TOP PRIORITY

R.E.M., "What's The Frequency, Kenneth", WB

If you think about it, what else would you ask as you're mugging Dan Rather? That is, after all the Connie Chung references are played out. But, hey, if the band wanted to pull an ultra obscure plum out of the pie, they couldn't have picked a better line than that one, other than, say, "Rosebud" or maybe "Plastics." We're becoming accustomed to mandolin/acoustic flavored first singles from the past two releases ("Drive" and "Losing My Religion"), so the electric nature of "...Kenneth" is both refreshing and, as if it matters to the band, more timely. As they've demonstrated time and again, they're really as comfortable with a "Radio Free Europe" or "Orange Crush" guitar driven groove, and the new single is clearly cut from that cloth, though musically a little darker. Perhaps even more interesting is Michael Stipe's almost unintelligible lyrics, an early trademark we thought might have been laid to rest. With their first tour in five years imminent, "frequency" might well be the operative word for R.E.M. this fall.

HARD ACTS TO FOLLOW

Sordid Humor, "Barbarossa", Capricorn

The inherent appeal of this song is obvious, considering Counting Crow Adam Duritz's prominent backing vocals. But those distinctive tonsils aside, that wouldn't mean didly were this not a fairly compelling track on its own. Originally formed in 1987 by singer/songwriter/guitarist/consultant (only kidding) Tom Barnes and bassist Jim Gordon, Sordid Humor gigged around the Bay area to critical acclaim til they broke up in 92. This particular tune was recorded in 1992, produced and engineered by Dave Bryson, now the Crow's guitarist. And to complete the update, Gordon and Barnes have gone on to form Engine, an outfit much sought after within the A&R community. Punchy and melodic, and most of all pedigreed, "Barbarossa" offers up plenty of reasons to take it seriously. Plus, it's a damn fine lookin' car.

Eric Clapton, "Tore Down", Reprise For all of its lip service regarding heritage and upper demos, Rock radio usually likes the wait 'n see mode regarding more traditional blues based material — except, of course, in the case of ole E.C. "Tore Down" takes root at 132 outta the box Hard Reporters, good for a 25" Hard Hundred entry. It's also the week's #1 Most Added at Triple A, debuting at 23" there. Reaction: Jim Owen, KSHE, "I'm a blues freak, so to me this is not only the perfect Clapton album but a great, great song. Beyond that, it's a blues rock track with the kind of legs it takes to be a mainstream hit, and that's going a long way"... From WBLM's Brian James, "This is a blues town, so there goes Clapton. People are calling about it"... To WFBQ's Marty Bender, playing the record "makes a lot of sense because he'll be here in about a month and this gives us current product to play. Plus we play a lot of blues rock here and this stuff works well. Pretty genuine". From WPDH's Greg O'Brien, "Thru' the roof reaction here. Our listeners like that he's getting away from the Journeyman/commercial stuff and they like the straight blues"... Finally, WIXV's Jay Sisson sez, "There's not a 35 year old male listener out there who doesn't want to hear this song".

Dream Theater, "Lie", East/West

Building on the last project's momentum, DT racks up a quick 30 stations, led by KEGL, KISS, KISW, KMOD, KUPD, WBAB, WBZX, WCCC, WKDF, WLZR, WRCN, WSHE, and WXKE. Obviously plenty of quality in this week's wash, eh? Chartwise, COR leads with a 47° debut, with mainstream radio awarding a 86° entry. Tom Marshall at 'KLQ is in early, and here's why: "We added them early last time, they played the market three times, and that alone deserves a shot. I'm not convinced it will be a smash, but it's a decent song, and definitely heavy enough for anyone who thought they were too retro"... From John Rozz at WSHE, "We played the two previous hits and this is a great response record at night. Every time we play it they want to find out who it is". And from Duane Dougherty at the Eagle, "They've got a solid fan base here and the early phone reaction has been very positive".

Dinosaur Jr., "Feel The Pain", Reprise

Although we're really a week ahead of the official add week, "Feel The Pain" picks up KUPD, KRRK, WAAF, WRZK, WXRC, and X107, with WMMS, WAVF and WVVV already in early, too. From Belinda at KEZE, "I'm a big fan of the band and thought they were one of the best acts at Lollapalooza. Ever since seeing them live I've had an even greater appreciation for the band"... Dave Rossi adds, "I think it sounds great. Like Spin magazine said on its cover, Mascis is God. Just an amazing guitar player"... It's been nearly ten years since their inception, and with their success on the Alternative side of things we've been patiently waiting for them to breakthrough ever since "Where You Been" and we fully expect this to pick up where "Start Choppin" left off.

Live, "I Alone", Radioactive

There couldn't be a better buzz on this tune, probably the best of any second track currently on the street. WRXK's Austin Keys comments, "What an unbelievable powerhouse! This is gonna be huge. They performed so well last time out that this is a natural"... From Dave Rossi at WAVF, "Doing very well with nothing by positives from day one. In fact, we've had top 10 phones on whatever we've played from them. Great sales, too." From day one, people have talked about the quality, intensity and the downright religiousness of their live show, as verified at Woodstock (and management did not get in a fight with John Scher), so look for the band on the road starting in October. Upping their momentum by holding onto the #3 Most Added position with 23, and one of this week's strongest movers with a 90-62* move.

Gin Blossoms, "Allison Road", A&M

Nice week for the newly overhauled "Allison Road", as the Gee Bees nail down #4 Most Added with 22 new believers, with a major count that includes KLOS, KLOL, WNEW, WMMS, DC101, WFYV, and WJRR. You might recall many programmers picked this is the best track when the album shipped two years ago, and the new version improves on that. With two monster research tracks currently in rotation with "Found Out" and "Jealousy", this is a great time to freshen up the Gin Blossoms success story as they approach two million. Currently kicking butt road trippin' with the Spin Doctors, while traveling up 46-38" on the Hard Hundred. Key increases: KATS (9-15), KLOS (15-20), WAVF (19-23), WOUR (11-17).

Weezer, "Undone (The Sweater Song)", DGC

Though the occasional programmer might be heard dismissing this ditty as a bit too "college" sounding, there's little doubt at this point that it will follow in the footsteps of Offspring and Deadeye Dick in the reaction department. Adds this week include KIOZ, KSJO, KUPD, WSHE, WTPA, WXQR, KRAB and KNCN, with WMMS and WAVF the first to report Top 5 phones. Dave Rossi updates, "#2 phones this week. This was a critical week in terms of what we needed to see this song do, and it exploded". KEZE's Belinda rates it, "A really good, fun song, with a solid groove to it"... Dana Jang adds, "The song has big hooks to it and KOME and Live 105 are pounding it"... WIXV's Jay Sisson hears, "One of those stupid, quirky little alternative tunes that will probably be a big hit". Already getting 26 spins at KRRK, 24 at WMMS and 25 at X107.

dada, "All I Am", IRS

This first tune taken from the upcoming American Highway Flower, brings the charismatic and infectious dada 14 big adds the first week out, with WHCN, WDHA, KLBJ, KDKB and WNCD leading the charge. Of the leaner meaner dada guitar sound WRXK's Austin Keyes says, "I like it because of its straight ahead, no nonsense approach to rock and roll with an alternative lean"... WDIZ's Tim Travis adds, "Love that group and love this song. I thought the first LP was one of the top 100 of the last ten years"... From Marty Bender at WFBQ, "It's really two songs in one. Listen and you'll hear another song about a minute and a half in. We were out of the box on 'Dizz Knee land'. This obviously isn't as cute and might have more substance.'

Southat, "Bonecrusher", Epic

With the blues-based funked up style of these Austin based boys it's not surprise more quality calls make room this week, with KLOL, KRXQ, WRIF, WIXV, KATT, KRRK and KDJK fronting the double digit add action. Top 5 phones now include KNCN, WHJY and WRXK. The early increases are there, too, with KEGL (14-19), KNCN (12-15), WHJY (4-10), WKLQ (6-10), WXRC (6-13) and ZROC (7-17) among the most aggressive early believers. Jay Sisson at WIXV comments, "Of all the hard rock records out there this was our favorite. We couldn't wait to find room." This is just the beginning of the Southat story, take note of the 46-31* move on the COR chart — and folks, this is just the first taste of the Soulhat brew from their Good To Be Gone LP.

nine inch nails, "closer", nothing/TVT/Interscope/AG

The station count continues to fill in slowly, but it's becoming readily apparent that, fueled by MTV, "closer" will be the band's breakthrough mainstream rock radio track. As Duane Doherty says, "Like everybody else, I don't get it — but it works. Huge phone record"... KLPX's Sue Dunn agrees, "I've been playing this band for years and I've always seen the response, but just never had a track I could get into regular rolation. The video has really helped this time, the sales are good, and we simply can't pretend that Trent doesn't exist any more". From Valorie Knight at KQRC, "I think it's gonna be big. Already one of our Top 5 female testing records". From Austin Keyes at WRXK, "Will be one of the biggest records of the year, females especially. Not nearly as industrial as Trent's previous stuff. Women aren't exactly sure what role the nine inch nails are going to play in their lives but they sure do like it." Dana Jang adds, "Some curiosity calls and the fans can't believe we're playing it". Finally, from Tom Marshall at 'KLQ, "It's probably one of those hit records where you've got to ignore all the other stuff and just go ahead and play it." Now on 27 Hard reporters, 87-64" on the Hundred, debut 37" COR.

The Smithereens, "Time Won't Let Me", from "Time Cop", RCA

Don't play covers? Neither does WFYV, but Mr. Charlie Waters was moved to comment, "Normally we don't deal with covers but we'll make an exception with this one. It's close enough to the original but done in that Smithereens style we can deal with"... New this week at WNEW, WZZO, WIOT, WFYV, WAVF ("Better than anything on the album"), WAPL, KICT, KSPQ, WKQZ and WZMT. Others on board this new and improved version of the Outsiders' "Time" include WSHE (8), KEZE (5), WDVE (7), WCMF (3), KCLB (11), KLBJ (8), WHDQ (12), and WMMR (8). The Smithereens find themselves newly charted at 100* and a sure thing once the sci-fi action Time Cop flick hils the silver screen

Bloodline, "Stone Cold Hearted", EMI

New air at 9 reporters takes the total count to 54 stations, good for a 54-44* HH advance. WKLS, WLVQ, WPLR and KDJK headline the new believers, with healthy play jumps reported by KDKB (4-10), WDZR (6-18), and WNCD (8-14), along with double digit spins at KMOD, KNCN, WCMF, WKGB, WMRR, WOUR, WRUF, WXLP, and WXQR. 14 plays later at WARQ, and PD Chuck McKay comments, "We're playing it because it's the sound our listeners are looking for"... KZAK's Steve Funk feels, "Pedigrees like this don't come along often in rock n' roll and in this case these guys have a tremendous amount of talent.

MORE... HARD ACTS TO FOLLOW

Freedy Johnston, "Bad Reputation", Elektra

Between #1 Triple A play, a nicely developing Alternative story, serious pop and rock potential, Elektra's on the verge of serious multi-format action here. As noted by WAVF's Dave Rossi, now on the record for seven weeks, "Reaction grows every week, with nothing but positives every time we mention Freedy's name. Absolute ear candy"... From Becca Goodman, KEZO, "Doing fine with late night play and performing well enough that we anticipate it could be an all day record"... WDHA's TJ Bryan agrees, "I'm completely digging it. Freedy's voice is distinctive and drags you in right away. Good songwriting, too". WPDH's Greg O'Brien hears, "A great, simple pop song without the fluff." To WSHE's John Rozz, "Freedy's hip enough to entertain the 18-34's and it certainly fits the adult mode, too. Unique and worth taking a chance on". New at WBAB, WDHA, WPDH, and KEYJ, with WNEW, WLUP, WMMR, KEZE, WLVQ, and WSHE among those already on board.

Green Day, "Basket Case", Reprise

Out only a coupla weeks now and already up and running, no prob. As WDIZ's Tim Travis says, "It's boomin"! It was top 10 before we were even playing it and it's close to Top 5 at night"... From Austin Keyes, "Huge. One of our top requested records"... WIXV's Jay Sisson admits. "I'm old and deaf and I don't understand records like this, but the kids with backward baseball caps, baggy shorts and bad skin sure do!"... In this week: WDVE, WTPA, WIXV and four more, with plenty of solid early phone activity: KICT, KILO, KNCN, WKLL, WMMS, WRCN, WROV and half a dozen more all into early Top 5 phones. Some serious play jumps, too: KEGL (14-18), KIOZ (15-29), KISS (6-18), WAAF (37-401), WBTZ (21-27), WKLL (20-29), with KUPD already up to 21 plays and WMMS reporting 39. 29-27* on the Hard Hundred, 13* COR.

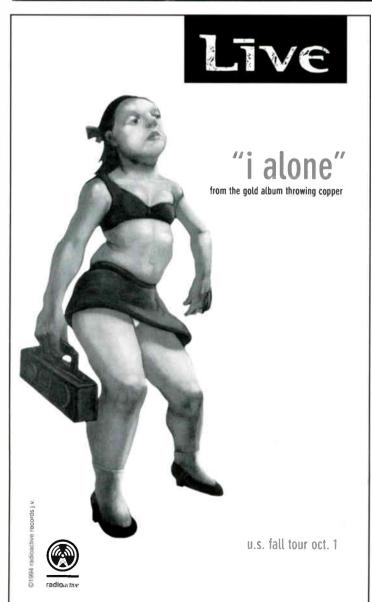

Gods Child, "Everybody's 1", Qwest/WB

The increases here tell the story. Check 'em out: KLOS 3-9, KISS 29-30, WRIF 6-29, WRUF 14-17, KMOD 12-15, KQRC 9-11, KQWB 14-16, KRNA 10-12, KRRK 28-29, KSJO 9-11, KSPQ 6-15, KUPD 4-10, WDHA 31-32, WDZR 13-16, WHDQ 12-14, WJRR 13-15, WTKX 24-25, WZZQ 12-15, and X107 21-26. And that ain't even all of them, chillun! New this week at KCQR, WRCN, WRCX, WSFL and WYMG, for a total station count of 87. WDHA's T.J. Bryan updates, "We're starting to get a lot of curiosity calls after we play it, which to me means more than requests"... WDIZ's Tim Travis concurs, "Really staring to creep up on the phones"... Greg O'Brien, WPDH, "Starting to get real reaction here"... and from Tom Marshall at WKLQ, "We're doing a really fun data base promotion with it off the air, and it's working big time on the air". 28-24* on the Hard Hundred, 28-21* COR.

as Chairman of RCA's Nashville group. Galante, who has been with RCA since 1971, was named President of the label in 1990, when he replaced Bob Buziak. The move is reportedly at Galante's request. He has been widely credited with making RCA Nashville one of the industry's top labels during his days as Marketing VP and then Nashville label president. RCA Sr. VP/Marketing Randy Goodman — who was Galante's Promotion VP in Nashville before the pair moved to the NY office — will again join Galante in Nashville, as will VP/Sales Ron Howie. Galante will continue in his current role until a successor is found.

RAY GMEINER'S ZOO BOUND

Ray Gmeiner

This week the rumors become reality, as Ace Promotion and Marketing's main ace Ray Gmeiner rejoins his buds and former label mates Brad Hunt and Lou Maglia as VP of Rock Promotion for Zoo Entertainment. Brad gave Ray his first job in promo with MCA in Denver back in 1979, and all three worked out of the Elektra national office in NYC. Ray comments. "Were it not for Brad and Ray, I wouldn't have taken this offer from any other label. I'm looking forward to working with a team again, particularly when it's one led by good friends like Lou and Brad. It's nice to be wanted."

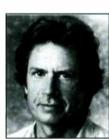

RICK ALDEN Vs. TIME WARNER

Rick Alden, former Elektra Sr. VP/Promotion, has filed an age discrimination lawsuit against Time Warner. In the suit, Alden, 42, claims that his contract wasn't picked up in July 1993 because the label was looking for young, aggressive promotion people. The suit also contends that Alden was replaced by someone 15 years younger, who lacked the experience of overseeing a large promotion department. Jon Leshay has headed up the Elektra promotion department since Alden exited the label.

A DALLAS DUOPOLY

This late news out of Dallas — Classic Rocker KZPS has LMA'd The Edge, with John Larsen set to oversee both stations in the new duopoly. The other significant development surrounding the LMA is news that Jacobs Media has been hired to consult the Bonneville duopoly. The Dallas facility is, by the way, the first Edge station that the Jacobs organization ever put on the air.

WNCX'S 2ND ANNIVERSARY WITH HOWARD STERN was a monumental day in Cleveland radio history...the date? Monday, August 31, 1992. It was the day WNCX forever changed the face of morning radio in Cleveland. It was the day Howard Stern began syndication into his 6th radio market. Now, there are 17 affiliates from all over the country, and WNCX is celebrating the past 2 years. Prior to Stern, WNCX was ranked 11th in the market with a 3.3 share; currently, WNCX is ranked #2 with a 9.8 share. But most importantly, Howard Stern was #1 in the recent Winter 1994 Arbitron Ratings. Since the beginning, Howard promised his Cleveland listeners that when he became #1, he would come to the city and throw the biggest and wildest funeral/street party in the history of the Stern show...he didn't let them down. On June 10th, Stern and his entire cast and crew came to town, plus a celebrity list that included: Roger Clinton, David Lee Roth, America, Nils Lofgren, MaryJo & Joey Buttafuoco, Humble Pie and Michael Stanley. 15,000 fans enjoyed a morning that included rock & roll, a press conference, a "live" T.V. appearance, and a road trip. But little did we know the morning would include sabotage, suspense, intrigue, and the eventual arrest of a WMMS employee...

LEE ABRAMS: AIR ACE

By Bill Hard

Backing at a Top 40 station in Durham, North Carolina, I heard the 100KW beautiful music station in the next town over was getting ready to switch to rock music. I immediately slapped together a tape and resume and charged over to convince the GM that I was the guy to program the station. As it turned out, WQDR/Raleigh had already cut a deal with Lee Abrams to become his first Superstars station. I did get hired as MD, the station proceeded to kick major ratings butt almost instantly, and Lee went on to spread that format to more than 300 stations in 90 of the top 100 markets. In the process, Lee worked with broadcast giants CBS, NBC, Great American, Shamrock, Metromedia, and countless others. In the years since, he has served as lifestyle consultant for MTV, Swatch, Disney and Rolling Stone, and as a career consultant for Bob Seger, Yes, U2, Steve Winwood and Robert Palmer. For the past four and a half years, Abrams has served as Managing Director of ABC's Z-Rock, the 24-hour satellite delivered Rock Superstation. In October, 1992, Newsweek magazine named Lee to their Cultural Elite 100, along with such notable cultural bigwigs as Bill Cosby, David Geffen, Michael Eisner and Matt Groening. Their comment? "He created the standard rock format that makes stations sound exactly alike from Maine to Miami. If you like it, tell Lee. If not, tough luck."

