Seventy-Fifth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians

For the first time in its history, the American Federation of Musicians held its convention in Honolulu, a city which offers an exotic blend of American, Polynesian and Oriental cultures and which was seemingly created for human enjoyment. But little time was available for viewing the city's many impressive landmarks as the 982 delegates faced a full, four-day agenda, with the primary order of business, the examination of the organization's financial structure.

Registration of the delegates consumed most of Sunday and Monday morning. Also on Sunday, delegates and their guests enjoyed a social evening at the Sheraton-Waikiki Hotel's Grand Ballroom. As the host, Local 677 can take a well deserved bow for such excellent programming. From 7:30 P.M. until midnight, entertainment was supplied by some of Hawaii's outstanding performers, including the Society of Seven, Melveen Leed, Tavana's Polynesian Revue, Liz Damon's Orient Express and Ray Tanaka's Esquires.

Appropriately, for one hour before President Hal Davis called the seventy-fifth annual convention to order at precisely 2:00 P.M. on June 19, the Grand Ballroom resounded to the music of Local 677's Concert Band conducted by Jack DeMello. This ensemble also played the national anthems of the United States and Canada as well as the Hawaiian state anthem, "Hawaii Pono," all sung by Charles K. L. Davis. Following this Reverend Dr. Abraham K. Akaka, Pastor of the Kawaihoa Church, delivered the invocation.

Before getting into the business at hand, Local 677 committee members distributed leis, symbolizing Hawaii's spirit of aloha, to the assembled officers, delegates and guests as Bill Lincoln and his Hawaiians provided some musical accompaniment.

A round of applause was accorded temporary convention chairman I. B. (Buddy) Peterson, President of Local 677, as he stepped to the microphone to officially extend a warm welcome to the delegates. He stated that Local 677 had worked hard during the past year preparing for this convention and acknowledged the efforts of all persons connected with the diversified program.

The Lt. Governor of the State of Hawaii, George R. Ariyoshi, filling in for Governor John A. Burns, who was unable to be personally present because of pressing official business, brought the welcoming message of the Governor.

Other speakers on the opening day were David McClung, President of the Senate of the State of Hawaii; Walter H. Kupau, President of the Hawaii State Federation of Labor; and Bud Kaye, Executive Secretary of the Hawaii State Federation of Labor.

An ovation greeted the return appearance of President Davis as he came forward to receive the gavel and take over as presiding officer of the convention. His keynote address was devoted to a retrospective account of the Federation's activities and progress as well as a look into the problems and prospects which lie ahead.

The geographic base of musicians' employment in the manufacture of phonograph recordings and tapes is becoming broader due to the growing decentralization of electronics, President Davis told the delegates. On the bargaining front,

I. B. (Buddy) Peterson (center), President of Local 677, presented a resolution to Frank F. Fasi, Mayor of the City and County of Honolulu, commending him for his efforts on behalf of good music and the professional musicians of Hawaii. President Hal Davis also expressed the Federation's appreciation for his outstanding efforts in this matter.

Benjamin Arellano (left), a delegate from Local 41, Johnstown, Pennsylvania, presented a plaque to Hal Davis on behalf of the Pennsylvania Unit of the National Association of Jazz Educators for the Federation's continued support to this organization.

Local 677's Convention Committee did an excellent job in making the A. F. of M. delegates' stay in Honolulu a most pleasant experience. Left to right: General Chairman John E. K. Akaka, Vice President, I. B. (Buddy) Peterson, President; "Sis" Peterson, Assistant to the President; Lilly Duarte, Executive Secretary; and Ray N. Tanaka, Secretary-Treasurer.

the A. F. of M. is committed to negotiating short-term contracts designed to stimulate and revitalize job opportunities for musicians and to keep abreast of the economic picture. Recent agreements in both the phonograph recording and motion picture industries have moved toward that aim.

President Davis next recounted the triumph scored in the fight against piracy of recordings and tapes. Bill S646, signed into law late last year by President Nixon, grants recording companies "limited" copyright, protecting the manufacturer's original product from any and all unauthorized duplication, but no right to collect performance royalties. Such pirating is now subject to criminal prosecution, with severe penalties enforced. While this is a stride forward, President Davis stated that the Federation's complete objective in this area will not be realized until performer's rights are also obtained and pledged continued effort in this regard.

He also hailed the legislative victories achieved through the hard work and efforts of musicians in Connecticut and Rhode Island against taxes on amusements in these states, warning the delegates that they must be constantly vigilant to guard against this type of repressive taxation. In Indiana, a state law, already passed, would have required all teachers to be licensed by the state and to be bonded for $25,000 each. In addition, provisions of the law would have permitted representatives of the state government to inspect teachers' homes and to force upon them various types of insurance coverage. Here again musicians of that state worked unrelentingly to have this bill amended so that teachers of music are not affected.

A particular source of satisfaction for President Davis was the fact that the fiscal year of 1971 had been a banner year for the Music Performance Trust Funds of the Recording Industries, and this will be reflected in expanded allocations to support live musical programs in communities throughout the nation. Revenue to the Special Payments Fund has also increased. This means, come September, checks distributing $7 million will be received by 26,000 to 30,000 A. F. of M. members who have participated in recording sessions.

In addition, monthly benefits in the AFM-EPW Fund have increased in excess of 21 per cent. The plan previously provided for a monthly pension of $1.40 for each $100 contributed on behalf of the musician. Since March 1 of this year this rate has been increased to $1.70. (Musicians, who have already retired without a past service benefit, have had their monthly pensions increased by 10 per cent.) If a musician is past fifty-five years of age and qualifies for a monthly pension, but dies before he retires, his beneficiary will now receive 170 per cent of the amount in his account, rather than the former 126 per cent. A musician who retires before age sixty and then goes back to work can now earn up to $6,000 before his monthly pension will be stopped. For those musicians over sixty years of age an unlimited amount of money can be earned without having any affect on their pensions.

President Davis also emphasized the importance of the orientation program, an audiovisual presentation of about 25 minutes in length used to give new applicants vital information about the Federation. He was pleased to announce the program had received the overwhelming support from a majority of the locals.

In closing, President Davis touched briefly on the financial condition of the Federation. He thanked the fifteen members who were appointed to serve on the special Finance Review Committee for their laborious and diligent work and urged the delegates to give full and careful consideration in the next days to the proposals which would assure the Federation sufficient and adequate resources for the next decade.

Next Benjamin Arellano, a delegate from Local 41, Johnstown, Pennsylvania, presented a plaque to the Federation on behalf of the Pennsylvania Unit of the National Association of Jazz Educators for its continued support to this organization.

The delegates also heard interesting remarks from Kenneth Raine, Trustee of the Music Performance Trust Funds of the Recording Industries, before the adjournment of this session.

SECOND DAY

Two musical groups, one under the leadership of Julian Porritt and the other under Gary Grant entertained the delegates for an hour prior to the opening of this session.

At the onset of this day, Buddy Peterson was granted permission to present a resolution to Frank F. Fasi, Mayor of the City and County of Honolulu, commending him for his efforts on behalf of good music and the professional musicians of Hawaii. The mayor was then introduced to the delegates who gave him a warm welcome.

The traditional memorial service for delegates who died in the last year was presided over by Vice President Victor Fuentealba. A string ensemble conducted by Robert LaMarchina, music director and conductor of the Honolulu Symphony Orchestra, rendered suitable music for the occasion. J. Alan Wood, Vice President from Canada, delivered a moving eulogy for Canadian Executive Officer Emeritus, Walter M. Murdoch, who passed away on April 11. The delegates were also asked to remember the musicians on the USS Arizona who went down with the ship in Pearl Harbor in 1941.

The arrival on the platform of Duke Ellington was the signal for much picture taking and hand clapping. President Davis presented the noted pianist-composer with a gold life membership card in the Federation "for his lasting contributions to human understanding through fine music." In accepting the award, Ellington expressed appreciation for this high honor. Steven James, his traveling companion, was also introduced at this juncture.

A rousing round of applause again rocked the auditorium as President Emeritus James C. Petrillo, who now heads the Federation's Civil Rights Department, came forward to give his report to the convention. He stated that he had visited, along with Presidential Assistant E. V. Lewis, all of the merged locals during the past year and was happy to announce they found no evidence whatsoever of discrimination because of race. He further pointed out that not one letter had been received from a member at the President's office in answer to Resolution No. 10. However, he recommended that the Civil Rights Department perpetuate as a

THIRD DAY

An hour long performance by a Dixieland band fronted by Trummy Young preceded the appearance of Daniel Inouye, United States Senator from the State of Hawaii. Senator Inouye, an honorary life member of Local 677, spoke on the disturbing disenchantment of American youth who have expressed the desire to leave this country. "America is not a sick nation; America is an aggressive nation confronting its problems," he told the delegates. "We have too often emphasized what's wrong with America and paid too scant attention to our achievements. We have too often dwelt on our failures and have failed to acknowledge our successes. It is time," he declared, "we speak up for America." (The complete text of Senator Inouye's address may be found in the official proceedings of the convention, printed in this issue.)

For the major part of the third session, the convention came to grips with the matter of obtaining additional revenue to keep the Federation on a sound economic basis. There were lively discussions and vigorous debate on the various recommendations offered by the Finance Review Committee. The delegates worked until late in the evening and through the democratic process approved a boost in initiation fees, but voted to continue the annual convention and to retain the present per capita tax paid by affiliated locals to the Federation. To achieve this decision, two roll call votes were requested. This cumbersome process enables each local to vote its total membership strength.

(Actions on all resolutions appear in this issue.)

FOURTH DAY

The closing session of the convention was called to order at 9:30 A. M. and drove without pause to an early 1:30 P.M. adjournment.

Before continuing with law-making procedures, Ka'ipolani Butterworth and her Polynesian Revue provided entertainment.

The delegates cheered the permanent function of the Federation in order to protect the interests of all concerned.

