Just How Standardized Is Today's Radio?

■ by Sean Ross

"Cookie cutter" playlists.

That description has been bandied about frequently in recent years by critics of today's group-owned radio, and even, reluctantly, by some of its advocates. For their part, group broadcasters claim their stations make individual music decisions, with one, Entercom's David Field, going as far as to dismiss the perception of standardized playlists as an "urban legend" recently.

So Airplay Monitor decided to find out just how much homogeneity there really was among radio stations, starting with a group of stations often held up in the consumer press as a poster child for standardized radio: Clear Channel's top 40 outlets. At the same time, we tried to get a handle on just what critics and industry observers had in mind when they derided cookie cutter playlists by asking them how much standardization they thought actually existed at those stations.

LESS WIDELY DUPLICATED THAN CRITICS EXPECT

What we found was that the overlap in current music at Clear Channel top 40 stations was about 65%, considerably less than perceived by our format observers. We also found, more anecdotally, that there was also 65% correlation with non-CC-owned stations as well, and some of those other stations actually looked as much or more like our benchmark station than most other Clear Channel stations.

ESTABLISHING BENCHMARKS

In hopes of quantifying how much overlap existed among Clear Channel stations, we took the 40 most-played records on one of its flagship top 40s, WHTZ (Z100) New York, for the issue of June 27, then looked at the other 54 CC-owned mainstream top 40 reporters, to see how many of those records were among their 40 most-played songs.

At the same time, we queried a handful of radio writers and industry observers, asking them how much standardization they perceived as being out there when they talked about cookie cutter radio. We asked how many of the 40 most-played songs they would expect to be shared from one station to the next.

Of those who responded, most were expecting standardization of 90% or more. "Out of 40, I'd say I'd expect 38. My perception is that it's very tight: very little local wiggle room," one daily newspaper writer said. Another veteran

Radio Split On DNC's Impact

With more than 20 million Americans having already signed up to avoid calls from telemarketers, radio researchers and consultants are split as to whether the success of the "Do Not Call" (DNC) registry will help radio. While research calls are exempt, respondents disagree whether consumers will make that distinction.

"The Do Not Call site is a phenomenon. It really lets us know just how fed up consumers are about telemarketing interruptions," says Ed Shane of Shane Media. Many we talked to, including consultant Alan Burns, believe that "the registry will actually help radio research. As people get fewer annoying telemarketing calls, they may be more inclined to answer their telephones and less annoyed when a legitimate surveyor, as opposed to a salesperson, calls."

"Once we get to 'today we are conducting a survey about music and radio,' we have most people's attention, and many agree to participate, some with enthusiasm, some with a lot of prodding," Edison Media Research VP Rob Farbman says. "If the only calls people received during dinner time were calls asking them to listen to music clusters and to rate personalities, our response rates would rise steadily."

Joint Communications' John Parikhal says that scenario is possible. But, he adds, "it might make things worse, because people will think they are immune from all calls, and they will get even more focused on calls that invade their home."

Pinnacle Media president/CEO Bob Lawrence sees a benefit to radio only "to a very small degree, since those who don't like answering the phones dislike it for all purposes, including research." Key-market VP of programming Frank Bell believes that "most 'active avoiders' have been [screening] calls for some time."

"I predict an immediate backlash," Shane says. "The first calls from any researcher after the deadline will be met with wrath."

And Edison's Farbman notes that while research calls are OK, so are charities and politicians. "Further weakening the law is the ability of companies you already do business with [to] continue calling you for 18 months." Edison's Jayne Charneski adds, "We have already heard plenty of [comments like], 'Wait, I signed up for that thing so I don't get calls like this one.'"

One possible clue as to how potential research subjects will respond to a phone call: In a HitPredictor.com poll, 35% of respondents said they had joined the DNC registry. And those are people already participating in online research.

Researchers are split as to whether the prohibition on telemarketers means that radio's marketing efforts can no longer include DNC registry names. The Federal Trade Commission Web site specifically prohibits calls that solicit sales of goods or services. Burns says, "Calling someone to ask them to listen to your radio station is clearly not 'selling' a good or service, but it's likely that at some point, some irritated consumer will argue that it's essentially the same thing, and we'll get to see how the FCC or a court rules it."

CC TO TRIM SAN DIEGO CLUSTER?

The Los Angeles Times reports that the FCC's new station-ownership rules could compel Clear Channel to break up its current 12-station San Diego cluster. In addition to owning seven stations licensed to the U.S., CC operates five Mexican stations, including modern XETRA-FM (91X) and rhythmic top 40 XHTZ. The Times reports that while other clusters would be grandfathered, that protection wouldn't apply to CC's "exotic affiliate agreements."

"While we are disappointed . . . we will do whatever it takes to comply with the new rules," CC spokesperson Lisa Dollinger says. "That said, we have strong properties in the Southern California market and anticipate being able to continue to effectively serve our listeners and customers there."

MANAGEMENT: HERMAN SPREADS OUT

Infinity/New York senior VP/market manager Scott Herman is named senior VP, eastern region for Infinity. He replaces the exiting Kenny O'Keefe. His western counterpart Clancy Woods also exits. Central senior VP Brian Ongaro adds Houston and San Francisco duties. And Don Bouloukos returns to Infinity as Philadelphia market manager. Meanwhile, Infinity's WNEW New York fills out its lineup with the addition of "Fill in the Blink" late-night talent search winner Don Leake, a spoken word artist whose only radio experience was in college.

Bill Figenshu joins Citadel as Western region president. He was senior VP at Infinity. Also at Citadel, VP Bob Profit and VP of product development Scott Mahalick exit.

Jim LaMarca is added to executive VP/COO of Jones Radio Networks. He previously was VP/GM of the company's Seattle office.

Director of sales Paul Smith becomes market manager for Clear Channel/Charleston, S.C., succeeding new regional VP Alene Grevey.

Mary Befera is named GM of Clear Channel/Duluth, Minn. She was promotion coordinator at Asylum/Curb Records in Nashville.

PROGRAMMING: STARR GAZING

Former R&B WZMX (Hot 93.7) Hartford, Conn., PD Victor Starr joins R&B WERQ (92Q) Baltimore for similar duties.

Modern WKQX (Q101) Chicago PD Tim Richards exits. Also in modern rock this week, WHFS Washington, D.C., PD Robert Benjamin exits after 12 years at the station. And KRBZ (the Buzz) Kansas City APD/MD Todd Violette exits to join Infinity.

