HIT FACTOR

Hit Factor is a percentage of stations playing a record which also have it Top 20.
ie: 100 stations playing the record — 60 stations have it in their Top 20 — Hit Factor = 60%.

INSIDE TOP 40 with DAVE SHOLIN

Not a week goes by when at least one Program or Music Director doesn't phone in a playlist and proclaim, "We're always first on new product." In the 50s and 60s, Top 40 stations reminded listeners which songs they played before the competition with assorted on-air mentions, and even asterisks denoting those "Disc-Coveries" on their printed surveys. As programming became a bit more sophisticated research indicated the majority of the audience wasn't all that concerned about which station played which songs first. It's fine to be the music leader in the market--just as long as you are first with the right records. It helps to evaluate all the titles you're playing on a daily basis. Are they all deserving of your precious air time?

All of you who track statistics may want to tackle this question. When was the last time a new record label's debut release went to number one?

That's just happened with Virgin's CUTTING CREW overtaking FRANKLIN & MICHAEL for the top spot, with number one stats in both airplay and overall chart points.

It looks like KIM WILDE will be hanging around the ol' Top 40 till at least the beginning of summer. HIT FACTOR is up to 10% with Z100 New York moving it up from 14-10...other big jumps at WTIC/FM Hartford 24-15, KNOE Monroe 25-18, WHNY McComb 31-21, KAKS Amarillo 28-17, KS103 14-10, San Diego 14-10, KHIT Seattle 30-20, etc.

No Full Force Needed (except that they wrote it) to get new airplay on LISA LISA AND CULT JAM..50 adds including KWSS, KDON, KIIS, KPKE, Y95, WBTS, KZZP, KLAZ, WSPT, WPHR, WQUT, WYDD, WXKS, WYNZ, etc. HIT FACTOR already 6% and debuts at #28 for Joey Giovingo B97 New Orleans, #29 for Todd Fisher and Carey Edwards KFIV Modesto, #20 for Frank Amadeo Y100 Miami, etc.

Lessons in love

Took a few weeks but LEVEL 42 has now firmly taken hold as they near 200 reports. Debuts in the Top Thirty at KMGZ, WCLG, WLGA, KBLQ, KSTR, OK95, KHSN, KEZY, KZHR. New on G105 Durham/Raleigh, 94Q Atlanta, WBCY Charlotte, KYA Billings, I94 Honolulu, KHTZ Reno, WKT1 Milwaukee.

Top Twenty action on PSYCHEDELIC FURS in a number of markets including WXKS Boston 17-15, KCPX Salt Lake City 8-7 and KFMV 13-9, KMEL San Francisco 9-7 and KITS 5-5, KIIS Los Angeles 13-11, Y100 Miami 23-19, WLRW Champaign 19-13, WPST Trenton 10-7, WILL Willimantic 22-15, etc.

Programmers and listeners can't seem to get their fill of GENESIS as more than half of those reporting this week add it out of the box. Right on Z93, Z95.5, WDBR, 92X, Z103, Z104, KTUF, KBEQ, Q96, KNIN, KIYS, KWIN, KIIS, KZZU, KGOT, Z100, WLS, K104, WFBG, WJKC, Q105, Q104, WKDD, etc. Expect a strong chart debut next week.

You can also expect THE OTHER ONES to convert to CHARTBOUND status next week. 43 adds take them well over 100 reports for the first time..new believers include Tom Cuddy PRO/FM, Bob Case Z93 Atlanta, Rick James WZKX, Mike O'Brien KREO, John Raymond KIXY, Charlie O'Douglas KKRC, Mike Arnett WPFM, etc.

Building a case week by week, FROZEN GHOST now has a HIT FACTOR of 11% heading into the Top Twenty at KXGO, WJXQ, K104, LG73, KOZE, KZZK, etc. New on Y108, WSPT, WQLZ, etc.

Increases for the March 13th Record To Watch are very, very strong..ANITA BAKER heads upward at B97 27-23, WQLK 19-11, WKTI 25-20, KUUB 20-16, KINN 27-23, KMEL 12-10, KSTN 30-26, and adds at KYNO, WHYT, WKNE, WLS, KWES, etc.

After going Top Ten Country and A/C, RESTLESS HEART has begun to make it's Top 40 impression. Randy Kabrich Q105 Tampa and Bobby Rich B100-San Diego take it 26-21, with other Top 30 listings at WPDZ, WBCY, KLBO, KBLQ, KIMN, etc. New at KPKE Denver, Y95 Dallas, KFIV Modesto, WDBR Springfield, KLIK Davenport KC101 New Haven, KKLS Rapid City, etc.

HIT FACTOR of 8% for a record that is on the move..KENNY G is a rarity on Top 40 radio. Not only is it an instrumental, but it's NOT one from a movie. What a week this one had..19-14 at WBBQ Augusta, where Bruce Stevens mentions it is the "#2 LP in town, just behind U2." Also big with Bill St.John at Q104 13-10, Mike Preston KWSS 21-17, Jim Scott KWES 19-14, etc. 22 adds including KUBE, KSLY, KIIS, KKYS, WCIL, BAM99, B97, B106, Z93, KDVV, KJOY etc.

Finally, several stations are playing an import by AL JARREAU..the theme from "Moonlighting." Dave Shakes at KSND Eugene was first to call it to my attention and this week it was also added by WKTI Milwaukee and KFIV Modesto. As far as a U.S. release goes, don't expect that to happen until at least fall, when a Moonlighting soundtrack is set for release. ●

UP IN THE AIR

Lotsa talk, but no action on KMEL-San Francisco PD Lee Michaels' rumored return to Chicago as programmer of Pyramid Broadcasting's new WTKS. Lee did travel to the Windy City on family matters, but denies reports that he met with Pyramid's Sunny Joe White. Lee's now back at work, vowing to "keep rockin' the Bay" at KMEL.

CROSSOVER DREAM TEAM

The ink was hardly dry on last week's Gavin Report before former WZTA-Miami MD Mark Shands had landed a new job crosstown as Assistant PD at WPOW (POWER96). With the help of consultant Jerry Clifton, programmer Bill Tanner is assembling an all-star staff, soon to include ex-Y100 PD Robert Walker, now sitting out a non-compete. Says Shands, "I feel like I've come home!"

MILLER TIME IN ATLANTA

He outraged farmers at KZZC-Kansas City and insulted Mexican-Americans at KS103-San Diego. Now Randy Miller is bring his brand of joy to Julian Bond's home town. Miller is now wakeup man at Z93-Atlanta, while Scout in the Morning arrives from WRNO-New Orleans to take over a.m.s at KS103 with newsperson Shari Ingles from KPSI-Palm Springs. "The show will be more in tune with the station's upbeat, music-intensive sound the rest of the day," says PD Nick Ferrara. "We wanted a man and woman, about the same age, who could relate to each other positively, without insults or putdowns." Radical idea--but will it work?

BROWN BAGS KLOK-FM

KLOK/FM, the Bay Area's perennial A/C bridesmaid, has gone to Brown Broadcasting, owners of KPOP and KGB-San Diego and combos KXOA-Sacramento and KYNO-Fresno. Sellers Phillip Davis and Bill Weaver will get $15 million for the station they bought from ABC three years ago for $8.5 million. Brown's operations manager, Phil Melrose, says the pricetag was reasonable for "an available FM in a very attractive market." He adds that the station's future has been discussed, but no decisions have been reached, noting, "Our first order of business is to find a GM."

VINYL TAPS?

New figures from the Recording Industry Association of America show some dramatic changes in consumer buying habits. Album shipments fell 25 percent, while singles declined 22 percent. Cassettes rose two percent, while CDs grew a whopping 134 percent, up to a total of nearly a billion dollars. According to the RIAA, the number of pre-recorded discs and tapes shipped in 1986 dropped five percent, while the value of the shipments rose six percent.

NFL BACK ON CBS

Two years after being blindsided by NBC in a bidding war for radio rights to NFL football games, CBS is back in the game. Despite an austerity program, Black Rock came up with a winning $17,250,000 offer for a three-year pact. NBC bid $12 million; ABC came up with $11 million; Mutual trailed with $9 million.

LEISURE WORLD

Raw data to munch on:

In 1960, it took the average American worker 29 minutes to earn enough money to buy a six-pack of beer. Today, it only takes 16 minutes.

Jogging is now more popular on the East Coast than the West Coast. West Coast residents now read more books per capita than East Coast residents.