The next order of business was the nomination of officers. President Davis, Vice President from Canada J. Alan Wood and Secretary-Treasurer Stanley Ballard were named without opposition to succeed themselves. The two nominations for Vice President were incumbent Victor Fuentealba (Baltimore) and Gilbert Rogers (Colorado Springs, Colorado). Nominated for seats on the International Executive Board were John V. Tranchitella (Los Angeles), J. Martin Emerson (Washington, D. C.), Max Arons (New York City), David Winstein (New Orleans), A. A. Tomei (Philadelphia), Pat Sciarappa (Asbury Park, New Jersey), Hughey Webb (St. Louis, Missouri), Tony Granata (Cleveland), Bert R. Ryan (San Diego), and Eldon P. Motz (Akron, Ohio).

Later in the afternoon President Davis cited the progress of the Partnership for the Arts, headed by Amyas Ames, which is appealing for expanded Federal support for the arts. The organization is seeking and hopefully Congress will give a grant of $100 million to the arts in 1974, $150 million in 1975 and $200 million in 1976. "This is little enough to appropriate for the continuance of the cultural growth of our nation," President Davis stated. After a few brief remarks from the floor, the convention went on record in support of the program for proper funding for the arts as instituted by the Partnership for the Arts.

election results of the secret balloting which returned all incumbent officers and board members to their respective posts for the ensuing year.

Toronto was ratified as the site of next year's convention, with Los Angeles and Puerto Rico contenders for 1974.

During the work-packed session it was announced that contributions to AFM-TEMPO-PCC accepted at this convention totaled $5,169.50.

As the final act of the day, the officers of host Local 677, led by Buddy Peterson, Johnny Akaka, and Ray Tanaka, were invited to the dais where President Davis on behalf of the entire convention expressed appreciation for their warm hospitality and excellent music program.

New Laws and Changes

The following actions were taken by the 1972 Convention in Honolulu, Hawaii. Those which constitute new laws or changes in the Constitution and By-Laws will become effective September 15, 1972, unless otherwise specified. Members are directed to govern themselves accordingly.

Section 17 of Article 17 was amended so that a traveling orchestra may, while fulfilling a steady engagement in the jurisdiction of a local, solicit and contract another "steady" engagement etc. (The change here is that the word, "steady," is used in lieu of the word, "traveling.")

Article 18, Section 8, of the By-Laws was amended so that the first sentence will read as follows:

"Members shall not solicit nor accept a casual, miscellaneous or steady theatre show or engagement in another jurisdiction without the consent of the local in whose jurisdiction the theatre or show is situated." (The balance of the section remains as is.)

A Resolution was adopted that the President appoint a committee to review the present Orientation Program and to recommend any changes or additions to keep it updated and to further recommend other similar audio-visual programs.

Article 25, Section 13, of the By-Laws was amended by adding the following:

"In addition, a local may require any Booking Agent who maintains an office in its jurisdiction to furnish the local with a monthly report listing engagements within the local's jurisdiction."

Article 16, Section 28, of the By-Laws was amended to provide that this section shall apply to all traveling shows, whether single or weekly engagements.

Article 11 of the By-Laws was amended by the addition of Section 12 which will read as follows:

"Local secretaries shall transmit to the office of the President of the Federation a copy of any changes of their local's Constitution and By-Laws within thirty days of adoption."

Article 16, Section 1A, of the By-Laws was amended so that the entire second sentence of the current Law has been deleted and in its place, the following has been inserted:

"Otherwise (when the local does not have such a law) such leader or individual member performing alone shall either file his contract with the local prior to the engagement or file a written statement with the local prior to the engagement, either of which will reflect his home address and must fully explain the conditions under which the engagement is to be played, the compensation to be received for the engagement which must include transportation costs as defined in Article 19, Section 1, the hours of the engagement, the names of the members who will play same and the locals to which they belong and their respective Social Security or Social Insurance numbers, whichever is applicable.

"If an engagement is booked by a signatory agent, said booking agent shall be equally responsible with the leader for the filing of contract or written statement as aforementioned prior to the opening of the engagement. Failure on the part of the signatory agent to fulfill this obligation shall be considered a breach of his agreement with the Federation and will be treated as such by the International President."

Section 19 of Article 16 was amended so that it will read as follows:

"Members of the Federation who accept engagements for bands or orchestras must in person sign their contracts for same, unless a Power-of-Attorney to persons approved by the Federation and on the approved Federation form has been filed with the President's office. They are responsible for the fulfilling of the contract under union conditions. The contract must be submitted to the local union for inspection in accordance with the rules of the Federation. If the engagement is postponed or cancelled, the leader or agent shall notify the local immediately. All payments for the engagement, except advance deposits in a minimum amount of 30 per cent of the contract price, must be made to the member who furnishes the orchestra and not to the agent. If no provision is made in the contract for payment of the aforementioned deposit, the agent shall have the right to insert a clause in the contract providing for the payment of his commission directly to him by the employer at the same time that the musicians are paid. However, if an agent elects to receive payment of the commission directly from the employer as aforesaid, he waives all rights that he might have had under these By-Laws for assistance by the Federation in collecting his commission. Members of the orchestra must be paid by the leader of the band or orchestra and not by the agent. All agents who go into collusion with members to defeat the object of this or any other law of the Federation shall be held as unfair to it by the Federation and thereafter members cannot accept engagements from or through them."

Article 16, Section 20, of the By-Laws was amended so that it will read as follows:

"Leaders or their agents are prohibited from furnishing singers, dancers or other entertainers as an integral part of a group unless such entertainers receive at least the minimum Federation or local scale, whichever is applicable. The said entertainers shall not be considered to be part of any minimum requirement for the employment of musicians."

Article 17, Section 2, of the

By-Laws was amended so that it will now read as follows:

The convention again adopted a Resolution unanimously endorsing the National Health Security Bill (H.R. 22 and S. 3) which has been before Congress. This Bill will provide comprehensive medical benefits to all Americans. A copy of this Resolution has again been

Chicago

Chicago, the seven-piece band from that city in mid-America, is a product of the media explosion and our exposure to the multiple sources of the national musical tradition.

It is no accident, therefore, that the group mingles jazz, country, rhythm and blues, the so-called "serious" sounds of the concert hall, with rock at the bottom of it all. Today's musicians, who grew up to the rhythms of rock, extract on an increasing scale what they want from various areas of music.

Chicago and bands like it indicate what is possible in pop music beyond the roar and rhythm and over-amplification of today's rock band. The unit's success, in addition, provides testimony that young listeners are not quite as callow as some might surmise.

What is it about Chicago? Why does it enjoy rising fortune? Foremost, its ability to interest and hold an audience, both musically and physically. (High level of musicianship makes this possible). Second and almost as important — its great energy and enthusiasm.

"Chicago keeps getting better and better," critic Don Heckman asserts. "The band has retained a sense of joy in the act of making music that is obviously communicated to its audiences."

Moreover, the band doesn't try to bludgeon you to death though, by any measure, it's a loud bunch. There's unity of conception. Also thought and invention in solos and performance and placement of ensemble passages. Planning and spontaneous excitement move hand in hand. One might occasionally wish for better intonation and a bit more precision, but the good feeling created by the group all but negates one's reservations and need to make modifications.

At the beginning of the mid-1960s, the unit that would first be known as Chicago Transit Authority was a dance and lounge band that played a variety of jobs in the Windy City and through the Midwest. Then called "The Big Thing," seemingly because the moniker suggested its music had special qualities, the group began to move toward its current format, in which idioms are mixed in a variety of ways.

Until James William Guericco came along, however, Chicago lacked not only a distinctive name but a sense of the future and a consistent source of encouragement. Guericco provided these plus a situation that would allow the band to grow and come to the attention of the public. The first thing Guericco did was move the ensemble to Los Angeles, find them living quarters and a place to rehearse. Then he told them not to worry about anything but music.

Every day the band rehearsed. It played local one-nighters, frequently at the Whiskey A Go-Go on Hollywood's Sunset Strip. Things began falling into place. A recording seemed quite inevitable. Chicago had style and distinction. All it needed was exposure.

Guerico realized this. It was not the first time he had taken a group in hand. Though at one time a bassist on the pop scene, he had made his reputation as one who finds, develops and records promising talent.

The first important step to Chicago, so to speak, took place when Guericco successfully recorded a rock group, The Buckingham's, with horns and strings. So aptly were the instruments integrated into the rock context on the album, Time and Charges, that impetus was provided for the formation of other ambitious bands of this kind.

More about Chicago. It got that recording contract — with Columbia. The company made a good investment. Seldom has the band been off the best-selling charts since its first album came out a few years ago. Guericco produced that and subsequent sets.

Let's go back a bit. How did it all begin? The way it usually does. Musicians dig one another and want to work together. Several members of the group first got together at DePaul University in Chicago. It's time we met them and the other members of the group.

Trombonist Jim Pankow (twenty-five) who studied at DePaul and Quincy College,

Just Listen

The grapevine is doing a great job. We've been selling the amps we make without blowing our own horn. Although originally built to complement the quality of RMI Keyboard instruments, no frills — just great sound, other musicians discovered them. "So why should we keep them secret?," we asked ourselves.

There are two great Amps: the Big 140A with twin 15" speakers and the smaller 140S with one 15" low-midrange speaker. They both have two high frequency drivers, the unique RMI high range power which produces fantastic brilliance. The RMI Razor adds even more! Piggyback design and completely solid state, RMI Amps use only the finest components for reliable, clean and undistorted sound.

By Martha Sanders Gilmore

FESTIVAL

Newport-New York, George Wein's most ambitious undertaking yet, was an exhaustive

yet exhilarating nine-day jazz marathon which traced the idiom from its gospel and blues roots to Dixieland and on to the most contemporary interpretations of the art.

The Big Apple swung wide its doors to some twenty-seven events with upwards of 600 musicians of all ages who played for some 100,000 fans over and beyond the traditional July 4th. Eubie Blake took high honors at eighty-nine. And instead of the young, Promethean campers on the hillsides, the festival was met by a somewhat older and better-informed audience which was there specifically for musical reasons.