For Future Hits, Watch The Stars

In conjunction with the launch of Airplay Monitor's HitPredictor Monday E-Mail, we've made some changes this week to the HitPredictor feature that continues to appear in Monitor. We've added rhythmic top 40 to the formats where HitPredictor already tests new releases for top 10 potential. And we're illustrating those hits that were spotted early by HitPredictor with the "HP star" throughout the pages of Monitor. If you didn't receive the HitPredictor e-mail this week, send a request to hitpredictor@airplaymonitor.com to start your free subscription.

In other chart news, billboard.com introduces two new Christian radio charts July 17. The Billboard Hot Christian Singles & Tracks and Hot Christian Adult Contemporary charts debut on the site and will be managed by Wade Jessen in Nashville.

CHART: GETTING CHINGY WITH IT

Capitol tops the rhythmic top 40 chart for the first time in more than 10 years with Chingy's "Right Thurr." The label's only previous rhythmic No. 1 was in the early weeks of Airplay Monitor's existence on Feb. 13, 1993, with Portrait's "Here We Go Again."

The White Stripes' "Seven Nation Army" (V2) tops modern rock for a third week, holding off Jane's Addiction's "Just Because" (Capitol) by one detection. Until now, the tightest race for No. 1 came on June 27, 1997, when Third Eye Blind's "Semi-Charmed Life" edged the Mighty Mighty Bosstones' "The Impression That I Get" by three spins. At mainstream rock, Trapt's "Headstrong" (Warner Bros.) sets a new record as it moves to No. 1 in its 40th chart week. Former No. 1 Chevelle's "Send the Pain Below" (Epic) needed 23 weeks to reach No. 1 two weeks ago.

After 87 weeks on the AC chart, Five for Fighting's "Superman (It's Not Easy)" moves to the recurrent chart. That is the 10th-longest stay in the chart's history. The track peaked at No. 2 in April 2002.

At Emmis/Indianapolis, PD David Edgar is named operations director for top 40 WNOU.

Oldies WMYU Knoxville, Tenn., returns to adult top 40 as "the Point" under PD Bruce Patrick and consultant Mark St. John. Parent Journal Broadcast Group ups top 40 WWST PD Rich Bailey to director of programming for the cluster, including newly launched R&B WBON (Hot 104), which gets new calls WKHT. The changes anticipate rival WOKI (the River) dropping triple-A Aug. 1 when the station's LMA with Dick Broadcasting is taken over by Citadel.

Modern WBZY (the Buzz) Atlanta PD/MD Paul Kriegler relinquishes those duties for oldies sister WLCL to market vet John Wetherbee, but adds APD/MD duties at heritage rock sister WKLS (96 Rock) Atlanta. Also, WKLS P/T Nick Parsons is named music coordinator for WKLS and WBZY, as well as WKLS overnighter.

Former Salem/Honolulu director of programming Rick Thomas joins Clifton Radio.

Top 40 WKCI New Haven, Conn., PD Danny Ocean exits. He may be reached at 203-230-2184. Bill Young exits the OM job at country WPAP Panama City, Fla. Young plans to stay in Panama City and try "the civilian world for a while."

Classic rock WXLP and active KORB Davenport, Iowa, PD Darren Pitra is named OM of Cumulus/Quad Cities. KORB morning host Dave Levora is named PD of that station. At sister WZOK Rockford, Ill., PD J.J. Morgan exits.

Scott Laudani, who had planned to relinquish PD duties at active WLZX Springfield, Mass., to program classic rock sister WAQY, will now program both stations.

Syndicator SuperRadio will now syndicate "Pocos Pero Locos," the two-hour Latin hip-hop show that airs on KPWR (Power 106) Los Angeles and in 15 other markets, as well as the "Old Skool Jam" developed by KUBE Seattle PD Shelie Hart. And Salt-N-Pepa DJ Spinderella joins for the two-hour weekly "Spin Cycle" mix show. In other syndication news, Excelsior Radio Network picks up MJI Interactive. And Utopia Media Network will syndicate morning man Rocky Allen.

PEOPLE: STAR GAZING

According to New York's Daily News, Emmis owner Jeff Smulyan is "cautiously optimistic" that R&B WQHT (Hot 97) New York could reach a deal with suspended morning host Star. However, the article quotes manager Wyatt Cheek as saying that there's more "caution than optimism."

Police in Lower Merion, Pa., were not laughing July 11 when adult top 40 WPTP (the Point)

Philadelphia morning host Barsky announced that traffic reporter Nancy Tolino had bought one of two winning Powerball lottery tickets worth $130 million. Shortly before 10 a.m., WPNT confessed its hoax, to the dismay of local news media, as well as four police officers who were dispatched for crowd control purposes.

R&B WUSL (Power 99) Philadelphia taps longtime R&B WPGC Washington, D.C., production director Tony DeCesare for the same.

R&B KIPR (Power 92) Little Rock, Ark., production director Tré Day adds APD duties.

KKRD Wichita, Kan., names morning co-host Patti Masten APD and night jock Diego MD.

Rhythmic top 40 KXMG Austin, Texas, Sean Napp from KNDA Corpus Christi, Texas, is the new middayer as PD Jay Michaels comes off-air.

Sarasota, Fla., modern sign-on WTBZ (the Buzz) taps Sideshow Dan for afternoons and David "Gootch" Chase for nights, both from modern sister WJRR Orlando, Fla.

Active WXQR Greenville, N.C., APD/MD/afternoon Lu Valentino gives up her APD duties to R&B sister WQSL PD Jack Spade.

THE MOVE

Glew Exits Epic

Epic Records Group chairman Dave Glew officially retires after a 40-year career in the music industry. Glew, who held the chairman post since the label group's creation in January 1994, will act as a consultant to the company.

Island Def Jam executive VP Stu Bergen exits.

RCA Music Group ups Adrian Moreira from senior director to VP of adult formats.

J Records' Keith Naftaly heads to Dreamworks for A&R.

TVT senior director of rock promotion Joanne Grand segues to Jive as senior director of rock formats.

Sorry to report the death of songwriter Skip Scarborough, 58. His credits include L.T.D.'s "Love Ballad," Anita Baker's "Giving You the Best That I Got," Bill Withers' "Lovely Day," the Emotions' "Don't Ask My Neighbors" and Earth, Wind & Fire's "Can't Hide Love" and "Love's Holiday."

Get At Me, (Hot) Dog

Reacting to the outcry after Pittsburgh Pirates first baseman Randall Simon attacked a mascot during the infamous sausage race at a Milwaukee Brewers game, modern WLUM (Rock 102) Milwaukee let listeners take a swing at a Simon piñata.

