Rosy Spring Arbitron For Rock, So Far

The all-important Spring Arbitron is giving Rock programmers something to talk about. One of the book's biggest success stories belongs to Modern WKQX/Chicago, which roped its highest 12+ share since Summer '94 and achieved highwater marks in every demo except teens. Meanwhile, WLUP nailed its fifth up book with "Classic Rock That Really Rocks." KROQ/Los Angeles continued cresting at its highest 12+ level in two years, while a re-tooled KLOS grew by .3. In New York, Modern WXRK returned to its pre-Winter level while Classic WAXQ cracked a two-share for the first time in two years.

Active KSJO continues to strengthen its San Francisco presence but still trails Modern KITS. KSJO is back in the fours and at the top of the heap in San Jose. All four Philly rockers are up, but the big story on Action News is Modern WPLY exploiting the loss of a competitor to post a threeshare for the first time in nearly three years. Detroit, too, has less Rock competition these days — three fewer stations, to be exact. That helped Active WRIF reach its 12+ best in three years, and Modern CIMX to pull into the twos.

The strategy at Modern WHFS to increase its Baltimore presence has paid off: It beat Active WIYY for the first time since Fall '96. WIYY also faces new competition from "Classic Rock That Really Rocks" WOCT, which gained slightly. WHFS has narrowed the gap with DC101 in Washington.

Chalk up another increase for San Diego Modern 91X. Its fifth up book in a row puts it fourth in the market, .1 ahead of Active sister KIOZ, which is on a ratings roll of its own. Active KRXQ/Sacramento pulled into a thirdplace tie with a 4.6-5.1 surge. Cruising 6.1-7.2, Heritage WHJY is only .2 away from regaining its 12+ market lead in Providence.

For complete Arbitron results, turn to page 27.

Coal Chamber split from the Insane Clown Posse tour... Double dose of Paul McCartney coming in October... KoRn hard at work on new studio set... STP turn up for another surprise club gig in L.A... Details in Music News, beginning on page 23.

Pre-Millennial Gold Rush: A Busy Second Half Is Underway

The second half of the year is widely considered the most vital part of the year for record companies. The parade of new releases by established artists has already begun, most recently with arrival of such albums as the Red Hot Chili Peppers' Californication (Warner Bros.), an effort fueled by the return of Funk/Rock guitar maestro John Frusciante. Another instant hit, Limp Bizkit's sophomore release, Significant Other (Flip/Interscope), has experienced tremendous success with first week sales tallying a remarkable 634,000 units. Many labels are positioning for follow-up and third single releases from albums already in stores in order to boost fourth quarter returns. Upcoming singles include Kid Rock's "Cowboy" (Atlantic/AG), Ben Folds Five's "Don't Change Your Plans" (Sony/550 Music), The Offspring's latest from Americana "She's Got Issues" (Columbia/CRG), Buckcherry's "For The Movies" (DreamWorks) - a single that is expected to push the band to platinum status in a hurry, and StainD's "Mudshovel" (Elektra/EEG) - also a track that many feel will make an impact. New Godsmack and Oleander singles also figure to usher both bands to the next level.

Just released singles from upcoming albums include, Filter's "Welcome To The Fold" from their second Reprise release Title Of Record (in stores 8/24), Sevendust's "Denial" (TVT) from their new LP Home (also in stores August 24), Megadeth's contribution to the Universal Soldier: The Return OST, "Crush 'Em," which will also appear on their seventh album Risk (Capitol).

Some of the most anticipated releases due out before Christmas include offerings from Nine Inch Nails, Bush, Creed, Chris Cornell, The Smashing Pumpkins, 311, Our Lady Peace, Days Of The New, Counting Crows, CSN & Y, No Doubt, Rob Zombie, Live, The Cure, Sting, Metallica, Alice In Chains (box set), Tonic, Fiona Apple, Paula Cole, David Bowie, Rage Against The Machine, Stone Temple Pilots, KoRn, Oasis, and Marcy Playground - quite a list.

Nine Inch Nails fans have been thirsting for a new collection of music from tortured genius Trent Reznor since the early '90s, and will finally have that thirst quenched in the form of The Fragile, a 24-track double CD that promises to overload the senses. Fans were recently given a taste of the upcoming Reznor barrage with the 12" retail release of "The Day The World Went Away/Starfuckers, Inc."

Former Geffen Records President Bill Bennett has been appointed President of Maverick Records. effective immediately.

partner Guy Oseary Bill Bennett remarked. "His eye for talent, his ear for hit records and his ability to understand and work closely with artists and executives will be an invaluable asset for the company. We look forward to many years of success under his

Pride Communications Re-Focuses WLLI/Joliet

Chicago-area Classic Rocker WLLI-FM has fine-tuned its musical focus on '80s and '90s Rock. Using the new slogan "96.7 Will Rock... Rocks," the Pride Communications station — licensed to Joliet — is rotating "the best Rock from the last 20-25 years and today's Rock hits," according to a station press release. That includes Aerosmith, Van Halen, The Rolling Stones, Led Zeppelin, Tom Petty, ZZ Top, Pearl Jam, Rush, Stone Temple Pilots, The Black Crowes, and more.

"We've worked hard to bring back a fun radio station that Rocks," PD Lonny Tyler commented. "It's something the listeners have been wanting for a while. A station the Will County area can be proud to call their own. There is no other station in the Chicagoland area like it."

The WLLI lineup features Tyler in mornings along with newsperson Stacey K., Ray Odum in afternoons, Mike Noonan at night and Joe Kryc in overnights.

Former KSJO-KUFX/San Jose-San Francisco PD Dana Jang was named Director/Programming and Operations at Pride in late April.

Greater Media Founder/Chairman Peter Bordes Dead At 71

Management and staff at Greater Media are dealing with the loss of their longtime CEO Peter Bordes, the man who co-founded their company in 1956. Bordes passed away Monday (7/19) in Princeton, N.J. at the age of 71 from pancreatic cancer.

"Peter devoted his life to building this company over the past 40 years," Frank Kabela, Bordes' successor, said to staffers in a memo. "An innovator and a pioneer, he was one of the first to enthusiastically embrace FM radio in its commercial infancy and he built one of the earliest and longest-standing cable MSOs."

Under Bordes, Greater Media grew into one of the country's larger privately held media companies, until the sale last month of its cable TV holdings. It is the second loss of a top tier executive at the company within four months. Tom Milewski, Exec. VP/COO and President of the 14-station radio group, died of lung cancer in February at the age 49.

AMERICA'S HIGHEST BILLING RADIO GROUPS

Radio analyst Jim Duncan Jr. released the 1999 edition of Duncan's Radio Market Guide this week and it's an eye-opener. # Universal Makes Player Pact With Manufacturers

In support of the Secure Digital Music Initiative (SDMI) standard, Universal Music Group has announced that it will make a broad array of music available for play on the next generation of portable digital music devices from Matsushita (Panasonic), Toshiba and Rioport. The devices are projected to be available for consumers sometime this winter.

Specifically, Universal is developing software that will provide compatibility with a number of music distribution systems and is working alongside these companies to make UMG's music available for their next generation portable devices.

"This is an important first step in recognizing the tremendous potential of the digital music market," commented Larry Kenswil, President, Global E-Commerce and Advanced Technology, Universal Music Group. "Portability is essential for acceptance of new digital forms of music. With the new SDMI standards for portable devices now in place, we are excited about working with these consumer electronics companies to make our music available for their next generation portable devices."

MP3.com Share Price More Than Doubles

MP3.com share prices more than doubled from its IPO of $28 a share to a closing price of $63.31 during its first day of trading on the Nasdaq board (7/21). The stocks opened to public trading at $92, then climbed to $105 — which briefly gave the company a market price of $6.9 billion. CEO Michael Richardson took home more than $1.6 billion on paper after Wednesday's IPO. Alanis Morrissette, who was given stock in the company in exchange for a tour sponsorship, was another big winner. Morrissette, along with others, received warrants to purchase 658,000 common shares at 33 cents each in exchange for the tour sponsorship, according to regulatory filings. With a closing price of $63.31, that comes to more than $40 million in profit.

HEART...as heard on Wednesday

"We just want to keep everybody really confused and change every time we do anything..." Ann Wilson talks about why they're not using the Heart name on their current tour:

Ann Wilson: "If we were to go out as Heart, I think people would expect a great big band with at least six people on stage. That's not what we feel like doing right now. We just want to keep everybody really confused and change every time we do anything... and we're sort of feeling really acoustic right now! It's still edgy; it's not a little folk set, it's got a lot of dynamics and it's really intense. We've been writing a lot of new songs and we're going to be playing them, as well as some old chestnuts. Or is that acorns?"

And on whether it's difficult to do Heart songs acoustically, Nancy Wilson had this to say:

"We listened to "Mistral Wind," from CD to remember the chords, looked at each other, shook our heads and went, "No. That's an opus." We also tried the "Rain Song" by Led Zeppelin with similar results."

"...it's not a little folk set; it's got a lot of dynamics and it's really intense."

The Smashing Pumpkins have been hard at work on their new longplayer, which sees the band re-uniting with original Pumpkins drummer Jimmy Chamberlain. Head Pumpkin Billy Corgan has told the press that the new CD "rocks" and will be somewhat of a return to the sound that launched their career.

311's Soundsystem (Capricorn) will be in stores October 12. Early word on the disc is that it is loaded with hit material and should make a major impact with hardcore fans and radio programmers alike. The first single is due September 13. Creed, a band who's first album was released in 1997 and is still generating major radio airplay, will hit stores with their second album, Human Clay (Wind-up, 9/28). The first single, "Higher," lands at radio in late August.

Days Of The New return on August 31 with Days Of The New II, an introspective breath of fresh air produced, performed and written by leadman Travis Meeks. Meeks' newfound affection for studio experimentation and orchestral arrangements broadens the dimensions of an already formidable sound.

Former Soundgarden frontman Chris Cornell's solo debut, Euphoria Morning, will finally drop this fall, with the single "Can't Change Me" landing at radio 8/17. The disc has been described as having a lush, Beatle-esque sound that flourishes in Cornell's always emotive vocals. Members of the band Eleven have been tapped for guitar and bass duties, as has former Soundgarden/present Pearl Jam skinsman Matt Cameron.

Bush's The Science Of Things (Oct./Nov.) is on the way, and has insiders at Trauma boasting about it's greatness and mulling over four choices as a possible first single (nice problem to have, huh?).

