COVER STORY

10 Come Together

Bringing worlds together, CMJ is committed to showing the relationship between College Radio airplay and album sales. This week, as yet another step in this direction, we show how individual stations can partner with their local independent music retailers to both increase the station's exposure to the public and help further support the artists that are already being played on-air. Staffers from WSOU, KEXP, WMSE, Newbury Comics, Compact Disc World, Sonic Boom Records and Atomic Records all weigh in to show how working together can help everyone involved.

DEPARTMENTS

6 The Week In Industry News

RIAA SUES STUDENTS

In its ongoing efforts to prevent Internet piracy, the RIAA filed lawsuits against four college students on Thursday, April 3, charging that they operated separate Napster-like networks that distributed up to one million copyrighted songs on their universities' local area networks (LANs). Students Daniel Peng, Joseph Nievelt, Jesse Jordan and Aaron Sherman had been sharing songs on the school networks of New York's Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Michigan Technological University and New Jersey's Princeton University, allowing fellow students and staff to download the tracks for free. "These systems are best described as 'local area Napster networks,'" said RIAA President Cary Sherman in a statement. "The court ruled that Napster was illegal and shut it down. These systems are just as illegal and operate in just the same manner. And just like Napster, they hurt artists, musicians, songwriters, those who invest in their work and the thousands of others who work to bring music to the public." According to one RIAA spokesperson, the organization's lawsuit seeks an injunction to shut down the filesharing systems and may seek monetary damages of up to $150,000 per song, which, for those keeping track at home, could rake in a cool, but extremely unlikely, $150 billion. The lawsuits are the latest in the RIAA's efforts to stop copyright infringement at colleges and universities; the organization sent over 2,300 letters to school administrators in October, notifying staff of the legal and technological ramifications of file sharing.

LAYOFFS SWEEP INDUSTRY

As record sales continue to rest on shaky ground, labels worldwide have been forced to cut corners by trimming their staff forces. Sony Music Entertainment recently made an announcement about the highly anticipated restructuring of the company with a result of up to 1,000 jobs being eliminated worldwide. International, distribution, sales, business affairs and the Nashville offices were all affected by layoffs, and, as part of the restructuring, Columbia and Epic's R&B and Crossover promotion departments will be consolidated into one staff. The announcement was made by Chairman Andrew Lack, who arrived at the company following the departure of longtime Chairman Tommy Mottola in January. In an internal memo to his staff, Lack stated, "We are streamlining the management structure of the company both in the U.S. and abroad, and we are taking measures to more closely coordinate our marketing efforts around the world. We are also combining some functions, most notably in sales and distribution, in order to minimize duplication of efforts and more efficiently service the needs of our artists, employees and customers." He went on to add, "While these changes will result in the loss of some positions, we believe that they will also enable Sony Music Entertainment to effectively meet the challenges of a continually changing marketplace for music worldwide." • Also anticipated to make staff cuts in the near future is Zomba Music Group, home to the Jive, Volcano, Silvertone and Verity labels. The layoffs are expected to come over the next nine months and will affect up to 350 positions out of the company's 1,800-person workforce. The changes come as a result of Zomba's recent absorption by BMG, which will assume most of Zomba's backoffice functions, such as sales, legal and business affairs. Zomba imprints and their creative staffs, however, will remain intact; "We have made it a priority to preserve Zomba's unique culture and identity," stated BMG CEO Rolf Schmidt-Holtz in an internal memo. "We know they are vital elements of the company's success."

WXUT HOPS ONLINE

The University of Toledo's WXUT made the jump into online Web streaming on the morning of March 17, via the station's Web site, www.wxut.com. The small, 100-Watt Ohio station shares its frequency with the local public school system, so airtime and broadcast reach were both previously limited, but the move onto the Internet now allows the staff to broadcast 24 hours a day to anyone willing to listen. Station Manager Erik Pakulski told CMJ, "Web streaming definitely does expand our coverage to the world, as opposed to only Toledo, Ohio. Now people can hear live shows at any time of the day, from anywhere on the planet."

esounding anti-war protests have continually fallen on deaf ears over the course of recent history, and now one of the most memorable musical voices in the cause of peace has been forever silenced. Edwin Starr, the man responsible for the Motown classic "War," died on April 2 at the age of 61, after suffering from suspected heart failure at his home in the U.K. Starr, born Charles Hatcher, was raised in Cleveland and had his first major foray into the music world with his doo-wop group, the Future Tones, while he was still in his teens. Later, after three years of requisite military service and a name change for the stage, Starr went on to a successful solo career, with 1970's "War," a massive No. 1 single, marking the high point. The song's widely recognized lyric, "War! What is it good for? Absolutely nothing," still resonates today as the quintessential voice of musical dissent against combat. • A number of today's brightest musical acts have offered up the fruits of their labor to help save the life of a young boy. Artists including Interpol, Brendan Benson, the Walkmen, Pas/Cal, Yo La Tengo, Ben Lee, Longwave and Mary Timony have all donated songs to the original soundtrack to As Daylight Breaks, a documentary film about Jacob Sontag, a boy suffering from Canavan Disease, a severe genetic brain disorder, and the struggle his mother, Jordana, has been enduring to try and find a cure. The feature, directed by Stefenie Sasson, is set to premiere at New York City's Lincoln Center on May 19, with a release party for the soundtrack, produced by video director David Casey, scheduled to take place two days prior at local venue Pianos. "The contributions of the respected artists are a most valued asset to our project," said Sasson in a statement. "I believe > that with this music, the film's vision is complemented and the true humanity of their sound is illuminated for that I am eternally grateful." For more on both the film and the soundtrack, visit

 If those Radiohead recordings everyone has been so busy downloading off the Internet were MP3s of the band's finished new album, Hail To The Thief, the guys in the group probably wouldn't be too upset. But they aren't, and they are. "The leaked music is a stolen copy of early, unmixed edits and roughs, so we're kind of pissed off about it, to be honest," said guitarist Jonny Greenwood, venting his frustration online. "The songs are good on the recordings, which you can hear. But we worked on them after this point until we were happy with them. This is why we're pissed off we didn't give up on them in February (which is what you're hearing) and it's just a shame that, to your ears, we did." Not that he's taking issue with the fans, though: "Of course people will still download them and hear them," said Greenwood, "I can understand the temptation. It's not you lot I'm pissed off about, it's just the situation, I guess." Bandmates Colin Greenwood and Phil Selway followed suit and also took to their computers to voice similar feelings on the leak. Thankfully, on June 10 everyone will be happy again, when copies of the real, complete album gets its official release. New Zealand sibling rock act Evermore recently visited CMJ's offices in New York to perform acoustic versions of songs from its Oil And Water import EP. Currently enjoying airplay on the national radio networks in its native New Zealand and neighboring Australia, as well as rotation on MTV Australasia, the three brothers who make up the band — Jon, Dann and Peter Hume recently made their North American debut with performances in Los Angeles, New York, Austin and throughout Canada, where the band's record has been released by DKD/Aquarius. Word has it that the group will be coming back in July to perform at New York City's Central Park Summer Stage and possibly at the 2003 CMJ Music Marathon in October. The Oil And Water EP (plus five bonus tracks) is still available for release in the U.S. — interested parties should navigate to www.sonicvista.com/ evermore for info. • In case you somehow missed it, Sonic Youth has made that weathered copy of Dirty in your CD collection obsolete. The band, which came out on top in CMJ's year-end chart wrap-up in 2002 with its latest release, Murray Street, has doubled the fun of its 1992 career-defining disc by re-releasing it in a deluxe 2-CD edition that pairs the original tracks with B-sides and rarities, including 11 previously unreleased recordings from its rehearsals. Meaning that, along with B-sides such as "Genetic," "The Destroyed Room" and Tamra," you can find nearly a dozen tracks available nowhere else in the package, including "Poet In The Pit," "Theoretical Chaos," "Dreamfinger" and "Barracuda."

CMJ SILVER SALUTE

Throughout 2003, CMJ will salute one classic College Radio album per issue in celebration of our 25th Anniversary.

