INSIDE TOP 40 WITH DAVE SHOLIN

Plenty of new titles hitting chartbound and the chart.

BANGLES early indicators are extremely positive charting 29-23 at 3WD, 29-22 WNKS, 27-20 KUBE, 31-26 KMEL, 28-22 KOZE, 28-22 WIFC, 37-22 WHSB, etc. Last week's Record To Watch, DAN SEALS "Bop" showing a lot more increases around the country... KSTN-Stockton 28-22, 37-19 KIXY-San Angelo, 30-20 WSPT-Stevens Point, 36-28 WBBQ-Augusta, as it nears the 100 report level. Hit Factor for SLY FOX already up to 16%, with some huge jumps including 24-5 for Roger Gaither at WKQB/FM-Charleston, 15-9 for Steve Rivers & Keith Naftaly at KMEL-San Francisco, plus moves of 27-19 WPFM, 26-19 WNFI, 29-23 WROQ, 30-18

WCIL, debut #21 FM102 etc.

Canadian Smash "Rock Me Amadeus" by FALCO number one at CFTR-Toronto, CKOC-Hamilton and CFCN-Calgary...new at KMEL, KHTZ, KIYS, 93Q, KKYS, KAFM, KZZB, B-95, Z104, B-97, WBEN, etc. Heavy, immediate response reported everywhere!

With hotels being booked to capacity and a line-up of speakers and meetings that are guaranteed to expand our horizons, February will be quite a month in the city. The February issue of "Success" magazine features a cover story on Friday afternoon's guest speaker, Dr. Charles Garfield. In the article, Dr. Garfield's profile includes this quote... "Many people these days are discovering that Garfield has much to offer and are learning from him. The 41-year-old California resident receives 25-30 speaking requests a week from academia and the government, as well as from such business organizations as IBM's Hundred Percent Club and the International Financial Consultants Club. Among the nation's highest paid speakers, he regularly commands fees in the five figures." I'm looking forward to hosting our "Superbowl Of Rock Trivia" with prizes now ranging from Compact Disc players, Walkman's, and a grand prize of a trip for two to Hawaii!! Good time to hone up on your oldies books. Another reminder that our new Top 40 deadline is now 11AM PST Wednesday.

A/C ANALYSIS

Some records just establish themselves quicker than others. The STARSHIP and ELTON JOHN were released during the usually dry holiday hiatus. STARSHIP shows an 89% HIT FACTOR and ELTON a fat 87% in less than a month.

HEART is another confirmed hit. Now at 151 reports and a 60% HIT FACTOR, it is only being slowed by their "image" as rockers.

JAMES TAYLOR is MOST ADDED for the second week in a row, but he barely beats the wonderful new SMOKEY ROBINSON single, HOLD ON TO YOUR LOVE. The third MOST ADDED, ANNE MURRAY's NOW AND FOREVER means that the MOST ADDED artists represent more than fifty-five years of popular music.

DAN SEALS' BOP is just about 50% HIT FACTORED with 55 of the 119 stations boppin'.

1985 may have been the most difficult year for country artists crossing over. They are making up for lost time now. Besides the DAN SEALS, this week's RECORD TO WATCH, CRYSTAL & GARY's MAKIN' UP FOR LOST TIME has an A/C HIT FACTOR of 49% from 51 believers.

The latest STING record, RUSSIANS, may be the most thought-provoking record at A/C radio. Some programmers hear it as a song of unquestionable morality. A few hear it as peacenik sabre-rattling. It's in the spirit of JOHN LENNON's IMAGINE, but this one just names names.

RECOMMENDED FOR A/C RADIO

LAURA BRANIGAN - "I Found Someone" (Atlantic) Possibly the strongest song from her "Hold Me" LP. Laura is in full voice and the song is loaded with hooks. Best new record of the week!

BILLY JOE ROYAL - "Burned Like A Rocker" (Atlantic America) Twenty years ago his DOWN IN THE BOONDOCKS and I KNEW YOU WHEN were staples for pop radio. This latest song got its start in country radio but deserves pop consideration.

LEVEL 42 - "Something About You" (Polydor) Britain's answer to Kool & The Gang, these guys may sneak up on A/C's. But all it takes is one listen. The arrangement is plucky, but not souled out. Cool harmony and a moderate tempo should please those who listen. ROSANNE CASH - "Hold On" (Columbia) She continues to prove how close the cutting edge of country is to the middle of A/C radio.

JAMES TAYLOR

THE GAVIN INTERVIEW TOGETHER AGAIN

by Ron Fell & Diane Rufer

Forty-six months without a record, James Taylor had to get a record out. A divorce from singer Carly Simon and an ill-timed bout with laryngitis slowed down his attempt to record and release the current project, That's Why I'm Here.

His dependency on drugs and his brief past experiences as a self-committed mental patient seem to be all behind him now. His life is more clearly in focus and more purposeful than at anytime in memory. Taylor's confessional lyrics and laid-back presentation had been sorely missed on the radio. But he's back and together again.

RF: Where have you been the last four years?

