Born and raised in Brooklyn, Barry worked his way up from the mailroom at CBS television to the point where he has become one of the most consistently successful recording and performing artists in the world. Ironically, Barry recently returned to CBS television as the star of the made-for-TV movie Copacabana, a musical based on one of his most famous songs of the same title.

Barry started his recording career with Bell Records (later to be known as Arista Records). After more than a decade of making hit records for Arista, Barry has changed labels, now recording for RCA.

We talked to Barry during the holidays, just before he began yet another soldout tour. _____

MAILROOM

Sounds of S

RF: How did you get involved in music in the first place?

BM: I don't remember a time when I wasn't involved in music back in Brooklyn. It saved my life is what it did. I wasn't popular in high school, I was a loner. I had four great friends but that's about it. Somehow my family always knew that I was musical and when I was real young they stuck an accordion in my hands and gave me accordion lessons. I don't remember a time when I didn't have music in my life.

RF: That was a logical way to learn piano though.

BM: It was an inexpensive way to learn piano since my background is people with no money and very little material things. It was a choice between accordion or a piano. They chose an accordion because it was cheaper. Second of all, I think every Jewish kid in Brooklyn played the accordion for about five minutes. I was good at it. My mother re-married when I was thirteen. I got a step-father and a piano for my Bar Mitzvah. When I got my little piano I knew all about the keyboard.

RF: One of the classic stories, it's almost Horatio Alger, is that at some point, I guess in your late teens, you got a chance to be a mail boy and actually start at the bottom at CBS. Was this at the corporate tower at 51 West 52nd Street?

BM: I worked at 485 Madison Avenue, I was in the mail room there. But it was right in the same area.

RF: Were you making musical contacts? Many people would have loved to have had the opportunity to be a mailperson in a big corporate structure like that, but was part of your design once you got in there to make musical contacts.

BM: Actually I didn't have any desire to do that. No aims. Not consciously at least. I was dabbling in it all of my life but in high school I never had enough guts to consider music for a bonafide career. When I got the job at CBS in the mail room it was in the back of my head, but I didn't get the job because I wanted to go into music. I was at that point still too uncertain as to my future to decide to do music. I wanted a nice, secure corporate kinda job. I was about to get married and I really wanted the security of a 9-to-5 job. To this day I have an office in L.A. and I like going to the office. It makes me feel more like an adult. Makes me feel I'm doing something much more solid and secure than going off to work with my bands.

RF: But do you sit behind a desk and send people off to do various projects?

BM: I do. I like it too. I have an intercom on my phone. When I started at CBS in the mail room it wasn't to get into the music industry. When walking the halls of CBS it's all very show-bizzy with stars on the walls as you walk in the door. You can't help but to get a little excited about it. As a matter of fact, when you signed up to work at CBS in the personnel department, as you're filling out the form I was told not to put on anything about show business because if I did they wouldn't hire me. So when they asked what my interests were I said everything else but music. But when you get to the mail room you see people acting, singing, dancing. All those people put down other jobs, but they really wanted to be actors and singers.

RF: Who were your heroes at CBS in those days?

BM: I really wasn't into that at all. But I really liked the atmosphere and still do like the television atmosphere. There is something to the mentality of those who work in television. They have a wonderful sense of humor. They don't take life too seriously. I don't know why every time I meet television people they are very dedicated to their work and they are intelligent and they have a great sense of humor.

RF: At what point did you get involved in creating the music for the off-Broadway play The Drunkard?

BM: When I started in the CBS mail room. I started to make contacts and one of the contacts was a director at CBS, but also as a sideline owned a little off-off-Broadway theatre. He was just about to start to put on The Drunkard, the old musical melodrama which had no score originally. It was an 1890's temperance play. He wanted to make it into a musical. Just insert some of the songs from the 1890's into this musical melodrama.

BM: Well, I played with Bette there and then a couple of years later I came back and played solo there. Two of the worst experiences in my life.

RF: In what way?

BM: With Bette the place at that point was a dump and it was just very uncomfortable for all of us. She carried a big entourage of people, but the shows went over great. She was spectacular. Then my show was quite a bit less spectacular. It was the wrong place to put me, but it was the only place in San Francisco.

RF: By this time, being solo, you had signed with Bell records.

BM: When I played at the Boarding House myself, it was before "Mandy." It was my first album. We were sort of trying anything, we were struggling.

commercial medley was in the first tour.

RF: That's a key point. Commercials were one of your earliest sources of income. For those who might not know which commercials you took a creative role in, could we just outline them quickly? There was State Farm and Dr. Pepper, and what other ones?

BM: There was Stridex, I sang on more of the well-known commercials than wrote. I wrote or I went up for all of them. I would get some of them. Some of them I wouldn't. So if I didn't get them as a writer they would invite me to sing on them. That was the whole deal. All the writers that were asked to write their version of, say, the new Dr. Pepper commercial would all eventually get to sing on it, because that's where you would make the money, not in the writing.

"To this day, I have an office in L.A. and I like going to the office. It makes me feel more like an adult."

RF: It ran for eight years. It's still running with your music.

BM: Around the country. It's not running in one particular theatre. I still get little checks every week from some out-of-town theatre company.