Blonde Ambition

Blonde's Deborah Harry takes the stage at WBMX (Mix 98.5) Boston's Summah Mixah show.

Sin-cerely Yours

Columbia artist Jessica Simpson, left, stops by rhythmic top 40 WQSX (Star 93.7) Boston to promote her new single, "Sweetest Sin," to MD Rob Tyler.

Just How Standardized Is Today's Radio?

broadcast observer guessed 36. "The amount of localism on [our Clear Channel top 40] is practically nil. Therefore, my number would be 39," another writer said.

The lowest number guessed was 33 out of 40. One Boston resident guessed 35 out of 40 titles. He added, "What would I like to see? I think 25 to 28 would be fair."

Well, out of 40 songs on Z100, the average shared by those stations was 25, or 63%. The highest overlap was 31 songs, or 77% (ironically, on CC's other Z100, KKRZ Portland, Ore.); the lowest was 19, or 48%, on WKFS (Kiss-FM) Cincinnati. In any scenario, the sharing was considerably less than public perception. Even some Monitor staffers had expected that number to be somewhere in the low 30s.

Between those extremes, there is a remarkable number of stations sharing just about 25 songs with Z100. Some of them are stations that share the rhythmic lean and skew toward active records that Z100 helped champion four to five years ago, such as WKQI Detroit (which shared 25 titles), WIOQ Philadelphia (25) and WFLZ Tampa, Fla. (23).

But some of the Clear Channel top 40s that also came in around the 25-song benchmark were stations that are regarded in the industry as very different, including adult-leaning WAEB-FM Allentown, Pa. (25); modern AC-flavored WDCG Raleigh, N.C. (25); and KBFM McAllen, Texas (24), which plays Latin crossover titles that show up on no other English-language top 40 reporter.

CC OR NOT CC?

We also compared Z100 with the non-CC-owned stations from the first two pages of the Monitor Power Playlists, in hopes of comparing Z100 to other large-market stations with a similar active lean and access to research. (We included every station except the modern AC-leaning WSTR Atlanta.) Of those nine stations, their correlation with Z100 was also 63%, the same as the national average.

Again, a station's lean didn't necessarily affect its overlap with Z100. The musically aggressive WBZZ Pittsburgh shared 22 titles, as did the much more conservative WNKS Charlotte, N.C. The highest overlap with Z100 was at KBKS Seattle and nearby WPST Trenton, N.J., both of which shared 29 titles.

As you might intuit from the WPST overlap, there was actually more correlation between Z100 and other top 40s in its region than the national CC number. When you average WPST, WBLI Long Island, N.Y.; and WXPB/WSPK Westchester County, N.Y., their overlap is 28%. And even WXPB, a station known for finding its own hits, shared 30 of Z100's most-played titles.

WHAT ABOUT THE KISS STATIONS?

Looking at every Clear Channel top 40 playlist for a given week, you come to realize certain things. One is that Z100 is more current-based than a lot of its sister stations. It wasn't uncommon to see Daniel Bedingfield's "Gotta Get Thru This" getting four spins per day on smaller-market CC stations. But not here. While that might not have made it the most typical CC station to use as a benchmark, its willingness to step out on both rhythm and pop titles does give it a greater chance of matching the rest of the panel.

But just to apply a second test here, we also looked at CC's WKFS (Kiss-FM) Cincinnati, a station that clearly inspired other CC-owned top 40s in the region, including WDKF Dayton, Ohio; WAKS Cleveland; WKST Pittsburgh; WKSC Chicago; WAKZ Youngstown, Ohio; and WKGS Rochester, N.Y. Those stations are all known for sharing a certain number of records that didn't become major hits elsewhere, such as Blaque's "808" and TLC's "Girl Talk."

But the correlation between WKFS and those six stations was only slightly higher than the Z100 average: 65%. While all of those stations were fast on rhythm and slow on pop/rock, the greatest overlap was between the two geographically closest stations, WKFS and WDKF, and that was only 27 songs.

IT'S IN THE WAY THAT YOU USE IT

Seeing so many stations, including some that don't sound very much like Z100, around the 65% mark just goes to show that there are always going to be a certain number of songs that are national hits for a reason, and it's what PDs do with the remainder of their playlist that gives a station its flavor. In fact, with top 40 considered to be in a doldrums, seeing only 65% overlap might suggest that there aren't enough true consensus hits at the moment.

Frankie & Delilah

Radio observers who worry that localism is dead would have taken at least some encouragement from scrutinizing the week of playlists that we examined, where the hits at individual stations ranged from Course of Nature's "Caught in the Sun" (at KRUF Shreveport, La.) and Jack Johnson's "Flake" (at WAEV Savannah, Ga.) to "Hypnotize" by the Notorious B.I.G. and "Keep Ya Head Up" by 2Pac—both of which were being treated as currents by WKGS.

Does that make top 40 a format of wrongly maligned individually programmed stations, each perfectly tailored to their own markets? Not necessarily. As one of our format observers pointed out, it's the imitating in other areas (recurrents, imaging elements, shared air talent) that also contributes to the format's perceived homogeneity. And knowing that playlists are a little less homogenous than the public perception may not make listeners any happier. But it does give radio advocates who believe their biggest problem is public relations a place to start.

Songs ranked by number of detections. ○ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrenents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

POWER PLAYLIST

FOR WEEK ENDING JULY 13, 2003

Songs ranked by number of detections. Playlists are listed in order of TSA weekly come, beginning with the highest-cumulating station. Comes are updated twice yearly following the release of the spring and fall Arbitron surveys. The number of stations shown each week varies depending upon space.

Airplay Adds (AA) denotes songs with 6 or more detections at station for first time this week.

Songs ranked by number of detections. ○ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Playlists are listed in order of TSA weekly cume, beginning with the highest-cuming station. Cumes are updated twice yearly following the release of the spring and fall Arbitron surveys. The number of stations shown each week varies depending upon space. *Indicates station reports to both Adult Top 40 and Modern AC.

Songs ranked by number of detections. ○ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 15 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

ADULT CONTEMPORARY POWER PLAYLISTS

FOR WEEK ENDING JULY 13, 2003

Songs ranked by number of detections. Playlists are listed in order of TSA weekly cume, beginning with the highest-cuming station. Cumes are updated twice yearly following the release of the spring and fall Arbitron surveys. The number of stations shown each week varies depending upon space.

