For brilliant performance

... play a

Selmer

For complete expression . . . freedom from every consideration except musicianship, play a new super-action Selmer. You'll agree with artists the world over that there is no substitute for a Selmer, no other saxophone in the world like it.

Play a Selmer . . . and your tone throbs with full-bodied brilliance. Play any volume without straining . . . feel the snap and sparkling response. And forget about pinching and slurring to pull bad tones in tune, for Selmer features precision tuning.

Visit your Selmer dealer today and try the new super-action Selmer Saxophone and see how much better you'll play. Write Dept. B-41 for free booklet.

WILLIE SMITH
Terrific alto sax man with Harry James; former "Jazz at the Philharmonic" star. Plays Selmer exclusively.

MINUTES OF SPECIAL MEETING

OF THE INTERNATIONAL EXECUTIVE BOARD OF THE
AMERICAN FEDERATION OF MUSICIANS

MARCH 10-13, 1951, Incl.

570 Lexington Avenue,
New York, N. Y.
March 10, 1951

The meeting is called to order by President Petrillo at 1:00 P. M.

Present: Bagley, Cluesmann, Steeper, Kenin, Clancy, Ballard, Murdoch.

Absent: Parks, excused due to illness.

President Petrillo reports on the negotiations which were held during the past several weeks with the radio and television interests, together with representatives of Local 47, Los Angeles, Calif., and 802, New York, N. Y.

Further discussion is postponed until later in the meeting.

Treasurer Steeper makes a report on the general condition of the finances of the Federation.

He also makes several recommendations in connection with the coming Convention.

A letter from the World Congress for Professional, Administrative, Commercial and Supervisory Employees (organized by the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions), and another from De Algemene are read, inviting the Federation to have a representative at meetings of these organizations in Brussels, Belgium, on April 18-21, and April 16-17, 1951, respectively.

After a discussion, it is on motion made and passed decided that President Petrillo attend these meetings or appoint a representative to take his place.

Case No. 830, 1945-46 Docket: Claim of the Filmcraft Productions against member Trummy Young for $2,429.68 alleged expenses sustained through his failure to appear at photography session, which claim was allowed in the sum of $1,116.70, is considered. The claim has been paid in full and the claimant cannot be located.

Case 305, 1949-50 Docket: Claim of Local 70, Omaha, Nebr., against member Will Osborne of Local 47, Los Angeles, Calif., for $390.00 alleged to be due covering minimum number of men ruling, is considered. This matter is again before the Board on a reopening.

After considering the matter it is on motion made and passed decided to reaffirm the former decision in which the claim was allowed.

Case 767, 1950-51 Docket: Appeal of member H. A. Delcellier of Local 180, Ottawa, Ont., Canada, from an action of that local in according him honorary membership, is considered. The matter is discussed.
On motion made and passed the appeal is denied.

Case 667, 1950-51 Docket: Appeal
of member David Freed of Local 802, New York, N. Y., from an action of that local in enforcing new By-laws affecting the elections to be held on December 7, 1950, is considered. The matter is discussed.

On motion made and passed it is decided to deny the appeal with the exception of the following: (1)
The by-law disqualifying a candidate for election due to membership in certain organizations is hereby declared to be invalid; (2) The by-law requiring ten years of membership in Local 802 before being eligible to hold office is hereby declared to be invalid.

Case 783, 1950-51 Docket: Charges preferred by Local 770, Hagerstown, Md., against members Don Peebles and Allen Shearer of Local 269, Harrisburg, Pa., Al Shirey and Walter Carl of Local 472, York, Pa., William Jones and Harry Oyler of Local 49, Hanover, Pa., Charles Bowers and Phil Lester of Local 770, Hagerstown, Md., for alleged violation of Article 25, Section 4 of the A. F. of M. By-Laws, is considered. In this case the Board had recommended that the President be requested to have an investigation made of the entire situation. This was done and indicates that the position of the Federation in not granting a booking license in this instance is justified. The report further suggests that the band leaders involved be given a reprimand with a warning of more drastic action in case of any future violation.

On motion made and passed the recommendation of the President is approved.

A letter is read from Local 153, San Jose, Calif., suggesting that the plan adopted by that local for taking care of the social security situation be publicized in the International Musician.

It is felt that inasmuch as there are various plans in operation among our locals, the publishing of this plan might indicate that it was the one officially approved by the International Executive Board. Therefore the request is not approved.

Case 440, 1950-51 Docket: Claim of member George M. Smith against the 20th Century-Fox Film Corp., Hollywood, Calif., for $1,143.80 alleged monies due him and counter-claim of the 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. against Smith for $3,991.97 alleged to be due them, is considered.

The matter is laid over for further information.

Other matters of interest to the Federation are discussed.

The session adjourns at 6:30

March 16, 1951

American Federation of Musicians
570 Lexington Avenue
New York, N. Y.

Attention Mr. James C. Petrillo, President

Dear Sirs:

We are in the process of completing arrangements under which musicians in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles will render their services for us in radio for the period from the expiration of our last agreements with the locals in such cities until February 1, 1954, and are also negotiating or will negotiate with other locals regarding arrangements under which musicians in other cities will render similar services for periods expiring on January 31, 1954.

In addition to these agreements, agreement has been reached between you and us relating to certain matters which are within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Federation, as distinguished from its locals. This letter is intended to summarize our understandings and agreements which have been arrived at between the Federation and us, and which shall be effective as of February 1, 1951, and shall continue until February 1, 1954. The provisions of this agreement have been arrived at by reason of the special employment opportunities and other benefits granted to musicians by us.

These are as follows:

1. FREQUENCY MODULATION

We may use the services of musicians employed by us for simultaneous AM and FM broadcasting and we may assign such musicians interchangeably to independent AM or FM programming.

2. PROGRAMS INVOLVING MULTIPLE SPONSORSHIP

(A) Co-operative Programs

Network programs of the so-called "co-operative" type (i.e., network programs which are simultaneously sponsored by different sponsors in various localities) shall be paid for at the same rates as would be applicable to such programs if they were sponsored by a single sponsor.

(B) Participating Programs

Network programs of the so-called "participating" type (i.e., a network program which constitutes one integrated unit in the course of which advertising credits are accorded to two or more sponsors without allocation of any particular portion of the program to any particular sponsor), when employing single engagement men, shall be paid for at the single engagement rate plus $5.00 per man in addition to the foregoing sums for each one-half hour or portion thereof.

(C) Segmented Programs

Network programs of the so-called "segmented" type (i.e., a network program in which advertising credit for a specific period of time is given to one sponsor) shall have each segment treated as a separate engagement.

(D) Composite Programs

Network programs of the so-called "composite" type (i.e., an integrated network program which consists of one or more segments each of which is allocated to a particular sponsor or is unsponsored and one or more periods of time in the course of which advertising credits are accorded to more than one sponsor without allocation of any specific portion of such time to any particular sponsor), when employing single engagement men shall be paid for as follows:

- (a) Each segment allocated to a particular sponsor or which is unsponsored shall be paid for at the single engagement rate.
- (b) Each period of time in the course of which advertising credits are accorded to more than one sponsor without allocation of any specific portion of such time to any particular sponsor shall be paid for at the single

PRESIDENT PETRILLO EXPLAINS NEGOTIATIONS JUST CONSUMMATED WITH RADIO AND TELEVISION NETWORKS.

After eight weeks of negotiations we have consummated a radio and television contract with the four radio and television networks, namely, National Broadcasting Company, American Broadcasting Company, Columbia Broadcasting System, and the originating program stations of the Mutual Broadcasting System.

THE MOST IMPORTANT PART OF THIS CONTRACT IS THE 5 PER CENT THAT THE NETWORKS HAVE AGREED TO PAY TO THE MUSIC PERFORMANCE TRUST FUND, BASED ON THEIR GROSS REVENUES DERIVED FROM THE USE OF TELEVISION FILM. I say most important part because all locals of the American Federation of Musicians will benefit by the 5 per cent payment to the Music Performance Trust Fund.

In my opinion it is one of the best contracts the American Federation of Musicians has ever signed. This means the signing up of everyone who wants to go into the business of making television films, and is the first time the networks have given recognition to any organization such as the Music Performance Trust Fund.

The signatories selected Samuel R. Rosenbaum as trustee under these agreements; he is the trustee selected by the recording industry for the trust agreements in that industry.

Following are the national television contract, the national radio contract, the television film labor agreement, and the television trust agreement with the Music Performance Trust Fund:

Our agreement is as follows:

1. DEFINITION OF "LOCAL" AND "NETWORK" TELEVISION BROADCASTS

For the purposes of this agreement, a "local" television broadcast is the broadcast of a program over the facilities of only one station which program is not broadcast by any means, over another station or other stations. All other television broadcasts, for the purposes of this agreement, shall be deemed "network" broadcasts.

TELEVISION STATION PRODUCER

New York, N. Y.
March 30, 1951

Gentlemen:

In consideration of the mutual covenants herein contained, of your promise fully and faithfully to perform each and every term, condition, and covenant on your part to be performed pursuant to that certain agreement, dated March 30, 1951, which you are executing and delivering simultaneously herewith, by and among you and other owners and operators of television stations engaged in the production and exploitation of motion picture films and/or sound tracks, as first parties, and Samuel R. Rosenbaum, as Trustee (herein referred to as the "Trust Agreement"), and of other good and valuable considerations, it is agreed that you may employ members of the American Federation of Musicians of the United States and Canada (herein referred to as the "Federation") in the production of motion picture films and/or sound tracks which embody musical performances by instrumental musicians (the term "sound track" to include recordings of any type to be used in connection with the exhibition of motion picture films) and/or pictures of such musicians rendering musical performances upon the following terms and conditions.

This agreement shall not apply to film made pursuant to Paragraph 4 of the National Television Agreement between us dated March 16, 1951.

1. We shall exercise full authority in order that our locals and members of the Federation engaged in such activities shall do nothing in derogation of the terms and intent of this agreement.

2. You shall not require, request, induce, or in any manner attempt to influence any member of the Federation to play, or perform, or render services in connection with or pertaining to the production of such films and/or sound tracks, except as permitted by this agreement.

3. You shall pay instrumental musicians for the services rendered by them in the making of such films and/or sound tracks such sums as you may agree upon with them, but which in no event shall be less than Federation scale, a schedule of which is annexed hereto as Exhibit "A," and the terms and conditions relating to the employment of such musicians shall be in conformity with the other specifications set forth in said Exhibit "A."

4. It is agreed that unless our written permission is first had and obtained, neither you nor your subsidiary or affiliated companies will use or grant any rights to use (whether by way of sale, assignment, lease, license, or other transfer of title or permission to use, and whether by operation of law or otherwise), in whole or in part, any film and/or sound track which, in whole or in part embodies pictures of instrumental musicians rendering musical performances or which embodies or is accompanied by performances by such musicians, which are recorded and/or photographed under this agreement, for purposes other than exhibition on television broadcasts where no admission is charged for the privilege of attending such exhibition either before, during, or after transmission over television. The substance and intent of this paragraph shall be incorporated in all agreements pursuant to which you shall grant any rights to use such films and/or sound tracks as aforesaid. The obligations created by this paragraph shall survive this agreement for so long as the films and/or sound tracks referred to in this agreement shall be used. It is agreed that we and/or the Trustee referred to above may enforce compliance with the provisions of this paragraph.

5. Following the execution of this agreement, you shall promptly furnish to the Federation a copy of all your catalogs requested by us, and thereafter from time to time, a schedule listing all amendments and additions thereto, as and when established.