Producer extraordinaire Brendan O'Brien figures into a plethora of upcoming fourth quarter releases, with knob-twisting duties on Rage Against The Machine's as-yet-untitled third release (Epic-Sept.), Stone Temple Pilots' upcoming fourth CD (Atlantic-Nov./Dec.), and KoRn's third effort, sure to be a multiplatinum monster. KoRn frontman Jonathan Davis recently shed some light on the new project, telling fans via the KoRn Web site, "We're still just working on the songs, and we've realized that they remind us of other bands, so we are naming the songs after old '80s bands." O'Brien also produced the upcoming Michael Penn LP, Days Since A Lost Time Incident (Epic, 8/10)

Other pending releases include new material from Queensryche (Q2K, Atlantic/AG, September release), Steve Vai's The Ultra Zone (Epic), The Allman Brothers (10/19, Sony/550 Music), Woodstock '99 (Epic, 9/14), Type O Negative (Roadrunner, Sept.), Social Distortion (9/99, 550 Music), Big Head Todd and The Monsters (Giant), Lindsey Buckingham (Reprise), Don Henley (Warner Bros.), Kenny Wayne Shepherd Band (Giant, Sept.), and Steely Dan (Giant).

As if 1999's fourth quarter onslaught wasn't enough, be prepared for major releases in 2000 from acts such as Pearl Jam, Ozzy Osbourne, Radiohead, U2, Jerry Cantrell, Green Day, Beck, Tool, and Foo Fighters.

Air Talent:

• The Boston Herald has reported that Greater Media has signed up Westwood One's Don Imus for mornings on one of their Beantown stations. Rumors have been circulating that the radio legend will be on WBOS in August when his contract with WEEI is finished. Additionally, talk was making the rounds that 'BOS would be flipping to Talk to compliment Imus in the morning. PD George Taylor Morris says that it's "business as usual" at the Progressive outlet and that, so far, the company has not discussed plans to cede the format's banner to crosstown WXRV.

Tex Meyer has exited as GM of Citadel's Central Pennsylvania properties. WQKK and WGLU/Johnstown General Manager Ralph Lovette will now oversee WQWK, WRCS, WBLF, and WNCL/State College in addition to the Johnstown properties.

DURST ALL SET TO EREAK STUFF: One of the tracks on Limp Bizkit's #1 album Significant Other is "Break Stuff." After a visit to WTFX/Louisville, Interscope VP (and Bizkit frontman) Fred Durst can do just that after being presented with a genuine Louisville slugger. - A rewrite of the nation's radio & TV ownership regulations could begin as soon as the FCC's August 5 Open Meeting. Of chief concern for radio is what will happen to the "one-to-a-market" waiver. One option being discussed is allowing companies to own both radio and TV stations in the same market, with a limit of six radio stations in dual-media markets. The current cap is eight stations in the largest markets. If enacted, the rule could force divesture in major markets by companies like CBS/Infinity.
- The House Commerce Committee is holding off on approving PBS funding until a controversy over public stations trading mailing lists with political parties is resolved. According to the Wall Street Journal, public broadcasting stations in Boston, Washington, New York, San Francisco, and Dallas have admitted to trading millions of names from their own databases for those of the Democratic and Republican national committees. The Commerce Committee questioned the president of the Corporation For Public Broadcasting about the apparently common practice on Tuesday (7/20). Commerce Committee Chairman Billy Tauzin plans to change the annual pubcasting budget bill to outlaw such practices in the future.
- Capstar has received a Notice Of Apparent Liability from the FCC for WFYV/Jacksonville airing a phone conversation without first informing the other party on the call. The company has thirty days to respond to the NAL, which carries a $4000 fine.

Conclave '99 Special: The Roots Of Rock Radio

fmqb presented and moderated a panel discussion at The Conclave comparing and contrasting late '60s freeform Rock radio with today's radio environment. Here's what the panelists from that session have to say about then versus now.

Lee Abrams

Then: Leading AOR consultant/guru. Now: Sr. VP of Content & Programming, XM Satellite Radio

The similarities between the late '60s and the late '90s, from a radio programming perspective, are stunning. Back in the late '60s, AM radio was dominant. Yet,

- · AM radio didn't address the new music styles.
- AM radio wasn't part of the new audio standard (the 33rpm stereo record).
- AM radio was running 18-minute spot loads.
- · AM radio consisted of only a handful of format types.
- AM radio wasn't part of the technological re-tooling (components systems, 8-track players, headphones, etc.).
- AM radio was creatively stale.

So, FMs came out of the closet (literally) and embraced the new music styles, were part of the new audio standard, ran limited commercial loads, introduced new format types, were a major ingredient in the stereo re-tooling and were, by design, fresh and clearly different from what AM offered creatively.

In 1999, it's the same story. FMs are not addressing the musical changes, are not part of the new audio standard (digital), are running 18-minute spot loads, consist of only a handful of formats, are not part of the new technology, and are as creatively stale as "eighth caller wins."

It is XM's mission to have the same effect on FM as FM had on AM 30 years ago. The "what have we got to lose" creative license early FMs had to experiment is a different sort of creative license than XM's. XM's desire to create and re-invent is based on financial reality. If we don't re-invent to the point where it's noticeable, it'll be very difficult to attract listeners. We absolutely have to be inventive... for survival, not to mention growth.

In many respects, we're in the golden age of Talk Radio — a thriving and exciting genre. We're also in the dark ages of music radio. There are many great music stations in America, but for every one, there are dozens of cliche ridden, completely out of touch, musically insensitive automatable machines.

XM will never replace AM and FM, but AMs and FMs who don't invest in their signal, marketing, and fans will be in trouble. The great blinder is the incredible money so many stations make today. But it's the same kind of money that blinded a station like KHJ, a station where a salesman once told me in 1970, "An FM beat KJH??! It'll never happen in a million years." Try five.

Tom Yates

Then: PD of freeform pioneer KMPX/San Francisco and of KLOS/Los Angeles Now: Owns KOZT/Ft. Bragg

Even through the early '70s, FM was tremendously undervalued and — fortunately for a lot of owners — underpriced. Technologically, it was the Bronze Age. I've seen more electronic advancement in the past year than in the previous five...

and more in the previous five than between 1970 and 1990. It's Aladdin's Lamp—technologically. The spirit and the use of people, on the other hand, has—with a few notable exceptions—devolved.

Can radio recapture the creative spirit and bold experimentation? It better! It's still about content, and content is sadly missing in the majority of stations today. Take a good listen and be honest. Is this really what people want? On a recent 2,000-mile road-trip, there were some very bright spots, like KFOG, KLOS, KROQ and a few others, but what we mostly heard was cookie-cutter, utterly predictable and boring jocks and music, combined with absolutely repulsive processing and commercial clusters longer than a Dodger losing streak. The goose that laid the golden egg is getting the axe in too many places, at a time when competition with alternate media is, shall we say, sort of high? National syndication of bona fide talents, whether they're Imus or Bob and Tom, or "All Things Considered" are honorable, intelligent and filled with content. John or Jenny no-name on an endless series of Eagles — or was it Hawks? — across

A lot of what I've said reflects some of the basic values of FM radio three decades ago. Society has changed and the good stations reflect those changes and program to listener expectations — higher expectations, not lower. It's a different time and it should be a great time. Don't look back all that much. (Insert chorus of "Glory Days" here.)

We have incredible new technology at our fingertips and we should be using it. The Coast's four-month old venture into live streaming is already paying for itself and bringing us new audience. We're in a time when even a station in a market as small as ours can have high quality digital audio and more production and editing capabilities than the Beatles ever saw. We should also have incredible new people and incredible things for them to do with that stuff — and a good dose of the old vision — it's called "Passion!" Passion channeled into an outlet that appeals to the highest common denominator will satisfy the most creative among us, and reap gains that'll satisfy the toughest stockholders in the business.

Mark Parenteau

Then: Air personality at WABX/Detroit in late '60s and 21-year vet of WBCN/Boston. Now: Afternoons at Classic Rock WAXQ/New York.

Back then, we could play whatever we wanted. A record came in, we opened it on the air, and if we wanted to play it, we would. It was anything goes: Spoken word, comedy, sitar music, whatever—it was all considered for the mix. What was good surfaced and the rest of it sank. We had 100 percent freedom and made very little money. Somewhere within the 15 years that followed that period, I made a deal that said, "You give me tons of money and you can pick the songs." I don't remember exactly when that happened. It was either the worst or the best mistake I ever made in my life.

Frank Cody

Then: Programmed KBPI/Denver and KLOS/Los Angeles. Now: CEO of Broadcast Architecture.

The Evolution of freeform radio into Progressive Rock and AOR was a reflection of the politics as much as the music of the times. Underdeveloped FM properties were placed in the hands of passionate music lovers who felt a deep seeded need and obligation to transform the world through music. The early days of Album Radio provided a tribal drum for the emerging baby boom generation. Rock was leading the charge. We have to remember that the anti-war movement fueled the culture and arts. What was different about those times compared to the present, was the compressed focus of energy. Radio carried the message as an art form which declared that there could be a better world, if only we set our minds to the task.

I believe there is a tremendous amount of creative energy, but we live in an era where the radio marketplace and all media has been fragmented. There is no single lens through which the majority of radio listeners and music lovers view the world. A plethora of media choices is available — all asking for our attention. The good news is that content will always be king. Genuine, meaningful content always makes its way into the minds of the public.

Radio has never been a more successful business. It is the most personal of all mediums. It exists, not on a screen or on a piece of paper, but inside your head. I have no doubt that some clever, bright, dedicated person is busy at work on a new programming permutation. The stakes may be higher, but they are higher in all media.

We will see new avenues of creativity explored by visionaries who recognize the power of the convergence of the various mediums. After all, radio possesses what Internet commerce desperately needs: a massive, loyal weekly audience. Major broadcast corporations will demand the validation that sophisticated research can provide, but the content begins in the minds of the artists. This is a fantastic time for artists who believe in an optimistic vision of the future.

Zeroing In On Workplace Listening New Tools From Arbitron; New Ideas For Programmers

When Arbitron unveiled its At-Work Listening Study at the Fall 1997 NAB Show, a lot of radio broadcasters woke up to the potential of the at-work audience for their format. Workplace promotions exploded once programmers realized that the office and the shop floor were not the exclusive province of the Adult Contemporary format. Since that study, Arbitron has taken steps to improve the tools we've given programmers to understand, grow and market to their at-work listeners. In the Fall 1998 survey, we added an important new measure: the workplace zip code of the Arbitron diarykeeper, which gives programmers a powerful tool for promoting to their at-work audiences.