Airplay Add (AA) denotes songs with 6 or more detections at station for first time this week.

H=Heavy (21+ Detections), M=Medium (14-20), L=Light (Under 14). Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. * Initial impact: songs appearing on this page for the first time in summary form. Airplay Adds are songs with 6 or more detections at new stations this week. The Airplay Leaderboard ranks taste-maker stations that have been the most successful in identifying future hit songs as measured by the amount of AIRPOWER titles for which they were Airplay Leaders. Refer to each format's Power Playlists page to see this week's Airplay Leaders.

Songs ranked by number of detections. (●) Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrenents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

20 YEARS OF TRUST...

"I've personally been relying on AIR for the past ten years to help me garner the information I need to make more informed music decisions every week. Think about it, ten years equals about 500 music meetings, and AIR has given me incredibly valuable information for all of them! I trust them - their integrity is simply beyond reproach. The bottom line for me - AIR is an important form of research that I trust, every week!"

Dixon's Latest Production: OM For Cox/Birmingham

When Jay Dixon traded his stable production and imaging job at adult R&B WRKS New York for a chance to become a PD of another "98.7 Kiss-FM"—WBHK Birmingham, Ala.—he wasn't sure what to expect. But after two years, Dixon was named OM for four of Cox Radio's Birmingham properties, adding oversight of R&B/hip-hop WBHJ (Kiss 95.7), gospel WAGG and Spanish WRJS (La Mexicana).

WBHK, which was No. 1 12-plus in the winter book with a 10.4 share, has become one of the adult R&B format's most successful stations ever. Dixon sees the station's commitment to Birmingham as key. "Our listeners spark the creativity, and they get involved," he says. "We do lots of theme-oriented programming, while the core of our station remains solid. People will always know they can come to us for the Isleys, Anita Baker and Luther Vandross."

But Dixon sees beyond those traditional core artists. "Our listeners also love jazz, blues and gospel, and we can't ignore that. We played no blues during my years in New York and Detroit radio. I didn't even know Johnnie Taylor was still putting out records until I got here. And I had never heard of [Birmingham blues native] Sir Charles Jones. But one important thing I've learned as a PD is we can't afford to be ignorant to anything listeners have a passion for. Sure, we do plenty of research, but I don't close my eyes afterward."

WBHK's special programming also helps keep the station fresh. "We recently did a neo-soul weekend that turned out very popular. Since most of our listeners don't know the term, we positioned it around artists like Maxwell, Jill Scott and Erykah Badu. And it also gave us a chance to expose newer artists like Rhian Benson, Calvin Richardson, Kem and Donnie," Dixon says. "Our Kiss Inspirations Weekends are also popular. We're in the Bible Belt, and you have to respect the popularity of gospel music in the market. We try to find ways of getting the different genres of music on the air to satisfy the musical need of as much of our audience as we can." The station also does a daily old-school show at noon, a 4 p.m. Kiss at Work shout-out feature and a 6 p.m. all-request hour.

There has been a rise of quality R&B product lately, and Dixon feels that new artists are putting more effort into producing quality songs. "Take Floetry—they've gone back to the roots of soul music. [Listeners] today have so much on their minds, from raising children to employment. When they hear a song, it has got to be compatible with what they're comfortable with. 'Is it soulful?' 'Do the words mean something to me?' 'Does it move me spiritually?' That's something the best of these projects all have. You can actually feel the music in your soul."

SALUTING ALL THE IDOLS

As was the case for many stations in the format, the passing of Barry White was a major event for WBHK's listeners. "We were in the middle of our old-school funk weekend July 4 when we got the news. We did several one-hour tributes to Barry White while continuing to play at least two of his songs per hour everywhere else. We had listeners calling in to share memories of his music, and there were some really great stories from some of our jocks and listeners who've had personal experiences with Barry," Dixon says.

In addition to White, Dixon has been busy riding the wave of excitement surrounding hometown "American Idol" winner Ruben Studdard. "From the time people here realized Ruben was in the finals of the show until now, the excitement level in Birmingham has been way through the roof. People feel there's an entertainment aspect to the city they never thought about before, since we hadn't had any artists coming out of here in that way since the Controllers. We play both 'Flying Without Wings' and 'Superstar' and enjoy having Stud-dard involved with our stations."

IN TOUCH WITH BIRMINGHAM

While WBHK airs syndicated, former Alabamian Tom Joyner in mornings, Dixon points to the importance of putting together a staff with the ability to bond with its community. "Afternoon host Sharn E. Jay is from the area. His sound is very animated and funky. Kim 'the Nighthbird' Moore does our love song show 'Night Kiss.' She has a knack for telling stories of romance and love based around the calls and songs that are played. My APD/midday talent Steve Sloan used to program WTUG Tuscaloosa, Ala. And Darryl Johnson, our Tom Joyner morning show producer, also adds a strong local presence. I'm also proud of my weekend staff, including Freda Lucas, Tyrone Robinson, Ed Ramsey and Kevin Christoff. What sets them all apart is they're more than just jocks—they all display the energy and passion for everything WBHK is about, and our listeners can relate to them."

WBHK has managed to remain in double digits despite the recent conversion by Clear Channel's R&B/hip-hop WENN to gospel. Dixon says that station "built an audience base immediately but hasn't affected us much or [AM gospel sister] WAGG due to the loyalty base we've built with its audience. WAGG is fortunate to have legendary personalities like Leo Taylor and Ron Marshall. And our WBHK listeners who love gospel also love R&B, oldies and blues."

MARKETING AND COMMUNITY REACH

The adult R&B format has always required strong marketing campaigns to maintain consistent success, and Dixon feels it remains a crucial aspect of his success. "We're airing the same TV spot that WRKS is running featuring Eddie and Gerald Levert. We do cash [giveaways], including our most recent contest, the Classic Soul Payroll, and we have billboards. Our current promotion, the Kiss Summer Getaway, features family vacations to Disney World in conjunction with Tom Joyner.

"If a community center calls about a city cleanup they're organizing, we'll be there," Dixon adds. "We had success with our recent project, Convoy of Hope. Thousands of needy people here lined up for free groceries. WBHK, along with our sister stations, partnered with local agencies for the event."

NEW OPPORTUNITIES

Now, as OM, Dixon says, "I'm excited about a chance to bring my experience in production and imaging to the other stations. In addition to programming, we're also very news-intensive. Local issues like tornado season are important. I'll also be learning some Spanish with WRJS in the mix."

