COVER STORY

8 Bringing Down The House

While music sales slid for the third year in a row, P2P sites like Kazaa and Morpheus were easy targets to take the blame. After all, the file-sharing sites allow millions of people to download and burn entire albums without paying a dime. But are these sites really the problem, or is it bigger than that? This week, CMJ assembles an all-star cast representing various sides of the music industry to discuss how file-sharing and digital music have affected the music biz, and how the industry must evolve in order to stay relevant to its customers.

Friends,

It's time to put away the magnifying glass and rejoice. As you may have already noticed, CMJ is now numbering entries on the airplay reports printed in the back of New Music Report. While this minor adjustment has drastically improved the readability of our stations' playlists, it still takes a set of bionic eyes to read through them all comfortably. Bionic eyes are in short supply, however, so we've taken some further steps to enhance the readability of our airplay reports.

Effective with this issue, CMJ will now be posting the two most recent issues of weekly specialty airplay reports (Loud Rock, Crucial Spins, Jazz, RPM, Hip-Hop, New World and Ñ Alternative) online, without charge, at www.cmj.com/freenmr. Expanded to include album titles, the exclusive online-only airplay reports are much easier to read and simple to navigate. We will be posting the most current airplay reports on our Web site every Thursday morning concurrently with NMR Online, making them available to readers before the printed magazine arrives in the mailbox. As always, Radio 200 airplay reports and adds will be available for viewing exclusively through the Industry Area of CMJ's Web site, as well as in the printed version of the New Music Report. Did we mention that you no longer need bifocals to read them?

In addition, while CMJ is now posting the expanded specialty airplay reports exclusively on our Web site, the New Music Report will continue to print the call letters and market of each and every station that submitted a weekly playlist to each of our specialty charts. Furthermore, CMJ has increased the font size of our Radio 200 airplay and adds lists, which will continue to print in the magazine without change, making them much easier to read as well. You can see for yourself beginning on Page No. 45.

We hope that you — and your eyes — will be pleased with the changes. I welcome your feedback at: kevinb@cmj.com.

Respectfully yours,

Kevin Boyce

NON-COMMS GET A DEAL

The RIAA reached an agreement with College and non-commercial radio stations on May 30 that will allow the radio stations to stream their music over the Internet at a discounted royalty rate, lower than that which was originally established by the Librarian of Congress. Most College Radio stations re-transmitting their broadcasts online can expect royalty rates to be cut approximately in half, and Internet-only stations can expect even more savings. Not only does the new deal completely eliminate the arduous record-keeping requirements, but it also allows Webcasters to pay only a flat minimum fee through 2003. A noncommercial radio station at a college that enrolls fewer than 10,000 students will pay a blanket Webcasting fee of $250 per year; but if its listeners exceed 146,000 hours worth of music per month — the amount that 200 people listening around the clock would hear — the station will instead pay two-hundredths of a cent per song per listener above the limit. Other non-commercial Webcasters will pay up to $400. Under the agreement, any College Radio station that has played music online must pay $250 for each year between 2000 and 2003; 1998 and 1999 will count as one year, with a fee of $200. "We could have done more, but we wouldn't have signed it if we didn't think it would have benefited everybody," stated Will Robedee, Vice Chairman of Collegiate Broadcasters Inc. "We've settled on a rate structure that we feel most stations will be able to take advantage of."

MCA FOLDS INTO GEFLEN

At press time, Universal Music executives began a long-rumored reorganization of MCA that will eventually see the label folded into Geffen Records. The changes were met with massive layoffs in the promotion and A&R departments at MCA, including National Director of Alternative Marketing and College Promotion Scott Hajducky and College and Specialty Radio Promotions' Ellena Osis. As of press time, Geffen had only issued the following statement regarding the changes: "We have begun a restructuring process at MCA Records. Further details about the structure and staffing of the label will be announced shortly. We are grateful for the contributions made by the employees affected by these changes."

INDUSTRY SHUFFLE

Rob Cukierman has been hired on by the folks at Bar/None Records to handle the label's radio and press promotion. Cukierman comes to Bar/None from the Syndicate, where he handled College Radio promotion. Congratulate Rob on his new job by writing him at rob@bar-none.com. • Frequency Media has moved! The company can now be reached at: 1000 Chesterbrook Boulevard, Suite 150, Berwyn, PA 19312.

THE WEEK IN MUSIC NEWS

Compiled and written by Doug Levy • dougl@cmj.com

It would be an understatement to say that the inaugural Field Day Festival in New York didn't exactly go off as planned, but after all the final-hour chaos, things may have worked out for the best — although not for Beck. The event, originally planned as a two-day, multiple-stage gathering in Calverton, New York, complete with camping and all the usual festival frills, was shortened to one day and moved to Giants Stadium in nearby New Jersey after organizers failed to acquire the necessary security and permits that would have been needed to move forward at the original site. The reorganized concert took place on June 7, which was to have been the first day at the Long Island location, with the day being marked by non-stop rain and generally poor weather conditions. So, while many of the originally scheduled acts, including the Roots, the Streets, Interpol, Blackalicious and the Polyphonic Spree, did not appear as a result of the shortened timeframe, many fans attending were still quite thankful to be in a stadium with easy access to shelter, as opposed to being stuck in the mud and drenched in the middle of a field. Plus, by the time headliner Radiohead came on at the end of the day, the weather had cleared, leaving the band able to turn in the spectacular performance that half the crowd had come for anyway. But poor

Beck — although he was still on the bill, the artist was forced to abandon his time slot after being accidentally hit in the ribs by a stagehand while he watched Blur from the side of the stage. Luckily, nothing was broken, but he was still taken away to receive medical attention. “[Beck] sends his sincere apologies to his fans and hopes that, despite the weather and his absence, they managed to have a fun day at the show,” reads a statement on the singer's official Web site, www.beck.com. • Field Day isn't the only U.S. festival that has run into problems in 2003: this year's All Tomorrow's Parties North American fests have hit a wall on both coasts. The L.A. version of the event, which was first founded in the U.K. (where it continues to occur annually), was to have taken place from June 20–22, but has now been pushed back to late September, with poor ticket sales being cited as the reason. Each incarnation of ATP receives a different “curator,” who puts together the bill, with the California concert being arranged this year by Simpsons creator Matt Groening. The June lineup was to feature ... Trail Of Dead, Blonde Redhead, Le Tigre, Mogwai, Yo La Tengo and many others, although it is now unclear how many of the acts will reconfirm for the new dates. Meanwhile, the East Coast ATP festival, also slated for September and curated by Stephen Malkmus, was scheduled to take place in Asbury Park, NJ, but is now being moved to a new, as-yet-unannounced location. For more information on ATP and updates as to where and when things will hopefully be happening, visit www.atpfestival.com. • Rising Swedish sensations the Sounds were forced to call off their final string of North American dates opening up for the Raveonettes in early June, after singer Maja Ivarsson fell ill. Although no details regarding her illness were released, the band did post an apology for the cancellations on its Web site, www.the-sounds.com. “Sorry to everyone who made plans and wanted to see the band,” reads the post. “They will be back to tour America soon — we'll keep everyone posted. The band extends their regrets and promises to come back rocking harder and healthier.” • After kicking off with an opening weekend celebrating the blues on June 14–15, the Central Park SummerStage in NYC is back with another hot schedule for another hot summer in 2003. A benefit concert featuring Wilco and Sonic Youth on June 26 is one of the most talked-about bills of the season, but there are a slew of exciting free shows as well. Bringing international music into the spotlight, a day focusing on Iceland (June 28) will showcase Singapore Sling and other Icelandic acts, while Canada Day (June 29) will bring Rufus Wainwright, Daniel Lanois and the Dears to the stage. Other acts scheduled for throughout the summer include Orchestra Baobab and Sierra Maestra, the Gotan Project, De La Soul, Natacha Atlas, Afrocelts, Morgan Heritage, the Polyphonic Spree, and a special production from art-poppers Sparks, who will play with Junior Senior on Aug. 3. Also on the schedule are a number of other benefit shows, with varying ticket prices, including performances by the White Stripes, Elvis Costello And The Imposters, Ani DiFranco, Aimee Mann and Ben Folds, and Paul van Dyk. For a full lineup and ticket information, visit www.summerstage.org.

DEBUT ON CHART: Feb. 15, 1982
WEEKS ON CHART: 10
PEAK POSITION: No. 32

BLACK FLAG Damaged (SST)

From the piercing dissonance of guitarist Greg Ginn's opening feedback to the anxious screams of a young Henry Rollins, Damaged reduced listeners to an emotional pulp. With a reputation built by iconoclastic former frontmen like future-Circle Jerk Keith Morris to live up to, Black Flag's first full-length perfectly captured the angry, sweaty band that was ready to explode from the depravity of L.A. With Rollins fiercely delivering Ginn's wry, sarcastic lyrics, while the rest of the bandmembers relentlessly pushed their instruments beyond their breaking points, this album invented the HC sound on tracks like “TV Party,” “Rise Above” and “Depression.” Still bleeding with mirror-punching intensity, Damaged remains the moment in 1980s American hardcore. — Kory Grow

DEATH IN VEGAS

Scorpio Rising (Sanctuary)

When an established act gets a bunch of guest vocalists to perform on its album, it might seem like it's trying to compensate for something. Sure, lots of electronic artists feature a well-known singer on a song or two, but when you've got Hope Sandoval, Liam

Gallagher, Dot Allison, Paul Weller, Adult's Nicola Kuperus and Woodbine's Susan Dillane all on the same record, you end up with almost as many guests as tracks — not to mention a potential car-wreck of influences and styles. But amazingly, in this case, John Lennon himself could have risen from the grave to sing on one of DIV cohorts Richard Fearless and Tim Holmes's songs, and it would still be the music that demanded all the attention. Rather than come across as a stylistic mishmash, the U.K. duo's third full-length weaves a common thread through everything from fuzzed-out shoegazing ("Girls," "Diving Horses") to tripped-out flashback rock ("Scorpio Rising"), tying it all together in a way that indicates that not only has Death In Vegas not run out of ideas, but that it's actually starting to think bigger than ever before. — Doug Levy

DIVISION OF LAURA LEE

97-99 (Lovitt)

While it may have been Division Of Laura Lee's 2002 stateside debut, Black City, that saw the band riding the Swedish rock wave to American shores, don't expect 97-99 to sit as nicely among mod-rock records by fellow countrymen the Soundtrack