SLAYER

Reign In Blood (American) Released in 1986, Slayer's Rick Rubin-produced Def Jam debut wasted no time clawing its way into the most blood-splattered, blistering pit of hell. Opening track "Angel Of Death" instantly made the Huntington Beach, California quartet metal royalty; written by guitarist Jeff Hanneman and driven by the faultless drumming of Dave Lombardo, the song paints a horribly realistic picture of genocide and torture, with vocalist/bassist Tom Araya shrieking like a possessed Comanche warrior during the opening minute, before spitting out the song's first tone-setting lyrics: "Auschwitz, the meaning of pain/ the way that I want you to die!" It doesn't get any more cheerful after that, either; "Altar Of Sacrifice" finds comfort in the Devil's sizzling embrace ("Learn the sacred words of praise, hail Satan," demands Araya), while "Raining Blood" offers a front row seat to the Apocalypse, bragging, "Now I shall reign in blood!" before unleashing earthtrembling thunder upon those left standing in its wake. Even after 17 years, Reign In Blood remains the most significant speedmetal album of all time — a purely monstrous work of evil with all the morbid charisma of Jeffrey Dahmer. — Kevin Boyce

ELECTRIC SIX

Fire (XL-Beggars Group)
Electric Six's shocking hit of a debut single, "Danger! High Voltage," dates back to the Detroit collective's days as the Wildbunch, although in its current incarnation, it features the added bonus of guest vocals from hometown hero Jack White. However, when it comes to these songs, it's not

White you'll be referencing, but his other-end-of-the-contrast-spectrum counterpart, Jack Black. In fact, Fire will serve nicely to satiate those who have been hungering for more from Black's growling beast of a comic rock band, Tenacious D. Many, if not all, of the tracks here could pass for D compositions, due in equal parts to singer Dick Valentine's vocal similarities to ol' JB and the fact that they feature titles like "Naked Pictures (Of Your Mother)" and "Electric Demons In Love." Where the Six differs, however, is in its inclination towards the groove, with Valentine both pledging devotion to the "Dance Commander" and declaring, "You can't ignore my techno." He's joined for it all by guitarists Rock 'N' Roll Indian and Surge Joebot, bassist Disco, drummer M and keyboardist Tait Nucleus. Clearly, this is serious stuff.

PORCH GHOULS

Bluff City Ruckus

(Roman–Columbia)
Yeah, Mojo Nixon never really made good on his promise to dig up Howlin' Wolf and put his skull on his guitar, but sho' nuff, the country-fried heat-stroke sufferers in the Porch Ghouls sound crazy enough to exhume half o' Memphis. As if Jon Spencer scrutinized Delta blues instead of that Chicago jive, the Porch Ghouls (relying heavily on Southern Gothic imagery) pry open a minimalist coffin in the noise-blooz-addled vein of the Blues Explosion's 1992 debut with surprisingly (hell, refreshingly) gritty 'n' clamorous production for a release on cotton-pickin' Columbia. The Ghouls (whose members cut their fangs on the bluesy lo-fi rawk of the Grifters and the lo-fi-ish blues rawk of Grit Kisser) bang away sans bass, with amp-shredding harmonica and an ersatz drum kit fashioned from a Lady Baltimore suitcase — stripped down enough to make the White Stripes look like Pink Floyd. Creepy sing-a-longs abound ("Fly In The Coffin"), dark-hued boogie shudders ("Tragic Ground") and everlasting handclaps and stomping shake the porch, the party and the tomb. —

SUPER-SUCKERS

Motherfuckers Be Trippin' (Mid-Fi)

If you're looking for the perfect music for an evening of beer, cigarettes, bubblegum, rock chicks and fucking shit up, well, here's your fucking record. Delivering exactly what you'd think a record from the Supersuckers called Motherfuckers Be Trippin' would deliver, this is all loud and unapologetic rock 'n' roll, singing high praise to the finer things in life — all of the aforementioned vices. The disc's opening cut, "Rock 'N' Roll Records," is a fast-paced and loud-mouthed diatribe about ivory tower record execs who don't know shit about what people want to hear, and the rest of the record is all a downward spiral into debauchery from there. The Tucson-via-Seattle band does know a thing or two about what people want to hear, since it's been writing, playing and pouring its soul into this shit for over 15 years, and the only beat it's missed was to stop and take a piss. The Supersuckers have

ARAB STRAP

Monday At The Hug And Pint (Matador)

The hip Scottish duo of Aidan Moffat and Malcom Middleton is back together as Arab Strap after a hiatus spent working on side projects and solo records. With its return, the pair has brought along Monday At The Hug

And Pint, the most schizophrenic album from the band to date — a record that seems custom made for playing at the pub just before the lights come on at last call and everyone is pushed out into the dirty streets. The morose "Loch Leven," with its lush strings and delicate-as-lace guitar, also plays up the duo's nationality by kicking off with a playfully traditional bagpipe intro, while the drum machine in "Serenade," gives the song a nice pulse that offers the track's charmingly self-effacing lyrical delivery a gentle push. Sparse ballads fit beside "louder" rock songs like a carefully constructed jigsaw puzzle, but the band's knack for capturing hope, desperation, lost love and lust, often all in the same song, is still as sharp as ever.

EARLY DAY MINERS

Jefferson At Rest

(Secretly Canadian)
With the release of their third full-length, the slow-core aficionados in Early Day Miners take one step closer to perfecting their heavily layered, slow-building brand of mope-rock. The album leans heavily on the open-endedness of major-seventh chords, while brooding melodies patiently build atop each other in a way that leaves one wondering how a song that started off so understated can culminate in such thick bravado and cinematic grandeur five minutes later. Lead singer/guitarist Dan Burton shows plenty of restraint here, allowing most of his feelings to be conveyed through the instrumentation. When he does step up to the microphone, however, his cashmere-wrapped whispers meld perfectly with the musical backdrop. The disc opens with the weepy "Wheeling," a slow-rolling dirge that builds walls of guitars into a mountain of sound before the final rhythmic and melodic release of the two-minute outro, setting the precedent for other album highlights, such as "Jefferson" and "Awake," all of which make Jefferson At Rest a perfect soundtrack to your dreams. — Louis Miller

ALL GIRL SUMMER FUN BAND

2 (K)

Sometimes you just gotta dance like a hyperactive toddler on a sugar bender, and All Girl Summer Fun Band is more than happy to help it happen by supplying the soundtrack. Halfway between the girl groups of the 1960s and the lo-fi riot grrrl movement, the Girls forgo the angst of the latter and the studio embell-ishments of the former, making their sophomore disc, aptly titled 2, a sweet pop blast of true girl power — music that is delightfully free of pretension and bad attitude. The cheery keyboards and bouncy guitar of "Samantha Secret Agent" is a theme song in search of a kids show, and "Tour Heart Throb" is a cute-as-a-button rocker that could become a huge hit with its catchy hooks and happy harmonies. Maybe, in these days of terrorism and war, what we all need is some good, clean, fun music just like this to bounce around to. Don't be scared to let a little sunshine in every now and then.

SLEEP STATION

Hang In There Charlie (Eyeball)

Sleep Station's frontman, Dave Debiak, is a skillful storyteller with a talent for creating original concept albums that are jampacked with potential pop-rock singles. 2002's Runaway Elba-1, for example, found the band examining a heart-rending futuristic love affair between a cybernetics engineer and a female android, fastened in pretty, effortless melodies. This time, the sci-fi centered band takes on outer space, as its third full-length release, Hang In There Charlie, presents a fictional tale of two astronauts abandoned in space. Opening track "Fading Out" places the listener in the spaceship, floating across the universe accompanied by a placid, hopeful theme; subsequent tracks musically travel through the trials and evils the cosmic travelers encounter with a growing sense of anticipation. "Flight-1" stands out as the strongest composition, quivering in a warm guitar climax, but with spouts of stillness, spaceman chatter, emotive vocal dustings and an overall sense of nostalgia and sympathy, Sleep Station succeeds in offering a sincere full record of celestial proportions.

VARIOUS ARTISTS

End050: End Recordings 1995–2002 (End Recordings) In 1995, DJ and former member of the Shamen, Mr. C, teamed with Layo Paskin to launch London's The End nightclub, a venue that provides clubbers with access to the best underground techno, house and drum 'n' bass from up-and-coming DJs and producers. To coincide with the grand opening of the club, the End Recordings imprint was founded and eventually spawned its own "tech house" genre: a blend of house, breaks and techno that has come to define the style of producers like Layo and Bushwacka. To celebrate End Recordings' 50th release, C and Layo have put together a terrific compilation of tracks that showcases the overall vibe of both The End nightclub and the record label it birthed. Fittingly, as the genre's most well known production duo, Layo And Bushwacka! start things off themselves with their beautiful slice of down home electronica, "Deep South." The high quality never wavers through classic and deleted tracks from the likes of Circulation, Echomen, Impossible Beings and Tone Theory, making this collection so good that we already can't wait to celebrate the 100th release. — Justin Kleinfeld

COME TOGETHER

Bridging The Gap Between College Radio And Retail.

Even though listeners and consumers are one in the same, College Radio and independent Retail often view each other as separate entities. However, when these two like-minded worlds collide, their achievements have an undeniable influence on the music industry at-large.

-Story by JAMIE FARKAS-

erched behind a sticker-laden cash register at the local indie record store, or hunched under a pile of promotional CDs at the College Radio station, the folks that sell music and the people that program it can spend days, weeks, even years lost in the shuffle of add dates, ad coops, Add N To (X) records... ad infinitum. Often absorbed in their own complex worlds, what College Radio-heads and Retail peeps sometimes forget is that there is a hard-working, music-obsessive bunch of folks just on the other end of the campus, or down University Avenue: each other.

An organic and mutually beneficial relationship is something that independent record stores and College Radio stations can and should have. In fact, many do have such a connection and the benefits are both plentiful and significant.

"It's important for College Radio to seek out indie retailers and see how they can work together," says Natalie Waleik, Senior Music Buyer at the 25-store New England independent chain Newbury Comics. "There's a common goal of bringing new music to the people."