So what has Dixon learned since moving into programming? "Be prepared for change. When I left New York, I was very involved with the nightlife. Many of my friends were some of the most respected club jocks in the industry. In Birmingham, I found it more about family and, of course, a much slower town in terms of pace. I had to adjust to that. Cox is also a very detail-oriented company in terms of operations, and I had to be ready for that. Most of all, it was taking the time to learn about listeners in Birmingham and what was important to them. Just because their experiences are different from people in New York, I can't look at them as different or behind. I think my love for the spirit of people has made a difference. You have to be willing to value and respect your listeners and their opinions. They've taught me so much about programming."

Dixon adds that most of all, staying positive is a key for success. "There's a problem out there among some African-Americans and others called hate. It can stop your growth. You cannot have contempt in your heart and hope to be successful. The two can't co-exist. You have to be passionate about your co-workers, as well as your listeners, while maintaining respect for those who have gone before you in the industry."

Dixon adds, "I really have to give [thanks to] my GM David Dubose, along with Cox, for helping me become a PD. I most enjoy being able to work with everyone at all levels, from interns to the VP of programming. That's very important to me, because you can sometimes learn more about the direction of your station from an intern vs. a VP who may happen to miss something going on among listeners in your community."

Songs ranked by number of detections. (C) Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrenents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

R&B/HIP-HOP POWERPLAYS

FOR WEEK ENDING JULY 13, 2003

Songs ranked by number of detections. Playlists are listed in order of TSA weekly cume, beginning with the highest-cuming station. Cumes are updated twice yearly following the release of the spring and fall Arbitron surveys. The number of stations shown each week varies depending upon space.
Airplay Adds (AA) denotes songs with 6 or more detections at station for first time this week.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station down time for the format.

GREATEST GAINERS RAP INCREASE IN DETECTIONS. 50 CENT • P.I.M.P. (Shady/Aftermath/Interscope) +966. FABOLOUS FEATURING TAMIA OR ASHANTI • Into You (Desert Storm/Elektra/EEG) +808.

Songs posting gains in detections or with a percentage loss in detections equal to or better than the monitored downtime percentage in the format. Songs listed in order of detections. *Indicates station experienced between 24 and 56 hours of monitored downtime during the chart week.

H=Heavy (45+ Detections), M=Medium (25-44), L=Light (Under 25). Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. ★ Initial impact: songs appearing on this page for the first time in summary form. Airplay Adds are songs with 6 or more detections at new stations this week. The Airplay Leaderboard ranks taste-maker stations that have been the most successful in identifying future hit songs as measured by the amount of AIRPOWER titles for which they were Airplay Leaders. Refer to each format's Power Playlists page to see this week's Airplay Leaders.

Songs ranked by number of detections. ○ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrenents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Artist Managers Weigh The Value Of The No. 1 Game

Record label promotion teams fight hard every week to push their records toward that elusive No. 1 position. Artist managers often play an important role in that process. But while managers say having a No. 1 record can swing open some doors for their acts, some think a No. 1 is not necessarily the most important endgame.

"Gauging success by No. 1 singles can be very misleading," says rpm management's Scott Siman, who manages Tim McGraw, Jessica Andrews, Billy Gilman and others. "The goal is selling records and tickets. That said, No. 1 singles do help create the perception that the artist is hot and aid in achieving that goal. And we all like to win."

"We all survive by selling records," says JAG Management owner Jimmy Gilmer, who represents Brad Paisley and others. "I do not think the No. 1 or 2 slot makes a big difference in selling product. But the difference comes in the industry's perception of the artist, and that is important in the long and short term."

Greg Hill, who manages Phil Vassar and the Warren Brothers, says that "a No. 1 record is still mostly temporary bragging rights. Don't get me wrong, those are bragging rights I want to have, but a record that goes to No. 1 for a week but is only in the top five for three weeks is not as important as a record that stays up in the top five for 10 weeks."

"A record that peaks at No. 10 but sells half a million records is more important to an artist's career than a No. 1 record that doesn't move the sales needle," Hill continues. "It is nice to be able to say you had a No. 1, but a reactive record is more important. A song that peaks at No. 2 or 3 can end up with a lot more spins than a No. 1 record over the course of any given single, sell more records and be a song which is better remembered."

"Give me No. 3 records that are career records and drive record sales vs. No. 1 records [that don't]," says Mike Robertson, who manages Patty Loveless and others. No. 1 records, he says, come with "nice bragging rights and look good in the bio. It's a nice flag to wave and a great party to get to have." But the difference in real value between a No. 1 record and a No. 3 record is slight, he says.

"A lot of doors swing open when you get to 10 or five [on the chart]," says Robertson, who notes that consumers don't really know the difference between those records and ones that go all the way to No. 1. "If you have a No. 1 selling 2,000 to 5,000 pieces a week, nobody's talking about it. If you have a No. 2 selling 40,000 pieces, everybody's talking about it."

'A CERTAIN PANACHE'

That's not to say having a No. 1 is without its benefits. "Besides bragging rights, a No. 1 has a certain panache to it and helps when selling endorsements and other types of outside projects for an artist," says Gary Falcon, who manages Travis Tritt and other acts. "It just plain sounds better to pitch a current No. 1 than to say, 'He/she is really hot right now, he/she just had a No. 2 record.'"

"Today, more so than in earlier years, it seems the buzz stays around a lot shorter on an artist," says Clint Higham of International Management Services who manages Kenny Chesney, Alabama,

Kelley Coffey, McHayes and Roxie Dean. So having a No. 1 record is "a perception issue," he says. "One record will help the artist for an entire year in terms of getting on a tour [and landing bookings at] fairs and festivals. If you don't have that, it's almost impossible to book an artist live."

"Since America thrives on being No. 1, the perception of a No. 1 single is strength," says Norbert Nix of Refugee Management, which represents Jo Dee Messina, Sixwire and others. "A No. 1 record will increase the artist's price on the road immediately. The agencies are experts at making the No. 1 perception reality. Also, artists who have had even one No. 1 song in the distant past are still capitalizing on concert appearances and royalties if the artist was the writer as well."

THE MANAGER'S ROLE

So, what can managers do to help their artists earn those bragging rights and other benefits afforded by a hit record?

"The best thing you can do is to stay close to your promotion staff [and have] constant communication," Gilmer says. "Make sure the artist is available to work with the promotion team those last few weeks to do whatever it takes to get the extra spins to get to No. 1."

Higham thinks managers can help by making calls to radio stations with whom they have relationships. Such calls, he says, "reinforce" the label's commitment to making that song a hit.