It was a festival of standing ovations. Fascinating seminars sponsored by the Institute of Jazz Studies at Rutgers University intellectualized the mornings, after which a genuinely enthusiastic crowd, hungry for the music, rushed up and down the avenues of Midtown Manhattan to attend concerts. Back and forth they went from Carnegie Hall to Philharmonic Hall in the majestic Lincoln Center, then eastward a few blocks to Radio City, further downtown to the midnight dance at the Commodore, down to the Battery for a Hudson River boat ride on the Staten Island Ferry, and on across to Brooklyn for a Heritage Street Fair.

The wonderfully bright acoustics of Carnegie Hall enhanced the performance of the Modern Jazz Quartet that first afternoon. Their musical voicings fit together as neatly as packed sardines.

Saxophonist Stan Getz, who spearheaded the bossa nova craze in the 1960s, displayed an ability to swing an attractive choice of material. At his right was the phenomenal percussionist Airto Moreira who was ubiquitous at the festival. Twenty-one-year-old Stanley Clarke provided proper punctuation and has a promising career ahead of him, but vibist and guest star Gary Burton was the one we were waiting for. Burton, who joined Getz at the age of seventeen for three years, is superb on his instrument.

The sextet of Pharaoh Sanders provided an expressionistic departure and included a musician who opened and shut an organ as though it were Pandora's box.

Up the street at Lincoln Center, the Giants of Jazz were understandably sold out to an enlightened audience of all ages, as was the case at most of the festival's concerts. Featuring musical lights who had played together in the 1940s, the concert was steeped in tradition and soared in musicianship.

Connoisseur Concerts which brought in some of the more experimental and esoteric groups were informally pleasant and contained some of the best music of the entire festival.

The JPJ Quartet of Johnson, Pemberton, Jackson and Jones proved a bright, bustling group.

Then, Mary Lou Williams, announced as the "queen of jazz from whom all blessings flow," played her keyboard combination of ragtime, blues, swing, and boogie in a set heavy on blues, chords, and rhythm.

But the highlight of the afternoon was the performance by Cecil Taylor in a 45-minute non-stop solo of "Spirit of the Ram."

Rahsaan Roland Kirk emerged like an ocean creature bestrewn with a seaweed of instruments on which he played beautifully, swingingly, always able to achieve a full, round tone. Breathing invisibly, inaudibly, Kirk held notes inordinately as he rocked back and forth with his hot group, playing three instruments at once.

Sunday night's Swing Lives was dedicated to the late Jimmy Rushing and featured the fabulous alto saxophonist, Benny Carter, and the Swing Masters with guest star Joe Williams. It was one of the most joyful evenings of the entire nine, recapturing the spirit of swing in the 1930s. A galaxy of greats included Count Basie and his orchestra and vocalist Maxine Sullivan who was serene and cool against the piano of Teddy Wilson.

Meanwhile over at Philharmonic Hall the TV bands of a new dynamic for music

Introduced only recently, this revolutionary new slide reference for theory and harmony has already found its way into colleges and universities, symphony orchestras, rock groups, chamber ensembles...is being used by students, teachers, serious amateurs, working professionals...by composers and arrangers...by musicians in every category who recognize that the learning process never ends. In fact, it begins anew with the Musigraph. This truly ingenious, slide-rule type device answers hundreds of questions—almost any question you can think of—with consistent musical accuracy. Some of the subject matter covered includes key and signature, intervals, inversions, construction of chords from triads to 13ths, all major and minor scales and modes—including Lydian, Ionian, Mixolydian, Dorian, Aeolian, Phrygian, Locrian, melodic and harmonic minor—root relationships, harmonic function, transposition (including all instrumental transposition), major, minor and chromatic harmony, chord substitution, embellishment, modulation and much more. The Musigraph indexes over 100 harmonizations for any melody note. It strips the mystery from musical acoustics—graphically displaying the harmonic overtone series on any root, plus the vibration frequency ratios of all intervals. Bobby Rosengarten and Billy Taylor plus the Jones-Lewis Orchestra led to some interesting comparisons. The polish and sheen and pure musicality of the Bobby Rosengarten Band was overwhelming while Taylor's band was somewhat looser, more fancy free and percussive. The Jones-Lewis Orchestra, just back from Russia, was privileged to have Roland Hanna on piano whose attack was muscular with some touches of ragtime and Garner.

And climaxing Swing Day was a midnight dance to the orchestras of Basie and Sy Oliver playing the music of Jimmie Lunceford in the huge ballroom of the Commodore Hotel. It seemed like the swinging 1930s rather than the sizzling 1970s and nostalgia ran high.

On Monday afternoon alto saxophonist Lee Konitz led fans down experimental trails. Konitz employed the twelve-tone row principle in "Twelve-Tone Rose," academically yet artistically. Then Ruth Brisbane reincarnated Bessie Smith vocally in tunes associated with the late blues singer.

Award-winning pianist Bill Evans played the best set I have ever heard him play in the late afternoon.

The Elvin Jones Quintet was vitally contemporary, Jones having led his own combo since 1966. The fusion of jazz and rock was seen in Chase who played fugal jazz riffs over a hard rock foundation and featured five trumpets.

Monday night was Stan and Woody's night and was sold out. The Kenton and Herman bands outdid themselves in displaying their contrasting musical wares. While the Kenton Band was textural and coloristic, the Herman Band swung like sixty in straight-ahead no-nonsense jazz.

The total jazz experience which was Newport-New York this year would have been lacking without a couple of midnight sessions which lined jazzmen up like Rockettes in Radio City Music Hall. Because of his enthusiasm, Roland Kirk was irrepressible, but the sound system didn't pick up well at the first session. High accolades, however, go to Sonny Stitt, Dexter Gordon, Larry Ridley, Dizzy Gillespie, Flip Phillips, and Charlie Mingus. They played until 3:00 A.M.!

What better way to spend a July 4th than chugging along the Hudson on the Staten Island Ferry to the fine sounds of Kid Thomas' Preservation Hall Jazz Band and Pappa French and the Original Tuxedo Jazz Band. These old-timers blew their happy notes right past the Brooklyn Bridge and Statue of Liberty and folks were dancing in the aisles.

Saxophonist Sonny Rollins conveyed supreme musicianship on Tuesday afternoon. Pianist McCoy Tyner was next, scrambling up and down the keys in his unique style, then playing a penny whistle.

The evening of geniuses presented bassist Charlie Mingus, in excellent form and humor and his old imaginative self. The music was magnificent, moving laterally with a propulsive rhythmic drive achieved via Mingus' plucking and the lyricism and wit that are his trademark.

Rainy Wednesday didn't dampen spirits. A 1:00 P.M. concert traced jazz from its rag roots with Eubie Blake to the funky swing of guitarist Kenny Burrell to the contemporary sound of the Herbie Hancock sextet.

Salty Eddie Condon played emcee. His gang featured clarinetist Barney Bigard among others. Then the World's Greatest Jazz Band performed.

Grabbing a cab to hear Charlie Byrd create a light and pleasant contrast to the heavies at Philharmonic Hall was well worth the rush.

American Airlines Tribute to Lionel Hampton followed with a high-hat full of luminaries. Lionel's vibes sparkled as he emitted happy vibrations in traditional tunes. The audience loved it, clapping along in time to Teddy Wilson, Gene Krupa, Milt Buckner, Dexter Gordon and Roy Eldridge.

Thursday's Sacred Concert was an enormous success which warmed everyone's heart. Dizzy Gillespie and the New York Choir of John Motley came together both spiritually and musically.

It was nigh impossible to take one's eyes off percussionist Airto Moreira who played with Cannonball Adderley. Airto's motions are intriguing. Cannonball swung mightily while brother Nat received high marks on cornet.

Oscar Peterson dazzled the crowd in a solo performance that spun out his technical competence into an intricate web. He interjected some stride piano at such a furious pace in "Mack the Knife" that it was incredible. On the same bill, the Mahavishnu Orchestra of John McLaughlin was flanked by a staggering battery of amplifiers. Although loud, McLaughlin's music is cerebral and convincing, embodying tinges of Eastern spirituality, classicism, rock, and a bit of jazz.

Up the New York sidewalks to Lincoln Center one was met by the Olympia Brass Band parading around the plaza fountain, re-enacting a funeral parade that wasn't in the least mournful. They were full of sporting fun and got feet tapping indoors in an evening of New Orleans Jazz with the Preservation Hall Band and the Original Dixieland Band.

Friday afternoon's concert, "Interesting Directions," was just that. Weather Report gathered electricity from lightning and drove it through a tangle of wires and rhythm in "Directions" by leader Joe Zawinul. But the Tony Williams Lifetime was dominated by a vocalist who dipped and writhed like a fury and it was finally nice to get into the symmetry and spontaneity of drummer Roy Haynes. Then the Archie Shepp collage evoked Africa in new, organic music that spiralled far and wide.

Producer George Wein scheduled two jazz/pop concerts at Yankee Stadium hoping to pack 'em in but rain kept people away both evenings and the box office didn't reach expected heights. The concerts were highlighted by a Jimmy Smith session and a set by the Giants of Jazz. Dave Brubeck also played with Paul Desmond and Gerry Mulligan.

B. B. King and Ray Charles sweated out the blues only moderately, Roberta Flack sung out about "Rev. Lee," after which flutist Herbie Mann played some rather glib flute. The evening ended with the soulful blues voice of Lou Rawls.

The last Connoisseur Concert was surely not the least and featured a brisk set by Duke Ellington with Bobby Short in a tribute to Ivie Anderson who sang with the Duke from 1931-1942.

Sunday morning was appropriately adorned by a gospel concert which contained some of the best music of the festival. A heavenly roster of singers came forth but perhaps most memorable was Marion Williams, a former member of the Clara Ward Singers.

Sunday evening's concert at St. Peter's Lutheran Church was a perfect and peaceful end to nine note-filled days of music. It was an infectious religious occasion as the full voices rang out in the church to jazz accompaniment.

