Suzi Quatro

Hits of the Week

SINGLES

HERB ALPERT, "ROTATION" (prod. by Alpert-Badazz) (writers: Armer-Badazz) (Almo/Badazz, ASCAP) (3:50). Alpert's "Rise" hit #1 on the strength of its mass appeal and this successor may do the same. It percolates with an infectious rhythm under Herb's romantic horn leads. A&M 2202.

FOREIGNER, "HEAD GAMES" (prod. by Baker-Jones-McDonald) (writers: Gramm-Jones) (Somerset/Evan-songs, ASCAP) (3:26). The title cut from their top 5 LP is a typical Foreigner rockin' treat. Gramm's snarling vocals & a relentless rhythm equal a tense, driving AOR-pop pick. Atlantic 3633.

DIANA ROSS, "IT'S MY HOUSE" (prod. by Ashford-Simpson) (writers: Ashford-Simpson) (Nick-O-Val, ASCAP) (3:34). Ross follows her top 20 "The Boss" with this engaging mid-tempo ballad. Falsetto vocals & a full chorus predominate with a sharp beat setting the pop pace. Motown 1471.

PEACHES & HERB, "ROLLER-SKATIN' MATE (PART 1)" (prod. by Perren) (writers: Fekaris-Perren) (Perren-Vibes, ASCAP) (3:29). Lace up your skates and take off with this energized pair on a short but snappy ride. The first single from their "Twice The Fire" LP. Polydor 2031.

SLEEPERS

SPYRO GYRA, "JUBILEE" (prod. by Beckenstein-Calandra) (writer: Wall) (Harlem/Crosseyed Bear, BMI) (3:55). The title cut from their "Morning Dance" LP was a multi-chart smash and this second release should do the same. The hot lead trades & joyous refrains are marvelous. Infinity 50,041.

SUZI QUATRO, "SHE'S IN LOVE WITH YOU" (prod. by Chapman) (writers: Chinn-Chapman) (Chinnichap/Careers, BMI) (3:34). Under the guidance of hitmakers Chinn & Chapman, Quatro shapes a timely dance music offering with a rock edge. From her hot new LP. RSO 1014.

THE BUGGLES, "VIDEO KILLED THE RADIO STAR" (prod. by group) (writers: Horne-Downes-Woolley) (Ackee, ASCAP/Carbert, BMI) (3:20). Rock & disco merge via studio electronics to create catchy pop sounds for the '80s. Already #1 in England, it's a cinch hit here. Island 49114 (WB).

TYRONE BARKLEY, "MAN OF VALUE" (prod. by Weiss) (writer: Weiss) (Larry Weiss, ASCAP) (4:25). Barkley, in vocal style, inflection and delivery, has come up with a classic soul sound that's updated by a snappy dance beat. A blockbuster sleeper that will break on several formats. Midsong 1016.

ALBUMS

STEVIE WONDER, "JOURNEY THROUGH THE SECRET LIFE OF PLANTS." After a three year wait, Wonder's latest double disc is a totally eclectic representation of his substantial talents. Moving from classical through modified disco, this is a package for every taste. Tamla T13-371C2 (Motown) (13.98).

TOTO, "HYDRA." This group of L.A. musicians garnered gold on their debut LP last year and this second effort shows an even broader range of rhythm. Opening with the almost classical "Hydra," the rest of the disc holds some prime pop and rock material. Columbia FC 36229 (8.98).

RUFUS & CHAKA, "MASTERJAM." This new disc is one of the best examples around of what has become known as "dance" music. The rhythms are disco-fied with powerful rock instrumentation and an R&B edge. Chaka's vocals have never sounded better and it's picking up big support. MCA 5103 (8.98).

THE BOOMTOWN RATS, "THE FINE ART OF SURFACING." The Rats have made major impact in Europe recently and this new album should give them equal celebrity here. The thundering "I Don't Like Mondays" is at the core and sets the tone for some of the most intelligent rock around. Col JC 36243 (7.98).

Coast Retailers Raise Shelf Prices

By PETER FLETCHER

■ LOS ANGELES—Three high volume, west coast retailers have raised their prices in response to similar increases from record manufacturers. Integrity Entertainment Co., which runs the Warehouse, Big Ben's and Hits For All stores, raised its prices on November 1.

Lee Hartstone, president of Integrity, said, "Integrity is currently undergoing shelf price and ad price point revision. The shelf price of all Integrity retail units will be increased. It won't be a specific pattern—I don't have a pat, flat approach." Hartstone would not specify what the increases would be.

Tower Records and Music Plus also raised their prices recently. These moves are significant because all three have been low price, high volume outlets which have resisted such increases.

Music Plus changed its shelf price on $7.98 list albums from $4.99 to $5.79. Lou Fogelman, president of Music Plus, said, "It was our first price increase in five years. We couldn't handle any

Polygram To Buy Some Decca Companies; London Records Is Said To Be Included

By VAL FALLOON & MARC KIRKEBY

■ LONDON—Decca Ltd. will sell most of its record and publishing interests to the Dutch-German Polygram Group under a tentative agreement that both parties expect to conclude at an early date.

Sir Edward Lewis, Decca's chairman, announced this surprise move at Decca's annual general meeting in London October 30. Sir Edward, 79, who denied rumors that he is about to retire, would not give details of the cash amount involved but said that the deal is expected to be signed within the next few weeks.

While Decca will keep some of its music properties, sources at Decca and Polygram said that London Records in the United States, with its large classical catalogue and a pop repertoire that includes the Moody Blues and the early Rolling Stones, would go to Polygram.

Executives at London Records in New York learned of the proposed sale last week, but would not comment on their company's potential acquisition by Polygram.

The sale is a bid to eliminate heavy losses in the Decca Group in the last year, in part caused by losses in the record division which have continued to worsen in the current fiscal year.

Record business losses were over 1.5 million pounds last year and the group as a whole lost almost 400,000 pounds, compared with a 12 million pound profit in the previous year. Worldwide sales of records, tapes, TV and audio equipment totalled 71 million pounds out of group sales of 183 million pounds. Most of the music sales came from Decca's own labels, from classical repertoire, and from London Records in North America. Decca's shares dropped on the London exchange when news of the sale was announced, but recovered later in the day.

Decca's successful classical division could be comfortably merged with Polygram's, which includes the DG and Philips labels. Details of which areas of the music division are to be sold have not been made final, but Polygram stated last week that Decca's interest in Teldec, the Hamburg-based company, is not included. Decca subsidiaries in some other territories will also be omitted from the sale, and Decca may keep its record manufacturing plants in the U.K. and Canada and its U.K. recording studios.

RIAA Makes Home-Taping Appeal; RKO Chain Cooperating with Labels

By SAM SUTHERLAND

■ NEW YORK—The chief executives of most major American record labels added their names to an RIAA statement to radio broadcasters, which was issued

■ LOS ANGELES—One week after one of its major market outlets drew critical fire for a widely-advertised series of evening album specials, the RKO Radio chain has swung its formidable weight toward label sources seeking greater radio support against home taping.

Although RKO's KRTH-FM (K-EARTH) had sought to bolster ratings through a "Great Album Week" promotion spotlighting hit LPs played in their entirety (RW, November 3, 1979), RKO Radio president Dwight Case has since reversed that posture via an open letter first distributed last Tuesday (30).

Case's letter, which also went to RKO national music coordinator Dave Sholin and to the program directors at the eleven RKO outlets, made official the decision to halt such specials, and end airing of albums without interruption altogether.

Said Case in his release, "For some time now . . . the record industry has been plagued by home taping of albums, resulting in a significant loss of retail sales. While radio is ultimately concerned with ratings . . . not record sales . . . we still must remain sensitive to each other's problems.

"Therefore, effective Thursday, November 1, 1979, it will be RKO (Continued on page 46)

A/C Formats Flourish on AM Band

By SAM SUTHERLAND

■ LOS ANGELES — Faced by the ongoing defection of teen listeners to the FM band, and lured by the advertising advantages posed by an older demographic target, beleaguered top 40 programmers are revising their mass appeal instincts to take a fresh look at the adult market.

That's the underlying message emerging from a recent RW survey of both major and secondary market stations that have shifted their programming from the classic top 40 mold to compete in the shifting styles now grouped under the adult/contemporary banner. Stations sampled included both recent converts and outlets whose base shifted as long as 18 months ago, representing both dramatic programming facelifts and more gradual, "fine-tuned" formats devised over longer periods.

With industry attention to programming trends dominated by more controversial alternatives such as disco and new wave, the swing toward A/C formats has been a quiet one. Yet while some programmers warn against early predictions that A/C will itself become a hot new format trend, its proponents trace their support to general demographic factors as well as local market needs.

In contrast to the MOR archetypes synonymous with adult-oriented stations of a decade ago, the musical fare has itself evolved to cover a spectrum ranging from '30s and '40s big band and vocal music to softer rock hits, and stations polled by RW reflected that variety in their respective approaches to setting a musical mix. Whether more traditional or contemporary, though, all agreed that the shifting tastes mirrored by A/C formats underscore a significant demographic shift.

Record World Sales Index

* The Record World Sales Index is based on a broad cross-section of quantitative sales data reported to Record World from retailers, rack jobbers and one-stops across the country. The base figure for both the singles and album indices is a smoothed average of these quantitative reports during periods in June, 1979, with each weekly figure being a percentage increase or decrease on the base. The base figure for both singles and albums is 100.0.

Kool & The Gang (De-Lite) "Ladies Night." While holding down the number one slot on the BOS chart, definite crossover sales are keying solid chart action, including several top ten moves and numerous adds on the pop side.

Cliff Richard (EMI-America) "We Don't Talk Anymore." Having compiled an impressive amount of secondary airplay, the primary level stations are quickly adding the record. Breakout sales are reported.

20th Cuts Disc Losses

■ LOS ANGELES—Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corp. last week reported increases in revenues, earnings and earnings per share for the third quarter ended Sept. 30 over the same period in 1978. Revenues for 20th's record and music publishing division declined during the quarter, but the company significantly reduced its net losses in that area.

For the three months ended Sept. 30, the company reported net earnings of $19,671,000, or $2.39 per share, on revenues of $189,556,000, compared with net earnings of $18,440,000, or $2.26 per share, on revenues of $161,001,000 for the same period in 1978.

For the nine months ended Sept. 30, the company's totals were $46,535,000 in net earnings, or $5.64 per share, on revenues of $496,254,000, compared with $51,402,000 in net earnings, or $6.43 per share, on revenues of $469,130,000 for the first nine months of 1978.

For the quarter just completed, 20th Century-Fox lost $40,000 on revenues of $1,825,000 for its record division, compared with a loss of $3,834,000 on revenues of $2,461,000 for the third quarter of 1978. For the nine months just ended, the company lost $605,000 on revenues of $6,950,000, compared with a loss of $5,945,000 on revenues of $10,086,000 for the same period in 1978.

Tape Pirate Convicted In Landmark Case

■ JACKSONVILLE, FLA.—A landmark legal precedent was set here with the conviction in State Circuit Court of an alleged tape pirate on charges of possessing stolen property with intent to sell. It could bring him a prison sentence of up to 15 years when he appears before Judge Lamar Winegeart for sentencing on Nov. 20.

The case involved Robert L. Crow, from whose residence in Clay County, Fla., authorities last April seized about 1600 pirated tapes. It was part of a four-state crackdown by the FBI on the manufacture and distribution of pirated 8-track tapes and cassettes. The Sheriffs' Departments of Jacksonville and Clay Counties co-operated in the investigation and the raids in Florida.

Among the seized tapes were recordings by Tammy Wynette. Crow was prosecuted in State Court on charges of possessing stolen property, rather than in Federal Court on charges of copyright infringement.

The State contended that since property is defined in the law as

Sire Promo Revamped

■ NEW YORK — Seymour Stein, managing director of Sire Records, has announced the promotion of Richard Sargent to vice president, national promotion. Sargent will continue to head up Sire's west coast office in Los Angeles as well.

Stein further announced the addition of Joshua Blardo as vice president—director album promotion/marketing. Based in New York, Blardo will work closely with Suzanne Emil, Sire's director of secondary markets promotion. John Montgomery, former vice president album promotion/marketing, has been moved to the newly created position of vice president special projects. First priorities set for Montgomery, who is also based at the label's headquarters in New York, will be to oversee the total marketing and promotional campaign of the Undertones album, currently on the British charts, to be released by Sire in January, followed by similar duties regarding the February release of the Ramones album produced by Phil Spector at Gold Star Studios.

Pickwick officials had no comment on these personnel changes.

AFM Votes on New Pact

By SAMUEL GRAHAM

■ LOS ANGELES — Some 6200 members of the American Federation of Musicians are voting this month by secret ballot on the ratification of a proposed new, two-year contract between the union and record labels. AFM officials, including president Louis Fuentelba, have reportedly urged that members approve the contract, which calls for approximate across-the-board pay scale increases of eight percent the first year and seven percent the second year.

Should it be ratified (a decision is expected November 27), the new 25-month contract will be retroactive to November 1, 1979, and will be in effect until December 1, 1981. Included in the proposal are scale increases in all categories: regular three-hour and special one-and-a-half-hour sessions, symphonic sessions, and sessions for music recorded and sold in Canada and Puerto Rico.

There are also provisions for improvements in health and welfare considerations, cartage fees and music preparations. In addition, for the first time, the agreement includes terms for recording chamber music and making on-location symphonic and opera recordings.

Specific terms include the following: The fee for a regular three-hour session, now $127.50, will be $137.21 in the first year of the new contract and $146.81 the second year; the special session fee, now $83.85, will be $90.56 the first year and $96.90 the second; the three-hour symphonic fee, now $134.67, will be $145.44 the first year and $155.62 the second (four-hour symphonic fees will move from $179.56 to $193.92 the first year and $207.49 the second); Canadian sessions will be upped from $105.00 to $113.40 and then $121.34, and Puerto Rican sessions will move from the present $76.23 to $83.33 and then $88.09.

The new contract, if ratified, would also increase health and welfare considerations from $3.50 to $3.75 per original service; music preparation fees, which cover out-of-town guarantees and expenses, would also be increased. Cartage fees would be raised as well: for heavy instruments, from five dollars to six dollars, and for harps, from the current 24 dollars to 26 dollars the first year and 30 dollars the second year.

Also in the contract, for the first time, are terms and conditions for recording chamber music, and a new formula for "on location" symphonic and opera recordings. In a statement issued from the AFM's New York headquarters, union president Fuentelba said, "Both the union and management feel that these (two) new provisions will result in additional employment for AFM members throughout the United States and Canada in those respective portions of our business. It is our hope that the flood of foreign recordings in the classical music field will eventually be reduced to a mere trickle."

Negotiations between representatives of the union (including Fuentelba, vice president David Winstein, Canadian vice president J. Alan Wood, secretary/treasurer J. Martin Emerson and executive assistant Robert Crothers) and record labels completed the proposal over the weekend of October 27-28.

Stations Press For AM Stereo

By BILL HOLLAND

■ WASHINGTON—Medium market radio stations want AM stereo, and they want it badly.

That's the tone of a request to broadcasters from the National Association of Broadcasters' Medium Market Radio Committee to write the FCC explaining why the commission should adopt AM stereo soon.

The group feels that the FCC is dragging its feet—"downgrading action on the proceeding" is their term—while its engineers are concentrating on the 10kHz to 9kHz spacing issue.

The overwhelming issue at stake is the "giant inroads" FM has made on the AM music listening audience, an audience that, of course, now listens to stereo. The AM stereo, broadcasters point out, is also compatible with the possible upcoming 9kHz spacing.

Arista Contributing To Martell Foundation

■ NEW YORK — Elliot Goldman, executive vice president and general manager, Arista Records, and Aaron Levy, the label's senior vice president of finance, have announced that Arista will be making a Christmas contribution to the T. J. Martell Memorial Foundation, a music industry-supported organization devoted to leukemia research and treatment. The donation will consist of money ordinarily allocated by Arista departments for the purchase and distribution of Christmas gifts, and all recipients of company holiday cards will be informed of Arista's charitable contribution.

Chart Analysis

Eagles Single Moves Up To Number One; Kool & the Gang Lead Crossover Surge

By JOSEPH IANELLO

■ For the fifth consecutive week, a new single heads the top 10. This week, Eagles (Asylum) hurdled into the #1 position only six weeks after it entered the chart on the strength of gigantic rack and retail sales combining with numerous #1 radio ratings around the country. While the sales competition in the top 10 is very competitive—four bullets and four records holding steady—it's the immediate and consistent growth of Eagles that enabled it to take the top.

Another record making quick and impressive gains since its release six weeks ago is Styx (A&M), which jumped six slots to the #3 position behind radio and sales skyrockets. Strong airplay, a top 10 rating at WABC, numerous #1s in the south, and building sales made the Commodores (Motown) the #6 record while Barbra Streisand/Donna Summer (Columbia/Casablanca) combined building black responses with an already huge pop picture for a five place jump to #9.

Four black records that are making a big pop crossover are especially interesting this week. Leading the parade is Kool & The Gang (De-Lite) at #37 bullet and one of this week's Powerhouse Picks. Kool's ten place rise got lots of fuel from the black side where it's entrenched at the #1 position on the BOS and Disco Charts. Adds at WLAC, KBEQ, KOPA, and 92Q are indicative of the great radio response. Smokey Robinson (Tamla) got adds at KFRC and FM97 to aid its crossover move to #46 bullet while it continues to rise on the BOS chart, this week at #5 bullet. Michael Jackson (Epic) is following in the footsteps of his last #1 hit with another blockbuster.

He jumped 20 slots this week to #64 bullet behind adds at WABC, WXLO, KHJ, WHBQ, and Y100 while sitting at #22 bullet on the BOS Chart. Finally, Isaac Hayes (Polydor) debuted at #15 on KILT in addition to four other big pop adds for a 12 place move to #67 bullet while rating a #12 bullet on the BOS Chart.

Another story that seems to be developing is the resurgence of soft-rock with six of seven bulletted songs in the twenties aimed in that direction. As radio programmers look at older demographics, this phenomenon could develop into trend proportions. Anne Murray (Capitol) moved four to #21 behind adds at WCAO and F105; J.D. Souther (Columbia) enjoyed good breakout sales in the midwest and an add at KING for a five place rise to #22; Rupert Holmes (Infinity), last week's Powerhouse Pick, added WABC along with a host of pop stations for an enormous 14 place jump to #26; and Lauren Wood (Warner Brothers) continued to make her first solo release a big one with an add at KVIL for a three place move to #28.

Back to the teens, Barry Manilow (Arista) went to #13 with building sales activity and substantial radio coverage. KC & The Sunshine Band (TK) continues to get good sales for a bullet at #16.

Six big adds lifted The Captain & Tennille (Casablanca) nine slots to #34 bullet as it shares some of the action in the thirties with another one of this week's Powerhouse Picks, Cliff Richard (EMI-America). Richard moved nine slots to #39 behind a dozen radio adds and breakout sales in the east and south.

