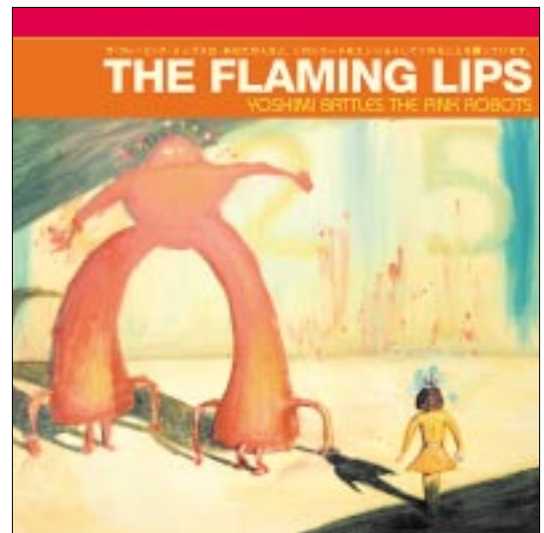

To those who think that songs with lyrics in a different language may lessen its enjoyment, I say, “Come mierda!” With Emigrante, Orishas has taken the very best elements of Cuban music (the orchestral grooves of son) and fused them with basic hip-hop elements like scratching and tag-team vocals, illustrating perhaps the only way hip-hop and a full orchestra can meld. The percussion fade-out of “Habana” and the vocals of many of the tracks make up that certain je ne sais quois that makes this album so good. Orishas asks you to let go of all your hang-ups about listening to music and trying desperately to squeeze some meaning out of the lyrics. Don’t be so uptight! If you can’t glean sentiment behind tracks like “Ninos” or “Gladiadores” then, honey, you’d better go back to listening to Top 40 radio, where everything is spoon fed to you. This album is so jam-packed musically that lyrics become irrelevant. And... just to throw a wrench in the works, “Ausencia” is partly in French! With such a wide embrace of musical genres and influences, it’s no surprise there isn’t one dud in the bunch. This one’s a definite keeper, even if — or perhaps, especially because — you can’t understand it. — Lisa Hageman

FLAMING LIPS

Yoshimi Battles The Pink Robots (Warner Bros.)

Plenty of rock bands experiment with sound and concoct “out there” music, but does any group do it in a way that’s as comforting or as blissful as the Flaming Lips? The Lips’ latest, Yoshimi Battles The Pink Robots, has a much more daunting task than defeating a bunch of “evil-natured robots”; it has to follow in the footsteps of 1999’s masterstroke, The Soft Bulletin (see also: Radiohead’s Kid A vs. OK Computer). If what you’re looking for is more of the psychedelic grandeur of The Soft Bulletin, the new album will satisfy on a few tracks, such as the opener “Flight Test,” which shows off all the colors that appear elsewhere on the record: acoustic strums, soaring strings and backing vocals, plus a galaxy of funky space-rock touches. Another high point is the metaphysical masterpiece “Do You Realize?” in which Wayne Coyne and Co. invite you to blow your own mind by considering that, in fact, ladies and gentlemen, we are floating in space. But don’t pass over less overt pieces, like “One More Robot/Sympathy 3000-21,” a track that allows you to absorb the impressionistic sonic wonder (from drum machine to string section) that only the Flaming Lips can provide. — Steve Ciabattone

DABRYE

Instrmntl (Eastern Developments Music)

On Instrmntl, this producer's second release under the moniker Dabrye, the listener is welcomed in to the constantly working and developing mind of Ann Arbor, Michigan recording artist Tadd Mullinix. For his debut on Eastern Developments Music, Dabrye serves up a mesh of electronic, funky, hip-hop and jazzy instrumentals that can either serve as idealistically chill background music for those hazy summer parties or as a complement to a 90 MPH drive down the highway. Instrmntl opens up with a fitting sitar-laced track dubbed "Intrdctn.," which is followed by "Won" and "No Child Of God," two funky and electronic tunes that stand apart from the jazz influence that dominates the body of the album. Dabrye plays around with the harmonious sounds of the saxophone, piano and bass while layering the whole with an entourage of loops, samples and beats that provide the framework for this definitive chillout record. Both "This Is Where I Came In," with its trancy chorus and kooky sounds, and "Prospects (Marshall Law)" nod to body-moving electro, rounding off the experimental success that is Instrmntl. With two other recording aliases (under his own name and the moniker James Cotton), don't be surprised to see some ridiculously scorching beats coming from this young and aspiring Michigan mastermind. — Greg Winter

Structure Vs. Happiness (Feel)

Like a trip down pop-rock memory lane, Miles is a German band you'll want to hear for, well, miles. Until now, American kids have had limited access to the group's two critically acclaimed albums, 1997's The Day I Vanished and 1999's self-titled sonic slap. But with fans from Sweden to Japan and tours with the Flaming Lips and Stereophonics, the trio of Kraut rockers landed a deal last year with New York's Feel Records. Tightly wound and guitar-driven, Structure Vs. Happiness isn't just a mere comp of 14 tracks taken from the group's first two Euro releases. Rather, it's a hit-after-hit melodic masterpiece which should garner Miles all the Stateside accolades the band deserves. From the hurricane guitar grip of "We Need More Close Ups" to the Pixies-era staccato stomp "Birdmen," singer Tobias Kuhn's boyish tones provide smooth sailing for guitarist Mike Silver and drummer Ronny Rock's rhythmic ride. "Baboon" hurtles ahead on its anthemic chorus, while "Astronaut Without A Cause" encases the tale of a pop girl's ennui within Beach Boys-like harmonies and rapt falsetto. On "Building Up A Connaissance," Kuhn notes, "I just want to have a master plan." Surely this album is the right one. — Solvej Schou

INDUSTRY NEWS

According to the Wall Street Journal, major music companies are planning to up the ante in their war against unauthorized online song swapping by targeting individuals who offer the largest troves of songs on peer-to-peer services. Working through their trade association, the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA), large record companies are moving toward filing copyright lawsuits that “would target the highest volume song providers within the services.” The new effort to combat online piracy may also include a public campaign featuring well-known artists urging music fans to respect copyright rules. In addition, Reuters has reported that labels are distributing “decoy” files on free file-sharing sites. Though empty, these traceable files allow record labels to track the material and find out exactly who is downloading it. “Spoofing is just one example of a lawful and appropriate self-help measure available to the labels to respond to the growing problem of peer-to-peer network piracy,” said a spokesman for the RIAA. “It also happens to confirm the adage ‘You get what you pay for.’” In related news, Rhapsody, the Listen.com owned and distributed online music provider, has signed a non-exclusive licensing agreement with Universal Music Group, making it now the only online service of its kind where users can access songs owned by all five major labels. Offering its subscribers streaming audio on demand, but no downloads, Rhapsody already has existing agreements in place with the other four major music companies — Bertelsmann Music Group, Warner Music Group, EMI Recorded Music and Sony Music Entertainment — as well as several independent labels, including TVT and Sub

Pop. The new deal increases Rhapsody’s song library from 150,000 to 175,000 songs from approximately 14,000 albums. • The California Senate’s Judiciary Committee and the Select Committee on the Entertainment Industry will conduct a joint hearing on July 23 to look into the record industry’s accounting practices. Sen. Kevin Murray (D-L.A.) told Billboard that if the hearings “reveal a pattern of withholding royalties on the part of the labels, legislation may be introduced mandating payment of the equivalent of punitive damages in a lawsuit.” A large number of artists have sued their respective labels claiming faulty accounting practices, including Barry White, Dixie Chicks and Meatloaf. • Sony/ATV Music Publishing will buy Acuff-Rose Music Publishing from Gaylord Entertainment for $157 million. Founded in 1942 by country singer Roy Acuff and songwriter Fred Rose, Acuff-Rose possesses one of the richest song catalogs in country music. • Digital media device manufacturer SongPro Inc. will release an add-on component for Nintendo’s Game Boy this fall that will allow the hand-held gaming system to double as an MP3 music player. The add-on — which comes with a memory card that can hold up to an album’s worth of songs — is expected to retail for $99 and will allow Game Boy users to view album and artist information and lyrics, as well as listen to music. The system will also reportedly be able to store and play back files encoded in Microsoft’s WMA format.

LABEL NEWS

Kim Estlund has joined Rhino Records as the label’s Senior Director Of Media Relations. She can be reached at 310.441.6636. • KOCH Entertainment Distribution announced on July 1 that it is now the exclusive distributor of FUBU Records. FUBU’s current artist roster consists of 54th Platoon, The E.N. D and Drunken Master. • Nickelback frontman Chad Kroeger and his attorney, Jonathan Simkin, have formed their own label: 604 Records. The imprint will be distributed in the United States by Nickelback’s label, Roadrunner Records. • Congratulations to EMI Music Publishing, who won the “Publisher Of The Year” award for the ninth consecutive year at the recent ASCAP Rhythm And Soul Awards.

