Movieland's Perennial Sweetheart Weds

SIMPLICITY marked the marriage of actress Mary Brian and Jon Whitcomb, nationally known illustrator, in the chapel of the Hollywood First Baptist church on May 5. The ceremony was so informal that persons passing by paid little attention when the couple, who first met one year ago in New York, walked out of the church man and wife. Only a few relatives and close friends attended. Mrs. Stu Erwin (June Collyer) was matron of honor, best man was Harold Hicks of Palm Springs. Following a reception given by Mrs. Erwin in her Beverly Hills home for Mary and Jon, they planed to New York, sailed for a two weeks' honeymoon cruise in the Caribbean. Upon their return, the Whitcombs plan to make their home in Darien, Conn.

The Editors' Note:

PROUD of always being first in its field, Movie-Radio Guide this week presents on its cover the first color portrait taken of Baby Sandy and her baby brother, Gary. This portrait was taken with a Speed-Graphic camera in the hands of the man who always photographs Baby Sandy, veteran photographer Eddie Estabrook

THIS WEEK: No alarmists, the editors of Movie-Radio Guide have not been given to raving and ranting about the Fifth Column in America. We believe that the American character is a bulwark too strong to be cracked by foreign influence.

Yet a curious situation arises in that one of the Nazi-made films, "Sieg im Westen" ("Victory in the West"), is at this writing in the United States and already has been shown in Yorkville, heavily populated German section of New York City. American films cannot be shown in Germany. What kind of game is this?

Do readers of Movie-Radio Guide know how these films are imported? Weekly "Variety" has this to say: 'Nazis now have a new route for getting their films across and are said to be having more success than formerly. Prints are sent to Lisbon, then to Dakar in Africa, then to South America, and then to United States, all by air.

The Nazis are resourceful, but it is quite obvious that this trickle of propaganda will not affect the American mind to a serious degree. Yet how is it that these pictures can get into this country at all? It is to the everlasting credit of the Independent Theater Owners of America that they have demanded that these Nazi films be kept out of the country, but the problem does not stop here. In South America, Nazi-made films are shown freely in many places, and it is reported on good authority that officers of the army in Chile have been forbidden to visit theaters showing anti-Nazi pictures while in uniform.

On the basis of this information revealed in weekly "Variety," Movie-Radio Guide urges that the government seriously consider immediate and more concentrated effort to offset propaganda pictures in South America. Hollywood's producer association can help immeasurably by taking popular stars on junkets similar to the recent Mexican trip - only extending these trips as far into South America as possible.

NEXT WEEK: It took a long time, but we did it. Bashful Jimmy Stewart wouldn't be photographed when he finally landed in the Army. At long last he emerged long enough to make a speech in Los Angeles. After the luncheon, Movie-Radio Guide's Jack Albin cornered Jimmy, secured fhe only color photo taken of Hollywood's No. I selectee. You'll see it on the cover of next week's issue and want to save it.

On the radio front, too, things will be humming next week. There'll be an intriguing page of radio-star fathers and their children more about the "Quiz Kids," and a picture story of Bob Hawk's CBS quiz broadcast, "Take It or Leave It." Plus the usual complete program listings, tips on highlight programs and short waves. All in all, something to watch for!

Movie-Radio Guide APPLAUDS:

Lucille Le Sueur

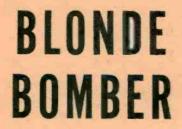

SHE was born in San Antonio, Texas, thirty-three years ago. She had as much chance to become famous as you have to market the milk in the Milky Way. Somewhere in the inner being of this scrawny child was a spark. It burned hot as a blow-torch. Early in her teens she began to dance, Charlestoned her way right into Hollywood big-time. A "shop girl's" ideal woman, she changed her name to Joan Crawford. She loved and lost twice-Doug Fairbanks, Jr., and Franchot Tone. She earned boatloads of money. It was superb fiction for the public, a nightmare to Joan. She didn't want to be a marrying fool, a rich woman-she wanted to be an actress. Joan wasn't an actress, and she knew it in an unhappy heart. MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE applauds Lucille Le Sueur today because she is an actress and she knows it. You will know it, too, when you see"A Woman's Face.

T IS April 29, 1932. A damp fog eddies over San Francisco . . . it makes a path from the ocean up Sutter Street, through Bush Street, down to the Ferry Building at the end of Market Street, and out over the bay. The fog pauses as it hustles past 111 Sutter Street and hesitates at a high window of the NBC studios. A man is working there, bent over a typewriter, finishing the last lines of a revised script. The man is producer Carlton Morse, and the script is the first of a family series to be broadcast over NBC. For a title the author had selected the phrase "One Man's Family."

Nine years have passed since that day. In those nine years, Carlton Morse has succeeded in making "One Man's Family" the most popular dramatic serial on the airwaves.
In "One Man's Family," author

Morse has concocted a story so lifelike with the characters so nearly living their parts that to many listeners it has become a real human story. For this reason Movie-Radio Guide applauds Carlton Morse.

LATE AGAIN! Gene Raymond and his ever-loving wife, Jeanette MacDonald, habitually one-half hour late for appointments, were late again when Movie-Radio Guide came to call!

HOME, SWEET HOME for Hollywood's happiest couple is this vine-covered cottage in Bel Air—Gene's wedding sur-prise for Jeanette. It cost about $50,000

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Raymond (she's Jeanette MacDonald) laugh at movie divorces

To News Desk:

JUNE 16 of this year will mark the fourth happy anniversary of the marriage Hollywood said wouldn't and couldn't last more than a few weeks. The persons involved are Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond, and though Hollywood still hasn't given up sharpshooting at their chances, one real look at them together is to know their happiness is good for another forty years.