Of Our Lives or the Hives — this record could eat those bands for breakfast. Instead, DOLL's latest release culls material from the group's early years as a hardcore punk band, learning its trade through the close study of the Dischord artist roster and a helluva lot of screaming. In addition to providing furious, blazing guitars amid syncopated bludgeon beats, 97-99 acts as a bridge, showing fans how the Swede Lees came to their current punk-noir rock position. Opener "Guess My Name" shoves the listener into the album with choppy, dissonant guitar chords whipping through weepy falsettos and guttural wails; the slow-burning "Time To Live," meanwhile, is pushed by a driving bassline and drumbeat into an explosive powder keg of wild fretwork and rhythmic mayhem, proving that, while moving forward is never a bad thing, this Division will never forget where it came from. — Louis Miller

SINGAPORE SLING

The Curse Of Singapore Sling (Stinky)

Singapore Sling may have formed in Reykjavík, Iceland in late 2000, but this band has a sound that could have come straight from New York in the late '60s, when punk was just a gleam in the Velvet

Underground's eyes; or from the early recording sessions of the Jesus And Mary Chain, for that matter. The group's debut album is noisy, raw psychedelic rock that isn't afraid to be a little bit retro, while making sure to keep looking defiantly forward. Sure, some of the songs may be extremely dense, with layers of noise and gritty, lo-fi production, but the melody always shines through. The keyboard drones and slacker-ish vocal delivery of "Heart Of Chrome" makes for a dreamily focused garage tune, while the very Velvet-esque "Sunny Garden" is as relaxed as the album gets, highlighted by a warm organ and jangly tambourine. This is a record with attitude and style to spare, but with real heart and soul behind it, and not an empty fashion statement in sight. — Brad Filicky

THE TYDE

Twice (Rough Trade-Sanctuary)

For Darren Rademaker, lead singer/songwriter of The Tyde, all the world seems to be a stage. Rademaker can verbally manipulate any type of love to include some kind of stage metaphor, as in "Breaking Up The Band," where he compares an ending relationship to, well, the break-up of a band. On "Blood Brothers," meanwhile, he states that if a guy can last 25 years in a band, he can "be a brother" to him. Is he making subliminal comparisons to the time that he and his real-life brother, bassist Brent, have spent in the Tyde and in their mid-'90s skater outfit, Further? Perhaps. And certainly, Darren emphasizes the mostly warm, familial vibes that the band emanates through his music, which is dominated by surf pop and highlighted with an experimental edge reminiscent of Chicago's the Sea And Cake. Darren's voice is an amalgamation of Bob Dylan and Lou Reed — delivered in a low and vibrating, but liltily melodic tone that sounds strange and intriguing against the happy pop that the Tyde offers. These are real people, just stuck in a stage-like land. — Jayanthi K. Daniel

SAM ROBERTS

We Were Born In A Flame (Universal)

After Sam Roberts's first band failed to break through the tough L.A. scene, the Canadian singer/songwriter didn't let it drag him down. Instead, he did what any other great musician would do; he kept writing and recording more songs. He recorded his first full-length, Brother Down, which became a highly sought-after collectible for fans. His second effort, The Inhuman Condition continued to build his fanbase and drew the attention of record labels. Now, he's ready for his close-up with his major label debut for Universal Records. We Were Born In A Flame is a high-spirited record that rocks out when it feels the need. Unassuming and unpretentious, "On The Run" manages to avoid being cheesy even when Roberts sings, "I would die for rock 'n' roll." And "Where Have All The Good People Gone" may have depressing lyrics ("Oh, the Milky Way has gone sour/ The leaves dried and the flower fell away"), but you'll still find yourself singing along with its sunny-sounding chorus.

Good music and little ego rarely go hand-in-hand, but this is one of those rare instances. — Brad Filicky

The Man On The Burning Tightrope (Jetset)

The Man On The Burning Tightrope is structured like a grimy musical featuring a brief overture ("Fanfare"), interludes ("Ponzi's Revenge" and "Dark Days Revisited"), the underlying motifs of a circus sideshow ("The Dog And Pony Show"), and south-of-the-border fiestas. An imaginative recording, the disc also sees Firewater pairing murky cabaret ("Before The Fall") with cerveza fria drinking songs embellished by castanets ("Dark Days Indeed"), lounge (especially with the hi-hat and swanky horn section making appearances on "The Vegas Strip"), and murky rock ("Secret"). Two grungy, spastic compositions, "Anything At All" and "Don't Make It Stop," are also noteworthy tracks due to their unusual, yet attractive, Mudhoney-meets-Rob Zombie feel, while "Too Much (Is Never Enough)" stands out as the single surf-and-turf ditty of the lot. Unconventional instruments (bazouki, accordion), noir humor and fierce creativity are again employed on this follow-up to the equally creative Psychopharmacology, for a shadowy melodramatic affair cloaking desolation, freaks of nature, crime and desire all in pure peculiarity.

Revive (Elektra)

"The band Steadman have the songs, the musicianship, the energy and the enthusiasm to blow the top off any club or arena, and if given a listen have that rare quality — the ability to deliver! I like this band," says Sir Paul McCartney. Not a bad endorsement for a group that recorded its debut album, Loser Friendly, in a pigsty just a few years ago. The British band has built a reputation through its live shows as an act to be reckoned with — a feeling that its sophomore effort does not fail to capture as well. For anybody that's ever fancied a Britpop band, from the biggest junkies to the casual Blur and Verve fans, this record is easy to attach yourself to. "No Big Deal" and "Wave Goodbye" are just bloody brilliant, and after they lure you in, the rest of the disc will closely follow.

Armed with Oasis-sized hooks, Beatles-like bridges, and a singer with a big English voice, Revive's strengths are all over the board. — Brad Maybe

FEATHER-MERCHANTS

Unarmed Against The Dark (Innocent 12th St.)

On their newest endeavor, the Feathermerchants welcome aboard a fresh lead vocalist in Sharron Kennedy, whose refined singing voice sits at home on songwriter Peter Veru's down-to-earth compositions. A soothing exercise in simple, laid-back pop, Unarmed Against The Dark is certain to impress Triple A fans, with its sound parting from the strong Middle Eastern element that characterized the band's self-titled debut and going straight for the adult alternative vein. "Sitting Henry" and "9th March" speak to the earthy tone of Shawn Colvin and Jewel, while "Farmers Night Out" captures the spirit of Duncan Sheik, with Veru taking over both the vocals and the center stage with his own gentle, poetic verses. Also worthy of mention is the involvement of keyboardist Chuck Leavell, who has collaborated with the Rolling Stones, Eric Clapton, and the Allman Brothers, among others. His touch can be heard on "Brooklyn Ferry" and "All The Way Home" — two songs that perfectly complement this package of earnest, wistful guitar music.

BRINGING DOWN THE HOUSE

A roundtable discussion examining digital music's role in the future of the music industry. Story by Louis Miller

Illustration by Graham Brice

We've all heard it a thousand times already: Illegal downloading is killing the music industry. The RIAA has spent millions trying to convince would-be customers that downloading MP3 files off of peer-to-peer networks like Kazaa, Morpheus or Gnutella not only steals from the labels, but also violates copyright laws and takes money out of the pockets of the artists whose music they are enjoying. The music trade organization has done everything from filing lawsuits against the file-sharing networks and individuals trading music on the networks to sending letters to colleges and businesses warning of the evils of downloading, as well as placing radio, TV and print ads featuring everyone from Eminem to Luciano Pavarotti taking up arms against those who take part in file-sharing.

But is downloading music really all that bad? After all, bands that would never have access into Clear Channel's stranglehold on commercial radio or MTV's 10-video playlist can now spread their music to millions of listeners for free. Sounds like a good thing, right?

Well, like it or not, downloading has been fingered as the culprit for the three-year sales slump the music industry is currently facing. It has also wreaked havoc on opening week sales figures for such artists as Pearl Jam, the White Stripes, 50 Cent, Metallica, and now Radiohead, whose albums have appeared online in their entirety weeks before they hit Retail shelves.

In CMJ's continuing quest to solve the music industry's financial woes, we have assembled an all-star cast to address the downloading issue: Darren Walters is the co-owner and label manager of emo/indie-rock kingpin Jade Tree, which consistently offers free downloads on its Web site, www.jadetreec.com; Jordan Katz is the Senior Vice President of Sales and Joint Venture Operations for Arista, and heads up the label's efforts in getting their records into Retail outlets worldwide; Ann Lee is the Music Director at Durham, North Carolina's WXDU, as well as the guitarist and singer in her lo-fi folk band, Omerta; Rocky Ramirez works as the Station Manager for Lubbock, Texas's KTXT, pumping the best new music into Northwest Texas; Mike Fratt, Vice President of Merchandising for Homer's Music And Gifts, represents all the retailers who are struggling to get customers back into their stores; and Kenna, the genre-defying, surname-less new wave hip-pop rocker whose New Sacred Cow was supposed to be released more than two years ago, before record label politics shelved the project. However, through people downloading his music online, he was still able to develop a sizable fanbase, who finally saw the album's June 10 release on his new label home, Columbia.

Why don't people see downloading music as stealing?

RAMIREZ: I think it's hard to argue that, by now, there are people out there who don't see downloading music as stealing. Whether or not people agree with the argument that downloading is stealing, I think most people know that, if they do it, that they're doing something wrong.

KATZ: I'm not sure the premise of the question is correct. I think most folks are honest and don't necessarily realize all the ramifications to the artist community.

KENNA: I think that everyone knows it's stealing, but who's going to stop them at this point? Not me. It's Lord Of The Flies... we're all basically evil.

How much would consumers be willing to pay for downloads?

LEE: I suppose it depends on variables ranging from how efficient it is to download to the quality of the song.

KENNA: Why pay? It's free! I think Apple has it right. Make it seem cheap even if 12 downloads equals the cost of the CD anyway.

FRATT: It looks like 99 cents. It's ironic — you can buy [albums] online for less, considering albums list at $19 with 10 to 15 tracks on average. You can bet label heads and their accountants were salivating just a few years ago thinking they could sell downloads for $1.50 to $2.50 per song. They also thought they would do it themselves and make all the money, but they're learning the hard way now.

Is it possible to stop file-sharing?