6. At the end of each month you shall advise the Federation of all films and/or sound tracks made by you during such month, of the number or other identification thereof, and of any additional information in connection with any such film and/or sound track which we may reasonably require. WHEREAS, The first parties desire to create the Trust herein contained and each first party has executed and delivered this agreement and has assumed the duties and obligations by each such first party to be performed hereunder; and

WHEREAS, The Trustee, having been designated by such first parties collectively, is willing to accept such trust in accordance with the request of each such first party and to perform the duties on the Trustee's part to be performed hereunder, in a manner based solely upon the public interest and pursuant to the terms hereof:

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises, of the mutual covenants herein contained, of the undertakings assumed herein by each first party, and of the undertakings assumed herein by the Trustee at the request of the first parties, it is agreed as follows:

1. Each first party, simultaneously with the execution and delivery, hereof, has paid to the Trustee an amount which such first party estimates to be equal to fifty per cent (50%) of the payment which, on February 15, 1952, will become due from such first party to the Trustee pursuant to this agreement, but which, in no event, shall be returnable.

(a) Each first party agrees with each other first party and with the Trustee to make the following payments to the Trustee in connection with the production or exploitation of motion picture films and/or sound tracks (whether such films and/or sound tracks are recorded on film, wire, tape, disks, or in other forms now or hereafter known), which in whole or in part, embody pictures of members of the Federation (hereinafter referred to) rendering musical performances or which embody or are accompanied by performances by such instrumental musicians, produced by it pursuant to agreement of even date with such Federation, which films and/or sound tracks are intended for exhibition and/or are exhibited on tele-

(y) In those cases of sustaining broadcasts of such film and/or sound track on affiliated stations in which no money or other property are received by such first party, payments to the Trustee shall be as follows:

(1) When the particular film and/or sound track has been previously broadcast on a commercial broadcast and is later or simultaneously broadcast in any city on a sustaining basis, even though said sustaining broadcast be the first broadcast in the particular city involved, there shall be paid to the Trustee a sum equal to five per cent (5%) of fifty per cent (50%) of the production cost of such film. In return for said payment, the said film and/or sound

New Local in Puerto Rico

by James C. Petrillo

ARTICLE 3, Section 17 of the National By-Laws reads as follows:

"As the inhabitants of Puerto Rico are citizens of the United States, musicians hailing from said island are entitled to membership in the Federation, and hence local unions are free to enroll them as members under the following conditions:

"A. An applicant hailing from Puerto Rico who applies for membership in a local union of the Federation must submit his birth certificate that he was born in Puerto Rico or give other conclusive proof that such is the case."

In studying the situation, it occurred to me that the native Puerto Rican musicians should become affiliated with the American Federation of Musicians. With this thought in mind, I appointed International Treasurer Harry J. Steeper to accompany me on such a mission and we went to Puerto Rico on August 23, 1950, to meet with the officials of the independent union there, known as the Federacion de Musicos de Puerto Rico and consisting of four locals in different cities on that island.

We met with the officials of the four locals who proved to be high-type leaders. They were very cordial and friendly from the start. After several conferences, it was agreed that the local officials would call special meetings of their locals and submit the proposition of joining the American Federation of Musicians.

These meetings all decided in favor of affiliating with us. The Puerto Rican musicians also decided to amalgamate their four locals into one and they eventually were granted their charter which embraces the entire island. It is known as the Federacion de Musicos de Puerto Rico, Local 468, American Federation of Musicians, and consists of 355 members. The charter was presented to them on January 10, 1951, by International Treasurer Harry J. Steeper, who presided at the swearing-in ceremonies of the new officers. Their president is Guillermo Pomares and their secretary is Jose Marquez Nater. President Pomares will represent Local 468 at our next Convention.

We are honored in having these musicians as part of our organization. They have many splendid artists in their membership who will prove to be an asset to the Federation.

When the cowardly attack was made on the life of President Truman, this local sent a cablegram to the White House. This cablegram and the President's answer are printed herein for your information.

Dear Mr. Pomares:

I am grateful to you and the members of the Federation of Musicians for the solicitous regard for my safety which prompted your message of November 14th. Please accept my thanks for this evidence of your friendliness and good will.

Very sincerely yours,

Of Vital Concern

The threatened increase in second class postal rates will, if it goes through, be a particularly hard blow to the Labor press. Union magazines, such as the International Musician, already are having a hard struggle to meet the rising costs of paper and other production factors. The per capita payment for union journals rarely covers their costs of production; in our case, only half. Hence a rise in the postal rates may force curtailment of size, and a consequent reduction in space available for transmitting vital information to members.

The original intent of Congress in granting low second class rates to magazines and newspapers was to carry out the purpose of Jefferson and the Founding Fathers: to insure that the people are informed and educated on all matters of public concern. The official journal of a union does this, and it also transmits information which is vital to the members' livelihood and professional advancement.

Many musicians in various parts of the country depend on the International Musician to keep them informed on what's happening in union negotiations, and on what is occurring in the music world: new developments in instrumental techniques, new ways of promoting more live music, new job openings, new publications, and the like. With many thousands of the younger musicians destined to go into the armed services, there is also a strong need for keeping them in touch with their union and its activities, through the magazine.

All these objectives will be jeopardized if the second class postal rates are raised. This is a time of turmoil and stress: it is all the more important to keep channels of communication open, when musicians, like many other professions, have to adjust to changing conditions.

We have already experienced one severe contraction of postal service: the cutting down of mail deliveries in urban residential areas to one a day. The Postmaster General, his funds reduced by Congress, also had to lay off many thousands of postal employees. Now comes this further threat of a forced reduction in the quality and volume of the magazines and newspapers which Labor can get on this one delivery a day. Only a strong, determined, and resolute protest on the part of the workers and consumers of the country can head off this threat.

You can help prevent this ill-advised move to increase second class postal rates by writing your Congressman and the United States Senators from your state, urging them to vote against this proposal.

3. USE OF ELECTRICAL TRANSCRIPTIONS OF NETWORK PROGRAMS

The following existing practices with respect to the use of electrical transcriptions of network programs shall continue unchanged:

(A) Any network program may be transcribed by any affiliated station which cannot carry the program at the time it is played live because of unavailability of station facilities and such station may broadcast the program by transcription once within seven (7) days thereafter without charge. The seven-day limitation shall be sixty (60) days in the case of Alaska and of territories and possessions of the United States.

(B) Network programs may be transcribed during the period when daylight saving time is in effect, and fed to network affiliated stations for broadcast once in each area not on daylight saving time, in order to overcome the operational difficulties caused by the broken pattern of daylight saving time; and this may be done without any additional charge, except that any additional charge which would be payable were it not for daylight saving time, will be paid.

(C) Any commercial network program may be transcribed and subsequently fed to a group of affiliated stations for broadcast once over such stations. In any such case, the applicable live repeat fee shall be paid for such rebroadcast to the musicians performing on such program.

(D) An entire network show may be transcribed for the convenience of the participating artists and in the interests of program quality. Such transcribed show may be fed to a network in lieu of a live show on such network. The applicable transcription rate shall be paid to the musicians on the show.

(E) Nothing herein contained shall be construed to provide for or to relate to employment or to the rendition of services in connection with the preparation or manufacture of any recordings, electrical transcriptions or devices suitable for similar use, other than those specifically referred to in this paragraph "3," and as to those referred to in this paragraph "3," they may be used only as authorized herein.

If during the period of this agreement, such laws are amended, repealed or judicially ruled upon in a case where no further appeal can be taken legally, with the result that such provisions would not have been required or occasioned by law had such amendment, repeal, or judicial ruling occurred before the date hereof, then, at the request of the President of the Federation, any or all of the provisions contained in said subdivision (A) shall be eliminated from this agreement and from contracts relating to the rendition of services for us by members of the Federation, as aforesaid, and any or all of the provisions contained in subdivision (B) of this paragraph "5," relating to similar subject matter, as the said President may choose, shall be substituted therefor and shall govern the parties' relationship to the extent which such amendment, repeal or judicial ruling shall permit.

(II) As to the musicians referred to or engaged under the stipulations of this contract who are members of the American Federation of Musicians, and to the extent to which the inclusion and enforcement of this paragraph is not prohibited by any presently existing and valid law, nothing in this contract shall ever be construed so as to interfere with any obligation which they may owe to the American Federation of Musicians as members thereof.

(III) Any member or members who are parties to or are affected by this contract, whose services thereunder or covered thereby, are prevented, suspended or stopped by reason of any lawful strike, ban, unfair list, order or requirement of the Federation against any employer, shall be free to cease such services and shall be free to accept and engage in other employment of the same or similar character, or otherwise, for other employers or persons without any restraint, hindrance, penalty, obligation or liability whatever, any other provisions of this contract to the contrary notwithstanding.

GENERAL RULES

22. Musical orchestrators shall be paid at the prevailing motion picture orchestrating rate for all orchestrations when initially used for motion pictures for exhibition over television broadcasts, but with no additional compensation for any subsequent motion picture use on television broadcasts. This also applies to orchestrations already in the possession of any orchestra or band leader, which were originally made for other than television motion picture purposes. Orchestrations initially used for television motion picture purposes shall not be used for any other purpose unless the orchestrating rate applicable to such other use at the time thereof shall be paid to the orchestrator.

23. Cutting, pasting or a similar musical service, to be charged for at regular time rates as specified in each classification under which musician is engaged at the time, except, when musician is engaged on work by the page and required to cut, paste or render similar service, such service to be paid for at the rate of $4.16 per hour in periods of not less than fifteen minutes.

Convention City

Headquarters for the 1951 Convention of the Federation will be the Commodore Hotel, in midtown Manhattan, a few minutes' walk from Times Square and the theater district. A ten-minute walk south along Fifth Avenue, two blocks west, will take the visitor to the Empire State Building, from whose towers he can get a bird's-eye view of the metropolitan area; going a like distance north, to Radio City, he can see what architecture will be like in the twenty-first century. A quarter-hour ride on the 42nd Street crosstown bus, which runs in front of the hotel, and the visitor reaches a Hudson River pier from which he can embark on a boat ride around the island, to see the skylines of Manhattan from every side.

A trip on a double-decker Fifth Avenue bus from Washington Square to Fort Tryon Park traverses three-fourths the length of the island, going through Harlem, the Columbia University area, and many other points of interest. If you want to break the trip, you'll find many of New York's notable museums along the way: the Metropolitan, the Museum of Natural History, the Hayden Planetarium, the Museum of Modern Art, and the Whitney galleries of American art.

In a cruising radius of half an hour from the Commodore, the visitor can sample any national cuisine that he likes: Austrian, Italian, German, Indian, Armenian, French, Chinese—or any other. And the two chief night club areas, along 52nd Street and in Greenwich Village, offer an equally wide variety of entertainment.

A visitor desirous of visiting the Wall Street district, where are found also Trinity Church and Fraunces Tavern, where Washington said farewell to his officers, can take the East Side subway two floors below street level in the Commodore. There also is the Times Square-Grand Central shuttle, leading to the various West Side and Brooklyn subways.

MANHATTAN

PHIL SPITALNY was already well established as a leader of theater, radio, hotel and recording bands when he visited Town Hall to hear the recital of Evelyn Kaye, violinist. It was right then that his idea for forming an all-girl orchestra came to him. He stopped back-stage and offered Miss Kaye a position in his to-be-formed unit, and she accepted. There followed gruelling months of travel and auditions until, finally, in May, 1934, the all-girl orchestra made its theater debut at the Capitol Theatre in New York City. Two years later the All-Girl Orchestra went on the air in the "Hour of Charm" and Phil Spitalny became an institution in households throughout the country. The All-Girl Orchestra, featuring Evelyn on the violin, has collected so many awards and trophies that they almost completely fill Mr. Spitalny's apartment in New York.

Format

Despite the fact that an all-girl orchestra is a novelty, it has not been the novelty element that has been responsible for the great and continued success of Phil Spitalny's aggregation. The candidates for the orchestra are chosen carefully on the basis first of musicianship, then on their singing ability, and third on the basis of their appearance, charm and background. It is the first rule, adhered to strictly, that has made the All-Girl Orchestra the national favorite that it is today.

