WUNSCH UPPED TO PRESIDENT, CBS RECORDS/
NASHVILLE

As part of the CBS/Epic Nashville reorganization, Roy Wunsch has been named President, CBS Records Nashville.

Effective August 1, both Columbia and Epic Nashville will have separate A&R and Promotion staffs. The move signals the beginning of a new CBS Country music label.

Wunsch has been with CBS Records, Nashville for fifteen years. He was named Senior Vice President, General Manager in early 1988.

"It is with great pleasure that I announce Roy Wunsch's promotion to President of CBS Records, Nashville, a position and title to reflect the stature Roy has already gained in the eyes of the music industry," said CBS Records President Tommy Mottola. "His leadership has greatly increased the Nashville operation's profile in the past two and a half years since he has been senior executive."

The CBS Country music division has been doing big business with classic artists such as Willie Nelson and Vern Gosdin, consistent sellers such as Rodney Crowell and Rosanne Cash, and relative newcomers such as Mary-Chapin Carpenter.

"The contributions of CBS Records' Nashville Division to the overall success of CBS Records has never been stronger," said Mottola. "On the heels of CBS Nashville's most sensational year ever, the nineties present a challenge to maintain our momentum while simultaneously strengthening our label framework to better serve our artists and their music."

SZULINSKI
MERCURY'S
POP DIRECTOR

Mercury Records' Andy Szulinski has been upped to National Director Pop Promotion for the label.

Szulinski has been with PolyGram for five years. He joined in 1985 as Local Promotion Rep for the label's Washington/Baltimore office and most recently was Director, Promotion for secondary markets.

"Mr. Szulinski is certainly deserving of this promotion," said Mercury Senior Vice President, David Leach. "He has established himself as one of the finest young promotion executives in the industry."

Said Szulinski, "I look forward to working with David as part of the phenomenal Mercury team, which I am confident will experience a great deal of success in the months ahead."

RADI-O-RAMA

Is Energy 96.5 (KNRJ)-Houston really going Alternative? GM Clancy Woods says yes, but he also said that Kurt Kelly (ex-KODJ-Los Angeles PD) is coming in as PD and Midday personality, and Kurt hasn't exactly been hanging with the Alternative crowd. Well—stranger things have happened, but we reserve the right to be skeptical...Yes, it's true, Fritz's daughter Eleanor Mondale will be joining John Hines in the morning on WLOL-Minneapolis... Gavin friend and all-time good guy, former KSJO-San Jose, CA Program Director Bob Harlow is joining the folks moving to Portland, OR (is this a trend?). He'll be PD at oldies station KKSJ...Here come the kids: Nineteen-year-old Scott Phippen's summer job is doing Mornings at WIFX-Jenkins, KY. Scott's already racked up five years experience in the radio biz. He returns to East Tennessee State College in the fall. Does

DRAKE/KRTH REJOIN FORCES

Just this week, well-known programmer and Boss Radio pioneer Bill Drake returned to radio as a consultant at KRTH-Los Angeles as a consultant. Twenty years ago, Drake made KRTH a household name, giving it the moniker K-EARTH, and made it one of the top stations in the country.

Drake has moved to Los Angeles, and will work exclusively for the oldies outlet. "We're happy to have Bill here," said station GM Pat Norman. "He's an old friend. He's forgotten more about programming than most of us ever know."

"It's a rare opportunity for us to take advantage of the vast program and market knowledge of a professional of Bill's nature," said Jim Keating in a memo to the Beasley Broadcast Group corporate staff. "We believe Bill Drake will make a valuable contribution to KRTH's oldies format."

The Countdown Of The 90's

Introducing Dave Sholin's Insider, the Contemporary Hit Countdown for a new decade. In sync with today's radio, the Insider has only three stopsets hourly, instead of the usual four or five. There's a reduced inventory load of four network minutes per hour, not the standard six. And a 25 minute music sweep kicking off each hour.

A nationally hosted countdown show that sounds like your radio station...imagine that.

We've been bombarded by an onslaught of industry support to Save Dave, an unfortunate victim of another network's old-fashioned Countdown thinking. Sholin, Editor of The Gavin Report, is consistently named among the "Heavy Hundred" in Rolling Stone magazines list of music experts. Besides, his wife just had a baby and he needs the attention.

So, start DAVEPARTING your weekends now with Dave Sholin's Insider. Designed to replace and upgrade the quality of the nationally hosted countdown program or programs airing on your station.

RCA/PECK FORM BAHIA

RCA Records and industry veteran Greg Peck have joined together to form a new Black Music label, Bahia Entertainment Company, which Peck will head up. It will be a full-service label that will include a publishing arm. The initial roster will be announced within the next month.

Bahia was named after a region in Brazil that, according to Peck, "reflects the divergent cultural and musical forms that are indigenous to Black music."

Peck was most recently Vice President of A&R at PolyGram. He began at Atlantic Records in 1976, and subsequently worked at Atlantic, CBS, Elektra and Island.

"We feel very fortunate to be a part of the RCA Records family," Peck said. "Bob Buziak (label President) has given us a tremendous opportunity to share our vision and has made a strong commitment to assuring us that Bahia will have a great future at RCA."

"I've observed Greg's growth over the years to a strong marketing executive and then to a successful A&R man," said Buziak. "The combination of his talents, instinct and vision give me the confidence that he will build a uniquely creative environment that will establish many great artists."

STARS SERENADE MANDELA IN BOSTON

Last Saturday (6/23) Paul Simon led an all-star cast that joined over 200,000 Bostonians in welcoming Deputy ANC President Nelson Mandela to Beantown.

After speaking to 1500 high school students and visiting the Kennedy Center and being presented with a bust of John F. Kennedy, Mr. Mandela appeared at the concert in his honor, held at the Hatch Shell on the banks of the Charles River. Performers included Ladysmith Black Mambazo, with whom Simon has recorded, Michelle Shocked and Hugh Masekela. Also honoring Mr. Mandela that day was Stevie Wonder.

In a phone call placed immediately after the concert, Eleanor Mire told the Gavin Report that already-high emotions reached their peak when Mr. Mandela was presented with a framed copy of a speech the late Robert F. Kennedy made over 22 years ago condemning apartheid. Mire said Mr. Mandela later raised everyone's spirits by dancing with the music, to the delight of the crowd.

New Programming Staff At KUSF

Gavin Award-winning Alternative station KUSF-San Francisco has named a new Program Coordinator and six new Music staffers. Upped from Music Director to Program Coordinator is Judy Asman. Asman replaces Tim Ziegler, who graduates this year.

The six new Music staffers are: Promotion Coordinator Cliff Lipman; Publicity Director Sandy Cobb; Production Director John Lawson; Underwriting Director Izzy Taguchi; Personnel Director Mike Walz.

RCA FORMS NEW ENTERPRISE, LABEL

As we went to press we learned that BMG/RCA Records-Nashville has formed a second Country enterprise to be called Nashville Entertainment and Music Operations (NEMO). Joe Galante, who is currently General Manager, RCA Records-Nashville will continue in that capacity and assume the position of President of NEMO. RCA President Bob Buziak will be Chairman of NEMO; In addition RCA Vice President, National Country Promotion Jack Weston will be Vice President/General Manager of a new, as yet unnamed label.

"Our Emphasis on quality in both artists and people has helped us maintain our number one status and that will also be the basis upon which the new label will be built, with a different approach to A&R," said Galante.

More on these developments in the Gavin Report next week.

INSIDE TOP 40 by Dave Sholin

Barbeques, parades, rodeos and of course, that long wait for nighttime to finally arrive so we can view the fireworks! Fourth of July, 1990 is almost here and for those of us who grew up with this annual celebration, it evokes special memories. An American tradition passed along to each generation reminding us how fortunate we are to be in the "land of the free." How ironic it is then, at this time when Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union are allowing their citizens more individual freedom, a loud vocal minority in the U.S.A. is attempting to impose their morality on everyone else. It was September 22, 1989 when "Me So Horny" by 2 LIVE CREW was listed as Top 40's RECORD TO WATCH. Little did anyone know at the time that this sexually explicit Rap album would cause the furor it has for the past few months. Did I realize certain markets would have a difficult time with lyric content? Sure, but when a song generates the kind of chart moves and positive reaction the Crew did with their release, it rates a special mention. More importantly, programmers should be the ones deciding what will or won't be allowed on-the-air, not some self-appointed arbiters of taste. I remember playing one of the earliest anti-drug songs, STEPPENWOLF's "Pusher Man," which contained the phrase, "Goddamn the pusher man," and getting complaints from listeners who were offended by it. But I was free to play it and they were free to change stations. "The Free Speech Argument" was the headline of an article written in last week's San Francisco Chronicle in which writer Liz Lufkin comments, "As new cases pop up almost daily, ranging from flag burning to Rap music, free speech may become the issue of the nineties. Lately, the question of how much is too much has been debated in diverse arenas, from art, music, literature and pop culture to politics and education." Whether one is disgusted by 2 Live Crew, Andrew Dice Clay or Robert Mapplethorpe is not the issue, it's freedom of expression and freedom of choice. After nearly 200 years are the Bill Of Rights no longer the proper guide? It's imperative that radio, especially in formats like Top 40 that can mobilize an actively aware audience, encourage the public to support efforts to maintain our personal freedoms. Every little victory for these free speech bandits puts more and more of our rights in jeopardy. Ignoring this crowd won't make 'em go away, but letting them know there's a much larger and even louder crowd on the other side will hopefully help drown them out. July 4th's a good time to start gettin' the word out.

There aren't many stronger upper demo appeal tracks around than BRUCE HORNSBY AND THE RANGE's newest effort. Kevin Robinson and Hollywood Hendrix take it top fifteen at WVIC Lansing, MI 19-13 along with gains at Q102 23-19, KPXI 32-22 "doing very well with adults 18-34 after only three weeks," EAGLE 106 debut #21,

Jack Lundy, PD at Y94 Fargo/Moorhead, ND, takes LIGHTNING SEEDS 22-19 and says with the glut of dance and ballad product it's a "good balance record that is showing to be a passive record, but is now starting to pull phones from women 18 plus." New on KDWB, KBQ, Q95FM, 93QID, WILL and CKOC.

HIT FACTOR rises to 23% for KEITH SWEAT, who is now top twenty at B94 19-16, B95 20-15, KKSS 21-18, KITY 13-10, KHTK 18-16, WCKZ 10-8, WCGQ 22-20, WNFI 18-14 and WCIL 26-11! Added at HOT 97.7 and KUBE.

One of the major reaction records at WIXX Green Bay, WI is FAITH NO MORE, which MD Steve Louizos says is "getting a ton of calls and now showing up on our 'Top Nine At Night', usually at number five or six." Climbing at K106 20-11, WDEK 37-29, WHYT 7-5, WDFX 13-10, Q96 31-22, PIRATE 21-18, KZMC 30-25, ZFUN 28-18, etc. Adds at Z95 Chicago, KOYE Laredo, WZYQ Frederick, MD, WVIC Lansing and POWER 99 Atlanta.

Unstoppable is the word for KYPER. KIQY

Albany/Corvallis, OR takes it 40-20 and PD Mike Shannon says, "It's gone through the roof—number one on their nightly countdown and getting calls from everyone 12-34. One retail account has already gone through thirty pieces." On the move at KLUC 24-21 "number two requests," WCKZ 17-14 "top five calls—mostly teens—plus top ten single and twelve-inch sales," KZZP debut #29 and Q106 22-15 "getting calls from almost every demo—number two adult phones and top five overall requests with massive adult phones and top five overall requests with massive action at retail." New on KRQ, WIOQ, KKFR, KMEL, X100, KKSS, KROY and WPLJ.

BELL BIV DEVOE's "Do Me" is primed to explode with top twenty stats already at KITY, KS104, KLUC, FM102, Q106, WHYT and KMEL. New on Y108, KDON, WKMZ, X102, WTIC/FM, WDFX, WBSS, KHTK, WPLJ, KGGI and HOT 97.7.

Along with KYPER, which was listed as an add at WTIC/FM Hartford last week, their other adds should have been: M.C. HAMMER, THE TIME and MELLOW MANACE. Apologies for the confusion.