RF: Were you also kinda taking a Tin Pan Alley route at this point, trying to develop your skills as a composer of some kind, pushing your product?

BM: My goals at that point were to be an arranger and an accompanist but not a songwriting singer. Producing never entered my mind. I didn't even know about those things yet.

RF: You didn't imagine yourself playing in front of 20,000 people?

BM: No. What I imagined myself doing was conducting for some wonderful singer or conducting an orchestra. That was my dream right then.

RF: I'd like you to tell us how you linked up with Bette Midler. I remember seeing you for the first time. The Gavin Report was having a national convention in San Francisco, I think around December '72 and you were traveling with Bette and you were performing at what I think was then known as The Boarding House in San Francisco.

RF: What other acts had you opened for and worked with leading up to this point?

BM: That was the only tour where I was an opening act. After that I was a headliner. So it went from performing in the middle of Bette's act, to a couple of months off where I made a second album and then we went on tour with my own band. I hired her old Harlettes as back-up singers and I put a band together which was quite a hot band at this point. These people that toured with me were legends in their own minds. Will Lee on bass, who plays the David Letterman Show. He's still the finest bass player I ever worked with. Christopher Parker is a wonderful drummer. Don Gorman plays keyboards. Nicky Frank played guitar as well as Sid McGinnes. I just saw them on Letterman's show. They are really hot studio guys in New York. It was my very first tour, I didn't know what I was doing, but I know that the music couldn't have been more solid. I wasn't a very good performer at that point, but the show and music were just great.

RF: What songs survived that first tour?

BM: "Could It Be Magic."

RF: Was "Mandy" or "Brandy"?

BM: No, "It's A Miracle" was in the first tour and "Could It Be Magic" and the

RF: I would have thought that the writing would be something that would keep coming in as long as the . . .

BM: No, you file the copywrite away. When you agree to try to write a jingle you are also agreeing not to see any more of it.

RF: I'm told that you still do jingle work, but you do a lot more anonymously.

BM: Yeah, you know, "Bank On The Leader."

RF: That's yours in terms composition?

BM: Yeah.

RF: Do you perform on it?

BM: No. I would have, but they did it in New York, and I wasn't available. I like being anonymous. I also like getting them, or going up for them, with them not knowing that it's me because if they do buy it, it means the melody was the strongest one. It keeps my composing skills sharp.

RF: Do you think your jingle experience was directly responsible for the fact that you had hit singles?

BM: No, but I think that the jingle experience helped to focus my writing on a strong melody. I also think my jingle experiences helped to make the public aware of me. Because it was a very strange thing to hear coming from the stage. It was the thing that exploded even before "Mandy." It was the novelty element of the shows that hooked the audience.

RF: Your single success in pop radio is probably as strong as any artist has had. Were there things that you were learning along the way?

BM: I don't really know. I think if at all, it's in the production I learned the most. Because in the writing, I could never second-guess what you're supposed to write. I'm always wrong when I try to re-write, or try to go after a hit, I'm always wrong. But I did learn a lot about production because I never really had been a fan of the Top 40 radio. When I was growing up I was a musical snob. I really liked jazz and I liked some of the show tunes. Top 40 or the pop radio just never called to me. So when I found myself at the top of the charts I had to learn what that was all about. I had been just listening. I just wasn't aware of what was going on. When I heard the records amidst all the other records it would sound different. Over the years a lot of people have sort of taken various elements. Ronnie Dante, my other producer and I created.

RF: You're not afraid to use other writer's songs. Many of your hits have been other people's work, yet deeply associated with you.

BM: That's another surprise. I never really went after being a singer and certainly not a singer of other people's music. It's all been an interesting career. Nobody is more surprised than I.

RF: Along the way you've had opportunities to tap the resources of a Jim Steinman or even Shakin' Stevens. I was particularly intrigued by the EP. What was the reason for doing a four-track EP at that point?

BM: It was putting our toes in the water. I was unsure how the public would react to my singing an "Oh Julie" kind of thing. And when "Oh Julie" was released it got such an incredibly good reaction we didn't have a whole album to follow it, so Clive suggested we do an EP. I wasn't exactly sure about what that was either. He was all for it, so was all of Arista at that point. It sounded like a pretty cute idea and it was the fastest way to get three more songs out there.

RF: How would you characterize the relationship with Arista over the years? You grew up with the label? You made the label and for some reason you left.

BM: Well, you know there just comes a time when you just have to go away. Which is what happened. My relationship with the label, is really with Clive. I loved all the people I met over the years at Arista because they were always so in my corner. They would kill for their artists. I never met anybody there that wasn't all for the work that I did and all of their artists. And Arista gave me life in the music industry. They gave birth to me. I feel like it's my family, my parents, my brother, everything you think of when you think of family. When it came time to re-sign this time, however, I really felt like I had to go away. Just like when you leave your family, you leave the womb. I really felt I needed to see what was out there in the world. It was just time. It was the most painful thing I have ever done. But I just felt I had to do it.

"I think the jingle experience helped me focus my writing on a strong melody."

RF: You left them with a very unusual album, I know one that gave you great satisfaction as an "artist," the 2AM Paradise Cafe album. You couldn't have expected radio to embrace that as you could with past success. What kind of satisfaction did you get from that?