"On a quarterly basis we meet with [Seton Hall's] WSOU and go over what's going on with the station and what's going on with us," says David Lang, CEO of New Jersey's eight-locations strong Compact Disc World. "There's a real communication between our two entities and that translates into better promotions. Independent retailers need to separate themselves from the mass merchants, electronic stores and big chain retailers. They do that by trying to exhibit 'hipness,' or a 'cool' factor, and College Radio stations help bring that to the retailer. It's a win-win situation; any College Radio programmer or sales person should not be afraid to approach their independent retailer because the independent retailer wants to bond with the College Radio station."

Approaching your local disc jockey or register-jockey is easy, especially since there are many ways for a station and retailer to associate with one another. One of the simplest ways to join forces is through underwriting. Underwriting, in its basic definition with regard to non-commercial and College Radio, refers to the practice of non-comms and college stations finding "sponsors" (a.k.a. retailers) to pay for station-sponsored events, programming and other things, being as they are non-profit organizations.

When Nabil Ayers, co-owner of premier Seattle indie retailer Sonic Boom Records, and his partner Jason Hughes opened their first location, they immediately approached University of Washington's KEXP about doing underwriting. "We use underwriting to let their listeners know what's going on — to mention in-stores and talk about new releases," Ayers says. "The spots are incredibly inexpensive, which makes it easy and totally worthwhile."

The underwriting scenario is a truly symbiotic relationship; it's a great informational tool for retailers and a good source of funding for stations. Wisconsin's Atomic Records helps support WMSE, the FM station run out the Milwaukee School of Engineering, through underwriting.

Brent Gohde, Promotions Director at WMSE, lauds underwriting as "a source of income for us and a way of [Atomic Records] getting acknowledged on the air."

"[Underwriting] can be a great source of funding for College Radio and a great source of music," says Wailek. "With some stations that we work with, in exchange for mentions, we give the station X amount of money to spend at the store per month and that's a great way for the station to beef up their record library."

Atomic also pays for a lot of their underwriting with WMSE in trades. "A lot of times there is something we hear about on a really small independent label that, for whatever reason, isn't able to send us their stuff," Gohde says. "Through our trade with Atomic, we are able to get a lot of the smaller releases we are unable to get promos of."

And whenever WSOU needs music, they "go to the retailers we work with and use our trade to get it," says Business Manager Jennifer Kajzer.

Aside from underwriting, another uncomplicated way for stations to get involved with retailers is through fundraisers. When radio station memberships are bought, the membership cards handed to donors are often valid for a certain discount at numerous local businesses. Sonic Boom honors KEXP members with a 10 morning show host and Program Director John Richards notes that KEXP has benefited from that strong connection in more ways then one. "From there I have reached out to other stores and said, 'Hey, what we're playing here are some of your best-sellers. How can we work together?' When sales in the stores that we work with are similar to our rotation it does nothing but help us," says Richards. "It gives us a lot of legitimacy and labels want to work with you if they see your listeners responding."

And it's just the same on the other coast. "When WSOU is on a record we see increased sales on it without a doubt," says Lang. "WSOU has a lot of credibility ple as this can brand the store and station together in the eyes of both listeners and consumers.

"Having a strong indie retailer and a great College Radio station work together just expands into making the area into a great place for music to develop," says Rich Menning, owner of Atomic Records. "It all echoes back to the scene. It's ultimately a good thing to nurture the people who provide music to the community."

"It's about the music," Gohde says.
"[Working with Atomic] is really important to the general public and we have a really symbiotic relationship."

This symbiotic relationship is replicat-percent discount and Boom notes that this has been hugely successful. "It seems to be the best way to start things because you can directly see if anyone cares," Ayers says. "Are they listening to that station? Are they going to that store to try and find the music they heard on-air? You can totally gauge the correlation between store and station based on how many people come in with those cards."

The relationship between Sonic Boom and KEXP is one of the strongest. KEXP among its listenership and we follow and track their playlist every week. In our weekly marketing meeting, we look at what they've added and what they haven't."

Displaying a top-sellers chart, as well as a station's playlist, is a painless way to show the public the connection between local spins and local sales. Sonic Boom displays their Top 25 list in the store right next to KEXP's playlist and Atomic does the same with WMSE's. Something as sim-

ed in market-after-market where the college station and independent retailer have joined forces, creating great opportunities for both, as well as helping to develop

"It's this great circle where it's not only really beneficial to us and them, but for people in general," Ayers says. "People know they can hear something and know they can go get it through these two places they have come to trust because they work together." NIMP

Chart information is based on combined airplay reports from CMJ's panel of college, commercial and non-commercial radio stations. Statistics are compiled from point totals tabulated from positions (1-30) of artists on airplay reports, then multiplied by station code factor (based upon market size, market impact and market reach). A digest version of this chart reaches over 100,000 active music consumers in CMJ New Music Monthly. Visit www.cmj.com/mmm. © 2003 The CMJ Network, 151 W. 25th St., 12th Floor, New York, NY 10001.

200 Moves

fter a five-week reign at No. 1, Cat Power has been dethroned. Even as the White Stripes stormed from 105-2*, Scotland's Idlewild was able to fend off the charging Elephant and pull a coup d'état, ascending from 5-1* this week. Hats off to Capitol's Jeff Ballard and the whole crew over there in The Cage on a job well done. Also within the Top 10 this week, Stephen Malkmus And The Jicks jumped up a spot from 4-3* (and also went to No. 1 at Core), while Cursive moved from 9-6* and the Libertines entered at 7*. Next week, look for a fierce battle, as Idlewild attempts to remain at the summit while Jack and Meg press forward to inevitably go to No. 1. Also on the horizon is ... And You Will Know Us By The Trail Of Adds, which picked up No. 1 Most Added honors this week, bagging 237 stations in the first week. As for this week's major movers, The Kills hopped, skipped and jumped from 47-27*, NOFX leaped up 10 positions from 39-29*, Sahara Hotnights shifted from 57-31* and Smog went from 54-35*. Other nice moves of the week included Daniel Lanois (77-44*), Feeder (75-46*), Fruit Bats (62-49*) and Elefant (169-51*). In addition, Black Keys (D-36*), Essex Green (D-37*) and Placebo (D-45*) each made impressive debuts.

Welcome to At The Core! We figured it was about time that the Core Stations got their own column to accompany the Core Radio chart. Thanks to the chart, we already know what you're spinning, so now we would like to invite you to tell us about everything else that makes your station special.

With this page, CMJ plans to write about everything that happens at our Core stations between the music; tell us about your station's promotions, upcoming concerts and fundraisers. Send us pictures of your staff, tell us about your station Web site and send us tapes of the jocks that give your station its personality. And let us hear the independent local artists that you're spinning the hell out of, even if they haven't managed to break out of your market yet. We'll be reviewing one record every week that our Core stations are championing (see "Core Essential"), so we might even write-up your favorite local act's album!

It's our sincere hope that At The Core will grow and evolve into something special. That said, we invite you to participate. This is your page, so please send us Emails, or give us a call, and tell us what your station is doing. That way, we can tell others about all the things that make your station great. This is a forum for presenting and sharing ideas... and we highly encourage you to steal as many of them as you can and apply them to your own station!

XCI/Tucson is getting ready to release the third volume of its live-to-air music compilations, Live In Studio 2A. The station is currently combing its live archives and selecting the artists for the comp. Past participants include Josh Rouse, Cracker, the Skins and plenty of local Tucson bands. The station has also recently upped part-time Music Director Duncan Hudson to a full-time gig. Congratulate him at: kxcimd@kxci.org. Further-more, KXCI is also planning a May 3 show with Michelle Shocked to the running champ, DJ Skew. And there was much rejoicing. Rumor has it KJHK Station Manager Meredith Vacek was even spotted break dancing. In related news, KJHK's Farmer's Ball — which, despite the title, is usually not attended by many farmers - is the station's annual local band competition. This year, the event is scheduled for April 22-23, with the finals to be held on April 26. Local hang The Bottleneck will play host to the event (if you're in town early, the Mooney Suzuki will be playing there on April 20) and tickets are only $3, which raise some cash for their coffers. The show will coincide with the Tucson Folkfest and the station is planning to broadcast live from the event, with hopes of airing some of the performances as well. Just when you thought the only thing Lawrence, Kansas was famous for was the Steve Guttenberg nuclear war movie The Day After, KJHK/Lawrence just hosted its semi-annual DJ Contest, billed Wax Clash. Held at Liberty Hall, the $3 event attracted some 650 attendees who watched 12 DJs compete in three rounds of wax clashing madness. In the end, DJ Sincere beat out seems to be the price for everything KJHK does. We'll let you know who wins. It's business as usual for WMNF/Tampa. The community station has just completed its spring fund drive and raised over $430,000 for its proposed new building. So far, 'MNF has collected over $1 million for the new facility, and broadcasting gods willing, they'll break ground this September on the new digs. Coming up on the horizon, the station is gearing up for its 22nd annual Tropical Heatwave. Scheduled for May 3, the event boasts 35 bands that will perform on six stages at the Cuban Club and on the streets of Ybor City in Tampa. Sounds like a kick-ass time.