Sales action in the midwest, adds at KVIL, WRKO and WZZP, and big country reports—it's rated at #2 bullet on that chart—boosted Crystal Gayle to #40 bullet as she leads eight bullets in the forties. Little River Band (Capitol) moved eight slots to #42 with adds at WGCL, WNOE, WAYS, and WQXI; last week's Chartmaker, Stevie Wonder (Tamla), took a 16 place move behind a list of adds too numerous to mention; and Alan Parsons (Arista) took an eight place move to #45 with adds at KDWB, (Continued on page 52)

Top Five Positions Remain Unchanged; Petty Album Bows Strong as Chartmaker

By SAMUEL GRAHAM

■ The top five albums all held their positions this week, with #1 Eagles (Asylum) continuing its strong grip on the top spot. The margin between #2 Led Zeppelin (Swan Song) and #3 Styx (A&M) somewhat slimmer now, while #4 Commodores (Motown) continues to be fueled by excellent pop and black action on the "Sail On" and "Still" singles, both of which are in the top 15 on the Singles Chart.

Fleetwood Mac (WB) maintains a bullet at #5, an indication that continued growth on this album is an excellent possibility. The long awaited "Tusk" LP is not coming on as fast as had been expected—and hoped—by many retailers, no doubt due in part to the fact that it is neither a usual nor a cheap album, but it is nevertheless showing solid moves at rack and strong retail as well. "Tusk" is an attractive package, despite the cost; it may well prove to be a hot Christmas item.

Despite the fact that the "Rise" single is on its way down, Herb Alpert's album of the same name (A&M) continues to sell through very well indeed, moving this week to #7 bullet. Elsewhere, Kenny Rogers (UA) regains a bullet at #9, with the "You Decorated My Life" single now in the top five; racks are very hot here, and retail, although there are still some holes, is excellent where reported.

Barry Manilow (Arista), like Rogers, is stronger at rack than retail, moving this week to #11 bullet. Meanwhile, both Donna Summer (Casablanca) and Barbra Streisand (Col), bulleting at #13 and #17, respectively, are among the hotter product right now. Both albums are helped along by both 7-inch and 12-inch versions of their "No More Tears" duet; Donna showed significant gains at both rack and retail this week (and an excellent spread), while Barbra is also huge at retail. An outstanding period for both artists, especially Summer.

Also bulleting in the top twenty are Kool and the Gang (De-Lite), at #18 with the "Ladies' Night" single continuing its strong crossover moves (now at #37 on the Singles Chart) and having a similar effect on album sales, and Blondie (Chrysalis) at #19. Rack action on previous Blondie LPs set the stage for a similar response on the "Eat to the Beat" album; there are still some holes at retail here, but they are filling steadily.

RIAA Statement on Home Taping

last week on the continuing home-taping controversy.

The text of the statement ran as follows:

"Radio stations increasingly are encouraging listeners to tape commercial recordings off the air, especially key new releases of major artists—sometimes even in advance of the public release date. Such stations pre-announce times for such new-release airplay and even schedule their programs free of commercial interruptions. Some go a step further with paid newspaper ads listing album titles and broadcast hours, again with the promise of no commercials.

"This overt action to foster hometaping saps the lifeblood of the recording industry. It erodes the income of vocalists and musicians. It worsens the already high risks of making recordings and supporting new artists. It ignores rights and fairness.

"Radio's encouragement of home taping is bad for radio, too. It attacks the very resources of artists and recordings which are the cornerstone of radio's own programming and ability to attract audiences and commercial advertisers.

"This is an appeal from record executives to radio executives to stop fostering the home taping of recordings . . . to halt the commercial-free broadcasting of new-release records . . .

"A traditional and important inter-relationship has existed to bind radio, recordings, and artists. That mutually beneficial rapport is worth maintaining . . ."

The following executives signed the statement: Ron Alexenburg, Infinity Records; Clarence Avant, Tabu Records; Neil Bogart, Casablanca Records; Clive J. Davis, Arista Records; Terry Ellis, Chrysalis Records; Ahmet Ertegun, Atlantic Records; Gil Friesen, A&M Records; Kenneth Gamble, Philadelphia International; Stanley M. Gortikov, RIAA; B. S. Motown Singles Hot On The BOS Chart

■ With six singles bulleting out of RW's top 40 BOS chart positions, Motown is looking good. The Commodores currently have two singles within the top 10; "Still" holds the #3 bullet position, while Smokey Robinson's "Cruisin'" is #5 bullet. Switch made impressive gains this week, currently positioned at #18 bullet, with this week's Chartmaker not far behind. Stevie Wonder entered the chart at #25 bullet, closely followed by Marvin Gaye at #26 bullet. Rick James currently holds the #32 bullet slot.

Scholarship Deadline Extended By NARM

■ CHERRY HILL, N.J.—Because of an unprecedented influx of scholarship applications to the NARM office, as the October 31 deadline for scholarship submission approached, Joseph A. Cohen, NARM executive vice president, announced that the deadlines for accepting applications has been extended one month to November 30, 1979. Cohen stated, "As the deadline approached, we were inundated, not only with completed applications, but with requests from our members for additional applications. We have already received more than 100 applications. In these trying economic times, when the cost of a college education skyrockets every day along with all the other day-to-day expenses, it is incumbent upon NARM to respond to those conditions. We must make it possible for every eligible employee of a NARM member company to apply for scholarship funds, either for himself, his son, daughter, or spouse. The one month extension time will allow these employees—many of whom are with new NARM member companies—to participate."

Spouses Eligible

All NARM member companies, regular and associate, are eligible to participate in the program. In its twelfth year, the NARM Scholarship Foundation has presented more than half a million dollars in scholarship aid to 144 company employees and their children. This year, spouses of employees have been added to the eligible list. Fourteen scholarships will be presented at the NARM Scholarship Foundation Dinner, one of the highlights of the 1980 NARM Convention, which opens on March 23 at the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Scholarship applications may be obtained by calling the NARM office at (609) 795-5555.

Polygram Dist. Begins Retail Promo Contest

■ NEW YORK — Jon Peisinger, vice president of market development for Polygram Distribution, Inc. has announced a major consumer and trade promotion for the Fall/Holiday Season. Themed the "Sonic Energy—Musicpower From The Stars" (logo attached for reprint), the campaign will feature the "Sonic Energy Sweepstakes," the industry's first nationally advertised sweepstakes contest with almost $50,000 worth of prizes for both consumers and participating retailers.

A unique aspect of the PDI-coordinated venture is the participation of three manufacturers in the audio industry: Harmon Kardon, Altec Lansing, and Stanton Magnetics. Each has contributed to the overall campaign, while supplying an impressive list of top quality equipment as prize incentives.

Top prize will be a state-of-the-art system consisting of Harmon Kardon Citation series components, including tuner, pre-amplifier, amplifier, and straight-line turntable, all in a professional rack mount; a pair of Altec Lansing Model 14 speakers; the Stanton 8815 cartridge; and a record library. Three second prizes and five third prizes will also consist of Harman Kardon-Altec Lansing-Stanton systems. There will be two hundred fourth prizes of the new Permostat record preservation kit from Stanton Magnetics.

Another distinctive feature of the promotion is the fact that owners and managers of record stores and departments will have an incentive to merchandise the Sonic Energy Sweepstakes, as all consumer entries will require the entrant to include the name and address of the store where the form was obtained. When consumer winners for the audio system prizes are selected, each retailer listed on the winning entries will also be awarded the same system.

All advertising for the contest will highlight eight recent releases, which will be the focus of the campaign. The albums include: Bee Gees "Greatest" (RSO), Donna Summer "On The Radio, Greatest Hits Vol. I & II" (Casablanca), Peaches & Herb "Twice The Fire" (Polydor/MVP), Kool & The Gang "Ladies Night" (Phonogram / De-Lite), Village People "Live & Sleazy" (Casablanca), The Original Soundtrack from "Quadrophenia" (Polydor), John Cougar "John Cougar" (Phonogram/Riva), and Linda Clifford "Here's My Love" (RSO/Curtom).

The contest is based on responses to at least four of eight questions relating to information readily found on the jackets of the eight featured albums. (Example: How many songs are on the Bee Gees "Greatest"?) The advertising will direct the consumer to go to record dealers in order to obtain entry blanks and contest answers. A variety of point-of-purchase materials, including posters and counter-cards, will be supplied to accounts for in-store promotion.

Retailer participation has been simplified so that the only effort required is to display the self-service merchandising aids.

To supplement the Sonic Energy Sweepstakes, PDI has also implemented a retail display competition for the Holiday Season.

JOE JACKSON—A&M 2186
IT'S DIFFERENT FOR GIRLS (prod. by Kershenbaum)
(writer: Jackson)
(Albion/Almo, ASCAP)
(3:42)

Jackson was one of the first British new wavers to hit the top 20 with his "Is She Really Going Out With Him." This first single from his new "I'm The Man" LP is a power pop ballad with echoing vocals and keyboards that carry Jackson's thoughtfully poignant message about male/female roles. Two in a row for Joe.

BONNIE RAITT—Warner
Brothers 49116
YOU'RE GONNA GET
WHAT'S COMING
(prod. by Asher)
(writer: Palmer)
(Ackee, ASCAP)
(3:28)

Raitt has an excellent new LP produced by Peter Asher and this first cut is a standout Robert Palmer cover. The evil lyrics lurk effectively through Raitt's inimitable delivery while Wachtel & Kortchmar unwind some snakey guitar work. Souther & Butler give special depth with backup vocals.

DAVID WERNER—Epic 9-50798
TOO LATE TO TRY (prod.
by Clearmountain-
Werner-Doyle)
(writer: Werner)
(David Werner/Cos-K, ASCAP) (2:39)

A native of Pittsburgh, Werner has urban streetwise sensibilities that he articulates with a pop-rock flair that's ripe for AOR and top 40. His hardened tenor and the wailing guitar get Bob Clearmountain's superb production touch as Werner puts together a strong melody and big hook from his self-titled, debut LP.

RICK DERRINGER—Blue Sky
9-2783 (CBS)

SOMETHING WARM
(prod. by Rundgren)
(writer: Derringer)
(Derringer, BMI)
(3:30)

The first cut from Derringer's new "Guitars and Women" LP is an effective throwback to pure 50s rock 'n' roll. Todd Rundgren's sparse but effective production seizes the essence of the period while Derringer's vocal has the youthful edge to make this a top 40 hit.

Pop

THE BEACH BOYS—Caribou/
Lorimar 9-9031 (CBS)

IT'S A BEAUTIFUL DAY (prod. by Johnston) (writers: Love-Jardine)
(Brother/Jardine/Challove, BMI)
(3:15)

From the "Americathon" LP, this cut captures all the exuberance of a sunny day on a California beach with the Beach Boys in rare form. The lead vocals and falsetto harmonies are precious.

THE MOTELS—Capitol 4796
TOTAL CONTROL (prod. by Carter) (writers: Davis-Jourard) (publisher pending) (2:36)

Lead singer / songwriter and rhythm guitarist Martha Davis fronts this outstanding quintet from LA and here she gives a hauntingly vulnerable reading to this rather quirky ballad.

ELIZABETH BARRACLOUGH—
Bearsville 49124 (WB)

USE YOUR HEART (prod. by Mitchell)
(writer: Barracough) (Fourth Floor/
Chili Pepper, ASCAP) (3:25)

Barracough is an important new voice who has a penchant for big hooks and universal lyrics. Her voice and the toasty sax solo are right for multiformat action.

PAT BENATAR—Chrysalis 2395
HEARTBREAKER (prod. by Coleman) (writers: Gill-Wade) (Dick James,
BMI) (3:26)

Don't let Benatar's diminutive stature fool you: she's got a heavyweight voice that rocks with tons of intense urgency. An AOR pick hit.

YELLOW MAGIC ORCHESTRA—
Horizon 127 (A&M)

COMPUTER GAME (prod. by Hosono)
(writers: Hosono-Takahashi-Sakamoto)
(Alpha/Almo, ASCAP) (3:52)

Japan enters the latest modern fusion music with a dance beat here courtesy of this highly inventive trio of musicians who specialize in electronics. A delightful instrumental track that should garner immediate airplay.

BLUE STEEL—Infinity 50,044
SHARK (prod. by Shark-Max-group)
(writer: Twilley) (Tarka, ASCAP) (2:20)

The Dwight Twilley-penned tune gets a rip roarin' treatment by this talented west coast rock group. Frenetic vocals and a grinding rhythm section make this ripe for AOR and partyin'.

THE JEREMY SPENCER BAND—
Atlantic 3624

TRAVELIN' (prod. by Spencer-Fogarty)
(writers: Spencer-Fogarty) (Pices/
R&M, ASCAP) (3:27)

An original member of Fleetwood Mac, Spencer has a knack for writing pretty pop melodies as evidenced on this second single from his endearing but overlooked "Flee" LP. An immediate AOR-pop add.

JOHN PRINE—Asylum 46562

AUTOMOBILE (prod. by Phillips-Phillips)
(writer: Prine) (Big Ears/Bruised
Oranges, ASCAP) (3:17)

Prine's music is always timely as demonstrated by the rough mix on some of the finest guitar & harmonica playing you'll hear anywhere. A true classic.

THE POP—Arista 0475

WAITING FOR THE NIGHT (prod. by Mankey) (writers: Prescott-Swanson)
(Urban Blue) (3:25)

More new rock from LA with this pop-oriented quartet issuing their first release that's dominated by a lurking beat and a busy vocal mix.

RAY CHARLES—Atlantic 3634

JUST BECAUSE (prod. by Charles)
(writers: Sitoussi-Tobaly-Wedroff)
(Talisman/Seldak/Victaaza, ASCAP)
(4:35)

Charles puts his heart and soul into this touching ballad. A lyrical guitar solo and simple piano accompaniment help but it's Charles' vocals that tell the story.

THE SPECIALS—Chrysalis 2374

GANGSTERS (prod. by group) (written:
Dammers) (Plangent Visions, ASCAP)
(2:43)

This attractive debut by yet another British band with a refreshing approach puts them in the "watch for" category. Teen-ish vocal and tinny guitar/drums are arranged with a pop flair.

B.O.S./Pop

THE O'JAYS—Phila. Intl. 9-3726
(CBS)

I WANT YOU HERE WITH ME (prod. by Gamble-Huff) (writers: Gamble-Huff)
(Mighty Three, BMI) (3:31)

Rich and smooth tenors join in a fantastic vocal celebration that's bound to please several audiences. It's a gorgeous mid-tempo ballad from their "Identify Yourself" LP.

DELORES HALL—Capitol 4800

NEVER NEEDED YOU ANYWAY (prod.
by Thiele, Jr.-Kamins) (writers:
Albright-Kanter-Thiele, Jr.) (Coco
Rose/New Doorway, ASCAP) (4:06)

Hall's ear-stopping vocal got its seasoning on Broadway where she earned several awards and here she lets loose on this burning blend of rock/disco/funk. A name and voice to watch.

DAVID RUFFIN—Warner

Brothers 49123
I GET EXCITED (prod. by Davis)
(writer: Hariston) (Groovesville,
BMI) (2:52)

Ruffin takes on a Marvin Gaye posture that's soothing, relaxed and quite effective. The loose rhythm is subliminally hypnotic and great for radio.

DON ARMANDO'S SECOND AVENUE RHUMBA BAND—

ZE/Buddah 001 (Arista)
DEPUTY OF LOVE (prod. by Darnell)
(writer: Rogers) (Perennial August/
Unichappell, BMI) (3:20)

An irresistible keyboard/percussion mix opens with Fonda Payne's saucy vocals close behind on this wonderful dance tune. Already a disco hit.

ONE WAY FEATURING AL
HUDSON—MCA 41146

NOW THAT I FOUND YOU (prod. by group-Becker) (writers: Unger-Bozzi)
(Boz, BMI) (3:26)

A breezy piano and bouncy beat compliment Hudson's showcase vocals on this broad appeal cut from their new LP.

ATLANTIC STARR—A&M 2198
LOSIN' YOU (prod. by Eli) (writer: Lewis)
(Almo/Newban/Audio, ASCAP) (3:45)

The dreamy male/female vocal trade builds into heavenly choruses that are literally breathtaking. A superbly executed and produced ballad that should open a lot of pop/adult ears.

PARLIAMENT—Casablanca 2222

PARTY PEOPLE (prod. by Dr. Funkenstein)
(writers: Clinton-Collins-Shider)
(Rubberband, BMI) (4:43)

Clinton, Bootsy and the Brides lead this latest funkathon with each and all taking some kind of lead in this madcap scramble. Get up and go crazy.

JACKIE MOORE—Columbia
1-11140

HOW YOUR LOVE LIFE BABY (prod.
by Eli) (writers: Perry-Barnes-Stein) (Peabody, ASCAP/Proof's in the Pudding, BMI) (3:55)

Moore's vocal shakes and shimmers with feeling while strings and a galloping beat provide plenty of action for the dance crowd.

Country/Pop

RAY PRICE—Monument 290

MISTY MORNING RAIN (prod. by Foster)
(writer: Chappell) (Almarie, BMI)
(3:23)

A sparkling piano and luxurious strings support Price's signature vocals on this sterling ballad. It's an automatic country hit with great A/C potential.

JOHNNY CASH & WAYLON

JENNINGS—Columbia
3-10742

I WISH I WAS CRAZY AGAIN (prod. not listed) (writer: McDill)
(Hall-Clement, BMI) (2:41)

Two of the best from country music's heavyweight division get together here and the result is a knockout mid-tempo ballad. Gritty verses are traded with loads of romanticism.

Album Picks

SURVIVAL

BOB MARLEY & THE WAILERS—Island ILPS 9542 (WB) (8.98)

Marley and the Wailers have grown from cult artists to fully accepted members of the music community over the past few years and the continuing emphasis on reggae in rock music should bring even more radio attention to this new album. The political message is formidable but compelling.

MELISSA MANCHESTER

Arista AL 9506 (8.98)

Manchester is one of contemporary music's most coverable songwriters and a number of the tunes on this new album were recorded by other artists first. Her duet here with Arnold McCuller on "Whenever I Call You Friend" is a more romantic version than the Loggins/Nicks' duet and "How Does It Feel Right Now" sounds like a top 40 contender.

STEAL THE NIGHT

CINDY BULLENS—Casablanca NBLP 7185 (7.98)

Bullens' debut album last year showed she was one of the hardest rocking women performers around and this second effort is in much the same vein. She wrote all the tunes (one's a collaboration), co-produced, played lead guitar and sang lead and background vocals on this collection of traditional American rock cuts.

FIRST OFFENCE

THE INMATES—Polydor PD-1-6241 (7.98)

While the definitions of power, pop, new wave, etc., haze with the release of ever more new bands, The Inmates are already blasting on the AORs with their own old/new rock sounds. Drawing on early Rolling Stones and Chuck Berry influences, this is one of the strongest new units around. "Dirty Water" is the prime cut.

GREATEST HITS VOL. I

ROD STEWART—Warner Bros. HE 3373 (8.98)

This new collection of greatest hits shows Rod the Mod's progression from the days of "Maggie May" and "Sailing" through the recent mega-success of "Da Ya Think I'm Sexy?" and "I Was Only Joking."

MAKE YOUR MOVE

CAPTAIN & TENNILLE—Casablanca NBLP 7188 (7.98)

It's a new label, and something of a new image, for this popular duo. The selection of tunes was careful and Kerry Chater's "Love On A Shoestring" has multi-format potential. It's their strongest in some time.