In a sense, Jeanette and Gene were pushed into each other's arms and love by strangers. It all started because each proverbially is half an hour late for all appointments. On a spring evening in 1935, late as usual, they arrived simultaneously at a doorstep to which they had been invited as individual guests. Their hostess, Rozika Dolly, opened the door and said: "How sweet of you to come together! I didn't know you knew each other."

They didn't. Each was aware of the other as a screen personality, of course, but their personal paths had never crossed.

A week later they again bumped into each other on a host's doorstep, and again the host said how charming of them to come together. Next day the gossip columns were full of the town's "newest ro-mance"—Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond! It happened a third time ten days later. Attempt-ing to "crash" the preview of "Les Miserables," they again arrived simultaneously, went into the theater together. Gene bent toward Jeanette.

"The columnists seem pretty insistent about how well we know each other," he whispered. "We really shouldn't make liars of them, so will you have dinner with me?"

In Philadelphia, where Jeanette was reared, nice girls do not accept invitations from young men until they first have called on her at her home. So Jeanette asked him, and he accepted. And there began a grand comedy of errors.

He brought her a corsage of gardenias, only to discover she is allergic to any heavily scented flower. She had eggplant on the dinner menu, and if there's one vegetable which gives Gene the horrors, it's eggplant.

Both were embarrassed by the false romance rumors which had been printed about them, so con-versational attempts hit an all-time low. None the less, Gene screwed up enough courage to ask her for a dinner date the following Monday. The dinner turned into a celebration of Jeanette's birthday. That was the beginning of their romance.

He formally proposed to her on his birthday, August 13, 1936. They married June 16, 1937.

Jeanette hasn't got that red hair and Gene that stubborn chin for nothing, and so they had their quarrels in the ensuing months. The first serious one came during a house-party that winter at Yosemite. Due to a misunderstanding, Gene was off skiing all one day while Jeanette waited hour after hour for him at another spot. In a rage, she packed her bags, stormed out of the hotel. Behind her she

"You are not the kind of man I could be happy with," it read. "All is over between us."

Gene settled things in short order. Learning she was driving to Palm Springs with a friend later in the week, he intercepted her car on the main street of a little town called Azusa and bodily kidnaped her. She kicked and screamed and had a wonderful time until Gene said, "Shut up! I'm handling this nonsense from here in!" It was all she wanted;

"Azusa," incidentally, became their magic word to stop future quarrels. Let one get out of line and the other shouts "Azusa!" The memory of that ridiculous scene sets them to laughing, the quarrel is forgotten.

Recently the announcement was made that Jeanette and Gene will appear together in a picture—their first. The film will be "Smilin' Through," and in it Gene plays the part of his wife's rejected suitor. Brian Aherne wins her!

INTENSELY INTERESTED in one another, each believes the other is the more talented. Gene composes classical pieces and music-lovers the world over have thrilled at the way Jeanette sings them

Remake "Shanghai Gesture"

Preparations are moving fast toward the remaking of "The Shanghai Gesture" by Arnold Pressburger, with Joseph Von Sternberg as the director, and possibly Marlene Dietrich or Ida Lupino as the Chinese "Madame Goddam." Von Sternberg, irked by censorship restrictions which imposed too great difficulties for his style of lovescenes, hasn't directed a picture in two years, but in that time the censors have relaxed somewhat. His last was "Sergeant Madden."

Cast set so far includes Walter Pidgeon as the minister, Maureen O'Hara as Angharad, Anna Lee as Bronwen, Rodyy MacDowell, John Sutton and Rhys Williams, who may play the father of the Morgan family.

Gloria Swanson Clicks

Gloria Swanson is such a click in her movie comeback with Adolphe Menjou at RKO in "Father Takes a Wife" that already the studio is rushing about searching for a second play in which to utilize the talents of Gloria, which have not tarnished despite her long sojourn from the screen. Under consideration is the casting of Menjou as a Hollywood director and Miss Swanson as a temperamental actress. RKO writers have been asked to submit situations fitting the casting.

Albert Goes Independent

Eddie Albert, who always has preferred sailing uncharted waters and prospecting for gold above acting bemovie cameras, now is able to combine business with pleasure. Re-leased by Warner Bros., Albert has gone into partnership with the able Irving Applebaum to produce an independent picture called "Treasure Hunt." It will make use of Albert's footage recently made on a cruise to Scammons Lagoon, along the coast of Lower California, and will feature a story starring the actor and written by Hans Kafka.

Charlie McCarthy, now busy with the help of Edgar Bergen making the film "Look Who's Talking" at RKO with Fibber McGee and Molly, may be wired to walk without Bergen's help in the picture. Jimmy Stewart's Birthday

Acting Corporal Jimmy Stewart was given leave May 17 and 18 to come to Hollywood on furlough; celebrated his May 20 birthday a few days ahead of time at a party given for him Saturday night at the Mocambo by the Henry Fondas, who included Stewart cronies Franchot Tone and Burgess Meredith on their guest list. Betty Field was escorted to the party by Jimmy, who also celebrated Sunday morning at his home by having breakfast in bed-with no bugles!

LIFE STATISTICS

Baby Shower for Lili Damita

Mrs. Hal Rosson was hostess last week at a luncheon and baby shower for guest of honor Lili Damita (Mrs. Errol Flynn), who appeared wearing white slacks and a swagger jacket of orange angel skin decorated with gold buttons. Infant finery galore was re-moved by Lili from fancily wrapped boxes presented by guests Frances Robinson, Ada Dodge, Carmen Considine, Mrs. Victor Fleming, Minerva Bell, Mrs. Zoltan Korda and others.

Wallace Beery Eloping?