KATZ: Piracy in one form or another has always been around. Hopefully, a higher percentage of people who obtain music online will migrate to services where the artists and others who work with them get paid.

LEE: I don't think so. We may see it transformed as technology moves, but the idea itself is an ancient one.

RAMIREZ: No. As long as the industry focuses on putting all their work into the single, then the need for file-sharing will never stop. But if you work on making a full album, of which the music, format and artwork all work together to form the greater piece of art, it then becomes something that you can't download.

FRATT: Is it possible to stop people from masturbating? They do it by themselves, just like file-sharing. You'll never be able to stop one-to-one P2P. Nor should you. Turn a friend on to some music. That seems like a good thing.

Are enhanced features (such as DVDs, music videos, digital passcodes to secret Web sites, etc.) the key to bringing people back into record stores?

WALTERS: No. What keeps people coming to record stores is the support for their favorite artists and the joy of owning the "full" record. These are things that cannot be recreated digitally unless there are enhanced functions on that end. This still matters to some people.

RAMIREZ: More often than not, enhanced features are more of a burden than a selling point. I absolutely hate double CDs. I hate putting a CD in my computer and having to wade through some half-assed program to get to the music.

KENNA: Content is king. I don't know if it brings people back to the stores, but it keeps the people with the artists. With songs so easily downloaded, it is imperative that artists pay attention to fans by making more and giving more.

FRATT: They certainly help. A DVD is valuable to consumers. But this won't work for an unknown artist — only for established artists. However, right now, price is still the most important feature, because consumers are getting these "added-values" for $10 due to predatory pricing from the mass merchants. So, you can't really say the added values eclipse or negate the high list price when the damn thing is still priced at $10.

How much does record pricing factor into people's decision to download an album online?

LEE: I think a great deal. One major difference between downloading an album and buying an album is the experience of the CD as an entire artistic project. Artists who object to downloading albums say that it eviscerates it in that sense. People then, are downloading albums either because they don't care to see the entire artistic project, or because they can't afford it. So if record prices were lowered, the incentive to buy it in its entirety may be increased.

RAMIREZ: I don't think that high record prices were the cause of the dramatic increase of downloading in 1999. Instead, I think that people were amazed by the fact that they could download that one song that they had been hearing on the radio or on MTV and not have to buy a whole album to get it.

KENNA: Everyone knows that the President's focus on crap geo-political agendas is for the sake of personal financial gain. It's no wonder our economy is in such a shambles, and people are without discretionary funds to spend on music. Of course they will download it. Prices affect everything.

FRATT: It plays a big role with younger con-

“Labels should be clamoring all over each other to see how file-sharing can increase their profits. Major labels are just going to have to accept that they can't do business the way that they used to.” — KTXT's Rocky Ramirez sumers, especially since most think the non-radio tracks suck, when in some cases they just don't have the attention span to absorb a whole album. It plays less of a role with older consumers who cannot get away with downloading for hours at work or don't have the time at home. But Norah Jones and John Mayer owe much of their success to below $10 list prices. So pricing is important, especially with developing artists.

Is releasing "better" music the answer?

WALTERS: I don't think so, but I do believe that there is a huge glut of terrible music available today, which, as it floods the market, waters down the worth of all music.

KATZ: I don't think anybody is consciously releasing crap. Speaking from Arista's perspective, we work hard to expose music and artists that potentially affect our society, whether in popular culture or in terms of some message that they send. We've been successful even in these lean times by having a high slugging percentage of artists and music that resonate with many people.

RAMIREZ: If record companies continue to focus all of their money on just one or two songs on an album and then fill the rest of the album with fluff, then what the hell is going to convince people to buy the album when they can just download the two songs that they like? Why buy the cow when you get the milk for free? It's not a question of releasing better music; it's a question of releasing better albums.

KENNA: Artists have become lackadaisical. I am waiting for the time when music will be better and we step out of the lull. Maybe downloading will force people to focus and write better songs, which, in-turn, will produce better albums, and thus better music, so that people will want to buy the album and artwork, etc.

How can digital music be used as an effective tool to break a band?

WALTERS: This is a great way to get people to notice a band, since a digital file can be placed on thousands of Web sites for free downloading — enabling people to check out a band without taking a chance. In this way, no label can go wrong and digital music helps everyone involved.

KATZ: Music is music, whether digital or not. Traditional Retail and virtual Retail can and will peacefully co-exist and blend more over time. Breaking a band will not depend upon whether the music is delivered digitally or not. Great artists rise to the top.

FRATT: Allow consumers to preview music, streaming audio, or non-downloadable MP3s through artist, label and retailer sites. Send out samples through Retail E-mail clubs and in conjunction with other Web sites. Partner with ISPs to offer samples/songs on their main entertainment Web pages.

KENNA: Break a band? Music is for the people — they will find good music one way or another. Break a band by getting on the road and playing for the people.

Doesn't file-sharing contribute to word-of-mouth marketing — the most effective way to make people buy records?

LEE: Of course. File-sharing has created its own sub-communities. The chat function on file-sharing programs expresses this. Not only may your interest in a certain record be peaked, but you may see what the user next to you also likes, give it a listen, and maybe buy that record also.

RAMIREZ: Word-of-mouth leads people to download a song — not the other way around. I don't think that word-of-mouth advertising has increased at all since downloading became prevalent, and I don't think that it ever will. The true cause of word-of-mouth advertising is good music, and not the medium in which the music exists.

KENNA: I am sure it does. It has been a big part of my own career. I think that the more people have access, the more they will tell others because they discovered it for themselves.

FRATT: The Internet is proving to be an effective tool to spread the word about good music. However, it's also having an impact on bad music. Look at Hip-Hop or nü-metal; with few exceptions, sales are slowing in these categories because the consumer can hear how bad it is before they buy it.

Could digital music make major labels obsolete?

WALTERS: I'm not sure. What I do know is that the future of music is reaching a point where, in the next few years, music will ultimately be changed forever in one way or another. Also, independent labels depend on support from their fans in order to stay alive. Fans are aware of this and I believe that they buy accordingly and might download more "major" music than independent.

KATZ: Nope. There are so many talented and creative people who help disseminate an artist's message. Labels have always changed with the times and then sorted themselves out by natural selection. Labels may look and function differently in the future, but then again, they look and function differently every decade, don't they?

LEE: I don't think it works that way. If anything, the reverse could be more true. I could see how digital music could be made obsolete by major labels, maybe when the next big thing comes out, like we've seen how tape or vinyl has been made obsolete.

RAMIREZ: Labels should be clamoring all over each other to see how file-sharing can increase their profits. Major labels are just going to have to accept that they can't do business the way that they used to. No longer can they rely on a hit single to sell records. Now it will be necessary to have a great album to get people in the record stores.

FRATT: Not for a long time. Everyone would have to have broadband, PCs with disc-burning capabilities, the money to pay for these and the time to do it. All the predictions about music and the Internet made over the last seven years have all been proven wrong.

If people can buy the three tracks they like off a record for 99 cents apiece, will downloading destroy the album as a cohesive entity?

KATZ: The singles consumer is usually a different consumer than the album consumer.

The notion that songs cannibalize album sales is generally not backed up by the facts at traditional Retail. Likewise, using iTunes as a microcosm, both songs and albums are selling. According to Billboard, more than half the songs sold through iTunes were bought as albums.

LEE: This is a good point. Digital music punctuated the notion that music exchange is fluid. For this reason, we see it working for either the benefit or harm of almost anyone in the process. Downloading challenges the idea of experiencing a project in its entirety, but it can also challenge the idea of overpriced records.

RAMIREZ: The very fact that people would only download three tracks from an album points to a flaw in the system. If the album were a cohesive entity then the consumer would want to buy the whole album. If they are content in buying just three songs, there is something fundamentally wrong with that.

KENNA: I think that artists will just have to work harder for it to remain a cohesive entity. Write better songs. I am no authority on writing songs, but I know I have work on it.

“Everyone knows that the President's focus on crap geo-political agendas is for the sake of personal financial gain. It's no wonder our economy is in such a shambles, and people are without discretionary funds to spend on music.” — Kenna

FRATT: I am concerned about the long-term viability of the album. Part of the problem is artists/labels take too long to release new product. The greatest artists released albums every nine months to a year. Today they take three years. By that time, the fan has checked out and moved on. One way to prevent the decline of the album is to shorten currently released works and put them in consumers hands every year, and release EPs and DVDs in between. There is too much filler on today's albums, and that hurts artists more than three-for-99 cents downloads.

Can legitimate sites like iTunes, Pressplay, Listen.com or Musicnet really compete with P2P sites?

WALTERS: Possibly, but there will always be those who will use P2P sites, no matter what happens.

KATZ: Digital downloading is still evolving, but there are certainly signs that there's great potential. The question you didn't ask was whether these sites would compete with traditional Retail. Early, anecdotal stories suggest that this business is incremental; that is, people who haven't purchased music in a while are purchasing music. Successful retailers will merge this business into theirs and use their Retail marketing acumen to enhance the experience.

RAMIREZ: Downloading music is like looking at porn; you personally don't think there's anything wrong with it, but nonetheless you look over your shoulder before you indulge in it. By telling consumers that they don't have to look over their shoulders, I think legit sites will gain a competitive edge.

KENNA: I think that they can, because they're giving a higher-quality download, and it's legal. People will go for quality if they have the finance. It's the kids that don't have cash that P2P sites cater to. Broke kids just don't care how they get their music — I wouldn't. Music is a need.

How can labels protect their copyrights without alienating their consumers?

WALTERS: Labels must learn to adapt with the times and when to fight for their rights and take a stand without overreacting and alienating consumers.

KATZ: Education. Ours is not the only business where intellectual property has been passed around. Our industry was, however, one of the first to be impacted. This subject is coming up directly and indirectly in the news, from artists and other businesses, more and more. Let's have faith that music consumers are generally good people.

KENNA: I think labels have to be creative and sign bands that they truly believe have vision and know their audience. We are in a difficult time for music, and drastic moves have to be made by the labels to make things better for themselves. I, on the other hand, am more concerned about whether or not I have written the best music I can.