BM: Oh, this could be a whole interview.

RF: (Laughs) It had to be a great experience to work with Sarah Vaughan, Mel Torme, Gerry Mulligan. Wasn't it a risk, doing something that pop radio wasn't likely to play?

BM: Yeah, it was, but it didn't seem to matter at that point. I needed to do that. I needed that experience and as I began to create it, it began to actually be tangible and something was about to happen, it was exciting as I've ever done. At this point it stands for me as the thing I'm most proud of. The thing that has had the most impact on my life, not just my career, but on my life.

RF: Do portions of that album survive in your live performance now? Do you have a portion of your set you dedicate to that particular project?

BM: Yes, I do. I make it a little easier for the audience, too... it's a very inside moment of the show. It's not with smoke and lights and all.

RF: Many of us got a chance to see you on CBS TV recently, with your first television musical Copacabana. Hopefully people haven't forgotten that your experience on camera goes back to 1977.

BM: That was the first one.

RF: It met with incredible critical acclaim. I think I read somewhere that you drew 40 million people. What were your feelings going into this Copacabana and what were your feelings coming out? Where do you feel your next type of television performance will be?

BM: If given the choice to take something that is the easy way out or the opportunity where I learn, I'll usually take the opportunity that I can learn and Copacabana was that opportunity. It was the more difficult way out. The easy way out is just to tour, resting on some of the hits and hoping that I'll have some more. This was a big challenge. Nobody had ever done it before. I had to go in and fight for it. I had to go into CBS and pitch it myself. I didn't take any salary for it. If the thing lost I would have lost very big because I would never have worked again as an actor. It was scary, exciting and thrilling and I recommend it to everybody. Even if you lose, you learn a lot. I loved going into it because it was scaring me and I love being scared and I like what I saw at the end of it. At this point I'd only do another one if it could be as fulfilling as this one was.

RF: I want to focus now on the current album. What is your feeling on the album and do you have some strong thoughts about the second single?

BM: I usually stayed out of the selection of singles. I always have. I always left that to the record company. I think they know best. They're in the field, I'm not, so I throw it back to them. I make an album filled with as many singles as I can. Then I let them choose. Clive used to say, "Listen, I think it's a wonderful album but I want three singles. I got two singles and I really need three. So go back in there and play around." I would listen and agree and I would go back in and play around 'til I satisfied the record company. I gave that responsibility to RCA as well. Before I let them release the LP I said, "Are you sure? Do you think you got enough stuff to work with because I'm in no hurry." And they thought they did. My own feeling is that I love this LP. I think it's one of the best pop albums I've ever made. I like the new feeling of this LP 'cause I learned so much from the new instruments, and the new approaches to music. This was not Barry going in with an orchestra. This was me and my band and I loved it. It took eight months out of my life to make it 'cause I was making it while I was on the road. It was a lot of fun. I listened to the LP, I was real proud of it.

RF: "Some Sweet Day" is a show stopper?

BM: It's a show stopper. I've been singing it for a year now. It's gotten the most requests I've ever gotten in my career. Adrienne Anderson and I wrote it like about a year and a half ago, and I started singing it right then, when I went on the road fourteen months ago to promote the Paradise Cafe LP. As you know, I'm still on the road basically. I haven't finished this tour yet. It's the song that's gotten more requests since I've been singing. As far as I'm concerned the standard I wrote for this LP is "Sweet Heaven I'm In Love Again." That's the one that in another time would be the #1 record and you couldn't get away from it in elevators. That's the one that comes from the movie, you know. That's the one that stops the show. They won't let the show go on until I do it one more time. It has all the earmarks to me. I don't know if you'd have a hit record with that in 1985, but that's not what we're discussing. As far as the writing of it, "Some Sweet Day" and "Sweet Heaven" are two of the finest pieces of pop music that I have ever been involved with. ■

A/C ANALYSIS

Eighty-six percent of the stations playing BRUCE have him in HIGH ROTATION. Eighty-seven percent playing SADE have her in HIGH, but she runs three total reports behind in mentions. A very tight battle for number one is brewing.

STREISAND is now in POWER TRIO and she bounced back up this week in ranking (as predicted here last week).

STARSHIP should clip the 200 mark in stations next week, while toping the 80% HIT FACTOR threshold as well.

ELTON's latest, NIKITA, is simply exploding at both A/C and Top 40. He "will bury" the competition in the weeks to come.

ATLANTIC STARR's SECRET LOVERS, this week's RECORD TO WATCH, picks up 17 adds: WFFX, WSMJ, KRIB, WBEV, WIAL, WKSW, WMGF, WMYX, K106, KTYL, KVRH, K101, KWAV, KYJC, KLOK, KKLK and B100.

JAMES TAYLOR gets the MOST ADDED title by a large margin. Look for a Gavin cover story next week.

Another winner is ANNE MURRAY's latest, NOW AND FOREVER, produced by David Foster. This will be her first Top 10 A/C record in recent memory.

RECOMMENDED FOR A/C RADIO

COCK ROBIN - "The Promise You Made" (Columbia) Peter Kingsbery's lyric gets caught up in the trace of romance. It's a game of "What If's" with a set of multiple choices for answers. Peter sings in true duet style with fellow band member Anna LoCazio.