"It is very helpful if a manager has some strong relationships at key radio stations," Falcon says. "During times where there is a real dogfight to the top five or a No. 1, these relationships can help to get the few extra spins—sometimes beyond the normal heavy rotation—it takes to get there. But you cannot ask for this help often, and you really want to be sure it will make a significant difference. Otherwise, you will strain the relationship beyond its limits."

"It is always a good idea to help a station out when they ask for favors as well," Falcon adds. "Some PDs have no problem calling management directly when they need help from an artist, and these moments should be looked upon as an opportunity to build relationships. It is not and should never be tit for tat. It is more like karma—what goes around comes around."

"Other than that, getting to No. 1 is primarily the label promotion team's job," Falcon says, "and encouraging and empowering them to do their jobs is the best medicine I can recommend."

Hill says, "A lot of it has to do with timing, focus and, of course, some luck. Once you get a song in the top five, so many factors come into play. Making sure that everyone involved is doing everything possible is the most important thing you can do."

Beyond that, Robertson says, it's more up to "higher math or fate than what a manager can do to get the single from two to one."

"Certainly for an artist like Tim McGraw, who is the biggest touring act in the format over the last five years, working with radio around his concerts can help pave the way to No. 1 singles," says Siman. In the end, though, he says, "the artist has to deliver great records."

ON THE ROW

Miller Launches Christian Label

Mark Miller, lead singer with veteran country outfit Sawyer Brown, is teaming with BMG-owned Provident Music Group to launch a Christian label, according to Billboard. Casting Crowns is the first act signed to the as-yet-unnamed imprint.

"The Christian label is a total natural for me," Miller tells Billboard. "That's who I am and what I am."

Casting Crowns' debut album is being co-produced by Miller and Christian artist Steven Curtis Chapman.

SONY SIGNS LAMBERT

Sony Music Nashville has signed "Nashville Star" second runner-up Miranda Lambert, who is managed by Dixie Chicks manager Simon Renshaw at the Firm. Lambert, 19, is from Lindale, Texas. She duets with "Nashville Star" winner Buddy Jewell on his self-titled Columbia album, which debuted on the Billboard Top Country Albums chart at No. 1 in the magazine's July 19 issue. They perform the Merle Haggard song "Today I Started Loving You Again." In related news, USA Network announced July 8 that it will mount the nationwide country talent contest again and televise "Nashville Star 2" in the first quarter of 2004.

Maura Mooney joins Warner Bros. Records in Nashville as publicity manager. She was with Front Page Publicity. Mooney replaces Kurt Willms, who exits to join Green Room Productions, a national event promotion and talent representation agency.

Songwriter Bob Regan has been elected as the new president of the trade association Nashville Songwriters Assn. International. He succeeds Chuck Cannon.

AC star Jim Brickman will release his second holiday album, titled "Peace," this fall on Arista Records. Collin Raye sings the track "Peace (Where the Heart Is)," which goes to country radio July 21.

BNA Records will release a Kenny Chesney holiday album Oct. 7. The album, "All I Want for Christmas Is a Real Good Tan," features guest artists Willie Nelson and Alabama singer Randy Owen, as well as Chesney's mother and aunt. In addition to the holiday chestnuts, the set includes a cover of the Oak Ridge Boys' "Thank God for Kids."

Congratulations to Country Radio Broadcasters executive director Ed Salamon and WKDF/WGFX Nashville AE Katy O'Neill, who were married July 5 in Nashville.

Gaylord Entertainment and the Grand Ole Opry jointly presented a check for $250,000 to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital on behalf of the artists who performed in the IMAX film "Our Country." The amount was incorrectly listed as $25,000 in the June 27 issue.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrenCS and are removed from the chart after 20 weeks.

ON "BEER FOR MY HORSES" BEING YOUR LONGEST RUNNING #1 TO DATE!

A legend and a format super-power team up to punch through the long arm of the law and the Country charts!

Mike Brophay, WKLB/Boston

"Beer For My Horses" is a classic, timeless Country song that pairs an American icon with Country music's most important artist. This song could have been played in the 60's, 70's, 80's, or 90's but I'm very thankful it's here in 2003!

Travis Daily, KCCY/Colorado Springs

"Beer For My Horses" puts the F-U in fun!

Joe Kelly, WPUZ/
Atlantic City, NJ

Proof that even at 70, Willie's about the coolest guy on the planet... even if he did cause Toby to miss giving an acceptance speech!

Mark McKay, WGH-FM, Virginia Beach

They need to make room in the

"TOP 10 BEST COUNTRY SONGS OF ALL TIME"

for "Beer For My Horses." It's a classic for this and all future generations.

Bob Richards, WFMS Indianapolis

"Beer For My Horses" is the perfect marriage between two of the most unique artists in music. The hook is infectious and the message rings true. Even after 1000 spins on The Wolf, it still jumps out of the speakers!

Smokey Rivers, The Wolf Dallas-Ft. Worth

Written by Toby Keith and Scotty Emerick

It's an anthem for the USA without talking directly about war. It reminds me of an old John Wayne movie!

Jessica Tyler,
WPKX/Springfield, MA

It's more than a vocal event... It's a thread running from an iconic outlaw to his modern-day contemporary.

Rick "RJ" Jordan, WPOR/Portland

Our listeners have taken this song and raised it above the format, and it's testing like a MOTHER! Country fans "gotta hear the drunk hoss record!"

Bill Hagy, WXBQ/Bristol

H=Heavy (45+ Detections), M=Medium (25-44), L=Light (Under 25). Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. * Initial impact: songs appearing on this page for the first time in summary form. Airplay Adds are songs with 6 or more detections at new stations this week. The Airplay Leaderboard ranks taste-maker stations that have been the most successful in identifying future hit songs as measured by the amount of AIRPOWER titles for which they were Airplay Leaders. Refer to each format's Power Playlists page to see this week's Airplay Leaders.

After One Year As PD, Hastings Reflects On WAAF

When WAAF Boston PD Keith Hastings arrived from WLZR (Lazer 103) Milwaukee last July, the industry assumed that since Lazer was a more conservative active rocker than 'AAF, he would take the station in a more mainstream direction. "I think we've proved over the last 12 months that that's not the case," he says. "WAAF was a well-branded radio station and had a lot of really great players in place. It had seen some tough times—some of their own doing, some not. I thought it needed a little more focus and stabilization. But I really didn't change that much."