The new Newport-New York had just about everything. It had a little religion, lots of soul, intellectuality, fine acoustics, musically alert audiences, a generosity of jazz tributaries, and over 100,000 fans came to listen.

Newport-New York was one gigantic standing ovation and George Wein says New York's its home.

Official Proceedings

Of the Seventy-fifth Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians

Grand Ballroom, Sheraton-Waikiki Hotel, Honolulu, Hawaii

FIRST DAY

June 19, 1972

President Davis called the Convention to order at 2 p.m.

For one hour immediately prior to the official opening of the Convention the delegates were entertained by a Local 677 Concert Band, conducted by Jack DeMello. Much of the music played was drawn from the golden days of the Hawaiian monarch and the theme appropriately entitled "Music of the Monarchy."

The band then played the "Star-Spangled Banner" and "O Canada," the national anthems of United States and Canada respectively. The band concluded with the playing of the Hawaiian state anthem "Hawaii Pono." All the anthems were sung by Charles K. L. Davis.

President Davis turns the gavel over to I. B. "Buddy" Peterson, President of Local 677, Honolulu, Hawaii who as temporary Chairman introduces Reverend Dr. Abraham K. Akaka, Pastor, Kawaiahao Church who delivers the invocation in both native and English tongues.

To the musical entertainment of Bill Lincoln and his Hawaiians the Local committee members distributed leis to the officers and to all the delegates and guests.

To the applause of the delegates, Temporary Chairman Peterson officially welcomes the delegates to Hawaii.

He introduces the Honorable George R. Ariyoshi, the Lt. Governor of the State of Hawaii who extends a warm welcome and aloha to the delegates, on behalf of Governor John A. Burns who, because of a last minute emergency of an official nature, could not be personally present here today.

The Lt. Governor stresses the valuable assistance which organized labor and the Musicians' Union of Hawaii has given. He specifically cites the assistance given by President Emeritus Petrillo to the labor movement.

Honorable David McClung, President of the Senate of the State of Hawaii is introduced. He welcomes the convention to Hawaii and expresses appreciation for the important part that music has played in the culture of Hawaii.

At the conclusion of his brief address he presents a gavel to President Davis as well as a citation. President Davis responds.

Temporary Chairman Peterson introduces Walter H. Kupau, President of the State Federation of Labor who extends greetings to the delegates on behalf of the more than 50,000 members of the Hawaiian AFL-CIO.

Bud Kaye, Executive Secretary of the Hawaii Federation of Labor is introduced. He adds his greetings to the delegates and mentions that being here today is a special thrill for him, because of two men who played an important role in his developing an interest in the Labor Movement, one of them is President Emeritus James C. Petrillo. He states that he never dreamed the day would come when he could meet Petrillo. Yet, here today he is on the same platform with him personally.

Upon instructions of his Executive Committee he reads a resolution unanimously adopted by the Committee citing "Buddy" Peterson for his dedication and invaluable cooperation to the Labor Movement and makes a presentation to Brother Peterson of a miniature bass fiddle with the resolution inscribed thereon.

Temporary Chairman Peterson introduces President Hal C. Davis to a standing ovation of the delegates and turns the gavel over to him as permanent Chairman of the Convention.

President Davis announces that a detailed report of his activities as President during the past year is contained in the "Annual Report of the Officers" which has been mailed to all the delegates and that there is no necessity at this time to make another detailed report. However, he wishes to touch on some of the highlights which occurred.

He mentions that negotiations and new contracts were consummated in the phonograph record phase of our business as well as in the motion picture industry.

He reports that two significant and historic victories were achieved in the fight against piracy of tapes and records. He mentions that as a result of congressional action piracy is now subject to criminal prosecution and stiff penalties are provided.

He reports that two legislative victories were also achieved in Connecticut and Indiana. In Connecticut which had continued a 10% admission tax he was happy to report that through the efforts of our colleagues in the state, the legislation has been modified so the tax is no longer in effect in establishments employing one musician only.

President Davis reports that while this does not represent a complete victory it is a significant improvement and that we will continue our efforts towards complete repeal of this onerous tax.

He reports that in the state of Indiana where a state law which had already been passed and scheduled to take effect in July of this year, would have required all teachers (including music teachers) to be licensed by the state and to be bonded for $25,000 each. In addition, provisions of the law would have permitted representatives of the state government to inspect the homes of teachers including all private facilities and to force various types of insurance coverage on every teacher regardless of actual need. President Davis congratulates the Indiana Conference and members of the Fort Wayne Local who worked very hard to amend this bill and succeeded so that teachers of music are not affected.

He reports that increased benefits will come from the Music Performance Trust Fund, the Special Payments Fund as well as the Pension Fund.

He reports that the Federation Orientation Program has received overwhelming support.

In conclusion, he discusses the financial situation of the Federation. He thanks the members who served on the Special Finance Committee which was appointed as a result of a resolution adopted at the last convention and he expresses his appreciation to the members of this Committee for their laborious and diligent work.

The delegates respond to President Davis' address with a standing applause.

President Davis introduced the new delegates to the convention. They were greeted with applause.

President Davis introduces all the officers and Staff Members.

Delegate Frey, Local 1, moved that this convention ratify the President's appointment of the Credentials Committee. No objections.

Amazing Little Boxes

by Peter Stampfel

A few months ago I saw an ad in Crawdaddy! for the Electro Harmonix Corporation, a New York firm which makes amazing little boxes and a fine portable amplifier. Our band, the Rounders, has been standing in great need of these exact things and since the advertising copy looked so interesting, we decided to check them out. They did have indeed just the thing for us—the Big Muff. The Big Muff is the finest fuzz-sustain-distortion box I have as yet been a witness to. It has three dials instead of the customary two and the extra one isn't just window dressing. You can adjust the Big Muff to play whole chords. An ordinary fuzz can only do a single note; play more than one note and you get garbage noise. The Big Muff delivers sweet dirty notes with that clear light clarity. A musical boon! Jimi Hendrix used one. Who can blame him? No blame. It costs more than the average fuzz. It is more than an average fuzz. They also make an average fuzz which gives the sort of distorted sounds tube amps from the 40's and 50's gave.

These folks also make an excellent portable amplifier which should be on the market about now. It's going to be called the Hendrix or Clapton (we suggested Beck) Freedom Amplifier (amplified freedom! Right on!) and it's small, light, powerful, and plays for a couple hundred hours on a battery pack which is repackable. It sounds great and is really loud; it kicks a whole bunch of ass. Besides which, it is so well engineered that it's a natural for recording. It doesn't have the hum an ordinary amp has. Boon in the studio. To top it all off, it's reasonably priced.

BIG MUFF: This finest sustaining device will make your guitar sing like a humming bird. It is designed for the professional lead guitar player who knows how to use his axe. Try the factory wired Big Muff for two weeks. If you aren't satisfied, send it back for a complete refund.

DRUMMERS!

On your next gig, when the teenagers start clustering around the stand, screaming for Rock, you can show them a funky thing or two if you'll just take us up on this no-risk, money back guarantee offer.

Do yourself a favor and just try the BEAT SHEET® Self Study Drum Course in modern Rock beats. It works! Better than any method book. Better than any play-along recording. Because the BEAT SHEET course is something else! It's a brand new concept in learning beats easily and quickly. You play the record. You scan the chart. And before you know it you're playing the beat yourself! If your reading isn't too swift, don't worry. The BEAT SHEET course teaches you to read!

Hundreds of drummers have already purchased the BEAT SHEET course on a money-back guarantee basis. Not one has returned it! Many have written letters telling us how much the BEAT SHEET course has helped. We think this says something about BEAT SHEET that no amount of advertising hogwash could ever get across.

The BEAT SHEET course consists of a study booklet plus a full-size 12-inch long-play recording. It is a self study course. For drummers at all levels. There are 31 graded exercises plus 20 authentic Rock beats. Beats range from easy to very difficult. Although the course starts easy, it proceeds to difficult beats very quickly. And so do you!

The material covered in the BEAT SHEET Self Study Course would normally require 20 to 50 lessons and would cost you $80.00 to $500.00 if taken as private lessons. No need to spend that kind of money. The BEAT SHEET course costs only $13.95, the cost of just two or three lessons.

The BEAT SHEET Self Study Course is unconditionally guaranteed. If you're not COMPLETELY satisfied, return the course within 10 days and your money will be refunded in full.

Try it at no risk. Send check or money order for $13.95 for your personal copy today. See why the BEAT SHEET Self Study Course is revolutionizing the "drum method book" industry. Already there are many imitators, but there is only one BEAT SHEET! Order yours today.

OPEN LETTER TO GUITARISTS ABOUT Bobby Lee GUITAR STRAPS:

Dear Sir & Brother:

I have finally invented a guitar strap that you can pass over your head so the guitar won't knock your teeth out, bump your head, muss your hair, or push off your decorative wig! As you well know, this has been a problem for many years, especially when you are playing in CORRECT CLOSE POSITION. See direction photo below.

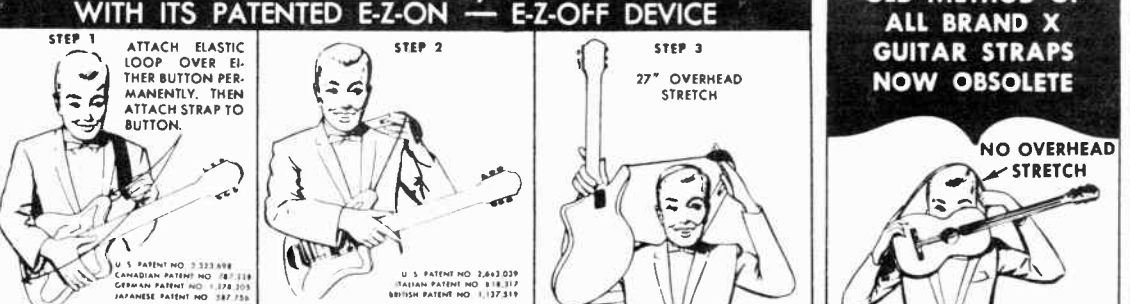

Fraternally yours, Bobby Lee, Local 10-208, Chicago

P.S.: I also make guitar straps with no metal attachments to avoid scratching your instruments.