FRATT: By going after the obvious illegal perpetrator: the kid with 100,000 songs on his hard drive linked to Kazaa. Bust his ass. Bust the techie at the large corporation with hundreds of songs on his PC linked to the net. Lower the price of physical goods. A $20 item can't compete with free, but $10 seems to be a good incentive to get consumers to purchase. NMR

200 Moves

This wasn't a bad week if you're from the New York area; the New Jersey Devils won the Stanley Cup, the sun came out for the first time in three months and the Yeah Yeah Yeahs pulled a hat trick, remaining locked to the top of the Radio 200 chart for a third week. However, the battle for No. 1 is ready to kick into overdrive. Liz Phair entered the Top 10 this week at No. 9, thus eliminating any concern that the indie darling's new-found pop leanings would diminish her College audience. Just outside of the Top 10, there were some impressive, though not surprising, debuts from artists that are sure to make a bid for No. 1; Radiohead swept Most Added this week, pulling in 205 stations and debuting at No. 16, while Mars Volta jumped in at No. 21. What's more, Britta Phillips and Dean Wareham's L'Avventura debuted at No. 34 and Chk Chk Chk (a.k.a. !!!) entered at No. 40. The big moves of the week came from Wire (20-11*), Alkaline Trio (28-17*), Less Than Jake (35-22*), American Analog Set (38-25*), Dropkick Murphys (36-26*), Clem Snide (162-32*), Gillian Welch (54-33*), Lucksmiths (93-38*) and Nina Nastasia (83-47*), whose track "Superstar" is one of the most hauntingly beautiful songs we've heard in quite a while.

★ : Signifies upward movement

WMUA/Amherst, Massachusetts co-sponsored the UMass Spring Concert on May 3. The sold-out show drew some 25,000 people to the Mullins Center to see 50 Cent, Less Than Jake and Rahzel.

The station kept a high profile at the show and set up outside of the venue to kick out the jams for everyone standing in line to get in. In other station news, WMUA also recently sponsored the Magic Triangle Jazz Series, which boasted three Jazz shows at the Fine Arts Center. Each gig was either sold-out or near capacity. The station sponsors the 10-year running Jazz series every spring semester. Furthermore, WMUA will soon be welcoming Read Yellow into its studios to play live. Former WMUA staffer Paul Koelle plays drums for the band. • CHRW/London, Ontario, Canada is gearing up to sponsor the Open Stage at the Home Country Folk Festival on July 18, 19 and 20. The Open Stage gives local musicians a chance to get up and perform in front of the festival crowd. • Thursday, June 5 was Metallica Day at WSOU/South Orange, New Jersey. It's a long-running WSOU tradition to play one track per hour from the legendary San Francisco band on the day that it releases a new album. When the group's latest, St. Anger, was unexpectedly rushed into stores on June 5, WSOU was ready. The station didn't miss a beat despite the unprecedented rush release. In other WSOU happenings, the station has put out a call for guitar players who want a lesson with Black Label

Society/Ozzy Osbourne guitarist Zakk Wylde. WSOU will be soliciting tapes, CDs and MP3s from talented area wannabe guitar heroes throughout the summer and one lucky winner will get to sit down with Wylde at Ozzfest. And, if that wasn't enough, the station will also be hooking up listeners with passes to Six Flags Great Adventure all summer long. • KCSU/Fort Collins, Colorado is testing the punk rock knowledge of its listeners. The station has put together a promo featuring clips from 20 Warped Tour bands and is giving listeners a chance to identify them. The person who correctly identifies the most bands will win tickets to the Warped Tour at Mile High Stadium on Sunday, June 22. KCSU has secured some Warped Tour t-shirts and other cool merch for the contest as well. • Michelle Shocked just did something very cool for WXYC/Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Two bucks from every ticket sold for her June 8 show at the Cat's Cradle was donated to the station. We hear that Shocked has been donating proceeds from her shows to community stations all over the country, which is awesome! • KCPR/San Luis Obispo, California recently celebrated "love and intimacy on the Central Coast." In other words, the station sponsored a Kiss-a-

Levi Valentines, the Enchanters and some local bands supplied the tunes, and proceeds raised from the event will be used to purchase some new equipment for the station. • KZSC/Santa Cruz, California just held its first annual KZSC thon on June 1. Couples descended on Mitchell Park and puckered up for a chance to win some cool prizes. The winning smoochers locked lips for six hours and 26 minutes and walked away with a weekend getaway and the title of "Kissing King and Queen."

Spring Festival, which was designed as a "thank you" for students, who recently voted to give the station more money for its upcoming budget. The Coup, Pretty Girls Make Graves and local acts all played the free gig at the Quarry Amphitheatre on May 10.

CMJ CORE ESSENTIAL

FOUR TET Rounds (Domino)

During a recent and rare acoustic performance by Radiohead in New York City, the members of the band were asked what they were currently listening to. Ed O'Brien and Colin Greenwood both named Four Tet — which is no surprise, considering the one-man operation, headed by Kieren Hebden, has spent time on the road with the famed Oxford band. It came as even less of a surprise when Rounds skyrocketed from its debut position of No. 55 to No. 14 on last week's Core chart. Subtle and busy, clunky yet smooth, this disc is the perfect groove for fans of "folktronica," as well as fans of anything unique and beautifully recorded. This week, Rounds holds at No. 14 and is enjoying plenty of support from WXYC, KJHK, KLSU, WERS and WNYU, among others.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT

To submit your photos, email Doug Levy • doug@cmj.com

FACE OFF: WRFT's DJ Primetime (right) got the chance to hang with El Da Sensei at Club Fluid in Philly, where they struggled for hours to see who would win the "who can get closer to the camera without getting blurry" contest. (That guy in the back is just there to give things a more surreal edge.)

MONKEY HOUSE: CFUV's Kate Hollefreund showed Howard Rosen's A.M. "Rex" Donati her monkey impression during a recent visit to Los Angeles. Or she would have anyway, if he had turned around in time. Instead, she just ended up passing out from lack of oxygen.

The KZSU Staff:

Station Philosophy/ Audience Perception:

Truly independent radio that entertains and educates its listeners by presenting the finest new, local, underground and experimental music, as well as broadcasting Stanford sports, news and local/global issues.

Slogan/Position Statement:

“KZSU — The Noise You Need”

How does the station differentiate itself from others in the market?

KZSU music programming prides itself on its independence and diversity. DJs have complete freedom to select their music and our weekly radio adds are never influenced by hype or marketing. At any given time, our add shelf contains about 500 CDs and we ask all of our DJs to play 11-15 selections during a three-hour shift. The music programming is always free-form at KZSU, so when we hear the term “block programming,” that’s when we reach for our revolvers.

How is the station promoted on campus? Off campus?

KZSU sponsors campus concerts and events and also hosts an annual Hip-Hop night and dance party. The “usual suspects” are also employed: E-mail lists, flyers and program guides placed strategically on campus and in Bay Area coffee shops and record stores.

News/Sports Programming Commitment:

KZSU is the exclusive broadcaster of Stanford sports, including baseball, softball, volleyball, basketball and soccer. The KZSU news department just added a daily evening news update, and our news staff also broadcasts a weekly one-hour “Issues” program.

Ties To Local Music Scene:

Every week we broadcast “Wednesday Night Live,” featuring a live performance by a Bay Area band from the KZSU studios. The show has been on the air for 15 years and it has helped to establish many working relationships with Bay Area musicians.

Station Benchmarks:

“KSU” began broadcasting in 1947 as an AM carrier current inside the Stanford dorms. In the 1950s, the name was changed to KZSU and our AM signal was boosted to air.

In 1964, our current chief engineer, Mark Lawrence — then a Stanford freshman — helped to convert the station to FM. And, by far, KZSU’s longest running show is DJ Kevvy Kev’s “The Drum.” Airing Sunday nights, “The Drum” is the world’s longest-running Hip-Hop show, going on 20 years of Kevvy Kev’s programming!

Anything else of interest:

KZSU’s Web site is unsurpassed by any other college station. In addition to our programming guide and campus events postings, the music section of our site features a large searchable database of our music library, which contains over 100,000 records and CDs. Visitors to the site can view our adds, playlists, CD reviews and charts — all the information is organized so that artists and listeners can see when, how often, and by which DJ a CD has been played. Soon, listeners will be able to stream “Wednesday Night Live” recordings through the KZSU site. Featured performances will include Primus, Green Day and the Donnas, all while they were still Bay Area local bands.

ARTIST SPOTLIGHT

Formed in 1998, Seattle's Vendetta Red made violent waves in the Pacific Northwest with the release of its two highly elusive independent albums, 2000's Blackout Analysis and 2001's White Knuckle Substance. With only a limited run of each made available, the band decided to cherry-pick some of its strongest tracks, head into the studio with Jerry Finn (Green Day, Goo Goo Dolls), rework 12 of them, and deliver Between The Never And The Now (Epic). Truly unique and overflowing with ambition, the major-label debut album has been a long time coming for the quintet. True, it leaves the prolific band in the precarious position of having to get psyched to hit the road and keep plugging away at songs that, to both the bandmembers and the lucky few that own their previous releases, are already a few years old — but to see them live, you'd never notice anything but the unbridled energy. Vendetta Red has been known to rock a room of 50 fans just as hard as a venue packed with thousands. This year, the band will spend the entire summer on the Warped Tour, after which it will hook up with Dashboard Confessional for a number of dates. CMJ caught up with singer Zach Davidson at his home in Seattle, on the eve of Between The Never And The Now's release.

You must be pretty excited to be on the Warped Tour all summer.

When we did some dates on it last year, it was fantastic! We made a lot of friends that were on the same wavelength as us, so it worked out really well. There are so many good bands this year, and there's so much to do during the day. Just walking around, kids come up to you and talk and stuff. It's really cool. It's the perfect place for us.

How important is that to you? Talking to your fans?

It's pretty important. You've gotta get a feel for who's paying attention to your band. We're aware that we can have a lot of influence on kids. If they like your band, given the opportunity to talk to them, you can get more personal and set a good example. Maybe you can inspire them to be good people.

What kind of inspiration can they find in your music?

I hope they get a feeling that it's all right to be honest. And they shouldn't be afraid to speak their minds. I hope they feel compelled to stand up for something. They shouldn't be afraid to have a political or social opinion. It's all right to call people out on shit.

You have a song called "Erik Chapman Cried Rape On His Date With Destiny." Why did Erik's date with destiny go so badly?