MUSIC NEWS

There’s a lot going on in the world of the Flaming Lips these days. With the band’s new Warner Bros. album, Yoshimi Battles The Pink Robots, in stores on July 16 and a spot on this summer’s Unlimited Sunshine tour with Modest Mouse, Cake and De La Soul looming, you’d think the plate would be full. But there’s also a movie in the works, straight from the warped mind of singer Wayne Coyne. Christmas On Mars involves space colonization, a Martian Santa Claus and stars the members of the band. As wacky as it sounds, Warner Bros. is bankrolling the project, and the band hopes to see it actually hit theatres in time for the holidays next year. Beyond that, the Lips recently received an interesting request from none other than Beck. It seems the loser-cum-sex-god wants the guys to perform with him — as his backing band. The offer is there, but what it might actually lead to, one can only imagine. • Jazz bassist Ray Brown, who enjoyed an influential career lasting more than 50 years and was once married to Ella Fitzgerald, passed away in his sleep on July 2 in Indianapolis, where he was wrapping up a U.S. tour. In addition to creating a lasting impact on bass-playing in the jazz realm, Brown worked with such legends as Dizzy Gillespie, Charlie Parker and Max Roach. He continued to perform and record throughout his life, most recently releasing the album Some Of My Best Friends Are Guitarists, featuring a host of well-known jazz guitar players, in June of this year. Brown was 75. • GBV and GN'R — not two bands you'd expect to hear mentioned in the same sentence, but thanks to the Strokes, not only can they share a sentence, they'll also share a screen. Both Guided By Voices and former members of Guns N' Roses (Duff McKagan, Slash and Matt Sorum) make appearances in the New York rockers' new video, for "Someday," which also sees GBV facing off against the Strokes in a mock Family Feud scenario. • Former Verve singer Richard Ashcroft has offered up Human Conditions as the title for his second solo album, due in October from Virgin Records. Songs on the album will include "Buy It In Bottles," "Check The Meaning" and the typically Ashcroft-titled "Lord I've Been Trying." Meanwhile, Ashcroft insists he's currently on a creative roll, and will have the disc's follow-up ready for release within the space of a year. • Norah Jones and Diana Krall are among the artists contributing to Remembering Patsy, a tribute to Patsy Cline due out this fall from MCA.

Jones offers up her take on "Why Can't He Be You" for the album, while Krall will turn in a performance of Cline's biggest hit "Crazy," which was written by Willie Nelson. The release will mark what would have been Cline's 70th birthday. The legendary singer died in a plane crash nearly 40 years ago. • More album news: Radiohead's Ed O'Brien and Sinead O'Connor have been drafted in to guest on the next album from Asian Dub Foundation, which should see a release at some point next year; A release date has been set for the next Foo Fighters album — RCA Records plans to have the currently untitled disc in stores on Oct. 22; Word on the street is that the new Pearl Jam album, also untitled for now, will be out in November, but the band's label, Epic, has yet to confirm. PJ guitarist

Stone Gossard does have a solid release date and a title, though, for the third offering from his other band, Brad. Welcome To The Discovery Park drops on Aug. 13, and a tour will follow in the fall. • Deadheads have a reason to celebrate, as the much-talked-about, problem-riddled reunion shows featuring all the members of the Grateful Dead (except bandleader Jerry Garcia, who, grateful or not, actually is dead) are back on. Scheduled for Aug. 3 and 4 at the Alpine Valley Music Theatre in East Troy, Wisconsin, the shows, which are billed as Terrapin Station Featuring The Other Ones, were originally cast into doubt after being denied a permit by Walworth County, where the theatre is located. Long story short, they changed their minds, so if you've got a ticket (the shows are sold out), hop in your VW bus and go have fun. • Tour news: Sleater-Kinney will make the bold move of kicking off a brief run of U.S. dates in Denver on Sept. 11. The shows, in support of the bands new album, One Beat (due Aug. 20) span the Southwest and West Coast, and include two-night stands in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle; Following her recent string of low-key shows, Beth Orton has announced dates for another tour to support her July 30 release, Daybreaker, beginning with a free show at the Central Park Summerstage in NYC on July 28. Orton will be crossing the country on the trip, stopping up in Canada on the way; Coldplay will preview material from its new record with a handful of small venue shows in U.S. major market cities, starting in Boston on

Guided By Voices

Aug. 6. The band's new disc, A Rush Of Blood To The Head, is out Aug. 27; Do Make Say Think is looking to the future, having already planned an extensive North American tour, running throughout the month of October, with the first show scheduled for Oct. 3 in Boston; Norwegian duo Kings Of Convenience will tour the U.S. for the first time in August, with six shows planned in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle. • You may have thought you'd never see the day, but Jane's Addiction is in the studio once again, working on material for what will be the group's first album in 12 years. Of course, the band is presently without a record deal, but someone's bound to pick it up and give Jane's the late 2002 release it's hoping for.

STORY BY JUSTIN KLEINFELD • PHOTOS BY JUTOJO

Jazzanova is comprised of three DJs and three producers who are responsible for the sound of tomorrow. Despite being one of the most innovative and sought-after dance collectives on the planet, possessing an acclaimed collection of remixes and producing a slew of singles (most notably the hugely popular 12-inch “Fedime’s Flight”), a full-length debut of original work appeared to be more of a myth than a reality. Seven years since it first began making music, the Berlin-based crew has put the finishing touches on its freshman release, In Between. The ensemble’s sound has been labeled “nü-jazz,” but its members — DJs Alexander Barck, Class Brieler and Jurgen von Knoblauch, and producers Axel Reinemer, Stefan Leisering and Roskow Kretschmann — prefer to call it Jazzanova. CMJ caught up with unofficial Jazzanova spokesman Alexander Barck and spoke with him about the importance of networking, giving back to the music community and... Bon Jovi.

In Between has been one of the most highly anticipated records in the dance community for years. Why did it take so long to produce?

Jazzanova album will have a certain sound. But we like to keep people on their toes, and [In Between] sounds different from anything we've done in the past. When people are surprised, it brings the liveliness back to both them and to the music. Then the people will listen carefully again the next time they play the record. Music can often become stale when people feel like they can expect a certain sound from an artist. One day if we should decide to do a record that sounds like Bon Jovi, then we'll do it — and that would be a 'Jazzanova sound.' We have to constantly surprise people to keep them listening.

What record will never leave your record box?

[Laughs] There are so many records to just pick one! [Pauses] Well, I guess there is a Ski remix of this Bahamadia track ["Uknowhowwedu"]. The track is uplifting and always stays with me.

Over the years Jazzanova has remixed so many great artists. If you could choose one artist to remix Jazzanova, who would that be?

Stereolab. They have such an interesting sound and I've always been a big supporter.

If you could choose any artist to remix Jazzanova, who would that be?

Our friends. We've been lucky to work with so many wonderful people, so that would be great for us.

Speaking of friends, how did you choose the collaborators for the album?

The best part of being a DJ is that in your travels you get to meet some very interesting people from all over the world. Jazzanova is a worldwide network of people. We've got Vikter Duplaix and Ursula Rucker from Philadelphia. Capitol A is a San Francisco DJ that we are familiar with through his work with King Britt and Dego [4 Hero]. Valerie Etienne and Rob Gallagher we were familiar with from their singing in Galiano. Desney bailey sings for Amp, who is part of the [Sonar] Kollektiv. There was a great deal of enthusiasm when we told our friends what we were trying to accomplish with this record, so it was not difficult to get them involved.

Is it true that Ursula Rucker rejected Jazzanova's contribution for her own album?

Yes, Ursula is a very deep person and she just wasn't feeling the track.

Did this pose a problem when you approached her about working on In Between?

No, not at all. We have great respect for her, and realize that she just didn't feel what we were doing with the track. So when the time came for us to ask her to be a part of the project there were no bad feelings.

Tell us a little about the Sonar Kollektiv.

You know, I think Berlin is sort of the way Greenwich Village was in the past. There are so many talented DJs, musicians and artists [in Berlin] and cost of living is inexpensive for this type of artist lifestyle. We started Sonar Kollektiv because there are so many talented people out there who have good ideas, but they don't have the means to get money for equipment and such. This is a way for Jazzanova to give people a better chance to release their music while also allowing them to meet and exchange ideas with artists like themselves.

What's next for Jazzanova?

The DJs will be out touring the world through the summer. We will be producing the new Clara Hill album [singer on "No Use"], Axel [Reinemer] and Stefan [Leisering] have a side project called Extended Spirit, so they'll be busy with that and we're doing some more remixes. There's also a great deal of material coming up from the Sonar Kollektiv. There are records coming from Amp [with vocal contributions from Desney Bailey], Ras and George Levin. And of course, we'll find time for the next Jazzanova record. NMR

Well, just to have the chance to produce the way we wanted took us lots of time. We didn't want to have boundaries, and since we have our own label [JCR] we felt that we could do it the right way if we took the time. So we just closed the studio doors, came up with ideas, and we used them. The result is satisfying because we did it the way we wanted to.

Jazzanova is six-member collective comprised of both DJs and producers. How do you manage to work effectively together?

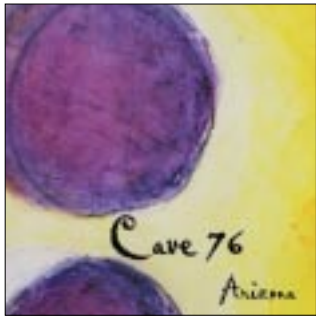

We all work together in a very informal way. Still, we find that the best way to work is to have two people in the studio at a time — one of the production guys and one of the DJs. If someone hears a sample or a sound they like, we are always open to use it, and that's really the most effective way for us to work together.

Did you have any formal musical training?

No. We understand engineering and producing music but [we] are not musicians.

How do you define the "Jazzanova sound"?

The Jazzanova sound is a universal sound; everyone expects that the

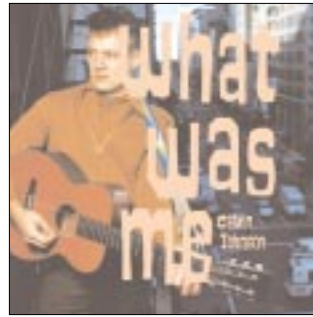

CAVE 76

Arizona (Sonic Boom)

The ethos for Cave 76 is immediately evident on Arizona. Lead track “All In A Line” plainly states (or is perhaps reiterated via subliminal backmasking): bash-and-pop rules. Make a big and tuneful racket. Dress it up with guitars jangly, guitars dirty, guitars clean, guitars, period.