Wallace Beery's application to his home studio, M-G-M, for an eightweek leave of absence, as soon as he has finished "Barnacle Bill," has caused talk that Beery expects to wed Mrs. Loreen Robinson at that time. Beery is readying his summer home at Jackson Hole, Wyoming, for a visit, and he reports to inquirers, "I ask her to marry me every day."

Brenda Marshall and Bill Holden, who only are awaiting her final divorce decree to marry, are seeing realestate agents.

Wayne Morris and Patricia Stewart announced their engagement to friends May 19. Morris' divorce from Bubbles Schinasi becomes final in September.

Birthday for Anne Baxter

Anne Baxter, contract 20th Century-Fox actress, celebrated her eighteenth birthday with a party at her home last week. Early in June she will be graduated from the 20th Century-Fox Studio "high school."

Silly Rumors

Just before Martha Raye's marriage to Neal Lang a silly rumor swept Hollywood to the effect that Martha still carried a torch for Dave Rose, resented his going with Judy Garland. Truth of the matter is that Martha doesn't give a whoop whether Judy and Dave marry and hopes the gossips will quiet down. They won't.

Names

All is confusion at Warner Bros. over the name Carroll. There's Georgia Carroll, one of the sextette appearing in "Navy Blues." There's Lucia Carroll who does a super love-scene with Jimmy Cagney in "The Bride Came C. O. D." Story is that Georgia thinks Lucia ought to change her last name and Lucia doesn't think so, having been given the name Carroll by her studio a year ago. Georgia's last name is her real monicker and Lucia's used to be La Certe, so what to do? There's a Peggy Carroll around town too, not to speak of a Madeleine Carroll, a John Carroll and a Harrison Carroll. One Hollywood wag suggests that maybe they should all change their names and let Carole Landis change her name to Landis Carole. Somewhere in all this silly business should be a way for Earl Carroll to get some publicity—maybe by giving a dinner party for all of them, hanging a sign outside his restaurant reading: "Through these portals pass the most beautiful Carrolls in the world!"

CONTRACTS

Betty Field in "Kings Row"

Betty Field, loaned to Warner Bros. by Paramount, has started work there as Louise in "Kings Row," the screen play based on the popular Henry Bellaman novel. Other principals in the picture, which went before the cameras June 2, are Ann Sheridan as Randy, Ronald Reagan as Drake, and Robert Cummings as Parris. Sam Wood is directing.

Red Skelton Wins Plum

A one-man campaign, during which Red Skelton "electioneered" for the part of one of the three comic sailors in M-G-M's screening of "Panama Hattie," has turned out successfully. Red passed out cigars labeled "Vote for Me for Panama Hattie" to turn the trick. Red will be one of the sailors. But the cigars weren't the only deciding factor. Red's work in "Lady Be Good" helped a lot.

Confidential Report on Hollywood Gossip

NO. 3: BETTE DAVIS COLLAPSE, "SIT-DOWN STRIKE" TALK, BABY RUMOR, AND GOSSIP OF TROUBLE AT DAVIS DOMICILE

BETTE DAVIS, as previously reported here, collapsed last fortnight on the set of Sam Goldwyn's "The Little Foxes" and was ordered to bed to rest from a threatened, complete nervous breakdown. Immediately, Hollywood newsmongers scented a concealed reason. First, one printed that maybe Bette was on the way to becoming a mother? Answer, she isn't, yet. Second, another writer set down the reason to be that Miss Davis was really feuding with Goldwyn over the interpretation of her part and that she really is "in the best of health." Squelching that rumor, Goldwyn issued a general story to the press May 22 denying any temperament trouble and reiterating the original statement that Miss D. was truly suffering from a nervous collapse brought about by too much work and not enough vacation. Having been foiled in all other attempts to give the "news behind the news," the latest rumor is that all is not well with Bette and her new husband, Arthur Farnsworth. Movie-Radio Guide scotches this gossip; insists that Bette and Arthur are still love-birds.

Movie-Radio Guide CRITICS' REPORT

Carl A. Schroeder

STAR OF THE WEEK

PRISCILLA LANE, youngest of the five talented Lane sisters, hits stride in the highly entertaining "Mil-lion Dollar Baby" film

HOLLYWOOD really is in a dither at the moment. When a certain Mr. Orson Welles left the ranks of radio for movies, he was given an extreme cold shoulder in the land of glamour girls and $5,000-a-week salaries. After "Citizen Kane" was released, most of Hollywood rushed to offer its apologies, hailed Welles as the New Genius. Now the story gets funnier-the public doesn't seem overly interested in the New Genius or his picture. From the current issue of Variety these headlines are culled "KANE $7,000, 6 DAY BRODIE IN CHI," "KANE N. G. $16,500 IN 2 SPOTS, QUITS ONE HOUSE."

Now the City of Celluloid doesn't know what to think about the situation, probably will not draw the lesson it should from the first experience of Orson Welles with movie-making.

SHADES OF THE PAST return to life as Victor McLaglen (left) and Edmund Lowe resume partnership in "The Marines Are Ready." Movie-Radio Guide fans, remembering movies of ten years ago, will be eager to see again the pair who played Capt. Flagg and Sgt. Quirt in "What Price Glory?"

That lesson simply is this: "Citizen Kane," spectacular, startling, full of new ways to tell a movie story, is NOT really entertainment. Today the public wants romance, thrills, laughs.

As a result, while Hollywood talks of Mr. Welles and "Citizen Kane," the public will take to its heart a little picture called "Million Dollar Baby." This picture, reviewed below, pretends to no message other than the simple one that love has nothing to do with money. In it, Priscilla Lane and Ronald Reagan, with the help of a great collection of troupers, romp merrily through a story that is highly nonsensical but full of heart-warming laughs. The men behind this surprise epic are Jerry Wald and Richard Macaulay, who have only one ideato give the public a double dose of amusement.