See your nearest dealer and ask for the Bobby Lee Guitar Straps or write direct to: BOBBY LEE SOTTILE MANUFACTURING COMPANY, PATTON, PA. 16668

Reg. Model $3.99; Deluxe Model $4.95; Super Deluxe Model (3" wide) $6.99.

From Electro Harmonix, makers of the Mike Matthews Freedom Amp.

Plug-in Boosters
LPB-1 This linear power booster is a compact solid state preamplifier that can up to quadruple the acoustic output of any amplifier. It will increase guitar sustain and improve the performance of all wah-wah pedals and distortion units.
Screaming Bird A treble booster that will give your instrument the razor sharp cut of a screeching harpsichord whose strings are whipped instead of plucked. Use two Birds and turn your guitar into an electric banjo.
Muff This funk'est distortion device will give you that dirty sound reminiscent of the natural distortion of the tube amps used by the Rhythm 'n Blues bands of yesteryear.
Mole The mole bass booster will extract the highs and amplify the subharmonics, giving your instrument the depth, resonance and heavy penetration of the foot pedals of a church pipe organ.
Ego This microphone booster is designed for the vocalist whose PA system isn't strong enough to cut through the noise generated by the other members of the band. The Ego will match any microphone and up to quadruple the output of your PA system.

Floor Boosters
LPB-2 This is a new floor model of the LPB-1, enabling you to cut it in or out instantly with your foot. Since all amplifiers are overdesigned to more than handle the most powerful pick-ups, the LPB-2 will let you derive optimum results from your amp.
Screaming Tree Similar to the Screaming Bird but with a heavy-duty foot control switch, this ultimate treble booster gives your rhythm or lead playing more balls than you thought possible—by emphasizing the BTE you get just when your pick plucks the strings.
Little Muff Like the Muff but in a floor model that features a foot control switch.
Hogs Foot A bass booster for professionals who want the thick, heavy sound necessary for blues playing. Technically similar to the Mole, but with foot switch.

Also available at your retail music store.

All Electro-Harmonix accessories are guaranteed for ten years. They are compatible and modular. Any combination of more than one unit will give you an infinite variety of sounds.
 Enclose a check and Electro-Harmonix will pay shipping. Or, if more convenient, order C.O.D. for cost plus shipping. Enclose a 10% deposit on C.O.D. orders. (C.O.D. orders are limited to the continental United States.)

Money back guarantee. Try any of our boosters out for two weeks. If you don't think they're the greatest, send them back for a complete refund.

congratulations to the American Federation of Musicians on the occasion of its 75th Annual Convention and best wishes for future success.

At a time when there should be increasing opportunities for live music, musicians throughout the world are plagued by such evils as record piracy and threatened with even greater recourse to recorded music through television satellites, video cassettes and cable television. In the face of these developments, support of international copyright and performers' rights conventions, as well as close international trade union cooperation, are more than ever necessary.

As the largest affiliate of the ISETU, the AFM has striven hard for international understanding and we look forward to intensified international efforts together on behalf of musicians.

A. J. Forrest
General Secretary.

UNITED STATES SENATE

Message from U.S. Senator Hiram Fong for the 75th National Convention of the Musicians Union, June 19, 1972.

Mr. Chairman, Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I join President Buddy Peterson of the Musicians Association of Hawaii, Local 677, and its many fine members in welcoming each and every one of you from the Mainland to our beautiful Isles for the 75th National Convention of the Musicians Union.

As most of you are undoubtedly aware, Hawaii is unique among the 50 States in many ways—in our music, our costumes, our food, customs and folkways.

We are especially happy, therefore, that you have chosen our State for your national convention this year for it gives us a chance to share more fully our traditions and our culture.

I know that you will have many serious matters to discuss during your convention. But I hope also that you will have some time off to enjoy our tropical surroundings.

I send to all my best wishes and my fondest aloha.

Hiram L. Fong, U. S. Senator.

Vice-President Fuentealba announces the arrangements pertaining to the Memorial Service.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

The service is conducted by Vice-President Fuentealba.

Vice-President Fuentealba asks the delegates to remember the musicians on the USS Arizona who went down with the ship in Pearl Harbor in 1941.

A string ensemble conducted by Robert La Marchina, Music Director and Conductor of the Honolulu Symphony Orchestra, plays the Adagio For Strings by Samuel Barber.

J. Alan Wood, Vice-President from Canada, delivered the following eulogy to Canadian Executive Officer Emeritus, Walter M. Murdoch.

Walter M. Murdoch, Canadian Executive Officer Emeritus, passed away on April 11, 1972 at the age of 84. He joined the Toronto Musicians Association in 1917, and became a Board member the following year. He served as an executive including President of Local 149 for over 40 years.

In 1943 he was elected Canadian Executive Officer on the International Executive Board and held that position until 1965. During his musical career Walter Murdoch was a conductor and musical director of various bands, and held the rank of Captain as director of the Royal Regiment of Canada band.

As a union leader he was fearless and tenacious. A powerful negotiator respected by many. He enjoyed the support and respect of many members and officers during his long and eventful tenure in office.

Walter M. Murdoch was laid to rest in Park Lawn Cemetery and is survived by his two daughters and two grandchildren.

He shall be missed. The string ensemble plays "Adante Cantabile" by Tchaikowsky.

Vice-President Fuentealba delivers the following poem, "Requiem—Too Late," composed by Delegate George Allen, Local 661-708.

REQUIEM—TOO LATE

What can we say of one who's passed

On to his great reward?
He now lies still,
'Twas God's own Will,
Yet, he's held in high regard.

All that may be said or done
O'er the form of his remains
Adds no more Life,
Yea, neither a strife,
For all in the past are gains.

How brilliant are the words that flow
From contemporaries and friends.
They, all, fade away
Like dawn of coming day
For he knows not of their ends.

How beautiful, if we only would Pass compliments as we struggle along?
'Twould add to our living,
And a zest to our giving.
The memories would leave us a song.

Then, why wait till life has ended in death
To speak good of such a glorious one?
His work is now ended,
His knees to God bended,
To receive his Crown, well won

To the strains of "The King's Serenade" and "Forget Me Not" the following names of our deceased members who have passed away since our last Convention are read:

The Committee on President's Report reports through Chairman Cottrell.

To the Officers and delegates of the 75th Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians: Greetings:

We, the undersigned committee on President's Report have studied that summary as submitted by President Hal C. Davis. We are pleased to find such a record of accomplishment in his first full year in the office.

So many branches of our industry were dealt with, it is difficult to pick and choose the most important. However, the matter of employment always rates high, and the President has indicated new moves to stimulate the creation of jobs in the recording field, motion picture and TV film. Road musicians for shows were given a 5½% increase plus gain in conditions and other types of traveling performances are being handled at this time.

The report also brought news of our successful fight against piracy of tapes and records; of legislative victories in Rhode Island, Indiana and Connecticut; of new methods of policing in recording fields; of improved benefits from the AFM-EPW Fund; of changes in rules affecting our dealings with booking-agents; of treaties with Mexican musicians' unions; of our orientation program; of speedier action against defaulting employers; and on and on; the list seems almost endless.

This Committee wishes to congratulate President Davis on his efforts during the past year. We endorse his actions and offer co-operation for the future. We particularly stress the need for greater and more vigorous action in the legislative field, both at the state and municipal level. The good start made this year should be expanded and encouraged.

To President Davis and his competent and co-operative staff, we offer our sincerest appreciation.

Respectfully submitted:
Louis Cottrell (Chairman), 174-496; Louis C. Nauman, Jr., 2; Darwin H. Allen, 37; Lawrence Stan Kennedy, 62; Thurman Frock, 90; Hibonza Gray, 101-473; Lucian Tiberi, 103; Arch Merrifield, 113; Allan K. Swanson, 134; Mrs. Janis C. Fifield, 184; James Cordeiro, 214; James Considine, 216; George W. Cooper, Jr., 257; Francis R. Fain, 285; Robert Carpenter, 298; S. R. Jordan, 342; Jerry Lyons, 389; Julian McCaffery, 451; Joe Fike, 502; Michael A. Catanzarito, 624; Frank LiVolsi, 626; Joseph S. DeSimone, 630.

The report of the Committee is favorable.

The Convention adopts the report of the Committee.

An announcement is made that Robert C. Frisch, delegate from Local 48, is celebrating his 90th birthday.

The Committee on Secretary-Treasurer's Report reports through Chairman Plummer.

To the Officers and Delegates of the 75th Annual Convention of the American Federation of Musicians meeting in Honolulu, Hawaii, June 19, 1972.

Another year has gone by and again Secretary Treasurer Stanley Ballard has had increased duties in his office which he has performed in his usual efficient manner.

In February of this year he has completed 13 years as Secretary of the Federation. His brief comprehensive report shows the excellent manner in which he and his dedicated staff have again conducted the business of his office for the past year.

We wish to commend Secretary Ballard for serving as a member of the A.F. of M. negotiating team securing beneficial contracts for the Federation with representatives of the Recording Industries of America.

The committee notes that extensive travel by Secretary Ballard has been necessary to points inside and outside the Continental United States and many benefits for the Federation have been gained.

We need only to review the efficient coordination of the complex A.F. of M. Congress of Strings program, which improves each year. Your Committee strongly urges that sponsoring locals participating in the Congress of Strings respond to the request by Secretary Ballard and advance the time of holding auditions. This will alleviate many problems in this program that continues to be one of the best Public Relations Projects of the Federation. Players from the Congress of Strings ranks now occupy chairs in nearly all the Major Orchestras throughout the country.

The Secretary represented the Federation at three District Conferences, as well as visits to several locals on occasions such as anniversaries and important special meetings. He continues to serve on the Board of Directors of the Union Labor Life Insurance Company. He also serves as a member of the Administrative Committee and a Trustee of the Federation Pension Welfare Funds.