So, what has the Father of AOR been up to lately?

Lee I've been working on all of our rock products here at ABC, primarily the Z-ROCK and Classic Rock.

And flying your Beechcraft Bonanza here and there.

Lee Yes, flying extensively and doing a few side ventures, including work on a local music project that nobody has ever heard of before — but it's very interesting.

How's biz at the Satellite Music Network?

Lee As a network, it's extremely profitable and growing. We've got a very strong affiliate base with good FM stations, almost all of them making good money, so it's a pretty healthy time for Z-ROCK. We're facing the same challenges that early AOR faced in that back then, there were a lot of people who didn't believe in the future of FM. Now, we see that with a lot of people not believing in the future of satellite, so there's a technological similarity. Musically, a lot of people in the early days thought that anything on an album was by drug abusing draft dodgers, and although it's getting better, there has been a tendency for people to think anyone who plays hard rock is a devil worshipper with a Beavis & Butt-head sort of audience. So there are similar kinds of challenges, but the stereotypes are breaking down right now and people are far more open to the music and the satellite thing. Thanks partially to the success of the Rush Limbaughs the Howard Sterns, the concept of national radio is becoming more acceptable.

What's your read on syndicated morning show momentum? Would you say the excitement has died down somewhat over the past six months?

Lee Oh, no, I think that it's stronger than ever and the real growth hasn't even begun yet. I'm tremendously bullish on the whole thing, and there is no question that it's going to get bigger and bigger. Not to the point where, in the near future, it will put local radio out of business, but I think that you will see far more major satellite or national personalities being developed and new formats and growth.

What makes Z-ROCK tick?

Lee There are three key ingredients to Z-ROCK, from a programming standpoint.

One is the music purity, making sure that it is sync with our target audience and that we have more of a free form perception, as far as listeners are concerned. They might be convinced that a local AOR station has a limited play list, so we want them to think that on Z-ROCK, anything can happen musically. Secondly, emphasis on our national muscle. We are the only satellite delivered 24 hour format that is upfront about being national. A lot of formats still try to hide that fact and try and make themselves sound local, whereas we are very up front about the nationalness of it. That's an important ingredient, to make it sound big and very worldwide. The third characteristic is the character of the station. We want the station to have a lot of character, a lot of personality. One of the big questions that always comes up is with the time differences. What do you do about mornings? Our attitude is that it's always morning. We don't have a lot of personality up till 9:59am and then get boring. It's always on, and always a morning show. If anything, it's modeled after a Top 40 in the 60s, where the mornings were the most conservative and it just got progressively more out there until the night jock was totally insane. We want to have that mid-'60s, Top 40 night jock character all day long. The other thing is, if you look back to the early days of AOR, the real early days, one of the important ingredients was that the AOR jocks on those early stations sounded very mellow, pretty much stoned, and that was an attraction to the listener because it sounded like them. Nowadays, our audience would call 911 if they heard that kind of sound. We wanted the same sort of relatability for the '90s, analogous to the stoned '60s jock, and that tends to be more of an Animal House presentation. Listeners might hear an AOR station and think, 'Well, those guys are kind of old sounding, but on the Z-ROCK, I want to party with them. They are intense!' So, just like early AOR was attractive because the jock sounded like the audience, we want our lock to sound like our audience would in a party envi-

How many markets are you currently in?

Lee Right now, we have 25 signed and we're on the air in 22.

I know you're all FM at this point. Didn't you have some problems with early AM affiliates?

Lee It was so funny, and also sort of similar to the early AOR days. Back in the early '70s, you would go to these big AMs which were dominating rock radio, and they wouldn't do anything with the AM. But they'd give us a shot with the FM because 'there wasn't anything else to do.' So we got into all these FM stations. Now, 20 years later, we went to these big FMs, and they gave us their AM because they couldn't figure out what to do with that. So, in order to launch Z-ROCK, we had to take AMs. The next step was we got some weaker signaled FMs, and finally we evolved to the point where we are attracting FMs with good signals. It was just one of those growing pains that we had to go through or there wouldn't have been a for-

Explain the evolution that Z-ROCK has gone through since your arrival four-and-a-half years ago.

Lee Before I got here, I would say that it was Nazi Rock. It was very limited appeal, hard core heavy metal, to the point where they wouldn't play Bon Jovi just because it was too pop. You would hear lots of the Motorhead and Cannibal Corpse type of bands. When I arrived, the main thing that we did was maintain a pretty heavy image because the only way that we were going to get people to go to the AM band was by being extreme, so we were pretty left of center early on. As we got more FM properties, we were able to legitimately compete with AOR. That's when we started — for lack of a better term — mainstreaming it quite a bit and really applying a lot of the standard principles of rock music programming.

Did you at that point perceive your core as being small enough that you weren't really worried about blowing them off by moving into a more mainstream direction?

Lee: Yeah, we figured, 'What the hell'. It was something that we had to do. We're still the hardest thing on the dial, but have really widened ourselves out to reach those vulnerable AOR listeners who would really rather hear Metallica than Steely Dan. The more markets we got into, the more competitive musically on a minute by minute basis we got. The biggest change in the last year has been our move to be just as current as possible. Now, we don't like to even think of ourselves at all as a heavy metal station. We look at being called heavy metal a lot, like an ear-Iv AOR would have been called an Acid Rock. It's not us. If anything, and I hate those terms, we are probably an Alternative/Hard Rock station because most of our playlist is Stone Temple Pilots and Pearl Jam and Soundgarden.

Has the rise of the COR format helped or hurt you?

Lee: I would say both. It's certainly helped in that we can use those other stations as examples of the power of the musical movement, but on the other hand, it's hurt in that certain stations that we may have been able to affiliate figured that they could do it themselves very effectively. I'd say that it evens out.

When you pitch a radio station about signing on, what approximate staff reduction can they realize?

Lee: I don't know about a percentage, but to operate the right way in a competitive market, it would take a General Manager, a program liaison — which would be in effect a Program Director — a Promotion person is absolutely critical, at least one or two, and then a traditional sales staff and engineering staff.

Basically, what you lose is the air staff.

Lee: Yes, primarily the jock staff is the cost reduction, and what we try to influence our stations to do is to just channel all of their product energy on promotion. It's interesting, but there have been a lot of cases in bigger markets where even though the station is satellite delivered, it's more visible than the big AOR just because every bit of energy is put into the promotion.

Would Detroit qualify as a market like that?

Lee: I would say Detroit, and when we had Cincinnati, that was a great example.

They just couldn't make money there, could they?

Lee: No, they made money. What happened was that WEBN saw them as a threat and bought it. It was, I thought, a brilliant marketing move in that they figured, 'Hey, these guys are getting in our pants, so let's buy them,' and that was that. It's hard not to make money with us, unless a station locally really shoots themselves in the foot and starts marketing as —

Acid Rock.

Lee: Which has happened with some of the AM stations.

For instance?

Lee: Let's say station X hires its sales staff from local metal bars and then they go to big agencies trying to get the Sears account with a ring in their nose.

You take your nose ring out for those sales calls, don't you?

Lee: Oh, definitely, or I at least put in a nice new one. In the print advertising, having skulls and dripping blood and having slogans like 'We're going to rip out your tongue...listen to...' Let's see, what are some other good ones? How about breaking away from national programming to do local metal shows thinking that we aren't hard enough. Usually, the problems start by locally hiring people who aren't professional broadcasters, but instead are metal music fans. That skews the whole thing the wrong way. We're really not metal, we're just a straight, current rock station. It used to be metal, and that baggage still effects us in potentially signing affiliates.

What active steps do you take to dispel that perception?

Lee: It requires going in both on the advertising and the broadcaster level and educating them through pretty sophisticated presentations and hammering them with information and research and tapes. It's not a hard process to change that perception, it's just a matter of getting in front of them and explaining things.

Do you discourage local programming?

Lee: As long as it's really legitimately as good or better than we can deliver on the network, we have no problem with that whatsoever. What we have the problem with is going local just to be local. Hiring that guy from a local metal club to do a metal show doesn't make any sense. But if they have a legitimate, strong morning personality locally, or some sort of local star that they want to put in there, I think that's great because it will help the numbers overall and everybody will be happy.

How important is it to the channel's growth to break artists?

Lee: I think it's very important. We're very selective about it, but we want to be right up front. Just like early AOR stations wanted to be the first with the new Jethro Tull, we want to be the first with whatever the contemporary equivalent might be.

Do you aggressively court national record company advertising?

Lee: We don't at the network, but encourage our affiliates to. Our sponsors tend to be more of the big network advertisers, more the Coca-Cola and General Motors types. We only run two minutes of network commercials an hour, and there's not that much room.

Only two minutes?

Lee: Yes, that's the main thrust of our income, but it does add up. Plus, our merchandising is a revenue stream which is growing all the time.

As your audience continues to gray, you figure your upper demo growth is basically a given?

Lee: I think it's a question of following this demographic conveyor belt where the audience just keeps getting older, and looking ahead to the next 5 to 10 years. As our audience gets more 25-44, it's just going to become more attractive. AOR, in the early days, was teens and then it became 18-24, then 25-34, and now it's really a 30+ thing. The same thing will happen with Z-ROCK. Look back just 5 or 6 years, it was very 12-24, and now it's a dead tie as far as 18-24 and 25-34 listeners are concerned, and I see that upper demo penetration continuing. So, I think the success of the right demographics is going to help drive it, and as we progress and get more success stories, that's going to be important, too.

Do you truly believe that today's 25year-old will still be rocking to Pantera and Type O Negative in 2010?

Lee: Yes. Some of these bands might be short term novelties, but the major bands will definitely endure. There will be a lot of 40-year-old parents in the year 2010 wondering how their kids could be listening to the garbage that will be out then when they could be listening to the Metallica that mom and dad grew up with. I see it now. Who would have ever thought that Hendrix would be around? Life just gets louder. Back in 1968 with Hendrix, a lot of people just thought that it couldn't get any louder and more ridiculous than that.

Do you personally attend the various Pantera and whatever shows in the market?

Lee: Yeah, just more of audience research than musical enjoyment.

What's your favorite hard rocking band?

Lee: Actually, I don't generally like most of those kinds of bands. I love Stone Temple Pilots and Alice In Chains and Soundgarden and groups like that, but I'm not really into most of the real hard rocking kind of metalesque bands. I think that really helps our music programming because I can take such a non-emotional view of what we should play, in contrast to Pat Dawsey who is heavily into the musical street. The balance of my being neutral on it, and him really being tuned in is very effective.

Is it difficult for you to discern good from average from bad in some of the hardest rock that you play?

Lee: No. At first it was, and I had to convince myself that I didn't know what was good and bad, but over the last few years most of the stuff that I thought was really good personally turned out to work and vice versa. I think that musical ears span generations.

What's your theory on why my 16year-old son, who's not a Classic Rock listener, can't get enough of Hendrix and the Doors?

Lee: It just gets down to that intangible quality of that music. It was just that good. It was just that rare time in history where the music that came out between '66-'67 and '73 was just so great, so lasting, so musical and non-fashion driven that I think it's going to stick around for a long, long time.

You've long been linked with the orchestral rock type of sound typified by Yes and Alan Parsons. Clearly public support for that style is at a low point. Do you think that style will recycle?

Lee: Yes, I think that when there are bands that start doing evolved versions of that style, we'll see it. Right now, there is nobody performing it other than Pink Floyd.

No one else comes to mind, eh?

Lee: No, not really, maybe in some of these electronic and new age artists, but that's just sonically. They don't have the songs and character that those bands had.

Yes is the band that you are most closely identified with. Analyze the soft sales on the recent release, especially given the relatively solid airplay.

Lee: I could go on for probably 6 to 10 hours discussing why that record didn't do well, and it really boils down to a music thing. That the album was very well produced but the evolution is out of synch. They mis-evolved themselves. It's almost like they refuse to accept that there was a Yes before 1983, and as a result, so many of their musical trademarks are gone. That record doesn't sound like Yes. They should be evolving from the Fragile and Close To the Edge sounds, and instead, it's almost like they are deliberately avoiding their classic trademarks, the things that have made that band so great over the years.

They did so much right, as far as the marketing and promotion, and obviously they got a lot of airplay, but musically it's not cutting edge, progressive rock in the Yes tradition. The magical thing about Pink Floyd is they just keep evolving themselves and they are obviously not afraid of criticism. They can just make Pink Floyd records without trying to reach a younger audience, or trying to make records that are danceable because 'kids are dancing again,' or whatever the latest hype is.

And here they are with an 8 minute song that looks like it's going to be this album's most active track.

Lee: I'm not suggesting a 20 minute song for Yes, but they should be open to doing a 20 minute song that just goes into Never Neverland because that's what their audience wants. I see a lot of that with bands. The Moody Blues are a great example. They do great business on the road, but the last few records seem to be very AC oriented and it's kind of a mis-evolution. For those older bands, the key is to understanding what got them there in the first place musically and evolving that sound, and not trying to change direction midstream to reach whatever the new trend

What is your feeling about Triple A at this point?

Lee: There is no question that it's viable. Personally, I would do it differently, probably a little less earthy, and a little more English, and that's not just personal favorite talking. Sometimes, it sounds a little too folky to me. That element is important, but there might be a little too much of it. But again, I think that the concept is strong.

I'd say what you and Dave Logan did with Superstars II at KFDG was pretty close to AAA, wouldn't you?

Lee: That was it, and that was a big success. We also touched on it in our very last days of our 24 hour Wave format. Sometimes, I listen and can't help thinking that Triple A is the revenge of the hippie DJ who got driven out of AOR when research and card systems took over. On the other hand, on paper, this concept definitely has potential. Again, it's that conveyor belt, as people are getting older and have reached the enough already stage when they hear 'Light My Fire.'

Are you sensing that the universe of potential 35+ listeners is on the verge of being re-inspired by artists like Freedy Johnston and Shawn Colvin?

Lee: I think they've been dormant and need a good kick in the ass. I don't think that the 35+ generation will ever be in the same musical frame of mind they were when they were in their late teens and early 20s. But at the same time, it's sort of a 'Build it and they will come' situation. If you build a station for them, you can greatly increase their listenership to radio and maybe get them to listen less to all news and more to music. I just think that it's important not to get too elitist when you're trying to reach them.

What are your observations on KERA in Dallas?

Lee: I don't think that they will ever be a serious competitive force. I find it interesting in spots. It's sort of like BBC television. Sometimes you will tune in and it will be fascinating, and other times it's something like the history of cheese making. It doesn't have any kind of consistency.

What would you consider the most important rock radio station of all time?

Lee: How about by decade?

The most important station of the '50s?

Lee: That would have to be KLIF in Dallas. They had a great harmony between good music programming and character, and so many of the Top 40 basics were either invented or at least very high profile there. They were very influential in the blueprint. In the '60s, the most important station is probably a tie between WABC and KHJ. WABC just because its influence and its playlist mechanics were very advanced for that era. And I think KHJ also because that was the first real high profile Bill Drake station, and that really created a lot of the basics in years to come. Another thing about both of those stations is that both of them were able to execute very effective tight, thought up playlists, but not at the expense of the personality of the station. Both of those stations were able to create real high profile personalities in practically every daypart but not at the expense of musical integrity, so that was good. WCFL in Chicago was also very innovative and very fresh. It was like a 24 hour Pepsi commercial with that mid-'60s mod feel to it. In the early '70s, KCBQ/San Diego, just because they reinvented Top 40. It didn't last that long, only about a two year phenomenon, but from '71 through '73, that station and its offshoots were outstanding.

What do you think the first so called ADR to really matter in the '70s? WLUP?

Lee: No, because The Loop didn't really happen until Heftel bought it in '79. They were awful up to that point. That's when I came in, along with Dave Logan, Steve Dahl and Jesse Bullett. 1979, WLUP was the best AOR I've ever heard. Everything just clicked, but it got out of control real fast. In just a year, they went from a 2 to a 7 12+.

Was Sky there at that point?

Lee: Yep, Sky was there, very intelligently cheating on the playlist, and Steve Dahl and Garry Meiers were in the morning.

Come on, Lee, let's hear your pick for most important rock station of the '70s.

Lee: I thought that KMET in Los Angeles was very lucky, but it worked. WDVE in Pittsburgh was real good in that they were just very well marketed and very consistent. It's not the kind of station you would want to take a tape back to your next staff meeting and play, but it was a great station to have in a market. It was very consistent and didn't make many mistakes. In the early '80s, I thought that WMMR was a damn good station. Incidentally, back in the '70s, I thought that WBCN was real good. I always thought that they did everything by instinct, but their guess work was brilliant. Anyway, 'MMR in the '80s, was very good. That's when I felt that a lot of AOR stations got pretty mediocre, nothing stood out.

When you first signed this format on in '72, did you in your wildest dreams think that it would still be around over twenty years later?

Lee: No, I thought that by 22 years later it would have been much further evolved and even more fragmented than it is now. The thing that is so interesting is just the difference in mind set. From '72 to about '82, you could sort of write the playbook as you went along. Our clients were very interested in and would accept innovation and new ideas. Then, all of a sudden, the focus shifted to maintenance and marketing, and as a result, things got more sophisticated, but less creative. I think that's one of the reasons that the '80s were kind of stagnant AOR wise. Certainly, as a consultant, our clients weren't as into hearing about new ideas and new angles. They had the game plan. The play book and the vibe was, 'Okay, don't rock the boat.' Whereas in the '70s and the early '80s, it was 'Yeah, rock the house. What do we have to do to get this to an 8 or 9 share?'

What would you consider the most important radio station in America right now for rock music?

Lee: I'd say KROQ. They really stand out and I really enjoy them. I think the station has tremendous character and cutting edge music, and they strike me as the kind of station like we want Z-ROCK to be, where you don't have listeners, you have fans.

Of your consulting years, what would you consider your best and worst ideas?

Lee: I'd say the smartest move was the modal thing back in the late '70s. That was when we de-James Taylor/Carole Kinged the station and really put some balls into the music. As for the worst, you might be thinking about the 80/20 thing, but I'm not going to say that.

(Editor's note: Following Lee's 1981 convention, the edict came down that stations should work toward becoming 80% current. Unfortunately, there were a lot of cheesy English bands a la Flock of Seagulls concurrent with that convention and Lee ended up the object of a great deal of second guessing.)

