JOHN T. MELICK, JR., known to Channel 5 viewers as the "Orrin Tucker Show's piano-playing Jack Melick." Born, Plainfield, New Jersey, December 21, 1929. Attended North Plainfield High School and Oberlin Conservatory of Music (graduated in 1951). Uncle Sam beckoned the handsome blond Jack who served with the Army until 1953—two years in Japan. Upon discharge he started a nightclub tour of the Near and Far East, playing in such places as Hong Kong, China, Japan, Okinawa, Formosa, Thailand, the Philippines and Hawaii. Returned to the United States in 1955 to join Leo Peep's Orchestra, later Jimmy Palmer. While playing with Jimmy Palmer's Orchestra at the Hollywood Palladium—KTLA televised from there once a week—Jack was spotted by Klaus Landsberg, general manager of KTLA, who asked Jack to join KTLA's Orrin Tucker Show.

QUEEN FOR A DAY emcee Jack Bailey shows the intricate plans for the "Queen of Liberty" float to models Darlene Coats, Marilyn Burris, and Carol Anders. The float was in the recent New Year's Rose Parade.

WITHIN 24 HOURS, Miss Jody Ann Diebler, 18, was transformed to a glamour girl—another proof that KABC-TV's Glamour Girl show with Jack McCoy lives up to its name. Jody wanted to be glamorous for her wedding day.

JACK OWENS, star of the Jack Owens show on KABC-TV, shows what the well-dressed mayor will wear. Jack was recently elected Honorary Mayor of Pacific Palisades.
where do the jokes come from?

Zeno Klinker, scripter for the Edgar Bergen KNX show for the past 18 years, may be the exception to the rule but most of his gags—over a million and a half of them—are original.

By Ted Hilgenstuhler

Jokes, Jokes, Jokes. We hear more of these on the air than commercials. And, brother, that's going some. Where do they all come from? We could pull our own joke with a one-word answer of "writers." But that would put a quick end to our story—and it really wouldn't be very funny.

So let's get specific. Let's pick one writer. One of the very best, we might add. His name is Zeno Klinker. (That's no joke, either. That's his real name.) It's a fact, and not just an opinion, that Klinker is one of the very best gag men in the business. He should be. He's been Edgar Bergen's chief writer for the past 18 years. (That's no joke, either. That's nothing but 18 years of $ signs in the bank.)

As Zeno (that Klinker has got to explain) one afternoon at the CBS Radio offices, there are many ways to gather material for comedy shows.

"I guess most people have visions of a gag writer sitting at home, taking a joke book off his library shelf, and transferring the appropriate material onto paper. Some of them may work that way, I don't know. I do know that many writers try to keep everything in their heads. I don't. I don't try to remember anything."

"I have a system which I've developed over the years which I think is pretty good. At least it works for me."

 Writes in Bed

It may seem the lazy way of doing things—but Zeno writes most of his material in bed. "I keep two dictaphone machines beside me all the time. One on my left; one on my right. Into the right machine I dictate all the material which I think is pertinent for the weekly Bergen show I am working on. "The machine on the left is for all general material. Ideas and gags come into your mind all the time. When an idea hits me, I literally get it off my mind on to the machine. I give each general joke a title or heading. The rest I leave up to my secretary."

From that point, Zeno's secretary transcribes the material and files it in several huge cabinets he has at home.

"Altogether I have about a million and a half gags on file. Most of them are original. Some of them, of course, are based on old routines with a new slant!"

Depression Started Career

Zeno's background—and how he got into this funny business—is really quite unusual. Paradoxically enough, the Great Depression is what gave him his new occupation.

Originally a musician with such bands as Gus Arnheim, Abe Lyman, and Ray West, soft-spoken, quicksmiling Mr. Klinker entered the title and trust business. (The old Klinker Building at First and Broadway was actually named after his father.)

Boom—came the Depression. And Zeno was broke. To save money at Christmas time he made up his own Yule-time card. It was heavily burdened with funny ads and Zeno's explanation:

"On account of the business depression, it was necessary for me to sell advertising space on my Christmas card to help defray the expense of printing, postage, etc."

The printer liked the card so much he convinced Zeno to cash in on it. It not only paid for his printing bill, but it gave him the idea of writing greeting-card joke books. That was his first real venture into the gag-writing business.

As the result of a chance meeting in 1937 with Edgar Bergen—Bergen hired Zeno right on the spot—he started his long career with the Bergen-McCarthy Snerd gang.

He's seen a hundred other writers come and go with the show. "They were good writers," Zeno comments, "but somehow they never seemed to realize what makes Charlie and the rest of the Bergen dummies tick. Charlie and Mortimer are real and live, you know. They're no dummies."

Neither is Zeno Klinker.
Roberta Linn may not be romantically serious about any one man but there are several men who have influenced the course of her life.

ROBERTA LINN has the kind of a job most girls would really relish. As soloist with KTLA’s Crystal Tone Orchestra she works with Orrin Tucker, one of the country’s finest orchestra leaders, and the men in the band. What a set-up! Glamour, excitement, and the only girl in a crowd of men.

Seems that Roberta has always been surrounded by men—and many have had a great influence on her.

Mervyn LeRoy

“The first man who really helped me was movie director Mervyn LeRoy,” Roberta said during a lull in rehearsal for the KTLA show. “When I was about eight, I worked in pictures. In one I played Olivia de Havilland’s sister in ‘Anthony Adverse.’

By Jack Holland

ROBERTA LINN has been the object of much admiration from the opposite sex but she still is playing romance cagey. She’s very happy working with Orrin Tucker now in the KTLA show.

which Mervyn directed. He really taught me how to act. I hadn’t seen him very much after that until not long ago when I was in Palm Springs—satisfying for a rest. I had been doing a few benefits and one day I was asked to do a benefit at Sam Taylor’s Tennis Club. I expected other personalities to be there to entertain but you can imagine my surprise when I found that Keefe Brasselle and I were the only entertainers and that it was a swank affair with important producers and directors in attendance. Two hundred people were present—and for a $200-a-plate dinner. Mervyn LeRoy was there and he was helpful in getting me some important assignments as the result of the show. He introduced me to Richard Rodgers and I also went on the Australian tour with Bob Hope, partly due to the show that night.

