Some "B" Battery Reasons

Glass jars because they are leakproof—long connectors because they keep the jars well separated and provide firm hold for battery clips—Threaded Rubber Insulation because it prevents leakage between plates.

The Willard All-Rubber Radio "A" Battery has a one-piece rubber case—Threaded Rubber Insulation—special Radio plates. Ask your dealer or the nearest Willard Battery Station to show it to you.

Westinghouse Types PX-2 and PX-3 Portable Radio Instruments

These portable instruments are particularly useful for temporary service, such as testing. They are also used where it is not convenient or desirable to mount instruments permanently on panels. They have the same movements as our Types BX and CX panel-mounting instruments, and are enclosed in dust, moisture and acid-proof cases.

Your New Year's Radio Resolution

NO doubt we have all made our New Year's resolutions. Even if we break them within the year we will have the satisfaction of knowing that we have checked up ourselves, have taken stock, as it were, to see whether we have improved in the year that has passed.

Let us do the same thing with radio broadcasting. Let us try to evaluate it as it has touched our individual lives. Let us note its deficiencies as well as its developments. Let us try to determine our individual responsibilities for making this newest public service of the utmost value to the great public, which after all is just you and I, and the other fellows we touch elbows with each day.

Is there any way in which we can be served better by the broadcasting stations? Is there any way in which we can help these stations improve their present service? There are hundreds of thousands of us in the great radio audience. A few have offered suggestions for the improvement of radio broadcasting, and many of the developments of the past year have resulted from such suggestions.

No new development has ever attained such immediate popularity as has radio broadcasting. In a little more than two years it has become a part of the life and activity of every community.

Because of its rapid development, quick decisions have been necessary and mistakes may have been made. But one thing is certainly true and that is that there has been untiring effort on the part of the broadcasters to try to grasp the needs and wishes of the public, and to give service to the great radio audiences.

Make your New Year's Radio Resolution at once. Resolve to furnish at least one constructive criticism to your leading broadcasting station during the year. If every radio listener will do this, radio broadcasting will take a large stride forward during the year.

Radio Music With Your Meals

"MUSIC hath charms to soothe the savage breast" and it is generally recognized as having an equally potent influence on the stomach of the ordinary man. We like to mix sweet strains of music with our meat.

Station KDKA has made this possible and now the tired business man may sit down to dinner in his own home and eat to the accompaniment of sweetest music furnished by the KDKA Little Symphony Orchestra.

The programs are all carefully planned by Victor Saudek, director of the orchestra and many letters of commendation have been received since these dinner concerts were established.

This is just another example of how the broadcasting stations are seeking every opportunity to find the places in our everyday activities where broadcasting can be of service.

Wednesday Programs

10:00 P. M. Program to be given by Mrs. W. Augustus Jones, dramatic soprano, of the Central Baptist Church, of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Jones will be assisted by a chorus of which she is director and which is a part of her work in the Central Baptist Church, of which her husband is pastor. The soloist, besides Mrs. Jones, will be Mr. Rubey Blakey, tenor, whose voice is counted one of the loveliest among his race, in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Blakey is also a student of Mrs. Jones and her prophecy of his future is a promising one. Known professionally as Edna Jones, Mrs. Jones has had a wide experience and though her work is new to Pittsburgh, she counts her admirers by hundreds. The range, natural beauty and capability of her voice is unusual and will be greatly enjoyed by radio listeners. KQV will have the pleasure of presenting her and her assistants for the first time over Radio. The program is highly interesting and will show a wide range of musicianship.

Program numbers: Chorus: "I Will Pray," "Negro Spiritual; "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Steal Away to Jesus;" "I Couldn’t Hear Nobody Pray;" "Quartet; "Somebody’s Praying for You," Mrs. Edna Jones, Elise Blakey, Rubey Blakey and William Jones; Duet: "Miserere," from "Il Trovatore," —by Verdi, Mrs. Jones, and Mr. Blakey; Tenor Solo: Selected—by Rubey Blakey; To which will be added the singing of "The Ninety and Nine," of Crampton, by Mrs. Edna Jones, which has made a tremendous hit whenever she has included it on a program.

The members of the chorus are: Lucy Humes, Grace Moore, Jessie Dickson, Marguerite Thomas, Ethel Jarvie, Anna Jackson, Clara Jackson and Lucea Reed. Sopranos: Mary White, Catherine White, Erin Bradley, Sallie Washington, Essie Thompson, contralto: Rubey Blakey, Will Nyijeke, Charles Woodson and D. V. Williams, tenors: William Jones, Bert Benjamin, Fred Clark, M. W. Williams, and Loyal Semore, basses. Elias Wells, accompanist.

The Foster numbers will be "Open Thy Lattice," which was the first song ever published by the composer and will be sung by Mr. Brennan; "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," for the quartet, probably one of the most characteristic ballad numbers. Mr. Foster wrote; "Passing in the Cold, Cold Ground"—for quartet, a number in his best style of negro melody which he both perpetuated and made famous, and now are looked upon as the only folk-song of the American people. To these feature numbers will be added solo numbers and quartet to be announced in the daily press.

The additional feature program for "Radio Juniors," both Boys and Girls, scheduled for Friday afternoons, each week, at 4:30 will continue throughout the season, the features to be announced as arranged. Radio Golf

For the benefit of some of our new subscribers who are not familiar with Radio Golf and its rules, a short explanation of it follows:

The game was suggested by Frank H. Jones, of Tuinucu, Cuba. It is a gentleman's game and each person keeps his own score. The method of scoring is as follows:

Let each person make a list of the stations he has heard, and opposite each station give the distance in miles from his location. The total score is found by adding up the miles thus listed. In order to make the game interesting, and permit a great number of persons to participate, it is suggested that only such stations be listed as have been heard on detector tube, without amplification except that obtained by regenerative action of tickler coil or similar regeneration. The distance between your station and the one heard can be easily estimated by scaling the distance on an ordinary map.

An example of scoring, taken from F. H. Jones' score follows:
