WOW Enlarges Executive Offices

WOW's executive offices (which six years ago equalled the size of six or eight telephone booths) are again being greatly expanded.

William Ruess, WOW Personnel Director and Chairman of the Board of Auditors of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society, has approved the following changes in the radio quarters:

Red Room: To be redecorated and to become the private office of Harry Burke, WOW Program Manager.

Gray Room: To become private office of Howard O. Peterson, Local Sales and Research Manager.

Green Room: To become private office of Bill Wiseman, Promotion and Publicity Manager.

Balcony: East side to be evacuated by Woodmen Society workers and given over entirely to WOW to make more room for secretaries, program, mail, News Tower and bookkeeping departments.

Artists' Lounge: To be moved into new quarters on east side of building, in part of quarters formerly occupied by a finance company.

Transcription Room: To be installed in present Artists' Lounge. This will be equipped with latest scientific equipment for recording, transcription testing, etc., much of which will be removed from central control room.

Workshop: Present transcription library and testing room and engineers' workshop will be made into completely modern workshop.

In addition to these changes, several rooms in the Woodmen archives in the basement will be changed around to improve working efficiency of radio station affairs.

The changes impending are the first since WOW moved into its beautiful studios in 1935 from the old top-floor space in the building at 14th and Farnam Streets.

Retention of all of the beauty in design, decoration and furniture in WOW's executive offices has been the keynote of all the changes ordered.

The expansion program is in keeping with the constant growth of WOW. Whereas, less than two decades ago WOW operated with a personnel of six persons, it now has a full-time complement of more than 72, with as many as 100 others working part time during special occasions.

CROSBY'S CUT

Bing Crosby's royalties from one of his most popular songs, "Adeste Fideles," were taken for a ride recently.

Reluctant to profit from the sacred song, Bing put the royalties into a ritzy automobile and gave the car to his North Hollywood parish, St. Charles, to raffle off at a bazaar.

O'NEILL NEXT

The Dupont Company, sponsors of "Cavalcade of America," heard on WOW at 8:30 Monday nights, is considering serialization of Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness." It is reported that Lionel Barrymore, Walter Huston, Raymond Massey and Frederic March are being considered for the leading role.

HANDSOME TENOR

Coeds at the University of Oklahoma have voted Larry Cotton the title, "Nation's Handsomest Tenor." Larry, who vocalizes with Horace Heidt's orchestra on the "Tums' Treasure Chest" programs, was a U. of O. student before joining Heidt's crew.

THANK YOU, RADIO*

LET'S KEEP IT FREE!

When the wars and wicked days of this epoch are noted down for the unbelieving eyes of those who will follow, pray that the recorder will temper the dark pages with some mention of that which shines bright and clear.

Let him say a word concerning radio.

Let him tell of the genius of a generation which brought forth a miracle of goodness.

Let him not pass by the names of Conrad, Marconi, de Forest, Armstrong. And let him remember the later men, who—thinking always of the people—took the infant miracle and gave its benefits to the million—masses who inhabit the far-flung reaches of the earth—the people in every class—the populations in all climates.

Thank you, Radio . . . Thank you for the change, the challenge, the cherished freedom which you help us to preserve.

Thank you for your voices of inspiration . . . invoking invocations, benedictions . . . and hallowed miracles . . . Revealing God's own World in Man's own words.

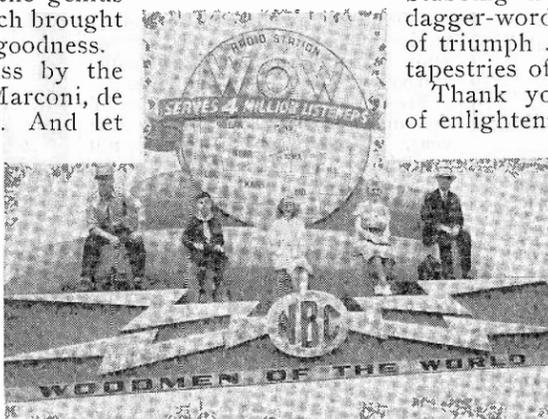

Thank you for your voices of Democracy . . . Pegging history to its milestones . . . Ripping passages from their contexts . . . Sounding off with foolishness or fury . . . Or sagacity or sayings.

Thank you for the voices of your actors . . . Breaking sentences in half . . . Stabbing hearts with jagged dagger-words . . . Telling tales of triumph . . . Weaving tragic tapestries of drama.

Thank you for your voices of enlightenment . . . Smashing walls of steeped-up ignorance . . . Documenting eager minds with symbols of the truth . . . Concocting progress with ideas.

Thank you for your voices of merriment . . . In gladsome gales of laughter . . . To lighten up a darkened world . . . With jokes and jollity . . . And what they call frivolity.

Yes, thank you for your voices . . . and your music . . . and your sweet-mingled sounds of life as we love it . . . and believe in it . . . and want it for ourselves and for our kin and kind. Thank you, Radio . . . Thank you!

Sherman, Hulick Lead Laugh Parade

By BILL WISEMAN

WOW's "straw hat" radio fare sparkles with fine comedy, drama, new quiz shows and music, both swing and classical.

The "straw hat circuit" of the air-planes, betwixt now and harvest time, will offer many big names and an equally impressive crop of unknowns who will be reaching through microphones this summer for radio stardom.

Summertime, when many radio favorites are awarded a much-needed vacation, is "testing time" on the air. It's the period when opportunity knocks for radio hopefuls.

Pages 4 and 5 of this News Tower (and throughout the issue, in fact) include stories, pictures and information about new summer shows on WOW.

Grouped by types, WOW's summer lineup includes:

Comedy: Ranson Sherman, as an inn keeper somewhat like the erst-while famous "Lightnin' Bill Jones"; Budd Hulick, the ex-Stoopnagle and Budd partner, as "pitcher" in a comic baseball quiz show; Nick Charles and his wife, Nora, in a comic dramatic series based on the movie, "The Thin Man"; "Reg'lar Fellers," comic radio adaptation of a famous comic strip, and more.

Quiz Shows: Arlene Francis returns with "What's My Name" as a summer substitute for the Bergen-McCarthy duo; "Auction Quiz," featuring Bob Brown, is a new Friday-nighter soon to be sponsored by Standard Oil of Nebraska; "Quizzer Baseball," substitute for Eddie Cantor.