Phil Spitalny's Orchestra

With this base of thirty competent musicians, Mr. Spitalny keeps adding improvements. The smoothness of the girls' choir, the additions of hymns for the opening and close of each concert appearance, and excellent soloists, keep the group fresh and alive. The democratic way that Mr. Spitalny runs his contingent of girls, through Evelyn who acts as general manager, has kept everyone happy and at the peak of their artistic ability. Every girl who feels that she is good enough for solo work is given the opportunity to compete for this honor with the current performer of the solo. If the new candidate for solo honors is deemed good enough, she will either alternate with the other girl, or be given special numbers to perform. This also applies to publicity features and any other individual treatment of the members of the band that might occur. Since the girls all know there is no favoritism, but ability is the only criterion, the emotional tenor is unusually even.

Perhaps as much as the aforementioned factors, the personalities of some of the individual performers have contributed to the value of the whole.

First and foremost is Evelyn and her magic violin. At thirteen Evelyn had won a Gold Medal; this was followed by a five-year fellowship at Juilliard School of Music, a scholarship to the Danrosch Institute, the Fontainebleau Grand Prix in France, a scholarship from the New York Philharmonic Symphony Society, the MacDowell Club Award, the National Federation of Music Clubs Award, and the first prize of the National Arts Club Competition. Evelyn does all her own violin arrangements, and many of the arrangements used for the hymns. She is also concert mistress of the orchestra.

Among the other featured artists are Viola and her seventeen drums. Her versatility on percussion instruments is unusual. Jeanie of the warm contralto voice, a graduate of Juilliard Conservatory, is also a concert pianist. Gloria is a coloratura, who has given several concert tours and starred in leading musical comedies. Janet with her trumpet is equally at home with classics and lighter music. And there are many, many more.

CHANGE Alexander Hilsberg has resigned as concert master of the Philadelphia Orchestra, in order to devote himself entirely to conducting. Next year he will continue as associate conductor of the Philadelphians, directing a number of their regular concerts and also the five Children's Concerts. Because of his success with youngsters, these latter concerts have become so popular that the entire series is sold out long before the season starts. The Philadelphia Orchestra's new concert master is Jacob Krachmalnick, now assistant concert master of the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra . . . Guy Fraser Harrison will be the conductor of the Oklahoma City Symphony Orchestra for the 1951-52 season. He succeeds Victor Alessandros who has accepted the conductorship of the San Antonio Symphony . . . Hans Lange is the new conductor of the Albuquerque Civic Symphony Orchestra.

SUMMER An appeal to civic-minded individuals and organizations throughout the metropolitan area of New York has been made to save their Stadium Concert series by contributing, via subscriptions, $100,000, the amount which will have to be raised if the 1951 season—its 34th successive one—is to become a reality . . . Chicago has an "orchestral clinic," its personnel including musicians from the Grant Park, St. Louis, Kansas City, San Antonio, Indianapolis, North Carolina, New Orleans, Atlanta and Chicago women's symphonies. It is held in the summer and its purpose is to give the serious musician a chance to increase his technique in ensemble playing by actually performing with an orchestra. Paul Stassevitch is its conductor . . . The Casals Festival will be held this summer from July 7th to 26th in the Palace of the Kings in Perpignan. Mr. Casals will play his five 'cello sonatas with Rudolf Serkin and six trios with Alexander Schneider and Eugene Istomin.

SOLOISTS Dimitri Mitropoulos acted as pianist-conductor of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra, playing Malipiero's Piano Concerto, on March 30th . . . Two local musicians, Anshel Brusilow, twenty-two-year-old violinist, and Richard Yardumian, composer, were featured at the March 30-31 concerts of the Philadelphia Orchestra, under Eugene Ormandy. Mr. Brusilow played the Violin Concerto of Mr. Yardumian, completed two years ago in twelve-tone style, its two movements marked "majestically" and "very happy" . . . Harpist Virginia Morgan was soloist with the Oakland (California) Symphony Orchestra at its concert on March 13th. Maurice Ravel's Introduction and Allegro was her choice. The orchestra's conductor is Orley See.

Podium and Stage

PREMIERES The NBC Symphony Orchestra, under Milton Katims, gave the first American performance of the Swedish composer, Lars-Erik Larsson's Pastoral Suite, on March 24th . . . Premiere of King Erik's Songs, by the Swedish composer, Rangstrom, took place April 2nd at a special concert of the Philadelphia Orchestra presented by the American-Scandinavian Foundation . . . On March 20th Legend and Dance for Strings, by Josef Kaminski, was given its American premiere at Carnegie Hall, New York, where it was played by the Israeli Orchestra under Leonard Bernstein as one of the final offerings of its American tour . . . Erik Tuxen recently conducted the American premiere of Carl Nielsen's Fifth Symphony with the National Symphony in Washington.

HURRAHS! Our article on "Our Tried and True," in January, 1951, telling of members of symphony orchestras who have served with one orchestra a quarter-century or more, has called forth letters from several whom we did not mention, through lack of information. F. A. Napolilli has retired "after having been associated with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra in the wood-wind section (English horn) from 1913 to 1947," and Daniel C. Walter has played string bass with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra since 1916, making this his thirty-fifth season. In all that time he has missed just one concert because of illness . . . Max Steindel conducted the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra as part of that organization's celebration of his 35th anniversary as a member of their cello section. He is also the orchestra's personnel manager . . . The Denver Businessmen's Orchestra, Antonia Brico, conductor, is a flourishing organization with seventy members and a regular series of concerts each season. For its March 15th concert the group played Borodin's Symphony No. 2 in B minor as well as works by Mendelssohn and Bach . . . Elwyn Kent Hughes, twenty-two-year-old composer from Vernon, Texas, has been named winner of the Houston Symphony Society's fourth annual Texas Composers' Contest. Paeon, which brought him the prize, was played by that organization under Efreim Kurtz' direction on March 19th. The composer also received a cash award of $250.00.

OPERATIC Die Meistersinger opened the six-week season of the New York City Opera Company March 14th. It was conducted by Joseph Rosenstock . . . Luigi Dallapiccola's The Prisoner, an opera compressing much of the terror of our age into its fifty minutes, was presented on March 16th at the Juilliard School of Music, New York . . . The role which has been the gateway to fame for a host of prima donnas, that of Norma, was taken by Herva Nelli at the production of the opera of that name March 26th by the Philadelphia Civic Grand Opera Company. Giuseppe Bamboschek conducted . . . Annie Get Your Gun is the current production at the Paper Mill Playhouse, year-round operetta theater in Millburn, New Jersey . . . The Metropolitan's Fledermaus (production by an additional unit made up of members of that opera company's roster) will tour the United States, beginning in September and continuing through the Fall and Winter. The reason for the formation of the company? "We hope to make money with it," explains the Metropolitan's general manager, Rudolf Bing . . . Jennie Tourel has been invited to sing in the world premiere of Stravinsky's The Rake's Progress scheduled for production by the Venice Festival next September . . . The ninth session of the Berkshire Music Center, Dr. Serge Koussevitzky, director, will produce Tchaikovsky's Pique Dame with Koussevitzky conducting—the first time he has conducted opera in this country.

AMERICAN The Town of Babylon Symphony Orchestra and its conductor, Christos Vrionides, believe in presenting American works. "Audiences should demand that American music be given predominance in all programs," Vrionides insists. "Thus the treasury of American music strikes firm roots in the hearts of the American public." Vrionides practices what he preaches. Each concert of his orchestra's present season is about evenly divided between American and "foreign" music. Moreover, since many of the composers attend the performances, some as listeners, others as performers, the orchestra patrons come to know the composers as "that tall man from Kentucky," and "that shy fellow from Oklahoma," and find out from them direct what events in their school days, in their business, in their church, have caused them to write as they do. Their works thus become a personal interpretation of present-day life. The town of Babylon has a population totaling about 5,000 and the orchestra's $4,500 to $6,500 annual budget represents a per capita orchestra investment of about $1.00 per person . . . Virgil Thomson's Suite from Louisiana Story was performed by the Erie Philharmonic Orchestra, under Fritz Mahler, on April 3rd.

The Symphony Orchestra of the Town of Babylon, Long Island, New York.

Trust Agreement

track may be broadcast on a sustaining basis once in each city, provided that no such broadcast may occur after the expiration of one (1) year from the first commercial broadcast of said film and/or sound track. The first sustaining broadcast, if within a year following the first commercial broadcast, shall be governed by this subdivision (1).

(ii) When the particular film and/or sound track has never been previously broadcast on, and is not broadcast simultaneously with a commercial broadcast, such film and/or sound track may be broadcast without payment to the Trustee on a sustaining basis by such first party one time in each city, provided that no such broadcast may occur after the expiration of one (1) year from the first broadcast of such film and/or sound track.

(iii) In any case not covered by subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subsection "(y)" of Paragraph "2(a)," including any instance in which the film and/or sound track has not been broadcast in all cities prior to the expiration of the year during which it could have been broadcast, such film and/or sound track may be broadcast on the following terms:

There shall be paid to the Trustee a sum equal to five per cent (5%) of fifty per cent (50%) of the production cost of such film and/or sound track for any broadcast thereof once in any city, and, in return for such payment, such film also may be broadcast once in every other city provided that no such broadcast may occur after the expiration of one year from the date of the first broadcast for which the payment was made pursuant to this subdivision "(iii)." The word "once" as used herein shall mean once in addition to any broadcast, if any, pursuant to such subdivisions "(i)" and "(ii)."

This same formula for payment and time limitation upon use shall apply to any subsequent, additional or other use on a sustaining basis of any such film and/or sound track in any city.

(z) DEFINITIONS

The following definitions shall determine the meaning of terms used in this paragraph "2."

"Commercial Broadcast" is a broadcast in connection with which one or more advertising credits is or are given either during the broadcast or immediately before or after the broadcast of the film (except for spot announcements at regular station break intervals) and all of which are not ascribable to the prior or subsequent broadcasts.

"Sustaining Broadcast" is a broadcast other than a commercial broadcast.

"Production cost" shall be determined in accordance with good and generally accepted accounting principles and practices consistently applied throughout.

"Gross revenues" shall be the genuine selling, leasing, or licensing price for each run of the film and/or sound track (herein called "genuine selling price") as established in a normal bona fide arm's-length transaction between parties who are not in affiliation, giving independent consideration to the value of the film and/or sound track supplied by the first party without regard to other benefits granted by the first party to, or other benefits received by the first party from, the purchaser, assignee, licensee or other grantees of rights therein. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, if the parties are in affiliation, or if a relationship or arrangement of any kind exists or should exist or if any method or device is or should be used whereby the gross revenues received by the first party from a sale, lease, license or other grant of rights in a film and/or sound track are not gross revenues realized in a normal bona fide arm's-length transaction, or if any contribution or consideration other than such gross revenues is or should be received by the first party in respect of the sale, lease, license or other grant of right, or if independent consideration is not given to the value of the film and/or sound track supplied by the first party, then and in each such event the price established or realized by the first party shall not be deemed a genuine selling price. For the purpose of computing payments to the Trustee, each transaction wherein the first party does not realize such genuine selling price shall be disregarded, and such payments shall be computed and paid upon the equivalent of such genuine selling price. It is recognized that sales, leases, licenses or other grants of right to an affiliate may be at the equivalent of genuine selling prices, and when and to the extent that the Trustee is satisfied and agrees in writing that any such sale is made at a price equivalent to a genuine selling price, such price shall constitute the base for the computation of payments to the Trustee.

Such gross revenues subject to percentage payment shall not include the consideration, or that part of the total consideration, which accrues to each first party solely as bona fide time and facilities charges.

"Affiliation" means any relationship, contract, arrangement, method or device wherein, with respect to any matter or thing which affects the amount of payments payable hereunder, one or more of the parties to a transaction has or exercises, or has the power to exercise directly or indirectly, in any manner, control, direction or restraint of the other or others, or wherein two or more of such parties in any manner, directly or indirectly, are subject to common control, direction or restraint.

(b) The payments provided for herein shall not apply to films and/or sound tracks which are produced for and used for purposes which do not include exhibition on television.