Before WLZR, Hastings programmed WAQY Springfield, Mass., which made him familiar with New England. "Boston is one of the greatest markets in the world. The music scene speaks for itself, and it's a great radio market as well. It's exciting when you can look at local record sales and see stuff start to happen that clearly hasn't hit the rest of the country yet."

But Boston's radio landscape has changed since 1994, when he left for Milwaukee. At that time, classic rock WZLX and WBCN "were head-to-head competitors, and WBCN hadn't gone modern yet," Hastings says. "They were mainstream rock, and I remember driving to Boston for Red Sox games and hearing WBCN bashing the hell out of WZLX. Now they're sister stations. Also, over the years, WAAF has made much more of a drive into Boston since then as well."

While the battle for rock radio supremacy in Boston involves three current-driven stations, "when people ask how the radio war is going in Boston, my answer to that has been 'What war?'" Hastings says. "My philosophy coming in was to not worry about what the other guys do or don't do."

"I'm sure there have been a few shots taken here and there, but nothing of a campaign status," Hastings continues. "I've discouraged it, because I don't think it's productive for where we are at this point, and frankly, for the market. When these wars happen, they tend to lower the whole product category, and then all the stations suffer."

While shots haven't been taken on-air, that doesn't mean Hastings hasn't run into some problems as far as owning shows and being accepted in the market. "I can't tell you it has been the easiest thing in the world for me," he says. "Boston tends to be a very provincial city, and there's a tendency from some parties to look at me as an outsider because I came from the Midwest. There's also a tendency to look at WAAF as an outsider because our transmitter is licensed to Worcester. In both cases, that's silly, because you've got a station and PD that are focused on making sure the best product is on the air, and in doing that, we're excited about breaking vibrant new music and selling concert tickets. My goal is that I continue to get that point across to people and hopefully break down some doors that still seem to be shut."

MORE STATIONS = MORE CHOICE

For several years, both modern WBCN and WFNX had an active rock lean, putting the three stations in close proximity. Now, Hastings says, "we have offered a focus to our P1 listener in the last year that's as sharp as it has been. That has given us some success, especially in 18-34 males, where we finished first in the winter book for the first time in two years." At the same time, "it seems like WFNX wisely got out of the active rock game and returned to their roots as a pure modern. I know that they were seeking much more synergy with the Phoenix alternative newspaper, so they're out trying to achieve that."

"As far as WBCN, after Opie & Anthony disappeared, they had to make some hard choices about what they wanted to be and not be. I think they're a good modern station, and that's what they're focusing on now."

Hastings believes that the departure of Opie & Anthony from WBCN hasn't had much of an effect on WAAF. "Since they had been on WAAF before and made it their personal mission to go after WAAF and Dave Douglas, it probably took some pressure off of us," he says. "But some people asked me to predict if WBCN would suffer greatly because of it, and I didn't think that they would and don't think that they have. The benefactor of their removal has been some of the talk stations in town. I think the pure music fans were actually happy to see them go. It was a case of where the radio wars had a negative impact on the product category. I don't think it did anybody a terrible amount of good."

NO 'LIFE'

The changing marketplace has made Hastings very selective in what he spins. "I saw no sense in playing Evanescence's 'Bring Me to Life,' even though I fully agreed it was a hit record," he says. "It didn't make sense for me to try to own that with so many other stations playing it. Part of our focus is to differentiate ourselves where it makes sense. There's a new Type O Negative record that's flying out of the stores here, and that's enough to tell me that it's a record that I can differentiate my radio station with. I don't think anyone else in Boston on the modern side would follow me [on that record]. DreamWorks is doing a very good job of presenting me with a case [for] why I should play AFI, and I'm thinking about that. If I was going up against a weak modern station in a smaller market with less choices I would probably go after it and try to own it, but I'm fighting for a smaller piece of pie in a bigger market."

One other station WAAF is sharing its target demo with is R&B/hip-hop WJMN (Jam 'n 94.5). "Mentally, I don't think there's much that I can do to program against them other than to remember that I need to be as compelling and memorable as possible," Hastings says. "It's a recall game, and I don't think we're necessarily able to out-program them or have them out-program us. It's just a memory game. However, they're a good station. They're vibrant and definitely a primary choice on the young end of the demo."

WAAF's signal limitations haven't affected the station's performance. "Coming into the situation and deciding whether I was going to take the job, I knew that the station had the ability to win the target demo," Hastings says. "It had been there in the past, so I had no reason to believe it wouldn't be again. While there are some spots around the tall buildings downtown [that might get weak reception], I don't think that's where our primary audience lies anyway."

Since his arrival, Hastings has made several changes in airstaff. He also added "Loveline" to "get some new fresh come into the radio station." WAAF also promoted afternoon jock Mistress

Carrie to MD. In terms of the music, Hastings says he focused it "a bit more but didn't change it drastically. There are a few pure modern tracks that I felt were probably in place just to get in other stations' hair, like the Mighty Mighty Bosstones. I think an active in a crowded marketplace has to decide whether they want to sound like an active station or a modern one. Even though the songs may test well, I don't know how far you get playing songs like that."

After one year, Hastings says that the differences between programming in Milwaukee and Boston are minimal. "The job itself is really pretty similar," he says. "You can take less for granted here in Boston, because there's less margin for error. There's more stations fighting for smaller pieces of the pie, so it requires you to be even sharper. But the basics are the same: Hire great people or make sure you're empowering the people you have in place, make sure that everything you do is focused on your P1 audience and make sure they think you're the greatest thing since sliced bread . . . I think WAAF is one of the most well-branded radio stations in the country, and it becomes a matter of living up to the brand."

Songs ranked by number of detections. (○) Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

MODERN ROCK

POWER PLAYISTS

FOR WEEK ENDING JULY 13, 2003

Songs ranked by number of detections. Playlists are listed in order of TSA weekly cume, beginning with the highest-cuming station. Cumes are updated twice yearly following the release of the spring and fall Arbitron surveys. The number of stations shown each week varies depending upon space.

Airplay Adds (AA) denotes songs with 6 or more detections at station for first time this week.

Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. * Initial impact: songs appearing on this page for the first time in summary form. Airplay Adds are songs with 6 or more detections at new stations this week. The Airplay Leaderboard ranks taste-maker stations that have been the most successful in identifying future hit songs as measured by the amount of AIRPOWER titles for which they were Airplay Leaders. Refer to each format's Power Playlists page to see this week's Airplay Leaders.  indicates titles earned HitPredictor status in research data provided by Promosquad.