Music: Benny Goodman, with a hot swing show for Holland Furnaces, subs for the Maxwell House folks, who will return in September; Xavier Cugat switches format and adds new singers on his Camel show; Anacin presents Vic Arden's orchestra in a new Saturday morning feature; Cities Service has added a delightful 14-voice choir to its Friday night show.

Drama: "Helen's Home" is the title of a new "folksy" serial for Rinso, to be heard at 11:45 a. m., Mondays through Fridays; Movie Starlet Anne Gillis is featured in "A Date with Judy," as a substitute for Pepsodent's Bob Hope. There is also the new "Thin Man" series, mentioned above, on Wednesday nights for Woodbury. Dupont's Cavalcade of America is considering serialization of Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness."

Variety: Don Ameche, Connie Boswell and a new comic will hold up the "Kraft Music Hall" while Bing Crosby and Bob Burns vacation. Falstaff's "Barrel of Fun" has added a new singer and another comic or two. The Benny Goodman show, mentioned above, will include Don McNeill and film star celebs.

Concurrently scores of favorite WOW programs have been renewed on WOW for long periods, effective this month. Included is the General Mills "Gold Medal Hour," Chesterfield's Fred Waring, Bristol Myers' "Mr. District Attorney," General Foods' "Aldrich Family," Lucky Strike's Kay Kyser and almost all of the Procter & Gamble shows. (See page 5)

Lever Bros. is reported to be readying a new show for summer, but details are unknown at this writing.

WOW listeners who will benefit from this especially fine summer schedule should remember that many summer artists are on trial. If you like them, let them know about it.

Rev. R. R. Brown's Chat

By the Rev. R. R. Brown, D. D., Minister of Radio Station WOW, Pastor-Evangelist of Omaha Gospel Tabernacle, Christian and Missionary Alliance

I am writing this message on Flag Day, and am also reminded that this message will come in the July issue of the News Tower, which brings us Fourth of July, or Independence Day. In my mind I have been singing, "Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light," etc. Will the gathering darkness black out our emblem of freedom and symbol of independence? God grant that we shall be spared the terrors of war and enslavement to foreign powers or the dread of losing all the cherished heritage purchased for us. We must set our house in order so that we may not sacrifice to indifference, laziness and lust the things that cost sweat and blood. This is not the time for mere flag-waving and patriotic sentimentality. We have work to do. We must build our defenses both personal and national, physical and spiritual.

Rev. R. R. Brown

We must build a defense against fear. To do this we must remove its causes. Fear comes from ignorance and suspicion. Do we lack confidence in the worth-whileness of our economic and political system? Propagandists are daily attempting to dispossess us of our security. Our first defense against the spirit of fear is faith—faith in God, faith in our form of government and in the righteousness of our attitude toward other nations and the present conflict. We must also have adequate physical defense so that we are prepared to protect and preserve our present order. Furthermore, we must deal courageously with subversive elements within our own borders, which have only selfish motives and revolutionary dispositions. Government and business can effectively combat these conditions by an intelligent awareness of inevitable changes now in progress, which must and can be made without losing our freedom. God save us from blind leaders of the blind! We must also be saved from those who feel that now is the time to get all they can, whether it means the disruption of the normal procedure in business, government and society.

Discipline, which may mean sacrifice, is inescapable. This is not necessarily heroic, because there is so much of luxury that we could surrender that the average person would not be seriously affected by it. The most important factor, however, is our spiritual life. Like Lincoln, we should not only think of being on God's side, but be sure that God is on our side. America must not forget God. It might be timely to quote here the words of the Bible: "Righteousness exalteth a nation and sin is a reproach to any people." Finally, the solemn warning: "The nations that forget God shall be turned into hell."

May we remind our radio friends of the radio reunion at our annual summer Bible and missionary conference to be held at Arnolds Park, Iowa, on Lake Okoboji, August 9 and 10. The conference dates, August 1 to 10. Remember, each Sunday morning at 8:30, the chapel service.

Canning Season Hints For July

By MARTHA BOHLSSEN
Director Homemakers' Club of the Air—Saturdays, 10:30 A. M.

The canning season for 1941 is under way. There's something about home canned foods that wins the heart of the entire family. The average homemaker instinctively enjoys preparing foods for the coming winter, taking great pride in a well-filled fruit cabinet. Modern methods make canning much simpler for the housewife of today. In days gone by, transportation facilities were slow and incompetent to handle perishable fruits and vegetables, therefore it was necessary to can only the home-grown products. Today, modern transportation and refrigeration methods bring unusual fruits and vegetables to local markets.

Fresh fruits and vegetables fill the markets every month in the year, yet some varieties are not available, and when they are the price may be prohibitive. Therefore, it is necessary for the average family to do some canning, and especially so when very different products are desired, such as the recipes given today will produce. Women of today are generous with their recipes, making quite a game of "trading" ideas for all types of food preparation. Grandmother sometimes guarded her methods of preparation quite jealously, taking pride in serving a very special jam or jelly, or possibly a very good pickle, when company came, but not being very willing to part with the secret recipe.

The Creme de Menthe pears described below will add much to a party menu and may be used in many different ways.

Creme de Menthe Pears

Twelve large pears.
Two cups water.
Green coloring.
One and one-half cups sugar.
One and one-half cups light corn syrup.
Creme de Menthe flavoring.

Make a syrup of the sugar, syrup and water. Add green coloring and flavor. Drop either whole or halved fruit into this syrup. Cook until tender and transparent (do not overcook). Pack fruit in hot sterilized jars and fill to overflowing with boiling syrup. Seal.

Another delicious fruit recipe is the following for peaches in raspberry syrup, and when the temperature registers zero and summer seems far away, the housewife who has a few jars of such fruit as this will convince her entire family that she is the best cook in the world.

Peaches in Raspberry Syrup

Two quarts raspberries.
Four cups peaches.
Seven pounds sugar.

Crush berries, add one-half pint water and cook quickly until very soft. Strain through a jelly bag, add a cup of water and half the sugar. Stir until sugar is dissolved, then bring to the boiling point. Skim and boil rapidly to the thin-syrup stage, adding a few crushed peach stones for flavor. Next add the balance of the sugar and the peaches, pared and halved. Cook quickly until tender, but unbroken. Fill hot sterilized jars and seal.

