Sale of WINA stations is approved by FCC

The sale of wina-am-fm Charlottesville, Va., from Donald G. Heyne and others to Laurence E. Richardson was approved last week by the FCC. However, the deal has not been consummated because the selling group has not yet indicated it will accept the condition the commission imposed on the grant.

The condition was the reduction of the $409,600 sales price by $55,000—an amount equal to expenses incurred by the licensee, Charlottesville Broadcasting Corp., in obtaining the construction permit for wina-tv (ch. 29). The CP had been part of the deal, but neither the buyer nor the sellers wanted it, so the commission cancelled the CP when it approved the sale of wina-am-fm.

Charlottesville Broadcasting, which had held the CP since 1965, said it did not intend to construct and had been unable to find a buyer. Mr. Richardson, former president of the Post-Newsweek Stations who is buying 95.8% of wina-am-fm, told the commission he did not want the CP but that the sales contract required him to pay for it. He said he also had been unable to find a buyer for it and intended to surrender the CP at the time of closing.

The vote was 6-to-1 with Commissioner Nicholas Johnson dissenting. The FCC also made the sale subject to the outcome of its one-to-one customer rule-making proceeding.