The Dynamics Of The At-Work Audience

Just why is workplace listening so important for stations? It starts with the behavior of your listeners in the workplace. First: two thirds of us have listened to radio while we work. And we spend so much time at work, that workplace listening is the biggest contributor of quarter-hours to radio in general. A full 40 percent of all quarter hours from people who are employed full-time are delivered while on the job. For the Alternative format, the number's a little lower: 32 percent, but even that portion is a significant chunk of your total quarter-hours.

Forget those long held myths about the domineering supervisor who forces the whole office to listen to the AC station in town. Radio in the work-place is a surprisingly personal medium. Two thirds of at-work listeners tune in on a desktop radio or a boom box. And 43 percent say that they are the only ones who listen to a radio at work. When it comes to who decides what to listen to a surprising 63 percent say that they alone decide what station to listen to.

When most radios at work are listened to by only one individual, and when the choice of what station to listen to is in the hands of that one person, then it's no surprise that even formats such as Alternative, which aren't thought of as "typical" atwork formats, do very well in nine-to-five land. In this environment, your P1 listener stays your P1 listener. In fact, 61 percent of people at-work listen to one and only one station. That's substantially more than the 52 percent of at-home listeners, or the 38 percent of in-car listeners who don't touch that dial.

The Workplace Zip: A New Tool For Workplace Promotions

The Arbitron/Edison Research Study got programmers thinking hard about their at-work audience. Workplace promotions and programming started popping up at many more than the usual Adult Contemporary haunts. While radio brought new resources to bear on this under-appreciated segment of the audience, Arbitron also started exploring new options for examining workplace listening. In the summer of 1998, Arbitron tested the feasibility of adding a workplace zip code guestion to the back of the diary. (We always test this sort of change to our diary to make sure that any new element we may add or modify does not negatively affect the quality of our surveys.) The test results showed that not only could we collect workplace zip information without impacting the quality of our estimates, the new measure would be the powerful tool that we thought it would be for radio sales and programming.

Hot Zips Redefined

Every programmer knows about hot zips. It's a staple for planning your direct mail programs aimed at your listeners, or to potential listeners who live in areas that are rich in your station's or your competitor's P1s. But until Fall 1998, knowing where your listeners live didn't do much for directly impacting your listeners right at their workplace. Now, thanks to that simple question at the back of every Arbitron diary, a programmer can pinpoint where her listeners are during the workday. Armed with this information you can do a better job of picking locations for workday remotes or other promotions. If you are going to go through the trouble of shipping your van and your talent out to the streets, you can now pick a retail location that's near the workplaces of your listeners.

What does the radio world look like when you start examining workplace zips? What follows is a real life example using the residential and workplace diary information for an Alternative station in a top ten market.

Alternative Station In A Top Ten Market

This data has been masked, but the numbers

| are real!       |                            |                            |
|-----------------|----------------------------|----------------------------|
|                 | Station Percent            | Number ofStation Work- |
| Zip Code        | of Total "Home"Diaries | place Diaries              |
| Downtown        | None                       | 21                         |
| Fountain Valley | 20.6%                      | 17                         |
| Annington       | 20.3%                      | 16                         |
| Johnson Range   | 12.2%                      | 12                         |
| Jonesfield      | 21.1%                      | 9                          |

The five zip codes listed are the top five zip codes in terms of absolute number of workplace diaries for the Alternative station in town. The first workplace zip has zero residential diaries. This zip code would normally be overlooked in a typical "hot zip" strategy. But in a hot zip strategy based on workplace zip codes, the Downtown zip pops right to the top.

What's especially interesting is that a number of these zip codes that have a significant penetration of residential diaries also have a significant share of workplace diaries. You would need to examine the workplace zip codes of the "home" diaries to see if these are the same listeners or whether those zips contain different listeners commuting in from other areas of town. We've found in our preliminary analyses that, on average, 20 percent of people live and work in the same zip code.

A more sophisticated use of work place zip codes is to plot where your listeners live, and then plot where your listeners work. Done systematically, a piece of the market at time, you can begin to chart out likely commuting routes. That's a perfect way to pick the locations for your station's bill-boards, or to pick the best bus and rail routes for your trans t boards.

Whether looking for lunchtime remote locations, or picking outdoor and transit boards, the programming and promotion potential of workplace zip code information is tremendous. There's lots to explore using either Maximi$er, MapMAKER or PD Advantage. Spend some time discussing the results with your direct mail supplier or your telemarketing vendor. The workplace zip is an important tool that can help you reach potential listeners where they work, as well as where they live.

Days Of The New "Enemy" Outpost

(www.outpostrec.com)

- Following the smash success of last year's debut album, Days Of The New frontman Travis Meeks returns (sans band) with the first single from DOTN's forthcoming record. II.
  - While there are some electronic flourishes on "Enemy," Meek's acoustic guitar strumming and his vocals still have a signature sound.
  - 17 signals (WTFX, WKLQ, WKLS) are already making friends with "Enemy."

Oleander "I Walk Alone" Republic/UMG (www.oleander.net)

- "Why I'm Here" was a Rock smash, reaching #2 on fmqb's Hot Trax chart.
- "After 600 spins on KRXQ, "I Walk Alone" is still one of our best-testing records with burn scores in the single digits," Curtiss Johnson comments.
- The band is one of many playing Woodstock '99 and are currently touring with Collective Soul.

Second Coming "Unknown Rider" Capitol

(www.hollywoodandvine.com)

- After the Top 20 Hot Trax successes of "Soft" and "Vintage Eyes," Seattle's Second Coming are back with a third single from their self-titled debut.
- "Unknown Rider" is another rocker in the vein of "Soft," which should gain them airplay on Active as well as Modern.
- The mix of heavy guitars, Travis Bracht's vocals and an electronic undercurrent fuel the song.

Jimmie's Chicken Shack "Do Right" Island/IDJMG

- Jimmie's Chicken Shack is back with the first single from their sophomore album, Bring Your Own Stereo.
- The band's sense of humor is intact on this catchy, upbeat song.
- WWDC and WHFS are already doing the right thing.

Coal Chamber "Notion" Roadrunner

(www.roadrunnerrecords.com)

- After two Ozzfests and selling 250,000 copies of their debut album with limited airplay, Coal Chamber's back with the accessible "Notion."
- "Notion" features contributions by Limp Bizkit's DJ
  Lethal and Orgy's Amir Derakh, and should appeal to fans of both of those bands.
- Already spinning on Loudradio.

Virgos Merlot "Kiss My Disease" Atlantic/AG

(www.atlantic-records.com)

- Style junkies Virgos Merlot return with another track from their debut album, Signs Of A Vacant Soul.
- "Kiss My Disease" is a moving ballad that shows off the melodic side of the band.
- Already on KSEK, WJRR and WQXA.

doubleDrive "Tattooed Bruise (Here And There)" MCA

(www.doubledrive.com)

- Before Atlanta's doubleDrive was signed, the demo version of "Tattooed Bruise" was #1 at WJRR/Orlando.
- The band's debut album, 1000 Yard Stare, has a post-Grunge Stone Temple Pilots/Soundgarden influence that fits Modern and Active Rock like a glove.
- · WPUP goes first.

Jake Andrews "Just You And Me" Jericho

(www.jakeandrews.com)

- Another stellar young guitar player, Austin's Jake Andrews sings and plays with maturity beyond his 19 years.
- Coming off the momentum of his Top 25 Hot Trax hit "Time To Burn," "Just You and Me" should find many mainstream converts.
- KLAQ, WFBQ and WZZR go before-the-box.

The Down-Low On The ICP/Coal Chamber Split

ICP/Coal Chamber

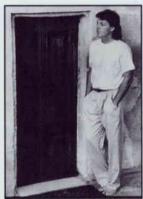

There's two sides to every story, especially when a band leaves a tour after only two shows. Just two dates into their U.S. tour with Insane Clown Posse and Biohazard (7/8 in Philadelphia and 7/9 in Pittsburgh), Coal Chamber left the tour. A press release from Coal Chamber's label, Roadrunner, said the band's departure was over a "contractual agreement" that "ICP were not going to live up to." The following post from ICP's Web site (www.insaneclownposse.com), explains their side of the story: "ICP has booted Coal Chamber off the rest of the tour because nobody was showing up to see them and they were getting paid way too much." Adding further fuel to the fire, unsubstantiated rumors claim that the rift may allegedly stem from a large number of Coal Chamber fans not hanging around for ICP's set. With ICP's rather confrontational nature, we surely haven't heard the last of this story. In the meantime, Mindless Self Indulg-ence has replaced Coal Chamber on the ICP tour, with Coal Chamber planning to hook up with labelmates Machine Head and Slipknot for a co-headlining tour. Coal Chamber's new album, Chamber Music, is due out September 7.

STP Keep It Secret In L.A.

Suffering from a serious case of studio-itis, Stone Temple Pilots turned up for a surprise gig at Hollywood's Dragonfly last Saturday (17). The band (who hadn't rehearsed since another surprise L.A. club gig in March), ran through a set of older material on borrowed gear from the band Dragline, who performed earlier in the evening. STP played tracks like "Crackerman," "Sex Type Thing" and "Vasoline," but didn't perform any new songs. The band is in Atlanta this week to mix their forthcoming fourth album, tentatively titled No. 4, with producer Brendan O' Brien. Song titles include "Heaven & Hotrods," "Atlanta," "Down," and "I've Got You." Look for the album in early November.

Double Dose Of Sir Paul In October

Paul McCartney

Paul McCartney's long-awaited album of Rock N'Roll covers, Run Devil Run, has a release date of October 5. The 15-song album was recorded at Abbey Road Studios, and features the playing of former Pink Floyd guitarist David Gilmour, and Deep Purple drummer Ian Paice. In addition to the covers, Run Devil Run will contain three new Macca originals. One album track, a cover of Elvis' 1958 chestnut "I Got Stung," was posted on McCartney's Web site (www.mplcommunications) as a teaser, and was played on BBC Radio 2. WRIF in Detroit downloaded the song off the Web and began playing it, as did sister station WNCX/Cleveland. Capitol Records asked the stations to stop playing the track, and they both complied. That hasn't kept it from the Web, though, as bootlegged copies of "I Got Stung" have been popping up on various Web sites. October will also see the release of Sir Paul's latest classical endeavor, Working Classical, due on the 19th. The album is comprised of chamber music treatments of Beatles and Wings tracks, and orchestral versions of three of McCartney's classical pieces performed by the London Symphony Orchestra. A major concert at Liverpool's Philharmonic Hall is planned in support of the album.