EVERLY BROTHERS - "Born Yesterday" (Mercury/PolyGram)

The only original Everly Brothers song on the new LP. This title track sounds to me as though it could have been written back in the earliest Cadence days and they couldn't have been and weren't any hotter than then. Lyrically it has the bitter taste of a song like Paul Simon's SOUNDS OF SILENCE.

Check out page 12 of this issue for a complete breakdown of the official nominees for The Gavin Awards. All those listed were voted for by their peers in our business. Winners will be announced at the Awards luncheon during the First Annual Gavin Seminar For Media Professionals February 21st and 22nd. CONGRATULATIONS to all!!

PROMOTIONS

by Lisa Smith & Betty Hollars

The WZOK Ice Sculpture with the hidden diamond.

KOKZ GAS SALE

KOKZ-Waterloo/Cedar Rapids has just completed Eastern Iowa's most winning Gas Sale. Listeners with a KOKZ sticker on their vehicle could buy gasoline for 75¢ per gallon at a local service station. For those people who didn't have a sticker, the KOKZ air staff was on hand in full force to pass them out. All in all, over 1,200 gallons of gas were pumped in a three hour period. Listeners were lined up for two hours before the big sale. The promotion went over so big that another gas sale is on the way.

BUSINESSES TURN-ON

KEY 103 in Austin is running a "Take Your Radio To Work" contest. Over $25,000 has been given away during the four months of the contest, plus trips to London, weekend giveaways, champagne cruises, etc. To enter, listeners are encouraged to send in a business card or company letterhead to KEY 103. Then, each weekday, the KEY 103 Fun & Games department draws from entries received and awards $103 to the person listening, and another $103 to their boss.

WORLD'S LARGEST SCARECROW

Another Guinness World Record falls! WIZM/FM-LaCrosse's P.D. Tom Greer came up with the idea of building the world's largest scarecrow in a local mall in conjunction with John Cougar Mellencamp's "Scarecrow" concert appearance in LaCrosse. The scarecrow was 23'8" tall and just barely fit under the ceiling in the pit area of the center court at the mall. The scarecrow was on display for a full week, and was visited by Mellencamp on November 5th.

WORC HAS BEARMEAT FOR PATRIOTS FANS

A taxidermist has donated 30 pounds of "Bear" meat (which is truly edible) to WORC-Worcester, MA, according to Tim Todd, M.D. This meat will be made available to the 13th caller in 5-pound increments as New England Patriots fans light up the phone lines to win! The station is currently trying to find recipes for the lucky winners to use along with their bear meat!

WZOK PUTS WINTER ON ICE

Frozen inside this four foot sculpture was a $2,800 diamond ring. WZOK-Rockford's listeners were asked to guess the precise second that the diamond would melt loose. The winner won the diamond with a time of seven hours, 58 minutes, and 2 seconds. How close was she? The diamond actually broke away just eight seconds later. The promotion was done in conjunction with Elton John's latest LP, Ice On Fire, and WZOK gave away copies all weekend long.

KRQU—Servicing a Jekyll and Hyde Marketplace.

KRQU PD John Edwards: "I did a full circle."

"Using a 'delicate mix' of Album Radio hot trax and Alternative music, KRQU caters to blue and white collar listeners, students and military personnel, no easy feat."

Call Letters: KRQU/FM (Top Of The Rock)
City: Laramie/Cheyenne, Wyoming
Owner: Rocky Mountain Radio Corp.
GM: Ken Keating
PD/MD: John Edwards
Signal Strength: 100,000 Watts
Dial Position: 102.9

Who says you can never go back?

During high school, John Edwards got interested in radio the usual way. He listened religiously to Top Forty stations like WOAI—San Antonio, WLS—Chicago, and Colorado radio like KIMN—Denver, KTLK, and KDZA—Pueblo. Subsequently, Edwards studied broadcasting at the University of Wyoming in Laramie, working at the college station, KUWR (University of Wyoming Radio). His first commercial gig was KOWB—Laramie, a 5,000 watt full service AM.

"Eventually I started sending out airchecks because I really wanted to get into Top Forty—BAD!," said Edwards.

Next stop was KATI—Casper, WY. Moving to Colorado, Edwards worked for the MHM Research and Programming Firm, who consulted KBPI and KIMN, with C.C. McCartney.

"He helped me a hell of a lot doing the Colorado/Colorado Springs marketplace. I was at KYSN and KDZA—up and down the front range."

When KRQU/FM first signed on the air, Edwards was there as the first Asst. P.D./M.D. Eventually he was promoted to the P.D. slot. What lured him to return to the Laramie/Cheyenne dual marketplace?

"KRQU wanted to try a whole new approach. They wanted to mix Top Forty with Album Radio with Alternative. It sounded like a challenge because up until then, I'd done Top Forty all my life. I had to re-orient myself, find out what KBCO—Boulder was doing plus find out what traditional Album Radio was doing. We now play Album Radio hot trax with Alternative mixed in."

The Laramie/Cheyenne has its own market peculiarities.