Songs ranked by number of detections. Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrenents and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

ACTIVE ROCK POWER PLAYLISTS

Nielsen Broadcast Data Systems

Songs ranked by number of detections. Playlists are listed in order of TSA weekly cume, beginning with the highest-cuming station. Cumes are updated twice yearly following the release of the spring and fall Arbitron surveys. The number of stations shown each week varies depending upon space.

Airplay Adds (AA) denotes songs with 6 or more detections at station for first time this week.

Songs ranked by number of detections. ○ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. When tied songs are each gaining detections or each losing detections, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Songs below the top 20 become recurrent and are removed from the chart after 26 weeks.

Compiled from a national sample of data supplied by Nielsen Broadcast Data Systems. 106 mainstream rock and 22 triple-A stations are electronically monitored 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Songs ranked by number of detections. ○ Songs showing an increase in detections over the previous week, regardless of chart movement. A song will also receive a bullet if its percentage loss in detections does not exceed the percentage of monitored station downtime for the format. A song that has been on the chart for more than 20 weeks will generally not receive a bullet, even if it registers an increase in detections. Airpower awarded to songs appearing in the top 20 on both the Airplay and Audience charts for the first time with increases in both detections and audience. Greatest Gainer awarded to the song with the largest increase in detections. Most Airplay Adds awarded to the song registering six or more detections at the most stations for the first time this week. A song with a gain in detections over the previous week is placed first if tied with a song with a decline over the same period. Songs are blind tested online by Promosquad using multiple listens and a nationwide sample of carefully profiled music consumers. Songs are rated on a 1-5 scale; final results are based on weighted positives. Songs with a score of 65 or more are judged to have top 10 callout potential, although that benchmark number can fluctuate based on the strength of available music. New Releases are songs that have been recently serviced to or impacted at their respective formats; Recently Tested Songs are the five songs tested during the past month with the highest score. For a complete list of current songs with Top 10 Callout Potential, see HitPredictor.com. © 2003. HitPredictor and Promosquad are trademarks of Think Fast LLC

ROSS ON RADIO

BY SEAN ROSS 646-654-4617 • sross@airplaymonitor.com

Song Info Was My Killer App

In today's overloaded environment, the last thing most broadcasters have likely given much thought to is frontells and backells. The record industry's contentious "when you play it, say it" campaign is 15 years in the past, and many probably feel the issue has long been solved by the produced frontells and new-music promos that most stations run, if not by all those hip-hop records that helpfully identify the artist and producer in the lyrics.

But there must still be someone out there asking radio stations to do a better job of telling listeners what the songs are. WNEW (Blink 102.7) New York's produced "song tags" are one of the station's major selling points, rating not just the liner heard on some stations about "we tell you the title and artist of every song we play" but their own full-length promos. Recent adult top 40 convert KCDA Spokane, Wash., is jockless but uses produced backells for each song.

I've had some experiences over the years that brought the backsell issue home for me, most notably trying to get any radio station receptionist to tell me what a song's title was, rather than shunting me off to the request line. Then I learned to search online for lyrics, thereby enabling the receptionists to return to their regular job of abusing contest winners. But it's still hard for someone in the industry to imagine not knowing who sings "Picture," even if you know there are people who don't.

But a few weeks ago, I was given a Sirius Satellite Radio home unit to use. I'd already had access to Sirius on the Web and XM through airchecks, but having satellite radio at home was a considerably different experience. And what was most revelatory wasn't, as it might be for most people, the musical variety, but having every song identified on screen.

I had expected to gravitate more to Sirius' oldies channels. Instead, I found myself listening to its modern rock and indie rock streams much more than I'd anticipated. I've never sought out college radio on a regular basis—there were too many other stations I needed to hear. Even as someone who tries to listen to every new song in every format at least once, the left side of the dial required me to wade through too much music that I'd never be able to identify, or find again, if I liked it.

Seeing song titles and artist names somehow made indie rock more accessible. I've found myself leaving unfamiliar songs on a lot more often, even without any sort of concerted attempt by the jock (or a new-music promo) to sell them. And in the few weeks I've had the Sirius unit, I've searched out at least three independent label records that I wouldn't have otherwise known about. I would guess it's not unlike the experience many people had with MTV in 1981 and 1982, where the visuals helped demystify the music, but the frontells and backells helped, too.

These experiences have convinced me that, oddly enough, the best source of the mainstream pop/rock music now missing from top 40 may be the indie rock world. Some acts I'm hearing sound like they could be a year or two away from being what the Spin Doctors were in 1993 or Hootie & the Blowfish were in 1995. And a few have songs that I'd at least bring in to a top 40 or modern AC music meeting today. (I've also found a few surprisingly mainstream-sounding songs from the same electroclash dance movement that inspired Missy Elliott's "Work It" and Madonna's "American Life.")

I'm also newly resolute that more radio stations should avail themselves of the Radio Broadcast Data System (RBDS), the technology that enables stations to transmit data through a subcarrier. In Europe, where the system has been common since the late '80s, some stations kick off each new song with a visual display of not only the title and artist but also timechecks, stock quotes and sponsor info. In the U.S., those stations that have RBDS use it mostly to display call letters. And some pay it so little mind that they've forgotten to correct old call letters after a format change.

So why shouldn't stations transmit artist info all the time, especially since many have already begun linking their music schedule info to their Web sites? Having just the artist and title has turned me on to three extra albums in as many weeks. If it spurred listeners to buy one extra album per month, it would be a worthwhile contribution to our industry.

By now, most of us know at least one person who got a satellite radio and announced they weren't going back to terrestrial radio. If anything, the novelty of my new toy means that I'm listening to all of radio more often. But song IDs, something I didn't know I still needed, are something I miss when I return to terrestrial radio. As more listeners are exposed to satellite radio, it will likely be something they come to expect as well.

"I was out at a bar the other night and Three Days Grace came on the radio...everybody started singing it. They knew all the words and were totally getting into it!! Luckily for me, it was my station they were listening to. And I suppose that's the reason it's pulling #1 PHONES... people want to hear it. Question is... are you listening to the people??" -Lisa Biello, WHRL/Albany

"Not since Trapt 'Headstrong' have I seen a baby-band react like this in Cleveland! THREE DAYS GRACE IS FOR REAL! Play it and try to prove me wrong! It's STILL TOP 10 PHONES... right up there with Staind, 311 and Audioslave!" -Dom Nardella, WXTM/Cleveland

"My instinct told me this was going to be a HIT! It's been TOP 5 PHONES since the moment I put it in!" -Jeremy Pritchard, KFSD/San Diego