Joe Reichman

“Joe Reichman, the pianist, is another to whom I owe a great deal. He was the first to teach me how to work with a band, how to wind them up as a singer. I went on tour with him and learned so much about this business I’m in. He was a tremendous influence.

Klaus Landsberg

“I couldn’t ever omit Klaus Landsberg of KTLA from my list. He has stuck by me through thick and thin. When I was quite ill awhile back he was the first in call to see if I did anything—including money. When I did a night club stint in Las Vegas I decided to call on him and see if he’d do anything to help me get even. He sent me a hundred dollars. It was a bomb because I didn’t think I’d ever get any help from him, and I’m sure he had to put up a real fight to do it. I’ll always be grateful to him, and I’ll always treasure the memory of him as a person who’s always been there for me.”

Charles O’Curran

“Charles O’Curran is another to whom I am in debt. He worked out my entire act—costumes, staging, everything. It took him a year and a half to complete the plans. It was he who taught me how to do a real show. He felt I’d do it if the producer just let me get up and sing any more—not after what TV has done to staging. He helped me to grow up as a singer.”

“Naturally, I owe much to Lawrence Welk, too, for his efforts in my behalf. And now I’m very happy working with Orrin Tucker, who is such a fine man.”

As for any men who have influenced Roberta romantically, she merely frowns a little and says, “Not yet. I just don’t have the time for romance. I do have dates but most of the men I go out with don’t like any publicity. However, I still have time for the real love.”

To which we might add that it would be fine if Roberta could really fall in love with the right guy. She’d be a great gal for someone.

“All the boys in the Crystal Tone band are wonderful,” Roberta went on. “Take Eddie Keely. He’s the vocalist in the band. I like him because he has a shyness that is attractive. He acts as though he’s so anxious to please—and that’s an important quality.”

At this point Eddie arrived. He is a likeable young guy, he’s married, and has a daughter of four named Cynthia. He attracted Klaus’ notice when he appeared on Western Varieties and was put in the Crystal Tone band.

“I don’t think I’m very good singing pop music,” Eddie remarked. “It does little for me. I think it’s better when I do things in between the pop and heavier music.”

Eddie rents a home but would like to buy his own place. But, as he’s been renting for quite a while, he’s the first to say that the prices on houses being what they are.

Jack Merlick considers the KTLA show the biggest break he ever had. “It’s like in the movies where you see a wonderful thing happen and you can’t believe it,” he said sincerely. “I’d been traveling with Jimmy Wakely’s group and we were booked into the Palladium here for two weeks. At the time, Palladium Dance Time was on KTLA and Mr. Landsberg was casting it. I had a feature solo with Jimmy and a couple of days after we opened, Mr. Landsberg called me in for an interview. He wanted to know if I’d like to be in the Crystal Tone Orchestra time resisting the impulse to go jazzy on the fiddle.”

All love modern music,” he grinned. “But Klaus Landsberg doesn’t want me to give out with it too much. However, I do work with a progressive jazz group at The Lighthouse. I love my work on the show, though, and that’s for sure.”

Bobby also got in the Crystal Tone orchestra by an appearance on Western Varieties. He was doing an impromptu duet with Jimmy Wakely on a show one night when Klaus saw him.

Bobby is married and is the father of Lisa, three, and a half; and Danny, five years old.

“All these men are just great,” Roberta concluded after we had talked with them all. “With such friends, why shouldn’t I be happy with my life the way it is?”

COWBOY

DON'T TALK high cost of living to the western performer because he's well versed in that department. KTLA's Doye O'Dell, who's considered a conservative dresser, estimates that his average cowboy outfit runs about $1,300.

Doye—who actually grew up on a cattle ranch in Plainview, Texas—boasts not two conventional suits along with his 13 western suits, 26 flashy shirts, five hats and five pairs of elaborately tooled boots, an extensive gun collection and 20 colorful scarves. As a rancher, Doye settled for a pair of levis and a brilliantly hued shirt but the wardrobe for a television personality is far more complex.

Costs

Pulling Doye's wardrobe apart we arrived at the following financial breakdown:

Most of Doye's clothes are made by Turk of Sherman Oaks. However, the Stetson is manufactured in Philadelphia and the silk ties are imports from Italy. He prefers wool gabardine and some of the imported English wools in either gray or blue tones.

A hidden expense but certainly part and parcel of being a cowboy star is Doye's buckskin horse Tumbleweed, which he boards to the tune of $60 per month.

"My wardrobe is rather simple compared to other western stars," Doye commented. "Some performers prefer a lot of embroidery and gi-

Kanter Pens Rose
Tattoo Scenario

The screen adaptation of Tennessee Williams' play The Rose Tattoo was written by none other than Hal Kanter, producer-director and writing supervisor of NBC's George Gobel show. Mr. Kanter, who has a long list of screen credits—Artists and Models, Money From Home, About Mrs. Leslie and Road to Bali to name but a few—wrote the screenplay for "Tattoo" during the spring of 1954 and just before undertaking his Gobel assignment. The witty Kanter claims that his greatest contribution to television was aside from the aforementioned, bad movies and the only thing they made was money.

Off Lens (Personalities)

Ken Graue

Twelve television shows, six days a week, keep Ken Graue busy. He is often involved in special projects that require him to be out of town for a day or two. Ken is the man behind the scenes. He is working on Channel 5's Handy Hints, Final Edition, Eye Witness, City at Night and Bandstand Re-veue to name but a few of the shows. Ken exercised his flair for dramatics at Long Beach Junior College and he majored in radio at Stockton's College of the Pacific.

He spent three years in the Marine Corps and after the war settled in the Hawaiian Islands, where he became an expandable disc jockey who could cover special events, news and sporting events.