P.D. NOTEBOOK

by Eric Norberg

I received a call recently from a Top 40 programmer who had been directed by his General Manager, who formerly had used a consultant, to devise and implement a callout music research system "better" than the one the departed consultant had set up there. The question to me was, "which of the various methods used is best?"

The answer is, there is no one method or system that's best for all stations (regardless of what the consultant may have been in the habit of doing).

The first point I make about callout (and also auditorium) music testing is that all results obtained are distorted, at least to a small extent, by the artificiality of the situation—playing a piece of a song ("hook") for a listener and attempting to get them to project and articulate their response to the song as a whole—resulting in some "intellectualizing" of an "emotional" response (which can give inaccurate results). You cannot put any weight on results of a research process without understanding what the limitations of the research method are! Many of radio's worst mistakes have been the result of excessive reliance on flawed research results!!

I spoke about other pitfalls, which he assured me had already been allowed for: (1) The participants would be screened to insure that all were within the station's cume; (2) despite any age skewing in the sample, the results would be demographically balanced; (3) the sample would be of sufficient size to give some stability to the results—over 150 completed calls per week, and over 600 per month.

I asked what information was desired in this research. He told me that the most important objective would be to determine "burnout"—when to drop a record. My response to this idea is unorthodox. In many years of research, I have found that for adults, and to a considerable degree with teens, there is no such thing as "burnout"; if a record is overexposed, after a rest, it rebounds in audience preference, and otherwise, familiarity tends to be a plus. (For teens, music can become "unfashionable" fairly rapidly, and so to an extent there is a kind of "burnout" for teens which is of use for Top 40, but usually requests and sales do track this element—when sales and requests fall off, teen peer interest is falling off.)

The reason why "burnout" does show up so clearly in most telephone callout research is this "forced intellectualization of emotional response" factor mentioned earlier. People do not listen to the radio intellectually, or even attentively; their concentration is usually directed elsewhere, so radio is consumed in a then the methodology should change until a method is found which will support such usage.

The "bottom line" is, the only good research is research that gives consistent, applicable results. It may not even be statistically reliable (record sales, and to a considerable degree record requests, are not), but if it does give you useful results—do it!!

If you have developed different opinions on this subject from your own research, I'd enjoy the chance to print them.

Whether you'd like a dialogue, or would like to contribute something to share with others in this column, write me c/o The Gavin Report, or call me directly at (503) 232-9787. Mornings, Pacific Time, is the best time to reach me.

It's your column and I'm always glad to hear from you! ●

RESEARCH REALITY

"right brain" manner. Yet data collected in callout and auditorium testing is very "left brain"—with the result that the research may not accurately reflect how people actually respond to the same music when heard on the radio!

I suggested to this PD that he set up the callout research to give him comparative information on music—"how much do you like this song," comparatively, rather than offering a "don't like" option—and evaluate and examine the research results over a period of weeks to decide whether the results seem consistent with the sales and request data he also collects and put no weight on the callout data until he had satisfied himself that he was getting useful information, and had decided how best to apply it.

Since I was advising him to use his own judgement in evaluating the callout data, he pointed out, quite correctly, that the main reason for such research is to provide objective data which may contradict one's own preconceptions. I agreed, but suggested to him that such research is detail-oriented! As a Program Director, his responsibility is the overall approach and "sound" of the station. If the research seems to be coming up in basic conflict with the overall programming thrust of the station, he should bear in mind that since his screening has assured that all these respondents are in his cume, and thus by definition have chosen his station, the way it is, over other stations, any significant amount of callout data in basic conflict with the station's established philosophy and approach must be suspect! Only when in-cume listener music research confirms the basic overall thrust of the station can it be trusted to help direct the details within that thrust!

So if, after a trial period, the data seems strong enough to support certain types of usage, it should be used that way; if it doesn't,

Love/Hate

Love/Hate really got me going--after they got me going. First, I didn't like the name. You might say I hated it, but wait! I got to love the music. The really good ones don't come easy. Versatile vocalist Jizzy Pearl and I got to know each other pretty well during our phoner. Blackout In The Red Room is the Columbia debut that comes after years of honing their many styles on Sunset Strip in Los Angeles. "Playing on the Strip forces you to become better musicians, better performers and better people," said Jizzy. "You have to develop a good hard exterior to deal with a lot of the crap that goes down. Actually I think it was healthy for us. Our live show was much improved in this setting." All of Love/Hate's music was written on acoustic guitar and what a leg up that is in these days when audiences crave the acoustic sound of their favorite cruncher. About the name, Pearl sez, "That's good. I think the curse of any band is to be called 'pretty good.' Either you love or hate the band. When someone sees our band I hope they come away with an emotional reaction rather than a pretty good feeling." The band lucked out to get Tom Werman as their producer. Werman saw them at a showcase and expressed interest in working with the band on the spot. Seventeen songs are already in the can for the next record, with three being played in the live set. This talented band is on a roll, so open the door and let them in...

Mojo Nixon is set to release his new Enigma album in early September and it's being called Otis in honor of all his favorite Oti—Otis Redding, Otis Blackwell, Otis the Elevator, Otis the drunk, Johnny Otis and Shuggie Otis. Mojo's on vocals and guitar, and he's aided by the first post-cowpunk supergroup, featuring John Doe, (bass, backup vocals), Country Dick Montana, Beat Farmers (drums, vocals), Bill Davis, Dash Rip Rock (guitar, vocals), Eric "Roscoe" Ambel, Del Lords (guitar, vocals). Jim Dickinson and producer Alex Chilton of Rolling Stones and the Replacements fame, spinned the knobs in a Memphis studio. The lead-off track will be "Destroy All Lawyers."

Ten plus years ago, an interview with Stiv Bators was an "at your own risk" situation. I took it and fell in love with this punk innovator known for his work in Cleveland's Dead Boys and later The Lords Of The New Church. Stiv's two albums as a Dead Boy for Sire Records will always be my favorites. Stiv recently died from injuries suffered when hit by a car as he crossed the street in Paris. I'll miss this one-of-a-kind, ahead-of-his-time gentle soul who, in accordance with his own wishes, was cremated and his ashes were spread on Jim Morrison's Paris grave...

Steve Vai, high Priest of the seven-string guitar celebrated the Relativity release of his new album Passion And Warfare with double record parties at Bordello in Los Angeles and China Club in New York. The rock elite who showed up in L.A. party reads like a musical who's who: Duff McKagan and Steven Adler of Guns N' Roses, Lita Ford and hubby Chris Holmes, Adam Maples of the SeaHags, Peter Frampton, Fiona, Dweezil Zappa, Gregg and Matt Bissonette of the David Lee Roth Band, the Bulletboys, ex-Dokken/current Lynch Mob guitarist George Lynch, Warren DeMartini of Ratt, Stuart Hamm, Stevie Salas, Jennifer Batten, members of Shotgun Messiah and Bang Tango, plus mega-producers Mike Clink, Beau Hill and Michael Wagener.

Noel Monk, who managed Van Halen from 1978 to 1985 has just signed a new L.A. band called Treason, but I'm waiting for the book. Monk is writing his first one with Rolling Stone critic and journalist Jimmy Guterman. 12 Days On The Road - The Sex Pistols And America, will be released in hard cover in September. Monk was the Pistols' American tour manager after his experience as stage manager for the Fillmore East. In the '60s he staged Woodstock and worked in the legitimate theater... ●

- The station that guarantees the most (format) music every day—that way you can listen all day long to your (position) station.

FEATURES - some of these depend on the latitude you're willing to take with your format.

- "The (city) 500" Your station plays the Top 500 songs as voted by your listeners. Many stations actually play the Top 500 testing songs. Another source is the annual Gavin Report's Top 100s. You do save these, don't you?

- "The Day Starter" 60 minutes of uninterrupted music from 9AM to 10AM, to capture the at work listeners immediately.

- "Goodnight Lines" 60 minutes of request and dedications at night. I prefer this type of program during the late night news hour. In the Eastern Zone, that's 11PM and in the Central Zone it's 10PM. Don't forget to include lots of forecasts of the next day's weather.

- "The Atlas Hour" primarily for Rock and Country stations. The entire hour features music with a geographical theme. You could take a trip across the country or around the world.

- "Home Tapes" or "Down Home Demo" is an hour of music recorded by your listeners.

- "Excursions" is an hour of brand new music, some of it by unfamiliar artists.

CRUIZIN' WITH KRIZ

Every once in a while even Quincy Jones gets homesick, so during a recent visit back home, to Seattle, he stopped by KRIZ to visit and thank people for their support. Pictured (l-r) are Warner Bros. Northwest Promo Mgr. Craig Neely; Quincy Jones; KRIZ PD/MD Bailey Coleman; KRIZ OM Frank P. Barrow.

ATLANTIC PRIDE AT THE CAPITOL ▶

"My, My, My"—JOHNNY GILL gets his second #1 in a row—first "Rub You The Right Way" and now this! THE TIME debuts at #29 after one week, and Madhatter, WGOK-Mobile, comments, "They're back on track, right in the pocket, and this will be as big a hit as their other hits!" Steve Ross, WGCI/FM-Chicago, has three little words for THE TIME: "It is exploding!" Larry Green, KRUS-Ruston, says, "Just what you would expect from The Time—it's groovin'!" Andy Henderson, WQKI-St. Matthews, predicts, "This is the hot one for the summer!" GEOFF McBRIDE has a great week and Vic Clemons, WQQK-Nashville, agrees saying, "Geoff's 'Got A Good Thing' is going strong here." Reggie Jackson, WHYZ-Greenville, picks the same RTW:

"McBride's single has a nice groove that's getting hot phone action. LeVert has performed their magic once again for a new artist." Greg Diggs, WKYS/FM-Washington, D.C., picks EnVOGUE's new single, "Lies." "Great follow-up choice," says Greg. This week's Top Tip, NAJEE, picks up a quote from Thomas Bacote, V103-Atlanta. "This great tune from Najee and Vesta is definitely something that's going to be hot for the summer." Chuck Harrison, KFXZ-Lafayette, talks about the same song. "Nice 'Quiet Storm' jam is already hot." Speaking of 'Quiet Storm', Terry Base, WMGL-Charleston, mentions, "The MICHAEL COOPER is definitely a good love song for our audience." Rob Neal, KXZZ-Lake Charles, chooses BARRY WHITE saying, "The tradition continues with this excellent selection—don't deny your listeners." Ray Boyd and Curtis Waller, WBLS-New York, like THE WHISPERS. "Good to have them back again," and Van Wilson, WANM-Tallahassee, says the same thing. Chris Clay, KQXL-Baton Rouge, recommends KIPPER JONES saying, "This ex-lead singer of Tease presents something that can definitely work for Urban Radio—it's funky!" Kimberly Kaye, WFKX-Jackson, appreciates the "Great job M.C. HAMMER does on the Chi-Lites' tune." Rick Stevens, WCKX-Columbus, says to "Watch CLUB NOUVEAU—super phones!" Ciao for now, Betty

NEW RELEASES by Brian Samson and John Martinucci

THE BOYS - Crazy (Motown)

The return of The Boys is upon us, and it's quite promising! These brothers have developed a bit since we last heard (or saw) them. Khiry and Hakeem co-produce this single—they've grown up since "Dial My Heart"! JM

1 WORLD - Down On Love (FFRR)

I've been hooked on this track since I received the advance compilation "FFRR Gold On Black 1990" two months ago. This jam is just too funky! "Down On Love" is a sound mix of various UK artists, such as Lisa Stansfield, Chimes, Beats International, and, obviously, Soul II Soul. At 104 BPMs, the drum and percussion samples are clean and basic. Crisp, soulful vocals are laid over a cool keyboard-guitar riff. The live instrumentation enhances the richness of this sensuous groove. Another example of the Soul-Hip Hop explosion happening in the UK. BAS

ENVOGUE - Lies (Atlantic)

"Using lies as alibis" is the refrain EnVogues uses in their new single. With guest rapper Debbie T, EnVogue talks of people who allow themselves to become victims of lies—possibly their own. Foster and McElroy create another catchy beat that draws you in and holds your attention until it fades out at 4:16. JM