(c) The payments provided for herein shall continue, so long as any of the films and/or sound tracks described therein shall continue to be used as therein described.

(d) Each first party on or before February 15, 1952, will pay to the Trustee, at the New York office of the Trustee, such portion of the aforsaid payments as may have accrued hereunder during the period June 1, 1951, to and including December 31, 1951. Thereafter, within forty-five (45) days after the end of each calendar half-year, following the execution and delivery of this agreement, that is, within forty-five (45) days after December 31st and June 30th in each year, each first party will pay to the Trustee, at the Trustee's New York office, such portion of the aforsaid payments as may have accrued hereunder during such half-year; provided that any first party may agree with the Trustee for semi-annual payments to be made with respect to half-yearly periods ending on other dates satisfactory to the Trustee. Each payment hereunder shall be accompanied by a statement, certified by the Treasurer, Controller, or other authorized officer or representative of the first party making such payment. Such statement shall specify the exhibitions of films and/or sound tracks covered by this agreement during such period; the amounts of gross revenues received or accrued to the first party during such period; the production costs of films and/or sound tracks produced during the period; each deduction claimed by the first party as provided by this agreement; the amounts of payments payable to the Trustee as herein provided; and such other information as the Trustee may require for the administration of the trust. Such statements shall be made in such reasonable form and, in addition to the foregoing, shall contain such detail as the Trustee may from time to time reasonably prescribe. If such payments are not made when due hereunder, the same shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum from the date when such payments were due. Each first party shall be entitled to deduct from the payment due from it on February 15, 1952, the amount paid by it to the Trustee pursuant to paragraph "1" hereof, if such payment shall exceed such amount.

(e) Each first party at all times, without limitation to the duration of this agreement, shall keep full and accurate records and accounts concerning all transactions, in connection with which payments are required to be made as specified in this agreement in convenient form and pursuant to approved and recognized accounting practices. The Trustee shall have the right from time to time, without limitation to the duration of this agreement, and at all reasonable times during business hours, to have its duly authorized agents examine and audit such records and accounts, and such other records and accounts as may be necessary, such examination and audit to be made for the purpose of verifying any statements made hereunder by each first party, or due from such first party during a period not exceeding two (2) years preceding such examination and of determining the amount of payments due to the Trustee pursuant hereto. Each first party agrees to afford all necessary facilities to such authorized agents to make such examination and audit and to make such extracts and excerpts from said records and accounts.

(f) It is agreed that (i) the granting of the right to make a copy or copies of any film and/or sound track described in this paragraph "2" (whether by way of sale, assignment, lease, license or other transfer of title or permission, and whether by operation of law or otherwise), or (ii) the granting (whether by way of sale, assignment or other passage of title or control and whether by operation of law or otherwise) to others than bona fide lessees, licensees, or selling or distributing agents of first party of authority to cause or permit the exhibition of such film and/or sound track shall be subject to the rights and duties established by this agreement and to the payments specified herein. No such grant of right or authority shall be made by any first party, or the successor in interest thereof, to any person, firm or corporation doing business within the United States, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, unless and until such grantee is or shall become an additional first party to this agreement as herein provided; and in such event, (i) if such grantee is engaged in the business of owning and operating a television station, such grantee, upon becoming an additional first party hereto shall be obligated to make payments to the Trustee as specified in sub-paragraph "(x)" and "(y)" of subsection "(a)" of this paragraph "2," and (ii) if such grantee is not engaged in the business of owning and operating a television station, such grantee, upon becoming an additional first party hereto, shall be obligated to make payments to the Trustee as specified in Exhibit "2" hereto attached in lieu of the payments as specified in sub-paragraphs "(x)" and "(y)" of subsection "(a)" of this paragraph "2." No other such grant of right or authority shall be made by any first party or the successor in interest thereof, unless and until such grantee shall promise to make to such first party or successor the payments required by this agreement, and, in such event, the first party shall transmit such payment to the Trustee. The Trustee shall have and enjoy a lien upon such film and/or sound track in an amount equal to the payments provided in subsection "(a)" of this paragraph "2" of Exhibit "2" hereof, as the case may be, and any person, upon becoming such grantee, shall become obligated to make such payments. No such first party or successor in interest thereof will, without the consent of the Trustee, forgive or compromise such obligation or otherwise impair such lien. Each first party will be obligated to make payments to the Trustee on account of films and/or sound tracks dealt with by any such grantee only to the extent that such first party has received such payment (i) in the United States or Canada, or (ii) in United States or Canadian currency or in a currency convertible into United States or Canadian currency, or (iii) in a currency, not convertible into United States or Canadian currency, of which such first party has made beneficial use, or (iv) in an asset other than currency. All films which are the subject of this agreement shall contain a clearly legible notice either in the following language or such other appropriate language as the Trustee may agree upon:

"The granting of the right (a) to make a copy of this film or (b) to permit others to exhibit this film is subject to the terms and conditions of a trust agreement between the producer of this film and the Trustee therein named, pursuant to which a lien exists in favor of such Trustee and any grantee of such right is obligated to make the payments to said Trustee as provided in such agreement."

3. The Trustee does hereby accept the trust hereby created, agrees to establish the proper administrative machinery and processes necessary for the performance of the Trustee's duties hereunder, and agrees fully and faithfully to perform each and every duty and obligation on the Trustee's part to be performed as set forth herein, for the purposes and objectives of arranging and organizing the presentation of personal performances by instrumental musicians in areas throughout the United States, and its possessions and dependencies, and the Dominion of Canada, as shall be specified in a Schedule to be promulgated by the Trustee within sixty (60) days from the date hereof, such schedule when so promulgated to be annexed hereto and called "Area Schedule" and a copy thereof to be delivered to each first party hereto who requests it and to the Federation hereinafter named, on such occasions and at such times and places as in the judgment of the Trustee will contribute to the public knowledge and appreciation of music. In pursuance of such purposes and objectives, the Trustee shall organize such performances upon occasions where no admission fees are charged, in connection with activities of patriotic, charitable, educational, civic and general public nature, such as, but not limited to veterans' hospital entertainment programs, juvenile and adolescent social programs, educational programs in schools and institutions of higher learning, patriotic and recruiting drives, symphony society or other musical activities, of a non-profit nature, and similar programs and activities, entirely without profit to the trust fund. The Trustee, in his discretion, may determine to co-operate in the administration and expenditure of the fund and the presentation of such performances with other trusts whose funds are derived from producers and/or exploiters of films and/or sound tracks and whose objectives and purposes are similar to those herein provided upon such terms as he shall deem proper. The Trustee shall not act as a representative of the Federation hereinafter referred to, or of any member or members thereof, or of any person or persons receiving payment under the terms of the trust for services rendered at the performances presented pursuant to the terms hereof. The Trustee shall be guided solely by the terms and conditions hereof and shall perform the Trustee's functions on the sole basis of the public interest.

In connection with such activities, the Trustee shall have the following powers and authority subject to the following limitations:

(a) The Trustee shall arrange, as nearly as may be, for the expenditure for the above purposes, during each successive twelve (12) months period commencing July 1, 1952, of an amount equal to not less than ninety per cent (90%) of the total amount of the trust fund existing on the 30th day of April next preceding the commencement of each such twelve (12) months period, and which at such time is not already budgeted for expenditure;

(b) Subject to the provisions of subsection (a) of this paragraph "3," the Trustee shall, as nearly as may be, arrange for the expenditure for such purposes during each such twelve (12) months period, (i) within each geographical area set forth in said Area Schedule, amounts equal, as nearly as may be, to the percentages set forth in said Area Schedule of ninety per cent (90%) of the total sums to be expended for such purposes by the Trustee during such twelve (12) months period, and (ii) at such places and times as the Trustee in his discretion may determine of ten per cent (10%) of such sums. Any sums not so expended during such twelve (12) months period shall be available for allocation and expenditure during the next but one ensuing twelve (12) months period as provided in this agreement.

(c) In connection with the performance of the Trustee's duties hereunder, the Trustee shall do the following:

(i) Engage instrumental musicians in connection with the presentation of such performances, the rate of compensation to such instrumental musicians to be at the union scales established in the areas where such performances take place;

(ii) engage concert halls and similar places, arrange for the supplying of programs, tickets, ushers, advertisements, publicity and similar items required in connection with the presentation of such performances;

(iii) enter into any agreements, necessary and proper in connection with the hiring of concert halls and similar places, the employment of musicians, the preparation of tickets, programs, posters, advertising material and similar material, the employment of publicists and other personnel, the purchase of advertisements, and such other agreements as may be necessary and proper in connection with the presentation of such performances;

(iv) consult with and receive the counsel and advice of qualified institutions and organizations including business groups and organizations, public authorities, musical schools and institutions, the Federation hereinafter referred to, and other civic, patriotic, charitable and welfare organizations, and such other persons and organizations as the Trustee shall consider useful and suitable, with respect to matters relating to the presentation of such performances;

(v) prior to causing the disbursement of any moneys from the trust fund for services rendered or other consideration received or contracted for, receive from the duly authorized representative of the Federation, hereinafter referred to, certification in writing that such services or other considerations have been received or contracted for, provided that such certification has not been unreasonably withheld where the contemplated disbursement is for services rendered or consideration contracted for or received in accordance with the purposes, objects and conditions hereof;

(vi) at the request in writing of any first party, or of any party making payments to the Trustee hereunder, cause to be posted or otherwise publicized at each performance to be presented by the Trustee, an appropriate notice or other advice setting forth the name of such party not then in default in the performance of any of its obligations to the Trustee;

(vii) whenever such delegation is deemed advisable, the Trustee may delegate to an agent of the Trustee, the power to make disbursements for services rendered or for considerations received or contracted for by the Trustee in accordance with the provisions hereof;

(viii) enter into an agreement or agreements in writing, not inconsistent with this agreement, with any depository or depositories selected by the Trustee, covering the terms and conditions pursuant to which such depository or depositories shall act.

(d) Subject to the terms and conditions set forth above, the Trustee shall hold, manage, invest and reinvest the trust fund and pay, apply, utilize and expend the entire net income therefrom and the principal thereof for the payment of compensation for and by reason of the services of instrumental musicians, for the expenses of presenting such performances, for the payment of the Trustee's compensation as herein provided, for the payment of salaries, counsel and auditors' fees, for the payment of appropriate bonding and insurance premiums, and other expenses reasonably incurred in the administration of the fund.

4. Subject to the specific limitations otherwise imposed upon the Trustee by this agreement, the Trustee shall have the following additional rights, duties and powers, and shall enjoy the following privileges and immunities, subject to the following limitations:

(a) In the event that any first party shall default in the payment of any sums to the Trustee when the same shall become due pursuant to this agreement, the Trustee shall have the duty, right and power forthwith to commence action or to take any other proceedings as shall be necessary for the collection thereof, including the power and authority to compromise and settle. The Trustee's reasonable expenses, attorney's fees and other disbursements incurred in the collection of any such overdue sums shall be paid to the Trustee by the first party so defaulting and such payment shall be added to the trust fund.

(b) To deposit all money and property received by the Trustee, with or without interest, with any bank or trust company, insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and having capital, surplus and undivided profits exceeding $5,000,000; provided, however, that in the event that Canadian dollars are receivable by the Trustee and it is not feasible or desirable to convert such Canadian dollars into United States funds, such Canadian dollars and any securities purchased therewith may be deposited in a Chartered Bank of the Dominion of Canada, anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding.

Except as modified by the provisions of subsection "(c)" of this paragraph "4" to invest and reinvest the said money and property only in bonds and other direct obligations of the United States of America and of the Dominion of Canada, without regard to the proportion which any such investment or investments may bear to the entire amount of the trust fund and to sell, exchange and otherwise deal with such investments as to the Trustee may seem desirable.