But in your defense, if AOR had been more aggressive about finding more viable new music, perhaps the '80s would have been a better time for the format.

Lee: The real bottom line was that bands like the Police and U2 were obviously here to stay, and instead of writing them off as unplayable British new wave records initially, we should have been more open to them. Of course, for every Police there were five Flock Of Seagulls.

What would you consider your most radical and/or unpopular theory?

Lee: Unpopular ideas? Nothing could have been more unpopular than putting a playlist on so called 'progressive' radio. In the early days, if you did FM radio, the jock was competing with the record player and many people thought the station's success depended on the jock's skill in segueing and selecting music to match the relative humidity outside. Now, it would be that national radio is something that has to be reckoned with. A lot of people just don't buy that, and again it could be years off, but I definitely see it happening. I see it getting to the point where it's been talked about, but you'll have a little on your car and get 6,000 channels.

If you were a 19-year-old undergrad, would you think twice about getting involved in programming on a local radio level, or do you now think that's a career opportunity with a dwindling shelf life?

Lee: No, I certainly think that there are a lot of local opportunities, but just like the thing that attracted me to FM when there were all these AM opportunities was the challenge and the fact that it's the future. When I left WQAM in Miami, a big Top 40 station, to join an FM, they thought that I was crazy. I just saw that it was obvious that FM was where the future is. It's the same thing now. Just like AM didn't go away right away, local radio is not going to go away. But looking to the future, I see national radio as being a major player and getting bigger, plus we are in this technology age where somebody who is starting out now should be very technology oriented and be prepared for their future, and able to be conversive in technological matters. Not tubes and transistors as much as new deliveries.

How advertisers use rock and roll attitude to reach the American public is a subject near and dear to you. Can you think of a couple of current campaigns you feel are especially well done?

Lee: Nike is pretty strong. I don't know how it will pan out, but I am also impressed with Fruitopia's very neo-hippie campaign.

Do you see the hippie thing, at least from a fashion standpoint, continuing to exert a stronger and stronger presence on our culture?

Lee: Absolutely. I see a '90s version of the '60s happening, musically, artistically, and culturally, and I think that it's going to get stronger.

Was there any single campaign that you feel marks the advent of serious rock n' roll attitude in advertising?

Lee: I would probably say Miller Lite. Even though there wasn't any music involved, I thought that their ads with Rodney Dangerfield and Bob Eucker did a great job of poking fun at ourselves a la Saturday Night Live.

How about an example of corporate America totally misreading what rock and roll attitude is all about?

Lee: Burger King is probably the best example, from Herb The Nerd into Dan Cortese. It's just one disaster after another for them, and now I know that they are retrenching and going back to 'Have It Your Way.' They go through advertising agencies faster than some stations go through formats. The Cortese campaign didn't do anything. It sort of sounded like a bunch of Madison Avenue suits trying to reach the youth generation without having a clue of how it really works, and it didn't sell hamburgers. Another one of my favorite flops was Heart trying to sell coffee about ten years ago with those 'Coffee Achievers' spots. The U.S. Army has also had some hilarious commercials. It's easy to get on the rock marketing bandwagon, but the one thing about rock consumers is that they can see through phoniness very quickly. You can really hurt a product by attempting the rock thing, but not really having a clue as how to pull it off.

Did you read that recent Newsweek article that talked about how pervasive 'hipness' has become in our culture? That it's practically impossible to find someone who doesn't wear Doc Martens, have a tattoo, a goatee or go to Lollapalooza? Now that everybody and their brother is hip, what's next?

Lee: I think what we are going to see is a real media, art and culture movement toward super honest things, things that are almost nerdy and unfashionable, kind of a reaction to the plastic entertainment superstar thing. That's part of the reason behind some of the Seattle sounding bands, certainly, according to focus groups I've done. We are going to see less flash bulbs and more headiness, and I think that you are going to see it in the movies and music and art and fashion. We're just to a point of overkill on glamour, and the reaction to that will be more of a heady thing.

Do you have any problem with your kids watching MTV?

Lee: Oh, no, as a matter of fact, they have a total freedom policy. We do watch Beavis & Butt-head as a family and have a good laugh. These days, you turn it on to see Celebrity Volleyball games. I think it's more of a lifestyle channel than a music channel. I think that they are extremely vulnerable from the music side. It's one of the greatest marketing success stories in the last 20 years, but product wise, they shouldn't call themselves music anymore.

Have you had any close calls in your airplane?

Lee: It's all relative. I haven't had any near death experiences. There have been a couple of situations which required an extremely high degree of focus and quick attention.

Do you ever listen to Lynyrd Skynyrd when you're flying?

Lee: No, I'm more of a Buddy Holly man.

So, Lee, to those of us who knew you in your wild and crazy days, what would you say to instill confidence in us to actually go up your plane with you?

Lee: Keep in mind that I was on the road six days a week for 18 years. As I've gotten older I've learned to discipline myself and be more focused and you could just trust that I'm paying attention because all that stuff is behind me.

And, of course, every pilot will argue that it's ten times safer up there than cruising down the 405 South during rush hour.

Lee: Without question, particularly with a skillful pilot like myself at the controls!

David Brozo, "Second Street," November David Broza has a unique gift — applying his musical inspiration to existing poetry to create beautiful songs. Most of the music on the album is in the folk genre, but each song seems refreshingly different in tempo and style. The flamenco style, one of Broza's distinctive traits, is laced throughout the album. This is particularly notable in "Macha," an intense flamenco dance cut, which follows the haunting and reflective title cut.

One of the more pop-oriented songs, "When A Man Holds A Woman," is a standout, along with "Dear Marianna," in which Broza shows his Spanish guitar skills as well as his expressive vocal style. David Broza is a master at creating mood and imagery with his music and other's poetry. Dean Carlson KMTT, "I really like it. It just sounds very different, really clever lyrics. I absolutely love the track `When A Man Holds A Woman.' We have had a history with his last record, so we are going to be looking closely at this record. This guy has talent.

oe Cocker, "Have A Little Faith," 550

Music/Epic Chalk up another one in the win column for the blue-eyed soulman. Cocker tackles his latest album, Have A Little Faith, with an intensity and energy not often found in a seasoned veteran. Stand out Triple A tracks included John Hiatt's "Have A Little Faith," Robbie Robertson's "Out Of The Blue," "Angeline" and "Standing Knee Deep In A River." Don Ferrell KRVM, "Our listeners are excited about this new release and are already starting to call asking for it. This guy could sing Happy Birthday and everyone would love it. Joe Cocker is one of a kind." Dean Carlson KMTT, "This has got a kind of pop sound to it which I really like. Joe Cocker is a very important artist, and I think it will fit well here. He's definitely a core artist at this station. I can't wait to hear the whole album." Brad Hockmeyer KTAO, "Don't automatically throw this one in the stack marked 'well-known-has-beens.' His versions of Hiatt's 'Faith, and Robertson's 'Out Of The Blue' stand on their own.

idespread, "Ain't Life Grand," Capricorn
This group of six talented musicians from Athens, Georgia has gained widespread recognition as a live band during the past few years. This album, their fourth studio release, captures that live feel. The songwriting is a group effort, and the performance includes plenty of jamming and improvisation. While the songs range in style, the predominant sound is bluesy, bassdriven southern rock ("Ain't Life Grand," "Blackout Blues," "Fishwater"). The band shows its versatility with a fine acoustic pop song. "Airplane," a Mellencamp-type rocker called "Heroes," and a beautiful instrumental ("L.A."). The album has many other instrumental interludes which adds to the feel of a live concert performance. Don Ferrell KRVM, "This is without a doubt the BEST record yet from Widespread Panic. When we got it in, we threw it right on and we immediately got tons of calls, Top 5 phones. People were calling asking `Where can I find this?' I really dig the single, 'Airplane.'

Triple Crown

Nanci Griffith, "Flyer," Elektra

From Flyer, the long-awaited follow-up to Other Voices, Other Rooms, comes the first single release, "This Heart." As on the new album, this song is Nanci's own, accompanied by a strong supporting cast. It's an upbeat rocker with a lively beat provided by Larry Mullen, Jr. and excellent guitar work by Sonny Curtis. Nanci's distinctive voice is strong and forceful, less laid-back than most of her previous work. Dennis Constantine, "Nanci Griffith is finally releasing the album we've been waiting for. Flyer is quite possibly Nanci's best effort to date. The songwriting is superb, the music is filled with hooks, and the voice is as pure as ever. "This Heart" is the first single, and from the first bass note, it's a winner. Others to focus on are the title track, "These Days Are An Open Book," "Time of Inconvenience," and "Anything You Need But Me." You really can't go wrong with this album."

Eric Clapton, "Tore Down,"

Reprise Returning once again to his first love, Eric Clapton is set to release From The Cradle, an album of 16 blues tracks. Our first taste of this anticipated treat is "Tore Down" (performed first by Freddie King), a classic rockin' blues number which resurfaces in Clapton the hard-driving edge in both his quitar work and his vocal performance. After a steady diet of "Clapton Lite" during recent years, this song is a refreshing throwback to his early work. Dennis Constantine, "Eric Clapton is back withe the much anticipated all-blues set From The Cradle. This is Clapton at his best, he was made to sing the blues. The first single is "Tore Down," a short but sweet blues riff that Clapton handles with ease and grace. His voice is like buttah, and his guitar playing is characteristically flawless." Chad Gilley WCLZ, "This is terrific, it's going over well here. We play a lot of blues here, but it's fun to hear the retro sound coming from Mr. Clapton. He started out with blues, and he never really got to far away from it, but now it seems he's concentrating on it."

Liz Phair, "Supernova," Matador/Atlantic

Stebbins WRNX, "This is the best thing she has ever done. We are so enthusiastic about this new project of Liz Phair's. It went out of the box and into heavy rotation." Don Ferrell KRVM, "I really dig this new stuff from Liz Phair, it's much more accessible. If your audience likes power pop, than they will love this new album. This one will get far more superior radio play than her last one, and deservedly so. This album has less vulgarity, and listeners will accept this album eagerly. It's catchy, and it will stick in your head." Jon Peterson WCBE, "Melodic, hard-driving and explosive... Liz Phair progresses her sound to please hard rockin' adults without sacrificing her core." Dal Hunter WKDC. "This was added out of the box! It is always fun to hear others obligatory edit. The listeners' reaction to this has been strong. She really gives us a nice edge, especially at night. This is a really well crafted pop song." Dave Leonard WKZE, "I saw her this past weekend, and she sounded really good. All the women here seem to really like Liz Phair.

Collectors Corner

Marianne Faithfull, "A Collection Of Her Best Recordings," Island Marianne

Faithfull is mostly remembered as part of the Rolling Stones legacy, both because of her biggest hit "As Tears Go By," and as Mick's party companion in those fantasy days before the death of Brian Jones. This is an album of her best recordings, although it could be a first listen for many, but probably not the last. Because of her chaotic life filled with bizarre situations and drug dependency — as detailed in the comprehensive liner notes — her album releases were few.

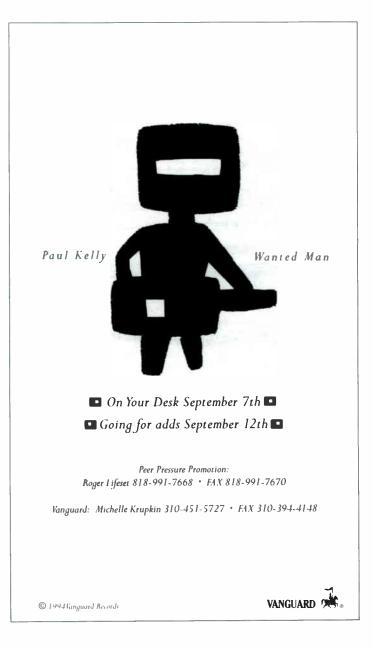

Broken English (1979) was the source for the first five tracks of this collection. These compelling songs create a haunting atmosphere, filled with anger and remorse, driven by heavy guitars, synthesizers and Marianne's vitriolic vocals. Included in this set is an excellent rendition of John Lennon's "Working Class Hero," and "Why D'ya Do It," is a song which would make anyone sorry he did it. The rest of the album gathers tracks from various sources, some unreleased and all dating 1986 and after (except "As Tears Go By"). These tracks reveal a melancholy, more reflective Marianne, who has seen and experienced grief and suffering and views her life with resignation. One of the most interesting in this group of songs is her version of Patti Smith's "Ghost Dance". This album should give Marianne Faithfull more recognition and credibility as a vocal artist. Jody Denberg, KGSR, "Marianne's one of the all time greats. I favor the Patti Smith cover, 'Ghost Dance.' In addition to the two great unreleased tracks on this collection, be sure to check out her Van Morrison cover on No Prima Donna. And be sure to read her autobiography, too."

Peter Gabriel, "Secret World Live," Geffen If you were fortunate enough to see Gabriel on his algorithing Coord fortunate enough to see Gabriel on his electrifying Secret World Tour, you already know how significant this live release is for the format. Brad Hockmeyer KTAO, "Great live versions from a great core artist." Dal Hunter WKOC, "This is a beautiful release. I especially like the live version of 'Secret World.' I think the listener reaction will be huge to this. I saw him on his last tour, and he was excellent live." Colter Langan, "We put this on immediately. The sampler is excellent, and I'm looking forward to the new album. Paula Cole holds her own up front. Every radio station should play this because their listeners deserve to hear this." Steve Cole KSPN, "Another Triple A core artist makes good — makes excellent on the new live CD. I'm always particularly grateful for another excuse to play 'Red Rain' in whatever incarnation. Among the great band of notables along for the ride is Paula Cole on backing vocals. I just want to mention here how much I enjoyed her performance in Boulder. Thank you Paula, thank you Peter, and thank you Zak Phillips at Geffen for bringing this release to my attention promptly." Don Ferrell KRVM, "I'm really excited with this live stuff from Peter Gabriel. He was incredible live, and the first two tracks off the album really capture the spirit of the show. Peter Gabriel is one of my favorite artists. It was an INSTANT add. You've got to play this record!"

AAA Summit Reflects The Format's Success And Goals

he best proof of the worth of this year's A3 Summit is how accurately the event mirrored the format that it was designed to serve. The 1994 Gavin A3 Summit gathered together over 400 programmers, music promotion people, artists, managers and interested parties, for a hectic 2 1/2 days that, much like the AAA format, tried to operate on several levels, serve several masters and certain realities. And, like the AAA format, the Summit succeeded. Due, not surprisingly, to the personal and professional passion of the participants.

iven the mix of commercial and non-commercial radio stations, along with the many music industry representatives, it's not surprising that the general sessions remained the least effective means of communication. There were many "Reasons to be Cheerful and Reasons to be Fearful." They just didn't seem to pinpoint many actionable radio problems or realistic goals. Just as in our daily programming lives, it was easy for the group to be distracted by matters that don't actually further our goal of successful radio stations. We suggest that it's time to quit obsessing about our diversity and hipness, and get down to the nitty-gritty of climbing the (steep, crooked and unreliable) Arbitron ladder. The musical and lifestyle focus of AAA may cause us to carry a heavier load than others, but it's a task we all feel is worth the effort. And, until a more reliable route than Arbitron is opened up, it remains the only true path to the long-term existence of our format. our livelihood, and our radio stations.

ith this task in mind, there was very constructive dialogue and sharing of information in other Summit sessions. We were glad to see time devoted to discussing the peculiarities of Arbitron diary placement and methodology. We need to know the enemy to conquer it. What we don't want to do is accept the fallacy that our audience is an elusive and somehow special group of people that Arbitron is going out of its way to avoid. We should not accept the mindset that says, "poor us, our ratings our lower because our audience is smarter." They're not. We absolutely should sell the qualitative value of our audience. The danger comes when we begin to believe our own hype.

ome of the best Summit brainstorming came when we got down to how best to interact with our listeners on the street level. Deeper community involvement is the best path to ingraining ourselves in the lives of our listeners. "Marketing is Everything & Everything is Marketing" is a mantra we should come to live and breathe in our radio lives. Putting the listener first can help get us beyond the Core.

arry Wall urged us to look to the future and to not be afraid to take first steps, in what may not always be the right direction. He reminded us that it's not about being different, it's about being good and relevant. Our goal should be to provide a superior product as defined by our audience. not by us. Will any of us ever forget that we need to "get into the wheelbarrow" to truly understand the impact of what we preach to others?

he music. Just as on our radio stations, the sound of new, exciting and diverse music was never absent from the A3 Summit. We're amazed at the job done by Kent and the people at Gavin on the line-up of this year's musical talent. (To pick highlights would be an impossible hair-splitting task. We just want to tag Rusted Root as the buzz band of the weekend.) We'll also offer the observation that, like many of our own playlists, there may have been too many new bands scheduled in too few available hours. We hope that next year we can schedule the number and performances times of the featured artists to enable all of us to do the Summit's business, enjoy the Summit's music, and get at least a minimum of sleep.

ur personal thanks and congratulations to everyone involved in making this year's Summit the best ever. We're proud to be part of a gathering of industry leaders that encompasses the various programmers, record labels, trade publications, consultants and artists as the A3 Summit does. It is a truly unique and special gathering. We also want to thank all of our clients who attended this year's event. We share your pride of accomplishment at the successes you have achieved, and your concerns for the future. We look forward to seeing everyone in Boulder next year.

Memphis Blues Caravan, Vol. I and II Various Artists - Memphis Archives Ed Tremewan, WFBE 95.1 FM, Flint, MI.