BYLINES IN MOTION

Two changes at the Gavin Report to announce this issue. Of great benefit to our patient reporters as well as our staff, is the addition of Sheila Rene, whose dulcet Texas tones will make calling our office a pleasurable experience. Sheila's background includes interview programs on KSJO and KOME and Sheila Rene's Backstage, syndicated in 12 markets. She currently writes about rock music for the Santa Cruz Sentinel and the Tower Pulse, as well as for the Rock News Weekly which airs on 93Rock-Sacramento and the computerized Rocknet accessed through CompuServe. She is a founding member and current chair of Bay Area Women in Music. Sheila replaces Beth Hartley in the hot seat. Beth was the first and only receptionist in the 29-year history of the Gavin Report, and an integral part of our transition to state-of-the-art telephonics. Beth is returning to college, leaving behind her most recent Station ID in this issue. We'll miss her!...A glance at the top of this column will reveal that Tony Richland will have to come up with a replacement for his oft-uttered query: "Why does it take three people to write Chinwag?" Kent and Keith Zimmerman will continue their invaluable contributions to the column they originated, but week-to-week responsibility will rest with Joe Belden.

LUTHER VANDROSS

Still A Heavyweight

by Ron Fell and Betty Hollars

Luther Vandross has lodged at least one record on the Gavin Year-End Top 100 charts every year since 1981--and another will qualify for 1987. From his earliest days with David Bowie, to his successful collaborations with such legendary divas of popular music as Dionne Warwick, Aretha Franklin and Bette Midler, to his bountiful new album, Luther has built equally successful careers as both producer and performer.

Currently in the middle of his third consecutive hit from the new album, Give Me The Reason, Luther looks back on a childhood fascination with soulful performance and a fascinating career, now at a peak in performance.

GAVIN: Who were your earliest influences in music?

VANDROSS: The first records I bought were by the Shirelles. Even to this day, some of my favorite records are by them. The Shirelles were popular, fabulous and had great dresses. The whole presentation was great. After that I got into the more serious people. I got into the Sweet Inspirations. That's what real singing was to me, anyway.

GAVIN: The Sweet Inspirations are famous because they included Cissy Houston, Whitney Houston's mother. Obviously they were quite a group in their day.

LV: They go down in history as the best singing group there is. No one can top them.

G: What role did radio play in influencing you in music?

LV: The heavy station when I was growing up in the Bronx was WWRL. We had Rocky G, Frankie Crocker. When I came back from college, the station everyone was listening to was WBLS, which once again was Frankie Crocker. That's where they played all the good stuff.

G: Did you have any family members who were singers?

LV: When I was very young, my sister Pat was an original member of the Crests. They were four guys and one girl, my sister. They used to rehearse in the living room. She was fifteen and my mother wouldn't let her leave the house at night. They always rehearsed after Johnny and the other members came from work and it was dark out, so it was always at my house. So that was somewhat of an influence.

G: Is she singing on "Sixteen Candles?"

LV: No, she did the first two records, "Sweetest One" and "My Juanita," then the group went all male.

G: I've read you used to be dragged down to the Apollo to see people like Aretha. Did you ever dream that you would someday be producing the great divas of soul?

LV: They never had to drag me there. If anything, they would have to drag me OUT of the Apollo. That was a big thing for me. The reward for a good report card was getting the money to go to the Apollo. It was something I used to DIE for. When the Shirelles or Aretha came to the Apollo, that was the biggest time of year.

G: What made the Apollo such a mecca for black performers?

LV: The traffic in and out of there was so intense. You had someone amazing coming in each week. The Drifters were a very hot group at that time, and following them was Aretha Franklin, and then James Brown, the Shirelles, the Supremes. It was incredible to have that much artistic traffic in and out of a place. There were usually three shows a day and on Wednesdays, there were four. After Wednesday's last show was an amateur night, which I entered--and lost FOUR TIMES, by the way. (NBC's) Wes 57th Street did a special on the Apollo and on the amateurs who had won or had entered. They interviewed me because I entered and lost four times.

G: Did you lose to bigger names?

LV: I don't know who any of the people were. I lost to people who were doing great imitations of things that were in existence at the time. There was a group who did a FABULOUS version of the Temptations singing "O! Man River," with the bass and all that. People screamed, of course, because they recognized it. That was their point of reference.

G: When did you turn professional?

LV: In 1974. David Bowie overheard me sing, and that actually started everything.

G: How did that come about?

LV: I went to school with (Bowie's guitarist) Carlos Alomar. He had just gotten the gig with him. Carlos' wife, Robin, and I were going to visit him in Philadelphia. She's a brilliant singer. She's now with the group Simple Minds. When we went to visit him I listened and, as always, I suggested little vocal lines. There was one song called "Young Americans" that had a big empty space in it. I was saying to Robin, "It would be great if he put something in there. Check out this line I just thought of: (sings) 'Young Americans, Young Americans, he was a young American, a-a-a-I-I-I night.'" I didn't know David Bowie was sitting right behind us, behind the control board. So he says, "That's just the kind of line I was looking for. Do you want to record it?" That started the whole thing. He took us on the road with him and introduced me to Bette Midler.

G: You opened for both Bowie and Bette in the '70's, didn't you?

LV: For Bowie, yes, but never for Bette. I was a Harlette, though. I opened for Bowie before I even had a record. I used to go out and sing my songs—they were all original and unrecorded, I didn't have a record deal or anything. Everybody was screaming, "Bow-ie! Bow-ie!" I said, "David, look, I am not going back out there." He says, "Are you crazy? I'm giving you the opportunity to go out there and see what it feels like to stand out there."

G: Wouldn't it have been easier to perform in front of nobody instead of thousands of people who wanted Bowie instead of you?

LV: I'm from that school of thought that a great performance isn't necessarily measured by the applause meter. You can get people to scream and make the meter stay on ten, even if you haven't given them your best. So I think the whole thing about going out there to his audience was learning how to do what I do without peripheral consideration. That's eventually what people like about you. They like that you love what you're doing. At least, that's true for me.

G: I can't help but think when the Rolling Stones were playing the L.A. Coliseum in '82 or '83, they had a young black man open for them. The guy got booed off the stage—and that was Prince. It can be tough. Your audience has probably turned out not to be David Bowie's audience but you still had the great experience of going through that process. Weren't you also involved at one point with an Italian disco band called Change?

LV: It wasn't exactly Italian, but I was involved with the people who ran it. They were from Milan. One was black and one was white. They ran the group, but all the singers and most of the musicians were New York studio musicians. They heard me singing and asked me to try out for the lead.

G: I got the impression they were doing tracks in Italy and sending them to New York so you could put English vocals to them.

LV: That happened with a few songs on the first record. The initial instruments on the track—keyboard, bass, and drums—were done in Italy. But then they did the rest here.

G: Then there was a band called Luther on Cotillion. Was that your first experience heading a band in the recording studio?

LV: This was in '74. This was the group that sang background for Bowie. It was myself, two friends from school and two other girls we had auditioned and put in the group. We got signed to Cotillion, which was a subsidiary of Atlantic Records. It was the first record to be released on that label.

G: Besides being a fabulous singer, composer and arranger, you're credited with revitalizing the career of Aretha Franklin. She had been on Arista for a couple of albums and had given her best, but it wasn't commercially successful. Then you got involved with the "Jump To It" project, which really put her back on the map. What were you trying to do with that album?

LV: Everything that it accomplished. We wanted to have another successful record, another highly regarded record. Not that the others weren't highly regarded, I just mean regarded in terms of the posture where it sat in the charts.

G: What do you do as a producer to produce Aretha? She's someone with her own ideas.

LV: With Aretha, you prepare a whole lot before you walk into the studio. She's not one to stand up at that mike and be drilled for fourteen hours, like Diana Ross is. Diana will do it one-hundred-and-eleven-thousand times until you're happy with it. Aretha is very different. She likes to know what she has to do before she gets there. So what I did was make demos and I sang the demos.

G: That had to be a thrill for someone who'd admired her since childhood.

LV: Oh, please! This was like the biggest thing I could imagine. I wouldn't even EAT or anything—this was so exciting. I was crazy during that time. During the "Never Too Much" period, Rolling Stone asked me, "Now that you've got a gold record, you seem to have accomplished what you wanted. What else do you want to do?" My response was that I would wrestle Bruno San Martino for a chance to produce Aretha Franklin. She read that and called me up: "Vandross, this is Aretha Franklin. I hope you know a reverse hold for a headlock!"—she's into wrestling, too.—"So you want to produce me, huh? Well, you got three songs to do it. Just do your thing and call me when you're through." BAM! That's all there was to it. So I did "Jump To It" and two other songs and sent her the tracks. She called and said, "I love it!" Then she started singing it over the phone. I had done the demos a la Aretha. Having known her voice so much, I was able to capture some of the things that I knew she would like to put on the tape. She came in with a few of her own things, and BAM! That was it.

G: Another artist that I know you've admired for a long time and finally had a chance to produce was Dionne Warwick. You've come full circle now by recording "Anyone Who Had A Heart" as the fourth corner of your new album, the last track on side two. Aren't the Bacharach songs incredibly difficult to sing?