(c) In connection with the collection of any sums due to the Trustee hereunder, to consent to and participate in any composition of creditors, bankruptcy, reorganization or similar proceeding, and in the event that as a result thereof the Trustee shall become the holder of assets other than money, obligations to pay money conditioned only as to the time of payment, or property of the class specified in subsection "(b)" of this paragraph "4" (which assets are in this subsection "(c)" called "property"), to consent to and participate in any plan of reorganization, consolidation, merger, combination, or other similar plan, and to consent to any contract, lease, mortgage, purchase, sale or other action by any corporation pursuant to such plan, and to accept any property which might be received by it under any such plan, whether or not such property is of the class in which the Trustee is authorized by subsection "(b)" of this paragraph "4" to invest the trust fund; to deposit any such property with any protective, reorganization or similar committee, to delegate discretionary power thereto, and to pay part of its expenses and compensation and any assessment levied with respect to such property; to exercise all conversion, subscription, voting and other rights of whatsoever nature pertaining to any such property, and to grant proxies, discretionary or otherwise, in respect thereof, and to accept any property which may be acquired by the Trustee by the exercise of any such rights, whether or not such property is of the class in which the Trustee is authorized by subsection "(b)" of this paragraph "4" to invest the trust fund. Anything to the contrary contained in this subsection "(c)" notwithstanding, the Trustee shall dispose of any such property within a reasonable time in order that the trust fund, to the fullest extent possible, at all times shall be comprised as specified in subsection "(b)" of this paragraph "4."

(d) The Trustee shall have the right, power and authority to enter into agreements with persons, firms, corporations, associations, and others engaged in the production, manufacture, sale or exploitation of motion picture films and/or sound tracks, as first parties, and the Trustee, providing for the payment by such first parties of moneys to the Trustee, for the collection of such moneys by the Trustee, and for the administration, use, and expenditure of such moneys by the Trustee for the purposes of and as part of the Trust created hereunder; and the Trustee may accept the assignment of copyrights and other rights in and to film and/or sound tracks, and, as Trustee, deal with and enforce such rights.

(e) The Trustee shall not be liable for any loss sustained by the trust estate by reason of the purchase, retention, sale or exchange of any investment or by reason of any deposit of moneys permitted by this agreement, made by the Trustee in good faith, or by reason of any payment in good faith in accordance with the terms of this agreement.

TECHNIQUE OF PERCUSSION

By GEORGE LAWRENCE STONE

SINGLE DRAG VARIANCES

HERE IS another question composited to take care of several inquiries on the same subject, namely, how to analyze and play a figure from one of the rudimental drumbeats on page 10 of the NARD book of Rudimental Drum Solos.

(1) Where does the second beat of the measure fall in Figure 1 (the skeletonized measure shown below), between the third and fourth notes or on the fourth note? (2) When embellishments (grace-notes) are added to complete the figure in question (Figure 2), how dispose of them, rhythmically, in traditional rudimental drumming?

(1) The beat in Figure 1 falls upon the fourth eighth note. To clarify, I have appended a similar figure (Figure 1a), showing the same notes but with a different distribution of accents and a different beaming. I think you all must have determined the division of the submitted measure by a visual division of note heads instead of by the durational value of the notes involved. To other players it might appear inconceivable that any music-reader would even hesitate in the analysis of such a simple problem, but we drummers are constantly reading notes (e.g., quarters, halves, eighths) the duration of which we often are unable to express by our single tap of a drumstick, and this may, in part, account for an occasional misreading of a simple figure. But no matter how we express a note, its durative value is there and must be taken into account. Hence, the second beat of the submitted measure (as well as that of the measure appended thereto) falls upon the fourth eighth note, not half-way through the duration of the third.

(2) In traditional rudimental drumming we recognize this figure (Figure 2) not as a group of notes definitely placed in the measure, but as a rudimental figure—a series of single drags—and the solo in question as one to be played in ancient rudimental style. Here we are not inhibited by formal musical notation or the necessity of matching our drumbeats to the definitely fixed rhythms of some ensemble. Therefore, here we take liberties—plenty of them. Rudimentally, the single drag is played in the rhythm of the triplet, with the graces “wide open” and traditionally accented. In this style it will more or less follow the rhythm set down in Figure 3, below, with grace-notes struck softly, normal notes louder and accented notes louder still.*

*Many rudimental stylists add a still further ad lib to the single drag by making an ever-so-slight pause before the doubled grace-notes—a very effective ad lib.

Leedy & Ludwig

Jack Sperling enjoys a fine reputation as a “drummer’s drummer” because of his fine taste, and we’re mighty proud of his long association with Leedy & Ludwig. Formerly with the Tex Beneke band, Jack is now adding his strong beat to Les Brown and His Band of Renown. The band has just closed another successful season with the Bob Hope Show and is currently on nationwide tour.

Jack Sperling was instrumental in designing the 4½” x 14” New Era snare drum which he is now using along with his 14” x 22” bass, 9” x 13”, 16” x 16” and 18” x 20” tom-toms. Jack says, “My New Era snare drum gives me just the right sound for modern drumming.” See the New Era models in the ’51 catalog, and—don’t miss the revolutionary new KNOB TENSION drums. Your Leedy & Ludwig dealer will soon have them on display...watch for them! Address LEEDY & LUDWIG, Dept. 405 Elkhart, Indiana, for new ’51 catalog...it’s FREE!

HANDS OR FOOT

A San Diego correspondent writes an extremely interesting letter in which he starts out by buttering me up with the sentiments that this column is tops, etc., etc., and that he is very proud of me. To anyone who wonders why I deem this letter extremely interesting, kindly reread the above sentence.

I have known said correspondent for many years and, since he has had the advantage of a longhair training coupled with much professional experience in playing from the left side, I never have failed to listen to his many comments on these feeble efforts of mine—comments freely given and ranging anywhere from the most critical to the most commendatory.

Many times he has asked questions and often I have found them hard to answer. Such a question appears in the above mentioned letter. Here it is: "Which is the more important in modern drumming, the bass drum foot or the two hands? Yours as ever, George Lawrence Stone, Jr."

Thanks for the buttering up, San Diego, but the back of me hand to yer for such a question, one which has succeeded in stirring up more controversy among tub thumpers than any subject since the advent of the buzz roll. However, I will give my views on the subject and if any reader feels inclined to add his sentiments or comment on those expressed here, let him write me, care of this magazine, and I may find it possible to quote therefrom in some later article.

I know you lean heavily toward bop, S. D., and here there isn't much doubt—the bass drum foot, with its erratic and syncopated accentuation, bombs, etc., is definitely the more important. In a solo, wherein the modern drummer shoots off the fireworks ("exhibits his technical skill," to the uninitiated), I should say that the hands and foot—or feet—come in for an equal share of glory. For two-beat and four-beat jazz, the bass drum becomes the timekeeper and the hands (one for the Hi-Hat and the other for syncopations or in reinforcement of the rhythm section—or both hands for cymbal or tom tom mixtures) are certainly right up there in importance. Here I should give the nod to the foot for dance playing and to the hands for stage work. The above would apply similarly to Dixieland playing. In Latin-American music the various sounds coming from the percussion section are largely produced by hand action, with the bass drum dropping into the role of, if I may coin the words, assistant timekeeper.

While it is commendable to determine the relative importance of the various sounds coming from the drums and the manner of their production, it is paramount ever to drum with taste and judgment, and to follow the idiom of the music played. Sometimes we drum from inspiration, sometimes from the book, but it never must be forgotten that except when soloing a drummer is just one member of the band. Here I veer from the question to point out a most woeful lack of judgment on the part of many moderns who, having adopted one particular style of drumming, endeavor to fit it into all styles of music they are called upon to play. Particularly do I refer to the bop artist who wants to play nothing but bop. There are jobs in g.b. in which a band is supposed to play for dancing. Here one shouldn't be a bop drummer, a solo drummer or anything except a dance drummer, with a good steady bass drum beat, which is one of the things that dancers pay to hear. The most inspired syncopations are resented by dancers and band alike when they don't fit, and they mark the drummer employing them as lacking in taste.

All our best to you, San Diego, and why don't you send in another question—a nice simple one?

CHATTER

A. L. Della-Porta, London, referring to my recent report about J. Burns Moore judging a drum corps contest at Waterloo, Ontario, from a closed-in tent, writes: "... This does seem a queer idea, yet it is standard practice in brass band contests over here for the judges to be boxed in so that they cannot see which band is performing. Personally, I should imagine that any judge worthy of the name would be able to tell which band was which after a few bars had been played."

So should I, but contest rules have to be followed. Sometimes such rules are drawn up by those whose executive ability exceeds their knowledge of music and musicians. Bids the same way: I remember having received a request some years ago from a certain agency to bid on furnishing a set of musical instruments. The required list included such items as so many first violins, so many second violins, so many first trumpets, so many second trumpets, etc.

The present article is based on interviews with Sam Morgenstern, composer and conductor, and Jimmy Berg, composer.

HOW DO the instruments of the orchestra—bassoon, clarinet, cello, double-bass, flute, guitar, harp, pipe organ, oboe, violin, saxophone—speak in combination? How do composers, arrangers and enterprising band leaders “mix” their instruments to form something new and strange? Everyone knows, of course, about the most stable of all combinations, the symphony orchestra. The string quartet, another familiar group, consists of: two violins, one viola and one cello. The string quintet comes in two forms:

2 violins, 1 viola and 2 cellos, and
2 violins, 2 violas and 1 cello.

The piano trio (violin, cello, piano), the piano quintet; bassoon quartet; piano, harp, violin; piano quintet (two violins, viola, cello and piano) are also fairly familiar combinations. Less known are such combinations as the wind quintet; bassoon quartet; piano, harp, violin; piano, double-bass, percussion; flute, violin, piano.

Any ensemble of the smaller sort, be it of the chamber music or swing band variety, differs from the symphony orchestra, in which a whole section often plays in unison, in that each individual has a special line to play. A real string sextet has to be a sextet, not just a quartet with two extra instruments thrown in. A quartet has to have four separate lines, not three lines with one simply paralleling another. The King Cole Trio is, so to speak, three soloists, each making his own individual contribution to the overall effect. In the small ensemble, moreover, each player weaves his line into the fabric of the music by listening to the whole, a procedure impossible in the symphony orchestra where the concerted tone drowns out the individual player. Also the smaller ensembles, classical or swing, require that the tone color of each instrument be constantly in evidence.

It follows, naturally, that every member has to be a skilled, dependable—even an inspired—performer. Essential, also, either in chamber music or in the smaller “combo,” is a sense of team work. The popular combo tries to have a style, a special way of playing, and the chamber group tries to bring out the meaning of the composer. But both of them must hold group feeling paramount. Recently I sat in on a rehearsal of the Albeneri Trio. The slight ejaculations they made, the directions they gave, the encouraging remarks they passed mid-phrase and mid-scale, were as subtle as the indefinable wing-slant that maneuvers a flock of pigeons in their swirl over the house-tops. Combos call it “getting in the groove,” developing a sense of oneness that causes lines to merge and diverge with the smooth sliding of train tracks in a railroad yard.

In jazz ensembles team-work has to approach the psychic. For the combos do much of their composing on the spot, get ideas as they play. And these ideas have to be synchronized—the trumpet’s with the sax’s, the bass’s with the piano’s. It works something like this. The theme of a “hit” is given, by piano, by trumpet, by sax. Then the instruments show what they can do with it. The trumpet is apt to take the lead; the trombone may unfold a bass harmonic or melodic voice; the clarinet will probably be the virtuoso, coming out with special effects. The saxes—well, the saxes will be everywhere at once. Jazz ensembles have widened amazingly the horizons of most instruments by their adventuring.

This pushing back of boundaries is not confined to jazz players, though. Composers of chamber music have had a hand at it, too. Bartok in his quartets uses, as well as unusual sonorities, glissandi, harmonics, ponti-cello (above bridge) and wood-tapping. And the Sprechstimme of Schoenberg makes the speaking voice an instrument in its own right. The voice speaks the sound, but at different levels in the scale. It makes your spine prickle to hear it.