JT: Well, touring and writing. We went into the studio a couple of years ago for the first time down in Montserrat in the British West Indies, but it didn't go well. I had bad laryngitis when I went down and that was a half-hearted attempt at starting this thing. We did use a couple of tracks from down there. We used "Turn Away" and "Everyday." It just took a long time for me to get back in the studio, but in the meantime, I had been doing a lot of touring and writing and my own personal life was pretty demanding. So, I've been around, but I just haven't had an album out for awhile.

RF: How did it feel not having product out there?

JT: It felt like it was a little bit too long. It was long overdue. It felt good to get something out I was riding my bicycle in New York one day, and perfect strangers on the street would say, "Where's the new album?" So I knew it was overdue. Riding my bicycle down 77th Street in Manhattan, I think it was, and I heard this voice ring out from overhead, "Where's the new album, James?" That pretty much summed it up. Finally, when we did get it in it felt like the right time. It really went quite quickly.

RF: You come from a very musical family. When did music become a part of your life? When did you first discover music?

JT: It is hard to say exactly when I really picked it up. My mother and father bought me a guitar for Christmas when I was twelve years old and I was just fascinated with it. It sort of assumed a life of its own. It really absorbed me. I just had to play. My mother had aspirations of being a professional singer. My father was in medicine and there was no real strong basis for me to go into it. We would listen to a lot of music at home. There were piano lessons, violin lessons, cello lessons and various instruments that my mother mostly encouraged us to get into.

RF: It's unusual to have three siblings in the same family pursuing solo careers and actually recording product. Did you all go about this separately?

JT: Well, my brother Alex and I worked together in a band for awhile. My sister Kate and I made an album together. My brother Livingston and I used to play a lot of music together, but not very much professionally. There has always been a loose connection.

RF: I would imagine one of the most constant musical companions for you is "Kootch" (Danny Kortchmar). You guys met as teenagers?

JT: Yes, that's right I think "Kootch" and I were thirteen or fourteen.

RF: And your first professional collaboration, if you really go back, is a band we all have forgotten now called The Flying Machine.

JT: Well, it was in the mid-60s in New York. We were playing clubs there and it was mostly our own compositions. I wrote most of the original stuff the band did.

RF: How did you end up on Apple Records? If I'm not mistaken, you were the first non-Beatle to sign a recording contract with the Beatles' record company. How did that all come about?

JT: After The Flying Machine broke up, I just sort of kicked around for awhile. I came out west and thumbed around for awhile, just was hanging out. I didn't know what to do, so I decided to travel. I took a guitar and went to England and stayed with a couple of friends there and had intended to just play wherever I could in the streets or clubs. My friends were encouraging and convinced me that it would be a good idea to try and record an album. So I made a demo tape in London and took it around to a lot of people.

I had no luck for awhile until I got in touch with "Kootch." Before he had been in a band with me, he was with a group called the Kingbees, and the Kingbees had worked with Peter and Gordon. So he told me that Peter Asher was then working with Apple Records, and I should give them a call and take my tape over. So I thanked him, hung up and did that. Peter liked the stuff and played it for McCartney, as I understand it, who gave him the go-ahead and they signed me to the label. It was really sort of out of the blue. I had been working at it for a long time, but when it happened it really seemed like a miraculous thing.

RF: If I'm not mistaken, George and Paul had little cameo appearances on the album.

JT: That's right.

RF: And the song I guess that survives more than any from those sessions was "Carolina In My Mind." Is that still part of your stage show?

JT: Often.

RF: Where did your appearances in the movie "Two Lane Blacktop" take place?

JT: I think it was, to the best of my memory, after Sweet Baby James. The summer after it.

RF: Does that movie still crop up on the late night TV show or anything?

JT: I've never seen it.

"It's got a murderous component to it, so it took a while for me to get it on an album."

RF: You've never seen the movie?

JT: No, I've never seen it, ever. At that time, I had mixed feelings about doing it. It was a lot of work and it was tough. The way Monty Hellman directed, he didn't really include me. So for a while I had an attitude about it. I don't anymore, I'd be curious to see it someday, but I'm always a little bit uncomfortable about listening to and watching my own work. I don't play my records ever, and when we video tape concerts, I'll turn my television off if my video comes on. It just makes me feel uncomfortable.

RF: How do you feel about videos in general and videos involving James Taylor specifically?

JT: Some videos are good and it's nice to have that opportunity. People who know how to use it really do great things and it really expands what they're doing with their music. Some of it is lousy. It's hard to know if videos are programming or advertising. As far as my own feelings about them are concerned, I really haven't had the inspiration to do anything extraordinary in as much as videos are sort of promotionally required these days. I just think it's better to err on the side of being boring, than to err on the side of being foolish.

RF: The song that really put you on the map was "Fire and Rain." How much of that was personal?

JT: Well, it is a personal sort of self-preferred kind of a thing. It probably identified me as this sensitive singer/songwriter and that's not entirely accurate, of course, but that's the way things turn out sometimes. It was a big hit and a lot of people heard it and liked it a lot. I'm very fond of the song and like to do it.

RF: It seems to deal with a personal conflict. You did have an experience where you committed yourself for a period of time to an institution. Whatever purpose I don't think has ever been made clear.