[Laughing] I wrote a song about getting kidnapped, raped and tortured, and keeping your mouth shut the whole time — not screaming. It's not really a delightful little number. It's just a story. I've really been into Marty Robbins and Willie Nelson lately — old country storytellers who write great sing-a-long tunes. I just try writing in a visceral fantasy horror kind of way. I'm trying to string stories that are complete and sing-a-longs, and it's weird because I'm really into horror as well as country music.

For those who haven't heard Vendetta Red's first two albums, what did they sound like and what songs did you take from them for Between The Never And The Now?

We used four songs from Black Out Analysis for this record: "Opiate Summer," "P.S. Love The Black," "There Only Is" and "Lipstick Tourniquets." That record is like Radiohead meets Born Against. It's just really strange. There's a lot of acoustic guitar, there's a whole lot of Britpop influence, and then there's this art fag screamo type shit. It's a very weird record. White Knuckle Substance, which we took eight songs from, is more like the Smashing Pumpkins and Deftones. There's some really sing-y unrequited love song crap on there, too. I'd say the new record is a comprehensive retrospective of all of the different things that we're capable of, sonically.

You have to be psyched that it's finally coming out.

Absolutely! I can't wait until we're on tour and kids can see us, then go buy our album. We've been around for a while; we're going on five years. We're just barely getting out there. We've been touring forever, but it's been so underground. I feel like now that we're finally getting exposure, it's like rejuvenation. The band has a second wind for the material and a need to play it again.

What is "Shatterday" about?

"Shatterday" is a wake up call. Basically, it's saying the way things are going is how they're going to end up, unless you can get over the bullshit, step up and start to change things. It's a criticism of youth culture. I just look around myself sometimes and think, "All that these kids think about is looking good, being at the right shows and the right parties and getting fucking wasted." I get really disgusted. So the song is kind of a critique.

"I wrote a song about getting kidnapped, raped and tortured, and keeping your mouth shut the whole time — not screaming. It's not really a delightful little number."
— Vendetta Red's Zach Davidson

You had a great opportunity to open up for AC/DC in New York City. What was that like?

It was fucking hell, but it was a blast. We took heckling to a whole new level. The only thing I didn't like was being called "faggot." It's kind of funny how rampant homophobia runs in the older crowd. I'm glad we did it, though. I got to see AC/DC for free and I never got to see them before. I was really stoked.

You like a lot of classic rock, right?

I love classic rock. My record collection is amazing. I'm really proud of it. I have a lot of old stuff. You know who I love? Boston. Old Boston doesn't get enough credit. We should cover some Boston.

What influences do you hear coming out on the album?

I can pick out The Who in songs like "Three Chord Valentine," from our Cut Your Noose EP. The song's opening chords are totally a Pete Townsend rip-off. Blatant. From the album, "P.S. Love The Black" also definitely took a lot of inspiration from The Who. Mostly, we borrow on an ideological level, and not so much in the performance, because, unfortunately, we're not that good yet.

TOUR TIDBITS

Peek-A-Boo recording artist Black Lipstick (pictured), featuring Travis Higdon, Phillip Niemeyer (formerly of the Kiss-Offs), Leslie Sisson, Elizabeth Nottingham and Steve Garcia (who joined the band a few months prior to the recording of its 2003 full-length, Converted Project), is on the road, traveling in support of its new effort. The tour will run from July 7–July 19, with October Project joining the bill from July 8 on. Head over to www.peakaboorecords.com/blacklipstick for MP3 samples from the new disc.

American Analog Set is out on tour until July 12, playing across the country from East to West. A host of bands are teaming up with the group along the way, including Certainly, Sir (June 22–24, 27), Calla (June 22), Parlour (June 27), Saturday Looks Good To Me (June 28), Kaito (June 29), Daniel Johnston (June 30), Small Hours and Irving (July 5), Tarental and Filmschool (July 6), and Timonium (July 7). The band's latest disc, The Promise Of Love, was released on June 17. Check out www.tigerstylerecords.com for more info.

The Dears, a pop-rock cabaret sextet hailing from Montreal, are touring all year in support of their new album on Maple Music, named No Cities Left. The record is the follow-up to the band's 2000 debut, End Of A Hollywood Bedtime Story, on which it built a reputation for energetic and dynamic live shows. The group has summer dates confirmed through June 26, including a pair of free shows — June 29 at New York's Central Park SummerStage and July 6 at the Celebrate Toronto Street Festival.

Sixer has quite a few headlining dates on the books until July 13, when it picks up a supporting role opening for the Turbo AC's (who just released an album, Automatic, on Gearhead) and the Highschool Hellcats (a rockabilly good time band), running through August 2. Live show details and MP3s of new, unmastered tracks from Sixer's Spring 2003 studio sessions are available at www.sixersixer.com.

Dredg is rounding out the month of June with its final three shows with Codeseven, in Seattle, Portland and San Francisco. The alt-metal darlings are still running on the steam sparked by 2002's El Cielo. Be sure to visit www.dredg.com, one of the more creative band Web sites out there, where you'll find poetry, an autobiographical audio/visual piece and, of course, a full tour itinerary.

Hey Mom,

look I'm in

CMJ!

If you've got industry related schmooze shots that you'd like to see featured in CMJ, send your hi-res 300dpi shots to dougl@cmj.com. Professionally taken prints can be sent to Doug Levy, CMJ New Music Report, 151 W. 25 Street, 12th Floor, New York, NY 10001. Please make sure all the people in the shots are identified.

You can finally stop wrapping all your glass valuables in plastic whenever you play an Iced Earth record, because siren vocalist Matthew Barlow has exited the power metal band in order to begin his career in the administrative department of the Department Of Homeland Security. For a detailed explanation of Barlow's career choice, please see www.icedearth.com. Guitarist John Schaffer explains the future of Iced Earth, which recently signed a new label deal with SPV after a lengthy stint with Century Media, in a novella-length response on the band's site as well. We'll sum it up for you in a nutshell: Schaffer is halting production and shelving new Iced Earth material, tentatively titled The Glorious Burden, until he finds a suitable new singer for the band. He feels it is the best music he has ever written and he will finish it after he finds a replacement for Barlow. Lots of luck, guys. • Cannibal Corpse, which recently celebrated the milestone of moving one million combined units, will release a box set this November. The box will consist of three discs and a DVD, including the demo that got the band signed to Metal Blade, cover songs, sessions material, and live audio of the band's first ever show opening for Dark Angel. There will be a comic book, a guitar pick and loads of pictures. The box will be released in November and looks to be essential for the Corpse brigade. • Members of Amorphis, Gandalf and Sentenced have formed the supergroup Chaosbreed. We're sure this'll sound like Swede metal. • Roadrunner will be reissuing Stone Sour's self-titled, Gold debut in digipack form this fall. • Even though frontman Anders Friden is busying himself with his other band, Passenger, In Flames continues working on material for its next album. The band has written and recorded 11 tunes under the "Turborg Sessions" moniker. At press time, the melodic death metal masters remain label-less. Good luck to the highest bidder. • Former members of Downset have formed a new band called Supervillian. There's also ex-members of Flashpoint in said band, but we at CMJ Loud Rock bet the farm that no one remembers much about that band, which enjoyed an Ozzfest side stage stint and was never heard from again. • Century Media has signed Watch Them Die to a worldwide contract. The extreme band, which rose from the ashes of Grimple, Schlong, Eldopa, Word Salad, Buzzoven and Ojo-Rojo, will be a force to be reckoned with. Click www.watchthemdie.com for a closer look at the band and its history. • Lamb Of God recently lensed a video for "11th Hour" with Jason Joseph. • Despite the rumors of its demise, which was followed up by the cancellation of a tour with Hope Conspiracy, Give Up The Ghost (formerly American Nightmare) is taking a brief break and plans to release We're Down Till We're Underground in late summer. • Bruce Dickinson has revealed that the title of the new Iron Maiden album — its thirteenth studio effort — is Dance Of Death and is scheduled for release in September.

LOUD ROCK Q&A... KURE'S GREG RICE

KURE/Ames, Iowa Loud Rock Director and noted hardcore fan Greg Rice decided to give us the scoop on what the hell there is to do in Iowa when you're a college student.

So, where the hell is Ames, Iowa? And what do you do to entertain yourself? Play in the cornfields and listen to metal?

Stay away from Ames! The place is sucking all the East Coast livelihood right out of me. My aggressive driving skills, affinity for good NYC pizza and Philly cheese steaks, and ease in which I used to flick the bird and belt out the expletives are all slowly disappearing. To pass time, I work on my label, Protocol Records, and tell people how much better the East Coast is. To blow off steam, I crank some metal and travel outside with intentions of making every innocent passerby suck the Iowa corn right out of their shit.

Give us the inside scoop on your metal show, "All Gods Die."

As you can imagine, "All Gods Die" is extremely popular here in the middle of the Bible Belt. Complaints aside, it's actually one of the few metal and hardcore shows broadcasted throughout Central Iowa. In my opinion, my show and a few others at the station have helped bring a much stronger metal and hardcore influence to the campus and surrounding area. Today, the Loud Rock program pumps out European-tinged metalcore, Swedish metal, positive hardcore, and tons of other brutal music.

What metal band did you get into based on your experiences at KURE?

A year ago, Lifeforce dropped Heaven Shall Burn's Whatever It May Take. Every one of the band's albums finds itself in my playlist at least once a week.

LOUD ROCK INDUSTRY NEWS

System Of A Down's strange guitarist Daron Malakian has inked a label deal with Sony. Malakian's imprint will be called EatUrMusic, and will be distributed through Columbia-Sony. Amen, the artsy punk-metal act that has bounced from label-to-label without ever being fully understood for its musical forethought, is the first band signed to the deal. The band will release a new album this fall. "We're very excited about working with Daron in establishing EatUrMusic as a credible artistic force in today's music scene," said Will Botwin, President, Columbia Records Group. "This new imprint promises to become a home for artists who are both passionate in their vision and uncompromising in the integrity of their music." Malakian commented, "I honestly feel that if you're going to sign an artist, the most important thing is that you've really got to be like one of those kids in their audience. Donnie [Tenner, President, Sony Music U.S.], Will [Botwin] and I agreed that I will only sign and work with those artists that I'm a fan of." Good luck to Malakian and Sony on this venture.