Musical ideas in jazz combos are bred to just that extent that members of the orchestra know how to play in and out of each others’ hands and how to utilize their instruments’ every capability. Incidentally there is no adherence to definite “parts.” Travelers in Africa have noticed that native singers do not keep to soprano, alto, tenor or bass, but slide around wherever they think the harmony shows a loophole. Just so jazz players fill in gaps within the limits of their range.

Sometimes, of course—and this is a tendency which increases with the years—the music is put down on score-paper, is read by the players. But, since the arranger is as often as not a playing member of the group, he is most careful to bring out trumpeter Bob’s capacity for sustaining high notes, give clarinetist Joe a chance at his greased scale-work, let Fred have a field-day in the piano bass regions, see that Jim’s sax can go as mellow as he wants. Bennie Carter, for instance, holds his notes a bit longer than most. Naturally arrangers play up this “trade-mark.” Redman turned out concise, almost “naked” arrangements so that McKinney’s Cotton Pickers could exert all the between-line exuberance they were capable of. That artistically-minded group, George Shearing’s Quintet, takes life-blood, under its leader’s careful pen, from both Bach and Be-bop, with neither injured by the transfusion.

In many ways jazz ensembles hark back to early chamber music—hold to many traditions the sedate chamber group has lost. For instance, the modern jazz group, like the sixteenth century chamber group, uses figured bass. This method of indicating rather than actually writing out what is to be played came into vogue at the opening of the seventeenth century. A mere line of bass notes would be given, with figures over or under them to indicate (to the harpsichord, organ or lute) what chords were to be played. Each of these instruments constructed his own accompaniment with considerable scope for his own inventiveness and artistry. While he was executing his arabesques and runs, the cellos and double-basses played the bass notes as given (without chords), thus providing a firm sub-structure. Today combo instrumentalists do exactly this—follow out chord designations which give them the basic harmony and a free hand to go on from there. Mozart’s cadenzas and Armstrong’s hot licks are not so far apart after all.

Another point in which jazz harks back to the early ensembles is in the habit of doubling. In very early ensembles, a “chest of viols”—that “press for instruments” which in the seventeenth century formed a conspicuous part of the furniture of every cultured household and accommodated six of these instruments, two basses, two tenors and two trebles—implied a family's custom of having each of its members learn several instruments. Just as today a combo has one instrumentalist switching from one instrument to another even in the course of a single composition. Or making one instrument serve for two. The double-bass player who stops bowing or strumming and begins to slap his instrument is just passing over from the string to the percussion department.

Comparisons of chamber ensembles and "combos" always bring up the point of dynamics.

four bassoons, Stravinsky composing Cat's Cradle Songs for contralto and three clarinets, and Bartok writing for two pianos and percussion. Virgil Thomson wrote his Stabat Mater for soprano and string quartet; Barber his Dover Beach for male voice (he sang it himself at the of Cappy Lewis' trumpet, Neal Reid's trombone and Hy White's guitar. Then don't forget Bob Crosby's Bobcats—trumpet, sax, guitar, drums, clarinet, trombone, piano, bass; nor Cab Calloway's Cab Jivers—tenor, drums, bass, piano.

Jazz steals a page from symphonic annals when it has small groups forming from the large. When outside a concert hall you see half of the symphonic men assembling in time for the second number, or sauntering away at intermission, you know a Corelli work which utilizes the strings alone or a Schoenberg work which goes in for wind alone is being played.

Instrumentalists—both in the swing and classical field—in most cases prefer to play in the smaller ensembles. This sitting through an evening (be it in large swing band or symphony orchestra) with eyes glued on the manuscript and ears gauged to exact duplication of every instrument in the section is a poor exchange for the flights of fantasy an ad libbing trumpeter may engage in in a popular combo or the gentle nuance that a cello player may essay in the chamber group. Moreover, each member of the chamber orchestra is listed on the program, with his instrument. He is constantly heard as an individual throughout the evening. And as for combos: take the sax-piano-drums-bass outpourings of the Lester Young Quartet; the piano-guitar-bass virtuosity of the Art Tatum Trio; the trumpet-piano-guitar-drums-bass ad libbing of the Coleman Hawkins Quintet; the interplay of the Dizzy Gillespie trumpet-alto-drums-piano-bass combo; the Eddie Heywood piano-trombone-alto-trumpet-bass-drum zinging through a Heywood arrangement—the men, each of them is engaged in creative work. And they are having fun at the same time. We can't think of a happier coupling of activities.

e: Chamber Group — Swing Combo

Chamber music has no exclusive rights over "softness," popular conception to the contrary notwithstanding. Nor has the popular combo a corner on clash and clang. Alec Wilder's Octet—oboe, clarinet, bass clarinet, flute, bassoon, harpsichord, bass, drums—is the same sort of group Haydn would have used, and it plays jazz very soft, very Bach-like. And, for chamber music giving out in a great sound, just hear Varese's Ionization. This is scored for instruments of percussion, friction and "sibilation." The tambour militaire presents the first subject with a background of two sirens sliding scalewise in opposite directions. The second subject is presented by percussion instruments, developing into a contrast between metal and wood percussion. Tubular chimes and low-register piano-forte tone-clusters complete the general picture of pandemonium.

Nor are "combos" and chamber music divided along lines of instrumentation, either. Though the former veers toward wind and the latter toward string domination, it would be dangerous to accept this as a rule. Artie Shaw, for instance, had a string section. Stan Kenton experimented with strings. Charlie Barnet's new orchestra boasts strings. And chamber music has its exclusively wind ensembles—as witness the Chicago Symphony Woodwind Quintet on this page. Stravinsky's The Soldier's Tale resembles the instrumentation of the 1916 New Orleans Dixieland jazzband with its clarinet, trumpet, trombone, piano and drums.

Now just what induces a group of players—from three to, say, eighteen—to come together to form such instrumental combinations? And what induces composers to write for unusual ensembles? Certainly the latter must know they stand less chance of having their compositions performed if they write for four saxophones (as did Edvard Moritz) or for two trumpets, trombone and baritone (as did Carl Busch), or for flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon (as did Amedeo De Filippi), than if they write for, say, the standard string quartet.

Certain it is that it is hard to "popularize" unusual combinations—on the same theory that you don't buy small cars because it's hard to get replacements. Yet here we have Martinu writing Le Madrigaux for oboe, clarinet and bassoon, Schoenberg writing his Pierrot Lunaire for speaking voice, piano, flute, clarinet, violin and cello, Prokofiev turning out a Scherzo for premiere) and string quartet; and Milhaud constructed a piece for two quartets, each quartet a unit in itself and yet the two dove-tailing to make one composition.

The answer is usually, simply: composer meets instrumentalist and it's a click from the start. A roving ballet company (the Romanoff) swam into Prokofiev's view and he was asked to write a short ballet for them. Trapeze became a challenge to him in solving a purely technical problem—that is, to write a piece of chamber music for a most unusual combination of instruments (those the ballet happened to possess): oboe, clarinet, violin, viola, double bass. Nicholas Berezowsky wrote his brass suite for seven instruments upon the commission of the League of Composers. Stravinsky wrote his Ebony Concerto (saxophones, trumpets, trombones, guitar, harp, piano, double bass, percussion) at Woody Herman's behest. Sam Morgenstern so admired the oboe playing of Robert Blum that he became interested in writing an oboe piece with string ensemble.

Often when composers start to write a "chamber" work, they have no preconceived notion of the instrumentation. Stravinsky had the first movement of his Octet completed before he decided it was working out into a composition for flute, clarinet, two bassoons, two trumpets and two trombones.

When a composer writes for a particular small combo—and remember in these groups the composers are often hidden under the camouflage of arrangers or instrumentalists—it doesn't tend to "set" that combo's instrumentation. Combos are most of them so flexible that they change their instrumentation at almost every recording session. We count, in the discography at the end of Barry Ulanov's book on Duke Ellington, about forty different set-ups of that leader. Thus, the name band composer must ease out or take in the seams of his compositions so that they fit any number and type of instrumentalists. It's an around-the-clock, around-the-year job for most of them.

Large combos often father smaller ones. Take the Goodman Trio and Quintet, later to grow into his Sextet; or Tommy Dorsey's "Clambake Seven," or Woody Herman's Quartet, made up of his own clarinet, Linchan's piano, Yoder's bass and Carlson's drums. That group was known as the Four Chips out of which grew the famous Woodchoppers, with the addition

VIEWS AND REVIEWS
By SOL BABITZ

LOUDER AND FASTER

When a beginner is struggling to acquire the rudiments of his instrument he finds that he must play very slowly and that his tone is weak. Quite naturally he comes to believe that eventually, when he will have mastered the instrument, he will be able to play loud and fast.

If he matures mentally as well as technically he comes to realize that artistic playing consists of something more than playing the right notes loud and fast; and with this realization he is enabled to acquire musicianship which is the ability to adjust the speed and volume of his playing to the requirements of the music.

Unfortunately, musicianly performance, even among concert artists, is a comparatively rare thing today, and one of the chief causes of this condition is the persistence in the mind of the adult performer of the childhood idea that he who plays loudest and fastest plays best.

In times past this type of performance did not command as much respect as it has in the last few decades. It is possible that the fact of our living in an age of mechanization and regularly shattered athletic records may in part be responsible for the undue recognition awarded to mere volume and speed.

Fortunately the situation already seems to be improving because there are a number of serious performers achieving success today while several loud and fast players have had brief careers nipped in the bud by audiences who are getting tired of mere efficiency.

THE SPEED FALLACY

If one tells the fast player that he plays too fast because he is lazy he will not understand what is meant. How can he be accused of laziness when he has been practicing many hours a day so that he will be able to cut another five seconds off his time on the last movement of the Mendelssohn Concerto? This athletic virtuoso looks down on the performer who will play it a little slower so that he will have some time and energy left over to imbue the music with some of Mendelssohn's clarity and restrained passion.

Fast playing is the lazy course because the speed covers up any lack of understanding of the musical message; speed eliminates problems of phrasing since neither the listener nor performer have time to savor any nuances of tempo or dynamics.

THE "BIG TONE" FALLACY

Much more insidious and widespread than the speed fallacy is the "big tone" fallacy. If it is musically improper to play everything too fast, it is just as improper to play everything too loud.

I recall playing a recital when in my teens. I had been working on a Beethoven Sonata and with the conceit of youth was quite certain that I knew all about the art of playing Beethoven. I was quite chagrined when a critic, instead of appreciating my musicianship, wrote that he liked my performance of Beethoven because I played it with a "big tone." The incident was distasteful to me because it showed that neither the critic nor I knew very much about Beethoven playing.

I have since learned that the only connection between a "big tone" and Beethoven is the obvious fact that the "big tone" should be used where Beethoven has written f or ff into the music.

Unfortunately performers are encouraged to use the "big tone" everywhere. It seems that many listeners have become accustomed to excusing all trespasses on good taste on the grounds that the performer has a "big tone." Conversely the performer with a good sense of style and dynamics who does not continually try to get every ounce of intensity out of his violin is accused of having a "small tone," than which there seems to be no greater shortcoming today.

How often do we hear: "A plays better than B, but he has a small tone." The word but in this sentence is significant; for by the same reasoning we could reject a dime in favor of a nickel saying, "The dime is of finer metal than the nickel but it is small."

I have found that in order to get a reputation for a "big tone" a player must always play louder than the music requires. In the following chart for example the "big tone" player uses only the upper range, while the musical player uses the whole range.

Thus, where the composer has written pp in the music the "big tone" player will play about mf since that is the bottom of his range; the violinist who considers the music more important than a "big tone" will play a real pianissimo where it is required and f or ff only on climaxes. Accurate shading is unfortunately rare today and only a few violinists, most of them in string quartets, are capable of differentiating a p from a mp in performance. (The unnecessarily loud tone of modern concert grands is partly to blame for this "big tone" tendency, since an unskilled accompanist can easily drown out the soloist.)