SABU

Ocean/Ariola SW 49902 (7.98)

Paul Sabu is already well-established as a producer and here debuts as an artist with a slickly professional new group. The opener, "Rockin' Rollin' Disco King," tells it all. It's "dance" music to the nth degree.

GROOVE ME

FERN KINNEY—Malaco 636 (TK) (7.98)

The title cut here is already a big charter on the BOS side and picking up some pop airplay.

Kinney's sound leans toward the traditional r&b sounds with a light but effective touch of disco. It's the best kind of crossover product.

CLOSE ENOUGH FOR LOVE

PEGGY LEE—DRG SL 5190 (8.98)

The devine Miss Lee returns to recording with a package designed to delight a number of audiences. The opener, "You," has a disco edge while Michael Franks' "A Robinsong" shows off the jazz pipes that made her famous.

AIN'T NO TIME TO SIT DOWN

SOUTHROAD CONNECTION—United Artists LT 987 (7.98)

This group is a prime example of the new trend which incorporates more traditional R&B into the disco genre. Lionel Job's production is bright and compelling and the tunes here are ripe for dancing.

TEAR ME APART

T'NYA TUCKER—MCA 5106 (8.98)

After years of straddling both pop and country sounds, Tucker takes a firmer step onto the pop side with this Mike Chapman produced album. There's still a country tune or two but the rock cuts are the strongest.

INTENSIFIED!

ORIGINAL SKA 1962-66—Mango MPLS 9524 (Island) (7.98)

Between calypso and reggae, ska was the underground music of the islands and this collection from the mid-'60s in a broad selection of that material. Features The Charms, Baba Brooks and others.

KRACKER

Primo P50001 (7.98)

This Spokane, Wash. label debuts with a local rock band that shows off some interesting and sophisticated new material. Relying on high bright lead vocals, the cut "Waste of Time" deserves attention.

STARJETS

Epic NJR 36245 (7.98)

Ireland, North and South, has been producing some fine rock & roll bands recently and Starjets (from Belfast) is one of the best. Their rock is new wave-ish with a smooth commercial sensibility.

WHISKEY BENT AND HELL BOUND

HANK WILLIAMS, JR.—Elektra 6E-237 (7.98)

Williams picks up pop and country play with each album release and while this one is fairly traditional country rhythmically, Williams lyrics should warrant AOR play. Cut "White Lightning" is just good old rock & roll.

GETTING OFF

THE ROCKSPURS—DJM DJM-25 (7.98)

This New York City band already has a large following there and this debut LP should easily find supporters elsewhere. Mike Moran's lead vocals are especially smooth and "Dream Love" is the standout.

N.Y. Task Force Continues Drive To Save Brill Building

By KEN SUNSHINE

■ NEW YORK—The New York Music Task Force last week held a press conference at the Songwriters Hall of Fame to begin the drive to have the Brill Building (1619 Broadway) declared a landmark by the city.

Don George, composer ("Yellow Rose Of Texas") and chairman of the Task Force Committee to Save The Brill Building, stated that a new owner was planning to close the building's Broadway entrance and re-fashion the art-deco lobby into a store. George urged the dozens of songwriters present at the press conference to rally their colleagues to petition the New York City Landmarks Preservation Committee to begin the process of declaring at least the lobby a landmark. Landmarking enables a building to be preserved in its present form. Any physical changes would then have to pass city scrutiny.

Several of the songwriters recalled the "Tin Pan Alley" days of the Brill Building, and performed famous songs they composed there.

Writers

These included Stanley Adams, president of ASCAP ("What A Difference A Day Made"), Ervin Drake, president of AGAC ("It Was A Very Good Year"), Gerald Marks ("All Of Me"), Bee Walker ("Hey Jealous Lover"), Bennie Benjamin ("Wheel Of Fortune"), Lou Alter ("Manhattan Serenade"), Guy Woods ("My One And Only Love"), and Sam Coslow ("Just One More Chance"). Also present were Russ Sanjek of BMI, Norman Weiser of SESAC, and songwriters Johnny Marks ("Rudolph The Red Nose Reindeer"), Hal David ("Raindrops Keep Falling, On My Head"), Doc Pomus ("This Magic Moment"), George David Weiss ("Cross Over The Bridge"), Sherman Edwards ("1776"), and Lady Allison Assante ("Goodbye My Love").

Perhaps prophetically, considering the occasion and the 50th anniversary of the 1929 stock market crash, 83-year-old Jay Gorney concluded the program with his "Brother Can You Spare A Dime?"

Anyone interested in supporting the drive to landmark the Brill Building should write to Kent Barwick, chairman, New York City Landmarks Preservation Committee, 305 Broadway, New York, New York, and Don George, New York Music Task Force, c/o Javits and Javits, 1345 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York.

Belwin-Mills Builds on Broad Base

By JOSEPH IANELLO

■ NEW YORK—In today's trendy world of pop music, a few major publishing companies grab all the headlines with their spectacular bidding contests for the rights to hot new songs. Since their inception over 60 years ago and subsequent merger in 1968, Belwin-Mills, while concentrating on music content rather than chasing after the latest fad, has become one of the world's largest and most successful publishing and printing companies.

History

Historically, Belwin was the largest and most important publisher of educational music: band, piano, chorus and other individual instrumental instructional books. Mills became one of the foremost publishers of standards with a catalogue concentrating on important works from the '20s through the '50s and including: "When You're Smiling," "Stardust," "Red Roses For A Blue Lady," "I Can't Give You Anything But Love," and many more. By combining the two in the late '60s, Mills was able to license the print rights for hundreds of standards to Belwin's printing expertise in an economically feasible venture. Today, Belwin-Mills houses its computerized printing facilities in an eight-acre building on Long Island with the capability to do just about any kind of printing, binding, cutting and publishing imaginable.

Since most publishing companies don't have in-house printing facilities, Belwin-Mills does all the printing and printed product development for numerous smaller independent organizations and several more prominent ones like MCA Music, E.B. Marks Music and T.B. Harms Music. But printing and marketing music catalogues are just two areas where Belwin-Mills has quietly and effectively applied its expertise in recent years.

Growth Areas

"Our primary areas of growth have been in the international market and in preparing new educational materials and printed product sources," said Burton L. Litwin, vice president of Belwin-Mills, a 12-year veteran of the company and director of its New York offices which house the pop, serious and rental operations of the company. Ask any high school, college or private music teacher what instructional material they swear by and they'll most likely answer Belwin-Mills. "First Division Band Method" and 'Band Today,' both prepared by the internationally renowned band instructor David Carr Glover, are the two leading band instructional courses used throughout the world," said Litwin. "Educational courses that are so successful here are equally successful abroad. 'Band Today' has just been translated into Swedish and Norwegian. Japan is one of our major markets for this type of educational material.

"Almost every child in America who has ever studied piano has used a Belwin-Mills publication such as the 'Michael Aaron Piano Series,'" Litwin added. "That's quite a record."

Belwin-Mills is also in the forefront of serious music publications. They recently acquired the rights to the printed publications of the "Kalmus Catalogue" which numbers in the thousands and includes chorale, orchestral and chamber music parts to works by Brahms, Mozart, Beethoven, and numerous other composers. Special projects are Belwin-Mills forte with the latest in the serious music division being the publishing of the complete works of Sergei Prokofiev. They number over 100 volumes and were designed, printed, packaged and then distributed worldwide by Belwin-Mills.

Big things are also happening in their pop music division. "We always listen to new music because we can't afford to just sit back and ignore what's happening," said Litwin. In keeping with this philosophy, Belwin-Mills recently hired Robin Feather as a professional manager. She will be responsible for taking the Belwin-Mills catalogue and determining what material to send to performers and other outlets. "Robin and Helene Blue, our new copyright and licensing manager, come to us with a wealth of experience at record companies," Litwin added. "Our commitment to new and fresh ideas is aligned with our belief that our staff should be filled with young people who have record company experience in addition to publishing, so they can relate to the needs of their prospective clients."

One of Belwin-Mills' most exciting new endeavors involves their extensive—over 300 compositions—Duke Ellington catalogue. They are currently involved in a co-production venture for a major Broadway show that will be ready for an out-of-town opening next summer, based on the music of Duke Ellington. "For the first time, Belwin-Mills will be involved in the creation and entire conceptual production of a Broadway show," said Litwin. "It will go beyond the limits of a stage review and is really something (Continued on page 56)

The Coast

By SAMUEL GRAHAM & SAM SUTHERLAND

■ HONOR AMONG THIEVES—We've all heard horror stories about bands losing their customized '55 Les Paul or that vintage tube-driven Twin Reverb to clever burglars, but Herbie Mann's recent ordeal offers a heartening twist.

Seems the veteran flutist was in Miami during a recent promotional tour when some enterprising pilferers broke into his hotel room, spotted his instrument cases and stole several of his prized flutes. Where the story took a turn away from the usual not-so-happy ending, though, was when the thieves opened their (you should pardon the expression) booty and discovered just whose axes they'd taken.

We're told Mann received a call from the chagrined culprits not long after, asking him to meet them at the airport. And Mann, who was ready to leave town, made the rendezvous, received his flutes back and wasn't even hit for a "reward."

WE'LL TAKE A CARAFE—Looking for something a little different to remember your favorite departed rock idol by? Tired of those miniature replicas of his grave stone, those post cards of Graceland's iron gates and those sweat-stained scarves thrown from the stage during one of his concerts? We are, too, and that's why we were so glad to learn that Boxcar Enterprises and Factors Etc., Inc. are marketing a new wine—that's right, wine—dedicated to the memory of Elvis Presley. It's called Always Elvis/Blanc d'Oro, and is due out this month; it'll run somewhere between $3.98 and $4.59 they tell us, with initial production at some one thousand cases per day. Get in line, kids—behind us, of course.

MORE CLONES—Latest aesthetically significant development from our friends at Rhino Records is news of the forthcoming release of an album of Devo impersonators, produced in conjunction with the band itself and with KROQ-FM here. Compiled from listener submissions to the station's "Devotees" contest, the album will continue that moniker, while featuring such unsung locals as the Touch Tone Tuners, Lonnie and the Devotions and the Firemen.

Pop archivists will, of course, already know that Rhino can be thanked/blamed for the recent "International Elvis Impersonators" package . . . ROLLING OVER to the oh-so-current realm of roller skating, we've learned that this mobile trend has taken one step beyond disco. We probably shouldn't be surprised at the news that two "singing, roller skating actresses from beautiful downtown Hollywood" have formed Skate Express, which they describe as "a wacky fantastic roller skating song-message service for any occasion." Now you really can arrange to have a "beautiful, professional singing roller skater" wheel her way into that client's office for a high-speed rendition of "Brand New Key."

Can roller outcall be far behind?

RINGERS—Sharp-eyed Bay Area residents perusing the cover art of Sylvester's new two-disc live package will see some familiar faces, ranging from several Fantasy folks to representatives of the city's music community and even a local politician.

We're told Sylvester himself was prime mover for the session, shot on the steps to the San Francisco City Opera House (where the LP was cut) and depicting eager fans on line for the concert. Among the faces in the crowd: producer Harvey Fuqua, label publicity director Terry Hinte, production chief Vickie Hellwig, Brenda Neal, of Fantasy's accounting sector and local disco heavies Marty Blecman and John Hedges.

Also in the shot is Nancy Pitts, Sylvester's manager wrapped in blue fox, and Harry Britt, the city supervisor who succeeded the late Harvey Milk.

FANTASY P. S.—Incidentally, an early peek at the new studio complex being readied in Fantasy's new wing offered a tantalizing range of innovations, from layout to choice of equipment. We won't blow the whistle on some of the more intriguing aspects of the facility, beyond saying it should quickly establish itself as a state-of-the-art room for film and video as well as record production.

FORBERT HEADS WEST—A year ago Steve Forbert's Nempor debut album showcased the young songwriter in a crisp, uncluttered setting that sidestepped widescreen production to focus on his excellent writing and singing.

That could explain an early rash of sour grapes from some fans dismayed at the lush feel of Forbert's follow-up, "Jackrabbit Slim," initially sent to a number of programmers and writers on cassette. Without belaboring the point, our own hours with the new set have

ITA Names Brief Executive Dir.

■ NEW YORK—ITA, the international audio/video tape and disc association, has announced the election of Henry Brief as its new executive director, effective December 1. He succeeds Larry Finley, who organized ITA and who has served as its executive director for the past nine years.

Henry Brief

Brief, who has been executive director of the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA) for the past 19 years, resigned that post to accept the new assignment.

Finley will remain active in ITA, serving as vice president of membership/events, as well as remaining on its board of directors. His resignation was prompted by his desire to cut down on his over-all activities and to pursue private business interests through his firms, Larry Finley Associates, Inc., a consulting organization, and the Overseas News and Information Service, Inc.

Before joining RIAA in 1960, Brief served as TV-Radio-Hi-Fi editor of Home Furnishings Daily, a Fairchild Publication. Before that, he was news editor and announcer for radio station WEOK, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Sharee Forms PR Firm

■ LOS ANGELES—Kyo Sharee, formerly press and artist relations manager with Capitol Records, has announced the formation of her own company, Kyo Sharee Ept. The company will deal with PR representation, consultation and management involving film, television and music.

Among her clients are Academy Award composers Al Kasha and Joel Hirschhorn and Gary Dartnall's newly formed company EMI Videograms, Inc. Sharee is also associate producer on the brand new PBS-TV series, "The Composers," a half hour theater-in-the-round format with Al Kasha as host/interviewer, Steve Syatt, producer and Al Muir ("Austin City Limits"), director. The first show is due to air in December.

Butterfly Names Joseph International VP

■ LOS ANGELES—A. J. Cervantes, president of Butterfly Records, has announced the appointment of Dee Joseph as vice president of international operations. Joseph, who has been with Butterfly since the formation of the company, was formerly vice president of the disco promotion department as well as national retail marketing director.

Dee Joseph

Prior to Butterfly, Joseph was editorial assistant at Laufer Publishing Co.

Starship LP Premiered

The RCA executive staff attended a world premiere playback last week of Jefferson Starship's new album, "Freedom at Point Zero," in RCA's Studio B. Starship's manager Bill Thompson and RCA's division vice president-U.S.A., Bob Fead addressed the occasion, RCA presented Thompson and the Starship with a specially manufactured souvenir plaque and a "Freedom At Point Zero" cake. Pictured from left are: John Betancourt, division vice president pop promotion, Mel Ilberman, division vice president business affairs, Bill Thompson, Don Burkimer, division vice president international marketing & talent acquisition, Don Wardell, manager product management-pop music and Bob Fead presenting the plaque.

Suzi Quatro's Multi-Media Success

■ Suzi Quatro has had considerable success with a brand of high energy rock that few women have even attempted. During England's male-dominated glitter-rock era of the mid-70's, Quatro was one of the few women consistently represented on the charts.

This year has yielded Quatro's greatest success so far in America with the album "If You Knew Suzi" and the top ten gold certified single "Stumblin' In." The recently released LP "Suzi . . . And Other Four Letter Words" remains true to Quatro's rock 'n' roll principals and with the single "She's In Love With You" is already causing excitement on the radio and in retail stores. Quatro toured the U.S. and Canada over the summer, her first appearances on the road since a 1975 swing with Alice Cooper, and previewed many of the selections from the album to highly enthusiastic audiences.

Quatro's fondness for the hard edge of rock music is not entirely surprising—she grew up in Detroit, Michigan, a city as notorious for its rough and ready rock 'n' roll (Mitch Ryder, the MCS, Ted Nugent) as for the Motown sound (The Supremes, Four Tops and Temptations).

Choosing bass guitar as her instrument, Quatro performed with her sisters in an all-girl group called the Cradle. By the time the members of that band decided to go their separate ways, Quatro was completely enamored with rock 'n' roll. In 1973, while in London, she met Michael Chapman and Nicky Chinn, the writing and production team that would have a major hand in her career from that point on. The pair penned and produced Quatro's first in a series of hits, "Can The Can," a triple platinum single that topped the British charts.

Quatro's career took off on an international level with sales of subsequent albums and singles totaling almost 30 million. Her tours encompassed Europe, Australia and the Orient, and television specials followed in countries such as East Germany, New Zealand, Australia.

Television

Television also had a role in Quatro's success in America. The producers of the situation comedy "Happy Days" had auditioned hundreds of actresses before realizing that Quatro was the perfect choice for the part of Leather Tuscadero in the special two-part episode of "Happy Days," "Fonzie—Rock Entrepreneur." This initial appearance led to the expansion of the role and the rocker was written into several additional episodes.

Quatro now finds herself spending more and more time in America with a variety of acting assignments as well as recording sessions and tours. But whether in America or England, which she now calls home, Quatro has carved her own special place in rock 'n' roll, on the stage and screen.

Arista Names Johnsen Prod. Services Manager

■ NEW YORK — Milton Sincoff, Arista Records director of manufacturing and purchasing, has announced the promotion of Joyce Johnsen to the post of manager, production services.

Johnsen began working at Arista Records in January, 1979 as tape manager. Before joining the label she was with H&L Records (formerly Avco) for five years, where she held the position of production manager and recording studio manager.

Arista Signs Hiroshima

Arista Records has announced the release of the self-titled debut album by Hiroshima, a nine-piece group that utilizes traditional Japanese instruments in a contemporary R&B-jazz context. Shown with Hiroshima at the contract-signing ceremony are Larkin Arnold (center, seated), senior vice president of Arista Records, and Wayne Henderson (far right), producer of "Hiroshima."

■ TRICK OR TREAT: Movie buffs will recall the scene in "American Graffiti" in which Curt Henderson is told by the leader of the town street gang, the Pharoahs, that he, like every other guy, has one secret dream: "To be a member of the Pharoahs." Well, it seems that a number of people have a secret dream to see their names and/or writing in New York, N.Y., cult favorite that it is. No one is more adamant in this respect than RW staff weirdo Jeffrey Peisch, who last week demanded space in which to file a report on Iggy Pop's Palladium show. This, even though Peisch was well aware that the columnist would be there himself, fully lucid and able to report on the event with no assistance from an Illini grad. Nevertheless, the columnist acceded to the demand, and what follows is a dispatch from the Palladium, courtesy the tall fellow—the man who thinks the Beatles were Paul McCartney's backup band (credit Howie Levitt for that last observation).

"Frank Zappa wasn't missed this Halloween in New York. The chief Mother's annual October 31 concerts at the Palladium have become a fine tradition, but the Iggy Pop/Cramps/Student Teachers show this year was as fine a holiday event as one could ever hope for.

"After a fun opening set by the Student Teachers, the stage was prepared for the Cramps. The group's inherent creepiness lends itself well to a Halloween performance. For this show, all the stops had been pulled out. Black-robed monks prowled about the stage burning incense before the set started. Candles and jack-o-lanterns decorated the drum riser. Guitarist Bryan Gregory was dressed as a satyr. Drummer Nick Knox could have passed for Count Alucard.

"The Cramps have been playing a unique brand of voodoo psychedelic rockabilly for several years now, and have perfected the form. Particularly interesting is the two guitars and drum (with no bass) sound of the band.