Returning to the mainland in 1948, Ken joined KTLA and has been one of its busiest staffers ever since.

Stan Chambers

Native Angeleno Stan Chambers doubles in brass as announcer and national sales manager for KTLA. He settled for a career in the hectic television industry instead of the field of International Relations, his major at the University of Southern California.

Stan's extra-curricular activities at school combined athletics and dramatics. His stint in the Navy took him to Columbia University, as a Midshipman and later the U.S. Naval Academy Prep School as an instructor in history.

Before joining KTLA, he was sports-announcer for KUSC and editor of Campus Magazine.

Tall, blonde, and beautiful. That's Joan Weldon—the five-foot-seven-inch songbird who handles the ballad department on KTLA's Bandstand Re-veue. A veteran of stage, screen and TV (and only 24), Joan is really excited about her KTLA stint, and for good reason.

"Although I've done a lot of TV, especially for This Is Your Music, a film show in which I co-starred with Byron Palmer, Bandstand is the first 'live' TV program I have ever done.

"Of course I get nervous each time before that little red light goes on, but I really love it because it gives me a chance to sing in front of a live audience.

Joan's two biggest previous thrill is show business occurred in this same type of atmosphere; first, while singing with the San Francisco Opera Company; and second, this past summer when she worked with a stock company doing "The Great Gatsby" and "A Streetcar Named Desire." And here's an inside tip; Joan (who

I'M GLAD THAT TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES, N.M., cancelled its scheduled vote on changing its name back to Hot Springs. It's been six years since the town showed that Ralph Edwards has not only plugged the place nationally but has been second in extent to the state.

IT WOULD APPEAR FROM NEWS-PAPER articles of the area that the name change was a political football and that a minority of disgruntled Hot Springs die-hards seized upon an election set-up (on changing to city, managership) to include a name-change vote and thus muddy up the issue.

A YEAR OR TWO AGO I READ a very biting article in a national magazine in which it was said that the Truth or Consequences inhabitants had gotten a shoddy deal from Ralph, who'd not lived up to his promises to promote the town. Knowing how a good man can be the finest to be found in Hollywood or anywhere, else for that matter, the article left me feeling bitter that a good healthy association should be presented in such a warped way. So it pleased me immeasurably to see one paper go to bat on the name change: "Community service experts, Ralph Edwards has done more than he originally agreed upon when Hot Springs changed its name to Truth or Consequences in honor of Edwards' radio show." The Sierra County Advertiser pointed out that Edwards has helped with the annual fiesta and served to cushion the community's vote for Ralph. I'm glad no one jumped on Ralph's bandwagon at that time, and I'm glad the election is over now about being on the receiving end of a hunk of ingratitude.

NEXT BIG FORD STAR JUBILEE show is "The Day Lincoln Was Shot," starring Jack Lemmon, Raymond Massey, Lillian Gish and Charles Laughton. Joan Holloway, who had the idea for and wrote the recent "The Private Life of Don Juan," was the idea for the new series of "Insider Beverly Hills" if the one-time 90-minute telecast comes off Jan. 25 in good style. Beverly Hills would be an ideal place to do a live show of this kind—where else is there such a concentration of talent, wealth and persons about whom the public has insatiable curiosity?

I AM WONDERING IF JOHN GUEDELMIGHT not be doing a series of "Inside Beverly Hills" if the one-time 90-minute telecast comes off Jan. 25 in good style. Beverly Hills would be an ideal place to do a live show of this kind—where else is there such a concentration of talent, wealth and persons about whom the public has insatiable curiosity?

THIS COLUMN KEPT MUM ABOUT EDWARD ARNOLD'S having failed to get the emcee spot on Don You Trust Your Wife? after he'd made a pilot show. (Edgar Bergen and dolls, as you know, landed the job.) But now that Arnold's disappointment has been mentioned elsewhere, I'd like to say that he's a wonderful actor and interesting man, but not exactly the type for the quiz show in question. It should be no reflection on him that he and the part didn't jibe. I'm still hoping he'll bob up having something to do with a television of Mr. President, the show he handled so superbly on radio.

Radio Point With Pride:

TO NBC'S "Breath of Life," the absorbing hour-long story of polio's Mother of the Year, Mrs. Ruth Begun, who, with her intelligent sounding husband and the incomparable Helen Hayes made this iron lung story one of gripping interest.

PAUL GILBERT WAS THE ONE BRIGHT spot on NBC's Comedy Hour last week. As for emcee Leo Durocher, someone should tell him that when he's on camera he should at least stash, if not swallow, his chewing gum.

Career Switched

Alvin Childress, who plays the part of Amos in KNXT's Amos 'n' Andy series, once planned to become a doctor and enrolled at Rust College in Holly Springs, Mississippi, as a pre-med student, but had not known he had until just Christmas. It was a splendid production job he did—I am often reminded of the Grandma Moses, New Orleans Jazz, San Francisco sailing vessel and other segments of the November program.

Was Glad to Learn That the Academy of TV Arts and Sciences hassle between New York and Hollywood had been calmed in In compromise, but it seemed that 42 is too many categories in which to award Emmys. The more awards ATAS gives, the less each one means and when so many people think it as if the Academy voters are not able to make up their own minds about qualifications of contenders.

I AM WONDERING IF JOHN GUEDELIGHT might not be doing a series of "Inside Beverly Hills" if the one-time 90-minute telecast comes off Jan. 25 in good style. Beverly Hills would be an ideal place to do a live show of this kind—where else is there such a concentration of talent, wealth and persons about whom the public has insatiable curiosity?

SECOND GLANCES (Critical Comment)

Point With Pride... to KRCA's exclusive coverage of the recent dope raids in San Bernardino County. The KRCA News Department had been working with the Narcotics Bureau for the past six months while they were planning this raid. Channel 12's newsreel camera- men substantiated the evidence with their incriminating footage; 22 minutes of the scop film was shown on Bill Guyman's Sunday newscast.