From a brand new label out of Memphis, comes a treasure trove of previously unreleased material by some of the masters of the blues. Recorded live by Steve LaVere on the road with his Blues Caravan in the early seventies, and from private sessions at home, or at various Memphis area Blues Festivals, these CD's chronicle some of the last great work of bluesmen such as; Sam Chatmon, Sleepy John Estez and Hammie Nixon, Fury Lewis, Bukka White, Houston Stackhouse, Skip James, Joe Willie Wilkins, Johnny Shines, and a host of others. For the lover of traditional blues, this is a must have. Fury Lewis' tracks also include a couple of his famous medicine show jokes, that gives the listener new insight to an old tradition. Joe Willie Wilkins and his King Biscuit Boys band back up several of the tracks, such as Charlie Booker's "New Moonrise Blues," as well as his own "Me and the Devil Blues," and takes us back to the days of Sonny Boy Willamson's (Rice Miller) road band, with echoes of KFFA's "King Biscuit Time. Big Daddy Rucker, backed by T-Bone Terrell and His Band, transports us right into the middle of a Mississippi Juke Joint with an outstanding version of "Sweet Little Angel." Some great barrelhouse piano comes from Big Sam Clark on "I Fell in Love With This Woman." Memphis Piano Red, on "Blues Like Showers of Rain," and Joe Dobbins keeps up the tradition with "Sachel Blues." Harp players abound with tracks from the legendary Hammie Nixon, the unique Harmonica Frank, who played his harmonica stuck in his mouth like a cigar while he accompanied himself on the guitar, and "Blue Boy" Roland Hayes. These two albums, complete with copious liner notes, offer some exciting new material for both the collector and programmer looking for something different.

the main Blues educator for your audience, you most likely field many questions from recently converted Blues fans as to where to start their collection of contemporary Blues. To help you help them in their quest for excellent music from both the next generation of players and some of the legends in their prime, we've put together a two-part feature on many of the best recent samplers from labels that are leaders in the Blues. Turn your listeners on to these incredible collections and they'll be forever Blue. (That is, unless they win the lottery.) Make sure to call your reps for you own copy. They make great, eclectic additions to any station library...

Prime Chops Volume II - Blind Pig Records Genuine Houserockin'Music Volume V - Alligator Paul Kenedy, Mediabase and WWDX, Detroit

For most blues aficionados, an introduction to Alligator Records is probably not necessary. In fact, the two CDs in question - Blind Pig's Prime Chops Volume II and Alligator's Genuine House Rockin' Music Volume V - have been around awhile, so they probably don't need introducing either. So why the big deal now? To reinforce the main goal of each label; preserving the blues and those who breathe life into them. It's been the Holy Grail of both Alligator and Blind Pig: the vision of one man deciding that those time-stopping performances in some small club should be more than just faint memories. Jerry del Guidice had the vision as he watched a procession of blues greats like Otis Rush, Koko Taylor and Roosevelt Sykes lear it up night after night in his Ann Arbor, Michigan blues club, The Blind Pig Cafe. Blind Pig was started in 1974, with the recording of "Boogie Woogie Red Live At the Blind Pig" getting the label off and running (in fact, it's still their best selling release). Bruce Iglauer's goal was recording Hound Dog Taylor, a fixture of the Chicago blues scene. Iglauer formed Alligator Records in 1971, recording Hound Dog Taylor & the Houserockers over a two night stint at Florence's (now a vacant lot) on Chicago's south side. In fact, "genuine houserockin' music" was the advertising slogan used for that first release and has stuck with the label ever since. Both labels have since recorded established artists, as well as making stars out of local and lesser-known artists in fact, the list reads like a veritable blues "Who's who." Prime Chops Volume II will give you a good taste of up-and-coming blues artists like debut albums from Debbie Davis (guitarists with Albert Collins' band), saxophonist Deanna Bogart and the first solo effort from longtime Nighthawks guitarist Jimmy Thackery. Alligator's Genuine Houserockin' Music Volume V contains material from label stalwarts Koko Taylor, Charlie Musselwhite, Tinsley Ellis and Katie Webster. Take the time to get to know West Coast artists like harpmeister William Clarke or Little Charlie & the Nightcats; discover Saffire-The Uppity Blues Woman or rediscover old friend Elvin Bishop. As long as there are labels like Alligator and Blind Pig giving exposure to new blues artists, the blues will remain viable for a long time to come.

Evidence Blues Sampler The Third - Evidence Records Bruce Bjorkman, Host, 1490 Bluez Blvd. KBZY Radio, Salem, Oregon

Listening to this, the third of Pennsylvania based Evidence Records Blues Samplers-The Third, is like standing outside a kitchen door and being enticed by the aromas emanating from what's cooking. This sampler is just brimming with gems that quite possibly would not otherwise be available to stateside blues lovers. Evidence founders, Jerry Gordon and Howard Rosen have based the output of their label by acquiring European releases of some of this country's greatest blues men and women, such as Delta transplant Hip Linkchain, Eddie C. Campbell, Cousin Joe, Jimmy Rogers, Hubert Sumlin and Dtis Rush. If the goal of a sampler is to provide enticement to purchase the full releases it contains, the spry and informative paragraphs describing each release have hit their target squarely in the bullseye. Most of the sessions combine some truly wonderful talent lineups, like the one featuring Jimmy Witherspoon and George "Harmonica" Smith, Cousin Joe being backed by Clarence "Gatemouth" Brown and Jimmy Dawkins. The upside is purely enjoyable 61:55 minutes of tasty morsels that make you want to come back for second and third helpings. The down side of such a compilation is that the listeners get only one glimpse from each release, which cannot in any way provide an adequate representation of what each full release is like. The buffet offered by Evidence Blues Sampler - The Third is well packaged and contains very high quality material. My only problem will be in how to figure a way to obtain all of the full releases the disc samples.

I'm A Gambler

Malaco

Paul Kenedy, Mediabase and WWDX, Detroit

was that I first heard Little Milton's "I'm A Gambler," his ninth release on Malaco Records, while I was driving to work at 4 a.m. In fact, I know that's what it was. The album snuck up on me. Suddenly, I was listening to WDIA out of Memphis back in the 50's and 60's as they sowed the seeds of Howling Wolf and Muddy Waters in the fertile minds of many a potential blues musician. Little Milton (who got the nickname to distinguish him from his father, known as Big Milton) is the genuine article, folks. Born and raised in Mississippi, Little Milton was a blues prodigy. By age 15, he was already gigging around the Delta and learning from blues legends Rice Miller (one of the two Sonny Boy Williamsons) and Willie Love. With help from Ike Turner, Milton began recording in St. Louis in the 50's; on Bobbin Records (a label he created with Robert Lyons, then general manager of radio station KATZ); then on Chess and Stax (which rendered his 1972 classic hit "Walkin' the Backstreets and Cryin'"); and finally on Malaco beginning in 1984. "I'm A Gambler" is elemental blues with all the emotions stripped bare. Soul-drenched ballads (such as "You've Been Gone Too Long" and "That's What a Good Woman Can Do") are driven by Milton's powerful vocals and float on horns arranged by Muscle Shoals sessions man Harrison Calloway. Milton's guitar playing is the equal of his vocals, sparking blues jumpers like "Like A Rooster On A Hen" and "Love Is A Gamble." One listen (especially at 4 a.m.) and you'll feel it too. There are no long shots here: Little Milton and "I'm A Gambler" are both winners!

You would have to search long and hard to find an artist that has received more media exposure than Trent Reznor and his band Nine Inch Nails have recently. In the midst of an extensive U.S. tour, they took a break to blow away the crowd at Woodstock with their opening night performance, in addition, Reznor produced the soundtrack for the much talked about movie Natural Born Killers, and he is currently the focus of a cover interview in Rolling Stone magazine. The song "closer" was hand picked by Trent himself as the follow up to "March of the Pigs", with an "antique" looking artsy video that is firmly entrenched in the MTV Buzz Bin, and selling records like mad. Nine Inch Nails made a debut this week on the COR chart at #37 showing big moves with six adds at KEGL, KEZE, WBTZ, WDZR, WKLQ, and Z Rock, to go along with 8 increases, including WAAF where Jon Osterlind is spinning "closer" 36 times this week. "He is so ahead of his time, and now everyone else is calching up. He is a true pioneer." The seductive, ethereal groove of "closer" sounds like nothing else on the airwaves, and between the exotic sounds of the song, and the fact that Trent is the current hot topic of conversation, you will not want to be run over as the NIN steamroller cruises through town.

Airheads Soundtrack - White Zombie "Feed The Gods" (Arista)

After the success last year of "Thunder Kiss '65", you shouldn't need Beavis and Butt-head to tell you that White Zombie is cool! With a very solid fanbase from endless (and we do mean endless) touring, the Zombies have gone from being unknown to being sought after superstars with hard rock fans across the country. They also have some fans at COR radio, like Cathy Faulkner of KISW, who observes that, "White Zombie fans have not left, and this is a great bridge track to keep the fans happy until the next album. 'Feed the Gods' is doing really well with high phone activity." During Airheads, if you were able to catch a glimpse of the band playing at the nightclub, you should have recognized White Zombie and should recall the driving power of "Feed the Gods". With early airplay at WBTZ, KZRX, KIBZ, KZRX, WAAF, and WDZR whose Joe Bevilacqua noticed that, "Airheads is selling a lot of records in our area. We broke 'Thunder Kiss' out of Detroit and I couldn't go wrong with a new Zombie track, because the fans have been screaming for some new Zombie. We fed the gods!" The song features their characteristic thundering grooves with the gruff vocals of Rob Zombie, which apparently left Jon Osterlind of WAAF shaking in his shoes — "If that's not 3 minutes of terror, I don't know what is", he claims, "I have nightmares, and it's working great!"

Lucy's Fur Coat, "Elementary" (Relativity)

This clan of rebellious professionals have been consistently touring all over the country, and piece by piece have cultivated a blossoming group of fans. Earlier this year "Treasure Hands" worked its way onto many a COR playlist, and now "Elementary", the newest track off Jaundice. showed increases this week at KEZE, KISS, KUPD, WBTZ, WBZX, WNCD, and KIOZ. Curtiss Johnson of KUPD is very excited about Lucy's Fur Coat, "this band is exploding for us - we were playing 'Treasure Hands' for sixteen weeks, and now with 'Elementary', it is one of our top researching bands with great sales. Can't say enough about this band, they are one of our top bands at this time." In fact, in the past three weeks sales in Phoenix have gone from 26 units a week to 207. The band won't be disappearing either, after just winning three awards in the San Diego Music Awards (including Best Album), they are currently finishing up a West Coast tour, with a slot on the Rev. Horton Heat tour just around the corner (kicking off September 22nd, to be exact). With that in mind you should all realize that coming to the conclusion to play Lucy's Fur Coat is "Elementary", my dear Watson!

Criss, "Bad Attitude" (Tony Nicole Tony)

How many artists can you name that have 52 gold and platinum records on their wall? Peter Criss is one of those artists. Through all of the years in a certain supergroup by the name of KISS, Criss was instrumental in much of their success - particularly in the hugely successful ballad "Beth". It has been over a decade since he left the band, and Peter Criss still is one of the most recognizable names and sought after personas today: in fact, a homeless man with a similar look to Criss decided to tap into the "Cat mystique" by posing as him for help. The first track off of his newest solo release, Cat #1, is a slowed down groove in the vein of old KISS called "Bad Attitude", that has already been added at WVVV and has charted in the Hard Hitters section. With the interest in him at such a high level many of your listeners will want to hear what Peter Criss has been up to, so don't cop a bad attitude, just play "Bad Attitude"!

We at the Hard Report sure are excited to hear new material from Tesla, and from the response of 1,000 fans who came out to purchase the new release, Bust A Nut, and meet the band with KRXQ, obviously everyone is excited. Pictured (L-R) are: Frank Hannon and Tommy Skeoch of Tesla, Pat Martin of 93 Rock, Jeff Keith of Tesla, Laura Ingle of 93 Rock, Brian Wheat and Troy Lucketta of Tesla.

Since they were one of only three stations to broadcast live from Woodstock, you had better believe that KQRC had tons of high profile promotions leading up to it. From the pictures, we aren't sure what was messier, Woodstock or the Rock 98 "Hippie Olympics"!

Here is KQRC morning man Johnny Dare hosting the Bong-A-Thon portion of the Hippie Olympics. We just want to know how Mr. Dare stacked up with the competition?

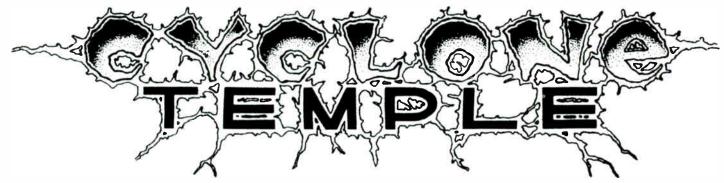

Pictured here is one lucky KQRC winner after competing in the Human Tye-Dye contest. Good thing, because at first glance, we thought that the secondhand smoke from the Bong-A-Thon had effected our eyesight!

Despite the outwardly calm demeanor of Lazer 103 personality Susan Carr, she was ecstatic to have finally met Nikki Sixx of Motley Crue as they played the Wisconsin State Fair. Congratulations!

Here we have Andrea Wedler of WVCR in a rocker sandwich of the best kind with Andreas Kisser of Sepultura and Evan Seinfeld of Biohazard during the hot rockin' tour of Pantera, Sepultura, and Biohazard. And you know, she looks like one happy camper doesn't she!

Interview by Holly McCormack

Cyclone Temple are the epitome of perseverance, originally forming as Zno White and then evolving into Cyclone Temple, the band has been releasing powerful, groove oriented albums for the past ten years to a bevy of critical acclaim. The 1991 release I Hate, Therefore I Am put the band high on the metal radio charts, but after the demise of the label, it took this long for the widely distributed release in My Friend Lonely. And it was worth the wait. The massive guitar grooves of the title track, "Me, Myself & I" and "Comfortably Superficial" have been finding their way onto many metal radio playlists. With Cyclone Temple ready to hit the road with Wicked Maraya, we took some time to speak with guitarist and songwriter Greg Fulton, to find out more about how the band has developed over the years, and what they are up to now!

Before there was Cyclone Temple, there was Zno White, how did you get things going in the beginning? How did you transform from Zno White to Cyclone Temple?

Greg: Let's see, back in September of 1981 I put together a band called Zno White, we put a demo together and we shopped it around to a lot of different people in the underground. Brian Slagel was one of the people that got a tape and he liked one of the tracks off of it, and he picked it for Metal Massacre Three. That got us a lot of exposure with Kerrang, a lot of other European magazines, and people like Johnny Z., and Mike Varney of Shrapnel Records, who was instrumental in helping me get my old label Enigma Records at the time. What had happened was, we had talked to Johnny Z. - at the time I think that he only had Metallica and Raven - and we were going back and forth and we flew up to the studio where Metallica recorded Kill Them All and Manowar recorded Into Glory Ride and we recorded 7 songs, it was intended to be for the Megaforce label, but we ended up shopping that tape around. We aot 12 different offers from 12 different indie labels, and eventually Mike Varney said, 'Hey, I can talk to some people at Enigma for you, and they'll release it for you, they are real good people." Once the offer came in, he said, 'Okay, tell them that you want pressing and a distribution deal on your own label', and they gave it to me. I was like, 'Yeah!!' and from that point, I learned a lot. I learned about licensing, because I licensed a lot of early Zno White releases to companies. I think that I put out two releases with the Enigma situation, then they stopped doing pressing and distribution because they wanted to get more legitimate as far as being a label and having Stryper and Poison on the label.

Who was in the band?

Greg: Myself, my brother, Tony, my cousin, Nicky and a girl by the name of Nicole E. and that was the line up, up until we signed with Roadrunner for Act Of God, and at that time Scott Schaefer came in on bass. We signed with Roadrunner, and put that release out, and at the time it was distributed through MCA and I think that Roadrunner was new in the American market, and they were testing a few things, and they were still finding their little niche. They were nothing like they are now, and we were unhappy with that situation, and asked to be let go and sooner or later they did. Four months later we were signed to Combat Records - I'm showing my age here, aren't I? - and we discussed a name change, and that's how Cyclone Temple came to be. Also, between the change of Zno White into Cyclone Temple we got John Slattery on the drums, and Brian Troch on the vocals, and I decided it's really no longer Zno White anymore, so we should have a new name.

How did you come up with the name Cyclone Temple?

Greg: We were recording I Hate Therefore I Am and we kept tossing names around, and that was just a name that I really wanted to use for some reason, it sounded weird, but it didn't lend itself to anything. Cyclone Temple is just like Red Hot Chili Peppers to me, or 24-7 Spyz, it doesn't lend itself to anything. It's not like Desecrator or Morbid Angel, do you know what I mean? You have to hear the band and that was something that I wanted to do. Cyclone meaning chaotic madness and Temple meaning worshipping, kind of like when you go to a show. This kind of music does create hero worship, not saying that I'm a hero, but you know what I mean. I kind of explained it to them and the band was like, 'Okay, cool, let's go with it', and that's how the name came to be.

How did you handle the eventual split with Combat?

Greg: To be quite honest, it started out with a bang, and I was really impressed. When we got on Combat, everything started to change - a video, full page ads in magazines, and there was a buzz out there. That was the year that was real good for us. But between Sony absorbing half the company and the Earache catalog coming in, we just got lost in the wash. Then with the restructuring and Jim Welch and Howie Abrams not being there anymore, everything changed and we weren't a priority anymore. We were on the road when the whole thing was happening, that was the weird thing. We had been on the road all summer and Headbanger's Ball was playing the video and everything seemed to be going well, and a week later we got the notice, we got the phone call that we were let go. We got a notice in the mail basically saying from their legal people that we were no longer part of the company. I still got it around here someplace. I've got to frame it soon-

You're going to frame it?

Greg: Because things like that give me the motivation to keep going. When people at Roadrunner laughed at us and said that nobody else was going to want us, and dropped us, and then four months later we were signed to a bigger and better indie, that motivates me. When people tell me that I can't, I don't think that you can do this...

It makes you want to do it that much more.

Greg: It makes me give everything. It makes me want to go without food and water to do it, just to be able to turn around and smile and say, 'Fuck you!' Basically, those kind of things motivate me to succeed because a lot of bands get dropped from labels, they break up. You see it all the time when you read the little tidbits of news in all the glossy metal magazines. 'Rudy Sarzo and Tommy Aldridge are playing with this band, now that band, then the band got dropped, so this guy is in this band...,' I don't get it. It's almost like they aren't even bands, they are like projects. Let's get together, and let's get a deal - bam - they get a deal, they break up and join another mutation of something else.

You just pave your own road.

Greg: Exactly. It's a lot of sweat and a lot of hard work. Scott and John have stuck with me through a lot of shit, and hopefully it will start to pay off, and I think it will. It's just that we had to find people that believe in us, whether it's a small indie or a big label. It doesn't mean a thing if people don't believe in you.

How's your relationship with Monsterdisc now?

Greg: It's excellent, they don't have that many bands on the label, and don't have any bands that sound like us or are in our genre so to speak, and so far everything we've asked for gets done. They've hired video promotion people, we said that we needed a video, they got us a video; we asked them to hire someone for radio, and they did that. As far as touring is concerned, they are going to be helping us out a lot with co-op ads and a lot of the mom and pops, getting the ball in each city that we go to. It's just real good for once to be a priority. I'd rather be a priority on a small label then to be a baby band or someone that's not a priority on a huge label like Sony or Warner Bros. or whoever. Basically when you are at the bottom of the barrel, you are at the bottom of the barrel.