NAYOBE - I Love The Way You Love Me (WTG)

After establishing herself on the legendary Fever label, Nayobe makes the format jump and collaborates with New Jack master Teddy Riley. Since the mid '80s, I've admired Nayobe's strong dramatic vocal efforts, but now with a little funky swing behind her she delivers a strong Urban flavored appeal. This diva has the goods to garner your adds. BAS

THE WHISPERS - Innocent (Capitol)

After an extended vacation from the charts, The Whispers appear with a solid jam. Who could forget their 1987 #1 hit "Rock Steady"? Working with a more Hip Hop beat, The Whispers look to Robert Bookins' for production guidance. Find yourself guilty of playing this at your station. JM

HOWARD HEWETT - If I Could Only Have That Day Back (Elektra)

After landing a charttopping hit with the romantic single "Show Me," Howard comes back with a Gospel-like ballad. It's produced and penned by Matthew Wilder, and though you don't feel romantic charm "Show Me" had, the single should appeal to Urban A/C listeners. BAS

A TRIBE CALLED QUEST -

Bonita Applebum (Jive)

This innovative Hip Hop quartet definitely have a distinctive sound. With their addicting, laidback grooves, ATCQ appeals to the Hip Hop lover's abstract thoughts. Their adventures with Bonita Applebum (The Hootie Mix) rival De La Soul's escapades with Jenni. Groovin' over a seductive 1983 Isley Brothers sample from "Between The Sheets," this funky rap ballad should entertain your teen demos from beginning to end. BAS

B O R N T O S I N G

Dawn Robinson, Terry Ellis, Cindy Herron and Maxine Jones—as a group known as EnVogue, have achieved success literally overnight. “It took us by surprise,” claims Cindy Herron when I spoke during her week’s break from promotional touring. “We were preparing, but it has been going faster than we expected.”

This foursome was developed by 2 Tuff Enuff production masterminds (Denzil) FOSTER & (Thomas) McELROY. When I interviewed Foster back in 1989, just before the release of their FM² album he said, “Tommy and I are in the studio working on a concept album, something like Quincy (Jones) or Jeff Lorber have done—where the Producers write and produce everything. We have guest vocalists that are established, and ones we are developing. We have a new group—four girls, kind of like The Emotions, and we hope they fill that female group niche.”

Thus the group Vogue was born. At least that’s how they were introduced on the Foster/McElroy album. “Unfortunately we couldn’t keep the name because there was a hit group in the seventies called The Vogues,” said Cindy. As a result, the group’s name was changed by the time their debut album, Born To Sing, was released.

Cindy Herron, a native of San Franciscan, started singing professionally when she was eleven. She appeared along with her sister and two cousins on the PBS television show “Kidding Around.” Cindy’s also an accomplished actress who has performed on network programs, pilots, and made-for-TV movies. It was when she was in Houston auditioning for Olympian Carl Lewis’ band that Cindy met up with Terry Ellis, who was then a member of Lewis’ band.

The other two EnVogue members, Dawn Robinson and Maxine Jones are originally from the East Coast. Dawn moved to the San Francisco Bay Area from Connecticut where she began her professional career at the age of twelve.

Maxine began performing as early as kindergarten, and during her teens her family relocated to Northern California from New Jersey. While still very young Maxine decided to dedicate her life to music, and began studying voice and singing in various Jazz bands. Dawn and Maxine were introduced by a mutual friend—their hairdresser. They tried singing a couple pieces in the salon and discovered that they sounded good together. Dawn remembers, “It was fun and a coincidence, because in a few years we would be working together.”

In 1988 the four women’s chance meetings were tied together by a word of mouth audition hosted by Foster and McElroy. “I was told they were looking to put together a female group to record a song on their album FM², Cindy recalls. The group made their debut on Tommy and Denny’s album and they did so well that they decided to do their own album.

A year after the release of Foster & McElroy’s FM², EnVogue released their debut album Born to Sing and they have been running ever since. Within 10 weeks their first single, “Hold On,” was number one on the Gavin Urban Contemporary Charts.

The group has recently come home to the San Francisco Bay Area from a 10-city promotional tour, which Herron says, “was great. We hit a lot of radio stations and did a lot of interviews. It was our first time and we got to see a lot of different reactions to our record.” EnVogue has also performed in London twice, the first time to do “Top of The Pops” and the second to appear at the Prestateyn Soul Weekend.

What’s in store for the group? “Right now we’re rehearsing our choreography and we’ve also started work on vocals,” says Cindy. “We’re going to have to put a band together so we can be prepared for a tour. A couple weeks ago we were scheduled to appear on The Arsenio Hall Show but had to cancel. But,” she said confidently, “hopefully Arsenio will invite us back when our next single is on the top of the charts.”

INSIDE A/C by Diane Rufer and Ron Fell

MICHAEL BOLTON's HEAVY rotation tally is now over 200 stations, giving him a commanding lead over GLORIA ESTEFAN and the mercurial MARIAH CAREY.

GLORIA's increased her ranking from 3 to 2 on the strength of 48 new HEAVY rotation reports.

MARIAH CAREY's leap from 10 to 3 was attributed to a 77 station increase in HEAVY. Among MARIAH's newest players are K101, WMJC/FM, KEZR, KJOY and KYMG/FM.

For the second week in a row there are almost no underlined records in the top ten. Last week MARIAH CAREY benefitted most from chart fatigue. This week ANITA BAKER and NIKKI will clearly be taking advantage of the doldrums. Expect both to have single digit rankings next week.

NIKKI increased his HEAVY commitments from 21 to 68 stations, while ANITA once again a MOST ADDED, is at number 15 only three weeks since its release.

Seventy-five percent of stations playing BRUCE HORNSBY AND THE RANGE are HIT FACTORING and among the 42 new players this week are KXLK, WCOL/FM, KBOL, WMXC, WFAS/FM, WGAD, KAER, WCOD and KPTL.

Highest chart debut is WILSON PHILIPS' "Release Me" which had the second highest increase in HIT FACTOR (29%). It's also the number one MOST ADDED with 71 new including KBIG, KVIL, WQLH/FM, WAHR, KAAK, WFMK/FM, WOKZ, WFFX/FM, WMXC, KIDX and WRFC.

Our TOP TIP and second MOST ADDED is JANET JACKSON's "Come Back To Me." First week players include WALR, WAFL, WTWR, KFMB, WSUL, WHAI, B100, WMYX, WVUD, WMT/FM, WZNY, KBLQ and KCMG/FM.

REGINA BELLE's "This Is Love" leaps from CHARTBOUND to a chart debut at #38. Our RECORD TO WATCH last week picked up 22 ADDs, bringing its station total to 77. Among the new are WPXZ, WKTJ, WFFX, KGLO, KSAL, WDAY/AM, WRCO, KSBT, KWUN and KITZ. This week REGINA also moves top five on our Urban Contemporary chart.

This week's RECORD TO WATCH, DON DIXON's "Gimme Little Sign" doubled total reports from our last issue. It has a total of 46 with 24 new ADDs including WBLG/FM, WVVY/FM, KNOX, KTTR, WDAY/AM, WJY/FM, WHIZ, WQXC, KAEZ/FM, WRCO, KIDX/FM, KYRE and KVYN/FM among them. It seems perfect timing for DON's sign and he gives more than a little to this Brenton Wood original.

FLEETWOOD MAC
Skies The Limit (Warner Bros.)

This solid Christine McVie contribution to their recent "Behind The Mask" album sounds excellent as a single. Should do as well as its predecessor, "Save Me," which was top five for a month.

JULEE CRUISE
Falling (Warner Bros.)

From start to finish this single's haunting and hypnotic sound immediately hooks a listener. Unless you've been under a rock the past few months, you and your audience will recognize the music taken from the smash TV series "Twin Peaks." Note on your Pro CD single contains the instrumental version.

STANLEY CLARKE AND GEORGE DUKE

This joint effort by two soul/jazz greats, keyboardist George Duke and fretless bassman Stanley Clarke, results in a strong pop melody that's easy on the ear. F.Y.I., George Duke is the trax vocalist.

ON RATINGS & RESEARCH

HOW TO X-RAY YOUR SPRING BOOK

The ratings are coming! The ratings are coming!

Yes, much like the dreaded Redcoats, the Spring Arbitron/Birch numbers—the most crucial ratings of the year—are on the way, very soon. But once you've gotten your book how do you make sense of it? This article begins a multi-part series on just that topic.

The first two of these columns ran last year and generated many calls and letters, so by popular demand they're back.

So, let's dive in!

HOW REAL IS THE BOOK?

Inevitably, whenever stations receive their Arbitron or Birch reports—particularly the vital Spring results—the mayhem begins. The goal? Try to find the good news—or at least some way to explain the bad numbers. Page after page of ratings information is reviewed.

May we respectfully suggest that after you've whetted your appetite or even gorged on numbers, that you forget about the ratings data for a few minutes. Heresy, we know, but stay with us. Method to our madness and so on.

Sometimes in the rush to salvage our jobs or celebrate the good news one major aspect of ratings surveys is overlooked. This is: How good, or "real," is the data? Any survey firm will tell you there can be major headaches in obtaining ratings info from the public. Could there have been hassles in collecting cume and QH data in your market? If so, how can you tell? And what possible impact could there be on the numbers—and perhaps your career?

KEY QUESTIONS

Here's some food for thought as you ponder what impact survey integrity, or lack thereof, may have had on the latest results...

- Where did the sample (those folks surveyed) come from?
- How does that geographic pattern compare with the Spring Sweep last year?
- How many diaries (or phone calls in the case of Birch) come back usable from your target demographic group (such as Men 18-34 for example)?
- How does the demographic return this sweep look versus last year's survey?
- How are your numbers trekking, compared to previous scorecards (especially last Spring)?
- If you're up, is it due to more listeners (cume growth) or more loyal listeners (QH gains)? Or both?

where the usable diaries came from. InTab means usable diaries, in English. Where your diaries come from can sometimes be as important as how many you get back, and page 2B begins to give you clues.

Just take two counties in this Philadelphia example. Gloucester, with a 12+ population of about 178,000 saw the return of 178 usable diaries. Thus, on average, each diary in that county was worth about 1,000 cume persons. However, in Philadelphia per se the story was quite different. Out of a population of just under 1.4 million, 990 souls saw their diaries used. Thus, by dividing, we see that the average diary in center city was worth almost 1400 people—or 40% more than a diary from suburban Gloucester county.

Let's say the reason you went up, you believe, is that your cume in this book jumped 40%. Congratulations! But what if you got the exact number of diary mentions as in earlier surveys, but your diaries this time came from Philly rather than the suburbs. Cume in the book could jump 40%—while your actual diary count could remain stable.

Let's explore the pages necessary to answer the important questions posed above.

THREE KEY PAGES

In the typical Arbitron Radio Market Report (RMR) there are three key pages that can give you a good X-ray of your survey's results. Birch also has pages that correspond to these in Arbitron...

- Page 2B, which shows how the diaries were returned on a county by county basis.
- Page 3A, which shows for your metro how the diaries came back on a sex/age group basis,
- Page 6, which is the first page to display trended ratings information, going back up to four previous surveys.

This week you'll see pictured examples of portions of two of these vital links to ratings analysis. Let's explore both, giving you some thought starters regarding how you might evaluate this material in respect to the latest numbers in your market. We'll deal with the numbers on page six in the August 18 column.

COUNTY BY COUNTY RETURNS

It all depends on where your diaries come from and what is the value of diaries from each county.

Of course, those of you that have signal strengths—or weaknesses—should pay lots of attention to this page 2B. If there's a poorer (or better) return from a county where your signal strength matters, you can likely see numbers that fluctuate from previous books.

The bottom line on 2B? Trend the county returns, see what changes, if any, there are (anything more than 10% could be notable) and see how the average diary cume values vary by area. That may give you some thoughts regarding where you should target promotions, direct mail, outdoor boards, and so on.