LV: Dynamically, they're the best to sing because they call on all of the things that you want to display about your voice, about your style. If you can handle one, you are in good shape.

G: I was shocked, as many people were, when the new album came out. There was this slim guy on the cover. I thought, "Who did he get to stand in for him?" I remember Luther Vandross being somewhere over 300 pounds.

Why did you lose weight? Was it conscious and how much did you lose?

LV: Yes, it was conscious and I lost it, let's say, for vanity's sake. I didn't want to stay 300 pounds. It was something that I've always struggled with, it wasn't just something that I just woke up and decided I didn't want. It was something I never wanted. It's a whole other discussion about why people stay heavy—that whole psychological Dr. Joyce Brothers-sounding thing. I gave it a try, there were a lot of false starts, and for whatever reason I was successful with this venture. I lost 120 pounds by the summer of '86.

G: And are you keeping it off?

LV: Yes, I'm basically keeping it off. My weight goes a little bit up and a little bit down and then back up. So it's an everyday struggle, but I'm in the same clothes, let's say.

G: An athlete who loses that much weight usually gets weaker. Did you find that happening?

LV: No. I allowed it to take nearly two years. Your body doesn't notice any gradual change like that. It only notices a dramatic change.

G: I think we can credit the success of this album to something more than a thinner Luther Vandross. Your past albums were in the platinum range, but this one is approaching two million units.

LV: Like that old adage that says, "All good things in time," I guess there's something philosophical in there somewhere. A career is a succession of layers. You build layers and you work on the parts that are behind the other parts. It would be great to keep all the machinery on the same level, but there's always something that you have to reach back and work on, some part that's a little weaker than another. I think this record has crossed over more than the others and by doing so has sold more.

G: Now you're really crossing over, and some people are making a big deal about that. I don't sense that your music has changed that much—but it's a compliment to you and also to the Epic promotion people, because I know that when "Stop To Love" was ready to be released, they decided they weren't going to work it in the Urban area first to see if it crossed. They really committed themselves to poppin' "Stop To Love" right from the beginning.

LV: For sure, their effort and hard work is what makes the business crossover. The music is not different. It's the same way I view music from the beginning, it's just what I do. I'm the product and the vehicle for the product is what makes the difference.

G: How did the current single with Gregory Hines, "There's Nothing Better Than Love," come about?

LV: It was my idea. I was looking to produce a male singer, after having done Dionne, Aretha and Cheryl Lynn. I was watching a repeat of "Saturday Night Live" and saw him sing with Eubie Blake. He killed me! His voice is just fabulous. So I called him. He had no plans for making a record, so I could get involved. I took him to Epic and got him signed through Larkin Arnold, but, since I was making my own album, I couldn't start his right away. I figured it would be a good prerequisite to his solo album for Gregory to do a duet with me on mine. So we did.

G: Did he put his dancing and his movie career on hold to work on this project, or is he doing other things at the same time?

LV: His album will be out, I would say, in early September. It's hot—it's all contemporary and he sounds super. I'm very happy.

G: Besides the Gregory Hines project, what can we expect from you during the next year?

LV: I'm glad you asked! I just came out of the studio with Diana Ross and I produced one song on her new album. I think it's due out this month.

G: What is the title?

LV: "It's Hard For Me To Say." I wrote it with a musician named Skip Anderson.

G: What's the rest of the year look like for you?

LV: I'm touring.

G: Is Gregory touring with you?

LV: No. He's on his way to Thailand to make a movie called Saigon. I'm going to be touring until I feel like stopping. ●

A/C ANALYSIS

Extremely close for number one as Smokey edges Billy Joel. Smokey's 17 HEAVY rotation reports advantage beats Billy's five-report lead in total stations.

Now, can Billy get the lead before Lionel and/or Madonna pull up to his bumper? Stay tuned.

Chicago's six week HIT FACTOR of 87% is the stuff number ones are made of. It'll easily clear 200 stations next week and have a dominant HEAVY profile then too.

As predicted last week, Kenny Loggins moves up in ranking. Adds this week include 15 new stations and his HIT FACTOR hits 84%.

A lotta holdouts still on the Kenny G single, Songbird. But it's HIT FACTORED at 65% and has taken in 39 new stations in the past two research weeks.

One of the most beautiful love songs of 1987 has debuted on the A/C chart this week. Patti LaBelle & Bill Champlin's Last Unbroken Heart has had 50 adds over the last couple of weeks. We'll bet it eventually clears 180 stations and peaks in the single digits.

Luther debuts in time for his cover story. Added at KBOI, KIOI, KLTR, WSNY, KRNO and 15 others.

Chris DeBurgh and Crowded House re-debut on the chart. Chris does it with 29 adds and a 56% HIT FACTOR, while the Crowded Housemen do it with 20 adds and a HIT FACTOR of 69%.

This week's RECORD TO WATCH, Kiss Him Goodbye by the Nylons, is our third most added record. Let us be the first (and hopefully the last) to suggest there will be a run on The Nylons in A/C with this seamless production. We sup-hose it's just beginning.

Even though Genesis was this week's most added with 62 stations, it boggles our collective mind that the figure was less than 25% of the available stations. We assume there are 173 good reasons. R&D

CROWDED HOUSE

Something So Strong (Capitol)

It was the Gavin A/C section that made their first single a hit. No other format in any other trade or tip sheet had the "courage" to play these guys so much and so early. Paulette, Tasha and Tom in the Capitol Tower didn't let us down, as they stayed with it for nine months, believing, as you and I do that the dream wasn't over. Now we have another chance the lead to way. This track is more reminiscent of Neil Finn's Split Enz dayz. Good for us!

CHINA CRISIS

Best Kept Secret (A&M)

Actually the band is still a best kept secret. Their musicianship, sense of arrangement and lyrical ambiguity are particularly charming.

ANNE MURRAY

Are You Still In Love With Me (Capitol)

A lyrically driven, sensitively delivered, easy-on-the-ear production. Producer Jack White, who first worked with Anne on last year's Something To Talk About album, is careful not to smother the words with the condiments of the trade.

HIT FACTOR

Hit Factor is a percentage of stations which have it in Heavy or Medium rotation. ie: 100 stations playing the record - 60 stations have it in Heavy or Medium rotation - Hit Factor = 60%

VANNA REVEALS ANOTHER PRE-'WHEEL' ROMANCE

Another National Gavin-Quirer exclusive report reveals that Wheel of Fortune temptress Vanna White was involved in a platonic relationship with EMI rock maven John Hey WHILE in the midst of an ongoing tryst with Hugh Hefner. Informed sources relay this comment from Vanna: "I met that promo hunk while he was on the road with Jason & the Scorchers and felt an instant twinge. I mean he's too icky for it to be anything but platonic, yet I feel that need to be semi-near him. Maybe it's the way he screams on his conference calls--that's kinda macho--maybe it's his bizarre eating habits. I mean, how many people order lamb shanks with a side of pancakes?" Contacted by Gavin-Quirer reporters, Hey shouted, "I have nothing to hide. In fact VANNA has nothing to hide in the photos I'm holding for possible sale to Guns & Ammo. They'll make Playboy look like Nun's Digest!"

MY HUSBAND, DANNY DAVIS

Italian-Philadelphian Marie "Moish" Davis has penned a shattering expose revealing the truth about self-acclaimed promotion legend, best known for catapulting Eddie Fisher's "Dungaree Doll" to the middle of the Record World Top 100. In a series of shattering disclosures, the candid Mrs. D reveals that, upon returning home each night from luncheons with Bernie Torres and Ted Atkins, Davis actually cuddles his twelve dogs until that day's Oprah Winfrey tape is rewound and ready for viewing. We're told he's also been known to oil and lube his 28-year-old son's little red wagon! The clearly disturbed Davis spouse told our staff he's actually engaged in philately IN FRONT OF HER MOTHER!

INDUSTRY SHOCKED WHEN HIDDEN CHALTAS FACTS SURFACE!

Record and radio personnel were numbed by recent revelations about the secretive side of Columbia's respected George Chaltas. Despite his continuing attempts to convince the industry that he lives exclusively on goat cheese and radicchio quiche and braised sushi in raspberry vinaigrette, Gavin-Quirer reporters followed the exec to an LA Burger King last week, where he was observed purchasing a Croissant-wich and fries. Casting furtive (and rather cute) glances in every direction, the highly regarded Chaltas then purchased the same order to go, rode his Schwinn 12-speed to the Burbank post office, where he air-expressed it to Mike Martucci in Gotham.