JT: I'm not quite sure myself. The verses are three sort of different fixes of self-expression or something like that. It is a very intimate and personal self-preferred kind of thing and sometimes the face that I write that way makes me feel a little uncomfortable. Perhaps it's a little uncool or confessional, just a little bit too exposed. That fact is that's where I write from. That's not necessarily what I'm like, but that's where I write from.

RF: You tend to be a confessional, rather than an observatory, writer. But you've had a tremendous amount of success in doing remakes or covers. You actually did "You've Got a Friend" before Carole King released her version.

JT: Yes, that's true. Carole and I were working together at the time and I heard the song and loved it immediately. She said, "Go ahead and record it," which was an immensely generous thing to do. Of course, at the time she had so much wonderful material I suppose she felt free to do that. But it was quite selfless and a wonderful thing.

:RF Carole was a back-up singer with some of your earlier tours?

JT: She played piano and sang with me some and I played guitar for her and sang with her a little bit, too. As time went on, it that it was two other members of Holly's band, Norm Petty and Charles Hardin who wrote the song.

JT: Charles Hardin is Buddy Holly. It's a pseudonym that he wrote under for awhile and Norm Petty was as much a manager as anything else.

RF: It was never a single?

JT: No, it wasn't, but it was on the B side of "Peggy Sue." It was on the single but it wasn't the A side.

RF: You've said that as you get older your writing gets harder and I noticed on this album you used a lot of other writers. It seems that you've contributed less from a writing standpoint on this album. Was there a particular reason for that?

JT: No. It's just a combination of wanting to do the other songs and not having as many things that I felt good about. The fact is right now I have leftover from writing the last album, about fifteen songs. The decision wasn't so much born from being able to come up with enough songs, but really what we decided was what sounded the best. We cut about nineteen things, to be honest.

be as together as you've ever been. You seem to have a new outlook on life.

JT: Well, that's nice. And it's true. I do feel very good. I feel very positive and I feel encouraged. I have a new album out, and will be touring. My life is my own a little bit. All that positive press seems a little Pollyanna-ish to me. There is always the element of doing celebrity press and there is always the danger that there's not that much to talk about. You sort of have to invent an angle of approach or some sort of presentation for someone who's talking about stuff which is actually better said on the record. I don't feel as though I'm in anyway like "born again," or reborn. I've read about going through some painful process that would suggest that I'm an athlete, some kind of super-father, just totally clean and upstanding. It sounds like Hitler Youth to me, and I think it's probably overdone.

RF: There are many of us out there that missed you during those four years. I hope it doesn't take four years to get the next LP out.

"... that would suggest that I'm an athlete, some kind of super-father, just totally clean and upstanding. It sounds like Hitler Youth to me, and I think it's probably overdone."

was a very sort of symbiotic kind of thing.
RF: I think it's interesting too, that Carole King really blazed some trails for female songwriters and now today women are in the forefront of contemporary music and Carole's not performing. Do you have any contact with her?

JT: The last time I spoke to her was about a month ago, I wrote her a letter a couple of weeks ago. But, yeah, I'm in contact with her. She's still writing. She's unstoppable.

RF: She was so far ahead of her time in many respects. Ellie Greenwich and a couple of others were cranking out songs that were successful, but hard to beat Tapestry. On the subject of covers or remakes, were there any that brought you particular satisfaction?

JT: Yeah, I think "Up On The Roof" was that way to me.

RF: And that's another Carole King song.

JT: Yes, it is. Carole King and Gerry Goffin. Also, the Buddy Holly tune "Everyday," which I just cut, I've liked it for a long time.

RF: A lot of people refer to that as a Buddy Holly song, and it was on his album, but a lot of people may not realize

RF: Tell us a little bit about "Mona," the heart-rendering song on the album.

JT: "Mona" has been around for awhile. She was a pet pig of mine that I got for my 21st birthday. She lived to be about seven years old and then died of rat poisoning. The song was around for awhile. It's sort of an unusual song. It starts off sounding very sentimental, sort of an emotional, nostalgic tune and then turns. It's got a murderous component, so it took awhile for me to get it on an album, but I was encouraged by friends of mine who knew me during that time and who remembered the pig and all the adventures we went through around her.

RF: You must have loved her?

JT: Yes, in my way I did.

RF: You deal with the song "Fire And Rain" in the title track of the new album, That's Why I'm Here. Did you come to any particular realization that it's because of "Fire And Rain," the song, that you are here?

JT: No, I think what that means is—that I'm there just to sing. I'm there to play whatever they want me to.

RF: You seem to be in a real good space. All the stories I've read about you and in the interview today you seem to JT: I actually intend to try to go back into the studio about this time next year, if I can get the stuff written in time. It's just that finally having an album out, we're extremely busy. I'm going to Australia and then I'll do some work in the States, followed by a European tour and then a large summer tour again in the U.S. So it's going to be next fall before I get a chance to sit back and do some writing.

RF: Some artists I've talked to have said that they are keenly interested in the progress of their records after they leave the studio and are avidly interested in how well their records are succeeding at the radio level, and some artists say, "As soon as I finish one album, I move on to the next." How would you fit into that?

JT: Probably somewhere in between. Basically, I'm an opportunist as it's moving up. I like to hear about it and when it takes a fall or slows down or takes a drop or something, it's a disappointment. Then I don't want to hear about it, I say I don't listen to my albums. ■

the GAVIN REPORT

DAY BY DAY IN THE U.S.A.