Toss in handclaps, woo-hoo-hoos, bouncing bass lines and awesome Bob Mould-y vocals. Rock, rinse, repeat. The creme rinse is indie über-producer Phil Ek (Modest Mouse, 764-HERO, Built to Spill), who has the tracks bouncin’ and (mis)behavin’, lookin’ and feelin’ alllllll right. But, lest this be another review felling Phil The Mighty Boardsman, let’s give more big-ups to the band. Cave 76 crafts a tasty tune. “Supertime,” with its punkish, classic-rock feel, is a gem. Ditto “Way Down,” which slightly smacks of the Blake Babies, and has specks of the Catherine Wheel tune by the same name. There’s a host of others, all worthy of colorful critical praise, but there’s only so much space on this quarter-page. Suffice it to say, your hair or rather, your ears will love this. — Randy Harward

CALVIN JOHNSON

What Was Me (K)

In indie-rock circles, Calvin Johnson is an icon both as a musician, label owner (he runs the indomitable K) and producer. From his days in quirky lo-fi darlings Beat Happening to his dance-worthy experiments with Dub Narcotic Sound System, Johnson has been at the forefront of the D.I.Y. music scene, and his monotone singing style is instantly recognizable. On What Was Me, Calvin goes as bare bones as possible; 40 percent of the album is a cappella, and only an acoustic guitar accompanies most of the rest. Still, those who are fans of his past work will find much to love about these playful musings on love lost (and found) — even if they are a little darker than some of the frontman’s earlier material. “Lighnin’ Rod For Jesus,” a vocal-only duet with Beth Ditto of the Gossip, sounds like it could have come from a Vaselines record if said band was into Delta blues and gospel. Meanwhile, “Ode To St. Valentine” finds Calvin flirting with the sound that made Beat Happening great — minus the guitars, bass and drums. Calvin makes it all look easy. — Brad Filicky

KEEPSAKE

Black Dress In A B Movie (Fearless)

Keepsake’s dreamy, charming album, Black Dress In A B Movie, is an indicator of college radio’s present and future. Blooming with almost saccharine pop harmonies — the kind that allowed Weezer and Jimmy Eat World to graduate to commercial radio — and guitar work with a post-hardcore pulse similar to Thursday, Black Dress is introspective, specs ’n’ sweater rock without the whiny, woe-is-me element, thanks to singer/guitarist/synth operator Shane Halpern’s controlled, sincere range. Absolutely darling (but hardly confectionary) tunes like “Slander” and “Engaging War” have the genre’s requisite hooks and perky chops, and are sprinkled with just enough sugar to incite a major-label bidding war. Remember, Fearless is the label that issued At The Drive-In’s classic Vaya EP, so you know this label’s indie radar is on point. Keepsake may just be a three-piece outfit, but it can fill any mid-sized venue, basement or VFW hall with its low-key rock. If you’re new to this whole “college radio” thing, take a listen to Black Dress. It’s definitely one of the format’s barometers.

The High Highs The Low Lows (Pitch-A-Tent)

Koester’s latest, The High Highs The Low Lows, brings together Alan Weatherhead (Sparklehorse), Miguel Urbiztondo, Tim Buckley and John Daniels (all three members of Maki) and assembles them around singer/songwriter Steve Koester in order to usher the listener into the bewildering arena of lo-fi psychedelia. The title appropriately describes the wide range of sounds that one will find emanating from his or her stereo speakers; Koester marries decidedly simple guitar and vocal melodies with lush synthesizers, synth-strings, space boxes and many other electric sound effects to produce layers upon layers of sonic verdure. Frontman Steve Koester’s soothing voice, reminiscent of Tom Petty or David Lowery, lures the listener deeper into each song, allowing the beats to surround one completely. “The Roman Coin” or “Transistor Sister,” with their bouncy basslines and danceable beats, are sure to satisfy those in search of three-minute pop songs. Showing their clairvoyant side, “Vow,” “Jesus Of The Hammer” and “Flowering Judas” bring the mechanical and robotic to life. High highs indeed. — Louis Miller

MAYFLIES USA

Walking In A Straight Line (Yep Roc)

The difference separating good power-pop from bad is subtle. When it's good, it curls your toes and makes your head swirl. But just as easily, it can sound wimpy and neutered without much change in the core recipe.

The Mayflies USA had a hard time curling listeners' toes with past releases, sounding somewhat contrived and flat. Walking A Straight Line changes that, blowing open the magical door to pop-topia and christening the band power-poppers supreme. All the ingredients are present: harmonies, mid-tempo singalongs and guitars that smolder. The title track hooks you instantly with a crunchy bobble-head riff, and the overall euphoria makes you wish kids everywhere were blasting this out of car stereos from coast to coast instead of bands like Train or Our Lady Peace. The Mayflies have learned subtlety, never bludgeoning you with the hook or vocals, but rather crafting songs with texture and layers of melodious sound. The result is an organic album that signals an end to the Mayflies USA's power-pop apprenticeship. Nice masterpiece, boys.

MÚM

Finally We Are No One (Fat Cat)

The Icelandic invasion is far from over, and leading the next wave is the gorgeous glitch-pop quartet Múm (pronounced "moom"). Initial reports had the group pegged as an electronic version of fellow Icelanders Sigur Rós, and while Múm does mine some of the same territories of angelic splendor, the similarities end there. Through the use of cold technology, Múm creates thoroughly warm and natural music. Submerged in IDM digi-effects, the band swims through ethereal and terrestrial territories, but never sounds too computer geeky. Like Boards Of Canada, Múm's twinkling lullabies evoke a pastoral serenity and feelings of childlike wonder. Delicate electronics whirl and flutter as cellos, accordions and glockenspiels chime in harmony. Over it all, the baby-doll coos of twin sisters Gyda and Kristín Anna Valtysdóttir (recognizable from the album cover of Belle And Sebastian's Fold Your Hands Child, You Walk Like A Peasant) lend the swirling tunes a heavenly visage. Múm's shimmering beauty is best epitomized in the blissful "Green Grass of Tunnel," which simultaneously bridges the digi-organic divide and melts the hearts of electronic naysayers everywhere.

ORBITAL

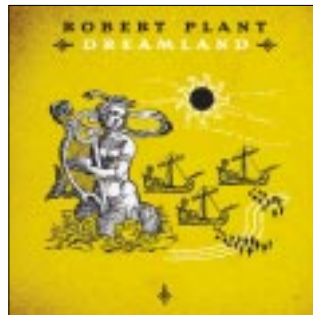

Back To Mine (DMC)

The worldwide affection for the chillout compilation can be traced back to Nick Warren's felicitous cocktail of psilocybin and mescaline for DMC's initial Back To Mine offering. The concept is simple: take a superstar dance act and ask it to mix together a selection of songs its members can relax to while at home. Never has an idea as obvious as Back To Mine worked so well. Ten releases later, electronica sovereign Orbital has been called upon to author its own warped idea of a cozy night at the Hartnoll brothers' abode. Orbital's clever track selection proves to be so much more effective than the obvious track listings from which mass marketed chill out CDs are often compiled. Amazing moments from John Barry, the Tornados, the Selecter and Plaid sound great along side Orbital's "Ska'd For Life," an electronic ode to ska. One would be hard-pressed to find a record that could make Jethro Tull and Tangerine Dream work back-to-back, but then again, that's the essence of this series.

ROBERT PLANT

Dreamland (Universal)

Led Zeppelin remains one of the most recognizable and legendary names in rock, and with good reason. Following the tragic death of drummer John Bonham, the band called it a day in 1980 and singer Robert Plant went solo. Twenty-two years and several hit singles later, Plant is set to release his seventh solo album, Dreamland. A collection of covers, traditionals, a few originals and even a recording of an unearthed Skip Spence song, Dreamland is a forum for Plant to reflect and enjoy the music that made him pick up a mic in the first place. "Hey Joe" has the piss and vinegar of Jimi Hendrix's version, while "Funny In My Mind (I Believe I'm Fixin' To Die)" sounds almost Cajun with a bit of guitar squalls thrown in for good measure. Most of these songs may be old, but with the help of an ace backup band (which includes the original guitarist for The Cure and the drummer for Roni Size), the tunes still sound fresh and stand out as some of the best music Plant has recorded since his Zep heyday. — Brad Filicky

THE PROM

Under The Same Stars (Barsuk)

Say the words “piano music” and the mind immediately conjures images of lonely and solicitous types who provide nightly entertainment in dimly lit hotel bars. These guys often fall into one of two categories: overzealous lounge singers or over-wrought singer-songwriters — leaving a lot of room in the “piano music” innovation department for a band like The Prom. Under The Same Stars, the latest from the Seattle-by-way-of-Omaha trio, might just reform the much-maligned reputation of the piano man. More musically akin to labelmates Death Cab For Cutie than to Billy Joel, The Prom’s ebony-and-ivory-centered pop songs linger over earnest, poetic lyrics without a hint of melodramatic undertone. Each arrangement sounds carefully considered and crafted, with the band’s formerly stark piano, bass and drums now augmented by strings and horns to concoct the charming Under The Same Stars. The album has its upbeat moments, complete with the requisite jaunty piano, but they beautifully complement the quieter fare on the rest of the record. — Amy Wan

SCUBA

Hidden Treasures (OM)

A founding DJ for the jazzy rap group Dignable Planets, King Britt has gone off to establish himself as a major player in the dance community. Through his visionary Sylk 130 project and his dreamy interpretations of house music as Scuba, Britt has become a global sensation. Hidden Treasures is a worldly journey through which Britt adds enkindling colors to an already flavorful range of international talent. Fantastic Plastic Machine, I:Cube, UFO and Soul Dharma represent the distinctly dissimilar shades of house music that Scuba looks to expand upon. Britt’s formula of plushy synths and decompressed percussion mates with arousing vocals to form the consummate sound. Valerie Etienne’s vocal work on Ski’s “Tres Cun Deo La” is nonpareil, representing the beauty of each selection on Hidden Treasures. Uplifting moments from 4 Hero, Kharma, Maximum Styles and Tweaker complete a vision that results in a radically distinctive and rewarding listening experience.