While we are on this subject of what constitutes genuine entertainment, your columnist wishes to point out that Movie-Radio Guide reviews are as honest as its critics can make them and will continue to be just that. Recently a plan has been hatched whereby Hollywood reviewers will not be allowed to see pictures until just before they are sent to theaters. This means that only a very few publica-tions can give the public an honest guide to pictures, because the great majority are printed six weeks in advance of the time they reach the public. This is not the case with Movie-Radio Guide. No publication can bring picture news more quickly to its readers. No publication will be more honest in its judgment of movies.

This column wants to know what its readers think of the movies they are seeing. Your reactions will be placed squarely on the doorsteps of those who make movies—so don't be hesitant in saying what you think!

COLOR goes to town in this romantic tragedy of colorful Seville and Madrid, their bull-fighters and gay ladies. The color is so good that the acting could be bad and you'd still like it. But contrariwise, Tyrone Power and Linda Darnell, aided by a stellar supporting-cast, turn in fine acting jobs, perhaps their best to date.

"Blood and Sand" will be remembered by old-timers as one of the several Rudy Valentino silent pictures which made Rudy a screen idol man nineteen years ago. But the new version, with Power playing the Valentino part, cannot be compared to the old. Two new techniques, sound and color, have obliterated comparison. Perhaps Power is not as fiery a Gallardo as Valentino, nor Miss Hayworth as vampirish a Dona Sol as Nita Naldi. On the other hand, Power and his costumes are shown off more handsomely, and the Misses Hayworth and Darnell are more beautiful than their predecessors.

VERDICT: The builtighters look so pretty in their thou sand-dollar costumes that American wives will be coaxing their hubbles to wear 'em. This picture has everything—love, infidelity, poverty and riches. Take the family.—E. P.

Cast: Priscilla Lane, Ronald Reagan, Jeffrey Lynn, May Robson, Lee Patrick, Helen Westley. A Warner Bros. picture directed by Curtis Bernhardt, with David Lewis as associate producer. Screen play by Casey Richard Macaulay and Jerry Wald from a story by Leonard Spigelgass.

"BET-A-MILLION" GATES had nothing on May Robson when it came to tossing away the money. Miss Robson throws out a million dollars without batting an eye in "Million Dollar Baby."

Miss Robson, though, is not the million-dollar baby; that berth is reserved for Priscilla Lane, the young girl whose grandfather was cleaned of his dough by Miss Robson's father.

Miss Robson comes from Switzerland with her attorney, Jeffrey Lynn, finds that Priscilla, a demonstrator of kitchen gadgets in a department store, is the victim's only heir. The crusty old lady presses money on her. Priscilla loses-temporarily -her sweetheart, Ronald Reagan. Before the film is over, however, Priscilla has thrown away the money, gone back to Ronald Reagan-and Miss Robson knows there are some honest people.

VERDICT: There isn't a poor performance in the picture. Warners' "Million Dollar Baby" should be a three-million-dollar baby before it finishes running at the neighborhood theater. It's a smash hit for entertainment!—C. S.

"Shining Victory"

Cast: James Stephenson, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Donald Crlsp, Barbara O'Neil, Montagu Love, Slg Rumann. A Warner Bros. picture directed by Irving Rapper, with Robert Lord as associate producer. Screen play by Howard Koch and Anne Froelick from a play by A. J.

PEOPLE know that caviar is an expensive delicacy, but most of them figure that it is a bit too rich. "Shining Victory" may be too rich for the appetite of the average movie fan.

The plot concerns a research doctor, James Stephenson, who is a political exile from Hungary. Faced with the necessity of eating, Stephenson takes a small-paying doctor's position in the Scottish hospital of Montagu 'Love. Asking for an assistant, Stephenson gets one in the person of Geraldine Fitzgerald, whom he considers silly, incompetent young woman. But Miss Fitzgerald makes herself invaluable to him.

After a year, during which his discoveries are perfected, Stephenson finds himself in love with his assistant. However, a jealous hospital secretary, in love with him, sets fire to Stephenson's laboratory. Miss Fitzgerald rushes into the fire, throws the records through a window, but she is burned to death. Stephenson's justification of her love for him provides an interesting-enough climax to the picture.

VERDICT: It is heavy, but if you like romance-dramas of the medical profession, you'll go for this one.—D. R.

GENERAL

World Series on Mutual

New York.—For the third successive year, the Mutual Broadcasting System will carry descriptions of the World Series this fall under the sponsorship of a safety-razor company. No sum was disclosed for the privilege of broadcasting the games, but last year's price was about $100,000.

Aluminumless Radio Sets?

Washington.—Radio set buyers in 1942 will likely find that their sets are minus aluminum. According to William L. Batt, deputy OPM production chief, aluminum, one of radio's essential metals, will be entirely cut off from the industry in order that military needs be met.

PERSONAL

Bowes Quits Theater

New York.—Major Edward Bowes has resigned as managing director of New York's Capitol Theater after more than twenty years in that position, because of radio's great demands upon the Major's time. But with the resignation "Major Bowes' Capitol Family," a Sunday morning musical show heard since 1922, has left the air, leaving the Major even more time to concentrate on his Thursday night "Amateur Hour" and its touring units.

Comedian Moore Emotes

CHICAGO.—When "Club Matinee" comedian Garry Moore appeared as the lead in "The Camel's Back" on "Author's Playhouse" May 21, it was the first time the garrulous Garry had appeared on the networks as a dramatic star. But it was the second time his name had been linked dramatically with that of F. Scott Fitzgerald, who wrote the story from which the play was adapted. In 1935 Moore (then Garry Morfit) quit high school to collaborate with Fitzgerald in authoring a play. The play didn't get to the stage, but it gave Garry the taste of show business that led him into radio.