You guys are going to be hitting the road soon, aren't you?

Greg: Yes, we are hitting the road at the end of August, early September starting in the Midwest going Northeast down to the Eastern seaboard and back out to the West coast

Is that going to be just you guys headlining, or are you going to try and hook up with a bigger tour?

Greg: Basically our plan is to stay out as long as we can. Even if we do the smaller clubs, for not a lot of money but enough to sustain ourselves. We are just going to keep busy until we can hook up with something bigger. This first run is going to be with a band from New York called Wicked Maraya.

Have you ever had a chance to tour Europe?

Greg: Never.

Are you going to get a chance to tour there this time?

Greg: I think so, because we are just coming out on the label over there, Enemy Records, and I think that they are going to do nice by us. I think that we will be able to get over there and have an impact, and that will be great, because we get a lot of good press over the years.

Are you still doing the side project with Jimi Hazel?

Greg: Right now, time is really a factor, at the time we were talking about it, it was kind of a down time for Cyclone Temple. As it stands right now my time is going to be taken up with touring with Cyclone Temple, and if time allows and that spot's still open then yeah, I look forward to doing it, I'd be happy to.

How does it differ musically both from what you and Jimi are doing in your day jobs so to speak?

Greg: It's like guitars from hell, with Stevie Wonder or Marvin Gaye singing. it's really different. I think that a lot of people will be thrown by it, because Jimi is a really talented player. I've seen him play a lot of times, but last summer when I went to go stay at his house for about a week, and I would just watch him play, I was like. 'Wow!' This guy says that he's been playing since he was seven years old, and it sounds like it. He can really, really play. A lot of people say, 'Oh Greg, you're a really good guitar player,' but this guy is like 'Whoa!' Seriously! I would just sit and watch him play and be like, 'Wow man, you can really play.' He's a guitar players guitar player, definitely. It's heavy, the vocals are very soulful, I don't know how it's going to hit people, but if it gets marketed the right way by the right label, it can be huge.

How did you hook up with him?

Grea: I was doing interviews, this is when I Hate. Therefore I Am had first come out before we hit the road, and Jimi called my house, I guess he got my number from Jim Welch, and he acted like he was someone from the New York Times or the Village Voice. So, he's asking me questions, and I am answering them, and then he goes, 'Hey, you fucking idiot, it's Jimi Hazel from 24-7 Spyz. I felt so stupid, I had never talked to him before, and I was all flattered, like 'Wow, it's Jimi Hazel!', so we just started talking. I'll give you another example, we played with the Bad Brains at the Vic in Chicago, I was so nervous that my hands were shaking, because I had been into the Bad Brains for a really long time, and to have Dr. Know stand on the side of the stage and watch the whole show. There are certain people that really have that effect on me. I think that if I was to meet Stevie Wonder face to face, I think that I would be speechless, because he's someone I have admired, he's a great, excellent musician, and I've grown up on his music my whole life. He's not pumping out the hits like he used to ... but that's one guy that I think I'd be like 'Duhhhh, Uhhhh

During the New Music Seminar showcase at the Rock Ridge Saloon, there were people who showed up that had on the Cyclone Temple shirts from a few years back, who still remembered and still made a point of being there. It's kind of a reverse scenario for you.

Greg: That's flattering to me, it's flattering beyond words. Out of all the bands that are out there, out of all the things that people have in their day and in their lives that are more important, what I would think is more important, for somebody to take the time out of their lives to say, 'I appreciate your music, I read the lyrics and I really liked them', that says a lot to me. I think that a lot of people take that for granted. A lot of people don't see it on that level of, 'Hey man, this person paid money for your CD'.

Actually, you have a pretty big fan club, with fans from Pantera and Max of Sepultura.

Greg: I've talked to him before, and I've given him demos and he's asked for shirts and stuff like that. They are really nice people, really good people, and the thing that I like about them is that because they come from such humble beginnings, like myself, it's good to see that they are getting somewhere in life. They have such respect, and they use it, not in the negative way, I'm not going to say that they go out and say, 'Don't do drugs and don't do this...' but it's nice to see people come from nowhere and they can travel the world and they can live a easy, comfortable lifestyle and do what they like to do. Think about all the people that go to work every day that hate it.

On the new record, you include a lot of tracks that are on your last release, why did you decide to revamp, rerecord and reinterpret these songs, rather then scrapping those and completely starting over?

Greg: The reason for that was because, we were on Combat/Relativity and that record was widely distributed, it was available everywhere, so we put out Building Errors in The Machine which was through a smaller company, and I do mean small. We were getting tons of letters from kids saying, Can I buy it direct, because we can't find it anywhere, 'and for a really long time that's what happened. The guy lost his distribution, he didn't pay us. it was a breach of contract, we asked him to cease and desist on manufacturing this project. The thing is, it was a dead issue when we hooked up with Monsterdisc, it was like. Hey, why don't we re-record everything and make it available to the fans?' We had three new tracks, so it will be a full length, and that was basically the idea behind it. It wasn't to rip anyone off, it wasn't to scam anybody, and somebody somewhere is going to think that. It's the same way, like when the bands put out an EP and they get picked up by a major, and then it gets rereleased, but they repackage it, and they add three new tracks, same idea.

I know that you guys have gone through more singers than Spinal Tap has drummers, what are the differences between Brian, Marco and Sonny, and the situations between all the comings and goings? How did you end up with Sonny?

Greg: Brian was a very talented singer, but he had just gotten married, to someone a little older who had four kids, so he had a lot of responsibilities. He had his family and his dad, who was an oil man, who wanted him to work for the family business, which I can understand. We found Sonny, who is from Chicago, in between Brian and Marco, and asked him to give it a shot.

What band was he in before Cyclone Temple?

Greg: Enchanter. He couldn't do it because he had just put out a lot of money for his band to record two demos, and we were like, 'That's just a demo, come on, we're happening, we are at least in motion.' He politely turned us down and so later when we got rid of Marco somebody told us that Sonny would do it, and we were like, 'Nah, he turned us down once before,' and they said, 'Go ask him again'. We asked him, and he jumped on it. He came to rehearsal and we talked and realized that there was a voice there, but he's considerably younger than us, he grew up on things like Anthrax, and to me, this genre of musicians, everyone sounds the same, where as when I was a kid, Marvin Gaye didn't sound like Al Green who didn't sound like Stevie Wonder, you know what I'm saying. As far as rock musicians, Ozzy Osbourne didn't sound like Robert Plant, who didn't sound like Rob Halford, who didn't sound like whoever. Everybody sounded different, but nowadays, everyone sounds the same. We started talking about singers, and we would mess around with old cover tunes and he would sing, and we were like, 'Oh, I didn't know that you could sing like that.' He told me that one of his favorite singers was Brian, and we played a few tunes off of "I Hate.." and he sounded really close.

Is it more difficult working the Chicago market now with the Alternative scene being the one getting all of the focus?

Greg: No, because honestly it's kind of like this, it's kind of like the music industry itself. What the press chooses to write about, whatever the press chooses to be the flavor of the week, fine, that's the idiom of music that gets a lot of light. But that doesn't mean that blues clubs or dance clubs don't exist here anymore, it just means that this is the flavor of the month, everybody is sucking this piece of fruit until it's dry, and then they will move onto another piece of fruit. I think that people need to understand that just because people tend to write about Alternative and Industrial, it doesn't mean that kids still don't buy Testament records, maybe the trendies don't buy it anymore. What's going to happen when people wake up and realize that bands like Nirvana and a lot of those type of bands, old Husker Du, Soul Asylum, the real power pock-pop, that sound has been around forever. So the industry, just like anything else, goes in cycles. There's a lull, and they find something else to write about. Now it's, what's the big craze? Punk, with Rancid and all those kind of bands? Come on! I will say this though, for all the negative things that go on in this industry, there are a lot of good people.

There are a lot of people in the industry - radio and otherwise - that stay loyal to a certain genre over the years, it's just that the popular culture, that don't really have a mind of their own, are the type that tend to follow the trend.

Greg: True, I agree with that one hundred percent. That's really sad, a perfect example — if they like King's X, because you can't put them in a neat little box and market them as brand X or brand B or brand A, its hard for them to market because they don't come from a cookie cutter. Bands are a lot easier to sell it seems like, if you can say, 'Well they sound like Soundgarden, or Pantera, they sound kind of like an Alice In Chains mixture with Harry Connick Jr.', but when you can't do that, people can't take you. I guess that it makes the marketing persons job that much harder.

It just means that they have to get creative.

Greg: Does that mean people in America are really narrow minded and they have short attention spans? Or what? I don't know what it means, it just seems that if it's not cut and dried and very simple then it gets overlooked, and that's pretty tragic.

Is there anything else you would like to add?

Greg: My closing comment - to everybody in the industry that has supported us and helped us out along the way, I really do appreciate it. To all the people who don't take my phone calls anymore, hey, it's still cool, I still love you, I'm not calling you just for you to listen to my tape, maybe I'm just calling you to say hello.

METAL Pick

Body Count, Born Dead (Virgin)

Ice T has been all over the place recently, appearing on the Pro-Pain album and on the Airheads soundtrack with Motorhead, but despite his high profile we haven't been quite satisfied until the full length sophomore release from Body Count landed on our desks. So many of you have been teasing your listeners with the four song warm up medley that the band has already debuted on the Hard Hitters chart, with airplay at KZRX, KISS, KSHE, WHMH, WSMU, XBDT, CFOX, WLFR, KDJK, KDUR, KQAL, WGLS, WVUD, and WWVU. In 1991 Body Count embarked on the first Lollapalooza tour showcasing their material which combined the gangster rap elements that Ice I had pioneered and the hardcore metal sounds of Ernie C and the rest of Body Count. At the time this was an unusual combination for a full time project - the collaborations of Anthrax/Public Enemy and Aerosmith/Run DMC were side projects and were the only examples of a metal/rap hybrid up to that time. The response to the tour was massive and shortly thereafter in early '92, the not so naive mind and poisonously twisted lyrics of Ice T were unleashed on the metal masses to open our eyes to the disorder of the world. While embarking on consistent touring and exposure on metal radio and all over MTV with "There Goes The Neighborhood". Body Count made an impact on the minds and mosh pits of many listeners, but the explosions really started to go off when the police force got a hold of "Cop Killer" the anthemic song denouncing police brutality. The heated controversy resulted in a lot of cancelled shows, death threats, and pressure tactics, which most likely led to the mutual split between Ice T and his original label - despite all of the record sales. With a new label - Virgin - and a new release, Body Count hope to have a similarly devastating impact, but without the controversy. Born Dead exhibits the band as a tighter more cohesive musical force this time around, with the music creating an atmosphere for each song rather than the lyrics alone. From the ominous warnings of "Masters of Revenge", the unrelenting speed of "Killing Floor" and the uphill climb of "Born Dead" you have a vivid picture of the struggle in your mind. Other tracks that will have your heart pumping include "Surviving the Game" - based on the movie from earlier in the year that Ice T appeared in - and "Necessary Evil", with enough melodic frenzy to fuel a semi truck. Body Count have collected the mileage from all of their touring, and the musical benefits are evident on Born Dead with the entire band working as a unit, plan to see them on the road again this fall, starting with a Los Angeles show during Foundations. Strip away all of the preconceived notions and controversies, and what you are left with is an aggressive, thrashing release with daring lyrics, crunching grooves, and relevant topics that will keep your listeners asking for more.

Cathedral, Cosmic Requiem (Earache/Columbia)

Once upon a time a young lad from England by the name of Lee Dorrian explored the origins of grindcore and death metal with the pioneering extremes of Napalm Death. Despite the ground-breaking inroads that the band made, Dorrian wanted to delve into truly heavy music of another ilk, and Cathedral was born. The band is well named as you feel that you are lost in a haunted, Gothic sanctuary with each bludgeoning riff. The bands biggest breakthrough came with the release of The Ethereal Mirror, and lots of touring to go along with radios embrace of their thick, deepgrooved sound that makes most of today's "grunge" sound like a musical glass of chocolate milk rather than the Cathedral Frosty. Born from the same mold that Sabbath created many years ago and borrowed by bands like Trouble and The Obsessed, they have taken those doomy, medieval sounds, and updated them with razor sharp aggressiveness that widens their appeal from groove oriented metal fans to favor with the death audience as well. This four song EP, of all new material, provides you with three hypnotic songs to slip onto your airwaves with the swirling "Cosmic Funeral" to the massive, sleeting riffs of "Hypnos 164", and the unstoppable march of "A Funeral Request - Rebirth". These are followed by the mammoth length and adventurous "Voyage of the Homeless Sapien". With 43 minutes of music to fill your brainwaves, that will keep your listeners happy until the full release arrives. Travel out into the firmament with Cathedral and Cosmic Requiem for an escape from the everyday mundane events.

Natural Born Killers Soundtrack (nothing/Interscope/AG)

The new Oliver Stone picture Natural Born Killers has just hit the theaters to loads of critical acclaim and controversy due to the graphic content of the movie. The rapid fire production and the surreal themes were the most talked about aspects of the film, but you could be talking about the soundtrack as well. The combination of a Trent Reznor produced soundtrack with the over the top movie production of Oliver Stone is a marriage made in heaven — or hell, whichever you prefer. The entire soundtrack is a collage of songs with snippets from the movie in between many tracks, all with the Reznor Midas touch. Some tracks to check out for metal radio play include "Shitlist" by L7; "Sex is Violent" by Jane's Addiction; and new tracks from nine inch nails, including "Burn" an electronically throbbing song with Reznor's agonizing vocals that accentuate the distress found within the movie. Reznor may be a natural born genius at translating pain and angst into music, but despite the rumors of his dementia, after hearing a few of the bits from the movie while listening to the soundtrack, we think he may have met his match with Micky and Mallory!

Sinister Dane, Sinister Dane (Columbia)

This St. Louis based band (Joe Sears - vocals; Jay Summers - guitars; Donald Williams - bass; Matt Martin - drums) have a lot on their minds, and they exude an intensity in their groove oriented music that transcends the typical cross format music. With a sound that combines a bit of funk with the soul of blues and a metallic bite that glues it all together, we think that many of you will appreciate their intensity and will want to try it on your airwaves. The band is comprised of a young group of working class men, and according to Martin music "is a way of letting the aggression out." And their live show has developed a reputation for being frenzied, in fact so impressed were the boys of Living Colour with the band that they took Sinister Dane out on the road with them for the Northeast leg of their "Biscuits" tour. For some blood-boiling intense rock n' roll, find out what the folks in St. Louis have already been jamming to — the grooving sounds of Sinister Dane.

Six Feet Deep, Struggle (REX)

When taking radio reports this week, there was a new name that kept popping up in the adds of many stations this week. That name was Six Feet Deep, and if you thought that you had to go to New York to find good hardcore music, you were mistaken. This Cleveland based band who create on the basis of their motto - "More In Sorrow Than In Anger" - have handed us this Jeff Bellew produced release filled with full, crunching guitar riffs, aggressive rhythms, and driven hardcore based vocals. Pulling in eleven adds this week, at WAIF, WCDB, WEOS, WFCS, WFSE, WKLL, WLFR, WRFL, WSGR, WSMU, and WVUD, it looks like finding fans of this new band won't be much of a struggle. With songs like "Angry Son", the title track "Struggle", and the alluring groove of "Condemnation" we can see why stations would want to spend some time Six Feet Deep. Having been together for two years, the band made their mark on the industry with their appearance at the regional Cornerstone '94 A&R convention. With a street smart presentation, and a formidable metallic crunch, the only struggle that this band is going to have to face, is trying to extend out to all of their new fans!

QUICK Picks

Atomic Opera, "Joyride" (Collision Arts/Giant)

Many of you out there in the metal radio realm have found the debut release from Atomic Opera to your liking - especially fans of the harmonically heavy sounds of bands like King's X - with the release of the initial single "Justice" sending the band well up into the Hard Hitters chart earlier this year. This talented Houston band is currently on the road with Dio, and if the powerful melodies of For Madmen Only are any indication, their live show will be an energetic experience not to be missed. One of the most compelling songs on the album is "Joyride", with its poppy bass rhythm and full choppy riffs that beef up the smooth, fluent vocals of Frank Hart. With the well documented work of Sam Taylor on the production knobs and a memorable, catchy sound to the song, take a "Joyride" with Atomic Opera: you won't regret the ride one bit!

Wicked Maraya, "Face In The Mirror" (Mausoleum)
While currently boasting one of the top releases in Europe, Wicked Maraya have also found that life on the metal radio airwaves has been a friendly environment as well. If you had a chance to check them out at New Music Seminar, you know that Wicked Maraya have a majestic live performance, but if you missed that chance, take a peek into the Hard Tour Guide and catch the band on the road with Cyclone Temple. The newest track off the Cycles release to lend your ear to is "Face in the Mirror", which kicks off with grinding riffs and flows into a strong melodic pace spiced up with exalted vocals and a hearty crunch. With airplay at KIBZ, KWUR, WMHB, KUNV, WVBR, WWDX, WDCR, WRCN, and WWSP, and the press from their popularity in Europe - particularly in Germany - to increase the familiarity of their name, you won't be burned at the stake for partaking in some Wicked Maraya.

Those seeking to fill one of the 20 hour a week posts should be self motivated and dependable and must be enrolled in college, own a car, be available to work in the summer, have in-depth knowledge of college and alternative music, and have related experience with college radio, music retail or local college music scene. Those of you interested in applying for a position should forward the following items to MCA Records - 1) a cover letter explaining your interest and qualifications for the position, 2) a resume, 3) a list of the local clubs and market profile in the local college marketplace that you consider to be "hip" and 4) a list of your 10 desert island CDs. Fax the info to Steve Sherr at (818) 777-5745 or mail it to MCA Records, Attn: Steve Sherr; 70 Universal City Plaza, Bldg. 508, 3rd floor, Universal City, CA 91608. By the way the info shouldn't arrive later than Wednesday, September 14th!... Word from the Dream Theater (EastWest) camp is that the band and longtime keyboardist Kevin Moore have parted ways. The usual musical differences was cited as reason for the amicable split. At this time a permanent replacement has not be named although Jordan Rudess has been chosen to perform with the band when they play Foundations Forum. P.S. The band's long awaited full length album, Awake, hits the retail shelves on October 4th... Do ya'll remember the Concrete Marketing and Epic Records' Creepy Cousin contest? Well, The Tink from WVUD was the Grand Prize winner in the Infectious Grooves Creepy Cousin contest, while Kelly Taylor (from TV 23) and John Lavarnway (from WGCC) shared the first prize. And in the Mercury Metal/Concrete Marketing KISS My Ass contest Jenn Kostal from WQAC was awarded the grand prize for getting Gene Simmons' face and autograph tattooed on her leg. Congratulations to all! මිම්මීම් The end. Peace.