"We have a unique situation in that the University of Wyoming in Laramie has a lot of students and white collar upper income people to program in. But our signal also gets into Cheyenne where you've got an Air Force base and a significant blue collar population. We've got a delicate mix, musically, between the two areas. We try not to alienate our Cheyenne audience with the Alternative music we play while trying not to lose Laramie with the hot Album trax. We're walking a very thin line."

Music mix?

"Music mix is 75% current, 25% oldies. We're very stingy on the oldies. We're having more luck and fun exposing the current product. It sets us apart. Even our oldies are a little on the modern side, they really are."

In the course of their strategy, KRQU has doubled their female audience 18-34, while also going up with males 18-34 as well.

"We're the solid number two 18-34 station in Cheyenne, which is great considering Cheyenne is fifty miles away. We're number one in Laramie, no problem, by a wide margin, with almost a 50% share 12+."

"Over there in Cheyenne, it's very competitive. Not only do you have the Cheyenne stations, but Denver comes in clear as a bell—Fort Collins, also. Also clear is the air.

"Laramie is 7200 feet, high up in the Stony Range Mountains, which is part of the Rocky Mountain Range."

The current line-up includes Bobby Ihle (pronounced "Lee") 6AM-10AM, Jill McVay 10AM-3PM, John Edwards 3PM-7PM, Rick Kelly 7-Midnight, Dean Wood or Chuck Snow overnights, plus Kevin Lewis and Scott Bird weekends.

In the tradition of the progressive spirit that exists in Rocky Mountain radio, KRQU has done extremely well appealing to Album Radio listeners of two extremes. KRQU is a station that proudly caters to blue and white collar listeners, students and military personnel, no easy feat. ■

HOODOO GURUS

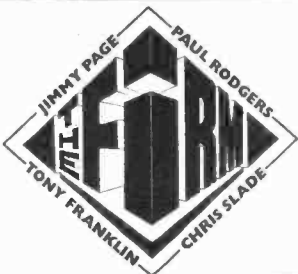

LLOYD COLE

These records define the Album radio and Alternative radio formats this week.

IMPORTANT!!
Convention Info--Page 13 & 14.
GAVIN Award Nominees--pg 12.

Mean Business-The Firm (Atlantic)

The single track may be "King's Horses", but I go for the LP's more obscure works. The album's opener, "Fortune Hunter", for instance, has the advantageous foundation of a JIMMY PAGE/JAMES BROWN crunch riff. "Cadillac" (performed on their tour last year) steps into the cosmos with some very strange underwater guitar effects. These songs clearly mark the difference between today's pyrotechnicians and a true master of shade and drama. On MEAN BUSINESS, JIMMY PAGE sounds completely out of the woods. His playing has a confidence and texture that equals some of his best work. "Dreaming", my favorite track, contains a micro world of subtleties, scales, & moods--all happening beneath the obvious vocal/melody line. The LP's most moving moment is on the last track, "Spirit Of Love". As the background singers abruptly enter, gospel style, the tempo speeds up double time. There in the middle of their voices is one single guitar note, held long, joining in the frenzy. Play loud or judge not. The issue at hand is elegance through decibels.

"I Wanna Be A Cowboy"—Boys Don't Cry (Profile)

BOYS DON'T CRY (sometimes they do) is a wonderful sleeper in the tradition of indescribable and delectable curiosity seekers. Unique like last week's FALCO, not dancey but danceable, and a killer guitar solo. The lyric recitation has the right amount of macho glitz. Intrigued? Should be.

BLUE OYSTER CULT

Here's a reunion of sorts. BLUE OYSTER CULT is back on vinyl produced by SANDY PEARLMAN, the original mentor who nurtured BOC with vague and cryptic references to artillery and horror. In their defense, BOC never ever resorted to references to pagan sacrifice and defecation. Instead there was always ALAN LANIER or BUCK DHARMA to keep things mysterious and arty. That was BOC at their peak. We'll soon find out whether or not this reformation will revive any of those founding days, or just chords from the dreaded "Godzilla". Stay tuned.

Transition—John Miles (Valentino/Atco)

JOHN MILES is a multi-talent yet to connect here in the States. This LP is his first in many years (the last was on Capitol, produced by GUS DUNGEON) and is partly-produced by YES-man TREVOR RABIN and Rockfield's PAT MORAN. This is my kind of mainstream rock. Oh yeah, MILES is a burnin' guitarist. Side one only has "Once In Your Life", "Run" and "Blinded".

Jesus & Mary Chain (Reprise)

The ole Reprise label doesn't get dusted off and re-used for just anything. THE JESUS & MARY CHAIN are one of the most controversial and bullheaded units to emerge out of Britain since the SEX PISTOLS ten years ago. Live, J&MC play twenty five minutes, period. It's all feedback and PHIL SPECTOR/BEACH BOYS harmony with a layer of white noise. Kind of spooky, actually. IAN CURTIS is spinning in his grave.

"Children Of The Revolution"—Violent Femmes (Slash/W.B.)

TALKING HEAD's JERRY HARRISON brings with him some of the sonic depth that pushes the FEMMES into a much bigger room sound. MARC BOLAN crawls out of the grave again, haunting playlists once again, providing material for a clever VF cover job. From the LP entitled, THE BLIND LEADING THE NAKED.