Recently Chuck Thagard, former top record business guy and currently major video sales exec, sent us a provocative piece from The Chicago Tribune. The article consisted of statistics which make one realize just how big this country of ours is. Many of these legitimate numbers are astonishing to us and we thought you'd be interested in a selected few of them.

Consider the fact that each and every day in this country the following occurs:

8400 Americans celebrate their 40th birthday.

28 million six-packs of beer are consumed.

4100 Americans suffer a heart attack. 50,000 new TV sets are purchased.

$200,000 is spent on roller skates.

Barbie dolls are sold at the rate of 38,000 a day.

$125.00 is spent on merchandise associated with Elvis.

86 million packs of cigarettes are smoked. Americans collectively give up 18,000 years of living for every day they smoke.

McDonald's serves the equivalent of 2250 head of cattle.

200 Americans have their breasts enlarged.

30 Americans celebrate their 100th birthday. 5500 (their kids?) turn 65.

325 pounds of cocaine is snorted daily, with 5000 people trying the drug for the first time.

Each day the population of Detroit drops by 79 people.

85,000 pounds of grass is smoked.

2300 illegal aliens are expelled.

Dogs and cats give birth to 70,000 new dogs and cats.

Americans cook 247,000 pounds of fish sticks.

800 million telephone calls are made ... that's more than 15 centuries of one minute calls.

1.2 million gallons of hard liquor is consumed ... enough to get 26 million people thoroughly stewed.

75 acres of pizza is eaten.

5,500 Americans die each day. Lying side by side in a field of daisies, they'd take up an acre. Standing in line at The Pearly Gates, they'd stretch for a mile and a half.

When I read the above weird figures to my wife Rosemary this morning, she listened attentively and then commented, "You know, Tone-Man, that's an amazing bunch of boring, yet fascinating, stats ... I'm glad you read it to me because that stuff encompasses just about EVERYTHING anyone would want to know about what crazy stuff Americans buy, do and spend each day." "Wrong, research-breath," I told her. "Much pertinent material about our world of records and radio was inadvertently omitted."

I shared these other incredible (and verifiable) facts with her, and in the interest of public service, pass them on to both of you readers:

Each day, in the record and radio industries, the following occurs:

Record executives Danny Davis, Bruce Bird and Steve Popovich collectively consume six million large boxes of Milk Duds.

The chin of N.Y. radio big-shot Scott Shannon extends by one tenth of an inch.

Six local L.A. promo people phone Ed Scarborough of KKHR and tell him that their job depends on an add.

Gary Owens, legendary personality currently on KKGQ in L.A., uses the word FOONMAN 64 times.

Six ROUGH CUTT LPs are sold, all to Dave Kamper of KKXX in Bakersfield.

12 Top Forty PDs will be fired, 10 of whom ran a station where AM Drive was called The Zoo. Three will surface as promo men; the other nine will become consultants. Only four of those will sign a client within a month.

Three female Americans named Osmond will give birth.

One male American will do the same.

MTV will show the Dionne and Friends video sixteen times, for a total of 112 weekly airings.

One pop artist (usually Laura Brannigan or Sade) will appear on The Tonight Show, not getting to join David Brenner and/or Suzanne Pleshette on the panel after their performance.

Three photos of bikini contests in fifthindary markets will appear in R&R.

One photo of a bikini contest in a fifthindary market will appear in The Gavin Report.

Kenny Rogers will hold four press conferences about charity stuff. All will involve Ken Kragen.

"Bend Me, Shape Me," by The American Breed will be heard on L.A. oldie station KRLA 14 times.

A&M's Steve Resnik will make 11 calls to Tony Richland in an attempt to secure Richland's copy of Billy Stewart's "I Do Love You," so that Resnik can complete his collection of EVERY RECORD EVER MADE!

Send YOUR stats to me care of Ron Fell at The Gavin Report. He'll be happy to forward them to my room at the San Francisco YMCA, where I'm preregistered early for the upcoming Seminar for Medium Professionals. ■

FINE YOUNG CANNIBALS

LLOYD COLE

"Rise"—PIL (Elektra)

Anger indeed is an energy. PIL butts heads with a more mainstream way of presenting itself. "Rise" (already leaking into the US as an import on WLIR and KROQ) is a uniquely refurbished direction, a lot like a tubful of drunken rock n roll sailors singing rub-a-dub-dub. Then MR. JOHNNY ROTTEN sails into a thoroughly confused, uncertain rap. It's all truly magic. The rest of the LP (reviewed when I see the cover) is a wonder, with a hot guitarist named STEVE VIE (now with DAVID LEE ROTH) and drums by GINGER BAKER or TONY WILLIAMS. That's speculation. Just who plays what will be a secret until JOHNNY himself calls the GAVIN to let us know. You, dear reader, will be the next to know. Produced by BILL LASWELL. Yahoo!

"I Still Believe"—The Call (Elektra)

Just the very song I needed to hear this week. On record and in performance, THE CALL have maintained a tension and intensity. Singer MICHAEL BEEN has a stance and distance similar to VAN THE MAN. Though musically dissimilar, both operate on the same general doubting wavelength. But this is a song about strong determination and it sure rubbed off in the bunker. Carry on!

