

Peter Nero's "Theme From Love Story" is getting more and more airplay. He knows how to make love work.

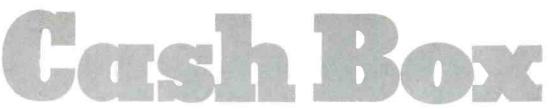

It's Peter Nero. And this is the kind of romantic music he's always done best. His Theme from "Love Story" is getting airplay straight across the country. In cities like Boston, Baltimore, Washington, Miami, Pittsburgh, Los Angeles, St. Louis, New Orleans, Dallas, Houston, Philadelphia, and a lot of others, it's on the air.

And, as always, the more it's heard, the more it's bought.

It's another Peter Nero love song. With a happy ending.

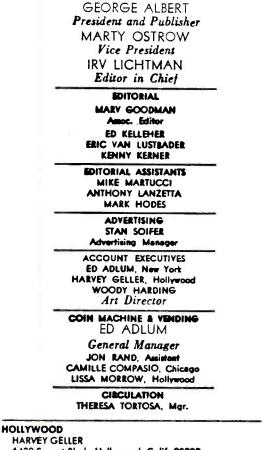

Peter Nero. The "Theme From Love Story." On Columbia Records 🖻

The Hard Sell That's Hard On The Business

The recording industry has just not gotten it across to manufacturers of cassette & 8-track cartridge recorders that it's being done a great injustice in advertisements that blare forth with impunity the ease in which the buyer can "manufacture" his own record library. And we surround the word "manufacturer" in quotes because one ad we saw recently made the point in bold headlines that one could "build your own tape factory."

It's tempting, indeed, to tell the prospective tape equipment buyer that it's simpler than ever to record copyrighted works off the air or from records and tapes themselves. But it's wrong morally and ethically to shout this fact from the roof-tops, especially from an industry that in the final analysis, ease of duplication or not, must measure its total success on the prosperity of the recording business. And, guilty, too, we are sad to report, are some manufacturers which operate under the same corporate umbrella as a firm engaging in pre-recorded merchandise.

It's a virtual impossibility to prevent the consumer from making such use of his tape equipment, although we do wish that more study be given to suggested means, such as license fee upon purchase or a mechanical "beep" system built into records and broadcasts, that would provide some income and protection to copyright ownership. But, manufacturers do not even meet the industry half-way through some copy that suggests that tapes made from copyrighted works cannot be sold under penalty of law.

Evidently, a campaign to inform manufacturers of their indifferent attitude toward the creative fruits of labor of others has fallen far short of its goal, the elimination of obvious references to unauthorized duplication. Certainly, the big-time bogus disk-tape operator who sees ads that sell on the basis of "building your own tape factory" must take heart and comfort in the fact that their mass-production approach is but a reflection of what national-brand unit makers deem as an acceptable practice.

Whatever in the world happened to supposed agreements between recording industry organizations and individual manufacturers that resulted in a partial ban on this kind of copy? Have lawyers of recorder manufacturers uncovered the wishy-washy nature of such copyright protection? Have the recording industry's associations been lax in surveillance? Does the industry, in an organized and forceful manner, really care? Certain ad headlines seem to give the answer.

RCA's 'One Company' Global Outlook Is Put Into Practice At Amsterdam Meet

NEW YORK — A "one company" global outlook has been formally launched by RCA Records. Following through an electrony launched by RCA Records. Following-through on the tone set by Rocco Laginestra, president & ac-ting international chief, at the label's first all-Europe confab in London last Oct., a 2-day "working crew" gathering was held in Amsterdam on Dec. 2 & 3, at which the domestic RCA organization was represented by Mort Hoffman, RCA vp of commer-cial operations, Jim Bailey, manager of international marketing, and Peter Munves, chief of the Red Seal divi-sion. They met with 55 A&R, promo-tion and marketing staffers of RCA's various European affiliates. The first of such meets blueprinted to be held at regular intervals, it's seen as a new phase in RCA's world-wide out-look: "the open-flow," as Hoffman put it, "of cross-communication" among all global members of the RCA family. Indicative of the start of closer international ties with RCA's domes-tic operation was the fact that the label introduced to the assemblage its schedule of product releases for Jan. and Feb., an unveiling that is yet to take place for RCA personnel in the U.S. "The Oct. meeting," Bailey ex-Following-through on the tone set meeting along these lines." One of the key points stressed at the meeting was the assurance that from now on, all product flowing from RCA's overseas creative forces will be "listened to as carefully as domestic product." The Amsterdam gathering, Hoffman noted, offered an "open-presentation of product. We showed them our product and they showed us theirs."

Utilizing a "systematic program" to expose as many acts as possible on an overall international level, Bailey pointed to a number of pro-grams, such as an interchange of ar-tists for recording dates and persontists for recording dates and person-al appearances and promotion cam-paigns. The philosophy that "all ar-tists are world-wide artists" is being developed on the basis of getting RCA personnel to recognize the pos-siblity that a German or French ar-tist, for example, can be a break-through in any other market. Bailey sized-up this view by stating that in the U. S. a company "does not differ-

Knight noted that "the consumer in the U.K. is still very, very singles oriented due to the heavy airtime given singles. It would appear at least one hit single on the British charts is nearly essential to the suc-(cont'd on p. 22)

FBI Cracks Counterfeit Ring; Raid NY Warehouse; Arrest 1

NEW YORK—The Federal Bureau of Investigation has broken up a record counterfeiting operation in New counterfeiting operation in New York, arresting one man and im-pounding a large supply of counter-feit records, labels, jackets, and packaging equipment.

feit records, labels, jackets, and pack-aging equipment. Acting on information supplied by the Record Industry Association of America (RIAA) the Apple and United Artists labels, John F. Malone, Assistant Director of the FBI's New York office, announced the arrest of Salvadore DeChristopher, of Brook-lyn, who was charged with violating the Federal statute outlawing inter-state traffic in counterfeit labels for recordings. The complaint charged that the bootlegged recordings were transported between New York and New Jersey in Sept., 1970. The FBI also raided a warehouse on East 26th Street in New York and recovered more than 20,000 counter-feit records already packaged and ready for shipment, more than 100,-000 counterfeit labels, close to 15,000 album covers and machinery used to shrink-wrap record album. Most of the impounded counterfeit records were comies of the Beatles Malone said the FBI was continuing its investigation. The Recording Industry Associa-tion of America praised the work of the FBI, noting that law inforcement of "such high caliber would do much to alleviate the industry's severe problem with pirated and counter-feited recordings which were draining more than $100,000,000 annually for the legitimate industry." the legitimate industry.

MGM, Stormy Forest In New 5 Yr Deal

In New 5 Yr Deal NEW YORK — MGM Records has concluded a new five year pact for distribution of Richie Havens and Mark Roth's Stormy Forest label, ac-cording to Mike Curb, president of MGM. Two new LP's, Havens' "Alarm Clock," and Kathy Smith's "Some Songs I've Saved," are being released with a strong in-store and trade ad campaign. Stormy Forest also records Bruce Murdoch and Bob Brown, among others. Brown, among others.

schedule. As for personal appearances, Hoff-man believes this holds the key to disk success. Coincidental to the Am-sterdam meet was the presence in Europe of the Guess Who. Hoffman believes his tour will be instrumen-tal in breaking the group — already a prime rock attraction in the U. S. — wide-open in Europe. The label expects to hold its second "working meet," in a spot yet to be announced, sometime in March.

4th London Branch Opens In Atlanta

NEW YORK-In line with many re-cent distribution changes the industry has been noting in recent months that has seen a number of the more im-portant labels gaining better control of their own product pipeline. London Records will open its fourth branch in February in Atlanta. The Atlanta branch will be known as London Records Southeast Dist. Corp. in Atlanta, Ga. The company also has branches in New York, Los Angeles in Atlanta, Ga. The company also has branches in New York, Los Angeles and Chicago. The Atlanta branch will service all labels in the London family formerly serviced by two indie dis-tributors in the Atlanta area. The branch will also distribute other labels and Herb Goldfarb, national sales and distribution director, said "this gives us four strategic locales most effectively positioned through-out the country for maximum service of the product we handle. Since we are solely distributors and as pure distributors, we are a competitor to none and can be of service to all." "We expect to continue with our successful format," Goldfarb went on, "of handling only records and tapes. We will handle no accessories, phono-graphs or instruments and concen-trate completely on records and tapes."

We will handle no accessories, phono-graphs or instruments and concen-trate completely on records and tapes." The company has just concluded a leasing agreement for a 23,000 sq. ft. warehouse, all on one level in a modern building in Atlanta. "As in our other branches," Gold-farb stated, "we will offer top serv-ice, and experienced promotion as well as advertising and merchandising know-how inventory control and all the experience that comes with the many years we have been in the sales and distribution fields." Among the labels the London branches handle in the other cities are: Buddah, MGM, Vanguard, Rou-lette, Disneyland, Monument, Living Language, Vox, Pickwick, Ranwood, Kent, as well as full line tape dis-tributors for Ampex and GRT. Lines to be handled out of Atlanta will be announced. announced.

Davis Keynotes NARM

Davis Keynotes NARM NEW YORK — Clive Davis, pres-ident of Columbia Records, will deliv-er the keynote address at the 13th annual convention of NARM, the wholesalers association. Davis, the first music exec to make a second keynote address at a NARM conven-tion (he served as keynoter in 1967), will speak on the theme of "Decade for Decision" at the meet's first gen-eral session on Sat., Feb. 27. The meet runs from Feb. 26-Mar. 2 at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles. A convention turnout of 1200 is ex-pected. pected.

Jules Malamud, NARM exec direc-Jules Malamud, NARM exec direc-tor, said that Davis' appearance was a unanimous decision of the com-bined meeting of the NARM board of directors and the 1971 convention committee. Jim Schwartz is NARM president and Amos Heilicher is chairman of the convention committee. Malamud noted that in the 1967 address Davis predicted several in-dustry trends — the elimination of mono product and variable pricing — that were later initiated at Columbia and are now standard industry prac-tice.

Elektra's Magdoff: 'Film Will Not Be The Bulk Of Video Cassette Software'

NEW YORK — In an address to students of design, film and engineer-ing, Sam Magdoff stated that he does not believe movies will be the bulk of softwear for the video cassette. The president of Elektra Film Produc-tions was speaking at Pratt Institute in N. Y. last week for some 100 stu-dents in the college's graduating class. class class. Offering an invitation for the se-niors to strongly consider entering the communications industry, Magdoff stated "we can't produce junk for the home video-cassette market, nobody will buy it. Special interest films will be the backbone of his new indus-try." He cited the kind of sponsored and educational films that Elektra has produced for non-theatrical release in 16mm and added that the video cas-sette market will create a need for 16mm and added that the video cas-sette market will create a need for this kind of film. "The major motion picture companies have promised their old movies to the hardware manufacturers, he added, "however, I don't think movies will be the bulk of the software." His views align with those ex-pressed by RCA vp Tom McDermott, who started a month ago that Selecta-Vision software would invest almost all of its $50 million allocation in original production material.

An audit by the Recording Indus-try Association of America was in progress at Fantasy Records' Berk-eley headquarters late last week for official approval of the award.

The album, Fantasy president Saul Zantz said, will be internationally released in at least 40 countries by the end of this week.

Zantz also noted that full-time pressing schedules have been insti-tuted at three RCA plants in the U. S. and Canada in order to meet the million-plus orders already written.

RPL Sound Wing Doubles Studio And Production Facility Space

CAMDEN, N. J. — Recorded Publica-tions Laboratories of Camden has completed the construction and fur-nishing of a new addition to its present studio and production facilit-ies. The wing more than doubles the overall size of the installation, mak-ing the current space nearly 40,000 square feet. The addition was undertaken when RPL outgrew its quarters with an output approaching 2-million tapes and records a year for educational, business and professional customers alone.

President Edward Goodman said the expansion was made "particularly in the area of the manufacture and duplication of custom recorded cassette communications programs for business and industry." He estimated that the addition has increased RPL's

Audio Mag Expands Sales Coverage In

Sales Coverage In Specialty Locations GARDENA, CALIF. — Audio Mag-netics Corp. has appointed five new sales representatives and broadened the area of coverage of one represen-tative to expand its sales applications in "specialty' locations. The moves were made, according to sales vp Ray Allen, to emphasize areas outside the normal music and tape field. This brings to 25 companies the total of firms selling Audio Magnet-ics' blank tape products.

This brings to 25 companies the total of firms selling Audio Magnet-ics' blank tape products. The five represenatives just named are: Albertson-Morrison Co. of Hud-son, Ohio (with offices in Cincin-nati); Grossman Sales Co. covering New England from its Auburndale, Mass. base; Mid South Associates of Birmingham for the southeast; John Carroll of Teaneck, N. J. which will be servicing nationally assigned loca-tions such as Kress; and U. S. Sales of Virginia Beach, Va. handling do-mestic college bookstores. Also, Audio Mag has reassigned the northern California territory to the Herbert Kraus Co. so that the organization covers the entire state. Allen said that Kraus "has enlarged his staff to become a state-wide orga-nization for us." Pointing to the acceptance of cas-settes Allen noted that "we are seek-RPL was founded in 1948 by Ed & Dave Goodman to concentrate in the taping of college and school musical taping of college and school musical groups and the duplication of records for sale to and by students. Growth added work in recording radio com-mercials for ad agencies and the company has since moved into the recording and duplication of tapes and cassettes for documentary, sales training and business purposes.

"Having doubled our coverage in these latter areas over the past five years," Goodman commented, "you might say we discovered that small customers can be big business." He adds, though, that the firm's clients also number some of the leading na-mes in U.S. industry mes in U. S. industry. RPL's new building facilities. RPL's new building facilities, which connect directly with the exis-ting building, represent the third ex-pansion to the original plant since it was built in 1950, two years after the company was founded. The newly ex-panded facilities are designed to en-able RPL to more than double its present business.

Among the operations housed in the new building addition are cassette and tape duplication, packaging, la-beling, shipping, and warehousing as well as general offices and a new reception area. Because much of the equipment as well as the building itself, is new, the overall expansion is said to represent an investment of over half a million dollars.

Picks of the Week

DIANA ROSS (Motown 1176)

Remember Me (3:09) (Jobete, BMI-Ashford, Simpson)

A spectacular return to her old fire ignites the latest Diana Ross offering. No longer the soft spoken soloist, but a sharp, belting artist with the vitality that should light the way for her biggest solo single yet. Flip: "How About You" (2:40) (Jobete, BMI—DePitte, Richards, Sanders)

ELVIS PRESLEY (RCA 9960)

There Goes My Everything (2:58) (Blue Crest, BMI-Frazier)

Moving back to his original source, Elvis previews his upcoming album of country material with two songs that have already become pop standards. Retuned to his across the board image, "There Goes My Everything" comes off the more powerful, though there is teen and MOR potential as well in the flip, "I Really Don't Want to Know" (2:45) (Hill & Range, BMI—Barnes, Robertson)

CANDI STATON (Fame 1476)

He Called Me Baby (2:42) (Central, BMI—Howard) Coming off a giant showing with "Stand By Your Man," Candi Staton turns to another country-original for the content to project her into blues/ rock best seller lists yet again. Powerful reading and a grand vocal per-formance sew up this session. Flip: "What Would Become of Me" (2:45) (Fame, BMI-Wyrick)

JAMES BROWN (King 6347)

Get Up, Get Into It, Get Involved (Pts. 1 & 2) (3:30/3:32) (Crited, BMI-Brown. Byrd. Lenhoff)

Expanding his train of thought from "Hey America" and trimming the Christmas dating, James Brown offers further statement for total teen market consideration. The artist's patented styling assure extra attention for the outing.