Marilyn Martin—(Atlantic)

This LP is a grower. MARILYN MARTIN is one half of the number one PHIL COLLINS' WHITE NIGHTS theme. I won't vouch for the movie, but this debut LP shows shards of promise. Gut level prediction is that this LP will go far, both on TOP FORTY and ALBUM RADIO. Executive Producer ARIF MARDIN has been right too many times.

Oh, what a week. Just in are the lists of GAVIN SEMINAR events and GAVIN AWARD NOMINEES. GAVIN awards are nothing new. All thru the 60's and 70's, they represented an important symbol of achievement for our industry. Since, there has been a void awarding such achievement, even as our business has grown up. Check out page 13 and 14 for the newly revised updated agenda. Count on changes for the next few weeks until all the slots are announced. Then turn back to page 12 and you will see the list of nominees as selected by you, the industry electorate. Remember, winners won't be announced until FEBRUARY 21, the first day of the SEMINAR, at the awards luncheon...Welcome to yet another new GAVIN ALBUM INDICATOR. NUMBER ONE GAVIN album. While SIMPLE MINDS and MIKE and his MECHANICS fight it out for the number two slot, PETE maintains a lead that should keep him there as more and more trax surface.

There will be a special surprise in GAVIN come the issue of FEB. 7th...Until further notice, I've combined ROGER DALTRY's still active solo album with the new track off of the QUICKSILVER soundtrack. Until the soundtrack album grows legs of its own, the combination will remain intact. However, when it does, a split will occur. By the way, the lad on the cover of that soundtrack is KEVIN BACON who starred in FOOTLOOSE but excelled in DINER as Fenwick... The word is that CHARLIE SEXTON has already moved 100,000 units on the strength of "Beat's So Lonely"...Mark your calendars, in fact the whole damn season, because THE FIRM hits the road this spring. Wildest, best LP I've heard all month is the upcoming JOHNNY ROTTEN/PIL LP. Finally! An all out rock 'n' roll LP with GINGER BAKER on drums. XO KZ.

CHARTBOUND

JESUS & MARY C. (Reprise)
ARTISTS UNITED (EMI America)
MARCH VIOLETS (Relativity) "Lizard"
TALK TALK (EMI America-12")
MINK DeVILLE (Atlantic) "Dreaming"
ART OF NOISE (Chrysalis)
EVERLY BROS. (PolyGram) "Amanda"
FLESH FOR LULU (Statik) "Baby"
LOVE & ROCKETS (Beggars Banq.)
BEASTIE BOYS (Def Jam/Col.) "She's"
VIOLENT FEMMES (Slash/W.B.-12")

YOUNG CANNIBALS, taking place. This temporary vacuum can probably be attributed to the let-up in the tremendous number of releases. I've discovered that my research list has shrunk by over 20% this past chart.

We're very excited about the Seminar program we've assembled for you. The list of Gavin Award nominees can be found on page 12 and you can find other details on pages 13 & 14. We're looking forward to seeing many of you in San Francisco next month.

SPOTLIGHT LP

Touchy Situation/Just A Flash/
First Strike-CRAZY 8'S (Red Rum)

The Crazy 8's generated an exceptional amount of excitement with their last album and even gained some Top 40 airplay within their home-base Northwest. Their Afrikan/reggae flavored music consequently packed clubs and eventually landed them a shot on "Star Search". "Nervous In Suburbia" represents a mature progression with cleaner production and a more clearly identifiable sound. There appears to be a sizeable market developing in some cities for this ethnically blended music which some are calling "World Beat". Contact Marc Baker at (503) 292-2183.

COUNTRY SUMMARY

CRYSTAL GAYLE & GARY MORRIS are proving to have staying power, with their third straight week at the #1 position. GLEN CAMPBELL edges close to the Top Ten this week, with a strong 6 point jump. EDDY RAVEN doubles his hit factor this week, from 31% to 63%. It looks like JOHN DENVER's "Dreamland Express" has a lot of Country appeal, as he jumps from 33 to 27 on our chart this week, and is starting to light up the phone lines at many of our reporting stations. RANDY TRAVIS is getting lots of attention for a relative newcomer. He is one of our Certified's, and TOM SLEEKER at KKIX-Fayetteville reports that Randy's doing very well with his call-out research. Both the OAK RIDGE BOYS and

ALABAMA are closing in on the Top Request spotlight. The ever-popular RAY STEVENS is getting a lot of reaction from listeners. TOM CLOSSON at WAXX-Eau Claire reports that RAY's his #1 requested record, ditto for KRIS O'KELLY at WOWW/FM in Pensacola. And TIM TODD at WORC-Worcester notes that SUSAN RAYE is already a Top Three request there.

SEMINAR FOR MEDIA PROFESSIONALS

MAILBAG

Some catching up to do on the letters received--all of which are heartily welcomed, and many of which wind up here in print! I've always conceived of this column more as a forum to moderate what is of interest and concern to YOU--the practicing radio programmer--than as a lectern for me to lecture from!