SERENE

Serene (Arena Rock Recording Co.)

Serene’s Ryan Beatty knows how to tug oh-so-gently on your heartstrings. This debut is as rewarding as a raspberry-filled truffle, gentle as the pitter-patter of drizzling rain and as pleasant as the warmth of red wine. This band has an introspective approach to songwriting and a gift for amazing melody, and here has created a fetching release with songs that connect in a chain of true gems. One of the brightest jewels is “Wars And Rumors Of Wars,” a song with such incredible build-up that when the vocals finally arrive, you feel like the sun has risen before your eyes. “The Angels Are On Our Side” also shines, entering it in the running for the most perfect love song ever written. And presented in an earnest tone, “Last Words Of A Fallen Angel” flickers with hope, even for the dreariest mind, and releases the innermost desires of a dreamer. Serene’s album is simply beautiful. It’s honest like the ink on worn journal pages and pure like the beloved tone of a favorite guitar.

SKELETON KEY

Obtainium (Ipecac)

Where the hell has Skeleton Key been? The band disappeared off the radar after 1997’s Grammy-nominated major-label debut, Fantastic Spikes Through Balloons (which was lauded by the Academy for its brilliant packaging). Apparently, the self-professed junk rock act was scouring garage sales and landfills in order to make this triumphant return to the scene. The band employs antique instruments and bangs on anything (chairs, wagons, pots ’n’ pans) within a five-mile radius and that isn’t nailed down, in order to create its unique sound. The clangy, jangly Obtainium finds the band on Mike Patton’s very own Ipecac Records, having jumped ship from Capitol. The “garbage” rock sound remains thoroughly intact here. Obtainium goes beyond the type of rock that would make your parents yell, “Turn that noise down!” It’s quirky, jerky and completely off the cuff; as a result, Skeleton Key scores high points in the originality field. A perfect fit for format-bending, free-form programmers.

Killswitch Engage announced on Independence Day that the band has officially replaced departed vocalist Jesse Leach with Blood Has Been Shed frontman Howard Jones. According to KSE bassist Mike DiAntonio, Jones will fill the position on a full-time basis, thus ending any speculation that Leach would eventually return to the New England five-piece. "It's gonna be even better," DiAntonio told Metal Shop. "He can hit any range, and he has a voice like I've never heard. He just completely blew us away. We had about 10-12 different people trying out, and no one was really cutting it. We had a couple of people come back for a second try, and then I got the call about Howard wanting to try out. I knew about Howard from previous bands, and I always considered him one of the best singers I had ever heard in my entire life, and for him to want to do it, I almost shit my pants. I really just couldn't believe it. I got off the phone, and said, that's him! That's the guy!"

Killswitch Engage is currently on the road with Kittie, Poison The Well, Shadows Fall and Hotwire. • Want to hear a funny story? On July 1, after spinning the new Ja' Rule song that features Metallica ("We Did It Again"), the night jock at commercial rocker WMRQ/Hartford (who goes by the name Carlito) locked himself inside the station's studio and played 200 old Metallica songs for roughly 18 and a half hours straight. Why did he do this? Because Carlito — and countless listeners who lit up the station's phones after hearing the song — absolutely hated the track so much that the jock went on the air and stated he "would stay in the studio and only play 'real' Metallica until someone from the band called him and explained to him, and all the fans, what the hell was going on." You've got to love this guy's balls, right? Well, surprisingly enough, after 18 hours of what was probably some of the best radio Hartford has heard in years, Metallica drummer Lars Ulrich actually called into the show to explain. Carlito was playing "Last Caress/Green Hell" at the time, but he immediately interrupted the track and put Ulrich on the air. A 15-minute live interview followed (check out the full Q&A at: www.newrockradio104.com), during which the Metallica timekeeper explained that the controversial collaboration, comprised of what he called "unpolished, unreleased demo material," was the creation of producer Swizz Beatz and not Metallica. "It really doesn't have much to do with us," Ulrich said. "It's not our record label, it's not anything, we sort of just gave this guy a couple of riffs and told him to sort of run with it." Shortly after the interview, the ghost of Cliff Burton was spotted in the same swank San Francisco neighborhood that Lars calls home. The apparition of the former Metallica bassist, presumably on a strategic haunting mission, was overheard saying, "I am coming for you, little drummer boy. I am coming for you." • The four-song EP that the Dillinger Escape Plan has recorded with former Faith No More vocalist Mike Patton, titled Irony Is A Dead Scene, is the greatest god-damn thing we've heard in a long, long time. Not only is there a brain-liquefying version of Aphex Twin's "Come To Daddy," but tunes like "When Good Dogs Do Bad Things" and "Pig Latin" have confirmed that not only are DEP masters of musical madness, but Patton remains one of the greatest vocalists alive (Christ, he should just join this band on a permanent basis right now). The EP will be in stores on Aug. 27 through Epitaph. • Judas Priest will issue its first-ever DVD, titled Judas Priest! Live

In London, on July 23. The forthcoming digital video platter's main course is a smokin' two and a half hour concert recorded at London's Brixton Academy in December 2001 during the band's Demolition world tour. The show is presented in widescreen and boasts the optional Dolby Digital 5.1 Surround Sound for those of you who have the set-up (it's so worth it, man). And, a DVD isn't worth the aluminum it's printed on unless it's loaded up with the extras, right? This one's got 'em. Aside from the 90-minute concert, there's plenty of behind-the-scenes interviews, rare footage and a 25-minute soundcheck performance, which spotlights new and vintage Priest tunage, including: "Desert Plains," "Running Wild," "Turbo Lover," "The Sentinel," "Machine Man" and "Lost And Found." A must for fans. • Speaking of digital video, the unstoppable Superjoint Ritual filmed a show in Dallas on June 28 for a forthcoming DVD. It's tentatively due in stores this fall. Also unconfirmed is whether or not the DVD will feature educational bonus segments from the band's members, including "Proper Joint Rolling," "Transforming Anger Into Melody" and "The Diamond Covered Pussy: Philip Anselmo Demonstrates Stage Banter Done Right." • Sad to report that Frank "Skip" Candelori, former lead singer of East Coast straight-edge hardcore unit Turning Point, was found dead in his New Jersey home on June 19. Apparently, Candelori had died from a drug overdose. • The new Nothingface album is tentatively titled Here Come The Butchers. The band will likely enter the recording studio in September to track the new effort for an early 2003 release. Also due to hit the studio in late summer is Sepultura. Though the band still does not have a new record label to call home (the band split from Roadrunner last summer), the Brazilian thrashers are planning to release an EP, consisting of five or six cover songs and two new tunes, later this year. • Trustkill Records will release Eighteen Visions' highly anticipated full-length, Vanity, on Aug. 13. In addition, the label will release a limited edition 7-inch in July that will feature a single from the album. • Poison The Well will tour with Thursday for this year's incarnation of the Plea For Peace Tour across the United States. The tour is set to begin on Sept. 13 in New England and will conclude Oct. 28. • Milwaukee's 7 Angels 7 Plagues are again looking for a vocalist following the abrupt departure of frontman Temo Rios due to "personal issues." Rios had just rejoined the band a few months ago after the departure of vocalist Matt Mixon. In related news, the band will issue a split with Belgium-based hardcore legends Liar in August. • After seeing a near-complete line-up of the bands that will perform at this year's Furnace Fest, we're scrambling for excuses to give our boss so we can miss work for a few days and head on down to scenic Birmingham, Alabama. This year's Fest will go down on Aug. 1-3 and will include performances from (among many others): Hatebreed, Meshuggah, In Flames, Andrew W.K. (yes, you read that right), Stretch Arm Strong, Nora, Boy Sets Fire, Curl Up And Die, Coheed And Cambria, Dillinger Escape Plan, Eighteen Visions, Snapcase, Time In Malta, This Day Forward, From Autumn To Ashes, God Forbid, Haste, Hopesfall, Martyr AD, Most Precious Blood, Underoath and, while it's still unconfirmed, rumor has it that a little band named Slayer will join the bill as well. $25 single-day passes are available only at the gate, but interested parties can purchase a three-day pass for $60 at www.furnacefest.com.

EIGHT QUESTIONS WITH... BILLY MILANO!

Normally we ask our interview subjects five questions, but Billy Milano, vocalist for the now-defunct metal legends S.O.D. and the comical M.O.D., is a man of very few words. Anyone who is familiar with the recorded work of the Mighty Milano (and if you're not, please hand over your metal credentials now...you're fired!) knows that the man is always direct, gets right to the point and has always sacrificed being subtle for brutal honesty, even if it meant going against the grain. Now that S.O.D. is officially disbanded, CMJ caught up with the inventor of the Milano Mosh to ask him about the band, what his future plans are and when we might hear some new music.

What is your official stance on the breakup of S.O.D.? Is there absolutely no chance that you guys will reconcile?

No! Fuck Dimebag Ian [editor's note: "Dimebag" Ian is Milano's "nickname" for former SO.D./Anthrax guitarist Scott Ian!] The last thing I will ever do is stick up for that little bitch again!

I know that you and bassist Danny Lilker are planning on forming a new band. What can you tell me about that?

We haven't even jammed, but I'm sure it will be heavy, dark and powerful.

The S.O.D. track "Fuck The Middle East" is more appropriate than ever. Where were you on 9/11?

I was in Hoboken [New Jersey] on the pier watching the world change forever.

We were huge M.O.D. fans. What happened to the band?

I never took it seriously, but everyone else blamed me for the world's problems. So I said, 'Fuck it!'

Tell the Loud Rock kids a little bit about your new band, the Jersey Rebel.

