SHAKEUP AT KBEQ/KBZR

The Noble Broadcast Group announced a major shakeup at its highly rated Kansas City stations KBEQ/FM and KBZR/AM.

On Monday, November 20 Thomas McKinley stepped in as General Manager of both stations replacing David Small, and Noble VP/National Programming is replacing Program Director Kevin Kenney until a new PD is named.

Although KBEQ enjoys the second largest audience in Kansas City, Noble expressed displeasure in the handling of recent promotions by releasing Small and Kenney. "We felt that a change in leadership was necessary to allow these highly ranked stations to achieve their full potential," said Noble CEO John T. Lynch. "We believe that steps can and should be taken to assure that we fully serve the needs of the community and our listeners."

The Gavin Report reached McKinley and Laurence in Kansas City, but neither would comment on Noble's decision. "We don't feel we should dwell on the past," said Laurence.

McKinley is a former President of Group W Sales. "He brings a clear understanding of Noble's commitment to community service," said Lynch.

PEAKES PEAKS AT KRQ

The highly-coveted PD position at KRQ-Tucson, arguably the country's highest-rated Top 40 station, has been snapped up by John Peake. Currently, Peake is Program Director of WAPI/FM (I-95) in Birmingham, Alabama. He replaces Clarke Ingram, who is now PD at B94-Pittsburgh.

"We are very excited about having John's contribution and expect his leadership to take KRQ to the next level of success," said station GM Clancy Woods, who took his time and interviewed countless candidates.

"I'm really excited to go to work for Nationwide, Guy Zapoleon and Clancy Woods," Peake told the Gavin Report. "They have a fantastic team there, and it's a great radio station with a great winning tradition and I'm looking forward to going in there and continuing that."

Peake has been at I-95 for two years, one as Program Director. Before that he spent six years at Q-107-Washington, DC.

At KRQ's AM sister KNST, Mike McCarthy has been appointed to the newly-created post

Quartararo Prepares Charisma, Plen Virgin Vice President

Phil Quartararo

Michael Plen

This week Virgin Records made Michael Plen's appointment to Vice President, Promotion official. The move had been expected for weeks.

Plen has been with the label since the opening of their U.S. offices. As Vice President, Field Promotion, he's worked on the successful campaigns of Paula Abdul, Ziggy Marley and Neneh Cherry. "After fifteen years in the business it's great to get a shot at running the Promotion Department of the hippest music label in the business," he said.

"Michael has played an important role in the great success we've enjoyed as a label," said Virgin Senior Vice President Sales and Marketing Jim Swindel. "His understanding of the music and his sheer enthusiasm are qualities that make him a greatly effective promotion strategist."

Also bubbling at Virgin is the coming announcement of label expansion into a second label, Charisma, to be headed up by current Senior Vice President Marketing and Promotion Phil Quartararo. Although details have not been finalized, Quartararo has let it be known that Charisma will begin operation in January, 1990, and he will relocate to New York.

Operations Manager. "He knows the format, he knows the market, and we look forward to having his creativity in the building every day," said Woods.

McCarthy replaces Harry Alexander, who returns to his position of News Director.

From Gray To Brown

BROWN KISSED IN NEW YORK

Programmer Vinny Brown, who has worked in Washington, Pittsburgh and Hartford, has accepted the Program Director slot at WRKS-KISS-FM/New York. He replaces Tony Gray, who left the station a month ago to form his own consultancy. Brown was Music Director at the station.

Charles M. Warfield, Jr., General Manager of the Urban outlet, said, "Vinny is a true radio veteran with all the talent and skills necessary to launch KISS-FM into the nineties. We are fortunate to have an opportunity to promote from within, so the transition's a swift and smooth one."

Brown has been in radio for thirteen years, and has worked in programming, production and community service. "I'm both proud and honored to have an opportunity to program WRKS-FM, New York's leading Urban radio station and enthusiastically accept the challenge," said Brown. "KISS has been a dynamic force in the eighties and we're going to amaze the industry in the nineties."

KRAMPF BECOMES AN OWNER

Ed Krampf, Vice President and General Manager of Alternative station Live 105 in San Francisco, has joined a growing number of his colleagues by becoming a station owner. He's purchased KXPT, an existing station in Oxnard/Ventura, CA. His title will be President and General Manager.

"I formed a company called Express Broadcasting. I'm very excited—it's the next logical step for me," said Krampf, who's been with Live 105 for six years, five as General Manager.

Krampf closes escrow on KXPT in mid-January, 1990. He plans to stay on at Live 105 at least for a month. "I'm going to be leaving my heart here," he said. "I don't intend to disassociate myself from the people here. I'll be as much of a resource as they want me to be."

Since Krampf will be new to the Oxnard/Ventura market, he has made no programming decisions as of yet, opting to wait until he gets there to assess the situation with the outlet's current staff.

Before moving over to Live 105, Krampf held down Account Executive positions in San Francisco at K-101 and KYUU (now X-100) so the departure is bittersweet. "I've had the opportunity to associate with what I feel is the greatest radio station in the world, and some of the most talented people," he said. "We've accomplished a lot. The next person will be capable of taking the station to a higher level. I don't think we've maximized our potential. They'll inherit a tremendous task and a nice, warm bunch of people."

INSIDE TOP 40 by Dave Sholin

Compared to this decade, during the seventies Top 40 remained relatively stable in terms of formatics and musical approach. Fractionalization of playlists, reinforced by on-air attitude which compliments musical direction, has been the trend for at least five of the past ten years. Turning back the Top 100 pages to the first half of the eighties, especially the first several years, we see many of the biggest hits reflect the then conservative programming mood at many stations. In their zeal to increase and maintain "adult" listenership, playlists tightened, music softened and PD's, encouraged by management, relied more than ever before or since on passive listeners to help determine what to play. In 1980 the Top Ten contained Barbra Streisand's "Woman In Love," Dan Fogelberg's "Longer," Ambrosia's "Biggest Part Of Me" and Kenny Roger's "Lady." A year later not much had changed. More than half of the Top Ten were ballads. In all too many instances, stations that veered off target, lost focus and blurred their image found that softening up in the extreme delivered disastrous results. Nearly ten years and numerous fine tuning adjustments later, Top 40 braces itself to enter the nineties, a time when more Americans than ever will enter their forties. Cheryl Russell, Editor-In-Chief of American Demographics Magazine, predicts the 18 to 34 year-old market will lose an estimated $100 billion worth of spending power during the next decade. On the other hand, spending power of the 35 to 54 cell will increase nearly three times that amount annually by the year 2000. The viability of maintaining the format's traditionally wide demographic appeal will continue to be a bone of contention within the industry. However, those who toss aside old assumptions, learn from the mistakes of the early eighties and initiate smart, well thought out marketing strategies will stand the best chance of prospering and surviving what's best been described as "the middle-aging of America."

The December issue of Vanity Fair features a 44-page spread titled "The Media Decade." Included among those in their "1989 Hall Of Fame" are Michael Jackson; Steve Ross, Co-Chairman and Co-CEO, Time Warner Inc.; David Geffen, Chairman, the David Geffen Company and Video Vixen—MTV Girls, better known as the Robert Palmer video models. Stunning photography by Annie Leibowitz accompanies each profile.

P.D. NOTEBOOK

by Eric Norberg

MAILBAG: THE FINAL FRONTIER

From George Feola, Program Director of KAGO/FM in Klamath Falls, Oregon:

"I read the 'So Are You Saying It When You Play It' column in the July 7 Gavin, and here at KAGO, saying it when we play it falls in naturally, without any real effort or forethought on our parts.

"Our clock is designed so that we break every song, either with talent or with liners. We use the crush and roll sequence. One of the basics instilled into all our personalities is: (a) call letters, and (b) getting in title and artist before you close the mike. This is very effective, and has become second nature for all the jocks.