"Iggy's set was spectacular. He was lively as a cat, dancing and sliding about the stage and flexing his hard-a-rock physique. Muddled sound marred the first few songs, but it was soon cleaned up (inasmuch as the crude approach of Iggy's band can be "cleaned up") and the band reached a smoking intensity that it maintained for the rest of the night.

(Iggy's current band is an international one. Guitarist Brian James (ex- of the Damned) and bass player Glenn Matlock (ex- of the Sex Pistols and Rich Kids) are from Britain; guitarist/keyboardist Ivan Kral (ex- of the Patti Smith Group) is from Czechoslovakia; drummer Klaus Kruger is from Germany).

"With the two guitar setup, the musicians create an awesome white-noise sound. Many punk and post-punk bands with similar instrumental configurations often succeed in drowning out their singers' vocals. But Iggy's voice, a powerful instrument in its own right, cut through, strong and commanding.

"After the concert, those that don't work in the day continued the holiday festivities at Hurrah, where, ostensibly, a party for the Ig was to take place. As of 1:45 a.m., Iggy still had not made an appearance. British eccentric rocker John Otway was playing at the club, but the majority of the people on hand were there to party and thus didn't give Otway the attention his music demands."

(a word about Iggy, courtesy the columnist) Iggy Pop's performance at this same venue in 1977 remains one of the most intense concert experiences of recent memory. That intensity was present from the first note of the night to the end of the show, by which time Iggy's torso was covered with sweat and self-inflicted scratch marks, and it was an open question as to whether the audience or the star was more emotionally spent. Iggy's Halloween show at the Palladium last week wasn't quite as—say it again—intense as his previous appearance, but nevertheless there was much to recommend the artist. Iggy is still battling the same destructive demons that have plagued him (and, apparently, the members of his audience) since time immemorial; now, however, without losing any of his aggressiveness, he appears to have mellowed slightly, to have become more introspective, more willing to think about why he is the way he is rather than fight himself senselessly at every turn. "I shot my rocks all over the place/it's an old story I guess," a line he once would have thrown off with the lusty insouciance of a boulevardier, is now spoken/sung with profound melancholy, as if he's suddenly unsure of whether to take pride in or be ashamed of a youth spent in rage. And what could be more in keeping with Iggy's new point of view than a tremu-

Dick James Pursues New Songs, Singers

By JEFFREY PEISCH

■ NEW YORK — With one of the most active and profitable catalogues in the publishing business, Dick James Music is hardly resting on its laurels.

Dick James Music owns the copyrights for all of Elton John's material written until 1975, and the company still holds the copyrights to three Beatles songs ("Please Please Me," "Don't Bother Me" and "Ask Me Why"). But when talking about songs and songwriters Dick James is eager to bring up newer writers such as Roger Greenaway, Don Black and Barry Mason; and James talks very excitedly about his involvement in film, television and other areas. During a recent visit to this city, in an exclusive interview with Record World, James outlined some of the projects his various companies will be undertaking.

James visits the U.S. once a year as part of a working vacation that takes him to different countries each year. After a week in New York, James flew to Puerto Rico, and from there he was to go to Rio de Janeiro.

Dick James Music will hold the copyrights for a soundtrack album of a TV special recently completed in London that is to be aired in January. The musical show, "Tell Me On A Sunday," has songs written by Andrew Lloyd Webber and Don Black and stars Marti Webb. According to James, the score contains "several important songs."

In Rio de Janeiro James will be spending part of his time searching for location sites for a film that he will be involved with. Details of this project are sketchy, but James did say the movie, "an adventure," will contain a lot of pop songs and "hopefully some Latin songs."

James is also working with lyricist Black in an upcoming Broadway production, "Dear Anyone," to open either in the spring or next fall. Black is collaborating with Jeff Stevens on the songs for the play. Once again, James is very optimistic about the musical: "I predict it will be the first musical in years with more than one good song."

Dick James Music's American office, run by Arthur Braun, has been very active in placing DJM songs on recent American releases. In the past few weeks DJM songs have shown up on the following albums: Pat Benatar ("Heartbreak"), Richard T. Bear ("Love Stealer"), Tina Turner ("That's When You Know Your Woman Wants To Be Free"), Karen Silver ("Can't Stop Dancing"), Crystal Gayle ("It's Like We Never Said Goodbye"), and Ian Lloyd ("Goosebumps").

The DJM record label has also been very active, both in the U.K. and in the U.S. Recent U.K. releases include LPs by Jasper Carrott, Grace Kennedy and Slaughter and the Dogs. Artists signed to the U.S. DJM label are Rockspurs, John Mayall, Johnny Guitar Watson, and Unique.

During the interview James talked openly about a wide variety of subjects: current musical trends, the sales slump, and the future. A former singer himself, James toured constantly until he was 32; he's most famous for recording the "Robin Hood Theme."

James has a deep-seated love and respect for a great song.

"Our industry has always been centered around a good song sung by a great performer. The magic of music is in the song and the performance. All this other stuff, the colored vinyl, the fireworks, the fancy marketing, it's all graffiti. (Right now) pop music needs to find somewhere to go. We've been in a stagnating period. Digressing is the wrong word, but it's definitely been a negative mood—like we have one foot nailed to the floor and are just going round in circles. One has the feeling that we're almost in that type of period that preceded the Beatles explosion. Something's got to happen—a new direction. It needn't suddenly turn left or right or go upwards, but it's got to take a different direction. Disco and new wave will fill in while we're not sure where we're going."

As a stimulus to the stagnation James sees, he emphasizes the need for good performers. "We have great songs, our job is to find sufficient, outstanding singers to sing the songs. The next thing to happen is for some new great singers to come along — a new Tom Jones or a new Shirley Bassey. Not necessarily the same image as these people but as

Cheers for Tears

One week into their extensive 2½-month debut U.S. tour, Atlantic recording group Sniff 'n' the Tears played a date at Chicago's Auditorium Theatre. The complete itinerary will hit 50 cities in 27 states, with Sniff 'n' the Tears sharing the stage with Kenny Loggins until late-October, immediately following which the band joins up with Kansas through mid-December. Shown in Chicago are, from left: Atlantic album promotion/special projects manager Alan Wolmark, west coast A&R director John David Kalodner, Paul Roberts of Sniff 'n' the Tears, group manager Bud Prager.

strong an image in a different direction. God forbid that everybody should be constantly an impersonator of something that's been done before."

Like many seasoned music industry executives, James believes that the still-evident sales slump was a rude awakening, and will ultimately be a good thing for the industry. "The same thing happened in Hollywood with films in the '40s," James said. "Hollywood couldn't do wrong; whatever they made, there were lines everywhere. Everything was a success and, finally, everything was a rehash of something else. Eventually it was a regurgitation and the film industry lost its credibility. Hollywood let the public come around behind the scenes and see what went on.

"This is what happened with the record industry. The industry suddenly seemed to lose its magic. With the compilations, the best-ofs, the mail order, everytime you turn on the TV you're seeing an ad to send for this or go to the store for this record. The marketing systems became like one for wheat cakes or waffles. Then we came up with the colored vinyl, and everybody wanted to make money, and the industry lost its credibility, its magic. What is important is the song and the performance, something that you can take home and listen to at a party, or, if you choose, in solitude."

Mercury Taps Schneider

■ CHICAGO — Sherrie Levy, national director of publicity for Phonogram, Inc./Mercury Records, has announced the appointment of Eileen Schneider to the position of associate director of publicity/west coast for the firm.

Schneider will be based in Phonogram's Los Angeles office.

Stiff Outlines Retail Policy

■ NEW YORK—With the launch of the domestic Stiff Records label (see RW 11/3/79) Stiff has announced a uniform no returns policy for all forthcoming albums and singles released independently of CBS.

The label, which bows this week with "The Whole Wide World" by Wreckless Eric, will make all records available to retailers and distributors on a one-way, S.O.D. (Stiffs On Delivery) basis.

Retailers will not be encouraged to order in large quantities despite the price being offered on the $7.98 list album.

Stiff is planning a national tour for Wreckless Eric in November/December and will concentrate on selling in the cities in which he will appear. Records are being sold and shipped right out of the Stiff New York office or they can be ordered from Rounder Records in Cambridge, Massachusetts and its sub-distributors across the country.

Ariola Signs Dreyfus Records

■ BRUSSELS—The French-owned Dreyfus Records has signed to Ariola Benelux for distribution, effective immediately. Dreyfus' top act is synthesizer artist Jean Michel Jarre, whose albums are distributed through Polydor in many other territories. Jarre is signed to Ariola for Belgium only, though the Dreyfus deal includes all Benelux countries for artists such as France Joli, a disco artist with U.S. success, and Christophe (high in some European charts with "Aline"). New acts on the label include a disco girl group called the Models.

Jarre's product has solid sales in Belgium. "Oxygene" is expected to go platinum soon and gold sales are registered for "Equinoxe."

'Superstars' Program Begun by Atlantic

■ NEW YORK — Atlantic's five current top-charting LPs are being featured in a year-end "Superstar" sales and marketing program. The albums are Led Zeppelin's "In Through The Out Door" (Swan Song), Foreigner's "Head Games," AC/DC's "Highway To Hell," Chic's "Risqué," and "The Muppet Movie" soundtrack. The new program offers accounts a five percent discount on the five albums, as well as additional 2X2 posters and other merchandising materials.

Disco File

(A weekly report on current and upcoming discotheque breakouts)

By BRIAN CHIN

■ Linda Clifford's past couple of albums left the strong sense that, given the proper material, she'd prove herself a true singer's singer. "Here's My Love," her fourth on Curtom (RSO), leaves no doubt whatsoever that she is a star. No raps, no remakes this time around, just good songs, delivered with skill and maturity. She's produced here by Juergen Koppers ("Lonely Night," "I Just Wanna Wanna"); Norman Harris and Ron Tyson ("King For a Night," "Repossessed," "Bailin' Out") and Curtis Mayfield ("Here's My Love") for a resulting varied, high quality album that shows Clifford off as never before. The forced freneticism of her recent remakes has given way to calmer, low-register singing that makes both the rests and peaks more expressive. She lays back on the mostly electronic "Lonely Night" (7:12), a midtempo cut that builds and builds emotionally through a dramatic vocal performance and on "I Just Wanna Wanna" (5:06), a gorgeous, melodic, light rhythm track that's become a personal favorite for its fresh ballad quality (fans of Bionic Boogie's "Hot Butterfly" will be delighted). The Philly tracks range from slinky-sexy—"King for a Night," 3:10 here, seven-plus on a dico disc to come, to powerful stomps that Clifford works in the way Loleatta Holloway would. "Repossessed" (5:36) and "Bailin' Out" (4:24) both have hot concluding vamps and are transformed from average Philly with percussion overlays. And with the elegant title track to slow it down a bit, "Here's My Love" stands as Clifford's finest work in all respects —it's one of the most personal albums to come along in months.

In a similar vein is Peaches and Herb's "Twice the Fire" (Polydor), released a year after "Shake Your Groove Thing" started the "2 Hot!" album toward double platinum. Where Gloria Gaynor's new album often falls short because of overly pop calculation, "Twice the Fire" is generally faithful to the slightly heavier feel of its predecessor and somehow manages to make a collection of mostly disco cuts sound quite varied. There are the smooth funk-flavored "Howzabout Some Lovin'" (4:24) and "Put it There" (4:06); the Latin-inflected "Gypsy Lady" (6:03), featuring Pete Robinson's synthesizers and a calm zip much like "Sunset People," and "I Want Us Back Together" (6:26), which sounds like a ballad revved up to racing New York disco style. "Gettin' Down, Getin' Down" (5:37) is the latest Perren/Fekaris offering in the mold of "Groove Thing" and "Boogie Fever," and, as changes of pace that put the album solidly in the A-plus category: a Fifties-style "I Pledge My Love" and the Motown-sound "Love Lift." Well constructed, worthwhile—equally successful, if there's justice.

OTHER RECOMMENDED ALBUMS: Out this week to good early reception are several producer-oriented albums, including "Good To Me," (Atlantic), the third THP album. The Duncan Sisters have left the group, of course, for solo stardom, and Joyce Cobb has replaced them as lead vocalist, on an album that's never less than highly energetic. Among the standouts: "Dancin' is Alright" (5:36), a unison-sung stomper in the Duncan's style vocally, but funkier, with subtle phasing effects; the slightly ominous title track (7:21), tinged with rockish lead guitar; and "Who Do You Love" (8:15), which may be the most buoyantly likeable cut since Tata Vega's recent "Just Keep Thinking About You." Tony Green's "U. N." album, released this week on Prelude, adds to his streak of hot, hookish pop-disco: while it doesn't actually break new ground, Green invariably make the familiar lots of fun, mainly because he puts together the best breaks in the business. Highlights: "Disco Power" (9:19), a clean, chanting bubblegum cut in the style of

"Get Up and Boogie," which really starts getting serious in the last portion, given a kick with a deep, deep syndrum pulse that also appears on "In the Groove" (7:35). "Hot Lover," a concise 5:53 by Green's nine-minute standard, is especially powerful, scattered with colorful synthesizer breaks, and "Get it On" (8:12) is a Bohannon-like guitar break. Green should be reminded at some point that words do count, especially when the lead singer is unidentified (percussionist Miguel Fuentes and the Sweethearts of Sigma are often the real stars here), but he's definitely got us hooked for now. Tom Moulton's new project, "Loose Change" (Casablanca), features Leah Gwin, Donna Beene and Becky Anderson as vocalists, and aside from the disco disc cuts mentioned here last week, includes several other noteworthy cuts: "Babe" (5:50), written by Moulton and arranger Thor Baldursson, with a great bass bottom and very Shirelles-sounding vocals (the lack of perfect polish compared to Moulton's usual Benton-Benson-Ingram backing is a refreshing change); a version of the "Nocturna" theme, "Love is Just a Heartbeat Away" (5:55): a marvelous remake of Grey and Hanks' "The Rising Cost of Love" (3:37), which is both sleazy and classy, and a lovely new version of Judy Cheeks' "Darling, That's Me" a hauntingly warm ballad that is a must (absolutely!) for disco radio.

ELECTRONIC DANCING SOUND: The newest offspring of "I Feel Love" are an interesting bunch from several sources. Telex (Sire) debuts on a just-released disco disc with "Moskow Diskow" (5:22), in a version remixed from the European original that had been played earlier this fall. For my money, "Mosko Diskow" ("Miskow Daskow," as the chant goes) has a better bass and synthesizer hook than "Pop Muzik" and the impact is a cross between Passport's "Locomotive" and Kraftwerk's "Trans-Europe Express," with a similar lead monotone and powerful chugging and panning effects. In a lighter vein, the flip is a strange, dirge-like version of Bill Haley's "Rock Around the Clock" that plods along at a slow-motion bossa nova and wavers off pitch, as if the record had a built-in wow. Short at 3:58, but, understandably, it seems longer. Coincidentally, Stevie Wonder's "Journey Through the Secret Life of Plants" album contains a similarly oriented cut, "Race Babbling" (8:51), made up of rhythm boxes, synthesizer and horns. Like Kraftwerk and Telex, he evokes images of a passionless, automated future ("this world is moving much too fast") and makes us dance to it with a hypnotic lead melody and an almost mantra-like drone of electronics. Strong, surprising material from Wonder.

OTHER DISCO DISCS AND NOTES: Prince appears on the chart this week with "I Wanna Be Your Lover" (5:47), a charmer of a cut on a promotional Warners disco disc, where Prince's breezy falsetto leads a laid-back guitar and synthesizer track. The entire last half of the cut is a soloing jam, a relaxing cool-out that's obviously already lined up lots of friends. Patrice Rushen's newest, on Elektra, "Haven't You Heard" (6:44), is a comparably easy-flowing cut with the staccato meter and high harmony sound of the Emotions, lightly overlaid with a shivery string track. A mid-track piano solo softens the focus a bit too much, but handclaps return at the tag to bring it home forcefully.

Last week's mention of Barbara Jean English's record, on Zakia, should have named the title, of course, and it is: "Dancing to Keep from Crying." And, my latest information is that the much-talked-about Inner Life record, "I'm Caught Up," will be released on Prelude for national distribution.

Radio Replay

■ The fall ARB survey is in full swing and so are the radio station promotions, as local stations unloaded their best contests and look for the best ways to get the public's attention. If the city-owned radio station in New York, WNYC, was interested in the ratings, the mayor's program of releasing the names of those caught in the act with a lady of the evening has received enough free publicity in the local papers to make the station number one. The "John Hour" doesn't seem to be ready for syndication yet, but there are a few people getting their lawyers together to challenge the act of naming the hookers' customers on the air.

MOVES: Gil Rozzo has been appointed GM of WSAI-AM/Cincinnati. Rozzo will continue as GM for 'SAI-FM . . . Dan Vallie leaves 92Q/Nashville as PD to do middays at KWK/St. Louis . . . Kirsten Lindquist named Washington correspondent for RKO Radio Network . . . Kenny Miles, who's been the morning man for KRBE/Houston for the past five years, has recently moved to KULF/Houston doing afternoons. Miles said: "The reason I chose KULF over other offers in the market was the fact that I wanted to get with a personality oriented station that is programmed to young adults" . . . Sky Walker doing nights at KJR/Seattle from KSEL/Lubbock . . . Steve York tied the knot—he also got married. The MD at 14Q/Worcester, did all this and I guess more on 11/3 . . . Send your moves, changes, and station pictures to RW east c/o Neil (ARB) McIntyre.

PD's SCHOOL: Well, what a response! The applications are rolling in from music promotion people who see this school as a way to get back at radio for not playing their records. Whatever the reasons are the sessions are for everyone, and some new courses have been added for the late fall start. Since there's such interest on the part of music people, the study program in the picking of the hits and the feeling of power rotation are a must for program beginners. All kinds of radio promotions are taught in detail, like: on-the-air promotions, off-the-air promotions, and the most important, self-promotions.

If this McIntyre school for programmers seems easy, it's because it is. After all, look who runs the place. Send now for the early bird rates, and join Ronnie Granger, Buddy Scott and the entire Crossover promotions staff, Bill Cataldo/Polydor, Ray D'Ariano/MCA, plus several PDs who wish to remain anonymous. It's certain that this well-conceived course in lower learning will have these PDs holding their heads up high, saying: "Yes, I've taken the McIntyre PD School's course and I'm proud of it." Enroll now and receive my easy-to-get moving furniture tips absolutely free, but do it before midnight so you don't forget. Remember, MPDS is not affiliated with any radio operation with the same call letters.

COUNTRY MOVES: Scott Burton comes in as the new PD at KJII/Phoenix. Terry Black continues to handle music duties at the station . . . KEEN/San Jose has undergone a few job realignments lately: GM Steve Snell has taken over as GM of sister station KBAY (FM), PD Kit Snell has stepped up to GM, air-personality (and former MD of the station last year) Jay Albright has moved into the PD slot, and air-personality Brad Stapleton has been named MD . . . Ron Scott, former MD at WBHP/Huntsville, has moved across town to country newcomer WVOV as PD/MD, and has made a plea for better service . . . As reported earlier in RW, Kris Carpenter is leaving his PD/MD post at KAYO/Seattle for an OM post at KDJW/Amarillo. Also leaving KAYO, after 16 years, is all-night man Dan Williams. Rumor has it that this job shuffling reflects the long awaited ownership turnover, expected to be finalized in the near future . . . WHN/New York has a new night personality, Dr. Jerry Carroll, formerly with WNEW and WPIX (New York).