• KWVA/ Eugene's 10th birthday is coming up and it seems like only yesterday that it started broadcasting with just the one Dinosaur Jr. CD in its library. Promotions Director Reed Davaz is currently hard at work booking five nights of shows to celebrate the occasion. The string of shows will begin on May 4, and take place in a different venue each night, culminating with a big birthday countdown at Midnight on May 9. Who'd have thought that Eugene would have at least five places you could go and see a show?

JOHNSTON

Fear Yourself (Gammon)
Daniel Johnston is the fool on the hill. The charm of Fear Yourself rests solely in his wide-eyed innocence and observational lyrics. It's not hard to see why Fear Yourself has been steadily moving up the Core Radio chart to crack the Top 20 in just three weeks, as WBNY, WDBM, WNYU, WWVU and CJUM are among the 100+ stations already spinning this album. Johnston's mush mouth vocals convey such a cherublike desire for goodness that his lyrics sound almost like a divine improvisation. Sparklehorse's Mark Linkous plays a huge role in the production and arrangement of the music, but this album's appeal is definitely Johnston's obviously absurd — or absurdly obvious — musings.

ARTIST SPOTLIGHT

aloalto could save the world, if only given the chance.

Its 1999 selt-titled debut met with critical acclaim; its dynamic live shows consistently leave jaws dropping to the floor, and its new album, Heroes And Villains, takes everything it's done and multiplies it by ten. Unfortunately, with all the praise and talent to back it up, that debut disc didn't achieve the kind of success you'd expect from a band that was produced by Rick Rubin and drew comparisons to Radiohead and the Smashing Pumpkins. But, after losing a couple of members, Paloalto found a genuinely gifted lead guitar player in its once part-time keyboardist, Andy Blunda, and started gearing up for the release of the aforementioned second album, also produced by Rubin. Heroes And Villains takes a few cues from its predecessor, but only uses them as stepping stones to a bigger, more definitive sound, while singer James Grundler and the band's lyrical soul-searching drives the record to new heights by exploring new psychological lows. CMJ caught up with Grundler on his way to Ottawa — not to see a Senators game, but to play a show with Soundtrack Of Our Lives.

Heroes And Villains sounds like an extension of your first album, but it also sounds like there's a lot more going on.

We had an opportunity to do more of a stereo craft record — a bigger, more wide-open album then the first one. For the first album, Rick wanted to keep it narrow and simple, but on this one, he let us open up and spread our wings more. It just shows a progression, which I really love about it.

Does he have any idiosyncrasies in the studio?

One of the things we learned from Rick was that it's OK to be unhip. He had this whole philosophy that you couldn't say something like, "That's not cool" or, "I'm looking for something cooler there." We couldn't use "cool" in the studio at all. That was one of his philosophies, and it was pretty funny. It worked. It clears your mind out of trying to be cool. It was actually cooler not to be cool at all.

Were you disappointed with the first record?

I was disappointed in the first record because it didn't tell the whole story of the band. People would say that live, we didn't even sound like that. That was the thing I was a bit upset about, that we didn't have the chance to make the record in our own kind of way. Rick took the reigns on that one a whole lot more. I think he was too afraid we were going to sound a certain way, so he really wanted us to go in the opposite direction of the way we really do sound. I think the most disappointing thing about it was not how it was perceived, but how it was never really perceived at all. It never really got a chance to come out of the blocks. I love the record. I love those songs. I would love to hear them in a different fashion.

So, are you happy with Heroes And Villains?

Yes. I just talked to Rick two nights ago and I told him that I'm finally happy with a record that I made. I've fucked up lots of albums doing this whole music thing and this is the first one that I'm truly happy with. [Laughing] That might be a bad thing.

How did the band spend the time between the two records?

During that time, we lost two members of the band. Alex Parnell, our bass player and Jason Johnson, who was playing lead guitar, both left. After that we had to figure out who we were as a band and what kind of music we wanted to write. We really gelled in more of a melodic area. We spent a lot of time thinking about melody and Andy [Blunda], who was the keyboardist/guitar player in the first incarnation of Paloalto, really stepped up and took charge of the new guitar sound that's on this record. We really worked to make it sound more melodic and not so sporadic sounding. Now the guitars have a big lush, beautiful landscape-y feel to them.

"I've fucked up lots of albums doing this whole music thing, and this is the first one I'm truly happy With." — Paloalto's James Grundler

It seems like you made it through a rough period pretty well.

The band is a lot stronger then we were before. I believe we're a better band then we were before. Obviously, we learned a lot from doing the first record, and then from spending some time in limbo. Basically, we didn't know if we were going to keep doing this and push through, or if we were going to give it up because we had this huge wall in front of us. We had band members leaving, we didn't know if we were going to make a record and we didn't know who our friends were anymore — and then all of a sudden there was a break in the wall and we got through it.

A lot of what you just said seems evident in the lyrics of Heroes And Villains.

Truly. "Breathe In" is a big moment in that, because that's about when your back is up against the wall and things are completely confusing and your mind is going a million miles an hour, and you have to just stop and look at the big picture. "Fade Out/In," is literally saying, "Are you going to fade out?" Are you going to write a hit song just so you can have a hit song and be gone tomorrow, or are you not going to write a hit song and be gone tomorrow — it's kind of a Catch-22. All the songs have this theme about getting over the hump, getting through a time of limbo and finding out who your friends are and who your enemies are, and that's how the name of the album, Heroes And Villains, came out.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT

To submit your photos, email Doug Levy • dougl@cmj.com

LITTLE TEAPOT: Sirius's Jerry Rubino (front, center) told Hot Hot Heat to stand up straight over and over again, but wouldn't you know it, just look what happened the minute he turned his back to pose next to Sirius's Rich McLaughlin.

GANG OF TWO: We can't print the full gang signs that Astralwerks' Jason Greenberg and Simian's James ford are throwing here, because we feel it's important to protect them from retaliation from rival gangs. (Yeah, that's it... It has nothing to do with having to crop the photo to make it fit here at all.)

umors abound that sluggish ticket sales hastened Nothingface's decision to exit the Ministry tour. Instead, Nothingface will embark on a headlining tour of its own at the end of the month in support of Skeletons. • Iced Earth has left Century Media Records. Making matters even more complicated, guitarist Larry Tarnowski has parted ways with the power metal troop as well. Tarnowski will return to his studies and the new Iced Earth album will be recorded prior to his exit. A replacement is being sought. • Moonspell bassist Sergio C. has exited the band. • Reports indicate that former Grade throat Kyle Bishop has resurfaced in a new band called the Black Maria. • It looks like Sepultura might sign with No Name-Elektra, the joint venture headed up by Steve Richards, who once managed Slipknot and now manages Hatebreed and American Head Charge. Nothing is official or confirmed, so we'll keep you posted. • Despite parting ways have amicably parted ways. The Virginia death metal band was the first group to ever sign to Relapse and both parties felt the relationship had run its natural course. Deceased's new album, As The Weird Travel On, will be issued by a label yet-to-be determined. • Haste has released the track listing for the forthcoming The Mercury Lift. It is as follows: "With All The Pride And Dignity Of A Drowning Swimmer," "Evidence Of Wasted Ink," "The Rescued," "Houdini Lost His Key," "The Death Of Stars Like The Sun," "Room 134," "Aspartame," "A God Reclaims His Throne," "Stutter," "Force Is Always An Option" and "Revenge Tastes Like Blood And Broken Teeth." The album will be available shortly. • Kittie has filed suit against its label, Artemis Records, and its parent company, Sheridan Square Entertainment, LLC, for breach of contract. Apparently, as a result of an accounting audit, it was discovered that the band is with singer Byron Davis, God Forbid is still very much a unit and is working on A Perfect World, which should see release late this year. Some song titles are "Force Fed" (which the band has been testing out live), "Anti-Hero," "Gone Forever," "Precious Lie" and "Allegiance." • Static-X might have Josh Abraham produce its forthcoming album, the follow-up to the Gold-selling Machine. • Deceased and Relapse Records owed nearly a million dollars in royalty payments. Kittie's producer, GGGarth Richardson, is also named in the suit as a co-defendant. Kittie's camp claims Richardson, who helmed both 2000's Spit and 2001's Oracle, is still owed over $100,000 by Artemis for his efforts. The band hopes for a swift resolution to the monetary conflict with its label. In a statement, Kittie manager David Lander stated, "The band is very disappointed that this process has to take place. This suit should not come as a surprise to Artemis, as Garth and Kittie have been demanding that monies owed be rectified since the audit's completion." We'll bring you more info as it becomes available. • Place Of Skulls, featuring former Spirit Caravan-er Wino, has titled its forthcoming album With Vision, which will see a release through Southern Lord later this year.

LOUD ROCK Q&A CRADLE OF FILTH'S DANI FILTH!

If you're still surprised that Ozzfest 2003 side stage headliner Cradle Of Filth has signed to the Sony mega conglomerate, you're not alone. The ever affable, thoroughly Brit frontman Dani Filth (center, above) recently gave CMJ a piece of his mind.

