CRIA and CMPDA want changes to copyright laws

Toronto: The motion picture and recording industries in Canada are jointly losing in excess of $100 million a year and the total is mounting month by month.

That was the word from Brian Robertson, President of the Canadian Recording Industry Association and Millard Roth, Executive Director of the Canadian Motion Picture Distributors Association, released recently in a joint statement.

Officials of both organizations report that fast and decisive action, by the federal government to increase penalties for sound recordings, is the only thing that is going to prevent huge, continuing losses by the Canadian motion picture and recording industries.

Both Roth and Robertson said the problem is being fuelled by Canada's "antiquated copyright laws, which currently offer a maximum $200 fine to combat what has become a $100 million a year business."

The duo have already met with senior officials of the Prime Minister's Office and are scheduling meetings with Minister of Communications Francis Fox and Consumer & Corporate Affairs Minister Judy Erola, as well as with representatives of the Department of Justice, the Solicitor General and other political parties.

Parachute Club's debut scores gold status

Toronto: Boosted by their first hit single Rise Up, the debut self-titled album from the Toronto group the Parachute Club on the Current label, has just surpassed the gold mark in Canada.

Distributed by RCA, Current has just issued the second single from the album titled Alienation. The album was produced by Daniel Lanois.

Recently released in the U.S., the 12" dance version of Rise Up has debuted on the U.S. dance charts and is moving up. The 12" version was also released in Canada along with the 7".

The local group are currently in the midst of a tour in support of the album. Dates for the band include Waterloo (Nov. 24), Kingston (25), Ottawa (26), Montreal (27), St. Hyacinthe (30), Quebec City (Dec. 1), Lennoxville (2), and Rimouski (3).

The band is embarking on a U.S. tour beginning mid-December in support of their U.S. single and album release.

Interview disc released of Brigade & Geddy Lee

Toronto: The Anthem Record label has released a 12" radio-only interview disc of Boys Brigade and the producer of their self-titled debut album, Rush bassist Geddy Lee.

As well as the conversations with the group and producer the 12" EP contains the new Boys Brigade single, Melody, which was recently released as a 7" in a picture sleeve with the track Africa on the flip. The interview disc also contains the song The Cut Up (Breaking Glass). The interview was produced by Andre Tilk.

contend that the problem is magnified by the recent upgrading of penalties in the U.S. which are now a $250,000 fine and/or five years in jail and an unlimited fine and/or two years in jail in the U.K.

The two organizations say they have evidence of previously U.S. based pirates moving into Canada to take advantage of the low penalties, and that they, as well as representatives of Canadian law enforcement agencies, are concerned that Canada is fast becoming a haven for this activity.

Robertson and Roth report they've been unofficially advised that it could be 1986 before the new Copyright Act becomes law. They felt that by that time, both industries could be in shreds. The duo stressed that the government has to recognize the problem and act now.

Both the CMPDA and CRIA have strong support from several Canadian film, recording and cultural organizations.

Dallcorte's TICTOC lands U.S. deal

Toronto: Following the success of the debut single Twenty Questions from their first album Where The Picnic Was, Dallcorte Records President Bernard Solomon reports that TICTOC has landed a U.S. Record deal.

RCA U.S. will be releasing the 7" single immediately, as well as a new dub version of the 12", which has been re-mixed by Nelson Cruz, the power behind the No. 1 U.S. dance hit single, Let The Music Play. A U.S. release for the album is expected in early January.

Meanwhile, the Dallcorte label, distributed in Canada by RCA, is about to release the new single from the TICTOC album titled,

Headpins & Orphan team for Eastern tour

Canada: Solid Gold's Headpins and the new Portrait recording group Orphan are teaming for a tour of Eastern Canada with The Headpins as the headlining act and Orphan as openers.

The Headpins will be supporting their new Solid Gold album, Line Of Fire. Celebration was the first single from the LP, and Just One More Time is the latest.

Supporting Headpins lead singer Darby Mills and now full-time are former Chilliwack members Brian MacLeod and Ab Bryant.

The Winnipeg based Orphan will be promoting their debut album Lonely At Night. The band has already completed an extensive Western tour opening for another Solid Gold recording group Toronto, who have been supporting their latest, Girls Night Out.