Colvig Tradition

Buck Sureshot, portrayed by Vance Colvig on KNXT, descends from a long line of entertainers. His grandfather, William, was an early Shakespearean actor; his versatile father is "Pinto," a newspaperman-turned-clown.
Here's some big news for all you label-saving coffee drinkers. Breakfast Club Coffee has just been welcomed to the Label Bank family. And if you haven't tried Breakfast Club yet you haven't tasted a real good cup of coffee. There isn't much that can be written about coffee that hasn't already been written by far better writers than I am. I could get out a lot of commercial copy and tell you about the roasting and all sorts of things like that, but I think there is really only one thing a coffee user is interested in. Does it make an honest-to-goodness GOOD cup of coffee? Well, the answer is YES!

And something else Breakfast Club Coffee has that other coffees don't have is a valuable unwinding band. That's right... the unwinding band from all sizes is worth 1 point at Label Bank and as a special offer during the months of February, March and April, those bands are worth 5 points each. So go on out and buy a pound now. To try it is to buy it again and again.

And when you brew up a big pot of Breakfast Club Coffee how about trying some Baker Boy Confection Roll with it? You'll find the delicious cinnamon-nut flavor of Baker Boy hard to beat whether you serve it from the package or buttered and toasted from the broiler. If you should happen to have some left over, which is never the case at my house, wrap it in KAISER ALUMINUM FOIL to retain that fresh goodness. Oh, yes, for those of you who like cream in coffee... you just can't beat Foremost Evaporated Milk.

Here's a note of consolation to those of you who have written in and have not yet received your Label Bank premium catalogue. The presses are running once more and very soon now we will have another supply. And believe me, you folks are first on the list.

And if you have a catalogue, check with Label Bank on the new products that have been added. There are now 41 brands giving you 400 products to buy.

Don't forget to come out to Shopping Basket Market at 8431 State Street in South Gate, January 28 at 2:00, for the personal appearance I'll be making. I'll have some prizes for you and Label Bank products galore.

I hope I'm keeping you up Monday through Friday for my radio program—that's on KABC... 10:30-11:00 p.m. If you like folk music...tune in. And if you don't like folk music...tune in just once, huh? You may find it interesting at any rate.

More Label Talk next week. Bye for now.

775 KILLED!

- In just 6 days—over the last Memorial Day and July 4th week-end—775 motorists were killed, and more than 25,000 were maimed and injured! Now, with the Labor Day week-end ahead, "kid stuff" drivers could boost those figures even higher! They'll be out in force, speeding senselessly, forcing good drivers to double their caution. If juvenile-minded drivers acted their age, more motorists would enjoy every day of this holiday week-end.

Johnny Grant Is At It Again

Smiling, moon-faced Johnny Grant, KMPC's roaring mid-day record man, has just returned from his seventh entertainment junket to Korea.

Occupation forces never had it so good," opines Johnny, "yet the need for entertainment was never greater. The young soldiers, who follow the war to keep them busy and, consequently, find a lot of free time for their hands, keeping them occupied and entertained is a major project. Morale is high and the brass aims to keep it that way.

There's no substitute for a troupe of live entertainment. After all, a Marilyn Monroe or a facsimile can do more to boost morale than a screening of Hollywood's most-touted movie. Johnny has his own live show which, over the years, has provided 22 hours of relaxation and entertainment spread across a five-week period.

"First the boys discuss the show when they see the posters going up so then they go to the PX to buy film so they can shoot pictures of the entertainers; eventually record them for a screening. There's a post-mortem discussion period followed by letters home telling about the show; finally the films are ready and when a camera there's a lot more discussion about the show when the boys pick up their prints.

"In the absence of live talent the boys spend a great deal of time listening to their radios. The Armed Forces Network is supplied with music, news, interviews and plenty of dramatic offerings. There are more deejays in Korea than in Los Angeles. Every community has its radio station and there's the show itself; then a post-mortem discussion period followed by letters home telling about the show; finally the films are ready and when a camera there's a lot more discussion about the show when the boys pick up their prints.

"Almost all the GI's in Korea have record players and there's a deadline to the PX whenever a new shipment of discs arrives. Western music and Edith Fisher are mostly popular. The boys barter their records and the rate of exchange on Tennessee Ernie Ford's 'Sixteen Tons' is 5 to 1. Johnny is planning his eighth trip to Korea in May. (That bossmans of his, Bob Reynolds, is certainly generous with Grant's time off.) He's eager to round up some top names for his next junket and guarantees those who join the troupe a most gratifying experience.

Transistors are now replacing all receiving tubes with good results in newly designed radios of various sizes, including all transistor car radios which reportedly will be used in most of the 1956 car models.

Designers of TV sets are also experimenting with transistors and it is believed that they will be used in color TV sets at a later stage but not in black & white sets.

The advantage of using transistors is primarily to reduce the breakdown ratio. It is a fact that some day all tubes in TV sets will be replaced with transistors, all tubes except the picture tube. But no matter how advanced our future TV sets may be they will always present a maintenance problem.

The wise thing to do now is to make sure that YOUR present TV set is in good operating condition. It is better to be safe than to be sorry.

Call Television Industries at RI-9-0301. They will inspect your set without obligation and will write a parts warranty for only $1.00 per year, on a two-year basis, covering all parts, tubes, transformers, channel selector unit, speaker, and of course, the large picture tube, up to and including a 21-inch screen, regardless of make or age.

This warranty also incorporates a service agreement which provides that all labor charges are to be limited to a fixed price. All house calls for repair are charged at a flat rate of $3.50 per call. This is not an hourly rate but a fixed price.

Television Industries covers all districts of Greater Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Pomona and nearby communities, Monday through Saturday, six days a week.

For further information simply mail coupon below or call RI 9-0301.