I wanted to re-invent myself for years. I have found the perfect vehicle. I rule!

When do you think we'll be able to get our grubby little hands on the new album?

Look for M.O.D. in the fall with the Killith Fair to follow. The Jersey Rebel in late spring 2003, if we're still here. And then, the new band with Lilker in Fall 2003.

To us, Billy Milano works on two levels. One, you are undoubtedly hardcore and not to be fucked with, like on "Hate Tank" or "United Forces." But, you also have a genuine wit about you and your lyrics, like "Captain Crunch," "Milk," or your new track, "Wigga," that shows you have a side of you that doesn't take all the shit life throws at you so seriously. Is it hard to communicate on both levels?

No! I think it is harder for people to understand that Billy Milano is a person I play, like wrestling. I am the villain and I love it!

What are your thoughts on nü-metal?

Nü-metal is just boring.

INDUSTRY NEWS

While he seeks out a full-time gig related to the music media industry, Loud Rock Director Shawn A. Marek (angryhero@angelfire.com) has exited WBNY/Buffalo, NY for a part-time gig at WEDG/Buffalo ("The Edge"). "It has been a tremendous year for me as Loud Rock Director here at WBNY and it has always been an honor working with the CMJ Network," Marek said. "It has been greatly responsible in expanding my musical horizons and exposing me to some seriously awesome jams. Your column in CMJ has been thoroughly entertaining and I hope I will get the chance to read it as frequently as I have already been once I leave 'BNY." Shit, man... you're making us blush! Marek's replacement at 'BNY is Dave Palumbo (peterenvy@aol.com) and he can be reached at: 716.878.3080. • On July 1, WRHU/Hempstead, NY's Loud Rock Director Michael Jannotte (Cb1Pr2@aol.com) officially resigned. "For the brief period that I have been in this position I have to admit that some of you have actually restored my faith in not only the music industry, but in metal and hard rock as well," Jannotte said in a statement. "The bright side of this whole matter is that this is not goodbye forever, only for two years. I plan to come back and kick some more ass!" During his time at WRHU, Jannotte served as the station's Aggressive Edge producer.

FORSAKEN

Arts of Desolation (Century Media)

As you know, Sweden and extreme death metal go together like Seattle and manic depression. We make it a point to never question any geographical phenomenon in music, or else we'd be obligated to explain how and why New Jersey spawned bands like Bon Jovi, Cinderella, Trixter, Britny Fox and Heaven's Edge. That's a 55-gallon drum of worms that none of us should ever open. That said, Sweden is the leading death-metal factory on the globe and that's just the way it is. No questions. The Forsaken's sophomore effort, dubbed Arts of Desolation, is a fine addition to Sweden's deathly crown. Produced by Tommy Tägtgren (Marduk, Dark Funeral), this 11-track giant will undoubtedly be a favorite of metal fans for years to come. "The Hatebreed" and "Human Chapter X" both boast skull-collapsing drum work, wicked time changes and enough dual guitar work to make Yngwie shit a Stratocaster in awe. "Cold Flesh Colony" will make old-school thrash fans bang their heads harder than they have in years, while "Embedded Insanity" and "Injected Terror" subject listeners to a full-on death metal beating. A must-listen. www.theforsaken.net

VEX RED

Start With A Strong And Persistent Desire (I Am-Virgin)

With a nod to electronica/industrial-dabbling rockers like Stabbing Westward and Filter, England's Vex Red combines melodic vocals, dark guitar riffs and meter-perfect drumming with attention-grabbing samples, moody keyboards and enough ProTools tricks to impress even the harshest recording studio eggheads. Produced by Ross Robinson, Vex Red's debut, ambitiously titled Start With A Strong And Persistent Desire, is dramatic and undeniably radio-friendly. "Dermo" begins as a sweet mid-tempo piano ballad but morphs into a high-octane rocker with a riff that may remind some listeners of Stabbing Westward's "Save Yourself." "Can't Smile" is one of the band's stronger moments. The song's allure is hard to dismiss and that has a lot to do with a passionate performance from vocalist/guitarist Terry Abbott, who — oddly enough — sounds a lot like Silverchair's Daniel Johns on this track. "Untitled" is driven by some wonderful guitar work and more impressive vocals from Abbott, is also worth some attention. "Itch," "The Closet," "Clone Jesus" and "Sleep Does Nothing For You" round out our recommendations. www.vexred.com

Worship And Tribute (Warner Bros.)

Glassjaw is unquestionably one of the most important new bands to arise in the last few years, and anyone who wishes to contest that claim should give just one focused listen to Worship And Tribute, the Long Island five-piece's impressive Warner Bros. debut. "This record pays tribute to everything from Bad Brains to Anthrax to The Cure to Squeeze and so much more," vocalist Daryl Palumbo says of the new Ross Robinson-produced effort. While longtime GJ fans will discover a more sophisticated, polished and tuneful version of the band this time around, the Jaw certainly hasn't lost its ability to innovatively bite listeners with passionate performances that are built on a foundation of hardcore. "Tip Your Bartender," "Mu Empire," "Stuck Pig" and "Pink Roses" are fierce yet harmonious, while "Cosmopolitan Bloodloss," "Trailer Park Jesus" and the poignant "Must've Run All Day" will leave listeners emotionally wrecked. Worship? Yes, we do. www.glassjaw.com

TIME IN MALTA

A Second Engine (Equal Vision)

Time In Malta has recorded one of 2002's best albums with A Second Engine, a noteworthy 12-track collection of melodic hardcore that finds this San Francisco band musically matured and at the top of its game. Like

Poison The Well, Time In Malta has perfected the delicate art of fusing catchy vocal melodies with focused, guitar-driven songwriting that features a quality blend of metal, indie rock and hardcore. Listening to Engine, it's hard not to be impressed that this band creates such a thick sound with just three members. Vocalist/bassist Todd Gullion (formerly of Burn It Down) shines throughout this album, particularly on "Read Your Mind," "Azure," "What We've Become" and the delightfully explosive "Dissolve." "All Said And Done" and "You Faded" find the threesome sounding like an edgier Foo Fighters, while "This Revolution" may bring to mind vintage Snapcase. And, if Time In Malta keeps writing songs like "Against The Tide," don't be surprised if we're singing along with the band in an arena one day. www.timeinmalta.com

Happenstance (Megaforce Worldwide)

If you follow the "story" of Fozzy, then you know that it was/is an archetypal American metal band that signed a "Japan-only 20-year contract" in the early '80s. But the deal went sour, and the band was trapped in Japan working menial jobs for two decades while a plethora of artists (like Ozzy and Judas Priest) "stole" all of Fozzy's material and became famous. Then, once free from its contractual obligations, the band returned to the U.S. to reclaim its place and released its debut album — a collection of vintage metal covers that Fozzy claimed were the songs that were stolen from the band — in 2000. In reality, Fozzy is WWE Superstar Chris Jericho on vocals backed by members of Atlanta's Stuck Mojo. And, unlike its 2000 debut, Fozzy's sophomore effort, entitled Happenstance, features a few originals mixed in among the album's dead-on covers. Shtick aside, Fozzy knows how to dish out the vintage metal. Plus, it's a hell of a lot of fun. www.fozzyrock.com

Fubu Records signed an exclusive distribution deal with KOCH. To follow up the label's 2001 compilation, The Goodlife, Fubu has albums by signee 54th Platoon coming down the pipeline. • The soundtrack to the upcoming Eminem movie, 8 Mile (which, no doubt, you're all counting down the minutes to see), will be released on Shady Records sometime in November (to coincide with the film's release) and will feature tracks by the likes of Xzibit, Swifty, Royce Da 5'9" and Mike Bones, as well as D-12 and the movie's star, who joins forces with Dr. Dre and Nate Dogg on the track "Gangsta Rap." • Perhaps after finishing a round of anger-management classes, the artist formerly known as Mad Skillz shall henceforth be known simply as Skillz. The newly named MC is currently wrapping up a new album entitled I Ain't Mad No More, to be released on Rawkus on Sept. 10. The album features appearances by Cee-Lo, Missy, the Neptunes and more. • Benzino just signed with Elektra and expects his debut, as-yet-untitled album on the label to be released sometime in late August. The MC's solo debut, The Benzino Project, was released on Motown last year. • OK, if you've read this column once or twice, you know I wasn't going to be able to let Michael Jackson's comments on racism in the music industry pass without a diatribe. Now, first off... the music industry is widely known for being sleazy, racist, sexist, unfair, dirty, underhanded and amoral, but does Jackson really have any grounds to say that Sony is guilty of racism against white-skinned freaks? Who exactly is he kidding? Michael Jackson hasn't been black since 1979's Off The Wall. And while I'm not saying he's a saint (I've met the man and can honestly say he's far from it), look at what Sony Music Chairman Tommy Mattola has had to work with in recent years: 1) The widespread view that Michael Jackson is a complete weirdo/freak, 2) That wife and child thing (Hello?!?) 3) The allegations of child abuse — look how R. Kelly's career is suffering! Jacko at least got to release another record and have $25 million of promotion behind it. And he insists Sony didn't promote

Michael Jackson

Invincible enough. Give me a break. Def Jam dumped all promotion of The Best Of Both Worlds after the R. Kelly scandal broke; Sony stood by their "man." Oh, and I didn't hear any mention of all of these problems while the singer was out razing property to build his ranch to house himself and his chimp Bubbles, or buying the Beatles' song catalog or the Elephant Man's bones. Michael, baby, you've been dethroned. Accept the fact that you are no longer the King Of Pop (except for in Japan) and now let's all of us move on!