We need only to review the activities of the Secretary Treasurer's office for the past year to recognize the problems solved by the manner in which work dues equivalents were collected on behalf of Locals as a result of Charges filed and the number of claims cleared by his office without referral to the International Executive Board and the collection and disbursement of claims by the Secretary-Treasurer's office.

We again commend Secretary Ballard and his staff for the efficient supervision of Convention details which includes printing of daily reports, ballots, etc. and the handling of credentials and other important details.

In closing the Committee extends its profound thanks to Secretary Treasurer Ballard and his staff among whom are Assistant Secretary Guy Scola, Thomas Nicastro, Bobby Bowman, Gus Mackey and Theresa Naglieri for their performance of additional duties and for the efficient and courteous manner in which his office is always maintained. We are sure that all national and local officers join us in this desire.

Respectfully and fraternally submitted:

THIRD DAY

June 21, 1972

The session is called to order by President Davis at 11 a.m.

Prior to the opening of the Session the delegates were entertained by a Dixie Land Orchestra under the leadership of Trummy Young.

President Davis presents I. B. "Buddy" Peterson, President of the host Local 677, Honolulu, Hawaii, who in turn introduces the Honorable Daniel Inouye, United States Senator, State of Hawaii.

In introducing the Senator, Brother Peterson states:

"Yesterday we honored someone who has brought great honors to our profession.

"Today, we will hear from someone who has not only brought honor to musicians, but Americans of every walk of life, of every race and creed.

"Senator Inouye has served the people as a Hawaii legislator, a United States Congressman and he is presently serving his second term as a United States Senator.

"On August 5, 1961 he was presented honorary life membership in our local, and believe me ladies and gentlemen no one has been a better representative of music than Dan Inouye.

"It is with great pleasure and much humility that I present to you our very good friend Dan Inouye."

Senator Inouye is greeted with a standing ovation by the delegates.

THE FOLLOWING ADDRESS IS MADE BY SENATOR INOUE:

"If you were free to do so, would you want to leave the United States and settle in some other country?"

That was the question recently posed by the Gallup Poll to a cross section of Americans. The results were astounding and most disturbing. Thirteen percent of those questioned answered "Yes." More than one out of eight Americans indicated that they wanted to leave the United States. More disturbing than that, however, was the indication that 32 percent of those 18 to 20 years old wanted to make some other country their home. Almost twenty-five percent of those 21 to 29 years old also wanted to leave America.

We are constantly reminded of the disenchantment of American youth—the demonstrators, draft evaders, hippies—but I doubt if any of us estimated that it would be this bad. It is frankly disturbing and a bit frightening.

The results of this poll should be a cause for serious concern and for re-examination of our value system. It certainly calls for a re-examination of our social, educational and political structures.

I would venture to guess that the initial reaction of many studying this poll can be capsuled by this question: "What is wrong with America?"

It should not be difficult to inventory our national weaknesses and shortcomings. We are constantly reminded of them in press, radio and TV. We are not a society without faults. America is not a utopia. All of us can contribute to this litany of inequities. In this election year, the national pastime seems to be a never ending debate on the question: "What is wrong with America?"

We politicians have sadly contributed to this high rate of disenchantment, not only by our inability to respond positively to the demands of youth, such as ending the tragic and unhappy war in Indochina, but by our constant emphasis on what is wrong with our nation. I believe the time has come to emphasize what is right with America.

My fellow Americans, there is a lot right with America. We have reason to be proud of our country.

So this morning, let me cite a few reasons why we should be proud of America.

The author of our Declaration of Independence, Thomas Jefferson, once said: "The spirit of resistance to government is so valuable on certain occasions that I wish it to be always kept alive. It will often be exercised when wrong, but better so that not to be exercised at all." Today, 196 years later, America has kept alive Jefferson's wish for a democratic America, a nation that freely gives us the opportunity to speak out and criticize our government, our leaders and our institutions. There are not many Fathers Berrigans and Angela Daveses in other countries. Free Speech is a living right in America.

Many of our youth, especially in recent years, have demanded "change"—for example, "change" in our foreign policy. They insist, and justly so, that war should no longer be an instrument of our foreign policy. Our young men do not want their high school graduation exercises threatened and marred by the draft.

"Change" has been the byword of our democracy. Although "change" may occur too slowly for some, America has kept faith with our founding fathers by allowing and encouraging "change." There are not too many countries that will permit their citizens to openly advocate and support "change" — "change" that may be radical or revolutionary. Ten years ago abortion was a no no. Twelve years ago, our youth participated in our national political conventions by serving as ushers and messengers and leading delegates in the Pledge of Allegiance. In a few weeks, young men and women of America will be in charge of an important national convention in Miami.

Our founding fathers stressed that education was essential in our Democracy. America has kept faith with our founders by providing public education for all those with the capacity and ability to learn. And for the first time in man's history, over one-half of our young people are going on to higher education. No other country can match America in this accomplishment.

Education in our democracy has not been limited to reading, writing and doing the numbers. Our citizens have been encouraged to think and question. America has accordingly encouraged us to read—yes, all books, even if the prose be ugly, vile and profane. We should be reminded that there are many countries this day that still burn and ban books.

It has been said that in the centuries to come, historians will determine the greatness of our democracy by how well we have cared for our aged. Our care and concern for our aged can be markedly improved. However, it should be noted that we are trying our best to honor our elders. Slow though our steps may have been, we now have medicare and medicaid for our old and indigent. Laws are now being considered to make the lives of our elderly a bit more pleasant during their autumn years.

Our founding fathers insisted that our democracy be established on a foundation of a representative government of freely elected leaders. America has kept faith with our founders. America has more freely elected officials in towns, villages, cities, counties, states and nation than any other nation on earth.

Our youth demand their "rights." Our founding fathers insisted upon certain right as being "inalienable." America has kept faith with our founders. In our land, every person, including the most dastardly criminal, has his rights protected by our Constitution and our courts. In America, the phrase "due process of law" is a meaningful and living phrase.

Religious freedom was uppermost in the hearts and minds of our founding fathers. On the eve of the celebration of our 196th birthday, we can say that America has kept faith with our founders. In our land a person may pray as he chooses to his god or gods, or not worship at all. There are not too many countries that can match America in this regard.

Yes, we have kept faith with our founding fathers and in so doing our America has produced men like Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, Oliver Wendell Holmes, John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King.

America is not a sick nation. America is an aggressive nation confronting its problems—striving to eradicate the pockets of poverty that sadly dot our countryside—striving to destroy the remnants of racism which still tragically pollute our society.

To those fellow Americans who have indicated a desire to leave our country may I offer the following: If something is wrong with America you will not rectify or solve this wrong by leaving. If our flag is dirty, don't burn it. Wash it and help make it clean. If you believe that our nation's honor has been tarnished, don't leave. Stick around and help us make it pure.

That one-third of any age group of Americans want to leave this nation gives us cause to pause and take stock. I believe it may be a most fruitful exercise. For I believe that any comparative assessment can but strengthen our faith in America and I urge those who are disenchanted to make that assessment.

We have too often emphasized what's wrong with America and paid too scant attention to our achievements. We have too often dwelt on our failures and have failed to acknowledge our successes. It is time we speak up for America.

At the conclusion of his address the Senator is given another rousing round of applause by the delegates.

Secretary-Treasurer Ballard announces that a correction should be made in the second day proceedings concerning resolution No. 12. Due to a typographical error the report of the committee was printed as "favorable" whereas it should be corrected to read that the committee report was "unfavorable."

REPORT OF THE FEDERATION FINANCE REVIEW COMMITTEE

LAW AND FINANCE

In accordance with the action taken at the 1971 Convention, President Hal Davis appointed a Federation Finance Review Committee of 15 members. The following were asked to serve, and they come from a very representative cross-section of all sizes and types of Locals in the A. F. of M.

The instructions from the Convention were for this Committee to "review all existing sources of income, examine new possibilities, invite suggestions, and evaluate the long range needs of the Federation." Also, it is to "report to the 1972 Convention with comprehensive information and recommendations for ways to supply the Federation with an adequate and increased income." This report attempts to fulfill that very large order.

From the Secretary-Treasurer's office inclusive figures were obtained to form the accompanying table. The projections added are of probable income and expense positions. There is no method by which accurate and actual positions for each fiscal year can be determined over a five (5) year span. It is not possible to reflect what might occur to our income under the current financial conditions which exist in the United States at this time. The operating expenses projected are based on charges which are now being encountered for labor and supplies and necessary functions of our every day operations, supplemented by varying percentage increases, according to the particular expense involved with no set average percentage increase being used overall. Projections of expenses have been conservatively estimated and are probably in most cases lower than will be encountered.

These figures show that the A. F. of M. operated in the "red" for this past year ended March 31, 1972 by over $200,000.00. After the close of the 1972 Convention, it will have another $200,000.00 of deficit and the accumulated deficit by this time next year will be about a half million dollars. Furthermore, if no changes are made, five (5) years from now there will be a total accumulated deficit not too far off from 2 million dollars.

The Committee examined item by item, both the past expenses of the Federation and the projected future costs. We could find no area for curtailment—except one—that would result in more than token savings without seriously reducing services. Obviously, nearly everything costs more and undoubtedly costs will continue to increase. Every delegate has had to meet these increases on a personal level and the Union has had to meet them too.

The Committee discussed at some length with Henry Kaiser, our general counsel, the legality of our recommendations and it talked with him about the total amount for legal fees.

So that there is no misunderstanding, the amount in the Federation Financial Statement under legal services is for all legal fees paid to all attorneys and their staffs all over the U. S. and Canada. At any one time there are from 35 to 60 pieces of court litigation in progress and a great number of cases before the Labor Board. Furthermore, when Jerry Adler left the New York office to become the MPTF Trustee and upon the death of Hal Leyshon, our Washington legislative representative, Mr. Kaiser's office took over these duties at a very substantial savings to the A. F. of M. As a matter of fact, for the past ten years, the amount expended annually for legal costs has declined by about $85,000, that is from over $200,000 per year to about $125,000 per year.