TYPE O NEGATIVE

Life Is Killing Me (Roadrunner)

The members of Type O Negative are miserable fucks, but they've built a respectable career out of being one of metal's most cynical and gloomy acts. The Brooklyn, New York quartet's latest effort, Life Is Killing Me — as one can surmise from the title — sticks with the melodious miser, offering yet another collection of Sabbathian goth metal nuggets. Some of the new material is raw and reminiscent of Type O's platinum platter Bloody Kisses or 1999's eerily prophetic World Coming Down (the title track, for example), but the majority of the songs here are akin to the slickly produced October Rust, incorporating dreamy pianos ("Anesthesia"), Beatles-esque horns and melodies ("We Were Electrocute"), sitar ("Less Than Zero") and a wealth of cavernous reverb. Regardless, all of it is characteristically dirge-like. Frontman Peter Steele remains disheartened and larger than life, creeping through this musical mausoleum in typical fashion; his resonant vocals toggle between octaves at ease, allowing him to sink to the subterranean depths of the Adams Family's loveable Lurch and then soar into high notes that sound like Bauhaus's Peter Murphy singing alto (check "...A Dish Better Served Coldly"). Ultimately, Type O Negative remains unchanged and fans will love them all the more for it. — Kevin Boyce

THIS DAY FORWARD

In Response (Equal Vision)

Since 2001's The Transient Effects Of Light On Water, Philadelphia's This Day Forward decided to inject a bit more melody and consonance into its forward-thinking hardcore. Transient was a real barnburner, but it's In Response that is undoubtedly the head-turning, career-making album for This Day Forward. Songs like "White Picket Defense System," "The Breath" and "The Red Room" are arty, yet not in a "Look at us! We're hipsters who did our hardcore homework" kind of way. This is the real thing. There's also a fully charged battery of punk energy at the core that propels In Response. As a result, This Day Forward falls somewhere between Glassjaw and Refused on the "one-step-ahead" scale, thanks to the tension and release, harmonic distortion, and an equally struck balance of singing and scrape-your-lips-across-glass screaming.

BELOVED

Failure On (Solid State)

Producer GGGarth Richardson is known for his work with mainstream Loud Rock acts; his portfolio includes albums by Kittie, Spineshank, Project 86 and Mudvayne. The list goes on, and that's a lot of units moved. Beloved's Failure On might be the G-man's first truly underground project. The album shimmers with sincerity, and it's easily the most melodic thing (save the pogoing hardcore of Stretch Arm Strong) to ever grace the Solid State roster. Don't get us wrong; Beloved smashes many a bottle over our heads with its metal factor, but "Failure On My Lips" and "Allure" are soaked in a Cave In-style atmosphere. Fans of Hopesfall, Boy Sets Fire and Grade are going to love Beloved and Failure On.

WYNTON MARSALIS SIGNS WITH BLUE NOTE

While this column was among the first to break the news of trumpeter Wynton Marsalis signing with Blue Note after parting ways with Columbia, Marsalis and his new label have now made it official: Blue Note will be the home of the Jazz At Lincoln Center's artistic director for the foreseeable future, starting with a new studio album, which will be Marsalis's first since 1999's Marcia Suite. For those keeping track, it was current Blue Note President Bruce Lundvall who brought Marsalis to Columbia Jazz 22 years ago, when he was then general manager of Columbia's Jazz division.

RECORD NEWS

Saxophonist Joe Lovano returns with On This Day... Live At The Village Vanguard (Blue Note).

The record features Lovano playing with his 52nd Street Band, which won a Grammy in 2001 for "Best Large Jazz Ensemble" and grabbed a "Jazz Critics Album Of The Year" award for its 52nd Street Themes. • Harry Connick Jr.'s next album will be released on Marsalis Music on July 15. Much of the New Orleans crooner's material has come out on Columbia, but this time, old friend Branford Marsalis hooks up with Connick to release Other Hours. This quartet recording will be the first record of many to be released by Marsalis Music, although Connick will continue to record certain projects with Columbia, including a yet-to-be-titled album this fall. • Vocalist Kurt Elling returns with Man In The Air on July 22. The record finds Elling augmenting his regular working quartet with vibesman Stefon Harris. As is usually the case, the singer revamps a broad selection of Jazz compositions by adding lyrics and new arrangements. Highlights from this go-round include Coltrane's "Resolution" (from A Love Supreme). Could this be the album that finally launches a male vocalist into the heady atmosphere (and higher sales) of popular music? The album is good enough; we'll just have to see if it can cross over. •

Terence Blanchard's Blue Note debut will drop August 5. Entitled Bounce, the album features a handful of originals as well as covers of Wayne Shorter's "Footprints" and Ivan Lins's "Nocturna." This album will also feature a hot new band that includes guitarist Lionel Loueke, saxophonist Brice Winston and pianist Aaron Parks. • Pianist Jason Moran will return with The Bandwagon on August 19. Recorded live at the Village Vanguard with the hard-hitting team of bassist Tarus Mateen and drummer Nasheet Waits, the Blue Note album finds Moran's trio digging into some very knotty improvisations using a grab-bag of Moran originals, as well as a classical piece and covers of Afrika Bambaata's "Planet Rock" and the standard "Body And Soul." There are also some pre-recorded samples that Moran adds in on the fly with surprising effect. Watch out for this one, it finally lives up to the hype that has surrounded the pianist for years. • The Neville Brothers' Aaron Neville will make his Verve debut on August 26. Entitled Nature Boy, the album will feature Neville in a jazzy mood taking on the great American songbook. The album's all-star lineup includes Ron Carter, Roy Hargrove, Ry Cooder, Anthony Wilson, Grady Tate and Linda Ronstadt, and is produced by Rob Mounsey. The track list includes the title track, "Cry Me A River," "Shadow Of Your Smile" and "Love Is Here To Stay." • The folks over at Verve will release a new Stan Getz album entitled Bossas And Ballads: The Lost Sessions. Scheduled for a Sept. 9 release, the nine-track, hour-long album was originally cut for A&M records in 1989, but was set aside in favor the more ambitious and orchestral Apasionado, which was recorded soon after this session. The quartet on this recording features Getz, pianist Kenny Barron (who also contributes most of the compositions), bassist George Mraz and drummer Victor Lewis. Herb Alpert produced the original session and now returns to see its final release.

IN THE STUDIO

Cassandra Wilson has finished the first stage of recording for her next record. The singer recently returned from Clarksdale, Mississippi (where she recorded much of her last album, Belly Of The Sun). Songs recorded include the classic "Autumn In New York" and Dylan's "Lay Lady Lay." The singer is currently in New York City working with R&B producer Fabrizio Sotti and will soon head off to Ireland to collaborate with Van Morrison on a song. • The folks at Blue Note are also throwing themselves into a new album of remixes, called Blue Note Revisited. Such players as Jazzanova, DJ Cam, 4Hero, Towa Tei, DJ Spinna, Kenny "Dope" Gonzales and Jay Dee have been tapped for the project. Rather than the Hip-Hop stylee of Madlib's upcoming joint, this comp will have a distinct dance-floor groove.

MCCOY TYNER

Land Of Giants (Telarc)

McCoy Tyner will always be remembered as the pianist for John Coltrane's classic quartet, but he's also had a long and illustrious career as a leader. Land Of Giants features the work of a different notable quartet, namely vibist Bobby Hutcherson, bassist Charnett Moffett and drummer Eric Harland, and is as good as anything else Tyner has done on his own. With a working rapport reaching back 40 years, Hutcherson and Tyner finish each other's ideas, pulling the music in different directions and generally having a ball. Moffett and Harland (two of today's great players) keep up with the elder statesmen, allowing the quartet to sustain an impressive level of energy that adds real vitality to this post-bop performance. It's also worth noting that Tyner was so inspired by the group that he wrote seven new tunes for the album.

MADLIB

Shades Of Blue: Madlib Invades Blue Note (Blue Note)

The ubiquitous Hip-Hop Brahman Madlib is involved in such projects as the Jazz group Yesterday's New Quintet, the Hip-Hop act Lootpack and his alter-ego side-project Quasimoto. Here, he plunders the Blue Note catalog to remix source material. Incorporating live musicians, Madlib takes on some old songs and organically refashions them into something very much in the here-and-now. More of a summer party album than an egghead experiment, Shades Of Blue has a playful overall tone and even features a bunch of shout-outs from the old gents that he is sampling. Madlib is able to inject his own twist into the tunes, while maintaining the original vibe. Highly recommended for anyone who's a slave to the beat.

ANN DYER

When I Close My Eyes (Sunnyside)

Vocalist Ann Dyer received some great notices for 1999's Revolver: A New Spin, which took on the Beatles classic using an assortment of downtown musicians. When I Close My Eyes, meanwhile, pares Dyer's music down (except on the final track) to a bass and drum accompaniment to her smooth, emotive mid-range voice, which does most of the heavy lifting. The songs incorporate the work of Björk, poet Emily Dickinson, Chico Hamilton and Dyer's sidemen. While the arrangements are sparse, they lack nothing as they help convey Dyer's imaginative lyrical imagery with a true sense of drama. The taste doesn't stop with the music, either — finally, there's an album that doesn't feature a female singer selling herself on the cover.

Recorded under his AFX pseudonym, Aphex Twin's new EP, Smojphace, hits stores on June 16. • Moby will soon release a DVD featuring all the music videos from his latest album, 18, plus a songwriting documentary. The busy baldy is also working on new material under his Voodoo Child guise, and is preparing to release his next single, "Dance For The Ladies," featuring remixes by Princess "Fuck Me On The Dance Floor"

RPM Q&A WITH LONDON ELEKTRICITY

Tony Colman is the face behind the future of drum 'n' bass. Not only is his new London Elektricity record, Billion Dollar Gravy, one of the genre's most ambitious projects in recent memory, but he's also part-owner of one of its most respected labels, Hospital Records — most notably home to High Contrast's fabulous True Colors album.

With the emergence of DJs and producers like High Contrast, Marky and London Elektricity, it appears that we're in the midst of a drum 'n' bass resurgence.

In the U.K., drum 'n' bass came back with a vengeance last year. There's been a growth in the quality of drum 'n' bass and the audience of people that are coming to see it. A year ago, it was hard to be a DJ, because there weren't many good musical records to play in the club, and there weren't that many clubs that would want a drum 'n' bass DJ. Now, the situation has completely transformed, because in every town in this country, and in most countries around the world, there's somebody putting on a soulful drum 'n' bass night.