Carcass' Jeff Walker looks fairly surprised to have found himself in the formidable grip of WVUD's legendary, metal master The Tink, or could it really be the legendary Santa Claus as we have been informed?! Either way, the dude is almost too cool for words.

We thought that Maria and Fitz were sharing close quarters, but it looks like XBDT's Freeze Fresquez, Joan Jett and the G-ster have got them beat as they gather in the kitchen of what appears to be a really nice tour bus for the gratuitous musical sandwich pose. How appropriate.

Straight from the heartland of the country, KIBZ's Mike Melbye takes his position in a metal line-up with The Poor, taken as the Aussie's took over Lincoln, Nebraska. Only kidding folks, but we thought it sounded good. Hanging backstage are Sparky (KIBZ), Skenie (vocalist), Mr. Melbye, Matt Whitby (bassist), Tim Sheridan (KIBZ), James Young (stixman), Mark Lumley (KIBZ), Julian Grynglas (guitarist) and Jon "The Animal" Terry (KIBZ).

After being metallistically Overkilled with a shot of Pro-Pain what really needs to be said about the folks in this picture — except, 'Hey, bet they had a blast!' This shot featuring the Hard hut's metal poster boy WDWN's Authony Savarese was taken at the Penny Arcade in Rochester, NY when Pro-Pain and Overkill shared the stage. Relaxing from the left to the right are Gary Meskil and Nick St. Denis (Pro-Pain). Mr. Savarese, an unknown fan and Mike Hollman (Pro-Pain).

We just can't get enough of WDWN's Anthony — and that could be because he continues to send us his metallic Kodak moments, but we're not complaining! True to form the Savarese boy was snagged by the camera's eye in his "rock n' roll, God Of Thunder. look at me, I'm Gene Simmons" pose with Overkill's D.D. Verni, who looks quite mild mannered in comparison.

Taking up residence in the corner booth, and snuggling in close are KIOZ's Fitz and Metal Blade's Maria "Mom" Abril. The two were in close quarters as they whispered secrets (of which we were not included!) and also discussed how great the Metal Blade artist roster is!

April's Motel Room, "God," Immortal/Epic Those of you who regularly read this column know how heavy our belief in this band is. With a dark, percussive groove and melody lines anchored by Tom Kelly's stalwart vocals, AMR purveys a staunch vibe that is instantly identifiable and totally gripping. Hailing from Southern California, the band's five members love to play, as is evident in the musical chops displayed all throughout Black 14. There's a looseness in the band's style that suggests a confidence and maturity far beyond that which one would expect of such a young band. Thoroughly infused with energy and a subtle, knowing swagger, AMR's material instantly distinguishes itself in its depth, and spirit. Superb production (provided by Porno For Pyros' Matt Hyde) highlights the band's varying elements while bringing them together cohesively, with punch and vigor. Poised for absolute immensity. Believe it.

couple of years back, many questions were posed as to the band's future. It's safe to say that the Pale Saints have answered all of them with the release of Slow Buildings, arguably their strongest record to date. This band, with their rich history and a string of intensely creative records, the band has developed a fervent fanbase on both sides of the Atlantic. Masters in carving aural sculptures with noise and melody, the band purveys a bright, luxurious aura throughout their material, skillful and sincere in presentation. With shimmering vocals and dank, swirling guitars, the band's vitality is instantly evident and enjoyed. "Angels" is a luminous, highly tonal track performed with ebullience and verve. And, as will be evident to fans, the record retains the overall exotic air that we've seen on previous records, adding a pierce, instinctive bite.

Sordid Humour, "Barbarossa," Capricorn The inherent appeal of this song is obvious on first listen, as Adam Duritz prominently lends his vocals in the backing role. Sordid Humor was formed in 1987 by singer/song-writer/ guitarist Tom Barnes and bassist Jim Gordon, and they quickly rose upward in the Bay Area music scene, amassing much critical acclaim until their 1992 breakup. This particular tune was recorded in 1992, produced and engineered by Dave Bryson, now the Crows' guitarist. Gordon and Barnes have gone on to form Engine, an outfit that is perking up A&R ears industry-wide. You know your audience cannot get enough Counting Crows music (witness the success of "Einstein") — playing this track just seems so darn obvious.

Elastic Band, "Running Up That Hill", (Flying High, Italy) No, you're not going crazy... This single is a remake of the Kate Bush classic from 1985. This Italian duo have done an absolutely brilliant job of remaking this track. Definitely more of a dance/energy mix, however, it's sure to please any Kate Bush fan and is sure to be a phone reaction record for those who like intelligent remakes of their favorite classics.

Love & Rockets, "This Heaven", (Beggars Banquet, UK) Daniel Ash and David J. are back together as Love & Rockets. This single is quite different from their previous material in that they have gone towards more of a dance lean from their former Gothic type sound. Nonetheless, it's great to see this duo back together putting out a much awaited single. It'll be interesting to see what the album sounds like in respect to "This Heaven".

Loft "Summer, Summer", (Ariola, Germany) A very pleasant song indeed. Perfectly produced for a HIT summer song! The keyboard pop sound is overlapped by a pleasant reggae vocal and female chorus that makes this a very enjoyable record. Sure to be embraced by both alternative and pop radio as well as many of their listeners. Look for this 'chart bubbler' at an import store near you!

s at presstime was the sale of KDGE to Bonneville, who owns crosstown classic rocker KZPS, with John Larsen set to oversee both stations in the new duopoly. Jacobs Media has been hired to consult the new station. Can this mean some structural formatic changes at the station? Don't forget, the station has had an excellent '94. Kerry Gray's last day at KPOI was on Friday, as he's heading to the Buffalo area to program CKEY. No word yet on his replacement... Producer extraordinaire Dave Jerden (Jane's Addiction, Alice In Chains, Dig) has been hired by Atlantic as VP/Producer. He will produce albums for Atlantic and sister company Elektra/Eastwest. Jerden joins Arif Mardin and David Foster as the label's staff producers... Seed Records has just announced the signing of the Pooh Sticks, who are set to record their new record, Optimistic Fools, set for release in early '95... 4AD's "All Virgos Are Mad" festival, a week-long event, will commence September 27th. It will feature acoustic and electrical performances by Pale Saints, Lisa Germano, Kendra Smith, Ian Masters, The Wolfgang Press, Air Miami, His Name Is Alive, Lisa Gerrard, Heidi Berry, Red House Painters, Michael Brook, Kristen Hersh and Throwing Muses. The acoustic performances are at McCabe's Guitar Shop in Santa Monica, while the electric show's will take place at The Troubadour, featuring some surprise guests. There will also be performances by 4AD artists at selected LA retail outlets as well as radio appearances on KCRW and other local stations. Additional plans for the event include limited edition CD's (10,000), videos (1,000), posters and other merchandise. "All Virgos Are Mad" will also mark the US premiere of Dead Can Dance's concert film "Toward The Within". Freedy Johnston on Letterman next Monday (9/12). His appearance is pretty impressive, considering most of Letterman's acts are pretty established in the eyes of the mainstream. Look for this Freedy project to explode withing the coming weeks... Seaweed will be performing at the End's "End It" benefit concert on September 11 (w/ Hole, Weezer, etc, etc). They are currently working on material for their highly-anticipated Hollywood debut, scheduled for a Spring release... Did you see Perry Farrell on CNN last week? He was featured in a piece the network ran on Warner Brothers' presence on Online America. Perry fielded fans' questions from the cushy confines of the WB offices. Incidentally, he's just been confirmed as the Keynote Speaker at CMJ on Friday 9/23 (the other speaker is Paul Hill, who's story formed the basis for In The Name Of The Father). The incredible Kyuss has been confirmed as the opening act for the east leg of Dinosaur Jr's upcoming tour, and opening for (the genius that is) Ween in the West. A brutally intense band that could, we honestly believe, work at the format if given the chance... The soundtrack to the Miramax film Clerks features a new track from Soul Asylum called "Can't Even Tell." Look for it in October... John Perrone, formerly at Caroline, has landed at TVT doing College Radio, filling the spot vacated by Sivan Schlecter... Collective Soul will be doing a Q101 show at the Chicago Hard Rock on September 11th, part of the festivities that will include a voter registration drive (sponsored by Lead or Leave) and computers that audience members can use to e-mail the President. Q101 is also sponsoring the Independent Label Fest, on Sept 29-30 & Oct 1st. It will be held at Columbia College, where panels will be held. In addition, 23 different clubs have been confirmed as showcase spots for various Chicago bands to take center stage. Just so you know, this event was the first time Veruca Salt really turned heads industry wise last year. Could someone be next this year?... Keep your eyes open for the immense new record from Smashing Orange. There were a few of us that were hip to 1992's The Glass Bead Game, an absolutely remarkable record. The latest effort is called No Return In The End, and the lead track, "The Way That I Love You," impacts mid-October. We cannot wait to see what happens with this... CJ Ramone has just finished working on a three-day project with Black Fire, a Native American band from Flagstaff, Arizona, where he produced and added some instrumental to the record, a five-song EP to be released independently. Los Gusanos, a previous project that CJ worked on, was released six months back on Alternative Tentacles (to benefit Oglala Lakota College in South Dakota)... We absolutely love the new Swirl record (on Dirt), which is shipping this week to college and select commercial stations... Select tour Dates: Pete Droge: 9/5 St. Louis; 9/6 Madison; 9/7 Detroit; 9/8 Cleveland; 9/10 Minneapolis; 9/11 Chicago; 9/12 St. Louis; 9/13 Madison; 9/14 Detroit; 9/15 Cleveland; 9/17 Minneapolis; 9/18 Chicago. Release of the double-live Nirvana album, originally slated for release this fall, has been delayed indefinitely. "I first entered this project with an air of optimism and an overall good vibe, knowing that releasing the music would be the ultimate tribute to Kurt," bassist Krist Novoselic says. "However, in the studio things changed and the emotional aspect of it all threw us for a loop. The live record is going to happen, but not now."

Pearl Jam will audition several different drummers before deciding on a permanent replacement for Dave Abbruzzese, who is disputing the band's claim that he and the group "mutually and amicably parted ways." Abbruzzese says the band has conspired against him to get him out of the group. "For reasons I don't completely understand, he other members of the band decided that it was necessary to fire me in order to pursue a philosophy which they conceive as incompatible with mine," he says. "But, I accept it, and I'm proud to have been a part of what Pearl Jam was." Pearl Jam are still slated to perform at a benefit concert in San Francisco October 1 being hosted by Neil Young. A new Pearl Jam album, tentatively entitled "Vitalogy," is scheduled for release this fall.

Lenny Kravitz will open for the Rolling Stones at ten concerts in September. "Mick Jagger didn't call to invite me personally. Someone else did," Kravitz says, adding that he was impressed when he saw the Stones at Giants Stadium a few weeks ago. "Their staging was great, but they could have been on a box as far as I was concerned. They were amazing. Mick's vocals were perfect and you could hear every word. I had only seen them before on film, but I was completely not let down." Kravitz is working on a rock opera that he also hopes will become a movie. "It's basically a modernday Jesus Christ story," he says. "It's set in a modernday city, perhaps Los Angeles. I'm about five tunes into it," he says. "It's a big production. It has a very big sound — very different from anything I've done. It's got very big drums, very big guitars. It's got less overdubs than my other stuff, yet it's bigger in sound. And we might actually use a symphony on a track or two. Kravitz has also completed recording a funk album in New Orleans.

The Eagles canceled some concerts because Glenn Frey has been suffering from abdominal problems. On his doctor's advice, Frey flew from New York City to Los Angeles for treatment for diverticulities, a painful inflammation of the lining of the intestines. The group postponed dates in Charlotte and Knoxville, just before a two-week break they had scheduled. The group is next scheduled to play in Washington on September 13.

Jesse Dupree of Jackyl says he found Woodstock '94 too tame. "We absolutely refused to refer to this concert as Woodstock onstage or off," he says. "Until those people crashed through the fence with no tickets but lots of beer, liquor and pot, it didn't deserve to be called that."

James Brown has been cited with failure to yield the right of way after knocking a man off a bicycle in Augusta, Georgia. Police cited Brown, but did not arrest him. He's scheduled to appear in court October 3.

There are plans for a movie with all four original members of the Monkees. All of the original Monkees have expressed interest in the film, "even Michael Nesmith," according to Rhino Entertainment cotounder Harold Bronson. "Everyone else is making movies from '60s TV shows, and the Monkees have the advantage in that they played themselves."

Amy Grant's new album, "House Of Love," includes a cover version of Joni Mitchell's "Big Yellow Taxi." Grant says she chose to record the song because of concern about the environment. "I think we are losing a lot of the earth's resources to progress, and I don't know if you can stop that process, but to not, at least, mourn the passage of a simpler time is a shame. I feel like that song does that," she says. "On a deeper level, it's hard for me to be in this culture and to hold onto the values that I have always believed in. So much of the world I live in whets my appetite for new things. The message I'm getting is that what I've got is not enough. The song speaks to that. It says, sometimes that shiny new thing makes you forget how to value the old, worn-in thing."

Steely Dan's Walter Becker has a solo album, "11 Tracks Of Whack," coming out in late September. It's produced by Donald Fagen and features his keyboards and horn arrangements. "(Fagen) was the guy who would have the most insight into what I was trying to do," Becker says. "I know it's a bit odd in some ways. I never felt any particular passion for doing it all the years we were doing Steely Dan records. That was a satisfactory outlet for me. I got to write and be coauteur of these things without having any onerous duties like singing. It was only recently that I had the idea it would be a good time to do something like this." As for the album title, Becker chose "11 Tracks Of Whack," because it could mean several different things "I kind of noticed certain songs, rather than being love songs, or the usual sorts of songs people might write, were really thinly veiled attacks on myself or somebody else," Becker says. "There are songs about people who had already been whacked — they were dead or whatever. I also wanted the songs to have a freshness of not being worked over to the point of being a finely polished kind of thing. I wanted the quality of being an early, fresh attempt at something. A first whack.

Annie Lennox, Melissa Etheridge and Amy Grant are among the 14 female artists who will appear on the album "Women For Women" coming out in October. The LP will include information about breast cancer and will benefit the National Alliance of Breast Cancer Organizations.

Jimmy Buffett will begin working with Herman Wouk in November on a musical based on Wouk's 1965 novel "Don't Stop The Carnival." Plans are for a stage production of the musical within the next year.

Roger McGuinn, formerly of the Byrds, is delaying work on a new album to help promote the double-CD soundtrack to "Forrest Gump." A video for "Turn, Turn. Turn" has just been completed. "Isn't it funny? It's just like Forrest Gump," McGuinn says. "It's a wonderful collection, really eclectic. It's kind of like free-form radio was back in the '60s." "Forrest Gump" is the biggest-selling double-album soundtrack in history. The last double-album soundtrack on the charts was "Fast Times At Ridgemont High." which peaked in 1982 at number 54.

Jane Siberry plans to begin recording a new album in November. There will also be another record released from her sessions at the Real World studios two years ago, called "My Mother Is Not The White Dove."

Dave Wakeling and Ranking Roger have reformed General Public, and the band is recording a new album in San Francisco with producer Jerry Harrison of Talking Heads.

A British court has thrown out a lawsuit by an American woman who claimed Boy George is the father of her eight-year-old son. Magistrates in London dismissed the case, which sought child support payments from the former Culture Club singer. "The whole thing is ridiculous and hilarious — and miraculous if true," says Boy George, who says he's never had sex with a woman. The judges dismissed the case because the woman failed to provide requested blood samples to support her claim.

Richard Butler admits that some of the tracks on Love Spit Love's debut album are reminiscent of his old group, the Psychedelic Furs. "There's a couple of songs on the album that sound like the Furs, which also happen to be the ones I wrote with Tim (Butler, formerly of the Furs)," Butler says. "The ones that stretch out and sound a bit weirder, which are the ones that I prefer, tend to be the ones I wrote with Richard (Fortus, formerly of Pale Divine)." Butler doesn't seem predisposed to playing Psychedelic Furs material in concert. "It feels like a cheap way to get laughs," he says. "I went to see Porno For Pyros last year and lots of people were walking away saying, 'Shit, they didn't play any Jane's Addiction stuff.' And I thought it was a great move. I'm not incredibly set against it, I just want to establish this band first. Trust me, people have been on me about it. My manager has suggested one or two Furs songs during the set, but we've done about 10 shows and we've noticed that nobody's shouted for them." By the way, Richard's brother, Tim. has formed his own band in New York, called Feed.

Eric's Trip and Sloan are releasing a single together where they each cover the other band's songs. Eric's Trip will cover Sloan's "Laying Blame," while Sloan plays a medley of "Stove" and "Smother." Eric's Trip should have an 18-song album out in late September called "Forever Again."

Freedy Johnston says he's heard a rumor that guitarist Brix may rejoin the Fall for one or two shows on the Fall's upcoming tour. Johnston says he's been less of a fan of the Fall since Brix, former wife of lead singer Mark E. Smith, left the group. "I've always loved The Fall and her time in The Fall was like their renaissance," Johnston says. "And so many people don't agree with that. From 'Perverted By Language' to 'The Frenz Experiment' and 'I Am Kurious Oranj,' those were all great records. I have a huge respect for her for that work." Johnston has been collaborating with Brix on songwriting, having met her through mutual friend Susannah Hoffs. It's not certain if their collaborations will result in a record release.

Ted Nugent claims he's been getting death threats from militant animal rights groups because of his promotion of hunting and guns. "Anyone who supports gun control is declaring 'Bad guys, go for it! We won't resist. We'll spread our cheeks and you can poke at will," Nugent says. Nugent's written a song about Kurt Cobain called "I'm Surprised He Didn't Miss."

Jimmy Buffett suffered only minor injuries when the seaplane he was flying nose-dived on takeoff and capsized in four feet of water off the Massachusetts resort island of Nantucket. Buffett had just become airborne when the plane suddenly nosedived into about four feet of water at the west of the island. Buffett was treated and released at a nearby hospital. Buffett is certified to fly many different types of planes. This one was an amphibious aircraft built in 1946 which seats as many as nine people. A spokesman for the Federal Aviation Administration speculated that a turbulent wave may have affected Buffett's ascent from shallow water.