SALLY DEE

An interesting snapshot of WOW's Aunt Sally Dee. She's shown at her recent benefit party for May Crable. At the moment she had just made a plea for applause for many volunteers who assisted in putting on the party.

Tom Coleman Jr. With Blair Firm

Thomas B. Coleman, Jr., of Omaha, has joined the sales staff of John Blair & Company in New York.

The Blair Company is WOW's national advertising representative. Coleman is the son of a well-known Omaha business and civic leader.

Tom, Jr., went with the Blair Company after serving as an account executive with the Biow Company, one of the country's largest advertising agencies.

Schlaifer Trys a "Lights Up" Stunt

Charlie Schlaifer, former Omaha theater man, now in San Francisco, has been appointed west coast publicity director for the United Service organizations. First Schlaifer stunt will be "Lights Up" week, wherein everyone will be urged to turn on lights on one specific night, as San Francisco's deft to world blackouts. Schlaifer will attempt to have every light in San Francisco as bright as possible.

SUNDAY CONCERTS

WOW will carry a series of six concerts from Chautauqua, N. Y., on Sunday afternoons, starting July 20. Concerts will feature a large symphonic orchestra and outstanding soloists.

C-H-A-T-S With Your Own Aunt Sally of WOW . . .

KNOCK . . . KNOCK!
MAY I COME IN?

After the winter weather we had in June, it's nice to have a touch of summer, and here it is time to wish you Merry Firecrackers already.

Perhaps some of the News Tower readers aren't up in time for my break-fast-time chat, so didn't hear about the big show.

On May 28 we had what was called Aunt Sally's May Festival, and it really was a big show. In fact, some people said it was the biggest 30 cents worth of anything they ever had.

I wish that I might give each and every person on the bill the amount of credit that I feel they are entitled to for a mighty fine performance, but that would take more space than I am allotted, so I will have to be satisfied to say that they were all just grand and that the show proved that Omaha has some splendid talent available.

Another fine thing about the big show was that all of those talented and clever people contributed their services to the Sunshine Chain's seasonal party, which proves also that there are many people in our city who have the cooperative spirit and good will when help is needed.

I am very grateful for all the help I received with the festival. It is one thing to work, and something else to work when friends and boosters work right along with you. It makes a warm feeling around the heart to have people in sympathy with your efforts and proving it by giving their constant support.

I appreciated so much the way some people went about selling tickets and others who rounded up door prizes. The prizes were lovely, especially the lamp. That was a beauty, and there was a nice little radio, too. I was grateful to the homemakers who baked so many delicious cakes, which went as door prizes.

Lyle DeMoss was our right-hand man, and everyone was delighted with him as master of ceremonies. Lyle is 100 per cent as an entertainer, and when a feller needs a friend, he is right there as the best old friend Aunt Sally ever had, and he surely did make the show something thrilling every minute. A great big "Thank you" to Lyle and to everyone who helped make Aunt Sally's May Festival a decided success.

A total of 821 tickets were sold for the festival, and if you ever tried to sell tickets, you know our efforts were a success to sell that many tickets.

The proceeds of the festival went to the May Crable fund. Miss Crable enters the hospital this fall for treatment to enable her to walk. After spending the past 16 years in bed, you can imagine that the girl is thrilled with the chance she is receiving.

Judy Simpson is out of the hospital now and is in her home at Hedrick, Iowa, after spending the past 10 months in casts and stretchers to get her legs straightened that she, too, might walk again after 10 years in a wheel chair. Judy is now up on her feet, learning how to walk with the aid of crutches.

Another Sunshine news item is that Florence Ferguson, a charter member of our Chain, will be permitted to spend much time outdoors this summer, after being on the inside for 8 or 10 years. We are sending Florence a very special kind of wheel chair, that will enable her to propel herself about the house and grounds. Unless you have been confined to one spot in a certain room for many years, you couldn't understand what that chair will mean to Florence.

Another friend of the Chain is assembling a special kind of cart, that one of our members, who cannot sit up, may be taken outdoors after being confined to his room for years.

I wish I had time to tell you about the many interesting things which are constantly being done by friends of the Sunshine Chain to bring happiness to those who are on the inside looking out, but if you want to know more, meet me for our breakfast-time chat at 6:15.

Our next feature is the celebration July 22. I hope you'll write to me. I'll tell you all about it.

'Bye for now!
YOUR AUNT SALLY.

AFTER EMERGENCY, THEN WHAT?

By BILL WISEMAN

WHAT CHANCE RADIO GLORY?

Is there a young Bing Crosby in WOW's territory? Or a Margaret Speaks? Or a Bob Hope? Could be!

Bill Wiseman

Variety prints an interesting story, giving inside dope on the chances for radio fame and glory of a young artist or group.

Blackett-Sample-Hummert, one of the largest advertising agencies producing radio programs, conducted 100 general auditions for 1,258 applicants during the past 56 weeks.

Of these 1,258 granted auditions, 700 (or 56 per cent) were recommended to program directors for use on the agency's programs, and 129 were actually used on the air.

It would seem, then, that more than half of those who tried out were found to have sufficient talent to be given a real trial on a real program.

The "catch" to this amazingly high percentage is this: Nearly all who applied for auditions were probably locally famous before they went to New York. Probably all were "professionals."

WOW's production manager, Lyle DeMoss, who auditions many young folks here at WOW, estimates that about 1 in 50 has good prospects for radio work.

THE HUT-SUT SONG

In a town in Sweden,
By a stream so clear and cool,
A boy would sit and fish and dream
When he should have been in school.
Now he couldn't read or write a word,
But happiness he found
In a little song he heard,
And here's how it would sound:
Chorus—

Hut-Sut Rawlson on the rillerah
and a brawla, brawla soo-it,
Hut-Sut Rawlson on the rillerah
and a brawla soo-it;
Hut-Sut Rawlson on the rillerah
and a brawla, brawla soo-it,
Hut-Sut Rawlson on the rillerah
and a brawla soo-it.
Now the Rawlson is a Swedish town,
the rillerah is a stream;
The brawla is the boy and girl,
the Hut-Sut is their dream.
Hut-Sut Rawlson on the rillerah
and a brawla, brawla soo-it,
Hut-Sut Rawlson on the rillerah
and a brawla soo-it.