KoRn Gets Busy In The Studio/On-Stage

KoRn will be coming straight from the studio for their appearance at Woodstock

KoRn '99 this weekend. The band is hard at work on their next studio album with super-producer/engineer Brendan O'Brien, who mixed the band's last studio set, Follow The Leader, and has been working on the new Stone Temple Pilots album. In a post on the band's Web site, singer Jonathan Davis says the eight tracks KoRn has already laid down are as "groove oriented" as their 1994 self-titled debut. In other KoRn haps, the band received the inaugural CDDB Silicon CD Award for being one of the most popular acts on the Internet at a ceremony in New York on Monday (19). Given by CDDB — an online database of audio and CD information — the award recognizes acts and albums that consistently reach the CDDB Top 10, a chart that ranks the most played CDs on computers. Davis accepted the award via satellite from the studio.

ord on the Internet is that the Foo Fighters are in the final stages of closing a deal with RCA Records. The deal would reportedly call for the band to release albums on their own Roswell imprint, and license them to RCA. We'll keep you posted.

Nothing is official yet, but look for a retrospective CD from the Beastie Boys before year's end. The compilation is expected to be comprised of material spanning the band's career, including rarities, B-sides and other non-LP gems. The release of the retrospective is expected to be preceded by a series of 12-inch Hip-Hop remixes of previously-unreleased or import-only tracks from the Hello Nasty sessions on the Beasties' Grand Royal label.

Rollingstone.com is reporting that Jimmy Page is currently in a London studio with Page & Plant skinsman Michael Lee cooking up ideas for the former Zepsters' next LP.

In the wake of Hole canceling a handful of radio festival and Lilith Fair appearances to accommodate Courtney Love's film schedule, word comes that the band plan to enter the studio before the end of the year. They are currently searching for a producer.

After months in the studio embracing Phil Spector-like production techniques, Matthew Sweet has finally emerged with a new album, In Reverse, due on September 28 through Volcano/Jive. Tracks include "If Time Permits," "I Should Never Have Let You Know" and the sprawling "Thunderstorm," which features 15 musicians playing simultaneously.

A host of folks, including former Jane's Addiction/Porno For Pyros frontman Perry Farrell, comedian/actor Andy Dick, former Grateful Dead drummer Mickey Hart, Spearhead's Michael Franti, and former MTV VJ Kennedy, will have their say at Woodstock '99 this weekend as part of the Spitfire Tour's residency at the festival. The tour, which features activists, artists and others giving their thoughts on a variety of issues, will hit 20 U.S. colleges this fall. Speaking of Woodstock, The Godfather Of Soul, James Brown, and heartland rockers Old Pike have just been added to the bill. Here's a list of some of the celebrity hosts who will be introducing bands: Austin Powers: The Spy Who Shagged Me's Verne Troyer (Mini-Me) and Seth Green (Scott Evil), Dharma And Greg's Jenna Elfman, Rosie Perez, and Stephen Baldwin.

The rocker/Spoken Word artist with the pecs of steel, Henry Rollins, has assembled a new incarnation of his Rollins Band, with whom he is currently cooking up material for his next LP, Get Some Go Again, due in January on DreamWorks. The new Rollins Band kick-off a brief club tour on August 3 in San Francisco.

Eddie Van Halen has contributed a guitar solo to the Roger Waters track "Lost Boys Calling," which the former Pink Floyd singer/bassist penned for the movie The Legend Of 1900. The film, which follows the life of a shipboard pianist who spends his entire life on an ocean liner, will be released this fall. "Lost Boys Calling" plays over the end credits and will be included on the soundtrack, out this fall on Sony Classical.

A new Genesis best-of package — culling mainly the big hits from the Phil Collins era — is due on Atlantic in the fall. Radio warhorses like "Abacab," "Misunderstanding," "Land Of Confusion," and "Follow You, Follow Me," will be on the album, along with two Peter Gabrielera gems: "I Know What I Like (In Your Wardrobe)," and "Carpet Crawlers." All five original members: Collins, Gabriel, Mike Rutherford, Tony Banks, and Steve Hackett, recently re-recorded "Carpet Crawlers" for the album. The 1997 track "Congo," featuring new frontman Ray Wilson, is also expected to make the cut.

Bruce Springsteen & The E Street Band kicked off the U.S. leg of their tour in their hometown of New Jersey, dazzling the legions of Boss fans with a spectacular show at the Continental Airlines Arena. Performing for almost three hours, Bruce and band were reportedly much tighter musically than on their initial European trek. Opening the show with "My Love Will Not Let You Down," one of the cuts featured on the Tracks box-set, Springsteen proceeded to turn the arena into a screaming cauldron of fans, all worshipping at the shrine of The Boss! Here's the complete set list in order: "Promised Land," "Two Hearts," "Darkness On The Edge Of Town," " Mansion On The Hill," "The River," an E Street rendition of "Youngstown" (a track culled from Bruce's The Ghost Of Tom Joad), "Murder Inc.," "Badlands," "Out In The Street," "10th Avenue Freezeout" (also featured snippets of "It's Alright" and "Rumble Doll"), "Where The Bands Are" (another Tracks cut), "Working On The Highway," "The Ghost Of Tom Joad," "Streets Of Philadelphia," "Backstreets," and "Light Of Day." Encores included a one-off rendition of the new song "Freehold," (a song written about Bruce's New Jersey hometown), "Stand On It" (a rare B-side), "Hungry Heart," "Born To Run," "Bobby Jean," "Thunder Road," "If It Should Fall Behind," and "Land Of Hope And Dreams."

The Rock Report attended one of this year's most anxiously awaited shows, Paul Simon & Bob Dylan, held last Saturday, (17) at Camden's Sony Blockbuster E-Center. Simon opened the festivities with a passionate 90-minute set showcasing gems from his almost 40-year music career. While his last endeavor on Broadway may have flopped, Simon's musical abilities remain top notch. How can you go wrong with a set that includes such tracks as "Bridge Over Troubled Water," "Mrs. Robin-son," "Me And Julio Down By The Schoolyard," "Graceland," "Boy In The Bubble," "You Can Call Me Al," "Cool, Cool River," "Slip Sliding Away," "Diamonds On The Soles Of Her Shoes," "Late In The Evening," and "Still Crazy After All these Years?" An early show highlight was the Simon / Dylan duet portion which included riveting renditions of "Sounds Of Silence," a reggaetinged version of "Knocking On Heaven's Door," and "That'll Be The Day," and "The Wanderer," two covers by musical idols Buddy Holly and Dion respectively. Meanwhile, Dylan won the crowd over with an eclectic set comprising well-known favorites alongside lesser-known tunes culled from his rich canon of material. Dressed like 1965 Dylan, wearing a nifty black shirt with white polka dots, the artist played both an acoustic and electric set, yielding a welcome newness to the material, infusing the songs with strikingly different arrangements and impeccable vocal phrasing. From the strains of "Mr. Tambourine Man," to "All Along The Watchtower," to "Highway 61 BEWARE — BIOHAZARDOUS MATERIALS: When Biohazard rolled into New York's Irving Plaza recently, touring behind their new King/Mercury LP, New World Disorder, the Island/Def Jam brass was out in full force. Revisited," to "Tangled Up In Blue," Dylan electrified the SRO audience with a captivating and moving set that further cemented his stature as one of the most seminal musical artists of the 20th century.

The Rock Report spoke with Joey Ramone about the band's twodecade legacy and their new stellar box-set, Hey Ho, Let's Go: The Ramones Anthology, just released on Rhino Records. Says Joey: "The Ramones are underrated — for everything that we accomplished in changing Rock and Roll and making it fun and exciting again, we really created the blueprint for what would be called Punk Rock back in 1974. But we didn't quite get the justice that we deserved. But nowadays more people are aware of just how important the band has always been." As for the new box-set, Joey is very proud.

"This is Rhino's labor of love. It was Gary Stewart's baby; but we worked closely with them. We were totally involved with every aspect of it. As far as I'm concerned, it's the definitive Ramones collection. It contains a lot of rarities never before re-leased. 'Carbona Not Glue' is one of the tracks that came on the first pressing of our Leave Home album in 1977. The Carbona company threatened to sue Sire (Records) and the track was pulled. It was only on the first 5,000 vinyl pressings. It's a great lost rare track that a lot of fans have heard about but maybe never heard it. Then there's a lot of mixes that have never been released too."

Metal Lives Says Iron Maiden As Tour Opens

Iron Maiden refuses to be humbled by critics or even statistics showing that their brand of Hard Rock is all but dead in the U.S. Recently in Montreal, the English band launched their first North American tour with Bruce Dickinson in the fold since he left the band to pursue a solo career in the early '90s. With or without the media, Dickinson says, Heavy Metal will rule once more because, "We're entering a phase when the cynicism of record companies and their A&R policies has resulted in a torrent of bands who are totally forgettable and no one is passionate about." Ironically, he sees that as the same thing that killed Metal 10 years ago. Says Dickinson, "At the end of the '80s there were vast quantities of Metal bands that absolutely sucked. That's why the whole thing kind of imploded on itself. The audience just got fed up with hair bands and nonsense. The tragedy is that a lot of good bands ended up getting canned with the rest of it." Dickinson also says the media has never been very happy with the idea of covering Heavy Metal. "They're rather relieved when it implodes or dies," he claims. "When something happens to it, they can slag it off and start going back to being cool again." According to Dickinson, teenagers are now discovering old Led Zeppelin and Iron Maiden records. "Their reactions," he laughs, "are not at all what demographic and marketing people like to see. They think the records are cool."

Marilyn Manson To Co-Write, Star In Film

Marilyn Manson will make his feature film starring debut in Marilyn Manson's Holywood.

Variety describes it as highly visual and reminiscent of Pink

Floyd's The Wall. Manson is cowriting the film and, of course, doing the soundtrack. Manson and co-writer Robert Parigi are hoping to get the New Line film underway this year. Until now, Manson's only screen appearance has been a cameo in Jawbreaker, which starred his betrothed Rose McGowan. It's hoped that she'll join him in Holywood. Manson is currently on a European tour.