Do you live in London?

Fuck no. I live in the countryside in Ipswich.

Is Cradle really black metal anymore?

I prefer Cradle Of Filth; that is the ultimate description. Not gothic atmospheric grind sludge core.

When you die, where are you going? Hell? Purgatory?

I've got no idea. I spent time in India in Christmas. My mom has a house out there. My sister and her boyfriend, myself, my girlfriend and my daughter all spent three weeks there. I explored ideas of reincarnation. I would like to believe there is a life after, but I don't believe in the concepts of heaven and hell. It's too black and white. You can be a pious Christian all your life and make a small mistake and you go to hell for eternity. It hardly seems fair. I like that you can be evil all your life and have deathbed repentance. It's like these women on diets! 'Oh, I had too many calories today. I am going to punish myself by not having breakfast tomorrow.'

LOUD ROCK INDUSTRY NEWS

The thoroughly loveable Rich Hall has abdicated his role at Abacus Recordings and returned to the East Coast (we just knew he couldn't stay away from us). We'll keep you posted on where Mr. Hall ends up next. We're sure it'll be an interesting ride, wherever it is! • The Spring 2003 semester is just about over and plenty of Loud Rock Director changes are a'happening. T.J. "The Hardcore Midget" Farrell is graduating from college and will exit his role at WSHL/North Easton, MA. "Chainsaw" Chris Cayer will replace him in the fall. Cayer's Email is: wshlmetal@yahoo.com. • Also, WKNC/Raleigh, NC has a new Loud Rock Director in the form of Kate Thompson. Get in touch Kate electronically at: wknc_kate@hotmail.com.

OPETH

Damnation

(Music For Nations-Koch)
Warning: Opeth's Damnation is not a Loud Rock record. Not even a little bit. There is no riffery, nor is there any heinous growling during one minute of Damnation. Opeth is normally more metal than your ma's kettle, but on Damnation, the companion to last year's stake-inthe-heart Deliverance, the Swedish band flexes its mellowest muscles; Damnation is almost entirely acoustic-based and the vocals are cleanly sung, resulting in a distinct 1970s feel throughout (much like frontman Mikael Åkerfeldt's hairstyle and handlebar mustache!). Beautiful and lush, Damnation will burrow into the hearts of metal fans that have a soft spot for pretty 'n' painful, mournful music. While this outing will not be the yardstick by which the Opeth catalogue is measured, it's an ambitious divergence from form and a successful one at that. "Death Whispered A Lullaby" and "Ending Credits" will kill you softly.

KATATONIA

Viva Emptiness (Peaceville)

Viva Emptiness. Uplifting, huh? Of course not! Katatonia is one of the many European metal bands that have morphed from blood-splattered death metal to mid-tempo prog, so the bleakness is no surprise. Viva Emptiness sounds fresh and Opeth-ian, thanks to the complex layering of the gruff and the gorgeous. It's the abrasive underpinnings that contrast the smoothness of Viva Emptiness. There's something inherently gothic about Katatonia's music, image and lyrics, but not in an "I wear all black and hate my dad" way. The first two tracks emit a dark, eerie quality; these songs could serve as soundtracks to a horror movie where what you don't see scares the shit out of you.

CARNAL FORGE

The More You Suffer (Century Media)

Slayer, watch out. Carnal Forge wants to reign in blood and is gunning to usurp your throne as heavy metal royalty with The More You Suffer. This album, while undoubtedly Swedish and melodic, proudly knots its roots around American thrash. Super fast drumming, twin guitar riffing (guitarists Jan and Petri Kuusisto will kill nü-metal dead with one quick stroke of their bloodied "axes") and shrieking vocals that remind us of Soilwork's Björn Strid abound on The More You Suffer, which easily surpasses the fury quotient the Forge displayed on last year's Please...Die! "Deathblow" and "Divine Killing Breed Machine" proudly display their influences. Carnal Forge (which is the title of a Carcass tune) holds its horns high.

ARTISTS HOUSE LABEL REVIVED

Old school Jazz-heads may remember Artists House, the short-lived, artist-friendly label founded in 1977 by the then 29year-old John Snyder. Now, thanks to an unsolicited grant, Snyder has re-launched the label. According to Snyder, the grant came from a foundation that was (remarkably) concerned about the Jazz business, and that the record companies were exiting it. "They were aware of my work at Artists House and wanted to know if I'd consider reopening Artists House as a nonprofit music company if they'd give me the money to do it," he explains. "Of course I immediately said, 'No.' I mean, who wouldn't? The record business? What fool would undertake that, especially in the world of free music?"

Snyder changed his mind, however, and is now the proud papa of a nonprofit corporation dedicated to "educational" purposes and the glorification of improvised music, American music, blues and singer-songwriters of the story-telling type. Since January, the label has released albums by Jazz singer Nancy Harrow, Oteil And The Peacemakers and Scrapomatic, with new efforts coming from Bob Brookmeyer And Kenny Wheeler and Jason Crosby. More than simply releasing CDs, the label is attempting to combat the tired concept of the album simply being a collection of songs by giving consumers more — an additional DVD included with the releases features a 24-bit/96k stereo mix in Dolby Digital surround sound, a video of the recording session, artist interviews, song-by-song commentary by the artist and files with the songs written out as sheet music. If you put the DVD in your computer, it will allow access to Web sites and files related to the recording. Remarkably, this all comes at the same price as the average CD. "This is to give the consumer more," Snyder explains. "It brings people into the process, and gives them a fuller picture of the artist."

In case anyone thinks Snyder is a madman, he's actually had a long and celebrated career in music. He's been nominated for a Grammy 32 times, winning five times as a producer. He got his start in the early '70s, working under the legendary Creed

John Snyder with Abby Lincoln

Taylor at CTI records as his point person for business affairs. publishing, A&R, manufacturing, quality control and distribution. Snyder obviously knew his way around the business, so it was no surprise that Herb Alpert and Jerry Moss hired him two years later (when CTI went out of business) to run A&M Jazz imprint Horizon, which Snyder founded. He subsequently founded Artists House on his own; promising artists that they would own their own music. Snyder brought in guys like Ornette Coleman, Thad Iones, Chet Baker, Charlie Haden, Cecil Taylor, Jim Hall and Gil Evans to the Artists House fold. The label lasted six years before, as Snyder colorfully explains, "MCA killed it like a leg-olamb" during a downturn in the economy. He went on to do a stint at Atlantic and has been a freelance producer since then.

Now Snyder is off on a new adventure. "I want to engage listeners, respect listeners — not condemn them or complain about technology," he says, referring to his new cutting-edge approach in an era of downloads and burning discs. "I am abandoning the failing tactics of the music business. I may not be completely right in my approach, and I could probably do better, but at least I'm trying to do something different and, I hope, something positive."

BITS AND PIECES

One of Louis Armstrong's first trumpets has come home to roost in his hometown of New Orleans. The homecoming was marked by a celebration at the local Hard Rock Café, where local musicians like trumpeter Kermit Ruffins performed. Framed in a wooden box behind the stage in the club's Louisiana Room, the trumpet is the only one of Armstrong's that is on display anywhere. • Speaking of the Big Easy, noted clarinetist Pete Fountain is retiring from the nightclub business after 43 years. Fountain, 72, first opened his own club on Bourbon Street in 1960, but for the last 26 years has held down a gig at the Hilton's Riverside Club. According to Fountain, tourism is down in this post-9/11 world and, rather than struggle to fill the room, he decided it was time to move on to new challenges. Fountain's last performance at the Riverside was March 28, with 400 family members, friends and invited guests in attendance. • Joshua Redman is currently out on tour with Sam Yahel and Jeff Ballard, but it's going to be a family affair when he steps on stage with dad, saxophonist Dewey Redman, on June 6 at San Francisco's Herbst Theatre, as part of SFJAZZ's spring season. Dubbed the "Redman Reunion," the two will be joined by bassist Charlie Haden, whose association with the elder Redman reaches back more than 30 years, and Matt Wilson, Dewey's regular drummer.

CHICK COREA

Rendezvous In New York

(Stretch)

Culled from a 2001 three-week stand at NYC's Blue Note club celebrating his 60th birthday, this double-CD affair should have been called This Is Your Life, Chick Corea. Nine different combos appear over the course of its 12 tracks, featuring a veritable who's who of modern day

Jazz. The performances are loose, as Bobby McFerrin's goofing around at the beginning of disc one will attest, but the sound is fantastic, thanks to Super Audio CD technology — it probably even sounds better than what came through the house PA at the time. Corea's dizzying combination of style and chops is in full effect here, gracefully leading the way (whichever of many directions it may be) with an endless flow of ideas. It's hard to think of this longtime-young Turk as moving towards the autumn of his life, but it's readily apparent here that he won't be going gently into that good night.