CAT OUT OF BAG: Well, the official word is out that J. W. O'Connor has agreed to purchase WQQT/Savannah, according to owner Mary Powers and PD/MD Scott Seiden.

D.C. Group Buys WOL-AM

By BILL HOLLAND

■ WASHINGTON — The Sonderling Broadcasting Corporation, after four months of negotiating with a number of prospective buyers, has selected a Washington-based minority firm to take over ownership of its Washington licensee, WOL-AM, under the FCC "distress sale" provision.

If approved by the FCC, WOL would become the city's second minority-owned station, and the Sonderling company would no longer face renewal hearings that would surely investigate alleged past payola practices at the station.

The well-known AM'er is to be sold to a company run by Dewey Hughes, a businessman-broadcaster who also had worked at WOL for nine years. He will own 51 percent of the company, called Almic.

(Almic is being financed by Syndicated Communications, a venture capital group aiding minorities in the purchase of broadcast operations.) Minority stockholders include ABC-TV anchorman Max Robinson, who worked in Washington before his network assignment, and Samuel Jackson, a former undersecretary at HUD.

The Washington Star reported that the selling price would be $950,000, somewhat less than the $1.1 million tag mentioned earlier this year (RW, July 7). The station had been appraised in the $1.5 million range, but the FCC rules require sale at a price substantially less than market value.

The FCC "distress sale" provision allows a station faced with a possibly damaging license renewal hearing to sell to a minority-owned company at a reduced price.

This past June the FCC said in a report that it was "unable to find a grant of the renewal would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity."

Sonderling officials were to attend a hearing to determine whether or not WOL-AM had violated several sections of the Communications Act, had submitted false documents to the FCC, and had exercised adequate control and supervision over the station.

"Hello, Request Line? The title slips my mind, but could you play the new Fleetwood Mac single . . .?"

boom that made teens the preferred target audience in terms of size and income for the '60s and much of the '70s, has now turned the tables. Older demographic sectors are on the rise, while the teens' share of market is decreasing — a trend already borne out in both industrial research and general census figures in recent years.

"Audience and finances," summarize WIFE-AM program director Steve Cooper of the factors behind the Indianapolis station's August switch to an adult/contemporary format. "Until we changed, there were five stations here, all playing essentially the same music, and all competing for teens as well as older demographics." The proportionate attrition of that teen audience, as well as the realization that a more focused older audience would offer more discretionary income to potential advertisers, thus pointed the way to an A/C format.

In contrast to the classic top 40 mass audience, Cooper feels adults have been under-exploited. "Stations have to hustle more to meet their audience needs, and you have to try and go for an audience that really exists, not one that's already locked up. And here, as elsewhere, the 25 to 49 audience was being ignored."

At WKQT-AM (13Q) in Pittsburgh, program director Tim Powell stressed that his station's current format has been less the result of an overt format change than a "shift in our thrust," but, like Cooper, sees the underlying demographic target as narrowed when compared with the mass appeal top 40 outlet that hopes to sew up teen listeners. "We found in the April-May, '79, ARB sweep that, in teenagers, there was a 70 share tied up by just four stations on the FM band," reported Powell. "There were no teens to speak of on the AM band at all. We decided to back off from an all-contemporary format, and start going for the people that were already on the AM band."

Powell, a former promotion executive with Fantasy, agrees that national demographic movement shows the 25+ sector swelling as teens decline in share of market. And in his own market, the advantages to programming to that older audience are further reinforced. "The median age is going up every year, and Pittsburgh is above the national average. The median age here is way above a Dallas or Houston, for example," he notes.

The FM boom is another factor cited by most respondents, who point to the concentration of FM set sales in younger demographics and the attrition of teens listening to AM outlets. Admits Ray Quinn, program director for WFIL-AM, which has slanted its once-classic top 40 sound toward adult listeners, "There's no way I can compete head to head with an FM station for teens. Now we're aimed at those older demographic listeners that still listen to AM; we want to bolster that 25 to 34 year-old share."

Like many programmers now gearing their programming to an adult audience, Quinn stresses that shifting musical styles have made the adult/contemporary designation a potentially confusing one, particularly in light of its MOR origins. "I think there's a lot of confusion over what it is," he notes. "People coming to Philadelphia will hear us and WIP, and while they'll hear a more traditional mix on 'IP, we'll sound closer to Top 40."

At the other end of the A/C spectrum is WNEW-AM, which, unlike other stations polled, has remained primarily adult-oriented for decades. Where some top 40 converts have adapted to adult needs by expanding playlists and lengthening the period reflected in playlisted oldies, 'NEW has gone in the opposite direction to spotlight traditional styles.

Explains vice president and general manager Jack Thayer, "What we've done is make a spotlight section from our 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. shift. It's a revival of sorts for the 'Make Believe Ballroom' format, which was the longest running radio show in this market as originally

Response to the first experimental "Ballroom" revival revealed the reinforced adult listenership hoped for — and some surprises as well. With that show mixing softer contemporary hits with vintage big band classics and hit vocal renditions from the '40s and '50s, Thayer says the station actually broadened its demographic impact.

Although WNEW-AM's experiment focused on older pop styles largely missing from contemporary outlets, Thayer notes that the station's promotions have avoided nostalgia as a selling point. "Rather than talk about old records or old times, we've emphasized the idea that 'WNEW makes you feel brand new,' because of the way the music makes you feel."

Similarly, at WJON-AM in St. Cloud, Minn., which also includes older recordings in its mix of contemporary hits and recent oldies, program director Tom Scott doesn't see the inclusion of decades-old hits as a simple matter of nostalgia. Like a number of respondents, he stresses that adult appeal governs not only choice of music but the on-mike style assumed by air personalities and the balance of news, sports and features programmed with the music.

"What's spearheading this area is the experiment that's going on at WCFL in Chicago," explains Scott, noting that that outlet has emphasized special features and news along with records. "If that goes down well, you'll see a real resurgence in personality-oriented, family-oriented radio. We're also heavily feature-oriented, with many of these produced locally by our own staff."

Most stations polled who have made the switch from top 40 are only now collecting research to monitor the impact of their format revisions, making bottom-line assessments of adult/contemporary's possible rebuilding premature. But at KXOK-AM in St. Louis, program director Lee Douglas offers one of the longest available test periods for such a shift, having overseen the transition toward adult/contemporary 18 months ago.

Like many of his top 40 peers, Douglas says his station's decision to slant its mix toward older listeners was necessitated by top 40's loss of its earlier dominance. "They were all broad-based," he says of top 40's roots, "and as other formats emerged to compete, it sliced up our share of the market."

Since shifting to a format that Douglas says is still relatively contemporary in its emphasis on current artists and records, three separate ratings books have borne out the strategy "all the way. In the first book after the changeover, we went from a 4.3 to a 4.9, and in the next book we went to 5.8."

Although a third sweep showed a slight dip to a 5.5 performance, Douglas says a breakout of those statistics still measured the format's progress. Although fewer teens were listening, older demographics continued to show growth, as did the station's cume and its average quarter-hour figures.

Other stations polled, while lacking current ratings figures to backstop their performance, generally viewed their switch to adult/contemporary as successful, based on listener phone response, newspaper polls and other station research. Yet all respondents stressed that entering the relatively less competitive A/C field still poses problems, ranging from the shifting nature of current contemporary hits to the specific needs of each market.

Ironically, one of the greatest challenges could be the very attractiveness of the market, given the demographic and economic arguments at hand. Concludes 13Q's Powell, who feels that adult/contemporary converts indeed represent a substantial new programming trend, "I'd say from what I've seen that the great swing toward adult/contemporary is akin to the 'soft rock' swing of a few years ago, or disco last year: The station managers that would've jumped right into disco last year are now switching to adult/contemporary."

Sugarloaf Views Studio Design Changes

By STEVEN BLAUNER

■ NEW YORK—John Storyk and Joe Schick, the principals of Sugarloaf View, an architectural design firm specializing in recording studios, are in the crucial position of predicting and determining the shape of the music industry for the future. On a regular basis they create the designs for the world's most important recording studios, and with the explosion of digital and video recording technology just around the corner, Storyk and Schick anticipate large changes in the way studios are constructed.

Sugarloaf's list of accomplishments includes the most in-demand and sophisticated recording studios, beginning with Electric Lady in New York and recently including Criteria West in Los Angeles, the Bearsville audio/video complex, Soundmixers and Howard M. Schwartz Recording in New York. On an international level, Sugarloaf View has had projects in Bogota, Colombia; Lagos, Nigeria; Dublin, Ireland and Iceland. These studios serve a dual function: recording indigenous music (the Iceland studio is booked almost entirely by Icelandic artists) and welcoming international artists (the Colombian studio has the attraction of its environment and relatively low cost).

Adaptable

With each new job that Sugarloaf View takes on, Schick and Storyk attempt to incorporate design elements that will be relevant not only to the manner in which records are made now, but will accommodate future changes in sound equipment and use.

John Storyk, the design partner of the firm, feels strongly that these alterations must be considered and acted on during the construction of studios rather than several years down the line. While the constant modification of electronic equipment is an accepted part of the cost of running a modern studio, changes in basic design elements can constitute a much greater expense. Construction costs are escalating exponentially and Storyk comments, "It's one thing to slide in a new machine, it's quite another to realize that you have to knock down a wall. In a busy studio, where the hourly rate often comes to over $175, the cost of shutting down can be even more than building expenses."

Unforeseeable Changes

The ability of a studio currently on the drafting table to integrate unforeseeable changes in equipment and theory greatly influences the usefulness of that studio in the future.

Schick and Storyk see video and digital technology "carved in the rock" and in the "high end" studios that they are planning, essential adjustments are being made. These may entail simple variations, such as the installation of sliding doors for the larger machines, or if the budget permits, new structures such as studios with both a video and an audio control room.

New Technology

Storyk expects the onset of a "new technology," with digital and video machines of highly advanced design, to occur within a matter of months. Digital recording could become a standard in the industry within a matter of a few years. In designing "rooms that will last for several years, that won't be out-moded when the new technology arrives," managing partner Joe Schick acknowledges that much of the firm's designing allows flexibility and freedom in various aspects from the size of the conduits that will hold cables, to the versatility of the actual studio layout. A trend that Sugarloaf is emphasizing seems to be the simplification and economization of design. Rather than having control rooms A and B each with its own set of cumbersome machines, Schick suggests consolidating the machines, the tape recorders, the "guts" of the console in one "engine room" with the power amps. "You don't need those things in the control room," says Storyk, "they just take up space and make noise." Schick sees the size of the control room shrinking by a third to a half and thus conserving space and dollars.

Sugarloaf View's response to the "new technology" carries an awareness of the spiralling cost of recording, and that design must be functional, allowing engineers, producers and artists to get their work done as quickly, comfortably and efficiently as possible. The contribution of every object in a studio is now analyzed—from the way in which the reflective surface of an electronic instrument effects acoustics to the best place for a cup of coffee in a studio.

"If you're going to be recording things more clearly, which is the basic attempt of digital," says Schick "you want to be able to provide greater separation and isolation in the first link of the recording chain. We are designing studios that offer very distinct areas of sound—rhythm areas, live areas—all in the same studio without necessarily having the need of isolation booths within them."

New Studios

Schick says that the next generation of equipment will start out very costly, demanding heavy initial capitalization, and then work its way down. The market will obviously change when these new studios open, but Schick states that studio design must also be responsive to what is occurring in the rest of the music world.

"There are two different things happening," says Storyk. "Albums are being recorded for a lot more (Fleetwood Mac, the Eagles) and for a lot less (Knack, Joe Jackson) and both are being successful."

The digital and video equipped studio is immediately suited to the high end of that equation, but we are also working on studios for people that want to make an album for less than $30,000," says Schick.

Foreigner Fans

Atlantic Records has announced the rush-release of the new single from Foreigner, "Head Games" b/w "Do What You Like." The "A side" of the 45 is the title track from the group's current third album. Foreigner is currently in the midst of an extensive two-month U.S. tour, which began Oct. 13 and covers major arenas primarily in the Midwest, East and Southern areas of the country. A major highlight of the tour will come on Nov. 15, when the group's performance at the Omni in Atlanta, Georgia is broadcast live across the U.S. and around the world. Shown backstage at the Spectrum in Philadelphia during Foreigner's current U.S. tour are, from left: WMMR music director Dick Hungate, WMMR program director Jeff Pollack, Foreigner's Mick Jones, promoter Larry Magid of Electric Factory, and Atlantic west coast director of A&R John David Kalodner.

Quonexions: Custom Buses

By KEN SUNSHINE

■ NEW YORK — with the energy crisis and recent economic problems in the record industry forcing a closer scrutiny of tour costs, Quonexions, the only custom bus operation licensed by the Interstate Commerce Commission, has seen its business expand greatly. Based for the last four years in Secaucus, New Jersey, Quonexions (pronounced "connections") will open a west coast headquarters in Los Angeles in January.

Gaspar Damanti is the president and founder of Quonexions. During a recent interview he emphasized the quality and safety record of his company, which builds and services the present 22-coach fleet. I.C.C. licensing gives Quonexions the ability to go anywhere in the U.S., and insures qualified drivers and regulated safety monitoring. Guaranteed transportation to destination and $3 million in liability insurance are additional benefits.

Inspection of any of the company's coaches reveals the high quality of workmanship and many luxurious features. Spacious accommodations allow 10 to 15 to sleep comfortably. Coaches can accommodate 6 to 23 people.

John Morrissey, assistant to the president, states that the door to door convenience, plus cost efficiency compared to plane travel, have made custom bus transportation more attractive than ever for touring groups.

Present Quonexions clients include Willie Nelson, the Commodores, Chuck Mangione, Kenny Loggins, Dire Straits, Kris Kristofferson, Rita Coolidge, Joe Jackson, the Bee Gees crew and family, and Bad Company's crew.

Klavens Joins SRS

The new LPs are: "Emerson Lake & Palmer In Concert"; "Extensions," by the Manhattan Transfer; "Therfu," by Turley Richards; "Just A Touch of Love," by Slave; "Same Goes For You," by Leif Garrett, and "Drums and Wires" by XTC.

Black Music Report

By KEN SMIKLE and LAURA PALMER

■ EAST COAST: Angela Bofill dazzled two SRO audiences at New York's Bottom Line last week, demonstrating a strength and excitement that goes beyond anything she's done on record. Providing superb support were musical director Onaje Alen Gumbs on keyboards, Darryl Washington on drums, bassist Wayne Braithwaite, percussionist Carol Steele and Frank Wilson on synthesizers. Angela has received show-stopping notices at every venue of her current tour. Watch for her.

WBMX in Chicago has announced three new appointments: Derek Hill is now the news director, Cheryl Smith Colvin is public service director and Linda Dukes has been made news reporter.

Legendary bluesman Muddy Waters has signed with Rosebud Music Agency for exclusive North American booking representation. They can be reached at (415) 566-7009 in San Francisco.

Ira Perkins, former east coast regional director for ABC Records and local Philadelphia representative for Motown, has established a new production company called Warp Factor One. The firm was created to primarily further the careers and development of Salsoul artists Instant Funk and Bunny Sigler. Perkins was instrumental in designing a new theme and marketing concept for the second Instant Funk LP, "Witch Doctor," which was recently released.

That great lady of the blues, Alberta Hunter, will be featured in a five part mini TV series, "The Alberta Hunter Story," which will begin filming next year in locations throughout the country and Europe. The story for the film is being developed by Chris Albertson and will be co-produced by Mark Shivas and Carolyn Pfeiffer. The film will trace Hunter's life from her beginnings in Memphis, to her days in Europe and finally to her return to the stage at 84 years of age.

The new issue of the Black Music Association's newsletter, "Inner-visions," has been released and is the latest incentive for those who haven't joined the BMA, since it's available to members only. The issue documents the organization's impressive accomplishments during its first year. It also contains enlightening articles on "Broadcasting in Africa: The Changing Images," music publishing, and "Record Industry Blacks And The Economic Crunch." Contact the BMA for info on how to obtain a copy at (215) 545-8600.

Congratulations to Sylvia Rhone Davenport, the lovely New York promotion person, most recently with Ariola, on the birth of her first baby girl this past Wednesday, Oct. 31.

LOS ANGELES: LAX Records, a division of Far Out Productions, distributed by MCA records, held their first regional meetings last week and previewed the new product, as well as introduced new staffers. Headed by Ed Levine and Al Edmondson, VP of promotion, the future is bright for LAX. A keynote address was given by Jack "the Rapper" Gibson, who recalled the early days in the industry.

Panel discussions were moderated by BMA's Ed Wright, with comments from Bill Speed, Jim Maddox and J.J. Johnson on the subject of the 1980s. The LAX roster so far includes Yutaka Yokukura (an incredible Japanese artist without U.S. distribution), Blood, Sweat & Tears, Pressure, Aalon and S.F. Giants. Epic artist Melba Moore has a totally new totally disco LP, produced by Pete Belotte. It features a first in Melba's career—she co-wrote all songs on the LP. Melba is on her fall promotional tour, covering Nebraska, Iowa, Ohio, Kentucky, as well as L.A. Moore stated that she doesn't mind the one nighters of touring, because she takes on the mind of a tourist wherever she travels . . . it is said to cut down on boredom. I asked Melba why she didn't include any other powerful ballads on her latest release,

PICKS OF THE WEEK

YOU KNOW HOW TO LOVE ME
PHYLLIS HYMAN—Arista AL9509

The potential of this powerful vocalist has finally come closer to being realized with this latest release. Producers/composers James Mtume and Reggie Lucas have put together an LP full of beautiful material that is strong in R&B, pop and dance appeal. Phyllis also shows off her writing skills. With the title track already hot, watch for "Hold On" to follow.

JOURNEY THROUGH THE SECRET LIFE OF PLANTS

STEVIE WONDER—Tamla T13-371C2

While this album is specifically a soundtrack, it more importantly represents a high level of artistic achievement in Wonder's career. He has taken full advantage of the tremendous opportunities film scores offer by using a wide variety of styles, all of which are beautifully executed. "Race Babbling" and "Outside My Window" are strong potential singles.

8 FOR THE 80'S
WEBSTER LEWIS—Epic JE 36197

The title here is very appropriate. Lewis, working with co-producer Herbie Hancock, has come up with an LP that is full of winning material. It covers a variety of tempos and settings. Especially strong is Lewis' ability at fusing R&B with jazz, creating a full, infectious gut-grabbing sound. Watch for "Give Me Some Emotion" as a future single.

DON'T ASK
SONNY ROLLINS—Milestone M-9090

One of the modern masters of the tenor sax reaches out to extend his skills in some new idioms.

Working with guitarist Larry Coryell, Al Foster, Bill Summers and others, Rollins incorporates contemporary rhythms with his patented biting attack to create an LP that contains plenty of material to please listeners of jazz, both traditional and progressive.

and to my surprise, the reason was simply that she hadn't found any ballads with the strength of "Lean On Me" or "I'm His Lady."