Sometimes when the "big tone" specialist tries to achieve a real pianissimo the result is only a feeble whistly sound. This is so because "big tone" playing requires very large arm movements, and the player has become so accustomed to this large motion that he uses it also for pianissimo, playing without pressure. A real pianissimo is not whistly and weak but a quiet full-bodied tone, produced with an extremely slow motion of the arm and adequate pressure on the string.

Some good advice on the management of dynamics can be found in Carl Flesch's "Problems of Tone Production."

DANGERS OF SOUND ENGINEERING

Another cause of continuous loud playing may be found in the shortcomings of sound engineering. So primitive is this science today that it is necessary for sound engineers to turn down the volume when the music gets "too loud" and up when it gets "too soft." The result is that all music sounds as though it were being played in the limited range of the "big tone" performer, as shown in the above chart. Students hearing this constant volume on records and broadcasts think that famous players use no dynamic shading, and try to imitate this artificial effect.

Of course there are other aspects to this problem which need to be aired, and I would appreciate letters from readers who have thought about causes and cures for the louder and faster problem.

With the following lesson on Passing Tones, we complete the section on figurations which commenced with Suspensions (Lesson No. 26) and continued through After-beats to the current lesson on Passing Tones.

During harmonic analysis, which we will take up at a future date, it will be observed that a melodic note may be either a chordic tone, suspension, after-beat or passing tone. Since each type of melodic figuration has its own specific function and treatment, it is important that a clear identification be made before an arrangement is commenced.

LESSON NO. 41 PASSING TONES

(Using regular and reverse motion)

Passing tones are notes which pass from one chordic tone to another by diatonic or chromatic degrees.

Passing tones occur on unaccented beats.

Chords formed by passing tones are called passing chords.

When writing examples on passing tones, use the key signature which contains the particular chord.

Exercise: Write passing tones like the above, as they occur in the same chords which you used in writing the suspensions.

Seventh chords will also contain 5 to 7 and 7 to 8 passing tones.

Ninth chords will also contain 5 to 7 and 7 to 9 passing tones.

Do not forget to write the proper key signature.

When writing the passing tones on the diminished 7th chord, write the chord enharmonically, that is, on B-sharp—as the 7th chord on the 7th degree of C-sharp minor:

INTERNATIONAL MUSICIAN

Local Highlights

Local 664, of Lewiston, Idaho, sponsored a benefit dance for the March of Dimes on February 1st. Musicians donating their services for the event were the Kenny Woodruff quintet, Carl Painter and his band, the Nordby-Poston Band, Morley Grimm's band and Jimmy Lloyd and his band. The community of Lewiston cooperated gladly, and the affair was a great success. The union's polio dance committee included Ronald Caldwell, Carl Painter and Duane Rimel, secretary of the local.

T. H. BARBER

Inactive since the early days of World War II, the Lewiston local was reorganized last fall. John Barton, president, has great plans for the future of the local.

In the February, 1951, issue of the International Musician we spoke of the resignation of Thomas H. Barber, after serving faithfully as the secretary of Local 82, Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania, for fifty-nine years. Said Mr. Barber on the occasion of his retirement, "My life has been a satisfactory one. I've done nothing that I regret, and I've had a lot of pleasure." Mr. Barber continues to lead an active life, takes long walks, pursues many hobbies.

The Manchester String Ensemble, founded in September, 1948, is the first such ensemble in the history of that New Hampshire town to become affiliated with its Local 349 as a body. Specializing in chamber music, it has given concerts not only in New Hampshire but throughout New England. This coming year it has scheduled a Canadian concert tour. The photograph on page 25 of the present issue shows its members, from left to right: Jeannette Robitaille, Dorothea Rand, Maurice Therrien, Evelyn Wallingford, Arthur Desmarais (double bass), Frederick E. Minot, Bertrand Chandonnet, Gerald Robert (conductor), Dana E. Charles, Sydney Abbot, Samuel Sario, William Chartray, Maurice Shepard, John Dobski.

Since the foundation of the orchestra, outstanding concerts were those of the Currier Art Gallery in Manchester; the Institute of Arts and Sciences in Manchester; the Keene High School in Keene, New Hampshire; the Mechanics Hall in Worcester, Massachusetts; the Rivier College in Nashua, New Hampshire, and the Edward Little High School in Lewiston, Maine.

Dancers at a party at Children's Center enjoy music furnished through a grant from the Music Performance Trust Fund. The Center is a Red Feather service of the New Haven (Connecticut) Community Chest.

Over Federation Field

By CHAUNCEY A. WEAVER

I AM MUSIC

I am Music in whom the world confides And under whom the world's best talent hides. But 'tis not just the master that I touch; May be 'tis just a child I give so much. I've helped great statesmen in their plans—war-like; I've soothed some widow where Death chose to strike. The many souls whose troubled hearts I've healed; Whose prayerful thanks were sung right where they kneeled; Whose anguished hearts have turned to me in song When all the world for them seemed to go wrong Can be but numbered by the ones in turn. Whose happiness no bounds could e'er discern. I've had the confidence of kings and queens; Of Holy Angels songs I've been the means. Think'at not that I am one whom you may trust Whom very highest thoughts of Man enrust! Let children be brought up within my sphere; Life's beauties will unfold the more they hear. Let Nations constantly improve their songs And voluntarily they'll right their wrongs. Now you may all pour out your souls through me And I'll live on throughout Eternity.

The Major Symphony Orchestra Survey contains interesting information in this important field. The summary points out that secondary orchestras are so classified because the members are engaged on a per-concert basis for an indefinite number of concerts each season. This latter survey is of 111 secondary symphony orchestras in the United States, thirteen in Canada and one in Honolulu—making a total of 125. With a few exceptions these orchestras operate on a very small budget and are dependent on ticket sales and subscriptions for their maintenance. Thirty of the secondary orchestras are composed entirely of members of the Federation. There are 4,544 local members employed in these orchestras, and in addition to this number 1,237 are imported from other locale—making a total of 5,781 members in all.

There were 905 concerts presented and 146 presented during the summer season.

Ninety-eight orchestras reported budgets in the amount of $2,040,150. Twenty-seven orchestras reported that budget figures were not available.

In addition to the above 125 orchestras there are many more which operate on a strictly educational basis. To some people these figures will not seem particularly impressive. To the thoughtful, however, they will indicate that the higher instrumental seed is taking root. And for those among us who have gradually and patiently awaited development, there will be cause for modest cheer.

Somewhat we're looking eagerly Toward that leafy month of June,— Hoping in all serenity, For health in perfect tune.

We are always glad to receive the Local 636, Wallace, Idaho, two-sheet periodical replete with the local's news. It reflects a fine energetic community spirit.

Only two months until the June National Convention. We wish all who might aspire to be delegates could have their ambition crystallized.

Congratulations to Jack Ferentz! Also to President James C. Petrillo! Detroit and the national A. F. of M. fall into happy conjunction. The larger field absorbs the smaller one—temporarily. Detroit will not find readily another Jack Ferentz, but the Detroit field is rich in talent and will not be allowed long to suffer. Again we say—congratulations to all concerned!

The National June convention is hurrying rapidly this way. New York is a seething hot-bed for immense gatherings, but we predict she will be aware that the A. F. of M. is on the job when rose-tinted June time rolls around.

All roads lead to New York.

The western snow banks will have melted and faded by June.

News Nuggets

Another bid for the oldest civilian band in the United States comes from "The American Band," which was founded as the Providence Brass Band about 1825. Last summer it presented a memorial concert for David Wallis Reeves, composer and leader of the American Band from 1866 to 1900.

It seems that teaching teaches. At least that is the contention of Tex Williams, and is exemplified by his pianist, Hal Hidy, who teaches the Keyboard Harmony classes at Westlake College of Music in Hollywood. Hal has taught before too, at the Harry Fields Beverly Hills Piano Studios. Formerly with Jimmy Grier and Al Gayle, Hal Hidy now manipulates the ivories in the interest of Tex Williams' aggregation. And, true to the teaching premise, he's good.

A Band of Brothers

All seven Lamperellis are in the act. They are, left to right, Vito, tenor sax; Val, alto and baritone sax; Maurice, sax; Alfred, first trumpet and vocals; Albert, trumpet and novelty vocals. In the back row, Frank, slap bass, and Pat on drums.

In New London, Connecticut, at the Cabin Grill, seven brothers hold forth in a single orchestra. They have been playing together now for some eighteen years, having started as children, and except for the break that the service made in their band, have been together ever since. Vito Lamperelli plays tenor saxophone; Val, alto and baritone sax; Maurice, third sax; Alfred, first trumpet and vocals; Albert, second trumpet and novelty vocals; Frank, slap bass; and Pat, drums.

Service Records

Paul "Val" Lamperelli, while in the service, was transferred to a special service platoon in Paris under the 314th and played with the A.S.F. orchestra in Rainbow Corner. He also played with the Second Reinforcement Depot orchestra at the "Casino" in Belgium and for nightly GI dances and daily military marches. He has played at "GI Joe's," a soldier night spot in Brussels and later was with the Third Reinforcement Depot Band in Frankfurt, Germany, playing for USO shows and for GIs returning to the States. Paul plays the tenor and alto saxophone and clarinet.

Frank, serving with the Eighth Armored Division, got in a great deal of service with GI orchestras, playing the slap bass.

Alfred blew his trumpet for four years with the 556th Army Air Force Band and was connected with the Sixth Service Command Unit. He was with both versions of the USO play, "Sound Off." He also played in "Here Is Your Infantry" under the U. S. War Department for broadcasts and rallies throughout the Midwest.

Vito was with the anti-aircraft training command for four years and three months and played with the bands at the Atlanta Ordnance Depot and at Fort Bliss. He plays tenor and alto sax and clarinet.

The other three members of this musical family were playing night spots whenever they could while in service. After the war, gathering the experience they had picked up separately, they again re-formed, and were back in business, and better than ever as a result of the many new ideas that they incorporated. They bought an army surplus truck for transportation when they play local dates other than their own Cabin Grill.

The boys are a self-contained unit, as not only have they played together so long that they know each other's playing completely, but they also arrange their material to suit their various specialties, write their own solos, and put in all sorts of ideas for novelty numbers, which really go over in a big way. They play much soft, slow music, and are proud of being compared with Sammy Kaye, as they have patterned their playing on the type of music that Sammy Kaye has popularized.

Serving their local community of New London, the boys are big favorites in the area, and also draw a large crowd from the local submarine base. They play any kind of dance music and constantly amaze people with their ability to stick together and love it, despite the fact that they are brothers. But the Lamperellis look at it differently. They claim that they are as good as they are only because they are brothers and understand each other.

(f) Parties dealing with the Trustee shall not be required to look to the application of any moneys paid to the Trustee or to ascertain whether the direction, certification or consent to any transaction is required or has been obtained.

(g) The Trustee has consented to act as Trustee hereunder upon the express understanding that the Trustee shall not in any event or under any circumstances be liable for any loss or damage resulting from anything done or omitted in good faith, and further, that this understanding shall not be limited or restricted by any deference to or inference from any general or special provisions herein contained or otherwise.

(h) The Trustee shall be entitled to reimbursement from the property in the hands of the Trustee hereunder for any and all payments of whatsoever nature which the Trustee shall be required to make in the Trustee's fiduciary capacity in respect of such property, and shall have a first lien on such property, for the amount of such payments.