Bill Ballance

November 15, 1936, was the day that radio and television began to feed and clothe me, so if you will allow me to wallow in memories for this column, you may win a solid gold lifetime pass to the Myrt and Marge rehearsal, plus an all-expense-paid weekend for two in the Lockheed wind-tunnel.

I was a freshman at the University of Illinois and got a job writing book reviews and newscasts and reciting same on Station WILL. Urbana—establishing a new nadir of tidium; I made a little extra money counterfeiting special delivery stamps—I used to buy 3-cent stamps and paint a bicycle under George Washington.

Those were the days when I had an extremely nervous stomach; it was nervous because it was always afraid it wouldn’t get enough to eat. Many an evening I spent in my tenement, watching sparrows over a hotplate. To give you an idea of how rundown this neighborhood was, they later ripped down all the buildings and built the slums.

The University of Illinois—from whence I was paroled in 1940—is in the twin cities of Champaign-Urbana and even combined the two towns were so small they had to widen the main street to put a white line down the middle.

Practically everyone you meet in Hollywood has an idea for a new TV show, but it’s estimated that only two percent of them crystallize. There’s many a slip ‘twixt the cup and the coals.

However, a poll was taken last week to see how many people see television in bars, and the returns were staggering.

When I dropped in at KCP for a test-run of my new two-hour-per-day TV show, their cosmetic expert insisted that I have makeup slapped on

\textbf{What's In A Name?} \\

Television audiences may not understand the tongue-twisting titles of the numbers performed by the irresistible Hilo Hattie on KNXT's Harry Owens Show, but they must enjoy them inasmuch as the program has been attracting viewers by the carload for six years now. It should be added, however, that anyone who learns the title now and then should be forgiven with Hilo turning out such numbers as "King Kamehameha," or worse yet, "We Like No A Like." \\

In a recent fan letter written to the Hawaiian-born singer-dancer and former school teacher, the inevitable occurred. The request was for Hilo's popular rendition of "The Cockeyed Mayor of Kaunakakai." Read the note: "Please do The Cross Eye God of County Cock-Eye. We have a cross-eyed cat and we'll send it to you." \\

Result: the writer got her number, "The Cockeyed Mayor of Kaunakakai," and Hilo received a very small, very black and very cross-eyed kitten through the mail which lived happily in the Hattie household until the day that it went out for a walk, got its sense of direction crossed up and never returned. \\

On November 3, the Harry Owens Show began its seventh year on television, making it one of the oldest TV shows still being aired on the West Coast. Hilo Hattie has been with the Polynesian musical variety teleseries since its Los Angeles debut in October, 1949, from Ocean Park's Aragon Ballroom.

“Sex” Starts Controversy

What decides what policy and who decides what?

That could be a moot question, considering a recent development. Seems there’s a picture playing around from Universal International called “The Second Greatest Sex.” Sherrell and Moody wrote the songs for the picture. The boys decided to make some TV and radio visits to plug the numbers, especially one called “Lysistrata.” They also wanted to record the tune. So, as part of the copy of the song was sent to the radio and TV stations for clearance. The following reply was received by Samuel Froelick, manager of radio at CBS: “I would be glad to review the song again for possible acceptance if the writers, Sherrell and Moody, are willing to change the lyrics, particularly those in the last half starting with ‘She was young and lusty.’ Yours truly, Samuel Froelick.”

The point here is—how come the lyrics were okayed for use in a movie that is now playing across the country when movie censorship is notably more rigid than TV and radio? How come records with very blue lyrics have been heard on the air? How come the snyipply language in “Bite the Spirit” was okayed for TV if this is the censorship policy now?

U-I producer Albert J. Cohen said: “So far we’ve had at least 100 per cent approval of all phases of ‘The Second Greatest Sex,’ and that includes the Johnston Office, censor boards in eight different states, and local censors in 19 key cities throughout the country. If those groups thought ‘Lysistrata’ was acceptable, what’s with this CBS policy of turning people to movies as those who watch TV or listen to radios.”

As mentioned before, who decides what?

Note to Mrs. Alma Haebel, of L.A., who asked me to use my influence to get "The Captain's Paradise" shown again. The film, starring Mrs. Haebel, is on for the time on Friday night, Feb. 3... Channel 5 has capitulated.

I'd like also to express a few belated kudos to the various organizations for their much appreciated Christmas gifts. To KJH-TV for the Christmas tree (they decided on that instead of a booze, a sober thought)... to the Barbara Ann Company for the fish... as you can see, the cake... to the Star Kist Tuna Company for the and to the Carnation Company... they were the nuts.

"The Hitchhiker." (9) Beginning Jan. 31, 9:00. 1953. I reviewed this movie a couple of months ago when it was supposed to show on Channel 13. It didn't show, however, and here it is on Channel 9. Now, just what sort of intrigue was involved there, do you think? Anyway, it's a good, taut melodrama about a psychotic killer, William Talman, who hitches a ride with vacationers Edmond O'Brien and Frank Lovejoy and makes them drive him to Lower California in an attempt to escape the pursuing police. O'Brien cracks under the ordeal while Lovejoy responds heroically and the story is mainly concerned with this delineation of character. Ida Lupino does a nice job of direction, resulting in a pretty fair operation in suspense.

"The Mikado." (7) Jan. 29, 7:30. 1939. William Bendix had an idea: This is the Gilbert and Sullivan opera that was transferred to the screen with Benny Baker and Margaret Green as the stars. You like Gilbert and Sullivan? You'll like this.

"The Escape." (12) Jan. 31, 8:30. 1950. Ten-year-old William Fawcett is the son of psychiatrist Stephen Murray and wife Ray Walsh, and to lighten the heavy time on his hands imposed...
Jimmy Durante's Right-Hand Man

If you think you've got problems, wait until you read about Jackie Barnett's—special material writer for the famous "Schnozz."

By Mildred Ross

Some people simply don't let problems faze them. Jackie Barnett, special material writer for Jimmy Durante, fits into this category.

"Proof of this is the fact that he has successfully written for such diverse stars as Helen Traubel, Sophie Tucker and Liberace."