EDISON LIGHTHOUSE (Bell 960)

It's Up to You Petula (2:52) (Dunbar, BMI—Arnold, Martin, Morrow) Fluffy top forty side with the airy approach that has delivered before for the Edison Lighthouse. Bright offering should gain favor with teen and young adult programmers on its way to sales breaks. Flip: "Let's Make it Up" (2:45) (Same credits)

MARK LINDSAY (Columbia 45286)

Problem Child (2:35) (Songpainter, BMI-Davis)

Person to person monologue lyrics with a taste of the "Arizona" magnetism make the new Mark Lindsay side a strong item for the top forty audience. Medium paced and filled with a mighty production. Flip: no info.

GENE & JERRY (Mercury 73163)

You Just Can't Win (2:37) (Cachand/Tecbob, BMI-S&R Simmons, Dixon) Smashing union of the talents of Jerry Butler and Gene Chandler is heightened by an electrifying chunk of material to score with R&B and top forty audiences. Bright, flashing ballad with spunk. Flip: no info.

JERRY SMITH (Decca 32769)

The Toy Piano (2:20) (Papa Joe's, ASCAP-Smith)

Turning away from his "Truck Stop" and novelty image, Jerry Smith here shows a more touching side to his nature in a beautiful instrumental especially well timed for pre-holiday play. Touching performance which could come out of left-field to arrive as an MOR/top forty giant. Flip: "Papa Joe's Polka" (1:48) (Same credits)

CARL CARLTON (Back Beat 617)

I Can Feel It (2:25) (Colfam/Tairi/Don, BMI—Armstead) Having dropped the "Little" from his billing, Carl Carlton also undergoes a new development with a more mature brand of material. Softer, but still carrying a kick, the latest could well bring Mr. C. a top forty break from an R&B sales start. Flip: "You've Got So Much (to Learn About Love)" (2:50) (Don, BMI—Malone)

BOBBY BLOOM (Roulette 7095)

Where Are We Going (2:19) (Kama Sutra, BMI-Lane, Linde)

A pre-Montego Bobby Bloom performance comes out of the can in the wake of his current success. Unlike many such cases, though, this side is a solidly produced teen outing that should capture the top forty ear and build the artist's stature. Flip: no info.

Newcomer Picks

McGUINESS FLINT (Capitol 3014)

When I'm Dead & Gone (2:52) (Gallagher/Lyle,-Gallagher, Lyle)

Imagine the rinky-tink instrumental foundation of Mungo Jerry, with its off-beat, humorous elements—but used as a background for a more con-ventional group vocal sound. That's what gives McGuiness Flint its top forty drive. Light hearted teen romp with monster potential. Flip: full 3:35 version

EMITT RHODES (Dunhill 4267)

Fresh as a Daisy (2:46) (Thirty Four, ASCAP-Rhodes)

Touted as a new McCartney with the arrival of his first LP, Emitt Rhodes now spreads into the singles area with a particularly grand track from the best-seller album. Sprightly top forty selection. Flip: "You Take the Dark Out of the Night" (2:54) (Same credits)

MADRIGAL (SSS Int'l 824)

I Believe in Sunshine (2:34) (Bluenose/Prize, CAPAC/ASCAP-Hambleton)

Fine Canadian act makes a strong debut with this sunny side. Track has a sparklingly produced instrumental and full-bodied top forty vocal power to make it a strong shot for teen radio. Should be coming in saleswise. Flip: no info.

SEASONAL RELEASES:

BOBBY SHERMAN (Metromedia 204)

Goin' Home (3:14) (Green Apple/Sequel, BMI—Bahler) Sounds like his r-round hit self, but the lyrics are Christmas. Flip: "Love's What You're Gettin' for Christmas" (2:15) (Sunbeam, BMI-Grossman, Hackady) HERB ALPERT & THE TIJUANA BRASS (A&M 1237)

The Bell That Couldn't Jingle (2:19) (Shamley, ASCAP-Bacharach, Kusik) Lyric for youngsters is delivered with a TJB chuckle for pre-holiday play. Flip: "Las Manaitas" (2:56) (Almo, ASCAP-??) HARVEY AVERNE BAND (Fania 551)

Let's Get it Together This Christmas (2:32) (Averne) Blues instrumental backs a fine femme vocal group on this R&B/top forty shot. Flip: "Christmas Song" (3:21) (E. H. Morris, BMI-Torme)

BING CROSBY (Daybreak 1001)

A Time to Be Jolly (2:10) (Daybreak, ASCAP—Hale, Brown, Burke) Lusterous side that has a glitter for across the board play. Flip: "And the Bells Rang" (2:25) (???—Hale, Herron)

STAPLE SINGERS (Stax 0084)

Who Took the Merry Out of Christmas (2:29) (East/Memphis, BMI-Parker) Super rhythm arrangement and the Staple's sound should snare all teen play for this "Heard it Thru the Grapevine" styled throbber. LITTLE ALFRED & THE LINDEN BLACK YOUTH CHOIR (Wizdon 1983)

Choice Programming Selections are singles which, in the opinion of our reviewing staff, are deserving of special programmer consideration.

GRAND CANYON (Faithful Virtue 7004)

Range Rider (2:21) (Koppelman-Rubin, —, Gordon) Novelty sound with a top forty veneer makes this side a long-shot that could deliver sales. Flip: "Universal Person" (2:26) (Venergluene Dabie (Extern (Koppelman-Rubin/Extragor-(2:36)donary, Gordon)

BABY WASHINGTON (Chess 2099) Is It Worth It (3:30) (Cash & Dol-lars/Petmar, BMI-G & O Anderson, Gaither) Super-ballad side brings Baby Washington back onto the ac-tive scene. Big R&B potential. Flip: "Happy Birthday" (2:24) (Big Star, BMI—Thompson)

C. L. BLAST (United 224) What Can I Do (2:35) (NAB, AS-CAP—Atkins, Jr.) Regional action has already greeted this fine R&B outing. Could build on that to spark a nationwide interest. Flip: "I'm in a Daze" (5:00) (Same credits) United, 150 W. 55th St., NYC.

ETTA JAMES (Chess 2100)

ETTA JAMES (Chess 2100) The Love of My Man (3:35) (Heavy, BMI-Bonds) Yet another strong performance from Etta James, this side could move from R&B into the running for top forty notice. Flip: "Nothing from Nothing Leaves Nothing" (3:30) (Heavy, BMI-Morisette) Nothing" Morisette)

BUFFALO SOLDIER (SMC 113)

The Land of Perdition (SMC 113) The Land of Perdition (Sonic, Towns) Bustling R&B side with brass and percussion to stir dance-fan sup-port on the sales end. Flip: no info. SMC, c/o Sonic Music, 535 5th Ave., NYC.

THE VICTONES (Front Page 1001) I Need You So (3:21) (Hill & Range, BMI—Hunter) Fresh treatment of an Ivory Joe Hunter song brings it up to date with contemporary blues bal-lad impact. Flip: "My Baby Changes" (3:06) (Sweet Soul, BMI—Howard)

JIMMY WISNER SOUND (Wizdom

1982) Two By Two (2:35) (Williamson/E. H. Morris, ASCAP — Charnin, Rod-R. Morris, ASCAP — Charmin, Rod-gers) Cute handling of the title tune from Richard Rodgers' latest Broadway effort. MOR and easy lis-tening charmer. Flip: "Something, Somewhere" (same credits)

FIRE OVER GIBRALTAR (Kim 103) FIRE OVER GIBRALIAN (ALLA) Epitaph of Tomorrow (3:36) (Fes-tive, BMI—Smith) FM styled mes-sage and instrumental work bring a effort. Flip: "Now He's Gone" (4:15) (Festive, BMI—Bilski)

KENNY O'DELL (Epic 10693) KENNY O'DELL (Epic 10693) If I Was a Rambler (2:58) (House of Gold, BMI—O'Dell) Heading into the Sly Stewart range, Kenny O'Dell takes on a new approach in this' rhythm side aimed at top forty lis-teners. Flip: no info.

One superb review might be too good to believe. So we filled the page with them.

Soft Machine

Andrew Lycett said in the Village Voice, "It is simply the best album in the history of pop..." But he was only one among many.

In Rock magazine, David Reitman said: "The album is definitely a masterpiece of contemporary music. Soft Machine has taken rock playing, rejuvenated it, made it interesting, saved it for the future."

In Fusion, Pete Senoff wrote: "It's without a doubt one of the most powerful musical albums of the year."

"This is a hypnotic sort of record that sustains interest through four sides equally, a feat unmatched in the rock idiom and only rarely achieved elsewhere," Bob Palmer said in his review in Changes.

And not to be left out, Zygote said, "Soft Machine is one of the most dynamic and innovative groups recording today."

IMBIA, 🐨 MARCAS REG. PRINTED IN U.S.A

Each new reviewer of Soft Machine's "Third" is making the point stronger. In one important publication after another, they've agreed that the album is a "masterpiece." And evidently, they're being heard. On Columbia Records

Jefferson Airplane Buddy Guy-Jr. Wells Band

FILLMORE EAST, NYC-American as the stars and stripes. American as mom's apple pie. American as Jefferson Airplane. If the last sounds peculiar at first, try saying it a few times. Then think about the Airplane as they last appeared, complete with flags, bunting and good old American rebelliousness, at Bill Graham's American Fillmore East.

The RCA group always has something new to show us and this time it was Papa John, who plays an electric electric violin. His virtuosity and undaunted spirit did much to make the Airplane's set the exciting thing it was.

Of course, no review of the group can be complete without a word or two about Grace Slick. She is one of the compelling figures of rock, a fact which she proved once again, this time with a searching, seemingly im-provised rendition of "Somebody To Love," a song which used to be simply a great two minute plus single, and is now a vehicle for Grace to express herself spontaneously on a wide va-riety of issues. She's always fun.

Other Airplane classics which received treatment at the Fillmore in-cluded the perennial "White Rabbit," along with "We Can Be Together," "Mexico" and "Have You Seen The Saucers." To close the set there was "Volunteers," set against a red, white and blue backdrop, the last only one of the many fine and striking effects achieved by Glenn McKay's Head Lights.

Opening the show and deserving of a more extended opportunity to blow authentic blues was the Buddy Guy-Jr. Wells Band. With Wells handling the vocal chores, they were one of the classier acts to appear at the Fillmore in recent months. Buddy Guy's guitar playing was up to its usual high standard. e.k.

Incredible String Band

FILLMORE EAST, NYC — Being with the Incredible String Band is a little like walking in another land setting foot on still another moon. Mike and Robin and Licorice and Rose are there to guide you. The air is clean and light. You are welcome.

Oftentimes halls such as the Fillmore can harbor distinct feelings of anger, resentment and hostility, but when the String Band is appearing, a peace seems to ascend upon the place. This is no small achievement.

Last time they were in town the guartet presented "U," a surreal parable in song and dance. This con-cert they wanted to play a random sampling of melodies, most of which can be found in their half dozen Elektra albums. Playing a host of instruments and singing in their gentle fashion, they struck a level of excellence from which they never wavered.

Mike Heron's keyboard work provided the base on which his com-panions could construct delicately balanced interactions. Robin's vocal and guitar work; the charm, versa-tility and dedication of Rose and Licorice-all contributed to a glittering amalgam, a one sound.

Believe in the Incredible String Band. e.k.

Neil Young

Refi CARNEGIE, NYC—Amid the dark-ling shadows of staid, plush Carnegie Hall, Neil Young stood in the wings while gobs of screaming female teeny-boppers (yes, Virginia, they still exist) rushed helter-skelter up and down the aisles, screamed at each other, wafted paper airplanes from the upper tiers, and generally yokked it up. It became a problem when Neil finally decided it was time to come out and sing. His appearance on the stage caused little miniskirted hearts to flutter and loud miniskirted throats to scream. And it seemed that the majority of the audience was more interested in seeing their 'rock god' and letting him hear them than in listening to him as a performer. All of which was vastly unfair to

All of which was vastly unfair to All of which was vastly unfair to Neil who was making his solo Car-negie Hall debut. He had come there to play, to sing, to be heard, not to be idolized. It turned out to be a sur-prising concert. Just Neil singing while he alternated on acoustic guitar and pino. And his warm butterscotch voice carried the evening.

After a shaky opening of "Down y The River" (certainly a most cur-By The River" (certainly a most cur-ious choice for a first song) Neil got right down to it with superb vocal versions of "Cinnamon Girl," "South-

Seals And Crofts

GASLIGHT, NYC-In their first New GASLIGHT, NYC—In their first New York City appearance since a success-ful weekend at the Fillmore some time back, TA's Seals And Crofts played their unique blend of music in the ultra-cramped (it's a contortionist's delight) confines of Greenwich Vil-lage's Gaslight Cafe.

Jimmy Seals, who changes at mid-night into a red fox, and Dash Crofts, who can be seen at times cutching myopically to certain tree branches as a sleepy-eyed owl, were both in human and stellar form for opening night (9). Jimmy on acoustic guitar, uses it as a co-lead to Dash's electrified manas a co-lead to Dash's electrified man-dolin, a rhythm instrument, and a per-cussive base to some of the tunes (they're a drumless act). Their voices blend effortlessly and fascinatingly in a blend of honeyed warmth and spin-ning silver tinsel.

Songs like "Robin," and "Gabriel Go On Home" from their current lp, "Down Home" (one of the great al-bum finds of the year) and "Sea Of Consciousness," "Earth," and "Cows Of Gladness" from the first lp were all served up in glowing fockion and Of Gladness" from the first lp were all served up in glowing fashion and brilliant imagery. To break things up somewhat, Jim (former Texas state fiddle champ) took to that instrument for some real hillbilly hoedown music, all twinkle and exuberance. And at one point Dash took up a small elec-tric guitarlet and Jimmy played an alto sax on a beautiful jazz instru-mental. Dash used an alternately echoey and sharp sound to contrast Jimmy's mellow old Desmond-ish licks. The regular set ended with "See My

The regular set ended with "See My ife" on which the duo sing: "See my life as it was vesterday/See my life as it was today/Take my hand and I will show you/Within the moment lies the mystery." Yes.

Sea Train

TROUBADOUR, L.A.-Still on the Traffic at Fillmore East, Cat Stevens here toplined one of the more formidable of recent Troubadour billings.

The — to some — surprise hit of the evening was Capitol group, Sea Train. Just back from recording an album under George Martin's direc-tion in London, the group sounded tight, well-rehearsed and, most im-portant, interesting.