Portrait recently released the second single from the Orphan album titled Miracle, a follow-up to the single, Saved By The Bell. The album, distributed by CBS, was produced by Tony Bongiovi and Lance Quinn.

Tour dates include Charlottetown (Nov 22), Moncton (23), Halifax (24, 25, 26), Fredericton (27), Montreal (29), Quebec (30), Kingston (Dec 1), Cornwall (2), Oshawa (3), Timmins (4), North Bay (6), Sudbury (7), Sault Ste. Marie (8) and Thunder Bay (9).

Specially-priced U2 LP released by WEA Music

Toronto: Due to the smash success of their third album War, WEA Music has released a new specially-priced, live mini-album from the Irish quartet U2 titled Blood Red Sky.

The album carries a suggested list price of $6.98 for LP and cassette. Tracks on the album include Gloria, I Will Follow, Sunday Bloody Sunday, New Year's Day. The LP has eight cuts in all, and was produced by Jimmy Iovine.

Released early this year, War attained gold, then platinum status and still, nine months after its release, is still a "hot seller" across the country according to WEA.

The company notes that it has been a sensational year for the young quartet. WEA reports that to end the year with a bang and as a thank you to their followers, U2 decided to deliver the live mini-album.

Anything Everything. On the flip is V.F.W. The LP was produced by Terry Brown.

Forthcoming dates for the band's tour include Montreal (Nov. 18 & 19), Brampton (22), Welland (23), London (24 & 25), Toronto Nov 26 and Dec 1st.

The Toronto-based band recently made their premiere appearance in their hometown (Nov. 12), at the Concert Hall in a benefit performance opening for Blue Peter. The benefit show, which included a day-long dance marathon sponsored by CFNY-FM, was to raise money for the Young People's Theatre, a non-profit organization which provides professional live theatre to adults and children in Toronto area schools and at their live theatre location in the city,

Mills' Xmas album ships platinum

Toronto: Al Andruchow, Director of National Sales for Capitol Records EMI of Canada, reports that dealer acceptance was so strong for the Frank Mills album A Special Christmas that the company shipped the LP platinum.

This makes the album the largest initial shipment for a Christmas LP. Capitol has also experienced success with the Christmas albums Anne Murray's Christmas Wishes and Kenny Rogers' Christmas, both of which attained the triple platinum level.

"We are treating A Special Christmas no differently than any other hit record even though it is a Christmas album," said Andruchow. "Frank has mass appeal and the sales figures from his previous albums prove this. As well, he is currently touring the country and this certainly helps the cause."

Capitol is supporting the LP with special die-cut header cards, flats and a 24"x36" catalogue poster. On Dec. 8, Mills' Christmas TV special is being re-broadcast at 9 pm on the CTV Network.

Forthcoming dates for Mills include North Bay (Nov. 21), Sault Ste. Marie (22 & 23), Owen Sound (25 & 26), Montreal (28),

The album was shipped in a colorful inner-sleeve mirroring the 15-year career of Chilliwack which is now solely represented by Bill Henderson, the leader and only remaining original member of the Vancouver unit. Henderson either wrote or co-wrote nearly every song on the LP.

Assisting Henderson, who also produced the two new songs, were such names as drummer Simon Phillips (Asia, Pete Townshend and Jeff Beck), bassist Mo Foster (Jeff Beck), guitarist Ashley Mulford (Sad Cafe) and keyboardist Richard Gibbs, all of whom are noted session musicians. The new tracks were written by the team of Phillips, Foster, Gibbs, Mulford and Henderson.

The sessionmen are also expected to assist Henderson on his upcoming new album, yet untitled, scheduled for late February or early March of '84. Whether Phillips, Foster and the others will also be touring with Henderson is still not confirmed. The tour is planned to coincide with the album release.

"It's not bad at all being the only Chilliwack member," said Henderson. "The other musicians are for recording and touring purposes only. Even though I'm the only member of Chilliwack, you still have to work with people.

"I prefer it this way right now because I have an idea of the direction I want to go. For me it's a natural thing. Most of the other people doing it today have been around for years and years. They're in a position where they can do it themselves."

The guitarist admits he has no plans for recruiting new permanent members of Chilliwack noting that he presently likes conditions the way they are.

Former Chilliwack members Ab Bryant and Brian MacLeod left the group in March to become full-time members of Headpins, another Solid Gold recording group. Ironically, the pair had been temporarily touring and recording with the Headpins only during a period of the Mushroom label litigation, but ended up joining the group, fronted by Darby Mills, as permanent members.