Corgan Score For Stigmata Due Next Month

The score Billy Corgan and parttime Smashing Pumpkins member Mike Garson composed for the new movie Stigmata, starring Patricia Arquette and Gabriel Byrne, will be out August 24 in advance of the film's September 10 opening. It will include the track "Identify" performed by Natalie Imbruglia, a new David Bowie song entitled "The Pretty Things Are Going To Hell," remixes of songs by Chumbawamba and Bjork, and previously released tracks from Massive Attack, Remy Zero and Afro Celt Sound System featuring Sinead O'Connor. Garson, a pianist who performed with David Bowie on Aladdin Sane, and has worked with Seal and Nine Inch Nails among a number of Jazz artists, spent most of last year touring with Smashing Pumpkins. Corgan and Garson said they wanted their 40-minute score to avoid film music cliches and to be able to stand on its own without the movie. The supernatural thriller is about a Vatican investigator dispatched to find out why terrible things are happening to a young, New York hairdresser. Corgan's previous scoring credits include portions of Ransom.

Sprinkled throughout the Broadway, Big Band, Blues, Disco, R&B, Rock, Pop, and Hip-Hop are soundbites by Amelia Earhart, Marilyn Monroe, Billie Jean King, and other prominent women in popular culture. #### Dallas Hockey Team Says Pantera Song Led To Victory

Vinnie Paul, and Lord Stanley's Cup.

Rumors are that the 106-year-old Stanley Cup Championship Trophy for hockey suffered a three-inch dent during a victory party at Pantera drummer Vinnie Paul's house. Pantera's "(Thump, Thump) Dallas! (Thump, Thump) Stars!" blasted through the Reunion Arena before every period of every Stars home game and in locker rooms during road games. Stars Defenseman Craig Ludwig claims the song helped lead them to their National Hockey League victory. The cup was reportedly dinged when it was tossed off the balcony and into the pool after being treated to a few lap dances. Now it's back to work for Pantera on their first studio album in four years which is due out before the end of the year.

WZTA's Toast and Kimba, Def Leppard's Phil Collen, Zeta's Paul Castronova and Ward Cleaver, at Zetafest '99 (L-R).

Zetafest '99 drew around 25,000 rabid fans to the Ft. Lauderdale Baseball Stadium on July 3. The area formerly known as 2nd and 3rd base were transformed into mosh/mud pits, thanks to a soaking rain. The rain, however, didn't dampen the spirits of the Zeta faithful who turned out to see Orgy, The Verve Pipe, Everclear and headliner Def Leppard. The show was kicked off with WZTA's Rock and Roll Reveille (Paul Castronova, Young Ron Brewer and Omelette) chugging Jose Cuervo on-stage... Meanwhile, across the country in Portland listeners are still recovering from KUFO/Portland's Rockfest '99. The show went out with a bang (literally) when fireworks lit up the night sky as Rob Zombie performed "Dragula" in-front of 15,000 fans last Saturday (7/17) at Portland Meadows. Zombie had a video crew on-hand to take footage for his next video for the single "Super Beast." "We have cameras everywhere," Zombie warned. "We will find you!" The Extreme Rock Show of the Summer also featured performances by Megade h, Primus, Godsmack, Silverchair, Static X and System of a Down. Afternoon host Craig the Dog Faced Boy and his producer/sidekick Porkchop broadcast from the venue with artist interviews, aided by KUFO listener, Tricia Baldwin who was chosen as the RockFest Reporter for the Day. Tricia enjoyed backstage access and interviewed the bands, took photos and even got some TV time on Channel 12's Good Day Oregon Show... Cheesesteak-heads will have their color-commentary of Woodstock '99 courtesy of WYSP/Philadelphia's Couzin Ed. Ed set up shop in Rome, N.Y. beginning on Wednesday (7/21) and will broadcast live throughout the weekend. The music of the three-day fest will air on the station via Westwood One, starting Friday (7/23).

progressive adultradio PICKS

Singles/EPs

JOHN POPPER, "MISERABLE BASTARD" (A&M)

We normally don't expect to be this blown away by an artist's first solo flight after establishing a name for themselves as part of an ensemble. Damn! This is better than fine. John Popper's "Miserable Bastard" must be the happiest miserable guy in Rock and Roll. Reinvention that works. Stay healthy, John!

MICHELLE WILLSON, "EACH DAY" (BULLSEYE/ROUNDER)

Michelle Willson has a voice that demands attention. "Each Day," from her Bullseye/Rounder fulllength Tryin' To Make A Little Love, is a Bluesy, New Orleans-style Swing that hits unsuspecting listeners harder than a Bourbon Street gumbo laced with generous amounts of Mississippi hot juice. Lay it on thick, brothers and sisters - this shit is hot!

SPAIN, "NOBODY HAS TO KNOW" (RESTLESS)

Stark and somber, dreamy and dreary, Spain's debut track, "Nobody Has To Know" is a dark moodscape that falls somewhere in between Mazzy Star and Roxy Music.

From the band's debut longplayer, She Haunts My Dreams, this track will work well for many formats so take the lead now.

Albums

JEREMY TOBACK. ANOTHER TRUE FICTION (RCA)

Jeremy Toback's work just gets better and better. He has an almost instinctive ability to nail your attention with a combination of facile interesting, storytelling lyrics and a gentle Pop/Rock melodic sensibility. This album is a marvel. Not flash, substance. Obviously, the format "gets" the first emphasis track "You Make Me Feel." There's more:

"Will I Find You," "Perfect From The Start," "Come Around," "Green Light," "Heaven Inside," and "Day Will Rise" are all great radio tracks. The few that we didn't mention here are also great songs. This is an album in the truest sense.

VARIOUS ARTISTS, TANGLED UP IN BLUES: SONGS OF BOB DYLAN, (HOUSE OF BLUES)

If you weren't waiting eagerly for the fourth volume of the This Ain't No Tribute series it's only because you didn't know about it. High points: R.L. Burnside's "Everything Is Broken," Isaac Hayes, "Lay Lady Lay," Larry McCray's "All Along The Watchtower," Taj Mahal's "It Takes A Lot To Laugh, It Takes A Train To Cry," John Hammond's,

"I'll Be Your Baby Tonight," Mavis Staples' "Gotta Serve Somebody," Alvin "Youngblood" Hart's "Million Miles," and Leon Russell's "Watch The River Flow," among others. Great tribute! Whoops.

THE BEAUTIFUL SOUTH, QUENCH (MERCURY/IDJMG)

For close to ten years, The Beautiful South has quietly been one of the more enduring artists born out of the Progressive scene. Back with the wondrous Quench, The Beautiful South seem poised to enter Y2K with their long-standing success still intact. Tracks like the funky "How Long's A Tear Take To Dry" and "The Lure Of The Sea" show the band's knack for merging hooks and humor is still strong. Other highlights include "The Slide," "Look What I Found In My Beer" and "Window Shopping For Blinds." On tour with Barenaked Ladies this summer.

PAUL RISHELL & ANNIE RAINES, MOVING TO THE COUNTRY (TONE-COOL/ROUNDER)

This is Country Blues with a slick city edge. Along with truly inspired original material, there are some real gems of old-time back-country music. Artists like Bo Carter, Blind Blake and Kansas Joe McCoy, along with his pre-solo career wife Memphis Minnie, are almost ghosts of the past. Rishell & Raines breath new life into this classic music while still staying true to the original sound. We liked the title track and "Kansas City Blues," "My Washerwoman's Gone," "I Get The Blues," "Sweet Tooth," "Turning Corner," "Tears," and "Fare Thee Well."

Emphasis Tracks

ROBERT CRAY, "PARDON" (RYKODISC)

Fans of Robert Cray won't be disappointed by "Pardon," the new single from his Rykodisc debut, Take Your Shoes Off.

Featuring a haunting vocal from Sarah McLachlan, "Silence" is now being re-worked as it is featured in the film Brokedown Palace.

BETH ORTON, "CENTRAL RESERVATION" (ARISTA)

Haven't jumped on this track yet? What the hell are you waiting for? Orton continues to climb Progressive's mountain.

THE CRANBERRIES, "JUST MY IMAGINATION" (ISLAND/IDJMG) The letest from Pure The Hel

The latest from Bury The Hatchet, "Just My Imagination" is among the Cranberries' best singles; it's up there with "Linger."

AFRO CELT SOUND SYSTEM W/SINEAD O'CONNOR, "RELEASE" (REALWORLD)

Never underestimate the power of the Afro Celt Sound System. Remember the stunning success of their last "Release?"

RADNEY FOSTER, "I'M IN" (ARISTA AUSTIN)

Already on at KFOG, KGSR and WXPN, among others, "I'm In" boasts Foster dueting with the unmistakable voice of Abra Moore.

BEN FOLDS FIVE, "DON'T CHANGE YOUR PLANS" (EPIC/550 MUSIC)

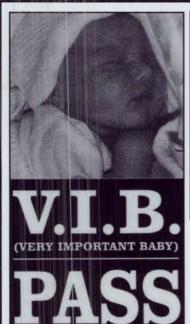

Ben Folds Five's "Don't Change Your Plans" is another swirling marriage of melody and ivory-tickling from everyone's favorite guitarless trio.

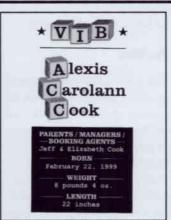

Getting KINKy (L-R): Bobby Mitchel (Wes' band), KINK's Kevin Welch and Dennis Constantine, Wes Cunningham.

Public Broadcasting Funding Cut?

The Wall Street Journal reports that in the wake of news that public-broadcasting stations have swapped mailing lists with political parties, lawmakers questioned Robert T. Coonrod, president of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, Tuesday, July 13. Coonrod was scheduled to testify before the House Commerce Committee last week after it became apparent that the practice of trading mailing lists was not uncommon. In fact, public broadcasting stations in Boston, Washington, New York, San Francisco, and Dallas have each admitted to exchanging millions of names with the Democratic and Republican National committees. The scheme was first reported in the Boston Globe in May after a four-year-old Barney fan began receiving political solicitations in the mail - the child's parents had made a donation to WGBH/ Boston in his name. Commerce Committee chairman W.J. "Billy" Tauzin (R-LA.), who oversees the public broadcasting panel, said Friday (7/16) that he would add language to the annual budget bill to prohibit future mailing list exchanges. His spokesman added that no PBS funding would be approved until the mailing list issue was resolved.