K-OS

Exit (EMI Music Canada)

OK, we're a little late on reviewing this CD, but it's only because our pals to our North weren't planning on servicing it below the border, and getting our hands on a copy proved tricky. That said, now that we've got one, we're holding on to it with a death grip. Ranging from the mellow to the more staccato, syncopated delivery of "Freeze," K-OS flows with ease and reflection. The production on Exit lies in that perfect place between too little and over-the-top. While keeping things sparse, the bass still lies in the chest, not in the head. While the majority of his tracks are tinged with reggae — with samples like the opening of Bob Marley's "Africa Unite" to introduce "Superstar, Pt. 1" — K-OS is not a dancehall artist, nor is he a hip-hop artist on the "lighter side" trying to start some neo-hippie movement. This album could fall into the neo-soul hip-hop category with offerings like the soulful "Patience," which finds the MC singing over a dense musical track awash with reverb. So kick back, put your feet up, spark one up and get a good head-nod on with this one. Thank you, Canada.

KUWAIT AND GEMINI

U And I Verse (Stop)

Kuwait (Rayshaun Fowler) and Gemini (Alejandro Fowler) are Bronx-born nephew and uncle, respectively, even though Gemini is only two years older. The duo makes the transition from musical lightness (and spookiness à la David Lynch) and rapid-fire delivery (with its slight dancehall flavor towards the end) of "We Got This" and the autobiographical "My Life" — where Gemini describes living in a family with 11 siblings and smoking weed at age 10 — to harder hitters like "Tactics." U And I Verse (I think their point would've gotten across better if the album had been named U 'N' I Verse) definitely has a lo-fi sound, with its sparse sampling and basic beats, but the album is nicely broken up by more filled-out bouncers like "Get The Business" and the Timbaland-inspired production of "All About Us." While these two are not breaking any lyrical molds (coming-of-age tales about young, black men in New York City are quite well-known by now), the two approach the hip-hop game with hunger, truthfulness and heart. They're still climbing up that ladder of fame instead of being perched comfortably on top of it, and it definitely shows in their work. An impressive first step.

ARTIST SPOTLIGHT

DJ JAZZY JEFF

DJ Jazzy Jeff fell off most people's radar at the same time his former partner Will Smith became a household name. With a new record under his belt, entitled The Magnificent, Jeff is out to prove that he's still got game — this time as a producer. CMJ caught up with Jeff in his studio to discuss hip-hop now and then.

Give me a summary of what you've been up to these past few years.

Just following my heart, just doing music. I mean that's where my heart was, just on the production shot, finding new talent and producing stuff, and see what the world feels about it.

What made you decide to come out again as an artist and record under your own name?

Well, I've been doing the Beat Generation series. What they did was they came to a bunch of producers and basically said, "What makes you up as a producer?" and [to] answer that question by doing the record. So in all actuality, I wasn't attempting to come back out as an artist's perspective as much as a producer's album. There's a lot of people who got the impression that I was trying to make an artist's album, but more than anything, I was just letting people know who I am as a producer.

What was the process for this record? Did you have all these collaborations in mind or just pick people who contributed the best to what you had already laid down?

Well, the beautiful thing about this it had more to do with creative freedom, so you could just let your imagination run wild. If they are going to be giving you the ability to be creatively free, then you want to give that to the artist that you work with.

Do you think this new focus on the DJ and turntablism made you change your mind to do this record and be comfortable as far as a large audience is concerned?

Well, no, I feel a lot of different ways about that. Number one: turntablism has always been my focus. I've always been kind of down with knowing who is good and checking out all the new guys and seeing a lot of the innovative stuff that was coming up. Right now, turntablism is at the highest point it has ever been and it has nothing to do with hip-hop. You have guys like Linkin Park who are responsible for putting The X-Ecutioners — who are incredible — on. More than anything, it was me paying tribute to what actually put me in the position that I am in today.

How have things changed since you've started out? Where was hip-hop then verses where is hip-hop now?

I think there was a lot more, I don't want to say, creativity but it just seems there was a lot more diversity. People were just really open and wanted to do new stuff and try innovative things back then. You could have a tour with Jazzy Jeff And The Fresh Prince, Run DMC, Public Enemy and everybody has an audience and everybody loves everybody. Everyone was making money, but everyone was having so much fun. Then, the rivalries in hip-hop were about "I'm the best DJ" or "I'm the best MC." It just seems now that's it's about "I have more money" and "No, I have more money." Where did all the skill level go? Now it's like the best rapper is the one that makes the most amount of money.

Well, the ironic thing is that hip-hop came out of such little money and that is how it started. Now, it represents a lot of money and that's just not where the roots of it are.

It's a shame because you kind of miss those days. I recently came back from South Africa and I did a show where there was like 18,000 people, it was all over the radio stations, there were people freestyling on the radio, the DJs were cutting on the radio. It was so reminiscent of hip-hop in the '80s when everyone was free and into the music. Once again, because you are dealing with a culture that just came out of not having any money. It was a shame because being down there, they are looking at us like you are guys are the ones setting a trend in hip-hop and we're looking at them like this is how it used to be.

How is this kind of process different from other records that you've done?

Well, other records are more pressure-based because it is more about the budget that someone gives you. I didn't have a big budget for this and everyone knew I didn't have a big budget. No one was really concerned about the money factor as much as everyone was like "Wow, what are we going to do?" I didn't have those expectations of how I have to make a record that they are going to play on the radio, or I have to make a record that is going to sell a million copies just to be accepted.

Do you think it is hard to go out as an artist after the whole Fresh Prince thing? Do you think people pigeonhole you because of that?

I don't think so. One of things that I wanted to do, or try to do, successfully was to angle people into understanding in what direction of music I am going into now, so it makes it a whole lot easier for me to do what I am doing. It's like you are not trying to sell something on the people now. It's about the actual product.

What are you listening to right now? What are the records that hit home for you, that say, "This is hip-hop?"

J-Live, Slum Village. I'm from the old-school that I love when people used to sample and scratch in their records. That was hip-hop. I like a lot of stuff that is like that. I don't criticize any type of hip-hop or any type of music. I just feel that there is room for...more. I don't not like what the radio is playing. I just don't like what the radio is not playing.

Do you think this will be the first in a long line of "Jeff" releases now?

Well, I wasn't really paying attention to what I was doing for the future. I really had a good time. I'm tackling back and forth more now with my desire to be in the studio and just do my roll as a producer. Sometimes it gets hard because the demands of being a producer, a DJ and now you just made a record. It's like you are juggling three or four jobs and a personal life.

Who are you looking to produce?

Believe it or not, Bonnie Raitt. Bonnie Raitt has so much soul.

Shantell Powell

Music Director, CHSR 97.9 FM
University Of New Brunswick/St. Thomas University
Fredericton, NB, Canada

5 CURRENT FAVORITES

Peter Gabriel Passion • Tear Garden The Tear Garden • Skinny Puppy Rabies • Golden Palominos Dead Inside • Doubting Thomas The Infidel

How many watts is your station? How many people do you reach?

Watts that? Er, sorry. We're just a little bitty station, but we're the only alternative station in the area. All the cool kids listen to CHSR! They're certainly not going to hear jazz, psytrance, punk, rai, ska or synth-pop on any of the local commercial stations. I'm really not sure how many people listen, but most people I meet, regardless of age or social standing, have a familiarity with our programming.

What's the station motto/your personal programming philosophy?

I say FM stands for "Freak Magnet," but I don't think that's ever been put in publication before. CHSR's motto is "Your access to the airwaves." I still like Freak Magnet better. As for a personal programming philosophy, I strive to provide a robust cross-selection of musical styles without playing the same songs over and over again. I hear that way too often with a lot of commercial stations, and it disturbs me.

How long have you been and will you be MD? How do you abuse your power?

I've been Music Director for a year, but was an Assistant Music Director a few years ago as well. I abuse my power by gobbling down all the edible promos that come in. The way to this MD's heart is definitely through her stomach. So please, friendly music reps, keep sending candies, popcorn and all that sort of stuff! It'll endear you much more than just another sticker!

What do you do to build your station's audience?

I make frequent reference to the station on my website: The ShanMonster Page (<http://shanmonster.lilsproutz.com>). I get several thousand hits each day, and since CHSR also broadcasts on the web (<http://www.unb.ca/chsr>), I figure I must have increased the international listening audience by at least two or three people.

Are you on the air? What kind of show do you do?

I go live on Tuesday at 1 p.m. with my program, "Ya Habibi." I play traditional, pop and dance music of North Africa, the near and Middle East. The program is also rebroadcast on Wednesday at 10 a.m. Hosting this sort of show makes perfect sense, since I am also a professional belly dancer! Until very recently, I also hosted "The Erotic Tablesaw," an industrial music program that ran off and on for about a decade. I had to stop because sleep is a very necessary thing. At some point, I may go for my rivethead status again.

Who are you most proud of bringing to your campus to perform and why?

I'm not personally responsible for bringing any bands to campus, but not too long ago, Wesley Willis came to town. I was devastated when I missed his show, but I'm still excited that he played here. Some day, when my kung fu is strong, I will be brave enough to stand by him without cowering.

What's the most fucked up thing that ever happened to you while you were on-air?

I had a fascinating telephone conversation with a schizophrenic listener who believed he was in a centrifuge in a coffee shop in a barn. I was finally able to ditch him when I told him I'd just received a vitally important transmission from the sun relating to the apocalypse. As far as I know, he's still sipping a cappuccino in the barn/centrifuge while awaiting Armageddon and my further directions.

What's the best line a promoter ever used on you to get you to play a record?

Moose [from The Syndicate] told me that not having any charting albums was a blow to his manhood. I couldn't bear to be responsible for anyone's emasculation, so I did the dirty deed and managed to review some of his albums myself. Yes, they were worth listening to!

Name one CD you're embarrassed to say you own.