Richard's Greene's violin work was, as usual, the high point of Sea Train's performance. He combines in one solo elements of jazz, rock, blues and Annoying, to say the days) among a vast stockpile of his other songs. Annoying, to say the least, was the audience's apparent need to feel hip by applauding each song during the beginning bars and appauding again when they found out what the song was. It bothered Neil also, because at one point he stopped playing to say that he knew he wasn't too good on the piano and consequently all his introductions were the same, so why did they ap-plaud each time? "I'd rather you listen," he concluded. Neil uses his instruments as a bare minimum, just to keep the rhythm so

Neil uses his instruments as a bare minimum, just to keep the rhythm so that both melody and harmonies are provided by his voice. Throughout the two hour concert, it remained strong and sure, expanding the scope of each song over the recorded ver-sion so that while most of us were familiar with almost everything he sion so that while most of us were familiar with almost everything he played we never knew exactly what was coming next and each moment brought a new and utterly delightful surprise. I can only hope that the next date Neil plays here will not be long in coming.

Karen Wyman

PERSIAN ROOM, NEW YORK— After David Frost dutifully revealed that Karen Wyman was the youngest (18) performer to play the Persian Room, the singer did everything pos-It seemed simply incredible that one so young could command such vocal presence and comprehension of ly-rics. Singers twice her age and popurics. Singers twice her age and popu-lar for years lack the phrasing of lyric content, the ability to play with a melody without in the least disturb-ing the composer. Taking on all man-ner of popular song—from "Tea for Two" to the super ballad from "Superstar", "I Didn't Know How to Love Him" (both comprising a new single)—the Decca artist gave stand-ards a new place in the sun and relasingle)—the Decca artist gave stand-ards a new place in the sun and rela-tive newcomers a feeling that they, too, would become lasting favorites. The only betrayal of her youth—and she's forgiven in this corner—is a now-and-then tendency to drift into Barbra Streisand-like vocal motions, a pardonable inclination since Barbra a pardonable inclination since Barbra is one of her admitted idols. But, Karen Wyman is overwhelmingly her who's graced with a beautiful voice that soars with meaningful expression.

But it would be very wrong to underestimate the abilities of Peter Rowan (late of Earth Opera) on cruitar and words keyboard playar Rowan (late of Earth Opera) on guitar and vocals, keyboard player-vocalist Lloyd Baskin, and drummer Larry Atamanuik. Andy Kulberg, formerly of the Blues Project and, with Greene, one of the founders of Sea Train, soloed on "Flute Cup", which is the B.P.'s old "Flute Thing" one more time. Creating a sense of nostalgia for old Blues Project fans, the piece stands well on its own with the current group. current group. the

If there is any weakness in Sea Train's show, it is in material. Jim Roberts writes good lyrics, but the songs aren't the sort of thing you walk out of the club humming. Per-haps they don't need to be, but it would certainly help. Sea Train would appeal, most likely, to the old Blues Project fans. But, at present, the range of their audience seems limited. It's a situation that stronger material (and maybe some Sea Train versions (and maybe some Sea train of familiar pieces) would improve. t.e.

The Kinks Love Quartermass

FILLMORE, NYC--Ray Davis is one of the most imaginative writers in rock music. Strangely enough, he's also one of the most underrated writers in rock music! Davis, who has written "All Day And All Of The Night," "You Really Got Me," "Dedi-cated Follower Of Fashion," "Well Respected Man," "Arthur" and most recently "Lola," brought his band of Kinks to New York on Fri. and Sat. (4-5) for their second appearance at the Fillmore East. The Kinks play what I like to call "Harsh Rock" music, which is a com-bination of Davies' raspy vocals and FILLMORE, NYC-Ray Davis is one Powerman and The Monevgoround," the Kinks will undoubtedly gain the recognition they so rightfully deserve. Also on the bill were Love, who, because of their loose ineffective set will probably stick to recording only; and Capitol recording artists Quater-mass, an English trio who provided an interesting set of songs from their first LP that saw the group go through many refreshing mood changes highlighted by the fine organ work of Pete Robinson. Both Robin-son and vocalist John Gustafson ap-peared on the "Jesus Christ Super-star" album. k.k.

Brewer & Shipley Chet Nichols

BITTER END, NYC-It is still surprising to find a group that can come off in a live performance as good (if off in a live performance as good (if not better than) as on record. evening of melodious folk/rock. The most enthusiastic response was to several of the cuts from their most recent album, "Tarkio." "Oh Mommy" which they lovingly dedicated to Spiro Agnew, "Tarkio Road," and "One Toke Over The Line" were among the highlights of these. This is a group that was overlooked once. But that was a long time ago. If the vibrations that were felt at the club are any indication of success,

.What It All Has Meant

An American dream come true. A black American dream come true. An American dream come true for a people's music's place in the mainstream of America. These are what two sheets of paper signify. A loan of $800 to one Berry Gordy, Jr. from a family-circle corporation called Ber-Berry Corp. so he, an ex-prizefighter, could help bring substance to a dream of his own: a recording company called Motown Records, from which would flow not necessarily an ideology of music, but an identity of music. That is, a music basically born of the black ghettos, but readily identifiable to all lovers of pop music. Tuneful music. Danceable music. Music, in short, long integrated into American pop. The difference is that Berry Gordy's Motown Records was to give the child of the ghetto a chance to express it on his own terms. In the decade of its existence, Motown Records might be regarded as having blossomed on the wings of the black man's often successful struggle for equality. In truth, it has been the very exposure and acceptance of its sound—the vaunted Motown Sound—that has played a role in the black man's achievements. A non-violent, common-denominator role of music, so capable of conveying a sense of good-will and unique musical creativity that it has helped reduce the idea of a color-line to absolute absurdity. Fortunately, however, the social message of the Motown Sound must always give way to the sheer exuberance and enchantment of its music. For without the music's basic appeal, one Berry Gordy, Jr. might have been unable to repay that loan.

Your tribute is music to our eyes. Thank You. The Motown Family.

An emphatic reflection of a com-many's success story is the very titles of us Top 100 hits. Certainly, Motown Records' showing on the Top 100 over the past decade paints a verbal pic-ture of remarkable achievement. More than this, it serves to disprove-in Motown's case, at least—the old in-dustry as on that declares: "No ompany can stay het all the time." Bekw, in chronological order, is the proof, both in quality and quantity. Well over 100 of the titles attained the number 1 spot on the chart, an ast sunding average of a one-number record for each month Motown has beer in business. Even this rate has beer in business. Even this rate has beer accelerated by the company in recent years. Let your eyes walk through this fabulous feat of achieve-ment.

The Supremes

and know, instinctively what they want. Their story begins some ten years ago. In 1960, during their senior year in high school, three frightened young girl's auditioned for Berry Gordy, Jr. who was just then getting Motown Records started. He heard that germ-inal sound of talent in the group but feeling that they were too young, told them to go back to school and then come and sing for him in a year. They knew it was good advice but just couldn't see how they could possibly get through a whole year of school before auditioning. The rest is history. A year later, after hearing them again and con-firming his first judgment, Gordy signed them and "Where Did Our Love Go," was released like a breath of cool fresh air. Single after single reached high into the national charts. In fact, the Supremes performed the incredible feat of having five consecu-tive records reach the number one spot on the charts, and achievement umatched by any other American group.

unmatched by any other American group. The summer of 1967 saw two sig-nificant changes in the trio, Diana Ross, the act's lead singer received the recognition she deserved and the Supremes became known as Diana Ross and the Supremes. Cindy Birdsong, a member of Patty and the Blue bells for six years, became the newest mem-ber of the Supremes when Florence Ballard, exhausted from the girls' de-manding schedule, withdrew from the group.

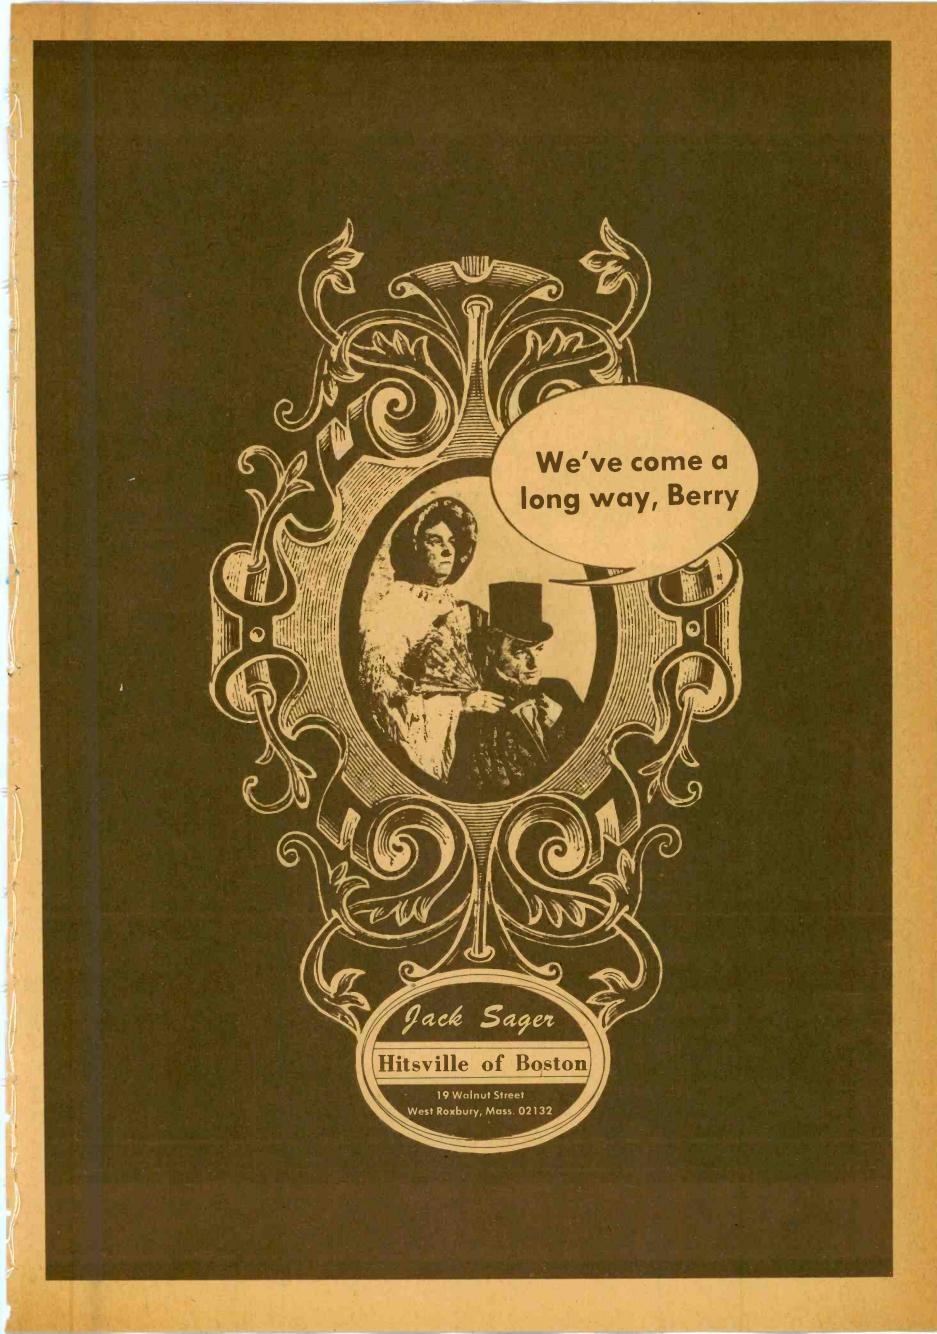

manding schedule, withdrew from the group. The fall of 1969 brought another, more significant change. Diana left the group to embark on her own solo career. Mary Wilson and Cindy Bird-song were joined by Jean Terrell who approached her position as the 'new' Supreme with equal amounts of excitement and earthy practicality. "I have quite a bit to look forward to," she said. "It means a lot of work. It also means doing something that I have longed to do." It was this same combination of talent, enthusiasm, and determination that originally turned the Supremes into superstars, and which continues to guide their success today.

Stevie Wonder

During the past decade, fans of pop music have watched and heard Stevie Wonder grow from a rocking child prodigy to a mature man with a broad range and style. Blind at birth, the Saginaw, Michigan native was already playing piano and harmonica by the age of five. A childhood friendship with the younger brother of Ronnie White, a singer with Motown's Miracles, led to a White-arranged audition with Berry Gordy, Jr., head of the label. Gordy was so impressed with the young man that he signed him to an exclusive recording contract with Tamla. At the age of 12, Stevie was already in his way to a musical career.

The Temptations

It is almost impossible to list the many his that the Temptations have created. They seen endless. And although the group is with out the services of David Ruffin, replacement Temps (who and the and the remaining four Temps (who are all lead vocalists) have continued to produce hit after hit.
The Way You Do The Things You Do," "My Girl," "An't Too Proud To Beg," "You're My Everything," "Wish It Would Rain," "Cloud Nine," "Psychedelic hack," "Runway Child Running Wild," "I Can't Get Nine a few of their most recent smash single. "Ungena Za Ulimwengu (unite the world), just to an ear a few of their hits in passing."
With the release of "Runaway Child Running Wild," the Temps took on a new and even more exciting wind that has added visually to their live performances wind have have added to their already vast popularity, and ontinue to record top ten album material on their own.

The Temptations, Paul Wil-liams, Dennis Edwards, Melvın Franklin, Otis Williams, and Eddie Kendricks, capture both the eye and the ear during live performances. They immerse huge audiences into the world of soul music. They create total emo-tional and visual involvement. It's not enough to hear or see the Temptations just once. They are habit forming, and become in a short time, a way of life.

For ten years you've been working day and night, striving, sweating, toiling, breaking down old barriers and thrusting forward into bold new frontiers. And what do you have to show ?

We understand. And we're proud to be part of it.

The Four Tops

There can be little doubt in anyone's mind that the Four Tops are one of the most consistent acts in Motown's vanguard of hitmaking groups. They burst on the recording scene in early 1964 singing "Baby I Need Your Loving" with such fierce intensity and openness that the Motor City company knew they had an instant winner on their hands.

In the months and, indeed, the years that followed, it was proven conclusively time and time again that it was the Tops' talent itself that became the sparkplug of their success. As hit after hit kept rolling in, the group's reputation grew and grew. Especially in the forefront was Levi Stubbs who soon became one of the most respected lead singers in this country.

And then the advent of "Reach Out (I'll Be There)" as a Tops single and overnight they had turned the music business upside down. Led by Levi's pleading vocals, the quartet swept upwards to dizzy heights of success. But the Top, after all are a unit. The other members of the famed act are Abdul ('Duke') Fakir, Lawrence Payton (who says: "We sang with Billy Eckstine for many years, and he taught us more about music than we had ever known."), and Renaldo ('Obie') Benson.

Several appearances on the Ed Sullivan Show as well as stints on such other network television shows as Johnny Carson and Joey Bishop heightened the desire of leading nitery and concert impresarios to book them.

Two European tours and a series of night club engagements, including the Coconut Grove in Los Angeles and the Latin Casino in Cherry Hill, N.J., preceded their Copacabana engagement. And where do they go from here?

The Four Tops say: "Films, more of the top nitery clubs, more hit records and albums, more television appearances, but, most importantly, to maintain the dream so that twenty years from now, our friends will still want to see and hear us."