#1 TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Mickey Gilley - True Love Ways

CONGRATULATIONS!!! Special Gavin congrats to one of our favorite folks, KROW-Reno MD Joel Muller, on his marriage last Saturday to Leslie Barcellos. We wish you both the best of everything...More congrats to our friends at WWIC-Scottsboro on the station's 40th Anniversary.

STATION HAPPENINGS...Norm Visger is now taking music calls at KWDJ-Riverside from 8-10 AM (PST) Wednesdays...Charlie

Fry is the new Music Director at WJAT-Swainsboro, coming over from WJAT/FM...John Eric is the new MD at WADA-Shelby. Bob Davis has exited as PD to take over as GM/PD of WXL-F-Rock Hill/Charlotte...WRWD-Highland, NY could use record service from all labels. Their address is P.O.Box 1073, 12528...WOHO-Toledo is now simulcasting with their FM sister station...For the second year in a row, KYAK-Anchorage celebrated the Summer Solstice with the "KYAK Midnight Fun Run." It's their way of celebrating the longest day of the year with over 19 hours of daylight in Anchorage. This year over 800 runners participated...The winner in KZLA-Los Angeles' "Father's Day Computer" contest was David Sawtelle, whose family sent in a petition that included 1,517 unduplicated signatures. He (and his devoted family) received a new IBM computer.

Talk with you next week.
The Gavin Country Crew

ASLEEP AT THE WHEEL - Keepin' Me Up Nights (Arista)

AATW's debut release on Arista is the title cut from their upcoming album. It's a fast-paced, fun song that your audience should really enjoy.

KEITH WHITLEY AND LORRIE MORGAN - Til A Tear Becomes A Rose (RCA)

This could easily be the song of the year. It's a beautiful bluegrass-tinged ballad written by Bill and Sharon Rice, recorded before Whitley's untimely death last year. Above and beyond the emotion that the duet generates, this is an absolutely lovely song.

LIONEL CARTWRIGHT - My Heart Is Set On You (MCA)

Cartwright gets down on the ivories and lets it all loose. You can hear some '60s pop influence in the song's wonderful melody and harmonies.

CHERYL WHEELER - Aces (Capitol)

Wheeler, who wrote "Addicted" for Dan Seals, is a compelling writer who deals with topics different from your standard Country fare. "Aces" is a beautiful song that starts off slow and unassuming but builds to a powerful ending.

DESERT ROSE BAND - Story Of Love (MCA/Curb)

An uplifting song in the Desert Rose style. Hillman and the band achieve a California Country gospel feel even though the lyrics deal with secular issues of love. Listen hard enough and you can make believe the steel guitar is an angel's harp.

SEX/AGE RETURNS

Page 3A shows how many diaries came back from each demo (and ethnic group such as Blacks or Hispanics if pertinent). Why should you care about this page? Because this is the heart of the X-ray!

For example, if your station appeals to Blacks you might be happy about this latest data. Why? Because in this example Arbitron wanted 18.4% of the ideal sample to be Black—but overachieved and got almost 20% (19.9%) of the total usable metro diaries from that ethnic group. The more diaries in any given demo, the more reliable the data. Thus, here Arbitron's 584 Black diaries (19.9% of the total usable count of 2942) exceed the number expected or hoped for—potentially leading to reliable ratings feedback for stations appealing to Blacks.

Look at the 18/24 pictures. Among men, Arbitron got back fewer than hoped for, only 5.4% of the total sample, just 159 diaries. If you're an Album station depending on that demo, it could be touchy.

Album stations often have a tough time in Arbitron and the data here shows why. Dividing the 159 usable diary tally into the population of almost 258,000 for the demo, we find that each of these elusive young men counts as 1600 cume persons.

Meanwhile, Top 40 stations are doing fine, with a more reliable data base for reading the ratings tea leaves. How so? Look at Women 18/24. Arbitron wanted 6.1% of the total returns back from those ladies but overachieved, obtaining 7.1%. Thus, even though there are fewer women 18/24 than men in that demo (at least in Philly) Arbitron got more diaries back from the ladies. And how about the reliability of those female booklets? Dividing the 208 diaries into the population of just about 251,000 results in each of these carrying an average cume value of around 1,200.

Since the lower the diary value or cume value of each diarykeeper the more reliable the numbers it can be said that Top 40 programmers are able to have more confidence in these numbers. The Album radio folks, or whoever target Men 18/24, have less useful data to work with.

Bottom line? Look at your station's key demos and see how Arbitron fared in getting back usable diaries from your key sex/age cell. Look to see how the returns compare with previous books. We've seen many cases where changes in the numbers are due to flux in the information found on 3A from survey to survey.

Delve into these two pages in your market reports and see what they tell you—or cause you to question. If we can help, you can reach me at 1-800-BIG-WIN (FAX 609-399-9504).

Then, on the 13th, we'll tear into those trends and see what they can tell you.

In the meantime, keep up the good fight! ●

4 ARTISTS BEHIND THE NEW ADULT PROGRESSIVE SOUND

Who says the sophisticated adult listener should automatically retire to Oldies/Classic Rock/MOR pastures? Jazz and Adult Alternative radio offers these disenfranchised music-lovers a superior choice. Here are the stories of four successful and distinctive artists from the Jazz/Adult sector.

By Keith and Kent Zimmerman

STEVE KINDLER Bringing The Romance

Back Into Violin

Steve Kindler is a classically trained violinist whose exquisite technique is picture perfect—free of bad habits or flawed posture. He approaches each note or solo passage with iced concentration and intensity, typical of his studied musical upbringing. And if a symphonic background isn't enough, since age eighteen Kindler has performed with highly visionary musicians like John McLaughlin and his Mahavishnu Orchestra and Jeff Beck. His current Adult Alternative chart-breaking Global Pacific release entitled Across A Rainbow Sea finally surfaced after two years of work that was interrupted by frequent touring with Japanese composer Kitaro, on whose latest album Kindler appears.

Kindler worships the violin, and like many key Jazz players is on a mission to expand his instrument's role and heighten awareness among music lovers everywhere.

"Violin is an instrument that hasn't had artistic continuation in this century. Great violin playing has almost become a period thing, something that's passe. There aren't great violin players in terms of the Romantic style. It's almost like an artist trying to recapture Art Nouveau or even the Wild West. Our great grandfathers remember those times, but it's just hearsay. All we can do is form our own pictures. And there are no players like that these days. There's the Israeli school, which comes through Isaac Stern primarily, and they're all stable, strong players. But in terms of that certain panache or savoir faire, subtle beauty and nuances of grace—thank God we still have recordings of the past or we would not know."

Kindler feels there's room for more violin in current popular music.

"We're dominated by saxophones in Pop music, Jazz, Adult Alternative. The vast majority of solo instruments are saxophones. They say it's a warm sound and it's sexy and it emulates the human voice, which is true. But there are other instruments that do that very well too, and violin is one of these. Not only does it have the ability to be really romantic and awaken people emotionally, it has the ability to be a powerful and incendiary force in music.

"The thing that I'm doing that others aren't is I have a strong foundation in classical music. I feel that with classical sensibilities I can bring an awareness of more subtle things with the instrument. A lot of music played today is very linear. It doesn't have the breadth of expression. In the Adult Alternative genre, the violin has much room for growth."

In the mid-seventies, at age eighteen, Kindler left a violin symphony chair in Hawaii and replaced famed French violinist Jean Luc Ponty in the Mahavishnu Orchestra. He had been bitten by the Rock/Jazz fusion bug.

"Fortunately my first experience playing with guitar players was with John McLaughlin and the Mahavishnu Orchestra. I replaced Jean Luc Ponty. When I first got into the orchestra I was eighteen and he was thirty four. Coincidentally our ages were the same difference as when Jean Luc was first introduced to Stephane Grappelli.

So he took me under his wing a little bit. There was an overlapping period before he split from the band seven months later. After that I stepped into his shoes for some tours and albums.

"Playing with Mahavishnu Orchestra led to an association with another great guitarist, Jeff Beck. John McLaughlin had a very different style and approach to the instrument. Nonetheless both are consummate masters in some ways. I think John's tremendous contributions to guitar will be historically compared to Segovia. I recorded with Jeff Beck on the live album he made with Jan Hammer. I played keyboards, guitar and violin.

"For the first years of my professional life with the Mahavishnu Orchestra, it was 150% input all the time: being able to play electric violin, develop harmonic theory, staging, glamor, fame, drugs. Everything was coming from the time I was eighteen. After five years I did an about face and got into spiritual discipline."

Across A Rainbow Sea draws from many sources. Although Kindler describes "Mystic Fire" as a Jazz ballad the intoxicating middle bridge is orchestral in scope. His two showstoppers onstage as well as on disc, "Little Fuji" and "Agua Caliente" borrow from global influences, yet they press forward with glorious melodies. On "Bodysurfer," Kindler's fluid violin can be aggressive and attacking, falling in and out of effects that disguise it as a ragged and edgy electric guitar. When approaching Kindler's musical artistry, set aside any convenient, passive New Age preconceptions.

Kindler sends mixed signals when evaluating his stint with Kitaro on the Japanese composer's most recent record and past tours.

"It was difficult because of my obligations with Kitaro. I was on the road with him a lot. It was a very good exposure for me. I got to play in wonderful places and technically everything was at a very high level. I didn't learn a great deal from Kitaro about music. As far as staging and theater is concerned I learned volumes. He's a great artist in terms of conceptualizing and creating a mood.

"I played on his last album and that's one reason why I didn't go on the road. He would have paid me great money. But I couldn't think of myself going out and playing this stuff that's quasi-meditation and American once removed. The Japanese people on the whole are more Western than we'll ever be because we realize the fallacy and see the holes in the fabric of our culture and our social life is here. But they don't see it. Kitaro sees Western harmony but he can't feel it."

Kindler has especially tried to remain open minded about radio's musical needs.

"I think I have a pretty good grasp of the industry—interfacing with radio and being able to be on a first name basis with the people. It's very important to go out and do the work within radio and retail. There are so many artists who think that they can just create music and divorce themselves completely from it. I call that very irresponsible. To say they have to walk a hundred miles to me and I'm not going to step one foot toward them is egotistical.

"I hear time and again that the majority of people who call up radio stations when my music plays are females. Women call and ask who is playing that beautiful violin. That says something to me. Women are very sensitive and emotional, and their sensitivity confirms my own feelings about the violin."

As Adult Alternative radio continues to be a satisfying choice for the until recently unclaimed sophisticated adult listener, Kindler remains diplomatic about the dreaded term "New Age" and what he sees as its past accomplishments.

"New Age is being apportioned to where it needs to be, leaving the stuff that's more accessible and more functional in our lives. New Age is fractional of all the kinds of music that's happening. Granted, it was the catalyst that brought this into being. It was able to build a bridge between Jazz and all the music people were trying to create. So we owe it a great debt of gratitude. And for people who are actively involved in the spiritual path, it's still viable. But in terms of a nomenclature for a kind of music, it was passe before it was ever even used.

"John McLaughlin was in town and I wanted him to come in and play on this tune called 'Agua Caliente.' He wanted to know about the label. I said it's primarily a New Age label. He said, 'New Age? Man I wouldn't play on any New Age. I hate New Age music. New Age music is soulless. I don't want to play on this stuff.' I said, 'At least check it out.' He wouldn't do it and I was so pissed off at him that I went home, practiced the guitar for a couple of days and recorded the part myself."

While Kindler keeps himself musically eclectic and open-minded, he has little patience for today's classical musicians.

"The pitfall of classical music is the dogma. I call the majority of violinists these days 'classical techno-dogmatists' because they are so into the letter of the law. There's hosts of them all sitting and waiting for whatever violinist who has the nerve to get up on stage to play that one wrong note. Some poor sap gets up there and tries to breathe life into this well-worn, old concerto. God forbid he makes a wrong note. Violinists are executioners. Not woodwinds or brass players so much—but string players, especially violinists. The people who play very high technically are very underdeveloped personally. They sit in their rooms for hours a day and play and play. All of the facets of their personality shrink down to a tiny self-centered creature. That's not music."