I don't think I have any embarrassing CDs, but I definitely have some cringe-worthy cassettes and vinyl: Neneh Cherry's Raw Like Sushi, Phil Collins' No Jacket Required, and Kenny Rogers' The Gambler all spring to mind readily. I am not ashamed of my Tom Jones collection, though. Tom Jones is the king!

Why did you go into college radio? Free CDs?

Heck, no! I didn't get any free CDs! I got into it because I'm an unadulterated attention slut, and getting my voice out over the airwaves fed my need for attention!

File-sharing online: yea or nay?

Oh, yea. This is how I discover new music! If it weren't for the likes of Napster (R.I.P.), I'd never have heard of VNV Nation, Project Pitchfork or a host of other great electro bands. If I like something, I go out and buy the album.

Any shoutouts?

If Elvis is indeed alive, I'd like to apologize for saying Tom Jones is the king.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT

To submit your photos, email Doug Levy • doug@cmj.com

MAY DAY: WDET host Judy Adams got cozy with Detroit techno legend and Transmat records founder Derrick May when he stopped by for a well-received appearance on her show.

TRAIL MIX: WERS added an extra dose of rock to its daily routine with a visit from ...Trail Of Dead. WERS' Zach (WERS), Neil Busch, Amanda (WERS), Jason Reece, Debbie (WERS), Conrad Keely, Kevin Allen and Interscope's Lenny LaSalandra.

FOR PETE'S SAKE: When Pete Yorn's debut went gold, it was time to celebrate with (back) Columbia's Tom Donnarumma and Gary Fisher, Artist Manager Group's Dan Field, Columbia's Larry Jenkins, Don Jenner, Mark Ghuneim, John Ingrassia, Jeff Sodikoff, Nick Cucci and Tom Aaron; (front) Columbia's Will Botwin, Pete, Columbia's Tim Devine, Trina Tombrink and Charlie Walk.

COPE WITH IT

Hope everyone had a great July 4 and that no fingers or other body parts were lost along the way. How was my 4th you ask? Well first, I spent the day listening to Steppin' Out With The Grateful Dead: England '72 (thanks to my friends at Arista). Second, I spent a good portion of the weekend with my 19 year-old nephew and two other members of their metal band Manifest (no it's not Carl Singmaster's band). What I learned was quite interesting: sit around the house, talk and listen to the music these kids are into and it becomes apparent that much of the time we, as a business, are just plain missing the boat.

We're making an awful lot of assumptions about consumers. These kids were into the usual suspects — anything loud and rockin' that pissed their parents off. Sound familiar? What got me was as much as they all loved Skinlab, they also loved jazz, blues and classical music — and were educated about it. Debussy, Miles Davis and Muddy Waters all meant something to them. I played The Last Waltz DVD and kept asking them if they wanted me to take it off. The answer was an emphatic "No!". They wanted to learn more. It wasn't their music, it was my music.

By the way, they also think most of us in the music business are a bunch of wankers who don't have a clue about what's really happening on the street (hard to argue that one by the way). They wondered why we release so many crappy CDs; wondered why some new CDs come out cheap and others (sometimes 30 years old) sell for nearly twice as much; also wondered why they can buy one CD one place and go to a different store for a completely different version of the same disc. These kids don't actually burn CDs; they like to buy albums that support their bands.

Where the business has succeeded is in creating pre-packaged images and categories for our artists to slip into. "No muss, no fuss." Exactly what we need to meet our numbers and make it easily digestible for our friends at radio, press and retail. The problem is that (broken record, broken record) these categories serve our purposes, not the consumers. The three kids crashing at my place didn't give two shits about whether their favorite band was on the radio or in a commercial. They just liked what they liked. Here's the kicker: I had a box with a ton of CDs I let them go through. They picked out maybe 20 CDs (many of which were just singles). Does this mean we create and release a lot of crap? You bet it does — at last count 30,000 titles a year.

Here's what I walked away with: the generation gap has gotten shorter—only 5-10 years between them now. We are trying so hard to find that Thriller that will save help save the business. My suggestion is simple: Release records from artists you believe in and work

SPEAK OUT

MICHAEL KURTZ Music Monitor Network New York, NY

Two left of center albums that recently blew me away were the Mali Music album and Brian Wilson's Pet Sounds Live. If you haven't heard already, the Mali Music album is by Damon Albarn (from Blur and co-conspirator behind the Gorillaz). It's totally different, but if you are one of the lucky ones who got off on the One Giant Leap album, I've got a feeling that the soul of this record will speak to you as well. Brian

Wilson's concert performance of the Pet Sounds album starts out a little shaky, but wow, does he ever pull it off. For me, this record is best listened to on a really long run. You get pulled into the concert, the crowd reaction, the sounds of the vibes, the ghostly west coast guitars and the beautiful harmonies. In a way, it feels like you are inside Brian's head. These days it's not a bad place to be! The rock album that is really holding my attention right now is the debut album from Seether. Aptly named, this band percolates, insinuates and resonates. The video for their first single, "Fine Again," is sure to touch a lot of people.

ANNE GARBUS Desirable Discs Detroit, MI

I had a garage sale at my house this weekend and I thought you would like to see the ad I ran in the local paper: Garage Sale, Fri & Sat 9-4: lots of children's clothes, VHS, tools, patio furniture, Hoobastank CDs new, still wrapped, these titles aren't available at TARGET. No early birds!

MARCUS AND KATIE Relics Records Cedar Rapids, IA

I would personally like to thank Hoobastank for all the love and support they have shown the indie world recently. We broke their CD, worked our asses off, pushed sales, gave it tons of in-store play, gave away samplers, stickers and everything else. Pushed, played, played and pushed. And they gave their CD to Target.

UNDER THE RADAR Column by Gerry Hart • ghart@cmj.com

This week in Under the Radar we want to draw special attention to those albums that are either making important moves on CMJ Retail charts, or are just about to. We'll also throw in a few reasons on the what, why, and how things are beginning to pop.

JAZZANOVA

In Between
JCR/Ropeadope
Catalog: 93121
Jazzanova brings the worlds of jazz, hip-hop, funk, electronica and heavy-duty sampling together on In Between which debuts at 52 this week. Top 10s include Aron's Records at No. 7, Amoeba Hollywood and Amoeba Berkeley. Top 20s include Amoeba SF at No. 12, Let It Be at No. 14, Millennium Music at No. 15, Desirable Discs at No. 18, Virgin Sunset at No. 19, Rhino Claremont at No. 20, Park Ave. at No. 22. Jazzanova hit No. 60 at Virgin HQ too. Current Top 100 chart position: 52*.

PUFFY AMIYUMI

An Illustrated History
Bar/None
Catalog No. 128
Puffy Amiyumi debut this week on the CMJ Retail Top 100 at No. 59. The big story here is all the support coming from Amoeba Records both in Hollywood and in San Francisco where Puffy hit No. 1 on both charts. West Coast retail in general is helping to break Illustrated History. It's pop no doubt, and the pair (Ami and Yumi) were assembled in a manger's office, but it's a fresh listen, something different in the current age of metal, rap and rock. Current Top 100 chart position: 59

HOT SNAKES

Suicide Invoice
Swami Recordings
Catalog No. 111
Hot Snakes makes another big jump this week on the CMJ

Retail 100 from 94 - 72. This album is now in its 4th week on the charts and continues its climb again. Top 10 highlights include Bionic Records (Fullerton and Huntington Beach), Lou's (Encitas), Park Ave (Winter Park), Criminal Records (Atlanta), DCCD (DC). Top 30s in from Atomic, Reckless, Amoeba Hollywood and Berkeley and both Sonic Booms. Current Top 100 chart position: 72*.

TIFT MERRITT

Bramble Rose
Lost Highway
Catalog No. 170273
As Tift continues to dominate the Americana radio charts, she also makes her move into the Top 15 at Triple A. The combo of radio support and retail's commitment to Tift results in some heavy sales activity. Top 15 from Cactus (Houston), Music Millennium (Portland), Sonic Booms (Seattle), Easy Street (Seattle), ear X-tacy (Louisville), Millennium Music (Durham), E. Fetus (Mnpls), Olsson's (Rockville), and TREX HQ. Hello major chains, anyone home for Tift Merritt? Current Top 100 chart position: 75

ATMOSPHERE

God Loves Ugly
Fat Beats
Catalog No. 35001
Atmosphere was born from the underground Minneapolis rap scene and has met with immediate sales countrywide and a No. 85 debut. Upward moves include Angelo's Records (Littleton) 36 - 23, Rasputins (Berkeley) 35 - 26 and Threshold (Tinley Park) 28 - 20. Top 50s at CD Central (Lexington) No. 20, Sundance (San Marcos) No. 7, Disc & Tapes Unltd. (Brighton) No. 19, Independent (Colorado Springs) No. 30 and both Let It Be (Mnpls) and Mad Platter (Riverside) No. 24. Current Top 100 chart position: 85

Bold numbers signify upward movement.

DASHBOARD CONFSSIONAL

The Places You...
Vagrant
Catalog No. 354
DC has been a favorite with

CMJ Retail since the group's inception. Now with the muscle of Interscope behind it and an upcoming, very special MTV2 Unplugged, this is an act on the verge. This week's highlights include: Last Unicorn at No. 7, Dimples at No.35, Looney Tunes at No. 17, Lou's at No. 19, and Gallery Of Sound at No. 49, Borders and Wherehouse at No. 94. Stock up folks, this one is for real. Current Top 100 chart: Re-debut No. 92*.