"When I want to go on the road now, all I have to do is phone up the people," said Henderson. "They're still free to do their own projects. This way, it makes creative life more interesting."

Looking back over the 15th years of Chilliwack history, Henderson says there are still things that he wants to do, but still hasn't had the time.

"I just want to express, through myself and my music, what the world's about, and that's a challenge. It's what drives me to express myself.

"When I was a kid in the early grades I was very shy. I couldn't talk to anyone except my family or a relative. When I did, I always felt I was going to say something foolish. I was hopeless at regular conversation, but the music really helped and people could recognize the difference."

Henderson says he plans to put a studio in his basement so that he can further his knowledge of production techniques. He also revealed that he will be involved in the production of material from other artists in the future.

"I've had quite a few people asking me to produce and I've had lots of tapes coming in, but the songs themselves are the major hurdle."

Henderson believes that the Canadian music business has become a lot more professional since the early days of Chilliwack, back in 1969.

"The quality of talent hasn't changed so much, but it has been refined. Basically the business has just grown a lot. And there are successful Canadian artists. This makes others feel confident. It's hard being a little brother to the U.S."

The guitarist stressed that what he would really like to see come out of Canada is something that's different that becomes big, but agreed that there may be some hesitation on the part of Canadian record companies in signing up an act with a new or untried sound.

"A company would be taking a chance, but I think these are the kind of things that would pay off in the long run. Companies have got to see the space for something new."

Henderson believes that Canadian radio is being more supportive of their own artists.

"I think they're proud of what Canadians have been doing. They're not so amazed now when a Canadian artist has a hit."

Henderson added that he's very much looking forward to playing live again.

The opening drew a large representation from Toronto's artist community and media. McGee (above) is flanked by Patricia Dahlquist (l) and CITY-TV's Deborah Rubin.

McGee and producer Dykon got together with RPM's Stan Klees (l) CBS Canada President Bernie DiMateo (r) and cast member Tom Gallant. The latter is well-known in country circles.

McGee with (l to r) Don Oates (CBS Vice Pres), Vern Brown (owner Variety Theatre), producer Dykon and Bernie DiMateo. CBS was actively involved in the opening night.

Little River Band were presented with gold for Greatest Hits and Time Exposure during their Orpheum (Vancouver) date (Nov. 5) by Capitol's Bret Manlove, Jim Allott and Lionel Wilson.

Steve Glenn to CFTI

Paul Larche, Program Director for Timmins country station CFTI, reports that in their continuing effort to become #1 in the North, the station has announced the appointment of Steve Glenn for morning drive. Larche says that Glenn, a Timmins native with over 20 years in the broadcast industry, "is back to stay." Glenn has also experienced success as a country performer and has numerous recordings to his credit. Larche points out that Glenn's background in both country music and broadcasting make him "an obvious asset to CFTI."

Dan Williamson to CKEY

Harvey Clarke reports that Dan Williamson has joined CKEY as host of their afternoon drive programming effective January 1st, 1984. Williamson, currently doing the 10 am to 3 pm shift for CFTR on weekends had previously hosted CFTR's afternoon show from June of 1978. He entered the Toronto market after six successful years with Vancouver's CKLG. Williamson is also one of the top voices in Canada's commercial business. About his move to CKEY, the station's Vice President and General Manager Michal Mangialardo noted, "He (Williamson) is one of the truly fine talents in the market and we were most fortunate that his contract was up at CFTR when we were looking for an experienced music host for our afternoon period."

OZ appointment for Morel

Tim Forsythe, General Manager of the Newfoundland Broadcasting Company, recently announced the appointment of Bruce Morel to the position of Station Manager of the OZ FM Network. Forsythe noted that Morel's abilities and experience have played a vital role in evolving OZ FM to its current level of popularity and commercial success.

Western Fair visibility for CJBK

Kathy Proctor says that CJBK does award "London's best prizes." She should know as the winner of a brand new 1984 Mercury Topaz awarded by the station. At the 1983 Western Fair, CJBK gave over 400,000 people attending the event the chance to win the automobile. Fairgoers were invited to stop by the CJBK exhibit and fill out a ballot to win. Grand prize winner Proctor was announced the Monday following the fair by morning personality Don Beau Dean. Station Promotions Manager Steve Garrison reports that all the colour at this year's fair was presented by CJBK personalities who broadcast live from the event, the largest of its kind attracting people from across the province.