NEW Releases

"Tantalized"—The Church (W.B.)

One of the more memorable club shows I've seen was THE CHURCH. Unlike their fine LPs, the first part of their live set was almost a drone, with each song accelerating into a final frenzy. I'd put this song somewhere in the middle of the set. THE CHURCH are one of Australia's very best bands, right up there with the OILS and INXS.

"The Knife Feels Like Justice"—Brian Setzer (EMI)

And the excellent songs keep right on comin'. Just on the basis of this one track, BRIAN SETZER puts the STRAY CATS behind him. Once the identity clicks via video and the audience connection is made, things should fly fast. Even if the connection isn't immediately made, good Lord, the song stands on it's own. I love the pacing and the build-up. I love this track!!

"Tuff Enuff"—Fabulous Thunderbirds (CBS)

See hear, the A/A bunker is T. BIRD territory. The guys that crawl together bawl the blues together, that's our motto. The very last time I saw the T.BIRDS (two months ago) was the very best time. New bassist, PRESTON HUBBARD is fully assimilated. JIMMIE VAUGHAN is playing razor sharp and KIM WILSON is singing like CHUCK WILLIS. The thought of JIMMIE and STEVIE RAY on the same major label is rock justice. I'd like to see the FAB T. BIRDS crawl (real slow) Top Ten as well.

"A Good Heart"—Feargal Sharkey (A & M)

They may be twelve inches, but if I heard all the above songs come to life on the radio, all in a row, I swear, I'd make a hard left turn on the Golden Gate and end up smiling at the fishes in San Francisco Bay. FEARGAL SHARKEY sang with the Irish band THE UNDERTONES. This track is produced by EURYTHMIC DAVE STEWART. The song was written by LONE JUSTICE's MARIA McKEE. A more unlikely winning combination, you'll be hard pressed to find. Huge UK hit goes for US.

Confrontation—Face To Face (Epic)

FACE TO FACE combine a tough mix of sharp quintet rock n roll with splotches of occasional horn funk (produced by hip hop king, ARTHUR BAKER). However it's mainly the five piece rock sound with distinct guitar rhythms and textures that will draw the most light on the subject of FACE TO FACE. The music pretty much epitomizes their unusual name. A song like "Why Do I Say" brings up the most tender connotations while the majority of the album portrays the more severe, tense meaning of that phrase. TELL ME WHY/WHY DO I SAY.

Jimmy Barnes (Geffen)

A rock singer in the tradition of a SAMMY HAGAR without the pomp and flag-waving humor. "Working Class Man" (produced by JOURNEY's JONATHAN CAIN) pretty much sets the tone. Like BOB SEGER, BARNES keeps his characters and intentions simple and clean. I like it best when his voice stays under control, but things do get rambunctious, so watch out. WORKING CLASS MAN/ NO SECOND PRIZE.

ATCO REVEALS AOR's WINNING FOUR-MAT!

Wake your listeners up to the familiar sound of STEVIE NICKS. Her platinum album "Rock A Little" (90479) has given AOR radio two top ten tracks with more to follow. Includes the current smash, "I Can't Wait."

On Modern Cassettes and Records.

With your audience wide awake and going about their daily business, give them something new. Try a track from the JOHN MILES BAND album "Transition." (90476). We suggest the powerful "Blinded."

On Valentino Cassettes and Records.

Wind up the day with one of AOR's premiere artists, PETE TOWNSHEND. With the monstrously successful "White City" (90473) album, you can hardly go wrong. This one's been on top since its release and features "Give Blood" and "Hiding Out."

On Atco Cassettes and Records.

Night time means rock and roll. We suggest the latest from guitar virtuoso GARY MOORE, "Run For Cover." (90482) Gary's following has been building steadily and a track like "Out In The Fields" should break him wide open!

On Mirage Cassettes and Records.

MY 2¢

As JAMES BROWN once said, "People, it's bad!". When I say bad, I mean good, as in street language...well, never mind. Here at the GAVIN, it's busier than the NY Stock Exchange. Since GAVIN SEMINAR fever has set in, the phones haven't been given a rest, not even late Wednesdays or Mondays. So to all of you who brave the busy signals to get through, we salute you. A great week for new tunes. And most of them are just tunes, waiting for the LPs. I'm head over heels in love with the PIL single, which just entered the UK charts at #37. Also the BRIAN SETZER got a jillion plays...Two issues from now, you'll be reading a surprise interview with one of rock n roll's greatest minds. It was a pleasure talking to him...Some changes in and out of radioland. JOE DENTON has left KLOL in HOUSTON. RICK LAMBERT moves up to PD while DAYNA STEELE takes on the MD responsibilities. If I misspelled MS. STEELE's name, at least I'm a ROCKPLACE FILES fan...LARRY BRUCE leaves KGB/FM to take over at KMET as PD. The DIVINYLS are juggling in-between cuts. TOP 40's are still getting the hang of "Pleasure And Pain" while ALBUM RADIO is on "In My Life" so out

It only took the BANGLES three weeks to top the Alternative chart and the contest wasn't even close. Their journey to the top makes "Different Light" their second number one album in Gavin.