The largest single item of expenditure for the A. F. of M. is the annual convention. Obviously, a large step to improve our financial position could be taken by the delegates by the adoption of a change to hold biennial conventions. The change would not cost any member or any local anything additional, and it will not reduce or impair the effectiveness of our Union. We find that only eight (8) smaller international unions in the entire AFL-CIO have annual conventions and the musicians union is the only one which meets every year and which pays full per diem to the delegates.

After much discussion, the Committee concluded unanimously to recommend that the American Federation of Musicians hold its convention every two years. This will result in an average annual saving of over $200,000 once the biennial convention goes into effect. The Committee also recommends that the schedule of delegates based upon membership be revised for an eventual approximate savings of $40,000 annually.

Furthermore, the Committee recommends that the President's Office and the I.E.B. pursue an active policy of merging those small locals which do not have a sound base financially, or which do not occupy a key geographical location, or which do not perform minimum basic union services in their areas. Any local should be able to meet one of these three criteria.

The Committee strongly recommends that regional conferences meet more often, and that the National Office expand and develop seminars, work-shops, clinics, and other educational programs at the regional and conference level. We urge that these be especially featured during the year in which the A. F. of M. convention does not occur. The potential development within this suggestion could easily have more impact and constructive effect upon our Union than any of the other items in this report.

The Committee examined the income from the Federation Initiation Fees. It concluded—again unanimously—that the schedule could be adjusted upward along with a permissible increase to Locals who desire to raise the Local Initiation Fee to a maximum of $200,000. If there is not a severe decline in the number of new members, this increased F. I. F. should bring in about $250,000 annually.

At the request of the Committee, a survey was made of all Locals and 437 replied. The survey revealed great confusion and a lack of uniformity with regard to "suspension," "expulsion," "membership termination," "re-entry," "re-instatement," "erased," "resigned-in-good-standing," "withdrawal," etc. Therefore, the Committee proposes a recommendation that attempts to standardize the criteria and the Federation Fee when a musician, whose membership has been fully terminated, re-instates his membership in the A. F. of M. This amount of income is a total unknown inasmuch as there is no previous record of payment. Also, the Committee suggests that the International Executive Board study the use of the above terms in our Constitution and By-laws and that definition and clarification be made.

The Committee, as a last consideration, feels that the most direct way to obtain additional income is a per capita increase. We feel that this step can no longer be postponed, and we recommend a $2.00 increase, i.e., from $6.00 per year per member to $8.00 per year per member. The amendment is proposed as a mandatory obligation upon all Locals and favorable action by the Convention Delegates does not need approval by the membership of any Local. In addition, the Committee offers a supplementary recommendation that requires Locals to remit to the International Secretary-Treasurer, the Federation Per Capita contained in any delinquent dues when collected. If you recall, our present amount of per capita was established as the primary source of income to the A. F. of M. in 1963 when the 10% traveling surcharge was eliminated. Admittedly, this kind of proposal has great impact upon the largest Locals, and the Committee vote was not unanimous because the members from Chicago, Los Angeles, and New York voted against.

The Committee feels that the financial needs of the A. F. of M. are so important that it should be understood that the proposal for a biennial convention and the $2.00 Federation Per Capita increase are directly related to each other. Failure to adopt both recommendations will destroy the work of the Committee. Therefore, if the delegates do not adopt the proposal to hold a convention every two years, the Committee reserves the right to amend from the floor the proposed Federation Per Capita Recommendation by an additional $1.00 per year. This would be the amount necessary to offset the annual average saving that would be obtained from holding Conventions every two years.

Even with the adoption of all of this Committee's recommendations, it will require two years to recover our accumulated deficit. Adoption of only some of the proposals means that each time we meet, the painful and divisive problem of finances will arise. Besides, the I. E. B. and our national officers will not feel financially secure enough to try to find ways to meet the challenges of the 1970's that are sure to present themselves. All of this Committee's proposals call upon all sizes and types of Locals to meet the challenge, and we would not be properly fulfilling our assignment if we did not report to you that these recommendations are the best way to provide the Federation with "adequate and increased" income which we estimate should be sufficient for a number of years.

Finally, the Committee has sought to resist proposing reforms just for their own sake—although our deliberations frequently led to such needs. We discussed the suggestions that came to our attention through several letters; we discussed a Federation Travel Card; we discussed a Federation Work-Dues; we discussed a system of per capita dues based upon a percentage of the Local's single engagement scale; plus a number of other ideas.

We feel sure that the vast majority of the delegates, had they been members of this Committee, would arrive at the same conclusions that we have. We hope that this report sufficiently explains our deliberations and that, after giving the entire matter your very careful consideration, you will concur in the adoption of all of these recommendations.

WHEREAS, It has become the policy of some non-appropriated fund agencies (Officers' Clubs, N.C.O. Clubs, Airmen's Clubs, etc.) on military installations to require our members to sign a standard entertainment contract issued by the Department of Defense or versions of such a contract "modified to meet local conditions," and

WHEREAS, This contract contains many unfavorable clauses such as a 72 hour cancellation notice and a right of appeal in case of disputes to the "contracting officer" (who is one of the parties to the original contract), and at the second level of appeal to the Secretary of Defense, with no right of appeal to the Federation, and

RESOLUTION No. 18

WHEREAS, It is an established fact that several Hotels, Night Clubs, Restaurants and Caterers are operating under a policy of selling so-called "Package Deals" for Weddings, Receptions, Social Functions and similar affairs that includes therein the services of musicians, and establishment enjoying a profit on the services of the musicians, and

WHEREAS, This actually places the establishment in the category of a Booking Agent for musicians without assuming any of the responsibilities of a licensed Booking Agent and does not limit them to the established commission to which a licensed Booking Agent is entitled to collect as per the provisions of the Constitution and By-laws of the Federation, and

WHEREAS, That portion of Section 5 of Article 25 of the Federation Constitution and By-laws that relates to "Persons, Firms, or Corporations offering to act as Booking Agents for musicians" does not actually provide the necessary protection that would enable a local to demand that an establishment cease and desist from selling the services of musicians as part of a package deal, and

WHEREAS, Several locals that have attempted to negotiate an end to this policy by consulting with the establishment, have been unsuccessful, particularly in smaller locals who do not have the required economic strength of larger locals who have been successful in eliminating this practice, and

WHEREAS, This policy of the establishments encourages kickbacks and unfair competition for Federation members that results in a loss of employment opportunities for many while at the same time enriches the coffers of the establishment who are profiting by engaging in the music business at the expense of Federation members, now, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, That a new section be added to Article 13 of the Constitution and By-laws of the Federation to be numbered Section 39 to read as follows:

No member of the Federation shall accept a musical engagement for Weddings, Wedding Receptions, Social Functions or affairs of a similar nature from any Hotel, Night Club, Restaurant or Caterer where such engagement is made part of a "Package Deal" but must negotiate for such an engagement directly with the actual purchaser of music.

RESOLUTION No. 7

LAW

WHEREAS, Due to the varying inequities in our music business, numerous Federation By-laws do not cope with the present conditions that exist in our business. Most of the employment is in the field of club date engagements. In our present day economy, with the means of transportation and traveling no longer an inconvenience, these musical engagements are played for by members of different locals in all areas of their local and likewise in other local jurisdictions. Excluding leaders of bonafide traveling bands, local leaders and leaders who play "Miscellaneous Out-of-Town Engagements" play engagements many miles from their home local as much as two nights per week, and

WHEREAS, In all locals, members who are leaders on these club date engagements are well aware of the local and Federation By-law Article XII, Section 4, that the consent of his local must be granted before engaging musicians from outside for single or permanent engagements. Leaders for the purpose of circumventing compliance with the local and Federation law find ways and means by such methods: (1) having a member of the band or group who is not a member of the local, contract the engagement as the leader whereby the engagement then become a "Miscellaneous Out-of-Town Engagement" instead of a local one. (2) Other local leaders establish residence in a not too distant or adjacent local with intentions of becoming a member of that local. In any event, when they play these club date engagements, they are contracted as a "Miscellaneous Out-of-Town Engagement" rather than a local engagement, and

WHEREAS, The local where he establishes new residence accept him in lieu of the Federation Transfer Laws and becomes an outright member of that local. Being a member of that local, he is bound by the laws of the local, although he may hold membership in other locals. However, he not only competes with other local leaders for and plays engagements, but deprives the qualified local musicians employment which is rightfully theirs in the local he formerly resided. He then contracts the engagement as a "Miscellaneous Out-of-Town Engagement" whereby he is not confined to use any local musicians from his new home local or the local musicians where the engagements take place, (usually, a contract is submitted to the local where the club date takes place) and his new home local in no way knows if he is complying with their local laws. At any given time, he, as a leader and member can resign from his former local and continue to compete in that local with local leaders for and play miscellaneous dates, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, That Article XIII, Section 18, shall include:

"A Leader, member of a local who holds membership in more than one local is bound by the laws of the local in whose jurisdiction he resides, except when he enters the jurisdiction of another local wherein he also holds membership and competes with local leaders for and plays miscellaneous engagements in that local as then bound by the laws of that local as a local leader.
FURTHER BE IT RESOLVED, When a leader, member of a local enters the jurisdiction of a local wherein he also holds membership must retain his membership in that local as long as he competes with local leaders for or plays miscellaneous, or steady engagements.

WHEREAS, Traveling musicians who play on engagements of 3 nights or more per week are required to pay traveling dues, and in order to avoid confusion on the part of those members who play 2 nights per week engagements, therefore,

FINANCE COMMITTEE REPORT

American Federation of Musicians Honolulu, Hawaii, June, 1972 To the Delegates of the 75th Convention Assembled:

The joint Law-Finance Committee held four meetings to consider the recommendations of the Federation Finance Review Committee and other resolutions referred to this joint committee.