MMN and CIMS supportive of Ben very early and really pushed his early sales.		One of those stories: label releases new signing early due to Warped tour, notices reaction after just one week. Band hasn't toured the US to build fan base, has never had a track played on radio until now, yet Reprise has quickly felt the heat of association with Warped tour and a strong word of mouth from internet marketing.		Looking to ship 100k. Sparta is one half of At The Drive-In who sold nearly 300k of their Grand Royal release, Relationship Of Command . DW is doing this one right. Sparta released their Austere EP in March with little fanfare and have quietly sold 15k to ATDI fans who are now primed for Wiretap .
Radio	Going for college radio adds August 19. College promo handled by Fanatic and com. specialty handled by Continental. Focus tracks are "Oh!" and "Step Aside." This is their grittiest record since Dig Me Out . In-store play this one, it's going to be a classic.		Renewed promotional push at radio just began last week. Single is "Wasted & Ready" (check your Certain Damage Vol. 123). Chicago's Q101 has been leading the commercial radio charge. Others include KNDD, KZONE, Live 105, KAEP, WHRL, WPBZ.		Single is "A Box Full Of Sharp Objects." No. 6 R&R, No. 6 LP Net, No. 7 fmqb (album), No. 4 fmqb (single). Top 5 phones at KUPD, KFMA, KJEE, KNRK, KRZQ, KTEG. Major station support on the way. College add date 7/16. Metal add date 7/16.		Single is "Cut Your Ribbon," which went No. 1 R&R, No. 1 fmqb and No. 1 com. specialty. Over 25 stations in with adds. Early supporters include: WROX, KWOD, KJEE, WXSX, KQXR, WPBZ, KXTE, WFNX, WHFS, KSFM, WBCN.
Video	No video.		"Wasted & Read" is being shot in late July and will be serviced to MTV2 in early August.		"Box Full" getting support on MTV2's Rock Show . MTV News will include The Used as part of an upcoming piece on the Warped Tour 2002.		Video for "Cut Your Ribbon" has been shot and early copies have begun to make its way to key retailers. In short, the video's intense—you'll keep thinking about this one quite a while after you've seen it.
Press/TV	Much press support upcoming in Spin , Rolling Stone , Magnet , CMJ NMM , The Fader , Nylon , DITW , MOJO , Blender , Elle , Alternative Press , Kitty Magik (interview by Janeane Garofalo) followed by a ton of weeklies and dailies slated for the coming months.		Support has been ongoing from Rolling Stone , Billboard , USA.com and The Onion to Guitar World , Campus Circle and even YV . Just appeared 6/27 on Letterman; has already been on Carson Daily. Ben's Conan late April appearance is being re-run July 29.		Wherever the 2002 Warped Tour goes, there are features and reviews, with recent support coming from AP , Mean Street , Metal Edge (Ozzfest issue). Much more to come as everyone tries to catch up with the demand.		Early press coming in from Rolling Stone , Spin , Alternative Press , CMJ , Guitar World , Blender and many, many more. Press loved At The Drive-In and Sparta seems to be getting no less love. Sparta on Kilborn August 12.
Tour	Band doing key dates in NY, Seattle and Portland before release. Tour kicks off 9/11 in Denver and runs through Dallas, Austin, Tucson, Tempe, SD, LA, SF, Portland and Seattle. East coast tour to follow in Oct.		Ben will be touring all year long—he understands what it takes to break his record. Opened dates during the first leg of the Dave Matthews tour. New dates with D.Confess., Little T. and Pony League July – Aug.		The Used are part of the Warped Tour this year and will be playing all dates through August 10 (crowd response has helped move them to the main stage for several dates). On Ozzfest August 11 – September 8.		Big break for Sparta is landing the upcoming Weezer tour and will be on all dates between now and August 10. Sparta will be sharing many of those dates with Dashboard Confessional and The Strokes.
Internet	Best site is killrockstars.com. There are at least a dozen devoted fan sites too (detailed lyric sheets, photo catalogs, everything). Over 8k are signed up for the Kill Rock Stars weekly newsletter and Sleater-Kinney's One Beat is now a regular feature. Active fans newsgroup at Yahoo (Words & Guitar).		Live broadcast of Ben Kweller's five-song AOL session will run in mid-late July. Best site is benkweller.com (streaming audio and video available there).		Best site for everything Used is theused.net where fans can get MP3 downloads, bios, up-to-date news, photos, band diary entries, lyrics, everything. There's a media player at buzzzone.com/theused. Online st. teaming active on R1YL message boards, extreme sports sites, etc.		Best site for all things Sparta is spartamusic.com, which has everything from band diaries about their first US tour to MP3 downloads ("Cut Your Ribbon" is there), bios, active message boards and tour dates.
Notes	This is truly one of SK's best; there's an edge and grit to it that will grab you on first listen. Definitely great for in-store play. First album since Corin became a mother. Breakout markets include: LA, SF, Seattle, SD, NY. Signed poster and display contests for indies. First 25k packaged with additional CD with two bonus songs. Contact Lia@killrockstars.com.		In August, for back to school, label is producing mini DVDs that will include live footage of Ben. Mini credit-card sized URL cards will be passed out to kids at shows (also avail. for retail through BMG distribution). His live show should not be missed—sold nearly 800 a week in venue sales alone.		Band came out of Salt Lake and ROCKS. After the first five shows the band sold close to 500 CDs on the road. Label has now shipped 20k to date and climbing quickly. Dallas' KDGE went to a show recently and with the record only out a week saw the audience singing every word of the single (which wasn't on radio yet). This one's at $11.99 list. Bring this one in and in-store play it.		Those who order early will do the strongest with this since the Austere EP got ATDI fans ready early (and made some new converts along the way). Much of the Grand Royal street team is now working at Filter, which is the street and e-team handling Sparta's grassroots marketing.

Choice Music has been around for eight years and has, like many independents, struggled to find a niche in the ever-changing retail climate. They found their place in the local retail mix, though, by being what their local chains were not knowledgeable. Choice has fought the big-boxes and mall stores by offering face-to-face customer service with an experienced staff who take special orders and who are willing to track down that rare and out-of-print item.

Choice has also expanded its business into other musical areas that both compliment and promote music and artists that otherwise wouldn't stop through Oklahoma. As promoters, Choice is able to spread the word about the store while simultaneously pushing a particular concert. As a regional concert production and promotion company, they have worked with both new and classic acts such as Pantera, Slayer, Slipknot, Bo Diddley, Coal Chamber, Motorhead and hundreds of others.

Choice has also set-up a new website that promotes unsigned bands (www.infiniterecords.net). By linking these unsigned acts together, Choice can expose each band's fan base to the others on site, allowing a cross-pollination of fans that has proved a helpful mix for many local and regional acts. Anyone familiar with the regional music scene knows Max Baker as the sole provider of hard rock and metal promotions for local acts. Max's work gives fledging bands the opportunity to support national acts, which in turn help those bands build solid local followings. He also sells independent artist merchandise and sets up Choice's in-stores and pre-release binges ("parties"). Choice has launched it's own independent record label called Infinite Records that signs and promotes new talent as well as re-releasing classic albums by bands such as Forte (Oklahoma metal legends who were formerly with Germany's Massacre Records) and Oliver Magnum. The Infinite Record website also provides the latest news, music, band pages and concert info for the Southwest region. These side ventures have definitely added more brick and mortar to this operation.

Choice Music's growing empire is owned by Max Baker Jr.

NEWSWORTHY

Fans line the Streetside streets waiting for Nelly.

Nelly and crew give back to the fans

Nelly signing autographs

Nelly In Nellyville

On July 3, nearly 2000 fans lined the Streetside streets to catch a glimpse, take a photo, get an autograph or shake hands with Nelly, who had returned to Nellyville to help celebrate his sophomore release, Nellyville (Universal Records 017747). St. Lunatics members also stopped by the meet-and-greet event which took place at Streetside Records' University location.

Streetside Records and Universal both committed $1 to Nelly's 4Sho 4Kids Foundation for each record sold at Streetside stores through July 7, 2002.

AFIM Announces New Board Member

The Association For Independent Music (AFIM) has just announced the new board member election (for the 2002-2003 term) of David McKenzie. McKenzie, who is currently with AmeriDisc Mfg., fills the vacant seat of departing Victory Records' representative, Tony Brummel, who has now left the board. McKenzie's term will last until May of 2004.

those artists until you can't work them anymore. Make the commitment and realize that an album doesn't have to go 10x platinum for it to have been successful. Also, don't dumb down the music. Kids today are smarter than we give them credit and can smell bullshit a mile away. Make real records with real artists and the rest will work itself out. R.I.P. Ted Williams — now he knew a hit! DON WATSON

Sounds Like...
Riverside, CA

It has been said, by myself and every other retailer, that the price of a CD is just too high. Why buy the cow when the milk is free? You see, people want a bargain and $19.99 is no bargain. The labels know that, and that is why they want a sale price on "it." Give me a dollar for every time a label calls and asks me if we have "it" in stock and how much we are selling "it" for and I'll be rich enough to buy three soundtracks at full price on a weekly basis. Folks will buy a CD at a reasonable price and if it is not available at a reasonable price, they'll simply download it and feel justified.

THE FLAMING LIPS

YOSHIMI BATTLES THE PINK ROBOTS

"The Flaming Lips' records always seem to come at the right time... They are one of the few bands who can succeed in sonically disconcerting me as much as they convince me that it's going to be alright."

— JIM FAIRCHILD (GRANDDADDY)

"Hell, it's The Flaming Lips — who cares what I think?"

— BADLY DRAWN BOY

"It's amazing The Flaming Lips can construct a musical ambiance that lends itself and caters to your imagination. You can look out any window at any point in time and start imagining what weird futuristic, robotic worlds lie ahead of us. Mind boggling."

— JESSE SANDOVAL (THE SHINS)

"I am once again blown away by the skill and concept behind this record. There are certain recordings, that when you hear them, make you want to go back to the studio and create. It is inspiration...pure and simple."

— JIM WARD (SPARTA)

"Contemplative, beautiful, silly — a subtle rock (r)evolution."

— NICK ZINNER (YEAH YEAH YEAHS)

君が一番美しい顔をしている。