GARAGE A TROIS

Emphasizer (Tone-Cool)

The first album by this all-star combo (Charlie Hunter, Stanton Moore, Skerik and Mike Dillon), Emphasizer is a jazzy cross between P-Funk and Jimi Hendrix with a few aesthetic detours into Latin and World music. The songs' strong sense of groove allows the soloists to attack these jams with zeal, while all sorts of weird effects add a surreal aura to them — saxophonist Skerik will definitely cause listeners to pause when he stomps on his distortion pedal. Moore and Dillon aren't the stay-at-home type either, constructing dense rhythms and even doing a few solo pieces of their own. This is a weird, but altogether engaging effort.

REGINA CARTER

Paganini: After A Dream (Verve)

It's an odd idea to pair up Detroit-bred Regina Carter with Paganini's violin, a Guarneri named "The Cannon," so it should come as no surprise that she is the first Jazz violinist ever to play the famed instrument. Carter does the violin honor, playing more in a classical vein, backed by an orchestra on tunes from Debussy and Ravel. But there is also a South American vibe happening on "Black Orpheus," a samba-ized version of the theme music from Cinema Paradiso, and an orchestrated version of Piazzolla's "Oblivion." As such, rather than the usual Carter-ian fire, we a get a simmering pot of sophisticated passion.

TOUR TIDBITS

Chin Up Chin Up (pictured) is a quintet led by Jeremy Bolen and Nathan Snydacker that's currently generating a buzz with its rich, catchy indie-pop songs. Be sure to check out the band while it makes rounds this spring, promoting its self-titled six-song EP. The tour runs from April 28, in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, until May 16, in Lawrence, Kansas, with select shows also featuring Mercury Program, +/- and Pedro The Lion. Visit www.chinupchinup. com for full tour listings.

The College Radio darlings in Built To Spill are embarking on a stretch of performances on May 9, starting in its hometown of Boise, Idaho. Frontman Doug Martsch and the boys will be testing out new material on stage, but these shows are only going to hit the western half of the U.S. — attendees should feel free to Email tourdates@cmj.com with their reactions to the gigs and the new songs, so those of us out East can know what to expect.

Canadian band Silverstein merges hardcore with easy-onthe-ears vocals, carried by a flood of multifaceted rhythms. The group is currently touring in support of When Broken Is Easily Fixed, due out May 20 on Victory Records. Check out the live show — the next date is April 30 in Chicago. Log on to www.silversteinmusic.com for the full tour itinerary.

Michael Gira will make you bite your nails in a frenzy of emotion, as sonic titans clash on your eardrums at his live shows, so don't miss his Angels Of Light tour with Devendra Banhart. This spine-tingling live pairing has six dates left on the books, running from April 22–27. Click to www. younggodrecords.com for more information.

Jan Jelinek (Farben, Gramm)
Avec The Exposures is readying for a cluster of dates beginning on April 24 in New York City, to present the latest installment of his innovative production skills at work with a personal brand of chill dance music. The new album, La Nouvelle Pauvreté, is available on Scape: check out www.scape-music.de for the full skinny.

Xiu Xiu (Vital Five, NMR No. 808) was forced to cancel its lengthy tour, following the theft of the band's rare equipment and instruments on March 22. CMJ sends regards to the group and eagerly awaits a re-scheduled outing.

HART OF THE MATTER

hat a story the White Stripes are telling. From Detroit metro obscurity to a record that, this week on the CMJ Retail 100, eclipsed the sales of Linkin Park's Meteora (now in its questionably priced sophomore week) by nearly 250 percent. Elephant's total scans are over 126k in its first week and it has shipped nearly 400k. The duo has earned this one and it's great to see another hit brewing in the V2 cauldrons, where Jim Kelly and gang are cooking up awesome new releases from Whirlwind Heat and Grandaddy.

Elephant was not without its hitches, though. Reports from some independent retailers and their customers are pointing fingers at a trigger-happy Best Buy for breaking street date—especially in areas where midnight release parties were scheduled and meant the world to the indies sponsoring them. Despite the fact that indies still did well with the record, its remains a brazen what-are-you-going-to-do-about-it? slap-in-the-face that big boxes flaunt with impunity. For the record (and to their credit) as soon as rumors surfaced, V2 immediately tried to address the problem, but unfortunately an Elephant without a leash is much harder to corral than a cat to a bag.

This week, the CRIA (Canadian Recording Industry Association) announced a "Got Music?"-like campaign promoting the consumer upsides to buying rather than burning/downloading. The primary pitch is to nine-to-17-year-old kids, who the CRIA and labels are trying to help understand that when they buy music, they give artists the chance to make more music and new artists a fighting chance to be heard. TV spots feature mostly non-actor kids in locations like a quiet van quickly transformed when someone puts on the Vines, or high schoolers in a pre-game locker room, looking down until someone pumps up the Snoop Dogg. It's a you-need-music-music-needs-you campaign made to appeal to a kid's sense of cultural equilibrium with and without music. They have a tough row to hoe but they'll probably play better than appeals from P. Diddy. They are not as preachy as they could have been. All ads direct kids to keepmusiccoming.com.

Ask owner of Michigan retailer Desirable Discs Anne Garbus, who isn't always a big fan of the RIAA, but who reached out in response to Andrew Dobos, editor of the Michigan Tech Lode, quoted in a Detroit Free Press article arguing against the RIAA's pursuit of a downloading college student. "I don't see that any member of the recording industry is hurting as a result of what these students have done," Dobos said, "and these rich people are suing him for all this money? How heartless do you have to be?"

Anne's response: "Andrew, how heartless do you have to be? I'm a single parent, mother of two and I'm not rich. My car is eleven years old, I can't remember when the last time I bought a new pair of jeans. I can't assist my eldest daughter with her tuition payments to a community college. Why? Because sales for the third straight year are down... So Andrew, you're not Robin Hood stealing from the rich and giving to the poor, you're just stealing."

Rolling Stone – "Unforgettable."
US Weekly – "Alluring."
Entertainment Weekly – "Enlightened."
Alternative Press – "Deceptively tuneful, delightfully dark."
The New Yorker – "Remarkable."
Village Voice – "Excellently crazy."

SPEAK OUT

CMJ interview with George Daniels

Owner/Founder George's Music Room Chicago, IL

I just left the NARM convention down in Orlando, I'm the first person of color to ever be on that board. In the last three years, there's no more Urban Network convention, there's no more Impact convention—and these were the homes of black independent retail. Now there's really no place for us to belong to right now. A couple other organizations are attempting to put things together, hopefully they can, but we definitely need some place where we can come together and network and cry on each other's shoulders.

We're at a disadvantage. Because most of us are in innercity neighborhoods, we are really relegated to one genre of music and that's black music. We don't have the luxury of selling Latin music. We don't have the luxury of selling classical and all the different ethnic musics. I don't know many independent retailers that sell karaoke. We don't have that much of an inventory spread that other items could offset the loss in music sales—or the loss in just the urban sales because the chains stores are giving the product away. You have to be aggressive. You can't just sit back and roll over.

Just recently, we did the R. Kelly in-store. I've done thousands of in-stores over the years. This, by far, was the greatest instore I've ever done. As far as the amount of pieces moved, the amount of people that turned out, how positive it was. It was phenomenal. Now, normally, I've sold as little as 20 or 30 pieces at an in-store to 400 or 500. We moved 1,169 pieces at Rob's instore that day. This past summer, I was doing my block parties—I get the city to shut the street down. We did Mario last summer and we shut the whole block down. Another two weeks after that we did Scarface.... By being an independent retailer you are your own man or your own woman. And you have to be creative with your operation.

UNDER THE RADAR

This week in Under The Radar we want to draw special attention to those albums that are either making important moves on CMJ Retail charts or are just about to. We'll also throw in a few reasons on the what, why and how things are beginning to pop.

TALIB KWELI

Quality
Rawkus
Catalog No. 113048
The former Black Star member found some solid MTV play this week—sneaking consciousness rhymes (OK, you did too, Nas) in an increasing apolitical sea of hip-hop videos. Top 10s from Vintage Vinyl (University City) at No. 5*, Record Emporium (Chicago) at No. 6, Hoodlums New And Used Music (Tempe) at No. 8* and Music Millenium (Portland) at No. 8*. Rank jumps across the board. Current Top 100 chart position: 58*

EVERYTHING BUT THE GIRL

Like The Deserts Miss The Rain Rhino Catalog No. 73838

Cocktail-jazz-cum-neo-elec-tronica Brit duo Everything But The Girl leap 18 spots to No. 60* with their two-decade career retrospective. Top 10s at Virgin (NYC and San Francisco) and rank jumps all over the place: ear X-tacy (Louisville), Fingerprints (Long Beach), Sonic Boom (Seattle), Wuxtry (Decatur), Uncle Sam's (Miami Beach), Easy Street (Seattle), Tower (San Francisco), many more. Current Top 100 chart position: 60***

STEREOMUD

Every Given Moment Loud Catalog No. 86488 Brooding nu-metallers Stereomud throw themselves onto the chart with a No. 66* debut in their opening week. A top 10 showing from the Disc Exchange (Knoxville) at No. 9* and Top 30s at Appleton Imports (Appleton, WY), East Alley (Rochester, MI), Record And Tape Traders (Owings Mills, MD), Record Exchange (Greensboro, NC), Rock-A-Billy's (Utica, MI) and more. Current Top 100 chart position: 66***