It's been a Berry good year. Number 10.

Congratulations.

Diana Ross

Ross. A new superstar.

It happened then but it began years before. As far back as she can remember, Diana's greatest pleasure in life has been singing. She has never had a formal singing lesson, learning her craft through a process of applied osmosis aided by her enormous natural talent. What she lacked in technique in her early years, she more than made up for in earnestness and enthusiam and enthusiasm.

Diana tracked down every opportunity to sing in church groups and socials. Her first major disappointment came when, at 14, she tried out for a singing role in a high school musical and was turned down. Un-daunted, she formed a trio with girls in her school class and the rest is well known well known.

During the Supremes' formative stage, Diana gravitated naturally to the position of lead singer. Through the ensuing years, her individual talent apart from the group was recognized and offers poured in for her to do motion pictures, television and solo engagements. In a tv special on which she teamed as a comedienne with Lucille Ball, Dan Rowan, and Dick Martin, her special charisma could no longer be denied and the decision was made for her to go it alone.

Her first album was sensational, her single "Ain't No Mountain High Enough," revolutionized the song, and her first solo night club tour was a towering success. And this is just the beginning.

The Jackson Five

The Jackson 5 are to be to the recording group. Their first single, "I Want You Back," sold in excess of 3,000,000 copies. Their two follow up singles, "ABC," and "I'll Be There," also exceeded the one million mark as did their three al-bums. But the Jackson 5 are more than just a hot recording group, they are a phenomenon! The stage, they are unmatched. They have audiences dancing and scream-they are audiences dancing for more. They are audiences dancing for more. They for the group is virtually a occalist for the gro the Jackson 5 become a visual spec-tacular! The Jackson 5 do more than just perform. They excite and generate a unique honesty that is felt by each member of the audience. Their stage actions and dance routines, which for the most part are created by Marlon, are all brilliant. In short, they are flawless, both as musicians and as per-formers. formers.

Discovered by Diana Ross, The Jackson 5 are only beginning a career that is destined to make musical his-tory. Naturally, age is on their side, but when it gets right down to talent, they have it all.

Rare Earth

Rare, indeed, is the label that can celebrate its first anniversary with a broad range of success. A year ago, Motown Records exec vp predicted that the label's new operation, Rare Earth Records, would "prove a significant factor" in the music business.

He was right. The company's key acts are already "household" words among rock fans, particularly the label's namesake, Rare Earth, five artists from Detroit who are among rockdom's most important progressive rock acts. Then, too, there's the hitmaking talents of R. Dean Taylor ("Indiana Wants Me") and the Spinners ("It's a Shame"). Typical of its youthful viewpoint, Rare Earth is administered by an under-30 exec staff, including label head Joe Summers and Al DiNoble, national promo director and artist coordinator.

successful and they stay with the company. The Marvelettes are now in their tenth year on the charts since open-ing with "Please Mr. Postman" in a career that includes "Playboy," "Beechwood 4-5789," "You Really Got a Hold on Me," "Danger, Heartbreak Dead Ahead," "Don't Mess With Bill," "Hunter Gets Captured By the Game," and "When You're Young & in Love" as a taste of their highlights. One of the early groups in the Motown development, the Mar-velettes were quickly joined by Mar-tha Reeves & the Vandellas, who leaped into the million-seller lists with "Heatwave," "Quicksand," "Dancing in the Streets," "Nowhere to Run," "I'm Ready for Love" and "Jimmy Mack."

"Jimmy Mack." Among the acts gaining attention at the time of Motown's start were Gladys Knight & the Pips. Gladys and companions attained towering success with "I Heard it Through the Grapevine," which has since become one of the biggest copyrights in the Jobete Music catalog. From there, the group proceeded to "The End of Our Road," "It Should Have Been Me" and "E Wish it Would Rain" only 8 months behind the Tempta-tions' own hit version of the song. Later giants include "Friendship Train" and "You Need Love Like I Do."

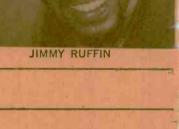

Rounding out the company's attack on musical sales, Junior Walker and the All Stars provided the Motown group with a major instumental group. Scoring first in '65 with "Boomerang," the crew has since raised its share of gold with "Shake & Fingerpop," "Road Runner," "How Sweet it Is," "Come See About Me"

MARTHA REEVES & VANDELLAS

It Take." Already a vocalist, David Ruffin pulled a table-turning of his own when he slipped into a soloist bag, leaving the Temptations and rivalling brother Jimmy Ruffin on the Motown roster. The brothers individually created Motown history with "What Becomes of a Broken Heart," "Tve Passed This Way Before," "Don't You Miss Me a Little Bit' and "Ill Say Forever My Love, all by Jim-my. Then came the Davids sales top-pers, "My Whole World Ended" and "Tve Lost Everything I've Even Loved."

and "Hip City." Then, the sax featured team turned a new leaf, ad-vancing into the vocal category with a string that started via "What Does It Take."

Loved." And, now, the singles are recording together with their powers combined. Others in the Motown spine, who have joined along the ten year long route include Edwin Starr, who after "Agent Double-O Soul" returned to the charts in his Motown "25 Miles" performance and has since gone on to become a spokesman for the na-tional conscience with "War" and his new "Stop the War Now."

And, among the freshest blossoms to flower in the Detroit garden are the Originals who have broken out of the R&B field and into the top forty arena with "Baby I'm for Real" and "The Bells" promising the start of a sweet golden bouquet.

Reminiscing:

When the Supremes were part of a TV tribute to composer Irving Berlin, Berry Gordy, Jr. met with the man, who like himself, has given pop music some of its finest moments.

One of eight children, Berry Gordy, Jr. is shown as a 4-year-old. Quite evident at this stage is Berry's penetrating eyes, which oversee the performances of his acts in the recording studio and at club engagements.

At the Motown 7th anniversary convention, Mrs. Esther Edwards, senior vp of Motown, poses with her dad, Berry Gordy, Sr., senior member of the Gordy clan and, as anyone who has met him knows, a real charmer.

One of the highlights of Motown's younger days was an annual picnic. Touch-football was a diversion, here involving Berry Gordy, Jr., Marvin Gaye (center) and Smokey Robinson. Bent over and ready to give Gaye a shoulder to the gut is Phil Jones, Motown merchandising chief.

At Motown's convention in Detroit in 1967, a horse race was named in honor of the label. Barney Ales, exec vp, and Esther Edwards, senior vp, greet the rider in that race.

One of Diana Ross' many appear, ances on the Ed Sullivan Show. The middleman is Peter Gennaro, choreographer on the TV'er.

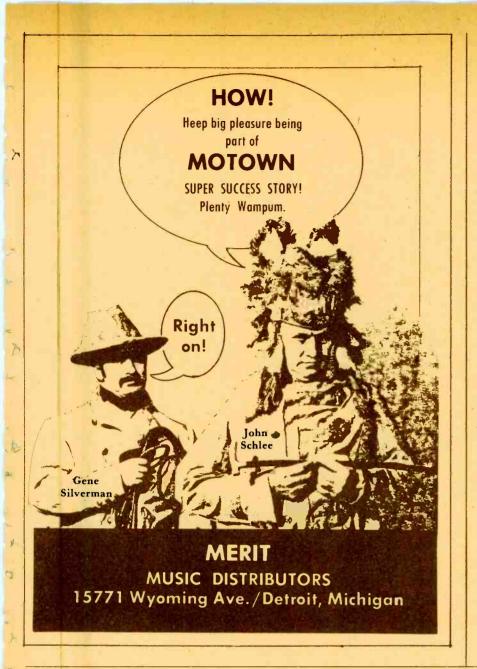

WELCOME MOTOWN

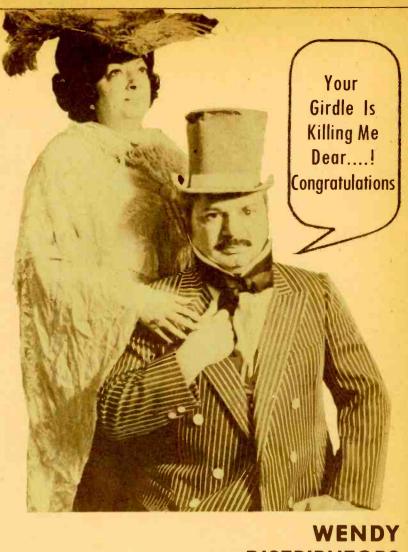

"Shanghai" conventioneers were greeted by this flying welcome as they made a tour around San Francisco Bay.

Singer Marv Johnson played a key role in Berry Gordy, Jr.'s career in music as one of the music man's first acts he produced.

Reminiscing:

Sammy Davis, Jr. (left) and Berry Gordy, Jr. recently entered into a music firm partnership which includes the recording services of the entertainer, considered by many the finest all-around performer of this age.

Berry Gordy, Sr. walks up to the original home of the Motown Sound in Detroit. The label has since moved into its own, multi-level building in Detroit. Tradesters will recall that Motown was originally situated in a row of one and two family houses.

ature harmonicas, plays the harmonica at a contest, as other contestants hear the sounds that were to become an international success.

Berry Gordy Jr., Diana Ross and Barney Ales take time-out for laughter at an industry function. Whatever prompted this joyous moment is lost to history, but Diana's performance with the Supremes and on her own is very much a part of recording industry history.

More good sales news for a Motown act? This seems to be the impression conveyed by Barney Ales as he handles a phone call.

Motown Records marketed an important social document, "The Great March to Freedom," featuring the late Rev. Martin Luther King's address in Detroi on June 23, 1963. Berry Gordy, Jr. and the great civil rights leader are shown during the presentation of the LP with Lena Horne and Billy Taylor.

During a break in an (early in their career) performance by Smokey Robinson & the Miracles, Berry Gordy, Jr. presented the group with a sales award plaque. Barney Ales (right) also took part in the ceremonies.

A final check for Diana Ross & the Supremes by Berry Gordy, Jr. before the gals make a TV appearance. Their own specials and numerous guest shots have made the team one of the recording industry's most heard-and-seen acts on the home screen.

The Motown Sound is heard 'round' the world. The international market is pointed to by Phil Jones, Motown merchandising head, as Berry Gordy Jr. and Esther Edwards, senior vp take part in an international conference.

The Supremes are award winners in many areas of achievement. One of them, of course, is disks. During the Diana Ross-lead days, the group was presented a singles award from Barney Ales, exec vp; Berry Gordy, Jr., president. George Albert, president and publisher of Cash Box, shares the event at the extreme right.

BARNEY ALES NAMED BILL GAVIN 'RECORD EXECUTIVE OF THE YEAR-1970'

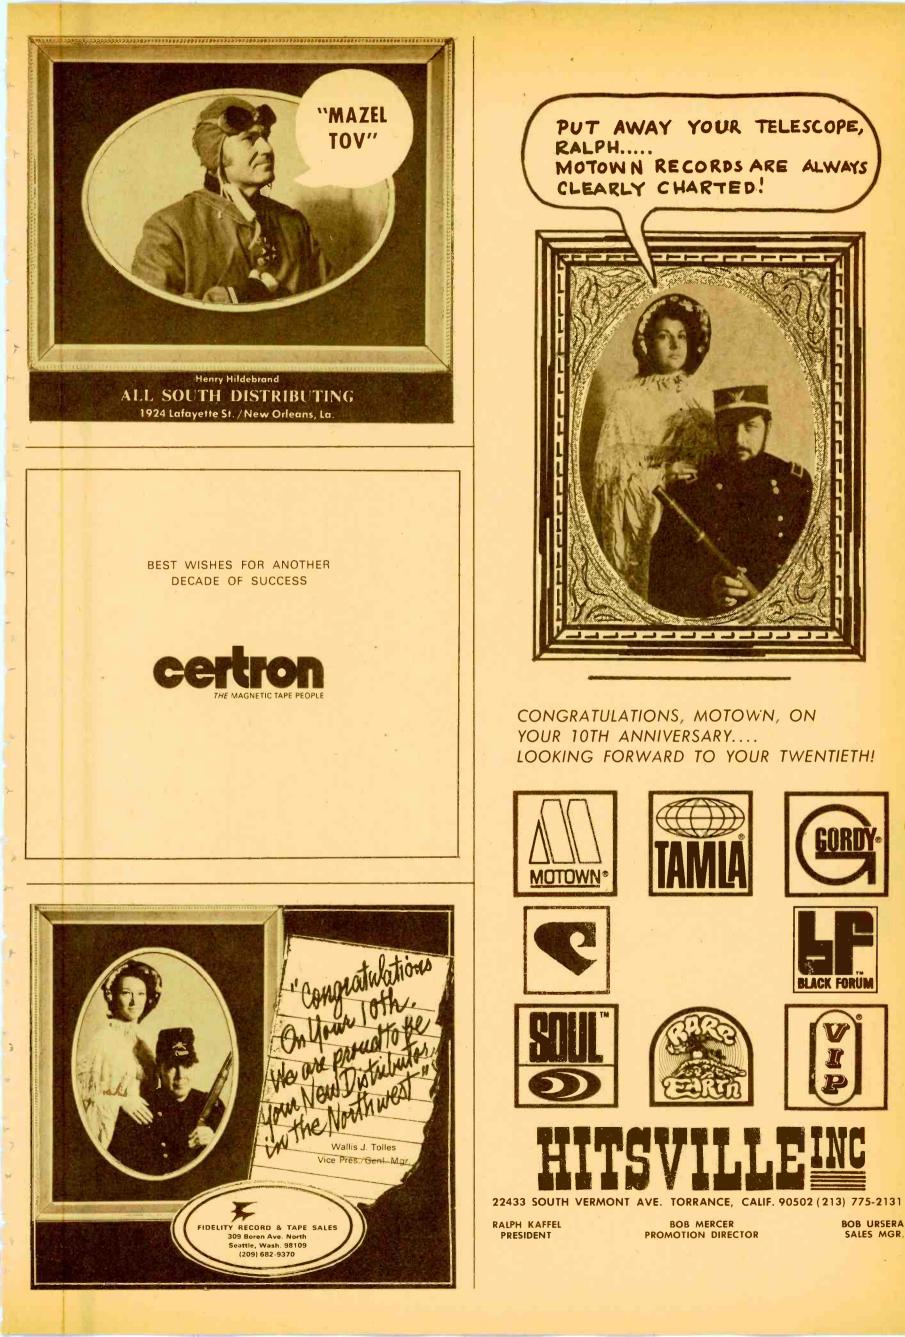

To make it, a record must, of course, have-it-in-the-grooves. But, then there's the matter of believing in a record, often a prerequisite to a hit, especially if the disk seems to be taking its time about scoring on the Top 100. This is why Rare Earth's R. Dean

Taylor recently presented Barney Ales, exec vp of Motown Records, with a special record plaque that pays tribute to Ales for "believing" in the artist's "Indiana Wants Me," which eventually became a number 1 seller (in the photo, Ales presents Taylor with an award, too). Indicative of the skill of Ales day-to-day handling of the Motown Rec-ords operation—through which Rare Earth is distributed—is the fact that Ales was named Record Executive of the Year at the recent Bill Gavin Pro-gramming Conference. Ales, who, by the way, correctly predicted that Rare Earth would be a "significant force" in the recording business when it was setup a year ago, has reason to be proud of Motown's achievements dur-ing its 10th anniversary year. Sales will show a 30% increase over last year. And with hits streaming forth, the label looks like it will finish off the first year of its new decade with an even brighter showing.