THE VIOLENT SIDE OF BOBBY RICH

Music Director Gene Knight of San Diego's high-rated B100 came to us and said, "I can't keep it inside any longer. Gavin-quiring minds should know about the real character of my PD." Knight tells us that in the weeks immediately preceding an ARB, Bobby Rich strides around the office, warning staffers, "Ifwe go down even one-tenth of a point, none of you will get to go to The Brigantine with me for Oysters Rockefeller. You'll just have to have them ON THE HALF SHELL!" Knight shared other examples of cruel and unusual punishments meted out by Rich, such as stalling for a minute or two before returning a call from Dino Barbis, and deliberately parking his BMW in C.C. McCartney's space a mere seven years after McCartney stopped working at the station. "There's only so much more we can handle of his tantrums," a tearful Knight told the Gavin-Quirer. "It's reached the point where we don't even want to attend his seder!"

ZIMMERMAN FEUD ERUPTS!

Quarreling Gavin editors Kent and/or Keith Zimmerman are rapidly becoming a source of serious concern to Publisher Ron Fell, who was so shaken that he used the term "one of the genre's prime purveyors" in a recent review of The Cult. As part of the Gavin-Quirer's relentless pursuit of the near-truth, Fell has allowed this space to "tell it like it is": Kent and/or Keith have been fussing amongst himself for months over the simple matter of which one wears a mustache. Kent swears he's the hirsute sibling, whereas Keith has taken an oath that it's he/him who/whom features facial hair. "I don't know what's gotten into my sibling," one of them told the Gavin-Quirer. "For God's sake, all he's got to do is look in a mirror to see he's clean-shaven." In a bitchy aside, the interviewed brother added, "And there's certainly no shortage of mirrors in HIS condo!" While the matter may seem trivial to some, it becomes a source of major confusion at the Gavin Seminars for Medium Professionals, when the likes of Brian Lee, Michael Plen and Howard Rosen have mistaken the guys for Larry, Darryl and Darryl.

THE WAY YOU SAY NO REVEALS YOUR PERSONALITY

This especially applies to music directors in their dealings with sniveling promotion persons. Gavin staff psychologists Billy Brill and Pasquale Martine note some common rejections, and what each reveals about the perp:

1. "No, I really don't think it fits in with my plans for this week's playlist." This person tends to be a considerate sort with a deep-seated concern for the feelings of others, even when the others are local guys working the southwest for Scepter and Handshake.

2. "Uh-uh. I don't believe this Garnett Mims release fits in my plans...for the next century or so!" This person has a sly sense of humor, although exhibiting a slight disregard for the concerns of a guy just trying to get Power106's Al Tavera on the phone.

3. "Not a chance, you groveling excuse for humanity! Take your wimpy product to Lenny Beer for review. We wouldn't use these records for Frisbees!" A basic insecurity pervades the personality of this MD, who undoubtedly has been at KGOY in Foonman too long. Professional counseling is in order.

...If YOU need counseling, call Gavin and ask for a Prayer Partner. You might find yourself rapping with Tammy Faye herself. ●

by GARY DONOHUE CRMC

TIME AND MONEY: ARE YOU USING OR GETTING?

When it comes to time management, a cultural difference seems to open between salespeople and the rest of the radio station. On the surface, we folks in sales seem to have little or no time discipline, while the support staff that gets the job done for us lives exclusively on a timetable. In other words, a little time management by an aggressive salesperson has a domino effect throughout the station.

Case in point: Until I learned the business/traffic manager had a regular hair appointment Thursdays at 5:10 p.m., I couldn't understand why she would accept a late order every day of the week but Thursdays. Unconsciously, I managed to avoid presenting her with any orders on Thursday, PERIOD! If possible, I would hold orders overnight (better known as sandbagging) or negotiate a better deal for Wednesday orders from clients. As a result, I went from being her "Peck's Bad Boy" to the only sales person not on her perpetual "bad rep" list. My sales manager asked me to talk to other salespeople who were having trouble with this woman, in hopes I would explain my successful turnaround. Do you think I told them the secret?

American business abounds with sales and marketing time management courses. Those I've seen all miss the point that time management works two ways: 1) You manage your time to maximize your opportunities to "get" money. 2) You manage your time to motivate the support staff so they can "use" the money in a way that does not interfere with your ability to "get" money. When you find yourself facing a support staff member who is quoting policy and procedures, you are in trouble.

The best way to begin managing your time is to step back and assess all your activities at the end of the day. Make a list in chronological order. Next to each entry, write either the letter "G" or "U." Were you getting money or using money? (Remember, time is money.) The next step is to tally the number of entries with a "G" and those with a "U." How did you do?

If you find yourself with a lot of "U's," don't despair. The most irritating chant I've heard from time management gurus is "Minimize non-productive activities." Or worse yet, "Work at getting in front of the client more than anything else." While these are noble goals, they are sometimes impossible to achieve. I have always felt these theories were best revised as "Maximize all activities by getting to the point. Ask yourself, 'Am I getting money or using money?' Then do the best job you can at either activity. Concentrate on using it more efficiently or getting it more efficiently."

Go back to your tally sheet and ask yourself how you could have been more efficient in both the "U" and "G" activities. The secret to time management is to do this all the time during the day, and assess your performance at the end of the day. This is a simple but direct approach to cleaning up your overall act. If all the time management courses in the world were boiled down to one word, it would be CONCENTRATION.

Understanding what you are doing every minute of the day means that, in addition to knowing whether you are using or getting, you also ask yourself, "Is the activity functioning in an efficient and effective manner? What can I do to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of this activity?" Try it for a day. You'll be shaken by the simplicity of the approach and the amount of free time you'll suddenly have. I call it being "switched on."

Many systems on the market today call

When you find yourself facing a support staff member who is quoting policy and procedures, you are in trouble.

for accountability by the salesperson for activities with clients. These systems can be very profitable for the ownership of the station, though somewhat cumbersome for sales management to deploy. I am especially impressed with the SALMON system, which interfaces with being "switched on." It allows individuals to account for their activities on a daily basis, which is a springboard for evaluating time management performance independently. People are capable of improving themselves if they are introduced to systems that provide a disciplined but creative environment. ●

TAKING CHANCES

In this era of deregulation, there are still lots of FCC rules that apply--and are enforced. Two important ones are the Sponsor Identification Rule and the Lottery Rule. Remember them? Judging by what I'm hearing, a lot of stations, large and small, have forgotten. And fines of $2,000 or more lurk for the stations that get caught breaking these rules.

The Sponsor Identification Rule states that the sponsor of an ad must be clearly identified in the ad. A major brand name suffices--if it's the company that paid for the ad! A common violation is the soft drink or beer ad paid for by the local bottler. The bottler is named on the contract, and thus usually on the log, but often not in the spot--an easily identified rule violation.

Sometimes a national food brand will buy the time and give half the spot to a local supermarket as part of an inducement to stock the product. The spot may sound like the supermarket is the sponsor--or at least leave the sponsorship in doubt. In that case, the rule says you need a "sponsored by" tag clearly identifying the real sponsor. The same tactic is used by record companies and suppliers in other businesses, so watch out for it. The sponsor may not want to be identified--but it's your station, not them, that will be fined if the rule is broken.

Then there's the lottery rule. Remember the three elements of a lottery? Prize, Chance, Consideration (i.e., you have to pay to enter). If all three are present, in a spot or a PSA (including door prizes at ticketed events and, of course, raffles), you're risking a fine.

The only exceptions are legal, state-operated lotteries in your own or immediately adjacent states--although I might add the Oregon lottery distributes commercials without proper sponsor identification, and most stations seem to run them without the tag. Since the state keeps coming up with new game titles, the name of the current game is not enough to identify the sponsor. To complicate things, neighboring Washington and California have their own lotteries, raising a legitimate question as to which state is the originator of which lottery ad.

The FCC has loosened at least one requirement of the Lottery Rule in recent years. It currently holds that the "consideration" element holds only if the contest promoter receives any of the entry fees. That means the rule does not apply to a free drawing held inside a fairground that charges admission. But the "consideration" element does apply if:

...you are entering a newspaper contest and the newspaper is not available free on request at all sale locations;

...you are entering a free drawing at a movie theater, but have to pay admission to enter;

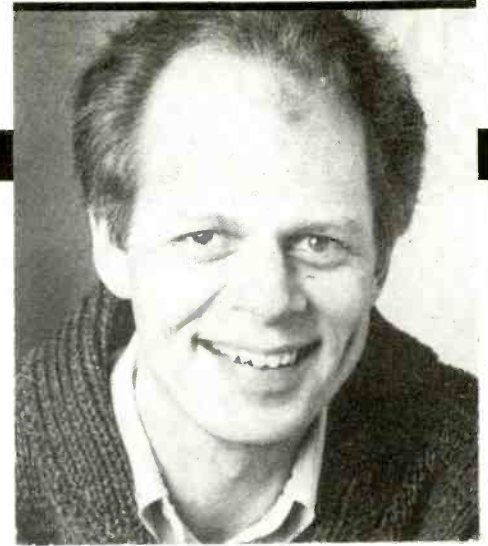

...a paying entrant can buy all the product he wants, but a person requesting a free entry receives only one.; or

...you get to "spin for a discount" only after making a purchase.