CHRISTOPHER HOLLYDAY Right On Course For Bop

Bop saxophone music is making a wild comeback, and young Christopher Hollyday is plowing inroads—not just for the music, but for the fact that his youthful exuberance is breathing new life into the medium. To see the twenty-year-old whirling nonstop through high energy sets on bandstands across America proves that Bebop Jazz is far from receiving death notices. Before signing and completing two albums on RCA/Novus, alto saxist Hollyday was a whiz kid, playing professionally by age thirteen, and even recording two more releases on small labels.

"I did a radio interview a few weeks ago and this person had all my old records. We listened to a tune from every record. It was touching and I could hear how I was progressing. I could hear the same ideas that I'm just getting to now. The next two years could be my greatest, artistically. I'm getting to where I want to be."

On the bandstand Christopher, without even noticing it himself, props his horn up and out as if he were blowing tenor sax instead of alto. Perhaps it has to do with his heroes.

"I'm influenced more by tenor players and less by alto sax players than any other instrument. When I was growing up in Boston, Billy Pierce was a big influence of mine. As for musicians in general, Dexter Gordon and Sonny Rollins are large influences. But for the past nine months, my biggest influence is really myself. I listen to myself about ninety percent of the time—just listening to stuff that I'm practicing or maybe a performance tape. I'm working on my sound a lot."

Hollyday's reedy, squealing fast breaks have surfaced full force on his latest release, appropriately titled On Course.

"I try to cover the whole spectrum of sounds on the alto saxophone. I like the deep sounds and also the very high nasal sounds too. I try to get into those as much as I can. By listening to so many different players I've been able to make my own sound and not have to copy anyone."

One of the finest songs on his latest is a carefree, high swing showpiece called "Lady Street."

"'Lady Street' incorporates a lot of important aspects of my music—the blues, having fun and being hard-hitting at the same time. It's bluesy and I feel I'm more heavily influenced by blues than bebop. There's also the hard-hitting feeling about the melody, like a locomotive. Then I always try to keep things fun. I grew up playing music at a young age and I realized how much fun it was. 'Lady Street' is a fun song."

While much has been made of Hollyday's youth, many of music's premiere trendsetters—from John Lennon and Bob Dylan to Miles Davis and Charlie Parker—made their mark in their early twenties.

"It's the music that's so important. All the press I got when I was fourteen or fifteen that was cool because I was just coming on the scene. In a way it's almost a waste of print to talk about my age because you could talk about somebody's musical ideas instead. That's what I would rather read."

Hollyday is satisfied with both RCA releases. The first, simply titled Christopher Hollyday, began as a tribute album featuring seasoned vets like pianist Cedar Walton and bassist Ron Carter.

"Both records have concepts behind them. The first record we did after I was signed to RCA was almost an all-star album. It was a once and for all time to say thank you to all my influences—Charlie Parker, Jackie McLean, Dizzy Gillespie. This new album is basically the ideas I have at this point in time, a documentation of Christopher Hollyday the twenty-year-old."

After paying homage to the masters, it was time for Hollyday to develop on his own with his own hand-picked group backing him up in the studio.

"I wanted to use the quartet I was traveling with at that time. I had them in mind when I was writing this music. That's the big difference between those two albums. Some of the songs from On Course were already written when I recorded the first RCA album. But back then they didn't fit with the concept."

Chris sees that he's made progress between his last two recordings.

"I don't think I knew enough about myself at that time to be able to explain to Cedar Walton and Ron Carter my concepts. It's not any big deal, but it wasn't as obvious as it is now. Being able to play with my buddies on the last album is a good thing. When you're playing with friends there's a different spiritual connection that isn't there when you're playing with your idols. All you're worrying about is making sure you do things right. You can really get inside the music more with your buddies. Drummer Ron Savage and I have worked well together. He did my first gig when I was thirteen and was at the last gig in Chicago a couple of nights ago. He's out of Boston and I'm happy to be able to be the first one to record him. (Pianist) Larry Goldings and (bassist) John Lockwood are very close as well.

"We try to keep everything open and free. We go onstage with just a sketch of what we're going to do, then end up not playing anything we originally planned except the opening song. I like to keep an open mind to whatever happens on the bandstand."

Currently on tour with another young sensation, Harry Connick Jr., Hollyday sees a connection between both newcomers in that each has the basic need to have fun with a deeply traditional acoustic Jazz sound they've both worked hard to master.

Being below the drinking age and gigging constantly inspires many youngsters to turn up at the shows. The consequences are inspiring and comical.

"That's where the age thing is helpful to the Jazz scene. When I play a concert the spectrum is so wide. It's an honor to entertain such a varied crowd and have them interested in me. We have kids just starting out on saxophone, college students and senior citizens. People bring their babies in or there are parents who think they have a child prodigy. They try to bring them backstage and say to me, 'You've got to tell them to practice!' The kid's on the other side of the room playing with an airplane. He doesn't want to be a musician. I'll say, 'Leave him alone. Let him do what he wants to do.'"

With a bustling career, Hollyday's success has to be beneficial for traditional Bop Jazz in the long run.

"I look back and I'm almost right where I want to be at this point in time. I like writing. We let things go onstage and if something happens we go with it for a minute. I'm into the quartet; I couldn't be happier with the band. It's hard to look down the road too far. My music changes as I change. I realize that I change every six months. For the next couple albums I can see it being acoustic music and it might be a larger band for different parts and harmonies. But for now, I guess I'm—uh—right On Course."

Playing It Pretty But Z

Trumpeter Marlon Jordan is the latest of an impressive aggregation of musicians from New Orleans who have released major Jazz debuts. At nineteen Jordan has chosen a path that separates him from the thriving squad of young players making a heated arrival onto the crowded scene.

Classically trained as a child, while attending a prestigious music camp Marlon stunned famed conductor Leonard Bernstein with a sight-reading performance of a Stravinsky piece. Jordan stresses that it's discipline.

"It's a necessity to have been trained in a classical tradition because it gives you things technically that most others people can't get by practicing Jazz. Aside from the fact that I enjoy playing classical music, it gives you more control and command over your instrument."

JAZZ NEW RELEASES

STRONG AT BROKEN PLACES - GREGORY GRAY (ATCO)

Ireland's Gregory Gray released Strong At Broken Places quite a few weeks back, confusing American radio with his outspoken, unpredictable style. So far, his strongest response has been on the AA level where programmers find solace in uniqueness. Trax like "Don't Walk Away From Love," "Easier Said Than Done" and "Learn To Say No" fit sonically with the format. Producer Davitt Sigerson has an effective track record, having produced a wide range of artists from Bangles to Eddie Money to David + David to, most recently former X-man John Doe. Gregory is unlike all of the aforementioned artists in that his lyrics are poetically aggressive and sometimes jarring. Here are some examples, "Experience is only the comb that brushes your hair" or "I am a courtcase a real chequered past/You could play chess all the way over my chest." "When The Music Turns Into Money" blatantly addresses some of the same foibles we wrestle with balancing music and biz. As I said, this isn't for everyone, but it's off-the-wall enough to just maybe make an impact. See what you think.

EAST OF EDEN (ECHO CHAMBER/ CAPITOL)

I think it's important to listen to young College/Alternative bands that feel they have something to contribute to the new Adult audience that's scanning the dial looking for something besides baked Phil Collins. A young American band like East Of Eden is an example. On songs like "Still You Stay" and "Sapphire Skies," they play beyond their young years. The sliding bass of Steve Monahan, coupled with the vocals of Cinde Lager is sophisticated, creating a textural feel that might segue well with some of the hipper instrumentalists like Quintana + Speer and Steve Kindler or vocalists like Julee Cruise, The Telling or Joan Armatrading. Give it an ear and see if it doesn't hold up it's end of the AA bargain. After all, AA is still supposed to be an alternative to Neil Diamond and Linda Ronstadt.

TWOWORLDS ONE HEART - LADYSMITH BLACK MAMBAZO (WARNER BROS.)

A few folks—Jack Kolkmeier of Santa Fe comes immediately to mind—base a lot of their enthusiasm on the AA format because of Third World music, principally African and Brazilian treasures. Ladysmith Black Mambazo have made inroads with airplay from people like Jack, coupled with with a Paul Simon tour and tours on their own. What's amazing about LBM is watching the crowd get off without understanding any of the lyrics. The spirit of LBM is scrawled above and below the track listing—that is, "Scatter The Fire/Spread The Music." There are those who feel that the key to life—especially political life—is a good offense. And Ladysmith comes out swinging with the spiritual "Leaning On The Everlasting Arm," one of the few English language trax (cut in Detroit (!) with the Winans), but their's plenty of "call and response" Joseph Shabalala originals, most of them with a rare glow of humanity, including "Ofana Naye (Nobody Like Him)" and integrated American/African "Township Jive" featuring the guitar of Ray Phiri. Much of Two Worlds One Heart is devout and a cappella.

PURE CONTOURS - JOHN JARVIS (MCA MASTER SERIES)

Truly John Jarvis' Whatever Works was an AA masterpiece. I never dreamed Jarvis would ever approach its essence and genius, and frankly, he doesn't here. But he sure comes close. With so much in bred inboard music, Jarvis at times risks sounding like a traveling department store Casio clinic. But just in time players like Richard Bennett, Mark O'Connor, Edgar Meyer and Jim Horn come to the rescue with vocal help from Emmylou Harris ("In My Time") and the great Delbert McClinton ("A Real Bad Day"). Jarvis still has the same knack for endearing melodies, although WW's "Paul Wants A Pig" is still his crowning achievement when it comes to kickass cuteness. Pure Contours is a steady blend of electronics and acoustics. And that's Jarvis' gig this time—the blending of synths with bows, brass and strings. Edgar Meyer is stunning on bowed bass in a beautiful light classical duet with Jarvis on acoustic piano. Passive moments include "The Woods Behind St. Andrews." A good rockin' song (for that important AA edge we all debate so strongly about), try "Wake up Call." Don't get me wrong. Pure Contours is a gold mine of Jarvis' wit and wisdom. But, dammit, I can't get my mind off of Whatever Works.

BLUE SEPTEMBER - WINDOWS (CYPRESS/GOLD CASTLE)

Could it be? Yes it is, the first AA instrumental I've heard of a Stones song. "Under My Thumb" is a dark reminder that we're all getting older and that the rebellious songs of our youth sometimes become the hi tech instrumentals of tomorrow. Blue September is power Windows with high calibre instrumentals like "Edge Of The World," and vocalists like Janis Ian ("Counting Up The Years") and Al Stewart throwing chips in the pot. Stewart cohort, guitarist Peter White, contributes substantially. It's hard to imagine the shape of the music without his flamenco-styled guitar runs. Blue September is a marathon thirteen song mixture of fine vocals and first class bass/keyboards/guitar modern ensemble pieces. Saxophones are used liberally for texture and sensuality. With a state-of-the-art mix, look for Blue September to make a quick run for the Top Five, contending for the very top slot. Trivial point especially considering that all the players are meticulously credited, but unless I'm blind, somebody forget to list the band personnel. I know it's Skipper Wise and Ed Cohen, but will radio and their listeners?

THE RIVER FLOWS - KEN NAVARRO (POSITIVE MUSIC)

With the serene title and scenic cover, I wasn't quite ready for the blast of energy you hear on "Roughhouse." Ken Navarro, an outstanding guitarist, is only half the story. I like how he backdrops his ideas with fierce instrumentation and production. He's a very proficient keyboardist and sequencer. From soundbite one you get Navarrophonics that, even when he's playing a slow, studied piece, is loud and dense. Navarro likes his music electric and cavernous introduced by lavish fanfares and electronic wows and pows. One of the key moments is the six minute "Tiananmen" which takes quite a sonic journey.

Quintana + Speer

SHADES OF SHADOW - QUINTANA + SPEER (MIRAMAR)

Quintana + Speer is a musical equation that hails from Seattle, a city that's full of great musical spirit and underrated innovation. In listening to such soundscapes like "Outward Bound" or "Private Promises," I can't help recalling the Seattle city skyline as my partner and I blasted in from the interstate. They say great music conjures up vivid images, and Quintana + Speer certainly stirred me with their collaboration. Speer's strength as a guitarist is his sense of texture and picking patterns, never upstaging the mood. His single note work is soaring, with sustained notes mixed with finger-picked chord flange patterns that blend in with the atmosphere Leroy Quintana creates with his electronics, both with keyboard and percussion programming. "Trade Winds" is less atmospheric with some cozy close miking or direct patching that keeps the sound tight and controlled. Nice touch.