"A. 'n' A." Swap

HOLLYWOOD.—"Amos 'n' Andy" were busy writing their script in their Beverly Hills office the other day when Andy noticed that his partner's eyes kept straying covetously to a new pair of brown-and-white sports shoes he, Andy, was wearing. "Like 'em?" Andy saked. "How did you know?" Amos replied. "Here, take 'em," Andy said.

ONLY DAGWOOD BUMSTEAD would climb guy-cables like this to paint a yard-arm! Arthur Lake, who is "Blondie's" Dagwood, in reality sails his own racing-sloop

Today in Radio

World Series to be aired over MBS again; Major Bowes quits theater job; Charlie McCarthy operated on; Fidler to return

RUDY VALLEE (with straightened hair!) returns to the screen in the Universal picture "Too Many Blondes." Playing opposite him will be starlet Helen Parrish, seen here walking to the movie set with Rudy

ACCORDING to the mail, many listeners have observed that there is a decided need for improvement in our radio newscasts.

The main cause for complaint is that the news broadcasts by many stations are the same, word for word, that these listeners have heard once or twice before during the day. Since two or more radio stations in direct competition with one another may subscribe to the same news wire service, it easily can be seen that this produces a situation wherein there is a continuous repetition. No listener will sit through a news broadcast which he has heard before. Hence, there is a definite need for the stations to edit, rewrite or inject originality in the news dispatches received from the wire services.

Fortunately for the network listeners, most network news broadcasts are handled more carefully and intelligently. NBC, for example, maintains a staff of twenty-eight men in its New York news-room, who work in three eight-hour shifts. The news which they receive from the teletypes is rewritten by experts who know how to make it sound colorful and different, yet have it retain all its accuracy. In preparing each newscast, their objective is to have it appear as a complete news broadcast. Great stress is laid upon the latest happenings. Previously reported events are brought up to date with added details.

In this rewriting of each news broadcast with its stress upon the latest happenings, NBC is simply following a technique long used by newspapers which publish several editions throughout the day. In newspapers, less important news is deleted to make way for newer, fresher copy, while headline news which was published in an earlier edition is refreshed, further details being added to make the story more complete.

In contrast to the above highly specialized manner of arranging news broadcasts, many independent radio stations do little or no editing. Wire stories are simply torn off the teletype and read as they are by regular staff announcers. We suggest that radio stations and radio news editors examine their current methods of news presentation. Undoubtedly, they will find room for improvement.

"They hurt my feet." Amos took them, found they fit nicely, and gave Andy four bottles of his favorite hair tonic in exchange.

SIDELIGHTS

Bing's Break

Hollywoop.—Two weeks before Bing Crosby's May 22 show, the producers phoned the Naval Air Station at San Diego for a pilot who might talk on the program. Lieut. W. W. Lowrey was recommended. A few days later, but before the broadcast, the officer became a front-page herowhen he performed a daring midair rescue of a parachutist whose chute had become tangled in the tail of the plane from which he had attempted to jump. Lowrey was hot news, and the program profited—through a stroke of Crosby luck.

The Draft's Lighter Side

New York.—When a Movie-Radio Guide reporter asked Ezra Stone what was his present status in his local draft board, the young star of the "Aldrich Family" replied, "They're very much interested!" To the question as to when he expected to report for a physical examination, he answered, "I'm expecting to go down next week for an audition!"

McCarthy Wired

Hollywood.—Instead of seeing his dentist, Charlie McCarthy recently had a visit with a technician, who equipped his jaw with a mechanism that operates on the same principle as the locks of the Panama Canal. Charlie and his boss, Edgar Bergen, are making a movie, and Bergen had a technician install wiring in Charlie's mouth so the dummy could talk by remote control.

Automatic Audition

CHICAGO.—The little girl who appealingly sang "You Talk Too Much" as an extra feature of "Uncle Walter's Dog House" May 30, got that chance in a manner that proved she didn't talk too much! Bandleader Bob Strong was at a sandwich counter picking up his strength with a hamburger after a "Dog House" rehearsal. He dropped a nickel that wasn't working into the slot of one of those centralized record machines. The operator's voice asked what record he wanted. Recognizing an appealing voice, Bob put in a request for the operator to sing "You Talk Too Much." Rules wouldn't pernit that, but Strong looked her up at the record-playing headquarters, and a special audition, arranged with her boss, won a chance to sing on a network program for Virginia Powell, fifteen-year-old junior at Chicago's Sullivan High School.

Blondells Keep Straight

HOLLYWOOD.—Both Joan and her sister, Gloria Blondell, were on the "Lux Radio Theater" recently in "Model Wife." But although the two look alike, no one was confused. Reason: Gloria played a girl named Gloria; Joan played a girl named Joan.

New York.—The red hair of an NBC page-boy ralsed when, at the conclusion of a "Great Plays" drama, he found under a studio seat a package bearing the label of an ammunition company. He tiptoed with it to a bucket of water. Four days later NBC received a letter from a woman notifyling them she had left a package containing an ornamental dog in the studio. She got It back—after its bath!

Or Fu Manchu?

HOLLYWOOD.—Rumors, but surely not serious ones, that Mrs. Earl Derr Biggers, widow of the author-creator of the Charlie Chan character, is about to sue Fred Allen for impersonating the Chinese sleuth, were promptly answered by Jack Benny. Said Allen's "enemy": "Oh, so that's who Fred was trying to characterize. No one would know."

