DIFFICULT PROBLEM PUT UP TO CHICAGO AGENTS

Occupants of Offices in Majestic Theater Building Whose Leases Expire May 1 Must Either Vacate or Renew for Five Years—Talk of Moving to New Statekale Building the Reason

Chicago, March 6.—May 1 will witness a grand episode of vendicative agents from the Majestic Theater Building if green indications bear fruit. It will be more or less of a flourishy statement—a better-dweller increasing on the part of all such those few fortunate ones who happen to have a lease running until May 1, 1918.

For years the W. V. M. A. crew has been talking about the new Statekale Building which it expects to occupy by May 1, 1918. All the agents around that they would be glad to take space in the new premises if it were necessary to vacate the offices in the Majestic Theater Building, which is now being desired of tenants occupying many floors. But as the agents offered the building management no return.

For two years most of the men who head the W. V. M. A. are believed to have had been satisfied to occupy space in the Majestic Theater Building, glad to be close to the doors of the W. V. M. A. and Western U. S. The service was in every way satisfactory. But now, with the new building conveniently entering competition, the happy beneficiaries for ten long and prosperous years will be discarded like a worn-out garment.

That's the way the owners of the building pictured the state of mind of the agents, a group of men who used the building while it served their purpose and found it desirable as soon as it is no longer necessary. The owners feared the whole thing was and came to the conclusion that as long as the agents intend to desert South-side about because they will open those whose leases expire May 1, that making it as unpalatable as possible for the tenants.

The building's owners are offering the agents offered their choice be-twice during five-year leases and getting out by April 30 of this year. The whole thing came at a very unpleasant moment on page 10.

Ted Barron Winner

Selection for Acrobatic and Dumb-jump Contest

New York, March 4.—Ted Barron and his Tropic Tumbling Markham Company have won all of suspicion in an act for an exhibition for a committee and manager brought by Joseph Kestelitz, which has attracted the attention of the very world. Respected claimed that Barron's song, Liberty, which was adopted by the National Democratic Committee at the first Presidential election, was an infringement on the Miss Liberty song written by him and Benjamin Fuchs in 1917. The court has decided that no injury was shown by the plaintiff and that the lyrics and melody of the two songs were entirely dissimilar. The injunction to restrain the continued publication of Liberty was denied.

Five Cases Dropped

Court Declines Performers' Suit for Victim's Law

New York, March 2.—Chicago appeals five vendicative performers for violation of the Sunday law were dismissed in the West Side Court by Magistrate Strong yesterday, and Al Glavin and Pietro Misernick, Leo Kolbner and Ted and Robert DeWitt were discharged from custody. The Magistrate decided no violation had been committed. The hearing was the result of the seven-day warrants issued two weeks ago upon affidavits of the police officers.

Charged with giving a strike act, the Victor Duo, arrested at the Central Theatre, asked they did a five-minute act, but claim the entire act was an exhibition against passing. DeWitt, one of the man's cotillions, says he never saw any of the street, but had considered the woman's wife rather short. Magistrate Strong adjourned the hearing against the three men March 27.

Thursday night will be given at the West in the New Law Court. This is the case against Kate's Police Theatre in New Jersey, which has been in the same way and a vendicative concert Sunday.

Participation in Cabaret

Does Not Equate Dependence of a Performer

New York, March 4.—Salpa Mero in the City Court today disclosed a bill brought by Leo Rosenberk, a vendicative performer, against Rosenberk, which has already in previous proceedings. Last summer Mrs. Rosenberk was transferred from the booking role in the Royal Shakespeare Theatre to sole participation in a cabaret at the same establishment. She refused to go on and brought suit, claiming that the change would interfere with chances of obtaining vendicative engagements. Judge Mayer refused to set the case on in the City Court, on the ground that participation in a cabaret would in no way lessen the reputation of a performer.

Waterproof Tents Mean Bigger Profits

Insure a more prosperous season by treating your tents with PRESERVO and making them absolutely watertight.

You can get the crowds even in wet weather by simply waterproofing your tents so that they are dry and comfortable inside.

Preservo is probably the best known soft finish waterproofing compound on the market. Preservo is not a paint—not a fat or oil mixture, but a scientific chemical compound. It is used on old and new canvas—in easily applied and inexpensive.

Best of all, Preservo also preserves the canvas as well as making it watertight. It is proof against mildew and decay—keeps canvas soft and pliable, increases its wearing qualities and makes it easy to handle.

Now is the time to prepare your canvas for the season's use. Your dealer can supply you with Preservo, or if you are in a special rush we can ship direct. For information and prices address