FLOETRY

Floetic
DreamWorks
Catalog No. 13782
The hip-hop-inflected Philly neo-soulsters in Floetry are methodically sidling back up our chart: jumping from No. 92 to No. 86 to No. 72*. A top 10 showing from Crow's Nest (Crest Hill, IL) and Top 30s all over: Angelo's (Aurora, CO), Be-Bop (Ridgeland, MS), DMRC (Detroit), Manifest (Columbia, SC), Music City (Nashville), Paradise (Fayettesville, NC), Sound Garden (Baltimore) and many more. Current Top 100 chart position: 72*

RAVEONETTES

Whip It On Columbia Catalog No. 71044 The Danish duo has been on the final legs of CMJ's

Advance Warning Tour whipping up a 17-point jump to 78*. Top 10s from LakeShore Record Exchange (Rochester, NY) at No. 5*, Virgin (L.A.) at No. 5* and Record Service (Champaign, IL) at No. 6*. Top 30s at Bionic (Huntington Beach and Cypress), Finest (Greeley, CO), Good (Dallas), LINCS (Long Beach), Twist And Shout (Denver), more. Current Top 100 chart position: 78*

BE GOOD TANYAS

Chinatown
Nettwerk
Catalog No. 30304
Vancouver neo-folk trio Be

Good Tanyas redebut at No. 98*. Top 10 showings from Music Millennium (Portland, both locations), Sonic Boom (Seattle), Pure Pop Records (Burlington, VT) and Olsson's Books And Records (Rockville, MD). Top 30s from Cactus (Houston), Electric Fetus (Minneapolis), Schoolkids (Cary, NC), Tower (San Francisco) Vinyl Fever (Tallahassee) and more, more, more! Current Top 100 chart position: 98*

Radio	No. 1 most-added at CMJ for the week of March 25. Album was presaged by the "Fuck The People" 7" and the December release of the Black Rooster EP (Dim Mak). Focus tracks are "Cat Claw" and "Fuck The People."	Beneath jumped onto the CMJ Radio Top 200 two weeks ago at No. 131, up to No. 119 this week. Focus tracks are "Take Care," "Priceless" and "Walking Downtown." Emo fans will really like this record, has mainstream appeal without compromising its punk roots.	Top 5 most-added record last week at CMJ (100 stations added). Debuted at No. 169 on the CMJ Radio 200 and just jumped up 118 positions this week to No. 51. Record's hot, so many great songs on this one. Definitely check out "Misfit."	Going for college radio adds 4/14 and focusing more on tour-market stations for live interviews and studio performances. Triple A has been serviced with the single "You Can't Hide." PDs and MDs are being brought out to shows for meet-and-greets.
Video	No video as of yet. Video for "Wait" will be streaming later in the year, along with a band-directed tour diary, on both the band's site and Rough Trade's site.	EPK available 4/18. Video slated to be shot in May with Andy Bruntel (Simian, Money Mark).	No video yet.	Video for "Just Like Murder" just wrapped, filmed at the Paramount Theatre. Live video performances (including footage from their recent sold-out show at Seattle's Showbox) at maktub.com. EPK in the works.
Press/TV	Upcoming ink in Rolling Stone, Spin, Time Out NY, Alternative Press, Magnet, Nylon and a lead review in Strength.	Features from Alternative Press, Mean Street, Skratch, Rockpile, CMJ New Music Report, more. Fanzine support is also percolating both with E-zines and in print. You'll be hearing more from these guys. Print ads in similar mags nationwide.	Press growing daily: Village Voice, Spin, Filter, Blender, CMJ, AP, Amplifier, Heckler, NY Post, Chicago Tribune, Request, Yellow Rat Bastard, DIW, Guitar Player, Interview, Paper and even the Cleveland Plain Dealer.	Recently featured on NPR's All Things Considered. Press following suit with support from Billboard, Boston Globe, Chicago Sun-Times, Relix, CMJ.  MSN.com: "This band has mad soul" Much more to come once band hits the road.
Tour	Headlining US tour. Dates with Yeah Yeah Yeahs, Primal Scream and Libertines: Boston, DC, Atlanta, N.O., Houston, Austin, Tucson, L.A., SF, Portland, Seattle, Mnpls., Milwaukee, Madison, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, wrapping in NYC (5/5).	Band will be on tour (3/28 – 5/15) with Watashi Wa (Tooth and Nail) and Acceptance (TMG) and then Brandston (Deep Elm). Band hitting every major and secondary market.	Sold out shows from NYC to Austin, sometimes wrapped around the block. Philly (4/10), Hoboken (4/26), back to Philly (5/1), NYC (5/1), Boston (5/3), DC (5/5), Cambridge (5/7), more. Shows with the Frogs, Cousteau and Party of Helicopters.	On tour through May, then on to summer festivals. L.A., Tucson, Boulder, Chicago, Mnpls., Buffalo, Burlington, Albany, Boston, N.O., Auburn, Nashville, Charlotte, Baltimore, DC, NYC, Philly, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Atlanta and back again.
Internet	Best site is the band's: www.thekills.tv. Current E-card and streamed tracks featured on www.roughtradeamerica.com	Band featured on the front page of MP3.com, at emotionalpunk.com, absolutepunk.net, utterpunk.com, euphoniczine.com, diyzine.com, much more to come. Check out the label site at themilitiagroup.com/medicinetree and the band's at thecopelandsite.com	Best sites are elefantweb.com, kemado.com and palmpictures.com which, between them, give fans a load of pics, news and some streaming and downloadable mp3s. Kemado is extremely active with its E-mail lists and Elefant's own growing fan base online.	Downloads, streaming video, tour info, etc. at maktub.com. Featured artist on okay-player.com and jambase.com. On Amazon rock homepage for two weeks and part of SNP E-mail blast. Maktub and Velour street teams working through Internet to get flyers and posters on street.
Notes	Comprised of American expat W (Alison Mosshart, formerly of Florida punkers Discount) and London-based Hotel (Jamie Hince), plus their trusty drum machine and Dictaphone, the Kills have built a reputation as a smoldering live act. For POP, in-store play copies and tickets contact your BMG rep, brian.pearl@sanctuarygroup.com or bob cabill@sanctuarygroup.com	This one was produced by Grammy-nom- inated Matt Goldman (Denison Marrs, My Hotel Year). Band just hooked up with Fata Booking (Jets To Brazil, Elliott). R.I.Y.L. Dashboard Confessional, Something Corporate—much more interesting, though, musically.	There's Bowie, Blur and Interpol, wrapped up in Sunlight . Palm gives retail some great tools to help spread the word on their new acts, so reach out to lisa.nishimura@ palmpictures.com for stickers, posters, buttons, questions and the three-EP promotion. CD will be "super tagged" with all the album songs burned onto the CD as hi quality MP3s, as well as a books propagation.	Definitely check this one out. CMJ was lucky enough to include the single, "You Can't Hide," on the latest in-store play sampler that you all at retail recently received. Sure, jam band Web sites picked up on these guys, but Maktub is for all fans of sticky funk and true-school groove music! Front man Reggie Watts is being touted as equal parts velvet and rusty nail, "smooth Casanova one minute, rock god the next." Check tem out.

COUNTER CULTURE: RECORD EXCHANGE Section by Jamie Farkas • jfarkas@cmj.com

n 1974, in the small town of McCall, Idaho (pop. 2,084), there were only two jobs available for Sacramento refugee Michael Bunnell: working at a restaurant or becoming a logger. Bunnell, then in his mid-20s, spent his first years in Idaho helping a machine pull logs up steep hills with a one-inch-thick cable. "At the end of the day, if you're real macho, you hitched your leg into this big thing and rode up," says Bunnell, who often did just that. "[One day] it just came undone and tossed me down the hill." Bunnell fell 40 feet down a steep Idaho slope, breaking his leg. He couldn't walk for a year, subsequently ending his career in logging, but the settlement money was enough to start Boise retailer the Record Exchange in 1977!

More then 25 years later, Bunnell is proud to be "a full service store, not a niche store." Says Bunnell, "We attempt to do everything because that's what the town needs." With an in-store coffee shop (the Edge) and a full service gift store carrying cards, T-shirts and everything Simpsons-related, the Record Exchange's eclectic mix of products serves a diverse amount of needs to the community that marketing and promotions director Tim Johnstone calls "family."

Q&A with Tim Johnstone, marketing and promotions director, the Record Exchange

What local press affects sales most? Daily paper The Idaho Statesman and our free weekly alternative the Boise Weekly.

What radio station affects sales most?

Our NPR affiliates have a big impact on us. If something gets featured on the Morning Edition or All Things Considered, we have people in the door that day looking for it. Also new rock station KQXR and our Triple A station, KRVB—the River, which I actually do afternoon drive for.

Do you have in-stores?

Oh yeah! We just had a local band called Exit 51 that we're really excited about. In the past we've had Ben Harper, Smashing Pumpkins, the Melvins and Doug Martsch. We don't have our own PA but we're actually trying to get one as we speak.

The Record Exchange... Damn, what did I come in here to buy again?