PROGRAMS

Fidler on Way Back

HOLLYWOOD.—On the heels of the news that movie-gossip Louella Parsons will keep her "Hollywood Premiere" series on the air on a pay-thestars basis, comes word that Jimmie Fidler will return to radio July 11 in a Pacific Coast CBS cosmetics-sponsored program. His show is expected to expand Coast to Coast in the

Cantor Set for Return

New York.—Eddie Cantor has already been notified by his sponsor that they want him to work for them next fall. His programs have been a big hit, and after he vacations for the summer, he'll be back in the old spot on NBC. Red Skelton, a fast-talking young comedian who has been in the movies lately, may substitute for Eddie in July and August.

"Vox Pop" Won't Pop

New York.—After its present thirteen-week cycle of programs is finished, "Vox Pop" leaves its current sponsorship, and quizzer Parks Johnson will take his first vacation in six years. Interest in the venerable question-and-answer show has not lagged, apparently, for there are definite bids from other prospective sponsors.

SHORTS

Durward Kirby, heretofore a very eligible NBC announcer and "Club Matinee" stooge, signs a life contract at the altar June 7 with Mary Paxton, WGN writer and mistress of ceremo-nies . . . Irene Rich has planted cork trees on her ranch, not for Ferdinand the Bull to sniff but for the U. S Government to observe and experiment with ... Curt Massey, who sings and plays fiddle and trumpet with the "Plantation Party" Westerners, is hearing music in the vocalizing of a son named Stephen Austin, born May ... Doris Simpson, beautiful blond Chicago model recently signed by NBC and introduced to listeners by Ransom Sherman on "Club Matinee," is now playing Miss Telford in "Mid-stream" . . . Sharon Douglas, star of stream" . . . Sharon Douglas, star of the Pacific Coast program "Second Mrs. Burton," has been impersonating Lana Turner in Hedda Hopper's dram-atization of Miss Turner's life, and she looks like as well as sounds like Maxene, of the Andrews Sisters, isn't romantic any longer over Lou Levy, but he still manages the trio . . . Raymond Massey's recent ap-pearance on the daytime "Treet Time" was probably the inauguration of a new guest-star policy on this show.

Chicago.—Marvin Mueller got some unusual advice from a listener on how to clear up his troubles as Gil Whitney in "Romance of Helen Trent." An elderly lady wrote a letter telling about one of the characters' dirty work and concluded: "It's a wonder you people wouldn't listen to your own programs on the days you're root on, and you'd find out some of the lies that go on behind your back!"

IRENE RICH has scored many dramatic bull's-eyes on the screen and more recently in her radio series, "Dear John" (presented on NBC, Sun., by Welch Grape Juice). She scores real bull's-eyes with bullets, too. The distinguished actress is a member of the Sheriff's Revolver Club of Los Angeles, shoots it out with other women each week. She isn't so expert with "Tommy-gun" or pistol (pictures top and center), but, coached by Sgt. Earl Griggers, she's improving. She is expert with Army rifle (above), learned to handle this weapon as an Army wife in Hawaii

CLIFTON FADIMAN did a little cramming in his library before the "Information, Please" show of May 23, when he traded his quizmaster duties to Deems Taylor, acted as one of the experts himself

MAY WAS THE MONTH for marriages in the radio life of young Barbara Fuller. On May 9 in the "Stepmother" script she became the bride of "Bert Weston." May 13 she married "Dr. Chancellor" in "Scattergood Baines"

NBC INTERNATIONAL STATIONS ON 24-HOUR BASIS

Slovakia Talks to America

Tiny Republic of Chinese Like "Good Neighbor Hour" Andorra on Air

Edited by Charles A. Morrison

President, International DX'ers

BC is now providing a twenty-four-hour daily international broadcasting service. Programs to Europe and Latin America go out over the directive antennae of NBC's twin fifty-thousand-watt short-wave stations, WRCA and WNBI. The European service now begins at 11:00 p.m. CST. Eight hours of uninterrupted service is then provided in French, Spanish and Portuguese by section chiefs Fernand Auberjonois, Eli Canel and Fernando de Sa. The program content consists of late news, editorial comment on critical world affairs gathered from late editions of American newspapers, and music. The French portion occupies the first half of each hour. Spanish and Portuguese programs are each fifteen minutes long. At 9:00 a.m., New York time,

BRITAIN AT WAR is still in the running as fashion capital. Here are British models en route to South America to give fashion show as they stopped in New York to broadcast on NBC's international station WRCA broadcasting in English begins over European beams, continuing until 2:00 p.m., at which time the regular afternoon hours in German, Italian and French commence. Broadcasts to Latin America, in Spanish and Portuguese, are sent out daily from 3:00 to 11:00 p.m. CST, with the exception of the American Hour, in English, which is broadcast from 9:00 to 10:00 p.m. CST. WRCA utilizes frequencies of 17.78 or 9.67 megs, while WNBI uses either 17.78 or 11.89 megs.

Slovakia Broadcasts to North America

Robert Skyten of East Brookfield, Mass., the first listener in this country to report hearing the new Slovakian short-wave station "Radio Bratislava" (9.525), at Bratislava, informs me that it broadcasts a special program to North America, with all announcements in English and Slovak, Mondays and Fridays from 5:00 to 6:00 p.m. CST. According to reports subsequently received from other parts of the United States, "Radio Bratislava" is being heard with loud signals but with considerable interference caused by the German-controlled Paris station Y, which operates on 9.52 megs, or only five kilocycles below the new station in frequency.

Chinese Good Neighbor Hour" a Hit

Inaugurated on April 19, the "Chi-ese Good Neighbor Hour" broadcast ver General Electric station KGEI (67) in San Francisco daily from 00 to 3:00 a.m. CST, is already a der in popularity with listeners in cupied China. The programs, ch are broadcast on a directional m to Asia and which reach Chinese listeners in the early evening, originate in the San Francisco Chinatown radio studios right in the heart of the largest Chinese colony on the North American continent.