Lovely Mercedes McCambridge, the NBC dramatic star, plays Judy's girl friend in "A Date with Judy," the summer replacement show Tuesday nights for Pepsodent's Bob Hope.

It Really Pays to 'Uglyfy' a Pretty Face

Girls who grumble about the high cost of cosmetics should take heart from the case of Leora Thatcher, who, for the past five years, has spent $129.45 annually to "uglyfy" herself for the role of Ada Lester in "Tobacco Road." For her role in Supersuds' Ellen Randolph, NBC Red network serial (five a week, 8:15 a. m., on WOW), she gives thanks that she only has to make up her voice.

Miss Thatcher, young and pretty in real life, is famed for characterizations of care-worn, middle-aged women, with marvelous makeups that have won high praise from experts.

"The art of making up as Ada isn't so difficult," Leora explained, "but the overhead is terrific, to say nothing of the time consumed. Here's a list of a year's cosmetic needs:

- Foundation cream (24 jars) .. $24.00
- Brown shadow (26 tins) .. 6.25
- Powders (20 half-pound cans) 10.00
- Eye-brow pencils (4) .. 2.40
- Albolene (26 pound tins) .. 26.00
- Liquid foundation (26 bottles) 15.60
- Astringent (12 pint bottles) .. 3.00
- Kleenex (75 boxes) .. 20.00
- Energine for cleaning wig (12 quart cans) .. 12.00
- Camel's hair brushes (6) .. 2.40
- Cotton (26 rolls) .. 2.60

"But that only adds up to $124.25," she was reminded.

"Oh, I forgot!" she laughed. "Add soap at $5.20. That's to wash the war paint off."

OFFERS MUTES

Benny Goodman, leading band maestro, recently placed before the government a new aluminum conservation plan which may eventually change the sound of the music heard throughout the nation. Goodman suggested that all musicians give their mutes, trumpet derbies, etc., made of aluminum, to the government and use a substitute metal.

WINS DEGREE

If there's a new pride in the voice of Michael Kent, the young newspaper reporter character in "Bachelor's Children," there's a reason. Michael is played by Charles Flynn and Charlie is the proud possessor of a brand-new sheepskin, bearing an A.B. degree and presented him by Loyola University, June 11.

NEW RECORDS

Research Labs report the perfection of a new recording blank for use in radio studios as a substitute for the aluminum discs which were formerly employed. The new blank has a fire-resistant paper core.

Experts Discuss Defense Aid Policies

(Editor's Note.—We are indebted to Frank E. Pellegrin, former Omaha, Director of the NAB Bureau of Radio Advertising, for this summary of arguments, which he reports were culled from various sources, to refute the claim that during the period of capacity production arising out of the defense program it is desirable to curtail or eliminate advertising expense.—B. W.)

1. The advertiser must maintain his market, his established routes of distribution through jobbers and dealers, consumer acceptance of his product and consumer consciousness of his brand name, so that when the crisis is over and the impetus of national defense is taken away, he can continue operating on a normal pre-crisis basis. Otherwise all these factors in successful selling may be lost to more aggressive competitors who seize upon this opportunity to establish their competitive brands.

2. During periods of national emergency we must have the highest efficiency possible in manufacturing and distribution. It is admitted that advertising contributes much to this efficiency, and therefore is of extreme importance to the economic welfare of a nation during an emergency period.

3. The nation's economic and social life must be maintained as nearly normal as possible, because normalcy in a democracy is a contributing factor to success. Advertising helps make normalcy possible in a social economy that has been so dependent upon advertising.

4. Civilian morale in a democracy requires that we maintain a standard of living unknown under dictatorships. Advertising contributes greatly to our higher standard of living, and thus to the maintenance of civilian morale.

5. We must strive for a reasonable price stability. Advertising and a free competitive system aid greatly in stabilizing prices. As an example, consider P. & G. Ivory soap, a common household item: In the past 60 years the price of raw materials for this product has doubled, wages have increased tenfold and taxes have been increased enormously. At the same time, research and constant improvements in manufacture and distribution have given the consumer a much better product—without a penny of increase in the price. Without advertising this would have been impossible.

6. During this period it is necessary to eliminate unemployment insofar as possible, so that all those not engaged in national defense can earn salaries to help pay the costs of defense, rather than be an added burden upon government or public charity. Advertising contributes directly to greater employment in private industry.

7. Civilian morale likewise depends greatly upon a firm belief in the democratic system, and in its features of free enterprise and competition. Advertising is of extreme importance in their maintenance.

8. In a democracy, to build civilian morale, it is important that we continue our media of entertainment and enlightenment—the press, the magazines and the radio. Advertising supports all of these and makes them possible.

9. During times of national emergency it is important that consumers be given adequate market information—where to buy what they need, when to buy and how to buy, in order that they may get the most out of the products and services they purchase. It is also important to regulate supply and demand, and to diversify as much as possible the spending of consumers, so that all business may prosper. Advertising is of the utmost importance in all these efforts.

10. Finally, advertising is vital, inherent and an integral part of our national economy. To stifle or curtail it would be to upset the economic balance; to foster and maintain it would be to preserve that balance, so essential to efficiency and national well-being.

NEW STARS ON SUMMER SHOWS

Comic Sherman to Sub For McGees

Ransom Sherman, fast-moving conductor of "Club Matinee" and other popular NBC-Chicago programs, will become a brand-new radio personality under the name of "Hap Hazard" when he takes over the "Fibber McGee and Molly" spot for the summer with the NBC Red network broadcast of Tuesday, July 1, at 7:30 p. m., on WOW.

It was after Jim and Marian Jordan changed their names to Fibber and Molly McGee that they began their ascent to stardom of the first magnitude, and now Ransom is stepping into big-time network broadcasting in a night coast-to-coast spot.

Ransom Sherman

Hap Hazard will be heard in the new show as manager of "Crestfallen Manor," a quite mythical hotel, wherein he will have full rein for the foolishness that has built up his reputation.