"Our new music is posted at :24 so that it has its own specific break, and it is mandatory that the air talent front-announce the song as a 'hittrack', and give artist and title. With record sales such an important factor in the business, 'clutter, drag, or slowing down the format' can be eliminated from the analysis. Program Directors began to look at that when the A/C formats began to evolve, and particularly 'green' air talent used the artist/title raps as a crutch for doing breaks or segues. [Today's talent] is better trained to overcome this 'crutch' syndrome.

"Say it when you play it' hasn't hurt us. In fact, we are one of the few stations in this area that makes it a habit, and the audience does respond."

The music industry campaign has certainly played a part in the recent trend toward revival of announcing music, but it is clearly in radio's own interest, as George points out, to provide a service that research consistently shows the listeners want and appreciate!

Now, if George will write back and explain "the crush and roll sequence"...! Maybe I'm the only one who doesn't know, but I'm really curious!

Here are portions of a letter received from someone with an AM station in the United States who wishes to remain anonymous:

"I would like to see you devote some of your articles in Gavin to the survival of the AM radio stations which continue to play a good deal of music. As you know, many in radio believe AM will be all-news/all-talk, home shopping, etc., in a short matter of time. I believe you do not totally agree, and I feel sure you don't recommend that all AM's start playing less and less music.

"The reason I am writing is that the AM station I work for is gradually slipping, but I don't believe it has to... We have a minimum staff now, but the ownership doesn't intend to replace anyone when they leave, which will be devastating. For example, we do local news every hour. We have a full-time News Director who competes with a two-person news department across town (and does a good job!); but our Manager would consider dropping local news if our News Director left. Also, he's talking about going satellite during midday and nights. I'm not totally opposed to that if it's done correctly, but I'd prefer to stay live..."

The letter goes on, but the writer is correct that I don't feel the future for mass-appeal music programming on AM is weak. A/C in particular works well—if the music is chosen and programmed correctly. I've written quite a bit on this topic in recent years, and I don't want to be dogmatic about it, but I have found a somewhat plainer way to explain the difference in the way adults use music radio on AM and on FM. Here it is:

Adults tend to turn on the FM when their minds are going to be actively involved in tasks, and thus FM works best as a texture, minimizing interruptions and content, emphasizing the smooth flow. BUT, adults still tend to turn on the AM when they are engaged in relatively mindless activities, such as driving, doing yardwork, washing the dishes and so forth. This means that AM has more firmly defined listening periods, and listening spans can't be lengthened as FM spans can, but it can be made up in cume.

Note that although this (researched and accurate) explanation of mine does explain why talk formats work better on AM than on FM, and explains why AM attempts to copy FM formats has resulted in the nosedive of AM radio, it also clearly shows a strength AM can exploit at the expense of FM in music radio: BE interesting! Have (concise) content! Have regular newscasts! (And emphasize local news.) Have contrast between songs, rather than an unobtrusive modal flow! If FM gets interesting, it tends to be handicapped; if AM gets interesting, ratings go up. I see AM radio developing niches and finding new ways to serve pockets of audience, and that's exciting—but there still is room for the mass appeal adult AM station, too, provided it recognizes the differences in listener expectations between AM and FM—and emphasizes what listeners expect of AM!

Unfortunately, at the station this correspondent works for, there is an entirely different problem too—as the writer adds, "The Manager thinks that if it can't be sold, people don't care for it—news, talk shows, music specials." There is a mindset some radio management have, that "everyone wants to have radio advertising." This suggests that salespeople need only be order-takers. This also suggests that such management is terrible! And it's no surprise the letter goes on to note "the sales staff is weak." What listeners like is what the station presents as "inventory"—and it's up to the sales staff to sell everything in their inventory! When salespeople take the easy way out and just sell spot packages, leaving those specials unsold, it means they are not maximizing their inventory—which means the Sales Manager needs to lead them to do so, not eliminate the programming the sales staff prefers not to bother to sell!

HERE AND THERE

by Sheila Rene

Melissa Etheridge has been in the right place at the right time throughout her career. It was no different on Sunday, November 12, 1989 when she performed for tens of thousands of newly reunited Germans from both sides of Berlin during what may be the most important historical event of our lifetime. The concert at the indoor arena, Deutschlandhalle, was put together on a day's notice by the city of West Berlin and the city's music industry. The indoor arena filled to its 12,000 capacity, while outdoors an additional PA system was brought in so thousands more could hear. Other artists performing included major acts from East and West Germany such as Bap, Tote Hosen and Nina Hagen, as well as England's Joe Cocker and Canada's Andrew Cash. West German radio broadcasted the concert live. Melissa and her band were the only Americans to perform. She closed her set with the words, "Frieden und freiheit—jetzt und fur immer" or Peace and freedom—now and forever!

The new Phil Collins album...But Seriously tells it all. Collins is first and foremost a great wit. Produced by Collins and Hugh Padgham, the album was recorded at The Farm in Surrey, England and at A&M Studios in Los Angeles. Guests include Eric Clapton, Stephen Bishop, David Crosby and Steve Winwood. And besides wit, Phil handles vocals, keyboards, drums and percussion. This album's bound to be "Another Day In Paradise."

Country Stuff: Suzy Bogguss is in the studio with producer Wendy Waldman. Dan Seals, Ricky Skaggs and Chet Atkins are joining in on the project. Seals is finishing up his own album with producer Kyle Lehning...Tanya Tucker and producer Jerry Crutchfield are hard at work on her targeted February release...Mel McDaniel is woodshedding with Jerry Kennedy between performance dates. The project should wrap up in November...You have to wait until January 10 for Barbara Mandrell's Morning Sun...

Warner Bros. artists Southern Pacific and The Doobie Brothers have announced a special pay-per-view cable television show which will air live on January 25, 1990. The show will be shot at Pearl Harbor and proceeds will benefit the Vietnam Vets Foundation. Southern Pacific drummer Keith Knudsen serves on the board of directors for the foundation. Look for the fourth project from Keith and the boys to be released by January 16.

If you've run out of great threads read on. Poison drummer Rikki Rockett has formed a partnership with skateboarder-turned-designer John A. Grigley to establish Old Ghosts Designs. For those skull and crossbones and death mask motifs write to the company at 812 N. Martel, #5, Los Angeles, CA 90046... ▶

Bits & Pieces: Poco has just announced a tour with EMI artist Richard Marx that kicks off January 24 in Battle Creek, MI. Michael Bay directed the video for "Nothin' To Hide," the second single from their RCA album Legacy... Jive/RCA artist Too Short (an Oakland native) has donated all royalties from his single, "Oakland, City Of Dope" to the Bay Area Red Cross Earthquake Relief Fund... Eddie Fisher (now a San Francisco resident), Connie Stevens and their children Joely Fisher and Tricia Leigh Fisher gave a rare headline concert performance at Club DV8 in SF recently. The show benefited the American Red Cross... Bay Area promoter Bill Graham is currently working on more earthquake relief shows that will include The Grateful Dead, Santana and Huey Lewis and The News... Bullet Lavolta provided the background music for Malcolm Forbes' recent bash celebrating the release of the Harvard National Lampoon issue parodying Forbes Magazine's "400 Richest Americans"

Eric Clapton's new Duck/Reprise album Journeyman is spinning everywhere. His 26 year career of musical and humanitarian achievements continue to astound. Clapton has tapped some great writers as well as some great supporting players, including Robert Cray, Daryl Hall, George Harrison, Phil Collins, Chaka Khan, Richard Tee, and Jim Keltner. Clapton will open up 1990 with an incredible 18-night stint at the Albert Hall, and then he'll tour the USA, Europe and South America. ●

MOONLIGHTING

DATABASE MARKETING

While reading the September issue of American Demographics magazine, I saw an ad for Epsilon, a firm that claims to be the leader in database direct marketing. What caught my attention was a photograph of a tiny neighborhood market with the storekeeper handing a bag of groceries to a woman customer.

From the decor and the way they were dressed, you could tell this photo was taken in the late '30s. The copy under the picture referred to the days when the neighborhood grocery store owner knew you by name and reserved special items like the best tomatoes or the last newspaper just for you. Because of the way you were treated you went out of your way to give him your business and bring him new customers.