The general director of the programs is Arthur Wong, prominent businessman of Oakland, Calif., who in turn receives the enthusiastic co-operation of the Chinese Six Companies and their president, B. S. Fong, who has just returned to San Francisco from a flying visit to Chungking, China. Chinese operas and music are featured, while unbiased reports of world news are made in both Can-tonese and Mandarin dialects. Special events such as the Chinese New Year and Rice Bowl celebrations will be described by roving Chinese-speaking reporters stationed with microphones wherever the crowds are gayest.

On opening night, cablegrams of cordial appreciation were received from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and Lin Sen, president of the Chinese Republic. Both seemed to feel that the new programs would strengthen the close bond of friendship and goodwill that already prevails between the Chinese and American peoples.

Andorra on the Air

Andorra, tiny republic of picture book and musical comedy fame—a small semi-independent state lying in the Pyrenees Mountains on the Franco-Spanish border, is on the air. Identified as "Ici Radio Andorra," the new station, which has low power, operates on 11.67 megs daily at 5:30 a.m. CST. The language spoken is

Peeks at Short-Wave Personalities

Clem McCarthy's rapid-fire reports on the horse races at Belmont Park are now being recorded daily and repeated for racing fans during the-American Hour, over international station WRCA (9.67), at 9:00 p.m. CST . . . Jean Sablon, recently re-turned from an extended South American tour, is now appearing nightly at New York's Versailles night-club. He can be heard singing the latest popular song hits over NBC station WRCA (9.67), Mondays and Thursdays at 5:15 p.m. CST . . . CBS' importation from Mexico, popular singing star Juan Arvizu, can now be beared Mondays. Wedgadays and Estimated heard Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 8:30 p.m. CST over New York station WCBX (11.83).

General Notes

CNR, "Radio Maroc," at Rabat, Morocco, is now broadcasting on a new frequency of 8.03 megs daily from approximately 1:45 to 5:00 p.m. CST. Former frequencies used by this station, namely, 12.83 and 11.94, are not now in use . . . Dr. Otto Koischwitz, former American professor, now one of Goebbels' stooges at the Berlin of Goebbels' stooges at the Berlin short-wave station, has a new stunt that he is pulling on his "College Hour," broadcast over DJD (11.77) and DZD (10.54), Thursdays at 7:45 p.m. CST. Each week now he is aiming his talk at some particular American of prominence. The one on May 22 was, for example, directed specifically to playwright Eugene O'Neill

... COK (11.59) is putting on a sprightly two-hour show from the Cabaret Sans Souci in Havana, Cuba, nightly from 9:00 to 11:00 p.m. CST The English announcer is my old friend Alec Kinghorn. Reports of reception are welcome and should be sent to Alec Kinghorn, Short-Wave Station COK, Sports Palace, Havana, Cuba... August Balbi of Los Angeles, Calif., writes that he is hearing a new unidentified French station on 11.85 megs daily from 10:10 to 10:30 p.m. CST. The interval signal is a ship's ball and both men and women and bell and both men and women announcers are utilized . . . The power of short-wave station VLR, Melbourne, Australia, is being upped to ten thousand watts, eventually to one hundred thousand watts. VLR (9.58) can be heard daily from 2:30 to 7:35 a.m. CST

Those lucky people who do see the broadcast arrive at NBC's huge Studio 8-H in New York, beginning at 8:20 p.m. EDT. By 8:55 all 1,200 seats are occupied, scores of late-comers line the walls. VIRTUALLY A LITERARY MILL is Eddie's staff of gag-writers, kept busy in his Warwick Hotel suite, where they are pictured above. TO PRODUCER VIC KNIGHT goes much credit for fast pace, perfect timing of "Time to Smile." Eddie recruited him from Rudy Vallee, whose program he was then producing. Master of his craft, Vic Knight is now being sought by several motion-picture lots

OLIVE MAJOR is the lucky girl with whom Cantor hopes to repeat his Deanna Durbin success. Thirteen years old, dark and pretty, Olive sings here with chorus directed by Edra Fairchild, who arranges all of her music

Quiz Kids

In Movieland

ENVY of every U. S. kid during recent weeks were radio's "Quiz Kids." Not for their dazzling braininess, not for their sizeable winnings in U. S. defense bonds, but for their trek across the country to take Hollywood by storm in a round of parties, film-making dates and guest broadcasts. These typical but lucky American youngsters had already traveled to New York and to Washington, where they were entertained by First Lady Eleanor Roosevelt. Now, in the manner of big-time stars, they were exchanging guest dates with radio's great. Smart showman Jack Benny, recognizing them as a first-class sensation, escorted them on the streamliner trip to Hollywood, put them on his show, which rarely admits guest attractions. Once in Filmtown, the Kids found themselves in a whirl of varied activities, which they took in stride. For Hollywoodians, meetings of Movieland's prodigies with Chicagoland's master minds were most interesting. For listeners, the doings of these youngsters is about as big news as there is in radio-news which Movie-Radio Guide brings readers now in two picture stories. Here's the first.

MAURICE GRANGER

DANNY KAYE, Broadway comic-singing sensation, may get "KMH" vacation spot with Don Ameche

ROM time to time feminine readers have asked us to tell them just what it takes to become a singer with a name orchestra. Because we didn't know we hied ourselves over to Jimmy Dorsey and asked him. Here's what Jimmy thinks, and he ought to know for he's been hiring girl vocalists for almost a decade. A top-flight bandleader, according to Jimmy, takes a long chance with an unknown vocalist. "Way back before every band had a vocalist, brother Tommy and I used to work a lot of recording dates with Connie Boswell and Mildred Bailey. I had a good chance to find out what it took, technically, for a girl to make good with a band. But nowadays a girl really has to have it to break in. You can easily tell whether a girl has a voice, but it's her appeal that's hard to judge. She's not only got to please the men-which isn't so hard as you might imagine—but she has to please the women as well. Usually, when a girl comes out to sing and I hear the women whisper, 'Isn't she cute?' I hire the girl." So says Jimmy Dorsey, who has one of the prettiest and bestliked (by women) of the vocalovelies, Helen O'Connell.