ATTENTION: One Way featuring Al Hudson is not only the name of the group, but the name of the new LP. The album contains a disc version of a hit off the last LP, but by no means is this a re-serviced LP. Got that? The confusion began when the group, managed by Al Perkins, changed from the Soul Partners to One Way featuring Al Hudson. Reasons for the name change are apparent when listening to the LP. The group has increased its visibility as individual artists within the Al Hudson framework . . . In a recent "Journey Through The Secret Life Of Plants" on Stevie Wonders' 42 acre ranch somewhere in Malibu, an estimated 500 fans were bussed in to preview the album. Contained in six tents of various sizes, Wonder guided his guests through the LP, leading them to the evolution of life, (side one) all the way to the final tent—complete with foods from Africa, Jamaica, Orient, U.S. What an extravaganza. The album received raves, as per Wonder's norm . . . Marty Mack and wife (Atlantic Records) recently hosted a small dinner party for invited guests the Spinners and Herbie Mann, along with radio personalities, Ted Terry and Alvin John.

BOS CHART ANALYSIS: Kool & The Gang and the Sugarhill Gang maintain their chart positions this week, holding the #1 and #2 slots respectively. Bulleting into the top 10 are: Nature's Divine, Prince and Rufus and Chaka Khan, all reporting strong sales.

In the top 20, Switch has made good radio moves, jumping into the #18 bullet position and picking up new adds at WKTU, WAOK, and WDIA. "I Call Your Name" is currently top 10 at WJMO, KDAY, KGPI, KSOL and KYAC. The Bar-Kays moved to #20 bullet with another week of very strong sales and continued airplay.

Michael Jackson's "Rock With You" (Epic) jumped into the #22 bullet position with very strong sales, and adds this week at WMBM, WDIA, WJLR and WBMX. Another mover this week is Marvin Gaye, in the #26 bullet slot, picking up adds at WEDR and KSOL and showing steady sales.

Moving into the thirties, Rick James holds the #32 bullet position, showing strong movement at stations. Pleasure "Glides" into the #33 bullet slot, with adds this week from WGIV, WEDR, WLOK, and WCIN. "Glide" is top 10 at WDAS, WYLD, WCHB, WBMX, KDAY, KDIA, and KYAC.

The forties are highlighted by Barbra Streisand and Donna Summer claiming the #48 bullet position. This release has had enormous sales—both the 12-inch and 7-inch versions—with adds at WNJR, WWIN, WYLD, and KMJQ. Phyllis Hyman holds the #49 bullet slot this week with adds from WWRL, WLOK, and KSOL.

Cameo, last week's Chartmaker, moves into the #50 bullet position this week with adds at WWRL, WAOK, WGIV, WORL, WAMO and KDJA. Other singles bulleting this week are: Destination with good sales reported; Linda Clifford, with adds at WAOK, WMBM, KDAY and KGFJ; Ashford & Simpson; Lenny White; Leroy Hutson; Slave and Dionne Warwick.

This week's Chartmaker is Stevie Wonder. The long-awaited release from Wonder, "Send One Your Love," appeared at an unprecedented #25 bullet—the highest debut ever on RW's B.O.S. chart. Station adds are too numerous to mention, and early sales are strong.

ASCAP Honors Ashford & Simpson

The American Society of Composers, Authors & Publishers (ASCAP) presented Warner Bros.' recording artists Ashford & Simpson a total of 25 plaques backstage on their opening night at City Center, N.Y.C., honoring them for multiple successes as writers, publishers, artists and producers. Songs singled out for achievement were: "It Seems to Hang On;" "I Found a Cure;" "The Boss;" "You're All I Need To Get By;" "I Am Every Woman" and "Stuff Like That." Pictured from left: Paul S. Adler, ASCAP dir. of membership; Valerie Simpson; Nicholas Ashford; and Arthur Hamilton, member of the ASCAP board of directors.

BMA Accepts UBCP Apology

■ PHILADELPHIA — Kenneth Gamble, president of the Black Music Association, announced last week he would accept the apology of the United Black Concert Promoters for not having a representative at the recent press conference, which was called by BMA to announce unity among black concert promoters and black music artists, the formation of the Performing Artists Rights Committee (PARC), and the development of a code of professional ethics and business conduct.

Dick Griffey, president of UBCP, and Gamble have agreed that it is important for unity and professional cooperation to be encouraged between UBCP, and black music artists.

"I am pleased to learn that the UBCP is interested in working with black music artists. Hopefully, UBCP will initiate further discussions with the Performing Artists Rights Committee and participate in the development of a code of professional ethics and business conduct," stated Gamble.

The Performing Artists Rights Committee was recently formed for black music artists under the aegis of the BMA. The purpose of the committee is to protect the rights of performing artists.

Phonogram Bows Black Dealer Program

■ CHICAGO—Phonogram's Mick Brown, vice president of sales, and Bill Haywood, vice president of R&B promotion, have developed a Black Dealer National Awareness Program in the hopes of encouraging better communications between black-owned retail shops, one stops, the regional R&B promotion directors and the local branches in seven key markets.

Sites

These early evening meetings will begin Nov. 5 and will take place in Philadelphia, Atlanta, Chicago, San Francisco, Oakland, Washington, D.C./Baltimore and Los Angeles.

"Phonogram, through our Mercury, DJM and De-Lite labels, has a very strong R&B roster," said Brown, "with artists like Kool & the Gang, Con-Funk-Shun, the Barkays, the Gap Band and Heaven & Earth. What I was trying to do is to come up with a way to increase our penetration into the small black retail shops and one-stops, that perhaps don't get as much direct communication from our sales organization. There really isn't enough time or manpower to reach these small independent accounts on a regular basis. We want to overcome that barrier and let them know that we are interested in them and that we appreciate the support they give us."

"The dialogue that dealers have with the one-stops and our sales people does not always filter back to our distributor, Polygram. We want these dealers to know that they are welcome to contact our local representatives, that they can come by the distribution branch offices, instead of just relying on the one-stop for information about product."

At each of these meetings, the dealers can talk with the Phonogram sales, promotion and distribution people. They will receive a kit with various display items and a special reverse play sampler for in-store play. A special emphasis is being placed on the forthcoming Gap Band album, and attendees will also get advance cassettes. Some of the Phonogram artists will address the meetings in-person and by phone.

"The success of this effort," said Brown, "will be measured in the initial reaction to the Gap Band LP and in how much communications improve in the next 12 months."

"The success of this effort," said Brown, "will be measured in the initial reaction to the Gap Band LP and in how much communications improve in the next 12 months."

Douglas Disc on Word

■ NEW YORK — Mike Douglas' recording of "Happy Birthday Jesus" will be released shortly by Word, Inc. as a single and also a featured cut in the Mike Douglas Christmas album.

Douglas will perform "Happy Birthday Jesus" on his television show of Monday, December 3rd.

Radio company policy that we no longer play albums in their entirety or work to promote the practice within the broadcast industry.

"Our goals as programmers do not always coincide with those of the recording community. However, we do not subscribe to the philosophy of 'victory' no matter who or how much it costs.

"RKO Radio encourages others who agree to discontinue this practice as well."

Past Due Platinum

Deram, London, Qualiton and Rex, while classical outlets include Argo, L'Oiseau Lyre and Turnabout, as well as Phase 4, an MOR label. Foreign companies include London (U.S.) and London Canada, Decca-Orient (Singapore) and many other companies in 18 countries. Publishing companies are Burlington and Palace. Decca also runs Selecta, a major distribution company in the U.K., and has an interest in Record Merchandisers, the wholesale and racking operation here.

The company's top artists at present—apart from the huge stable of classical stars—are the Moody Blues, John Miles, Camel and the Ramblers. Decca still has rights to the early Rolling Stones recordings and a massive MOR catalogue.

Official Statement

The official statement from Polygram said only that an outline agreement had been initialled and that negotiations were subject to U.K. fiscal and government consent and the approval of shareholders, who will vote at an extraordinary general meeting to be held soon.

Although no figures for the purchase price have been given, estimates here ranged from seven to 10 million pounds. The effect of the proposed sale on the Decca staff has not been discussed, but one source claims that the music operation may be tightened up gradually over the next few months and that staff affected will be given ample time off to look for other jobs. The cost of any redundancies would have to be borne by Polygram.

The Decca acquisition adds to Polygram's reorganization burden in the U.K., which already includes the merging of some operations of its Polydor and Phonogram labels.

Retailers Up Prices

more increases (by manufacturers). The last three percent increase and the cost of operations caused me to go in that direction. Plus, with so many $8.98 list records, the five dollar record was already here."

Russ Solomon's Tower Records raised its shelf prices several months ago, from $5.88 for a $7.98 list disc to $5.99. Solomon said, "It's pretty obvious why we raised our prices. We did it to try to keep up with the ever-rising internal cost prices." So far Solomon has seen no effect on sales. "There is no way you can ever tell," he said. "There might be an impact if the $7.98 had to break the six dollar line or the $8.98 had to break the seven dollar line. We've always been worried when we break a dollar level; that is pretty dangerous."

Reasons for Increase

Solomon cited similar reasons for his price increase: "Essentially, the three percent increase from the manufacturers set it off, going back to when Warners did it. Everybody had to adjust to it. The trouble is the 10 cent increase isn't even three percent."

Another west coast retailer characterized the price increases by the three chains as a move towards current market pricing and away from lowballing.

Sutherland on Wagner

By SPEIGHT JENKINS

■ NEW YORK—Almost all that needs to be said about "Sutherland sings Wagner" is that Dame Joan does exactly what she sets out to do. London's record is a marvelous one, and even if not completely successful, full of more good singing and more interesting readings than most of the records that have been issued this year.

At first glance Wagner seems completely foreign to Dame Joan, but actually in the period from her Covent Garden debut in 1952 until 1959 she sang a lot of heavy repertory, including Eva in Wagner's Die Meistersinger. Then, of course, her husband, Richard Bonyng, took charge of her career, and we have been the richer for the fact that her awesome voice was harnessed totally to the service of coloratura and the bel canto composers, with a few French artists thrown in.

What was and is special about her voice is its size coupled to its flexibility. In live performance she always seemed able to sing anything but her uniqueness lay in her accuracy in florid passages. Now that she has passed 50, she still has high notes but perhaps not quite the same flexibility or the absolute rock-like security of pitch as before. This is said despite her recent televised performances from Avery Fisher Hall. She obviously senses a need to expand her vocal terrain, and the new album indicated that as usual her instincts are 100 percent right.

Her singing of the Wagner is predictably easy and is almost all from his lighter soprano music. Of course the music offers her no difficulties in its range. What is fascinating is her degree of commitment on many of the selections. My favorite is "O Sachs, mein Freund" from Die Meistersinger. Conceivably because she actually sang the role, her reading blazes with vitality, and one can imagine what a quintet would be with her and how she would handle the last measure of the Prize Song with the great trill for soprano. What would the opera public give just for the third act in concert!

But the quality of her singing in selections from Lohengrin, Der Fliegende Holländer (a rhapsodic but perfectly articulated Ballade of Senta) and Tannhäuser (a really ecstatic "Dich, teure Halle with a B natural full of the kind of feeling essential) stand up to anyone's. Even her diction, though of course a little foggy, is not embarrassing. For her Liebesheld is the one place in which she is over her head interpretively and vocally. Here particularly she is handicapped by Bonyng's conducting. Throughout the record the orchestra is rather docile and lacking in the kind of interpretation she deserves. With the quality of her singing, she should have had a Wagner conductor of equal merit.

Digitals from Angel

With digital sales the hottest ticket in classical music over the past six months, Angel Records plans no less than six digital recordings in Philadelphia in November. The Philadelphia Orchestra will record three of them, two with its prospective music director, Riccardo Muti and one with Eugene Ormandy. The Italian conductor will make a Beethoven disc—the Fourth Symphony and the Leonore Overture No. 3—and a record of Spanish-influenced and Spanish music—Ravel's "Rhapsodie Espagnole" and pieces by Emanuel Chabrier and Manuel de Falla. Ormandy will be heard in his reading of Strauss' Also Sprach Zarathustra.

There will be two organ records—to my knowledge the first time a major company has used digital for anything but an orchestral record—both by a young English organist, Jane Parker Smith. And, finally, success of a few years ago will be reinvented when Joshua Rifkin will make an album of Scott Joplin.

Monarch Names Leiggi Special Projects Dir.

■ NEW YORK—Rob Leiggi has been appointed director of special projects for Monarch Entertainment Bureau, West Orange, N.J., according to John Scher, president of the company.

Leiggi's new duties will include production on all programs for Monarch-promoted shows: tour coordination with the firm's management clients; and handling operation of Monarch's market research department. He will also supervise all communications with local music and record retailers.

MCA, Ariola Pact for Germany

■ LONDON—MCA is to set up an independent operation in Germany as part of an agreement negotiated with Monti Lueftner, president of Ariola Records. MCA's new company will use Ariola's pressing, sales and distribution services. The deal also brings the MCA label to Ariola under a long term license from January 1 in territories where they have their own company — Benelux, France, Spain, Mexico and Brazil.

MCA International Expansion

MCA product will be available under license through Ariola in Germany, Austria and Switzerland from January 1 through June 30, when the new company is expected to be fully operational. Infinity Records is currently negotiating with Ariola for a deal for the same territories (excluding Brazil).

Said Roy Featherstone, president of MCA international record operations, "It has been our intention for some time to become independent in the important German market. This is the first stage of a planned expansion program for MCA International."

■ MUNICH—A group of German politicians is bringing the group Kiss to court on charges of neo-Nazi activity. That's the upshot of the suit by the "anti-Fascist" committee of the Bremen social democratic party, which charges the fan magazine "Rocky" with publishing the name of Kiss using the double 's' in a manner recalling Himmler's SS insignia. "Rocky," of course, was only using the Kiss trademark, as part of a Marvel Comics strip on the group. Wolfgang Fiedler of Bellaphon in Frankfurt (Casablanca's licensee) says he had never received any complaints about the similarity between the Kiss mark and the SS insignia until the Bremen politicians started reading the comic strip. The social democrats are also protesting about AC/DC, claiming that if the thunderbolt separating AC from DC is doubled, you'd have a perfect SS insignia. One wonders about the eyesight of those Stan Lee fans in the Bremen senate.

GEMA LOSES RADIO LUXEMBURG SUIT: The attempt by GEMA, the German performance right society, to prohibit Radio Luxemburg from participating in music publishing operations has been rejected on final appeal to the Court of the European Community. GEMA had lost similar battles before the West German Supreme Court and the European Community Commission. The principle behind GEMA's action was that Luxemburg-affiliated publishers would enjoy an unfair competitive advantage over non-affiliates by being able to assure airplay on Europe's most popular commercial radio station.

■ Lam (Lin-Tsushan), called the Paul McCartney of Hong Kong, released a single record from Toshiba EMI. The A-side is titled "Genghis Khan" and the B-side is "YMCA." This "YMCA" is a cover version of the song sung by the Village People and has been in the news for sometime now. The Japanese title of this is called "YMCA Mina Tomodachi," meaning "YMCA We Are All Friends."

James Brown will hold four concerts in Tokyo and Osaka from Dec. 10-Dec. 14. "James has been performing with dancers for a long time. After all it is he who was the original disco man," a Polydor promotion man remarked. "Disco Dynamite" is the catch phrase which Polydor has coined for James. They are trying their best to promote James Brown by calling out to all, "Look forward to seeing James Brown's energetic stage. James is the real father of disco."

King Records has started working on its very first promotion of Kenny Rogers. Making news headlines for each week, enlarging his display in the chain stores and giving away presents to all those who buy his records are just a few promotion gimmicks utilized to publicize Kenny. On Nov. 13 and 20 Channel 12 will televise the Kenny Rogers' show held in May '79 in Nashville under the name "Music In The USA."

■ LONDON—Following last week's news of the return of the TV technicians, another bath of TV albums has been announced for promotion between now and Christmas. About six million pounds of record company money has been earmarked for the small screen, 2M from K-Tel, (Moody Blues, Don Williams, Harry Nilsson, Elvis Presley, The LSO); A quarter of a million from Phonogram for 10CC's greatest hits; 300,000 pounds from CBS for ABBA's "Greatest Hits Volume 2," and several more, in all, 34 LPs. Arista has Showaddywaddy's "Crepes and Drepes." K-Tel has printed thousands of consumer leaflets for home delivery in the event of a long running strike. The leaflets will still go out, at a further cost of 150,000 pounds. Curious how the national media views the record business: all this expenditure has been ignored, while Leyland's one million pound junket to promote the new mini made the front pages of even the most respectable dailies. And the BPI's plan to "educate" consumers about the wrongs of home taping and hope their honesty would prompt the mass purchase of licenses has been greeted with derisive sneers by the lawyer's "Trade Paper," the Guardian Gazette. States its writer, "What kind of people does the BPI think its customers and fans are? After all, the lenders of the albums for illegal taping are its customers—yet surely guilty as accessories." The writer urged that the appropriate section of the copyright act could not be enforced and says they should be repealed. The writer also scorns the blank tape levy.

GOODBYE GIMMICKS?: The flood of colored vinyl, picdiscs, odd-shaped singles and one-sided singles has diminished to a slow trickle. The novelty wore off very quickly, as companies realised that the value as a promotional gimmick did not guarantee follow-up LP sales except in few cases, though the artists may have made it anyway. Only about two coloured vinyl discs a week appear, but twelve-inchers are still healthy. The norm is now full colour picture bags. Rumours are that the singles market is heading for decline, though sales at the moment are reported as "steady" . . . Good idea of the month is to keep new product prices down—by almost half, not just a "pound off" short term offer. Ian Gillan's three pound debut LP for Acrobat Records has charted, as has Virgin's 3.99 Skids album and an earlier one by the Ruts on the same label. Racey's "Smash and Grab" is coming out at 3.99 as well. Gillan has not made an album for three years, when he recorded for Polydor. Acrobat has also scheduled a three-pound album by Roger Chapman, the singer who returned on the new Mike Batt concept LP "The Tarot Suite" for CBS. Talking of gimmicks, Virgin has had to drop its "American Express" lookalike sleeve for the Sex Pistols single, "The Great Rock 'N' Roll Swindle." The High Court ban is temporary and was brought by American Express alleging infringement of copyright. Some of these (no doubt destined for collectors' shelves) are available but Virgin has agreed to withdraw copies from its own retail stores.