Understanding personalities, their temperament and exercising good judgment must all be taken into consideration when writing for top name guests. Jimmy himself can be somewhat of a problem to the 35-year-old writer who continually tries to introduce new facets of the Durante personality to the televiewers.

"Jimmy never sang a ballad until Jackie finally convinced him he at least could try. Durante tried "Count Your Blessings," and Irving Berlin called up immediately after the show to tell Jimmy that it was the greatest rendition he had ever heard and that it was exactly the way he wanted it to be sung when he wrote it. Currently, Jackie is trying to get Durante to sing a folk tune.

"Jackie tells of Tallullah's plight when she was singing her familiar 'I'll Be Seeing You.' She fussed and fretted because she was unable to reach the high notes. Implored to 'save her,' Jackie gave her the following line of dialogue to be substituted for the difficult notes, "I wouldn't dare attempt that note, darlings."

"If there's some kind of a performance a celebrity can give other than his stock-in-trade, Jackie tries to exploit it. Pete Kane, self-confessed frustrated song and dance man, was grateful to Jackie for writing special material which gave him an opportunity to display his hidden talents."

Even emergency problems don't seem to ruffle easy-going Barnett. When Marguerite Piazza became ill the day before her appearance on the Durante show, everyone was worried but Jackie. He succeeded in getting lovely Maria Alberghetti to step in at the last minute. After necessary revisions in his script the show came off with flying colors.

"Watch for Barnett's special material..."

PERMANENT NICHE

Lola Albright will be seen in at least 12 episodes of The Bob Cummings Show this season over KNXT. Miss Albright is the first performer to be awarded a running part in the series aside from Bob's regular "family." Her first appearance will be on Thursday, October 6.

For Love o' Mike (General Comment)

Radio Ramblings

America's Town Meeting of the Air has renewed its contract with ABC for its 21st year. John Wayne hosts KHJ's Men of Action series which is based on famous men of history. Tennessee Ernie Ford's "Sixteen Tons" has sold more than two million records and Capitol Records cites him with their Multi-millionaire Award, a 16-inch gold record.

Downtown with Dave Showalter and Tom Baxter, Classical Disc Jockey, originate from the Hi-Fi Show next month. It's that time of year again, KBIG's Stu Wilson discusses tax problems with Internal Revenue officials. Symphonies for Youth airs its annual series on Mutual through April 7.

Roy Rogers' newest hobby is speed boat racing. When questioning Dr. Charles Mayo about the likelihood of President Eisenhower's running for re-election, Larry LeSueur reports the doctor commented: "I don't know, but what a wonderful thing it would be for the sake of all those who have had heart attacks, and for all those who are going to get them."

Anthony Ellis, producer of Suspense, and Janice Pickard, former secretary to William Froug, were married last week. Ruth Ashton does a remote from the Rancho Los Amigos on behalf of the Polio Fund campaign. Singer De De Dunavan (Mrs. Bob Shannon) and Bob guested on the Armed Forces Radio program which was beamed to Japan. K-OWL has a new mascot. It's a stuffed owl, which Chico tags Senior Sabio and Joe Adams calls Hootie. Have your pick. M.R.

New Look

The Columbia Workshop is being revived with a new tag, CBS Radio Workshop. In keeping with the tradition of experiment and innovation the series launches a two-part version of Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World" on January 27.

The author will narrate the adaptation of his novel and special music for the broadcast has been composed by Bernard Herrmann. The "new" CBS Radio Workshop aspires to surpass some of the great achievements of its "Golden Age" in the later '30's and early '40's.

Youths "Dig" Classics

KHJ's "Symphonies For Youth" program, which is going into its twelfth consecutive year of broadcasting, certainly proves that teenagers are not only interested in rhythm and blues music.

Thousands of elementary and secondary school children attend the broadcasts, which originate from the Philharmonic Auditorium with conductor Alfred Wallenstein or associate conductor, John Barnett, at the podium, and take part in the intermission quiz conducted by William Harthorn.

The Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra which rates among the nation's top five, presents some of the world's finest music for the youngsters' enjoyment and information.

The program is heard over the KHJ Mutual-Don Lee Broadcasting System on Saturday from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

TV-RADIO LIFE

MAN-TO-MAN

By Ted Hilgenstuhler

A TV Thanksgiving

Too often we take too much for granted.

This self-evident fact came to mind (again) while looking over some mail from viewers. They wrote bitterly about various commercials and certain personalities and programs.

I would be the last to deny the right to anyone—and I do mean any one—to criticize any program on any station at any time on any channel. (If it was otherwise, I would literally be biting the hand that feeds me.)

Neither do I condone base commercials, lowly performances, amateurish production, or purposeless formats. However, it has always seemed to me that for both the layman and the professional there is no justification for destructive criticism. That was the type of mail I was reading. No one was happy with the programs or people on TV. This stuff that stunk, everything stunk. Not with periods, but with exclamation points, yet.

Ten short years ago the newly acquired, odd-shaped picture machine in the corner of the average American living room was generally looked upon as a "modern miracle." Today, the TV set is a piece of furniture as inevitable as your family coach.

Finally, I put down the letters and looked at the blank TV screen in front of me. To be perfectly honest, for the first time in a long time, I thought about the "miracle" of TV again. Only this time not so much about the "scientific miracle" (which never ceases to amaze me) but rather of the "miracles" which this young medium has wrought upon the minds of men.

I thought of the sick and disabled. Of the countless number in hospital wards and in their own homes. To many of these, TV is now their main source of joy in life.

I thought of the aged. The elderly couple who, living alone now that their children have left them to go their separate ways, are able to see before their eyes sights and sounds, places and people that they never knew existed before. I know it is the truth that on many a night the thrill and discovery of experiencing something new has restored much youth to old bones. And the re-discovery of youth, even if only in the mind, is a rare and beautiful sensation.

I thought of the lonely. And the comfort and companionship which the inanimate electronic tube has offered to them.