The BANGLES duration at #1 may not last as long as their previous six weeks. LLOYD COLE & COMMOTIONS are coming on extremely strong and will likely threaten within a few weeks.

CERTIFIED week and giant leap to #13. College radio is leading the way with this album. The number of new releases is picking up rapidly, with our MOST ADDED category expanding to five. Many other records received a substantial number of adds, but were squeezed out by the competition, including; THE EXPLODING WHITE MICE, JESUS & MARY CHAIN, PANDORAS, and MIDGE URE.

Please take note that effective this week our NEW DEADLINE for reports is Wednesday @ 1PM PST.

SPOTLIGHT LP

Pleasure/Bye Bye Jim/Blue Letter/Impossible Years-DANCING HOODS (Relativity) The year has barely started and 1986 has already brought us a string of well produced records by newly developing bands. Add the Dancing Hoods to your list of bands to watch. "12 Jealous Roses" contains many well written songs making it difficult to choose the best tracks. This Long Island band wrote over 50 songs before finally distilling the final 11 for this LP. The band combines their rawness and power in a mature manner, while consistently cutting an edge. Every song was recorded on the first take. The Dancing Hoods execution is tight, displaying their dexterity throughout. There's also some mean guitar licks (e.g. "Bye Bye Jim" or "Pleasure"), but they're succinct, to the point, lean, and mean. Call Nick Cucci in N.Y. @ 718-995-8277 or Pat Cooney in L.A. @ 213-643-9783.

COUNTRY SUMMARY

IMPORTANT NOTE: Due to printer deadline, the Country reporting deadline has been moved up to 12PM PST on Wednesdays. The earlier you call in the week, the better the chance of avoiding busy phone lines. Thanks for your co-operation!!

Radio is always quick to show its dedication and concern during a national tragedy, and this week was no exception. Radio staff personnel all over the country worked at maximum capacity after Tuesday's Space Shuttle Disaster. MARK WILLIAMS at WCII-Louisville tells us that they're co-ordinating an effort to get all radio stations to ask their listeners to drive with their lights on Friday, January 31st, in a salute to the Shuttle Astronauts. KEVIN O'NEILL, WRNS-Greenville told us that his station is giving out white ribbons to their listeners to display around town in another salute to the astronauts.

On a lighter note, JIM PRUETT at WAAX-Gadsden is running a clever promotion in conjunction with the RANDY TRAVIS single. If the listener answers a trivia question about the year 1982, they win two singles - the TRAVIS single and a single hamburger at Wendy's.

JARRETT DAY, P.D. at KSO-Des Moines, checked in to the hospital this week for some minor surgery. M.D. BILLY COLE tells us that Jarrett will be convalescing for approximately six weeks. Get well cards and letters can be sent to Jarrett c/o the station.

If you're planning to attend the Country Seminar XVII March 6-9 at the Opryland Hotel in Nashville, you only have two more weeks to save money on pre-registration. The cut-off date is February 14th. For more info, call 615-327-4488.

GAVIN SEMINAR UPDATE:

VIETNAM MEMORIAL IN PHILLY

Z106-Philadelphia, along with the Philadelphia Vietnam Veterans Memorial Association, is spearheading a massive city-wide campaign to build a Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Philadelphia. The goal is to have the memorial constructed at the already designated site by Memorial Day 1986. The impetus for this campaign began when Z106's G.M. Bill Phippen realized that Philadelphia, the nation's first capitol, did not have an established memorial for all those who served their country during the Vietnam War, while other cities such as Washington and New York did. Over the past few months, much of the radio station's efforts have been devoted to organizing the campaign in the hopes of generating interest and funds to get the ball rolling. Volunteer veterans are soliciting canister donations on street corners and distributing informative pamphlets about the cause. A series of fund-raising events are planned at local malls, many of which will be hosted by Z106 personalities.

68 SECONDS TO GRAB ▲

CFTR-Toronto and CBS Records recently joined forces to launch a new mall in Toronto. Three contestants had 68 seconds to grab as many tapes as a local store's shopping bag could hold. The winner took home 46, with the runners-up each receiving 15.

IN OVER HIS HEAD

Chuck McGee, P.D. and morning man at WAZU/FM-Springfield, Ohio, got in over his head, literally, to raise food for the needy in the Dayton area. As part of the city's "Holiday Aid" program, Chuck climbed atop the station's 80-foot billboard, refusing to come down until a ground crew of station staffers had collected 1,029 pounds of canned food (WAZU's dial position is 102.9). After a to celebrate Halloween '85, and a remote broadcast from a hot air balloon.

KYUU HELPS THE HUNGRY

KYUU-San Francisco launched a major campaign aimed at helping the hungry people of the Bay Area. KYUU's promotion, news, and public affairs departments teamed up to help increase listener awareness of the plight of the hungry. Since February of 1984, KYUU has been making random phone calls all around the Bay Area asking people to name their favorite radio station. Answers of KYUU paid off with $1,000. For the entire month of December, every time KYUU had a $1,000 winner, the station donated an additional $100 to organizations which feed the hungry. KYUU also devoted all of its public service announcements to those organizations for the week of December 9th.