Roy Loney, formerly of the Flamin' Groovies, has released a new solo album which sees him backed by the Long Shots, featuring members of the Young Fresh Fellows and the Squirrels. "Scott McCaughey had set up this tour with me, the Squirrels and the Fellows," Loney says. "We enjoyed that tour so much that we kept in touch. I would send demos of my originals, they would send tapes of theirs, I'd send tapes of possible covers, and it just went from there." McCaughey wrote "Just My Kind" for Loney's new album. "This album is all-rockers from start to finish," he says, adding that enough material was recorded for a second LP. "There was a real pretty ballad cut that didn't fit in this album. But I've played the rough mixes of what I call the 'other album' and people seem to like that as well. So hopefully, that stuff will come out too."

Linda Ronstadt and Aaron Neville reunited at a concert in New Orleans which will air on cable television (on the Family Channel) during the Christmas season. The show, also featuring the Neville Brothers and Take 6, will air in conjunction with Neville's upcoming Christmas album.

The three curtains that covered the 50-foot tall speaker towers at Woodstock '94 have been stolen from a warehouse outside Lancaster, Pennsylvania. Several men identitying themslves as being with the concert organizers collected the curtains, which were painted with the concert's dove-guitar logo. The curtains, valued at $28,000, were to have been sold to raise money for charity.

Samantha Fox is now a born-again Christian, performing at a religious pop music festival in Britain. She says she's joined the congregation of the Holy Trinity Brompton church in Knightsbridge, in the London suburbs. Even though she's gone Christian, she still sang songs like "Naughty Girls Need Love Too." "They are just words. You can take lyrics any way you want," she said at the end of the concert. "I am still learning about my faith. You have got to sort out your relationship with Jesus. That's all that really matters."

A Canadian Football League game is being re-scheduled to accomodate a Rolling Stones concert in Edmonton, Alberta, in Canada. A game between the British Columbia Lions and Edmonton Eskimos has been shifted from October 2 to September 30, to allow enough time for the Stones to set up their massive stage for an October 4 concert.

A judge in New York City has dissolved the marriage of Billy Joel and Christie Brinkley. The New York Daily news quotes a court source as saying the divorce was granted on the grounds of "constructive abandonment" — Brinkley's refusal to sleep with her husband. Supreme Court Justice Phyllis Gangel-Jacob signed the divorce, which ends a nine-year marriage.

Double Trouble, Eric Burdon of the Animals, Bobby Whitlock of Derek & The Dominoes and Little Milton performed at the third annual Stevie Ray Vaughan tribute to benefit Children's Hospital in Boston.

Warren Zevon will release a new album next spring. "I have no great plans like writing a four-hour opera or having a fast-food chain named after me," he says. "It's just one song at a time. The next song is always the biggest challenge. My writing friends often suggest I write a novel, but I have to remind them that songwriting is so difficult that I can't imagine having to sit there and write an entire book."

Two major record companies are going to court over who gets to distribute records by Johnny Cash and the Black Crowes outside of the U.S. American Recordings had filed a $15 million lawsuit against the British firm Phonogram claiming it hadn't honored their joint agreement. Phonogram UK filed a countersuit in Britain against American Recordings, claiming it violated the 1989 agreement which allowed Phonogram to distribute all its recordings outside North America. A British judge has ruled that the U.S. court has priority, and American won't be allowed to distribute its records through another firm pending a decision. However, American has been awarded almost $400,000 in British legal costs.

Author Barry Miles is finishing work on a biography of Paul McCartney. Even though Miles and McCartney are friends, Miles promises to be "surprisingly frank" about the Beatles' drug-taking. He says a section of the book will be devoted to the six weeks McCartney spent visiting the Maharishi Mahesh Yogi in India. "Paul and John (Lennon) wrote virtually all of 'Abbey Road' and the 'white album' during that period, essentially because John was sober," Miler says.

A fez that Ringo Starr wore in the 1970's sold for $10 thousand at an Atlanta charity auction.

Sting, Paul McCartney, Paul Simon, Elton John, Genesis, Joe Walsh and U2 are contributing tracks to "Earthrise," a benefit album for the Rainforest Alliance. Some of the tracks on the LP (on Pyramid Records) will be new ones. All of the artists are donating their royalties.

British band Take That have apparently offended some people with a raunchy show on their current British tour in which one group member dressed as a devil, while another member, Howard Donald, mooned the audience.

Martha Reeves, lead singer of Martha & The Vandellas, has a new book out called "Dancing In The Streets: Confessions Of A Motown Diva." In the book, Reeves says Motown founder Berry Gordy gave her group "second-rate" treatment while giving the Supremes his higher priority. She also writes that someone slipped drugs into her drink in the early 1970s in revenge for her questioning Motown's management of her career.

Rapper Dr. Dre has been given an eight-month jail sentence, fined over $1,000, and ordered to attend an alcohol education program. Dre pleaded no contest to drunk driving charges in a Los Angeles court. He was sentenced for violating the terms of his probation. His blood-alcohol level was twice the legal limit when he was arrested in January after leading police on a high-speed chase through Beverly Hills and Westwood.

Suede, this week's cover stars in the New Musical Express, have announced details of their second album. Entitled "Dog Man Star" and available via Nude on October 10, the full track listing is as follows: "Introducing The Band," "We Are The Pigs," "Heroine," "The Wild Ones," "Daddy's Speeding," "The Power, "New Generation," "The Hollywood Life," "The 2 Of Us," "Black Or Blue," "The Asphalt World," and "Still Life." Elsewhere, in a lengthy interview, the band talk to NME editor Steve Sutherland about the departure of quitarist Bernard Butler. Frontman Brett Anderson says: "I saw it coming two years ago. It was really no shock. I don't thing he ever really wanted to be in the band or anything that goes with it. He loved music but simultaneously hated lots of sides of it. So he's gone Things came to an end and you've got to be honest about it and move on. The king is dead, long live the king." Anderson also talks about Suede's forthcoming single "We Are The Pigs": "It was important to come back with something that was a real fist in the face. The lyrics set the scene for the album. I wrote it in quite strange conditions. I was living in Highgate (north London), the world of Village Green Preservation Societies and dollies and twitching net curtains at the windows. It's a call to revolution in a way. I know that sounds incredibly fucking naive because no one believes in revolution any more but it's a call to some sort of mental uprising. You know the situation there's this safe world but, just around the corner, there's this horror that you're gonna get a boot through your window. That's what happens. English society slaps itself on the back about how civilised it is in reality it isn't any more civilised than some third world society. And that's what the song's about - it's a warning about the violent undercurrents going on. It's almost like the homeless rising up and crushing the skulls of the clergy. That's the kind of idea. We are the pigs. That sense of unity. You can stomp along the street with your boots on being violent but, at the same time, there's a sense of guilt in it. I like that juxtaposition. It's a song about shame, but not in a really heroic way. "Finally, there are rumors Bernard Butler and former All About Eve singer Julianne Regan have ended their collaboration after disagreements

I ole's Courtney Love dominated the headlines in the wake of the Reading Festival. Melody Maker, who featured the singer on the cover, even printed a column entitled: "Court In The Act - Things Courtney Love is rumored to have done." One of the more intriguing entries concerns Love changing lyrics. According to the paper, "I am the girl you know/can't look you in the eye" from "Miss World" became "I am the girl you know/the one who should have died." "Teenage Whore" was changed from "I'd pay good money not to be ignored" to "I'd pay good money just to be ignored." Love also ran on stage during sets by The Lemonheads and Sebadoh.

E Isewhere, Primal Scream's set included guest appearances from BAD's Mick Jones and Depeche Mode's Dave Gahan during an 11-minute version of "Loaded." Gahan played harmonica. The band also played a version of the Clash b-side "Jail Guitar Doors."

Sinead O'Connor is rumored to have been receiving treatment at London Priory psychiatric hospital. The story first surfaced in the News Of The World, a tabloid newspaper. However, representatives for the singer deny the story. A recent edition of Q featured an interview with the singer where she talked about suicide attempts.

MF's next video will feature the world's top five surfers. "La Plage" will be available via Parlophone early next year. The idea came about after EMF attended the world surfing championships in Biarritz. France. The band are currently finishing their new album.

arter The Unstoppable Sex Machine have hit out at the somewhat bizarre Roadie Of The Year competition, calling it "pathetic, sexist, and appalling." The competition is for men only and will be held at Manchester's In The City convention September 19. According to organiser Alan Wise, women are being excluded because: "The real roadie is a beast and oirls aren't. It's all about machismo." Maybe some women won't understand, but then I wouldn't expect them to. Former Carter roadie Helen Garratt was with the band for two-and-a-half years and Carter's manager Adrian Boss says: "We never had any problems. There are plenty of women on the road and they should be encouraged. Carter USM will tour the UK through December. The dates will be the first to feature new drummer Wez and support will come from These Animal Men.

Primal Scream, Ride, Paul Weller, The Charlatans and Mother Earth are contributing to a charity single for Ronnie Lane. The former Small Faces' bassist suffers from multiple sclerosis. The EP will be released via Acid Jazz in the fall and will also raise money for other MS victims. Dean Rudland of Acid Jazz commented: "All the bands are fans of The Small Faces. The Charlatans actually approached us asking to be involved."

"Heart Of Stone" via Anxious/east west. Co-written with Shara Nelson, it features contributions from Bootsy Collins, Bernie Worrell and Lady Miss Keir and is taken from Stewart's forthcoming album "Greetings From The Gutter." The Almighty, who recently signed for Chrysalis, release "Wrench," their debut single for the label, on September 12. A new album "Crank" will follow on September 26.

poger Taylor's new album contains an attack on media mogul Rupert Murdoch. Dear Mr. Murdoch contains the lines: "Dear Mr. Murdoch you're really the pits/Bad news is good business when you're king of the tits." Taylor says the song was written in reaction to "vulture-like" journalists from the tabloid newspaper The Sun (owned by one of Murdoch's companies) reporting on Freddie Mercury's last few days. Taylor's solo album Happiness? is released via Parlophone this week.

REM have been talking to Q magazine to promote their forthcoming album Monster. Commenting on reports that last year the band had a four-day conference in Acanulco to decide whether to continue or not. Peter Buck says: "It wasn't to discuss whether to carry on, it was to discuss how to carry on. It was a meeting to decide stuff. Tour? Probably, yeah, so that's good. Make a record? How do we go about it? Cut it a bit more live... It was just a matter of quantifying our desires It was great. We used the Warners Brothers house which was ideal. We'd water-ski, or swim all day, have a two-hour meeting over Pina Coladas and, er...it doesn't sound too bad, does it?" Buck also says the band are thinking of recording a live album in a hotel room! Elsewhere, Michael Stipe explains why he made no comment when rumours he had AIDS were circulating: *This might be really naive, but my number one priority was - this is incredibly naive, In retrospect - but I really felt like there are a lot of people who might respect me, for whatever reason, because of the music or just because I'm a celebrity, that thinking that (the AIDS story) about me might impact them in the way they handled their own private affairs, or in the way they thought about people who were HIV positive or who had AIDS_ And number two, I felt like it was a ludicrous claim and l didn't feel like sinking to kibbles-and-bits journalism to even respond to it. It was spawned from a ridiculous series of little things and I didn't feel like it was worth answering." Stipe also speculates his skinny appearance may have had something to do with the rumors.

Jimmy Page and Robert Plant have been working with the Cairo Symphony Orchestra as part of their forthcoming UnLed-ed project. The duo recorded a version of Kashmir with the Orchestra. The MTV special, recorded in Morocco, Wales and London, is scheduled to be broadcast in Europe on October 17.

Lalbach, the Eastern European band who recently announced they were forming their own borderless state NSK, will release an album of cover versions via Mute on October 10. NATO, named for the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation, features such songs as Status Quo's" In The Army Now," Pink Floyd's" Dogs Of War" and Europe's "Final Countdown."

Stone Roses have employed an American producer to help complete their long awaited second album according to rumours within the UK industry. It is alleged the band's record company, Geffen, frustrated by delays which will mean the album is not released until next year, insisted on bringing someone else in to help producer Paul Schroeder. Shroeder also engineered the band's debut.

The Glastonbury Festival shooting incident is back in the news. Last week, police arrested 21-year-old Mohammed Massaquoi, who lives in Shepherds Bush, west London, and charged him with attempted murder and firearms offences. Five people were injured at June's festival when a man opened fire.

Indigo Prime, a band from Manchester, have hit out at the BBC Radio One network after their cover of The Beach Boys' "Never Learn To Love" was used as part of a documentary on bands who allegedly make up part of a right-wing Charles Manson "cause." The song is Dennis Wilson's re-working of Manson "Cease To Exist." However, Indigo Prime have suffered crank phone calls since the song was broadcast and wish to distance themselves from right-wing groups. They say they didn't realise the song was written by Manson and point out their drummer is Jewish. A Radio One Spokesperson said they would investigate the incident.

PEG POLLARD, KIOZ, SAN DIEGO

We've been playing Pantera's "Planet Caravan" since the dawn of time and it's done very well for us with no apparent burn so we finally moved it all the way up to heavy this week... Moved up I Mother Earth and Fretblanket too because they're just damn good records! (Oh - also because Downey & Rittberg rule!)... San Diego cult favorites The Beat Farmers have finally released "Viking Lullabys" with plenty o'beer swilling country dick songs for your morning show and lotsa great straight rock too. We're playing a track called "Garden". The CD's available on Sector 2 records, (713-527-0620). Saw Chaos' new band from Detroit, Sponge, last week, They're quite good live. The lead singer bears a striking resemblance to Kramer. Plus, the guitarists cousin is married to my cousin! If that peaked your interest, listen to the title track "Rotting Pinata", and "Neenah Menasha"... Finally, I second Cathy Faulkner's point from last week. Please put me on your Alternative mailing lists as well. Just send us the music, we'll decide what sounds right on our station. Don't fucking make me call and ask for something I've already heard on the other rock stations in town!

TJ BRYAN, WDHA, CEDAR KNOLLS

Pete Droge wrapped up a seven week residency at Fez in NYC with Sheryl Crow jumping up to do a few tunes. Both live and on his disc "Necktie Second", Pete Droge is a terrific songwriter and performer. Check him out!.. Why Keith Richards is the coolest guy in rock & roll! Budweiser has sunk millions into this tour, and during soundcheck Keith was on stage drinking a Beck's. Keith rules!.. Thanks to RCA's Laura Labadia for dropping by with the Smithereens. Pat Dinizio and Dennis Diken were a blast as they geared up for their Stone Pony homecoming... MCA's Steve Kline gets a nod for bringing Boston by. Not the band, but the Red Sox 0 they have nothing better to do with the strike... Tom Scholz finally revealed the real reason for Brad Delp's departure; an elbow to the face during a serious game of hoops. One on one with Tom? No thanks!.. Heavy rotation on my CD player at home: Edie Brickell, Freedy Johnston, Pete Oroge, Mazzy Star, Oada, STP, Anita Baker, and Cracker... As always, it's been a business doing pleasure with you.

JAY SISSON, WIXV, SAVANNAH

I love the new Neil Young CD, but sometimes, when I crank up the harder rockin' tracks, I have to ask myself the following question: 'Is that the way Neil intended it to sound, or is there just a short in my speakers?'

CATHY FAULKNER, KISW, SEATTLE

I know the show was in May, but if you wanted to take a look at our first ROCKSTOCK concert, check out the 2 page spread in the latest issue of RIP magazine. (ah, memories). Green Apple Quick Step headlined a free KISW show to 4,500 fans... Gruntruck did 3 surprise shows that three Seattle into a frenzy. Would love to see a new album from them... Sweet Water did 2 amazing shows the same weekend. Sweet Water were breathtaking. The way they are live...they should be playing arenas...they no longer fit on a club stage - they have improved that much. The new material is awesome and hopefully will hit your disc in CD form in the future... Stompbox did a low dough show for us on Sunday. They are very strong live. Amazingly, it IS captured on the CD, give it a listen, then give them a shot. Our list will be frozen on 9/6.

DOUG KUBINISKI, WMMS, CLEVELAND

The Buzzard "Back To School" blow-out set for September 10 at the Blossom Music Center featuring Green Day, Moist, and Samiam sold out in a week - all 18,000 tix! What a week for concerts - The Stones hit the Cleveland Stadium last Sunday night (they even filmed a video in town!) followed by two consecutive sold out Nine Inch Nails dates at the Nautica Stage Monday and Tuesday - WHEW!. Check out the second coming of Liz Phair -"Supernova" rules. Leather and Lace '94: The latest from The Jesus And Mary Chain "Sometimes Always" (with guest vocals by Hope Sandoval of Mazzy Star) is an instant phone record for males and females alike... Nine Inch Nails' "Burn" (from the Natural Born Killers soundtrack) is a killer in it's own right - with movie soundtrack exposure expect this one to be bia!

MIKE WILHIDE, WIZN, VERMONT

I don't know what I have to do to get you A&R people up here to beautiful Vermont to check out our bands? We aren't great at hype cause you can hype anything and if it blows before it will continue to f&%$ing BLOW after the hype. I can tell record reps (and I have) for a month of Sundays "Hey, look, we've got 4 or 5 bands around here that will blow you guys away", but what good will it do? You still haven't shown up. "Record Weasals" are always saying "Just listen to the single/album/CD, etc. and tell me what you think. Well, I'm asking for the same thing. There are 5 bands that you should listen to when I hand you or mail you out these packages I'm putting together with 5 local bands - Slush, Wake, Rocketsled, Never Only Once and Toyko Storm Warning. There are more bands here, but these are the bands that I deal with on my show and personally. No two are the same and may not appeal to you, but how can you decide that without listening or seeing these bands live?.. Do yourself a huge favor and listen to these tapes and check out the bios. I'm not giving them to everyone, just people whose opinions I trust and people who'll get them into the right hands. There is a lot of talented people here who make people take notice and hopefully you'll notice too. We don't just want to be known as the state that gave the world Phish anymore... See you at Foundations! Thanks to those who deserve it.

AL SCOTT, KUFO/KBBT, 503-222-2047

Hello! Welcome to my space. Let me just start by saying, "man, is it ever cool to be here!" If you want to get a hold of me...Don't! Actually, my call hours are going to be Thursdays from 3p-5p. Dave Numme won't be taking calls anymore...Not even mine!
Thanks for all your help and cooperation in advance... Also, thanks to Jordan and Cheri at RCA for an awe-some ZZ Top show last week. Those ZZ Top cats put on great stripped down rockin' show. That's about it for now... Hurry up and send Dave and I everything cool!.. Hurry up and leave me alone!