WKZE Changes

WKZE/Sharon, CT, has some changes to report. As of July 31, current PD Randy Milroy will be relocating to North Carolina where he will be looking for opportunities in Talk radio. The MD and midday position will be filled by Hal Lefferts, previously a 'KZE parttimer. Leffert's music call times will be announced at a later date.

WBOS To Talk The Talk?

The Boston Herald has reported that Greater Media has signed up Westwood One's Don Imus for syndicated mornings on one of their Beantown stations and rumors have been circulating that the radio legend will be on WBOS in August when his contract with WEEI is finished. Additionally, talk was making the rounds that 'BOS would be flipping to all Talk to compliment Imus in the morning. PD George Taylor Morris says that it's "business as usual" at the Progressive outlet and that so far the company has not discussed plans to cede the format's banner to cross town WXRV.

Larkin To Vanguard

Boston-based singer/songwriter and guitarist Patty Larkin has signed a multi-album deal with Vanguard Records. A live album, A GoGo, set for a September 28 release, will mark her first release with the label with a new studio album expected next year. A superlative singer, an accomplished songwriter and an extraordinary guitarist, Larkin began her career in the mid-'80s with the release of Step Into the Light on Philo/Rounder Records and subsequently released I'm Fine (1988) and Live in the Square (1990). In 1991, Larkin signed with High Street/Windham Hill where she released four albums including Tango (1991), Angels Running (1993), Strangers World (1995), and Perishable Fruit (1997). Short Trip
Home (Sony Classical) is a mixture of
Jazz, World,
Classical and Bluegrass.

The project was conceived by bassist Edgar Meyer, composer of most of the music on this album and known for his collaboration with Yo Yo Ma and Mark O'Connor on Appalachia Waltz. Meyer is joined on this album by Joshua Bell, a master violin player who did the entire soundtrack for The Red Violin, and Bluegrass master Sam Bush, famed for his innovation in Bluegrass over the last 25 years. Mike Marshall's amazing technique and ability to swing quickly from Bluegrass to Jazz to Classical, has left an indelible mark with his mandolin, guitar and violin playing. Try out: "Short Trip Home," "In The Nick Of Time," "OK, All Right," "BP," "If I Knew," and "Death By Triple Fiddle."

¡Oye! It's the sound of a new Los Straitjackets album! Don't be fooled by the title, The Velvet Touch of Los Straitjackets (Yep Roc). This album is as Rock and Roll as ever with perhaps the exception of the easy sounds of "My Heart Will Go On (Love Theme from Titanic)" which displays the group's incredible versatility (and humor). Los Straitjackets are the premier band of instrumental music. No group before them has had the extraordinary power and talent (well maybe Dick Dale...) that this group has in spades. Start with "My Heart Will Go On," (and watch the phones burst into flames), "Kawanga!," "Close to Champaign," "Tijuana Boots," "Sing, Sing, Sing," "Tabouli," and "State Fair." Skavoovie and the Epitones have an appeal that most third wave Ska groups couldn't even hope to possess. It's a real groove, a certain rhythm that brings the Rocksteady to their Ska-like melodies. Don't write off The Growler (Shanachie) as something that's not for you. This is not flash-in-the-pan, trend-hopping Ska. This is the natural progression of Ska music after 2Tone, evolving yet true to the roots. Check out: "Boyo," "Lucy," "Desert Gold," "Captain Future," "Theme From Foster's Ghost," "Just Enough," and "Salad Days."

Cedar Grove (Wind River) is the new album from Roots Rock guitarist singer/songwriter Jeff Lang. Often compared to early Ry Cooder and Kelly Joe Phelps, this Aussie with attitude doesn't shy away from putting substance into his songwriting. With songs like "Too Easy To Kill" and "We Don't Ask" Lang makes his opinions clear and doesn't apologize for them. His slide guitar ranges from easy and melancholy to fast and urgent. Check out: "Cedar Grove," "Broken One More Time," "Always Moving," "Cutthroat," "Throw It All," and Dylan's "Call Letter Blues." For service contact Peter Hay at (800) 899-4464, Twin Vision@aol.com.

What's happening in Lapland these days? How are things in Java? What kind of music do they have in Zimbabwe?

Wonder no longer. About Zimbabwe that is, because Putumayo has just released the new album from Oliver Mtukudzi, Tuku Music. While his music is heavily based on the traditions of Africa, Mtukudzi's compositions are so singular that he has developed his own genre,
Tuku Music. Tuku music is beautiful and relaxing. And, Bonnie Raitt loves him! Check out; "Wake
Up," "Mai Varamba," "Tapindwa
Nei," and "Rirongere."

The new album from Jimmy Nalls, Ain't No Stranger (MRL) is a mixture of different Americansouth styles. He's rootsy and Soul.

Nalls has played on albums by artists like Greg Allman, Percy Sledge and Bonnie Bramlett and was part of the group Sea Level and The Nighthawks. Nalls really ain't no stranger to the music scene, and it's about time we all found that out. Try these: "The Voo Doo In You," "I Got The Fever," "House Of Love," "In The Time It Takes To Cry," "It's Mighty Crazy," "Mellow Down Easy," "The Stroll," and "Devil At My Door." Jim Lauderdale's

kitchen serves Country cookin' on his newest platter, Onward Through It All (RCA). Opening for Lucinda Williams for six months was nothing new for Lauderdale since the two of them have been working together for ten years. Grateful Dead lyricist Robert Hunter, Kim Richey and Dixie Chick Emily Erwin, among others, were all recruited to write for this album. Listen to all their work pay off: "I Already Loved You," "Trust (Guiding Star)," "It's Just Like You," "Please Be San Antone," "Lonely Chill," "We Really Shouldn't Be Doing This," "What I Want You To Say,"

and "Still Not Out Of The Woods."

On her new album, Tales From the Austin Motel (Shanachie), Debbie Davies is paired with bass player Tommy Shannon and drummer Chris Layton. We witness Davies' return to straight ahead Blues on this album with a few Willie Dixon numbers and some stunning originals. The best thing about this album is you can hear the little bit of Albert Collins that Davies has in her guitar work. The Texas vibe is as unmistakable on this album as it is undescribable. Texas-style descriptions are for people who spend six years in graduate school doing their thesis on the Blues. The rest of us can listen to Tales... and learn the same thing: "Bald Headed Baby," "I Just Want To Make Love To You," "As The Years Go Passing By," "Half Caf Decaf," "Atras De Tus Ojos," and "Percolatin'."

Red Hot Chili Peppers, "Scar Tissue" (Warner Bros.) Staying in the top slot for a fifth straight week, "Scar Tissue" continues to build (+57, 3642 total spins), even as "All Around The World" starts to stand out as the next song stations are gravitating towards.

"ilter, "Welcome To The Fold" (Reprise) Making its chart entrance (28*) in style, Filter is off to a quick start with twelve stations already above the twenty spin plateau, including KFMA's whopping 42 spins. Divney grabs five new adds this week, bringing the cume to 63 stations. Look for a quick ascension to the Top 10.

Buckcherry, "For The Movies" (DreamWorks) A perfect example of the power of a KROQ add. The last time KROQ added a track that wasn't supposed to be the next single and the format followed in line like they have for this Buckcherry track, the year was 1995 and the song was called "Name." You get the hint? 21 new adds were pulled in by Zapin and Smith this week and they expect more to follow in the upcoming weeks. The Infinity trifecta of WHFS (32x), KROQ (24x), and WXRK (23x) lead the spin parade.

Kottonmouth Kings, "Bump" (Suburban Noize/Capitol) With 31 spins last week, WEDG's Rich Wall is leading the way for Spivack's charge to get this band noticed. 31 other stations are supporting "Bump," which was good enough to get a chart debut (48*) this week.

Showoff, "Falling Star" (Maverick) Are there many other promotion people that get as genuinely excited about developing bands as Maverick's Gaby Skolnek? With "Falling Star," she knows that she has a hit on her hands and radio is taking notice on a weekly basis as the adds come in. WNNX, WMAD, WZAZ, and WCYY are the latest converts to join the other 41 stations playing this song, including WPLY, WEQX, WPBZ, WQBK, WMRQ, and WLRS.

Nine Inch Nails, "Starf**kers, Inc." (nothing/Interscope) Ignore your own opinions and reservations, have your production director do an edit and get this on the air immediately. WXDX, WHFS, Q101, WXRK, KROQ, KTEG, KQXR, KMYZ, and KNDD were among the 15 stations to do so this week. For those of you who are scared of Trent's latest, look for the "official" NIN single and video in August.

Dido, "Here With Me" (Arista) With airplay support at 91X (25x), WLIR (23x), WOXY (23x), Y107 (19x), 99X (15x), KROQ (14x), WMRQ (10x), and more recently KTBZ, WFNX, WRAX, WRRV, WHTG, KHLR, and KNRQ, "Here With Me" is building a strong story every week. The video is in rotation at MTV, which should push the already surging sales of her album, No Angel.

Fuel, "Sunburn" (Epic/550 Music) We firmly believe that this song has potential to be as big, if not bigger, than "Shimmer" with the proper exposure and promotion force. But, it is going to have to be an organic grow as Klaiman is busy with G.Love (17 adds this week) and Len (inching towards the Top 10 with a 14*-12* move). Don't let Joel forget the most successful band he has worked since arriving at 550 Music.

Sevendust, "Denial" (TVT) With 17 adds this week, following WBCN's lone add last week, Gary Jay is off to a monster start with TVT's most anticipated record of the year. WXRK, KXTE, KTEG, KPNT, WKRL, and KXPK were among those jump starting Sevendust's most accessible track to date. Look for more believers to follow suit in the coming weeks.

Filling In Some Holes

On Monday, July 12, KNRK/Portland received a letter from Hole stating: "There have been rumors posted on the Internet concerning Hole and Courtney Love's commitment to a movie shooting in Mexico at the end of July. We do, unfortunately, have to confirm that Courtney has indeed committed to starring in a film and has contracted to be in Mexico City as of July 25 to begin shooting July 26. The shoot is six weeks. This means, of course, that Courtney will no longer be available to fulfill some previously arranged Hole performances including, unfortunately, 94-7 NRK's festival show." The letter went on to further apologize and ended, "Sincerest Apologies, HOLE." The band's cancellation of dates in late July and August left openings in the line-ups for both KNRK's Big Stink 4 and WRZX/Indianapolis' X-Fest. Hole will also miss this year's EndFest presented by KNDD/Seattle, although their absence from EndFest is not looked upon as major inconvenience by the station, "This is really minor news for The End," says KNDD PD Phil Manning. "Hole is one of 20 bands appearing at the festival, and we do three festivals a year." As for KNRK and WRZX's festivals, Everclear has stepped in as a replacement act for both shows.

