The complete list of FM, AM (Mediumwave) and television stations in the province of Ontario.

This is Radio Ontario, a guide designed to aid the domestic broadcast enthusiast and traveller. Radio Ontario offers information on every radio and television station in the province (except northern low power TV relays of the TVOntario and La Chaine networks).

HOW RADIO ONTARIO IS ORGANIZED

Each section (Radio and Television) is made up of three directories. The Main Directory is organized by location and contains all the data for each station, bar addresses. The second directory, in Frequency Order, is a cross reference of stations sorted by frequency. The last directory contains the Addresses of Stations Listed by Call Letters. These three directories allow the reader to locate any station by location, frequency or call letters only. The radio section is unique compared to other guides: AM stations are listed with FM for easier reference. FM stations are listed first under each location then AM.

1: MAIN DIRECTORY OF STATIONS

In this directory, stations are listed by location. Under each location, stations are in frequency/channel order from lowest to highest.

Location column: I. R. denotes Indian Reserve. Cities in upper case (eg "OTTAWA") are CBC production centres. Each contribute to producing certain programs for CBC network stations. see also "More on relays"

Call column: station's full call letters; may or may not be used on air (refer to Popular identifications - below). "?" in this column signifies calls are uncertain.

Frequency/Channel column: operating radio frequency or TV channel of station. radio section - frequencies with decimal are FM and do not end with a "0" (eg 89.7) - in MHz; AM frequencies end in "0" and contain no decimal (eg 1310) - in kHz. "?" in this column signifies frequency/channel information is uncertain.

Network/ID/Note column: information on broadcast networks, popular identifications and other station data such as relays, languages, an approval of change in frequency/channel or power and on air status are detailed here.

Popular identifications: In Canada, stations may not use call letters as part of an identification and in fact many elect not to. Instead, a station makes use of a popular identification which is contained in apostrophes under this column (eg 'Energy 1200'). Many networks in Canada such as CBC or TVOntario also never use calls in an identification except possibly during sign-on and sign-off. The popular identification in this case is the name of the network - the only identification a station or relay will likely use (eg 'CBC R').

Popular ID's are listed only if the calls of a station are rarely if ever used on air. This does not include ID's which consist solely of the call letters of a station (eg chum for C.H.U.M.). Of course, a repeater of a station (usually private) will identify using the parent stations' calls; for example CKCO-4 channel 11 will identify as CKCO TV.

Networks - Radio:

'CBC R'	CBC Radio; monophonic, publicly owned
'CBC Stereo'	separate network from CBC Radio; public
'R C'	Radio Canada; CBC French network, monophonic, public
R C Stereo	Radio Canada Stereo network; separate from R. Canada, French, public
'WRN'	Wawatay Native Comm.; northern Ontario only, native language, non-profit

Networks - Television:

'CBC'	CBC Television; publicly owned
'CTV'	CTV Television Network; commercial
'Global'	Canwest Global Television Network; southern Ontario only, commercial
'La Chaine'	TVOntario French network; educational, public
'MCTV'	Mid Canada TV; operating affiliates of CBC and CTV, from Northern Ontario, commercial
'R C'	Radio Canada; CBC French network, public
'TVO'	TVOntario; educational, public

Abbreviations:

a affiliate, usually to CBC and CTV TV stations Fr French language, otherwise English; see also:
l broadcasting mostly in language other than French and English
n not known to be on air yet off station expected to surrender licence R Radio
re: station rebroadcasting or relaying in whole or in part station shown here (ie re:CKDR).
This designation is not used for network relays as they strictly repeat programming of the parent station. see also below s student run station in conjunction with college or university; radio only tr traveller information service; radio only
? information uncertain

More on relays: 'CBC Radio', CBC TV and 'Radio Canada' network stations mostly broadcast a network feed but during certain times, regional programming is available instead.
On CBC Radio, these programs are usually heard at drive times - Monday to Friday during mornings, noonhours and afternoons and on CBC Television, newscasts usually at 6 PM and 11 PM. Programs originate from CBC production centres in Ottawa, Sudbury, Thunder Bay, Toronto and Windsor and on TV in Northeastern Ontario, from MCTV affiliates in Sudbury and Timmins. In most cases relays will broadcast a regional program that originates from the nearest production centre.
CBC production centres are in upper case lettering throughout Radio Ontario.

Power column: estimated radiated power of station.
"k" denotes power in kilowatts (kW) or "w" watts. 2500 watts = 2.5kW. Many AM stations decrease power at night to reduce interference between stations. In such a case, daytime power is separated by night power by a comma - day power listed first (eg 10,5k). "?" in this column signifies information uncertain.

2: STATIONS LISTED BY FREQUENCY/CHANNEL

This directory lists all stations organized by frequency in the radio section (FM first then AM) or by channel for TV, from lowest to highest. For each frequency/channel, stations are listed in location order - to be cross referenced to the Main Directory.