I thought of young lovers. And the mutual understanding, pleasure and probably most important of all—the excuse—the TV set gives to them for being together.

I thought of families. And the joy, entertainment and education which TV has given to each and every member. (To say nothing of the money which Poppa has saved on the family budget by spending more evenings at home.)

After these, and similar thoughts, I looked at the pile of complaining let ters, neatly folded in a bundle, and filed them away.

Tomorrow I may pull an about-face and say in print that Disney, Sullivan and Gleason are only "flash in the pans"; that Gobol will never be funny because he is Jewish; that Chayefsky and Serling couldn't write Christmas cards; that all commercials are evil and unnecessary, and that the movies and radio will eventually make television obsolete.

But tonight I feel only gratitude and respect for the invention which has meant so much to me and millions of others.

So there. Just shows to go you that all reporters are not always drunkards and cynics—as the great American myth would have you believe.

We can be softies and sentimentalists, too. And done with dignity, there is no greater persuader than true sentimentality.

HOLLAND'S TUNNEL

(shared from Page 29)

Phil had a good deal to say about TV and radio in Europe.

"For one thing," he remarked, "the cost of making films in Europe is far less than it is here. A picture that cost about $30,000 here would cost around $20,000 there because labor and sets are cheaper and because actors don't get quite as large a salary as they do here. The French, in their TV work, have beautiful taste, though, and can make impressive sets out of the simplest material. However, all companies in Europe have the use of tremendous backgrounds—and this is a decided help. I'd like some day to do an American TV series in Europe.

"Radio is still very big. In England and France it's very popular. Radio is much the same there as here except that they have no all-night stations. TV starts around noon but doesn't run late either.

"There is another reason for TV's not progressing in France—the people can't afford the sets. However, they love to go to bistros or stand in the streets where they can watch programs for free."

So we should complain if we get tossed a few stinkers every now and then?
The fight terms which are used repeatedly and which may not be too familiar to everyone.

How to follow the TV fights

By Jack Gregson

EVEN WITH the hypersensitive microphones of modern times, there is little possibility of picking up the voices and conversation in the corners of the boxing ring when you're watching fights on TV.

Nevertheless, the ring-men, boxers, managers and handlers who are seen every week on the Wednesday Night Fights (ABC TV Network) have a language of their own which pre-dates television and radio and is a throw-back in many cases, to the old outlawed "barge" days of boxing when many of the greatest fights of the century were held in the middle of some of our more picturesque rivers on crowded coal scows.

Some of the terms the boxing fraternity uses have been adopted into our daily language—and you will recognize them instantly. As a matter of fact, boxing language was put to graphic use during World War II when the ring terms were used repeatedly in communiques from the battle field. These were terms such as "knockout-blow," "one-two punch," and "body blow." You can probably think of many others.

Here are some of the salty expressions of the ring that properly translated into our everyday language, give the television boxing fan some of the color of one of the world's oldest sports.

A Glossary

Terms used in the ring during the heat of battle:

"Painter"—a light-fisted boxer whose skilled hands reach his opponent's face repeatedly, with telling effect.

"Stick and Run"—a tactical maneuver to jab and yet keep out of reach of a murderous puncher.

"Brick-layer"—a fighter with dynamite laden fists.

"Powder-Puff"—a ringman whose punches are timid and ineffective.

"Timber"—a fighter who has been softened up by an avalanche of blows and is ready to hit the canvas for the knock-out.

"Row-Wow"—a fighter who is short on courage.

"Post-in-Bucket"—a handler who is awkward in the corner and generally is a greater hindrance than a help. These men rarely are seen on television, because only the top trainers work in the corner of the leading fighters.

Everyday Terms

Then there are fight terms that are used in the everyday give and take of boxing as a business.

"Broker"—any boxing man who is either temporarily or permanently down on his luck.

"We wuz robbed"—an expression created by the late Joe Jacobs to describe a bad decision when his heavyweight, Max Schmeling, lost to Jack Sharkey. Incidentally, Jacobs was also the man who uttered the famous remark, "We should of stood in bed," meaning the fight should never have taken place.

"Only a baby"—the plaint of a boxing manager whose inexperienced fighter has been offered a match with a skilled veteran.

"We win"—the manager's proud boast after his fighter has won a match.

"He fought like a bum"—the manager's statement when his fighter has lost (note the change from plural to singular).

"Cut up like a Swiss cheese"—allusion to a fighter who has more than two managers sharing his purse.

"Cutie"—a fighter who knows every trick of the trade—good and bad—and uses them.

"Tomato can"—an inferior fighter. This reference is generally made by one manager to describe another manager's fighter.

Can you unmask these

All the persons on these two pages have been stars-in-disguise on the merry Masquerade Party. Look them over, see how many you can identify.

M Y FAVORITE Masquerader,” said associate producer Keith Taylor, “was Marie McDonald, who appeared on our Masquerade Party as a luminous skeleton. There was The Body as a bunch of bones!”

But then there are many other favorites, especially of viewers who are fascinated with this KABC-TV party. One need only to glance at the list of two-time show guests.

There were Senator Douglas and his wife, who were disguised as the Lincolns the first time they were on the show and as Quakers for their repeat performances; Maxie Rosenbloom who showed up as a woman with a bunch of roses in bloom and again as a boxer (dog); Barbara Britton who masqueraded as John Bull on one show and re-appeared as a polar bear (on account of her Mr. and Mrs. North program). There have been several others.

Taylor, a former Broadway stage manager, shuns run-of-the-mill guests. “I go out of the way to bring in unusual people,” he stresses.

Making these unusual persons look even more unusual is chiefly the job of two men, one of whom is George Fiola. It is his responsibility to grasp Taylor’s masquerade ideas, have them first modeled in clay and then translated into latex. Sometimes the latex may form a whole, thin rubber face which the masquerader affixes over his own countenance. More likely the latex will take the form of many pieces which will be fastened to a guest’s face with spirit gum or two-sided adhesive.