Your label has a lot to do with the resurgence. Why is Hospital so special?

We work unbelievably hard, and everyone on the label sacrifices a lot of themselves and their own time to make it like it is. From the packaging to the accounting to processing the orders, coming up with the best possible name for a compilation, devising new strategies for changing markets, looking after artists, and tending to your own music, it's an all-encompassing thing for us. We don't live glamorous lifestyles at all. For us, it's all about the work ethic. We work extremely hard and we totally love our label. We feel almost evangelical about it.

How did you get one of house music's most respected vocalists (Robert Owens) to work on a drum 'n' bass record?

Our publisher rang up one day and asked if we wanted to collaborate with Robert Owens. I was like, "Does the Pope shit in the woods?" Obviously this was something I really wanted to do, so I put a little sketch together and sent it over to Robert, but didn't hear anything for ages. Then, out of the blue, his manager called and said that Robert was ready, so we called a cab and brought him into the studio. I put the track quietly on in the studio and he was sitting on a little stool singing along to it, and it sounded amazing. I put the microphone on Robert and recorded the track right then and there, because I didn't want to lose the vibe. It was one of those moments when you're working on music and you realize, "This is why I'm doing it — to experience something like this." It was a massive honor for me, and everybody else on the label.

We hear that you're reinventing the live drum 'n' bass show.

No DATs, no computers and no CDs! It was a definitive decision because I've seen many live electronic music shows, and nearly everything is being played back through a DAT or a computer — which is restricting, because you can't speed up or slow down. For my personal enjoyment of live music, it's a huge thing to make the show completely live, and it makes things more exciting for an audience. For us to suddenly change the gauge tempo from a drum 'n' bass tempo to a garage groove, and then speed it up again, is hugely important for us.

Who are some DJs and producers we should be on the lookout for?

The Futuristix, Cyantific and Andreas Saag.

TRICKY

Vulnerable (Sanctuary)

Tricky's Maxinquaye and Pre-Millennium Tension are two of the most important albums of the last decade. Unfortunately, forgettable moments like a fight with Goldie over the affections of Björk at the 1996 CMJ Music Marathon, the assault of Face journalist Craig McLean backstage at the Glastonbury Festival, and a role in the film The Fifth Element eventually brought the former Massive Attack associate more attention to his actions than to his music. Several less-than-spectacular albums soon followed, leaving many people questioning whether or not Tricky had lost his way. The U.K. artist's latest, Vulnerable, marks a return to the female-fronted vocal formula that marked his early success and greatest artistic moments. "Slay" is a dark and dubby mixture with nasty vocals, while the guitar driven "Moody" and "Car Crash" are more like a mixture of vintage Curve, Garbage and Republica. The poppier tracks, like "Anti-Matter" and "Ice Pick," are a bit heavy on the production and lose the dark edge, but cover versions of XTC's "Dear God" and The Cure's "Love Cats" are two of the finer moments on the disc.

TELEDUBGNOSIS

Magnetic Learning Center (Wordsound)

The music on Magnetic Learning Center was made for those quiet evenings at home when you decide the time is right to turn off the lights and snuggle up to that special smoking apparatus you've been neglecting. The product of former Prong/Godflesh/Foetus member Ted Parsons, producer Jason Wolford and former Toasters member Gregory Damien Grinnell, Teledubgnosis spews out industrial noise, bass heavy dub and ragga breakbeats. It's reminiscent of the work of Adrian Sherwood and Bill Laswell, while still retaining enough of its own edge to be unique. Remixes from The Bug (a.k.a. Kevin Martin, Techno Animal) and Tech Level 2 up the ante and help provide for a smoking package.

CHEB I SABBAH

As Far As (Six Degrees)

Talvin Singh's now classic Anokha: Sounds Of The Asian Underground compilation introduced the previously untapped well of Asian-influenced electronic music to the world. Now, Cheb I Sabbah's new DJ mix, As Far As, takes the musical exploration even further by featuring a selection of tracks that spans Asian, Arabian and African cultures. Stylistically, the mix shifts gears between traditional songs, house, leftfield and breaks, but it's all tied together by one worldly theme. A fascinating listen that showcases a collection of songs made for longevity, and not just for the dance floor.

HART OF THE MATTER

There's an interesting trajectory this week to the regular flush of industry Email that crisscrosses high-speed, low-speed and dial-up connections each Monday through Wednesday. From retailers to labels to trades to information companies—back again, forwarded, rejected, read or deleted—this week they had a theme so strong, if you lined these Emails up (and I do every week), it would stretch like the dramatic arc of a well-told story. Not the regular cacophonous hum of complaint, despair and frustration. This week felt different.

A few from the crop rose to push that dramatic arc up—exposition, rising action, climax, dénouement, blah blah, etc. (I stayed awake through a few English classes). In their own words:

Opening scene, enter Carl Singmaster, Manifest Discs And Tapes: “Please add my voice to the chorus praising the tremendous value offered by Metallica on St. Anger and Led Zeppelin on their DVD... for proving people will buy physical product when it is something worth owning... Bet the Metallica package will be in our top 30 for weeks. Unlike Linkin Park, whose CD dropped out about week four and whose way-overpriced DVD package disappeared in week two!

Stage left, John Timmons, ear X-tacy (“friendly” tension rises): Lots to say, but I'm a little busy right now, ordering re-stocks online with BestBuy.com and CircuitCity.com for the new Metallica, Radiohead and Annie Lennox titles. It seems I'm ordering more from them than I did from you with my new release book order. Why? Simple: price. You can't compete with the “big-box price monsters” that you continue to feed with co-op. Yes, you give us co-op as well, and we thank you. But, if taking away all co-op across the board would make this insane below-cost pricing go away, we'd be all for it. “No dealers”... Hey, we're not a dealer, we're a record store. On with the show!

Enter “Open Letter” (see Speak Out below), the cooperative bel-low of independent retail as Greek chorus, reminding us why this week's story is even being told: Put yourselves in our shoes. We've catered to, and helped to build, [Henley's] fan base for the last thirty years. [Don,] reconsider your actions. We implore you not to create a world where only the biggest corporations are allowed to participate in the creative marketplace.

At this point, the storytelling takes a turn, becomes less like a traditional once-upon-a-time-to-happy-ending finish and starts to feel more like Pulp “Tarantino” Fiction. This is where John Travolta dies before the story's done, only to be resurrected in the final acts so he can continue the storyline that ultimately ends with his death... again. It's like every time you watch that movie, Travolta gets a second chance to stay alive, but he just can't keep from forgetting that ever-important semiautomatic by the toaster and the Pop-Tarts.

There are eerie parallels to the music business and the dialogue that played itself out across the Internet this week—and also a lesson it seems no one's able to learn. From U2's Best DVD Buyouts to Bon Jovi's Targeteering, it's Travolta losin' it in the can every time, an unnecessary slap on the face of an un-level market playing field. Worse yet, it's the pockmarked face of your worst Bill Murray dream—a never-ending Groundhog Day doomed to infinite repetition because once the story's supposedly over, it starts all over again.

SPEAK OUT

In an open letter to Don Henley and the Eagles, independent retailers nationwide speak out.

We in the independent music retail community just heard the bad news that you guys are giving your new DVD/single exclusively to Best Buy for the all-important first 30 days of its release.

While we understand the lure of working exclusively with huge corporations and the marketing clout this mega-venture affords your band, this seems like a serious compromise in principles. How is it that you, Don, can rail against the consolidation of power in the radio industry and amongst large record labels, and at the same time make a conscious decision to stop anyone except the biggest of the big guys from carrying your single/DVD at the time when all of your fans will want it? We respectfully ask, where has your integrity and sense of fairness gone?

Put yourselves in our shoes. We've catered to and helped to build your fan base for the last thirty years. What do we tell our customers when they ask us for the new Eagles DVD/single? “Sorry, the band says that you can only buy it from very large corporations and we don't happen to be one of them.” And if you are successful with this mega-corporate venture, what does it mean for music as an art form? Will Wal-Mart begin to throw their weight around and demand that only they be allowed to sell a superstar's new singles, albums and DVDs in the future? It appears you are creating that future with this action and the rest of us will suffer for it.

Please reconsider your actions. We implore you not to create a world where only the biggest corporations are allowed to participate in the creative marketplace.

You've seen yourself what has happened with radio. Why kill one of the last few remaining human voices in the music business: the voice of the independent music retailer. Please allow us to buy and sell the new Eagles DVD/single upon its release. It is the right thing to do.

UNDER THE RADAR

This week in Under The Radar we want to draw special attention to those albums that are either making important moves on CMJ Retail charts or are just about to. We'll also throw in a few reasons on the what, why and how things are beginning to pop.

Notes	Executive producer Rick Rubin says, "[Vocalist/guitarist] James [Grundler] has a truly unique gift for melody and a tremendous voice to back it up. This is a lethal combination. Heroes and Villains really pounds the point home." James and keyboardist Andy Blunda recently played a set at Virgin HQ. Contact your UMVD ADR or Joe Calitri at Island (joe.calitri@umusic.com) for tickets and tools.	Provocative spazz-grind—like Gravity Records meets Devo. Debut record (1999's self-titled collection of 50-second Moog-core blasts) pushed over 25k! New record flirts with odd-time signatures, discharging 23 bursts in 21 minutes. Promotional materials available—including in-store play copies, posters, stickers and Tijuana Bibles. Contact Catherine@epitaph.com.	Fans have been waiting over five years for this metalcore mathscreeamo monstrosity, which fell into Revelation's hands after a ex-sales rep talked to guitarist Matt Fox (former buyer for Uncle Sam's Music in Miami Beach!) Previous album shipped over 40K. Limited edition picture disc LPs will be available. Contact John Nutcher at Revelation for more info (john@revhq.com).	Spearheading an electronic slowdive into sultry, suffocating grooves, Tricky practically invented the "trip-hop" movement of the mid-'90s. After a more mainstream spell (2001's Blowback), Tricky returns with his most song-oriented session to date. Mixing rock hooks with his patented molasses funk, Trick flips the script, covering XTC and the Cure, and opening himself to new emotional terrain.

We've always had as many different genres of music as we could stuff into the store," Lou's Records general manager Tony Vick says, "so we have an enormous catalog of music of all kinds, from underground punk to dance and electronica to classical and jazz. In San Diego, we're the last bastion of a full-service catalog store with all genres of music and that, I think, is the most important thing we do for our community."

Q&A with Tony Vick, general manager, Lou's Records

What local press affects sales most?

Both free alternative weeklies, the San Diego Reader and San Diego City Beat; as well as the daily paper, the San Diego Union-Tribune.

What radio station affects sales most?

We get great response from programs that we do for KPBS where we supply music for the public radio station. We get quite a bit of feedback from 91X and 92.1.

Do you have in-stores?

About 80 percent of our in-stores are held outside. We use a stage occasionally, when it is a big enough event. We have a PA at our disposal and use a variety of sound reinforcement companies for the bigger performances as well. We've had in-stores for anywhere from 10 guests to up to 1,000. Most recently we've had Jack Johnson, but we've also done large in-stores with Jewel, Mazzy Star, Supersuckers, Rocket From The Crypt and many more.

What is your most effective program?

Definitely the listening stations. Listening stations always have a great response. We have a total of 80 stations. One of them is the CIMS tower and then we have three Lou's Records stations.

Hawaii's biggest Johnson rocks the lot at Lou's. Hey, I can't see Jack from way back here!

What other programs do you offer? Are any of them discretionary?

We have a very large movie-style marquee on the street that allows us to advertise titles and their price—usually about eight-to-10 new releases. We also use it to announce store events. We also have a lot of display boxes on the outside of the building.

What types of non-traditional promotions have worked best?

Our most successful promotion of recent memory is what we call the Surf Breakfast, which we held for Jack Johnson. We opened at 7 a.m. on the day of release for On And On. [We] had a number of surf product companies—clothing, surf wax, etc.—show up in the parking lot with their vans and products. And we had coffee and donuts for all the surfers and people who wanted Jack Johnson early. It was enormously successful. We sold hundreds of pieces the first day, many of them before our regular opening time. We try to find somewhat unorthodox methods for our area, and since we are a block from the beach we try to tie in a lot to the local surf culture.

What display materials work best for you?

Posters and 4'x4' foamcore boards. Whatever we can make the biggest and flashiest display out of is what works.

What records are your current and all-time favorites?

Britta Phillips and Dean Wareham's L'Avventura and Television's Marquee Moon.

What's the first record you bought and where?

Hank Williams' Greatest Hits. I bought it when I was nine years old at Montgomery Ward.

What's the best concert you've attended?

The Clash at the City Theatre in San Diego in 1979.

Bull Split! NE Chain Unleashes New Store/Warehouse

Northeastern chain Bull Moose Music is opening the doors to its tenth store. Or maybe we should say its “tenth-and-a-half” store, because this thing is simply huge! The latest addition to the Bull Moose family is a 10,000-square-foot record emporium that will be both a store and a working warehouse!

You read that right. 10,000 square feet. Shit, that’s not a record store, that’s a record republi! This massive store will take up half of Scarborough, Maine starting in late July.

“We are having trouble keeping the indie stuff in the stores because the one stops are carrying less and less indie titles,” Bull Moose founder Brett Wickard says. “So, we thought if we’re gonna keep stocking killer indie stuff, we’re gonna have to stock it ourselves.”

So what previous store/warehouses inspired such lofty ambitions? “Nobody we know of,” Brett says. “Honestly we have no idea what the hell we’re doing. So, honestly, we don’t know if it’ll work or not.”

The store will be a music nerd’s wet dream, with every customer being granted the opportunity to shop for records in a massive frigging warehouse! Due to its immense girth, the store/warehouse will carry cut-outs, imports and practically everything under the sun (“That Belinda Carlisle Australian import live CD will be there,” Brett adds). The CDs will even be arranged in what Brett calls “the most un-customer-friendly format available”—spine out—so Bull Moose can pack itself to the gills.

“Indie stores have been so hermetically sealed that you know the exact SKU number for everything,” Brett says. “Here, as the customer, you’ll know you can find something crazy.”

Although the store will open in late July, the “grand opening” will be conducted around a performance by the coolest band that Bull Moose can get to play an in-store. Does your label have a huge band on it? Email Brett at newbullmoose@hotmail.com and let them rock in a stadium-sized record store!

Yes, Kilroy was, in fact, here! And by “here,” we mean the Record Exchange in Boise, Idaho! Mighty arena rockers Styx said “domo arigato” to the fine folks at the RX on May 23. Over 250 people “sailed away” to the Record Exchange and lined up in the hot-ass sun to meet the masters of stadium-sized demi-prog, towering power ballads and enigmatic robot rock operas. The boys of Styx signed CDs, LPs, 8-tracks and, yes, even flesh. For all their hard work, Styx topped the RX chart for the first time in twenty-odd years! Thank you very much, Mr. Roboto.

On the last Saturday in May, St. Louis’s Vintage Vinyl hosted a double shot of Thick Records thickness—crunchy post-grunge duo Local H (pictured above) and hometown power trio Sullen—to over 150 people (including members of the Foo Fighters). For the in-store, VV’s Jim Utz suggested the bands—which have toured together—do something unique. In his weekly Email, Jim says, “I made the suggestion that the bands do four-song sets [where] three songs would consist of the other band’s material. So, this past Saturday, for the first time—and maybe ever—people were able to see Sullen play Local H songs and Local H play Sullen songs. Yet another example of how confirming these things in advance gives everyone involved a chance to do something different; which, in turn, also makes all involved—store, bands, labels—excited and enthusiastic towards the event and doing more of them.”

Of course we all know that Denver retailer Twist And Shout is—in scientific terms—the bomb diggity. But now every steering-wheel jockey spilling coffee on himself during his morning commute will know too! Denver motorists can now screech to a halt admiring a bright red billboard—courtesy of the fine folks at WEA, Ryko, BMG, Universal and EMI—that congratulates the peeps at Twist And Shout on 15 years of loyal service. Twist And Shout owners Paul and Jill Epstein are pictured here holding some creative “value-adds” for the next Snoop Dogg record... Louie and Lilly!

INTERNSHIPS

DFA Records is looking for a part-time intern to assist with distribution, press, marketing, sales and promotional events in NYC. Our roster includes the Rapture, LCD Soundsystem, the Juan Maclean and Black Dice. Must have 8x10 glossy, resume and movement clothes. Contact Jonathan Galkin at jg@plantain.net; Phone: 212.989.1038, Ext. 222.

Mia Mind Music is seeking interns in NYC for its new "co-op" record label with Select-O-Hits Distribution. Applicants will gain experience in radio/press promotion, retail distribution, Internet services and artist bookings. This is a part-time (approximately 10–15 hours per week), unpaid internship, suitable for students seeking school credit or anyone trying to break into the music business. Contact Stevie B at 212.564.4611; Fax: 212.564.4448; Email: MiMiMus@aol.com.

Beggars Group/Matador Records is seeking a motivated intern for its Radio Department in NYC. Responsibilities include research, mailings, and some administrative work. Applicants should have strong communication skills, be able to multitask (juggle, walk and chew gum at the same time) and have Mac knowledge. Filemaker Pro experience a plus, but not essential. Must be available at least 15 hours a week. A small stipend is available and you can receive college credit (free records and coffee too!). If interested, email Fred Navarrete at frednavarrete@beggars.com with resume and hours of availability.

INDUSTRY

G105 (WDCG) in Raleigh, NC, has an immediate full-time DJ opening for its 7 p.m. to midnight slot. Requirements/qualifications: Execute all assigned air shifts, following PD's instructions; Complete all production assigned in accordance with timelines; Report all technical discrepancies to engineering; Ensure playback of all scheduled commercials; Execute all remote broadcasts and appearances in accordance with remote handbook; Adhere to FCC guidelines. Minimum two years experience full-time on air in station format, plus knowledge of digital editing and control room systems. Must have valid driver's license. Send resume to: Clear Channel Radio, 3100 Smoketree Ct., Suite 700, Raleigh, NC 27604, Attn: Chris Shebel; Fax: 919.876.2929; Email: chrisshebel@clearchannel.com. Application closing date: June 16.

Excess dB Entertainment And Management in Englewood Cliffs, NJ, is seeking interns. We're looking for individuals to assist in concert promotion in NJ and NYC and managerial duties for the band Senses Fail. Internship is unpaid, for school credit or general experience. Candidates must be available a minimum of three days a week, five preferred. We offer seasonal and ongoing internships. Send inquiries/resumes to heath@excessdb.com; phone: 201.567.9771.

Bar/None Records (www.bar-none.com), an independent record label located in Hoboken, NJ (easy access from/to NYC) is looking for interns. Please email Grace at grace@bar-none.com for further information.

REPORTING DATES

June 6 – June 10

CMJ REPORTING HOURS

6 a.m. Friday - 2 p.m. Tuesday EST

www.cmj.com/reporting/

NOTE TO REPORTERS: Printed playlists reflect airplay reported to CMJ two weeks prior to magazine's cover date. The number of station playlists printed each week in CMJ is randomly deterred by available space.

CMJ REPORTING GUIDELINES

CMJ Airplay Reporters must submit reports weekly, via the online interface located at www.cmj.com, prior to 2 p.m. (ET) every Tuesday afternoon, abiding to the following guidelines:

- "Adds" are the new and current albums that a CMJ Airplay Reporter makes available for airplay and reasonably expects will receive airplay during the forthcoming week.
- Albums reported in a CMJ Airplay Reporter's Top 30 playlist must represent the most played current albums on the station during the preceding week. Because we are a "new" music publication whose charts are album-based, reporting re-currents (or recordings more than a year old) or singles is not necessary.
- Airplay reports that do not correlate with actual airplay, also known as "paper adds," are not permitted under any circumstances.
- When CMJ cannot vouch for the accuracy of an artist and/or recording on a station's airplay report (we do so by investigating our own internal database, searching the Internet and/or consulting with online music retailers), the listing in question will remain in its position on the playlist, however, it will be preceded by an asterisk, as in *Beatles, to designate that it could not be verified at press time. CMJ will then utilize all available resources to verify the unverified listing either prior to the week's reporting close or before the next week's reporting period commences.

CAFE TACVBA

"If their artistic trajectory continues as it has until now, [CUATRO CAMINOS] could be the Rock En Español Kid A, and definitely a release fans of intelligent, forward-thinking music in any language won't want to miss."