Note that these contests may all be legal under state law, but if they include the additional elements of "prize" and "chance," FCC regulations prohibit advertising them on radio or TV.

Some promoters try to get around the problem by having "prize" and "consideration," but no "chance." One way to do this is to give everyone who participates a free prize--but it must be the same prize--if they differ in value, then "chance" is involved. Another way is to make skill a requirement--but be careful! If a soccer team holds a goal-kicking contest for spectators at halftime, ask how participants are selected. Unless everyone in the stands has an opportunity (or there is an "accuracy audition" open to everyone), enough "chance" is present to make it illegal. Suppose it's a skill contest, open to anyone--but there's just one prize. What happens in case of a tie? If it's a drawing, or even a coin-flip, there's an element of "chance."

There are so many violations of these rules, and so few prosecutions that you may feel they are not serious enough to worry about. But how do stations get caught? Occasionally, FCC monitors will tune in a station, hear something suspicious and originate a complaint. But almost all complaints come from competing stations that love to see their rivals squirm.

The risk simply isn't worth it. In addition to the fine, the FCC questions the licensee's control of the station's operation. The licensee talks to the GM, and when the scapegoat is designated, it's usually in the programming department. After all, the spot was carted up by programming, and programming is supposed to know and observe the FCC rules related to programming. Usually someone gets fired so the owner can assure the commission that the "bad apple" has been weeded out, assuring that the violation cannot ever happen again, of course.

Do you have a competitor who would enjoy seeing you fired? Somebody who sees you as being the key factor in making them an also-ran in the ratings? See why I suggest you take these rules seriously. All your competition needs is to tape your station running a spot breaking the rule, send it anonymously to the FCC, and the ball will start rolling. So don't take chances. ●

by RON FELL

DAVID BOWIE

His late-60s hit, "Space Oddity," was inspired by Stanley Kubrick's 2001: A Space Odyssey, though Bowie wrote it for an obscure film, "Love You 'Til Tuesday."

PERCY SLEDGE

He wrote "When A Man Loves A Woman" while he was working as an orderly at Colbert County Hospital in Alabama.

FLEETWOOD MAC

Hard to believe that ten years have passed since they released their single, "Dreams."

TRIO

(Dolly, Linda & Emmylou)

Rehearsals for what eventually became The Trio album began in 1978. The first tracks were not recorded until January of 1986.

DAN HILL

His biggest record to date came nine years ago with "Sometimes When We Touch."

ROBERT PALMER

Looks like as much as half of Palmer's next album will be recorded with members of the band Scorpions.

A-HA

They have the honor of recording the theme song for the next James Bond film, "The Living Daylights," to be released in July.

BRYAN ADAMS

His 1984 album, "Reckless," has become the biggest-selling album by a domestic artist in his native Canada. Sales there have exceeded one and a half million units.

FREDDIE MERCURY

The original version of "The Great Pretender" was recorded by The Platters in 1956.

BILL CHAMPLIN

Bill, who sings with Chicago and on the new single from Miami Vice with Patti LaBelle, fronted a 60s band, Sons Of Champlin, and also co-wrote, with David Foster and Jay Graydon, the Earth, Wind and Fire hit, "After The Love Has Gone."

COLIN JAMES HAY

The title of his solo album, "Looking For Jack," is a reference to Colin's fascination with the cool mystique of actor and Laker's fan Jack Nicholson.

KATE BUSH

Back in the mid-70s, Kate recorded demos of her songs with the encouragement and financial backing of Pink Floyd's David Gilmour.

SANTANA

The singing raisin in the television spots for the California Raisin Board's "I Heard It Through The Grapevine" is Buddy Miles, the newest lead singer in the Santana Band.

TOTO

The band's drummer, Jeff Porcaro, is the director of their video for the new single "Till The End." The video's choreographer is Paula Abdul.

CARLY SIMON

She and sister Lucy recorded the song "Winkin', Blinkin' and Nod" as The Simon Sisters in 1964. Carly's first solo album on Elektra, in 1971, won her a Grammy for "Best New Artist."

K.D. LANG

K.D. stands for Kathy Dawn. She's a native of Alberta, Canada.

DOLLY PARTON

She's scheduled to host a weekly variety show on ABC beginning this fall.

Never Let Me Down-David Bowie (EMI America)

Never Let Me Down starts out with an already smash Album Radio hit and closes out side two kicking and screaming. It was created by the near-identical nucleus that created Iggy Pop's Blah Blah Blah LP. Every week we try to invent a new show biz axiom. This week's it's "The tighter the core, the control is more." Though there are quite a few cameo appearances, a slim triad of musicians/producers plus guitarist Peter Frampton comes up with ideas, freeing the album from sounding cluttered. Not that Never Let Me Down is underproduced. Songs like "Beat Of Your Drum," "Time Will Crawl" and the Lenonesque title track are instrumentally rich. Side two's "New York's In Love" and "Too Dizzy" spread the spirit over to side two. Though I've enjoyed Bowie's recent musical diversions into film, it's good to hear him record ten songs that glow with a spice and lust for life.

Tango In The Night-Fleetwood Mac (Warner Bros.)

Tango In The Night is a cool breeze that spreads the accolades of composition amid the three principal songwriters with all the focus of a solo album. The production of Lindsey Buckingham and Richard Dashut unites all forces. While Mirage, the last Mac LP, pushed and pulled in various sundry directions, Tango surges forward with a modern, but organic flow. It could have very easily been a reactionary release. Instead, the sonic subtlety that has always graced Buckingham's work seems to have been graciously incorporated by the other group members to a common end result. Tango is destined to be one of this year's hottest single machines. Personal airplay hunches include "Seven Wonders" and "Little Lies" in addition to "Everywhere" and the guitar title track.

NEW

Releases

"Ages Of You"-REM (IRS)

"Ages Of You" sounds potentially left over from the classic Murmur sessions. You know, REM's B-sides sound a lot better than most folk's A-sides. Love this song. Crank up as well.

Everyone Loves The Pilot (Except The Crew)-Jon Astley (Atlantic)

Hit record alert. Producer Jon Astley's new LP is one of those pleasant accidents. Just as he gave up on being a recording artist, out pops potential hit songs like "Jane's Getting Serious" and "Lip Service." Even stranger and all the wiser, Astley didn't produce himself. This record is a crisp attack, beautifully recorded and intricately arranged. Play loud.

"We Care A Lot"-Faith No More (Slash/Warner Bros.)

Not your high profile packaging (splotted paint with nada credits), but the song is clever and novel. Though a band called Faith No More singing a song called "We Care A Lot" is a paradox, it's a happy paradox. Cover art by Linda Blair?

"Trail Of Broken Treaties"-Little Steven (Manhattan)

Little Steven's upcoming album is an uncompromising rumble between political research, utopia and reality. Naturally, the spirit of the "Sun City" boycott record is rife throughout the first single, "Trail Of Broken Treaties." Pick an edit, any edit. For me, the longer the better. For those of you under a time restriction, 4:15 works, message and all. Now wait until you hear "Bitter Fruit."

Tribute-Ozzy Osbourne/Randy Rhoads (CBS)

They'll be wheeling this set into the record stores by the crate, so don't be surprised when it shows up hot on your store reports. Randy Rhoads's untimely death occurred after buzzing Ozzy's bus, shocking and shaking the young and active metal community to their foundations. Unlike Buddy Holly, who also checked out via private aircraft, Rhoads explored the fretboards using power surge decibels but leaving a host of inferiors to rattle and plunder the current crop of leather-studded disciples. Like Ozzy's waistline, Rhoads's style expanded as his experiences broadened. Featured here is a vast spread of classic and experimental metal renditions.

"Ahead"-Wire (Enigma)

That's "Ahead" by Wire as in "ahcad of their time." Surprisingly, the band slows down conceptually just enough for the rest of us to catch up. This is a wicked rock dance number that will be heavily embraced inside these pages, just you wait. I was going mention New Order, but some artists get sooo irate when you throw out comparisons.

"Heart And Soul"-TPau (Virgin)

Once again, it's hit week inside the New Release box this week, yesiree. I'd know those VU-peaked drums anywhere. That's the RTB needles well pinned, alright. Halfway through the 45 rpm twelve inch, I realized this track is on a nifty CD compilation. Holy laser beams! What a blast!