TALK of the revolution

One of the perks of this job (besides having our offices in the industrial park wasteland known as southern New Jersey), is coming across fabulous new acts from out of nowhere. GiftHorse, and their debut LP, Excess, Lies And Heather's Arrest (Pinch Hit), is a true find. Sporting a sound that's somewhere in between the noisier exploits of Cracker and The Black Crowes, and a swagger that's been sorely missing from the radio, it's perfectly alright to look this GiftHorse in the mouth. In fact, they practically beg it of you on tracks like the opening "Excess," and the lead track, "Heather's Arrest" (garnering specialty airplay at Y107, KXTE, WHFS and WOXY). Contact: Dan Kauffman (800) 811-7478.

Boston's Shelia Divine have no shame about wearing their Smiths and Sunny Day Real Estate influences on their sleeves. With a sound that's directly in step with the emo-core strains of the aforementioned acts, and sports a predilection for sweet Pop melodies, The Shelia Divine's debut longplayer, New Parade (Roadrunner), is quietly becoming one of the highest-regarded new releases in NMS circles. It enters out chart at 13* this week, buoyed by support at stations like KPNT, KLZR, KFMA, and WHTG. Our fave tracks include "Hum," "Automatic Buffalo" and "Like A Criminal." Contact: Vicki: (212) 274-7546.

When Unwritten Law released their self-titled LP last year, Interscope's Lenny LaSalandra kept telling us up and down that the track "Cailin" was going to be a hit. Color Lenny a visionary. KROQ recently added the track, prompting the SoundScan numbers for the album in L A. to DOUBLE instantly. Now they're coming with the track at specialty, so be on the lookout. KFMA isn't wasting any time. If you need another copy of the album, call Lenny: (310) 443-4524.

Portable has no time for subtleties, preferring instead to pummel your senses with their thick wall of guitars, pounding drums and maddening hooks. Their debut effort, Secret Life (TVT), maintains its smashing intensity level from start to finish, letting up only every so often to add some dynamic flair to the proceedings. The hard-charging lead track, "Help Yourself" is making noise at stations like KMYZ, WEJE, WEQX, and WLUM. Best bets to follow with include "Medicate It," "What's Wrong" and "Erasable." Contact: Zakk (212) 979-6410.

How many simultaneous users would that allow you to have?

Unlimited. If you get more than we expect, then we'll pay to have you be able to support more. It's our responsibility. It's like building a stadium that can be used for baseball, football, tractor pulls, Billy Graham, Promise Keepers, concerts and a hundred other things. We have one infrastructure that we can use for any application. My busiest time for radio is during the day, for sports is in the evening, and for movies and video-on-demand, is in the evening. So I'm able to use that same infrastructure across all these different applications.

What kinds of cume usage are you seeing with streaming radio stations?

It varies. A good station will have a daily cume of 20,000.

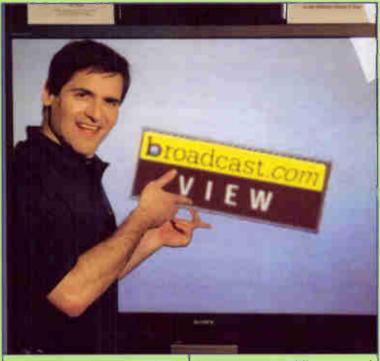

Some broadcasters are concerned that they might be sending their audience to another medium and the audience might not come back.

"PCs are replacing stereos, particularly among young demos, It's just beginning now."

Yes, but people don't turn off their radio to listen to their PC, they go to their PC when radio is not available. In offices, most people don't have radios at their desks or they might have a radio and can't get AM reception or the reception for an FM station isn't very good. It's more about creating opportunity for your P1s to listen. The concept that they'll go to the 'Net and not come back to radio... well, if there's something so compelling to drive them to the 'Net, then you better be on the 'Net to grab them.

What Webcast listening patterns have you detected in terms of TSL, cume, peak listening times, etc.

TSL for music stations is about 63-minutes per occurrence, for News/Talk it's about 30-minutes. For sports, it depends on how good the game is! Overall listening is much stronger during the day. We have a lot of people who listen for eight hours. They'll tune in all day long because you can put it on in the background and let it go. As bandwidth becomes more plentiful to the office and home, people tend to listen longer. Plus the quality of the streaming is getting a lot better from a compression perspective. All these things are contributing to people listening longer. PCs are replacing stereos, particularly among young demos. It's just beginning now. The kids today aren't buying a stereo for their house, they're taking their PCs and putting MP3s on them or listening to streaming.

I was at a store looking at computers the other day and I thought, these aren't really computers, these are home entertainment systems. These are stereos.

Exactly. There's only one thing missing from PCs to complete the transition: They still look like PCs. The minute they start looking cool, Katy bar the door. You get so much hard disk now. Four years ago when we started AudioNet - pre-Broadcast.com — everyone said, "Who's going to turn a $4,000 PC into a $6 radio? It sounds like crap, etc." Six months ago Arbitron said that 13 percent of all Americans and 27 percent of Internet users had listened to Internet audio. Now they come out and say that the number of users is growing and they're more likely to make purchases and consume if they are users of multi-media. The trend is there. You can ignore it all you want, but the trend is there. Consumption patterns of digital media are changing, and they will continue to change.

You're going to see different types of transports as well. You will see digital media getting into the car over the next 12 to 18 months. It won't be rampant, but we'll start to see the first semblances of it.

You've said that 70 percent of Webcast listeners are local, yet the new Arbitron study says 74 percent of on-line tuners listen to out-of-area broadcasts.

Have listened, not listen continuously. Everybody listens to their old hometown radio station or checks it out, but they don't listen on a continuous basis. That's the difference.

That same Arbitron study said 56 percent listen to local stations.

It depends on what they're listening to and how often. What do they listen to primarily? 56 percent of people may be listening to local stations more often than the 74 percent who have tried out-of-market stations on a one-off basis. Those 56 percent might account for the core listeners, where the 74 percent might just listen less often. 70 percent of our listeners are local. The exception is if there is a format that doesn't exist in your town.

This opens an opportunity for broadcasters to create Internet-only stations.

It should. If an ownership group has five formats in the city, if they don't create Internet-only radio stations for the other five, they're crazy.

Chancellor has said they're going to 23, 1999

do that.

Yes, we've talked to them about that.

How will Webcast listening grow in the next few years?

It will grow to the point where it's no longer called Webcasting, it'll just be listening. And there's nothing that says that Webcasting has to be just listening, that it can't be viewership as well. The early attempts will be just to put a camera on the morning crew and broadcast that. Then they'll be ways to create new types of entertainment that are Webcast. Incar listening is only 30-some percent of total radio listenership. So that's 70 percent of users available to you. Over time, it will be indistinguishable. That's like saying, portable radios versus stereos versus bedside radios. You don't distinguish by the type of radio, and at some point you'll stop distinguishing between streaming and over-the-air listening.

What are the opportunities for radio?

No one has really started marketing their Internet stations vet. It's just a service for P1s: Be where your P1s are at. That's worked out well. At the same time, we've talked about creating Internet-only radio stations in heavy urban areas in particular -New York or L.A. — where there's a huge at-work market. There's rarely two of a single format in a city, right? So whatever format's missing, the amount of money you would spend plastering the side of buses, promoting an Internet-only radio station is a hell of a lot cheaper than buying a stick in one of those major markets. I think you would start getting listener numbers that would make you proud.

Just through the Internet?

Just through the Internet, because people are stuck at work. There's a higher concentration of Internet users in urban markets. Arbitron says 27 percent of Internet users have listened to Internet audio. If you take that market in a market the size of New York, given the relative cost to get 10 percent of that market, that's a decent sized market. I understand why it's difficult for radio to justify diving into that because radio's purely based on cash flow right now. You don't see radio investing in a lot of futures where it takes cash. They'll make investments in stock because those aren't P&I type things, those aren't broadcast cash flow items.

In the battle between radio stations that stream audio on the Web versus Internet-only stations, broadcast stations have a lot of advantages. As you say, Spinner can't do remotes.

They reme guys, but they can't hold a can dle to traditional radio because radio is local. Listeners develop relationships with radio personalities. That same concept applies to the net. Yeah, maybe you get fewer commercial interruptions on Spinner or an Internet radio station, but you don't got local traffic, news, information or concerts—so you really lose touch. The missing link, like you said earlier, are radio companies creating local Internet-only radio. The question is. Who does it first? The Spinners of the world or the radio groups.

What is the solution for broadcasters trying to sell Internet-only avails?

I m projudiced, but you tocus around your streem because that's the one thing no one can replicate. In the local market you create your localized Internet-only radio stations for the formats you don't have, and you stiff selling ads inside of them. That's something Yahoo! can't do.

But wouldn't the audiences be too small to sell?

You start small, but then you have the same sour already with Web pages. Instead of trying to be a portal that compete with Microsoft, City Search, and all the localized portals that have been doing this for y ars, it's la er-or to stream your audio to sell music and build your Web site traffic so you can generate more comm a ce opportunities. That's b cau e you content it what you're good at. I'n a big believer that you focus and compete where you don't have competition. If I'm walking in selling a stream off AMFM or Infinity for a local New York radio station. I can sell sponsorships which aren't Gross Rating Point-driven | I can sell in-cone nt nuclio, which may be opens up a lower et d'price point to people who aren't so GRP-driven, so the numbers aren't nearly as critical Rather than saving the numbers aren't big chough, it puts you on a plain where you're not competing in an area that opens up a new market.

Airplay remains the single greatest motivating factor in recorded music sales. Should radio cut deals directly with record companies to sell music online, so that when listeners hear songs they like, they can click on a "buy this CD now" type button?

Absolutely.

How much revenue could stations realize by becoming on-line music retailers?

"You will see digital media getting into the car over the next 12 to 18 months."