Ten Years Making Music Headlines Congratulations, all—

GREAT CONVENTION—says Minta Jones, wife of Phil Jones, Motown's director of merchandising, to Berry Gordy, Jr. She's talking about the sensational time distribs had at the label's 10th Anniversary Convention held at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco, early in September of this year.

A LAUGHING MATTER: Typical of the congeniality that featured Motown's 10th anniversary "San Francisco Shanghai" sales meet in Sept. is this on-board pose by Phil Jones, Motown merchandising chief, and Tom Schlesinger, head of creative services. Considering that both played key roles in the logistics of the 200 plus gathering, their smiles indicate that things were running smoothly.

JOLLYTIME TROLLEYTIME—Utilizing a "When in Rome..." approach, conventioneers at the Motown "Shanghai" sales meet were taken to various city activities by a mode of transportation that is still alive-and-well in San Francisco. While it's the body of a vintage trolley, the chassis was that of a bus, affording more maneuverability. And for a modern, Motown touch, a tape recorder played The Sound of Motown.

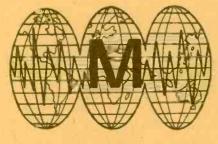

CAREFUL, BARNEY, it's just a beautiful ceramic reproduction of an antique phonograph, presented to Barney Ales, exec vp of Motown Records, by Gerry Oord, head of EMI/Bovema in Holland, among the celebrants at the label's 10th anniversary convention in San Francisco. The phono is his gift in tribute to the label's 10th anniversary.

CAPTIVE AUDIENCE: Barley Ales (left) exec vp of Motown Records, is held in mock captivity by a group of pirates who helped give a lot of appropriate color to the Motown "San Francisco Shanghai" convention. Going along with the gag shot is Gerry Oord, head of EMI/Bovema Records in Holland.

3636 This is a set of absolutely fascinating songs written and sung by Linda Perhacs that may not receive as much immediate attention as it not receive as much immediate attention as it certainly deserves simply because it's low key intense music. The album is put together like translucent sheets of rice paper waving gently in the breeze, and at times, conjurs up images of the first (and, incidentally, the best) Joni Mitchell lp. Listen to "Dolphin" and see. Al-most all of Linda's songs seem magical in content, her soft firm voice echoing away on itself swirling higher and higher. Listen to "Chimicum Rain" and "Call Of The River." Images of sadness ("Hey, Who Really Cares?") and joy ("Delicious") blend into one another, all held together by the outstanding arrange-ments and production.

YOKO ONO/PLASTIC ONO BAND-Apple SW 3373

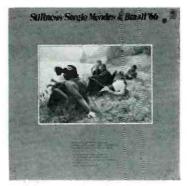

3373 If you have already closed your mind to Yoko Ono, this album, released concurrently with John Lennon's disk, probably won't change your opinion. But for those who recog-nize the independent avant garde tradition in which Yoko flourishes and which she has helped to advance, this set, consisting of a half dozen varied pieces, will be measured as still another step outward in her art. Other singers have used their voices like musical instruments, but Yoko may be the first to employ hers as an electric instrument. Among those working with here on the LP are hus-band John, Ringo Starr, Klaus Voormann and Ornette Coleman.

LOOSE SALUTE—Michael Nesmith & The First National Band—RCA LSP 4415 "Loose Salute" marks the second album by Michael Nesmith and the First National Band. Their first, "Magnetic South," attracted some attention, but it wasn't until the single "Jo-anne" became a national best seller that the group gained prominance. The material on this album, all written by Nesmith with the exception of "I Fall To Pieces," ranges from country to soft ballads, with a touch of light rock thrown in for good measure. "Loose Salute" also includes the groups current single release, "Silver Moon."

next number one album will be, you can stop. "Pendulum", the latest effort by Creedence is that album. For this new package, John Fogerthat album. For this new package, John Foger-ty and company have varied their style—but just a trifle. They've used more brass and more piano than in previous LP's, but the un-mistakable Creedence sound is still everpres-ent. Album includes 10 tracks with "Rude Awakening #2," and "Pagan Baby" running just a little over six minutes. Plenty of single potential on this one, but strongest choice is "Hey Tonight" b/w "Molina."

TWO BY TWO—Original Cast—Columbia S 30338

30338 Since ingratiating melody doesn't come cheap on Broadway these days, it's a pleasure to note that Richard Rodgers is back, with enough charming tunes to make "Two By Two" a winning score. Danny Kaye leads the brisk renderings of such refreshing items as the title song, "Why Me," "You" and "You Have Got to Have a Rudder on the Ark." The special Rodgers magic on romantic numbers is best on "I Do Not Know a Day I Did Not Love You" and "Hey, Girlie." The Rodgers beat, indeed, goes on, too.

RICHARD CHAMBERLAIN AS HAMLET—Orig-inal Soundtrack—RCA VDM 119 It's taken Richard Chamberlain some time to outrun his reputation as stereotyped "Dr. Kildare," but now both critics and audiences seem to agree he's done it with his interpreta-tion of William Shakespeare's immortal Ham-let. "The Hallmark Hall Of Fame" recently presented their tv adaptation of the play co-starring Michael Redgrave, Margaret Leighton, Richard Johnson, and John Gielgud. This two record set brings the entire show to the lis-tener and it's full fire and ice readings, with, indeed, Chamberlain excelling. An exciting ex-perience. perience.

ALARM CLOCK-Richie Havens-Stormy For-

ALARM CLOCK—Richie Havens—Stormy For-est SFS 6005 Next best thing to Richie Havens in person is Richie on disk and here is his latest effort in that department. The richness of his voice, in that department. The richness of his voice, the fervor of his playing, the sincerity of his mind, the gentleness of his heart—these come shining as Richie sings "Here Comes The Sun" and eight other selections. Included on a num-ber entitled "End Of The Seasons" is a nicely blended Moog sound, but the bulk of the album is just Richie and four or five of his trusted musicians, just setting down good music to-gether, in straight-ahead terms. Solid and strong. gether, strong.

CLASSIC RUSH-Tom Rush-Elektra EKS 74062

74062 Choosing the best of Tom Rush is no sim-ple matter. Still Elektra has done an excellent job in collecting some of the finer Rush songs and putting them together in one album. This is that album, a treat for both new and old fans of this quality singer. Here are "On The Road Again," "Urge For Going," "No Regrets/ Rockport Sunday," "Shadow Dream Song" and others just as fine. A first rate assemblage.

RANDALL'S ISLAND-Elliott Randall-Polydor 24-4044

24-4044 Elliott Randall is a newcomer to the record-ing business, but after listening to his first album, you'll swear he's been around for-ever. Randall is an excellent guitarist, and a fine songwriter. Sure, he played with the Voices of East Harlem, and Tim Rose, and Eric Mercury, and Sea Train, but now he's playing his very own music; music that should be heard. Listen to Randall's guitar speak— cleanly, smoothly. Listen to his songs, "Sour Flower," "Mumblin' To Myself," "All I Am's." Along with Bob Piazza and Allen Herman of Ten Wheel Drive, and Paul Fleisher who co-wrote most of the material, Elliott Randall has given us a fine solo album. given us a fine solo album.

GINGER BAKER'S AIRFORCE 2-Atco--SD 33-343

33-343 Ginger Baker has in the past done a lot for rock drumming. Unfortunately, this second Airforce album offers none of it! With the exception of the new treatment given to "Sweet Wine," an ancient Cream favorite, the remaining six cuts fall far short of their expec-tations. All the selections on this LP suffer from a lack of life. They are but songs-nothing to be remembered, and nothing to really get into. This is Airforce's second album effort, and they haven't as yet gotten of the ground.

BEN BAGLEY'S RODGERS & HART REVISITED VOL. II-Crewe CR 1343 BEN BAGLEY'S HAROLD ARLEN REVISITED-

BEN BAGLEY'S HAROLD ARLEN REVISITED-Crewe CR 1345 BEN BAGLEY'S ARTHUR SCHWARTZ RE-VISITED-Crewe CR 1350 These three sets are the tenth in the Bagley composer series, with a second visit for Rodg-ers & Hart, of which three or four more revisits would still fail to reveal the miraculous con-sistency of this team. Both the Arlen and Schwartz packages are, hopefully, the first of more revisits (in fact, all of Bagley's choices deserve the Vol. 2 or more treatments). One may sometimes quibble with an overdone ar-rangement, a poor vocal choice, but most of the goins-on recall a lost-art of pop song wit and sentimentality.

CHERYL MOANA MARIE-John Rowles-Kapp

KS 3637 New Zealand born John Rowles lends his to eleven big beat New Zealand born John Rowles lends his considerable vocal talents to eleven big beat ballads a la Engelbert. The title track, "Cheryl Moana Marie" was a monster seller abroad and with good reason. Also on tap are Bobby Goldsboro's "Heaven Here On Earth," Teddy Randazzo's "The Love I Had With You" and "What Greater Love," and the Bacharach/ Davis "Another Tear Falls," that was such a big hit for the Walker Brothers some time back. They're all sung in Rowles' exciting style. Should do well MOR.

JACKSON 5 CHRISTMAS ALBUM-Motown-MS 713 It really doesn't matter what the Jackson 5

It really doesn't matter what the Jackson 5 record—it all becomes a hit. This is their Christmas album, and a few days after its re-lease, it found its way to the charts. This holiday package also includes their single, "Santa Claus Is Comin' To Town" which should easily make the top 10. The Jackson 5 have added their incredible touch to each of the 11 tracks on this LP, and like Midas himself, it all turns to gold! Other cuts include "Little Drum-mer Boy," "Frosty The Snowman," "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus," "Have Yourself A Merry Little Christmas," and six additional seasonal offerings.

STERES CREAT

"Where's Poppa?" is a guaranteed laugh "Where's Poppa?" is a guaranteed laugh riot. Carl Reiner's film of a son trying to es-cape from the clutches of his slightly nutty mother is superbly funny, and Jack Elliott's score accurately reflects the madcap pace of the film. Vocals trom Carol Carmichael on the title cut, and Mr. June Jackson singing "Move It" will bring tears of laughter to all who've seen the movie. All in all the album seems to be a must for the vast numbers of people flocking to see Reiner's latest masterpiece. And who can forget that Tush Scene?

BARRY MCGUIRE AND THE DOCTOR—Ode 70 (Dist: A&M) SP 77004 Remember Barry McGuire? If you remember "Eve Of Destruction," you remember Barry. The Doctor of the title turns out to be that old folkie Eric Hord who co-wrote most of the long cuts (the shortest runs 5:33) with Barry and plays guitar and sings. Highlight of the set is the superbly atmospheric "South Of The Border," with that Tijuana sound oozing from the brass, strings and Mexican-style gui-tar. Both Eric and Barry sing the lyrics and they're superfine. The remainder of the album is made up of cuts of old-style talking country blues like "The Old Farm" and tracks like "Too Much City" and "Electric Train" that seem to suffer from overlong instrumental breaks. A mixed bag indeed.

5-10-15-20 (25-30 Years Of Love) — The Presidents—Sussex SXBS 7005 Riding the top of the pop charts with their smash single, "5-10-15-20 (20-25 Years Of Love)," the Presidents have released an al-bum of the same name containing their giant single, and 11 other tunes, several of which could easily be pulled as singles. The trio give memorable performances on "Sweet Magic," "Fiddle De De," "Girl You Cheated Me," and "Gotta Keep Moving," though all of the tunes are soulful and very exciting.

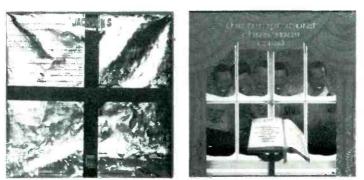

COMMIT THYSELF-The Music Asylum-UA UAS 6776

UAS 6776 The Music Asylum are a rock quartet who lay down some fairly heavy interesting sounds on this album. The music is best when Louis Argese's piano is out in front leading the way as on "Mouse" and "Star Dreams (Nebulaus)" but cuts like the long "In My World" tend to get bogged down in places by Leonard Argese's uninteresting guitar work. It's a set that, over-all, is convincing in that it makes a good case for listening to the set and, more, to anticipate the next one. the next one.

COLOSSUS GOLD-Various-Colossus CGS

5001 A sizable crosssection of just what has been happening at Colossus in recent months is presented on "Colossus Gold." Making notable appearances are the label's Hollandaise finds Shocking Blue with their million seller "Venus," and the Tee Set with "Ma Belle Amie," along with Bill Deal's two charters "May I" and "What Kind Of Fool Do You Think I Am," Shannon's "Abergavenny" and "And Suddenly" by the Cherry People. Should find ready acceptance.

THE TEMPTATIONS' CHRISTMAS CARD— Gordy—GS 951 The Temptations' Christmas album is a beautiful blend of five voices joined together to create a new feeling for the holiday. The 10 tracks on the LP are done softly, and in the spirit of Christmas. Highlighting the album are the Tempts version of "Let It Snow," "Silver Bells," "My Christmas Tree," "Little Drummer Boy," and "Rudolph The Red Nosed Reindeer."

NEW YORK: HAUNTED FACES-HIDEOUS STRENGTH-GIMME SHELTER

The stage was set, of course. The Stones blew in for their first major tour of the States in years. And people were hungry. Starved for Mick and that peculiar magical fever the Stones create. It was a time of sweat heat and crushing pressure. And something was in the air. It began to stir.

The Stones were a new group. Reborn phoenix-like in the core of an energy pool beginning with confused minds and culminating in the catharsis death of Brian Jones. A year or so before Brian's tragic suicide, the Stones were in trouble. Not musically. Creatively they never have been unsuccessful with any record they made. But they were running into psychic problems. Keith and Mick were busted in London for drug possession and, in a separate action, Brian was arrested. The Who, long time friends of the Stones rushed a single out the next day of two Jagger/Richard songs "Under My Thumb" and "The Last Time" with all proceeds going to Mick and Keith.

Immediately the pair were released, they retired to the studio with Brian, Charlie and Bill, the result being "We Love You" with it's specific references to the law and the Stones' turn the other cheek attitude and "Dandelion." That came at the end of a line of singles beginning with "19th Nervous Breakdown" and including "Paint It Black," "Mother's Little Helper," and "Have You Seen Your Mother. Baby, Standing In The Shadow." that dealt with either drugs or death.

Mother, Baby, Standing In The Shadow," that dealt with either drugs or death. And then came the "Satanic Majesties" album. In a recent Steve Stills interview published in Britain's pop paper Disc he said: "It's really funny, this business, this world. It really saps your strength in a lot of ways. You have to realize how many spiritual pressures come round people like us. It's difficult to explain without being insulting but anybody who makes it attracts this whole crowd of people who inadvertently get things strung up. Any neurosis will be compounded by taking drugs. So, if you are fearful when you take drugs, you get more afraid." Steve was referring to Jimi Hendrix when he said that but it rings uncannily true for the Stones too. "Satanic Majesties" is the most superbly evil record in the annals of rock, because it was built up out of the stark fear the group was feeling at the time. It's far from a bad album; it simply exudes bad vibes.