CONCERN, CONTINUED

Last week we started with a thoughtful letter received from Jean Wilson, R.J. Promotions, of Menasha, Wisconsin, in which Jean expressed concern over points raised in my October 11 column. That column contained a letter from KYOU, Greeley, Colorado, detailing how their new "progressive country" format had improved their ratings and billings over the more conventional country format the station had had, but that though new artists were sought, record service was poor and trade listings were spotty.

Continuing with Jean's letter: KYOU feels that in some cases they may not get fair trade listings of their adds or chartings because many artists they play are not well known. "Where on earth is it written how an artist becomes known? . . . Nothing infuriates me more than to have the very media that could make the difference in becoming 'media-known' insinuate that being 'unknown' means that the artist doesn't stand a chance!!! It is as though you think that all recording artists be 'known'. It seems to me that if an artist can afford to record, press, release, and follow-up with phone calls to the DJ's, and any of those DJ's choose to add that record to their playlist and report it, then it deserves to be reported. Do you have any idea how many stations wait to see who else adds, before they will? . . . Many times, I get the impression they don't know a good record from a bad record without the name of the label and the artist. . .

"What it all boils down to is that we need leaders--stations that will add and report before it lists--or should I say, so it has a chance to list. And when an artist starts getting those reports and has a chance to get more stations willing to jump on the bandwagon, that artist needs each and every report to show up in print!"

Of course, the symbiotic relationship between the radio and the record industry finds complexities on each side that the other side doesn't always appreciate. Radio needs the record industry and its output to maintain music formats, and the record industry benefits by selling music heard on the radio. But while the record industry is primarily interested in selling records and tapes, and is less interested in accommodating radio in ways that will not show up on their own bottom line, radio uses music as an audience attractant so that the station can sell advertising and generate results for advertisers. What music is chosen and what isn't, and when it's added and dropped, may require a strategy by radio stations that the record companies find less than ideal. Nonetheless, a station that showcases its music excitingly will attract larger audiences and generate better response for advertisers, and interesting new songs and artists are undeniably an important way a station can keep itself exciting. Too many stations "play it safe" and get boring. A bored audience is less likely to respond to the advertising. . . so although this letter is written from the music business viewpoint, it certainly is not irrelevant to radio.

And as a radio programmer, I have a complementary peeve of my own--and it's hardly a new one. I've seen it since at least the 1960's. Major record companies decide in advance which of their releases they are going to work, and which will be allowed to fall by the wayside despite their obligation to release them by contract with the artist and others. What this means is that when a radio station finds an exciting hit record that a major company did not plan on being a hit, as odd as it sounds they often will not move on it, change the game plan, and work it to make money on it. I recall two records from my own experience 15 years ago at KMBY in Monterey, California, that were so huge in our market that Bill Gavin featured them both on page 1, but the record companies still refused to make stock available, or reservice and work the records: "Big Bird" by Eddie Floyd (Booker T. Jones' arrangement was one of the most remarkable in music business history--and much later the record company did have the decency to include the song on a "greatest hits" LP) and the eccentric but phenomenal "Pollution" by Tom Lehrer. Page one in Gavin! And no further effort by the record company. Although a station undeniably benefits by being the only place one can hear a hit record, music is an art form, and one hates to see a work of art that finds popular acceptance indifferently trashed by the company that issued it.

Jean concludes by commenting on a matter that has had much trade (and even public) attention lately--the alleged stagnation of country music: "From all the dismal articles, I'd say it's time to recognize that the current system is flawed, and it's time to take a hard look at what steps can be taken to patch it. The pure and simple truth is that until unknowns on small labels get equal opportunity for exposure, the public will continue to lose interest. It is a situation that the recording industry and artists have created for themselves by their greed. You can't fool the buying public very long before those buyers quit buying and caring. Albums with one or two good songs and the rest substandard are not the way to maintain your credibility. I think it's obvious that 'playing it safe' with a playlist full of today's media-recognized stars is not the answer. The public is telling all of us--the major labels, the media, and the 'knowns'--that the system established for 'playing it safe' isn't acceptable, as evidenced by lack of sales and sell-outs. And for the MD's who don't have sense enough to know when a Willie or a Dolly has 'laid an egg' on them, I suggest blinders prior to opening the mail (judging a record by how it sounds, rather than by the names on the label). It is said that when one of your senses leaves, the others get sharper."

Thanks to Jean Wilson for a provocative letter. Not only is this column intended as a forum for stimulating exchanges, but so is THE GAVIN SEMINAR next month. I'll be there and I hope to meet and talk with you! More mail next week. ■

URBAN CONTEMPORARY SUMMARY

If it could have been a tie for first place, MELI'SA MORGAN and SADE would have had one. SADE just eeked past in points and MELI'SA has it next week unless something unforeseen happens. MELI'SA is also starting to take the giant step into Top 40, where SADE has been comfortably situated for months. YARBOROUGH & PEOPLES certainly took the bull by the horns and decided to go for it and succeeded... headed for top ten. Both of our last week's "Certified" picks go top twenty now and will be fighting for the number one spot, which is interesting, because both are under the influence of Jimmy Jam and Terry Lewis of Flyte Tyme Productions. Just another in a long line of coincidences...both were Most Added the week of 1/17, both were Certified the week of 1/24. Certified this week go to well-deserving artists, ROY AYERS for "Hot" and ISLEY/JASPER/ISLEY for "Insatiable Woman". (I've liked that title since the first time I heard it, and no, I haven't seen the movie!) Close behind follows EUGENE WILDE's "Diana", which is taking off, while the older one is still getting pop airplay. Looking at newer things, NEW EDITION is most added for the second week in a row, which seldom happens, but watch out for the other one: just-released JERMAINE JACKSON's "I Think It's Love". Stations coming in this week on JERMAINE were WDKX-Rochester, WHUR-Washington, WUSL/FM-Philadelphia, WANM-Tallahassee, WQKI-St.