"One For The Mocking-bird"-Cutting Crew (Virgin)

Who would have thought that Virgin would make such a heated debut with something so mainstream? Nevertheless, the Crew go number one this week in the Gavin Top Forty. "Mocking-bird" sounds exactly like hit number two.

MOST ADDED

1. Tango In The Night-FLEETWOOD MAC (Warner Bros.)
2. "Ages Of You"-R.E.M. (IRS/A&M)
3. "Jane's Getting Serious"-JON ASTLEY (Atlantic-12")
4. "Gunslinger Man"-LONG RYDERS (Island-12")

My 2 cents

The magnificent Fleetwood LP piledrove onto playlists with a posse of hit trax. They were enough to just nudge David Bowie (who will have a crack at the Mac next week with his killer new album) into the number three slot, but not enough to shake U2 from the top. That quartet is there to stay for a long while. However, Fleetwood Mac stylistically spans the face of Album Radio. In fact, some of my big favorites are the unlikely ones, the tracks that walk on the melodic, soft side. Spring has sprung with a roster of albums that could dominate the Gavin album charts into the summer. Next week's question will be whether or not Bowie will be able to retaliate and throw a wedge between U2 and Fleetwood Mac. Meanwhile Bryan Adams is getting play on five--cou nt 'em, five--trax. Gregg Allman and Cutting Crew are splashing cold water on their faces, getting themselves in a revived spirit. Both are ready to move back up, or at least maintain their numbers inside a hotbed Top Ten. Kickin' on the Top Ten door is the Cult. Since theirs is an industrial-strength brand of music, climbing the chart isn't all that easy of a chore. However, they do have a modern bend to their music so it seems they will be able to maintain the promise of their original ultra-high debut strength. Lou Gramm is in the same boat as Cutting Crew and Gregg Allman. I think programmers are going to find that the rest of the tracks surfacing off Gramm's album will be album oriented. We put up with "Midnight Blue," now it's time to rock. Speaking of rock, Julian Cope bounces up another two slots as "Trampoline" picks up adds on a few majors to boot. The Other Ones could have jumped even higher than their eight point jump this week, 31-23. Their total reports put them in the Top 15.

However, other things determine final chart position--that is, rotation and how a song performs in relation to its cohorts. A record like the Other Ones that built such a fast airplay base shows promising signs of longevity. At the very least, they could climb another eight slots next week. We had a lot of lateral moves this week by records that need to either get down or go down. Billy Idol, Del Fuegos, and XTC are three examples. On the other hand, Europe (40-35-26), Hoodoo Gurus (33-27) and Crowded House (36-31) look like they're ready to till mainstream soil. All three are relatively new acts that have bright futures. The bottom end of the chart contains some promising new acts as well. Little America (debuting at #33), The Damned (39-34) and The Truth (40-35) are enjoying success wherever they're played so far. Look out for the bottom trio of debuts this week. Gary Moore, Tesla and Mondo Rock demonstrate that rock n roll certainly has a home on Album Radio. RECORD TO WATCH this week is certainly Jon Astley. "Jane's Getting Serious" sounds like a strong potential Album Radio/Top Forty hit record. Let's make it ours first. REM's "Ages Of You" is a rare way to program an oldie as a current. It recalls the days of Murmur when singer Michael Stipe first introduced the fine art of mumble. Stay well. That's all for now. Thanks for the Happy Birthdays. You people knock me out. KZ

ALTERNATIVE ACTION

The Smith's screaming success is an indication of the intense audience demand for their new material. Thrashing Doves improved their chart points by nearly 40% this past week. They're attracting both college and commercial action, including Maximum play at: KJET, KCMU, KBSU, KCPR, KEYX, KABL, WWVU, WUOG, WRAS, WXCI, WRUV, WDCR, WCDB, WBNY, WLIR, WXXP, etc. It was an unusual week, with twice as many new records as normal entering our top ten. Record To Watch is Big Dipper who are receiving play at WRVU, WXYC, WWVU, WRAS, WXCI, WUNH, WPRB, WNYU, WDCR, WBNY, etc. and were added at WBCN in Boston. The word on Jon Astley has been very enthusiastic, who is Most Added with new play at WXXP, WHFS, WBNY, WCDB, WRAS, WWVU, WOXY, KACV, KEYX, KTCL, KVNK, KTAO, KJET, KZEL, etc. Be sure to check out the profile in Gavin for one of the best Alternative stations in the country, WRVU in Nashville on page 45. Please note our reporting deadline is changing on Tuesday April 28th. The new deadline will be Tuesdays

SPOTLIGHT LP

Feeling The Elephant-BILL LLOYD (Throbbing Lobster)

Not too many Alternative artists can claim to be as musically diverse as Bill Lloyd, who is signed to separate rock and Country record deals with different labels. While relatively new to the national Alternative Scene, Lloyd achieved Country music success last year, co-writing the Sweethearts Of The Rodeo hit "Since I Found You." Lloyd is also one of the bigger local rock artists in Nashville. He's a power-pop marksman in the Tommy Keene vein, with a precise blend of acoustic electric guitar chords and leads, like on "This Very Second." "All At Once Unzipped" aggressively bowls over the target, while the calmer "Susan Scorned" and "Feeling The Elephant." (with its subtle chorus hook) leaves a lasting impression from this versatile musician. Call Cindy Ballen of Throbbing Lobster at (617) 739-1866.

Hubba-THE CAT HEADS (Restless)

The Cat Heads aren't just driving a new model of psychedelia around the old block. This newly designed model includes a durable songwriting chassis and chrome leads by Sam Babbitt, the best new guitarist I've heard since Green On Red's dynamo Chuck Prophet. Produced by Rain Parade's Matt Pucci, The Cat Heads take an upbeat paisley approach on "Voyeur In The Balcony" and "New White Wings." Besides having a great title, "Power, Love and Pizza" is the album's peak, highlighted by coarse vocals, timely guitar feedback and a ripping solo by Babbitt. The Cat Heads first surfaced on vinyl last year on the S.F. Unscene Compilation album. Band member Mark Zanandrea coordinated and financed the album - raising the money from an insurance claim after he was hit by a car. Included on that album and re-recorded for Hubba is "I Would Kill For Suzy," which augments their blues influences without sounding derivative.

THE NEW NASHVILLE GENERATION

The "91 Rock Renegades" have landed on Nashville's Music Row. Vanderbilt University's student-run WRVU/FM has established an Alternative beachhead in the conservative heartland of Country music. Through heavy promotion on and off the air, WRVU's 100+ member staff, consisting of students and a handful of alumni, is campaigning hard for progressive rock.

Music Director Laura Mitrovich says the early stages were challenging: "Historically, the overwhelming majority of the music here is Country, and breaking through this demographic barrier was difficult. The prevailing 'cowboy psyche' is also tough to deal with socially. Fortunately, progressive music is now taken seriously in this part of the country. What the youth of Nashville are listening to today is a complete turnaround from what generations in this part of the country have been raised on. Times have radically changed and the sounds of WRVU are exploding here!"

WRVU provides 90 hours of Alternative programming per week, Monday through Friday, 6 a.m. to midnight, with the rest of the broadcast day devoted to jazz, rock and news. The station has broken regional and local bands such as The Georgia Satellites and Jason and the Scorchers.

But WRVU goes beyond airplay. WRVU and Scorchers fans alike presently await the EMI 12-inch vinyl release of an interview with the band done by Mitrovich last November, the latest in a series of non-broadcast activities. In 1982, the station released "Local Heroes," a compilation cassette containing tracks by local musicians. Last year brought a follow-up album, "City Without a Subway," which received favorable reviews in the local press. The album contains songs from local favorites Raging Fire, Shadow 15, The Questionnaires, along with rockabilly cuts by bands Webb Wilder, and Will Rambeaux & the Delta Hurricanes. The album also features Sweethearts Of The Rodeo lyricist Bill Lloyd, popular for his progressive/country genre. Graphic artist Howard Finster, a creative force behind Talking Heads and REM album covers, designed the "City Without A Subway" cover. To date, seventy percent of the bands featured have signed with record labels.

Last April, the station hosted "The 91 Rock Benefit Concert," with proceeds going to the Childrens' Hospital at Vanderbilt Medical Center. This musical event, in association with The Nashville Entertainment Association, spotlighted ten extraordinary bands, including several contributors to the "City Without A Subway" album. The event at Nashville's Cannery Nightclub attracted A&R representatives from across the country. One band, The Royal Court of China, was rewarded with a record contract from A&M as a result.