A couple of months back I received a lengthy and thoughtful letter from Jean Wilson of A. J. Productions in Menasha, Wisconsin. It was stimulated by my column of October 11, in which I reprinted a portion of a letter from Ken Schroeder and Jon Shaffer of KYOU; and in particular, this quote, which relates to their successful format of "progressive" country music, with an emphasis on new artists: "One of the curious things that has happened is that in spite of the fact that we try to play as many new artists as possible, our record service from the major labels is all but nonexistent . . . Part of this problem may be due to the fact that when we report our new adds, they often are not printed because they don't fit the so-called format, or they are not a known artist. The cycle needs to be broken, if country music is to be a competitive format."

Jean raises the question of WHO is failing to print these new adds. The original letter doesn't say, and certainly there are likely to be trade publications that, consciously or unconsciously, adjust the input to fit their concept of what they need to print. From my own experience of years programming using the Gavin Report, I know that this publication has never been one of them, which is one reason I feel it is of unique value to programmers. However, at about the time that column was being printed, I spent some time on the phone with Country Music Editor Elma Greer discussing a similar matter, and I am aware of some of the complexities of this issue as far as Gavin is concerned. And these complexities apply to all departments in this magazine.

Before entering print as a Gavin reporter, the magazine's editors monitor the flow of data from the candidate, trying to decide if the data is objective or subjective. Is the reporter giving opinion or facts? Or both, and failing to distinguish between them? Is the reporter trying to curry favor with the record companies or the promotion people by his or her "picks"--or are they made purely from the standpoint of what's best for the station to play, to be most successful with its chosen audience? What research does the reporter do? What track record can the reporter show for predicting action on records projectable to a regional or national audience? Some publications evidently select their reporters by their ratings; the Gavin Report has always selected them by their honesty and accuracy. "Paper adds", once identified, may lose a reporter their place in the magazine--what's reported must be what's played! A station that does not report regularly, or has yet to establish a track record, may appear erratically or not at all.

And there are some additional considerations. Stations that "break" new records sometimes submit impractically long add lists. This not only poses a space problem for the magazine, but more importantly it raises the question of just how much exposure so many new records can actually receive on the station.

Since KYOU in Greeley, Colorado, is "progressive country", a new format that has had increasing success for most of the stations that have been trying it (and so far there seems to be no firm way that each station does it, making it harder to project from one such station to another), the final problem is one of how data from such stations can be made to fit meaningfully within the "country music" section. In the case of rock, the Gavin Report established an "album" section, since "top 40" did not embrace in content or lifestyle the successful format of the AOR stations, and later pioneered an "alternative rock" chart which quantifies performance of music in yet another, different, rock context. Probably what needs to be done is a new "progressive country" chart and selection--but that will have to wait until there are enough such stations, programming with some consistency to a defined section of the audience, so that there is an adequate sample base on which to found a new section, and enough stations in the format to make use of it.

There's more to Jean's letter, and we'll finish it next week. ■

PROMOTIONS

KNUZ's Barry Kilgore (left) with the University of Houston's mascot (right).

EDWARDS DOES JETSONS

Vince Edwards from KSYZ/FM-Grand Island, Nebraska was upset when he recently discovered that none of the TV stations in his area would be carrying the revival of "The Jetsons." So upset that he took his complaint to his listeners. Vince began a phone-in petition with his audience and generated over 150 calls from listeners who also wanted the series on the air. After a couple of rounds of telephone calls, he finally obtained the number of Judy Jetson, or at least of Janet Waldo—the voice of Judy for 23 years.

Her ad-libbed interview (in character) was warmly received by KSYZ listeners. Distributors of the currently syndicated "Jetsons" say that due to the strong listener response to KSYZ's audio petition, local stations have expressed interest in the series. Vince certainly hopes so.

LENDING A HAND

KNUZ-Houston's morning drive personality Barry Kilgore was recently invited to suit-up and join the University of Houston Cougars in the Astrodome as they played Texas Tech. Barry was ejected from the game for "illegal use of the hands" while chasing a cheerleader. The University of Houston won the game—in spite of Barry!

SACRAMENTO RADIO'S BIGGEST CASH PRIZE ▼

K108/FM-Sacramento awarded a cash prize of $73,665 to the grand prize winner of "K108's Million Dollar Minute" contest. It is the largest cash award of any radio promotion in the history of Sacramento. The winner was granted 60 seconds alone inside K108's special vault with one million dollars spread on the floor. Contestants in the "Million Dollar Minute" were asked to name "mystery vault guards" based on clues broadcast by K108. The grand prize winner was selected in a drawing from all the finalists.

FULL COURT WITH MICHAEL JORDAN ▲

WBNQ-Bloomington is pleased to report that the "Full Court With Michael Jordan" benefit basketball game raised over $22,000 for the Special Olympics. Chicago Bulls superstar Michael Jordan played with the WBNQ Cheapshots team against a group of former Illinois State stars. Chicago Bulls coach Stan Albeck was honorary coach of the Cheapshots. This was a weekend event that included a benefit banquet, a clinic for handicapped Special Olympics basketball players, and an autograph session for the public. WBNQ Operations Director Mike Justin said, "It has to be the most thrilling weekend I've ever had. I'm so proud that WBNQ and everyone else involved could put on such a big event."