Surrounding the mad manager will be a versatile crew of stooges and music-makers. Billy Mills' orchestra, long identified with the Fibber McGee show, will continue with the summer replacement, featuring Edna Odell, Hoozier songbird, who was soloist of the Fibber 1939 summer replacement. Durward Kirby, announcer, who has been doubling as Ransom Sherman's stooge for a long time, will go over to the new show in similar roles. Cecil Underwood, director of the Fibber McGee and Molly program, will come to Chicago to direct the Hap Hazard program.

The careers of Fibber McGee and Hap Hazard have had much in common. Both began in radio in Chicago, on daytime programs, and under other names. They are about the same age. Hap was born in Appleton, Wis., on October 15, 1898. Both men married childhood sweethearts. The McGees started out as singers, Hap as Nanki Poo in "The Mikado."

Radio Edition of "The Thin Man"

Nick Charles, along with his glamorous wife, Nora, and their astute but circumspect wire-haired terrier, Asta, will step to the microphone for the very first time over WOW and the NBC Red network on Wednesday, July 2, at 6 p. m., in the first of a new and original series of half-hour mystery-and-comedy dramas, "Adventures of the Thin Man."

Written as usual by Dashiell Hammett, the scripts are to be supervised by William N. Robson, well-known radio writer-director, and will be directed by Himan Brown.

The first story in this smart, sophisticated and otherwise delightful series will be set in New York and will deal with the strange disappearance of Judge Carver.

The series replaces the "Tony Martin" and "How Did You Meet?" programs. It will be sponsored by Woodbury Face Cream and Face Powder.

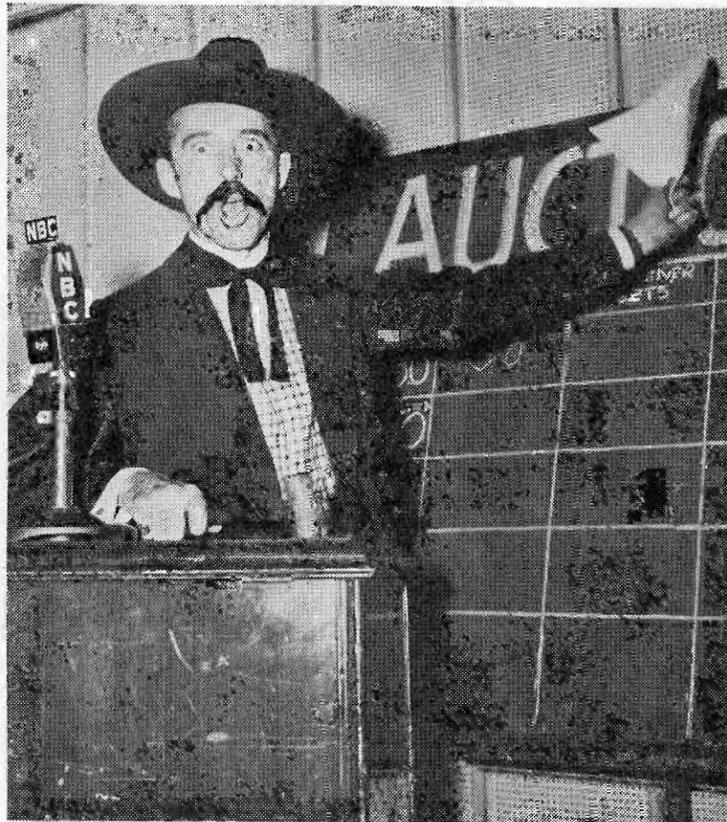

CASH APLENTY IN AUCTION QUIZ

"What am I bid for this handsome practically new question?" "Going, going, and sold to the lady in the pink hat for $60!"

Public auction of questions that everybody should know (but do they?) are held on "Auction Quiz" each Friday at 8:30 p. m. on WOW.

The program will be sponsored by Standard Oil of Nebraska, beginning Friday, July 18. Colonel Robert Brown, prominent auctioneer, who serves as radio announcer in his spare time, officiates at each event, assisted by Major Chuck Acree as master of ceremonies and Major Dan Donaldson as announcer.

Colonel Brown offers something entirely new in the line of entertainment—a program which he describes as "50 per cent quiz and 50 per cent auction."

Contestants on the program bid for the questions they want to answer—using a stake furnished them by the proprietors of the show. If they win, that is, answer correctly the question they "buy," they collect whatever they bid; if they lose, they're no poorer by cash and are certainly richer by experience.

Listening auction fans not only profit from the entertainment standpoint, they have a good chance to build up the family exchequer by submitting questions for use during the broadcasts. They collect what the contestant bid, if the question is missed.

B. Hulick Tosses New Ipana Quiz

Radio's newest question-and-answer game, "Quizzer Baseball," will present Budd Hulick, famous comedian and master of ceremonies, as regular "pitcher" for the home team when this novel series bows in over WOW and the NBC Red network, Wednesday, July 2, at 7 p. m., as summer replacement for Eddie Cantor's "Time to Smile."

Hulick is familiar to listeners not only for many appearances as master of ceremonies on coast-to-coast broadcasts, but particularly so for his reputation as one-half of the daffy team of Stoopnagle and Budd.

Budd Hulick

On the "Quizzer Baseball" broadcasts, Hulick will toss questions at the contestants, with correct answers winning base hits and incorrect replies drawing an automatic "out." Two teams will participate in each broadcast and guest stars will be enlisted each week to serve in the pitcher's box for the "visiting team." Although "Quizzer Baseball" will be conducted in a baseball atmosphere, questions for the contestants will cover all types of subjects and will not be limited to diamond topics.

Hulick was born in Asbury Park, N. J., and first entered radio as an announcer in Buffalo, N. Y. He attended Georgetown University and then worked his way to Europe and back before deciding on radio as a career, a decision which led to the formation of Stoopnagle and Budd and his subsequent success before the microphone.

HAS OWN GROUP

Stan Rucker, former WOW violinist, now has a four-piece orchestra in the Hotel Henry's Silver Grill at Pittsburgh, Pa.