Nearly half of WRVU's listenership are Vanderbilt students. The university is extremely supportive of its station, annually allocating $42,000 from the student activity fund. This administrative support has provided strength to the station, however the WRVU staff has proven themselves to be one of the most resourceful and creative stations in the country, beating their demographic odds hands down. ●

COUNTRY SUMMARY

It was a battle to the last report, with the Oak Ridge Boys coming out the victors in this week's fight for number one. Conway Twitty's big push 8-3 came from 119 stations that have it in their HEAVY rotations. There were two new entries to the Top Ten - Dan Seals, with 89 HEAVY's, and John Conlee, with 88 HEAVY's. Only four of the Top Ten songs have underlines, leaving a lot of room for the Forester Sisters, the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, Eddy Raven and Keith Whitley to make their bids for entry in the Top Ten next week. The Sweethearts Of The Rodeo's "Chains Of Gold" and Dwight Yoakam's "Little Sister" are both rapidly becoming giant hits. The Sweethearts have a 61% HIT FACTOR and are in HEAVY rotation at KYCK, KKA, KLXX, KORD, KVET and WKYQ. Dwight has a 64 % HIT FACTOR, and is in HEAVY rotation at WYGC, KCLK, KQUS, WTRS, KYCK, WOWW107 and KGRT (where Big John Libynski reports that jukebox play on Dwight is going crazy.) Southern Pacific continues to receive adds. This week's include KMHL, KXKZ, KHEY/Y96, KEEN, KHUY, WMC and KFH. It's good to see Charley Pride back and doing so well, as he moves 9 slots to #23. Steve Gary at KVET-Austin says that requests for Charley are heavy.

Randy Travis was a triple-crown winner this week, showing up in the CERTIFIED, MOST ADDED and TOP REQUESTS categories. (Would it be risky for us to predict another Number One record for Randy?) Tanya Tucker CERTIFIED herself by being the other top chart debut. The third chart debut, Mickey Gilley, tops the 100- report mark with adds at KLXX, KKIX, WQBE/FM, WHON, WFMS/FM, KYCK, KFMS, WQLA, KIDN, WCHK/FM, KROW, WKOM/FM, WAOV, WLBB, WMC and WKJN. Jack Moran at WRNY-Rome, NY, reports local retail outlets are calling for information on Baillie & The Boys. Baillie's also getting good reaction in Reno, Tri-Cities, Madison, Vincennes, Aberdeen, Astoria, Chico, etc.

K.T.Oslin picks up 31 more adds this week to bring her report total to 59. Kerry Wolfe from WRNS/FM-Coastal, NC, reports immediate calls for K.T. Others reporting good reaction to K.T. are Skip Davis at K92/FM-Destin, FL ("at least a dozen calls after each play"), and Billy Pilgrim at KEED-Eugene. Two debuts in Action Sides also occupy spaces in our MOST ADDED category - George Strait with 68 (!) adds, and Ricky Skaggs & Sharon White with 44 adds. Jay Booker missed making Action Sides this week by 8 reports, but Shane Krag at KCLK-Clarkston, WA, previewed the record a couple of weeks ago and claims it's the most positive response he's ever received on a new artist. Look for The Judds "I Know Where I'm Going" to debut next week (see recommended). Greg Harris at WCMR-Elkhart told us that on the Tuesday following their performance of the song on the ACM Awards, he immediately started getting requests for the song.

Congratulations to Tim Closson, M.D. at WAXX/FM-Eau Claire, WI, who is now also the weatherman on weekends on WQOW/TV in Eau Claire.
 Talk to you next week. Lisa & Elma

#1 URBAN CONTEMPORARY CHART 4/10

"URBANIZING" by JERRY BOULDING

FOR YOUR EARS ONLY

Meeting the challenges and winning the ratings wars of the 80s requires vision, creativity and resourcefulness. If you can combine those qualities with a spirit of adventure and innovation, and are given enough time and a decent facility to work with, you, too could join that exclusive, elusive club of radio "high cumers." And two vehicles that could help you gain entry are image and perception.

Image is how your station is perceived by both its listeners and advertisers. The key word is perceived. When advertisers see those slick billboards, busbacks, television and print campaigns, then hear really strong street talk, they usually say, "Hey, I'm really doing something good buying time on this station. It's happening."

The central thing about image is often usefulness. We have seen this recently in our focus group research. They gave us things like "It plays better music...It plays the kind of music I like...It's got great news--they just seem to know what I want...It gets me up every morning...It's in touch with me."

Our studies have shown that more of our sample base tunes in with specific purposes in mind than simply to have some radio sounds around (49 percent to 39 percent). Interestingly, follow-up studies showed non-purposive tuning in decreases as age increases. (This study, by the way, excluded under-18s, eliminating some of the random dial-twisting that occurs with this audience segment.)

Every person has a slightly different image of a radio station, which is what makes marketing so difficult. The key is to isolate those elements in your listeners that they themselves feel are most important. All the elements of a radio station--the music, air talent, news, contests, etc.--combine to make an impression on your listeners.

Another very important aspect of image has to do with a station's standing in the market--the ability to convince listeners they're with the best. A lot of people go with the leader. That's why, for years, stations all talked about being number one in SOMETHING.

Once a song is number one, you are almost guaranteed that it's going to sell a lot, because people want to buy the number one record. And if you have someone with "short money," who can only buy one album or single, that's the one they go for. The same is true with radio stations. A certain amount of peer-group pressure works in favor of stations that are number one. The result is that many people who might prefer another station wind up saying, at least to themselves, "I'd better listen to it, at least."

So what you do is important, but so is what you say you do. Take cereals, for example. Some are advertised as being very healthy, even though they're just another sugar-coated grain cereal. The public perceives them as being healthy, even though they know intellectually that they're not.

You probably know of a couple of fairly good radio stations that have negative street talk because of internal problems. Those stations will never do as well as one that may do exactly the same things, but gets a positive image. When it comes down to "What station was I listening to?" the station with the solid image gets the most points in the Arbitron scores.

That doesn't mean that a station's image can't or shouldn't change--after all, the tastes and attitudes of your listeners are constantly evolving. Some formats can get away with changes better than others. A few well-entrenched album rock stations, for example, stopped playing Linda Ronstadt overnight, supposedly because recording with Nelson Riddle changed her image away from something a hip rock station should play. Urban stations have to be a bit more careful when they make those changes, and when they omit artists who have broadened their appeal.

Your plans for the station's continued growth and image-building must include the aging process. That's important for those 25-54 demos. And it's amazing how urban stations in markets like Washington, DC, Atlanta, Chicago, Birmingham, Memphis and Detroit all fare extremely well in the adult demos. This tends to prove that, contrary to what a lot of agencies would have us believe when they eliminate us from their buys, that urban music is more than just teen-appeal music.

One of the things your ears will tell you immediately is whether the sound of a new song or artist fits the image of your radio station. We all like to play that "safe song," and when we go on a song right out of the box, it's important to know that the sound, if not the artist's image, is consistent with our core audience's tastes at the time. But to always sound fresh, hip and "with it," it's important to keep up with all the trends.

Research will help you find the hits your ears may not hear and keep you on top of your listeners' changing tastes. You may find, for example, that some of your goldens and long-term recurrents are beginning to lose their appeal, either because they've been overplayed, or because their sound is dated, and the new audience doesn't relate as well to them as the generation they replaced. It is important to get them out of there, for a while, at least. Whatever form it takes, your research should include lifestyle and perception as well as musical preferences. It may seem like more work than you have the time or desire to do, but it's well worth it. It could mean job security and greater opportunities in the future. And it could mean one more thing--keeping you from being the wrong type of "yes man" and "yes woman"...the kind who kisses the boss on all cheeks. ●

JONATHAN BUTLER

LIES

JONATHAN BUTLER - Lies (Jive) The Butler did it again - returning this time with all the evidence that he needs to produce a felon - he should be attacking the chart in no time.

RANDY CRAWFORD - Almaz (Warner Bros.) Besides being easy to see why this was so big in England, anyone who enjoys nice instrumentation with a lovely voice can't help but pick it to be big. The lingering piano at the end adds yet another touch of class.

NO SOVEREIGN - Showdown (Geffen) Our "adventure" choice for this week, this appeals to the masses enjoying the familiar sound of today. Sounds a lot like it was born and raised on "The Q's" farm.

URBAN CONTEMPORARY SUMMARY

That top five chart listing is about as tight as you're likely to see on these pages. It's anybody's guess as to who will have a strong week following this one and remain in the top five. ATLANTIC STARR, besides being the most requested single at nearly every Urban Contemporary station in the country, is "going to be huge for Top 40," to quote our Editor of that section. It would be strong enough to remain at the number one spot for a good two to three weeks, except for the looks of the following records: SMOKEY ROBINSON, LUTHER VANDROSS with GREGORY HINES, and ANITA BAKER. Each, in its own right, is very, very strong and the PRINCE, even though going down, still had huge points in stats and airplay. If you read in last week's Summary how the Hit Factor of a record is achieved each week, you'll probably understand why the top five is such a tight squeeze. Here are the Hit Factor stats for the top eight charted records: ATLANTIC STARR = 97%...SMOKEY ROBINSON = 96%...LUTHER VANDROSS = 97%...ANITA BAKER = 92%...PRINCE =

100%...SYSTEM = 95%...PATRICE RUSHEN = 92%...CAMEO = 94%.