TRIPLE TRUE OR FALSE

KDWB-Minneapolis/St. Paul is having a lot of success with this promotion. Air personalities ask a trivia question and the first caller with the correct answer gets a cash prize and the option to triple the cash amount by answering a second "true or false" question. At this point, they can either keep the cash they've already won or try to triple it. However, if they get the second question wrong, they lose everything. The contest is aired hourly, and so far KDWB has had over 2,000 winners.

The winner of K108's "Million Dollar Minute" promotion (l) receives a check in the amount of $73,665 from Phil Melrose (r), General Manager of K108.

URBAN CONTEMPORARY SUMMARY

CONGRATULATIONS! to all of you "nominees" out there. To me you're all winners (oh, that's so corny), but it's true - no matter who's announced as the winners at our Awards Banquet on February 21st, you're all contributing a tremendous amount of time and effort to these pages. As you know from the ballots you received, the nominees were chosen by your peers in the radio and music industry all over the country. The top five in each individual category are then listed alphabetically and these ballots are voted on by our distinguished Board Of Judges. The winners then will be announced at our Gavin Seminar For Media Professionals Awards Banquet at noon on February 21st here in San Francisco. Our timing for this Seminar couldn't have come at a better time - AIR FARE WARS are currently being fought by almost all the major airlines and we're seeing $129 to $189 round-trip air fares to San Francisco from almost any major or medium market city in the North, East, South, Mid-West and Central US. Call me this week if you need specific information from your area. We've lucked out and scheduled a terrific line-up of class people to speak and conduct workshops for our attendees. Dr. Charles Garfield is said to be one of the most dynamic speakers and authors on motivating your staff and getting the "peak performance" you need from your personnel. Stan Cornyn's "Eat Or Be Eaten" presentation and speech on the future and how it will affect not only radio & music, but the rest of your life, is said to surpass the excellence of his famous "The Day Radio Died" speech. Our own format function will be attended by Lee Michaels, Sunny Joe, Mayo, Maddox, Alexander, Avery, Brute Bailey, and many more yet to come. It's shaping up like a San Francisco event not to be missed!

Getting back to music, FORCE MD's has yet another ten-point jump from 28-18-8 in two weeks. YARBOROUGH & PEOPLES are making amazing moves; and it's not surprising that two of last week's "Most Added" are this week's two "Certified" - both were very strong last week: JANET JACKSON & CHERRELLE & ALEXANDER O'NEAL. Check out the adds on NEW EDITION as well as Dave's pick on the back page. Could cross the barrier to Top 40 sooner than their last two. GAP BAND comes in next with lots of adds. Check out PHYLLIS NELSON, who's starting to generate interest in major markets and getting bigger totals in the reports column. Of the newer things, JUICY and SHIRLEY MURDOCK are also picking up adds and with a little more air-play could beat out some of the things listed above them. Betty

DAVE SHOLIN'S

Personal Picks — SINGLES

JOHN COUGAR MELLENCAMP - R.O.C.K. In The U.S.A. (A Salute To 60's Rock) (Riva/PolyGram)

Wonderful tribute to some pioneers from rock's formative years. Comes at a time when there seems to be a renewed interest in many of the artists and much of the music of that era. It's obvious that Cougar has a fondness and a reverence, if you will, for this magical period, and this straight ahead rocker should make those it's dedicated to very proud.

ARCADIA - Goodbye Is Forever (Capitol)

A bit more subdued than "Election Day", but with much of the same appeal. Single re-mix has added a lot to this production.

OPUS - Live Is Life (Polydor)

International smash should translate into a success Stateside. Sing along anthem-like chorus sounds like an irresistible hook to me.

ANNE MURRAY - Now And Forever (You And Me)

(Capitol) Overpowering chorus under the guidance of David Foster gives Anne her best shot at a multi-format hit since "You Needed Me". Written by Foster, Jim Vallance (Bryan Adams' co-writer) and Randy Goodrum, this trio covered all bases in melody and lyric. Z104's Jonathan Little heard it being played and hyped me to how hot it sounded.

NEW EDITION - A Little Bit Of Love (Is All It Takes)

(MCA) Their records have a way of being addictive...you hear a little bit and you gotta have more. There's always been a niche for this type of record on Top 40 and this side fits it nicely.

SHEENA EASTON - Jimmy Mack (EMI America)

Cover of the 1967 hit (February of that year) by Martha & The Vandellas is an excellent choice of material for Sheena. A welcome change of pace, made even stronger by a current revived interest in the awesome "Motown Sound".

RON FELL'S

Personal Picks — ALBUMS

Anne Murray "Something To Talk About (Capitol)

The lead track, NOW AND FOREVER (YOU AND ME) has already created interest in Top 40, A/C and Country Radio. Produced by David Foster, it sounds as though it could have come from the same sessions that led to the creation of his hit instrumental theme for "St. Elmo's Fire". Most of the remaining tracks are produced by Jack White (of Laura Branigan fame). Both producers have taken Anne out of her usual style just enough to win her new listeners without alienating her core. Expect tracks like WHO'S LEAVING WHO and MY LIFE'S A DANCE to compound the LP's obvious success. Fresh producers, and an excellent choice of arrangements and songs pick her up from a stylistic rut which was only playing to her longtime believers.