14-Year-Old Girl Subs For Bob Hope

Anne Gillis, 14-year-old screen actress, plays the lead in "A Date with Judy," a drama series which took the air Tuesday, June 24, at 8 p. m., on WOW and the NBC Red network, when Bob Hope left on vacation. Paul McGrath, who played opposite Gertrude Lawrence in "Susan and God," is Judy's father and Margaret Brayton portrays her mother.

Anne currently is being seen in the movie, "Nice Girl," starring Deanna Durbin. McGrath also has a featured role in a new film. The drama is written by Jerry Schwartz and Aileen Leslie. The series, sponsored by Pepsodent, is aired from the NBC Hollywood studios.

HASKINS RENEWS

Haskins Brothers & Company, makers of "Spark," Granulated Soap and Blue Barrel Soap, has renewed part sponsorship of the noon news (12:40 spot) on WOW.

FEMCEE

They call her a "femcee" because she's a mistress of ceremonies! Yes, sir. It's lovely Arlene Francis, who returns to the air soon with "What's My Name?" as a summer replacement show for the Bergen-McCarthy Sunday night feature.

McNEILL, TOO!

Another of radio's most famous personalities, Don McNeill of "Breakfast Club" fame, will be featured with the Benny Goodman Band and guests artists on WOW for seven weeks starting July 17 for Holland Furnaces. This program will give the Maxwell House program folks a brief vacation.

What's My Name? For Standard Brands

One of radio's first and most interesting quiz shows, "What's My Name?" will be heard on WOW Sunday evenings this summer in place of the Chase & Sanborn hour.

The first of the new series will be heard July 6 at 6 p. m., under sponsorship of Standard Brands' Royal Desserts.

With the return of "What's My Name?" listeners will again hear the charming voice-personality of Arlene Francis, one of Broadway's cleverest actresses and a radio star in her own right. She will be supported by John Reed King.

Welch Ginger Ale Via Irene Rich

Summer time brings the introduction of many new products by WOW sponsors. Among the latest is a new ginger ale, offered by the Welch Grape Juice Company, and now available through grocery and drug stores throughout the WOW territory.

Details and information about this new product are available on the program called "Dear John," which is heard on WOW on Sundays at 9:30 p. m.

"Reg'lar Fellers" On Air For Jello

All "Reg'lar Fellers," despite their restricted stage backgrounds, Dickie Van Patten, Ray Ives, Jr., Orville Phillips and Richard "Dickie" Monahan, are doing the leading roles in the radio adaptation of Gene Byrnes' comic strip, "Reg'lar Fellers," which replaced Jack Benny over WOW and the NBC Red network, Sundays at 5 p. m.

The youngsters, when corralled for pictures, were much more concerned over whether marbles should be termed "mibs" or "miggles" than with the fact that they were to pinch hit for the illustrious Benny.

Young Van Patten, 12, worked in "On Borrowed Time" and in "The American Way," to mention just two. He takes the role of Jimmie Dugan. Ray Ives, 12, really looks the part of Puddin' Head Duffy, Cartoonist Byrnes' slightly overstuffed young rapsallion. Ray is a radio veteran, currently heard in "As the Twig Is Bent," and has much juvenile repertoire experience behind him.

THOSE "REG'LAR FELLERS"

TOP SHOWS RENEW ON WOW

Cugat's Camels Show Adds Singers

Carmen Castillo, who in private life is Mrs. Xavier Cugat, and Lina Romay, spicily little singing señorita, are the featured singing stars with Miguelito Valdes and Xavier Cugat's orchestra on the Cugat Rhumba Revue, over WOW and the NBC Red network, Thursdays, at 9:30 p. m.

In Hollywood in 1930, on a moving picture engagement, she met and married Xavier Cugat. Since that time she has been performing regularly with Cugat's orchestra in theater, night club, radio and recording sessions.

Miss Romay, born in New York, is of Mexican-Irish-Norwegian extraction, and is the daughter of a member of the Mexican diplomatic corps.

Singing at a party in Detroit a little over two years ago, she was spotted by an official of Station WWJ, who started her on a professional career with a daily 15-minute program.

In addition to the three vocalists and Xavier Cugat's orchestra, Ken Christy's Camel chorus and Master of Ceremonies Bert Parks will continue to be featured.

The R. J. Reynolds Co., makers of Camels, has renewed the Cugat program on WOW for another 52 weeks, effective July 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Breyley (she's Virginia Verrill) are reported shopping for a baby carriage.

GOLD MEDAL HOUR RENEWS

Behind the scenes in radio they call mystery thrillers by the euphonious name of "Whodunnits."

Such a production, on WOW daily, is the General Mills "Mystery Man" series, now publicizing the new Betty Crocker Vegetable Noodle Soup Ingredients (six big servings for a dime!).

"Mystery Man" is one of four General Mills programs just renewed on WOW, via NBC, for 52 more weeks.

The other G-M shows in the "Gold Medal hour" include "Light of the World," "Valiant Lady" and "Arnold Grimm's Daughter." The "Gold Medal hour" is heard on Charming Charita Bauer, heard on "Mystery Man" series.

The "Mystery Man" series offers the world's best "Whodunnits." Mary Roberts Rinehart is the author of "The Bannister Case," which was recently concluded and which featured among others the lovely Charita Bauer, 19-year-old dramatic star.

Mary Roberts Rinehart's career is almost as fascinating as some of the mysteries she writes. She started as a nurse, married a surgeon and is the mother of three children.

At one time she found her family $12,000 in debt. So she whipped out 45 short stories in one year... collected $50,000 for them!

AUDITION 250

One of radio's finest vocal organizations is fast gaining national fame on the Cities Service concert, heard on WOW at 7 o'clock, Friday nights. It is the 14-voice mixed chorus, which has no name nor title, but which Dr. Frank Black describes as one of the finest singing units he has ever heard. More than 250 professional singers tried out in auditions conducted over a three-month period.

FATHER'S DAY

DeWitt McBride, who plays the role of Mark Matthews in "Ma Perkins," became a father of a six-and-one-half-pound daughter, born to Mrs. McBride on Father's Day.

ASCAP Through, Lawyers Assert!

The recent ruling by the United States Supreme Court marks the end of ASCAP, according to Walter R. Johnson, Nebraska Attorney General. The highest court in the land sustained validity of the Nebraska and Florida laws curbing ASCAP activities.

