FOREWORD

by Norman Corwin

History is told in many ways: cave paintings, hieroglyphs, documents, journals, books, murals, memoirs, political atlases, encyclopedias and variants of them all. A relatively recent addition to these forms is the informational cartoon, of which a richly entertaining gallery is now in your hands.

Frank Bresee and Bobb Lynes know the golden age of radio as few others, having observed it, contributed to it, and been long immersed in its many phases. Bresee's GOLDEN DAYS OF RADIO series alone has flourished for very close to half a century, 29 of those years via the Armed Forces Radio Service. And Bobb Lynes' art is just the right vehicle for Bresee's wide ranging research.

Among several striking aspects of this compendium are a wealth of information encapsulated in each panel, fortified by the strength of Lynes' line. He achieves remarkable likeness in simple strokes (note especially Bogart, Bette Davis, Jean Hersholt, Hedda Hopper, Ray Collins, Mortimer Snerd, Everett Sloane, Orson Welles, Al Jolson, Janet Waldo, Edward R. Murrow). To me the marvel of the panels is that although most teem with information (some populated by as many as 14 or 15 portraits and related texts) they never seem overcrowded. In addition to identifying the casts, writers, directors and production staffs of the program cited, as well as the stations or networks that carried them, the sponsors, agencies, logos, catchwords, idioms; even, sometimes, as the panel on Stan Freberg, a picture of a ticket to the program.

I was enchanted by a number of compelling singularities in this work, such as the following:

Eddie Cantor created the slogan "March of Dimes" for Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"Duffy" never appeared on Duffy's Tavern.

Don McNeill's Breakfast Club was the longest running daytime radio program of all time—coast to coast every morning for 35 years.

"Sorry Wrong Number" was repeated on the Suspense program eight times.

Among premiums offered by the comedy team of Stoopnagle and Budd were round dice for listeners who would rather play marbles.

Jack Benny was the only performer to have the top rated show on both NBC and CBS.

Over the years of Bride and Groom, more than 1000 couples were married on the air.

In his early days Arthur Godfrey appeared on WJSV as "Red Godfrey," the Warbling Banjoist.

It Pays To Be Ignorant, a comedy quiz show, asked such recondite questions as "What color is a white horse?" and "What material is a silk dress made of?"

In a panel on cigarette commercials, a dozen packages from the old days (Chesterfield, Old Gold, Lucky Strike, Kool, etc.) are illustrated and a pocket history of tobacco-sponsored programs given, but Bresee and Lynes are careful to note in a box at the bottom of the page, "This is not an advertisement or endorsement."

Jimmy Fidler, a Hollywood columnist, always signed off his program with, "Good night to you, and I do mean you."

Reader, you'll have a good time browsing through this book, and I do mean you!

... a word from JACK BAILEY

"WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE QUEEN FOR A DAY?"
THEN READ THESE IMPORTANT SUGGESTIONS.

- We're looking for interesting and unusual wishes and the reason for these wishes
1. Make a wish while we want interesting and unusual wishes, if it is necessary that your wish be one involving hardship, all interesting and unusual wishes have a real chance. FILL IN YOUR WISH, DON'T LEAVE IT BLANK!
 2. If possible, wish for something for yourself or your husband or children. Don't wish for money. Wish for the thing you want the most.
 3. We cannot grant wishes for vacations, automobiles, or for the purchase of anything.
 4. State the REASON for your wish as completely as possible. We DO NOT attach anything to your ticket.
 5. Your wish MUST BE TRUE! (An untrue wish will cancel out all promises or agreements.)
 6. Your wish MUST BE 18 years or over, unless married.

LADIES WOULD BE CHOSEN FROM THE AUDIENCE, INTERVIEWED ON THE AIR BY JACK BAILEY, AND WERE GIVEN SPECIAL GIFTS IF THEY WERE CHOSEN (BY THE AUDIENCE APPLAUSE METER) TO RECEIVE THEIR WISH....

THREE OF THE GREATEST OF ALL RADIO BROADCASTS TOOK PLACE AT THE CBS STUDIOS IN NEW YORK AND HOLLYWOOD....

"THE WAR OF THE WORLDS"

YORK, MONDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1938

FIRST OF THE THREE WAS ORSON WELLES' BROADCAST OF "WAR OF THE WORLDS" ON OCTOBER 30, 1938. WELLES AND HIS MERCURY PLAYERS FRIGHTENED THE NATION OUT OF ITS WITS WITH REPORTS OF A SUPPOSED INVASION BY MEN FROM MARS.

Radio Listeners in Panic, Taking War Drama as Fact

Many Flee Homes to Escape 'Gas Raid From Mars'—Phone Calls Swamp Police at Broadcast of Wells' Fantasy

War's Over
How U. S. Met Mars

The radio's "end of the world," as some listeners understood it, produced expressions throughout the United States. Samples, as reported by the Associated Press, follow:

Woman Tries Suicide
Pittsburgh—A man returned home in the midst of the broadcast and found his wife, a bottle of poison in her hand and a note pinned to her chest. "I'd rather die this way than like that," she wrote.

Man Wants to Fight Mars
San Francisco—An offer to volunteer in stopping an invasion from Mars came among hundreds of telephone calls to police and newspapers during the radio drama. One excited man called the station and shouted: "My God! Where can I volunteer to fight? We've got to stop this awful thing!"

Church Lets Out
Indianapolis—A woman ran into a church screaming, "The world is destroyed! It's the end of the world! You might as well go home to die. I just heard it on the radio." Service was discontinued immediately.

College Boys Faint
Riverside, N. C.—Five Brevard College students fainted and panic gripped the campus for a half hour with many students fighting for telephones to inform their parents to come and get them.

It's a Massacre
Providence, R. I.—Weeping and hysterical women swarmed the switchboard of the Providence Journal for details of the "massacre." The electric company received scores of calls urging it to turn off all lights so that the city would be safe from the "enormous" fire.

She Sees "the Fire"
Boston—One woman declared she could "see the fire" in the sky. Many others in her neighborhood were here.

FOR DAYS AFTERWARD THE WHOLE COUNTRY WAS ON EDGE, AS WAS ORSON WELLES HIMSELF, NOT KNOWING IF HE MIGHT BE JAILED FOR THIS RADIO "HOAX"... INSTEAD IT MADE HIS CAREER....

A wave of mass hysteria swept throughout the country at 9:30 o'clock last night as Orson Welles' "War of the Worlds" broadcast started in New York.