ROAD TO FREEDOM - WIND MACHINE (SILVER WAVE)

Part of the AA spirit is realized when musicians invent their very own instruments with which to express themselves. Example—Wind Machine's Joe Scott playing the "Guitjo," a six, seven or eight stringed contraption where the wound bass strings are replaced by high treble strings (liberally heard on "Song For Marilyn"). Sounds a bit like Nashville tuning. Wind Machine is a frontline assault of stringed acoustic instruments. The three Mesples (Steve, Taylor and Ethan) handle lead guitar, piano/keyboards and drum/congas/percussion respectively resulting in a Colorado Western-tinged fusion of instrumental folk and modern electric music. But it's hard to peg this band down. While what they do sounds pleasant, the intricacies can be complex. And while Wind Machine are fluent in "feelgood" they manage to touch on Tiananmen Square (an issue frequently touched on by AA instrumentalists) via "China" and El Salvador with my favorite track, "Our Mountains Are The People." And while they are a talented bunch, Wind Machine are a band of casual dressers (see back photo) who look rather unpretentious and enthralled with the Colorado spirit. More Rocky Mountain innovation from the progressive Colorado region.

THE STANDARD BEARER - WALLACE RONEY (MUSE)

On an earlier Muse release, Woody Shaw set a few standards. An inspired trumpeter named Wallace Roney attempts to set a few on his own. Interestingly Roney (who cuts a scary figure onstage, quite similar to a young Miles Davis) sat in with the legendary Shaw as a fifteen year-old. In his honor, he assembled a heck of an ensemble with pianist Mulgrew Miller, bassist Charnett Moffett (who gets the very first licks on the intro to "The Way You Look Tonight"), Cindy Blackman on drums and the gritty Gary Thomas livening things up on tenor. In fact, although I'm risking blasphemy, Roney and Thomas have a good Miles/Coltrane relationship going with the music. It is Roney who keeps the renditions rooted while Thomas voyages to the nether regions. When he sits out, as he does on three tunes, you tend to miss his presence. Mulgrew Miller is his usual lush self, capable of ample rhythm and beauty. As a leader, Roney seems to ride well over such a talented quintet. I found The Standard Bearer a kinetic work inside a concept that could have easily been predictable. Taking the risk paid off. Recorded at the studios of and by the legendary Rudy Van Gelder.

REVEILLEZ-VOUS - PETER WHITE (CHASE MUSIC GROUP)

Guitaring in the Al Stewart and Basia camps has given Peter White a grip on the blossoming Adult music scene. White has always majoried in the juxtaposition of acoustic and electric guitar. He uses flamenco phrasing, although his is a steel stringed-sounding style. On "Romance Dance" into Buddy Holly's "Everyday," the mood swings from steel to nylon. By the uptempo "Festival" and "Danny Bianco" (a takeoff on Matt Bianco?), Reveillez-vous (pronounced REH-VAY-EH-VOO) is up and rolling. In the past Peter's music has reached the masses through the compositions of others. The response to his solo record (co-produced by Skipper Wise) is already off to a fast start as our AA Most Added.

A WALTZ FOR GRACE - STEVE WILLIAMSON (VERVE/POLYGRAM)

Steve Williamson has been setting woodwinds on fire since the 25-year-old alto player hit the Londontown club scene in 1986. A Waltz For Grace is a hands-across-the-water effort, with US sessions (produced by Steve Coleman) and UK sessions. Both have drummer Mark Mondesir and pianist Julian Joseph in common while bassist Lonnie Plaxico and guest vocalist Abbey Lincoln are among those added on this side of the Atlantic. Like his British counterpart Courtney Pine, Williamson chases a predominantly African/American Jazz train with noble imagination and dignified skill. With the sessions mixed up in the sequencing, it's hard to tell which was recorded where simply because the material fits together so cohesively. Yet another bright young talent is born, keeping the hard ball rolling. Trax: "Down (Slang)," "Mandy's Mood" and the vocal, "A Waltz For Grace."

OLYMPIA 1988 - STEPHANE GRAPPELLI (ATLANTIC)

Violinists like Steve Kindler learned from performers like Jean-Luc Ponty who learned from Stephane Grappelli. Grappelli (whose association with Django Reinhardt is legendary) is the Godfather, and this 1988 concert is a testimony to his prowess as a bow-man. The set list is pretty famous, including Django's "Swing 42," and "Nuages/Daphne," "Someone To Watch Over Me" into "I Got Rhythm" and the perky opener "Pick Yourself Up." Come to think about it, Grappelli into Kindler could cover some wide ground.

VOLITION - RALPH PETERSON QUINTET (BLUE NOTE)

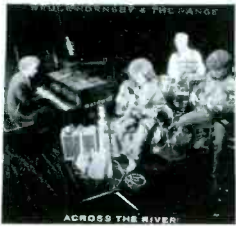

Volition is volume two of the Ralph Peterson Quintet sessions that gave us the remarkable V release in 1989. Special guest stars trumpeter Terence Blanchard and piano goddess Geri Allen harness Peterson's aggressive drummer/bandleader personality. Proceed to the quirky but loveable "Fourth And Back." While Peterson thwacks about unmercifully, Geri Allen is on fire—a punch drunk combination of Bud Powell and Thelonius Monk.

THE HARD WAY - STEVE EARLE AND THE DUKES (MCA)

I know this might sound funny, but what I like most about Steve Earle's The Hard Way (a perfect name, by the way) is that after the first and second listen, I'm still scratching my head in uncertainty. And that's good because I usually don't trust a record I like on the first spin. All time favorites like Earle's Exit 0 and John Hiatt's Slow Turning wore my ears the same way—slow burners. And this one burns. It's thirteen songs, each with a separate, distinct personality. "The Other Kind" sets the ground rules clear enough, juggling the difficult balance between left wing politics and a redneck demeanor. Watching Steve on stage espousing politics just short of revolution with Marshall Tucker and Charlie Daniels fans guzzling beer at the next table is indeed a strange crowd to work. But you live dangerously just as Steve did when he cut his Country following loose for an uncertain rock future. His standing as a rocker still isn't established because, fortunately, it's starting to matter less and less what the hell kind of animal he is. The Hard Way does things the hard way. Most of the songs venture into the five and six minute mode, as Steve method acts and fleshes out characters ranging from semi-comatose white trash to an angry highway bleeder to a plain ole "Regular Guy." The last time I saw Steve he was performing solo acoustic and he barely caught a red-eye flight East to supervise the album's mastering process. He was magnificent. The new songs, especially the anti-capitol punishment ode "Billy Austin," sounded beautiful in their stark wooden state. I look forward to the process of getting to know them fully dressed.

GOO - SONIC YOUTH (DGC)

Hardcore stuff. Sonic Youth, with their strangled feedback guitars and detached vocals, burn just about every melodic bridge you can think of for the sake of a pure Alternative following. So far it's paid off as they debut strongly at #22 leaving over half of the chart in their rear view mirror. Though they now beam their music via major distribution, Sonic still sound like they've barely crawled out of the garage. The music is a low tech offering recorded in a high tech setting. Bizarre tunings, drone strings, sometimes bassless bottom, slapping Velvet Underground drumming and high energy are the SY formula so far. Just when you can see for miles, the vision gets blurred, the outlook muddy. As abrasive as it all sounds, Linda Ryan says the number one chart position is now officially in danger. Let trax like "Kool Thing," "Cinderella's Big Score," "Tunic" (sung from the point of view of Karen Carpenter in heaven) or "Dirty Boots" restore your faith in modern raunch.

DAYS OF THUNDER SOUNDTRACK (DGC)

Eleven odes to Tom Cruise's smile and prowess on the race track of life. There are some interesting rock moments including David Coverdale singing lyrics by Billy Idol produced by Trevor Horn. Guns N' Roses check in with a swaggering version the perennial Dylan tune "Knockin' On Heaven's Door." Next up is John Waite as a session singer on "Deal For Life." Elton John sounds like his early self on "You Gotta Love Someone." And is that really Terry Reid on "Gimme Some Lovin'"? Terry, of course, is known for his Epic/ABC/Capitol solo albums as well as saying to a young Jimmy Page, "Gee, I'd like to sing in your new group, but there's this guy up North named Robert Plant. Give him a ring." Actually my guilty fave is Cher's "Trail Of Broken Hearts." It's sooo Cruisin'.

"GOD TONIGHT" - REAL LIFE (CURB/LONG RUN)

On this collision of house and synth dance, I found David Sterry's voice closely resembling that of New Order's Bernard "Barney" Sumner. The song asks the question, if you were God, hmmm. After the sex part, its off to all the weird social ills and society, blah, blah blah. The power of this song, ironically, lies in it's sinister beats per minute and orchestral swells. There's something about a good, razor-edged dance track that sometimes hits the spot. Those stations that depend on a righteous dance sound are already hip to Australia's Real Life—or else they should be.

KISS OF LIFE - GENE LOVES JEZEBEL (Geffen)

Gene Loves Jez under Jay Ashton's hand has a dash more humor (as heard on "It'll End In Tears"), a dash more texture. Working with two excellent producers, Paul Fox (XTC) and Tim Palmer (Mission, Robert Plant), Kiss Of Life is almost foppish as the glamorous side of Gene Loves Jezebel rises to the top. Believe it or not, I hear flashes of Edith Piaf and Led Zeppelin. The guitar work is exceptional thanks to Palmer, a producer who is partial to layering the guitars so as to create an artificial guitarworld planet. Nothing ever takes itself too seriously including "Jealous," "Kiss Of Life" or my favorite, the elegantly wasted "Evening Star."

"LAST PLANE OUT" - TOY MATINEE (REPRISE)

When he's not producing the likes of Madonna or Julian Lennon, Patrick Leonard is half of Toy Matinee, a tidy, crisp studio rock unit that specializes in neatly arranged orchestral progressions. "Last Plane Out" takes all sorts of neat little detours and roundabouts. Toy influences include Yes and King Crimson, with emphasis definitely on Yes. I favor the more compact edit.

Welcome to a couple of newcomers. Both will report to the Album Radio side of life. First is Linc Allen, KROK (92ROK). Address is Route 4, Yankee Ridge Rd, Diridder, LA, 70634. Driving Miss Daisy jokes aside, David J comes in as this week's Most Added artist. With 38 ADDs, this certainly qualifies as a Record To Watch.

INSIDE ALTERNATIVE RADIO by Linda Ryan

What a crazy week! The Top Five stayed exactly the same, but as you can see those artists bubbling under stand poised to recreate the chart next week.

With their 12-6 move, THE HOTHOUSE FLOWERS finish as one of two bands to enter the Top Ten this week. The many stations reporting the band in HEAVY include WUMS, KACV, WRAS, WXRT, KTAO, KFSR, 91X, KUKQ, WRSI, WMDK, WBNY and WXVX.

Don't let the small jump fool you. Things are so tight at the top where else could JOHN DOE go except #11? Gaining weekly, John's HEAVY supporters include WCDB, KTAO, KZSC, KUNV, KALX, WRAS, WUOG, KOTR and WTKX among others.

SONIC YOUTH screams up the chart with a solid 22-13 move. New ADDs AT WRAS, WUOG, WUSC and WRVU should ensure future growth for this contender.

With such an all-star line-up, it's really not too surprising that THE BREEDERS leap 33-18. Twenty-two stations report HEAVY including WPRB, KJHK, WTUL, WRFL, WXCI, KCMU, KUSF, WFIT and WUOG (among others) while KRCK, KALX and WBNY come in for ADDs.

REVENGE makes a nice 38-23 move this week as vinyl hits College radio. There are thirty-seven stations showing support for PETER HOOK's project, including newcomers WKXL, WTUL, WCDB, WRVU, WXYC, WRAS, WUOG and WRFL. Look for more upward movement in the coming weeks.