The neighborhood grocery store owner found out what you wanted and gave it to you—a sound business strategy.

In the October issue of American Demographics, Editor Cheryl Russell warns of something called "The Fifth Medium." That refers to all the communication possibilities that are translatable on phone lines. These communication likelihoods include computer games, Fax and on-line information services including ordering groceries and other necessities. Eventually, cable television will be on phone lines. Ms. Russell says, "The companies now building databases of individual customer information will be the business leaders of the next century."

I believe the radio programmers that will succeed in the '90s are those programmers who know their listeners intimately, just like the neighborhood grocer in Epsilon's ad.

A database of current listeners can be manipulated into performing certain actions to the station's benefit. A radio station with a strategic plan using database marketing can find and develop new listeners without having to resort to the always costly and sometimes ineffectiveness of television advertising.

Even when thousands and thousands of dollars are spent tactically, strategically and wisely on television, you never know just how many of your prime prospective listeners saw your message. With database marketing, you're assured that 100% of those that received your message were prime prospects!

Undoubtedly, your radio station already has hundreds, perhaps thousands of names and addresses of your listeners. If you load this information onto some software in your computers, you can begin building a database market plan immediately.

There are several software programs available, but one I saw in New Orleans during the N.A.B. is designed specifically for radio. It's called Audience Trac TM from Loyalty Marketing Systems, near San Francisco. Best of all, its introductory price is only $375.00 plus maintenance fees. (Call 415-793-7088 for more information.)

Among many features, Audience Trac TM allows you to enter responses to telemarketing calls or call-out research, frequent listeners information, work addresses, phone and fax numbers and their buying preferences for over 45 custom product categories.

In database marketing systems for radio it's best to compile your listeners into various groupings—for example, prime, secondary and tertiary users of your station.

The Prime users are those for whom your station is the first choice, and from whom you derive the greatest amount of quarter hours. You'll want your "p1" listeners separate from your "p2" and "p3" folks, for their likes and dislikes about your station will be extremely disparate.

Afterwards you'll want to enter all of the things you want to know about them. For example, marital status, income levels, dayparts in which they listen most, length of their commute to work, favorite artists, birthdays and much, much more.

Not only can this type of information be useful to programmers, but let's imagine a couple of other uses, ones deriving additional income. For example, a new artist is coming into a venue in your city. Sell the promoter a mailing or a call-out from your station announcing the show to fans of that act. Just for being one of your frequent listeners they'll have a head start on ticket sales.

Or, a new auto dealership is opening and you know you have 1750 listeners who like the type of car the new dealer offers. Sell the dealer a mailing or a call-out! Of course, you get a time buy as well.

I'm sure you're beginning to see the uses. If you need specific high cuming promotions, personal appearance draws, crowds for your charitable events, persons to carry your call letters and listeners who develop a tremendous brand of loyalty toward you, database marketing is the answer.

Now comes the hard part. Keeping it up.

Someone needs to be assigned the task of maintaining the database, keeping it fluid, always moving. New information constantly needs to be added, non-respondents deleted. Mailings and call-outs should occur on a regular basis.

This type of activity requires a long-term commitment of time and money to fully develop permanent relationships with your listeners, but when it does, the loyalty factor will protect the core of listeners for a long, long time.

If the cost of surveying your listener base for their characteristics is too prohibitive, you can use the Zip Codes of your listeners for designing a Cluster-Based profile. Demographers know that people of like characteristics tend to reside near each other.

You can order a Zip Code Sourcebook from CACI Market Analysis of Fairfax, Virginia for $295.00. The Sourcebook contains a profile of every Zip Code in the U.S.A. Income and buying power, socio-economic information, demographics, population and housing are printed in an easy to read form.

If you're in an Arbitron rated market, a "Fingerprint" would be extremely useful for you to know the Zips of your p1 users. Although clustering is not the best method of deriving information about your database, it's the least expensive and yet still effective method.

Finally, a warning. When you've developed this base to its full potential, someone, somewhere is going to want it. They'll offer you a handsome sum of money to have access to your database. Please don't sell it. These listeners of yours are there for your needs. They give you their loyalty and trust. Don't violate it. ●

●GRAHAM PARKER

Graham is also a novelist, having written The Great Trouser Mystery which was published back in 1982.

●JOHN TESH

Tesh appears as a television news anchor in the latest Wes Craven flick, "Shocker."

●THE WHO

The Who's farewell/reunion tour, originally scheduled to end this year, will now run through June of next year. Dates in Europe, Australia and Japan have been added.

●MILLI VANILLI

The duo's debut album, "Girl You Know It's True," now has certified sales of 3 million units.

NEW RELEASES

by Brian Samson and John Martinucci

PAULA ABDUL - Opposites Attract (Virgin)
Now here's a lady who put her album to good use. Her multi-platinum record has seen success on Urban as well as Top 40 Radio. Here Paula teams up with M.C. Skat Kat and The Wild Pair. Out-of-the-box adds this week alone makes her one of the most added records.

SOUL II SOUL - Jazzie's Groove (Virgin)

After achieving #1 and #2 singles, Soul II Soul is off and running with a third. Jazzie's Groove is just that—a groooove. Light on lyrics, but heavy on the beat. Gittin funky!

ORAN "JUICE" JONES - Pipe Dreams (OBR/Columbia)

One of the fastest growing problems in this country is crack! Many artists have sang of the no-win drug situation. Though we haven't heard from him since '87, "Juice" rises to the occasion with his anti-drug entry, Pipe Dreams. In the intro, Jones says "...not to glorify crack, but to destroy it." Samples include the theme to the TV show Barretta.

SURFACE - Can We Spend Some Time (Columbia)

The kings of slow Dance music sure know how to dish up a ballad. From their current album, 2nd Wave, Surface has had three singles inside the Top 5, and recently had a #1 single with "You Are My Everything." Bernard asks the universal question, "Can we spend some time (together)?" Take a listen. The response will be obvious.

ON RATINGS AND RESEARCH

by Jhan Hiber

FIRST ANNUAL RESEARCH QUIZ

It's time to check your ratings and research quotient, dear readers.

Yes, since February you've been exposed to this column. Lots of ideas, concepts and definitions have been shared with you. Judging by the calls, letters and Faxes we receive, you're enjoying this feature—but now let's see how much you're retaining.

It's quiz time!

THE RULES:

Each Fall, beginning with this column, we'll have an Annual Research Quiz. The rules are simple, the questions may not be, and the rewards for winning are stupendous (well, sort of, given the budget yours truly has to work with).

- There will be 10 questions of varying types. All answers will be from material discussed in my past columns.
- The person who gets the most right wins.
- In case of a tie the tiebreaker will be in effect.
- The winner will be publicly honored on this page and will receive a certificate to document the occasion.
- In the column wherein the winner is announced, all the correct answers will be revealed—so that all may learn from the exercise.

Nothing to it, eh? Then good luck to all.

THE QUIZ:

1. Describe the different ways the term "ratings can be used in our business.

2. What is the difference between how programmers use the terms "ratings" and "shares"?

3. Which of the following formats is likely to have a higher TSL (time spent listening)? Check one response.

- News
- Country
- Top 40

4. Define "cume".

5. Which of these days is least important in most typical Arbitron surveys? Check one response.

- Saturday
- Monday
- Friday

6. Birch ratings are based on telephone calls asking people about their radio listening during the last seven days. Check one.

- True
- False

7. In Arbitron results, most stations see % of their diaries account for % of their quarter hours. (Fill in the blanks.)

8. Both Arbitron and Birch survey everyone in a designated household who's age 12 or over. Check one.

- True
- False

9. Successful stations rarely have over % of their listeners who tune in for just one day. (Fill in the blank.)

10. List three ways broadcasters can do post survey analysis on an Arbitron book's results.

Tiebreaker. Explain the historical reason for the use of "average quarter hour" concept in measuring audiences.