And so one day Brian Jones was found floating face down in a swimming pool. And the dream was over. But for the Stones it was a success dream that had turned into a nightmare. Brian's death purged them all of the tenuous things that had previously held them in thrall. The Stones had passed through the valley of death as Satanic pallbearers and had arrived in bright sunlight as beggars at a banquet of simple earthy music.

But something was in the air. And inexorably a nexus of forces began to nudge it awake.

The Maysles Brothers' film "Gimme Shelter" opens with the first writhings of these cosmic power lines. As the Stones are introduced to the vast Garden audience, through the camera, we are catapulted onto the stage, with the group, to stand side by side with Mick dressed in black, the silver sign of Leo, zodiacal

HOLLYWOOD-A WORLD OF THEIR OWN

Back in the early 1960's, when folk groups like Peter, Paul and Mary, the Kingston Trio and the Brothers Four flourished on our national charts, a neighbor came to us with what he suggested was a revolutionary approach to the fad. "A folk orchestra," he announced proudly, "a kind of Mitch Miller/George Mitchell Choir. But with young people creating and re-creating folk standards."

Choir. But with young people creating and re-creating folk standards." And what was he going to call this revolutionary folk orchestra? "At first," said neighbor Randy Sparks, "I thought of naming them "Randy and Nick and Jackie and Terry and Dolan and Karol and John and . . . but I figured this could be a bit cumbersome. So I've come up with a tag borrowed from a minstrel group formed by a man named Edwin P. Christy back in 1842. I'm going to name them the New Christy Minstrels."

That's just chapter one in the saga of the Christys who started as an eight man-two gal mountain of energy and inventiveness on Columbia and currently are scrambling for direction as a watered down folk/rock contingent on Gregar Records. It's been a number of years since Sparks sold his interests to Greif-Garris and even more since the original Christy members began to abandon the "orchestra." With constant switches in personnel, at last count there had been well over 100 old New Christy Minstrels.

But the group proved one thing about our industry. You can resurrect a name and make it even more popular than the original. Edwin Christy's group was originally known as the Virginia Minstrels and they toured the south and west, establishing the tradition of minstrel shows. It was this group that sang, played and shouted such songs as "Old Folks at Home" and "Camptown Races," helping popularize the Stephen Foster catalog. But they were never as internationally acclaimed as the Randy Sparks and Greif-Garris contingent. We were reminded of this last week when we were introduced to Eve Graham,

We were reminded of this last week when we were introduced to Eve Graham, Lyn Paul, Paul Layton, Marty Kristian and Peter Doyle, a new group formed in June, '69 under the direction of ex-Seekers guitarist Keith Potger. They call themselves the New Seekers and for those who don't recall the old ones, they were Athol Guy, Bruce Woodley, Judith Durham and Potger. And they were first introduced on Capitol with an album titled "The New Seekers." They managed several bright chart titles in the five years or so they recorded together (including "A World of Our Own" and "Georgy Girl") and the break-up, we are told, was the direct result of Durham's decision to seek a career as a single. It was a clean, crisp and very precise sound they projected on records. With the possible exception of the Christys, there was no more harmonious folk styled act available on disks.

Potger explains that the New Seekers are not a resurrection of the old. "My manager David Joseph and I had been looking for a new group . . . able to combine many talents into one entity. We wanted them to be able to dance, sing individually and in harmony and do comedy sketches." Since their debut symbol of power, emblazoned across his chest, and the first hints of what is to come becomes evident.

From the stage where Mick struts in graceful staggered arcs, arms upraised to the joyous crowd, the camera cuts to loving closeups of faces of fans, alight with Stones fever; and some, only a few, haunted by unguessed feelings. And sud-denly we're watching the show as a show with Mick and Charlie as they peer at it in the editing machine screen. A tape is played of a telephone conversation on a radio talk show dealing with the Altamont aftermath and we hear, in chilling terms the Angels' side as told by one of their own. Mick shakes his head in disbelief.

But this is a modern day story full of doom-laden portents that must be relived by all of us in order to benefit from it. The device of pulling us out of the matrix of the past into the editing room present is used a number of times with excellent effect. It serves to remind us that we're not watching a show, a happy carnival, but rather the beginnings of an awful reality that possesses a hideous strength to engulf us all.

Mick is white and gaunt as we plunge on through the tour; his eyes deep and sad, as he watches himself whirl away from the girls who rush the stage, grab "Love desperately for him, and are carried kicking and screaming from the stage. In Vain" over magnificent multiple images of Mick slowed to the music. And into a recording studio as the group, half falling out from exhaustion, as they listen to themselves singing the infinitely sad "Wild Horses." Then it's the moody "'Round Midnight," and images switch midway through to the Stones leaving by night and by 'copter for another live date.

As we draw closer and closer to Altamont the crowds get more frenzied and uncontrolled, as if by cosmic design. Crosscutting from legal meetings with Melvin Belli to the Stones' hotel rooms, back to Belli, over to the stage act, we get caught up in the frenzy of the preparations, with the Stones insistant on the fact that the concert will be held no matter what.

Altamont. The crowds are enormous. And freaky. Again those faces but this time all are haunted, twisted as from some outside agency. They are beyond control. The Stones fly in by 'copter. Hells Angels are used to clear a path through the swarms of kids but, even so, before they reach the safety of their trailer one Stone is hit.

Fights break out seemingly for no reason. The Angels jump in swinging pool cues in whistling arcs. Something is in the air. It's been awakened, prodded, and now it lurches about flailing inexorably toward the only possible conclusion. Throughout the Burrito Brothers' and the Jefferson Airplanes' sets, vicious battles continue to occur with frightening passion while the majority of the kids stand by helplessly in stupified horror. Paul Kantner gets hit in the face by an Angel, the music stops, the Airplane becomes unglued, the Angels' tempers mount. Gracie pleads over and over "Easy, easy, easy." But she goes unheeded.

The Stones come on. All hell breaks loose. The crowd rushes the stage. The Angels' pool cues are lifted, swung down, lifted, swung down while Mick des-perately chants "People, why are you fighting?" Why indeed? Reason has died; unthinking blood lust prevails. There's the villain.

The Stones play their music. A long close up of Mick shows an Angel giving him an incredibly evil look while someone freaks out next to him. Everywhere hysteria reigns. Kids are convulsed on the ground, others stare in mad fascina-tion. At one point an Angel says to Mick, "There's a guy in the crowd who's aim-ing a gun at the stage." Suddenly he's there, gun outlined against a girl's light colored knit dress. From the right an Angel (of mercy or death?) leaps at him. A knife flashes, once, twice. An ambulance comes. The girl sobs hysterically on her boyfriend's shoulder. "I must go with him," she cries. A voice in the wilderness.

And Mick stands alone at stage center dressed in blood red and funereal black, dazed, in shock. Like Oedipus, having ignored the foreshadowings of doom and running full tilt at fate, he stands blinded at the flashing moment of his relevation.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN: THE BIG GREY COMPLEX COMPLEX

I've had it with Madison Square Garden. For once and for all, someone should rip up all the seats, lay out the basketball court and play ball. The Garden is a sports arena and was never ever made to house rock shows. It's too big, too noisy, too uncomfortable, and too unorganized. It's more like a convention center than anything else. In short, the Garden will never be a rock palace -so why try and make it one at the expense of the audience?

The Garden, for all it's worth, is a beautiful structure—attractive, handsomely built, sturdy, and perfect for watching basketball, hockey, or bull fights. But nowhere within the confines of this concrete giant is there a feeling for music! The atmosphere is lacking. The air echoes with the stale shouts of boxing fans, far off in the distant distance you can hear the faint cries of "New York Knicks souvenir pennants," or "get your official Rangers program. But the voice of music is stilled. All that should represent it is non existant. Going to the Garden for the first time, or anytime for that matter is an experience. Sure, many of the kids love it because the Garden holds nearly 20,000, and it almost assures everyone a seat-but it is an experience I wouldn't wish on my worst enemy. To simplify matters, each member of the audience should be given his own guide-but this is too costly, and as a result, the old "look at the stub-find your own seat" policy was instituted. The only problem with this system is that looking at your stub won't always enable you to find your seat! Upon first entering the Garden, you must find the appropriate sign that lists the group has played Germany, Australia, a six week season at the London Palladium. And will soon be seen here on the Andy Williams Show (Jan. 9).

The group defines its sound as a "five pronged attack rather than the original Seekers based on a group with one lead singer. It was a very folky sound. Ours is a more versatile group in that we have songs to appropriate the different voices." Fivesome still utilizes acoustic instrumentation in live performing though their first Elektra lp, due to be released during the next few weeks, gets string and amplified backing.

"We like to think that we are a more adventurous act than the original," says Eve Graham, an attractive brunette who has spent time with various Scottish and English groups as well as the Cyril Stapleton Band. "Our album will include songs composed by a number of talented young writers, including Nilsson, Randy New-man, Elton John and Melanie. But, in the future, we hope to incorporate more of our own things on disks." Current single (released just last week) lists "When There's No Love Left" (a reaffirmation of the Christ/God figure—or Faith) as the "A" side. But a number of east coast stations are already programming "Beautiful People," (featuring Eve), the memorable Melanie comp. Eve's vocal efforts appear to be more intimate and free wheeling than Durham's meticulous, full range abilities.

Elektra is obviously enthusiastic about the New Seekers. Judging from their first two singles, they are accomplished performers, offering much more complicated harmonies than the Capitol quartet. Whether they'll succeed in becoming even more renowned than the original group, only time, Bill Drake and the public will tell. At any rate the Christys did it. So lightning and lionization do, on occasion, strike twice.

the tower letter that corresponds to the letter on your ticket. Easy enough! After checking your ticket for the color code, you can now walk to that designated tower which may take as long as five minutes. Having arrived at the proper tower, it now becomes necessary to check your ticket again and determine which gate your ticket will allow you to enter. In many instances, another walk is necessarybut alas-the proper gate.

Having finally reached your destination, you will be greeted by a friendly Garden attendant who will tear your ticket, hand you a stub, and point you in the direction of the escalators which will take you two or three levels above the main lobby to a new set of signs listing the various section numbers. Now, you're halfway there.

After finding the corresponding section number, you will be greeted by another friendly attendant who will double check your stub to be sure you're in the proper section. Having done so, you will be permitted entrance. At last—the huge Garden arena becomes visible. All that's left now, is a few short stairs to climb, a ramp to romp over, a seating usher to greet you, a short walk to your designated row, a few more steps to your comfortable iron seat, a few deep breaths, a two hour wait for the headlining act-and there it is, life at the Garden! If during the show you decide to get up and get a drink, forget it. The refreshment stands are almost totally out of the question since they are nowhere near the seats, and reaching them could easily become an all day affair.

The next major catastrophe is the seating arrangement. With the exception of the highly priced stage level orchestra seats which could easily be the worst seats in the house, the remaining rows are built on a gradual incline so that the very last row of seats is barely visible from the stage. Another interesting aspect of the seating arrangement is that several thousand tickets for seats behind the stage are also sold. Anyone purchasing these tickets will be rewarded with watching the performers backside for three hours. Because these people miss the entire show, it would be less expensive to buy the album and stay home!

As for the shows themselves-for the most part they're too long, too much time is wasted setting up equipment, and the thousands of kids who clutter the aisles to get a close look at their idols prevent the entire orchestra section from seeing.

Having listed all the problems with the rock shows at the Garden, you're probably anxious to hear my solution. I have none. The price of rock groups is so high that to book Led Zeppelin or the Rolling Stones into a smaller hall would be impractical and bad business. Carnegie Hall and the Felt Forum, two of the most suited halls for rock shows, hold only a fraction of the crowd that is capable of piling into the Garden.

Although there appears to be no solution at the moment, one must be thought of. For as it stands now, the Big Grey Complex like a burning furnace--breathes in smoke filled minds and thrusts them into an arena around which confusion reigns and the price of admission buys you a ticket to witness the next performance of the great musical murder!

CMA Project Expands At MIDEM Festival

NASHVILLE — The Country Music Association has been an active parti-cipant each year in the international music mart festival in France (Midem) and this year will partici-pate on an our broader mark Bact pate on an even broader scope. Past years have seen a special booth oper-ated by CMA to promote the inter-national exposure of American country music product. This year's Midem country music presentation will be broadened with each of the major US record labels making available to the conventioneers at each of their booths CMA materials on country music, the organization, membership applications, and the Country Music Hall of Fame. In this manner greater exposure is expected to a greater number of conventioneers with a livelier interest among a larger number of participants.

Board chairman Richard Broderick, himself a member of the international category, lauded the interna-tional mart for its success in promoting the international exchange of music in all fields and more particularly for its effect on the growth of country music in the international field. He stated, "CMA is very appreciative of the opportunity to actively assist in the six-day Midem music mart."

23-year-old Jean Francois Michael has been officially named Best Selling French Artist for the past twelve months. Contracted to Vogue Records, he has sold over 2,000,000 copies of "Adieu Jolie Candy" and had a No. 1 in Canada, Spain and Italy with "Du Fond Du Coeur." He is seen here with an Italian trophy presented to him for being the foreign artist to have sold most records throughout the past 12 months.

Widespread music trade expecta-tions have been confirmed by the CBS announcement of disk price adjust-ments coinciding with the introduc-tion of decimal coinage and currency in Britain on February 15th. The CBS rises will take effect at the end of this year, and the company's sin-gles will increase from nine shillings and sixpence to ten shillings (fifty new pence). The CBS £1.19 shillings and eleven pence range of albums are going up to £2. three shillings and ten pence (£2.19), show albums will rise by four shillings and ten pence (£2.49), classical LPs increase by two shillings and ten pence (£2.39) and 45 r.p.m. extended play disks will cost sixpence more at 13 shillings and ten pence (69 new pence) CBS marketing director Maurice Oberstein explained that certain prices were being altered to make the transition to decimal currency easier, and oth-ers are being increased to offset risbeing altered to make the transition to decimal currency easier, and oth-ers are being increased to offset ris-ing costs. Oberstein added that al-though CBS turnover had risen sub-stantially, the savings in volume alone were not sufficient to absorb the higher costs. None of the other major disk companies have at this time declared their intentions on prices in view of the approaching decimalisation, but it is inevitable that they will eventually follow the CBS lead in view of the rising costs factor.

ary 15th. The German BASF blank tape company is contemplating entry into the record and cassette market in the UK. It is thinking along the lines of an initial release of 35 full-price LPs, 25 low-price, and 45 musicassettes, plus a number of single disk releases. The repertoire would be released on BASF's own label here and in Ger-many, and will concentrate chiefly on middle of the road product. If the plan proceeds, BASF will establish its own office to handle the project here, and preferably would like its own manufacturing and distribution set-up. The company is also prepar-ing for the advent of video cassettes and machines. Andy Wood, now vice president of the Bill Shepard Organization, de-

More details have emerged about nossible commercial radio plans, fol-lowing a meeting between a delega-tion from the Campaign for Indepen-dent Broadcasting and officials of the Ministry of Posts and Telecommuni-cations. Both sides agreed on the de-sirability of operating commercial radio and VHF rather than the over-crowded medium waveband, but the CIB delegates favour a regional pat-tern of stations offering pop or sweet music alternatives rather than the present Ministry conception of nu-merous local stations, providing vir-tually the same type of program-ming. There is a divergence of opin-ion on news coverage, with the Min-istry favouring a centralized source of news supply and the CIB advoca-ting much more localized news ser-vice by the various stations. A Broadcasting Council will probably be established along the lines of the nresent Independent Television Au-thority, and will allocate station fre-quencies and rent transmitting equip-ment to the various stations. The next stop towards achieving commer-cial radio in the UK will be the pub-lication of a White Paper outlining the Government's proposals on the subject for presentation to Parlia-ment early next year. Canada Indie Producers Form Association; Attack Radio Prod.