BUYING AND SELLING: In the wake of EMI takeover rumours and the news of Decca's planned sale of its music division to Polygram U.S. comes a local takeover: Radar Records, the indie formed by ex-UA A&R chief Andrew Lauder and Martin Davis, is being bought by WEA, the company that backed it at its formation in 1977. Both directors—who are expected to leave when the deal is signed—claim that finance is not a problem, noting successes by Elvis Costello, and Nick Lowe, Bram Tchaikovsky and the Yachts in the U.S. . . . and Chris Youle, founder of Acrobat Records, has resigned his job as managing director of the label, though he will continue as consultant. Geoff Baker (ex-promotion chief) and David Stewart (previously deputy MD) now become joint managing dicetors . . . Phil Wainman's Utopia label close to a deal following the termination of his agreement with Phonogram . . . artists include TCOJ and Richard Myhill, and several majors are interested . . . TCOJ, incidentally, to perform at the second annual Record Business disco forum on November 11. Program includes the future of disco, radio, disco promotion and other topics with various industry notables on the platform. Highlight will be presentation of this year's disco awards . . . Former 10CC stars Godley and Creme have signed as a duo to Polydor with first

■ MEXICO—Pasada la tremenda polémica que degeneró en insultos, desafíos y amenazas como consecuencia de la final de la fase nacional del Festival OTI, es la canción "Al Final" que interpreta Enmanuel, el tema que arrolladoramente el consumidor ha hecho su favorito. La difusión se extiende agresivamente en toda la República alcanzando ventas muy atractivas. Con este tema ("Al Final"), Enmanuel y los directivos del sello RCA ven realizados los proyectos que se iniciaron hace varios años atrás, cuando el intérprete era solo un chico que cantaba bonito. Hoy Enmanuel está convertido en una figura con un incommensurable futuro artístico grande los acaba de demostrar en la triunfal temporada de actuaciones que realizó en el salón Stelaris del hotel Fiesta Palace, en donde alternó con Sergio Esquivel quien ocupó el tercer lugar de la final del OTI con su canción "Un tipo como yo."

Considero que Enmanuel ya logró ubicarse como figura de primer nivel en México y si cuenta—como es de esperarse — con el apoyo sincero y honesto de todo el conglomerado latino de RCA, podemos vislumbrar que tiene enormes posibilidades de convertirse en una gran estrella latina . . . Las diferencias que han surgido por problemas de contrato, deficiencias en promoción y liberación de artistas entre el sello Méloidy representado por su Presidente Nacho Morales y la empresa Caytronics representada también por su Presidente Joe Cayre, y que posiblemente lleguen a la vía legal, es el acontecimiento que tiene expectante a toda la industria disquera de México, en donde muchos presidentes de importantes compañías discográficas no ocultan su simpatía y apoyo moral para Nacho Morales, quien según apreciaciones de experimentados y respetados ejecutivos disqueros, ha sido víctima por varios años junto con su elenco artístico, de un contrato que en lugar de beneficiarlos en Estados Unidos los perjudicó.

(This column appears first in Spanish, then in English)

■ La prensa especializada en Fonogramas ha sido, para la industria en general, la "fregona malcriada" de la familia. En casi todas las latitudes he visto siempre a mis colegas sufrir todo tipo de desconocimiento. ¡Qué nunca es suficientemente pequeño un periodista como para ser ignorado, cosa que le duele más que recibir maltrato o vejación! Se recuerda al periodista especializado cuando hace falta la nota. Se le adula cuando el organismo que representa o que lleva sus mensajes se hace poderoso. ¡La vida es así! . . . Ah, en Estados Unidos, donde ser periodista especializado en espectáculo, artistas y discografía, es, en la mayoría de las veces una tortura emocional, es donde el fenómeno de desconocimiento a la prensa de parte de la industria discográfica ha llegado a caracteres catastróficos. Cada vez que, un colega me lanza el dardo emponzoñado, producto de su dolor, y me exclama: "Bueno, contigo es diferente," me lacera el comentario. A través de esta, ya larga carrera, he sufrido todo tipo de humillación, ataque y desconocimiento. Los años de halago continuo no borran el trauma del intranquilo periodista "pide-noticias" o "suplicante-de-anuncios," con que respaldar su puesto o su columna. Y menos aún, al del muchachón ignorado que "era-muy-útil-a-veces-como-periodista," pero que se podía manejar a capricho, porque "daba-lástima-ignorararlo." Por eso hoy, cuando veo que se organizan en Los Angeles y crean PLACA (Periodistas Latinos Asociados de California) y cuando toma fuerza la ACE (Asociación de Cronistas de espectáculos) de Nueva York y en Miami, va dando señales de vida la Asociación de Periodistas del Espectáculo, me estremece la alegría. La ACE, acaba de nombrar presidente este año, recayendo el honor en nuestro colega Ivan Gutierrez, corresponsal de Record World en Nueva York. Cuando veo que comienzan a acercarse los colegas de México, Argentina, Venezuela y Colombia, mostrando inquietud de asociarse fuertemente, me hace saltar del asiento el optimismo y se me llena el alma de felicidad. ¡Adelante colegas! . . . PLACA acaba de organizar la Premier Mundial en Los Angeles de la película "Rigo: una confesión total" en el Million Dollar de Los Angeles. Sus miembros son Maricarmen Gutierrez de Azteca Films, Gabriel Hernández Steck de La Opinión, Guillermo Romero de PECIME, Mexico, Pepe Rolón de Radio América, Enrique Bulnes del Canal 34 y SIN de Phoenix, Arizona y Hernán Quezada Escandón de K.W.K.W. de Los Angeles. ¡Felicidades y saludos a todos!

Espectacular el long playing titulado "Pedazos" de la cantante brasileña Simone, que EMI lanzó al mercado recientemente. Con más de 130,000 copias vendidas en menos de dos meses, la grabación sigue ritmo espectacular de éxito. Simone grabará próximamente en Español esta gran pieza discográfica . . . María Creusa, también de Brasil, fué clasificada para participar en el "Festival Mundial de la Canción Popular de Tokio," Japón, de entre 57 países y 1750 canciones participantes. El tema que defenderá la talentosa cantante se titula "Luanda Sile" de Antonio Carlos y Jocafi. María tiene lanzados cuatro long playings en Japón y será sometida, durante su visita, a una gran campaña promocional organizada por la RCA Japan, y la Yamaha Music Foundation, patrocinadora de este festival. María estará en Japón del 30 de Octubre al 20 de Noviembre . . . Cumple 20 años la agrupación musical mexicana, Sonora Santanera. En sus celebraciones, han comenzado a edificar su Casa Club en momentos en que triunfan en el Blanquita de México y se programa el próximo lanzamiento de un nuevo larga duración con sus éxitos "Cáncer" y "La negrita Cucurumbé."

Recibió Yolanda del Rio, en Colombia, un Disco de Oro por sus ventas millonarias de "La Hija de Nadie." Yolanda realizó una gira por todo el país, triunfando al lado de Federico Villa, que también sales and some early racks. Areas of strength for Loggins include NY, the west coast (California) and Texas (Dallas/Houston). In the forties, Rick James (Motown), now at #41 bullet, could very well become a top 15 item with the help of a pop crossover for the "Love Gun" single. Early retail and one-stop activity on the LP is significant in NY, the southeast and the southwest. Elsewhere in the forties, Atlantic's "Muppet" soundtrack is at #43 bullet, again mainly due to the racks, while Santana (Col), at #48 bullet, is strictly retail, notably in Phoenix, LA and Detroit.

Elton John (MCA), at #50 bullet, is building with the help of numerous retail breakouts; NY, Chicago and the west coast are especially strong. Joe Jackson (A&M) is at #51 bullet strictly with retail, while Isaac Hayes (Polydor), at #52 bullet, is showing the best moves by this artist in some time (including top ten reports out of Philly and Washington). Crossover action on his "Don't Let Go" single, now the #12 black single, surely will help the LP. Also bulleting in the fifties are Foghat (WB) at #54 and the Village People (Casablanca), at #56 mainly with rack sales.

In the sixties, Smokey Robinson (Tamla) is showing crossover potential similar to Hayes', but at a faster pace; his "Cruisin'" single, now the #5 black single, helps move the LP, now at #64 bullet with retail/one-stop sales. Elsewhere in the sixties, Police (A&M) are now at #66 bullet, building at retail in such areas as LA, Boston, and throughout the midwest (Indianapolis, Chicago, Minneapolis).

In at #51 bullet and this week's Chartmaker is Foreigner (Atlantic) with a good list of airplay highlighted by adds at KFRC, KRTH, WHBQ, WPGC, and Z93. Five other bullets fill the fifties with Jefferson Starship (Grunt) close behind Foreigner at #52. Adds at 11 stations and building sales moved this record nine slots in its second week on the chart. Dr. Hook (Capitol) at #54 is getting good radio reaction where played with adds at important stations in Texas and breakout sales in the east.

AC/DC (Atlantic) leads six bullets in the sixties with most of its early support coming from the east and midwest for a #62 rating. Besides the previously mentioned Jackson and Hayes singles, Ian Lloyd (Scotti Brothers) made a seven place jump to #69 with a good week of adds at WRKO, PRO-FM, and WZZP.

Seven bullets spotlight the seventies with Moon Martin (Capitol) taking a healthy 13 place move to #73 behind adds at FM-97, KHJ and B100.

This week's Chartmaker is Tom Petty (Backstreet/MCA), an artist who is at long last beginning to show the kind of sales that will match his reputation. This is Petty's best showing by far, helped along by heavy AOR airplay support; the LP, entering the chart at #80 bullet, shows an outstanding retail spread, including such areas as LA, Houston/Dallas, Minneapolis, Indianapolis, Cleveland/Pittsburgh, Florida, Washington, Philly and along the west coast.

Also bulleting in the eighties are the Bar-Kays (Mercury), at #85 and showing crossover potential; top ten retail/one-stop sales on the album are reported out of Houston and Phoenix, with the Washington/Baltimore/Philly area significant as well. Earl Klugh and Bob James (Col/Tappan Zee) are bulleting at #86, building at retail with jazz and pop reports out of Washington/Baltimore and N.Y., while Nicolette Larson (WB) is at #88 bullet, primarily with retail sales in N.Y.C.

In the nineties, the Outlaws (Arista) are at #90 bullet with retail in Nashville, N.Y. and Indianapolis among strong areas, while Millie Jackson and Isaac Hayes (Polydor), at #94 bullet, are strong in such traditional black areas as Philly, the southeast, Memphis, Detroit and Washington. Rounding out the bullets in the top 100 is Lakeside (Solar), at #100.

seen anything but unpleasant, and after living with the set awhile, the added filigree—a few horn charts and some rich but restrained backing vocals—hardly sounds like overkill. "Romeo's Tune" is already a classic to these ears, and we're mulling several other candidates for long-term appreciation.

RUMOR CONTROL—Meanwhile, both Madame Wong's and Club 88 have denied rumors that late November gigs will include local debuts for such much-touted new wave-power pop-neo bubblegummers as the Scam, Hornets Attack, Victor Mature, Ornamental Gourds, Pink Legume and A Couple Of Mexicans, featuring Connie Plimsoul . . . GOMM won't be forgotten in the west after all, since we're told Ian Gomm's U.S. dates will now include a Whisky engagement on November 23 and 24.

CLARIFICATION—In last week's RW story about the revival of Dunhill Records, certain information might have been misconstrued, specifically regarding ownership of the label. For the record MCA is the owner of Dunhill; MCA will be releasing new product from Dunhill's Bobby Roberts and Hal Landers via the MCA/Dunhill banner (the first two albums are by singer/writers Jamie Sheriff and Rick Dufay), as well as certain old ABC/Dunhill titles, including some by the Mamas and Papas and Steppenwolf.

NOTES—The Alley Cats, a popular local band, are now managed by Marshall Berle. They've been in a local studio lately produced by David Scott and Dan Phillips . . . Several participants on the "L.A. Radio" album are keeping busy: Mickey Rooney, Jr. is filming "Honeysuckle Rose" with Willie Nelson; Reuben Guevara is in the new Cheech and Chong film; Stephen T is on the road with John Hiatt, and Earle Mankey is producing the Elevators. Congrats to Mankey and wife Jeri on the birth of their son, Jeff . . . The benefit organized by Jackson Browne in Santa Barbara (to aid the Western Gate Indian reservation, threatened by the proposed liquified natural gas plant near Point Conception) was a star-studded affair, featuring Roger McGuinn, Joe Walsh, Don Henley, and even Crosby, Stills and Nash (who led the crowd in a singalong on "Our House," after playing "Helplessly Hoping" and "You Don't Have to Cry") . . . The Dick Grove Music Workshops in Studio City, Calif. is offering eight scholarships (totalling $9800) for the semester beginning in July of next year . . . The National Association of Jazz Educators is assisting in the awarding of the scholarships, which will go to "serious music students" based on the degree of proficiency as required by the school, aimed at training commercial musicians and offering a full curriculum. Concert Review

An Evening of Acoustic Magic

■ LOS ANGELES—McCabe's Guitar Shop in Santa Monica staged its first store concert in 1969, when Elizabeth Cotten, grandmother of blues guitar, became the victim of a short-notice cancellation and needed a place to play for her plane fare back home. Sheets were taped to the windows, folded chairs assembled and Cotten played to a sell-out audience of 150. Since then, musicians far and wide have enjoyed the intimacy and warmth of McCabe's back room. Even more recently, musicians like Doc Watson and David Grisman have asked McCabe's to produce larger venues for them. With UCLA's Fine Arts as its co-sponsor, McCabe's presented an evening of acoustic magic with John Hartford and Doc Watson, October 30 at UCLA's Royce Hall.

St. Louis string musician John Hartford played a soliloquy of fiddle, banjo and guitar for an entrancing hour before giving the stage over to Doc Watson, his son Merle and Michael Coleman. Enjoying the hall's stately aura and superior acoustics, Hartford and Watson combined for a memorable evening of American musical folklore, past and present.

John Hartford (Flying Fish) is a child at heart. In blue jeans and Vibram-soled hiking boots, Hartford accompanied his string-work with tap dancing on his portable four-by-ten-foot plywood dance floor. His set was like an hour-long float down the historic Mississippi, with the audience lounging on a steamboat's sundeck for an afternoon recital; rambling through a childhood riverboat autobiography, Hartford became that favorite uncle of yours, telling you your first nursery rhyme.

From the thriving metropolis of Deep Gap, North Carolina, Doc Watson (UA) played a spell-binding 75-minute set of songs ranging from Bob Dylan's "Don't Think Twice" to the old Mississippi Sheiks standard "Sitting on Top of the World." Accompanied by son Merle on steel and slide guitar and Michael Coleman on fretless electric bass, Watson performed magically. Blind from birth, Watson's blue eyes shone more than once as his fingers were guided up and down the guitar neck by something even more special than sight.

The trio performed an acoustically perfect, technically flawless concert, playing with the tightness of an orchestra but with the looseness of a streetside jug band. The vociferous crowd reacted strongly to each song. Watson's high-pitched voice was brought to full color by Coleman's deep, contrapuntal harmony; Merle Watson's singsong slide guitar became yet another voice in a trilogy of narrators. The Watson trio finished with Bo Carter's "Arrangement Blues" and the standard swinging "Wabash Cannonball," having taken the Royce Hall crowd out of Los Angeles and into the Appalachian backcountry.

Gospel Labels Gear Up for Christmas

which we will send to our stores with the 'Our Best To You' logo tied in. This will run through Nov. 25, then we will give the stores the material to turn it around and pass the 'Our Best To You' theme on to their customers. It will be for all records and music in their store, not just Maranatha! product. We are going to have Christmas cards available for the stores to send to their customers. It is designed to keep the theme alive and help the stores with their own little PR program."

According to Matt Steinhauer, record promotion manager for Great Circle Records, promotions are in the works for the new Lanny Wolfe musical "Noel, Jesus Is Born," Doug Oldham's "Holiday Song" and "Christmas With The Humbards." Great Circle is working with radio stations to get a full-length presentation of the Wolfe musical, offering free giveaway albums, pre-written 30 and 60 second spots to advertise the feature and a tip-sheet on getting local sponsorship. The AIM (Aggressive In-Store Merchandising) kit on Oldham's LP will feature a mobile in the shape of a Christmas bell. Steinhauer says they are encouraging the stores to push the Dottie Rambo children's book series as a good Christmas gift idea.

Sparrow is also encouraging stores to feature their four Agape Force children's albums, "Music Machine," "Bullfrogs And Butterflies," "Nathaniel The Grublet" and "Sir Oliver's Song" as a special package, says Sparrow's marketing assistant Bill Hearn. The recent release of "The Messiah" with the London Philharmonic Orchestra and Choir is being promoted with a national display contest offering one first prize of 100 free Sparrow albums of the store's choice, one second prize of 35 free Sparrow albums of the store's choice and 25 third prizes of two free Sparrow albums of the store's choice. A 19-minute video cassette for Barry McGuire's new album, "Inside Out," is being offered free to all stores. Sparrow is encouraging stores to work out a rent-free deal for the equipment.

Tempo, Inc. is working with tried and true Christmas releases: "Christmas Aloha" by the Hawaiians, "Christmas" by the Heritage Singers, "A Christmas Festival" by Otis Skillings and the various package "My Christmas Gift." Tempo is also pushing Skillings' latest musical, "The Day That Never Ends," as a Christmas gift.

Nashboro Records will be releasing five new albums in November and looking for action with their two Christmas albums by Mahailia Jackson and the Gospel Keynotes. Savoy is going with its two standard Christmas packages by James Cleveland & the Angelic Choir and the Williams Brothers plus some new November releases to be backed with posters and streamers.

Coolidge Clicks

At Roxy Engagement

■ LOS ANGELES—Until two years ago, Rita Coolidge (A&M) was primarily known as a backup vocalist for Joe Cocker and as Kris Kristofferson's wife-singing partner. Three consecutive hit singles vaulted Coolidge into the ranks of the top female singers, resulting in a recent sold-out three-day engagement at the Roxy.

Excellent Band

Backed by a large, excellent band, Coolidge presented an entertaining concert whose highlight was the trio of hits that brought her out of the shadow of stardom: "Higher and Higher," "The Way You Do The Things You Do" and Boz Scaggs' "We're All Alone." Looking sexy in a black leotard and skintight pants, Coolidge moved easily from a Motown-rich repertoire of oldies to the softer sounds of her newest album, "Satisfied."

Coolidge's performance could have used more passion vital in establishing a direct contact between the audience and the artist. Only when she did the title tune from her new album, a beautiful ballad which marks her songwriting debut, did the shy singer offer an intimate glimpse of her personality. Playing piano organ on "Satisfied," Coolidge projected a warmth and vulnerability equally well-received on her spirited version of the romantic Peter Allen song "I'd Rather Leave While I'm In Love."

Booker T. Jones, Coolidge's brother-in-law and opening act, joined the songstress for a few duets, including the Commodores' "Sail On" and an exciting version of "Someday We'll Be Together." The duets and the crowd-pleasing oldies suggested that an exceptional, rather than merely pleasant, evening is available to audiences once Coolidge lets herself loose onstage.

Sun Ups Foster

■ NASHVILLE—Shelby S. Singleton, president of the Sun International Corp., Plantation and SSS Records, has announced the promotion of Micki Foster to the position of marketing for the western United States. She was previously a staff member in the marketing/promotion division of the labels.

Prior to her joining Singleton Foster was involved in coordinating National Geographic recordings of jazz and folk projects as an assistant to the producer. She now reports directly to Singleton along with Sally Smash, head of marketing for the eastern U.S., in all marketing and promotion projects concerning Sun.

Belwin Mills

Belwin-Mills is also working with Duke's son Mercer in preparing a new series of jazz band publications based on the original Ellington orchestrations.