Needs

Requisition list for Masquerade Party may read like this: 4 chins, 8 cheek bones, 4 noses, 4 wigs, one whole face. Fiola has five make-ups to perform for each show and in addition he often must improvise at the last minute. For example, when Jackie Cooper appeared on the program, Fiola had completed his make-up when it was decided that Jackie’s upper lip was identifiable. Fiola had to put on more disguise before...

Barry Sullivan, now starring in A Man Called X, is a man you’ll be happy to know. He’s one of TV’s most interesting personalities.

By Jack Holland

BARRY SULLIVAN is one of Hollywood’s finest actors... He has been seen on many major TV shows, including the memorable “The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial,” and now he is regularly on KHJ-TV’s Man Called X, a Ziv Production.

“This show has been in the works since 1951,” Barry Sullivan stated. “I’d been looking for the right series for some time and this seemed to be it — it had wide appeal, color, glamour, excitement, all necessary ingredients for spy stories such as we’re doing. But this is no two-bit cloak-and-dagger deal. Our producer-director, Eddie Davis, saw to that. He won’t compromise with quality at all.”

Barry, as an individual, is an interesting combination of many qualities. Those who work with him at Ziv consider him ideal, a charming guy. He likes them for many reasons, one being that they keep him busy.

“I work best under pressure,” Barry remarked. “I like to be doing something.” When he was asked if he was always like this, he cracked, “I don’t remember the way I was last week.”

His sense of humor about himself is one of his best traits. He is a serious actor but he doesn’t take himself seriously.

“I think I went into the theater business because you don’t get stuck in the same groove in this business,” he said. “I could never stand being in a job where I got in a rut — where I was doing the same thing over and over, where I was in it so long I could learn to hate it. That’s why I like this series. Even though I’m playing the same character I am constantly in new situations and there are so many facets to the man that he never gets dull.

“I guess I’m busy all the time at home. I have a tape recorder in what is allegedly called my office. At least, it’s piled high with scripts and papers so I suppose it is an office. My children — Jenny, 9, and Johnny, 13, like the tape recorder because they enjoy the sound of it. In fact, they’re interested in everything I do. They even went in for the discussion about the TV show.

Family

Barry is married to a lovely lady by the name of Marie... they have been married for 17 years. He trusts her judgment on everything and she is by far his severest critic...

He considers himself not the greatest nor the worst husband who ever lived.

“But I know I’m one of the best fathers you’ll ever see,” he stated firmly. “I’m very fond of my children. I have a tendency to get over-sentimental with them—but I’m also very realistic. I think any man who is sincerely fond of his children is a good father—and like most fathers I suppose I expect too much of them.”

The Sullivan family lives in Beverly Hills. Barry used to spend a lot of time building furniture and doing upholstery... That phase is behind him because he has no time to indulge in such things... He does like to play tennis whenever he can get a chance and he’s not domestic... He says he is neat enough but he likes to have his room left alone... When someone cleans up for him he can’t find anything... “I rather like a mess,” he admits.

He hates to go shopping... He’s not fussy about clothes but he does like them to be comfortable... He is a good father in the same sense that he is conservative in his dress...

He admits to being extravagant in a way and he wonders at the same time how he gets so many bills. Yet, he drives only a small car, 1952 variety...

“I’m extravagant mainly when I have a good day at the races,” he laughed. “Marie has a mink we call her Santa Anita mink.”

He thinks he’s sentimental but his sentimentality takes weird forms. He dislikes Christmas because of the organized gift-buying... He’d rather bring home a surprise present for his family without there being any special occasion for it.

He has the idea that he’s easily hurt but it’s not easy to tell when someone has hurt him... He doesn’t believe in putting all his eggs in one basket... He has a temper but he has it pretty well under control now...

“It used to be a wful,” he remarked. “I have a tendency to be impatient with myself and with other people. Yet, I think I’m easy to live with—at least I can be the sweetest of human beings, but usually in times of remorse. I’m usual in one way—I don’t like to talk in the morn."

Such is Barry Sullivan, new hero of TV. And one of the nicest guys in this town.

BARRY SULLIVAN joins the ranks of stars with their own TV series. His new KHJ-TV offering is the Ziv production of A Man Called X.

Lee Giroux

A veteran reporter and emcee for twenty years in San Francisco, Lee Giroux is the "jack-of-all-trades" that Channel 4 has been looking for.

By Ted Hilgenstuhler

LEE GIROUX, Channel 4's new all-around man, gained nationwide fame when he emceed four major telethons in San Francisco. Joe E. Brown (left) helps Lee count the money which aided the Cerebral Palsy fun.

Lee is "Jack"

Lee, in other words, is a jack-of-all-trades when it comes to TV announcing. And it appears that's exactly what the NBC-TV outlet intends to use him for.

He fills in for Jack Latham on the regular 6:45 and 11:00 p.m. newscasts—as he did the first weeks on the job when Jack took a needed rest. He also does the same for Cleve Hermann. And he's always "on call" at any hour in the day to handle special events.

KRCA officials believe they have the "top man" for the job. Judging from his past record—and from what we've seen and heard so far—we're inclined to agree.

Lee has had many surprises since taking his new assignment, but one of the most pleasant occurred on one of the first nights he substituted for Jack Latham.

After his news telecast, Lee received a call from a woman—Mrs. Maude Lowe—who had heard him from 25 years.

It seems that back in 1930, at the heart of the Great Depression, when Lee was heading a Dixieland combo, he was stranded in Fargo, North Dakota. Penniless, and without a place to sleep, he desperately knocked on the door of Mrs. Lowe's boarding house. She took him in "on credit."

"I got my first job in town working at a gas station for 25 cents an hour. Then I also found a part-time announcing job on the local radio station—working all night long for the grand total of two dollars. It took me three months to save enough money to get out of town. But I finally made it."

Now in Los Angeles, Lee doesn't expect to pull a Fargo here. He intends to stick around for a long time.