TORONTO - A group of Canada's most eminent record producers met at Toronto's Inn On The Park (4) to form an association that would concern itself with improving the lot of Canada's independent record producers.

There were 21 in attendance and included producers with an amazing track record—for success and for sustaining. Their chief topic was the need for a united front to tackle some of the nonumental problems born of the 30%. Canadian content ruling legislated into Canadian law by the Canadian Radio and Television Commission to create a Canadian record industry in Canada and to promote a national culture. This was, perhaps, one of the rare There were 21 in attendance and yet to see a chart listing. One subject that created a heated discussion was that of the broadcas-ter-owned record production houses and the possibility of preferential airplay to he "insiders." The group discussed their lack of success in pleading for airplay at radio stations that housed their own production companies. They also discussed how bleak the future looked insofar as competing with the broadcasters themselves for airplay. All those in attendance agreed unamaimously that an association should be formed and that the prime

TOKYO — Pianist Nelson Freire vis-its Japan on Feb. 28 for concert ap-pearances from March 2-15. On pearances from March 2-15. On March 1, CBS/Sony will host a press interview at its offices. In honor the visit, the label has released his rec-ording of the Tchaikovsky Piano Concerto with Rudolf Kempe conduc-ting the Muchen Philharmonic Orchestra.

CELEBRATION IN RHYME — "Twenty-five Years Ago, He Was a Plain Employee/Now He's a Star In the Show of P.P.I./D.G.G." These were the first lines of a special Jubilee song paying tribute to Dr.s Joop van der Velden, managing di-rector of D.G.G. and N. V. Philips, who joined Philips 25 years ago. object of the union of producers was to set a definite precedent regarding the ethics and legality of broadcas-ters in record production.

ters in record production. The meeting was unique in that all in attendance were independents not directly affiliated with any record company—and independent in their financing of record sessions. It was made clear that the branch offices of U.S. owned record companies in Canada could not get involved in the domestic political problems of the Canadian record producers, but would definitely be affected by the lack of a "fair marketplace for Cana-dian production." It was generally felt that broadcasters who had en-tered the production arena for profit might use the airwaves, granted to

The Maple Leaf System (MLS), comprised of thirteen music directors of major top 40 radio stations across Canada, came in for criticism. The MLS, many felt, had not achieved its goals as a hitmaker. The System was too loose an organization and the question arose as to its importance in canada. All agreed that the MLS served no purpose that could not be fulfilled by all radio stations across Canada and that the System created an atmosphere of "sudden death" for unsuccessful records. It was generally felt that the secondary stations were the real hitmakers. It became obvious that the Canadi-an record making communiy pro-duced something that, until this Fri-day meeting, had not been obvious— they showed a great deal of concern with the problems that had come of the CRTC ruling and would stand together to fight for a fair shake from the broadcasters. These same broadcasters had fought the ruling when it was announced by the CRTC last February, and now eleven months later are the chief competi-tors of the record producers. If the first meeting was any indica-tion of the unity of purpose of these independents—the association will be a body to contend with. The second meeting is already scheduled for early January. Mean-

Italian Publisher Promotes Material Through Cassettes

Ihrough Cassettes MILAN, ITALY — The publishing firm of Le Edizioni Musicali La Voce Del Padrone is promoting its songs via a Eureka V.D.P. line of special cassettes. Twelve Italian composi-tions recorded by foreign and Italian artists are included in the first re-lease, designed to reach foreign per-formers and producers. A second cas-sette will feature Italian artists and producers. Performing on the initial cassette are Al Bano, Romina Power, I Nomadi, Cigliola Cinquetti, Amalia Rodrigues, Sacha Distel, Caterina Caselli, Nino Tristano and Dario Bal-dan.

Spanish vocalist Julio Iglesias has been the visitor of the week in Buenos Aires, performing on Chan-nel 13, via the "Sabados Circulares" TV program, hosted and produced by Nicolas Mancera. CBS hosted a party at the American Club, with strong attendance by deejays and trade peo-ple, presenting the first LP by him. At the gathering we had the oppor-tunity to meet Enrique Herreros, cur-rently manager of Iglesias, who re-ported that, after his visit to this country, will travel to Chile and oth-er Latin American countries, return-ing afterwards to Europe. Odean has contracted singer Patricia Dean, sister of the famous McClusckey Brothers, members of the Mac Ke Mac's group, and has already released her first single. There is also an LP by tango vocalist Claudio Bergen, and also an LP with current hits by orchestra director Tulio De Rosa; Engelbert Humperdinck has also an LP, under the London logo.
Clanort reports that negotiations are being conducted through RCA Italiana to arrange the participation of Palito Ortega at the next San Remo Contest; this year, Palito travelled several times to Europe, both securing contacts for his publishing house and fulfilling personal appearances at the Cantagiro and other contests. The pubbery is also involved in a strong campaign to get increased recordings of the tunes controlled by Clanort in the Latin American area.
More about Music Hall: Santiago Elizalde, whose first single, "Viejas Fotos," was used as leit-motiv for the film "La Felicidad," will travel shortly to Thailand, where lives his father, who belongs to the Argentine Diplomatic Corps. Elizalde will sing in English, a language he dominates fully.

in English, a language he dominates fully. Phonogram's Bentivoglio reports the release of the first LP by group Blue Mink, and also an album by Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young, "Deja Vu," which is expected to sell strongly. There is also a single by Bobby Bloom, "Montego Bay," and another single by folk singer Cesar Isella. Elio Roca is preparing a tour of several Latin American countries, arranged by Manager Eduardo Al-varez.

arranged by manager -----varez. EMI Suppliers' Ramon Villanueva informs that Roberto Vicario's "Say-onara Amor" is selling very well, which turns once more Vicario into a consistent star. Vicario has also an LP, "Ternura," which is also running well well.

For the first time in a long while locally recorded disks are off the charts; due to some degree to the influx of overseas material flooding the market after the crippling record dispute which kept most European, local and all English-originated tracks off the air-waves. Undoubtedly one of the top groups sales-wise here is Creedence Clear-water Revival who recently had the number on single "Lookin' Out My Back Door" and still continue to break LP records with "Cosmo's Fac-tory." The group will reportedly play the big cities in a tour arranged by Artists Consultants. Johnny Cash is also understood to be playing here in March. March

The big-gest project of them all, however, was that of Jose Roses, owner of the Barbarela discotheques and sponsor of "Barbarela de Conjuntos 70", who wanted to hold weekly shows both in Madrid and Barcelona from January on bringing at least once every month top international names, not-withstanding their fees. Basic for this project was the hiring of the big Sports Palaces in Madrid and Bar-celona, but they were unavailable so Mr. Roses had to renounce to his plans. "Barbarela de Conjuntos 71" will be held, in any case, probably coinciding with the opening next year of the Barcelona Barbarela Dis-cotheque. Williams Introduces 6-Player 'Cimarron'; United Shuffle Alley

Williams 'Cimarron' 6-PI.

CHICAGO — Williams Electronics, Inc. has added a new member to its powerful tribe of United shuffle alleys with "Cimarron," a six-player game that features five different game formats.

Players of "Cimarron" can compete in regulation play, "flash," "strike 90," "roto" and "tri-x" play. All games include a "beer frame" that is offered in the third, fifth and eighth frames. The beer frame, if used, is adjustable on location for whatever frames desired.

Visually the game offers a stylish cabinet and a colorful backglass that depicts a wellfeathered Indian chieftain carefully watching a stagecoach plodding through the wastelands of the Southwest.

The game may be delivered with single, double or triple chutes and includes an instruction manual. The machine is two and one-half feet wide, eight and one-half feet long and weighs 470 pounds when shipped.

Williams recommends two for a quarter play for "Cimarron," which is available for immediate delivery through local Williams distributors.

High School Students Prove 'Old Rock-Olas Never Die'

CHICAGO — Old Rock-Ola phonos never die, etc. etc. Cash Box recently received a letter from Sterling, Illinois operator George Wooldridge of Blackhawk Music, who donated an old model Rock-Ola phonograph to the Industrial Education Department of Rock Falls Township High School (Rock Falls, Ill.) and was amazed at how the student body utilized various parts of the box.

The top selector system is being used as a rotating announcement system in the school's TV room; the numbering and amplifier systems are being "checked out" by students in the electronics classes; the mechanical system is being used in drawing classes as mechanical movers and their applications, and the fluorescent light will be used in making a light table.

As George concludes in his letter, "Have you ever wondered what happened to old Rock-Ola's?"

EDITORIAL: You and the Economy

The mixed emotions everyone suffered when the railroad workers struck Wednesday at midnight are very like the emotions the operator feels when he thinks about raising the play prices on his machines. The railroad people, most thought, probably deserve more money, but . . . do we the general public need the headaches of another major strike? Likewise, the music and games operator would certainly like to turn all his jukes and games over to $2-25\phi$ play but at the same time he hates adding more fuel to the inflationary spiral.

When it comes right down to the nitty gritty, everyone has to protect his own interests, right? The phrase "self-interest" suffers the stigma of "me first and the public be damned", but in actual fact, when everyone looks out for himself in today's business community, that whole community really comes alive.

Operators must look after their interests, first and foremost. They may think they're at the mercy of the location's whims but let's be honest, operators own the machines and are the bosses about pricing and everything else that affects them.

This article may sound like a sermon to remaining tradesters who are still reluctant to get with the higher play pricing, but it's really straight dope on a situation as it really exists. Music and games pricing must be raised all across the board . . . not tomorrow, or even today, but yesterday.

There's nothing immoral about charging more for your services, if they're worth more . . . and our industry's services are worth a lot more! If people didn't think $2 \cdot 25 \phi$ music fit their pocketbook, they wouldn't play the machine. But they have, haven't they? Same for pins, shuffles and the rest of your standard fare. Special games, thankfully, are on quarter chutes when they come from the factories.

The near future will see more price raising. Already, there are plenty of tables operating on $35 \notin$ play (quarter and dime) and talk about twin-quarter chutes on this popular game. Lately, certain distributors have been recommending straight quarter play on shuffle alleys. This would have sounded bizarre a year ago but not today (especially when you consider that shuffles in the main have been taking dimes since 1949).

This is clearly the only way to go . . . up. Everyone else has, including the people who supply our manufacturers with raw parts (and likewise effect the selling price of the equipment). To cut back machine purchases in an effort to save a buck is much like cutting your nose off to spite your face. Raise your play pricing and if the income still doesn't suit your needs, then buy less machines. But for goodness sake, don't pass the buck to the factories before you pass the increase on to the paying public.

NAMA Show Draws Record Attendance, Prominent Speakers

CHICAGO — A program of prominent speakers and a record number of trade show exhibitors combined to attract 9,184 industry representatives to the 24th annual Convention-Exhibit of Automatic Merchandising and Food Service Management Nov. 7-10 in Chicago.

John Burlington, chairman of the board of the sponsoring National Automatic Merchandising Association, highlighted association accomplishments during 1970 at the annual meeting. His report covered the first machine manufacturer meetings in recent years, advances in routeman and supervisor training seminars, security, labor relations, sanitation and public health and legislative and government affairs. He also cited gains in public relations and membership activities and announced the formation of a research and market statistics department.

The profit squeeze which continues to face vending service companies because of rising costs and consumer reluctance to accept price increases was discussed by several speakers and in specialized presentations on profit improvement.

Bront improvement. Business sessions conducted in the Hilton Hotel were attended by a daily average of between 900 and 1,000 members. Keynote speaker Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, San Francisco State College president, said he believes the worst of the student uproar is over. He claimed that the recent violent actions by student extremists have thoroughly disenchanted other students with the methods of radicals. "But the really radical revolutionaries may be moving off campus and shifting their attacks to business," he warned.

"An adequate supply of coins of all denominations is critical to the success of the vending industry," according to Mrs. Mary Brooks, U. S. Bureau of The Mint director, who spoke on Nov. 8. "There is a pressing need for a circulating half-dollar which won't be hoarded by the public for their bullion or nunismatic value." She added that a bill pending in Congress would authorize a silver dollar and remove all silver from the Kennedy half-dollar.

University of Missouri marketing professor Dr. Don Webb analyzed all areas of pricing, which has been described as the single greatest problem facing the vending industry today. He suggested steps to be followed in determining customer reaction to a price increase before it is effected, how to convince the customer of the need for the increase and how to cope with the intial drop in sales volume following the increase.

Security analyst Charles Baum of New York's Loeb, Rhoades & Co. said the vending industry has outpaced the overall economy in the past decade by a healthy margin and will continue to grow more rapidly than the economy. He felt even more optimistic about the growth of the manual food service business. "But the biggest single blow to the vending industry in the eyes of Wall Street in recent years has been the failure to execute price increases especially the move to 15-cent beverages."

The annual trade show was held in the International Amphitheatre's Donovan Hall. Exhibitors totaled 180, 12 over the previous record set last year in New Orleans.

Chicoin Bows 'Cowboy'; With 'Texas' Flippers

CHICAGO - Chicago Coin expects to be riding high soon with "Cowboy", its new four-player flipper game that features five-inch "Texas size" flippers.

The large flippers are intended to provide players with increased control of the flippers and enable them to increase their scores by keeping balls on the playfield for extended periods of time. "Cowboy's" four-figure scoring is increased by a build-up bonus that offers a top bonus score of 1,000 that may be achieved in three ways.

The center hole on the playfield also collects and builds up a bonus and kicks balls into the bumpers for additional scoring opportunities. "Cowboy" also includes a ball saver, which closes the opening between the two flippers and keeps the ball on the playfield. The game also includes a match feature and an extra ball is

Cash Box Blooper Delivers Machines To Wrong Distribs

Contrary to a Cash Box story that appeared in our Dec. 12 issue, the new Gottlieb two-player flipper game, "Snow Derby", is not "available for immediate delivery through all local Williams distributors."

Captivated with the bonus scoring features of "Snow Derby", a Cash Box staffer became editorially absentminded and advised all operators that the new game could be obtained from "Williams distributors."

This revelation was understandably of great interest to Alvin Gottlieb of D. Gottlieb & Co. and Jack Mittel of Williams Electronics, Inc. Both coin-biz executives took the blooper in good-natured stride and we thank both gentlemen for their understanding and sense of humor.

For the record, "Snow Derby" is available for immediate delivery through all local Gottileb distributors.