Why Did It Happen?

Another thing that has been puzzling the writer is why the song "Intermezzo" suddenly became one of the top tunes of the day. Nobody in or out of the music industry can give a logical answer, and that includes the author, Heinz Provost, who wrote it for the motion picture by the same name. As you recall, the song created no great interest when the picture was shown in the country's theaters. But now, months later, it is sweeping the country and every band in the business wants to record it. Research shows that Marie Greene is responsible for giving it its start toward popularity. She recorded the tune for Columbia and within a week it was a best-seller. Was it her recording which gave the tune the necessary lift? If you can answer that you are better than I.

The instrumental line-up for the Shep Fields band reveals that it is composed of ten saxophones and a rhythm section. This is a rather unorthodox arrangement, but it sounded great when he appeared on the Fitch "Bandwagon" program the other night

This is the first time that the island has had a premiere, although it has served as a locale for many motion pictures . . . Bing many motion pictures . . . Bing Crosby's "Birth of the Blues" will present close-ups of nine of America's most popular musicians. Eight of the musicians are Paul Whiteman, Benny Goodman, Duke Ellington, W. C. Harry Nemo, the song-writer, is rehearsing his own orchestra, a nineteen-piece affair. For his theme song he has composed a tune which he titled "Hit the Beam With Neme."

Why I switched to Meds

-by a dancer

Like lots of girls who are plenty active, I'm keen about internal sanitary pro-tection and I'm always on the lookout for any improvements. So the minute I heard Modess had brought out Meds —a new and improved tampon—I got some quick. And am I glad! Meds give me wonderful protection for they're the only tampons with the "Safety Cen-ter." As for comfort, I hardly know I'm wearing Meds. And imagine! Meds cost only 20¢ a box of ten—they're the only tampons in individual applicators that cost so little!

Radio in Camp

Dear Sirs:

I'm writing for four corporals in the army, three besides myself. We four—Lester Bell, James Rogers, Eugene Lovelace and I-have a private room fixed up just like home. James received a small radio and we keep it going from morning till late at night. It helps keep us from getting lonesome and makes the time go faster, also keeps us up on the latest news, the importance of which comes home to us forcefully. We all like good music, and it means a good deal to us. For all this we're grateful to radio and to your Movie-Radio Guide, which is our 'manual" for radio listening.

Commercial Yardstick

Dear Sirs:

Our rule for listening to commercials is: The better the goods, the simpler and more restrained the announcements of their quality and usefulness will be. We quickly turn away from those products advertised with much mouthing of high-flown adjectives, for our suspicions are aroused. C. H. McCurdy, Jamaica, Vt.

Shut-In Corner

Dear Sirs:

Being a shut-in for thirty years and a lad of seventy-four, not able to feed and dress myself, I want to indorse the letter of Mrs. Ruby C. Stiefel of Salina, Kans., about a shut-in corner in your department.
Cheerful letters and radio programs are like rays of sunshine to shut-ins watching the world pass by. And what a thrill we get from new friends that radio and the postman bring now and then. Even my little canary, Bobby, is a radio fan. He joins in the songs and even makes up music for my lyrics. But he won't sing with soap salesmen and is more cheerful when the dramas have happy themes.

George B. Dooley, Lawrenceburg, Tenn.

The Story of "HOME of the BRAVE"

BEFORE A DECREPIT New Chance building, Neil Davisson (I.), wife Lois, Doc Gordon and Joe Meade (rear) discuss Casino's strange behavior. Joe found her on a San Francisco wharf

THE "home of the brave" depicted in this serial drama (heard Monday through Friday, NBC) is New Chance, a midwestern town whose citizens are trying to rebuild it from a dilapidated, broken-downshack town into a prosperous, thriving American community. As their homes and surroundings are improved their discouragement and lack of self-confidence is rapidly disappearing. Into this setting comes Casino, a mysterious problem-child who soon has all New Chance puzzled, worried. Now go on with the story—in pictures.

SILENT AND LONELY, Casino (Sammie Hill) doesn't get acquainted in New Chance, but one night a dream so frightens her that she runs to the Davisson home, meets Lois (Jone Allison)

AFTER BOASTING she could ride a horse, Casino is thrown in the presence of Joe, Neil and Doc. Impulsive, proud, she can't face them, decides to run away from New Chance

ON THE ROAD she is befriended by Spencer Howard (Alan Bunce), a psychologist on his way to New Chance, where he expects to write a book. He persuades her to return with him

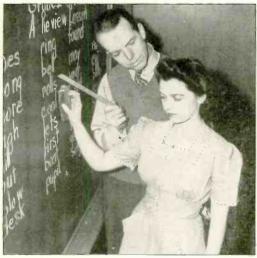

MOST DRASTIC CHANGE in Casino after meeting Spencer Howard is her sudden fancy for feminine clothes. She begins to take an interest in New Chance—a liking for Spencer

CASINO'S CHILDLIKE qualities amuse Spencer. A rich Bostonian, she delights him after the social whirl of Back Bay. But his interest in her soon becomes neither casual nor professional

A ROMANCE DEVELOPS, and references in Spencer's letters to his sweetheart in Boston are so full of Casino that the worried Boston girl hurriedly announces engagement to him

IN LOVE with Casino, Spencer is shocked to learn she can neither read nor write. The gulf between them gives him pause. Now go on with the story by tuning in "Home of the Brave"