HOW TO ENTER

Once you've completed our little mindbender here's what you do...

- Either mail me your entries (keep a copy for yourself) to 1617 Wesley Avenue, Sea Four, Ocean City, NJ 08226.
- Or Fax your sheet to our office at 609-399-9504.

Entry deadline will be December 11. The winner (and correct replies) will be disclosed in the December 22 issue, our last of the year.

By the way, be sure to let us know who is entering, and from what station. Seems simple, but I'll bet we get a Fax from someone on a blank sheet, with no name/station. Let us know who you are.

Have fun!

P.S.

Lately a large number have been requesting copies of past columns they may have missed. Several have asked whether Gavin could even put out a compilation of my columns, especially the "Ratings 101" series.

GAVIN to the rescue! I have it on good authority that at the Seminar in San Francisco next February you'll be receiving just such a compilation of our columns-to-date. And yours truly is looking forward to meeting many of you who've been in touch.

In the meantime, good luck with the balance of the Fall sweeps (for those of you in affected markets).

See you soon.●

BY RON FELL

RF: How long have you and your brothers been singing together professionally? What were the earliest days?

RG: I think we've been singing together since I was five, Maurice was five and Barry was seven. It's hard to say because it depends on what you call professional. But I guess it would have to be around sixty-five or sixty-six when I was about fourteen.

RF: You and your brothers are thought of as Australians, but your roots are actually in Great Britain, right?

RG: We come from England.

RF: I read somewhere that when you were teenagers the Bee Gees hosted a TV show in Brisbane, is that right?

RG: It was kind of an amateur hour—we called it Happy Hour. We introduced local talent.

RF: Did you actually perform on the show?

RG: We did, yes.

RF: What types of songs were you doing in the early days, before you started recording?

RG: We were doing songs that were already on the radio or songs that we had written ourselves. Then we'd try them out on the audiences at large. But more often they were songs we had written ourselves.

RF: Did the Everly Brothers have an influence on you as a brotherly act?

RG: Yes, but they were earlier. This is a little bit later than the Everly Brothers and the most influence on us came from the Beatles.

RF: When I interviewed Phil Everly he said that the harmonies they acquired can only come from siblings. Yet it must be possible to get those kind of natural harmonies. What do you think?

RG: There's an argument against that. Listen to the harmonies of the Beatles—they were tremendous. They weren't always four-part, and it wasn't always the four Beatles singing together. Basically all the harmonies came from John and Paul. John and Paul would double track and sing different harmonies. Any harmonies were done by those two. But the actual sound came when they got together in their raw state. It's not really a sibling thing to me, it's geographic—where people come from and if they grow up together, you can actually get the same kind of vocal tones.

RF: We think of people from England or Australia as having very Probably more than any other popular music group in the history of music, the Bee Gees have experienced the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat.

Barry, Maurice and Robin—the Brothers Gibb—have been creating truly great music for nearly a quarter of a century. In just their first ten months (between May, 1967 and March, 1968) they had five top twenty hits: NEW YORK MINING DISASTER 1941, TO LOVE SOMEBODY, HOLIDAY, MASSACHUSETTS and WORDS.

Ten top five songs later, in 1977, the Bee Gees began a string of six straight number one singles, beginning with no less than three tracks from the soundtrack to a relatively low-budget film, "Saturday Night Fever," which starred John Travolta.

With the immense success of SNF and the music submitted by the Gibbs, an entire era, the Disco era, became the most significant fusion of music and lifestyle since the tie-dyed counterculture of the love-bead generation almost a decade earlier.

To hear Robin Gibb talk in this exclusive Gavin interview, you get the distinct feeling that the brothers were overwhelmed with their success.

Unfairly blamed for the popularization of Disco music, the Gibbs entered the eighties with a public relations nightmare—how to live down their success. A jaded media gave them no slack, despite heroic efforts as songwriters/producers for the likes of Kenny Rogers and Dolly Parton's ISLANDS IN THE STREAM, Barbra Streisand's "Guilty" album and million-selling albums by Diana Ross and Dionne Warwick.

In 1987 the brothers began their comeback as recording artists with the Arif Mardin-produced "ESP" album. Mardin had played a significant role in their pre-SNF epic, "Main Course." "ESP" proved to reintroduce the Bee Gees to a large worldwide audience, but it failed to spark stateside critical acclaim. To complete their comeback, the Bee Gees next released their self-produced album "One" with its recent number one single of the same title.

The Bee Gees have truly come back. We recently interviewed Robin Gibb who was about to embark, with brothers Barry and Maurice, on the second leg of a major world tour.

thick accents, yet somehow when they're singing there doesn't seem to be the accent. I've never been able to explain that.

RG: Accents don't really come out in singing.

RF: I know you're the archivist of the family in the sense that you've been able to chronicle all your chart successes and failures. What would you consider to be the greatest moments of satisfaction as a group? And the greatest disappointment?

RG: I think the greatest disappointment to me was the backlash after (Saturday Night) Fever, which I thought was unfounded. We had so much success on a regular basis, not on a dramatic level but on a continual level, before Fever. We never really looked at Fever as a vehicle for the Bee Gees to make a career move, because when we were actually recording the tracks for Fever we were making a new studio album. So we never knew anything about Fever, and we were following up on a legitimate top ten album which was also the follow-up to a top ten album. We were just getting on with our career when somebody suggested that they had this film and asked if we would record three songs. Since we didn't have time to sit down and write for them, we decided to give them three songs from our new album.

RF: Did you see the movie before submitting the songs?

RG: No, but it's no different than, say, Prince being approached to write songs for Batman. We were just part of a low budget film that went crazy, and our songs just happened to be a part of it.

RF: The songs themselves were totally ignored by the Oscar process, and I would assume that if "Saturday Night Fever" had been a 1989 film the situation would have been different.

RG: I think they would have acknowledged it this time. But in those days they had a difficult time accepting it because it was still relatively new for a Pop song to be nominated.

RF: What did you think of John Travolta's take-off of you in the movie "Airplane"?

RG: I never really thought of it that way. I just thought he was dancing stupidly to the music.

RF: Would the Bee Gees have survived the downside after Fever if you weren't brothers?

RG: I think we would have because we've worked together since an early age, and I think it was part of our survival kit. I don't think it's because we're brothers that we survived, I think it's because of our musical compatibility and goal orientation.

We're all striving for the same thing.

RF: Because of this unjustified "burn factor", was it better for you to stay away for a while?

RG: We were having a backlash and we were horrified because we had never dealt with this kind of thing before. We were sitting back asking, "Why are they penalizing us for having a successful soundtrack?" We were actually running kind of paranoid in those days, because we couldn't believe this was happening to us. We couldn't really put our finger on it, but we knew it was totally out of control. So we decided, "the only way to fight this is not to fight it."

RF: Yet you continued to stay active as writers and producers.

RG: We stayed active, but we kept on writing through eighty-six and got involved with Diana Ross' "Chain Reaction," which was a huge hit all over the world. Then we started on the ESP album in eighty-seven.

RF: ESP didn't click nearly as much as the new album. What do you think the differences were?

RG: In eighty-one and eighty-two the backlash was really happening. It was the first time a Bee Gees' album had been on radio during all that time, and I really think our image suffered more dramatically in the States. I think it made way for One, not because ESP was successful here, but because it was successful everywhere else. And I don't think radio really saw success until after ESP had come and gone. They had a chance to look back and see what happened everywhere else and realize that it was a world success. But I don't think it was enough for them to decide to play it now. I think it was after the event that they started to look forward and to see what else the Bee Gees would do.

RF: Unfortunately, during this process of recovery, your brother Andy died. As I understand, he was recovering from all of his own personal demons, and the rumor was that he was going to record on the album, is that true?

RG: That's true. We were all going to get together and he was going to record with us. But obviously, for reasons that I shall never know, he just couldn't keep his own personal life together. We tried to help him as much as possible, but there is only so much we could do.

RF: Why hadn't he become a singing partner of yours prior to this?