President Hal C. Davis appeared before the committee to report on the finances of the Federation, at which time he praised the work of the Federation Finance Review Committee, pointing out that the committee was charged with reviewing the finances of the Federation and make comprehensive recommendations for ways to supply the Federation with adequate increases in income to meet the needs of the Federation for the next decade.

The Finance Committee reviewed with Assistant Treasurer Harry Swensen and accountant John Roddy the Pogash & Company independent audit of the income and expenses as published in the annual report. We sincerely appreciate the frank and informative explanations of questions raised by members of the Committee and we wish to thank these gentlemen for their continued co-operation.

In the interest of reducing printing costs the committee again recommends that the case decisions of the I.E.B. be made available to interested parties on request, but be deleted from the annual report. The Committee also recommends that Secretary-Treasurer Ballard appraise the Locals of the purpose of the Lester Petrillo Memorial Trust Fund and the procedures for use of the funds.

The proponents of resolutions who appeared before our Committee were most patient and courteous and we wish to express our appreciation for their co-operation.

President Davis introduces E. V. Lewis, the Federation's TEMPO Director, who makes a report and thanks the members of the TEMPO Committee as well as the TEMPO Orchestra.

The TEMPO Committee submits its report through Chairman Patnaude.

TEMPO Committee report: To the officers and delegates here assembled at the 75th Convention of the AFM in Honolulu, Hawaii.

The TEMPO Committee has held several meetings beginning Friday, June 16. The committee was addressed by TEMPO Director E. V. Lewis, Public Relations Counsel Dick Moore, and John Roddy of the Treasurer's office, each of whom had interesting information for the committee.

Several proposals for raising more TEMPO funds were discussed, but discarded because of newly-imposed federal regulations requiring immense amounts of paper work and the filing of numerous reports. It is definitely the feeling that the present administration in Washington is doing all it can to attempt to put labor's political fund-raising organizations out of business.

Our new slogan, "Join the Live One—Score With TEMPO"—was discussed, and enthusiastically approved.

We urge all locals to be very careful to observe new federal regulations requiring TEMPO to be acknowledged as a political fund-raising organization by the addition of the words "Political Contributions Committee," or the initials, "PCC" following the word "TEMPO."

In sending in contributions from your local, do not—I repeat, do not use a local union check. Obtain a regular cashier's check and make it out to "TEMPO-PCC."

The committee makes the following recommendations:

1. That the office of Public Relations Counsel Dick Moore compose a letter for use by local secretaries in soliciting TEMPO donations.

2. That TEMPO be showcased in the International Musician a minimum of four times a year, if possible.

3. That the balance sheet now in use be changed to show current progress and dispense with totals which go back to the inception of the TEMPO-PCC program.

4. That TEMPO-PCC Hawaiian doll souvenirs be given for a minimum donation of $3.00.

A motion to discontinue the percentage ratings of local TEMPO-PCC contributions in the International Musician was lost.

In conclusion, the TEMPO Committee wishes to thank the delegates once again for their generosity and cooperation, and I wish to extend my personal thanks to the hard-working members of my committee.

To date, the total contributions to TEMPO-PCC received at this convention amount to $5,169.50.

The Committee on International Musician reports through Chairman Vargas.

International Musician Committee Report:

To the officers and delegates in attendance at the 75th American Federation of Musicians Convention in Honolulu, Hawaii.

In our report to you today by the International Musician Committee, we can only find praise for the magazine and the feature writers: Leonard Feather, Bill Littleton, Burt Korall, Bill Williams, John S. Wilson, Amyas Ames, Nancy Hanks, Martha Gilmore, Gail Stockholm, Helen McNamara, I. S. Arazi, Edwin Black Martin Williams, Ira Gitler, as well as the special Jazz and Anniversary issues.

As your committee indicated last year, the cost of the publication was bound to increase. It showed an increase of some $36,000 last year.

We can look for further increases as our contract with the printing firm expires in August of this year. It must also be noted, that not only labor cost, but paper, and the increase of postage, which is expected to rise considerably in the near future.

In view of these increases, it surely must prove that the 60 cents per year subscription, is really unrealistic.

In our report to you last year, you were told a recommendation was made to the Executive Board for the use of electronic computer equipment. This was found to be too costly and was not used.

Again this year, your committee continued to hear complaints about members not getting the magazine, old names not being taken off the mailing list, etc.

Your committee recommends this matter be looked into as soon as possible, as this complaint has been before our committee for several years now. There certainly must be a solution to these causes, and we are sure they will be corrected.

However, it must be noted that locals must do their part in sending corrections, which we feel is being done in most cases.

In concluding this report, we compliment the magazine's editor, Stanley Ballard; Annemarie Woletz, associate editor, and Robert C. Carver, who continue to do an outstanding job.

doubles as composer-arranger. Deeply involved with jazz, he worked with the Bill Russo Jazz Ensemble and other jazz units before joining Chicago. He particularly favors trombonist J. J. Johnson, the bands of Don Ellis and Gerald Wilson. One of his primary writing efforts for the group: "Ballet for a Girl in Buchannon," which includes one of the band's most popular items, "Make Me Smile."

Woodwind player Walt Parazáider (twenty-seven) earned a degree at DePaul. While in school, he pursued the less academic aspects of music, playing in bands around Chicago. Also influenced by jazz, particularly by such instrumentalists as Rahsaan Roland Kirk, James Moody, and John Coltrane, he was introduced to rock by Terry Kath, Chicago's guitarist-singer, and has become intrigued with the possibilities of using his ample techniques within a rock framework.

Twenty-six-year-old trumpeter-flugelhorn player Lee Loughnane, at DePaul for two years, also studied privately and at the Chicago Conservatory. His interest in contemporary pop music did not begin to burgeon until his last years of high school. For some time, he felt a much closer musical kinship with the big bands — i.e. Tommy Dorsey and Glenn Miller — and learned a great deal playing along with their records. Subsequently he got into rock and worked with a number of bands that played this type of music, including Ross and the Majestics.

The group's rhythmic center, drummer Danny Seraphine (twenty-four), has developed fine technique and the ability to use it with taste and power. Another DePaul student, he also has received instruction from jazz drummer and teacher Chuck Flores, and credits him with his rapid evolution since coming to California.

Seraphine played in several rock bands in Chicago, but always has kept his ears open to jazz — all forms of popular music, for that matter. Variety is his credo. His attitude is mirrored in the drummers he admires. Each is representative of a different approach to playing — i.e. Buddy Rich, Mitch Mitchell, Tony Williams. Seraphine insists: "Great musicians must master a variety of musical forms in order for them to have a complete understanding of music itself."

Bob Lamm, the twenty-seven-year-old spokesman for the band on its in-person appearances, plays organ and piano, sings and writes much of Chicago's material. Born and raised in Brooklyn, he attended Roosevelt University, also in Chicago. The result of a mixed bag of musical interests — from jazz to blues to rock-a-billy — he feels he's more of a writer than a player. Lamm is best known as the composer of Chicago's hit singles: "Does Anybody Know What Time It Is" and "25 Or 6 To 4."

Bassist-lead vocalist-composer Pete Cetera (twenty-eight) was the last to join Chicago. The unit had only six men before his advent. Like Terry Kath, he's self taught. Widely experienced, Cetera performed in diverse circumstances before becoming a member of the group — from weddings and bar mitzvahs to polka bands.

Singled out by critics and fans as one of Chicago's key soloists, Terry Kath (twenty-six) played banjo, accordion, bass and drums before deciding guitar would be his chief means of communication. His highly-charged performances certainly are a crucial means of cementing the link between Chicago and its audiences. Kath credits The Ventures and jazz guitarist Kenny Burrell as primary to his development as a musician.

In 1972, the band still continues to grow, traveling, concertizing here and abroad, seeking to place more of itself in music. Rock remains at the foundation of its colorful style. Chicago music has not been tempered by the group's success. It still plays original music exclusively. "We take great pride in the fact that the music is ours," Jim Pankow told British journalist Bob Dawbarn. "We are proud of what we have done."

The fellows should feel quite good, if reviews mean anything. "Chicago is a strong, hard-driving, and tightly disciplined group that well deserves its appeal" (Pat O'Haire, New York Daily News). "... an ensemble spirit and drive that is the match of almost anything in rock, and superior to most" (Don Heckman, New York Times). "Unity is the key here and all contribute mightily, both individually and as a group," Cash Box has said. "Their amazing virtuosity on all instruments made this truly a concert (at the Hollywood Bowl) in the classic sense and just when their musical intellect brought them to the edge of the abstract, here comes that driving, powerful big band punch and the contemporary voices of Bob Lamm, Terry Kath and Peter Cetera, to flood the bowl with great commercial melodies."

Life's Albert Goldman brings it all home, insisting the band is thoroughly representative of the diverse American tradition and sums up the past: "... when this hairy, horny music goes down and round Chicago's twenty-two mikes, fourteen amps, mixing console and huge multi-cellular p.a. system it comes out sounding as clean and pure as a freshly laundered American flag. . . . When you get right down to it, we're still living in the same old America — and Chicago is close to its heart."

How to be the next three additions to your band

Now that any old quartet can switch on big band power, the most creative new groups are exploring big band instrumentation. Not that big bands are back. Doubling is—a talented alto player, say, with flute and piccolo, clarinets, oboe, even a bassoon. Great idea—if you're already rich—but the price! Well, what about the price? You can buy an oboe and bassoon, or tenor and baritone saxes, for a little more than a pair of Eliminators; B₇ and bass clarinets, both for less than one good amplifier. In fact, you can own the entire Bundy reed section in this photo for the price of a first rate PA system. Bundy, the name you remember from the school band. But forget school; Bundy instruments are so well designed they are often used by smart, thrifty studio men. They know how easy and valuable it is to pick up a second, third, or fourth instrument. Most Selmer dealers keep plenty of Bundys in stock, and will be glad to let you experiment with your own big band sound. Meanwhile, mailing this coupon to Selmer, Box 310, Elkhart, Indiana 46514 will bring you more details about doubling on—