As one of the world's largest publishing companies, Belwin-Mills is extremely sensitive to and closely affected by, the state of the music business. While much of their business (80 percent) comes from educational and printed product divisions—Belwin-Mills, like other music publishing companies, has been effected by the drop-off in record sales. But other problems also affect music publishers directly and just as seriously as described by Litwin: "We all feel the impact of taping, bootlegging and piracy. It's one of the major issues we have to deal with today because the publisher is entrusted with a great deal of the livelihood of the composer. The deprivation up and down the line is affecting the individuals as well as the corporations."

lous and altogether moving rendition of "One for My Baby, One More for the Road"? These chronicles of wasted time are among the most compelling tales in rock, and it is heartening to know—particularly after hearing such impressive new material as "Play It Safe"—that Iggy has a million of 'em. His future has never looked so bright.

ROBIN LANE NEWS: For an unknown artist, Robin Lane has received an extraordinary amount of attention. Based in Boston, Lane's shows there and in other New England cities are almost always sold out, and several of her performances have been broadcast live. Radio has been good in other ways too: her independently-distributed Deli Platters single remains a heavy airplay item in those parts. And it hasn't hurt that she's received a generous amount of ink in this column for being (a) talented, (b) the daughter of Ken Lane, Dean Martin's piano player and composer of Dino's hit, "Everybody Loves Somebody," and (c) a favorite of Bill Lee's, pitching star of the Montreal Expos. What all this did was to pique the interest of several record companies. Thus, when Lane visited New York last week to play one night at Hurrah, she did so with her signature on a Warner Brothers contract.

Like so many of today's young bands, Lane and the Chartbusters draw inspiration from mid-sixties rock groups—in particular, the Byrds' and the Kinks' guitar-laden, highly melodic sound. As a singer, Lane doesn't have great range, but her vocals have personality and feeling. She knows how to get the most out of a lyric without straining for effect. In addition to the aforementioned bands, Del Shannon is also an appropriate reference point, as was made clear by Lane's credible cover version of "Keep Searchin'." Lane's songs are virtually a piece with Shannon's unrelentingly tragic visions of love in which the narrator, whether on the outside looking in or a vital part of the action, always emerges from the most hopeless situations with dignity intact.

Although the band should concern itself more with stagecraft and pacing (the song performed as an encore was one of the weakest of the night. It would have been better in the middle of the set or, better yet, left out altogether), there's enough substantial musical talent present to justify the raves emanating from the hinterlands to these many months.

JOCKEY SHORTS: Pink Floyd's new album, due sometime in December, is entitled "The Wall." The group will tour here, if you consider five nights in New York and Los Angeles a tour. Word has it that during the course of each show a wall some 100 feet in length will be constructed on stage, and then blown apart. The logistics of lugging the wall around prohibit the group from going on a full-scale tour . . . Island Records has released the Buggles' "Video Killed the Radio Star" single, which has been number one in England. The Buggles are Trevor Horn and Geoff Downes . . . Foreigner's Mick Jones, a wine connoisseur, sent a bottle of 1970 Cheval Blanc to another wine connoisseur, Pittsburgh Pirates first baseman and World Series MVP Willie Stargell . . . Jimmy Iovine is producing the new Motors LP at Manor Studios in England . . . as part of UNICEF's Save the Children campaign, Anne Murray will host a dinner for Princess Anne, president of Save the Children, in Toronto, November 14. Fellow Canadians William Shatner and Frank Mills will be among the guests . . . be advised: there is a band playing around New York calling itself The Now. This band is not to be confused with the Midsong recording group of the same name. The former Now has no recording contract. Now, have you got that? . . . after a three-year hiatus, ZZ Top returns this month with a new album entitled "Diguello," which roughly translated means, "leave no man, woman or child alive."

INCA Training Program Nears Completion

By KEN SUNSHINE

■ NEW YORK — The Recording Industry Training Program for youth and young adults is completing the final phase of its initial 39 week course. The $300 thousand federally-funded program to develop jobs in the music industry for disadvantaged youths is a creation of the six year old Institute of New Cinema Artists. INCA was founded by actor-director-producer Ossie Davis. Cliff Frazier, an award-winning actor, author, director, and producer, has been INCA's executive director since its inception.

Thirty-two young men and women were chosen from more than 500 applicants for the first Recording Industry Training Program. They have received instruction from a staff of experienced professionals and prominent guest lecturers. The interns are provided instruction in recording engineering and production, concert production and sound, tour management, personal management, public relations, music composition, record company operations, and trade publication reporting and research.

Guest instructors have included Clive Davis, Kenny Gamble, artists Roy Ayers and Sarah Dash, representatives of ASCAP, BMI, NMPA, NARM, and publicist Candy Leigh.

On-the-job training placements have been made at Arista, Philadelphia International, Infinity, and A&M record companies, Warner Brothers Publishing, Sigma Sound Recording Studio, Soundworks Studio, Weisberg Sound, William Fisher/Fred Petrus, Ron Delsener Productions, M. Morton Hall Productions, James Mtume, Tony Valor Productions, Buros and Jackson Law Firm, and Record World.

After the November 9, 1979 graduation, INCA hopes to place each intern in employment situations throughout the industry. Each graduate will bring extensive training to correspond to the appropriate job.

Frazier stated that he will apply the same careful post-graduate counseling to each graduate of the Recording Industry Training Program that has distinguished INCA's follow up on the over 400 graduates of its other programs.

Wayne Garfield, the recording industry relations director, emphasized that INCA will utilize the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit Program that has been established by the federal government to increase jobs in the private sector for economically disadvantaged youth and young adults. Employers who hire the interns may claim a tax credit equal to 50 percent of a salary up to six thousand dollars of a person's first year wages and 25 percent of the same amount during the second year.

For any further information on the Recording Institute Training Program, contact Frazier or Garfield at 212-695-0826.

MESBIC Aids Entertainment Projects

By LAURA PALMER

■ LOS ANGELES—During the latter part of the 1960s a government investment and funding service called MESBIC (Minority Enterprises Small Business Investment Corporation) was created with the basic structural laws of the Small Business Investment Corporation—an organization licensed by the Small Business Association to provide equity capital and long term loans to small businesses—intact, and later refashioned to fit the specific needs of the minority business community. During that time, MESBIC dealt specifically with those companies producing manufactured goods, thereby excluding service oriented businesses.

In 1977, Norbert Simmons, in association with MCA/Universal, created New Ventures Inc., an umbrella company which houses 14 other MESBIC-funded entertainment projects, hence establishing the precedent case before the government in securing MESBIC monies for non-manufacturing businesses.

According to Adrienne Dove, former L.A. director of MESBIC, "MESBIC is more than a lending or investment corporation, because it is currently structured to not only provide capital but also to provide consultation services in order to give general business awareness to minority businesses—such as the services of advertising specialists, marketing analysts and other strategic tools necessary to compete in the free enterprise system."

As it stands, SBIC, the parent to MESBIC, maintains the position favoring investments in manufacturing corporations (as opposed to service organizations) noting that it is safer to invest in tangible, liquid assets than records or films. This is based in part on the high production costs of producing albums or films, the short market life of product and speculative sales. It is difficult for the government to assess the profit loss projection in entertainment media in order to clearly define guarantees.

George Beaubian, L.A. director of MESBIC funding, summed up the major problems for minority businesses entering claims in the entertainment industry. Among them, he said, are a general lack of experience in the record industry; lack of merchandising experience, and the lack of the initial capital to compete with other established labels.

Prior to New Ventures' breakthrough in securing MESBIC funds for entertainment ventures the use of federal funds was prohibited, because it was deemed that these types of services were "opinion molding instruments"—such as communication media—and if for any reason the newly-formed corporation should default on its loan, First Amendment rights would then be in jeopardy. MESBIC, on behalf of applicants, negotiates with the government guaranteeing to repay the loan in case of default; but the government pays 90 percent of the defaulted loan in any case.

Chinese Delegation To Visit Nashville

■ NASHVILLE—A delegation from the People's Republic of China is scheduled to visit Nashville Nov. 9-11 to acquaint themselves with the country music industry.

Country Tour?

The visit, headed by Chinese Ambassador to the United States Chai Zemin, could result in a tour of country artists in China some time in 1980, according to those involved in arranging the trip. Details of the officials' trip to Nashville were completed Tuesday, Nov. 30 by BMI vice president Frances Preston, Tennessee Commissioner of Tourism Irving Waugh, and Joe Talbot, president of Joe Talbot & Associates, in cooperation with Jim Free, special assistant to President Carter.

Gayle Trip

The Chinese visit has been under consideration for several months since the U.S. established diplomatic relations with China. Crystal Gayle was the first American recording artist to perform in China, appearing with Bob Hope on a television special earlier this year.

Country Artists Find Indie Promotion A Key Factor in Successful Careers

By WALTER CAMPBELL

■ NASHVILLE—Independent promotion, a key factor in the success of many hit records over the years, has become increasingly significant in the country music field. The market has always been good for independents, but it is now better than ever, according to the promotion people, and more have successfully entered the field.

There are a number of reasons cited for the increased business, and nearly all of them center around the growth of country music and the resulting competition for airplay on country stations.

Newer artists, such as Razy Bailey, R. C. Bannon, Rosanne Cash, Juice Newton, and Kenny O'Dell, seem to reap the most benefits from the work of people like Frank Mull, Wade Pepper, Nick Hunter, Peter Svendsen, Bruce Hinton, Elroy Kahane, John Curb, Nationwide Sound and Tom McBee.

"With the amount of product that labels are releasing, they cannot key in on every release," said Hunter, who began as an independent after leaving MCA Records a year ago, "and many times they go to outside, independent promotion people to help bring them in. We also do a lot of work for publishers, producers and sometimes managers."

Mull, who has been promoting records on an independent basis for at least four years, has recently added a computerized tracking system to his operation. "I've got all the records I can handle right now," he said, "but it has almost always been that way since I started. Record companies are using more independents now, and so are artists themselves. Quite a few more people have gotten into independent promotion since I've been in it, and they are making a good living."

Kahane's clients are almost all publishers, such as Pi-Gem Music, but he also notes an increasing demand for independents from other interests. "Some artists may feel like the label might not be able to concentrate on his or her record with all the others on the roster to take care of."

Publishers

Svendsen also works for publishers, along with other kinds of clients. "Bruce Hinton does some work for Tree, and I work for House of Gold, which are two of the biggest publishers in the business, countrywise," he said. "Publishers make money off airplay; so any adds we get for a record, they stand to gain. When they get cuts, of course it's to their advantage to go out and hire specialists. There are a lot of great label promotion teams in the business, but if someone else comes in who is a specialist and has built a credibility is also promoting a record, radio is inclined to take a stronger view point. We don't detract from the label's efforts; we add to it."

In addition to publishers and labels, Svendsen lists managers, artists and songwriters among his clients. Motion pictures and soundtracks are also a source of business lately for Svendsen and Hinton. The result of that involvement is the formation of Silver Screen Promotions and Marketing. "It involves all our motion picture promotions," he explained. "We did 'Every Which Way But Loose' together; plus we did a radio tie-in on 'Hooper,' and we're currently doing 'Elec-

PICKS OF THE WEEK

SINGLE FREDDY WELLER, "GO FOR THE NIGHT" (prod.: Buzz Cason) (writer: B. Cason/F. Weller) (Buzz Cason, ASCAP/Young World, BMI) (2:34). Now produced by Buzz Cason, Weller starts off with a subdued tone and breaks into a strong, enthusiastic chorus. Lyrics and melody work together well here on this new direction for the artist. Columbia 1-11149.

SLEEPER BOBBY HOOD, "IT TAKES ONE TO KNOW ONE" (prod.: Jerry Fuller) (writer: J. Fuller) (Blackwood/Fullness, BMI) (3:11). A classical guitar adds a south-of-the-border touch to this dreamy love ballad. The song here is top quality, with a pleasant and memorable chorus which Hood performs with ease. Chute 0009.

ALBUM WAYLON JENNINGS, "WHAT GOES AROUND COMES AROUND." Waylon keeps it simple and straightforward here with an appropriate collection of tunes, ranging from Rodney Crowell's "Ain't Living Long Like This" to Mickey Newbury's "If You See Her." Produced by Richie Albright, all cuts have Waylon's distinctive, soulful touch. "I Got The Train Sittin' Waitin'" is prime. RCA AHL1-3493.

Nashville Report

By RED O'DONNELL

■ Happiness is working for Waylon Jennings. Ralph Mooney, on his 10th anniversary as steel guitarist with Jennings' Waylors band, was gifted with a 1980 red Cadillac DeVille. (Stick around for 10 more, Mooney, and you'll probably get a Rolls.) . . . CBS-TV has three hours of prime-time country music upcoming within the next 37 days. Hour-long back-to-back specials Nov. 28 (hosted by Kris Kristofferson and Kenny Rogers, respectively) and Crystal Gayle's first network show of her very own Dec. 12.

Just in time for the season, Glenn Sutton has re-released "The Football Card," for the benefit of anyone who missed it (or the bets) last year.

It's not the "William Tell Overture," but Larry Mahan is releasing a single entitled "The Ballad of Clayton Moore" in what he calls an effort to help the original Lone Ranger (Moore) keep his mask. The label? Saddle Soar Records.

YEAH, AND I KNOW BILLY MARTIN: Charlie Daniels, on a recent trip to New York, decided to stop by the Lone Star Cafe, according to a ramblin' RW source. Not wanting to create a stir, Charlie told the man at the door who he was and could he please have an inconspicuous table. "I know Charlie Daniels, and you're not him," the guy replied and refused to help him; so Charlie moved on down the trail.

Margo Smith is still excited about her appearance Sunday (4) as opening act for Bob Hope's show at Prairie Capital Convention Center, Springfield, Ill.

The single that 82-year-old George Burns recorded here last week was "I Wish I Were 18 Again" (by Sonny Throckmorton) and "The Mysteries of Life" (by Tom T. Hall). Jerry Kennedy produced it for Mercury. Asked if he could sing country, the veteran replied: "I might not sing like other country singers, and I might phrase it a little differently, but we all have one thing in common: when we sing, we open our mouths."

Coming Events Dept.: Hank Williams' original Drifting Cowboys band signed to appear with the New Orleans Pops Orchestra, July 11-22, 1980 in the Crescent City's Municipal Auditorium . . . Barbara Mandrell gets around. The past Tuesday she appeared at the State Fair Tallahassee, Fla. The next night she was in Leathbridge, Alberta, Canada, to headline a show with the Statler Brothers.

Indie Promo Aids Country Careers

tric Horseman,' (with Robert Redford and Willie Nelson for Columbia Pictures). We're starting to get involved with 'Honeysuckle Rose' (also with Willie Nelson), and we're talking about other upcoming movie projects as well."

The increasing strength of country radio is a factor Hinton cites in the success of these projects. "Country is no longer a regionalized kind of musical expression," he said. "It has long since left that, and now I think people in the power positions with the bucks to spend in terms of how to reach an audience and sell a product, are finding out that country radio is really where it's at."

Hinton also claims a variety of clients and reports that demand is higher than ever. "My business has never been better," he said, "and a lot of people are entering the field because it is still a viable way to launch an artist."

Country Single Picks

COUNTRY SONG OF THE WEEK

CHARLIE RICH—United Artists X1325-Y

YOU'RE GONNA LOVE YOURSELF IN THE MORNING (prod.: Larry Butler) (writer: D. Fritts) (Combine, BMI) (2:37)

This tune progresses deliberately, with a pause for a solo guitar riff as an added twist. Rich is backed by elaborate, full production as he sings soft and smooth.

MICKEY GILLEY—Epic 9-50801

A LITTLE GETTING USED TO (prod.: Foster & Rice) (writer: J. Taylor) (First Lady, BMI) (3:20)

Gilley does an easy-moving blues flavored tune here with a tone of sadness and resolution. Production is full of strings and voices, but Gilley and his piano shine through.

RITA COOLIDGE—A&M 2199

I'D RATHER LEAVE WHILE I'M IN LOVE (prod.: David Anderle & Booker T. Jones) (writers: C. B. Sager/P. Allen) (Irving/Woolnough/Jemava/Unichappell/Begonia Melodies, BMI) (3:28)

Coolidge uses her dreamy, romantic style on a sad love ballad which has plenty of appeal for both country and pop listeners. The sound builds in depth and intensity for a strong effect.

GAIL DAVIES—Warner Bros. 49108

BLUE HEARTACHE (prod.: Gail Davies & Garth Fundis) (writer: P. Craft) (Lizzie Lou, BMI) (1:56)

Davies does a slightly bluegrass-tinged tune for her debut on Warner Bros. The mood is brisk and fresh with clear, energetic instrumental accompaniment providing support.

GLEN CAMPBELL—Capitol P-4799

MY PRAYER (prod.: Glen Campbell & Tom Thacker) (writer: M. Smotherman) (Seventh Son, ASCAP) (2:37)

The mood is solemn here without getting too bogged down as Campbell slows down and sings with plenty of emotion and intensity. A strong string section adds even more to the feeling.

HELEN CORNELIUS—RCA PB-11753

IT STARTED WITH A SMILE (prod.: Tom Collins) (writer: H. Cornelius/J. Koonse) (Pi-Gem, BMI/Chess, ASCAP) (3:03)

Backed by lush arrangements, Cornelius goes solo this time and shines through it all with power and expression. Already part of an established duo, she has a lot of solo potential, too.

BOBBY VINTON—Tapestry 002

MAKE BELIEVE IT'S YOUR FIRST TIME (prod.: Jack Bielan) (writers: Morrison/Wilson) (Music City, ASCAP) (3:27)

The earlier top 40 idol has chosen strong material here and makes good use of it. His sound is strong as ever, reminiscent of his past hits without going back to them.

JEANNE PRUETT—IBC 0005

BACK TO BACK (prod.: Walter Haynes) (writer: J. McBee/J. Pruett) (Scott-Ch & Brandy, ASCAP) (2:43)

Pruett is making somewhat of a comeback following her last single, and this single should keep it going strong. A straightforward country approach, in both material and performance, does the trick.

RAY PRICE—Monument 290

MISTY MORNING MAN (prod.: Fred Foster) (writer: D. Chappell) (Almarie, BMI) (3:23)

Sad, sentimental ballads are one of Price's specialties, and this one easily fills the bill. "We Can't Build A Fire In The Rain" on the flip side is also a strong contender.

Country Album Picks

ONE OF A KIND

MOE BANDY—Columbia JC 36228

Bandy has developed into a solid and consistent hit country artist with his straight-ahead style. This album continues in the same vein with plenty of beer honky-tonk/cheatin' songs. Standouts include "I Cheated Me Right Out Of You," "Sweet Kentucky Woman" and the title cut.

OL' T'S IN TOWN

TOM T. HALL—RCA AHL1-3495

The Storyteller includes songs about love in several contexts here, all but one of which he wrote himself. Produced by Hall and Roy Dea, the mood is down-home and solid. "The Last Country Song," "Greed Kills More Than Whiskey" and "What Do You Mean When You Say Goodbye" are especially strong.

DIAMOND DUET

CONWAY TWITTY & LORETTA LYNN—MCA 3190

Twitty and Lynn are celebrating their 10th anniversary as a duo with this album, which features a mix of standards and new songs. The Twitty/Lynn legend continues with "True Love," "Even A Fool Would Let Go," "Rising Above It All" and the new single, "You Know Just What I'd Do."