RG: He didn't want to because he felt he had to prove himself on his own. And yet it was probably that same attitude that killed him, because at the same time he was scared of failing.

RF: There's a similarity between the song that you dedicate to Andy, "Wish You Were Here," and Mike and The Mechanics' "Living Years" in terms of dealing with somebody who has passed away. It's really a classic. Do you see it coming out as a single?

RG: It's a toss up between "Bodyguard" and "Wish You Were Here." We're making up our minds right now. But I do agree with you about the song, it's one of my favorites.

RF: You've been staying pretty active on the road and tomorrow you leave for Australia again. How much longer will you stay out on tour?

RG: This is the last leg. We go to Tokyo and we finish up on December the eighth.

RF: There's a song on the album that refers to your band's popularity in Japan. Have they stayed with you through thick and thin more so than Americans?

RG: On the whole, I think Americans have been pretty loyal. But I think what's happened in America has been this mythical barrier was erected and we had to overcome it. That barrier made people afraid to really like us because of what happened with Fever, and it was not until we broke it down that people were able to like the Bee Gees again. It's difficult to know what's going on in Japan, because I haven't been there for sometime. It's very difficult to read them.

RF: What's 1990 going to hold for the Gibb Brothers?

RG: We're going to continue to work on this album and we start a new one in February. We would also like to collaborate on a film to incorporate our music.

RF: If someone had laid out the future of "Fever" before you were asked to record the songs, would you have continued with the project?

RG: We would have done it. I don't think it was the music. I think that most artists would have given their right arm to do it. But what we would have done is taken control of the image during the success. What happened is that the control of our image got out of hand, and I think now what we should have done is made videos that portrayed us differently than the film did, even though you never saw us. People had a mythical image of the Bee Gees because of what was happening in the film. In those days we should have filmed the video of our idea of how the Bee Gees should look, which would have countered the way people perceived us. And I think that was our biggest mistake—we didn't make videos—and that is what we could have done to control our image.

RF: What does the album title and the smash single "One" mean to the Bee Gees?

RG: It's a unification and that's why we call the album "One." Three brothers, three people thinking as one. That's what it means to us. ●

REVIEWS

LIVING IN A BOX

Room In Your Heart (Chrysalis)

A simple yet powerful melody sung with the extraordinary soul of another blue-eyed English group. Expect female phones with every play.

MAZE featuring FRANKIE BEVERLY Silky Soul (Warner Bros.)

Are we sure Mr. Beverly's middle name isn't Smokey or Marvin? For whatever reason, the Maze catalogue has been the exclusive territory of Urban Radio, but with this track the tide is turnin'. Sweet stuff.

STEPHEN BISHOP

Mister Heartbreak (Atlantic)

The intensity is turned up this time as Stephen sings about losing the right woman by using the wrong attitude.

KENNY G

Going Home (Arista)

From the new "Live" Kenny G album, this lovely instrumental will probably be a chart topper by the beginning of 1990.

SOUL II SOUL

Back To Life (Virgin)

May not be for every Adult Contemporary station but those who can play this single will find a certain resiliency to it. In September it was #1 for the Urban section and is top fifteen for our Top 40 chart this week.

JIVE BUNNY AND THE MASTERMIXERS, RECORD TO WATCH, last week did what's expected of bunnies—multiplication. Picked up 25 ADDs from the likes of WBEC/AM, WELI, WHAI, WCEM/FM, KFYZ, KTKS, KSGT and KITZ. With a total of 63 reports they fit well in the CHARTBOUND section this week. RECORD TO WATCH this week is "Here And Now" by LUTHER VANDROSS. Luther's sexy, soulful voice comes across so clear and this single is already #2 on our Urban Contemporary chart. ADDs from WAHR, WOHS, WTCB, WJTW, WOKZ, KCRE, KKIS, KRNO/FM, WKRM and WMT/FM. Watch this one build and build.

INSIDE A/C

by Ron Fell & Diane Rufer

PHIL COLLINS leaps over RICHARD MARX, (not a pretty sight) to take the number one slot. PHIL does it in just five weeks—the quickest rise to the top of any record this year!!

MICHAEL BOLTON, a 14 to 8 to 5 mover is still pickin' up double digit ADDs. This week the new include KAAC, KAER, KXLK, WMXC, WKIO/FM and KKMK. At it's current growth rate it's bound to go number one.

CHER's latest, "Just Like Jesse James," is showing a stats profile unlike anything she's done recently. It moves 31-22-15 and is now HIT FACTORed by 80% of its players. New this week for WZNY, KJOY, WFBG, KNOX, WMTR, WFMK and WVMT.

This week's HOTTEST record is ELTON JOHN's "Sacrifice," which has already climbed halfway up the chart in just two weeks. Among the thirty new are WMXB, WKMI, WALR, WKIO/FM, KXLK, KVIL, B100, WNSR/FM, KBOI, KWAV/FM and KKOR. HIT FACTOR climbs from 42% to 62% in just one week.

Last week's TOP TIP, KAREN CARPENTER's "If I Had You," debuts high at number 27 and it wins PLUS FACTOR with a 28% improvement in HIT FACTOR. New this week at WTPI, KOFY/FM, WAFL, WMGI, KWEB, KBOI, WOKZ and KIDX/FM.

ROD STEWART wins MOST ADDED again this week. His 63 ADDs beats out his nearest competitor CHICAGO by 18 stations. This one's not to be missed and among those who agree are i107.7, CKFM, WELI, WGOL/FM, KYJC, WWDE, KSRF, WAEB, WALR and WFAS/FM. Expect a ten-point or better chart improvement by this time next week.

The aforementioned CHICAGO single, a mere number two MOST ADDED with 45 stations, is destined for great things. Among the first-week players are WQNY, WKYE, WSKY, KYJC, KFMB, WHAI, i107.7, WVUD, WIRL, WGAD, WMYX, KBLQ and WJTW.

This week's TOP TIP, POCO's "Nothin' To Hide," is also this week's third MOST ADDED thanks to KAEZ, KRNO, WWDE, WRFC, WTCB, KTSR, KBIG, WQTU, WTWR, WAFL, CKFM, CLEAR107, WJBR and WMRN. It's taking off much faster than their previous single which itself was a number one record.

INSIDE COUNTRY

KWDJ-Riverside Program Director Bill Georgi stopped to chat with Waylon Jennings after the Hoss's performance at the Farmer's Fair last month.

CONDOLENCES. Special Gavin condolences to Jo-el Sonnier and family on the untimely death of his wife. Jamie Sonnier had a massive heart attack on Friday, November 17th and died early on Sunday the 19th. For more details, see the News section of The Gavin Report.

STATION HAPPENINGS. Rob Edwards has been promoted to Music Director at KFLS-Klamath Falls, while Margo Vaughn moves over to their sister A/C station...KZLA-Los Angeles recently sponsored a celebrity auction to benefit victims of the earthquake. Over $12,000 was raised with such items as a Dwight Yoakam personalized gold record that went for $950, a Hank Williams Jr. satin tour jacket that went for $725, a pair of Ronnie Milsap's glasses that went for $230 and an autographed L.A. Kings hockey stick that went for $550...Congratulations to WXCY-Havre de Grace's Gerry O'Brien and his new bride Mary Ann on their November 25th wedding. They had their reception at the same catering place where they both met and worked at three years ago. (How romantic!)...An exhausted Joel Muller called to tell us that KROW-Reno just finished up a 39 hour radiothon for St. Jude Children's Hospital that raised over $38,000.

ARTIST HAPPENINGS. A couple of things to check out when you get a CD of the Ricky Van Shelton Christmas album. Mr. Van Shelton is the artist who painted the beautiful scene on the cover, and if the inside is autographed, that's no stamp! Our Nashville spy Lisa Austin has it on the best authority that Ricky has been patiently signing them one by one on his tour bus between concert appearances...The Bellamy Brothers recently raised $100,000 at their first annual benefit concert—the Snake, Rattle & Roll Jam, in San Antonio, FL. All proceeds will benefit a local San Antonio organization, the St. Anthony's School Foundation, and also a state-wide program dedicated to the preservation of the Florida panther...Exile recently signed a recording contract with Arista Records...The ADM Publicity Group is now the exclusive publicist for George Jones.