Johnson said: "This ruling, in my judgment, is the end of ASCAP not only in Nebraska and Florida, but nationally. The decision definitely establishes that a copyright holder has no more right to violate state laws than any citizen. It is difficult to see how far-reaching this ruling can be."

Johnson's opinions are concurred in by Attorney William J. Hotz of Omaha, who carried the case to the high court.

HOLMES TO WOW

According to the trade press, Groves Bromo Quinine will set "Sherlock Holmes" on the NBC Red network, including WOW, next fall.

The Kyser program is broadcast in behalf of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. Lord & Thomas, 247 Park Avenue, New York, is the agency.

OFF TO ARMY

Dick Widmark, regular on Swans Down's "Home of the Brave," answered reveille the other day and left for California, to be inducted into Uncle Sam's army as a private. More recently she was with Al Pearce.

Chesterfield's Fred Waring is doing his bit to aid in sale of Defense Bonds. He introduced and featured the ditty above, which you have heard many times on WOW. It'll be great news to you, incidentally, that the Waring "Pleasure Time" show has just been renewed on WOW for another full year.

FOSTER MAY TO TAKE MIKE TOURING

Move "Street" Casts With Trailer

Listeners to the Chevrolet "Man on the Street" (apparently that includes about everybody) may expect an unusual series of broadcasts in mid-July by Foster May.

Foster May

Foster will combine business with pleasure while he vacations in the wilds of northern Idaho and Montana. He will make the trip in his own house-trailer, which he has told about many times on the air. In the trailer will be elaborate transcribing equipment, which will enable him to make programs as he travels. These will be rushed to WOW by air express.

Listeners will remember Foster's interesting programs from such distant points as Florida and California. A real treat may be expected from his series of vacation broadcasts.

Personal Appearances

Prior to and following his vacation, Foster will make many personal appearances in the WOW territory, nearly all under sponsorship of Chevrolet dealers.

His tentative itinerary will take him to Grand Island, Neb., for a Fourth of July celebration, including his regular "Man on the Street" and afternoon ceremonies; on July 12 he will be in Arapahoe, Neb., July 31, Hebron, Neb., August 7, Tekamah, and on August 13, Onawa, Iowa.

Since the last issue of the News Tower, Foster has made many personal appearances, and conducted many interesting and unusual interviews and special events. On May 27 he interviewed United States Senator Hugh Butler in the WOW studios; on June 6 he spoke from Tecumseh on the Rural Electrification Administration program there.

To Lake Andes

Foster took his traveling microphone, trailer and all, to Lake Andes, S. D., for that city's famous annual Fish Day on June 13. On June 20 he appeared before a Farmers' Union picnic at St. Lawrence, S. D.

More recently, June 11, Foster conducted an extremely interesting interview with Edward T. Flynn, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, who visited in Omaha "to find out why Nebraska was one of the nine states outside the Roosevelt column in the last election." Genial Mr. Flynn expressed pleasure and gratification at WOW's hospitality, and warmly applauded Mr. May for an interesting interview.

With public interest in the war and the national emergency at a high peak, the Chevrolet "Man on the Street" program has introduced an unusual new feature. From time to time Foster May calls in executives in the WOW News Department and they conduct a roundtable discussion on some current question.

Usually participating in these sessions are: News Manager Soren Munkhof, Morning News Editor Horace Hamacher, Assistant Newscaster Ray Clark and Rewriter Herb Lee.

Many letters received from Chevrolet dealers recently indicate that great crowds of WOW listeners are hearing the "Man on the Street" programs during their noon hours in dealers' show rooms. Many dealers have equipped their show rooms with loudspeakers, according to Oscar Bonham, Executive Secretary of the Chevrolet Zone Dealers' Association.

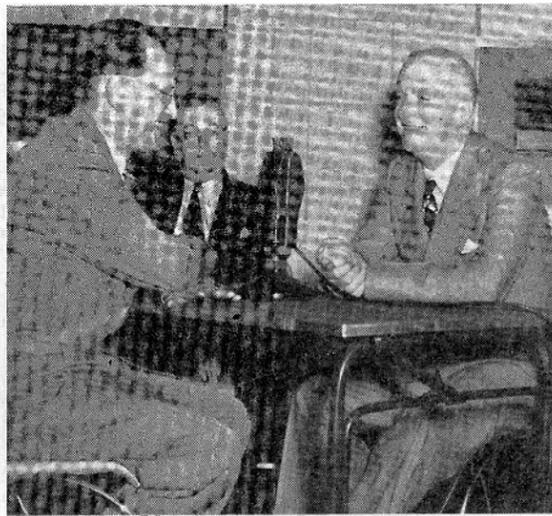

NICE GOING, BOB

Bob Trendler, orchestra leader on several Brown & Williamson network shows, has been appointed musical director of WGN, Chicago. He replaces Harold Stokes, former Omahan.

AK QUEEN AT MIKE « » 'BIG ED' VISITS WOW

Her Majesty, Queen Gwen, in Box "J" at Ak-Sar-Ben races, when she recently broadcast a commercial announcement for Falstaff beer. Miss Sachs thought it was great fun.

Foster May, left, interviewing Edward T. Flynn, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in the WOW studios. Mr. Flynn came to Omaha to find out why Nebraska voted for Willkie.

THE SPORTS EYE

By TOM DAILEY
WOW Sports Editor

Hello, Good Sports!