Philadelphia Tradesters Have Experienced 33 Years of Assistance on Erfle's Account

PHILADELPHIA - Long before banks began to advertise on television their friendliness and concern for personal needs of accounts, Phil-adelphia operators and distributors had a good friend at the bank in Ray Erfle.

Erfle, recently semi-retired senior executive vice president of the Lin-coln National Bank at the age of 60, has helped finance the Philadelphia coin machine industry with more than $100 million since his first contact with the local trade in 1937.

Erfle didn't encounter any competition from rival institutions in the 30s when he attempted to provide financing services to the coin machine industry. A combination of an intense "gangster image" under which the trade suffered and the unfamiliarity of banks with the coin machine industry left the Philadelphia trade without access to substantial finance services.

In 1937 Erfle was a three-year junior officer of the Northwestern Bank, a fledgling institution. During that year, Irv Udell, one of the bank's outside men, walked into the Philadelphia headquarters of David Rosen. That visit marked the first time that an ear of the local financial community had been turned toward the coin machine industry.

Several members of the Philadelphia banking community who have been associated with Ray Erfle since his first efforts to financially aid the local coin machine industry joined with industry leaders to honor Erfle at the party recently held in his honor. Shown (left to right) are Roland Cushmore, vice president of Continental Bank; Joseph Mollett, vice president of The Bank of King of Prussia; Erfle, William Moore, vice president of Continental Bank, and Lew McGrath, who recently retired as an officer at Continental Bank.

Rosen, not a man easily caught speechless, proceeded to explain to Udell the operation, problems and financial structure of the jukebox and games business. Rosen contended that the industry's image was largely undeserved and emphasized the trade's need for solid financial sup-port. port.

Erfle met with Rosen shortly thereafter and expressed his will-ingness to financially strengthen the coin machine industry. Erfle then began discounting paper for distributors, that is, issuing payment on promissory notes given to the dis-tributor by an operator for equipment purchased. (For this discounting service, banks receive an interest payment at a specified rate. This common bank practice enables a businessman to obtain working capital that would otherwise be tied up in notes that might not be paid for months.)

Rival banks did not rush to follow Erfle's example. Other Philadelphia banks considered Erfle's financing of the coin machine industry an unwise venture into a not entirely reputable business. "Back then," Erfle said, "I couldn't go to a bankers' meeting without somebody saying, 'Hey Ray, are you wearing your shoulder hol-ster today?'"

It would have been more appropriate to ask Erfle if he was wearing his route man's outfit. As Erfle soon expanded Northwestern's financial services to include direct loans to operators, he made a determined effort to learn the coin machine business from the inside.

On his Saturdays, Erfle would jump on the route truck of a local operator and visit locations where he would examine the guts of machines, change title strips and talk with location owners. That driving effort to understand the industry has contin-ued full steam through the present (Cont. on p. 100)

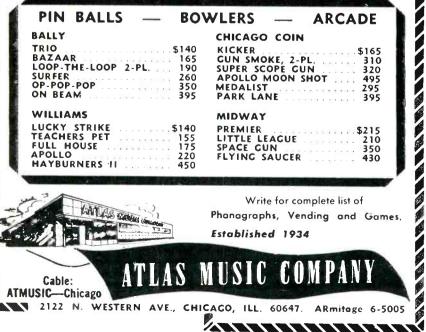

ENGLEWOOD — Bernie Yudkofsky, president of Gold-Mor Distributing, last week announced the stocking of four new Little L.P.s from Columbia Records—"Harry James' Greatest Hits", "Close to You" by Johnny Ma-this, "The First Lady" by Tammy Wynette and "Concert by the Sea" by Erroll Garner. The new records fol-lowed closely on the heels of a Capi-tol Records shipment a few weeks ago, which according to Yudkofsky, was almost out of stock a week after its arrival.

was almost out of stock a week after its arrival. The Columbia records, like the oth-er Little L.P.s distributed by Gold-Mor, were selected by Yudkofsky be-cause of their appeal for adult jukebox locations. "I expect the Tam-my Wynette L.P. to do particularly well," he said, "because the country wether material has a nearen to and western material has proven to be a strong item. The Merle Haggard record, which we got a few weeks ago," he added, "has been moving ex-tremely well." Yudkofsky said the Garner and James albums were selected because of requests from operators for jazz material. The Gold-More had conced-ed that the albums do not offer mod-ern jazz but that standard jazz mate-rial retains a great deal of populari-ty in tavern and restaurant locations. The James album includes vocals by Frank Sinatra, Helen Forrest, Dick Haymes and Kitty Kallen. Yudkofsky said that Mathis singles have long been quarter-grabbers on jukeboxes and that the material from his recent album should similarly stim-ulate achtering. The perus chimment his recent album should similarly stimulate collections. The new shipment expands the Gold-Mor "Little L.P." catalogue to 17 items.

ON THE AVENUE—We asked Lou Wolberg, boxing expert in residence at Runyon's Tenth Avenue office, for his evaluation of the recent Muhammed Ali-Oscar Bonavena fight and his prediction for the upcoming Ali-Joe Frazier title bout. According to Lou, Bonavena was beaten because he presented a stand-up, easy to hit target to Ali. "Anybody who can bob and weave with this guy (Ali) can beat him," asserts Lou. "You've got to get into a crouch and throw punches at him from underneath. If Frazier fights him from a crouch," Lou concluded, "he should beat him." . . . Al D'Inzillo, Albert Simon, Inc. veepee, reports that the showroom was visited by several foreign visitors last week, including a Greek tradester and two from Brazil. Al adds that "locally things are moving along quite well", especially the Rock-Ola "444" 160-selection phono. He adds that the firm is awaiting delivery on "Cimarron", the new shuffle alley from Williams and that Simon, Inc. is currently delivering Williams "Three Jokers" and is having continued success with SEGA's "Jet Rocket" flight simulator . . . Among those seasonal tunes doing well with area ops are Nat King Cole's "Christmas Song", Bing Crosby's "White Christmas", the Harry Simeon Chorale's "Little Drummer Boy", Bobby Helms' "Jingle Bell Rock" and the Jackson 5's "Santa Claus is Coming to Town". These singles have such long-lasting appeal that record companies continue to press them for operator and consumer use. UPSTATE ITEMS—Spoke with irrepressible John Bilotta, president of /Bilotta UPSTATE ITEMS—Spoke with irrepressible John Bilotta, president of /Bilotta Enterprises, who discussed his new promotion for the Wurlitzer "Zodiac" phonograph whereby an operator receives a complimentary piano for every two "Zodiacs" purchased. Speaking about his unique promotional offer, John said, "It's an opportunity for every operator to think of his family and give them a life-long gift." . . The affable Newark, N.Y. distributor reported receiving visits last week from several Finger Lakes areas operators. Among those dropping by at John's vast headquarters were Sam Elisha, Charlie Brennan, Hank Jenter, Homer Jenkins, Sam Venuti, Lloyd Hillimire, Johnny Sullivan, Del Peters, Melvin Dodge and Leo Schingles.

HERE AND THERE—Heard from AI Rubin, president of Musicanza Records, who reports increased one-stop orders for "Red Red Roses", the jukebox-oriented record by Johnny Desmond on the Musicanza label. AI reports strong one-stop action from Lieberman's and Davidson in Omaha, Singer in Chicago, Rochester one-stop in that upstate New York city, Northern in Cleveland, J. L. Marsh in Des Moines, Beta in New York, Best in Buffalo, Redisco in Baltimore, Arc Jay Kay in Detroit and Mobil in Pittsburgh.

Al says that orders for the country-pop tune have been rolling in and that his head is spinning as he tries to keep up with them all. The Musicanza executive attributes the record's heavy one-stop action to its well-defined location appeal that earmarks the single as "must" programming on jukeboxes, especially in taverns.

MILWAUKEE MENTIONS

Jim Stansfield Jr. of Stansfield Novelty in LaCrosse, participated in the recent NAMA sponsored seminar held at the Rustic Hut and described it as one of the most "interesting and informative" he's ever attended. Subject matter was pilferage and how to combat it. As was brought out during the session, pilferage on the part of employees dips into about 3% of the operators' total annual take. Rather disheartening, isn't it?

More than 30 operators from various parts of the state were present at the session, which was conducted by consultant Bob Curtis . . . By the way, our belated congratulations to Jim and his wife Marjery, on the recent arrival of their very first child, a baby girl named Janet. This makes Jim Sr. a grandfather—for the 12th time . . . Chatted with Jack Hastings at Hastings Dist. Co., where the big items of the day are the Rock-Ola "444" model phonograph and the very fast moving new Tepco Air Pollution Master. More and more locations are opening up for the Tepco, according to Jack, as people become increasingly conscious of the need for cleaner air, both indoors and out.

Wally Bohrer, we understand, is still recuperating from the recent Tavern Keepers Assn. party which was quite a swinging affair . . . The Rowe "Presidential" series is doing extremely well at Pioneer Sales & Services—and Joel Kleiman and Sam Cooper couldn't be happier about it. Joel says the "New Orleans" seems to be a special favorite with area ops. Pioneer is also doing much business in the pool tables, games and vending departments.

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

Good ole sunny California has not been as sunny as some of those post cards would have you believe. Los Angeles has been pelted by torrents of rain during the past few weeks and one of those businesses affected was Portale Automatic Sales. It seems the office sprung a slight leak and the carpets sunk. Jimmy Wilkins informs us that the swamp area is dried out now but that for a while the firm was looking into a distribution deal on rowboats.

Aside from that little bit of flooding, business couldn't be better. The new "Flying Circus" (shown at the MOA for the first time) recently arrived in the showroom and is looking very good. Jimmy says that all who have seen the game are highly impressed with its animation and sound effects as well as its realistic testing of the player's flying skills. Hear that Portale is still awaiting a shipment of Gottlieb's "Snow Derby" two player. "Aquarius" and "Scuba" are continuing to move briskly. Chicago Coin's "Motorcycle" is also doing very well in the arcades, even in the current off season for arcades. Jimmy adds the staff is looking forward to big sales with United Billiards' $71_2'$ by 8 foot coin-operated table which just arrived on the showroom floor. Portale continues to receive good action on the Rock-Ola "444" phono.

CHICAGO CHATTER

Rock-Ola Mfg. Corp. commenced production last week on the new 100-selection model "445" phonograph—the "little biggie" as they call it. George Hincker tells us initial shipments from the factory have been in progress since the early part of the week. . . . Dr. Dave Rockola is off to Europe on another of his many business trips. Ed Doris and Hugh Gorman are in the midst of a pre-holiday sales trip to the East.

It's official—Wico Corp., local distributor of coin machine parts and supplies, is now operating completely out of its new facilities at 6400 W. Gross Point Road in Niles, III. Moving was quite a chore but Ed Ruber and the gang worked like beavers to get everything all set up in the new quarters as quickly as possible. Williams Electronics Inc. just released a very exciting new six-player shuffle alley called "Cimarron" featuring the "new look" in cabinet design, five ways to play, and several other features. Bill DeSelm says it's already creating a big fuss in the trade. You can see it at your local Williams distributor.

Last Tuesday evening (8) World Wide Dist. held a service school on the Seeburg "Musical Bandshell." Session was conducted by Seeburg field engineer Sam Garvin in the distrib's showroom on W. Fullerton Ave. Garvin's presentation was aimed at trouble shooting procedures and an explanation of the entire makeup of the phonograph. An attendance figure was not available at presstime but we understand a large number of operators and service personnel were expected to be present. Hosts for World Wide were Nate Feinstein, Harold Schwartz, Howie Freer, John Neville, Chuck Furjanec, Bob Parker and shop foreman Sam De Piero.

D. Gottlieb & Co. has a big item in the newly released "Snow Derby" 2-player with its snowmobile race motif. Alvin Gottlieb says it caught on immediately. Game's on display, of course, at your nearest Gottlieb distrib showroom . . . ICMOA has scheduled a legislative committee meeting for Tuesday, December 15, at the Holiday Inn East in Springfield . . . Plenty of activity at Marvel Mfg. Co. these days. Prexy Ted Rubey was busy with a customer when we called but we got the word from gal friday Audrey Del Conte that the firm's fastest moving items are the Marvel-manufactured Electric Scoreboards and everything in the category of pool supplies and accessories.

Happy to report that Midway Mfg. Co. sales manager Larry Berke was released from the hospital last week and is now convalescing at home. He should be back at work very soon . . . In the winner's circle at Chicago Dynamic Industries, is the "Gayety" shuffle which is selling up a storm, according to Mort Secore; and the very hot "Super Speedway". . . . Here's something to watch for—"Target Zero". It's the name of the new Bally game. Director of Marketing Ross Scheer says sample shipments are currently in progress and the factory is tentatively scheduled to commence production this week.

Received word from the local NAMA press office (after its final tally) that the recent 24th annual convention-exhibit, held in Chicago, attracted a record number of 9,184 industry representatives . . . Joe Ceddia of Lormar is starting to get some operator action here on the Johnny Desmond single "Red Red Roses" (Musicanza). Joe's also spotlighting "Cheryl Mauna Marie" by John Rowles (Kapp), "Toy Piano" by Jerry Smith (Decca), and the "Your Cheating Heart/Half As Much" medley by Dumpy Piano Rice on the Juke label.

continuing to operate under the lat-ter name. In 1964 the Lincoln National Bank was founded in Philadelphia. It had been 30 years since Erfle had helped found a bank and he couldn't resist the challenge. This time, however, he joined the firm as a senior officer and chief planner, a far cry from the junior officer who had helped get Northwestern off the ground. Erfle looks back with justifiable pride at the progress of the Philadel-phia coin machine industry from its early days of financial problems to its current well established place in the business community. "We brought the business out from ousiness community. "We've also made the operator smart," he continued, "as to what a route is worth. By helping to advise on location contracts and advising him not to over-extend himself," Erfle added, "we've helped the opera-tor protect himself.

"Most important," he emphasized, "we've put members of the industry in the class of businessmen instead of people operating out of their back pockets."

pockets." Erfle stressed that the strengthen-ing of financial position of oper-ators and distributors has been an accomplishment for which the trade itself is essentially responsible. "They've made their own record," he said. "For the most part, the people I've dealt with are men of complete integrity."

One of these men, David Rosen, planned a recent testimonial dinner for the bank executive upon his "re-tirement." On hand to honor Erfle were some 150 area operators, dis-tributors, colleagues from Lincoln tributors, colleagues from Lincoln National and old friends from Continental.

Erfle said he enjoyed himself thoroughly at the testimonial, but quickly quenched any rumors of retirement, explaining that he was still serving Lincoln National on a consulting ba-sis. "But now I'm going to take it

Ray Erfle (third from left), a long-time personal and financial friend to Phil-Ray Erne (third from left), a long-time personal and mancial friend to Phil-adelphia distributors, is joined by several dealers who turned out to honor the banker upon his semi-retirement from the Lincoln National Bank. Erfle plans to utilize much of his new-found free time to an even greater involvement in the coin ma-chine business. His plans in the near future include frequent visits to trade conventions, active participation in panel discussions of trade problems and continued financial advice to op-erators and distributors.

It obviously is not idle flattery when Rosen describes Erfle as "the best friend our industry has ever had."