NEW RELEASES

by Lisa Smith & Cyndi Hoelzle

DOLLY PARTON - He's Alive (Columbia)
The song that brought down the house at last month's CMA Awards show has been released as a single due to listener demand. It's a rousing, spine-chilling gospel song, recreating the days after Christ's crucifixion and resurrection. Dolly handles the drama of the song in a way that only she can.

RICKY SKAGGS - Kentucky Thunder (Epic)
Ricky continues his winning streak with an inspired vocal performance on this bluegrass rocker. It's the title cut of Ricky's latest and has been a favorite album cut. It's easy to hear why.
CONWAY TWITTY - Who's Gonna Know (MCA)

A song about illicit love that's sure to grow on you. The melody is lovely, and Conway sings it with conviction.

ALABAMA - Southern Star (RCA)
Their current album's title cut starts slow, but really picks up midway through the record. Should quickly become another Alabama classic for their thousands of fans.

ROY ORBISON - Oh Pretty Woman (Virgin)
This live recording is from last year's all-star concert featuring Bruce Springsteen, Tom Waits, Elvis Costello, k.d. lang, and a host of other talent backing up Orbison. They're having fun singing this 1964 classic and it shows—the single has the loose feel of a party.

JAZZ NEW RELEASES

WELELA - MIRIAM MAKEBA (MERCURY/URBAN AFRICA POLYGRAM)

Miriam Makeba's robust vocal performances are striking against the dazzling horizon of a swaying ten-piece Soweto aggregation. It's intoxicating to say the least. Although Makeba made Pop inroads in the sixties with the international dance anthem, "Pata Pata" (redone on this set), over the decades she's been fearless about confronting such globe-rocking issues as civil rights, black power and anti-apartheid. She was surely a model of inspiration to such great musical humanitarians as the late Bob Marley and Stevie Wonder. But guess what? Welela teaches us that taking stands don't have to be all pain because we can frolic and dance just like the mindless folks do to the video channels. "A Luta Continua" is wonderfully uplifting with its false endings and multi-peaking grooves. Significantly, most of the tracks on this world beat exclusive are penned by Miriam herself. Listen to how "African Sunset" builds from one lone, basic acoustic guitar riff. Track by track, Welela reminds us that Africa is where pop's primal roots are.

BOB'S DINER (DMP)

Hey! Who's that guy on the cover with the refrigerator repairman bum sticking out of his jeans? He's the mascot for Bob's Diner, a new band fronted by trombonist Bob Smith and his sidekick, drummer Howie Gordon. Smith, a seasoned contract player, is a bouncy and fluid player as best evidenced on "Mr. Boy." But for the entree try "The Rain," featuring co-soloist Jerry Vivino on soprano sax. "The Rain" operates on two solo fronts, one with Vivino's introspectives bumped up against a highly charged, tropical-flavored, rave-up twosome. For the ballad appetizer, sample the catch of the day, "Without Thought." For afters, I'd recommend the zesty dessert "Bobbery Samba"—which is sure to invigorate your musical taste buds.

INNERVISIONS - RICHARD STOLTZMAN WITH JUDY COLLINS (BMG CLASSICS/RCA)

The BMG Classics division of RCA, known primarily for its RCA Red Seal classical works, has resumed releasing newly completed progressive projects. Many will remember that Suzanne Ciani gained initial popularity via RCA Classics, as did Japanese synthesizer pioneer Tomita. Clarinetist Richard Stoltzman, who previously worked with Judy Collins on her Whales And Nightingales album, reunites with Ms. Collins for two tracks on his newest, Innervisions. Joined by pianist Bill Douglas, producer/synthesist Jeremy Wall and bassist Eddie Gomez, Stoltzman elongates his arrangement of Joni Mitchell's "For Free" (about, appropriately, a busking clarinetist) to accommodate a spatial 3/4 duet with Collins' velveteen, faraway phrasings.

Stoltzman's clarinetics expand on producer Wall's "By The Stream," where drummer Danny Gottlieb replaces Collins in the quintet for Innervisions' highest instrumental moments. For Jazz stations who dabble with Adult Alternative atmospherics, try the Gomez composition "Delgado." Call RCA's Pete Macnamara at 212-930-4044 for your copy.

AMBOS MUNDOS - BOBBY HUTCHERSON (LANDMARK)

For some reason I was ready for a Brazilian feast, but what I got here was some firebrand, aggressive Afro-Cuban. Ambos Mundos (which translates into "both worlds") starts on an ambitious note with "Pomponio." Vibist Bobby Hutcherson and producer Orrin Keepnews draw from a talent pool that includes "local" Bay Area percussionists who operate out of San Francisco's rhythm-rich Mission District. So, immediately the Afro-Cuban flavorings spread west to Mexico, as Hutcherson covers "Besame Mucho," which could well be considered the quintessential lounge anthem export of Mexico. But like Art Pepper, Hutcherson twists the standard like a pretzel, moving over to marimba. All through Ambos Mundos, Hutcherson is wailing away with his magic mallets. Guest guitarist Bruce Forman provides edge on "Tin Tin Deo." And edge is precisely the key word here. This is not solely a sweet South American voyage. The music of Ambos Mundos pushes the envelope in terms of feel, exploring both major and minor key "mundos." Soloists, particularly percussionist/advisor Roger Glenn, deliberately keep this example of world music challenging.

INTRODUCING OPU5 - OPU5 (SYNTAX)

Caetano Veloso keeps us off balance by tossing radical Western spices into the boiling cauldron of Brazilian stew. Toninho Horta's hurdling vocalisms and melodies send the music to higher eclectic levels. Now introducing Opu5, pronounced "Opus Cinco." This highly trained quintet—harp, violin, percussion, flute and acoustic bass—combines orchestral depth and classical technique with elements of Brazilian melody and improvisation. "Luciani" and "Pedrinho Nos Bahamas" highlight the wide range talents of harpist Cristina Braga and violinist Angelo Dell'Orto by relying on the high standards of a classical quartet feel without any chamber room intensity involved.

THIRD DEGREE BURN - CHARLES EARLAND (MILESTONE)

Cool organist Charles Earland surrounds himself with two of the finest R&B/Jazz sax players around. Try this on for size. Howabout choosing between Grover Washington OR David Newman? Newman hits it off good on soprano with guitarist Bobby Broom on "That's A Good Question," with Ralph Dorsey suppling supple Ray Barretto-esque conga support. But ultimately it's Earland who keeps a cool head throughout, whether he's soloing or holding the foundation firm with his expert chord work. Don't let the sleepy opener fool you. This one's a vibrant East Coast offering produced by Bob Porter, who brought us those great Atlantic vault collections, not to mention the return of Illinois Jacquet's big band. This is also something we gotta have.

THAT WE DO KNOW - UNCLE FESTIVE (DENON)

Out of the gate with "Not For Nothin'" and into the title track, it's apparent that as a four piece, Uncle Festive is capable of coming up with imaginative blends of keyboard sampling textures and engaging backbeat jams. It's state-of-the-art and ultra-smooth, yet the sheer cleverness of Uncle Festive's arrangements keep you on the edge, making it impossible to dislike. "In The Trail Of The Wind" snowballs into a fast 2/4 thing that begs for attenuation and that's when the band gets you. Delivered in shimmering, wide-screen Denon soundscape, the composition progresses to even more amazing heights. These cats can do more in their nine days of studio time than most groups can muster in nine months. Made in Hollywood, mastered in Japan, Uncle Festive is this week's favorite rich uncle. Nice touch.