Here's what happens to a Sports Announcer's mind when this mind is hit by a July heatstroke:

The big National Amateur Championship Golf Tournament will be played at Omaha Field Club next month. Wonder if Johnny Goodman will do all right on his home course, where he knows every blade of grass by a nickname, has counted every grain of sand in the traps and has set the course record with a 65! . . . Craig Wood won the National Open Tournament at Fort Worth, and they gave him a check for $1,000. He gave his caddy, who didn't always have carfare home, $200. Said Mr. Wood's caddy: "Oh, boy! Call me a cab!" . . . While toying with a desk souvenir (Chicago Cubs autographed baseball), wonder if our original picks will hold good for the World's Series this fall! New York Yankees and Cincinnati Reds, St. Louis Cards and Cleveland Indians offered as mid-season substitutes, please . . . Famous last words after the winning horses have been posted: "And I wuz gonna bet on that horse—had a hunch" . . . No. 1 on our Faithful Fan Parade: The lady who collected $1,200.60 for daily double ticket, rushed to bank in a cab, deposited money and rushed back to Ak-Sar-Ben track in time to bet third race . . . Biff Jones, Nebraska grid mentor, is a big man—and strong. We don't advise you to sneak up behind him and yell "1941 Minnesota Gophers" . . . Sports Eye football prediction: Nebraska will meet Texas University in Cotton Bowl, 1942 . . . To Ord, Neb., readers: Got any more gazelle runners like Allan Zikmund out that way? . . . Things we're "agin": Abuse to caddies—Louis' fight of the month campaign—hockey teams traveling too far in buses—No. 8 post in skeet shooting . . . Names added to our "Nice Guy" list: Gregg Rice, Notre Dame cinder expert—Al Blozis, Georgetown catapult—Harold Hunt, Nebraska cloud-vaulter . . . Note to the United States Golf Association: The National Open Tournament is held too early each year! May and June are the busiest times of the year for pros, and hundreds of them can't get away at that time . . . P. S. to USGA: Why not have Open Tournaments in each of the 48 states, then have a gigantic tournament to decide the winner from this group of champs? . . . Eighteen-hole score of Jug McSpadden, Brackenridge Park Golf Links, San Antonio, Tex., February 8, 1939: 3-2-4-3-4-3-3-3-4 (29), 3-4-3-3-4-4-3-3-3 (30). Total, 59! Sounds like the Sports Eyeliner's score of last Sunday—on the first nine. After the round, McSpadden went to the practice tee and worked too hours on his game! . . . If all golfers in the world were made into one big golfer, all the two-irons made into one big two-iron, all golf balls made into one big golf ball—and the big golfer hit the big golf ball with the big two-iron, the ball landing in a lake, wouldn't it make a big splash? . . . With that, the heatstroke is becoming acute.

Tom Dailey

It isn't that you won or lost, but how you played the game.

NO DOGHOUSE?

Tom Wallace, Uncle Walter of "Doghouse" fame, has developed a quaint habit that does nothing to soothe the pre-marital jitters of friends who are about to take the plunge and become Benedicts. Tom solemnly presents each one with a handsome dog collar, with the grim assurance that it will come in handy.

Queen Gwen Asks Folks to "Make Mine Falstaff"

The reigning queen of Ak-Sar-Ben is the bluest of the bluebloods. A social function graced by her presence is the hoitiest of the hoity-toit. Her Majesty for 1941 is Gwendolyn Sachs, daughter of Dr. Adolph Sachs, renowned medico. The reigning king of Ak-Sar-Ben is W. M. ("Big Bill") Jeffers, President of the mighty Union Pacific Railroad. Recently Queen Gwen shattered precedent by going commercial on the radio—and for a beer account at that. The first lady of the mythical realm of Quivera—aye, the Seven Cities of Cibola—dropped in at WOW's box, where Sportscaster

Tom Dailey was broadcasting the Ak-Sar-Ben races for Falstaff beer. It was just a social call. The queen was interested in radio. "Some day I would like to see if I could be a good announcer," quoth Queen Gwen. "You are elected," replied Humble Subject Dailey. "Read this piece of commercial copy." The queen studied the commercial for a moment and Tom handed her the microphone. Without batting an eye, Gwen told all about Falstaff's million-dollar thoroughbred yeast, and urged all her loyal subjects throughout the middle west to "Make mine Falstaff."

McGibeny Takes Over For Herne

Donald McGibeny, Chicago newspaper reporter-correspondent, has been assigned to the post vacated recently by the untimely death of Captain E. D. C. Herne. He is heard on WOW at 7:30 a. m., Mondays through Fridays, on Skelly Oil's NBC newscasts. Captain Herne, who was a visitor in Omaha last December and who achieved national fame as a news commentator, died suddenly June 11 after a series of operations and a brief illness. McGibeny takes over with a background which qualifies him as a worthy successor to Captain Herne. For many years McGibeny has been a journalist, war correspondent and reporter on leading Chicago newspapers and for major press associations.

Secret Net Gives Emergency Information

Radio Station WOW was one of 225 stations given confidential defense information recently over a private network. Army and navy officials spoke on a half-hour message, which was addressed to radio news editors, station managers, publicity and promotion men. The information given was designed to assist stations in setting policies governing news and special events, with reference to the national emergency in all its phases. It was the first time in history that a complete radio network was set up to permit the government to speak confidentially to American broadcasters. The idea was suggested, and the program was arranged, by Abe Schechter, NBC special events director.

NEWSMAN WEDS

Wedding bells competed with teletype bells on June 30 for one member of the WOW news department. Reporter Jay Breen took on another city editor in ceremonies in Omaha. The bride—and newest member of the WOW news family-in-law—is Ruth Kunuth, a registered nurse at St. Joseph's Hospital here in Omaha. The newlyweds are taking only a couple of days off at this time—and then it's back to work.

MORNING STARS

"Morning Stars" is the title of an interesting new WOW program, sponsored by Wimsett System Company, and heard on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 7:15 a. m. The narrator on the program is Ray Olson, who has long been a favorite WOW master of ceremonies. The program features a different artist or musical group every other day. Arrangements for "Morning Stars" to be on WOW were made by Bozell & Jacobs, Inc.

ADD TO STAFF

NBC has announced the addition of at least seven well-known American newspaper men to its staff of foreign correspondents, many of whom will be heard on Alka-Seltzer's "News of the World" program, heard on WOW at 5:15 p. m., Mondays through Fridays. Included is the recent addition of Melville Jacoby to the NBC reportorial staff in Chungking, China. At the same time Morton Rittler has been named NBC correspondent in Buenos Aires. NBC has systematically enlarged its field news staff ever since the World War No. 2 began.

UNIQUE OFFER

With the approach of the corn-on-the-cob season, many WOW listeners are participating in an unusual premium offer by Folger's Coffee, sponsors of "Judy and Jane," on WOW, at 10:30 a. m., Mondays through Fridays. For a dime and a Folger Coffee metal strip, any listener may receive two pairs of handsome corn-on-the-cob holders, guaranteed to keep the butter from getting on fingers!