The fact that so many of these major hits are scoring such high Hit Factors helps to explain why the top of the chart has such a bottleneck. HUGE, HUGE week for LISA LISA AND CULT JAM, moving 26-14, and take a look at the request action reported by many of you: Nick Granger, WBMS-Wilmington, says all demos; Stan Tompkins, WTOY-Roanoke, says huge calls from 12+; Tony Brown, WBLX-Mobile, reports teens calling for it; Steve Harris, WCIN-Cincinnati, says, "They're calling in from teensville;" Costee McNair, WBIL-Tuskegee, says LISA is doing well on the request line; Bill Black, WXVI-Montgomery, says it's in his hottest request count; and Pete Rhodes, CBLS-Minneapolis, says, "Old and young, they're all calling in for it--It's going to be number one in no time!" SHIRLEY MURDOCK has a great story: "As We Lay" was one of the greatest tunes on the radio, grabbing the number one spot on the request lines everywhere it was played. Now "Go On

Without You" looks like it will be EVEN STRONGER! It jumps from 24-17 on the chart. Licia Torres, KJLH-Los Angeles, reports huge female 18-34 requests, James Alexander, WJLB-Detroit, reports it was his most requested, and the list goes on. SURFACE is getting good phones, too, according to James, and Cy Young, WQQK/FM-Nashville, says the SURFACE "is smokin' on the request line." Gary Young, WLUM-Milwaukee, called in with his heaviest requests for THE WHISPERS' new one, "Rock Steady," and says they're from the 18-49 demos. DAVID SANBORN's "Chicago Song" had such a good time this week, he jumped from Up & Coming, right past Chartbound, and landed on the chart at number 39. So did CLAUDJA BARRY's "Can't You Hear My Heartbeat," following him at number 40. Both have a huge potential for continued growth next week. CLUB NOUVEAU's "Why You Treat Me So Bad"--which would have been fourth Most Added if we had a listing down to four--logs in its first week out with 18 adds. Betty

LATE FLASH

The St. Jude High School in Montgomery, Alabama, once again beat the WQIM-Montgomery staff basketball team - this time 93-92 in the last six seconds of the hot re-match. This is number two in the "Do'it It For J.C." fund raiser for Jarret "J. C." Carter, the 16-year old athlete paralyzed by an injury sustained during a football game last October. They raised over $2,000 with a capacity crowd for this second event.

PROMOTIONS

by LISA SMITH and BETTY HOLLARS

I-98 morning man Pete Nicols and the lucky winner of the Pink Flamingo Award.

SPOTLIGHT PROMOTION OF THE WEEK

You don't have to give away big prizes--or tasteful ones--to have a successful promotion. WILI/FM-Willimantic, CT, even managed to do away with listener participation--at least the human kind. Finalists in 195's "Funniest Phone Answering Machine Contest" ranged from The Curser, with an X-rated message unsuitable for family radio, to The Philosopher, which contemplated whether or not a message should be left. The grand prize went to an outstanding imitation of Curly from The Three Stooges. The machine's owner was awarded the prestigious "Pink Flamingo Award," with a crew from WILI/FM on hand to celebrate Installation Day in proper tacky style.

KROF's Cupid & The Heart Patrol

CUPID & THE HEART PATROL ▲

KROF made this Valentine's Day a special one for some lucky listeners in Abbeville, Louisiana. On February 13th, five winners who called in after hearing "Cupid's Arrow Jingle" were awarded "Loving Touch" packages for their sweethearts. Early the next morning, Anthony Keith and Betty Droussard, KROF's "Cupid & The Heart Patrol," hit the streets, delivering flowers, candy, coupons good for a dinner for two, loving messages from the winners, and--a final touch--"The Touch" LP from Alabama.

WJLB MORNING HOST ◀ BEHIND BARS

Some jocks keep in touch with their listeners' tastes by hanging out in bars. WJLB-Detroit morning man Mason takes a different approach. He volunteered to be incarcerated behind bars during the American Cancer Society's "Great American Lock-Up." His six-hour stay in jail raised $1400 from WJLB listeners calling in donations--the most money collected by any celebrity jailbird participating in the event. The three day promotion brought in more than $95,000 to fight cancer.

WHO'S GOT THE SPIRIT? ►

One way to boost morale is to have your station played over the PA system at the local high school. WMEQ-Menomonie, WI, found a way to broadcast to two schools at once. Just before a big regional basketball game between two local arch-rival high schools, the station sponsored a school spirit contest between the school's cheerleading squads. Each squad was invited to the station and allowed two cheers on the air. Says WMEQ's Ron Revere: "Guess what? It ended in a tie!" The station came out a winner, though: Classes were halted at both schools during the cheer-off while WMEQ was piped into classrooms.

For the month of April, WUSL (Power 99FM)-Philadelphia, in conjunction with CHOICE (a local reproduction health and child care agency), has produced a series of public service announcements about the consequences of teen pregnancy. Besides airing "Choice Facts" three times daily, the station is distributing hundreds of Power 99FM/CHOICE posters throughout the city. Says PD Tony Quartarone: "Radio has the power to influence these kids, and that's exactly what we're trying to do."

BON BIRTHDAY, JON

► WJET/FM-Erie, PA, is out to prove that almost any event can be turned into a charity fundraiser. To celebrate Jon Bon Jovi's birthday February 28th, the station asked fans to donate a dollar each to the Muscular Dystrophy Association and get a chance to sign a 14-foot birthday card. More than 300 fans turned out for the signing, including Martha Sharkey, Jon's grandmother, who just happens to be a resident of Erie.

DAVE SHOLIN'S Personal Picks — SINGLES

T'PAU - Heart And Soul (Virgin) Devoted Trekkies will remember an episode in which Mr. Spock gets involved with a Vulcan princess named T'Pau. The group of the same name hails from an area closer to home—a few miles outside London. Veteran producer Roy Thomas Baker highlights lead vocalist Carol Decker with an arrangement that is captivating from beginning to end. Nothing beats originality!

BILLY IDOL - Sweet Sixteen (Chrysalis) Quantum Media's Les Garland touted this track to me while he was still at MTV late last year. It instantly became my favorite cut from the magnificent "Whiplash Smile" LP. Almost certain to capture a new segment of the adult audience for rock's leading rebel.

CROWDED HOUSE - Something So Strong (Capitol) I'll admit, I had to hear their first hit on the radio before it sunk in (with Ron shouting "I told you so" from the sideline). But as a fan of Neil Finn's original band, Split Enz, it's great seeing him achieve well-deserved success. Strong melody, strong chorus...a strong followup.

THE TRUTH - Weapons Of Love (I.R.S./MCA) Album Radio got this one off to a hot start, and now it's time to get Top 40's attention. Clean, straight-ahead rock 'n' roll reminiscent of old Foreigner and Bad Company. Perfect for a hot summer night.

LATE ARRIVAL!

RAY STEVENS - Would Jesus Wear A Rolex (MCA) When it comes to turning out genuine novelty classics, this man is the undisputed master of the genre. Though writing credits go to Country great Chet Atkins and Margaret Archer, Ray handled the arranging and production end of things. Timing is obviously perfect based around the news of the last month. Your morning team should have loads of fun with this one.

RON FELL'S Personal Picks — ALBUMS

FLEETWOOD MAC - Tango In The Night (Warner Brothers) Every few years, five strong-willed musicians gather to practice the fine art of teamwork and compromise. John McVie and Mick Fleetwood, stoic symbols of patient rhythm, give the music its foundation. Christine McVie bridges the gap between the wise old men and the prodigious prodigies, Stevie Nicks and Lindsey Buckingham. Under Buckingham's baton, they've made a brilliant album. More than any other Family Mac collection, this set showcases the writing of Christine McVie—prime examples are Little Lies, Isn't It Midnight, You and I Part II and Everywhere. Stevie Nicks' strongest contribution is Seven Wonders, a paean to the pleasures of an ancient relationship.

DAVID BOWIE - Never Let Me Down (EMI America)

From the theater of absurd reality, Bowie gives thespian testimony to the perils of self-indulgence and the ever-popular abuse of substances and relationships. Bowie has a way of getting people to dance to bizarre parcels of lyric by setting them all to ballistic rhythm tracks. It must be a strange experience to witness people in a dervish trance, oblivious to the point of his pen. Check out Day-In Day-Out, Time Will Crawl, Never Let Me Down, New York's In Love, Too Dizzy.