O.K. O.K. O.K. Here's the latest on the big Gavin Get-Together at the New Music Seminar. SUNDAY, JULY 15th will be our big day. Join us at THE LONESTAR ROADHOUSE (West 52nd St.) at 1:30 for some libation and heavy schmoozing. If, by chance, an important panel stands slotted for that time (1:30-3:00) then we'll reschedule. Hey! Anybody know what's happening with panels? Anybody?

We knew he'd rear his Deadhead sooner or later! Congratulations to MARK COHEN who re-surfaces in ARISTA RECORD'S Alternative Department. Mark will be working alongside PAT FLYNN, whom you already know and love. One question Pat—what's a nice Irish name doing on an Italian boy like you?

Join me in wishing Epic's JACK ISQUITH all the best in his new endeavor. As of July 9th, you can reach him at BEAT VISION—1574 SE Lexington, Portland, OR 97202. You want a number? How 'bout (503) 234-2300.

Last week THE ORIGIN played a free show at THE PARADISE LOUNGE here in San Francisco. It was part of something called THE VIRGIN ROOM—a weekly showcase put together by local Virgin ALAN WILSON with all proceeds going to a local charity. The show was HOT. If you need convincing on this one, talk to KJQN's MIKE SUMMERS. The Origin played in Salt Lake City to a sold-out crowd of 500, and had 300 or so standing outside just so they could listen. Awesome.

MIDNIGHT OIL and HUNTERS AND COLLECTORS prove they are still one of this Summer's hottest music tickets. Presence, charisma—it was all there in abundance. SEANA BARUTH is still talking about the show—in between diatribes on BIG DIPPER (plug, plug. See artist profile on next page).

That's it for this week! LINDA RYAN recorded version of "I'll Be Your Chauffeur" and move to "A Longer Look," "Stranded Trans-Atlantic Hotel Nearly Famous Blues," and especially "Fingers In The Grease." LINDA RYAN

THE CREEPS - BLUE TOMATOE (ATLANTIC)

Together since 1985, The Creeps have taken their native Sweden by storm—winning Best Artist Of The Year Award at the Swedish Grammys and selling out a 35-date tour of their homeland. Drawing heavily from classic '60s and early '70s soul, The Creeps employ a funky, R&B sound that's authenticated by a rippin' horn section and a Hammond organ—guaranteed to "sock it to ya." Start with the single "Ooh—I Like It" (the video is a must-see) and move to the Costello-like "I'd Better Start Running," "I'm Gone" and "Right Back On Track." LR

THE BEAT FARMERS - LOUD AND PLOWED AND... LIVE! (CURB)

When it comes to The Beat Farmers, it takes a live show to drive home the fact that they shouldn't be dismissed as a humorous novelty act. One listen to this double-album and you hear how sharp and aggressive The Beat Farmers really are. They don't abandon the humor entirely, but they successfully contain most of it to the dialogue in between the songs rather than the songs themselves. Of course classics like "Happy Boy" and "King Of Sleaze" are included for your enjoyment. Also check into "Hollywood Hills" and "Blue Chevrolet." LR

THE TELESCOPES - PRECIOUS LITTLE EP (CREATION)

Back on a new label, the ever-prolific Telescopes follow "To Kill A Slow Girl Walking" with an EP fraught with personal failings and obsessions. The first hand grenade to the groin is the title cut—seriously blessed out guitars reverberating around the stop/start "I would be precious little without you" chorus refrain. "Deep Hole Ends" is a slower, more plaintive effort with singer Lawrie's nerve ends laid bare. Best of all is the plaintive "Never Hurt You." It's melancholy as hell, sure, but with an irresistibly rousing chorus. Kiss off track "I Sense" pales next to those three and reminds me, strangely enough, of the The Pastel at their most morose. Excellent EP. ANDY COWAN

DAVID J - SONGS FROM ANOTHER SEASON (BEGGARS BANQUET/RCA)

David J's third solo effort, Songs From Another Season, is a collection of atmospheric, acoustic pop songs. Recorded in between Love And Rockets' tours and sessions, Songs From Another Season was two and a half years in the making. The sound is not totally unlike Love & Rockets in say, the Earth, Sun, Moon period, or perhaps a it's bit on The Jazz Butcher side (Not only was David J a member of The Jazz Butcher at one time, but former Butcher bandmate Max Eider plays guitar on this effort). Songs From ANother Season is sparse and stripped down to let the beauty of the the music shine through. FOUR NERVOUS GUYS ARMED WITH BUT WIT

By Seana Baruth

When I was a kid, I really wanted a rock polisher. I was fascinated by the idea of tossing a handful of uninspiring pebbles into a device that would transform them into treasures, almost little gems. What I got was a bottle cutter, but finally, after years of dissatisfaction, I found Big Dipper. Confused? Well, bite down on one of the songs on their new record, Slam. It's rock that'll break your teeth. But spit it into your hand and rub it. See how warm it gets? How easily your thumb slides across it? How you don't want to put it down? That's Big Dipper—they've got that glossy, accessible surface, but underneath there's gravel. So who needs a rock polisher?

Each Big Dipper member (with the exception of drummer Jeff Oliphant) had previous experience with band(s) "of note"—guitarist Bill Goffrier with The Embarrassment, bassist Steve Michener with Volcano Suns and Dumptruck, and guitarist Gary Waleik also with Volcano Suns. At our morning interview, Steve spoke readily and intelligently about what that history means to Dipper's attitude and their music. "All of the bands we were in had a healthily sense of caution toward the way bands usually are. We all avoided the kind of rock-and-roll thing. The Embarrassment were the geekiest band alive—four nerdy guys with glasses. Volcano Suns were hopeless, too, and Dumptruck were just these guys in plaid shirts. We each brought that non-rock-and-roll attitude into Big Dipper, which has helped us survive."

"When I was in Volcano Suns, the writing had a certain focus, which was great for a certain noisy, aggressive, angry mood, and Dumptruck was kind of mellow, sad, and melancholy. I felt both of those things, and it was great being in those bands, but I wanted to be in a band that combined both of them. In Big Dipper, what we were all looking for and found was a band that had an edge but that was mostly concerned with writing good pop songs. We like to keep a little grit in the grooves because we like visceral music."

It's mighty easy to toss around a phrase like "good pop song," but actually writing one remains an entirely different affair. Dipper have mastered the concept. Their hooks, while camouflaged by all that guitar, are sneaky and inescapable, and their smart, incisive lyrics belie the oft-espoused idea that pop is necessarily mindless or trite. How does each tune become so, um, polished?

According to Steve, "With three or four songwriters, it's easier. If I were the only one writing I'd feel tremendous pressure. No one in the band (I think I speak for them all) wants to be the star, the one guy who writes all the songs and tells everyone else what to do. That's rare. Whether you like us or hate us, we're different because of that. We know that someone is going to come up with a song sometime. Bill, in particular, is so prolific, it gives me the opportunity to wait until the songs come to me. Also, it's a luxury for me to be able to go into the rehearsal space with three other guys who are on the same wavelength. If I give the barest bones of an idea, they can flesh it out. We tune into each other's songs and work as kind of a collective songwriters forum."

That forum has turned out thirteen sparkling originals for Slam. Among them are: a Big Dipper rallying cry ("The Bond"), a tale of reincarnation ("Another Life"), a rocking dedication to the monsters of...jazz(?), the saga of modern-day hermit Bill Britt ("Life Inside The Cemetery"), and "Picnic," a delightful imagining of The Bangles' twenty-second year reunion.

"Well, that song was originally written about the Weavers. They were from the forties and fifties, a vocal folk group, kind of political...and they had a reunion at Carnegie Hall after being apart for twenty-two years. While it was in the works I was constantly trying to convince Bill that he should make the song about the Bangles instead, and I won the argument because the Bangles' names fit in better than the Weavers' names. "Suzanna" just sounded better than "Don" or "Ted." I think "Picnic" is a compliment. I was told by our management that we would be presenting The Bangles with our record in some sort of ceremony..."

Slam, Big Dipper's major-label debut, follows a healthy indie career on Homestead Records that included two full-length albums, a twelve-inch, and an EP. "We never really subscribed to this notion of 'indie spirit.' We've always been chomping at the bit and pushing at the edges to try and get a lot of stuff on our records. And we don't consider ourselves an alternative band at all. It just comes out that way. I mean, we consider ourselves prone to diversion maybe, but not uncommercial."

"When we went in to make this record we were happy because we did have a budget to make a recording that could compete with others that we liked. (Because of our desire to compete) our relationship with Homestead was a little strained. We expected a lot from them, and they had their limitations. In hindsight, in some ways I think we were wrong to push them the way we did.

So when the time came to move on, why did the band, pursued "on and off" by several major labels, choose Epic?

Steve explains, "They were the most persistent. And we liked knowing there would be lots of support. We were very impressed with the set-up. Even though their alternative department is kind of new, it doesn't seem as fly-by-night as some of the others' departments. And our contract with Epic says that we have the last word on all the songs, versions, artwork, whatever. But there is give and take in a situation like this—not that we gave up anything—but we're perfectly willing to listen to these people whose job it is to sell records. Although we definitely had ideas on ways we didn't want to be marketed. And we got to make a crunchy guitar record that you can hear the guitar on. That costs money."

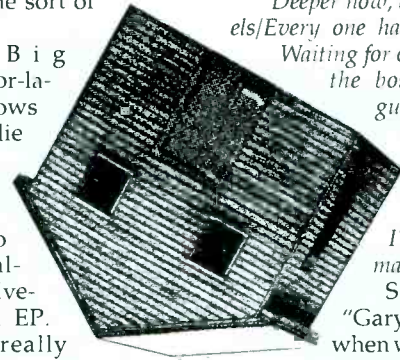

The major label, the horns on "Bony Knees" and the breezier air of Slam in general might prompt some indophiles to mutter "sell out."

But Big Dipper has composed for the doubting an answer in advance, "Blood Pact." This ruminating, tongue-in-cheek tune spells it out quite plainly:

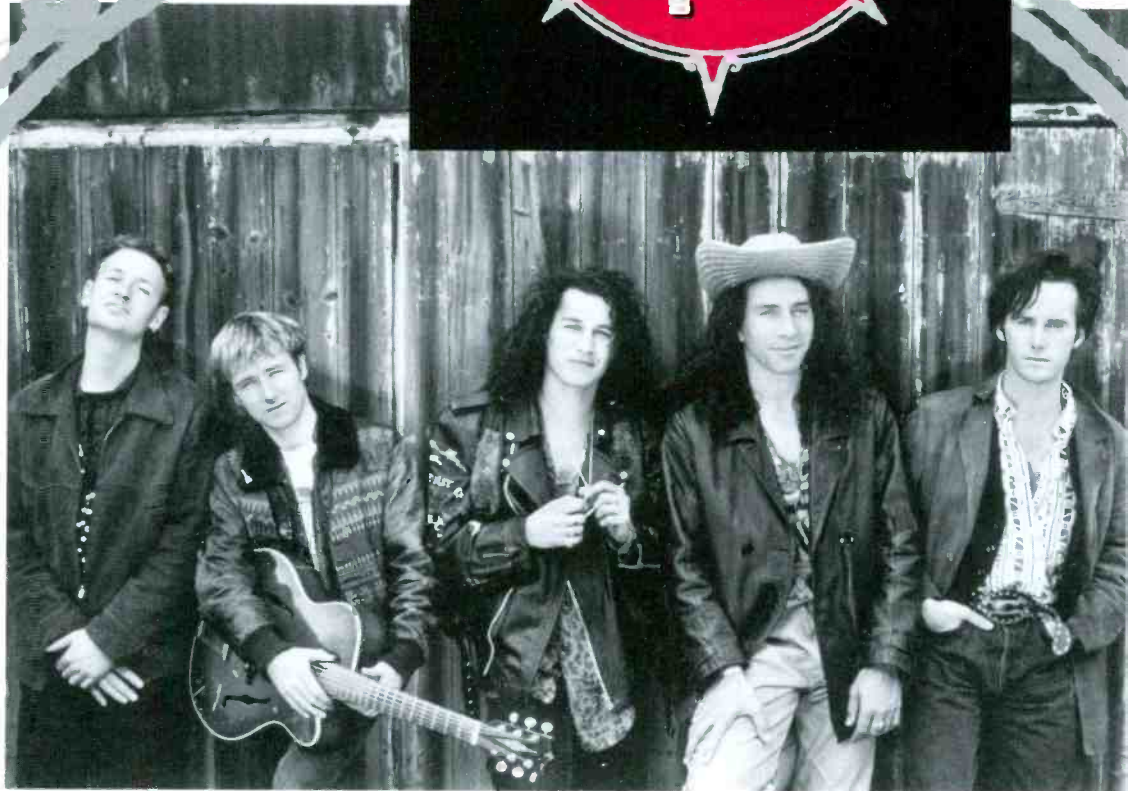

"Deeper now, down thirteen levels/Every one had thirteen devils/Waiting for our chance to meet the boss/Four nervous guys armed with but wit/Then in his evil presence stood/Offered us a deal WE TOOK IT....You're self-made.