PH.D. - ART FARMER (CONTEMPORARY)

Ooo wow. The opening title track plays it way cool. Art Farmer's fluegel sends shivers down my spine as images of dark New York streets fastball by. Farmer, who specializes in the middle register, shares a timely autumn mood. Moving onward through the disc, you realize how advanced Ph.D. is by listening to the alumni involved. Kenny Burrell, the great Clifford Jordan, James Williams (who contributes well as a composer, arranger and pianist), Rufus Reid and the versatile Marvin Smith comprise an all star cast. Living in Vienna and splitting his time between the European and American continents, Farmer's recording contributions are all the more special in that they warrant the type of deluxe treatment heard here. Recorded the old way—in two days flat—the arrangement moods and credits vary between orchestral or compact-sounding, depending on the tempo. To a degree, Ph.D. is one of this year's richest moments. The contrast between Farmer and Clifford Jordan's sax work creates much of that mystique and richness.

"PEACE IN OUR TIME" - EDDIE MONEY (COLUMBIA)

Affixed to his Christmas Best-Of package (like a "rider" on a congressional bill) is a brand new track Eddie Money cut just last September. It's a timely piece of work that is in synch with what's happening in the world. Who would ever have thought that we would see the erosion of the Eastern Bloc in our lifetime? This is a hopeful song that will hopefully worm its way into the holiday psyches of our listeners. If not, hey man, it's a pretty good song anyway.

THE MIND IS A TERRIBLE THING TO TASTE - MINISTRY (SIRE/WARNER BROS.)

Ministry borrows (or, rather, turns) a phrase from the United Negro College Fund and, like their previous musical excursions, tremendously distort reality and melody as we know it today. Now how does one describe the music of Ministry? The band rips through craniums like paper. Using a barrage of slash guitars and vicious sampling, Ministry's music is a series of twisted programming collages that are aggressive and argumentative. My favorite track is still "Thieves," but watch out for the nasty on the outro. Raunchy stuff, but definitely on the slicing edge.

THE ADVENTURES OF WOMEN & MEN WITHOUT HATE - MEN WITHOUT HATS (MERCURY)

Forget all about "Safety Dance," although Men Without Hats do revive it for the twenty-first century. Ivan, Stefan Doroschuk and Lenny

NEW RELEASES

Pinkas put together a futuristic look at where synth music's been and possibly where the heck it's going. Naturally, songs like "In The 21st Century" and "Here Come The 90's" are easy, almost disposable, compositions. But wait, there's some meat here. "Hey Men," a boogie woogie piece, is an outstanding lyric showcase of female and male character traits ("I got a woman inside/I said, hey men/quit knocking your children 'round/quit mowing all your women down"). Not only can you dance to this one, you can think along as well. Plus there's a righteous cover of Abba's "S.O.S."

"TOO HOT" - LOVERBOY (COLUMBIA)
Somebody oughta tell these guys that the sexual revolution is over. Anyway, "Too Hot" is a steamy, gyrating piece of teenage mania. Once you hear the opening guitar licks, it's obvious that somebody's in heat. Look out—it sounds like the lead singer (Paul Dean?) is on a sexual search-and-destroy mission.

"DOGS ARE TALKING" - THE ANGELS (CHRYSALIS)

Hey, I remember these guys! They used to be Angel City from Australia. Now they're The Angels and they're still from Australia, only they're rocking along with Memphis producer Terry Manning. "Dogs Are Talking" is a dog-eat-dog piece of rock n roll, with chopping guitars and stiff melody lines. Like a lot of Aussie rock n roll, the Angels worship inside the church of backbeat drumming. Amen, brothers.

"HERE COMES THE GROOM" - JOHN WESLEY HARDING (SIRE/REPRISE)

No, John Wesley Harding wasn't a figment of Bob Dylan's imagination. Actually he was a gunfighter whose rep was megaglorified by Western balladeers. JWH is sorta this guy's real name, unless it's all just a press scam, which makes it all the more fun anyhow. "Here Comes The Groom" and especially "The Rent" (co-produced by the great Tom Robinson) set up JWH as a Costelloesque songwriter with a bent towards guts and glory. This CD is actually a preview track from JWH's album that we'll be hearing a lot of come 1990. On this twenty-eight minute disc, Wesley has a word with Viv "Bonzo Dog" Stanshall. Like the music, the mood of the interview is zany and off-the-cuff.

HITCHHIKER 2 (CBS RECORDS)

Actually this is an "industry-oriented" promo CD show that mixes the genres of Country and rock n roll from both the Columbia and Epic stables. Besides a few previously released gems from Shawn Colvin, James McMurtry, Rodney Crowell, the Indigo Girls, and others, there's an advance taste from an upcoming album by the great O'Kanes and a brand new tune from our favorite singer, Rosanne Cash. PLUS there are two trax from Mary Chapin Carpenter, whose biggest rock fan happens to be Sean Coakley of Arista Records. This anthology is designed to alert Alternative ears to the glories of American songwriters who, I feel, are much too precious to simply languish on the Country charts. Call Cheryl Lindsey in Nashville at 615-742-4345 and ask for this double disc set. I call that a bargain.

STRANGE FIRE - INDIGO GIRLS (EPIC)

One of this year's underdog success stories is the emergence of the Indigo Girls, whose major label debut not only shook up the airplay charts, but sold solidly as well. But before there was a major label album, there were the Indigos on their own with what sounds like a well-planned independent assault. Strange Fire, in many ways, is superior to the popular subsequent release. It's earthy and unabashedly acoustic, right down to the faithful cover of "Get Together," best known as the Youngblood's biggest hit record. I know a lot of collectors who have the rare vinyl copies of this record are going to be bummed, but fans of the band will view the release of this record as a valuable prelude. KZ

INSIDE ALTERNATIVE RADIO by Linda Ryan

Not many changes in the upper half of the chart this week, in fact numbers 1-4 stay the same! Strong moves from Mudhoney and Nine Inch Nails as Commercial Alternatives get on the ball...Bill Gruber at WAPS in Akron, OH has ended my quest for the 'unattainable' mood ring. He's sending me a catalog where the list price for the ring is $5.99. Sounds like a bargain to me...WXRT's Lin Brehmer's fave rave is none other than Atlantic Record's newest signing, The Eleventh Dream Day...I'm sure you all had fun kissing relatives, going places, and eating turkey. I know I did! 'Til next week.

NEW RELEASES

THE CREATURES - Boomerang (Geffen)

It's been awhile since we've heard from the Creatures, aka Siouxsie and Budgie from Siouxsie And The Banshees. This album seems to take up where the last Siouxsie album left off. Remember Peek-A-Boo? The songs, which rely on Siouxsie's versatility as a vocalist, encompass a wide range of styles. The single, "Standing There" has a tribal/jungle vibe, while "Killing Time" offers a hint of the blues. There is also a wide range of instruments (xylophone, steel drums, harmonica etc.) which add a new dimension to the songs. Aside from those already mentioned, check out "Pity," "Simoon" the bizarre "You" and "Strolling Wolfe." LINDA RYAN

HOTHOUSE FLOWERS - Just A Note (PolyGram)

This collection of 'outtakes' and live recordings was put together as a thank you note to all of you in Alternative radio for your support. Hence the title, Just A Note. It was a fantastic year for the band, and those of you who were lucky enough to see the band live (at the Gavin Seminar, perhaps?) witnessed one of the giving shows of the year. I mean, any band that can make a room of self-conscious radio and record people sing and dance has real talent! I for one, am looking forward to the new album, expected in 1990. Songs to check out include "Hydroman," the sing-a-long "Big Fat Heart" and the sparse, acoustic version of their hit, "Don't Go." It isn't often that the 'runts of the industry' get such a genuine, heartfelt thank you. LR

MY DAD IS DEAD - The Taller You Are, The Shorter You Get (Homestead)

From the instrumental opening track, "For Lack Of A Better Word," I was hooked. Then came lyrics full of hate, angst, love and longing. Intertwined with this reality check is a smooth rock sound of twangy guitar and unadulterated percussion. The poignant vocals are clean and clear. Tracks: "For Lack Of A Better Word," "Seven Years," "The Only One" (my favorite), "World On A String," "Nothing Special" (an acoustic delight), "A Man Possessed" and the other nine. Fine music from Cleveland. ROBERT BARONE

GOD'S LITTLE MONKEYS - New Maps Of Hell (Alias)

An English combo known as God's Little Monkeys deliver a kind of bastardized folkabilly that will have you slappin' yer thigh and singin' along in no time. The sharp satirical lyrics, are rooted in politics and social concerns, will bring to mind Billy Bragg. If you're not one to listen to lyrics (and I know you're out there—how else would "Turning Japanese" have been a hit?), you're missing one of the strongest aspects of this band. Songs to play over and over again include "Gas Town," "Pay That Money Down," "Minister For Motivation," and "Sounds Out The Symbols." LR

MINISTRY - The Mind Is A Terrible Thing To Taste (Sire/Warner Bros.)