(i) At the end of the calendar year 1951, and thereafter at the end of each successive six (6) months period commencing June 30, 1952, the Trustee, within sixty (60) days following such dates shall furnish statements of the Trustee's operations to each first party hereto making payments to the Trustee, and to the Federation hereinafter referred to. Such statements shall set forth in reasonable detail the operations of the Trustee during the immediately preceding calendar half-year, the properties and moneys on hand, the total receipts from all first parties, the receipts from investments, the other expenditures and disbursements by the Trustee, and such other information and data as may be deemed appropriate by the Trustee to inform fully the recipients of such statements of the transactions of the Trustee during each period. The statements furnished by the Trustee within sixty (60) days following the end of each calendar year shall contain such information both for the immediately preceding calendar half-year and for the immediately preceding full calendar year and shall be certified by an independent accountant of good standing selected by the Trustee. Whenever such statements are furnished, the Trustee shall also furnish to the Federation and to each first party who requests it a statement setting forth the amounts of expenditures by the Trustee in each of the areas set forth in said Area Schedule.

(j) The Trustee, at all times, without limitation to the duration of this agreement, shall keep full and accurate records and accounts concerning all transactions involving the receipt and expenditure of moneys hereunder and the investment and reinvestment of the trust fund, all in convenient form and pursuant to approved and recognized accounting practices.

(k) The Trustee, in his discretion, may administer and expend the trust fund in co-operation and conjunction with other trust funds whose revenues are derived from producers and/or exploiters of films and/or sound tracks and whose objects and purposes are similar to those contained herein, in which event the reports of the Trustee referred to in subdivision (i) above shall relate to such joint administration. The Trustee may deposit and commingle said trust funds and such other funds in the same bank account or accounts provided that such administration and expenditure shall otherwise be in accordance with the terms and conditions herein contained.

(l) The Trustee generally may do all such acts, take all such proceedings, and exercise all such rights and privileges, not inconsistent with any specific provision to the contrary herein contained, although not specifically mentioned, with relation to such trust fund and the administration thereof, as might be done or exercised by an individual having absolute ownership of the same in his own right, and in connection therewith, may employ agents and attorneys and to enter into any covenants or agreements binding the trust estate.

5. The compensation of the Trustee shall be as set forth in Schedule "A" hereto attached, and shall be paid out of the funds and property in the hands of the Trustee.

6. (a) The Trustee may communicate the Trustee's intention to resign at any time by executing a written resignation acknowledged in like manner as a conveyance of real property entitled to record in the State of New York, and by filing such resignation with any first party hereto and simultaneously sending a copy thereof to the Federation hereinafter referred to and to those of the other first parties hereto who have made a payment to the Trustee on the payment date next preceding the date of such resignation. A successor Trustee shall thereupon be designated by the Secretary of Labor of the United States. Upon appointment of such successor Trustee, and the acceptance by such successor Trustee of the duties of Trustee herein provided, such resignation of the resigning Trustee and such appointment of the successor Trustee shall become effective. Such designation and appointment shall operate in like manner as though such successor Trustee were named herein. Each successor Trustee shall have like rights, powers and duties as those given to the Trustee hereinabove.

(b) In the event of the death or disability of the Trustee, a successor Trustee shall be appointed in the manner designated in subsection "(a)" of this paragraph "6."

(c) No Trustee under this agreement shall be a representative of labor, or of any union, or of employees within the meaning of Section 302(b) of the Labor Management Relations Act, 1947. In the event that such Act is repealed, amended or otherwise changed so as to permit the substitution of the following provision in place of the second sentence of subsection "(a)" of this paragraph "6," then the following shall be so substituted:

"The then President of the Federation, hereinafter referred to, upon notice in writing, communicated to each first party at its last known address, and to the Trustee, may designate a successor Trustee and successors to such successor Trustee. In such event, the then incumbent Trustee shall forthwith submit his resignation as such, if he has not already done so, and shall forthwith deliver to the successor Trustee so designated, all funds, books, records, and other data relating to the trust fund and the administration thereof. The conduct of any Trustee so designated shall be at all times in accordance with the terms and conditions of this agreement."

7. Any person, firm, corporation, association or other entity engaged in or desiring to engage in a business similar to that of the first party, may apply to become an additional first party to this agreement by executing and delivering to the Trustee, at the Trustee's office in the City of New York, two (2) counterparts of Exhibit "1" hereto attached. The Trustee shall indicate acceptance of such application by appropriately completing such application, executing such two (2) counterparts at the said New York office of the Trustee, and delivering one (1) such counterpart to such additional first party at the Trustee's said New York office. The Trustee shall forthwith advise all other first parties and the American Federation of Musicians (hereinafter called the "Federation") of the execution and delivery of such agreement.

8. This agreement and the trust created hereunder shall be governed, construed and regulated in all respects by the laws of the State of New York.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, each first party above named has hereunto set his name and seal, or has caused these presents to be executed by its duly authorized officer or officers and its corporate seal affixed thereto, and the Trustee has hereto affixed his hand and seal.

dent Petrillo and International Executive Board."

JOHN TE GROEN,

President, Local 47, A. F. of M.

Chicago, Illinois

March 13, 1951

James C. Petrillo,
President, A. F. of M.,
570 Lexington Avenue,
New York, N. Y.

The Board of Directors of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, Local 10, leaves the entire question of settlement re: chain radio broadcasting in the city of Chicago in the hands of President Petrillo and the International Executive Board with full power to act.

EDWARD A. BENKERT,
Secretary, Local 10, A. F. of M.

These locals had participated in the negotiations with President Petrillo. The subject matter is thoroughly discussed and it is decided to issue the following order:

"For the past several weeks, the radio and television networks, the New York, Chicago and Los Angeles Locals, and James C. Petrillo and others representing the International Office of Musicians of the United States and Canada, have met in almost continuous joint sessions to negotiate collective bargaining agreements. These negotiations failed to result in agreement. On March 7, 1951, Local 802 announced strike action against those networks, subject to approval by the Federation, and Local 47 on March 12, 1951, authorized the Federation to take such action in the premises as it might deem necessary and appropriate.

"The Board met on March 10 and 13, 1951, when it was apprised of the events leading up to the announcement of such action by the locals. After full discussion, consideration and deliberation, the President and the Executive Board found that the issues raised by the proposals, negotiations, and action of Locals 47 and 802 transcend the immediate interests of the members of those locals and may jeopardize and be detrimental to the interests of all other locals and members of the Federation and of the Federation itself.

"Based upon such finding, the President and the International Executive Board have decided that it is necessary that the President, acting on behalf of the entire membership of the Federation and on behalf of the Executive Board, be authorized to conclude agreements with the radio and television networks for Locals 47 and 802.

"In taking such action, the President and the members of the Executive Board take this opportunity to reiterate what is, perhaps, obvious. The President and the Executive Board are the duly constituted representatives of all locals and all members of this International Federation. Theirs is the custody of the welfare of all members. Theirs is the responsibility for achieving, within their human limitations and the exigencies of the moment, the security, hopes and aspirations of all members. Theirs is the task of molding the desires of individual locals and members to the pattern of the greatest good for the greatest number.

"Their is the obligation to subordinate immediate wishes, however passionate, justified and well-founded, to the accomplishment of future objectives. Theirs is the duty to protect the Federation, its locals and its members from injury even when the threat be of danger self-inflicted. Theirs is the power and authority derived from the Constitution and By-Laws of the Federation to promulgate the following:

"WHEREAS, After extended negotiations with American Broadcasting Company, Columbia Broadcasting System, National Broadcasting Company and Station WOR, relative to local conditions of employment of musicians in radio and television in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles, agreements have not been reached;

"WHEREAS, LOCAL 802 has announced strike action against such employers subject to Federation approval and Local 47 has authorized the Federation to take necessary and appropriate action in the premises;

"WHEREAS, It is the judgment of the President and the members of the International Executive Board of the American Federation of Musicians of the United States and Canada that an emergency exists and it is the policy of the Federation that these negotiations be concluded in a manner which will avoid detrimental consequences;

"Now, THEREFORE, Pursuant to authority vested in them by the Constitution and By-Laws of the said Federation, it is hereby by said President and International Executive Board, jointly and severally ORDERED, that immediately upon the issuance hereof, the said President proceed to negotiate an agreement with the employers aforesaid governing the local conditions of employment of members of the Federation in the radio and television fields in New York and Los Angeles, any agreement reached as a result of such negotiations to have the force and effect of an agreement directly entered into by such Locals; with such employers; and it is further

"ORDERED, That no strike shall be instituted by any local against said employers in connection with the present controversy until further order of the said President; and it is further

"ORDERED, That the said President be and he hereby is vested with full authority to take any and all action necessary and appropriate to effectuate the purpose and intent of this Order; and it is further

"ORDERED, That the text of this Order shall be communicated to Locals 47 and 802 and shall be printed in the next issue of the "International Musician"; and it is further "ORDERED, That this Order shall become effective March 13, 1951, at 3:00 P. M.

"Dated: New York, N. Y., March 13, 1951.

HARRY J. STROHMAN—

On March 4th, Harry J. Strohmman, first president of the Musicians Protective Association, Local 750, of Lebanon, Pennsylvania, passed away at his home. He was seventy-six years of age.

Mr. Strohmman, through his long life, contributed generously to the musical knowledge of Lebanon County. For years he was a well-known band leader and used the West Lebanon Band as a musical training organization. In 1912, when he first formed the band, he used three of his sons for the nucleus of the organization—Horace, Arthur and Allen. Mr. Strohmman also developed his other sons—H.

Herbert, Mark, Forrest, Stephen and Bert into outstanding musicians.

Mr. Strohmman's qualities of leadership, his abilities as an organizer, and his love for the best in music and musicians will continue for a long time to have an effect on all the musical organizations in Lebanon County.

ALBERT L. PETERSON—

Albert L. Peterson passed away on February 25th at the Osteopathic Hospital in Davenport, Iowa, at the age of 85. Mr. Peterson had been a charter member of the Tri City Musical Society, Local 67, and past president.

Starting more than a half-century ago, Mr. Peterson had devoted his life to music—teaching, playing and directing. He not only played baritone horn, trumpet and violin; directed park concerts for almost twenty years at Black Hawk Watch Tower and Davenport parks; organized the first St. Ambrose college orchestra; but also taught four of his children to be very capable musicians.

With the passing of Mr. Peterson, Davenport and music have lost one of their best-loved musicians.

HARRY D. FELTY—

Harry D. Felty, a charter member of Local 750, Lebanon, Pennsylvania, passed away at his home on March 1st. Mr. Felty had been one of the moving forces in the organization of his local, and several years ago served as president. At one time he led the Lebanon Orioles Band which played in Buffalo and Boston, winning national honors. Mr. Felty had been a trombonist and active musically throughout his life.

HENRY W. ARMSTRONG—

Henry W. Armstrong died in his home in the Bronx on March 1st after a long illness. He was seventy-one years old. Mr. Armstrong will be remembered most vividly as the composer of the music for "Sweet Adeline." He wrote the music originally in 1896, when he was seventeen, but it was not until 1903, after many changes in the lyrics, that the song was finally published. It was another two years before the song began to attain the popularity that it has had ever since. "Sweet Adeline" has probably been sung by more quartets than any other song during the almost fifty years since its publication and, although Mr. Armstrong sold his share of the rights soon after publication for $1,000, royalties not included in the sale had netted him around $75,000 by 1946.

(they say)

Years ago, trumpet players tried to strengthen their lower lips for increased range by slipping on a curved metal plate and affixing weights to be lifted and lowered by lip movement. What they really needed was an extra range Martin!

Today, some trumpet players avoid irritation that could affect their range and playing by not shaving the lower lip. Others with especially sensitive skin do not shave either the lower or upper lip. But whether you shave your lips or not, you'll get the utmost in free and easy blowing with a new Martin trumpet!

On the advice of their teachers, some students carry their mouthpiece with them at all times, and practice whenever the opportunity presents itself. Once they got the feel of a Martin, they'd want to take along the trumpet, too!

QUICKEST, SUREST WAY -

FOR EXTRA RANGE, complete confidence in the high register, top trumpet stylists of the nation depend on Martin... the extra range trumpet. It's acoustically designed to make those "highs" a part of your normal playing range. That's why students as well as professionals choose the easy-playing Martin trumpet with exclusive Micro-magic valves. IT'S HIGH TIME YOU TRIED A MARTIN, TOO!
