INDEPENDENT TELEVISION COMMISSION—33 Foley St., London, W1P 7LB. Phone: 71 255 3000. Fax: 71 306 7800. Telex: 24345. The Independent Television Commission was created by Parliament under the terms of the Broadcasting Act 1990 to license and regulate non-BBC television services including Ch. 3 (ITV), Ch. 4, public teletext and a range of cable, local delivery and satellite services. They do not include services provided by the BBC or S4C. The ITC replaced the Independent

Broadcasting Authority (IBA), responsible for the provision of independent television and radio services and the Cable Authority, responsible for the provision of cable services. Radio Authority now regulates independent radio services. In October 1991 the ITC awarded 16 new licenses for Ch. 3 (ITV) including a national breakfast-time license. The new Ch. 3 companies began their services on Jan. 1, 1993, at which point they, rather than the ITC, became responsible as broadcasters for their output. Ch. 4, at the time a wholly owned subsidiary of the ITC whose airtime was sold by the ITV contractors, has become a corporation and ITC licensee, responsible for selling its own advertising. The license for the proposed Ch. 5 will be advertised by early 1992 with the aim of a new service being launched in 1994. Licenses for Ch. 3 & Ch. 5 will be awarded by competitive tender to the highest bidder who fulfills certain quality criteria, except in exceptional circumstances when the ITC may award a license to a lower bidder. The ITC will also license a number of other services in the following categories: Domestic satellite services using broadcasting frequencies allocated to the UK; non-domestic satellite services; licensable program services, including those program services delivered to cable systems on videotape; cable and local delivery service operations provided by cable and/or microwave (MVDS); additional services, or any form of telecommunications service that can be provided on the spare capacity of a television signal; public teletext, a text service carried on the spare capacity of Ch. 3 & Ch. 4. ITC staff will regulate all services through license conditions and through its various codes on program content, advertising, sponsorship and technical standards.

SATELLITE WEEK

When you're in the satellite business, you can't afford a communications breakdown.

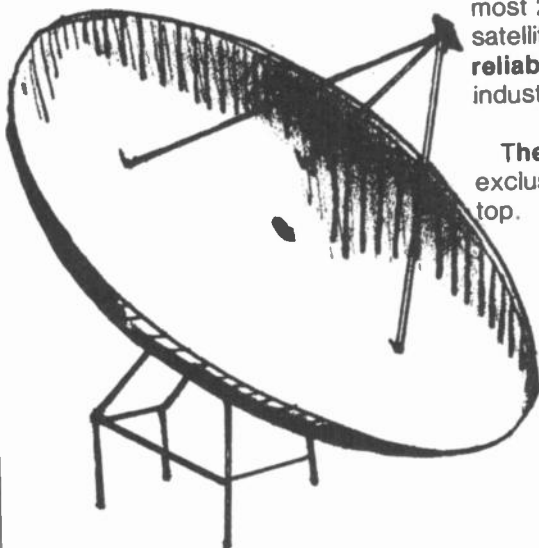

And —

You can't afford to miss out on the dynamic news reports carried exclusively in SATELLITE WEEK because:

(1) SATELLITE WEEK is unique. It's the industry's only comprehensive weekly briefing devoted entirely to space communications and allied business. For us, satellite news isn't an afterthought — jammed in along with news that doesn't concern you. Satellite business news is all we cover.

(2) SATELLITE WEEK saves you time. Our unmatched early warning report is presented in a crisp, concise editorial style designed to cut through the fluff to the substance of the news.

(3) SATELLITE WEEK helps you stay ahead of the game. Our staff of experts in Washington, New York, Europe and Japan knows the players and understands the field of competition. (Some of our people have been covering satellite communications for almost 20 years — since Telstar first demonstrated the feasibility of satellite communications.) No other publication provides such a reliable, timely and independent assessment of this dynamic industry.

The bottom line: SATELLITE WEEK is the only source for the exclusive, hard-hitting news reports that managers need to stay on top.

Assignments Affecting Borders

Channel Allocations for Canada and Mexico

Allocations within 250 miles of Canadian and Mexican Borders are as agreed upon by U.S. and respective countries through exchange of diplomatic notes. Mexico reports VHF within 250 miles, UHF within 200 miles. Plus (+) and Minus (-) symbols designate offset carrier positions of channels. (L) indicates limited allocation under "Working Arrangement" of Canadian-U.S.A. Television Agreement of 1952 as modified.

You can count on us. Can we count on you?

Because more than ever before, our message deserves to be heard.

The Army National Guard makes up about one-half of our nation's combat forces. And we need men and women to help keep us strong—ready to protect our community and defend our country. We have been there during natural disasters, in the fight against drugs and in the protection of our environment.

It's a commitment that takes dedication. Guardmembers give at least two weeks a year and two days every month to the Guard—and to you. Could we have a minute of your time?

Run our spots whenever possible. And if you can't spare a minute, we'll settle for :30. Even :20.

Panasonic. First In Digital Video. Again.

To appreciate some of Panasonic's S-VHS improvements, watch them in digital slow motion. Panasonic's AG-DS850 is a micro-processor-controlled S-VHS slow motion recorder that employs digital technology to provide higher quality slow motion images at the speeds most critical to viewers.

Previously available only in much higher cost systems, the AG-DS850's Digital Processing Circuitry produces consistent high image quality, plus its 3-dimensional-type TBCs provide H, V and temporal correction. Designed to work in a mixed format environment, the AG-DS850 offers true component (Y, R-Y, B-Y) output and an Mill interface for connection to component video equipment—even component digital.

INTRODUCING THE AG-DS840

Panasonic also offers the AG-DS840 S-VHS player to work in tandem with the AG-DS850 in A-B roll edit suites. The AG-DS840 incorporates all of the AG-DS850's advanced features—including noiseless slow motion—except recording.

The AG-DS850 and AG-DS840 are further proof that at Panasonic evolution means constant improvement, generation after generation. Unlike formats that offer less to bring costs down, Panasonic's S-VHS is cost-effective and keeps getting better all the time.