What is your most effective program?

It's difficult to say. The CIMS listening station sells CDs better than any other post we have in the store. Another Coalition program, Adopt-A-Band also works really well. Generally speaking, anything that's in a Coalition program does really well for us.

What other programs do you offer? Are any of them discretionary?

We have a monthly program with the Boise Weekly, appropriately called "the Boise Weekly Monthly Ad Program." [It] includes a listening station and a full-color ad. We also have window displays and 140 discretionary listening post slots a month.

What types of non-traditional promotions have worked best?

We do a lot of cross-promotions with the Edge. It opens at 6 a.m. and the RX doesn't open until 9 a.m., so releases that make sense for the early morning coffee crowd are featured in the Edge so people can pick them up. We also work within the community with other coffee shops, skateboard shops, etcetera, by providing them music and they, in turn, direct people back to us.

What display materials work best for you?

Three-by-three boards are very easy for us too use; and if we have one for a band we really like, it will stay up for a while. We use posters and flats for our window displays and whatever we don't use in the store we give away to customers.

What records are your current and alltime favorites?

Exit 51's Fair Weather and Echo And The Bunnymen's Ocean Rain.

What's the first record you bought and where?

I bought three at the same time: David Bowie's Changesonebowie, Elton John's Captain Fantastic And The Brown Dirt Cowboy and Olivia Newton-John's If You Love Me, Let Me Know at a Naval Base in California.

What's the best concert you've attended?

The Serious Moonlight Tour with Bowie, the Go-Go's and Madness, which I saw at the Anaheim Stadium in Anaheim, California.

NEWSWORTHY

Dilyn Runs Her ASA Off!

Usually the only time the local retail buyer is running for Strokes is when they're sold out of copies of Is This It. However Dilyn Radakovitz, buyer for Sacramento retailer Dimple Records, is running for a different stroke: competing in a marathon to raise money and awareness for the American Stroke Association.

Train To End Stroke is a fivemonth program that trains folks how to run marathons and raises donations for the ASA (a division of the American Heart Association). The 56-year-old Dilyn is currently preparing to run the Rock 'N' Roll Marathon, a 26.2-mile trek in San Diego.

Dilyn has immersed herself in her training, running with her friends early in the morning every Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday—come rain, come sleet or come National Association of Recording Merchandisers conventions!

"When we were at NARM, I had to run 13 miles on Saturday," Dilyn says. "We were in Orlando and it's kind of humid and I didn't have anvone to run with me. So I went in the gym in the hotel. I'm running on the treadmill, I did five miles and I think the thing started smoking!"

Dilyn's training has recently brought her up to a 15-mile run, a three hour trek that she does early in the morning... often right before spending an entire day working at Dimple! But Dilyn will get her running done, whether facing a long office day or the jagged waves of the Atlantic.

White Light Motorcade

"[The weekend after NARM], we were on a ship on the way to Nassau. On the top of the ship, they have a track. I'm running around the track one mile is seven laps—the ship starts pulling out," Dilyn says, "and it starts going up and down; sometimes I'm running on air and sometimes I'm down to my knees. It was crazy, but I did all 77 laps."

Dilyn, who has been known to run with Michael Kurtz of the Music Monitor Network, was inspired to run for the ASA after having a grandmother, a grandfather and an uncle die from either strokes or stroke complications. "I felt like I could do this for me and do this for them."

Dilyn is fundraising at the following unnecessarily long Web site: www.kintera.org/faf/ donorReg/donorPledge.asp?iev ent=13422&lis=1&supId=3454 393. She hopes to raise $2,800 and has raised $793 so far. Show a little retail love and help fund research that's working to prevent a deadly disease, educate about warning signs and provide stroke survivors with help.

White Hot White Light

Fans of scruffy New York garage-meets-Brit-pop quartet White Light Motorcade (and current stars of the CMI/MTV2/ Nokia tour) will have to wait a little longer to get a copy of their Octone debut Thank You, Goodnight! The record, originally due April 15, has been pushed back to June 3.

"We keep getting more tour dates and every week we get more press coming out of the UK," says Octone's head of sales, Jim Chambers. "There's no need to release it before its time."

CMJ surmises it just didn't want to compete with the Kelly Clarkson record due the same day.

Classical Fans In Boston Take Hit

On May 10, chain retailer HMV will closes the doors to another one of its stores, this time in Boston's Harvard Square. While news of a large chain closing a store isn't exactly surprising in these volatile times, the Boston HMV was the store that The Boston Phoenix called, "the one place in town where you could still find a decent segment of classical music's deep catalogue." Instead of downloading and loss-leaders, HMV Boston is a victim of skyrocketing rents in Harvard Square, online sales and the general downturn in the classical music industry.

To submit free job listings, email Doug Levy • dougl@cmj.com

INTERNSHIPS

CMJ Music Marathon is seeking music-loving interns with excellent computer skills, working knowledge of computer database systems and good ears to assist with the 2003 Marathon. Familiarity with live music events a plus. Interns required to work at least two days a week and must be available during the CMJ Music Marathon (Oct. 22–25). Duties include: listening to and evaluating band submissions, coordinating direct mail and email pieces, maintaining music library and database, various events administrative tasks and staffing the on-site registration booth. College credit is available. To apply, email resume or work experience and cover letter to Chris White, Events Showcase Director at chrisw@cmj.com.

GoBig! Entertainment (Shortie, Big Air Experience, Streetwise DVD, etc.) is looking for very motivated interns who are interested in learning about the inner workings of a music supervision company, record label, management company, car wash — we do it all! Check out www. gobigentertainment. com to see if you have what it takes, then email greg@gobigentertainment with a resume and cover letter. School credit is preferred but not essential.

Eagle Rock Entertainment (Spitfire Records, Eagle Records and Eagle Vision) is seeking summer interns to work in various departments, including Radio, Retail, Street Team, Publicity/Press, Production, and Advertising. Interns should be punctual, motivated, quick learners and must be able to receive college credits. Please send resumes to Scott Meyer at smeyer@spitfirerecords.com; phone: 212.354.1101, Ext. 318; fax: 212.354.1103; mail: Eagle Rock Entertainment, 22 W. 38th St., 7th Floor, New York, NY 10018.

Music Choice has a full-time (40 hours per week) paid internship ($10/hour) available in its New York City office. Responsibilities include gathering, editing and creating content for display on our Latin Format channels and Web site, as well as assisting in implementing/executing promotions and writing promotional copy for TV panels. Must be able to speak and write English and Spanish, have excellent editing and writing skills and knowledge of various Latin music formats. Internet research experience, as well as proficiency in Internet navigation is also a must. Send resumes to jobs@musicchoice.com; fax: 215.784.5870.

Shut Eye Records is seeking interns who live in the Atlanta metro area to assist with Radio Promotions, Publicity and other label fun. This is a great hands-on learning experience! Interns will work two-to-three days a week for one month at our Atlanta office. Internships are unpaid, but college credit is available for students. Call Pete Knapp at 404.614.0120 for more info; email: knapp@shuteyerecords.com

STREET TEAMS AND MARKETING

KOCH Entertainment is looking for College Reps in the following markets: Atlanta; Chicago; NYC; San Francisco; Los Angeles. Reps will be involved with the grassroots marketing of KOCH's diverse artist roster to the music community in their areas. Responsibilities include organizing listening parties, visiting local music retailers and possibly assisting with concert and radio promotion. Applicants must love music, be creative, resourceful, have a good knowledge of local establishments (record stores, music venues, coffee houses, etc.) and be currently enrolled at a four-year university. Please send all inquiries/resumes to callingallreps@yahoo.com.

REPORTING DATES

April 4 - April 8

CMJ REPORTING HOURS

6 a.m. Friday - 2 p.m. Tuesday EST www.cmj.com/reporting/

NOTE TO REPORTERS: Printed playlists reflect airplay reported to CMJ two weeks prior to magazine's cover date. The number of station playlists printed each week in CMJ is randomly determined by available space.

CMJ REPORTING GUIDELINES

CMJ Airplay Reporters must submit reports weekly, via the online interface located at www.cmj.com, prior to 2 p.m. (ET) every Tuesday afternoon, abiding to the following guidelines:

- "Adds" are the new and current albums that a CMJ Airplay Reporter makes available for airplay and reasonably expects will receive airplay during the forthcoming week.
- Albums reported in a CMJ Airplay Reporter's Top 30 playlist must represent the 30 most played current albums on the station during the preceding week. Because we are a "new" music publication whose charts are album-based, reporting re-currents (or recordings more than a year old) or singles is not necessary.
- Airplay reports that do not correlate with actual airplay, also known as "paper adds," are not permitted under any circumstances.
- When CMJ cannot vouch for the accuracy of an artist and/or recording on a station's airplay report (we do so by investigating our own internal database, searching the Internet and/or consulting with online music retailers), the listing in question will remain in its position on the playlist, however, it will be preceded by an asterisk, as in *Beatles, to designate that it could not be verified at press time. CMJ will then utilize all available resources to verify the unverified listing either prior to the week's reporting close or before the next week's reporting period commences.