Alain Jourgensen and Paul Barker follow their popular The Land Of Rape And Honey album with another successful set of raw, abrasive sounds that hit you in your gut. Hard, unrelenting, and hypnotic, the music pulls you in. And once in the web, the vocals seduce you. With each listen you become more curious about what these guys are saying. They don't paint a pretty picture. Tracks: "Thieves," "Burning Inside," "Never Believe," "Breathe," "So What," and the B side to the single, "Smothered Hope." Repeated plays create a craving for more, and more is better. ROBERT BARONE

ROCK CENSORSHIP IN THE USA

IS OUR MUSIC BECOMING ILLEGAL?

by Kent Zimmerman

TO ROCK
Don't Let Them
Take It Away

Just this week I received a pamphlet from the editors of Rock & Roll Confidential. Let me explain the Confidential first. Published by journalist/author Dave Marsh on the East Coast with Lee Ballinger on the Left Coast, RRC is for people who take their rock, roll and soul to heart. It's great argumentative fodder. Named after a Hollywood scandal sheet that, during the fifties, nobody admitted reading ("I found this copy on the bus"), RRC publishes articles and news capsules more in the spirit of I. F. Stone or a left-wing version of the Kiplinger Report. With the seriousness of a political newsletter, RRC focuses on music. Over the last year, the subject of music censorship and the PMRC has been the crux of the Confidential's wrath. While a seemingly relieved music industry perceives the Washington Wives as a toothless, spent group of jet set crackpots, RRC cringes at how organized both the PMRC and the new right has become in regards to their opposition to music.

Since many of our Gavin readers live in all sized markets and towns, from the smallest to the largest, I'm sure a lot of programmers and music people can relate to the growing climate of conservatism that is spreading across the USA. Some of the groups we talk to feel it. Jerry Garcia of the Grateful Dead noted that, "It's straighter than Eisenhower out there now." The Doobie Brothers had to be careful with the "doobie" design of their tee shirts because, "There's the parent groups you always have to watch out for. Times have changed." Nowadays "the road" is a land mine for those bands who deal with potential volatile music content or audiences.

The scary part is that some of these right-wing hate groups are well organized, able to rally petitions with 100,000 names in a matter of days. Couple that with the fact that when an elected Washington representative takes a call from someone with an active membership of 100,000 and more, the impact is far greater than many of us want to admit. Using smear tactics that reach the top (Remember President Bush's Willie Horton campaign?), conservatives have their strategies down pat. It's scary in that they generally tend to HATE rock n roll.

Hence the publication of "You've Got A Right To Rock/Don't Let Them Take It Away." I know what you're thinking—more liberal-minded paranoid ramblings? Not exactly. The pamphlet is laced with national and local examples of record bannings, arrests over the purchase and performance of Rap and Roll, ridiculous lawsuits over "Satanic backward masking," homophobic legislation, PMRC censorship tactics, retail chain horror stories and boycotts and, sadly, the burning of records and books.

Of particular interest to the Rock censors is heavy metal. Now you and I know all about the economic power that metal has over our industry right now. How much of Geffen Records' profits last year represented a band of street punks like Guns 'N Roses? A lot. Now maybe we don't agree with some of the recent views espoused by the band's spokesman, Axl Rose, but you better believe that I'll lay down my professional career for their right to hang themselves with their freedom of speech. Ditto Public Enemy.

A week ago, an activist from the Rainbow Lobby knocked on my door asking for a sponsorship donation. They represent a variety of liberal causes (at the top, ironically, was election reform). We talked for half an hour about tactics. Since voter turnout is spiraling downward, this country is entering the dangerous situation of being run by a vocal minority. The latest cover of Time Magazine addressed the very same issue while the Today Show ran a story on the dwindling involvement of citizens in terms of government and issues. Our voter turnout is below El Salvador and Haiti, places where the electorate risks life and limb to cast a ballot.

Here's what you can do. Get involved. Keep your eyes open. If a pressure group is hassling your station or label, fight back. Assuage the fears of the sponsor with positive reinforcement. On September 25th of this year, Frank Zappa presented 50,000 anti-PMRC petitions to the Justice Department, so there is opposition to the censors. Contact Rock & Roll Confidential for a copy of "You've Got A Right To Rock." Free samples of their monthly publication are available. Address is Box 15052, Long Beach, CA, 90815. I'd call either Dave Marsh or Lee Ballinger about interviews. Call 213-594-6866. Get mad. Better yet get even.

So, really, who's safe and who isn't? Here in sunny California, it's getting risky. Just a few miles away, in a small boom town called Concord, where a young, gay black man "committed suicide" after he was lynched not far from a Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART) parking lot, a tiny electorate repealed a newly-elected Anti-AIDS Discrimination law by a slim margin via a miniscule turnout. Not only that, but the extremist who launched the attack was elected a seat on the City Council! Like I said, nobody's safe, not even those of us in liberal, kook-capitol San Francisco. Legalized discrimination and fascism is just down the road a-ways. ●

PERSONAL PICKS

SINGLES by Dave Sholin

DEPECHE MODE - Personal Jesus (Sire/Reprise)

Those top notch technicians of techno-pop have created a sensational track, complete with five mixes. Played as an import in Houston, it became a big hit at 93Q and ENERGY 96.5 where MD Michael Newman says it was an enormous callout item with women 18-34. Leo Vela, Q96 San Antonio is another Lone Star State programmer who testifies it's a winner, taking it to #1 this week. Leo says he's had no negatives and in fact, had a minister tell him how great he thought the message was.

SA-FIRE - I Will Survive (Mercury/PolyGram)

Ten years ago Gloria Gaynor's original version went to #1 and in the process became a theme song for the woman's movement. Resurrected by Sa-Fire and producer Oliver Leiber, who wrote Paula Abdul's "Forever Your Girl" it sounds fresh all over again and finds its way onto the soundtrack of "She Devil." Be sure to check out the hot rap version.

MELISSA MANCHESTER - Walk On By (Mika/Polydor)

Must be the year for Dionne Warwick music: however, Melissa gives this 1964 smash new meaning in 1989, dedicating it to the country's thousands of homeless youth. She's also donating a portion of the profits from this release to the cause. A classic Hal David/Burt Bacharach composition, Melissa's exceptional vocal interpretation and the message she's trying to get across, (helped by a thought-provoking video) makes for a potent combination.

JOE COCKER - One Night Of Sin (Capitol)

What a difference a good batch of songs can make. Joe has had his downside moments during the past twenty-two years and while we can't blame it all on song selection, even the best Cocker albums have come up short in the consistency department. Here, with the brilliant pop producer Charlie Midnight, Joe soars through a dozen winners. The lead single, "When The Night Comes," already a big Top 40 and Album Radio hit, is written by Bryan Adams, Jim Vallance and the super hot Diane Warren. Down the road a track or two is the old Pips hit, "I've Got To Use My Imagination." Later on, Joe turns the old classic, "Fever," into a chillin' hot rock ballad, followed by a Nick Gilder song "You Know We're Gonna Hurt," the prettiest song he's sung since his duet with Jennifer Warnes on "Up Where We Belong" nearly eight years ago.