Top markets could do $100,000 plus a month. I said this at R&R Radio and TV are the only industries where everything that you creat can be sold digitally. The beauty of the Internel is that it's the one medium where you don't have to send people other places to buy; you can just deliver digital content or sell items When you're playing a song 'Hey, that's brought to you by Capitol Records, and you can buy it right now on our Web site for only $7.95 CD or $4.99 download and it's brought to you special by Capitol and WABC ridio in New York

Why aren't we seeing more of this? Is it just in the embryonic stage?

Yes. Radio stations aren't necessarily all that technically literat. They're learning they're catching on fast But how many richo stations have R&D groups that are trying to stay ahead. Not many. We work with them, and there's a lot of forward thinking rildio stations but, againin ho is valued on cash flow and every dollar put into new things that you renot sure about is a risky doll r in terms of Wall Street That's the challenge, creating the balance of investing in the future versus coping with Will Street today. That makes it a little bu tougher, but radio stations are all talking about this, they all know it's there, it's just a guestions of pulling the trigger. It's huge, and you hit on a great thing

A high percentage of visitors to radio station Web sites would like to be able to access information about the products they hear advertised; this was evidenced in the Arbitron study. Do you see large sales and ecommerce potential for radio on the Web?

Yes. There's two questions you have to answer. What brings them to the station site. And what can you do once you've got them? Streaming brings them because it's the one place you know you can get something you an't get anywhere els.—The music or the content. Once they're there, you've got 'cm. That's the key You've just got to find the formula, like any other radio ad or any other product sales. You got 'cm. what makes them buy?

What formula have you found that makes them want to buy? Multi-media images?

If you can link what you're hearing to what you are seeing, - you win! We're trying to get radio stations to put up rid o ad , to take ad that are pocific to the 'N t. If there's an adfor vitamins then there's a little video showing up on the screen for vitamins. You make that hot, and then you click to buy. Or you're starting to see some people note showing album covers or just a buy button for songs as they're playing. All those things are all good. Just give them the opportunity to buy. It s OVC. It's not the much indise, it's the fact that you're there and you can star buying immediately it's the impulse buy. I don't have the exact formula. We're working on it, but that's something for radio to experiment with.

What scares you about the Digital Millennium Copyright Act?

Everything Radio is getting ramrodded and not even knowing it.

We just wrote an article about it (fmqb July 9), but there doesn't seem to a lot of awareness.

There's no awareness at all. They're putting limits on radio. You want to have that Ilmernet] ill-Beatles station. It's illegal. You want to have special tribute to Jimmy Bu fet and play five sorgs in a row? It' illegal.

But apparently the act was agreed to by some satellite and Internet companies.

But radio wasn't involved at all. It should be repealed immediately.

When you co-founded AudioNet in '95, did you have any idea that four years later it would be worth $5.6 billion?

It's hinny, I told everybody who worked for us when we first got tarted. It we're in business five yours from now, all of you who are still vio king, or us vill be millionaires, at least on paper and there is a chance we will have a 55 billion market cap. I and that in all scriousness to everybody, except to myself. Did we think it would be received like this in terms of market valuation. No. Did we know that we could potentially change the face of media. Absolutely, that's why we did it.

broadcast.com'smarkcuban

AOL, Microsoft, and NBC were all rumored to be interested in buying Broadcast.com, before you struck a deal to sell to Yahoo! Why Yahoo!? We talked to a lot of different people, but culturally Yahoo! was a great fit, and technically we overlapped each other very well. There are a lean, mean hungry organization. No offices, no egos, wide open space. We all focused on profitability and success. What they did well technically, we sucked at. What we did very well, they didn't know how to do. We also thought that, of the 70 million people a month who come to Yahoo!, if we can just pick up 10 percent new users and drive those to our radio stations, it's not inconceivable over the next 2- months, that we have a station with a larger online inoffice market than they have overthe-air. That's very very feasible in a major market. I can't give you specific stations, but we're already seeing 10 percent and 15 percent and 20 percent cume rankings when we compare our daily cumes at Broadcast.com versus the over-theair cumes. Remember, it's not the same process as traditional Arbitron. I know exactly how many people are listening to anyone of our stations right now. Exactly.

"Radio and TV are the only industries where everything that you create can be sold digitally."

Arbitron has said it's going to be measuring Internet-only listening in a way that is quite different from the diary methodology.

Which is great. Pierre Bouvard and Greg Verdino and those guys have done a kick-ass job. The studies that they've published have been probably the best studies on the entire Internet in terms of practicality and what changes in the Internet mean. It would be interesting to see from Pierre, exactly the number of diary holders — not by station but in total — that are mentioning the Internet on their diaries. I haven't seen those numbers.

In addition to the Yahoo-broadcast.com deal, AOL has purchased Spinner and MTV has bought Imagine Radio. How much of a competitive threat will Internet-only stations pose to over-the-air radio broadcasters?

Not very much. If radio moves fast now, they can preempt any potential competition from the MTVs of the world - the Internet-only radio stations. If they wait 12 to 18 months, it may be too late. Then they'll be at a disadvantage, because if Spinner, MTV or whoever says they want tocreate newyorkalternative.spinner.com, then there's going to be a challenge. That's where all this IPO money can hurt radio. Imagine Spinner and AOL decide to spend $20 million marketing ten Internet-only formats in New York— that could make a difference. You have to ask yourself: Do you think there's a possibility that people would change their non-car listening habits if someone made a major marketing push? All it takes is a few and the ratings are skewed, because of the rating system.

You've said that all traditional media are going through a brain drain: New media are attracting creative employees that used to flock to traditional media. How can radio recruit more creative people that can help reinvent it?

They have to do creative things. Radio falls into that "fun" industry category where you get people and you can get the benefit of the doubt if you're doing fun things. But, if you're just doing the traditional radio things, you're going to get people who fall into the same family. Radio is a very family-oriented business; the same people going from one family to the next. It's going to be tough if you continue to do the same things. You have to be innovative. Particularly kids coming out of school today want to go with the areas that are hot.

Mainstream media is going digital and on-line media is going mainstream. Where will all this convergence lead?

There's no such thing as convergence; either you're analog or you're digital. In the digital space, I always say bytes are bytes. But you have to realize that any media, any entertainment that can be presented in a digital format is going to be presented and conveyed across a variety of different transports to a variety of outlet devices. That's a complicated way of saying that people will want it where it's convenient.

And content will be king?

Distribution will be king first, then content will emerge depending on what it is. You've got to be able to reach the eyeballs by having, in our case, the number of servers, the amount of bandwidth, the traffic to the Web site. Radio can build the same thing by using their signal. Radio has to realize that CD Radio is more than just a threat. It's going to be a reality, but it could mutate. In the digital world, things can mutate.

You're talking about satellite-delivered radio?

Yes. I don't think satellite-delivered radio is going to be satellite-delivered radio for a long time. It's just going to be digital delivery of whatever people want, because bytes are bytes. HDTV will deliver radio. Digital cellular will deliver radio. When I say radio, I mean audio and video, not just audio, and wherever it's more convenient. In an analog world, things are defined by their spectrum and their physical nature. Radio isn't TV because in the spectrum you can't do video. In a digital world that's not the case. The whole industry will mutate, including in-the-car radio, as it goes digital. Because whether it's on-band, in-band, whatever band of CD Radio, there's going to be some level of visual component that's going to be required. It could be that the WCBS weather report distributes data that shows where you're at, and says, "Hey Paul, you're getting close to this accident." Or it could be: "Hey, guys, we know you're in your car but you're going to love this CD. Click on your buy-CD button on the radio and we'll take that order." There's just so many ways this whole thing is going to mutate. Technology always goes further than you ever expect it to. In a digital world, all digital bytes are the same; they don't discriminate.

You spend a lot of time reading about industry trends. What trends will have the greatest impact on the radio business over the next few years?

Wireless digital.

How soon?

I have a proposal on my desk from IP Radio, you've got CD and XM Radio. There's a thing called third generation cellular, which gets up to three megabytes. You don't think they wouldn't want to take that extra advantage? In Taiwan, they're using HDTV to deliver television to buses. Those are the different types of applications that are on the drawing board or being delivered today.

So radio's monopoly on the car is about to end?

I won't say about to, but it will. When you say that, it implies that radio is going to stand still. The real message here is there's a lot of smart people in radio. Steve and Tom Hicks, Mel Karmazin, Lowery Mays, Randy Michaels. These are guys I have total respect for because they're smart enough to see these things as well. They're getting to the point where they know technology has an impact on their business. If they look at this as an opportunity, radio can move further and faster than other industries and all the 22-year-old start-up guys. If radio gets stagnant because they're held back by Wall Street or whatever fears they may have, then they're at risk. From what I see, when I talk to these guys they realize that this is an opportunity and I think radio will move. But for those who don't, it's going to be tough.

"If radio moves fast now, they can preempt any potential competition from the MTVs of the world and the Internet-only radio stations."

Four years later, the company— renamed Broadcast.com— provides 520,000 regular daily users the ability to access, from their PCs, streaming media from 385 over-the-air radio stations and 40 TV stations, along with news, live music, and game broadcasts of 420 college and pro sports teams (including the Hoosiers). Its number of users increases 30 percent each quarter, but that pales in comparison to the rate at which their revenues are growing. Try 130 percent in the second quarter, from $5.9 million last year to $13.5 million this year.

Cuban and his 250 employees entered a new business phase just this week, closing their $4.8 billion sals to Yahool with plans to rename the unit Yahoo Broadcast Services. They also announced a new deal with Sprint that enables users to access Broadcast.com content at speeds up to 50 times faster than with conventional modems, using Sprint's High Speed OSL network.

Half of American offices now have broadband Internet access. Workplace listening accounts for 27 percent of all 18+ quarter hours. Are you surprised that more radio stations are not streaming live audio on the Web?

Yes and no. Radio stations first tried to do it themselves but the cost is very expensive. Doing it yourself or even as a group nakes no economic sense. At Broadcast.com, it's the business-to-business broadcasting that really generates our revenues and profits. Broadcasting a partner radio station is actually a loss leader for us. It doesn't surprise me that radio stations that think they have to do it themselves aren't streaming because there's no way they can make the numbers work. But it does surprise me, as people see the stations that have been successful that Broadcast.com was been streaming, that more people haven't come to us and said "We need to be streaming our stations."

What's the cost to stream through Broadcast.com? It might cost $2,000 to $3,000 in barter spots per month.