Steve comments, "Gary wrote that right when we knew we were gonna sign. He's always keeping an eye on the integrity of the band, 'cause Bill and I are more commercial than he is, and he likes to make sure our feet stay on the ground. "Blood Pact" is about all the things that can happen when you do buy into the corporation. But as far as we're concerned I won't even entertain thoughts or accusations of selling out. I mean, selling out? We've been trying to sell it for four years. No one's buying."

Yeah, well my guess is that everyone wasted his/her money on a dysfunctional bottle cutter, and as soon as they figure out, as Dipper says in "The Bond," that their "bread is buttered on the wrong side," they'll come around.

For You Only on Columbia rivets the listener with his power to play pretty and interpret ballads. He builds an emotional tension and can hush a noisy room full of people with one single, parched, blue-flamed note. On much of For You Only, Jordan is joined by family friend and celebrated tenor sax player Branford Marsalis.

On a well known standard like "Stardust," Jordan's music combines romance and flair with urgency and technique. Throughout all eight performances Jordan expresses, through his horn, a sweeping variety of sentimentality—ranging from tenderness and rapture to despair and anguish.

Like Christopher Hollyday, Jordan accepts the novelty of being an especially young player.

"I accept the accolades. It's fine to be nineteen and playing, but I think it shouldn't be a factor in judging my music. There's good and bad music. If you like my music, it doesn't matter if I'm forty or fifty. I'm just giving my musical expression at an earlier age. I'm still trying to develop every day. I definitely listen to my influences—Wynton, Clifford Brown, Fats Navarro, Dizzy Gillespie. That's the only way you're going to keep developing."

Marlon, whose brother, flautist Kent Jordan, also records for Columbia, gained some valuable career input a couple years ago when he toured Japan as the opener for Miles Davis. Marlon reflects on the unforgettable buzz.

"I was seventeen. It was a new experience. It took me on another plane to be on the stage with somebody that I studied and listened to. He (Davis) was very nice to me, and extended personal invitations to come over to his house and help with some tunes. He's interested in continuing the tradition of the music."

With For You Only breaking top five in the Jazz charts, Marlon has already assembled his working band and hit the road.

"To tell you the truth, being on the road doesn't leave me enough time to practice. I catch a plane at seven in the morning and get off the bandstand at two in the morning. I don't have enough time to do what I'd really like. But I get the chance to play with a band. That's the good experience—playing, writing and getting ideas.

"I think I'm going in the right direction. I want to study and get more into the Classical tradition, and to learn how to play other instruments, like piano and drums, that will bring other things to my music. I want to listen from a perspective other than trumpet."

In the future, look for Marlon to continue his arresting solo stance with ballads and material with a bit of flash.

"A lot of material that will be on the next album is being tried out on the bandstand. We're getting reaction. It definitely takes more risks and chances. It's very high energy and very fast."

LIEBERT

No Sweaters, Please

"It has to do with a sense of melody. I love melodies and I think the melodies are strong on this album. There are also a lot of Eastern European influences over the flamenco."

Ottmar Liebert is trying to solve a personal mystery for us. Out of the hundreds and thousands of acoustic, flamenco, classical, nylon-string guitarists, why is this music so special, so damned appealing? Less than a week before our conversation, I was getting my hair cut. The woman in the next chair asked the barber,

"Have you ever heard Ottmar Liebert?"

I put down my newspaper. That did it. Ottmar had truly emerged as a special guitarist who draws fans and influences from the strangest places. We had to talk.

"Have you ever heard how Jan Hammer had all of those incredible melodies on Miami Vice? Maybe it's the same thing, his use of melodies."

Miami Vice? Eastern European flamenco? Being different comes easy to this young guitarist who hails from Cologne, Germany. During a sold-out engagement here, the difference was striking. Onstage is a trio of musicians, drummer in the middle, Ottmar sitting casually with his legs crossed, stage left. His hair is tied back. He's wearing a loose, loud shirt. One song in and the audience, a large share of it female, is in Ottmar's palm, enthralled. He's looks almost bewildered by the reception, possibly flashing back to the time when the crowds weren't so swollen. His salad days were the times before settling in Santa Fe, the environment that sparked his current success.

"I was in Boston for about seven years doing the Pop music thing, hopelessly out of it, holding down an eight to ten hour day job."

Hold it. Ottmar Liebert, exotic guitarist, day job. As what?

"I had a glamorous job. I was a bicycle messenger. Three years, no accidents. I never heard of anybody not crashing in three years. Somebody up there must have wanted me to become a guitar player. I used to do music from midnight to six, then sleep until ten in the morning, then work as a messenger. We worked long and hard trying for a break. Then we decided it was time to move."

"I was going to go to Los Angeles, but ended up in Santa Fe. It's a nice place and I hope it stays that way," Ottmar said with a forboding environmental concern.

Nouveau Flamenco, his current hit CD went through many incarnations. Some of the material started out as a homemade cassette that evolved into a limited edition CD thanks to a local Santa Fe painter named Frank Howell. Each year Howell hosts a party, a happening around a local New Mexican event called Indian Market. A fan of Ottmar's, Howell came up with a generous budget and a concept giving Ottmar total freedom to create musical content that would augment the paintings. The result was Marita: Shadows and Storms, a label-less edition of one thousand CDs, half of which were distributed to Howell's party guests, who came to admire both Howell's drawings and poetry and Ottmar's unique flamenco style—a style that's very Classical, yet not at all traditional.

"The Classical scene is not for me because I think I've got something to say on my own. I don't have to play other people's notes. After four years as a Classical player, it was like, 'okay, see ya later'. It's funny, usually I would play at this guitar concert in Santa Fe. And there were all these Classical guitarists wearing sweaters," remembered Ottmar, a more experimental dresser.

"I looked around and thought, 'I definitely don't belong here.' Not that I have anything against sweaters, but it's just those guitar player sweaters! All these guitarists just want to be Julian Bream. Flamenco isn't open enough for individual expression."

A local following ensued after tireless gigging. Early radio allies included Nick Francis, Jack Kolkmeier, Brad Hockmeyer and other Southwestern broadcasters. When Francis moved from Santa Fe's KLSK to KKSF in San Francisco, Ottmar's limited edition CD made the trip inside his luggage, resulting in the first Bay Area radio exposure. Soon airplay spread across the country. Enter the folks at Higher Octave who remastered and edited the sixteen song version to the slimmer, shimmering version renamed Flamenco Nouveau. Not bad for something put together in less than three months—and that included composing the material, recording and pressing. Today copies of Marita: Shadows and Storms have become as scarce as hen's teeth.

"Recently at a show I overheard someone trying to buy an original CD from somebody for two hundred dollars," Ottmar laughed.

"It was one of those experiences born out of my East Coast days being tired of lawyers, managers and all that crap. With Frank (Howell) it was just a handshake. Nothing was ever written down. It was very Santa Fe. Same with Higher Octave in that we only want to work with folk who seem like good people. I don't want to get lost in all of that business bull again, things like producers looking over your shoulder at all times."

What distinguishes Ottmar's flamenco is its international feel. After his time as a young man in Cologne, Ottmar spent a lot of time traveling Europe with his guitar in tow. At age eighteen he journeyed from Cologne to Moscow on the Trans-Siberian Line, then the Orient, then Latin America.

"I always had my guitar with me. I'd play for anybody and everybody. I was sucking up culture wherever I went."

With a summer tour opening for Basia planned, Ottmar will travel with his band, bassist John Gagan and percussionist Jeff Sussman. To keep his music fresh and succinct, the live shows differ from the recordings.

"If one note says more than ten, what the hell. I'll play that one note. There's no way we can just recreate the music from the album. The only way is to play a song that may last fifteen minutes one night and maybe three minutes the next."

These days you'll seldom see Ottmar in a sweater. That is, unless it's at a giant outdoor festival show, perhaps in the Swiss Alps or wherever the music might take him. Sweaters are for wimps. Nylon stringed guitars are for winners. Travel for Ottmar Liebert builds character and experience. Two years as a recording artist and Ottmar hasn't crashed yet. ●

PERSONAL PICKS

SINGLES by Dave Sholin

ADVENTURES OF STEVIE V - Dirty Cash (Money Talks) (Mercury/PolyGram)

British-based writer/producer Stevie Vincent spent six weeks Top Ten in the U.K. with this track, selling a quarter million copies in the process—no easy task in that market. Vocalist Melody Washington, a music teacher from Georgia living in England and teaching for the U.S. Air Force, met Stevie while she was playing in a local club near his home. A fortunate meeting for them and for us, who get to ride the rhythm of this exceptional entry. The label is rushing the CD promo, so if you haven't got a copy yet it's on the way. IMPORTANT: it's identified as "ADVENTURES OF STEVIE V," to avoid confusion with Stevie B.

TONY LeMANS - Higher Than High (Paisley Park/Reprise)

Deja vu for the handful of stations that had this in high rotation last Fall. Now it's got a second chance at going the distance with the rest of the country. Inspired by Sly Stone's (Sylvester Stewart) Woodstock anthem, "I Wanna Take You Higher," Tony dedicates the tune to Sly and even draws on his phrasing style. In keeping with the song title, producer David Gamson (one half of Scritti Politti) keeps the intensity and interest level going higher from first note to last.

ELECTRIC BOYS - All Lips N' Hips (Atco)

Bound to put a smile on the lips of those programmers bemoaning a Rock 'N Roll drought this summer. WTBX Duluth, MN plugged into this high voltage, funkasized track five weeks ago and PD Joe Crain, who moves it 26-18, says, "It's really taken off the past five days, especially with 12-24s." An exciting package that comes complete with a fun attitude.

PERFECT GENTLEMEN - One More Chance (Columbia)

If you haven't figured it out by now, Pop perfection is Maurice Starr's specialty, and he knows his craft. Currently on tour with New Kids On The Block, performing in front of millions, there just might be a chance PG will be including this song in their act. Reminiscent of early Jackson Five, they should have the crowds saying, "Ooh la la."

PARTNERS IN KRYME - Undercover (SBK)

Cowabunga—they're baaack with a new caper, a hot rap and pure entertainment. Cops, robbers and detectives are top-of-mind right now, so what better time for these private eyes to serve up some inventive ear candy. Who says crime doesn't pay?

ALBUMS by Ron Fell

JEFF LYNNE - Armchair Theatre (Reprise)

A producer's album if I've ever heard one. With two generations of recording experience dating back to The Move, ELO and more recently The Traveling Wilburys, Jeff Lynne's sense of arrangement and texture has won him some sort of anonymous fame. The Move and ELO were sober and pompous rock orchestras that were limited by their excessive statements. The Wilburys proved to be a deferred adolescence for Jeff, as the group's humor and its loose grip on reality were vital to its spirit. With "Armchair Theatre," Jeff's first-ever solo album, his best moments are the clever and reverent re-makes of songs like Roy Hamilton's DON'T LET GO, Lena Horne's STORMY WEATHER and Kurt Weill's SEPTEMBER SONG. Among the freshly composed tracks I especially like

NOBODY HOME, LIFT ME UP and another scrap from the Wilbury genre, BLOWN AWAY.