Big bucks for CFRW listener

CFRW listener Ida Vermeulen of St. Andrews recently became $1,000 richer. The money was awarded to the listener by the Winnipeg station (Oct. 20), because she was the holder of a CFRW Supercard. She picked up her Supercard from a nearby 7-11 store, filled out the attached postcard, mailed it to CFRW, and simply stayed tuned to the station to win. The station reports that the Supercard can be obtained from any 7-11 outlet.

CHOK's all you can eat chicken

CHOK Sarnia personalities took part in their All The Kentucky Fried Chicken You Can Eat contest (Oct 25), competing against the team from Big Brothers, a United Way Member Agency. In the 15-minute time period CHOK ate 44 pieces of chicken while the Big Brothers could only manage 28 pieces. J.V. Wiltshire, owner of the area Kentucky Fried Chicken outlets awarded $5.00 for every piece of chicken that the winning team could eat and then matched dollar-for-dollar, the final amount. With a total of 44 pieces, CHOK raised $220.00 and with the matched money, a grand total of $440.00 was donated to the United Way of Sarnia-Lambton.

Nashville Now for Sumsion

Terry Sumsion, currently on release with his Summit single, One More Time, has been invited to appear on the popular Nashville Now TV show, which is seen in 9 million U.S. homes. The show is hosted by Ralph Emery. Sumsion flies into Nashville for the Nov 21 appearance and returns to Toronto the next day to begin work on his next album session at Eastern Sound. The session will be produced by Rob Asselstine who just completed a similar session for Ruth Ann which will see an MCA release. Sumsion will be featured at the Canadian Music Show (25) and that same evening will play Brampton's Riviera Club, a 750 seater club that has been gaining in popularity over the last few months. Both these latter dates will be taped for CTV's Live It Up.

QM's songfest draws crowd

CFQM's 5th annual Country Song Contest, held over the Oct 15th weekend at a local Moncton Mall, drew a consistent crowd of 2,000 in attendance and, according to the station's Music Director, Brad Donnelly, was "a huge success." There were forty contestants with a first place prize of $600.00 and a recording session with Prime Time Sound Studios of Sussex, New Brunswick, going to St. Stephen's George Justason. Total prize money amounted to $1,100.00. The contest was sponsored by CFQM and Pepsi Cola. Judges included Urban Corral's Roger Dupuis and RCA recording artist Lee Marlow. Hosts for the show were QM's Brad Donnelly, Program Director John Richard, afternoon host Ernie Steeves and Roxanne. The latter is now with CKIK. The Ellis Family Band of Prince Edward Island supplied half-time entertainment.

HAGOOD HARDY - Pop
Chasing A Dream - Duke Street
DSR-31000-P

One of the first releases from the Duke/Warner pact, top pop favourite Hagood Hardy makes an impressive return to the business with this self-production. Hardy should re-establish himself on the charts very quickly with this superb package of entertainment, particularly with Chasing A Dream, taken as a single and which was co-written by Hardy with Dan Hill. Other key tracks include Hardy's solo penning of The Dream and You're The One For Me as well as Children Of The Dream, the latter which he co-wrote with Judith Lander. This is Hardy's ninth album and because of his short hiatus from the charts, perhaps has a slight edge over previous releases. Of course, he also has the top professionals in the business supplying lush accompaniment, which includes subtle synthesizer inserts supplied by Tom Szczesniak, Melvin Berman on oboe and Jack Zaza on harmonica (he also doubles on flute and clarinet). The keyboard artistry of Hagood Hardy goes without saying and, in view of his long-standing popularity with record buyers, this package should be given prominent display space.

PAUL McCARTNEY
PIPES OF PEACE

PAUL McCARTNEY - Rock
Pipes Of Peace - Columbia QC-39149-H

Produced by George Martin, Pipes Of Peace was a hit on the day of release. One of the big items from the album is McCartney's duet with Michael Jackson on Say Say Say, taken as a single. Also key is his coupling with Jackson on The Man. Both songs were co-written by McCartney and Jackson. McCartney also teamed with bassist Stanley Clark to write the cute (2:56) instrumental Hey Hey. Clark also guests on the album as does Ringo Starr and Roxy Music's Andy MacKay. There will no doubt be a couple of singles taken from the album, but one that should take priority is So Bad, described as "a classical McCartney ballad." This is McCartney's fourth album for Columbia. Lyrics included.