JOEL MARSHALL, WPYX, ALBANY

Lots of great acts toured New York's capital this summer, and PYX106 is grateful to all who phoned in or showed up at our backstage remotes, particularly Ted Nugent (I got 1 1/2 words in edgewise), Roger Daltrey (forgot to tape it, damn!), Simon Townshend (I turned him on to Goldschlager), John Hiatt (signed my guitar), Chad Taylor from Live (killer W.O.M.A.D set), Peter Garrett (levelled the Saratoga Performing Arts Center w/ Midnight Dil) and John Entwistle (nice "boris" necklace)... Best Show That Nobody Was At: Daltrey sings Townshend with the Michael Kamen conducted

60 piece orchestra. Best Overall Concert Experience: A tie between Cracker/Gin Blossoms/Spin

Doctors and Yes "Concertsonics" Quad sound, and Oh, yeah, Woodstock, four exits down the thruway from my house!.. Green Day, Allman's, Gabriel, Spin Doctors, NIN high points... Thanks also to Collective Soul, Fury In The Slaughterhouse,
The Poor, and The Tea Party for over-the-top performances at PYXstock '94.

J.D., WONE, AKRON

The-Pick-Hit-To-Click-Of-The-Week...Sponge "Neenah Menasha".

GARI CALVERT, WVCR, LOUDONVILLE

Looking forward to seeing you out at Foundations. This will be my first, so take it easy on me! Maybe ! should take it easy on you! Lots of drinks will be flowing...Another great shows will be coming up that I will miss due to Foundations - Type O Negative, which will happen on Sunday, September 11th. Our listeners love Type D - why our listeners, you ask? Because we play something other than "Christian Woman" - that song is old news. Those listeners that are really Type O fanatics have heard the many other great tracks off of Bloody Kisses. Try "Summer Breeze" or "Blood And Fire" for rock and for metal try "We Hate Everyone". You will almost have as great of a radio station as WVCR if you play that!.. Our listening audience is growing by the day, so if you have got something heavy that you want to work in this area, WVCR is the outlet for you! See you at Foundations!

BRUCE WARREN, WORLD CAFE

"The revolving door...I'm stuck in it." So says lyricJesus Marc Eitzel on the awesome new American Music Club album, San Francisco. That's how I'm feeling this week folks, crispy and wired and totally topped out after the Boulderation (that's "Boulder-Triple A-nation" lingo fans). Great music, wisdom, insight, food and beverage. Great meeting new folks and seeing old friends, especially my el-lay homeslice Mike Morrison - who by the way looks great in his new Gap gear...Soem thoughts on Boulderation...The Griddle-What about a few label people on the panel?...The Clarion sound system-What about speakers that don't sound like a lo-fi indie rock record?... The Underground Non-Comm Indie/Rooys panel-What about dropping all the bullshit p.c. talk about how charts "segregate" and "ghetto-ize" various genres of music?. Hey, we all know that, but ultimately it's about sharing information and if a separate "something" chart can focus on records by artists like Iris Dement, G Love and Special Sauce, Marcia Ball, S.E. Rogie, Ali Farke Toure, and Robert Earl Keen, then I'm all for that... You all know what Bo says Rusted Root - Are they not like, The Beastie Boys of Triple A? In recent memory I have never seen an audience respond to a band as did the one at the Roots show at the Fox. We're talking adults moshing around in this swirling, life-affirming polka-hora kind of drunken bar mitzvah groove thing... Somebody give me a towel... Lyle? Awesome... Freddy? Godlike... The Vigilantes of Love at the Capricorn lunch? Riveting. The Murmurs? Not so sure, but they get high points for their hair...Shawn? Great as usual. Jim Lauderdale? The real thing...The World Cafe's Post - Boulder Reasons To Be Cheerful: Karen Glauber, Mike Morrison, Vernile and the High Street Crew, Stu Burgen, Dave Einstein, Michael Parks and Ned Horton @ 'RLT, Judy and Jody and Jim (Hey, it's the three J's), Greg Hills, Jamie Canfield, Bill Evans, Jason Parker, Colter Langen (love the Maynard G look, Colt) Ann Delisi, Rob Laufer, Ray from Zero Hour, Naumann and the Virgin Crew (special props to Cuckoo's Nest

It's a New School, dudes....Music? Ah, we'll deal with that next week...Until then I'm out like Felix Cavaliere.

SCOTT ARBOUGH

KBCO Music Director, (303) 444-5600

KBCO Studio C was on fire last weekend during the Gavin, in case you missed it, here is a list of performances over the three day convention: Lyle Lovett. Nanci Griffith, Sara McLachlin, Sara Hickman with Adrian Belew, Luka Bloom, Paula Cole, Jeffrey Gaines, Jules Shear, Marcia Ball, Magic Dick and Jay Geils, Over The Rhine. Lowen and Navarro, Kristen Hall, Jesse Collin Young, and Grea Khin. I would like to thank everyone from the artists, their management, their labels, and reps for making it happen. Thank You!!! However, because I produced each session, I may have missed out meeting some of you while you were here. I am sorry if that is the case, but I was truly thinking of you all and wishing I could do a bit more of that smossh thang. I hope that everyone got good information out of the sessions. I missed most, but I would think that if the music comes first on A3 stations, then we will succeed!.. See you next year in Boulder!!!

JOHN LENAC/KEVIN KLINE, KTOZ

We hope all is well in your leg of the forest. It certainly is at the Hathaway House. Congratulations to Bob and Debbie on the arrival of America's newest music head, Graham. With parents that work at Capitol and Warner Bros. you think maybe he'll become a priest?. Even though it's a general admission show, over 400 listeners camped out Friday night for tickets to the Nine Inch Nails show. We waited until the sun made an appearance, Saturday morning, before we started our live broadcast (I'm sure glad we didn't have to clean up after this line-up party!) Forty listeners couldn't buy tickets at ten when they went on sale. They we're riding a bus with us to St. Louis to catch the Crash Test Dummies show. After a full day of rides at Six Flags and a great concert, all forty winners went backstage and met the band. Sometimes it really sucks being a Channel Z listener! Thanks to Charlie Foster and everyone at Six Flags for their help... We'd also like to thank Kim Sanderson for coming by this week and playing the new Cranberries song on the air (just kiddin' Steve).

LARRY MAC, KUKO

Welcome, From our humble abode in the desert southwest. Jonathan L., myself, and Allison Strong have put together a radio station that will challenge Phoenix. Some of the records doing well for us two weeks into our return are: NOFX "The Brews", Bobby Sichran's "Stray Dog", Consolidated "Cutting" and Weezer's "In the Garage", among others... We take music calls Monday by appointment only for those wishing to participate and pitch their records live on the air on our Live On Air "Monday Morning Music Meeting" in which our listeners also participate. There are no closed doors at this station. We let it all hang out. We take calls Tuesday thru Friday from 10am to 4pm. You can reach us at (602)-838-0400... Adds are available Monday afternoons at 1pm. Don't expect us to always play the single, but do expect us to make an impact with whatever we do choose to play. We are looking forward to one hell of a ride. Hope you'll join us....it'll be a trip.

Dug, WPUP, ATHENS

Well, I managed to find time to come in and pay homage to the computer after all. Don't you feel lucky? 2 letters in one week...either I'm happy, bored, pissed or just have a few demons to exorcise... And we did that at the new place last night. Actually, strike that last statement. Not all of the people reading this have the necessary background into to understand it. If you don't how does it feel to be alienated? Moving moving moving moving. And maybe I'll get to do it again soon. Please attach that to the Big Neon hint from last night... I am feeling a bit more frazzled than usual, so I have sent to you the "abbreviated" list. Deal... Another group to be added to the "Play or have them fall off" category is Gumball. Sorry, not to insult the females in the industry, but then again, no one lets them into anything else, so why should I include them in my insults?.. I don't think I'll get to sleep any for the next few night, so you might want to brace yourself for more letters... I'm going to go away now.

Collectors need not beware! On May 20th of this year I wrote about an encounter I had at a NYC street fair with a woman who was selling a set of the 1967 psychedelic Avadon Beatle posters from Look magazine. Well, if you recall I was upset because the woman had found out moments before I was going to purchase them that they were worth far more than the $6.00. price tag she had. Well, what I neglected to tell you all was that I left my number with her is she ever decided to sell. Three months later on Tuesday night yours truly was out seeing Collective Soul play an incredible show at Jones Beach Amphitheater with Aerosmith, when my wife Shanna, received a call at home from the woman with the posters ready to sell. My wife, having recalled my groaning and moaning incident rather well, decided to become "Shanna The Art Collector" and surprise me with this most amazing gift. As I returned, unbeknownst to me my wife begins to tease me, telling me, 'You know good things happen to good people.' I of course, was clueless as to the huge grin on her face. Shanna proceeds to tell me she has a surprise. HMMM. It's not my birthday and it ain't Christmas. I'm starting to get nerves. She on the other hand, is beat red with delight. (All I could think, was she pregnant?). As she continues to tease, she says maybe she should wait till my birthday. Three more months? (She can't be pregnant?) No, finally, she makes me close my eyes and says to me 'Sometimes things are worth waiting for.' At that point, Shanna placed in my hands, the find of a life time, the Beatles 1967 Avadon reprint posters. All four of them! I couldn't believe my eyes. I was utterly speechless. Shanna told me the woman had hung on to the posters, and even after having talked to poster art people about there worth, she wanted to sell them to someone she felt appreciated them, beyond their appraised value. That person she felt was me. I didn't quite know what to say, I honestly thought I'd never see these posters again... All I can say now is, they will hang proudly in the Fischer household like the treasure they are, for many years to come, hopefully, to be enjoyed by friends and music lovers alike.

DAVE LOMBARDI, WARNER BROS.

Remember how BDs was going to eliminate the practice some radio stations had of reporting records that they weren't really playing? Well, us record companies aren't out of the woods yet, because it appears, under certain circumstances (and we're still not sure what they are), according to BDS, that radio stations can be playing songs they're not really playing. That would explain the 267 detected spins on Joan Jett's "Brighter Day," an increase of 57 spins from last week, on 45 stations. Management was overjoyed, but frankly, we were embarrassed, because we've been working "Eye to Eye" for the last six weeks. Not only that, but none of us, and I'm including our national staff, local staff and radio here, were aware we had significant play on the track. And it all turned out to be a mistake. But I guess it is possible for radio to be playing a track they're not really playing!.. On to other stuff: big week in progress on Gods Child, with double-digit adds, lots of increases, sales bumps...hell, you can look it up... If you're heading to NYC for the Billboard/Monitor Seminar next week, get in touch with me, because Gods Child is playing at Irving Plaza Fri. night (9/9), and I'll get you in. In your laboring little hooks on Wed. Sept.7: R.E.M.'s "What's The Frequency Kenneth." Yes, it rocks... Also coming up...new music from Tom Petty and possible performance on Letterman ... I'm heading to southern Oregon for a lo-o-o-ong weekend, so I'm out.

Black Train Jack's road trip with Mighty Mighty Bosstones was a resounding success. Big thanks to WRAS, PRRN, REV, WMMR and KTOZ (who did I miss?) for having the boys by the station. Those who caught the Black Train live in New York last week with Reverend Horton Heat had a chance to see what all of the fuss is about. Quite a few folks have commented that they've seen the MTV News piece on the video... keep your eyes peeled to 120 Minutes for a debut. Black Train Jack will hit the road again next month for a marathon US tour that will kick off in the Northeast... Need I remind you that "Handouts" is the song? I didn't think so.

What a great time I had at the Boulder Summit! I posed with Arista's Howard Leon for a photo. I watched Sass Jordan play pool. I begged for half a stale pizza at Toad's on 28th St. I spent hours climbing a mountain with a six-pack in my hand. Forgetting for a moment that Boulder is a college town, I found out that girls that look 21 aren't always. Most importantly, I came back to Chicago with a renewed feeling about the state of Adult radio... This label and its artists have a lot to look forward to in the coming year from a group of programmers that give a damn about variety and adventurism. It was great to meet all of you...now get back to work and play Tinsley Ellis. His Storm Warning CD is on your desk now. The release is already getting some great air play at WZEW, KFMG, KSPN, WEBK, WMMM, KVNF, KPIG, KFAN, KKOS, WXVX, WBFL, WKVT, MORE. JIM, ALERT, 1-800-772-7640

Every once in a while an artist comes along...Who is signed to Alert Music...And is beaten over your heads, by us, on their behalf. Kim Mitchell is just such an artist and "Wonder Where and Why" is just such a song. All across America programmers are giving it up for the cause. Fourty-four (count 'em) fourty-four adds in just three (count 'em) three weeks. Increases, rotations, debuts on trade charts etc. Its crazy, Its real and people really, really like it. And buy it. Wow. So save yourself some grief and avoid embarrassing your playlist by getting on the bandwagon right now. I wouldn't be saying this if it wasn't for your own goodnow would !? Your welcome.

CASEY DUNMORE

CENTURY MEDIA RECORDS, 310-396-0094

I have lots to say this time around 'cause there's lots of stuff going on here. Most of you should have Demolition Hammer, Graveyard Rodeo, and Puncture. Those of you who still need copies please call. Giveaways are available for all 3 records if you still need some....(you know what to do). Thanx for all the adds, and keep the airplay up... Now onto the new stuff. You will be receiving MANY records in September and October. Penance and Accuser for September and lots of OI Punk Rock later in Sept. and mid Oct. (Toxic Reasons. For a Fistful of Yen, The Business, and English Dogs.)... In October we also have the new Tiamat and when I say/stress new, I mean it!! I haven't decided yet when the infamous ADD dates are going to be for these records, but I will keep you posted... Foundations and CMJ are both coming up and I'm looking forward to meeting the other person on the other end of the phone... *Quick note: Grave, Samael and Cannibal Corpse tour in October. (Central U.S. and East Coast) Pick up the phone for dates and venues... I guess that's it, & remember......"It's all Good!

Kitchen sink, baby...that's probably the only thing you won't be getting in the mail soon. So much great music is being released in the next couple of weeks, we just wanted to bring a few of the highlights to your attention... The debut full-length CD from WOOL will be in your grubby hands by September 6th. Maybe you were down with their '93 EP Budspawn? Maybe you saw them open up for Rage Against The Machine and House of Pain at the Roseland in NYC? Maybe you've already received the vinyl 10" from Bongload Records? No maybe's about it, Box Set (relax, it's only one CD) is worth a listen, a spin, a hug... NYC's Waterlillies return with their second Kinetic/Sire LP, Tempted. Entertainment Weekly called Waterlillies "the future of dance music"... what do you think? Jill Alikas' breathy vocals will draw the Opus 3/St. Etienne comparisons, but don't be lazy, Tempted may take a couple of listens to fully grasp, but once it grabs you, it never lets go... What else ya got? Hoodo Gurus' Crank (literally), House Of Freaks' Invisible Jewel, Janet Speaks French In The Planet Janet ... it don't take Dionne Warwick and Psychic Friends Network to figure it out, this is your future calling! Ding! Ding! Ding! Ding! Ding!

So I'm doing this weeks comments from the city of Angles. I'll be back in my office the 11th and John will be back from vacation as well... So yo, the full Peter Criss in your face now. Add it, play it, groove to it big time. We will have tour plans when Peter gets back from Europe... Samiam is on your desk, if you don't have a copy call us. This record has big time reaction from radio on it's own... Body Count's full album is in the mail to you this week. Don't miss Ice on Friday at Foundations on the main stage...

The Toys are coming to town. The tour is kickin' ass and in your face. The new single "Hard Luck Champion" is on the full length... Wicked Maraya is on the road with Cyclone Temple. We have tickets and giveaways, all interviews will be done at soundcheck... Treacherous Human Underdogs is gonna' bite you big time... Melvin Gibbs from the Rollins Band produced this record. Dig on it cuz it's way heavy... Demolition Hammer's new one is relentless. For all the death fans, they have no excuse... Till next week, Cya.

CONSTANTINE CONSULTING

(303) 440-5470

The Boulder Summit was incredible. It was so good to see all my good friends in my town. Mark your calendars for next year...August 24-26, 1995 in beautiful Boulder. The sessions were meaningful. The Marketing and Promotion meetings had a lot of information about how to win the Arbitron game. Garry Wall shared some interesting information. The music events at the Summit were great, particularly the Dave Matthews Band (W-O-W!), Rusted Root, Lyle Lovett and Shawn Colvin. Todd Snyder and the Freddy Jones Band were wonderful in the tent... As far as new music, Eric Clapton is back with the much anticipated all-blues set From the Cradle (Reprise). This is Clapton at his best—he was made to sing the blues. The first single is "Tore Down," a short but sweet blues riff that Clapton handles with ease and grace. His voice is like buttah, and his guitar playing is characteristically flawless... Nanci Griffith is finally releasing the album we've been waiting for. Flyer (Elektra) is quite possibly Nanci's best effort to date. The songwriting is superb, the music is filled with hooks, and the voice is as pure as ever. "This Heart" is the first single, and from the first bass note, it's a winner. Others to focus on are the title track, "These Days Are An Open Book," "Time Of Inconvenience," and "Anything You Need But Me." You really can't go wrong with this album... 5 Days in May (Discovery) is the new album by Blue Rodeo. The title song is a catchy little number, and the harmonica will play well right next to well-worn Neil Young songs... The new song by Santana called "Luz Amor Y Vida" comes from the new Santana album, Brothers (Island). It's not all the Santana trademarks that radio listeners will love. By the way, if you have a problem with the very low passage at the beginning of the song, there is an edit on the just released c.d. sampler... Building the Colossus (Aural Gratification) is the title of the new album from Happy Rhodes. This time, Happy has enlisted the help of other musicians, and the album has a decidedly deeper feel. Synthesizers and drums replace the lone acoustic guitar of her last album. Our early favorites include "Collective Heart," "Dying," "Omar," and the gorgeous "Glory."... Blues Traveler's fourth album, appropriately titled Four (A&M), will be out soon. The lead track is called "Hook." and it's full of 'em! John Popper's vocals are as soulful as ever, and this one harkens back to the sound on their debut album... J.J. Cale's Closer To You (Virgin) is as consistent as they come. It's J.J. through and through. "Show-Biz Blues." "Devil's Nurse," "Like You Used To," and "Hard Love" will bring a smile to your face... Marcia Ball has one hell of an album in Blue House (Rounder). You've had a chance to live with "Red Beans" for a week or so. Now dig into "The Facts of Life," "Big Shot," "Sparkle Paradise," and the title track. Marcia is the queen of boogie woogie piano, and her music will make you want to get up and dance! Speaking of dancing, it's time for me to get on another airplane. See you in your town.