3: ADDRESSES OF STATIONS LISTED BY CALL LETTERS

This directory is two in one. Stations are ordered by respective call letters and are accompanied by an address or reference. Since network relays or repeaters have no local addresses, the user is directed to the address of the parent station by: 'address as' the station with these call letters or, " (ditto) refer to above line. If a broadcaster operates FM and AM outlets in the same city, the address is under the FM counterpart. "P O B" of course means Post Office Box. Should a QSL be desired, it is suggested to write to the attention of the Chief Engineer.

Lists of specific stations (for instance a list of 'CBC R' stations) from Radio Ontario are available for a fee from the author.

Much of the data has been derived from the research of CRTC files and personal monitoring. Effort has been taken to ensure the accuracy of the information. The author would be grateful for any corrections, comments and new information - especially details on popular identifications.

Information from Radio Ontario may be utilized provided credit is given to Radio Ontario and the author. Copies of such use would be appreciated at the address below.

Thanks to Phillip Wharton, Harold Sellers and John Ebling for their contributions and to Kim Reid for assistance in cross referencing data for this edition.

I hope you will find Radio Ontario useful.

STAY TUNED FOR THIS

Here is what to watch out for in the coming months concerning the Ontario broadcasting scene.

The Canwest Global Network plans to expand its television network to serve more of Ontario. Licences are pending for stations in Sudbury, Timmins, North Bay, the Cornwall area and possibly other sites. ** Because CHRO Pembroke was purchased by Baton Broadcasting (and therefore changing affiliation to the CTV network), CBC will be building a new station near Pembroke on channel 3 and changing the facilities at Foymount. Presently, Foymount operates on channel 28 with only 10 watts but the station will soon be upgraded to 29kW on channel 59 to help serve the area which the CHRO station covered. ** This year, decisions will be made regarding outstanding CBC licences (eg radio stations in Belleville, Brockville, Kirkland Lake, Sudbury and Toronto). ** Speaking of Belleville, changes are pending for the FM stations there. A new rock music station which was to sign-on 102.3MHz wants to take the 95.5MHz spot presently held by the Radio Canada station. They in turn plan to move to 94.3 - the frequency originally reserved for the CBC Stereo station. ** 99.1MHz in Toronto is a much desired frequency. The pending country station planned for 92.5 has asked the CRTC to take this frequency instead, so the CRTC has asked for prospective applicants - the whole matter to be decided later this year. Remember that the dance music community is also seeking a station in Toronto. ** In the coming months watch for format changes on CFNY and CHOG in Toronto. Since CHOG switched to hard rock, they never moved up from the ratings cellar. There is speculation for a talk format here. CFMP Peterborough is no longer. The station is now the Wolf - CKWF playing classic and modern rock. ** Thanks for purchasing Edition two of Radio Ontario!

Life In A Regional DX Club - The Ontario DX Association

The Ontario DX Association (ODXA) is a club for shortwave listeners, DX enthusiasts and scanner owners in the province of Ontario.

The ODXA was organized in late 1974, after several Ontario shortwave listeners identified a need for a club which would concentrate on organizing local radio listeners, holding meetings and publishing a regular bulletin which would contain listening tips from and for local listeners. People wanted to look in the bulletin and find out what other Ontario listeners were hearing and doing.

By February of 1975 the first issue of DX ONTARIO, the monthly bulletin, had been produced. Today's DX ONTARIO is very different from the first issues. It has grown from a few pages to an eighty page magazine. What was once produced on a hand-cranked mimeograph machine is now produced using the latest in desktop publishing and offset printing technology.

Regular columns, written by volunteers, cover mediumwave, FM, TV, scanners and shortwave broadcasting, as well as utility DXing. DX ONTARIO has been praised as one of the foremost DX publications in the world.

Being a local or regional club, some things are done differently in the ODXA. Although anyone anywhere in the world may join the ODXA, the traditional loggings found in every club bulletin are only from Ontario members. Non-Ontarians are welcome to contribute articles, QSL reports, station schedules and such to DX ONTARIO, but the listening tips are designed to aid the Ontario member. Notices of meetings, amateur radio fleamarkets and other hobby events happening in Ontario also receive an emphasis. Advertisements are taken from Ontario suppliers of shortwave receivers and equipment. Besides this, many members make use of the "For Sale" column to sell and buy used equipment.

Meetings for ODXA members are encouraged and regular meetings take place in Toronto, London, Ottawa, Kitchener-Waterloo, Sudbury, Gravenhurst and other locations. Meetings range from social gatherings for the purpose of sharing information and DXing together to planned activities such as seminars, guest speakers, demonstrations and videos. Advance details are always printed in DX ONTARIO.

Several DXpeditions are held each year, with dozens of members spending a weekend at a camp trying out different receivers and antennas, looking for new and exciting catches.

An annual convention is also held during the summer. As well, the ODXA takes part in several hobby shows and exhibitions held in the province.

For those interested in learning more about the ODXA, a sample magazine and complete information is available for $2.00 from the Ontario DX Association, P.O. Box 161, Station A, Willowdale, Ontario M2N 5S8. Membership fees are $28.75 per year (plus GST after January 1, 1991). We can also respond to telephone inquiries at (416)853-3169. Our DX-Change is a message service offering hobby and club information via the telephone at (416)299-ODXA.