Matthews, HOT105-Miami, K-97-Memphis, WBUS-Atlanta, WDMT-Cleveland, WGIV-Charlotte, WJAX-Jacksonville, WJIZ-Albany, WCIN-Cincinnati, WTLC-Indianapolis, WBMX/FM-Chicago, WLUM-Milwaukee, KDLZ & KKDA-Dallas, KMJQ-Houston, KDAY & KGfJ-Los Angeles, and XHRM-San Diego.

Seminar Update: Wait 'til you see the great line-up on pages 21 & 22 of our speakers. The latest issue of "Success" magazine ran a front-page story on Dr. Charles Garfield and how many speaking engagements he has to turn down each week! And, great prizes for the contest at the end of the events, including Compact Disc Players, Walkman's, and trip for two to Hawaii! See You There!

the GAVIN REPORT

DAVE SHOLIN'S
Personal Picks — SINGLES

A Day of Infamy

FALCO - Rock Me Amadeus (A&M)

Certainly one of the most unusual records you'll receive this year. Easy to detect a bit of Queen influence a la "We Will Rock You". B94's Nick Bazoo was first to call my attention to this track, reporting that requests began pouring in after one play. One of those that's important to play before it's burned.

BILLY JOE ROYAL - Burned Like A Rocket (Atlantic America)

Originally serviced Country, this is a song I fell in love with months ago and liked it that much more after hearing it on the air. Hard to imagine anyone considering this for Country radio only. This is a song that oversteps boundaries and can only be labeled as a super piece of music.

FEARGAL SHARKEY - A Good Heart (A&M)

Former member of The Undertones comes up with the week's biggest surprise! Written by Lone Justice's Maria McKee and produced by The Eurythmics' Dave Stewart, this one's got everything needed to recommend it for Pop and A/C playlists.

PAT BENATAR - Le Bel Age (The Best Year)(Chrysalis)

Oozing with high tech sophistication, here's rock for the masses, young and old. Audiences and radio shouldn't have any problems with pronunciations, as Pat sings it clearly..."Lah bell awg"...

THE OUTFIELD - Your Love (Columbia)

Their last release "Say It Isn't So" got some favorable response in a few markets, but there's a lot more Top 40/mass appeal in this effort. Album Radio is reporting heavy positive activity as it jumps up that chart.

In the 40's, the American tragedy was the attack on Pearl Harbor. In the 60's it was the assassination of a president, his brother and a King. Sudden, unconscionable acts which stand as days of infamy - anger and revenge the dominant emotions. The 80's have now witnessed its own moment of instant sorrow. The casualties are of equally heroic proportion but haven't died as victims of ideology.

Seven Americans with faith and courage died this past week in a catastrophic explosion aboard the space shuttle Challenger as it headed into anticipated orbit around our world. Death must have come quickly. The pain lasts longer and cuts deeper into the hearts of those who loved them.

We had begun to take the launchings for granted. It was all NASA could do to maintain our interest. A doctor, a congressman, a teacher in outer space. The space program was not just for aerobic human specimens of military mind and discipline. We had almost forgotten the risk calculated against the gains projected.

We had pointed skyward with national pride, admiring the courage of the space soldier and wondered how the collective intelligence of inquiring man could consistently exceed the wildest dreams of practical futurists from previous decades.

It's in the risk - the risk some take. Life without risk is not life. Life without risk is not knowing the joy of discovery, the sense of accomplishment, the thrill of victory, or just playing the game.

The seven courageous Americans who risked their lives in the quest for knowledge had faith - faith in their team of support, faith in the craftsmanship of space technology, faith in something bigger than man. After all, our potential is only limited by the size of our dreams and whether we believe in ourselves.

Few of us risk our lives as did the astronauts. Few of us challenge the horizon. Few of us ask "What if?" The astronaut is at best a vicarious surrogate for those who risk less, but none-the-less reap the benefits of the inquiring mind and the investment in venture capitalism.

Aptly named, the Challenger symbolized a calculated optimism of human spirit. Not yet victorious, a challenger risks failure because the dream to succeed has become the conquering attitude. We, mere mortals, have finite time and resources. And when tragedies such as the one this past week occur we will naturally tend to think of our own risks and how they relate to our own blanket of security.

Nothing ventured - nothing gained. No guts - no glory. No pain - no gain. Life is a waste if the time and resources available can't or won't be used to improve the quality of life. In every human being the resource is the human spirit - a natural resource. If we are truly resourceful we can call of the courage within us all to insure the right to dream, the right to learn and the right to create is never challenged.

Ron Fell