Faithfull, Silent Night and Good King Wenceslas, to name just a few, are buffered with material that hasn't been so readily for the festive season, certainly not done up in this type of format. These include the traditional American I Wonder As I Wander, traditional German O Christmas Tree, traditional English What Child Is This and the traditional French Angels We Have Heard On High, not to mention the highlight of the album, Handel's Hallelujah Chorus from the Messiah. Produced by Jay David Saks. A must for programmers looking for exceptional Christmas instrumentals. A front-rack item.

SOUNDTRACK - Pop

Yentl - Barbra Streisand
Columbia - JS-39152-H

Produced by Barbara Streisand and Alan and Marilyn Bergman, the Yentl soundtrack is being heralded as Streisand's "best" in her string of 37 albums. The movie itself is enjoying critical acclaim which should attract buyers for the soundtrack and which makes this an item for solo display. The Bergman's wrote the lyrics to the Michel Legrand music. Aside from the soundtrack, the real power with this release are two Phil Ramone productions, The Way He Makes Me Feel and No Matter What Happens, both studio versions with the former released as a single and already a major chart item. Lyrics included.

THE FRONT - Rock

Gina's At A Party - Duke - DSA-01-W

Produced by Hayward Parrot at Toronto's Manta Sound, The Front make an impressive entry into the business with this package of rock cum pop entertainment that fits nicely into what can be considered "today's music". The Front are Tim Thorney, well-known in the song writing community (American Song Festival), on keyboards and lead vocals and Paul Henderson, also lead vocals. Both Thorney and Henderson wrote all the material here with the exception of The Joke Was On Me, which was a co-writing effort by Thorney and Lisa Del Bello. The Haunting, was taken as the first single and The Truth Hurts is being readied as the follow-up and is perhaps the strongest track on the album, giving Henderson the opportunity to display his vocal energies which are nicely balanced with superb instrumental backing. Session people include hornman David Parasz, drummer Paul Hannah, bassist (accordian) Michael Kohn, Gary Nichol on guitars and various synthesizers using the talents of Ray Parker (Organ), Tom Szczesniak, producer Parrot and Lisa Dal Bello on the "Mystery Synth".

Third Lowdown single picking up nationally

Toronto: Lowdown, a trio from London, Ontario have released Gimmie Some, their third single on their own label.

The single was produced by Declan O'Doherty, who co-wrote the song with band member Doug Varty, who handles guitar, keyboards and harmonica.

The remaining members are bassist Ted Floyd and drummer Brian Salt. All three contribute vocals. Lowdown are expected to re-enter the studio shortly to complete their album which they expect to release early next year. O'Doherty is producing.

The trio released their debut album, Love Ya early this year on Lady Records. They are presently playing dates in Southern Ontario in support of the new single, as well as visiting local radio stations.

Lowdown is perhaps best known in the London area for their covers of '60s rock classics, but plan to record some of their own originals on the forthcoming LP.

"This single is better produced," explained Varty. "We went to an outside producer on this record and got Declan O'Doherty. The arrangement is also better. The music is adult contemporary, but there's an R&B influence."

Varty, who noted that the band doesn't play bars, explained that the trio's extensive list of rock classics evolved through positive audience response.

Born in 1978, Lowdown has opened for several top names including the Beach Boys, Roy Orbison, Del Shannon, Bobby Vee and Chubby Checker.

Album and movie action for Thunder's Thor

New York: Thor, the young Canadian bodybuilder who was Mr. Canada and who gained national recognition a few years ago through the management expertise of Bruce Wilson, has returned to the recording scene with a new album titled Thor-Unchained. He has also signed a $4 million deal where he is to be featured in Death Match, a science fiction movie.

Thor's manager Rusty Hamilton, of Thunder Productions, expects the new album to be released in Canada shortly. Produced by Thor the album was recorded at New York's A Step Above and the Boogie Hotel in Long Island, New York. Besides Thor on lead vocals, the group comprises lead guitarist Karl Cochran, bassist Keith Zazzi, drummer Mike Favata and back-up vocalist Pantera.
